A And there arose a greate complaint of the people, and their wiues against theyr brethren the Jewes. For there were some that sayde: our sonnes and daughters, and we are to many, therfore wil we take corne for them, that we maye eate and liue. Some also there were that sayd: let vs set our landes, vineyardes and houses to pledge and take vp corne in the dearth. But some there were that said: let vs borow mony for the kings tribute, and that vpon our landes and vineyards. Behold our bodyes as the bodies of our brethren, and oure children as their children: els shoulde we subdue our sõnes and daughters vnto bõdage, and some of our daughters are subdued vnto bondage all ready, & no strength is there in our hands, and other men haue our landes and vineyardes. And when I heard their cõplaynt and suche wordes, it displeased me sore, and I aduised so in my mind, that I rebuked the coũcelers, and the B rulers, and sayde vnto them: Euerye one of you is to chargeable vnto hys brother, and I broughte a greate congregation against them, and said vnto them: we (after our habilitye) haue doughte oure brethren the Jewes, whyche were solde vnto the heathen. And wil you sel your brethren agayne vnto the heathen, after that they haue bene solde vnto vs? Then helde they their peace, and could finde nothynge to answere. And Nehemia sayde: It is not good that ye doo. Ought ye not to walke in the feare of God, because of the rebuke of the Heathen, that are our enemies? I and my brethren, and my seruauntes doo lende them money and corne: but as for vsury, let vs leue it. Therefore, this same daye I praye you se that ye restore them their landes againe, their vineyards, oyle, gardẽs, and their houses, and remyt the hundred parte of the monye of the corne, wine, and oyle that ye haue wonne of them. Then sayde they, we will restore them again, and wil require nothynge of them: and wyll doo as thou haste spoken. And I called the priests and tooke an othe of them, that they should do so. And I shoke my lappe, C and sayde: God shake out euerye man after the same manner from his house and labor, that maintaineth not thys woorde: euen thus bee he shaken out, and voyde. And all the congregatyon saide: Amen, and praysed the Lorde. And the people did so. And from the time forth that (the king) committed vnto me to be a captaine of them that were in the land of Juda, euen from the. xx. yeare vnto the. xxxii. yeare of kyng Artharerses (that is. xii. yeare) I wyth my brethren liued not of such sustinaunce, as was geuen to a captayne. For the olde captaynes that were before me, had beene chargeable vnto the people, and had take of them breade and wine, and. xl. siccles of siluer: yea, and theyr seruauntes had oppressed the people. But so dyd not I, and that because of the feare of God. But I laboured also in the woorcke vppon the wall, and boughte no land. And all my seruauntes came thyther together vnto the worke. Moreouer, D there are at my table an. C. and fyftye of the Jewes and rulers, which came vnto me from amonge the Heathen, that are about vs. And ther was prepared for me dailye an Oxe, and syxe chosen shepe, and birdes, and euer once in ten dayes a great summe of wyne. Yet required not I the lyuynge of a captaine, for the bõdage was greuous vnto ẏ people. * Thinke vpon me my God vnto the best, accordinge to all that I haue done for this people. 2 Ef. 6. and. 13.

¶ The. vi. Chapter.

And

¶ And when Sanabalat, Tobiah, and Gesem the Arabian and the other of oure enemies hearde that I had builded the walle: and that there wer noo moe gappes therein (howebeit at the same tyme, hadde I not hanged the dooores vppon the gates) Sanabalat and Gesem sent vnto me, sayinge: Come, that we may mete and take counsaile together in the villages that are in the plaine of the Citie Ono. Neuertheleſſe, they thoughte to do me euyll. And I sent messengers vnto theym, saying: I haue a great busynes to do, and I canne not comme downe. The woorke shoulde stande still, if I were negligente, and came downe to you. Howbeit, they sente vnto me as good as .iiij. tymes after the same manner. And I gaue them the same aunswer. Then sent Sanabalat his seruaunte againe vnto me the fifth time with an open letter in his hand, wherin was written: It is told the Heathen, and Gesem hath sayd it, that thou and the Jewes thinke to rebel: for the which cause thou buildeſt the wal that thou maieſt be theyr king in theſe matters, and haſte ordeyned the Prophetes to preach of the at Jerusalē, and to say: He is kinge of Juda. And nowe shall thys come to the Kynges eares: come nowe therefore, and let vs take oure councell together. And I sente vnto hym, sayinge: there is no suche thinge doone as thou sayeſt: for thou sayneſt them oute of thyne owne hearte. For they were all mynded to make vs afrayde, saying: they shall withdraw their handes from theyr woorke, that it shall not be fynyshed. Howebeit, I strengthed my hand the more. And I came vnto the house of Semeia the sonne of Delaia, the sonne of Mehetabeel, and he had shut him ſelf within, and said: let vs come together into the house of God euen vnto the mids of the temple: and shutte the doores of the temple, for they wyl come to slaye thee: ye, euen in the nyghte wyll they come to put the to death. And I said: shoulde any such man as I fly: who is that being as I am, that wil go in to the temple, to saue his lyfe? I will not go in. And I perceaued that God had not sent him. Yet spake he prophecie vpon me, neuertheleſſe, Tobiah, & Sanabalat, had hired him for money. Therefore tooke hee the money that throughe feare I should so do, and syn that they myght haue an euill reporte of me, to blaspheme me. My GOD, thinke thou vpon Tobiath and Sanabalat accordinge vnto theſe theyr woorkes, & of the prophet Noadia, and of the other Prophetes, that woulde haue putte me in feare. And the wall was finiſhed on the xv. day of the moneth Elul, in .lii. dayes. And when all our enemies heard therof, al the Heathen that were about vs, were afraid and theyr courage fayled theym. And they perceaued, that this woorke came of our God. And at the same time wer ther many of the chefe of Juda, whose letters wēt vnto Tobiah: and againe from Tobiah vnto thē (for there wer manye in Juda, that were ſworn vnto hym, for he was the sonne in lawe of Sechania, the sonne of Arah, and hys Sonne Jehonathan, hadde the daughters of Meſullam, the sonne of Barachia, and they spake good of him before me: and told hym my woords) & Tobiah ſēt letters, to put me in feare.

¶ The .vii. Chapter.

Nowe when the wall was buylded: I hanged on the dores also, and the porters, syngers, and Leuites wer appointed. And I commaunded my brother Hanani, and Hanania the ruler of the caſtell at Jerusalem: for he was a faythfull man, and feared God more thā did many other. And I sayd vnto them: Let not the gates of Jerusalem be opened vntyll the sunne bee whote. And whyle they were standyng in the watch, they shut the doores and barred them, And we appoynted certayne citizens of Jerusalem, to be watchemen, euerye one to kepe hys watch, & euery one to be ouer againſt his house. As for the citie, it was large of roome, & great, but the people wer few

sewe therin, and the houses were not builded. And God gaue me in my hart ỹ I gathered together the principal men, & the officers, & the people, to nū bre them: & I foūd a regiſter of the nū 1. Es. 2. a ber of them, which came vp before out of the captiuitie, and found written therin: these are the sonnes of the lande that went vp from the captiui-tie of the carying away (whom Nabuchodonozor the kynge of Babylon had brought away) and came agayne to Jerusalem, and Juda: euery one vn to his citie. They which came wyth Zorobabel are these: Jesua, Nehemia Asariah, Raamia, Nahamani, Mar-dochee, Belsam, Mesperath, Beguai Nahum, and Baanath. This is the C nūbre of the men, of the people of Israell. The chyldren of Pharaos, were two thousand, an hundred and two and seuentie, the children of Se-phatiah. iii. hundred and two and seuentie: the children of Arah, six. C. and two and fiftie: the children of the captain of Moab, among the chyldren of Jesua, and Joab, two thousand, eight hundred, and. xviii. the children of Elam, a thousand two. C. and fower & fiftie, the children of Zathua, eight C.
and fiue and foztie, the children of za-chai, seuen hundred and thre score, the childrē of Banui, sixe hundred & eight and foztie, the children of Bebai, sixe C. and eyght and twentie, the childrē of Asgad, two thousand, thre hundred and two and twentie, the children of Adonicam. vi. hundred thre score and seuen, the children of Begoai, two thousand, three score and seuen, the chil dren of Adin, sixe hundred and fiue & fiftie, the children of Ater, of Hezekia D eight and ninetie. The children of Hasom, thre hundred and eight and twen tie: the children of Bezai, thre C. and foure and twentie, the chyldren of Ha riph, an. C. and twelue, the chyldren of Gibeon, nyntie and fyue: the men of Bethlehem, and Nethophath, an hundred foure score and eight, the men of Anathoth, an hūdred and eyght and twentie: the men of Beth Asmaneth two and foztie: the men of Karyath Jarim, Cephirah, and Beeroth, seue hundred and thre and foztie: the men of Ramah, and Geba, sixe hundred and one and twentye: the men of Mich-mas, an hundred and two and twenty, the men of Bethel, and Ai, an hundred and thre and twentye: the men of Nebo, an hundred and two and fifty:
the childrē of the other Elam a thousand, two hundred and four and fifty:
the children of Harim, three hundred and twentye: the children of Jericho, three hundred, and fiue and foztye: the children of Lodhadyd, and Ono, seuen hundred and one and twēty, the children of Sanaat, thre thousande, nyne hundred and thirty. The Priestes, the E childrenne of Jedaiah, of the house of Jesua, nine hundred, and three and seuenty: the children of Immer, a thousand, and two and fiftye: the children of Phashur: a thousand, two hundred and seuen and foztye: the childrē of Ha-rim, a thousande and seuentene. The Leuites. The childrenne of Jesua of Cadmiel, and of the children of Hoduah, foure and seuentye. The syngers:
The children of Asaph, an hundred & eighte and foztye. The Porters. The children of Sallum, the children of Ater, the childrē of Thalmon, the chil dren of Acub: the children of Hatita, the children of Sobai, altogether an hundred and eighte and thirtye. The Nethimins. The childrē of Ziha, the children of Hasupha, the chyldrene of Tebahoth, the children of Ceros: the children of Sia, the children of Pha-don: the children of Lebanah: the children of Hagaba, the children of Sa-mai, the children of Hanan, the chyldren of Gidel, the children of Gaher, the children of Reaia, the chyldren of Rezin, the childrē of Necoda, the chil dren of Asa, the children of Phaseah, the children of Besai, the chyldren of Mennim, the children of Nephussim, the children of Bachuc, the children of Hacupha: the children of Harhur, the children of Bazlith, the chyldren of Mehida, the childrē of Harsa, the children of Barcos, the children of Sissera: the children of Thamah, the children

dren of Meziah: the childrē of Hathipha. The children of Salomons seruauntes, the childrenne of Sotai: the children of Hophereth, the childrē of Pherida, the children of Iaala, the children of Darcon: the children of Giddell, the children of Saphatiath, the children of Hattil, the chyldren of Pochered of Zabaini, the chyldren of Amon. All these Nethinims, and the children of Salomōs seruaunts, were thre hundred and ninetye and two.

And these went vp also of Thel, Mela, Thel, Harsa, Cherub, Addon, and Immer: but they coulde not shewe theyr fathers house, nor theyr seede, and that they were of Israell. The children of Dalaiah, the children of Thobia, and the childrē of Nechoda, sixe hundred and two and foztye. And of the Priestes the children of Habaiah: the children of Haccos, the children of Berstlai, whyche tooke one of the daughters of Berstlai the Gileadite to wife, and was named after theyr name. These soughte their wrytinge in the registre of their generation, but they were not founde, therefore they were putte from the priesthode. And Hathirsata saide vnto them: that they should not eat of the moste holye, tyll ther cam vp a prieste which shold wear D Urim & Thumim. And so the whole congregation together was two and foztye thousande, thre hundred and thre score: beside their seruaunts and maidens, of whom there wer seuen thousand, thre hundred and seuen and thirty. And they had two hundred and seuen and foztye singinge men and wemen. Their hozses seuen hundred and sixe and thirtye, and theyr mules: two hundred and fine and foztye. The Cameis, four hundred and fine and thirty, sixe thousande, seuen hundred and twenty Asses. And certayne of the auncient fathers gaue vnto the wozke. Hathirsata gaue to the tresure a thousand pieces of gold, fifty basens. v. C. and. xxx. Priestes garmēts. And some of the chefe fathers gaue vnto the tresure of the woozcke. xx. M. peces of gold, and two. M. and two. C. pound of siluer. And the other people gaue xx. M. peeces of golde, and two. M. pound of siluer: and thre score and seuen priestes garments. And the priestes and Leuites, the porters, and the syngers, and the other of the people, and the Nethinims and all Israell, dwelt in their cities. And the seuenth moneth came, and the children of Israell were in theyr cityes.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

A

AND all the people gathered 1.Es.3.a theim selues together, as one 3.Es.9.c man in the streete, that was before the watergate, and they sayde vnto Esdras the Scribe, that hee shoulde fetche the booke of the lawe De. 31.f of Moyses, whyche the LORDE 3.re.23.a commaunded to Israell. And Esdras the Prieste broughte the lawe before the congregatyon, bothe of men and women, and all that coulde vnderstande, syd harcken vnto it, vppon the fyrst daye of the seuenth moneth: and he red therein, in the streete that was before the watergate, (from the morninge vntill the noone daye) beefore men and wemen that dyd harkē to it:
and the eares of all the people were inclyned vnto the boke of the lawe.
And Esdras the scrybe stoode vppon an hye pulpit of woode whyche they hadde made for the preachyng, and beside hym stoode vppe Mathatia, Sema, Anania, Uriah, Helkia, and Maasseia, on hys ryghte hande: and on hys lefte hande stoode Pedaia, Mitsael, Malchia, Hasum, Haledadana, zacharı, and Meselam. And Esdras opened the booke before all the people, for hee stode aboue all the people. And when he opened it, all the people stoode vp.
And Esdras praysed the Lorde the greate God. And all the people answeared, Amen, Amen, with theyr handes vp, and bowed them selues, and worshypped the Lorde, fallynge downe vpon theyr faces to the grounde.
And Jesua, Baam, Serabiah, Jamin, Acub Sebathai, Hadaia, Maasia, Celita, Azaria, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaia: and the Leuites cauſed the people to geue hede vnto the law, and the people ſtoode in their place. And they red in the boke of the law of god diſtinctly and plainlye, ſo that menne vnderſtode the thing that was redde. And Nehemiah (which is Hathirſatha) and Eſdras the prieſt and ſcribe, and the Leuites, that cauſed the people to take heede, ſayde vnto all the people: this day is holy vnto the Lord your God: be ye not ſory, and weepe not. For all the people wepte, when they hearde the wordes of the lawe.

C And he ſayde vnto them, * goo youre waye, and eate the fat, and drynck the ſwete, and ſende parte vnto them alſo 3.eſ.9.8. that haue not prepared them ſelues: for thys day is holye vnto the Lorde, be not ye ſory therefore: for the ioye of the Lorde is your ſtrengthe. And the Leuites ſtilled al the people, and ſaid: holde your peace, for the day is holye, vexe not ye your ſelues. And all the people wente their waye to eate and drinke, and to ſende parte vnto other, and to make great mirth, becauſe they had vnderſtand the wordes that were declared vnto them. And on the nexte daye were gathered together the cheefe fathers, among all the people, and the Prieſtes and Leuites, vnto Eſdras the Scribe, that they mighte vnderſtande the wordes of the lawe. And Le.23.f. they foũd wrytten in the law (which Nu.29.b the Lord had commanded by Moſes, 2.ma.2.6 (that the childzen of Iſraell ſhoulde dwell in bouthes, in the feaſte of the vii. month, and that they ſhould cauſe it to be declared and proclaymed in all
D their Cityes, and thorowoute Jeruſalẽ, ſaying: go ye forth vnto the moũt and fetche Oliue braunches, Pyne braunches, Myrre braunches, Palme braunches, and braunches of thycke trees, to make bouthes, as it is wrytten. And ſo the people wente forthe, and fet them, and made them bouthes, euerye one vpon the rofe of his houſe, and in their courtes, and in the courtes of the houſe of GOD, and in the ſtreete by the watergate, and in the ſtreate by porte Ephraim. And all the congregation of them that were come agayne oute of the captiuitye, made bouthes, and ſate vnder the bouthes: for ſence the time of Joſua the ſonne of Nun, vnto this daye, hadde not the childzen of Iſraell doone ſo, and there was very great gladneſſe. And euery daye from the firſt day vnto the laſte, red Eſdras in the booke of the lawe of God. And ſeuen dayes helde they the feaſte, and on the eighte daye they gathered together, accordynge to the manner.

The .ix. Chapter.

IN the foure and twentye daye of thys monthe came the childzen of Iſraell together agayne, wyth
* faſtynge and ſack clothes, and earth 1.eſ.8. vpon them, and they that were of the Eſa.58 ſeede of Iſraell, were ſeparated from all the ſtraunge childzen, and ſtoode and knowleged their ſynnes, and the wyckednelles of their Fathers, and ſtoode vp in their place, and redde in the booke of the LORD their God, foure times on the daye, and they knowledged, and worſhypped the Lord their God foure tymes on the daye. And the Leuites ſtoode on hye, namelye Jeſua, Bani, Cadmiel, Sabaniah, Buni, Sarebiah, Bani, and Chanani, and cryed loude vnto the Lord their GOD. And the Leuites, Jeſua, and Cadmiell, Bani, and Halabnia, Serebia, and Hodia, Sebania, and Phathahia, ſaid: ſtande vppe, and praiſe the LORD youre God for euer: and lette thanckes be geuen vnto the name of thy glorye, whych excelleth al the thanks geuing and praiſe. Thou arte Lorde alone, thou haſte made heauen, and the heauens of all heauens, wyth all their hooſte, the earthe and all thinges that are therein, the Sea, and all that is therein, and thou preſerueſte them B all, and the hooſte of heauen worſhippeth thee. Thou art the lord our god, thou haſt choſen Abraam, and brought hym out of * Urim, in Chaldea, Ge.11 & calledſt him Abraham, & foũdeſt his Ge.17 harte Ge.15

hearte faythfull before thee. and made dest a couenaunte with him, to geue vnto his sede the land of ỹ Cananites Hethites, Amorites, Pheresites, Jebusites, and Gersites, and hast made good thy wordes: for thou art righte-Exo.3.d. ous. and haste considered the miserye of our fathers in Egypte, and hearde their complainte by the red Sea, and shewed tokens, and wonders vppon Pharao, and all his seruauntes, and on all the people of his lande: for thou knewest, ỹ they wer presumptuous and cruell against them, and so madest thou thee a name, as it is thys daye.
And the redde sea diddest thou deuide in sundre before theym, so that they wente through the myddes of the sea, dry shod: and their persecuters threwest thou into the deepe (as a stone) in the mightie waters: and leddest them on the day time in a cloudy piller, and on the night season in a piller of fyre, C to shewe them light in the waye that Exo.19a they wente. Thou cammest downe also vppon mount Sinai, and spakest vnto theym from heauen, and gauest them right iudgements, trew lawes, good commaundementes and statutes, & declaredst vnto them thy holye Saboth, and commandedst them precepte, ordinaunces and lawes, by the Exo.16d hand of Moses thy seruant, and gauest theim breade from heauen when Exo.17b they wer hũgry, & broughtest forth Nu.25.b water for them out of the rock when they wer thirstie: and promisedst thẽ, that they shoulde go in and take possession of the lande: ouer which thou haddest lyft vp thine hand for to gyue them. But they and our fathers were proud and hardnecked: so that they folowed not the cõmaundementes: and would not obeye, neither were mind-full of the wonders that thou diddest for them: but becam obstinate and hea die, in so much that they turned backe to their bondage for their disobedience. And thou my God forgauest, and wast gracious, mercifull, patient, and D of great goodnesse, and forsokest them Exo.32a not. And though they made a moul-ten calfe (and sayd: This is thy God= desthat brought thee out of theland of Egypt) and did great blasphemies, yet forsookest thou theym not in the wildernesse, accordynge to thy greate mercye. And the cloudye pyller departed not from theym on the daye Exo.13b tyme to leade theym the waye, nether Nu.14.e the pyller of fyre in the nyghte season, 1Cor.10 to shewe theym lyghte in the waye that they wente. And thou gauest theym thy good spirite, to enfourme theym, and wythheldeste not thy Manna from theyr mouthe, and gaue Exo.16d st theym water when they were Exo.7.d. thyrstye. Forty yeares longe madest Nu.20b thou prouision for theym in the wyl-dernesse, so that they lacked nothinge, and theyr clothes waxed not olde, and theyr fete swelled not. And thou ga- deu. 8.b. uest theym kingedomes and nations, and.19.a and partedste theym accordynge to theyr portions: so that they possessed the lande of Sehom kynge of Hesbon, and the land of Og, the kynge of Nu.21.f Basan. And their chyldrenne multi-pliedst thou as the starres of heauen, and broughtest theym into the lande wherof thou hadst spoken vnto theyr fathers, that they shoulde goe into it, and haue it in possession. And the chil drenne wente in, and possessed the lande, and thou subduedst beefore Josh.23 theym the inhabiters of the lande, e- and.24.a. uen the Cananites, and gauest them G into theyr hande, wyth theyr kynges and the people of the lande, that they myghte dooe wyth theym what they wouide. And they wanne theyr stronge Cytyes, and a fatte land, and tooke possession of houses that were full of all manner of gooddes, welles digged oute, vineyardes, oliegardens, and many fruitful trees, and they did eate: and were fylled, and became fat: Deu.29b and lyued in wealthe throughe thy greate goodnesse. Neuertheless they were dysobedyente, and rebelled a-gaynste thee, and caste thy lawe behynde theyr backes, and slue thy prophetes (whiche exhorted theym earnnestly, they myght bringe thẽ againe vnto the) and did great blasphemies.

Therfore thou gauest them ouer into the hande of their enemies, that vexed them. And in the time of their trouble when they cryed vnto thee: thou herdest them from heauen: and thorowe thy great mercy, thou gauest them sauiours, which helped them out of the hand of their enemies. But whē they came to rest they turned backe againe, to do euill before thee: therfore lefte-
F
test thou them in the hande of their enemyes, so that they had the dominion ouer them. And when they conuerted, and cryed vnto thee: thou hardest thē from heauen, and manye tymes haste thou delyuered them accordyng to thy great mercy, and testifyedst vnto them that thou myghtest bryngе them agayne vnto thy lawe. Notwithstandinge, they were proude, and harkned not vnto thy commaundementes, but Lem. 18 a
Ro. 10. a Gala. 3 b
Ezc. 20 b sinned in thy lawes. (which if a man do, he shall lyue in them,) and turned the shoulder awaye, and were styffe-necked, and wolde not heare. And many yeares diddest thou forbeare them, and testifyedst vnto them thorow thy spyrete, euen by the hande of the prophetes, and yet wolde they not heare. Therfore gauest thou them into the hande of the nations in the landes. And for thy great mercies sake, thou haste not vtterly consumed them, nether forsaken them: for thou art a gra-2 Esd. 1 b Exo. 30 a
and. 34. a cious and mercyfull God. * Nowe therfore oure God, thou greate God, myghtye and terryble, thou that kepest couenaunt and mercy, regard not a lytle all the trauayle that hath happened vnto vs, and oure kynges, oure princes, our priestes, oure prophetes, and oure fathers, and all the people, sence the tyme of the kinges of Assur, vnto this day. And truly thou art iust in all that thou haste brought vpon vs: for thou haste done rycht. As for vs., we haue dene vngodly: and oure kynges, and our princes, our priestes, and oure fathers haue not done after thy lawe, nor regarded thy commandementes, and thy earnest exhortacions, wherewith thou haste exhorted them: and they haue not serued thee in theyr kyngedome, and in thy greate goodes that thou gauest them, and in the large & plenteous lande which thou gauest before them, and haue not conuerted frō their wicked worckes. Beholde, we are in bondage this daye: and so is the lande that thou gauest vnto oure fathers to enioye the fruites and goodnes therof: beholde, there are we bondemen. And great is the increase of it vnto the kynges, whom thou haste set ouer vs, because of our sinnes, and they haue dominion oure our bodies and catell (euen as they wyll them selues) and we are in great trouble. And in all thys make we a sure couenaunt and write it, and oure princes, Leuites, and Priestes, seale vnto it.
G

¶ The. x. Chapter.

The sealers were: Nehemiah
I
(that is) Hathirsatha, the son of Hathaliah, and Zedekia, Saraja, Asariah and Jeremie, Phashur, Amaria, Malchia, Hatus, Sebania, Malluc, Harim, Merimoth, and Obadia, Daniell, Jenthon, and Baruch, Mesulam, Abia, and Mianim, Maalia, Beigai, and Semeia, these were Priestes. The Leuites were: Jesua, the sonne of Azania, Benui amonge the childzen of Henadad, and Cadmiel. And their bzetheren: Sechania, Hodia, Celita, Pelaia Haman, Micha, Rehob, and Hasabiah, Sachur, Serebia, Sabania, Hodia, Bani, and Beninu. The heades of the people were Phares the captayne of Moab, Elam, Zathu, & Bani, Boni, Asgad, Bebai, Adania, Begoai, Adin, Ater, Hezekia, Asur, Hodia, Hasum, Besai, Hariph, Anathoth, and Nebai, Magphias, Mesulam, Mesir, Meselabell, Zadoc, Jaddua, Phalaria, Hanan, Anaia, Hosea, Hanania, Hasub, Halothes, Pelcha, Sobek, Rehum, Hasebna, Maasia, Ahia, Haanā and Anan, Malluth, Baarim, and Baana. And the other people, the priests, Leuites, porters, singers, Nethinims; & all they that had separated them selues from the people in the landes vnto the lawe of God, with their wyues, their sonnes, and theyr daughters, and as many as could vnderstand, and their lords that had rule of them, receaued it for their brethren.

them

Ios. 24.f 2.pa.15.c And they came to sweare, and to bynd them selues with an othe to walke in Goddes lawe, whiche was geuen by Moyses the seruaunte of God, and that they woulde obserue and do according vnto all the commaundementes, iudgementes, and statutes of the

Deu. 7.a Lorde oure God: * and that we wold not geue our daughters vnto the people in the lande, neyther to take theyr daughters for oure sonnes. * And yf

2 Es. 14c the people of the lande brought ware on the Sabboth, and all maner of vitayles to sell, that we wolde not take it of them on the Sabboth, and on the

Leu. 15.a holye dayes, * and that we would let

Deu. 15a the seuenth yeare be free, concernynge

C all maner of charge. And we decreed a statute vpō our selues to geue yereiye the third parte of a sicle to the ministracion in the house of our God, to the shewebreade, to the dayly meatofferynge, to the dayly burntofferyng of the Sabbothes: of the new mones and feaste dayes, and to the thynges that were sanctifyed, and to the offerynges of attonemente, to reconcyle Israel withall, and to all the busynes in the house of oure God. And wee caste the lotte among the priestes, Leuites, and the people for the offeryng of the woode to be brought vnto the house of our God from yeare to yeare, after the houses of oure fathers, that it myght be brent at tymes appoynted, vpon the aulter of the Lorde oure God, as it is wrytten in the lawe:

* and to brynge the firstelynges of oure land, and the firstlynges of our frutes of all trees: yeare by yeare vnto the house of the Lord: and the fyrstlinges of oure sonnes, and of oure cattell, as

D it is wrytten in the lawe: and the firstlinges of oure oxen and of oure shepe, which we should brynge to the house of our God, vnto the priestes that ministre in the house of oure God: and that we should bryng the fyrstlynges of oure doughe, and oure heaue offerynges, and the frutes of all maner of trees, of wyne also & of oyle, vnto the Priestes, to the chestes of the house of our God. And the tythes of our lande vnto the Leuites, that the Leuites, myght haue the tythes in al the cities of our ministracion. And the priestes the sonne of Aaron shall with the Leuites haue also of the tythes of the Leuites: so that the Leuites shal bring vp the tythes of theyr tythes vnto the house of our God, to the store houses, and to the treasure houses. For the chyldren of Israell and the chyldren of Leui, shall bryng vp the burntofferynges of the corne, wyne, and oyle, vnto the store houses, there as are the vessels of the sanctuary, and the priestes that minister, and the porters and singers, that we forsake not the house of oure God.

¶ The. xi. Chapter.

AND the Rulers of the people dwelt at Ierusalē. The other people also caste lottes, that amonge ten, one parte shoulde goo to Ierusalem into the holy citie to dwel and nyne parts to be in the cities. And the people thanked the men, that wer wyllynge to dwell at Ierusalem. These are the heades of the land, that dwelte in Ierusalem, and in the cityes of Iuda, euery one in his possession, and in theyr cityes: they of Israell, the priestes, Leuites, the Nethinims, & the children of Salomons seruauntes. And at Ierusalem dwelt certayne of the chyldren of Iuda, and of Ben Iamin. Of the chyldren of Iuda: Athaiah, the sonne of Vsia, the sonne of Zachary, the sonne of Amaria, the sonne of Saphtia: the sonne of Mahalaleel, of the childrē of Phares. And Maasia, the sonne of Baruch, the sonne of Thal, Hose, the son of Hasaia, the sonne of Adaia, the sone of Ioiarib, the sonne of zachary, the sonne of Siloni. All these were the chyldren of Phares that dwelt at Ierusalem, euen foure hundred, three score and eyght valeaunt men. These

Ware the children of Ben Jamin Salu the sonne of Mesullam, the sonne of Joed, the sonne of Pedaia, the sonne of Calais, the son of Maasia, the sone of Jehiell the sonne of Isai, and after hym Gabai, Sellai, nine hundred and eight and twenty. And Joel the sonne of zichri hadde the ouerlight of them: and Juda the sonne of Senua was, next ouer the city. ¶ Of the Priestes: 1.pa.10.f Jedaiah the sonne of Joiarib, Jachin Saraiah the sonne of Helkia, the son of Mesullam, the sonne of zadoc, the sonne of Meraioth, the sonne of Ahitob, was prynce in the house of God: and hys brethren, that performed the woorke in the temple, eighte hundred and two and twentye. And Adaia the sonne of Jeroham, the sonne of Palaliel, the sonne of Amzi, the sonne of zachari, the sonne of Pashur, the sonne of Malchia, and his brethren, chefe amonge the fathers, two hundred and two and fortye. And Amasai the sonne of Israel, the sonne of Ahasai, the son of Moselemoth, the sonne of Immer, and hys brethren, were valiant men, an hundred and eighte and twentye. And their ouer sear was zabdiel a son of one of the great men. ¶ Of the Le- 1.pa.10b uites: Semeia the sonne of Hasib, the sonne of Asrikam, the sonne of Hasabai, the sonne of Bunni, and Sabathai, and Josabad of the cheefe of the Leuites, had the ouersyght of the outward busynesse of the house of God. And Mathania, the sonne of Micha, the sonne of zabdy, the sonne of Asaph was the principall to begin the thankesgeuynge and prayer. And Bakbukia the seconde amonge his brethren, and Abda the sonne of Sammua, the sonne of Galall, the sonne of Jeduthun. All the Leuites in the holy citye were two hundred foure score & foure. 2.pa.10c ¶ And the porters Acub and Talmon, and their brethrē that kept the portes, were an hundreth and two and seuentye. As for the residue of Israell, the priestes and Leuites, they were in all the cities of Juda, euerye one in hys inheritaunce. And the Nethinims dwelt in Ophel: and ziba and Gispa, were set ouer the Nethinims. The ouersear of the Leuites at Jerusalem, was Usi: the sonne of Bani, the sonne of Hasabia, the sone of Mathania, the sonne of Micha. Of the children of Asaph there were syngers about the busines in the house of God, for it was the kynges commaundemente concernyng them: that the syngers shoulde deale faythfully euerye daye as was accordyng. And Pathaia the sonne of Mesebabel of the children of zerah, the sonne of Juda, next the kynge in all matters concernynge the people, and theyr villages, and lands. And some of the childrē of Juda, that were without in the townes of their lande dwelt at Kariath Arbe. And in the villages therof, at Dibon, and in the villages therof, and at Jecabzeell, and in the villages therof, at Jesua, Moladath, Bethphalet in the Towne of Suali, Beersleba and in their villages, at Siklag, and Moconath, & their villages. And at Enremon, zarah, Jerimuth, zanoa, Odollam, and in their villages, at Lachis, and in the fieldes therof, at Asek, and in the villages therof: and they dwelt from Bersabe vnto the valley of Hinnon. The children also of Ben Jamin, of Geba, dwelt at Machmas: Aia, Bethell, and in theyr villages. And at Anathoth, Nob, Ananiah, Hazor, Ramah, Gethaim, Hadid, zeboim, Nabalath, Lod, and Ono, the carpenters valley. And the Leuites had possession both in Juda, and in Ben Jamin.

¶ The.xii. Chapter.

THese are the priestes and Leuites, that went vp with zoro- A babel the sonne of Salathiell, and with Jesua, Sararia, Jeremie, and Esdras, Amaria, Maluch, Hatus Sechania, Rehum, Merimoth, Iddo, Genthoi, Abia, Meamin, Maadia Belga, Semeia, and Joiarib, Jadaia Salu, Amok, Helkia, & Jadaia. These were the heades among the priestes & theyr brethren in the dayes of Jesua:

The

The Leuites wer these: Jesua, Bennui, Cadmiell, Sarabia, Juda, and Mathania which was ouer the office of thankesgeuyng: he and his brethrē, Bacbukia and Hymni, and their brethren, were aboute them in the watches. Jesua begate Joakim, Joakim also begat Eliasib, and Eliasib begat Joiada, Joiada begat Jonathan, and Jonathan begat Jadua. In the days of Joakim wer these the chefe fathers amonge the priestes: vnder Saraia, Maraia, vnder Jeremi, Hanania, vnder Esdras, Mesullam vnder Amaria, Jehoanan, vnder Melico, Jonathan, vnder Sebania, Joseph, vnder Harim, Adna, vnder Maraioth, Helkia, vnder Iddo, zachari, vnder Genthon, Mesullam, vnder Abia, Zichri, vnder Miniamin, and Moadia Piltai, vnder Belga, Samua, vnder Semeia, Jehonathan, vnder Joiarib, Mathenia, vnder Jadaia, Vsi, vnder Selai, Kelai, vnder Amok, Eber, vnder Helchia, Hasabia, vnder Jaiada, Nathanael. And in the time of Eliasib, Joiada, Johanan and Jadua wer the chiefe fathers among the Leuites and the priestes, written vnder the reygne of Darius the Persian. The chyldren of Leui, the principall fathers were written in the Chronicles, vntyll the tyme of Jonathan the sonne of Eliasib. And these were the chefe amonge the Leuites, Hasabia, Serebia, and Jesua the sōne of Cadmiel, and theyr brethren in their presence, to geue prayse and thankes, accordynge as Dauid the man of God had ordened it, one watch ouer against another, Mathania, Bakbukia, Obadia, Mesullam, Talmon, and Akub, wer porters in the watch at the thresholdes of the gates. These were in the days of Joakim, the sonne of Jesua, the sonne of Josedec, and in the dayes of Nehemia the captayne, and of the priest Esdras the scrybe. And in the dedication of the wall at Jerusalem, they sought the Leuites out of all theyr places, that they myghte be brought to Jerusalem, to kepe the dedication and gladnesse, with thankesgeuinge, and singyng with Cimbals Psalteries, and harpes. And the chyldren of the syngers gathered theym selues together from euery side out of the playne countrey about Jerusalē, and from the villages of Nethophati from the house of Gilgal, & out of the countreys of Geba, and Asmaueth: for the singers had builded them villages round about Jerusalem. And the priestes and Leuites were purifyed, and clensed the people, and the gates, and the wall. And I brought the prynces of Juda vpon the wall, and appoynted two great queeres of men to geue thankes, whiche wente on the ryghte hande of the wall toward the Dongegate, and after them went Hasaia, and halfe of the princes of Juda, and Asaria, Esdras, and Mesullam, Juda, Ben Jamin, Semia, Jeremie, and certayne of the Priestes chyldren with trompettes: namely zachari the sonne of Jonathan, the sonne of Semia, the sōne of Mathania, the sonne of Machaia, the sonne of Zacur, the sonne of Asaph, and his brethren, Semeia, Asarael, Melalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nathanael, and Juda, and Hanani, with the musicall instrumentes of Dauid the man of god. And Esdras the scribe wente before them, and beside the well gate, they went vp ouer against them vpon the steps of the cite of Dauid: at the going vp of the wall beyonde the house of Dauid, vnto the water gate eastwarde. The other quere of them that gaue thankes went ouer against the, and I after them, & the halfe parte of the people vpon the wal, beyonde the fornacegate, vntill the brode wall, and beyond the port of Ephraim, & beyond the oldegate, beyonde the fyshegate, and the tower of Hananell, and the tower of Mea, vntyll the sheepegate. And they stode stil in the prison gate: and so stode the two queres (of them that gaue thankes) in the house of God: and I, and the half of the rulers with mee, and the Priestes, namely Eliakim, Maasia, Miniamin, Michaia, Eliocrai, zachari and Hanania with trompets: and Maasia, Semiah, Eleasar, Vsi, Jehohanan, Melchiah, Elam, and Ser. And the syngers sange loude, hauing Jestahiah, for theyr ouersear. And the same daye, they offered great sacrifices, and reioysed: for God had geuen them great gladnesse, so that both the wyues and childzen were ioyfull, and the myrthe of Jerusalem was heard farre of. At the same time wer ther men appoynted ouer the treasure houses (wherein were the heaueofferinges, the fyrstelinges, and the tythes) that they should gather them out of the fieldes aboute the cities: to distribute them vnto the Priestes and Leuites accordinge to the lawe: for Juda was gladde of the Priestes and Leuites, that they stode and waited vppon the office of theyr God, whyche is a pure offyce. And the singers and porters stode after the 1.pa.23.a commaundemente of Dauid, and of Salomon hys sonne: for in the time of Dauid and Asaph were the cheefe singers founded, and the Songes of praise and thankesgeuing vnto God. In the time of zorobabel, and Nehemia, dyd all they of Jsrael geue portions vnto the singers and porters, euery daye his portion, and they gaue tythes vnto the Leuites, and the Leuytes gaue tithes againe vnto the chyldzen of Aaron.

¶ The .xiiii. Chapter.

AND that day did they reade in the booke of Moses, and the people harckened thereto, and deu.34.a there was founde wrytten, that the Ammonites and Moabites shoulde neuer come into the congregation of God, because they mette not the childzen of Jsracll with breade and wa-Nu.23.a ter, but hyred Balaam against them that he shoulde curse them, but oure God turned the curse into a blessyng. Nowe when they harde the lawe, it fortuned, that they separated frō Jsracll euerye one that had myxte hym selfe therein. And before thys had the Priest Eliasib the oversighte of the treasure of the house of oure God, & he was kinsmā vnto Tobia: & had made hym a great chāber: & there had they afore tyme layed the offerynges, frankencēce, vessel, and the tithes of corne, wyne, and Oyle (accordinge to the commaundemente geuen to the Leuites, singers, and Porters,) and the heaueoffringes of the Priestes. But in all thys tyme was not I at Jeru- B salem: for in the two and thirty yeare of Artharerses king of Babilon, came I vnto the kynge, and after certayne dayes obtained I licence of the kynge to come to Jerusalem. And I gate knowledge of the euill that Eliasib did vnto Tobia, in that hee had made him a chambze in the courte of the house of God: and it greued me sooze: and I cast forthe all the vessels of the house of Tobia oute of the chambze, & commaunded them to clense the chambers. And thither brought I agayne the vessels of the house of God, wyth the meatofferyng, and the encense.
And I perceyued that the portions of the Leuites were not geuen theym, and that euery one fled to hys lande, euen the Leuites and singers that executed the worcke. Then reproued I the rulers, and sayd: Why is the house of God forsaken? And I gathered the togethe, and set them in their place.
Then brought all Juda the tithes of corn, and wine and oyle vnto the tresure. And I made treasurers ouer the treasure: euen Selemiah the Preest, and zadoc the scribe, and of the Leuites, Phadaia, and vnder theyr hande was Hanan the sonne of zacur, the Sonne of Mathania: for they were counted faythfull, and theyr Office was to distribute the porcyons vnto 1 Esd.8 theyr brethren. Thyncke vppon me, O my GOD herein, and wype not oute my mercye that I haue shewed on the house of my GOD, and on the officers thereof. And the same time sawe I some treadynge wine presses on the Sabbothe, and bryngynge in sheues, and Asses laden wyth wyne, grapes, figges, and bringing al maner of burthens vnto Jerusalē, vpon the

Sab-

Sabboth day. And I rebuked them earnestly the same daye that they sold the victuales. There dwelte menne of Tyre also therein, which brought fyshe and all maner of ware, and sold on the Sabboth vnto the children of Iuda in Ierusalem. Then reproued I the rulers in Iuda, and sayd vnto theym: What euyll thynge is this, that ye doo, and breake the Sabboth daye? Dydde not your fathers euen thus, and oure GOD brought all thys plague vpon vs, and vpon this Citie? And ye make the wrath more yet vppon Israell, in that ye breake the Sabboth. And it fortuned, that whenne the portes of Ierusalem beganne to be darke in the euenyng, before the Sabboth, I commaunded to shut the gates, and charged that they shoulde not bee opened tyll after the Sabbothe: and some of my seruauntes sette I at the gates, that there should no burthen bee brought in on the Saboth day. Then remayned the chapmenne and merchauntes once or twyse ouer nyght wythoute Ierusalem, wyth all manner of wares. Then reproued I theym sooze, and sayde vnto theym: Why tarye ye all nyghte aboute the walle? If ye doo it ones agayne, I wyll laye handes vppon you. From that tyme forth came they no more on the Sabboth. I sayde vnto the Leuites, that they shoulde clense theym selues, and that they shoulde come and keepe the gates, to halowe the Sabboth daye. Thynke vppon me (O my GOD) concernynge thys also, and spare me, accordyng to thy greate mercye. And at the same tyme sawe I Iewes that maryed wyues of Asdod, of Ammon, and of Moab: and the chyldren spake half in the Speeche of Asdod, and coulde not speake in the Iewes language, but by the toungue myghte a man perceyue euery people. Then I reproued them, and cursed theym, and smote certayne men of them, and made theym bare, and tooke an othe of theym by GOD: Ye shall not geue youre daughters vnto theyr sonnes: Nether shall yee take theyr daughters vnto youre sonnes, or for your selues. Dyd not Salomon the kyng of Israel synne for suche? And yet among many Heathen was there no kynge lyke hym, whyche was deare vnto hys God: and God made hym kyng ouer all Israell: and yet neuertheless outlandyshe womenne caused hym to synne. Shall we then obey vnto you, to doo all thys greate euyll, and to transgresse agaynst our GOD, and mary straunge wyues? And one of the children of Iehoiada, the sonne of Eliasib the hygh priest, hadde made a contracte wyth Sanaballat, the Horonite: But I chased hym frome me, (O my God) thynke thou vppon theym that defyle the Priesthode, and the couenaunt of the Priesthoode, and of the Leuytes. Thus clensed I them from all suche as were outlandysh, and appoynted the courses of the Priests & Leuytes euery one in his office, & to offer the wood at times appoynted, and the fyrst fruites. Thynke thou vppon me O my God for the beste. Amen.

The ende of the seconde Booke of Esdras: Otherwyse called the Booke of Nehemia.

The Booke of Esther.

The fyrst Chapter.

A

T foztuned, in the dayes of Ahasuerus, which reigned from India vnto Ethiopia (ouer an hundred and .xxvij. landes) euen in those dayes when the kyng Ahasuerus sat on his seate royal, which was in Susan the chief Citie, in the third yeare of hys reigne, he made a feaste vnto all hys princes and seruants. And the mightie men of Persia and Media, the captains also and rulers of his countreis were before hym, and he shewed the ryches and glory of his kyngdome, and the glorious worshyp of his greatnesse many dayes long: euen an hun-

B dred and foure score days. And when these dayes were expired, the Kynge made a feaste vnto all the people that were in Susan the chief citie, bothe vnto great and small, seuen dayes long in the court of the garden by ỹ kings palace: where there hanged white, grene, and yelowe cloathes, fastened with cordes of fyne sylke, and purple in syluer ringes, vpon pillers of marble stones. The benches also were of

C golde and syluer, made vpon a pauement of grene, white, yelow, & blacke marble. And they dranke in vessells of gold, and changed vessell after vessell. And the kyngs wyne was much accordyng to the power of the kyng. And the drink was so appointed that none shoulde compell any man: for so the kyng had commanded by the officers of his house, that euery one shold doo as it lyked hym. And the quene Vasthi made a feaste also for the wo-

D men in the palace of Ahasuerus. And on the seuenth day whenne the kyng was merye after the wyne, he commaunded Mehuman, Bizetha, Harbona, Bigtha, Abagthan, Zethar, and Carchas, the seuē chamberlains, that dyd seruice in the presence of kyng Ahasuerus, to fetche the quene Vasthi with the crowne regall into the kynges presence, that he might shewe the people and princes her fayrenesse, for she was beautyfull. But the queene Vasthi would not come at the kyngs word by his chamberlaynes. Thenne was the king very wroth, and his indignation kyndled in hym. And the kyng spake to the wyse men that had vnderstandyng in the ordinaunces of the land: for the kynges matters must be handeled before all suche as haue knowledge of the lawe & iudgement. And (the chiefe and) nexte vnto hym wer Carsena, Sethar, Admata, Thersis, Mares, Marsena, & Memucan, the seuen princes of Persia, and Media, which sawe the kynges face, and sat aboue in the kingdome. What law (sayeth the kyng) should be executed vpon the Quene Vasthi, because she dyd not accordyng to the worde of the kyng Ahasuerus, which he commanded by his chamberlayns? And Memucan answered before the kyng, and the princes: The quene Vasthi hath not onely done euill agaynst the king but also against all the princes, and against all the people, that are in all the lāds of king Ahasuerus: for this dede of the quene shal come abrode vnto al women, so that they shall despise their husbandes before their eies, and shall say: The king Ahasuerus cōmaunded Vasthi the Queene to be brought in before him, but she would not come. And so shall the princesses in Persia E and Media, say likewise vnto all the kinges Princes, when they heare of this dede of the quene: thus shal there arise to much despitefulnes & wrath. If it please the kyng therfore, let ther go a commaundement from hym, and lette it bee written, accordynge to the lawes of the Persians & Medians, (and not to be transgressed) ỹ Vasthi come no more beefore kynge Ahasuerus, & let the king geue her kyngdom vnto an other, that is better than she. And whenne thys commaundement of the kyng (whiche shall bee made) is Publyshed throughe oute all his empyre (which is greate) all womenne shall holde their husbandes in honour both amonge great and smal.

hys

¶ This pleased the king, and the princes, and the kinge did accordinge to the worde of Memucan. For he sent letters forth into al ỹ kyngs landes, into euery lande: accordinge to the wry-tinge thereof, and to euerye people after their language, that euerye manne should be lord in his owne house. And this caused hee to bee spoken after the language of his people.

¶ The. ii. Chapter.

¶ After these actes, whē the displeasure of kinge Ahasuerus was now layed, he thoughte vpon Vasthi, and what she had done, and what was concluded against her.
Then saide the Kinges seruauntes that ministred vnto him: Let there be faire yonge virginnes sought for the kinge, and the king apointed certaine men in all the landes of hys empyre, whom hee charged that they shoulde bringe together all the fayre younge virgins vnto Susan the head citie, to the womēs building, vnder the hand of Hagei, the kinges chamberlayne, that kepte the women, to geue theym their apparel, (and other thinges necessarie to be had) And that the damo sell which pleased the kinge should be quene in Vasthis stede. And this ple-sed the king and he did so. In the City of Susan ther was a Jew, whose name was Mardocheus, the sonne of Jair, the soonne of Semei, the son of Cis a man of Jemini, which was ca-2 Re. 24 ried awaye from Jerusalem, * when Jer. 24 a Jekonia the king of Juda was lead awaye, (whom Nabuchodonozor the kinge of Babilon caryed thence) and he norished Hadassa (that is Esther) his vncles daughter: for she had neyther father nor mother, and she was a fayre and bewtyfull damosell: whome Mardocheus (when her father and mother was deade) receyued for hys owne daughter. So it fortuned, that when the kinges commaundemente and commission was publyshed, and manye damselles were brought together in the citie of Susan, vnder the hande of Hagei, Esther was brought also vnto the kinges house vnder the hande of Hagei the keper of the women, and the damsell pleased him that she founde fauour in hys sighte. And he caused ornamentes to be geuen her and such thinges as belonged to her, and apointed her seuen comly damsels out of the kinges house, and fauoured both her and her gentle women syngulary in the house of the women.
But Esther shewed not her people and her kinred: for Mardocheus had charged her, that she should not tel it.
And Mardocheus walked euery day before the court of the womens house, that hee myght knowe howe Esther did, and what shoulde become of her.
And when the apointed time of eue-ry damsell came, that she should go into Kynge Ahasuerus, after that shee had bene twelue monethes in the decking of the women (for theyr decking must haue so much tyme, namely syxe monethes with Balme and Myrre, and sixe monethes with good spyces, so were the women bewtyfied) then wente there one damosell vnto the kyng, and whatsoeuer she requyred (so that it were comelye) that muste be geuen her to goe with her oute of the womens building vnto the kynges palace. In the euening she went, and on the morowe againe, into the seconde house of the women abidinge vnder the hande of Saasgas the kinges chamberlaine, whiche kepte the concubynes. And she camme in vnto the kyng nomore, except it pleased the king to haue her and that he called her by name. Now when the time cam of Esther the daughter of Abihan the vncle of Mardocheus (which had re ceiued her as his owne daughter) that she shoulde come into the kinge, shee desyred nothynge, but what Hagei the Kynges chamberlayne, the keper of the wemenne sayde. And Esther founde fauoure in the syghte of all theym that looked vpon her. And Esther was takenne vnto the Kynge Ahasuerus into hys house royall,

in

in the tenth moneth, which is the mo-Decem- neth Tebeth, in the seuenth yere of bre. his reigne. And the kinge loued Esther aboue al the wemen, and she fou̇d grace and fauour in his sighte before al the virgins: so that he set the crown of the kingdome vppon her head, and made her quene in stede of Vasthi.
And the kinge made a great feast vnto all hys princes and seruauntes (whiche feast was because of Esther) and caused the landes to be in quietnesse, and gaue giftes, as became the royal-tie of a king. And when the virgyns were gathered together the seconde tyme, Mardocheus sat in the kynges gate. And as yet had not Esther shew ed her kinred and her people, accordinge as Mardocheus had biddė her:
for Esther did after ꝑ word of Mar-docheus, lyke as if she had bene yet vn der hys gouernance. At the same time whil: Mardocheus sat in the kinges gate, two of the kinges chamberlains Bithan and Theres, which kept the dore, were wroth, and soughte to laye their handes on the kyng Ahasuerus.
Wherof also Mardocheus gat know Esth.6.a lege, a and told it vnto quene Esther, and Esther certified the kinge therof in Mardocheus name, And when inquisition was made, it was found so.
And thei wer both hȧged on tree: and it was written in the Chronicles before the kinge.

¶ The .iii. Chapter.

A Fter these actes did kyng Ahasuerus promote Haman the soonne of Amadatha, the A-gagite, and set him on hie, and set hys seate aboue all the princes that he had with him. And al the kinges seruan-tes that wer in the kinges gate bowed ther knees and worshipped Hamā:
for the king had so commaunded, concerning him. But Mardocheus bow ed not the knee, and worshipped hym not. Thē the kinges seruantes which wer in the kings gate said vnto Mar docheus: why trāsgressest thou ꝑ kin ges commandements? And whē they spake this daylye vnto him, hee hear-
A
B
C
D
wed them not, and they tolde Haman, that they might se how Mardocheus matters wolde endure: for he had told them, that he was a Iewe. And whē Haman sawe that Mardocheus bowed not the knee vnto hym, nor worshypped hym, he was full of indignacion, and thoughte it to lytle to laye handes onelye on Mardocheus: for they had shewed hym the nacion of Mardocheus: wherefore he soughte to destroye all the Iewes, that were throughoute the whole empire of Ahasuerus, and that were of the nacion of Mardocheus. In the fyrste mo-neth (that is the moneth Nisan) in the tweluth yere of kyng Ahasuerus, they caste Phur (that is a lot) before Haman from daye to daye, and from moneth to moneth, to the twelueth moneth, that is the moneth Adar. And Haman sayd vnto kynge Ahasuerus:
There is here a people scatred abrode & dispersed among all people in all ꝑ landes of thine empire, and they haue their lawes contrary from all people, and do not after the kings lawes: neither is it the kynges profyte to suffer them after thys maner. If it please the kynge, let it be written, that they may be destroyed, and so wyl I waye down ten thousand talentes of siluer, by the handes of the worckemen, to be brought into the kynges treasure: and the king toke his ring from his hand, and gaue it vnto Haman the sonne of Amadatha, the Agagite, the Iewes enemye. And the kyng sayd vnto Haman: Let the siluer be geuen thee, and do with that people as it pleseth thee.
Then were the kynges scribes called on the thirteenth daye of the firste mo-neth (Nisan) and ther was written (accordyng as Haman commaunded) vnto all the kinges officers, and to the captaynes that were in al the landes, and to the rulers of euerye people in the countryes of euerye syde, accor-dyng to the writyng of euery nacion, and after their language: in the name of kynge Ahasuerus was it written, and sealed with the kinges ryng. And the writinges wer sent by postes into all

all the kinges landes, to roote oute, to kill and to destroye all Iewes, both yonge and old, childzen and women in one daye (namelye, vppon the thirteenth daye of the twelfth month. Whyche is the moneth * Adar) and to spoyle their gooddes. This was the Febru-arye. sum of the writing, that there should be a commaundement geuen in al landes, and publyshed vnto all people, that they should be ready against the same day. And the postes went in all the hast, accozding to the kinges commaundemēt. And in Sulan the chefe citie was the commaundement deuysed. And the kinge and Haman satte and dzancke: when in the meane tyme the citie of Sulan was disquieted.

¶ The. iiii. Chapter.

A When Mardocheus perceaued all that was doone, hee rente his clothes and put on sackecloth: wyth ashes, and went out into the middes of the Citie, and cryed loude and lamentablye, and came before the kynges gate: but he myght not entre wythin the kynges gate, by cause hee had sackecloth on, and in all landes countries and places as farre as the kynges worde and commaundemente extended, there was greate lamentation amonge the Iewes, fastinge, weppynge and mournynge, and many lay in sackclothes, and in ashes.

B So Esthers damoselles and her chāberlaynes came and tolde it her. Thē was the Quene exceadinglie astonted. And she sente rayment, that Mardocheus shoulde put on, and laye the sackcloth from him. But Mardocheus wouldе not take them. Then called Esther Hathath, one of the kings chamberlaines (whiche stode before her) and gaue him a commaundement vnto Mardocheus, that hee myghte know what it were, wherfore he dyd so. So Hathath went forth to Mardocheus vnto the strete of the Cytye, whiche was before the kynges gate. And Mardocheus tolde hym of all that had happened vnto hym, and of the sum of syluer that Haman hadde promised to weye downe into the kinges treasurye because of the Iewes, if he wouldе destroy theym, and hee gaue hym the copye of the kinges cōmaundemente, that was deuysed at Sulan, to destroy thē, that he might shewe it vnto Esther: and to speake to her, and charge her, that she should go into the king, and make her prayer and supplicatiō vnto him for her people. C And when Hathath came in, hee tolde Esther the wordes of Mardocheus. And againe, Esther spake vnto Hathath, and commaunded him to say vnto Mardocheus: al the kinges seruauntes, and the people in the landes of the kinge, knowe that whosoeuer commeth within the courte vnto the kynge, whether it be man or woman, which is not called, the commaundement is, that the same shall die, except the kinge holde oute the golden sceptre vnto him (in token of graciousnes) for then he shall lyue. As for me I haue not bene called to come into the kynge nowe thys thyrtie dayes. D And ther certified Mardocheus of Esthers wordes, and Mardocheus bad saye agayne vnto Esther: thynke not to saue thyne owne lyfe while thou arte in the kinges house, before al Iewes: for yf thou holdest thy peace at this time, then shall the Iewes haue helpe and deliueraunce oute of an other place, and thou and thy fathers house shall bee destroyed. And whoe knoweth whether thou arte come to the kyngedome, for this causes sake? Esther bad them gyue Mardocheus thys answer: Go thou thy way, & gather together all the Iewes together that are founde at Sulan, and fast ye for me, that ye eat not and drinke not in three days, neyther day nor night. I and my damosclles wyll faste lyke wyse: and so wyll I go into the king which thyng yet is contrary vnto the commaundement: and yf I perysshe, I perysshe. Soo Mardocheus wente his waye, and did all that Esther had commaunded hym.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

And

¶ And on the third daye it fortuned, that Esther put on her royall apparell, and stode in the court of the kynges palace within, ouer agaynst the kynges house. And the kynge sat vpon hys royall seate in the kynges palace, ouer agaynste the gate of the house. And when the king sawe Esther the quene standynge in the courte, shee founde grace in hys syght. And the kynge helde oute the golden scepter that was in his hande towarde Esther. So Esther stepte forth, and touched the top of the scepter. Then sayde the kynge vnto her: what wylt thou quene Esther? and what requirest thou? aske euen the halfe of the empire, and it shalbe geuē 25 thee. And Esther aunswered: If it please the kinge, let the kyng and Haman come thys daye vnto the banket, that I haue prepared for hym. And the kyng sayde: cause Haman to make haste that he maye do as Esther hath sayd. So the kynge and Haman came to the banket that Esther had prepared, and the kynge sayde vnto Esther at the banket of wyne: what is thy peticion? that it maye be geuen thee. And what requirest thou? Yf it be euen the halfe of the empire, it shall be done. Then aunswered Esther, and sayde: My petition and desire is, yf I C haue founde grace in the syght of the king: and yf it please the kyng to geue me my peticion, and to fulfyll my request, then let the kynge and Haman come to the banket that I shall prepare for them, and so wyl I do to morowe, as the kynge hath sayde. Then went Haman forth the same day ioyfull and mery in his mynd. And when the same Haman sawe Mardocheus in the kyngs gate that he stode not vp and kneled before him, he was full of indignacion at Mardocheus. Neuertheless, Haman refrayned hym selfe: and when he came home he sente, and called for hys frendes, and Zares hys wyfe: and Haman tolde them of the glorye of hys rychesse, and the multitude of hys chyldren, and all together howe the kynge had promoted him so greatly, and howe that he had set him aboue the princes and seruauntes of the kynge. Haman sayde moreouer: Yea, and Esther the queene did let no D man come in with the kyng vnto the banket, that she had prepared, excepte me. And to morowe am I bidden vnto her also with the kinge. But in all this am I not satisfyed as long as I see Mardocheus the Iewe, sytting at the kynges gate. Then sayde Zares hys wyfe, and all hys frendes vnto him: let them make a galowes of fyftye cubites hye, and to morowe speke thou vnto the kynge, that Mardocheus maye be hanged thereon, and go thou in merely with the kynge vnto the bankette. And Haman was well content withall, and caused the galowes to be made.

¶ The. vi. Chapter.

THe same nyghte could not the kynge slepe, and he commaunded to bringe the Chronicles and storyes: which when they were red before the kynge, they happened on the place, where it was written, howe * Mardocheus had tolde that Esth. 2 Bigthana, and Theres, the kynges two chamberlaynes (which kepte the thresholdes) sought to lay handes on kyng Ahasuerus. And the kyng sayd: what worshyp and good haue we don to Mardocheus therfore? Then sayd 25 the kynges seruauntes that ministred vnto him: there is nothing at all done for him. And the king sayd: who is in the court? for Haman was gone into the court without before the kynges house, that he might speake vnto the kyng to hang Mardocheus on ye tree (that he had prepared for him.) And the kings seruants said vnto him: behold, Haman standeth without in the courte. And the kynge sayde: Let him come in. And when Haman came in, the kyng sayd vnto him: what shalbe done vnto the man, whom the kynge wold fayne bring vnto worshyp? Haman thought in his hert: whom desireth the kyng to bring vnto worshyp, more then me? And Haman answered the kyng: Let the mā whom the kyng, C plea-

pleaseth to bring vnto worshyp, bee brought hither: that he maybe arayde with the royall garments: which the kyng vseth to weare: and the horse that the kynge rydeth vppon, and that the crowne royall maye bee sette vpon his head. And let this rayment and horse be deliuered vnto the hande of one of the kynges princes, that he may araye the man wythall (whome the kyng is disposed to bringe to honour) and cary hym vppon the horse thorow the strete of the citie, and proclaime before him: thus shal it be done to the man, whom the kynge pleaseth to bringe to honour. And the kynge sayde: Make hast, and take as thou hast said: The rayment and the horse, and do euen so vnto Mardocheus the Iewe, that sitteth before the kynges gate: and let nothyng faile of all that thou hast spoken. Then toke Haman the rayment and the horse, and arayed Mardocheus, and broughte hym on horsebacke thorowe the streete of the citie, and proclaimed before him: Euen this shal it be done vnto the man whō the kyng is disposed to honour. And Mardocheus came agayn to the kynges gate: but Haman gate hym home in all the haste mournynge bare headed, and tolde Zares his wife, and all his frendes, euery thyng that had happened hym. Then sayde his wise men, and Zares hys wyfe vnto him: If it be Mardocheus of the seede of the Iewes, before whom thou haste begon to fall, thou shalt not preuayle against hym. And whyle they were yet talkyng with hym, came the kinges chamberlaynes, and caused Haman to make haste, to come vnto the banket that Esther had prepared.

¶ The. vij. Chapter.

AND the king & Hamā came in to the banket ẏ quene Esther had prepared: & the king said vnto Esther on the seconde daye at the bankette of wyne: what is thy petition (queene Esther) that it may bee geuen thee? And what desyrest thou? Yea, aske euen half the empire, and it shall be done. And Esther the Quene aunswered and sayde: If I haue fond grace in thy sight (o king) and if it please the kyng, then graunte me my life at my desire and my people, for my petitions sake: for we are solde, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slaine and to pearyshe. And would God that we were sold to be bondmen and bondwomen, thē wold I holde my tounge. For the enemye pondereth not the kyngs harm. Then kyng Ahasuerus aunswered, and said vnto Quene Ester: who is hee? And where is he, that dare presume in hys minde to doo after that manner? And Esther said: the enemy and aduersary is thys wicked Haman. Haman was exceadingly afraide before the kynge and the Quene. And the kynge arose from the banket, and from the wyne, in his displeasure, and wente into the palace garden. And Haman stode vp, and besought Quene Esther for hys lyfe, for he sawe that there was mischiefe prepared for hym of the kynge all ready. And when the kynge came agayne oute of the palace garden, into the place where they dyancke wyne: Haman had layed him vppon the bed, that Esther sate vppon: Then sayde the kyng: wyl he force the Quene also before me in the house? Assoone as that woorde went out of the kynges mouthe, they couered Hamans face. And Harbona one of ẏ chamberlains that stode before the kinge, saide: Behold, ther stādeth a galous in Hamās house, fifty cubites hie, whiche he had made for Mardocheus, ẏ spake good for the king. The king said: hāg hym there on. So they hanged Haman on the galowes, that he hadde made for Mardocheus. Then was the kynges wrath pacifyed.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

THe same day did king Ahasuerus geue the house of Haman the Iewes enemy, vnto quene Esther. And Mardocheus cam before the kyng: for Esther told how that he belōged vnto her. And the king put of his finger ring, which he had takē frō Haman, & gaue it vnto Mardecheus.

And

And Esther sette Mardocheus ouer the house of Haman. And Esther spake yet more before the kyng, & fell down at his feete weepynge, and besoughte hym that he would put away the wickednesse of Haman the Agagite, and his deuise that he hadde ymagined against the Iewes. And the kyng (according to the maner) healde out the golde sceptre toward Esther, (wherby was declared a token of graciousnesse.) Then rose Esther, and stoode before the kyng, and sayde, if it please the kyng, and if I haue founde grace in his syght, and yf it be acceptable before the kyng, then let it bee written, that the letters of the deuice of Haman, the sonne of Hamadatha the Agagite may be called agayne, whyche letters he wrote to destroye the Iewes, which are in all the kyngs landes. For how can I suffer and see the euyll that shall happen vnto my people? Or howe can I take vpon the destruction of my kyndrede. And the kyng Ahasuerus saide vnto Queene Esther, & to Mardocheus the Iew: Beholde I haue geuen Esther, the house of Haman, whome they haue hanged vppon a tree, because he layde hande vppon the Iewes. Wrote ye also for the Iewes, as it lyketh you, in the kyngs name, and seale it wyth the kynges ryng, for the writynges that wer written in the kyngs name, and sealed with the kyngs ring, durst no man disanull. Then were the kinges Scribes called at the same tyme, euen in the thyrd moneth, that is the moneth Siuan, on the three & twentieth day. And it was written (according to all as Mardocheus commanded) vnto the Iewes, & to the princes, to the debities and captaynes in the landes, which are from India vnto Ethiopia, namely an. C. and seuen and twenty landes vnto euery one, according to the writing therof, & vnto euery people after their speech, & to the Iewes according to their writyng & langnage. And he wrote in the kynge Ahasuerus name, & sealed it with the kyngs ryng. And by postes that rode vpon horses and kwykte younge mules sente he the writinges, wherin the kinge graunted the Iewes (in what cities so euer they were) to gather them selues together, and to stād for their life, and for to roote oute, to slaye, and to destroye all the power of the people and land that would trouble them, with children and women, and to spoyl their good vpon one day, in all ỹ landes of king Ahasuerus, namely vpon ỹ thirteenth day of the .xii. monthe, which is the moneth Adar. The sum of the writyng was, howe there shoulde be a commaundemente geuen in all landes, and published among all people, and that the Iewes shoulde be ready against that day, and to auenge them selues on their ennemyes. And so the postes that rode vpon the swift horses and mules, made haste wyth all speede, to execute the kynges worde, and the commaundement was deuised in Susan the chefe Citye. And Mardocheus wente oute (from the place, and) from the kynge in royal apparel, of yelow and white, and wyth a great crowne of gold, being arayed with a garmente of sylke and purple, and the city of Susan retoyced and was gladde: and vnto the Iewes there was come (a newe) lyght and gladnesse, ioy and worshyp. In all landes and Cities into what places so euer the kynges woord and commaundement reached, there was ioy and mirthe, prosperitye and good dayes among the Iewes, in so muche that manye of the people in the lande became of the Iewes beliefe, and the feare of the Iewes came vpon them.

B

C

May.

D

Februari

¶ The .ix. Chapter.

IN the twelueth monthe, that is the monthe Adar, vpon the thyrtenth daye of the same, when the kinges woorde and commaundement should be doone, euen vppon the same daye that the ennemies shoulde haue destroyed the Iewes to haue oppressed them, it turned contrary wise, euē that the Iewes shoulde subdue their enne-

enemyes. For then gathered the Jewes together in theyr cities within all the landes of kyng Ahasuerus, to lay hande on such as wolde do them evil, and no manne coulde withstand them, for the feare of them was come over al people, and al the rulers in the lãdes, & princes and debities, and officers of the kinge, promoted the Jewes for the feare of Mardocheus cam vppon them. For Mardocheus was great in the kynges house, and the reporte of him was noysed in al landes, B how he encreased and grewe. Thus the Jewes smote all theyr enemyes with a sore slaughter, and slue and destroied, did after theyr wil vnto suche as wer their adversaries. And at Susan the chef citie slue the Jewes, and destroyed fyue hundred men and slue Pharsandatha, Dalphon, Aliphatha, Phoratha, Adalia, Aridatha, Pharmaltha, Arisai, Aridai, and Vaizatha, the ten sonnes of Haman, the sonnes of Hamadatha the enemye of the Jewes: but on hys goodes they layed no hands. At the same time was the king certified of the numbre of those that C were slaine in the Citie of Susan. And the king said vnto quene Esther The Jewes have slayne and destroied fyue hundred menne in the citie of Susan, and the ten sonnes of Haman what have they doone thynkest thou in other landes of the kinge? And what is thy peticion, that it maye bee geuen thee? or what requirest thou more to be doone? Esther aunswered: If it please the kinge, let hym suffre the Jewes to morowe also to doe accordynge vnto this dayes commaundemente, that they maye hang Hamãs ted sons vppon the tree. And the king charged to do so: and the commaundemente was denised at Susan, and they hanged Hamans ten sonnes. For the Jewes that were in Susan gathered theym selues together vppon the foureteenth daye of the moneth Adar, and slue three hundred menne at Susan, but on theyr goodes they layed no handes. As for the other Jewes that were in the kynges landes, they cam togither, and stode for their lives that they myght have rest from theyr enemyes, & slue of their enemies fyue and seuentie thousand: howbeit they D laied no handes on their goods. This they did on the thirteenth day of ỹ moneth Adar, & on the .xiiii. daye of the same moneth rested they, whyche day they held with feasting and gladnes. But the Jewes that were at Susan cam together both on the xiii. day, and on the .xiiii., and on the .xv. day of the same they rested, & held that day with feasting and gladnes. And therfore ỹ Jewes that dwelt in the villages, & vnwalled townes, held the .xiiii. daye of the month Adar, with gladnes and feasting, & kept holy day, & euerye one sent giftes vnto another. And Mar- E docheus wrote these actes, and sent ỹ writinges vnto all the Jewes, that wer in al the landes of kinge Ahasuerus, both nye and far, that they should make a law amonge theim selues, and hold the xiiii. & xv. day of the moneth Adar, as the dais wherin the Jewes cam to rest from their enemies, and as a month wherin their paine was turned to ioy, & their sorow into an holy dai: and that in those daies they shuld make feastes and gladnes, and one to sende giftes vnto another, and to distribute vnto ỹ poze. And the Jewes wer content with it that they had begon to do, & that Mardocheus wrote vnto them: howe that Haman the son of Hamadatha al the Jewes enemye, had denised agaynst the Jewes, howe he myght destroy them, and caused to cast Phur (that is a lotte) for to putte theym in feare, and to bringe theym to noughte: and howe Esther wente and spake to the kynge, that throughe letters his wycked deuyce (which he ymagined against the Jewes) might be turned vppon hys owne head: and howe he, and hys soonnes were hanged on the tree. For the whyche cause they called this day Phurim, because of the name of the lotte, and because of all the woordes of thys writyng, and what they theym selues had sene, and what hadde happened vnto them.

And the Jewes set it vp, and tooke it vpon them and their seede, and vpon al suche as ioyned themselues vnto the, that they wold not mysse but observe these two days yearely, accordyng as they were written & appointed, how that these days are not to be forgotte, but to be kept of childres chyldren amonge all kynreds in all landes and cities. They are the days of Phurim which are not to be ouerslypt amonge the Jewes, and the memorial of them ought not to perishe from their seede. And queene Esther, the daughter of Abihail, and Mardocheus the Jewe wrote with all auctoritie (to confirm this second writting of Phurim) and sent the letters vnto al ỹ Jewes in ỹ hundred & seuen and twēty landes of the empire of Ahasuerus, with frend ly and faithfull wordes, to confirme these dayes of Phurim, in their time appointed, accordinge as Mardocheus the Jewe, and Esther the Quene hadde appoynted theym. And they bounde theyr soule and theyr seede to fastyng, and prayer. And Esther stablyshed the wordes of these lottes, as it is written in the booke. And the kyng Ahasuerus layde this Tribute vpon the lande, and vpon the Iles of the sea. And all that he dydde by hys power and auctoritie, and the greate worshippe of Mardocheus, whyche the kynge gaue hym, bee they not wrytten in the Chronycles of the kynges of Media and Persia? For Mardocheus the Jewe was the seconde nexte vnto kyng Ahasuerus, and great among the Jewes, and accepted among the multitude of his brethren, as one that seeketh the wealthe of of hys people, and speakethe the best for al his seede.

The ende of the Boke of Esther.

The Boke of Job.

The first Chater.

In the land of Hus there was a manne, whose Name was Job: and the same was a perfecte and iust man, such a one as feared God, and eschewed euyll. And he hadde seuen sonnes, and thre daughters. Hys substance also was seuen. M. sheepe, and thre. M. cameles. v. C. yoke of oxen, and. v. C. she asses, and a verye great household, so that he was one of the most principall menne among all them of the East countreye. And his sonnes went and made bankets: one day in one house, an other day in an other, and sente for theyr thre systers to eate and drynk with them. And it fortuned, that when they had passed ouer the tyme of theyr bankettynge rounde about, Job sent for them, and sanctified them, and gat vp early, and offred for euery one a burntoffring. For Job sayd: lest peraduēture my sonnes haue done some offence, and haue bene vnthankful to god in their hertes. Thus dyd Job euery day. And vppon a daye when the childre of God came and stode before the Lord, it fortuned, that Sathan came also among them. And the Lord sayde vnto Sathan. From whens comest thou? Sathan answered the Lord and sayd: I haue gone about the land, and walked thorow it. And the Lord said vnto Sathan: hast thou not considered my seruant Job howe that there is none lyke hym in the land, a perfect and a iust man, such a one as feareth God, and eschueth euill? Sathan answered and said vnto the Lord: Doth Job feare GOD for nought? hast thou not preserued him, and his house, and all that he hath on euerye syde? Thou hast blessed the wordes of his handes, and his possession is encreased in the lande. But laye thyne hande nowe vpon hym (a little)

A Ge. 22.

Job. 1.

Job. 1.

1. pe. 5.

lyttle) and touche all that he hath, and he shall curse thee to thy face. And the Lord sayd vnto Satan: Lo, all that he hath, be in thy power: only vpon hym self, see that thou lay not thyne hande. And Sathan went forthe frome the presence of the Lord. And vpon a certaine day it fortuned, that his sonnes and daughters were eatyng and drinkynge wyne in their eldest brothers house, and there came a messenger vnto Job, and said: Whyle the oxen were a plowyng, and the asses going in the pasture besyde theym: The Sabees came violently, and toke them away: yea, thei haue slayn thy seruants with the edge of the sweard, and I only ran my waye, to tell thee. Whyle he was yet speakyng, there came an other, and sayd: The fyre of God is fallen from heauen, and hath brent vp al thy shepe and seruauntes, and consumed theim: and I onely ran my way to telle thee. And whyle he was yet speking, there came an other, and said: The Caldees made three armies, and fel vpon the camels, and haue caried them awaye: yea and slayne thy seruantes with the sweard: and I onely am gotten away to tell thee. And while he was yet speking, ther cam an other and said: Thy sonnes and thy daughters wer eating and drinkyng wyne in their eldest brothers house, and behold, there came a myghty great wynde out of the south, and smoote the fower corners of the house, whiche fell vpon thy children and they are dead: and I am gotten away alone to tel the. Then Job stode vp, and rente his clothes, and shaued his head: fell downe vpon the ground, worshipped, and said: * Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, and naked shall I turne thyther agayn. The Lord gaue, and the Lorde hath taken awaye, (euen as it hathe pleased the Lorde, so it is come to passe.) Blessed be the name of the Lord. * In al these thynges did Job not offend, nor murmured foolyshely agaynst God.

C The .ij. Chapter.

AND the children of God came & stode before the Lorde, and Sathan cam̃e also amonge theym, and stoode before the Lorde. And the LORDE sayde vnto Sathan: Frome whence commest thou? Sathan answered the Lorde, and sayde: I haue gone about the lande, and walked thorough it. And the LORDE sayd vnto Sathan: Hast thou not considered my seruant Job? for ther is none lyke him in all the lande. For he is a perfecte and a iust man: suche a one as feareth God: and eschueth euil, & continueth styll in his godlynesse. And thou mouest me against him, that I shold punishe him for naught. And Satan answered the Lorde and sayde: Skinne for skinne: yee, a man wil geue al that euer hee hathe for hys lyfe. But laye thyne hande nowe vppon hym, and touch once his bone and flesh, and hee shall curse thee to thy face. And the Lorde saide vnto Satan: lo, there hast thou him in thy power, but spare hys lyfe. So went Satan forth from the presence of the Lorde, and smote Job wyth meruatious sore byles, from the sole of hys foote, vnto hys crowne, so that he sat vpon the ground in the asshes, and scraped of the filth of hys sores wyth a potshearde. Then said his wife vnto him: * Doest thou continue yet in thy perfectnes? curse GOD, and die. But Job sayde vnto her: Thou speakest like a foolish woman. Shall wee receaue prosperitie at the hand of God, and not receaue aduersitye? * In all these thynges dyd not Job sinne with his lips. Nowe whē Jobs frendes herd of all the trouble that happened vnto him, there came thre of them, euery one from his own place namely Eliphas the Themanit Bildad, the Suhite, and Zophad the Naamathit. And they wer agreed together to com to shew their cōpassion vppon him, and to conforte him. So when they iast vppe their eies a far of they knew him not. Then they cried: and wepte, and euerye one of theym rent rent hys clothes, and sprynkled duste vpon their heades in the ayre. They sat them dowȝn by hym also vpon the ground seuen dayes, and seuen nyghtes. Neyther was there any of them that spake one wordе to him, for they sawe that his payne was very great.

The.iii. Chapter.

A Fter thys opened Job hys mouthe and cursed hys daye.
And Job answered, and sayde:
Lost be the day, wherin I was borȝn:
and the nighte, in the whiche it was sayd: there is a man chyld conceaued.
The same daye be turned to darknes, and not regarded of God from aboue: neyther let him shyne vppon it with syght, but let it be stayned with darknesse, and the shadowe of death. Let the dimme cloude fal vpon it, and let it be lapped in with sorowe, on the daye tyme. Let the darke stormе ouercome that night: and let it not be ioyned vnto the dayes of the yere, nor counted in the monethes. Desolate be that night and without gladnesse: let them that curse the daye, and that be readye to rayse vp mornynge, geue it also theyr curse. Let the starres of that nyght be dimme thȝough darknesse of it. Let it loke for syght, but let it see none, neyther the rysynge vp of the fayre mornyng, because it shut not vp the wōbe that bare me. For then shoulde the sorowes haue bene hid from mine eyes.
Jer. 20 d Alas * why dyed I not in the byth?
why dyd not I perysshe, as sone as I came oute of my mothers wombe?
why set they me vppon theyr knees?
why gaue they me sucke with theyr breastes? Then should I nowe haue lyen styll, I should haue slept, & bene at reste, lyke as the kynges and lordes of the erth, whych haue buylded them selues special places. Or as the princes that haue had great substaunce of goide, and theyr houses ful of syluer.
Or why was not I hyd, as a thyng borne out of tyme, eyther as yong chyldren, whiche neuer sawe the syghte?
There muste the wycked ceasе from theyr tyranny, and there syche as are ouer laboured be at rest: ther are those set out fre, which haue bene in prison, so that they heare nomore the voyce of the oppressour. There are small and greate, and the seruaunte is free from his master. Wherfore is the syght geuen to him that is in miserie? and lyfe vnto them, that haue heauy hertes? which longe for death (and though it come not) wolde dygge it oute of hyd places, which also wolde be exceadyng glad, and reioyce yf they coulde fynde theyr graue anye where. That should be ioy to that man whose way is hyd, and God kepeth it backe from hym. For my syghes come before I eate, and my roringes fall out like the water. For the thing that I feared is come vpon me: and the thynge that I was afrayed of, is happened vnto me.
Was I not happy? Had I not quietnesse? Was I not in reste? And nowe commeth such misery vpon me.

The.iiii. Chapter.

ANd Eliphas the Themanite answered, and sayde: If wee begyn to commen with thee, wylte thou be discontente. But who canne withholde him selfe from speakynge? Behold, thou hast bene a chastener of many, and hast confortеd the swerye handes. Thy wordes haue set vppe those that were fallen: thou hast refreshed the weake knees. But nowe that the plage is come vpon thee, thou art greued. Nowe that it hath touched thy selfe, thou art faint herted. Is not this thy feare, thy stedfastnes, thy patience, & the perfectnes of thy waies?
Consider (I pray thee) who euer perysshed beyng an innocent? Or when were the godly destroyed? For (as I haue proued by experyence) they that plowe iniquitie, and * sow wyetchednesse, reape the same. With the blaste of God they perish, & with the breath of hys nastrelles are they consumed awaye. The roarynge of the Lyon, and the voyce of the Lyon, and the teeth of the Lyons whelpes are pulled oute. The Lyon perysheth for lacke of pray, and the Lyons whelpes are are scattered abroade. And vnto mee came the woorde secretlye, and myne eare hath receiued a little thereof. In the thoughtes and visiõs of the night (when sleepe commeth on men) feare came vpon me, and dread, which made all my bones to shake. The wynde passed by, before my presence, & made the heares of my flesshe to stande vp. He stode there, and I knewe not his face, an ymage ther was before myne eies, and in the stilnes herd I a voice:

Job.25a psa.143a Ro.3.c. 1Pe.2.b

• Shall man be more iust then God? Or shall a man be purer then his maker? Beholde, he founde no trueth in his seruauntes, and • in his angelles there was folly. Howe much more in them that dwell in houses of clay, and whose foundation is but dust: which shall bee consumed as it were with a Moth? They shalbe smitten from the morninge vnto the eueniug: yea, they shall perysshe for euer, when no manne thinketh thereon. Is not their royaltie gone away with them, they shall dye truelye: and not in wysedome.

B

¶ The.v. Chapter.

A Call nowe (I praye thee) if happily there be any that wyll answer thee, and loke thou vpon anye of the holye men. As for the foolysshe man, displeasure killeth hym, and anger slayeth the ignorannte. • I haue

Psal.36. sene my selfe, when the foolysshe was depe rooted, and sodenlye I cursed his habitacion. His childzen were without prosperitie, and they were slayne in the gate, and there was no manne

Deu.28. to delyuer theym. • His harueste was eaten vp of the hungry, and the weaponed man spoyled it, and the thirstie dronke vp their laboure. It is not the earth that bringeth forth iniquite, nether cõmeth sorow out of the ground, but man is borne vnto labour, lyke as the sparkes fly vp oute of the whote coales. But I wyll aske councell at the Lorde, and will talke with God: whyche doeth thynges that are vnsearcheable, and meruelles withoute

Deu.28.c Ecc.10.b 1.Pe.2.c numbre. • He geueth rayne vpon the earthe, and poureth water vpon the stretes, to • set vp them that be of lowe degree, and that those whiche are in heauinesse may come to prosperitie. He destroieth ỹ deuises of the suttle, so that their handes are not able to performe any stedfast thynge. • He compasseth the wise in their owne craftinesse, and ouerthroweth the counsell of the wycked. In so muche that they runne into darkenesse by fayre daye, and • grope about theym at the noone daye, lyke as in the nyght. He shall deliuer the poore from the swearde, and from the threatnynges of the vngodly, and from the violence of the myghty. Hee is the hope of the poore, and the mouth of the wycked shalbe stopped. Beholde, • happie is the man, whom God punysheth: therefore refuse not thou the chastnyng of the almyghty. For though he make a wound, he geueth a plaster: thoughe hee smyte, hys hande maketh whole agayne. He shal delyuer thee in syxe troubles, and in the seuenth, there shall noo euill come to thee. In hunger, he shall saue thee from death: and when it is war, from the power of the sweard. Thou shalt be kept from the euill tonge, and whē trouble commeth, thou shalte not nede to feare. In destruction and dearthe thou shalte be mery, and • shalt not be afrayde of the beastes of the earth. For the stones of the land shalbe confederate with thee, and the beastes of the feld shall geue the peace. And thou shalt knowe that thy dwelling place shalbe in rest: and thou shalte goe and beholde thy habitation, and shalt not sinne. Thou shalt se also, that thy sede shall increase, and that thy posteritye shalbe as the grasse vppon the earth. Thou shalte come also to thy graue in a fayre aege, lyke as whenne they take vppe a corne sheafe in due season. Lo, thys we our selues haue proued by experience, and euen thus it is. Hearken thou to it also, that thou maiest take hede to thy selfe.

1Co.3.c

C

Deu.28.b

D

Psa.91.b

¶ The.vi. Chapter.

A Nd Job aunswered also, and sayd: O that the displeasure which I haue, were truelye wayed, and my punyshmente layde in the balaunces together: for now is it heauier then the sande of the sea. And this is the cause, that my wordes are so sorowfull. For the arowes of the almyghtie are round about me, whose indignation hath dronke vp my spyrite. and the terrible feares of God ar set against me. Amos. 3 Doth the wild Asse roare when hee hath grasse? Or tryeth yͤ oxe whē he hath fodder inough? That which is vnsauerye, shall it bee eaten without salte, or is there anye taste in the whyte of an egge? The thynges that some tyme I might not awaye withall, are nowe my meate for verye sorowe. O that I myght haue my desyre: and that God wold graunt me the thing that I long for. O that God wouldе begynne and smyte me: B that he wouldе let his hande go and take me cleane awaye. Then shouldе I haue some comforte: yee, I shouldе desire him in my payne, that he would not spare: for I wil not be against the woordes of the holye one. For what power haue I to endure? And what is mine ende, that my soule myght be pacient? Is my strength the strength of stones? Or is my flesshe made of brasse? Is it not so, that there is in me no helpe: and that my substaunce is taken from me. Yͤ that is in tribulatiō ought to be cōforted of his neighbor, but the feare of the Lorde, is cleane away. Myne owē brethren passe ouer by me as the water broke, & as the ryuers of water, doe hastelye go awaye. C But they that feare the hore frost, the snow shal fall vpon them. when their tyme commeth, they shalbee destroyed and perysshe: when they be set on fyre, they shalbe remoued out of their place for the pathes that they go in, are croked: they hast after payne thynges, and shall perysshe. They turne them to the pathes of the man, and to the wayes of Saba, wherein they haue put their trust. Confounded are they that putte anye confidence in theym. For when they come to obtaine the thinges that they loke for, they are brought to confusion. Euen so are ye also come vnto me: but nowe that ye se my misery, ye are afraid. Did I desyre you to bring vnto me, or to geue me anye of youre substaunce? To deliuer mee from the enemies hande, or to saue me from the hande of tyraunтes? Teach me, and I will holde my tonge: and when I do erre, shewe me wherin. How stedfast are the woordes of truth? And whiche of you can rebuke and reproue thei? Dooe yee take deliberation to checke mennes sayinges? and iudge a poore woorde in vaine? Ye fall vpon the fatherlesse, and go about to ouerthrowe youre owne frende. And therefore be contente, and looke nowe vppon me, and I wyll not lye before youre face. Turne (I praye you) be indifferente iudges, turne againe, and yee shall see myne vngiltinesse, whether there bee anye vnryghteousnesse in my tongt: or vayne woordes in my mouth

¶ The. vii. Chapter.

HAth man any certayne tyme vppon earthe? Are not hys dayes also lyke the daies of an hyred seruaunt? For lyke as a bonde seruaunt, desireth the shadowe, and as an hyrelinge wold fayne haue an ende of his woorke. Euen so haue I laboured whole monethes long (but in vaine:) and many a carefull nyghte haue I tolde. When I layde me downe to slepe, I sayde: O when shall I aryse? I gayne I longed sooze for the nyghte. And in the meane tyme am I ful of sorowes vntyll the twylyghte. My flesshe is clothed wyth wormes and duste of the earth: my skynne is wythered and becomme horrible, my dayes passe ouer more spedely, then a weuer can weue out hys web, and are gone or I am aware. Oh remembre that my lyfe is but a winde: and that mine eye shal no more se pleasures thereof: nye, and that none other mans eye shall see me anye more, For yf thou fasten thyne eye vpon me, I com to naught. The cloude is consumed and vanished awaye, euen so hee that goeth downe to the graue shal come no more vp, nor turne agayne into hys house, neither shall his

Pſ. 139

deu. 28.

Job. 9. & and. 24.

his place knowe hym any more. Ther-C fore I will not spare my mouth, but wyll speake in the trouble of my spy-rite, and mase in the bitternesse of my mynde. Am I a Sea or a whale fishe, that thou kepest me so in prison? whē I saye: my bed shal conforte me, I shal haue some refreshynge by talkynge to my self vpon my couch. Then trou-Dan.2.a blest thou me wyth dreames, and makest mee so afraide thrughe visions, that my soule wysheth rather to perysshe and dye, then my boones to re-mayne. I can see no remedye, I shall liue no more. O spare me then, for my B dayes ar but vaine. What is man that thou hast him in such reputation, and settest so much by him? Thou visitest him earlye, and euery daye, so deerely doest thou try him. Wy goest thou not fro me, nor letest me alone, so log till I maye swalow me downe my spittle? I haue offended, and what shal I Ge.22.a. do vnto thee? O thou preseruer of me?
Deu.8.a. why hast thou made me to stande in D the waye, and am so heauye a burthen vnto my self? Why doest thou not forgeue me my sin? wherfore takest thou not away my wyckednesse? Behold, now must I sleepe in the dust: and yf thou seekest me to morowe in the morning, I shalbe gone.

A The. viii. Chapter.

THen answered Bildad the Suhite, and sayde: How long wilte thou talke of such things? How long shal thy mouth speake so proude woordes? Doeth God per-uerte the thyng that is lawefull? Or doth the almyghty destroye the thyng that is ryght? For seing that thy sonnes sinned against him, did not he punish theym for their wyckednesse. If thou wouldest now resort vnto God betymes, and make thyne humble prayer to the almyghtie, yf thou wol-dest liue a pure and a godly lyfe, shold he not awake by vnto thee immediatly: and geue thee the brause of righteousnesse agayne? In so muche, that B wherin soeuer thou haddest little afore, thou shouldest haue nowe greate aboundaunce. Enquere (I praye thee) of theym that haue bene before Deu.23.
thee, and searche diligently amonge Job.7.a theyr fathers. For we are but of ye- Ps.39.b sterdaye, and consyder not, that oure dayes vpon earth are but a derye shadowe. Shall not they shew thee, and tell thee, yea and gladly confesse the same? May a rishe be grene without moysture? Or may the grasse growe without water? No, but or euer it be shot forth, & or euer it be gathered, it withereth before any other herbe. E-C uen so goeth it with al them that forget God, and euen thus also shall the hypocrites hope come to naught. His confidence shall be destroyed, and his trust shalbe a spyders web. He shall leane vpon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall hold hym fast by it, yet shall it not endure. It is euen as a grene tree before the sonne, and shoo-teth forth the braunches in his gardeyne. It taketh many rootes by a well syde, in so muche that it is like an house of stones. But yf it bee taken out of hys place, euery man de-D nyeth it, sayeng: I knowe thee not.
Lo, thus is it with hym, that reioyceth in his owne doynges: and as for other, they grow out of the earth. Be hold, God will not cast away a ver-tuous man, neyther wyll he help the vngodly. Thy mouthe shall he fylle with laughynge, and thy lyps wyth gladnesse. They also that hate thee, shalbe confounded, and the dwelling of the vngodly shall come to naught.

C The. ix. Chapter.

IOb answered, and sayd: I know it is so of a truth. For howe may a man (compared vnto God) bee iustified? If he wyll argue with hym, ther is not one among a thou sand that can answere hym. Concernyng such as be wyse of hert, or migh tie in strengthe, who euer prospered yͤ toke part against hym? He translateth the mountains, or euer they be aware. It is he that ouerthrowethe them in his wrath. He remoueth the earthe out of her place, that the pyl-lers therof shake wythall. He commaundeth the sonne, and it riseth not:

A Ps.19.a Job.49.a
and.25.a Rom.3.a

he closeth vp the starres, as it were vnder a signet. He himself alone spre-deth out the heauens, and goeth vpon the wawes of the sea. He maketh the Amos. 8 waynes of heauen, the Oryon, & the seuen starres, and the secret places of the south. He doth great things, such as are vnsearchable: ye, and wonders B without number. Lo, when he goeth ouer by me, I shall not see hym. And when he departeth by me, I shal not loke vpon hym, I shall not perceyue hym: If he be hastie to take any thing away, who wyll make him restore it Eccl. 8.a agayne? Or who will say vnto him, *Iere. 10 *what doest thou? He is God, whose wrath no man maye withstande: but the proudest of all must stoupe vnder hym. Howe should I then answere hym? Or what wordes shoulde I fynde out agaynst him? Yea, though I were righteous, yet myght I not geue hym one word again: but mekely submit my self to him as my iudge.
If I had called vpon him, and he had answered me: yet would I not beleue, that he heard my voyce. He troubleth me so with the tempeste, and woundeth me out of measure, without a cause. He will not let my spirite be in rest, but filleth me with bitternes.
If men will speake of strengthe, lo, he is stronge: yf men will speake of righteousnes, who dare be my recorde?
If I wyll iustify my self, myn owne mouth shall condemne me. If I wyl put forth my self for a perfect man, he shall proue me a wycked doer. For thoughe I be an innocente, and my C conscience cleare: yet am I wearye of my lyfe. One thyng it is, and therfore I sayde: He destroyeth bothe the ryghteous and vngodly. And though he slea sodeinly with the scourge: yet will he laughe at the punishment of the innocente. As for the worlde, it is geuen ouer into the hande of the wicked, and he shall couer the faces of the iudges therof. Is it not so? wher Iob. 7.a is there any, but he is such one? *My dayes are more swifte then a runner:
they are gone, and haue seene no good thyng, they ar passed away as the ship pes that be good vnder sayle, and as the Egle that flyeth to the pray. Wher D I am purposed to forget my complaininge, to leaue of fro my wrathe, and to comforte my selfe, then am I afraid of all my sorowes: for I knowe, that thou wilt not iudge me innocent: If D I be then a wicked doer, why labour I in vaine? If I washe my self with snowe water, and make mine handes neuer so cleane at the well: yet shalte thou dyppe me in the myre: and myne owne clothes shall defile me. For he that I must geue answer vnto, and with whom I go to the lawe, is not a man as a I am. Neither is there a-E ny daysman to lay his hand betwene vs. Let him take his rodde away fro me: yea, let him make me no more a-frayd of him, & the shal I answer him without any feare. For as long as it is thus, I can make no answer.

¶ The .x. Chapter.

I Am greeued my soule to lyue. I wyll make my complaint, & wyll speake out of the very heynes of my soule. I will saye vnto God: O do not condemne me, but shewe me the cause, wherefore thou contemdest soo with me? Thinkest thou it B well doon, to oppresse me, to caste me of, being the worke (of thy handes) and to mayntayne the councell of the vngodly? Hast thou fleshely eies: or doest thou loke as a man loketh? Or are thy dayes as the dayes of man, and thy yeres as mans yeares? that thou makest suche inquisition for my wyc-C kednes, and searchest out my synne? Deu. 32.f where (as notwithstandynge) thou knowest, that I am no wycked per- Gen. 1.d son, and that there is no man able to deliuer me out of thyne handes. Thy handes haue made me, and fashioned me all together rounde about: wylte thou then destroy me sodeinly? Remembre (I beseke thee) howe that thou madest me of the moulde of the earth, and shalt bryngе me into dust D agayne. Hast thou not tourned me as it were mylke, and turned me to cruds

cruddes lyke theſe? Thou haſte couered me with ſkynne and fleſhe, and ioyned me together with bones and C ſinewes. Thou haſte graunted mee lyfe, and doone me good, and the diligente hede that thou tookeſt vppon me, hath preſerued my ſpirite. Thou haſt hyd theſe thinges in thyne hert. I am ſure, that thou remembreſt thys thyng. If I dyd ſynne, thou haddeſt an eye vnto me, and ſhalt not declare me innocent becauſe of myne offence. If I haue done wickedly, wo is me therfore. If I haue done righteouſly, yet dare I not lyft vp my head: ſo full am I of confuſion, and ſee myn owen miſerie. Thou huntеſt me out (being in heaynes) as it were a lyon, and troubleſt me oute of meaſure. Thou bryngeſt freſhe wytnes againſt me, & thy wrath increaſeſt thou vppon me: very many are the plagues that I am Job. 5. b. in. Wherfore haſt thou brought me out of my mothers wombe? O that I had periſhed, and that no eye hadde ſeene me. If they had carted me to my D graue as ſoone as I was borne, then ſhould I be now, as thoughe I had neuer ben. Are not my days few? Let hym then leaue of from me, and let me alone, that I may eaſe my ſelf a little afore I go thither, from whens I ſhall not turne again, euen to the land of darkneſs and ſhadow of death: yea, into that dark cloudy land and deadly ſhadow, where as is no order, but terrible feare as in the darkneſſe.

A C The. xi. Chapter.

THen aunſwered Sophar the Naamathite, and ſayd: Should not he that maketh many wordes, be aunſwered? Should he that babbleth much be commended therin? Should men geue eare vnto thee only? Thou wilte laughe other men to ſcorne, and ſhalt no body mocke the ſagayn? Wilt thou ſay vnto God: The B thynge that I take in hande is perfect, and I am cleane in thy ſyght? O that God wold ſpeake, and open his lyppes againſt thee, that he myghte ſhew thee (out of his ſecret wiſdom) why he rewardeth thee double as he was appoynted to do: then ſhouldeſte thou knowe, that God had forgotten thee becauſe of thy ſynne. Arte thou able to fynde oute the ſecrets of God? Or wylt thou attayne to the perfectneſſe of the almyghty? Hye is hyer the heaue, what art thou able to do? Deper then the hell, howe wylte thou then knowe him? His length exceadeth the length of the earthe, and his breadth the bredth of the ſea. Though he turne all thynges vpſyde downe, cloſe them in, gather them together, who wyll turne hym from hys purpoſe? (Or who maye ſaye vnto hym, why doeſt thou ſoo?) For it is he 1. Reg. 16 b that knoweth the vanitie of men: he Jer. 9 b. c ſeeth their wickednеſſe alſo, ſhoulde Pſal. 7, c he not then conſider it? A vayne body Rom. 8. c exalteth hym ſelfe, and a man newe C borne is lyke a wylde aſſes colte. If thou haddeſt nowe a ryght herte, and lyfteddeſte vp thyne handes towarde hym: if thou wouldeſt put awaye the wickednes which thou haſt in hand, ſo that no vngodlyneſſe dwell in thy houſe: Then myghteſt thou lyfte vp thy face without ſhame, and then ſhouldeſte thou be ſure, and haue no nede to feare. Then ſhouldeſt thou forget the myſerye, and thynke no more vppon it, then vpon the waters that turne by. Then ſhoulde the reſidue of thy life be as cleare as the none daye, and ſprynge forthe as the morning. Then mighteſt thou haue confort, in the hope that thou haſte: and ſlepe quietlye, when thou arte buryed. Then ſhouldeſt thou take thy reſte, and no man make thee afrayed: yee, many one ſhould ſet much by the. As for the eies of the vngodly thei ſhal be conſumed, and not eſcape: their hope ſhalbe miſery and ſorow of mynd.

The. xii. Chapter.

A AND Job aunſwered, and ſayd: The S (no doubt) ye are the men alone, and wyſdome ſhall peryſhe with B you. But I haue vnderſtandynge as well as ye, and am no leſſe then ye. Yea, who knoweth not theſe thinges? This he that calleth vpon God, and whom God heareth, is mocked of his neighboure: the godly and innocente man is laughed to scorne. Godlynesse is a lyght despised in the hertes of the ryche, and is set for them to stumble vpon. The houses of robbers are in wealth and prosperitye: and they that maliciously medle against God, dwell withoute care, in those thinges that God hath geuen rychely, with hys hande. Aske the cattell, and they shall enfourme thee: the foules of the ayre, and they shal tell the. Or the encrease of the earth, and it shall shewe thee. Or the fyshes of the sea, and they shal certifie thee. • What is he, but he knoweth that the hand of the Lord made all these? • In whose hande is the soule of euery lyuyng thynge, and the breth of the flesshe of all men. • Haue not the eares pleasure in hearing, and the mouth in tastynge the thyng that it eateth? Among olde persons there is wisdome, and in age is vnderstandynge. Yea, with God is wisedome and strength, it is he that hath counsel and forknowledge. Behold, If he breake downe a thyng, who can set it vp agayne? If he shut a thynge, who wyl open it? Behold, • & yf he withholde the waters, they drye vp. If he let them go, they destroye the earth. With him is strength and wisdome, he knoweth bothe the disceauer, and him that is deceaued. He caryeth away the wyse men, as it wer a spoyle, and bryngeth the iudges out of theyr wittes. He taketh awaye the subiection of the people from their kinges: and girdeth their loines with a band. He leadeth awaye the great men into captiuitye, and turneth the myghtye vpside down. • He taketh the veritye from out of the mouth, and disapoynteth the aged of their reason. He poureth the confusion vpon prynces, and confoorteth them that haue bene oppressed. Loke • what lyeth hid in darknesse, he declareth it openlye: and the very shadowe of death bringeth he to light. He both increaseth the people, and destroieth them. He maketh them to multiplie, and driueth them awaye. He chaungeth the hertes of them that rule the people of the earth, and dysepoynteth them: so that they go wandring out of the way, and grope in the darke without lyght: he maketh them also to stacker to and fro lyke dronken men.

The xii. Chapter.

LO, all this haue I sene with mine eye, heard with mine eare, and vnderstande it. Loke what ye knowe, that same do I knowe also: neyther am I inferiour vnto you. Neuertheless, I talke with the almightye, and my desyre is to comen with God. As for you, ye are workers of lies, & vnprofitable • phisicions altogether. Woulde God ye kept your tongue, for then myghte ye be taken for wyse men. Nowe heare my chydynge, and ponder the sentence of my lyppes. Do ye speake iniquitie agaynste God, and talke agaynst him with disceate? Wyll ye not accept the person of hym? Or wyll ye contende with God? Shall that helpe you when he calleth you to reckenynge? For as one man mocketh an nother, so do ye mocke hym. He shall punyshe you, and reprone you, yf ye do secretly accepte anye personne. Shall he not make you afrayd, when he sheweth him selfe. Shall not his terrible feare fall vpon you? your remembraunce is lyke vnto a sparke, and your bodyes lyke the claye. Holde your tonges, for my sake, that I also may speake, and my sorowe shalbe the lesse. Wherfore do I beare my flesshe in my teeth, • and put my soule in my handes? Lo, thoughe he slaye me, yet wyll I put my truste in hym. But • I wyll reproue mine owne waies in his sight, he shall make mee whole: and there maye no ypocrite come before him. Heare my wordes, and ponder my sayinges with youre eares. Beholde, nowe haue I prepared my iudgement, and knowe that I shalbe found righteouse. Who is he that wyll go to law with me? (Let him come) that I may nowe holde my tongue, and dye.

Neuer-

Sapi. 3 a Iob. 34 b
Iob. 32 b
Esa. 22. f
Apoc. 3. b • Esa. 50
2. pa. 18 e
Ezc. 14 a
Luk. 12 a
Mar. 10 c
Iud. 11
psa. 119
Psa. 3
Pro. 17

Neuertheles, graunt me two thinges D and then will I not hide my self from thee. Withdraw thyne hand from me, and let not the fearefull dreade of thee make me afraid. And then cal me, and I will answere: or els let me speake, and geue thou me an answere. Howe many are my mysdedes and synnes?
Let me know my transgressions and offences? Wherefore hydest thou thy face, and holdest me for thyne enemie?
Wilt thou be so cruel and extreme vn to a flying leafe, and folow vpon dry stubble? for thou layest sharpely to my charge, and punyshest me for the Ps. 25. b Job. 34. synnes of my youth. • Thou puttest my fete also in the stockes, and lookest narowly vnto all my pathes, and mar kest the steps of my feete, where as I (notwithstanding) must cõsume like as a fowle carryon, and as a cloathe that is motheaten.

¶ The .xiiij. Chapter.

MAn that is borne of woman, E hath but a short time to line, and is full of miserie. He cometh vp, and is cutte downe like a Flower, and fyeth, as it were a shadowe, and neuer contynuethe in one state. Doest thou open thyne eyes vpon such a one, and bringest me in thy iudgement? Who can make it Job. 7. a and. 9. c cleane, that commeth of an vncleane thyng? No body. • The dayes of man surely are determined, the numbre of his Moneths are only knowen vnto thee. Thou haste appointed him hys boũdes, which he can not go beyond.
Go from him, that he may rest (a lit-tell) vntill his day come: whiche he loketh for, like as an hyrelyng dothe.
B If a tree be cut downe, there is some hope yet, ỹ it wil spyote, & shote forth the branches agayne. For though the roote of it be waxen old, and the stock therof be dead in the ground, yet whē it getteth the sente of water, it wyll budde, and bryng foorth bowes, lyke as a tree that is planted. But as for man, when he is dead, perished, and consumed awaye, what becometh of hym? The flouds when they be dried vp: and the riuers, whē they be emp-tie, are fylled againe, thorow the flo-wynge waters of the sea: but when man sleapeth, he riseth not agayne (of his owne strength). vntill the hea- Esa. 51. b uen perishe: he shall not wake vp, nor 1. pet. 3. b ryse oute of hys sleepe. ¶ O that thou wouldest kepe me, and hide me in the Hell, vntill thy wrathe were stilled:
and to appoynte me a tyme, wherein thou myghtest remembre me. Maye a deade man lyue agayne? • All the Ge. 47. b dayes of my lyfe wyll I wayte styll, tyll my chaungyng shall come. Thou shalt call me, and I shall answer the, • despyse not thou the worke of thyne Ps. 138. owne handes. For nowe thou num- D drest all my goynges, yet be not thou to extreme vpon my synnes. My miquitie is sealed vp, as it were in a bag but be mercyful vnto my wickednes.
The mountaynes falle awaye at the last, the rockes are remoued oute of their place, the waters pearce thorow the very stones by little and little, the fludds washe awaye the grauell and earth. And destroyest thou the hope of man? Thou preuailest styl against hym, so that he passeth awaye: thou chaungest his estate, and puttest hym from thee. And whether his children come to worshyp or no, he can not tell.
And yf they be men of lowe degree, he knoweth not. While he liueth, his flesshe must haue trauaile, and whyle the soule is in hym, he muste be in so-rowe.

¶ The xv. Chapter.

THen aunswered Eliphas, the Themanit, & said: Shal a wise mans answer be the science of the wynd, and fill any maus bealy, as it were with the wynde of the east?
Shall he reproue with a woord, that is nothynge woorthe: and speake the thinges, whiche canne doo no good?
As for shame, thou haste sette ye ryde, els wouldest thou not make so many woords before god: but thy wic kednes teacheth thy mouthe, and so thou haste chosen thee a crafty tong.
Thyne owne mouth condemneth thee and not I: yea, thyne owne lyppes shape

shape an answere agaynste thee. Arte thou the first mā that euer was borne? Or waste thou made before the hylles? hast thou herde the secrete counsel of God that all wysedome is to litle for thee? what knowest thou that we knowe not? And what vnderstandest thou, but we can the same? with vs are both olde and aged men: yee, suche as haue lyued longer then thy father. Thynkest thou it a smal thyng of the consolations of God? with thee is a lyinge worde. Why doeth thyne herte so bewytch thee. And wherfore winkeste thou with thyne eyes, that thy mynd is so pufte vp against God, and lettest suche woordes go oute of thy mouth? What is man, that he shoulde be cleane? what hath he (whiche is borne of a woman) wherby he might be ryghteous? Beholde, he doth not trust his sainctes: yee, the verye heauens are not cleene in his sight. How much more then an abhominable and vyle man, whiche drynketh wickednesse lyke water? I will tell the, hear me: and I will shewe the that I haue sene: which wise men haue tolde, and hath not bene hyd from their fathers, vnto whom onely the earth was genen, and no straunger wente amonge them. The vngodly soroweth al the dayes of his lyfe, as it were a woman C with a chyld, and the number of a tyrauntes yeres is vnknowen. A fearfull sounde is euer in his eares, and whē it is peace, yet feareth he destruction. He beleueth neuer to be deliuered oute of darkenesse, for the sweard is alwaye before his eyes. When he goeth forth to get his liuing, he seeth playnely, that the daye of darkenesse is at hande. Sorowe and carefulnesse swyll make him afrayed, and compasse hym rounde aboute lyke as it were a kynge, with his hoofte readye to the battayle. For he hath stretched oute hys hande against God, and armed hym selfe against the almyghtye. He runneth proudly vpon him, and with a styffenecke fighteth he against him, where as he couereth hys face with fatnesse, and maketh his body wel lykynge. Therfore shal his dwellynge be in desolate cytyes, and in houses which no man inhabiteth, but are become heapes of stones. He shal not be ryche, neyther shall hys substannce continue, nor encrease vpon the earth. He shall neuer come out of darknesse, the flame shall dryue vp his braunches with the blaste of the mouth of God, shall he be taken awaye. He beleueth not that he is in vanitye, and yet he is out of the waye, and vanitye shall be hys recompence. He shal perishe afore his time he worne out, & his braunch shall not be greene. He shall be plucked of as an vntimely grape frō the vine, and shal let his floure fall, as the olive doeth. For the congregacion of ypocrytes shalbe desolate and vnfruitful, and the fire shall consume the houses of such as are gredy to receaue giftes.
Job.3.b
2.He.2.b
Gen.4.b
D
Psal.7.
Esa.59
He conceaueth trauayle, and beareth vanytye, and theyr bodye bryngeth forth disceate.

The.xvi. Chapter.

Iob answered, and sayde: I haue ofte tymes herde suche thinges. Miserable geuers of comforte are yee, all the sorte of you. Shall not vayne woordes come yet to an ende? Or haste thou yet anye more to saye? I could speake, as ye doulde. But wold God that your soule were in my soules steade: then shoulde I heape vp woordes against you, and shake my heade at you. I should comforte you with my mouth, and release your payne, with the talkynge of my lyppes. (But what shal I do?) For all my woordes, my sorowe wyll not cease: and theugh I holde my tongue, yet wyll it not departe frome me. But nowe that GOD hath sente me aduersitye, thou haste troubled all my congregation. And that thou haste fylled me with wrynckles, my flesshe is recorde, and my leannesse ryseth vp against me, and beareth witnesse against me. He is angrye at me, he hateth me, and gnasheth vpon me with his teeth. Myne enemy thondreth vpon me with hys eyes. They haue opened their mouthes wide vpō me.

and

.xx.22 D and smitten me vpon the cheke de-par.14. spitefully, they gather them selues to gether against me. God hathe put me in preace with the vngodly, and deli-uered me into the hads of the wicked.
I was in welth, but he hath brought me to naughte. He hath taken me by the necke, he hath rent me, and set me as a marke for him selfe. His archers compasse me round about: he wounded my loynes, & doth not spare. My bowels hath he poured vpon ꝑ grou̅d He hath geuen me one wound vppon an other, and is fallen vpon me, like a gyant. I haue sowed a sack cloth vp̄ my skyn, and lie with my heare in the dust. My face is swollen with weeping, & in myne eies is the shadow of death. Howbeit, there is no wyckednesse in my handes, but my prayer is D cleane. O earthe, couer not thou my blood, and let my crying find no rome For lo, my wytnesse is in heuen: and he that knoweth me, is aboue in the height: My frendes geue me manye wordes to scorne: and myne eye poureth out teares vnto God. O that a body myght pleate with God, as one man dothe with an other: yet the nū-ber of my yeres is come, and the way that I muste goe, is at hande, frome whens I shall not turne agayne.

¶ The.xvij.Chapter.

MY breath stynketh, my dayes are shortened. I am harde at E dethes doore. Froward men are with me, & myne eie must continue in the bitternesse of theym.
O delyuer me, and loke out one to be my suretie in thy syghte: what is he that knoweth who will promesse for me: For thou hast withholden their hertes from vnderstandyng: therfore shalt thou not set (them) vppon hye.
B Yee promyseth his frends part of his good, but his owne childzen spend it.
He hath made me as it wer a biword of the people, where as afore I was their ioy. Myne eie is dimme for very heuynesse, and all my strengthe is become lyke a shadow. Therfore mē therfore that well consyder this, & the innocent shal take part against the hi pocrite. The righteous also wil kepe C his way, and he that hath clean han-des, will euer bee stronger and stronger. As for you, turne you, & get you hens (I praye you) seyng I can not fynd one wise man among you: My days are past, and my counsayles and thoughtes of my hearte are banished away, chaungyng the night into day, D and the lyght into darknes. Though I tary neuer so muche, yet the graue is my house, and I haue made my bed in the darke. I call corruption my father, and the wormes call I my mother and my sister. What helpeth then my long taryeng: Or who hath considered the thing, that I loke for: All that I haue, shall go downe into the pyt, and lye with me in the dust.

¶ The.xviij.Chapter.

THen aunswered Baldad the Suhite, and sayd: When will ye make an end of your wor- A des: Marke well, and then we will speake. Wherfore are we counted as beastes, and reputed so vyle in youre syght: Ye destroieth hym selfe wyth his anger. Shall the earthe be forsaken, or any stone remoued out of his place, because of thee. Yea, the lightes of the vngodly shalbe put out, and the sparke of his fyre shall not burn. The B lyght shalbe darke in his dwellynge, and his candell shalbe put oute with hym. Hys presumptuous goynges are kept in, and his owne counsayle shall caste hym downe. For his feete are taken, as it were in the net, and he is at hys wyttes ende. His foot shall be holden in the snare, & it shal catche them that be thirste of bloode. The snare is layd for hym in ꝑ ground, & a C pytfall in the way. Fearfulnes shall make hym afrayde on euery side, that he shall not know where to get out.
Hunger shalbe his strength: myssortune shall hang vppon hym. He shall eate the strength of his owne skynne euen the first borne of death shall eate his strength. His hope shalbe rooted out of his dwellynge, very feareful-nesse shall bryng hym to the kynge.
Other men shall dwell in his house:

but

(but shalbe none of his) & brimstone shalbe scattered vpon his habitation. His rotes shalbe dried vp beneth, and aboue shal hys braunch be cut downe.
D Hys remembraunce shall perish from the earth, and hee shall haue no name in the strete: they shal driue him from the light into darkenesse: and cast him cleane out of the worlde. He shall neither haue children, nor kynsfolkes among his people, no, nor any posteritie in his dwellinges. They that com after him, shalbe astonied at his daye, and they that go before, shalbe afraid. Suche are nowe the dwellynges of the wycked, and this is the place of hym that knoweth not God.

¶ The .xix. Chapter.

A IOb answered, and sayd: how longe will yee vexe my soule, and trouble me with wordes? Lo, tenne tymes haue yee reproued mee: and are not ashamed to laugh me so to scorne: if I go wrong, I go wronge to my selfe. But yf yee wil enhaunce your selues against me, and accuse me to bee a wicked person, because of the shame that is come vpon me: knowe this thē, that it is God which hath handled me so violently, and hath compassed me aboute with Abac. 1. a his nette. Yf I complayne of the violence that is done vnto me, I can not be hearde. And yf I crye, there is no
B sentēce geuen with me. He hath hedged vp my waye, that I can not passe, and hee hath set darkenesse in my pathes.
Iob. 1. and. 2. He hath spoiled me of mine honour, and taken the crowne away fro mine head. He hath destroyed mee on euerye syde, and I am vndoone: My hope hath he taken away fro me as it were a tree pluckt vp by the rote. His wrath is kindled agaynste mee: he taketh me as thoughe I were his enemie. His men of war came together, whiche made their waye ouer me, and besieged my dwelling rounde about.
Psa. 38. c He hath put my brethren far awaye from me, and such as were of mine acquaintaunce, are become straungers Psa. 38 c vnto mee. Mine owne kinsefolkes haue forsaken me, and my frēdes haue putte me out of remembraunce. The seruantes and maydens of mine owne house, toke me for a straunger: and I am become as an aleant in their sight. I called my seruaunt, and he gaue me
C no answere: no though I prayed him with my mouthe. Mine owne wyfe myghte not abyde my breath: I was fayne to speake fayre for the children of myne owne body. Yea the children despysed mee. And when I was gone from them, they spake euil vppon me. All such as were my most familiers, abhorred me: and they whom I loued best, are turned against me. My bone hangeth to my skynne, and my flesh is awaye, onelye there is lefte me the skin about the teeth: Haue pitie vpon mee, haue pitie vppon me (O yee my frends) for the hand of God hath touched me. Why do ye persecute mee as God doeth, and are not satisfied of my flesh? O that my wordes were now D written: O that they were putte in a boke: woulde God they were grauen with an yron penne in leade, or in stone to continue. For I am sure that my redemer lyueth, and that I shall ryse out of the earth in the latter day: that I shall bee clothed agayne with thys skinne, and see God in my flesh. Yea I my selfe shall behold hym not with other, but with these same eies. My reynes are consumed within me: did not ye say: why doth he suffer persecution? Is there founde an occasion in me? But beware of the sweard, for the sweard wylbe auenged of wickednesse: and bee sure, that there is a iudgemente.

¶ The .xx. Chapter.

THē answered Sophad the Naamathite, and said: For the same I cause do my thoughtes compell me to answere. And why? my minde is redy within me. I haue sufficiently heard thy checkinge and reproue, therfore am I purposed to make answer after myne vnderstanding: knowest thou not this, namely y from the begynninge (euer sence the creation of manne man vpon earth) the gladnesse of the vngodly hath bene short, and that the ioye of ypocrytes continued, but the twinkeling of an eye. ¶ Though he be magnifyed vp to the heauen, so that his heade reacheth vnto the cloudes, yet at a turne he perysheth for euer. In somuch that they which haue sene him, shall saye: Where is he? He shall vanyshe as a dreame: so that he can no more be found, and shall passe awaye B as a vision in the night. So that the eye which saw him before, shall haue no more sight of him, & his place shall knowe him no more. His childeren shalbe fayn to agree with the poore, & his handes shal restore them their goods. From his youth his bones are full of pleasures, but nowe shall it lye down within him in the earth. When wyckednesse was swete in his mouth, he hyd it vnder his tongue. That he sauoured, that wouldе he not forsake, but kepe it close in his throte. ¶ The bread that he dyd eate, is turned to the poyson of the serpentes, within hys body. ¶ The richesse that he deuoured, shall he perbrake againe, for God shal drawe them out of his belye: he shall sucke the gall of serpentes, and the adders tongue shall slay him: so that he shall no more see the ryuers and C brokes of hony and butter. ¶ The thing that other men haue laboured for, shal he restore agayne, and shall not eate it vp. Great trauayle shall he make for ryches, but he shall not enioye them. And why? he hath oppressed the poore, and not helped them: houses hath he spoyled, and not buylded them. His bealy could neuer be fylled: therefore shall he perysshe in his couetousnesse. There shall none of his meate be lefte behynd, therfore shall no man loke for his prosperitye. When he had plentousnesse of euery thyng, yet was he D poore, though he was helped on euery syde. For though the wicked haue neuer somuch to fill his belye: yet God shall sende his wrath vpon him, and cause his indignacion to reygne ouer him: so that if he flee, the yron weapons, he shall be shotte with the stele bowe. The arowe is taken forth, and gone oute of the quiuer, and a glysterynge sweard thorow the gall of him, feare shall come vpon him. ¶ Her shall no darkenesse be hable to hide him. An vnkindled fire shal consume him, and loke what remayneth in his house, it shalbe destroyed. ¶ The heauen shall declare his wickednesse, and the earth shal take part agaynst him. ¶ The substaunce that he hath in his house, shal be taken away and perysshe, in the day of the Lordes wrath. * This is the portiō that the wicked man shal haue of God, and the heritage that he maye loke for of god, because of his wordes. Job.27.8

¶ The xxi. Chapter.

IOb answered, and sayde: O heare my wordes, and that shall be my confort of you. Suffer me a lytle, that I may speake also, and thē laugh my wordes to scorne (yf it lyke you.) Is it for mans sake that I make this disputacion? Which if it were so, should not my spryte then be in sore trouble? Marke me well, and be abasshed, and lay your hand vpon your mouth. For when I consider my selfe I am afraid, and my flesshe is smytten with feare. * Wherefore doo wicked men lyue in health and prosperitye, come to their old age, and encrease in rychesse? Their chyldren lyue in their sighte, and their generacion before their eyes'. Theyr houses are safe from all feare, and the rodde of God doeth not smyte them. Their bullocke gendereth, and that not oute of tyme: their cowe calueth, and is not vnfruytefull. They sende forthe their childzen by flockes, and their sōnes leade the daunce. * They beare with them tabrets and harpes, and haue instrumentes of musyke at their pleasure. They spend their dayes in welthines, but sodaynely they go down to hel. They say also vnto god: Go from vs: we desyre not the knowledge of thy wayes. * Who is the Almyghty, that we shoulde serue him? And what profit shold we haue to submit our selues vnto him? Lo there is vtterly no goodnesse in them, therfore Psa.73.8 Jer.12.8 B Esay.5.c Esay.5.a

wyll

wyl not I haue to do with the counsayle of the vngodly. Howe ofte shall the candle of the wicked be put oute? Howe oft commeth theyr destruction vpon them? O what sorowe shal God geue thē for their part in his wrath? Yea, they shalbe euen as haye before the wynd, & as chaffe that the storme caryeth away. And though God saue their children frō such sorowe, yet wil he so reward thē selues, that they shal knowe it. Their owne destruction and misery shall they se with their eyes, & drinke of the fearfull wrath of the almighty. For what careth he what becometh of his household after his deth, when the number of his monethes is cut short? In as muche then as God hath the hyest power of all, who can teach him any knowlege? One dieth now, whē he is mighty & at his best, rich, & in prosperitie: euē whē his bowels are at the fattest, & his bones ful of mary. An other dyeth in sorowe and heauinesse, and neuer had good dayes. They shall slepe bothe alyke in the earth, & the wormes shal couer them. Behold, I know what ye think: yea, & the subtetly that ye ymagin against me. For ye saye: Where is the princes palace? and where is the dwellyng of the vngodly? haue ye not asked them that go by the way? Doubtlesse, ye can not denye their tokens, that * the wicked is kept vnto the day of destruc tiō, & that the vngodly shalbe brought forthe to the daye of wrath. Who dare reproue him for his waye to his face? who will reward him for the vngraciousnesse that he doeth? Yet shall he be brought to his graue, and dwell amonge the heape of the deade. Then shall he be layne to be buryed amonge the stones of the playne. All men also muste folow him, and there are innumerable gone before him. How vaine then is the comforte that ye geue me? Doeth not falshed remaine in al your answeres?

Psal. 1.a

B

C

D

2 Pet. 2.b
mat. 13.b

The .xxii. Chapter.

THen Eliphas the Themanit gaue answere, and sayd: May a man be profitable vnto god, as he that is wyse, may be profitable vnto hym selfe? Is it any aduauntage to the Almighty that thou art righteous? Or shal it profit him that thou makest thi wayes perfecte? Is he afrayed to reproue the, and to entre forth with thee into iudgement? Is not thy wickednesse great, and thy vngracious dedes innumerable? For thou hast takē the pledge from thy brother for noughte, & robbed the naked of their clothyng. To suche as were werye, haste thou geuen no water to drinke, and haste withdrawen bread from the hungry. Shoulde suche one then as dieth violence, wrong, and oppression (doynge althyng of partialitie, and hauing respect of persons) dwell in the lande? Thou haste sente widdowes awaye empty, and oppressed the pore fatherlesse. Therfore art thou compassed about with snares on euery syde, and sodenlye vexed with feare: shouldest thou then se no darkenesse? Shoulde not the water flood runne ouer thee? Now * because that God is hier then the heauens, and because thou seest that the starres are so hye, wilte thou therfore say: Tushe, how sholde God knowe? Doeth his dominion reache beyond the cloudes? Tushe, the cloudes couer him that he may not se, and he dwelleth aboue heauen. Doest not thou keepe the olde waye, that vayne men haue gone? which were cut down out of time, & whose foundacion was as a running water, which sayd vnto God: go from vs. And what did the Almighty with them? He filled ther houses with good thynges. But the counsell of the vngodly is far fro me. The righteous saw it and were glad, and the innocente laughed hym to scorne. Is our increase not sowen down? As for the remnaunt of them, the fire hath consumed it. Therfore reconsile thee vnto God, and be content, so shal al thinges prosper with the right wel. Receaue the lawe at his mouth, & lay vp his wordes in thine hert. For * yf thou wilt turne to the almighty, thou shalt stand fast, and put all vnrighteousnes frō thy dwelling: Thou shalt make

Eccl. 2.
Exo. 9.

C

D

De. 30.

make golde as plentifull as the duste, and the golde of Ophir as the flintes of the riuers. Yea, Almighty God his owne selfe shalbe thy defence, and thou shalt haue plenty of syluer. Then shalt thou haue thy delyte in the Almyghtye, and lyfte vp thy face vnto God. Then shalt thou make thy prayer vnto him, and he shall heare thee, and thou shalt kepe thy promises. Then loke what thou takest in hand, he shal make it to prosper with thee, and the lyght shall shyne in thy wayes. For Psa.29.c *who so humbleth him selfe, him shal he set vp, and who so loketh mekely, shalbe healed. If thou be innocente, thou shalt deliuer the coūtrey bicause of the vngiltinesse of thine handes.

The.xxiii.Chapter.

Iob answered, and sayd: My sayinge is yet this day in bitternes, and my hand heuy because of my groning. O that I might se him, and find him: O that I might come before hys seate to pleate my cause before him, and to fyl my mouth with argumentes. That I myghte knowe, what answere he wold geue me: and that I mighte vnderstande, what he wolde saye vnto me. Wyll he pleate agaynst me with his great power and strength? No, but he wyll make me the stronger. He that is iust, shall enter disputacion with him, and my iudge shall delyuer me for euer. Behold, though I go before, I fynde him not: If I com behynd, I can get no knowlege of him: if I go on ỹ left syde where he doth his worke, I can not attayne vnto him. Againe, if I go on the ryght syde, he hydeth him selfe, that I can not se him. But as for my Deu.3.b waye, he knoweth it: and *tryeth me 1.pet.1.b as the golde in the fire. My fote doth C kepe his pathe, his waye haue I holden, and wyll not goo oute of it. I wyl not forsake the commaundement of hys lyppes, but loke what he charged me with his mouth, that haue I shut vp in my herte. He is styl at one point, and who wyl turne him back? He doeth as him lysteth, and bringeth to passe what he wyll. He perfourmeth the thyng that is appoynted for me, and many such thinges doeth he. This is the cause that I shrinke at D his presence: so that when I consider him, I am afrayed of him. For in so muche as he is God, he maketh my hert soft: & seyng that he is Almighty he putteth me in feare. Thus can not I get out of darkenesse, neyther hath he couered the cloude fro my face.

The.xxiiij.Chapter.

Onsideryng then that there E is no tyme hyd from the Almighty, howe happeneth it, that they which know him, do not regarde hys dayes? For some men ther be, that *remoue other mens De.18.c landemarkes: that rob them of theyr and.27.c catteil, and kepe the same for their owne: that Exo.22.a driue away the asse of the fatherles: that take the widowes oxe for a pledge: that thruste the poore out of the waye, and oppresse the symple of the worlde together. Behold, euen as the wylde asses in the deserte, go they forth to their worke, and ryse betymes to spoyle: Yee the very wildernesse ministreth foode for theyr children. They reape the corne feide that B is not their owne: and let the vyneyarde of the vngodly alone. They are the cause that so many men are naked and bare, haupnge no clothes to couer them, and to kepe them frō colde: So that when the shoures in the mountaynes haue rayned vppon them, and they be all wet, they haue none other succoure, but to kepe them among the rockes. They spoyle the suckynge fatherlesse chylde, and take the pledge from the poore. In so much that they let him go naked without clothinge, and haue taken away the sheafe of the hungrye. The poore are fayne to laboure in their oyle myllis: yea, and to tread in their wyne presses, and yet to suffer thirste. The men of the citye C cryeth vnto the Lord with syghynge, Apoc.6.c *the soules of the slayne also make 3.Es.15 their complaynt: but God destroyeth them not for all this, where as they (notwithstandyng) are conuersaunte among them that abhorre the lyghte:

they knowe not his waye, nor continue in hys pathes. ✠ Comely in the morning do they aryse, to murther the simple & poze: and in the night they go a stealyng. The eye of the aduouterer wayteth foz the darkenesse, and sayeth thus in him selfe: Tushe ther shall no eye se me, and so he disgiseth his face. In the nighte season they searche the houses, and hyde thē selues in the day tyme, but wyll not knowe the lyght. Foz as sone as the daye breaketh, the shadow of death commeth vpon them and they goo in horrible darkenesse. The vngodly is swyfter then the water: their porcion shalbe cursed in the earth, and he shal not behold the way of the vineyardes. D that they (foz ꝑ wickednesse which they haue done) were drawen to the hell, soner then snowe melteth at the drouth & heate. D that all compassion vpon thē were forgotten: that their daynties were wormes, that they were cleane putte out of remembraunce, and vngodlynesse vtterly hewen down like a tree. He hath oppressed the barrein, that he can not beare, and vnto the widowe hath he doone no good. He drue the mighty after him with hys power, & when he was gotten vp, noman was without feare, as longe as he lyued. And though they mighte be safe, yet they wyl not receaue it: foz their eyes loke vpon theyr owne wayes. They are exalted foz a lytle, but shortlye are they gone, brought to extreme powertye, and taken out of the way: yea, and vtterly pluckt of as the eares of corn. Is it not so? who will then reprouc me as a lyer, and saye that my wordes are nothing worth?

Luk.22g

D

✠ The.xxv. Chapter.

THen aunswered Byldad the Suhite, and sayde: Is there power and feare with him aboue, that maketh peace, syttynge in his highnes, whose men of warre are innumerable, and whose light ariseth ouer all? But howe maye a manne compared vnto God be iustified? Oz howe can he be cleane, that is borne of a woman? Beholde, the moone hyneth nothynge in comparison to him, and the starres are vncleane in hys sighte. Howe much more then, man: that is but corruption: and the sonne of man, which is but a wozme?

B

Job.4.9a
psa.95.3a

✠ The.xxvi. Chapter.

IOb answered, and sayd: who hast thou helped? Him that is without strength? what comforte geuest thou vnto him that hath no strength? Where is the counsayle that thou shouldest geue him, which hath no wisdome? Hast thou shewed the waye of righte iudge? To whom hast thou spoken those wordes? who made the breath to come oute of thy mouth? Are not dead thinges shapen vnder the waters: and thinges by the waters side? Hell is naked before him, and the verye destruction it selfe, can not be hyd oute of hys syghte. He stretcheth out the north ouer the emptye, and hangeth the earth vpon nothing. He bindeth the water in his cloudes, & the cloude is not broken vnder them. He holdeth backe hys stoole, that it can not be sene: and spreadeth his cloude before it. He hath compassed the waters with certayne boundes, vntyll the daye and nighte come to an ende. The very pyllers of heauen tremble and quake at his reprofe. He stylleth the sea with his power: and thorowe his wisdome smyteth he the strength therof. His spirite hath garnished the heauens, and his hand hath made the rebellious serpent. Lo, this is nowe a shorte sum of his waies. But who is hable sufficiently to rehearse his workes? who can perceaue and vnderstand the thunder of his power?

B

Gen.1.c
Job.2.c psa.104b
Jere.5.c
D
math.8.c

✠ The.xxvii. Chapter.

AND Iob proceaded and wente forth in hys communication, sayinge: As truely as God lyueth (whiche hath taken awaye my iudgement) & the almighty, that hath vexed bered my mind: My lippes shal talke of no vanitie, and my tonge shal speke no discreyte, while my breth is in me, and as longe as the winde (that God hath geuen mee) is in my nostreiles. God forbid, that I shoulde graunte youre cause to be right. As for me, vntill mine ende come, will I neuer goe fro myne innocencie. My righteous dealinge kepe I faste, whiche I wyll not forsake: my heart shal not reproue me of my dayes. Therefore mine enemie shall bee founde as the vngodly: and he that taketh parte agaynst me, as the vnryghteous. For what hope hath the hypocryte thoughe hee haue gret good, and though God geue him riches after his heartes desyre? Doth God heare hym the sooner, when hee cryeth vnto him in hys necessitye? Hath hee suche pleasure and delyte in the almyghtye, that hee dare alwaye call vpon God? I wyll teache you in the name of God, and the thynge that I haue of the almightie, will I not kepe from you. Beholde, yee stande in youre owne conceate, as thoughe yee knewe all thynges: Wherfore then do ye go aboute with such vaine wordes, saying: This is the portion that the wicked shal haue of God, & the heritage that tyrãts shal receiue of the almyghtie. If he get many childrẽ, they shal perishe wyth the sweard, and his posteritie shal haue scarsues of bread. Loke whom hee leaueth behind hym, they shal dye, & be buried, and no man shall haue pitie of his widdowes. Though he haue as much money as the dust of the earth, & raiment as redy as the claye, he maye well prepare it: but the godly shal put it vpon him, and the innocente shall deale oute the money. Hys house shall endure as the moth, and as a bouthe that the watchman maketh. When the ryche man dyeth, he carieth nothinge with him: he is gonne in the twinklinge of an eye, and hath nothing. Destructiõ taketh holde vpon him as a waterflood, and the tempest stealeth him away, in the nyght season. A vehement east winde carryeth hym hence, and departeth: a stourme plucketh him out of hys place. It rusheth in vpon hym, and spareth hym not, he maye not escape from the power thereof. Then clap men theyr handes at hym, yea and iearte of him, when they loke vpon hys place.

B

The .xxviii. Chapter.

A There is a place where syluer is brought out of: and where gold is tryed, where yron is digged out of the ground, and stones resolued to mettall. The darknes shal once come to an ende, he can seke oute the grounde of all thynges, the stones, the darke, and the shaddowe of death. Wyth the riuer of water parteth he a sondre the straunge people, that knowe no good neighbourhead, suche as are rude, vnmanerly and boysterous. Hee bryngeth foode oute of the earth, and that whiche is vnder, consumeth hee wyth fyre. There is founde a place whose stones are al cleane Saphirs, and where the clothes of the earth, are all gold. There is a way also that the B birdes knowe not, that no vulturs eie hath sene: wherin the lions whelpes walke not, and wher no lion cõmeth. There putteth he hys hand vpon the stonye rockes, and ouerthroweth the mountaines. Riuers flowe out of the rockes: and loke what is pleasant, hys eye seeth it. Out of droppes bringeth he greate flouddes together, and the thing that is hyd, bringeth he to light. C Howe comuneth a man then by wisedome? Wher is the place that menne fynde vnderstandynge? Verelye no man can tell howe woorthie a thinge she is, neither is she found in the land of them that lyue (at their owne pleasure.) The deepe sayeth: shee is not wyth me. The sea sayeth: she is not with me. She can not bee gotten for (that most pure) golde, neyther maye the pryce of her be bought wyth anye syluer. No wedges of gold of Ophir, no precius Onix stones, no Saphirs may be compared vnto her: no, neither gold nor christal, neither swet odours nor goldẽ plate. There is nothing so worthy or so excellẽt as once to be named vnto her: for perfect wisdõ goeth farre

A Deu. 8 d

B

C Pro. 2. a. Eccl. 7. a Iaco. 1. b 3. Re. 3 c and. 4. d

Sap. 7. b

farre beyonde theym all. The Topas that commeth out of Inde: may in no wise be likened vnto her: yea, no maner of apparel how pleasant and faire soeuer it be. From whens then commeth wysedome? and where is the place of vnderstandinge? She is hyd from the eies of al men liuing, yea, and from the foules of the aire. Destruction and death say: we haue heard tell of her wyth our eares. But God seeth her way, and knoweth her place. For hee beholdeth the endes of the worlde, and loketh vppon all that is vnder heauen. When hee weyed the wyndes, and measured the waters: when he sette the rayne in order, and gaue the myghtye fluds a law. Then dyd he se her, then declared he her, prepared her, and knewe her. And vnto man he sayde: Beholde, ✱ to feare the Lorde is wisedome, and to forsake euil, is vnderstanding.

Eccl. 2.c Psa. 111
Pro. 1.a.

¶ The .xxix. Chapter.

So Iob proceaded and went forth in his communication, saying: O that I were as I was in the monethes by past, and in the dayes whē God preserued mee: when his lyghte shyned vpon my heade, when I went after the same lyghte and shynynge, euen throughe the darkenesse. As it stode wyth me when I was younge, when God prospered my house: whē the almightie was yet wyth me: whē my children stode about me: when my wayes ranne ouer wyth butter, and when the stonie rockes gaue me ryuers of oyle, when I wente throughe the citie vnto the gate, and when they sette me a chaire in the streete: when the yong men (as soone as they sawe me) hydde them selues, and when the aged arose, and stoode vppe vnto mee: when the princes left of their talking and layed their hande to their mouth: when the mighty kept stil their voice and when their tongue cleaued to the roofe of their mouthe. when all they that hearde me, called me happie: and when all they that sawe mee, spake good of me. For I deliuered the poore when he cryed, and so dydde I the fatherlesse, and hym that hadde none to helpe hym. He that shoulde haue bene loste, gaue me a good woorde: and the widdowes heartes praysed me. And why, I put vpon me ryghteousnesse, which couered me a garment, and equitie was my crowne. I was an eie to the blynde, and a fote to the lame: I was a father vnto ỹ poore: and when I knewe not the cause, I soughte it oute diligentlye. I brake the chawes of the vnryghteous man, ✱ and pluckt the spoile out of hys teeth. Therfore I thought verely, that I should haue dyed in my neaste: and that my dayes shold haue ben as many as the sandes of the sea. For my roote was spredde oute by the water syde: and the dewe laye vpon my corne. My honoure encreased more and more, and my bowe was euer the stronger in my hande. Unto me men gaue eare, me they regarded: & with silence they taried for my counsayle. Yf I had spoken, they woulde haue it none other waies, my woordes were so well taken amonge them. They wayted for me as for the rayne: and gaped vppon mee, as the grounde doeth to receyue the latter shoure. When I laughed, they knewe wel it was not earnest. And the light of my countenaunce woulde they not putte out. When I agreed vnto their waye: I was the chyefe, and sate as a king with hys armie about him. And when they were in heauines, I was their comfortour.

Gen. 14.d

¶ The .xxx. Chapter.

But nowe they ỹ ar yonger then I, haue me in derision: ye, euē they whose fathers I would haue thoughte scorne to haue set with the dogges of my cattel. The power and strengthe of their handes myght do me no good, for the time is but lost among them. For very misery and hungre, they fled into the wildernes a darke place, horrible & waste plucking vp nettles amonge the bushes, and the Juniper rootes for their meate. And when they were dryuen forth, men cried after theym, as it had bene after a theefe. Their dwellynge

was

was beſyde foule brookes: yea in the caues and dens of the earth. Among the buſhes went they aboute cryinge, and vnder the thornes they gathered B them ſelues together. They were the children of foles and villaynes which are vered out of the world. Now am Cre.3.g I their ſong, and am become their ie-Pſa.69c ſtinge ſtocke: they abhorre me, and fly far from me, and ſtayne my face with ſpittle. For the Lorde hath looſed the ſtrength of my body, and brought me lowe. The bridle haue they caſt oute of my ſyght. Upō my right hand riſe the young men againſt me: they haue hurt my fete treading vpon me, as vpon the wayes that they woulde deſtroye. My pathes haue they cleane marred. It was to eaſie for them to do me harme, that they neded no man to helpe them. They fell vpon me, as it had bene the breakynge in of waters, and came in by heapes to deſtroye me.
C Fearefulnes is tourned agaynſte me. Myne honour vaniſheth away more ſwiftly then the winde, & my proſperitie departeth hence, lyke as it wer a cloude. Therfore is my mind poured full of heauines, and the daies of my trouble haue takē hold vpon me. My bones are perſed thorough in the night ſeaſon, and my ſinowes take no reſte. For the vehemencie of ſorowe is my garment chaunged, and accordinge to the diuerſitie of heauineſſe am I girded wyth my cote. He hath caſt me into the mire, and I am become lyke aſhes and duſt. When I cric vnto thee, thou doeſt not heare me: and thoughe I ſtand before thee, yet thou regardeſt me not. Thou art become myn enemy, and with thy violent hand thou takeſt part againſt me. In times paſte, thou D biddeſt let me vp on hye, as it were a-boue the wynde: but nowe haſte thou geuen me a very ſore fall. Sure I am that thou wilt deliuer me vnto death, euen to the lodgynge that is due vnto all men lyuinge. Now vſe not menne to doe vyolence vnto theym, that are deſtroyed alreadye: but where hurt is done, there vſe they to helpe. Did not I wepe wyth him that was in trou-ble? Had not my ſoule compaſſion vpon the poore? yet neuertheles, wher as I loked for good, euill hapned vn to me: & where as I waited for light, there came darkeneſſe. My bowelles ſeeth within me, and take no reſte, for the dayes of my trouble are come vpon me. Mekelye and lowelye came I in, yea, and without anye diſpleaſure. I ſtode vp in the congregation, and cōmuned wyth them: But nowe I am a companion of Dragons, and a felowe of Eſtriches. My ſkin vpon me is turned to blacke, and my bones are brente wyth heate: my harpe is turned to ſorow, and my vyce to wepynge.

¶ The .xxxi. Chapter.

I Made a conenant wyth mine eyes, * that I would not loke vppon a damoſell. For howe greate a portion ſhall I haue of God? and what enheritaunce from the almyghtye on hie? Is not the vngodly, and he that ioyneth himſelfe to the companye of wycked doers, ſhall not deſtruction and myſery com vpon hym? * Doeth not he ſee my wayes, and tell all my goynges? if I haue walked in vanitie, or if my feete haue runne to diſceaue, let me be wayed in an euen balaunce, that God maye ſee my innocencie. * If ſo be that I haue withdrawen my foot out of the right waye, and if my heart hath folowed mine eye ſyght: If I haue ſtayned or defyled my handes: then ſhall I ſow, and an other eate: yea, my generation and poſteritie ſhalbe cleane roted out. If my heart hath luſted after my neybours wyfe, or yf I haue laied waite at his dore: O then let my wife grind vnto an other man, and let other men lye with her. * For this is a wicked-
E nes and ſin, that is worthi to be puniſhed: yea, a fyre that vtterlye ſhoulde conſume and rote out al my ſubſtance. Did I euer thinke ſcorne to do right vnto my ſeruantes and maidens whē they had any matter againſt me? But ſeing that God will ſit in iudgement, what ſhal I do? And for ſo muche as he wyll nedes viſit me, what anſwer

I
Eccl.41e
Mat.5.b

Iob.31c
Pro.5.d.

Pſa.7.a.

deu.24.a

shal I geue him? He that fashioned me in my mothers wombe: made he not him also? were we not both shapē alyke in our mothers bodyes? When the poore desired any thyng at me, haue I denied it them? haue I caused the wydowe to stande waytynge for me in vayne? Haue I eaten my portion alone, that the fatherlesse hath had no parte with me? for mercy grewe vp with me fro my youth, and compassiō from my mothers wombe. Haue I sene any man perysshe thorow nakednesse, and want of clothyng? Or any poore man for lacke of rayment, whose sides thanked me not, because he was warmed with the woll of my shepe?

C Dyd I euer lyfte vp myne hande to hurte the fatherlesse? yea, in the gate where I sawe my self to be in auctorytye, then let myne arme fall fro my shoulder, and mine arme holes be broken from the toyntes. For I haue euer feared the vengeance and punishment of God, and knewe very well, that I was not able to beare hys burthē. Haue I put my trust in golde? Or haue I sayde to the fynest gold of all? thou art my confidence. Haue I reioyced because my power was great and because my hande gat so muche?

Deu.4.c and.27.b Sa.13.a * Dyd I euer greatly regarde the rysing of the sunne? or had I the goyng downe of the moone in great reputation? Hath my herte medled pryuily with any disceate? or dyd I euer kisse mine own hande? that were a wickednesse worthy to be punished: for then

Pro.17.a should I haue denied the God that is aboue. * Haue I euer reioyced at the hurte of myne enemye? Or was I euer glad, that any harme happened vnto him? Oh no. I neuer suffered my mouthe to do suche a synne, as to wysshe him euyll. Did not the men of myne owne household saye: who shall let vs to haue our belyfull of his flesh? I haue not suffred a straunger to lye without, but I opened my doores vnto him, that went by the waye. Haue I kept secret my synne, and hid mine

D iniquitye, as Adam dyd? Haue I feared any great multitude of people? or if I had bene despised of the symple: O then should I haue bene afrayed. Thus haue I quietlye spent my lyfe, and not gone out at the dooze. O that I had one which would heare me. Lo, this is my cause. In the whiche the almighty shall answer for me: though he that is my contrarye partye hath wrytten a booke agaynst me. Yet wil I take him vpon my shoulder, and as a garlande about my head. I wyll tel hym the number of my goinges, & go vnto him as to a prince. But if case be, that my lande crye agaynst me, or that the forowes therof make any cōplaynte: If I haue eaten the fruites therof vnpaied for: yes, if I haue greued any of the plowmen: then let thistles growe in steade of my wheate, and cockle for my barley.

C Here ende the wordes of Job.

C The .xxxii. Chapter.

SO these three men wouldē seruye I nomore with Job, because he held himselfe a ryghteous man. But Elihu the sonne of Barachell, the Bussite of the kynred of Ram, was very sore displesed at Job, because he called himselfe iuste before God. And 15 with 3 obs three frendes he was angrye also, because they had founde no reasonable answer to ouercome Job. Nowe tarryed Elihu, tyll they had ended their cōmunication with Job: for why? they were elder then he. So when Elihu the sonne of Barachell the Bussite sawe, that these three men were not able to make Job answer: he was miscontent: Elihu the sonne of Barachell the Bussite answered him selfe, and sayde: * Consideryngе Ecc.32.b that I am yong, and ye be men of age: I was afrayed and durste not shewe foorth my mind. For I thought thus within my selfe. It becommeth olde men to speake, and the aged to teache wisedome. Euery man (no doubte) 3.reg.3.b hath a mynde, * but it is the inspira- Eccl.7.a cion of the Almighty that geueth vn- Jacob.1 derstandyng. Greate men are not al-

Gala.

Gen.2

way

swaye wyse, neyther doeth every aged man vnderstande the thinge, that is lawfull. Therfore wyll I speake also C (heare me) and I will shewe you also mine vnderstandynge. For when I had waited tyll ye made an ende of your talking, and herd your wisdome what argumentes ye made in youre communication: yea, when I had diligentlye pondred what ye sayde, I found not one of you that made anye good argument agaynst Job, that directly coulde make answere vnto hys wordes: leste ye should saye: We haue found out wisedome. God shall caste him downe, and no man. He hath not spoken vnto me, and I wyll not answere him as ye haue done (for they were so abashed, that they coulde not make answere, nor speake one word) but in so much as ye will not speake, standyng styll lyke dumme men, and makyng no answeare: I haue a good hope for my parte, to shape hym an answere, and to shew him my meanyng. For I am full of wordes, and D the spirite that is within me, compelleth me. Beholde, my belly is as the wyne, which hath no vente, and bursteth the newe vessels in sonder. Therfore wyll I speake, that I maye haue a vene: I wyll open my lyppes, and make answere. I will regard no maner of person, no man wyll I spare.
Iobla.2.b For * if I wold go aboute to please men: I knowe not howe sone my maker would take me away.

¶ The.xxxiii. Chapter.

A WHerfore, heare my wordes (O Job) and hearken vnto me all that I will saye: Beholde, I haue nowe opened my mouth, my tongue hath spoken in my throte. My herte doeth order my wordes a right, and my lyppes talke of pure wisdome. The spirite of God Gen.2.b hath made me, and * the breath of the Almightie hath geuen me my life. If thou canst then geue me answer: prepare thy selfe to stande before me, face to face. Behold, before God am I euē as thou: for I am fashioned and made euen of the same mold. Therfore thou nedest not to be afraied of me: neyther nedest thou to feare that my authoritie shall be to heauy for thee. Nowe haste thou spoken in myne eares, and I haue heard the voice of thy wordes: I am cleane without any fault, I am innocent, and there is no wickednesse in me. Wut lo, he hath piked a quarell B against me, and taketh me for his enemye: * he hath put my fote in the stocke, and loketh narowly vnto all my pathes. Behold, in this hast thou not done right. I wyl make answere vnto thee: that God is more then man. And whye doest thou then stryue agaynst him: for he shall not geue thee accomptes of all his woordes. For when God doeth once commaunde a thing, there should no man be curious to searche whether it be righte. * In Gen.20a dreames & visions of the night (when 28c.31.b slomberyng commeth vpon men, that Dani.2b they fall a slepe in their beddes) he Mat.2.b roundeth thē in the eares, he enfourmeth them, and sheweth them playnlye that it is he, which withdraweth man from euill, deliuereth him from pride, kepeth him from the graue, and his life from the sweard. He chastneth him with sickenesse, and bryngeth him to hys bedde: he layeth sore punyshment vpon his boones, so that his life may away with no bread, and his soule abhorreth to eate any dayntye meate. In so muche that his body is cleane consumed awaye, and hys bones appeare no more. His lyfe draweth vnto the graue, and hys lyfe to death. Nowe, yf there be a messenger (one amonge a thousande) sente for to speake vnto man, and to shewe hym the right waye: then the Lord is mercifull vnto hym, and sayeth: He shall be delyuered, that he fall not downe to the graue, for I am sufficientlye reconciled. Then shall his flesshe bee as well lykynge as it was afore, and shall be as it was in his youthe. For D if he submytte hym selfe vnto God he shalbe gracious vnto hym, and shewe hym hys countenaunce ioyfullye, and rewardeth man for his righteousnes.

Suche a reſpecte hath he vnto men. Therfore, let a man confeſſe (& ſaye:) I haue offended, I did vnrightouſly, and it hath done me no good. Yea, he hath deliuered my ſoule from deſtruction, and my lyfe ſhall ſe the lyght. Lo, thus worketh God alway with man, that he kepeth his ſoule from perylhynge, and letteth hym enioye the lyght of the lyuyng. Marke well (O Job) and heare me: holde the ſtyl, and I wyll ſpeake. But if thou haſt anye thynge to ſaye, then anſwere me, and ſpeake, for thy anſwere pleaſeth me. If thou haſt nothinge, then heare me, and holde thy tongue, ſo ſhall I teach thee wiſdome.

¶ The .xxxiiii. Chapter.

A Elihu proceadynge forth in his anſwere, ſaide: Heare my wordes (O ye wyſe men) herken vnto me ye that haue vnderſtandyng, for the eare proueth and diſcerneth Job, 12b the wordes, * and the mouth taſteth the meates: As for iudgement let vs ſeke it out among our ſelues, that we may know what is good. And why? Job hath ſayde: I am righteous, but God doth me wronge. I muſt nedes be a lyer, thoughe my cauſe be righte: and violently I am plaged where as I made no faute, where is there ſuch a one as Job, that drynketh vp ſcorne fulneſſe lyke water? which goeth in the cõpany of wicked doers, and walketh with vngodly men? For he hath ſayde: Though a man be good, yet is he naught before God. Therfore herken vnto me, ye that haue vnderſtan-B dynge. Farre be it from God, that he ſhoulde meddle with wickednelſe: and farre be it from the Almightye, that he ſhoulde meddle with vnrighteous dealyng: * For he ſhall reward
mat. 16. b the workes of man, and cauſe euerye Rom. 2b man to finde accordyng to his wayes.
For ſure it is, that * God condemneth Rom. 3 a no man wrongfullye, and the iudgement of the Almightye is not vnrighteous. Who ruleth the earth in hys ſteade? Or whom hath he ſet to gouerne the whole worlde? To whom hath he geuen his herte, for to drawe ſpirite and breath vnto him? All flesh ſhall come together vnto nought, and all men ſhal turne agayne vnto * duſt. Gen. 3.d
If thou nowe haue vnderſtandyng, Pſa. 116 heare what I ſaye: and herken to the voyce of my woordes. Maye he be a C ruler that loueth no ryght? Or maye he that is a very innocent man, do vngoldy? Is it reaſon that thou ſhouldeſt ſaye to the kinge: Thou art wicked, or thou art vngodly, and that before the princes? * He hath no reſpect 2. pa. 19c vnto the perſonnes of the lordely, and Rom. 2.a regardeth not the riche more then the Eph. 6.b poore. For they be al the workes of his Colo. 3d handes. In the twinkelyng of an eye Eccl. 35b ſhall they dye: and at midnyght, when the people and the tyrauntes rage, then ſhall they peryſhe, and be taken away without handes. And whye?
* hys eyes looke vpon the wayes of Job. 31a manne, and he ſeeth all hys goynges. Prou. 5b There is no darkeneſſe, nor ſhadowe of death, that can hyde the wicked doers from him. For no man ſhalbe ſuffred to go into iudgment with God? Many one: yea, innumerable doeth he punyſhe, and ſetteth other in theyr ſteades. Therfore ſhal he declare their workes, he ſhall turne the night, and they ſhalbe deſtroyed. They that wer in the ſteade of ſears dealte lyke vngodly men: and therfore he punyſhed them, becauſe they turned backe from hym, and woulde not conſyder all hys wayes. In ſo muche that they haue cauſed the voyce of the poore to come vnto hym: and nowe he heareth the complaynte of ſuche as are in D trouble. If he graunte pardon, who wyll condemne? And if he hide away hys countenaunce, who ſhalbe hable to ſe it? whether it be to the people, or to any man, thus wyll he do. For the vngodlineſſe of the people doeth God make an ypocrite to reigne ouer them. For ſo muche then as I haue begon to talke of God, I wyll not hynder the. If I haue done amiſſe, enfourme thou me: if I haue done wronge, I wil leaue of. Can he do nothing without thee? For thou haſt reproued his iudgeiudgemente. Thou also haste thyne owne mynd, and not I. But speake on what thou knowest. Let men of vnderstandyng tell me, and let a wyse man herken vnto me. As for Job, he hath neyther spoken to the purpose, nor wysely. O father, let Job be wel tryed, because he hath aunswered for wicked men, yea aboue hys synne he doeth wickedly, triumpheth amonge vs, and multiplyeth hys woordes agaynst God.

¶ The.xxxv. Chapter.

A Elihu spake moreouer, and said: Thynkest thou it righte, that thou sayest: I am ryghteous before God. For thou sayest: What aduauntage wyll it be vnto thee, and what profyte shalte thou haue of my synne. Therfore wyll I geue answer vnto thee: and to thy companions with thee: loke vnto the heauen, and B beholde it: consider the cloudes, whiche are hyer then thou. If thou haste synned, what haste thou done agaynst him? If thine offences be many, what haste thou done vnto him? If thou be ryghteous, what geuest thou hym? Or what wyll he receaue of thyne hande? Of such an vngodly person as thou, and of the sonne of man that is ryghteous, as thou pretendest to be: there is a greate crye and complaynt made by them that are oppressed with C violence: yea euery man complayneth vpon the crueltye of tyrauntes. For such a one neuer sayeth: Wher is God that made me? and that geueth vs occasion to prayse hym in the nyghte? which geueth vs more vnderstādyng then he doeth the beastes of the earth, and teacheth vs more then he doth the D foules of heuē. If any such cōplayne, no man geueth answer, & that because of the wickednesse of proude tyrauntes. But if a man cal vpon God, doth not he heare him? Doeth not the Almightye accept his crye? When thou speakest then, shoulde not he pardon thee, if thou open thy selfe before him, and put thy trust in hym? Then vseth he no violence in his wrath, neyther hath he pleasure in curious and depe inquisitions. Therfore doth Job ope his mouth but in vayne, and folyshly doth he make so many woordes.

¶ The.xxxvi. Chapter.

E Lihu proceded forth in his tal-A kynge, and sayde: Holde the styl a lytle, and I shall shewe thee what I haue yet to speake on Gods behalfe. I wyll open vnto thee yet more of myne vnderstandyng: & proue my matter righteous. And truely, my woordes shal not be vayne, seyng he is with the that is perfect in knowledge: behold, the great god casteth away no man: for he him selfe is mighty in power & wisdome. As for the vngodly, he shall not preserue him, but shall helpe the pore to their right. He shall not turne his eyes away frō the righteous, but as kynges shall they be in their trone: he shall stablyshe them for euer, and they shalbe exalted. But yf they be layde in prison and chaynes, or bounde with the bondes of trouble, then wyl he shewe them their worke, and the synnes wherwith they haue vsed cruell violence. He with punyB shynge and nurteryng of them roundeth them in the eares, warneth them to leaue of from their wickednesse, and to amende. If they nowe wyll Esay.1.c take heede and serue hym, they shall weare out their dayes in prosperitie, and their yeares in pleasure and ioye. But if they wyll not herken, they shall go thorowe the sweard, and perysshe or euer they be aware. As for suche as bee fayned ypocrites, they shall heape vp wrath for them selues: F or they call not vppon hym, though they be hys prisoners. Thus shall their soule perysshe in folyshnesse, and their lyfe shalbe condemned amonge the fornicatoures. The poore shall he deliuer oute of hys affliction, and round them in the eare when they be in trouble. Euen so shall he kepe the (yf thou wylte be contente) from the bottomlesse pytte that is beneth: and yf thou wylte holde thee quiete, he shal fyll thy table with plenteousnes.

Neuer-

C Neuertheleſſe, thou haſt condemned the iudgement of the vngodlie, yea, euen ſuche a iudgemente and ſentence ſhalte thou ſuffre. For then ſhall not thy cauſe be ſtilled with crueltie, nor pacified wyth many giftes. Thinkeſt thou, that he wyll regard thy riches? hee ſhall not care for golde, nor for all them that excell in ſtrength. Prolong not thou the time, till there comme a nyght for thee, to ſette other people in thy ſteade. But beware that thou turne not aſyde to wickednes and ſin which hitherto thou haſt choſē more then meekenes. Behoilde, God is of a myghtie hie power: Where is there ſuch a guyde and lawe geuer as he? Who wyll reproue him of hys waye? Whoe wyll ſaye vnto him: thou haſte done wronge? D conſider how great and excellent hys workes bee, whom all men loue and praiſe: ye wonder at him, and yet they ſee him but a far of. Behold, ſo great is God, that he paſſeth oure knowledge, neyther are we able to come to the experience of hys yeares. Hee tourneth the water to ſmal droppes, he dryueth hys cloudes together for to raine, ſo that they pour downe and drop vpon men. He canne ſpreade oute the cloudes (a couerynge of his tabernacle) and cauſe hys light to ſhine vppon them, and to couer the bottome of the ſea. By theſe thinges gouerneth hee hys people and geueth them abonndaunce of meate. With the cloudes hee hydeth the lyghte: and at his commaundemente it commeth againe. The reſyng vp therof ſheweth he to hys frendes, and to the cattell.

Deu. 11. b and. 28. b

Psal. 147

Job. 1

Job. 26 Jere. 5 Psa. 10

The. xxxvii. Chapter.

AT this my heart is aſtonyed, and moued oute of hys place. Heare then the ſounde of hys voyce, and the noyſe that goeth out of his mouth. He gouerneth euery thing vnder the heauen, and his lyghte reacheth vnto the ende of the worlde. A roaring voice foloweth hym: for hys glorious maieſtie geueth ſuch a thunder clappe, that (thoughe a man heare it) yet maye hee not perceaue it afterwarde. It geueth an horrible ſounde when God ſendeth oute hys voyce: great thynges doeth he, which we can not comprehend. When he commandeth the ſnowe, it falleth vppon the earth: As ſone as he geueth the rayne a charge, immediatlye the ſhowres haue their ſtrength, and fall downe. He ſendeth feare vpon euerye manne, that they myghte knowe their owne workes. The beaſtes crepe into their dennes, and take their reſt. Out of the Southe commeth the tempeſte, and colde out of the North. At the breath of God, the froſte commeth, and the waters are ſhed abroade. Hee maketh the cloudes to do their laboure, in geuing moiſtnes, and againe, wyth hys light he dryueth away the cloude. He diſtributeth alſo on euery ſyde, accordyng as it pleaſeth him to deale oute hys workes, that they may do whatſoeuer he commaundeth them through the whole world: whether it be to puniſhe anye lande, or to doe good vnto them that ſeke him. Herken vnto this (O Job) ſtand ſtill, and conſider the wonderous workes of GOD. Arte thou of counceil wyth God when hee doth theſe thynges? When he cauſeth the lyght to com forth of hys cloudes: Arte thou of hys councell, when hee ſpreadeth out the cloudes? Haſt thou the perfecte knoweledge of hys wonders? and how thy clothes are warme when the lande is ſtill throughe the South winde? Haſt thou helped him to ſpreade oute heauen, whiche is to loke vpon, as it were caſt out of cleare mettall? Teache vs what wee ſhall ſaye vnto him: for we are vnmeete becauſe of darkeneſſe. Shall it bee tolde hym what I ſaye? Shoulde a manne ſpeake, or ſhoulde hee keepe it backe? For euerye manne ſeeth not the light that hee keapeth cleare in the cloudes whyche hee clenſeth when he maketh the wynd to blow. Colde is brought oute of the North the, but the prayſe and honoure of GODDES ſtrare, commeth from GOD hymſelfe. It is not we that canne fynde out the almighty:

mightye: for in power, equitie, and ryghteousnes, he is hier then can bee expressed. Lette menne therefore feare hym, for there shall noo manne se hym that is wyse in hys owne conceate.

¶ The xxxviii. Chapter.

THen aunswered the LORD vnto Job out of the stozme and sayde: What is hee, that hideth hys mynde wyth foolyshe woozdes? Gyde vp thy loynes lyke a manne, Job.11.a for I wyll question wyth thee, see thou geue me a dyrecte aunswere. Where wast thou when I layed the foundations of the earth? Tel plainely, yf thou hast vnderstandinge. Whoe hath measured it, knowest thou? Or who hath spredde the line vppon it. Wherevppon stande the pillers of it? Or who layed the corner stone therefore? Where wast thou when the morynge starres praysed mee together, and all the children of God reioyced tryumphantlye? Who shutte the Job.26.a sea wyth doores when it brake forthe Jere.5.c as a chyld out of hys mothers wõbe? Psa.104. When I made the cloudes to be a couerynge for it, and swaddled it with the darcke: when I gaue it my commaundemente, makynge doores and barres for it, sayinge: Hytherto shalte thou comme, but noo further: and here shalte thou laye downe thy proude and hye waues. Haste thou geuen the morynge hys charge (as soone as thou wast borne) and shewed the day sprynge hys place, that it myght take holde of the corners of the earthe, and that the vngodlye myghte bee shaken out. Their tokens and weapons are turned like clay, and sette vp agayne: as the chaungynge of a garment. The B vngodlye shalbe disapointed of theyr lyght, and the arme of the proud shalbe broken. Camest thou euer into the grounde of the sea: or walkedst in the lowe corners of the deepe? Haue the gates of death be opened vnto thee, or hast thou seene the doores of the shadowe of death? Haste thou also perceiued howe brode the earth is? yf thou hast knowledge of al thys, then shewme where lyght dwelleth, and where darkenesse is: that thou mayest bringe vs vnto theyr quarters: yf thou canste tell the waye to their houses. Knowest thou (afore thou wast borne) howe olde thou shouldest be? Wentest thou euer into the treasures of the snowe, or hast thou seene the secrete places of the hayle, which I haue prepared Exo.9.c. agaynste the time of trouble, agaynste Josu.10 the time of battaile and warre? By what way is the light parted, and into what land breaketh the east winde? Whoe deuydeth the aboundaunce of waters into riuers, or who maketh a way for the lightening and thundre, that it watereth & moisteneth the drie and barren grounde: to make the gras growe in places wher no body dwelleth, and in the wilderneße, where no man remayneth? Who is the father of rayne, or who hath begotten the droppes of dewe? Out of whose wombe came the yse? Whoe hath gendred the coldnesse of the ayre: that the waters are as harde as stones, and lye congeled aboue the depe. Wylte thou bindre the swete influences of the seuen starres? Or arte thou able to breake the cycle of heauen? Canst thou bringe D forth the morning starre, or the euenynge starre at conuenyente tyme, and conueye them home agayne? Knowest thou the course of heauē, that thou mayest set vp the ordinaunce thereof vpon the earth? Moreouer, canst thou lyft vp thy voyce to the cloudes, that they maye poure downe a great rayne vppon thee? Canst thou thundre also that they maye go their waye, and bee obedient vnto the, sayinge: Lo, here are wee? Whoe gyueth sure wysedome or stedfast vnderstãding. Who numbreth the clouds in wysdome? Who stilleth & behemẽt waters of the heuen? who turneth the clottes to dust, and then to be clottes agayne? Wylte thou hunte the pray frõ the Liõ: or fede his whelpes lying in their dens, & lurkyng in Psa.145 their couches? Who prouideth meate f or the rauẽ, when his yong ones crie b nto god, & fly about for lack of meat?

¶ The xxxix. Chapter.

Knowest

KNowest thou the tyme whē the wild gotes bryng forth their yong, among the stony rocks? Or layest thou waite when the hyndes vse to fawne? recknest thou the monethes after they engendre: that thou knowest the tyme of their bearyng? Or when they bye downe, when they caste their yonge ones, and when they are deliuered of their trauaile and peine? How their yong ones grow vp, and waxe great thorow good feedyng? when they go forth, & return not again vnto them? Who letteth the wylde asse goe free, or who loseth the bonds of the mule? Euen I which haue geuen the wildernesse to be their house, and the vntyled lande to bee theyr dwellynge place. That they maye geue no force for the multitude of people in the cities, neither regarde the crying of the dryuer: but seke theyr pasture about the mountaynes, and folowe greene grasse. Wyll the Unicorne be so tame as to do ỹ seruice, or to abyde styll by the crybbe? Canste thou bynde the yoke about the Unicorn in the forow to make hym plowe after thee in the valleyes? Wayest thou truste hym (because he is strong) or commyt thy labour vnto hym? Wayest thou beleue hym, that he wyll bryng home thy corne, or to carye any thynge into thy barne? Gauest thou the fayre wynges vnto the Pecockes, or wynges and feathers vnto the Storke? For he leaueth his egges in the earth and layeth theym in the dust. He remembreth not, that they myghte bee troden wyth feete, or broken wyth some wyld beast. So hard is he vnto his yong ones, as though they were not his, and laboureth in vayn, without any feare. And that because God hath taken wysedome from hym, and hath not geuen hym vnderstandyng. When his tyme is, that he flyeth vp on hye, he careth neither for horse nor man. Haste thou geuen the horse hys strengthe, or learned hym to bowe downe hys necke with feare, that he letteth hym selfe be dryuen forth lyke a grashopper, where as the stowte neyinge that he maketh, is fearefull? hee breaketh the grounde wyth the hookes of hys feete cherefully in hys strength, and runneth to mete the harneste men. He layeth aside all feare, hys stomacke is not abated, neyther starteth he backe for any swearde. Thoughe the quyuers rattle vppon hym, though the speare and shield glister: yet rusheth he in fiersly, and beateth vpon the ground. He feareth not the noyse of the trompets: but as sone as he heareth the shawmes blowe, tushe (sayeth he) for he smelleth the battaile afarre of, the noyse, the captaynes, and the showtynge. Commeth it thorowghe thy wysedome, that the Goshawke flyeth towarde the Southe? Dothe the Egle mount vp, and make hys neste on hye at thy commaundement? He abideth in stonye rockes, and vpon the hye tops of hard mountaynes, where no man can come. From thens seketh he his pray and loketh farre about with his eyes. His yonge ones are fed with bloode: and where anye deade bodye lyeth, there is he immediatly.

mat. 24

The. xl. Chapter.

MOreouer, God spake vnto Job, and saide: Can he that striueth with the almyghty, bee at reste? Shulde not he which disputeth with God, geue him an answer? Job answered the Lord, saying: Beholde, I am to vile a person to answer the: therfore wil I lay my hande vpon my mouthe. Ones or twyse haue I spoken, but I will say no more. Then answered the Lorde vnto Job out of the storme, & sayde: Gyrd vp thy loines now like a man and tell me the thynges that I wyll aske thee. Wilt thou disanull my iudgement? Or wilt thou condemne me, that thou thy self maist be made righteous? Is thy power then like ỹ power of god? Maketh thy voice such a sound as hys doth? Thē arme thy self with thyn own power: vp, deck thee in thy holy aray, poure out ỹ indignation of thy wrathe: se that thou caste downe all the prowde: looke well, that thou makest all suche as be stubburne, to obey: treade downe all the ungodlye in their place, caste theym downe into the duste, and couer their faces with darknesse: Then will I confesse vnto thee also, that thyne owne right hand shall saue thee. Behold, the beast Behemoth (whom I made with thee (which eateth hay as an Oxe: Lo, howe stronge he is in hys loynes, and what power he hath in the nauyll of hys body. He spreadeth out hys tayle lyke a Cedre tree, all his paynes are styffe. His shinnes are lyke pypes of brasse, hys rydge bones are lyke staues of yron. Fyrst, when God made hym, he ordeyned the wildernes for him, that the mountaines should gene him grasse, where all the beastes of the fielde take theyr pastyme. He lyeth amonge the reedes in the mosses, the fennes hyde hym with theyr shadowe, and the wyllowes of the brooke couer hym round about. Lo, without any labor, might he drynke out of the whole flood, and suppe of Jordan without any trauaile. Who dare lay hand vpon hym openly, and vndertake to catche hym: (Or who dare put an hoke thorowe hys nose, and lay a snare for hym?) Dарest thou drawe out Leuiathan with an angle, or bynde his tounge with a snare? Canst thou put a ring in the nose of hym, or boare his iawe thorowe with an aule. Wyll he make many fayre woordes wyth thee (thinkest thou) or flatter thee? Wylle he make a couenaunt wyth thee? Or art thou able for to compel him to do the continuall seruice? Wylte thou take thy pastyme wyth hym, as with a byrde, or geue him vnto thy maydens that thy companyons maye make a refection of hym: or that he maye dee parted among the marchaunt menne? Canst thou fylle the basket with his skynne: or the fysshe panyer with his heade? Dарest thou lay hande vpon hym? It is better for thee to consyder what harme might happen therethorowe, and not to touche hym. For when thou it yrkest to haue holde vpon hym, he shall begyle thee.

Esa. 27. Psal. 74

Job. 38

Esa. 27. a
Psal. 74.

The .xli. Chapter.

NO man is so cruel, that he is able to styrre him vp. Who is able to stande before me? Or who hath geuen me any thyng afore hande, that I may reswarde hym agayne? All thinges vnder heauen are myne: I feare hym not, whether he threaten or speake fayre. Who lyfteth him vp, and strippeth hym out of his clothes, or who taketh hym by the bryt of his bryde? Who openeth the dooze of hys face? For he hath horrible teethe rounde about. His body is couered with skales, as it were with shieldes lockt in, kept, and wel compact together. One is so ioynted to another, that no ayre can come in: Yea, one hangeth so vpon another, & sticketh so fast together, that they can not be sondred. Hys nesynge is lyke a glystryng fyre, and his eyes lyke the morenyng shyne. Out of his mouthe goe torches, and oute of hys nostrelles, there goeth a smoke, lyke as out of an hotte seethyng pot. His breathe maketh the coales burne, and the flame goeth out of his mouth. In his neck remaineth strength, and nothyng is to laborious for hym. The membres of his bodye are ioyned so strayte one to another, and cleaue so fast together, that he can not bee moued. His hearte is as hard as a stone, and as faste as the stythye, that the smyth smyteth vpon. When he goeth, the myghtye are afrayde, and feare troubleth theym. If any man drawe out a sword at hym, it shall not hurt hym: There may neither speare, Jauelyn, nor breaste plate abyde hym. He setteth as muche by a strawe as by yron: And as muche by a rotten stocke, as by brasse. He startethe not away for hym that bendeth the bow: and as for slynge stones, he careth as muche for stubble, as for theym. He countethe the dartes no better then a strawe; he laugheth hym to scorne

Job. 38

A Jer. 1. g
Ro. 11. d
B
C
D

that

that shaketh the speare: He treadeth the golde in the myre, lyke the sharpe potsheardes. He maketh the deepe to boyle lyke a potte, and styrrethe the sea togyther lyke an oyntemente. He maketh the pathe to be sene after him the deepe is hys walkyng place. Upon earthe is there no power, lyke vnto hys: for he is so made, that hee feareth not. If a man wyll consider all the hyghe thynges, thys same is a kyng ouer all the chyldren of pryde.

The xlij. Chapter.

A Then Job aunswered the LORDE, and sayde: * I knowe that thou haste power ouer all thynges, and that there is no thoughte hydde vnto thee. For who canne keepe hys owne counsayle so secrete, but it shall be knowen? Therfore haue I spokē that I vnderstoode not the thynges that are so hye, and passe myne vnderstandyng. O hearken thou vnto me also, and lette me speake: answere vnto the thing that I wyl aske thee. I haue giuen diligent eare vnto thee, and nowe I see with myne eyes. Wherefore I gyue myne owne selfe the blame, and take repentance in the duste and ashes. Nowe whenne the Lorde hadde spoken these woordes vnto Job, it fortuned, that the Lord sayde vnto Eliphas the Themanite: I am displeased wyth thee, and thy two frendes: for ye haue not spoken of me, the thynge that is rycht: lyke as my seruant Job hath done. Therfore, take you nowe seuen Oxen, and seuen rammes, and go to my seruaunt Job, * and offer vp for your selues a burnte offeryng, and my seruant Job shall pray for you. Hym wyll I accepte: and not deale wyth you after youre foolyshenesse, in that ye haue not spoken the thing which is right, lyke as my seruant Job hath doone. So Eliphas the Themanite, and Bildad the Suhite, and Sophar the Naamathite wente theyr waye, and dydde accordyng as the LORDE commaunded theym. * The Lorde also accepted the persone of Job, and the Lorde tourned the Captiuitie of Job, whenne he prayed for his frendes: Yea the Lord gaue Job * twyse as muche as he had afore. And then came there vnto him all his brethren, all hys systers, and all they that had bene of hys acquayntaunce afore, and dydde eate breadde wyth hym in hys house, wondrynge at hym, and comfortyng him ouer al the trouble, that the LORDE had brought vppon hym. Euery manne also gaue hym a certayne summe of money, and a Jewelle of golde. And the Lorde made Job rycher then he was before: for he hadde fouretene M. sheepe, syxe thousande camelles: a thousand yoke of Oxen, and a thousande Asses. He hadde seuen soonnes also, and three doughters. The fyrste doughter called he Jemima, the seconde Kezia, and the thyrde Kerenhabuch. In all the lande were no women founde so fayre, as the daughters of Job: and theyr father gaue them enheritance amonge their brethrē. After this liued Job an hundred and forty yeares, so that he sawe * his childerne, and hys childrens children into the fourth generation. And so Job dyed, beyng olde, and of a perfite aege.

Esa. 18.c
1.re. 16.

Mat. 5.b
Mar. 5.c

Gen. 4.d

Mat. 19.d

Ge. 50.d
Eccl. 14.
Pla. 128

The ende of the Booke of Job.

The thirde parte of the Byble contaynyng theſe bookes.

The Pſalter. The prouerbes.
Eccleſiaſtes. Cantica Canticorum

The prophetes.

Eſaye.
Ieremy.
Ezechiel Daniell.
Oſeas.
Ioel.
Amos.
Abdi.
Ionas, Micheas.
Naum.
Abacuc.
Sophonie.
Aggeus, Zachary.
Malachi.

¶ The Pſalmes of Dauid.

¶ The fyrſt Pſalme.

Beatus vir qui non abiit.

Morning prayer.

BLeſſed is the manne that hathe not walked in the councel of ỹ vngodly, nor ſtãde in the * way of ſynners, and hath not ſit in the ſeate of the ſcornefull. Pſa. 33. Eſa. 8.b

But his delyte is in the lawe of the Lord: and in his lawe will he exerciſe hym ſelfe day and nyght.

And * he ſhalbe like a tree planted by the water ſyde, that wyll bryngeforth his fruite in due ſeaſon. Ier.17.b

His leafe alſo ſhal not wither, and looke what ſoeuer he doothe, it ſhall proſper.

B As for ỹ vngodly, it is not ſo with them: but * thei are like the chaff whiche the wind ſcattereth away (frome the face of the earth.) Pro. 10. Eſa.29.c

Therfore the vngodly ſhall not be able to ſtande in the iudgement, neyther the ſynners in the congregation of the righteous.

But the Lorde knoweth the waye of the righteous, and the waye of the vngodly ſhall periſhe.

¶ The ſeconde Pſalme.

Quare fremuerunt gentes.

A WHy * do the Heithen ſo furiouſly rage togither? & why dooe the people ymagine a vayne thynge? Acts.4.e

The kynges of the earthe ſtande bp, and the rulers take councell together * againſt the Lord, and agaynſte hys annoynted. mat.17.a

Let vs breake their bõds aſunder, & caſt away their cordes from vs. Pro.1.d Sap.4.c

He that dwelleth in heauen, * ſhall laugh them to ſcorne, the Lorde ſhall haue them in deriſion.

Then ſhall he ſpeake vnto them in his wrath: and vexe theim in his ſore diſpleaſure.

Yet haue I ſet my kyng, vpon my holy hyll of Syon.

I will preache the lawe, wherof the Lord hath ſayd vnto me: * thou art my ſon, this day haue I begotte thee. Acts.13. Hebr.1.d and.5.d

B Deſyre of me, and I ſhal geue thee the Heathen for thyne enheritance, & the vtmoſt partes of the earth for thy poſſeſſion.

* Thou ſhalte bruſe theym with a rodde of yron, and breake them in peces, * lyke a potters veſſell. Apoc.2.g and.19.c Eſa.30.c

Be wyſe now therfore, O ye kinges: be learned, ye that are iudges of the earth.

Serue the Lord in feare, & reioyce (vnto hym) with reuerence.

Kyſſe the ſonne leſte he be angry, & ſo ye peryſhe from the (right) way, if hys wrath be kindled (ye but a little) bleſſed are al they that put their truſt in hym.

¶ The third Pſalme.

Domine quid multiplicati.

LOrde, how are they increaſed, that trouble me? * many are they that ryſe againſt me.

Many one there bee, that ſaye of my ſoule: there is no helpe for him in (his) God. Sela.

But thou, O Lord, art my defender: thou art my worſhyp, and the lifter vp of my head.

I dyd call vpon the Lord with my voyce: and he heard me out of his holy hyll. Sela.

I layd me downe and ſlepte, and roſe vp again, & the lord ſuſteined me. B

I will not be afraid for ten thouſandes of the people, that haue ſet theim ſelues againſt me round about. Pro.3.d

Vp Lord and help me, O my God, for thou ſmiteſt al myne enemies vpon the cheeke bone, thou haſt broken the teeth of the vngodly.

Saluation belongethe vnto the Lorde: and thy bleſſyng is vppon thy people. Selah.

The fourth Pſalme.

Cum inuocarem.

1 HEare me, when I calle, O God of my ryghteouſneſſe: thou haſte ſet me at libertie, whenne I was in trouble: haue mercy vpon me, and herken vnto my prayer.

O ye ſonnes of men, howe longe wyll ye blaſpheme myne honour, and haue ſuche pleaſure in vanitie, and ſeeke after leaſyng? Sela.

Knowe this alſo, that the Lorde hath choſen to hym ſelfe the man that is godly: when I call vpon the lord, he wyll heare me.

Stand in awe, and ſynne not: commen with your owne heart, & in your chaumber, and be ſtyll. Sela.

Offer the ſacrifice of righteouſnes, and put your truſt in the Lorde.

There be many that ſay: Who will ſhewe vs any good? lord lyft thou vp the light of thy countenance vpon vs.

2 Thou haſte put gladnes in myne heart, ſence the tyme that their corne and wyne (and oyle) increaſed.

I will lay me downe in peace, and take my reſt: for it is thou lord onely, that makeſt me dwell in ſafetie.

¶ The. v. Pſalme.

Verba mea auribus.

1 POnder my wordes, O Lord, conſyder my meditation.

O hearken thou vnto the voice of my calling, my king and my God, for vnto thee wylle I make my prayer.

My voyce ſhalt thou here betymes O Lord: early in the morning wyl I directe my prayer vnto thee, and will looke vp.

Pro. 3. d. * For thou arte the God that hath no pleaſure in wyckednelle, neither ſhall any cuyll dwell with thee.

Suche as be fooliſh: ſhal not ſtand in thy ſyght, thou hateſt all them that worke vanitie.

Thou ſhalt deſtroy them that ſpeke leaſyng: the lorde will abhorre bothe the bloud thirſtie and diſceptful man.

But as for me I wyll come into thy houſe, euen vppon the multitude of thy mercye, and in thy feare wyll * I worſhyp towarde thy holy Temple. Pſ. 138

Leade me, O Lorde, in thy righteouſnes, becauſe of myne ennemies: make thy way playne before my face.

For there is no faithfulnes in hys mouthe: their inward partes are very wickednes.

* Their throate is an open ſepulchre: they flatter with their tongue, deſtroy thou them. Rom. 3. c

O God, let them periſhe thorow theyr owne ymaginations, caſt them out in the multitude of theyr vngodlyneſſe: for they haue rebelled agaynſt thee.

And lette all theim that put theyr truſt in thee, reioyce: they ſhall euer bee geuyng of thankes, becauſe thou defendeſt theym: they that loue thy name, ſhalbe ioyfull in thee.

For thou Lord wylt geue thy bleſſyng vnto the righteous: and wyth thy fauourable kyndneſſe wylt thou defende hym, as with a ſhield.

¶ The. vi. Pſalme.

Domine ne.

Euening prayer.

O Lorde, * rebuke me not in thyne indignation: neyther chaſten me in thy diſpleſure. I Pſal. 8. a Ier. 10. d Haue mercye vpon me, O Lorde, for I am weake: O Lorde heale me, for my bones are vexed.

My ſoule alſo is ſore troubled: But Lorde, howe longe wilte thou punyſhe me?

Turne thee, O Lorde, and deliuer my ſowle: Oh ſaue me for thy mercies ſake.

* For in death no man remembreth thee: and who wyll geue the thanks in the pitte? Eſa. 38 d Pſ. 115 b

B

I am wearye of my gronyng, euery night waſhe I my bedde, and water my couche with my teares.

My beautie is gone for very trouble, and worne awaye, becauſe of all myne ennemies.

* Away fro me all ye that worke vanitie: for the Lorde hath heard the voyce of my weeping. Mat. 7. d and. 35. d Luk. 13.

The Lord hath heard my petition, the Lorde will receyue my prayer.

All myne enemies ſhalbe confounded and ſore vexed, they ſhalbe turned backe, and put to ſhame ſodeynly.

¶ The. vii. Pſalme.

Domine deus meus.

A

O Lord my God, in thee haue I putte my truſte: ſaue me from all them that perſecute me, and deliuer me.

Leaſte he deuoure my ſoule lyke a Lyon, and teare it in pieces, whyle there is none to helpe.

Job. 31 a Oh Lord my god, if I haue done any ſuch thing: or if there be any wickednes in my handes.

If I haue rewarded euyll vnto hym that dealt frendly with me: yea, I haue deliuered hym, that without any cauſe is myne enemye.

Then let myne ennemy perſecute my ſoule, and take me: yea ſette hym treade my life downe vppon the earth, and lay myn honor in the duſt. Sela.

Stand vp, O Lord, in thy wrath: and lyfte vp thy ſelfe, becauſe of the indignations of myn ennemies: ariſe vp for me, in the iudgement that thou haſte commaunded.

And ſo ſhall the congregation of the people come about thee, for theyr ſakes therfore, lyft vp thy ſelf again.

The Lorde ſhall iudge the people, geue ſentence with me, O Lord, accordynge to my ryghteouſneſſe, and accordynge to the innocencye that ys in me.

Oh lette the wyckednesſe of the vngodly come to an ende: but guyde thou the iuſte.

For the righteous God trieth the very hertes and the reynes.

My helpe commeth of God, whiche preſerueth theym that are treſwe of harte.

deu. 10. d * God is a ryghtous iudge (ſtrong and paciente,) and God is prouoked euery day.

If a man will not tourne, he wyll whet hys ſwearde, he hath bent his bowe, and made it ready.

He hath prepared hym the inſtruments of death: he ordeineth his arrowes againſt the perſecutours.

Behold, * he trauayleth with myſchiefe, he hath conceiued ſorowe, and brought foorth vngodlynesſe. Job. 15 Eſa. 59 Heſt. 7. b

* He hathe grauen and digged vp a pit, and is fallen hymſelfe into the deſtruction that he made (for other.) Pro. 27. Eccl. 10. and. 32. c

For his trauaile ſhall come vppon hys owne head: * and hys wyckednesſe, ſhall falle vppon hys owne pate. Pſ. 40. b

I wylle geue thankes vnto the Lord accordyng to his righteouſnes, and wyll prayſe the name of the Lord the moſte hyghest.

¶ The. viii. Pſalme.

Domine dominus noſter.

O Lord our gouernour, how excellent is thy name in all the worlde, thou that haſt ſet thy glory aboue the heauens? I

* Out of the mouthe of verye babes and ſucklynges haſt thou ordeyned ſtrengthe becauſe of thyne ennemies, that thou mighteſt ſtyl the enemy and the auenger. mat. 22. b

For I will conſyder thy heauens, euen the workes of thy fyngers: the moone and the ſtarres, whiche thou haſte ordeyned.

* What is man, that thou art mind full of him? and the ſonne of man that thou viſiteſt hym? Pſ. 144.

Thou madeſt hym lower than the angels, to crowne hym wyth glorye and worſhyp. II

Thou madeſt him to haue dominion of the workes of thy handes: and Heb. 2. b 1. cor. 15. * thou haſte put all thynges in ſubiection vnder hys feete.

All ſhepe and oxen, ye and the beaſtes of the fielde.

The foules of the ayre, & the fyſhe of the ſea, and whatſoeuer walketh thorow the pathes of the ſeas.

O Lord our gouernour, how excellēt is thy name in all the worlde!

¶ The. ix. Pſalme.

Confitebor tibi domine.

A Psa. 111 Morninge prayer.

I Will * geue thankes vnto thee: O Lorde with my whole hearte, I will speake of all thy meruailous workes.

I will be glad, and reioyce in thee, ye my songs will I make of thy name, O thou most hiest.

While myne ennemyes are dryuen backe, they shall fall, and perish at thy presence.

For thou hast maintained my right & my cause: thou art set in the throne that iudgest ryght.

Thou hast rebuked the heathē and destroyed the vngodly, thou haste put out their name for euer and euer.

O thou enemye, destructions are come to a perpetuall ende: euen as the cities which thou hast destroied, their memorial is perished with them.

B But the Lord shal endure for euer, hee hath also prepared his state for iudgement.

For he shal iudge the world in righteousnes, and minister true iudgement vnto the people.

Esa. 33.a The Lorde also will bee a defence for the oppressed * euen a refuge in due time of trouble.

And they that know thy name, will put their trust in the: for thou (Lorde) hast neuer fayled them that seke thee.

Psa. 76.a O prayse the Lorde, * which dwelleth in Sion, shewe the people of his doynges.

For when he maketh inquisition for blood, he remembreth theym: and Psa. 22.c * forgetteth not the complainte of the poore.

Haue mercye vpon me (O Lorde) consider the trouble whiche I suffre of them that hate me, thou that liftest me vp from the gates of death.

That I may shewe all thy praises within the portes of the daughter of Sion, I will reioice in thy saluation.

The heathen ar sunke down in the pitte that they made: in the same nette which they hid priuely, is their own foote taken.

The Lorde is knowen to execute iudgement: the vngodly is trapped in the worke of his owne handes. A consideration Sela.

The wicked shalbe turned into hel: and all the people that forget God.

For the poore shall not bee alway forgotten, the paciente abiding of the meke shall not perishe for euer. F

Up Lord, and let not man haue the vpper hand, let the Heathen be iudged in thy sight.

Put them in feare (O Lorde) that the Heathen may knowe them selues to be but men. Sela.

¶ The. x. Psalme.

Vt quid domine.

WHy standest thou so far of (O A Lorde, and hydest thy face in that needeful time of trouble?

The vngodlye for his owne lust, doth persecute the poore: let theim bee taken in the crafty wilinesse that they haue ymagined.

For the vngodlye hath made boast of hys owne heartes desyre, and speaketh good of the couetous, whō God abhorreth.

The vngodlye is so proude that he B careth not for God, neither is God in all hys thoughtes.

His ways are alway grieuous, thy iudgementes are farre aboue oute of his sight, and therfore defieth hee all hys enemyes.

For he hath sayd in his hert: Tush I shal neuer be cast downe, there shal no harme happen vnto me.

His mouthe is full of cursinge, and Ro. 3. e. disceate and fraud, vnder his tonge is vngodlynesse and vanitie.

He sitteth lurkinge in the theuish Prou. 1.b corners of the stretes, and priuelye in his lurking dennes doth he murther the innocent, his eies are set againste the poore.

For he lieth waiting secretly (euen as a lion lurketh hee in his den) that he may rauish the poore.

He doth rauish the poore, when hee getteth him into his net.

He falleth downe and hūbleth him self, that the congregatiō of the poore may fal into the hand of his captains.

He hath sayde in his heart: Tushe God hath forgotten, he hydeth away his face, and he will neuer see it.

Aryse O Lorde God, and lifte vp thyne hande, forget not the poore.

Wherfore shoulde the wicked blaspheme God, while he doth say in hys heart: tush, thou God carest not for it.

Surely thou hast seene it: for thou beholdest vngodlines and wrong.

That thou maiest take the matter into thy hande: the poore committeth hymselfe vnto thee, for thou arte the helper of the frendlesse.

Breake thou the power of the vngodly and malicious: take away hys vngodlines, and thou shalt find none.

The Lorde is king for euer and euer, and the heathen are perysshed out of the lande.

Lorde thou hast heard the desire of the poore: thou preparest theyr heart, and thyne eare heareneth therto.

To helpe the fatherlesse and poore vnto their right: that the man of the erth be no more exalted against them.

¶ The.xi. Psalme.

In Domino confido

A IN the Lord put I my trust: howe saye yee then to my soule: that shee shoulde flye as a byrde vnto your hill?

For lo, the vngodly bende theyr bowe, and make readye their arowes within the quiuer, that they may priuelye shote at them, which are trewe of heart.

For the foundations wylbe caste downe, and what hath the righteous doone?

Abac.2.d * The Lorde is in his holye temple Esa.56.a * the Lordes seate is in heauen.

B His eyes consider the poore, and hys eye lyddes trieth the children of men.

The Lord aloweth the righteous, but the vngodlye, and him that delyteth in wickednes, doth hys soule abhorre.

Vppon the vngodlye he shall raine snares, fyre, and brymston, storme and tempeste: this shalbe theyr porcion to drynke.

For the ryghteous Lorde loueth ryghteousnes: his countenaunce will beholde the thyng that is iust.

Euening prayer.

¶ The.xii. Psalme.

Saluum me fac domine.

HElpe me Lord, for there is not one godly manne lefte. For the faithfull are minished from among the children of men. G

They talke of vanitie, euerye one wyth hys neyghboure, they doo but flatter with theyr lippes and dyssemble in their double heart.

The Lorde shall roote oute all deceatful lippes, and the tong that speaketh proude thynges which haue sayd: with our tongue will we preuayle: wee are they that ought to speake, whoe is Lorde ouer vs?

Nowe for the comforties troubles B Ps. 11.2. sake of the neady, * and because of the depe syghynge of the poore.

I wyll vppe sayeth the Lorde: and wyll helpe euery one, from him that swelleth against him, and wyll sette them at rest.

The wordes of the Lorde are pure woordes euen as the syluer, whyche from earth is tried and purified seuen times in the fyre.

Thou shalt kepe them (O Lorde,) thou shalte preserue him from thys generacion for euer.

The vngodlie walke on euery side: when they are exalted, the children of men are put to rebuke.

¶ The.xiii. Psalme.

Vsquequo domine,

HOw longe wilt thou forget me O Lord) for euer? howe long wilt thou hyde thy face fro me? G

Howe longe shall I seke councel in my soule: and be so vexed in myne hert, howe long shall mine enemy triumph ouer me.

Consider, and heare me (O Lorde my God) lighten myne eyes, that I sleape psa.55 Ro.3.

Psa.5

slepe not in death.

Least e myne enemye saye: I haue preuayled against him: for yf I be cast downe, they that trouble me will reioyse at it.

But my trust is in thy mercye, and my hert is ioyfull in thy saluation.

I wyll synge of the Lorde because he hath dealt so louingly with me.

Ye, I wyll prayse the name of the Lorde most hyest.

¶ The. xiiii. Psalme.

Dixit Insipiens.

A Psa. 51 a

THe * foole hath sayde in hys heart, there is no God.

They ar corrupt, and becom abhominable in their doynges * there is not one that doth good, no not one.

psa. 52 a Ro. 3. c.

The Lord loked downe from heauen vpon the children of men, to se yf there were anye that wolde vnderstande and seke after God.

But they are all gonne oute of the waye, they are altogether become abhominable: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

Their throte is an open sepulchre: with their tonges they haue disceaued, the poison of aspes is vnder their lyppes.

Their mouthe is full of cursynge and bytternes, their fete are swifte to shead blud.

Destruction and vnhappinesse is in their wayes, and the waye of peace haue they not knowen, there is noo feare of God before their eyes.

Haue they not knowledg that they are all suche worckers of myschefe, eating vp my people as it wer breade.

And call not vppon the Lorde, there were they brought in great feare.

Euen where no feare was.

For God is in the generacion of the ryghteous: as for you, yee haue made a mocke of the councell of the poore, because he putteth hys truste in the Lorde.

Who shall gene saluation vnto Israell? * out of Sion. When the lord turneth the captiuitie of his people, then shall Jacob reioyce, and Israel shall be gladde. Esa. 59 b Rom. 11

¶ The. xv. Psalme.

Domine quis habitabit.

Morning prayer.

A

LOrde who shall dwelle in thy tabernacle? who shall rest vpon thy holy hyll?

Ps. 24. a Esa. 33. mat. 19. b

* Euen he that leadeth an vncorrupte lyfe, and doothe the thynge whiche is ryghte, and that speaketh the truthe from his herte.

He that hath vsed no disceite in his tongue, nor done euyll to his neighboure, and hath not sclaundered hys neyghbours.

He that setteth not by hym self: but is lowly in his owne eyes, and maketh much of them that feare the lord.

He that sweareth vnto hys neighboure, and dysappoynteth hym not, though it were hys owne hinderance.

Eze. 18. a

* He that hathe not geuen his money vppon vsurie, nor taken reward agaynst the innocent.

Who so doeth these thynges, shall neuer falle.

¶ The. xvj. Psalme.

Conserua me domine.

A

PReserue me, O God, for in the haue I put my truste.

O my soule, thou hast sayde vnto the Lorde: thou art my God, my goodes ars nothyng vnto thee.

All my delite is vpon the saynctes that are in the earth, and vpon suche as excell in vertue.

But they that runne after an other god shall haue great trouble.

Their drynke offerynge of bloode will not I offer, neither mencion of their names within my lippes.

Tre. 3. c

* The Lord hym self is the portion of myne inheritaunce: and of my cup, thou shalt maintayne my lot.

B

The lot is fallen vnto me in a faire grounde, yea I haue a goodly heritage.

I wyll thanke the Lord for geuing me warnyng: my reynes also chasten me in the night season.

I haue set God alwaies before me, for he is on my ryght hande, therfore I shall not fall.

Wherfore my herte was glad, and my glory reioyced, my flesshe also shall rest in hope.

Acts.2.d and.13.e For why? • thou shalte not leaue my soule in hel, neyther shalt thou suffer thy holy one to see corrupcion.

Thou shalt shewe me the path of lyfe: in thy presence is the fulnesse of ioye, and at thy righte hande there is pleasure for euermore.

¶ The.xvii.Psalme.

Exaudi domine iusticiam.

A HEare the ryght, O Lord consider my complaynt, and herken vnto my prayer that goeth not out of fayned lyppes.

Let my sentence come foorth from thy presence: and let thyne eyes loke vpon the thyng that is equall.

Psa.17.a • Thou haste proued and visyted myne herte in the nyght season, thou haste tryed me, and shalt fynd no wickednesse in me: for I am vtterly purposed that my mouth shall not offend.

Because of mens workes that are done agaynst the wordes of thy lippes I haue kepte me from the wayes of the destroyer.

O holde thou vp my goynges in thy pathes, that my fote steppes slyp not.

I haue called vpon the O God, for thou shalt heare me: encline thine eare to me and herken vnto my wordes.

Shewe thy maruelous louynge kindnesse, thou that art the sauiour of them which put their truste in thee.

B From suche as resyste thy ryghte Zach.2.b hande. Keepe me • as the apple of an *mat.23. eye, hyde me • vnder the shadowe of thy wynges.

From the vngodly that trouble me.

Myne enemyes compasse me round about, to take away my soule.

They are enclosed in theyr owne fat: and their mouthe speaketh proude thynges.

They lye waytynge in our waye on euerye syde, turnynge their eyes downe to the ground.

Lyke as a lyon that is gredy of his praye, and as it were a lyons whelpe lurkynge in secret places.

Vp Lorde, disapoint hym and cast C hym downe: deliuer my soule from the vngodly, whiche is as a swearde of thyne.

From the men of thy hand, O Lord from the men I saye, and from the euyll worlde, which haue their portion in this lyfe: whose belyes thou fyllest with thy hyd treasure.

They haue children at their desire: and leaue the reste of their substaunce for their babes.

But as for me, I wyll behold thy presence in ryghteousnesse: and when I awake vp after thy likenes, I shall be satisfyed with it.

¶ The.xviii.Psalme.

Diligam te domine.

I Will loue thee, O Lorde, my I strength. Euening

The Lorde is my stonye prayer. rocke and my defence, my sauioure: my God, and my myght, in whom I wyll truste, my buckler, the horne also of my saluation, and my refuge.

• I will call vpon the Lord, which 2.Re.22.i is worthye to be prayed, so shall I be safe fro myne enemyes.

• The sorowes of death compassed psa.116 me, and the ouer flowyngs of vngodlynesse made me afrayde.

The paynes of hell came about me, the snares of deathe ouertoke me.

In my trouble will I cal vpon the Lorde, and complayne vnto my God.

So shall he heare my voyce out of his holye temple, and my complaynt shall come before hym, it shall enter euen into hys eares.

• The earth trembled and quaked, mat.27.b the very foundacions also of the hyls shoke and were remoued, because he was

was wroth.

There went a smoke oute in hys presence: and a consumynge fire oute of hys mouthe, so that coales were kyndled at it.

He bowed the heauens also, & came downe, & it was darke vnder his fete.

He rode vpon the cherubines, and dyd flye, he came flyinge vppon the wynges of the wynde.

He made darknes his secrete place: hys pauilion round aboute him, with darcke water, and thicke cloudes to couer hym.

At the bryghtnesse of hys presence hys cloudes remoued, hayle stones and coales of fire.

The Lord also thundred out of heauen, and the hyest gaue hys thunder, hayle stones and coales of fire.

He sente out his arowes and scattered them, he cast foorth lyghtnynges and destroyed them.

C The springes of waters wer sene, & the foundacions of the round world were discouered at thy chydynge, O Lorde at the blastynge of the breath of thy displeasure.

He shall sende downe from the heyght to fetche me, and shall take me oute of many waters.

He shall deliuer me from my strongest enemy, and frō them which hate me: for they are to mighty for me.

They preuented me in the daye of my trouble: but the Lorde was my vpholder.

He brought me forth also into a place of libertie: he brought me forth, euen because he had a fauoure vnto me.

The Lorde shall reward me after my righteous dealynge: accordynge to the clennes of my handes shal he recompence me.

Because I haue kepte the wayes of the Lord: and haue not forsaken my God as the wicked doeth.

For I haue an eye vnto all hys lawes: and will not cast out his commaundementes fro me.

I was also vncorrupt before him and eschewed myne owen wickednes.

Therfore shall the Lorde reward me after my righteous dealynge: and accordynge vnto the clennes of my handes in hys eye syghte.

With the holye thou shalte be holye, and with a perfect man thou shalt be perfecte.

With the cleane thou shalt be clene: D and with the frowarde thou shalte learne frowardenes.

For thou shalt saue the people that are in aduersitie, and shalte bringe downe the hye lokes of the proude.

Thou also shalt lyght my candell, the Lorde my GOD shall make my darkenes to be lyght.

For in the I shal discomfite an host of men: and with the helpe of my God I shall leape ouer the wall.

The waye of God is an vndefiled way, * the worde of the Lorde also is tryed in the fire, he is the defendor of al them that put their trust in him. psa.102.b and.119.c

For * who is God but the Lorde? Or who hath anye strength excepte our God? Deu.4.c

It is God that girdeth me with strength of warre, and maketh my waye perfecte.

* He maketh my feete lyke hertes fete: and setteth me vp on hye. Habac.3.d E

* He teacheth myne hands to fight, and myne armes shall breake euen a bowe of stele. 2.re.22.c psa.144.a

Thou haste geuen me the defence of thy saluacion: thy right hande also shall holde me vp, and thy louyng correction shall make me great.

Thou shalte make roome ynoughe vnder me for to go, that my fote stepes shall not slyde.

I wyll followe vppon myne enemyes, and ouertake theym: neyther wyll I turne agayne, tyll I haue destroyed them.

I wyll smyte them, that they shall not be hable to stande: but fall vnder my fete.

Thou hast girded me with strength vnto the battayle, thou shalte throwe downe myne enemyes vnder me.

Thou hast made mine enemies also to turne their backes vppon me, and I shall destroye them that hate me. F

Pro.1.d * They shall crye, but there shalbe none to helpe them: yea, euen vnto the Lorde, shall they crye, but he shall not heare theim.

I will beate them as small as the dust before the wynde: I will caste them out, as the clay in the stretes.

Thou shalt deliuer me frō the stri-uynges of the people: and thou shalte make me the heade of the Heathen.

A people whom I haue not knowen, shall serue me.

Assone as they heare of me they shall obey me: but the straunge chyl-dren shall dissemble with me.

G The straunge chyldren shall fayle, and be afrayed out of their presons.

The Lorde lyueth: and blessed be my stronge helper, and praysed be the God of my saluacion.

Euen the God whiche seeth that I be auenged, and subdueth the peo-ple vnto me. It is he that delyuereth me from my (cruell) enemyes.

And setteth me vp aboue myne aduersaryes: thou shalte rydde me from the wicked man.

Ro.15.b * For this cause I will geue thankes vnto thee O Lorde, amonge the Gentiles, and syng prayses vnto thy name.

2.re.22 d * Greate prosperitie geueth he vn-to hys kynge: and sheweth louynge kyndnesse vnto Dauid his anoynted, and vnto his sede for euermore.

¶ The.xix. Psalme.

Euening prayer.

Celi enarrant.

A Rom.2.c THe heauens * declare the glory of God, and the firmament she-weth hys handy worke.

One daye telleth another, and one night certifyeth another.

There is neyther speache nor lan-guage, but theyr voyces are hearde B amonge them.

Ro.10.d * Theyr sounde is gone out into all landes: and their wordes into the endes of the worlde.

In them hath he set a tabernacle for the sunne, which commeth forth as a bridegrome out of hys chamber, and reioyseth as a gyaunte to runne hys course.

It goeth forthe from the vtmoste part of the heauen, and runneth about vnto the ende of it agayne, and ther is nothyng hyd from the heate therof.

The lawe of the Lorde is an vn-defyled law, conuertyng the soule.

The testimony of the Lord is sure, and geueth wisdome vnto the simple.

The statutes of the Lord are right, and reioyce the herte, the commaun-dement of the Lorde is pure, and ge-ueth lyght vnto the eyes.

The feare of the Lorde is cleane, and endureth for euer, the iudge-mentes of the Lord are true and righ-teous all together.

Rom.8 d * More to be desired are they then golde, ye then much fyne gold: sweeter also then honey, and the honey combe.

Moreouer, by them is thy seruant taught, and in keppynge of them there is greate reward.

Who can tel, how oft he offendeth?

Oh cleanse thou me fro (my) secret faultes: kepe thy seruaunte also from presumptcous synnes.

Leste they get the dominion ouer me: so shall I be vndefyled, and inno-cente from the greate offence.

Let the wordes of my mouth, and the meditacion of my hert be (alway) acceptable in thy syght.

O Lord, my strength & my redemer

¶ The.xx. Psalme.

Exaudiat te dominus.

THe Lorde heare thee in the A daye of trouble, the name of the GOD of Jacob defende thee.

Sende the helpe from the Sanctuarye, and strength thee oute of Syon.

Remember all thy offerynges, and accept thy burnt sacrifyce. Sela.

Graunte thee thy heartes desyre, and fulfyll all thy mynde.

We wyll reioyce in thy saluacion, and triumphe in the name of the Lord ours

oure God, the Lord perfourme all thy peticions.

℣ Nowe knowe I, that the Lorde helpeth hys anoynted, and wyll heare hym from his holy heauen: euen with the wholsome strength of hys ryghte hande.

Some put their trust in charets, and some in horses: but we will remember the name of the Lord our God.

They are brought downe and fallen, but we are risen, and stand vpright.

Saue Lord, and heare vs, O kyng of heauen, when we call (vpon thee.)

¶ The.xxi.Psalme.

Domine in virtute

℣ THe kynge shall reioyce in thy strength, O LORDE excedynge gladde shall he be of thy saluation.

Thou haste geuen him his hertes desyre, and haste not denyed hym the requeste of hys lyppes. Sela.

For thou shalt preuente him with the blessynges of goodnes, and shalte sette a crowne of pure golde vpon his heade.

He asketh life of the, and thou geuest him a long life, euen for euer and euer.

His honour is great in thy saluacion: glorye and greate worshyppe shalte thou laye vpon hym.

℣ For thou shalte geue hym euerlastynge felicitie, and make him glad with the ioye of thy countenannce.

And whye? because the kyng putteth hys truste in the Lorde, and in the mercye of the moste hyest, he shall not miscarye.

All thyne enemyes shall feele thy hande: thy ryghte hande shall fynde oute them that hate thee.

Thou shalt make them lyke a fierye ouen in tyme of thy wrathe: the Lorde shall destroye them in hys displeasure, and the fire shall consume them.

Their fruite shalt thou roote oute of the earthe, and their seede frome amonge the chyldren of men.

For they intended mischefe against thee, and ymagined suche a deuyce, as they are not hable to perfourme.

Therefore shalte thou putte them to flight, and the stringes of thy bowe shalte thou make readye agaynste the faces of them.

Be thou exalted Lorde, in thyne owne strength: so wyll we synge and prayse thy power.

Euening prayer.

¶ The.xxii.Psalme.

Deus deus meus.

A mat.27 c mar.15.c

MY God, my God (loke vpon me) why haste thou forsaken me: and arte so farre fro my health, and from the wordes of my complaynte?

O my God, I crye in the day time, but thou heareste not: and in the night season also I take no reste.

And thou continuest holy, O thou worshyppe of Israell.

Our fathers hoped in the: they trusted in the, & thou diddest deliuer the.

They called vpon thee, and were helped: they put their truste in thee, and were not confounded.

But as for me, I am a worme and no man: a very scorne of men, and the oute caste of the people.

* All they that se me, laughe me to scorne: they shote oute their lyppes, and shake the head, saying. pſa.109 B

* He trusted in God that he wolde deliuer hym: let him deliuer hym, yf he wyll haue hym. mat.17.

* But thou arte he that toke me out of my mothers wombe: thou wast my hoope, when I hanged yet vppon my mothers brestes. pſal.71.

I haue bene lefte vnto thee euer sence I was borne: thou art my God, euen fro my mothers wombe.

O go not fro me, for trouble is hard at hand, and ther is none to helpe me. ¶

Many oxen are come about me: fatte bulles of Basan close me in on euery syde.

They gape vppon me with their mouthes, as it were a rampynge and roarynge Lyon.

* I am powred oute lyke water and all my bones are out of ioynte: my Josu.7.

herte

hearte also in the middest of my bodye is euen lyke meltynge waxe.

My strength is dried vp like a pot-D sherde, and my tonge cleaueth to my gummes: and thou shalt bryng me into the dust of death.

For (many) dogges are come about me, and the councell of the wicked lay siege against me.

They pearsed my handes and my feete, I maye tell all my bones, they stand staring and loking vpon me.

mat.27.d * They part my garmentes among them, and cast lottes vpō my vesture.

But bee not thou farre fro me, (O Lord,) thou art my succour, haste thee to helpe me.

Deliuer my soule from the sweard, my dearlynge from the powre of the dogge.

Saue me from the Lions mouthe:
E thou hast hearde me also from among the hornes of the vnicornes.

Ioh.20.d I will declare thy name vnto my Hebr.2.c * brethren: in the middest of the congregation will I praise thee.

O praise the Lord ye that fear him: magnifie him al ye of the seede of Iacob, and feare him al ye sede of Israel.

Psal.9.b * For hee hath not despysed nor abhorred the lowe estate of the poore: he hath not hidde his face from him, but whē he called vnto him, he hard him.

F My prayses is of thee in the great congregation, my vowes will I performe in the sight of them that feare him.

The poore shall eate and be satisfied, they that seke after the Lord, shal prayse him, your hert shall lyue for euer.

All the endes of the worlde shal re-G membre thē selues, and be turned vnto the Lord, and all the kinreds of the nations, shall worship before him.

For the kingdome of the Lorde, is the Lordes, and he is the gouernour among the people.

All such as be fat vpon erth haue eaten and worshipped. All they that go downe into the dust, shal knele before him and no man hath quickened hys owne soule.

My sede shal serue him: they shal-be counted vnto the Lorde for a generaction.

They shal come, and (the heauens) shal declare hys ryghteousnes: vnto a people that shall bee borne, whom the Lorde hath made.

¶ The.xxiii.Psalme.

Dominus regit me.

THe Lorde is my shepherd, ther A fore can I lacke nothing.

He shall feede me in a grene pasture, and leade me forth beside the waters of comfort.

Hee shall conuerte my soule, and bryng me forth in the pathes of righ-teousnes for his names sake.

Ye though I walke thrōughe the valley of the shadow of death.

I wyll feare no euyll, for thou arte with me: thy rod and thy staffe com-forte me. B

Thou shalt prepare a table before me agaynste theym that trouble me: thou haste anointed my heade wyth oyle, and my cup shalbe full.

But (thy) louing kindnes & mercy shal folowe me al the dayes of my lyfe.

And I will dwell in the house of the Lord for euer.

¶ The.xxiiii.Psalme.

Domini est terra.

THe * erth is the Lordes, and A al that therin is: the compas Morof the worlde, and they that ning dwell therin. prayer.

For hee hath founded it vppon the Seas, and prepared it vpon the fluddes.

Who * shall ascende into the hill of Psa.15.a Esa.33.c
the Lorde? mat.19.d

Or, who shall ryse vp in his holye place?

Euen hee that hath cleane handes, and a pure hearte: and that hath not lyfte vp hys mynd vnto vanitie, nor swerne to disceaue his neibour.

He

He shall receaue the blessyng from the Lorde, and righteousnes from the God of his saluation.

This is the generacio of them that seke him, euen of them that seke thy face, O Jacob. Sela.

Lift vp your heades, O ye gates & be ye lift vp, ye euerlastyng dores, and the kyng of glory shall come in.

Who is the kynge of glorye? It is the Lord strong and mighty, euen the Lorde mighty in battell.

Lyfte vp your heades, O ye gates, and be ye lift vp ye euerlasting dores, and the kyng of glory shal come in.

Who is this kynge of glory? Euen the Lorde of hoostes, he is the kynge of glory. Sela.

¶ The.xxv. Psalme.
Ad te domine leuani.

VNto the, O Lord, will I lyft vp my soule: My god I haue put my truste in thee.

Oh let me not be confounded, neyther lette myne enemyes triumphe ouer me.

Rom.9.c Esa.29.d • For all they that hope in thee, shal not be ashamed: but suche as transgresse without a cause, shall be put to confusion.

Shewe me thy wayes, O Lorde, and teach me thy pathes.

Leade me forthe in thy trueth, and learne me, for thou art the God of my saluation: in thee hath bene my hope all the daye longe.

Cal to remembraunce, O Lord, thy tender mercies, and thy louyng kyndnesses, which haue bene euer of olde.

Iob.13.d Oh remember not the • sinnes and offences of my youth, but accordynge vnto thy mercy thinke thou vpon me, O Lorde, for thy goodnesse.

Gracious and ryghteousse is the Lorde, therfore wyll he teach synners in the waye.

Them that be meke, shall he guyde in iudgement: and such as be gentle, them shal he learne his waye.

All the pathes of the Lord are mercye and truth, vnto suche as kepe hys couenaunt and his testimonyes.

• For thy nemes sake, O Lorde, be mercifull vnto my synne, for it is greate. Esa.43.b

What men is he that feareth the Lorde: him shall he teach in the waye that he shall chose.

His soule shall dwell at ease, and his sede shall inherite the lande.

The secret of the Lorde is amonge them that feare him • and he will shew them his couenaunte.

Myne eyes are euer lokynge vnto the Lorde: for he shall plucke my fete oute of the nette. Jer.31.c

Turne thee vnto mee, and haue mercy vpon me: for I am desolate, and D in miserye.

The sorowes of my herte are enlarged: O brynge thou me oute of my troubles.

Loke vpon mine aduersitie and misery, and forgeue me all my synne.

Consider mine enemies how many they are, and they beare a tyrannous hate agaynste me.

O kepe my soule, and deliuer me: let me not be confounded: for I haue put my truste in thee.

Let perfectnesse and ryghteousse dealinge waite vpon me, for my hope hath bene in thee.

Delyuer Israel, O GOD, out of all hys troubles.

¶ The.xxvi. Psalme.
Iudica me domine.

BE thou my • iudge, O Lorde, for I haue walked innocently: my truste hath bene also in the Lord, therfore shall I not fall. A Psa.17.a Ps.159.d

• Examine me, O Lord, and proue me, try out my reynes and my hert.

For thy louyng kindnesse is before myne eyes, and I wyll walke in thy trueth.

I haue not dwelt with vayne persons: neyther will I haue felowshyp with the diseatfull.

I haue hated the congregacion of the wicked, and wyll not syt amonge the vngodly: • I wyl wash my hands in. B Esay.1.a

Esa.1.e. in innocencie, O Lorde, and so wyll B I go to thyne auitar.

That I maye shewe the voice of thanckes geuinge, and tell of all thy wonderous woorkes.

Lorde I haue loued the habitation of thy house, and the place wher thine honour dwelleth.

O shut not vp my soule wyth the sinners, nor my lyfe with the bloudethirstye.

C In whose handes is wickednesse: and their right hand is ful of giftes.

But as for me I wil walke innocently: O deliuer me, and be merciful vnto me.

My foote standeth ryghte: I wyll praise the Lord in the congregations.

¶ The. xxvii. Psalme.
Dominus illuminatio.

Euening praier.

A Psa. 112

THe Lorde is my • lyght and my saluation: whom then shall I feare?

The Lorde is the strengthe of my lyfe: of whom then shall I be afraid?

When the wicked euen myne enemyes and my foes came vppon me to eat vp my flesh, they stumbled and fel.

Though an host of men wer layde agaynst me, yet shal not my hearte be afrayed.

B And thoughe there rose vp war agaynste me, yet will I put my truste Luk.10g in him.

• One thing haue I desyred of the Lorde whiche I wyll require: euen that I may dwell in the house of the 2Re.7.c. Lord all the daies of my lyfe.

To behold the fayre bewtye of the Lord: and to visyte hys temple.

For in the tyme of trouble hee shall 1Re.21a hyde me in hys tabernacle, yea, in the secret place of hys dwellyng shall he 2Re.23c hyde mee, and set me vppon a rocke of stone.

And nowe shall he lyft vp my head aboue myne enemyes rounde aboute me.

Therfore wyl I offer in his dwelling an obiation with great gladnes: I wyll sing and speake prayses vnto the Lorde.

Herken vnto my voyce, O Lorde C when I crye vnto thee: haue mercye vpon me, and heare me.

My heart hath talked of thee: Seke ye my face: thy face Lord wil I seeke.

O hyde not thou thy face fro mee: nor caste thy seruaunte awaye in displeasure.

Thou hast bene my succoure, leaue me not, neither forsake me, O God of my saluation.

Whan my father and my mother forsake me, the Lorde taketh me vp.

Teach me thy waye O Lorde, and leade me the ryghte waye, because of D myne enemyes.

Delyuer me not ouer into the will of myne aduersaries, for ther are false witnesses risen vp againste me, and such as speake wrong.

I should vtterly haue fayntед: but that I beleue verely to see the goodnesse of the Lorde, in the lande of the lyuynge.

O tarye thou the Lordes leysure, Psal.31 • be strong and he shal comforte thyne heart, and putte thou thy trust in the Lorde.

¶ The. xxviii. Psalme.
Ad te domine clamabo.

VNto thee wil I crye, O Lord A my strength: thinke no scorne of me, lest yf thou make the as thoughe thou heardest not, I become like them, that go downe into the pit.

Heare the voyce of my humble peticions when I crye vnto thee, whē I holde vp my handes towarde the mercyseat of thy holy temple.

O plucke me not away (nether destroye me) with the vngodly and wicked doers • which speake frendlye to Jer.9.d. their neighbours, but ymagyne mis- B Job.34 chiefe in their hertes. Mat.6.b

• Reward them accordyng to their Ro.2.b. dedes, and accordinge to the wickednes of their owne inuentions.

Recompence them after the woorke of their handes: paye theym that they haue deserued.

For they regard not in theyr mind the woorkes of the LORDE, nor the the operacion of his handes: therfore shall he breake them downe, and not buylde them vp.

℣ Praysed be the Lord for he hath herd the voyce of mine humble peticions.

Deut.8. * The Lorde is my strength and my shylde: my herte hath trusted in hym, and I am helped.

Therfore my hert daunceth for ioy: and in my song wyll I prayse him.

The Lorde is their strength: and hee is the wholsome defence of hys anoynted.

De.32.b O saue thy people, and geue thy blessynge vnto * thine enheritaunce: fede them, and set them vp for euer.

℣ The.xxix.Psalme.
Afferte domino.

I BRynge vnto the Lorde (O ye myghty,) (bryng yonge rams vnto the Lorde: ascrybe vnto the Lord worshyp and strength.

Geue the Lorde the honoure due vnto his name: worshippe the Lorde with holy worshyppe.

Ex.7.8 * It is the Lord that commaundeth the waters: it is the glorious God Exo.14 that maketh the thunder: * it is the Mat.8.d Lorde that ruleth the sea.

B The voyce of the Lorde is myghty in operacion: the voyce of the Lorde is a glorious voyce.

The voyce of the Lord breaketh the Ex.17 * Ceder trees: yea, the Lord breaketh the ceders of Libanus.

He made them also to skyppe lyke a Calfe: Lybanus also, and Sirion lyke a yonge vnicorne.

℣ The voyce of the Lorde diuideth the flames of fire: the voyce of the Lorde, shaketh the wildernesse, yea, the Lorde shaketh the wyldernesse of Cades.

The voyce of the Lorde maketh the hyndes to bryng foorth yonge, and discouereth the thycke bushes: in his temple doeth euery man speake of hys honoure.

The Lorde sytteth aboue the water floode, and the Lorde remayneth kynge for euer.

The Lord shall geue strength vnto his people, the Lorde shall geue his people the blessyng of peace.

℣ The.xxx.Psalme.
Exaltabo te domine. Morning prayer.

I Will magnifye thee, O Lord, for thou haste set me vp, and not made my foes to triumphe ouer me.

O Lorde my God, I cryed vnto thee and thou haste healed me.

Thou Lord haste brought my soule out of hell: thou haste kepte my lyfe, frome theym that goe downe into the pytte.

Synge prayses vnto the Lorde, (O ye Saynctes of hys) and geue thanks vnto hym for a remembraunce of hys holynesse.

B * For hys wrath endureth but the twynkelynge of an eye, and in hys 1 Cor.4.c pleasure is lyfe.

Heuinesse may endure for a nyght, but ioye commeth in the morning.

And in my prosperity, I sayde, I shall neuer be remoued: thou Lorde of thy goodnesse haddest made my hyll so stronge.

Thou diddest turne thy face (fro ℣ me) and I was troubled.

Then cryed I vnto thee, O Lord, and gatte me to my LO RD right humbly.

What profite is there in my blood, when I go downe to the pytte?

Shall the dust geue thankes vnto thee? Or shall it declare thy trueth?

Heare, O Lorde, and haue mercye vpon me: Lord be thou my helper. D

Thou haste turned my heuinesse into ioye: thou haste put of my sackecloth and gyrded me with gladnesse.

Therfore shall (euery good man) synge of thy prayse without ceasyng: O my God I wyll geue thanckes vnto theee for euer.

℣ The.xxxi.Psalme.

In te domine speraui.

In thee, O Lord, haue I put my truste, let me neuer be put to confusion: deliuer me in thy ryghteousnes.

Bowe downe thyne eare to mee, make haste to deliuer me.

And be thou my stronge rocke, and an howse of defence, that thou mayst saue me.

For thou arte my stronge rock, and my castell: Bee thou also my guyde, and leade me for thy names sake.

Drawe me out of the net that they haue layde priuyly for me: for thou art my strength.

Luk.23.a Into thy handes I commend my Acts.7.g spirite: For thou hast redemed me, O B Lorde, thou God of truthe.

I haue hated theim that holde of superstitious vanities, and my truste hath ben in the Lorde.

I wil be glad & reioyce in thy mercy: for thou haste considred my trouble, and hast knowen my soule in aduersities.

Thou hast not shut me vp into the hand of the enemy, but haste sette my feete in a large roome.

Haue mercy vpon me, O Lord, for I am in trouble: and myne eye is consumed for very heauynesse, yea my soule and my body.

For my lyfe is waxen old with heuynesse, and my yeares with mournynge.

My strengthe fayleth me, because of myne iniquitie, and my bones are corrupt.

I becam a reproofe among all myne ennemies, but specially amonge my neighbors, and they of myn acquaintance were afrayde of me.

C And they that dyd see me without, conueyed themselues fro me.

I am cleane forgotten, as a deade man oute of mynde.

I am become, lyke a broken vessel.

For I haue hearde the blasphemie of the multitude: and feare is on euery syde.

Whyle they consplre together against me, and take their counsell to take away my lyfe.

But my hope hath ben in thee, O Lorde, I haue sayd: thou art my god.

My time is in thy hand: deliuer me from the hand of myne enemies, and from them that persecute me.

Shewe thy seruaunt the light of thy countenance, and saue me for thy D mercyes sake.

Let me not be confounded, O Lord for I haue called vpon thee: lette the vngodly be put to confusion, and bee put to silence in the graue.

Lette thy lyeng lyppes be put to silence, whiche cruelly, disdaynefully, and despitefully speake agaynste the ryghteous.

O howe plentyfull is thy goodnesse, whyche thou haste layde vp for theym that feare thee: and that thou haste prepared for them, that put their truste in thee, euen before the sonnes of menne.

Thou shalt hyde them priuyly by thyne owne presence from the prouokyng of all men: thou shalt kepe them secretely in thy tabernacle, frome the stryfe of tongues.

Thanks be to the Lord: for he hath shewed me meruaylous great kyndnesse in a strong citie.

And when I made haste, I sayd: I am cast out of the sight of thyn eyes.

Neuertheleste, thou hearedst the voyce of my prayer, whenne I cryed vnto thee.

O loue the Lorde, all ye his saintes, for the Lord preserueth them that are faithfull, and plenteously rewardeth he the proude doer.

• Be stronge, and he shall stablisshe Psa.27 your harte, all ye that put your truste and.31 in the Lorde.

¶ The.xxxii.Psalme.

Beati quorum.

Blessed is he, whose vnrighte- I ousnesse is forgeuen: & whose Enemi synne is couered. prayer.

• Blessed is the man, vnto whom Rom.4 the Lorde imputeth no synne, and in whose spirite there is no guyle.

For whyle I held my tongue, my bones bones consumed awaye therowe my dayly complaynyng.

For thy hand is heauy vppon me day and nyght: and my moysture is like the drought in sommer. Sela. B

I will knowledge my synne vnto thee, and myne vnrighteousnesse haue I not hydde.

Job. 13. I said: I will confesse my synnes Luk. 15. vnto the Lord, and so thou forgauest the wickednes of my synne. Sela.

For this shal euery one that is godly, make his prayer vnto thee: in a tyme when thou mayst be found.

But in the greate water floodes: they shall not come nye hym.

Thou art a place to hide me in, thou shalte preserue me from trouble: thou shalt compasse me about with songes of deliuerance. Sela.

I will enforme thee, & teache thee in the way, wherein thou shalte goe: and I will guide thee with myn eie.

Bee not ye lyke horse and mule, whyche haue no vnderstandyng.

whose mouths must be holde with bitt and bridle, lest they fal vpon the.

Great plagues remayn for the vngodly: but who so putteth his truste in the Lorde, mercye embraceth hym on euery syde.

Be glad, O ye righteous, and reioyce in the Lord: and be ioyfull all ye that are true of heart.

¶ The .xxxiij. Psalme.

Exultate iusti in domino.

I Psl. 97.b REioyce • in the Lorde, O ye righteous, for it becommeth well the iust to be thankful.

Eph. 5.d Coll. 3.c • Prayse the Lorde with harpe: syng Psalmes vnto hym with the Lute and Instrument of tenne stringes.

Syng vnto the Lord a newe song, syng praises iustly (vnto hym) with a good courage.

For the worde of the Lord is true, and all his workes are faithfull.

He loueth righteousnes and iudgement: the earth is full of the goodnes of the Lorde.

Gen. 1.a • By the worde of the Lord were the heauens made: and all the hostes of them by the breathe of his mouth.

He gathereth the waters of the sea together, as it were vppon a heape, and layeth vp the deepe, as in a treasure house.

Lette all the earthe feare the Lord: stande in awe of hym, all ye that dwell in the worlde. B

• For he spake, and it was doone, Ps. 148.a he commaunded, and it stode faste.

The Lorde bryngeth the • counPsal. 1.a cell of the Heathen to naught, & Esa. 8.b maketh the deuices of the people, to bee of none effecte, (and casteth out the councell of princes.)

The councel of the Lord shall endure for euer: and the thoughts of his heart from generation to generation.

Blessed are the people whose God is the Lord Iehouah, and blessed are the folke that haue chosen hym to bee their inheritaunce.

The Lorde looked downe frome heauen, and behelde all the children of men: frome the habitation of hys dwellyng, he consydereth all theym that dwell in the erthe.

He fashioneth al the herts of them: and vnderstandeth all their workes.

There is no kyng that can bee saued by the multitude of an host: neyther is any myghtie manne deliuered by muche strength.

A horse is counted but a vayne thyng to saue a man: neither shall he deliuer any mā by his great strength.

Behold, the eie of the Lorde is vpō them that feare hym, and vpon them that put their truste in hys mercy.

To delyuer theyr soules frome deathe, and to feede them in the tyme of dearthe.

Our soule hathe pacientely taryed for the Lord: for he is oure helpe and our shielde.

For our hert shal reioice in him: because we haue hoped in his holi name

Let thy mercyfull kyndnesse, O Lord be vpon vs, like as we haue put our truste in thee.

¶ The .xxxiiij. Psalme.

Benedicam dominum.

A I Wyll alwaye gene thankes vnto the Lorde, his prayse shal euer bee in my mouth.

My soule shall make her boaste in the Lord: the humble shal heare therof, and be glad.

O prayse the Lorde wyth me, and let vs magnifie his name together.

1 Re. 21 d * I sought the Lorde, and he hearde me: yea he deliuered me oute of all my feare.

They hadde an eye vnto hym, and were lyghtned, and their faces were not ashamed.

Lo, the poore cryeth, and the Lorde heareth him, yea, and saueth hym oute B of all hys troubles.

Ios. 5. d. 4 re. 11 g * The aungel of the Lorde tarieth round about them that feare hym, and deliuereth them.

O taste and se, howe gracious the Psal. 2. b Lorde is, * blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

Psa. 127 O * feare the Lorde ye that be hys sayntes: for they that feare him want nothing.

Mat. 6 b The lions do lacke, and suffer hunger * but they whiche seeke the Lorde, shall wante no maner of thynge that C is good.

Come ye childzen, and herken vnto me: I wyll teache you the feare of 1 Pe. 3. f the Lorde.

* What manne is hee that lysteth to liue, and would fayne see good days?

Kepe thy tongue from euil, and thy lippes that they speake no gyle

Eschue euil, and do good, seke peace and ensue it.

The eyes of the Lorde are ouer the righteous: and his eares are open vnto their prayers.

The countenaunce of the Lorde is against them that do euil, to rote oute the remembraunce of theym from the earth.

The ryghteous crye, and the Lorde heareth them, and deliuereth thē oute of al their troubles. D

The Lord is ny vnto them that are of a contrite heart, and wil saue suche as be of an humble spirite.

* Great ar the troubles of ỹ righteous but ỹ lord deliuereth him out of al Psa. 24 b Acts. 14 3 Ti. 3. c.

He kepeth all his bones, so that not one of them is broken.

But misfortune shall slaye the vngodlye, and they that hate the righteous, shalbe desolate.

The lord deliuereth the souls of his seruantes: and all they that put their trust in him shal not be destitute.

¶ The. xxxv. Psalme.

Iudica domine nocentes. Wonnig mayer. A

PLeate thou my cause, O Lorde, with them that striue with me and fighte thou against theym that fight against me.

Lay hand vpon the shielde and buckler, and stand vp to helpe me.

Bring forth the speare and stop the way against thē that persecute me: sai vnto my soule, I am thy saluation.

Let them be confounded and put to shame, that seke after my soule: let thē be turned backe, and brought to confusion, that ymagine mischefe for me.

Psa. 83 c * Let them be as the dust before the wynd: and the angel of the Lord scattering them.

Let their waye be darke and slippery: and lette the angell of the Lorde persecute them.

For they haue preuely layed their net to destroie me wythout a cause, ye euen wythout a cause haue they made a pit for my soule.

Let a sodein destruction come vpon him vnwares: & his net that hee hath B laied preuely, catche him selfe, that he may fal into his owne mischefe.

And my soule be ioyful in the Lord: it shal reioyse in his saluation.

All my bones shall say: Lorde, who is lyke vnto thee?

which deliuerest the poore frō him that is to strong for him: ye, the poore and him that is in miserye from him that spoyleth him.

False witnes did rise vp: they laied to my charge, things ỹ I know not.

They rewarded me euil for good: to the great discomfort of my soule.

Neuer-

Neuertheleſſe, when they wer ſick I put on ſackcloth: and humbled my ſoule with faſting, and my praier ſhal turne into myne owne boſome.

C I behaued my ſelf as though it had bene my frend or my brother: I went heauily, as one that mourneth for his mother.

But in myne aduerſitie they reioyſed, and gathered thē together: ye, the very abiectes came together againſte me vnawares, making mowes at me, and ceaſed not.

With the flatterers wer buſie mockers, whiche gnaſhed vpon me with their teeth.

Lorde, how longe wilte thou looke vpon this? O deliuer my ſoule from the calamities whiche they bringe on me, and my dearling from the Lions.

So wil I geue the thankes in the great congregation: I wil praiſe the among much people.

O let not theim that are myne enemies triumph ouer me vngodly: neyther let them wincke with their eyes Pſa.69. that hate me without a cauſe.
ch.11d And whye? their commynge is not for peace, but they ymagine diſceatful wordes, againſt theim that are quiete in the lande.

They gaped vppon me with theyr mouthes, and ſaide: fie on thee, fye on thee, we did ſe it with our eyes.

D This thou haſt ſene, O Lorde: hold not thy tongue then, goe not farre fro me, O Lorde.

Awake and ſtande vp to iudge my quarell: auenge thou my cauſe, my God and my Lorde.

Judge me, O Lorde my God, accordinge to thy ryghteouſnes, and let thē not triumph ouer me.

Let thē not ſay in their hertes, ther there, ſo would we haue it: neyther let them ſay, we haue deuoured him.

Let thē be put to confuſion & ſhame together: that reioyce at my trouble.

Let theym bee clothed with rebuke and diſhonour: that boaſt them ſelues againſt me.

Let thē be glad and reioice ỹ fauour my righteous dealinge: ye let them ſay alway bleſſed be ỹ Lord, which hath pleſure in ỹ proſperitie of his ſeruāt.

And as for my tonge, it ſhalbe talkyng of thy righteouſnes, and of thy praiſe, all the day long.

¶ The. xxxvi. Pſalme.

Dixit inuſtus.

A My hert ſheweth me the wickednes of the vngodly, that Rom.3.c
* there is no feare of God before his eies.

For he flattereth hymſelf in his owne ſyght, tyll his abhominable ſynne be found out.

The wordes of his mouth are vnrighteous, and full of diſceite: he hath lefte of to behaue hym ſelfe wyſely, and to doo good.

He imagineth miſchiefe vpon hys bed, and hath ſet hymſelfe in no good waye, neyther doothe he abhorre any thyng that is euill.

Thy mercy, O Lord, reacheth vnto the heauen, and thy faithfulneſſe vnto the cloudes.

Thy ryghteouſneſſe ſtandeth lyke the ſtrong mountains: thy iudgementes are lyke the great deepe.

Thou Lord ſhalt ſaue bothe man & B beaſt. Howe excellent is thy mercye, O God: and the children of men ſhal put their truſte vnder the ſhadowe of thy wynges.

They ſhalbe ſatisfied with the plenteouſnes of thy houſe, and thou ſhalte geue them drynke of thy pleaſures, as out of the ryuer.

For with thee is the well of lyfe, and in thy lyght ſhall we ſee light.

O continue forth thy louing kindneſſe vnto them that knowe thee, and thy ryghteouſnes vnto them that are trewe of hearte.

O lette not the foote of pryde come againſt me: and let not the hand of the vngodly caſte me downe.

There are they fallen (all) that woorke wyckednelle: they are caſte downe, and ſhall not be able to ſtand.

¶ The. xxxvij. Pſalme.

The. xxxvii. Psalme.
Noli emulari.

Euening prayer.

A FRet not thy selfe because of the vngodly: neither be thou enuyous agaynste the euyll doers.

For they shall soone be cut downe lyke the grasse: and be withered, euen as the grene herbe.

Put thou thy truste in the Lorde, and be doyng good: dwell in the land, and verely thou shalt be fed.

Delyte thou in the Lorde: and he shall geue thee thy hertes desyre.

Commytte thy waye vnto the Lorde, and put thy truste in hym: and he shall bryngе it to passe.

He shall make thy ryghteousnesse as cleare as the lyght: and thy iuste dealynge as the noone daye.

Holde thee still in the Lorde, and abyde paciently vpon him: but greue not thy selfe at hym, whose way doth prosper agaynste the man that doeth after euyll counsayles.

Leaue of from wrathe, and let go displeasure: fret not thy self, els shalt thou be moued to do euyll.

B Wycked doers shalbe rooted oute: and they that paciently abide the Lord, those shall enherite the lande.

Yet a lytle whyle, and the vngodly shalbe cleane gone: thou shalt loke after his place, and he shalbe away.

But the meke spirited shall possesse the earth, and shalbe refreshed in the multitude of peace.

The vngodlye asketh councell agaynste the iuste: and gnasheth vpon hym with his teeth.

The Lorde shall laughe hym to scorne, for he hath sene, that hys daye commynge.

The vngodly hath drawen out the swerd: and haue bended their bowe.

To caste downe the poore and nedye, and to slaye suche as be of a right conuersation.

C Their sweard shal go throw their owen hert, & their bowe shalbe broke.

A small thyng that the ryghteous hath, is better then greate ryches of the vngodly.

For the armes of the vngodlye shalbe broken, and the Lorde vpholdeth the ryghteous.

The Lorde knoweth the dayes of the godlye: and their inheritaunce shall endure for euer.

They shal not be confounded in the perillous tyme: and in the dayes of derth they shall haue ynough.

As for the vngodlye, they shal pe- D ryshe, and the enemyes of the Lorde shall consume, as the fatte of lambes: yea, euen as the smoke shall they consume awaye.

The vngodlye borowеth and payeth not agayne: but the righteous is mercifull and liberall.

Suche as be blessed of God, shall possesse the land: and they that be cursed of hym, shalbe roted oute.

The Lorde ordereth a good mans goynge: and maketh his waye acceptable to hym selfe.

* Though he fall, he shall not be Psa. 37b caste awaye: for the Lorde vpholdeth him with his hande.

I haue bene yonge, and nowe am olde: and yet sawe I neuer the ryghteous forsaken, nor his seede beggyng their breade.

* The righteous is ouer merciful, Psa. 11.c and lendeth, and his sede is blessed. E

Flee from euyll, and do the thyng that is good, and dwell for euer.

For the Lorde loueth the thynge that is right, he forsaketh not his that be godly, but they are preserued for euermore.

(The vnrighteous shal be punyshed:) as for the sede of the vngodly, it shalbe roted oute.

The ryghteous shall inherite the lande, and dwell therin for euer.

* The mouth of the righteous is Psa. 37b exercised in wisdome, and his tongue will be talkyng of iudgement.

The lawe of hys God is in hys F hert: and his goinges shall not slyde.

The vngodly seeth the righteous: and seketh occasion to slaye hym.

The Lorde wyll not leaue hym in hys hande, nor condempne hym when when he is iudged.

Hope thou in the Lorde, and kepe hys waye, and hee shall promote thee that thou shalt possesse the land: whē the vngodly shal perish, thou shalt se it.

I my self haue sene the vngodly in greate power, and flourishinge lyke a grene bay tree.

I wente by, and lo, he was gone: I soughte hym, but his place coulde no where be found.

G Kepe innocencie, and take hede vnto the thinge that is ryghte: for that shal bring a man to peace at the last.

As for the transgressours, thei shal perysh together, and the end of the vngodlye is, they shall bee rooted oute at the last.

But the saluation of the righteous commeth of the Lord, whiche is also their strength in the tyme of trouble.

And the Lorde shal stand by theym, and saue theim, he shall deliuer theim from the vngodlye, and shall saue thē because they put their trust in hym.

¶ The.xxxviii. Psalme.

Domine ne in furore.

Morning prayer.

A Psal.6.a. Jer.10.d

PVt mee not to rebuke (O Lord) in thine angre: nether chasten me in thy heauy displeasure.

For thine arowes sticke fast in me, and thy hand presseth me sore.

There is no health in my flesh, because of thy displeasure, neyther is there any rest in my bones, by reason of my synne.

For my wyckednesses are gone ouer my heade, and are like a sore burthen, to heauy for me to beare.

My woundes styncke and are corB rupt, through my folishnes.

I am brought into so great trouble and misery, that I go mournynge all the day longe.

For my loynes are fylled wyth a sore dysease, and there is noo whole part in my body.

I am feble and sore smitten, I haue roared for the very disquietnes of my hearte.

Lord thou knowest all my desyre, and my groning is not hid from the.

My hearte panteth, my strength hath fayled me, and the lighte of mine eyes is gone from me.

C Iob.19.b My louers and my neyghboures did stand lokinge vppon my trouble, and my kinsmen stode a far of.

They also that soughte after my lyfe, layed snares for me: and they that wente aboute to do me euill, talked of wickednes, and ymagined disceate all the day longe.

As for me, I was like a deafe man and heard not: and as one that is dom, which doth not open his mouth.

I became euen as a man that heareth not: and in whose mouthe there is no reprofes.

For in thee, O Lorde, haue I putte my trust, thou shalte answere for me, O Lord my God.

D I haue required, that they (euen my enemyes) shoulde not triumphe ouer me: for whan my fote slypte, they reioysed greatly against me.

And I truely am set in the plague, and my heauines is euer in my sight.

For I wyl confesse my wickednes and be sorye for my synne.

But myne enemyes liue and are myghty: and they that hate me wrōgfully, are many in numbre.

Thei also that reward euil for good are agaynst me: because I folowe the thing that good is.

Forsake me not (O Lord my god) Be not thou far fro me.

Haste thee to helpe me, O Lorde (God) my saluation.

¶ The.xxxix. Psalme.

Dixi custodiam vias

I Sayde: I wyll take heede to my A wayes, that I offende not in my tonge.

I wyll kepe my mouth, as it were with a bridle, while the vngodlye is in my syght.

I helde my tongue, and spake nothyng, I kept silence: yea, euen from good woordes, but it was payne and greefe to me.

My heart was whote within me, and while I was thus musinge, the fyre kindeled: and at the laste I spake with my tonge.

Psa.90 c * Lorde let me knowe myne ende, and the numbre of my dayes: that I maye be certified howe long I haue to liue.

B Job.7.a. * Behold thou hast made my daies as it were a span longe, and mine age is euen as nothing in respect of thee. And verely euery manne liuinge is al together vanitie. Selah.

Surely man walketh in a vayne shadow, and disquieteth himself in vaine. He heapeth vp * richesse, and can not Luk.12c tell who shall gather them.

And nowe Lorde what is my hope? truely my hope is euen in thee.

Deliuer me from all myne offences and make mee not a rebuke vnto the folysh.

I became dombe, & opened not my mouthe, for it was thy doyng: take away thy plage fro me.

C I am cũe consumed by the meanes of thy heauy hande. When thou wyth rebukes dost chasten man for sin.

Thou makest hys bewtie to consume awaye, like as it were a moth freting a garment, euery man therfore is but vanitie. Selah.

Heare my prayer, O Lorde, & with thine eares consider my calling: holde not thy peace at my teares.

For * I am a straunger with thee 1Pa.29c and a sotournoure, as all my fathers were.

Oh spare me a litle, that I may recouer my strength, before I goe hence and be no more sene.

¶ The .xl. Psalme.

Expectans expectaui.

I wayted pacientlye for the Lord and hee inclined vnto mee: and A heard my calling.

He brought me also oute of the horrible pitte, out of the mire and clay. And set my fete vpon the rocke & ordered my goinges.

And he hath put a newe song in my mouth, euen a thanksgeuing vnto oure God.

Many shal se it, and feare, and shall put their trust in the Lorde.

* Blessed is the man that hath set his hope in the Lord, and turned not Jer.17b vnto the proud, and to suche as goe about with lyes.

O Lord my God, great are thy wõderous workes, which thou hast don like as be also thy thoughtes whyche are to vs ward: and yet ther is no mã that ordreth them vnto thee.

If I would declare theym, and B speake of them, they should be mo thẽ I am able to expresse.

* Sacrifice and meatoffringe thou Heb.14 wouldeste not haue, but myne eares hast thou opened.

Burntoffrings and sacrifice for sin hast thou not required: Then sayd I: Lo I come.

In the volume of the booke it is written of me, that I shoulde fulfyll thy wyll, O my God: I am contente to do it: yee, thy lawe is within my hearte.

I haue declared thy ryghteousnesse in the great congregation: Lo, I will not refraine my lyppes, O Lord, and that thou knowest.

I haue not hid thy ryghteousnesse C wythin my hearte, my talkinge hath ben of thy truth and of thy saluation.

I haue not kepte backe thy louing mercy, & truth frõ ỹ gret cõgregatiõ.

Withdrawe not thou thy mercye fro me, O Lord, let thy louinge kindnesse & thy trueth alway preserue me.

For innumerable troubles ar come about me: myne sinnes haue taken such holde vpon me, that I am not able to loke vp.

Yea they are more in number then the heares of my heade, and my hearte hath fayled me.

O Lorde, lette it be thy pleasure to deliuer me, make haste, O LORD D to helpe me.

Let them be ashamed and confounded together, that seeke after my soule to destroy it: let them be driuen backward and be put to rebuke, that wysh me euil.

Let them be be desolate and reward- ed ded with shame, that saye vnto me: fie vpon thee, fie vpon thee.

Let all those that seke thee, be ioyfull and glad in thee: and let suche as loue thy saluacion, saye alwaye, the Lorde be praysed.

As for me, I am poore and nedye, but the Lorde careth for me.

Thou art my helper and redemer: make no long tarying, O my God.

¶ The.xli.Psalme.

Beatus qui intelligit.

Evening prayer. ℣ Pro.14b

BLessed is he * that considereth the poore (and nedy) the Lord shall delyuer hym in the tyme of trouble.

The Lord preserue him, and kepe him alyue: that he may be blessed vpon earth, and delyuer not thou him into the wyll of hys enemyes.

The Lord comforte him, when he lyeth sicke vpon his bed: make thou all his bed in his sickenes.

I sayde: Lorde be mercifull vnto me, heale my soule, for I haue sinned agaynst thee.

Myne enemyes speake euyll of me: when shall he dye and hys name perysshe.

℟ And if he come to se me: he speaketh vanitie, and his hert conceyueth falshod within him self: and when he commeth forth, he telleth it.

All myne enemyes whisper together agaynst me: euen agaynst me do they ymagine this euyll.

Let the sentence of gyltines proceede agaynst him: and nowe that he lyeth, let him ryse vp no more.

Yea, euen myne owne familyer Psa.55.e frende whom I trusted * (which did Ihō.14b also eate of my breade) hathe layde ℭ great wayte for me.

But be thou mercifull vnto me, O Lord, rayse thou me vp agayne, and I shall rewarde them.

By this I knowe thou fauourest me, that myne enemye doeth not triumphe agaynst me.

And when I am in my health thou vpholdest me, and shalt set me before thy face for euer.

Blessed be the Lord God of Israel world without end. Amen.

¶ The .xlii. Psalme.

Quemadmodum.

LYke as the harte desireth the water brokes, so longeth my soule after thee, O God. ℣

My soule is a thirst for God, yea, euen for the lyuynge God: when shall I come to appeare before the presence of God?

* My teares haue ben my meate Psa.80a daye and night, whyle they dayly saye vnto me: wher is nowe thy God?

Nowe when I thynke therevpon, * I powre out my herte by my 1 Reg.1c selfe: for I went with the multitude, Psa.62a and broughte them fourthe vnto the ℣ house of God.

In the voice of praise and thankesgeuing, amōg such as kepe holy daye.

* Why arte thou so full of heauynes (O my soule) and why art thou Psa.43a so vnquiet within me?

Put thy truste in God, for I will yet geue hym thankes: for the helpe of hys countenaunce.

My God, my soule is vexed within me: therfore will I remember thee concernyng the * land of Iordan, and Ios.11.a the litle hill of Hermon.

One depe calleth another, because of the noyse of thy water pypes.

* All thy waues and stormes, are Iona.2a gone ouer me.

The Lorde hath graunted hys louynge kyndnesse on the daye tyme: and in the nyghte season dyd I synge of hym, and made my prayer vnto the God of my lyfe.

I will saye vnto the God of my ℭ strength: whye haste thou forgotten me? why go I thus heuely, while the enemye oppresseth me?

My bones are smitten a sunder as with a swerde: while mine enemyes (that trouble me) cast me in the teth.

Namely while they say dayly vnto me: where is nowe thy God?

Why arte thou so vexed (O my soule: and why arte thou so disquieted within me?

O put thy trust in God, for I wyl yet thanke hym, which is the helpe of my countenance, and my God.

The .xliii. Psalme.
Iudica me Deus.

℣ GEue sentence with me, O God, and defend my cause against the vngodlye people: Oh deliuer me from the disceitfull and wycked man.

For thou art the god of my strēgth why hast thou put me from thee: and why go I so heuily, whyle the ennemye oppresseth me?

Oh send out thy light & thy truthe that they may leade me, and bring me vnto thy holy hil, and to thy dwelling

And that I maye go vnto the aulter of God, euen vnto the God of my ioye and gladnesse.

And vpon the harpe will I geue thankes vnto thee, O God my God.

Psa. 42. * Why arte thou so heauye (O my soule) and why arte thou so disquieted within me?

O put thy trust in God, for I wyl yet geue hym thankes, whiche is the helpe of my countenance, & my God.

Morning prayer.

The .xliiij. Psalme.
Deus auribus nostris.

℣ WE haue herd with oure eares O God, * our fathers haue told vs, what thou hast done in their tyme of olde.

Deu. 6. b How thou hast driuen out the Heithen with thy hand, and planted them in: how thou hast destroyed the nations, and cast them out.

Deu. 9. a * For they gat not the land in possession thorowe theyr owne sword, neither was it their owne arme that helped theim.

But thy ryghte hande, and thyne arme, & the light of thy countenance, because thou haddest a fauoure vnto theym.

Ps. 97. b * Thou art my kyng, O GOD, sende helpe vnto Jacob.

Thorowe thee, will we ouerthrow our enemies, and in thy name wil we treade theym vnder, that ryse vp against vs.

For I will not trust in my bowe: it is not my sword that shall help me. ℣

But it is thou that sauest vs from our enemies, and puttest them to confusion that hate vs.

We make our boast of God all the daye longe: and will prayse thy name for euer. Sela.

But now thou art farre of, and puttest vs to confusion, and * goest not Ps. 60. i forth with our armies.

Thou makest vs to turne our backes vpon oure enemies: so that they which hate vs, spoile our goodes. ℭ

Thou lettest vs bee eaten vp like sheepe: and hast scattered vs amonge the Heathen.

Thou sellest thy people for naught: and takest no money for them.

Thou makest vs to bee rebuked of our neyghboures, to bee laughed to scorne, and had in derision, of theym them that are rounde about vs.

* Thou makest vs to be a byword among the Hethen, and that the people shake their heades at vs.

My confusion is dayely before me, and the shame of my face hathe couered me. Ps. 79. a

For the voyce of the sclaunderer & blasphemer: for the enemy & auenger.

And though all this be come vpon vs, yet doo we not forget thee: nor behaue our selues frowardelye in thy couenaunt. ℣

Our hert is not turned backe: neither our steps gone out of thy waye.

No not whan thou hast smittē vs into the place of dragons, and couered vs with the shadowe of death.

If we haue forgotten the name of our God, and holden vp oure handes to any straunge God.

Shal not God search it out? for he knoweth ỹ very secrets of the hert.

Rom. 8. f * For thy sake also are we killed all the day long, and ar counted as sheepe appoynted to be slayne.

All

Up lorde, why slepest thou? awake and be not absent from vs for euer.

Wherefore hydest thou thy face, and forgettest our misery and trouble?

Ps. 119. For our soule is brought lowe euen vnto the dust: our bealy cleaueth vnto the ground.

Aryse and helpe vs, and deliuer vs for thy mercies sake.

¶ The. xlv. Psalme.

Eructauit cor meum.

MY heart is enditynge of a good matter: I speake of the things whyche I made vnto the kynge.

My tongue is the penne of a redy wryter.

Thou art fairer then the childrē of men, full of grace are thy lyps: because God hath blessed thee for euer.

Gird the with thy swearde vpon thy thigh (O thou most mightie) according to thy worshyp and renoume.

Good luck haue thou with thyne honor, ride on because of the worde of truth, of mekenes, and righteousnes: and thy right hande shall teache thee

B terrible thynges.

Thy arrowes are very sharpe, and the people shalbe subdued vnto thee, euen in the myddest among the Kinges ennemies.

Heb. 1. b * Thy seat, O God, endureth for euer: the scepter of thy kyngdome is a vpright scepter.

Thou haste loued righteousnesse, and hated iniquitie: wherefore God euen thy God) hath annoynted thee with the oyle of gladnesse aboue thy felowes.

All thy garmentes smell of myrre Aloes, and Cassia, out of the yuory palaces, wherby they haue made the glad.

Kynges daughters were amonge thy honorable womē: vpon thy right hand did stand the quene in a vesture of golde (wrought about with dyuers coloures.)

C Herken (O daughter) & consider encline thyn eare: forgette also thyn owen people, and thy fathers house.

So shall the kyng haue pleasure in thy beautie, for he is the Lorde (god) and worshyp thou hym.

And the daughter of Tyre shall be there with a gyfte, lyke as the ryche also among the peple shal make their supplication before thee.

The kings daughter is al glorious within, her clothing is of wrought gold

She shalbe brought vnto the king in raimēt of nedle worke: the virgins that be her felowes, shal beare her cōpany, and shalbe brought vnto thee.

With ioye and gladnesse shall they be broughte: and shall enter into the kynges Palaice.

In stede of thy fathers, thou shalt haue children, whome thou mayste make princes in all landes.

I wyll remembre thy name frome one generation to an other: therefore shall the people geue thankes vnto thee, worlde without ende.

¶ The. xlvi. Psalme.

Deus noster refugium.

A

GOd is our hope and strength: a very present helpe in trouble

Therfore wil we not feare, thoughe the earthe bee moued, and thoughe the hylles bee caryed in the myddes of the sea. Ps. 93.

* Though the waters therof rage and swell: and though the mountains shake at the tempest of the same. Sela.

The riuers of the flouddes thereof, shall make glad the Citie of god, the holye place of the tabernacles of the moste hyghest.

God is in the midst of her, therfore shall shee not bee remoued: God shall helpe her, and that right early.

The heithen make muche adoo, and the kyngdomes are moued: but God hath shewed his voyce, and the earth shall melt a waye.

B

The Lorde of hostes is with vs, the god of Jacob is our refuge. Sela

O com hither, and behold the workes of the Lord, what destructions he hath brought vpon the earth.

He maketh warres to ceasse in all the worlde: he breketh the bow & knappeth the speare in sunder, and bourneth neth the charettes in the fire.

Be styll then and knowe that I am God: I wyll be exalted amonge the heathen, and I wyll be exalted in the earth.

The Lord of hostes is with vs, the God of Iacob is our defence. Sela.

Euening prayer.

¶ The. xlvii. Psalme.
Omnes gentes plaudite.

¶ Clappe your handes together (all ye people) O synge vnto God with the voyce of melodye.

Psa. 96 a

For the Lord is hye, and to be feared, he is the greate kynge vppon all the earth.

He shall subdue the people vnder vs, and the nations vnder our fete.

He shall chose out an herytage for vs: euen the worshyp of Iacob whom he loued. Sela.

God is gone vp with a merye noyse: and the Lorde with the sounde of the trompe.

¶ O synge prayses, synge prayses vnto (oure) God: O synge prayses, synge prayses vnto our kynge.

For God is kyng of all the earth, synge ye prayses with vnderstanding.

God reygneth ouer the heathen: God sitteth vpon his holy seate.

The princes of the people are ioyned vnto the people of the God of Abraham: for God (which is verye hye exalted) doeth defende the earth, as it were with a shylde.

¶ The. xlviii. Psalme.
Magnus dominus.

¶ GReat is the Lord, and hyghly to be praysed, in the citie of our God, euen vppon his holy hill.

The hill of Syon is a fayre place, and the ioye of the whole earth: vpon the northsyde lyeth the citye of the great kynge.

God is well knowen in her palaces, as a sure refuge.

For lo: the kynges (of the earth) are gathered, and gone by together.

They marueled, to se such things: they were astonyed, and sodenly caste downe.

Feare came there vpon them, and sorowe as vpon a woman in her trauaile: thou shalt breake the shippes of the sea, thorowe the east wynde.

Like as we haue herde, so haue we ¶ sene in the citye of the Lord of hostes, in the citye of oure God: God beholdeth the same for euer. Sela.

We wayte for thy louynge kyndnesse, (O God) in the myddest of thy temple.

(O God) accordynge vnto thy name, so is thy prayse vnto the worldes ende: thy ryghte hande is full of ryghteousnesse.

Let the mounte Sion reioyce, and ¶ the daughters of Iuda be glad, because of thy iudgementes.

Walke about Sion, and go rounde about her: and tell the towres therof.

Marke well her bulwarkes, set vp her houses, that ye may tell them that come after.

For this God is our god for euer & euer, he shalbe our gyde vnto death.

¶ The. xlix. Psalme.
Audite hec gentes.

¶ OHeare this, al ye people: ponder it with youre eares, all ye that dwell in the worlde.

Hye and lowe, ryche and poore, one with another.

My mouthe shall speake of wysdome, and my herte shall muse of vnderstandyng.

I wyll enclyne myne eare to the parable, and shewe my darke speche vpon the harpe.

Wherefore shoulde I feare in the dayes of wickednesse, and when the wickednesse of my heles compasseth me rounde about?

* Ther be some that put theyr trust in their goodes: and boste themselues in the multitude of their ryches.

Psa. 52 b
Luk. 12. f

But no man maye deliuer hys brother, nor make agreement vnto God for hym.

* For it costeth more to redeme theyr soules, so that he muste let that alone

1. Pe. 1 f Iob. 28

alone for euer.

Yea, though he lyue longe, and see not the graue.

• For he seeth, that wyse men also dye, and perishe togither, as well as the ignorant and foolishe, and • leaue their rychesse for other.

And yet they thinke, that their houses shall continue for euer: and that their dwelling places shal endure frō one generation to another, and call the landes after their owne names.

Neuertheiesse, man will not abide in honour, seeyng he may be compared vnto the beastes that perysshe: this is the way of them.

This is their foolishnes, and their posteritie, prayse their sayeng. Sela.

They lye in the helle lyke sheepe: deathe gnaweth vpon them.

C And the righteous shal haue domination of them in the morneyng: their beautie shall consume in the sepulchre out of their dwellyng.

But God shall deliuer my sowle from the place of hell, for he shall receyue me. Sela.

Be not thou afrayde thoughe one be made riche, or yf the glorye of hys house be increased.

Job.17.d • For he shall cary nothyng awaye with hym when he dyeth, neither shal hys pompe folowe hym.

For while he liued, he counted him selfe an happy man: and so long as thou dooest well vnto thy selfe, men will speake good of thee.

He shall folowe the generations of his fathers, and shall neuer see lighte.

Man beyng in honour hath no vnderstanding: but is compared vnto the beastes, that perishe.

Morning prayer.

C The. l. Psalme.

Deus deorum dominus.

THe Lorde euen the most myghtie God hath spoken: and called the worlde.

Esai.2.a. From the risynge vp of the Sunne: vnto the goyng down therof. • Out of Sion hath God appeared in perfecte beautie.

Our God shall come, and shall not kepe silence.

There shall go before him a consuming fyre, and a mighty tempest shalbe stered vp round about him.

He shal call the heauen from aboue, and the earth that he maye iudge hys people.

Gather my saynctes together vnto me, those that haue made a couenaunt with me with sacrifice. B

And the heauens shall declare hys ryghteousnes, for God is iudge hym selfe.

Heare O my people: and I will speake, I my selfe will testifie against thee O Israell: For I am God, euen thy God. Sela.

I will not reproue thee because of thy sacrifices, or for thy burntoffrynges, beause they were not alway before me. Esai. 1.

• I wil take no bullocke out of thy house, nor he gotes out of thy foldes. Amos. 5 Act. 7. f.

For all the beastes of the forest are mine, and so ar the cattel vpon a thousande hilles.

I knowe all the foules vpon the mountaynes, and the wilde beastes of the feld are in my syght.

If I be hungrie I wil not tel thee: for the whole worlde is mine, and all that therin is. Leu. 15 d Psa. 24 a 1 Cor. 10

Thinkest thou that I wil eat bulles flesh: and drinke the blud of gotes. C

Offer vnto God thankesgeuing & pay thy vowes vnto the most hyest.

And call vpon mee in the time of trouble: so wil I heare the, and thou shalt prayse me. 2 Psa. 15 a

But vnto the vngodlye said God: whye doest thou preache my lawes, and takest my couenant in thy mouth where as thou hatest to bee instructed: & hast cast my wordes behind the.

When thou sawest a theefe, thou consentedst vnto him: and hast beene partaker with the aduoutrers.

Thou hast lette thy mouth speake wickednes: and wyth thy tonge thou hast set forth disceite. D

Thou sattest and spakest against thy brother: yea, and hast slandered thyne thine owne mothers sonne.

These thinges hast thou done, and I held my tongue: and thou thoughtest (wickedly) that I am euen suche a one as thy selfe: but I will reproue thee, and set before thee, the thinges that thou haste done.

O consider this, ye that forgette God: leaste I plucke you awaye, and there be none to deliuer you.

Who so offereth me thankes and prayse, he honoureth me: and to hym that ordereth his conuersacion right, will I shewe the saluacion of God.

¶ The. li. Psalme.

Miserere mei deus.

A HAue mercy vpon me O God, after thy (great goodnes.

Accordinge vnto the multitude of thy mercies, do away myne offences.

Washe me thoroughly fro my wickednes, and clense me from my sinne.

Job. 23 c Luk. 15 d For * I knowledge my fautes, and my synne is euer before me.

Rom. 3 a Agaynst thee only haue I sinned, and done this euill in thy sight * that thou mightest be iustified in thy saying, and cleare when thou art iudged.

Beholde, I was shapen in wickednesse: and in synne hath my mother conceaued me.

But lo, thou requirest trueth in the inward partes, and shalt make me to B vnderstand wisdome secretly.

Nu. 13 d Thou shalt pourge me with * Isope, and I shalbe cleane: thou shalte washe me, and I shalbe whyter then snowe.

Thou shalte make me heare ioye and gladnesse: that the bones whiche thou haste broken, may reioyce.

Turne thy face from my synnes, and put out all my misdedes.

Eze. 29 c * Make me a cleane hert, O God,

C and renue a right spirite within me.

Cast me not away frō thy presence and take not thy holy spirit from me.

O geue me the comforte of thy helpe agayne, and stablyshe me with thy free spirite.

Then shall I teache thy wayes vnto the wicked, and synners shalbe conuerted vnto thee.

Deliuer me from blood giltinesse, O God, thou that art the God of my health: and my tongue shall synge of thy righteousnesse.

Thou shalt open my lyps, O Lord, D and my mouth shal shewe thy prayse.

For thou desyrest no sacrifyce, els Psa. 50 a I wolde I geue it thee: * but thou de- Esay. 1. c lytest not in burntofferinges. Amo. 3. d

The sacrifyce of God is a troubled Ietes. 7. f spirite, * a broken and a contrite hert, * Es. 99 a O God shalt thou not despise.

O be fauourable and gracious vnto Syon, buylde thou the walles of Ierusalem.

Then shalte thou be pleased with Ro. 11. a the * sacrifyce of righteousnesse, with the burntofferynges and oblacions: then shall they offer yonge bullockes vpon thyne aulter.

¶ The. lii. Psalme.

Quid gloriaris in malitia.

A VVhy boastest thou thy selfe, thou tyraunt, that thou canst do mischiefe.

where as the goodnesse of God endureth yet dayly.

Thy tongue imagineth wickednesse, and with lyes thou cuttest lyke a sharpe rasoure.

Thou haste loued vngraciousnesse more then goodnes, & to talke of lyes more then righteousnes. Sela.

Thou hast loued to speake al wordes that may do hurt, O thou false tonge.

Therfore shal God destroy thee for euer, he shal take the & plucke the out of thy dwellyng, and rote the out of the lande of the lyuyng. Sela.

The righteous also shall se this, & feare, and shall laugh him to scorne.

B Lo, this is the man, that toke not Psa. 49 a God for his strength, but * trusted vn- Luk. 12 c to the multitude of hys ryches, and strengthed him selfe in hys wickednesse.

As for me, I am lyke a grene olyue tree in the house of god: my trust is in the tender mercye of God, for euer and euer

I will alwaye geue thankes vnto the, for that thou haſt done: and I wil hope in thy name, for thy ſayntes lyke it well.

¶ The.liii. Pſalme.
Dixit Inſipiens

Euening prayer.

THe folyſh bodye hath ſaide in his heart: there is no God.

Corrupt are they, and becom abhominable in their wickednesſe: ther is none that doth good.

God loked downe from heauen vpon the children of men, to ſee if there were anye that woulde vnderſtande and ſeke after God.

But they are all gonne oute of the way, they are altogether become abhominable: ther is alſo none that doth good, no not one.

Are not they without vnderſtanding that worke wickednes, eatynge vp my people as yf they woulde eate breade: they haue not called vpō God

They were afraid where no feare was: for God hath broken the bones of hym that beſieged thee: thou haſte put theym to confuſion, becauſe God hath deſpyſed them.

Oh that the ſaluation were geuen vnto Iſraell oute of Sion: Oh that the Lorde woulde deliuer his people out of captiuitie.

Then ſhoulde Jacob reioyce, and Iſrael ſhould be right glad.

¶ The.liiii. Chapter.
Deus in nomine tuo.

SAue me, O God, for thy names ſake: and auenge mee in thy ſtrength.

Heare my prayer, O God and herken vnto the wordes of my mouth.

For ſtraungers are riſen vp agaynſt me, and tyrantes which haue not God before their eies, ſeke after my ſoule.

Beholde God is my healper: the Lord is with them that vpholde my ſoule.

He ſhal reward euil vnto myne enemyes: deſtroye thou them in thy truth.

An offringe of a free hearte will I geue thee: and prayſe thy name (O Lorde) becauſe it is ſo comfortable.

For he hath deliuered me out of all my trouble: and myne eye hath ſeene his deſyre vpon myne enemyes.

¶ The.lv. Pſalme.
Exaudi deus.

HEare my prayer (O God) and hyde not thy ſelfe from my petition.

Take heede vnto me, and heare me, how I mourne in my prayer and am vexed.

The enemye cryeth ſo, and the vngodly commeth on ſo faſt, for they are mynded to dooe me ſome myſchefe, ſo maliciouſly are they ſet againſt me.

My heart is diſquieted within me, and the feare of death is fallen vppon me.

Fearefulneſſe and tremblinge are come vpon me: and an horrible dreade hath ouerwhelmed me.

And I ſayde, O that I had wynges lyke a doue: for then would I flye away and be at reſt.

Lo, then wouldе I get me awaye far of: and remayne in the wildernes. Sela.

I wouldе make haſte to eſcape, becauſe of the ſtormy wind and tempeſt

Deſtroye their tongues (O Lord) Ge.11.b and deuyde them: for I haue ſpied vnrighteouſnes and ſtrife in the citie.

Day and night go they about with in the walles therof: miſchefe and alſo ſorowe are in the middeſt of it.

Wickednes is therein, diſceate and gyle go not out of her ſtretes.

For it is not an open enemye that hath doone thys diſhonor: for then I could haue borne it: nether was it my aduerſarye, that did magnifie himſelf agaynſte me: for then (peraduenture) I wold haue hyd my ſelfe from hym. Pſa.41.

But it was euen thou my companion: my gyde, and myne owne familiar frende. Joh.13.b

We tooke ſwete counceil together, and walked in the houſe of God as frendes.

Let

Let death come hastely vpon them, and let them go downe quicke into hell: for wickednesse is in their dwellynges, and among them.

As for me, I wyll call vnto God, and the Lord shall saue me.

In the euenyng, and mornyng and at none day will I pray (and that instantly) and he shal heare my voyce.

It is he that hath deliuered my soule in peace from the battayle that was agaynste me: for there were manye with me.

℣ Yea, euen God that endureth for euer, shall heare me, and bryngе them downe. Sela.

For they will not turne, nor feare God.

He layde his handes vpon suche as be at peace with hym, and he brake his couenaunt.

The wordes of his mouth wer softer then butter, hauinge warre in his hert: his wordes were smother then oyle, and yet be they very swerdes.

Mat.6.d Luk.12e 1.pet.5.c * Cast thy burthen vpon the Lord and he shall norysshe thee, and not suffer the ryghteous to fall for euer.

And as for thē, thou (O God) shalt bryng them into the pyt of destructiō.

The blood thirsty & disceitful men: shal not lyue out halfe their dayes.

Neuertheles, my truste shalbe in thee (O Lorde.)

Morning prayer.

¶ The.lvi.Psalme.

Miserere mei deus.

℟ BE merciful vnto mee (O God) for man goeth aboute to deuoure me: he is dayly fyghtyng and troublyng me.

Mine enemies are dayly in hand to swalow me vp: for they be many that fight agaynst me, O thou most hyest.

Neuertheles, though I am sometime afrayd, yet put I my trust in the.

I wyll prayse God, because of hys worde, I haue put my truste in God, and wyll not feare what flesshe can do vnto me.

℣ They dayly mistake my wordes: al that they ymagine, is to do me euil.

They all hold altogether, and kepe them selues close: & marke my steps, when they lay wayte for my soule.

Shall they escape for their wickednesse? thou (O God) in thy displeasure shalt cast them downe.

Thou tellest my flittinges, put my teares in thy bottell: are not these thynges noted in thy booke?

When soeuer I cal vpon the, then shall myne enemyes be put to flyght: this I know, for God is on my syde.

In Gods wordes wil I reioyce, in the Lordes word wil I comfort me.

Yea, in God haue I put my trust, I wyll not be afrayde what man can do vnto me.

Psa.61b * Vnto the (O God) wil I pay my vowes: vnto the wil I gene thanks.

Psa.116a For * thou hast deliuered my soule from death, and my fete from fal lynge: that I may walke before God in the lyght of the lyuynge.

¶ The.lvii.Psalme.

Miserere mei deus.

℟ BE merciful vnto me (O god) be merciful vnto me, for my soule trusteth in the: and * vnder the shadow of thy wynges shalbe my refuge, vntyll this tiranye be ouerpaste. Mat.23.d

I will call vnto the most hye god, euen to the God that shall perfourme the cause which I haue in hand.

He shall sende from heauen, and saue me from the reproche of hym that woulde eate me vp. Sela.

God shall sende forth, hys mercye and trueth.

℣ My soule is amonge Lyons, and I lye euen amonge the chyldren of men (that are set on fyre.)

Whose teeth are speares & arowes, and their tonge a sharpe swerd.

Sette vp thy selfe, O God, aboue the heauens, and thy glorye aboue all the earth.

They haue layde a net for my fete, and preased downe my soule, they haue digged a pytte before me, and are fallen into the myddest of it themselues. Sela.

* My

Psa.108a * My hert is fixed, o God, my hert is fixed: I will sing and geue prayse.

Awake O my glory, awake lute and harpe: I my selfe will awake right early.

I will geue thankes vnto the, O Lorde, among the people: and I will sing vnto the among the nations.

Psa.103b * For the greatnes of thy mercye reacheth vnto the heauens, and thy trueth vnto the cloudes.

Set vp thy self, O God, aboue the heauens, & thy glory aboue al the erth.

The.lviii.Psalme.

Si vere vtique iustitiam.

I ARe your myndes set vppon righteousnes, O ye congregacion? and do ye iudge the thing that is right, O ye sons of men?

Yea, ye ymagine mischefe in your hert vpon the earth, and your handes deale with wickednes.

The vngodly are frowarde, euen from their mothers wombe: as soone as they be borne, they go astraye and speake lyes.

They are as venimous as the poyson of a serpente, euen lyke the deafe Psal.57g Adder that stoppeth her eares.

which refuseth to heare the voice of the charmer, charm he neuer so wisely.

Breake their teeth, O God, in their mouthes: smyte the chaw bones of the lyons (O Lord.)

B Let them fal away lyke water that runneth a pace: and when they shote their arowes, let them be rooted out.

Let the consume away like a snaile & be lyke the vntymely frute of a woman, and let them not se the sonne.

Or euer your pots be made whot with thornes: so let indignation vexe him, euen as a thyng that is rawe.

Psal.58g * The righteous shall reioyce when he seeth the vengeaunce: he shall washe his fote steppes in the bloode of the vngodly.

So that a man shall saye: verelye there is a rewarde for the righteous: doubtles, there is a God that iudgeth in the earth.

The.lix.Psalme.

Eripe me de inimicis. Euening prayer.

DEliuer me from myne enemyes, O God: defende me from them that rise vppe agaynst me. I

O deliuer me from the wycked doers: and saue me from the bloode thirstie men.

For lo, they lye waytyng for my soule: the mightye men are gathered together agaynst me without any offence or faute of me, O Lorde.

They runne and prepare themselues B without my faute: arise thou therfore to helpe me, and beholde.

Stande by (O Lorde God of hoostes) thou God of Israell to vysyte all heathen: and be not mercifull vnto them that offende of malicious wickednesse. Sela.

They go to and fro in the euening, they grynne lyke a dogge, and runne about, through the citye.

Beholde, they speake with theyr mouth, and swordes are in their lyppes, for who doeth heare?

But thou, O Lorde, shalte haue Psal. 2.a them in derision, and thou shalt laugh Prou.1b all heathen to scorne.

My strength will I ascribe vnto the: for thou art the god of my refuge.

God sheweth me his goodnes plenteously, and God shall let me see my desyre vpon myne enemyes.

Slaye them not, leaste my people forget it: but scatter the abrod among thy people, and put them downe, O Lorde, our defence. C

For the synnes of their mouth, and for the woordes of their lyppes they shalde taken in theyr pryde, and whye? theyr preachinge is of cursyng and lyes.

Consume them in thy wrath, consume them that they maye perysshe, and knowe that it is God which ruleth in Jacob, and vnto the endes of the worlde. Sela.

And in the euenyng they will returne, grēne like a dogge, and will go about about the citye.

They will runne here and ther for meat: & grudge if they be not satisfyed

As for me I will synge of thy power: and wyll prayse thy mercye betymes in the mornyng.

For thou hast bene my defence and refuge: in the day of my trouble.

Vnto thee, O my strength, wyll I synge: for thou O God, art my refuge and my mercifull God.

¶ The.lx. Psalme.

Deus repulisti nos.

O God, thou that hast caste vs out and scatered vs abroade: thou hast also ben displesed, O turne the vnto vs agayn.

Thou haste moued the lande and deuided it: heale the sores thereof, for it shaketh.

Thou hast shewed thy people heauye thynges, thou haste geuen vs a drynke of deadly wyne.

Ela.51.c Ier.25.d

Thou haste geuen a token for such as feare thee, that they may triumphe because of the trueth. Sela.

Therfore were thy beloued delyuered: helpe me with thy right hand, and heare me.

B God hath spoken in his holinesse, I wyll reioyce and deuide Sichem: and mete out the valey of Suchoth.

Ela.108b

Galead is myne and Manasses is mine: Ephraim also is the strength of my heade, Iuda is my lawe geuer.

Moab is my washepot, ouer Edom wyll I caste oute my shoe: Philistea be thou glad of me.

C Who will leade me into the strong citye: who wil bring me into Edom?

Haste thou not caste vs oute, O God: wylt not thou, O God, go oute with oure hoostes?

Psal.44.

O be thou our helpe in trouble: for vayne is the helpe of man.

Through God we shall do greate actes: for it is he that shall treade downe oure enemyes.

¶ The.lxi. Psalme.

Exaudi deus deprecationem.

HEare my cryinge, O God, & geue eare vnto my prayer.

From the endes of the earth I will call vnto thee: when my herte is in heauynes.

O set me vp vpon the rocke: that is hyer then I.

For thou hast bene my hope and a strog tower for me, against ỹ enemy.

I will dwell in thy tabernacle for euer: and my trust shalbe vnder the couerynge of thy wynges. Sela.

B

For thou, O Lord, haste herde my desires: and haste geuen an heritage vnto those that feare thy name.

Thou shalte graunte the kynge a long lyfe: that his yeres maye endure throughout all generacions.

He shall dwell before GOD for euer: O prepare thy louynge mercye and faythfulnesse that they maye preserue hym.

So wyll I alwaye synge prayse vnto thy name: that I maye dayly perfourme my vowes.

¶ The.lxii. Psalme. Morni prayer.

Nonne deo subiecto.

MY soule truely wayteth still vpon God, for of him cometh my saluation.

He verely is my strength and my saluation: he is my defence, so that I shall not greatly fall.

Howe longe wyll ye ymagyne mischefe agaynste euery man, ye shall be slayne all the sorte of you: yea, as a totteryng wall shall ye be, and lyke a broken hedge.

Their deuyce is onely howe to caste him out whom God wyll exalt, their delite is in lyes: they geue good wordes with their mouth, but curse him with their herte. Sela.

Neuertheles, my soule wayte thou styl vpon God: for my hope is in him.

He truely is my strength, and my saluation: he is my defence, so that I shall not fall.

In God is my health and my glorye, the rocke of my myghte: and in God is my truste.

O put your truste in him alwaye

(ye

re. 1. (ye people) • poure out your hertes be= al.42.c fore hym: for God is our hope. Sela.

As for the children of men, they are but vayne, the children of menne are disceitfull vpon the waightes, they are all togyther lyghter then vanitie it selfe.

O trust not in wrong and robbery, geue not your selues vnto vanitie: yf ryches increase, sette not your hearte vpon them.

God spake ones and twyse: I haue also heard the same: that power belongeth vnto God.

And that thou Lord art mercifull: for • thou rewardest euery man accor= Ps.18.c dyng to hys worke.
Mat.16.

¶ The.lxiii. Psalme.
Deus deus meus.

A O God, thou art my God, early will I seeke thee.

My soule thirsteth for thee: my flesh also longeth after the in a barayn and dry land where no water is.

Thus haue I loked for thee in holynesse that I myght beholde thy power and glorye.

For thy louing kindnes is better thē ỹ life it self: my lyps shall praise thee.

As long as I liue will I magnifie thee on thys manner, and lyfte vp my B handes in thy name.

My soule shalbe satisfied euen as it were with mary and fatnes: when my mouth praiseth the with ioyfull lyps.

Haue I not remembred thee in my bedde, and thought vpon thee whan I was waakynge?

Because thou haste ben my helper therefore vnder the shadowe of thy wynges will I reioyce.

My soule hangeth vpon thee: thy right hande hath vpholden me.

These also that seke the hurt of my soule, they shall go vnder the earth.

Lette them fall vpon the edge of the sworde, that they may be a portion for foxes.

Rom.6.c But the kyng shal reioyce in God: • all they also that swere by hym shal be cōmended, for the mouthe of them that speake lyes: shalbe stopped.

¶ The.lxiiii. Psalme.
Exaudi deus orationem

A Heare my voyce (O God) in my prayer: preserue my lyfe from feare of the ennemy.

Hyde me from the gathering togither of the froward: and from the insurrection of wycked doers.

Whiche haue whet theyr tonge lyke a sworde, and shot out theyr arowes, euen bytter woordes.

That they maye priuily shoote at hym whiche is perfect: sodeynly doo they hytte hym, and feare not.

They courage them selues in mischiefe, and commune among them selues, how they may lay snares; and say that no man shall see them.

They ymagine wyckednesse, and practise it, that they kepe secrete amōg them selues, euery man in the deepe of his hearte.

B But God shall sodeynlye shoote at them with a swyfte arrowe that they shall be wounded.

Yea, their owne tonges shall make them fal, in so much that who so seeth them, shall laughe theim to scorne.

And all men that see it, shall saye: this hath God done: for they shal perceyue that it is hys worke.

The righteous shall reioyce in the Lorde, and put his truste in him: & all thei that are true of hert, shalbe glad.

¶ The.lxv. Psalme.
Te decet hymnus.

Thou (O God) arte prayed in Syon, and vnto thee shall the Euening prayer. A dowe be performed (in Ierusalem.)

Thou that heares the prayer: vnto thee shall all flesh come.

My misdedes preuaile against me: O be thou mercifull vnto our sinnes

Blessed is the man whom thou chosest and receyuest vnto thee: he shall dwell in thy courte, and shalbe satisfyed with the pleasures of thy house, euen of thy holie temple.

Thou shalte shewe vs wonderfull thinges in righteousnes (O God of oure saluation: thou that art the hope of all the endes of the earth, and of thē that remayne in the brode sea.

Which in his strength setteth fast the mountaynes, and is girded aboute wyth power.

Which stilleth the raging of the sea, and the noyse of hys waues, and the madnes of the people.

They also that dwell in the vttermost partes of the earth shalbe afraid at thy tokens, thou that makest the out goynges of the morning and euening to prayse thee.

Thou visitest the earth, and blessest it: thou makest it very plenteous.

The riuer of God is full of water, thou preparest their corne: for so thou prouydest for the earth.

Thou waterest her forowes, thou sendest rayne into the little vallets thereof: thou makest it softe with the drops of raine and blessest the increase of it.

Thou crowndest the yere with thy goodnes: and thy cloudes drop fatnes

They shall drop vpon the dwellinges of the wildernesse, and the lyttle hilles shal reioyce on euery syde.

The foldes shalbe full of shepe, the valleys also shall stand so thick with corne that they shal laugh and synge.

¶ The.lxvi. Psalme Iubilate deo.

Psa.100 A OBe ioyful in God al ye lands sing prayses vnto the honour of his name, make his prayse to be glorious.

Saye vnto God: O how wonderfull art thou in thy workes: through the greatnes of thy power shal thyne enemyes be found liers vnto thee.

For all the world shall worshippe the, sing of the, and prayse thy name. Sela.

O com hither and behold the workes of God, howe wonderfull he is in his doing, towarde the children of men.

Exo.13g He turned the sea into dry land, so Ioh.3.d. that they went through the water on fote: there dyd we reioyce therof.

He ruleth with his power for euer, his eies behold the people: and suche as will not beleue, shal not be able to exalt them selues. Sela.

O prayse oure God, yee people, and make ỹ voice of his praise to be herd.

Which holdeth our soule in life, and suffreth not our fete to slip.

For thou O god hast proued vs, ỹ also hast tried vs, like as siluer is tried.

Thou broughtest vs into the snare: & laid trouble vpon our loines: thou sufferedst men to ride ouer our heds.

We went through fyre and water, Esa.43.d and thou broughtest vs into a wealthy place.

I will goue into thy house wyth burntofferings, & wil pay my vowes which I promised wyth my lyppes, and spake wyth my mouth, when I was in trouble. Eccl.5.a deu.23.d Psa.6.d

I will offer vnto the, fat brent sacrifices with the incense of rāmes, I wil offer bullockes and gotes. Sela.

O come hither and herken, all ye that feare God: and I will tell you what he hath done for my soule. D

I called vnto him wyth my mouth: and gaue him prayses wyth my tong.

If I enclyne vnto wickednesse in my hert, the Lord wil not heare me

But God hath heard mee, and considered the voyce of my prayer.

Praysed bee God whiche hathe not caste oute my prayer, nor tourned his mercye fro me.

¶ The.lxvii. Psalme.
Deus miseriatur nostri.

GOd be merciful vnto vs, and blesse vs, & shew vs the lighte of his countenaunce, and bee mercifull vnto vs. Sela. A Num.6.d.

That thy way may be knowen vpon earth: thy sauynge health among all nations.

Let al the people prayse the O God, ye let all the people prayse thee.

O lette the nations reioyse and be gladde, for thou shalte iudge the folke ryghteously, and gouerne the nations vpon earth. Sela.

Let the people prayse thee O God, lette let all the people prayse thee.

Then shall the earthe bryng foorth her increase, and God euen our owne God, shall geue vs his blessyng.

God shall blesse vs, and all the endes of the worlde shall feare hym.

Morning prayer.

¶ The. lxviii. Psalme.

Exurgat deus.

A Mn.10.d LEt God arise, and let his enemies be scattered: let them also that hate hym, flee before him.

Like as ỹ smoke vanisheth, so shalt thou dryue theym away: and lyke as waxe melteth at the fire, so let the vngodly perishe at the presence of God.

But let the righteous be glad, and reioyce before God: let them also bee mery and ioyfull.

Oh syng vnto God, and syng prayses vnto his name: magnifie him that rydeth vpon the heauens, as it were vppon a horse: prayse ye hym in hys Deu.10. name, ye and reioyce before hym.

* He is a father of the fatherlesse, & defendeth the cause of the widowes: euen God in his holy habitation.

He is the God that maketh men to be of one mynde in a house, and bryngeth the prisoners oute of captiuitie: but letteth the runnagates continue B in scarsenesse.

Exo.13. O God when * thou wentest forth Nu.14.c before the people, when thou wentest Esai.4.b thorowe the wyldernesse. Sela.

The earth shoke, and the heauens droppedat the presence of God: euen as Sinai also was moued at the presence of God, whiche is the GOD of Israell.

Thou O God sendedst a gracious rain vpon thine inheritaunce, and refreshedst it when it was weerie.

Thy congregation shal dwel therin: For thou (O God) hast of thy C goodnesse prepared for the poore.

Iosi. 10. The Lorde gaue the woord: greate was the company of the preachers.

Kynges with their armies did flee and were discomfited: and they of the housholde deuided the spoyle.

Thoughe ye haue lien amonge the pots, yet shall ye be as the wynges of a doue that is couered wyth syluer wynges, and her fethers like golde.

When the almightie scattered kinges for their sake, then were they as white as snowe in Zalmon.

As the hil of Basan, so is gods hill: euen a hye hyll, as the hyll of Basan.

Why hoppe ye so: ye hye hylles? D

This is Gods hyll, in the whiche it pleaseth hym to dwel: yea the Lord wyll abyde in it for euer.

The charettes of God are twenty thousande, euen thousands of angels, and the lord is among them, as in the holy place of Sinai.

Thou arte gone hype an hye, thou Eph.4.b haste led captiuitie captiue, and receyued gyftes for men.

Yea, euen for thyne ennemies, that the Lorde God myght dwell amonge theym.

Praysed be the Lorde dayly, euen the God which helpeth vs, and poureth hys benefites vpon vs. Sela.

He is oure God, euen the God of whom cometh saluation: God is the Lorde by whome we escape death.

God shall wounde the head of his enemies, and the heary scalpe of suche one as goth on stil in his wickednes.

The Lord hath said, I wyll bryng my people agayn, as I did from Basan: myne owne will I bryng agayn, as I didde sometyme from the deepe of the sea.

That thy foote maye bee dypped in E the bloode of thyne enemies, and that the tongue of thy dogges may be red thorough the same.

It is well seue, O God, how thou goest, how thou, my God and kynge goest in the Sanctuarie.

The singers go before, the minstrels follow after, in the mids are the damsels playing with the tymbrels.

Geue thanks, O Israell, vnto god the Lorde in the congregations from the ground of the heart.

There is little Ben Iamin their ruler, and the princes of Iuda, their councell: the princes of Zabulon, and the princes of Nephthali.

Thy God hath sent foorth strength for thee, stablish the thing, O God, that thou hast wrought in vs.

For thy temples sake at Ierusalē: so shall the kinges bring presentes vn to the.

When the company of speare men, and multitude of the mightie are scattered abroade amonge the beastes of the people, (so that thei humbly bring peeces of syluer) and whan hee hath scattered the people that delyghte in warre.

Then shall the princes come out of Egypt, the Mozians land shall soone stretch out her handes vnto God.

Sing vnto God, O ye kingdomes of the earth: O singe prayses vnto the Lorde. Sela.

Whiche sitteth in the heauens ouer all from the beginninge: Lo, he doeth sende oute his voyce, yea, and that a myghtye voice.

Ascribe ye the power vnto GOD ouer Israell, his worshipp and strēgth is in the cloudes.

O God, wonderfull arte thou in thy holy places: euen the God of Israell, he wil geue strength and power vnto hys people. Blessed be God.

¶ The.lxix. Psalme.

Saluum me fac deus.

Euening prayer.

SAue me, O God, for the waters are come in, euen vnto my soule.

I sticke fast in the depe myre, where no ground is, so that the floudes run ouer me.

I am werye of cryinge, my throte is drye, my sight fayleth me, for waytynge so longe vpon my God.

They that hate me without a cause are moo then the heares of my heade: they that are mine enemies and wold destroye me giltlesse are myghtye.

I payed theym the thynges that I neuer toke.

God thou knowest my simplenes and my fautes are not hid from the.

Let not them that trust in thee, (O Lorde God of hostes) be ashamed for my cause, let not those that seke the, be confounded through me, O Lorde God of Israell.

And why? for thy sake haue I suffered reproofe, shame hath couered my face.

I am become a straunger vnto my brethren: euen an aleant vnto my mothers children.

For + the zeale of thyne house hath euen eaten me, and + the rebukes of the that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me. Joh.2. Ro.15.

I wept and chastened my self with fasting, and that was tourned to my reproofe.

I put on a sackecloth also, and they iested vpon me.

They that sit in the gate, speake against me, and the dronkardes + make songes vpon me. Joh.3. Cor.3.

But Lorde I make my prayer vnto thee in an acceptable time.

Here me O God, in the multitude of thy mercy: euen in the trueth of thy saluation.

Take mee oute of the myre: that I sincke not.

Oh let me be deliuered from theim that hate me, and out of the depe waters.

Let not the waterfloud drowne me neither let the deepe swalowe me vp: and let not the pit shut her mouth vpon me.

Heare me O Lorde, for thy louing kindnes is comfortable: turne the vnto me according vnto the multitude of thy mercyes.

And hyde not thy face from thy seruaunt, for I am in trouble, O haste thee, and heare me.

Drawe nye vnto my soule, and saue it: Oh deliuer me because of myne enemyes.

Thou hast knowen my reproofe, my shame and my dishonour: mine aduersaries are full in thy syght.

Thy rebuke hath broken my heart I am ful of heauines: I loked for some to haue pytye vpon me, but ther was no man: neyther found I any to comfort me mat.27.

They gaue mee gaull to eate, and when I was thirstie, they gaue me vineger to drynke Joh.19. Rom.1.

Lette their table be made a snare to take take them selues withall, and let the thinges that should haue ben for their welth, be vnto thē a occasiō of falling

Let theyr eies be blinded, that they see not, and euer bowe thou downe their backes.

Powr out thyne indignation vpon them, and lette thy wrathful displeasure take holde of them.

F mat.23 d Act.1.c * Let theyr habitation be voyde, and no man to dwel in their tentes.

For they persecute him whom thou hast smittē, & they talk how they may vexe them whom thou hast woūded.

Let them fall from one wickednes to another, & not com into thy righteousnesse.

Exo.32 g * Let them be wyped out of the boke of the liuinge, and not to bee written among the ryghteous.

As for mee, whan I am poore and in heauines, thy helpe (O God) shall lift me vp.

I will prayse the name of GOD with a song: and magnifie it with thankesgeuynge.

This also shall please the Lord better then a bullocke, that hath hornes and hooffes.

The humble shal consider this and be glad: seeke ye after God and youre soule shall liue.

For the Lord heareth the poore and despyseth not his prisoners.

Let heauen and earth prayse hym, the sea and al that moueth therin.

For God shal saue Sion, and build the cities of Iuda, that menne maye dwel there, and haue it in possession.

The posterity also of his seruantes shal inherite it: and they that loue his name, shal dwel therin.

¶ The.lxx. Psalme.

Deus in adiutorium.

HAste thee, O God, to deliuer me, make hast to helpe me, O Lorde.

Let them be ashamed & confounded Psa.71 a that seke after my soule: lette them be turned backward, and put to confusion, that wish me euil.

Lette them (for their reward) bee soone brought to shame, that cry ouer me: there there.

But let all those that seke thee, bee ioyfull and glad in thee: and let al such as delyte in thy saluation, say alway: the Lord be praysed.

As for me, I am poore and in mysery, haste thee vnto me O God.

Thou art my helpe and my redemer: O Lorde: make no longe tarying.

¶ The.lxxi. Psalme.

Morning prayer. A

In te domine speraui.

IN thee, O Lorde, haue I put my trust, let me neuer be put to confusion, but rid me, and deliuer me in thy ryghteousnes: encline thyne eare vnto me, and saue me. Psa.25 a

Be thou my stronge holde, whereunto I may alway resorte, thou hast promised to helpe me: for thou arte my house of defence and my castle.

Deliuer me O my God, out of the hand of the vngodly, out of the hande of the vnryghteous and cruel manne.

For thou O Lord god art the thyng that I longe for, thou art my hope euē fro my youth.

Through thee haue I bene holden vp euer sence I was borne. thou arte he that tooke me out of my mothers wombe, my praise shalbe alway of the Psa.71 d Jer.1, a. B

I am become as it were a monster vnto manye: but my sure truste is in thee.

Oh let my mouth be filled with thy prayse, that I may sing of thy glorye and honour al the day longe.

Cast me not awaye in the tyme of age: forsake me not whē my strength fayleth me.

For myne enemies speake against me, and they ẏ lay waite for my soule, take their councell together, sayinge: God hath forsakē him, persecute him and take him, for there is none to deliuer him.

Goe not farre fro mee, O God: my God, haste the to helpe me.

Let them be confounded and perish that are agaynste my soule: let they m be couered with shame and dishonor that seke to do me euil. C

AAA.iii. As

As for me, I will paciently abide alway, and wil praise the more & more.

My mouth shal dayly speake of thy ryghteousnesse and saluation, for I knowe no ende therof.

I will go forth in the strength of the Lorde God, and wil make mencion of thy ryghteousnesse onely.

Thou, O God, hast taught me fro my youth vp vntil nowe: therfore wil I tel of thy wonderous workes. Deu.6,d Forsake mee not O God, in mine old age when I am graie headed: vntill I haue shewed thy *strength vnto this generacion, and thy power to al them that are yet for to come.

Thy ryghteousnes, O God, is very hie, and great thinges are they that thou hast done: O God, who is lyke vnto thee: D

O what great troubles and aduersities haste thou shewed mee: and yet diddest thou turne and refresh me: yee, and broughtest mee from the deepe of the earth (agayne.)

*Thou hast brought me to gret honour: and comforted me on euery side. 2Re.7,b Therefore will I prayse thee, and thy faythfulnes, O God, playing vpon an instrumente of musicke: vnto the will I synge vpon the harpe, O thou holy one of Israell.

My lippes will be fayne, whan I singe vnto thee: and so will my soule whom thou hast delyuered.

My tongue also shall talke of thy ryghteousnesse all the daye longe: for they are confounded and brought vnto shame, that seke to do me euil.

¶ The. lxxii. Psalme.

Deus iuditium tuum.

A GEue the king thy iudgements O God: and thy righteousnes vnto the kinges sonne.

Then shal he iudge thy people, *according vnto ryght, and defende the poore. deu.17,d

The mountaynes also shall bryng peace, and the lytle hilles ryghteousnesse vnto the people.

Hee shall keape the simple folcke by theyr ryghte, defende the childzen of the poore and punish the wrong doer.

They shall feare the as long as the sonne and moone endureth, from one generation to another. Psa.81,f

He shal come downe like the raine into a fleese of woull, euen as the droppes that water the earth.

In his time shall the ryghteous florysh: ye, and aboundaunce of peace, so long as the mone endureth.

*Hys dominion shall bee also from the one sea to the other, and from the flud vnto the worldes ende. B

They that dwell in the wyldernes shall kneele before hym, his enemyes shall licke the dust. 3 Re,4.

*The kinges of Tharsis and of the Iles shall geue presentes, the kinges of Arabi, and Saba shal bring gifts. Mat.2.d Esa,60.d

All kinges shall fall downe before him, al nations shal do him seruice.

For he shall deliuer the poore, whē he cryeth: the nedie also, and him that hath no helper. C

He shalbe fauourable to the simple, and nedie: and shal preserue the soules of the poore.

Hee shall deliuer their soules from falshede and wronge, and deare shall their blud be in his sight.

The poore shal lyue, and vnto hym shall be geuen of the golde of Arabia.

Prayer shalbe made euer vnto him and dayly shall he be praysed.

There shall be an heape of corne in the earth hie vpon the hilles, his fruit shal shake like Libanus, and shall bee grene in the citie, lyke gras vppon the earth.

His name shall endure for euer, his name shall remayne vnder the sonne among the posterities, whiche shalbe blessed through hym, and all the Heathen shall prayse hym. D

Blessed be the Lord God, euen the God of Israell, *which onelye doeth wonderous thynges. Iudi.13 Psa.136

And blessed be the name of his maiestie for euer, and all the earth shalbe fylled with hys maiestie. Amē. Amē.

The lxxiii. Psalme.

Quam bonus Israel.

Euening player. ℣ TRuly God is louing vnto Israell: euen vnto such as are of a cleane heart.

Neuertheless, my fete wer almost gone, my treadings had wel ny slipt.

Job.12.a Jere.12. And why, * I was greued at the wicked: I doo see all the vngodly in suche prosperitie.

For they are in no perill of death: but are lusty and strong.

They comme in no misfortune lyke other folke, neyther are they plagued lyke other men.

And this is the cause that they be so holden with pryde, and ouer whelmed with crueltie.

Their eyes swelle for fatnesse, and they doo euen what they lyst.

They corrupt other, and speake of wicked blasphemie: their talkyng is against the moste hyest.

℣ For they stretch foorth their mouth vnto the heauen, and their tonge goeth thorowe the worlde.

Therfore fall the people vnto them and thereout sucke they no small aduauntage, * Tushe (say they) howe shoulde God perceue it? Is ther knowledge in the moste hyghest?

Lo, these are the vngodly, these prosper in the worlde, and these haue riches in possession. (And I sayd.)

Then haue I cleansed my hearte in vaine, and washed my handes in innocencie?

All the day long haue I ben punished, and chastened euery mornyng.

℣ Yea, and I hadde almoste sayde, euen as they: but lo, then shoulde I haue condempned the generation of thy children.

Then thoughte I to vnderstande this, but it was to harde for me.

Untyll I went into the Sanctuarie of God: then vnderstode I the end of these menne.

Namely, howe thou doest set them in slipperye places: and castest theym downe, and destroyest them.

O how sodeinly do they consume, and perishe, & come to a fearefull end? Esa.29.b

Yea, euen like as a dreame, when one awaketh, so shalt thou make their image to vanishe out of the citie.

Thus my hert was greued, and it went euen thorowe my reynes.

So foolishe was I and ignorant, euen as it were a beast before thee.

Neuertheless, I am alway by the: ℣ for thou haste holden me by my right hande.

Thou shalte guyde me with thy counceil, and afterwarde receine me wyth glorye.

Whom haue I in heauen but thee? And there is none vppon earthe, that I desyre in comparison of thee.

My flesshe and my hert fainteth, but Nu.18.c God is the strength of my hert, * and my portion for euer.

For lo they that forsake thee, shall perishe: thou hast destroyed all them that cōmit fornication against thee.

But it is good for me, to hold me faste by God, to put my truste in the Lord God, & to speke of al thy workes, in the gates of the daughter Sion.

¶ The.lxxiiii. Psalme.

Vt quid Deus repulisti.

O God, wherfore art thou absent frō vs so long? why is thy wrath so hot against the shepe of thy pasture? ℣

O thinke vpon thy congregation, whom thou haste purchased and redemed of olde.

Thynke vppon the tribe of thyne enheritance: and mount Syon wherin thou haste dwelt.

Lift vp thy fete, that thou maist vterly destroy euery enmeme whiche hath done euill in the Sanctuarie.

Thyne aduersaries rore in the middes of thy congregations, and sette vp their baners for tokens.

He that hewed tymbre afore out of the thick trees, was knowen to bring it to an excellent worke.

But nowe they breake downe all the carued woorke therof with axes and hammers.

* They haue set fyre vppon thy ho- 4.re.25.f

lye places, and haue defiled the dwel-lyng place of thy name, euen vnto the grounde.

Yea, they sayde in their hertes: let vs make hauoke of them altogether:
thus haue they brente vp all the houses of God in the lande.

We see not our tokens, there is not one prophet more, no not one is there among vs ẏ vnderstandeth any more.

O God, howe longe shall the aduersarye do this dishonoure? howe longe shall the enemye blaspheme thy C name, for euer?

Whye withdrawest thou thyne hande? whye pluckest thou not thy ryght hand out of thy bosome, to consume the enemye?

For God is my kyng of olde: the helpe that is done vpon earth, he doth Exo.14.e it hym selfe.

* Thou dydste deuide the sea thor-ow thy power: thou brakest the hea-des of the dragons in the waters.

Iob.40.d Thou smotest the heads of * Leuia-Esa.27.a than in peces, and gauest hym to be meat for the people in the wildernes.

Thou broughtest out fountaynes and waters out of the harde rockes:
thou driedst vp mighty waters.

The daye is thyne, and the nighte is thyne: thou hast prepared the light and the sunne.

Thou haste set all the borders of the earth, thou hast made summer and wynter.

D Remember thys, O Lorde, howe the enemye hath rebuked, and howe the folyshe people hath blasphemed thy name.

O deliuer not the soule of thy turtle doue vnto the multitude of the ene mies: and forget not the congregacion of the poore for euer.

Loke vpon the couenaunt, for all the earth is full of darknes, and cruel habitacions.

O let not the simple go awaye ashamed, but let the poore and nedye geue prayse vnto thy name.

Aryse, O God, mayntayne thyne owne cause: remember howe the fo-lyshe man blasphemeth thee dayly.

Forget not the voyce of thine enemies: the presumption of thē that hate thee, increased euer more and more.

The .lxxv. Psalme.

Confitebimur tibi deus.

Morning prayer. I

VNto the (O god) do we geue thankes, yea, vnto thee do we geue thankes: thy name also is so nye, and that doo thy wonderous workes declare.

When I receaue the congregation,
I shall iudge accordyng vnto ryght.

The earth is weake and all the inhabitoures thereof: I beare vp the pyllers of it. Sela.

I sayde vnto the fooles: deale not so madly, and to the vngodly: set not vp youre horne.

Set not vp your horne on hye: and speake not with a stiffe necke.

For promocion commeth neyther from the East, nor from the west, nor yet from the south. B

And why? * God is the iudge, he put Eccl.35 teth downe one, & setteth vp another.

For in the hand of the Lord ther is Esa.51.d
* a cup, and the wine is red: it is full Ier.25.d mixt, and he poureth out of the same.

As for the dregges therof, all the vngodlye of the earthe shall drynke them, and sucke them out.

But I wyll talke of the God of Iacob: and prayse him for euer.

All the hornes of the vngodly also wyl I breake: and the hornes of the righteous shalbe exalted.

The .lxxvi. Psalme.

Notus in Iudea.

I

IN Iewry is God knowen, his name is great in Israel.

At Salem is his tabernacle Psal.9.b and his dwelling in Sion. *psa.46.d

There * brake he the arowes of the bowe: the shylde, the sweard, and the battayle. Sela.

Thou arte of more honoure and might, then the hylles of robbers.

The prowde are robbed, they haue slept their slepe: & all the men (whose handes were myghtye) haue founde nothynge

It

B At thy rebuke (O God of Jacob) both the charet and horse is fallen.

Thou, euen thou arte to be feared: and who maye stande in thy syghte when thou arte angrye.

Thou diddest cause thy iudgement to be heard from heauen, the earthe trembled, and was styll.

Ebr.10d * When God arose to iudgement, and to helpe all the meke vpon earth. Sela.

The fearse nes of man shall turne to thy prayse: and the fearcenesse of them shall thou refrayne.

Promise vnto the Lord your God, De.12.b and * kepe it, all ye that be rounde a- Eccl.5.a bout hym: bringe presentes vnto him that ought to be feared.

He shall refrayne the spirite of princes, and is to be feared: yea, to the kynges of the earth.

¶ The.lxxvii.Psalme.

Voce mea ad dominum.

I Pla.43b * Will crye vnto God with my voice: euen vnto God will I crye with my voyce, and he shall harken vnto me.

In the tyme of my trouble, I soughte the Lorde: my sore ranne and ceased not in the nyghte season, my soule refused comforte.

When I am in heauynesse, I wyll thynke vpon God: when my herte is vexed, I wyll complayne. Sela.

Thou holdest mine eyes waking: I am so feble that I can not speake.

I haue considered the dayes of old: and the yeres that are paste.

B I call to remembraunce my songe: and in the night I cõmune with mine owne hert, and search out my spretes.

Will the Lorde absent him selfe for euer? & will he be no more entreated?

Is his mercy cleane gone for euer? and is his promyse come vtterly to an ende for euermore?

Hath god forgotten to be gracious? And wyll he shut vp hys louyng kyndnes in displeasure? Sela.

And I sayd: it is mine owne infirmi tie: but I will remember the yeres of the ryght hand of the most hyest.

I wyll remember the workes of the Lord: and call to mynd the won- Psa.43b ders of olde tyme.

I wil thynk also of all thy works: and my talkynge shalbe of thy do- ynges.

Thy way, O God, is holy: who is so greate a God as (our) God?

Thou art the God that doeth the wonders: and haste declared thy po- wer among people.

Thou haste myghtelye delyuered D thy people: euen the sonnes of Jacob and Joseph. Sela.

The waters sawe thee, O God, the waters sawe the, and wer afrayd: the depthes also were troubled.

The cloudes poured oute water: the ayre thundred, and thyne arowes went abrode.

The voyce of thy thunder was heard rounde about, the lyghtninges shone vpon the ground: the erth was moued, and shoke withall.

Thy way is in the sea, and thy pa- thes in the great waters: and thy fote steppes are not knowen.

Thou leddest thy people like shepe by the hand of Moyses and Aaron.

¶ The.lxxviii.Psalme.

Attendite popule me s.

Euening prayer.

H Eare my law, O my people: A encline your eares vnto the wordes of my mouth.

* I wyll open my mouth in a pa- mat.13.c rable: I wyll declare darke sentences of olde.

Whyche we haue heard and kno- wen: and * suche as oure fathers haue Deu.4.b told vs. 6.b.f.11

That we shold not hide them from Ephe.6a the children of the generacions to come, but to shewe the honoure of the Lorde: hys mighte and wonderfull workes that he hath done.

He made a couenaunte with Ja- cob, and gaue Israell a lawe, * which he commaunded oure forefathers to teache theyr chyldren.

That their posteritie might knowe it: and theyr chyldrene whiche were yet vnborne.

To thintent that when they came vp, they myght shewe their chyldren the same.

That they myght put theyr trust in God, and not to forget the workes of God, but to kepe hys commaundementes.

B

Exo.24 e And not to be • as their forefathers
• De.32.a • a faythlesse and stubburne generation: a generacion that set not theyr hert a ryght, and whose spirit cleaued not stedfastly vnto God.

Lyke as the chyldren of Ephraim, which beynge harnessed and carying bowes, turned them selues backe in the daye of battayle.

They kepte not the couenaunt of God: & wolde not walke in his law.

But forgat what he had done, and the wonderfull workes that he had shewed for them.

Maruelous thynges did he in the sight of our fathers in the land of Egypt, euen in the fielde of Zoan.

Exo.14 d • He deuided the sea, and let them go thorowe: he made the waters to stande on a heape.

Exo.14 c • In the day tyme also he led them Nu.20 b with a cloude, and all the nyghte thorowe with a lyght of fyre.

He claue the • harde rockes in the wildernesse, and gaue them drynke thereof, as it had bene out of the great deapth.

He broughte waters oute of the 1 Co.17 c • stonye rocke, so that it gushed oute lyke the ryuers.

Yet for all thys, they synned more agaynst him, and prouoked the moste hyest in the wylderness.

C

They tempted God in ther herts: and required meat for their luste.

They spake agaynst God also, sayExo.16 b inge: Shall God prepare a • table in Nu.11 b the wildernesse.

He smote the stonye rocke in dede, that the water gushed oute, and the streames flowed withall: but can he geue breade also: or prouyde flesshe for hys people?

When the Lord heard this, he was wroth: so the fire was kindled in Jacob, and there came vp heauy displeasure agaynst Israell.

Because they beleued not in God, and put not theyr trust in his helpe.

So he commaunded the cloudes aboue, and opened the dores of heauen.

He reyned downe Manna also vpon them, for to eate, and gaue them • foode from heauen. Exo.16 b

So man dyd eate angels foode, for Deu.8.a he sent them meate ynough. Sa.16.d

He caused the East wynd to blow John.6 d vnder the heauē, & through his power he brought in the southwest wynd.

• He reyned flesshe vpon them, as Exo.16 d thicke as duste: and fethered fowles Nu.11 g lyke as the sand of the sea.

He let it fall among their tentes, euen round about their habitacion.

So they dyd eate, and were well fylled, for he gaue them their owne desyre: they were not dysapoynted of theyr luste. C

Nu.11 g • But whyle the meate was yet in theyr mouthes: the heauy wrath of God came vpon them, and slue the welthiest of them: yea, & smote downe the chosen men that were in Israel.

Nu.14 • But for all thys, they synned yet more, and beleued not hys wonderous workes.

Therfore their days did he consume in vanitye, & theyr yeares in trouble.

Nu.11 d • When he slewe them, they sought 1.Co.10 a hym, and turned them early, and enquired after God.

And they remembred that God was their strength: and that the hye God was their redemer.

Neuertheless, they did but flatter him with their mouths, & dyssembled with him in their tongs.

For theyr herte was not whole with him: neyther continued they stedfast in his couenaunt.

But he was so mercifull, that he forgaue theyr mysdedes, and destroyed them not.

Yea, manye a tyme turned he hys wrath away, and wold not suffer his whole displeasure to aryse.

• For he considered that they pſa.10 g were but flesshe: and that they were, euen a wynde that passeth away, and commeth not agayne.

E Manye a tyme dyd they prouoke hym in the wildernesse, and greued hym in the deserte.

They turned backe, & tempted god, and moued the holy one of Israel.

They thought not of his hand, and of the daye when he delyuered them from the hand of the enemye.

Howe he had wrought hys myracles in Egypt, and his wonders in the fielde of Zoan.

Exod.7d * He turned their waters into blood: so that they myght not drynke of the ryuers.

Exod.8d * He sent lyce among them, and deuoured them vp * and frogges to destroye them.

Exo.8b

He gaue theyr fruites vnto the Exod.8c * caterpiller: and theyr labour vnto the grashopper.

Exod.9f * He destroyed theyr wynes with hayle stones, and theyr mulbery trees with the frost.

Exod.9e * He smote theyr cattell also with hayle stones, and theyr flockes with hote thonderbolles.

He cast vpon thē the furiousnes of hys wrath, anger, displeasure & trouble, and sent euill angels amonge thē.

Exod.9,f * He made away to hys indignation: and spared not theyr soule from death: but gaue their lyfe ouer to the pestilence.

Exo.12e * And smote all the firste borne in Psa.105e Egipt, the most principall and mightiest in the dwellynges of Ham.

F

But as for his owne people, he led them forth lyke shepe: and caryed thē in the wildernes like a flocke.

He brought them oute safely, that they should not feare, and ouerwhelmed their enemyes with the sea.

And brought them within the borders of the sanctuary: euen into this mountaine which he purchased with his ryght hande.

Deu.3,a * He caste out the heathen, also before them, caused their lande to be deuyded amonge them for an heritage, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in theyr tentes.

So they tempted and displeased the moste hye God, and kepte not his testimonyes.

But turned theyr backes, and fell away lyke their forefathers: startyng asyde like a broken bowe.

For they greued him with theyr hill aulters, and prouoked him to displeasure with their ymages.

When god hard this, he was wroth and toke sore displeasure at Israell.

So that he forsoke the Tabernacle in Silo, euen the tente that he had pitched among them.

He delyuered their power into captiuitye, and theyr beawtye into the enemyes hande.

He gaue hys people ouer also into the sweard, and was wroth with his inherytaunce.

The fyre consumed theyr yonge men, and theyr maidens were not geuen to marryage.

The priestes were slayne with the sweard, and there were no wydowes to make lamentacion.

So the Lorde awaked as one out of slepe: and lyke a gyaunt refreshed with wyne.

1.Re.5b * He smote hys enemyes in the hynder partes, and put them to a perpetuall shame.

He refused the tabernacle of Joseph and chose not the tribe of Ephraim.

Psa.87a * But chose the tribe of Juda: euen the hill of Sion which he loued.

And there he buylded his temple on hye, and layde the foundacion of it lyke the grounde, whiche he hath made continually.

1Re.16e * He chose Dauid also hys seruaunte, and toke hym away from the shepe foldes.

As he was folowynge the ewes great with yong ons: he toke him, that he might fede Jacob his people, and Israell his inheritaunce.

So he fed them with a faythfull and true hearte, and ruled them prudently with all his power.

¶ The .lxxix. Psalme.

Deus venerunt gentes.

O God

A Moznig prayer.

O God the Hethen ar come into thy enheritaunce: thy holy temple haue they defiled and made Jerusalem an heape of stones.

1. pa. 36. 1. Mac. 7 Jer. 15. a and. 16. a

* The dead bodies of thy seruantes haue they geuen to be meate, vnto the foules of the ayre, and the flesshe of the saintes vnto the beastes of the lande.

Psal. 44,

Theyr bloode haue they shed lyke water on euery syde of Jerusalem, and there was no man to bury them.

* We are become an open shame vnto oure ennemyes, a verye scorne and derision vnto theym that are rounde about vs.

W

Lorde, how long wylt thou be angry? shall thy iealousy burne like fyre for euer?

Jere. 1. d and. 8. a Psal. 6. a and. 30.

* Poure out thyne indignation vpon the Heathen, that haue not knowen thee, and vppon the kyngdomes that haue not called vpon thy name.

Esa. 64. c

For they haue deuoured Jacob, and layde waste hys dwellyng place.

* O remembre not our olde sinnes, but haue mercy vpō vs, and that sone for we are come to great myserie.

Helpe vs, O God of our saluation for the glory of thy name.

O deliuer vs, and be mercifull vnto our synnes, for thy names sake.

Psa. 65 c

* Wherfore doo the Heathen saye: where is now their God?

O let the vengeance of thy seruantes blood that is shed, bee openly shewed vpon the Heathen in our sight.

O lette the sorowfull syghynge of the prisoners come before the: accordyng vnto the greateneſſe of thy power, preserue thou those that are appoynted to dye.

And as for the blasphemy (wherewith our neighbours haue blasphemed the) reward thou them, O lorde, seuen folde in their bosome.

So we, that be thy people & sheepe of thy pasture, shal geue the thankes for euer, and wyll alway be shewing forth thy prayse from generation to generation.

¶ The. lxxx. Psalme.

Qui regis Israel.

HEeare O thou shepehearde of Israell, thou that leadest Joseph like a shepe: shew thy self also thou ỳ sittest vpon ỳ Cherubins Before Ephraim, Ben Jamin, and Manasses: stere vp thy strengthe and come, helpe vs.

Turne vs again, O God, shew the lyght of thy countenance, and we shal be whole.

O Lord God of hostes, howe long wylt thou be angry with thy people that prayeth?

Pl. 42. 1

* Thou fedest them with the bread of teares, and geuest them plenteousnes of teares to drynke.

Pl. 42. 1

* Thou hast made vs a very strife vnto our neighbors: and our enemies laugh vs to scorne.

Turne vs agayn thou God of hostes, shewe vs the lyght of thy countenance, and we shal be whole. W

Thou hast brought a vyne out of Egypt, thou hast cast out the Heathē and planted it.

Thou hast made roome for it: and when it had taken rote, it filled ỳ land

The hylles were couered wyth the shadow of it, and the bowes ther of were lyke the goodly Cedre trees.

She stretched out her braunches vnto the sea, & her bowes vnto ỳ riuer.

Why hast thou then broken downe her hedge, that all they whiche goe by, plucke of her grapes?

The wyld Bore out of the wood dooth root it vp, and the wylde beastes of the field deuoureth it.

Turne thee agayne, thou God of Hostes, loke downe from heauen: beholde, and visite this vyne.

And the place of the vineyarde that thy right hande hath planted, and the braunche that thou madest so stronge for thy selfe.

2. pa. 36

* It is brent with fire, & cut downe and they shall perishe at the rebuke of thy countenaunce.

Let thy hande be vpon the man of thy right hande, and vpon the sonne of man whom thou madest so strong for thyne owne selfe.

And so wyll not we go backe from thee thee: Oh let vs liue, and we shall call vpon thy name.

Turne vs agayne, O Lorde God of hostes, shew the lyght of thy countenaunce, and we shalbe whole.

¶ The.lxxxi. Psalme.
Exultate deo.

I Synge we merely vnto God our strength: make a cherfull noyse vnto the god of Jacob.

Take the Psalme, bryng hyther the tabrete, the merye harpe, with the lute.

Blowe vp the trompet in the newe mone, euen in the time appointed, and vpon our solempne feast day.

Lem.20.a * For this was made a statute for Israel, & a law of the God of Jacob.

This he ordeyned in Joseph for a testimonye, when he came oute of the lande of Egypte, and had hearde a straunge language.

B I eased his shoulder from the burthen, and hys handes were delyuered from makyng the pottes.

Thou calledst vppon me in trou- Exo.3.b bles, and * I deliuered thee, and heard *Ex.17c thee, & what tyme as the stormе fell Exo.17b vpon thee: * I proued thee also at the *Nu.20b waters of stryfe. Sela.

Heare, O my people, and I wyll assure thee O Israell, yf thou wylte herken vnto me.

There shall no straunge God be in thee: neyther shalte thou worshyp any other God.

Exo.20.a * I am the Lorde thy God, which broughte thee oute of the lande of Egypte, open thy mouth wyde, and I shall fyll it.

But my people wold not heare my voyce: and Israell wold not obey me.

C * So I gaue them vp vnto their Rom.1.d owne hertes lust, and let them folow their owne imaginacion.

O that my people wolde haue herkened vnto me: for if Israel had walked in my wayes.

I sholde soone haue put downe their enemyes, and turned mine hand agaynst their aduersaryes.

The haters of the Lord shold haue bene founde lyers, but their tyme should haue endured for euer.

He should haue fed them also with the fynest wheat floure, and * with hony out of the stony rocke should I haue satisfyed thee. De.32.a

¶ The.lxxxii. Psalme.
Deus stetit in synagoga.

Euening prayer.

G Od standeth in the congregation of princes: he is iudge among * goddes. I Exo.22b

* How long wyll ye geue wronge iudgement, and accept the persons of the vngodly. Sela. *.de.17d Jere.5.a

Defende the poore and the fatherlesse: see that suche as be in nede and necessitye haue ryght.

Deliuer the out caste and poore: saue them from the hande of the vngodlye.

They will not be learned nor vnderstande, but walke on still in darknesse: all the foundacions of the earth be oute of course. W

I haue sayde: ye are Gods, and ye all are chyldren of the moste hyest.

But ye shall dye lyke men, and fal lyke one of the princes.

Aryse, O God, and iudge thou the earth, for thou shalt take all Heathen to thyne enherytaunce.

The.lxxxiii. Psalme.
Deus quis similis.

H Olde not thy tongue, o God, kepe not still scilence, refraine not thy selfe, O God. A

For lo * thine enemies make a mur- Psal.2.d muryng, and they that hate thee, haue lyfte vp their heade.

They haue ymagined craftely agaynst thy people, and taken counsell agaynste thy secrete ones.

They haue sayde: come, and let vs roote them oute, that they be no more a people, and that the name of Israell maye be no more in remembraunce.

For they haue caste theyr heades W together with one consente, and are confederate agaynst thee.

The tabernacles of the Edomites and and the Ismaelites: the Moabites, and Hagarenes.

Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalech: the Philistines with them that dwel at Tyre.

Assur also is ioyned vnto them, and haue holpen the childrē of Loth. Sela.

Iudi.7.c But do thou vnto them as vnto the Madianites, vnto Sisera, and vnto Iud.4.d Iabin at the broke of Kyson.

Which perished at Endor: and became as the donge of the earth.

Make them and their princes lyke

Iudi.7.g Oreb and Zeb.

Yea, make all theyr princes lyke as Zebea and Salmana.

Whiche sayde: let vs take to oure selues the houses of god in possession.

C O my God, make them lyke vnto

Psa.35.a a wheele, and as the stubble before the wynde.

Like as a fyre that burneth vp the wood, and as the flame that consumeth the mountaynes.

Persecute them euen so with thy tempest, and make them afraied with thy stormе.

Make their faces ashamed, o Lord: that they may seke thy name.

Let them be confounded and vexed euer more and more: let them be put to shame, and perysshe.

And they shall knowe, that thou (whose name is Iehoua) art oneiye the most hyest ouer all the earth.

C The.lxxxiii. Psalme.

Quam dilecta tabernacula.

A Dowe amiable are thy dwellynges, thou Lord of hostes!

My soule hath a desire and longynge to enter into the courtes of the Lord: my herte and my flesshe reioyce in the lyuyng God.

Yea, the sparowe hath foundeher an house, and the swalowe a nestе, where she maye laye her yonge: euen thy aulters, O Lord of Hostes, my kynge and my God.

Blessed are they that dwell in thy house, they will be alwaye prayinge thee. Sela.

Blessed is that man whose strēgth is in the: in whose hert are thy ways.

Which goyng thorowe the vale of misery vse it for a well, and the pooles are filled with water.

They will go from strength to strength: and vnto the God of goddes appeareth euery one of thē in Sion.

O Lorde God of hostes, heare my prayer: herken, O GOD of Jacob. Sela.

Behold, O God our defender: and B loke vpon the face of thine anoynted.

For one day in thy courtes, is better then a thousande.

I had rather be a dore keper in the house of my God, then to dwel in the tentes of vngodlinesse.

For the Lorde God is a lyght and defence, the Lorde wyll gene grace and worshyppe: and no good thynge shall he withholde from them that lyue a godlye lyfe.

O Lord god of hostes, blessed is the man, that putteth his trust in the.

The.lxxxv. Psalme.

Benedixisti domine.

L Orde thou art become gracious A vnto thy land, thou haste turned awaye the captiuitie of Jacob.

Thou haste forgeuen the offence of thy people, and ✱ couered all theyr Psa.32.a synnes. Sela.

Thou hast taken away al thy displeasure, and turned thy selfe from thy wrathfull indignacion.

Turne vs then, O God our sauiour, & let thine anger cease from vs.

Wylt thou be displeased at vs for euer? and wylt thou stretch oute thy wrath frō one generacion to another.

Wylte thou not turne agayne and quicken vs, that thy people maye reioyce in thee?

Shewe vs thy mercy, O Lorde, and graunt vs thy saluacion.

I will herken what the Lord god B wyl say (concernyng me) for he shall speake peace vnto his people, & to his sayntes that they turne not agayne.

For his saluacion is nye thē y feare him, that glory may dwel in our land.

Mercy

Mercye and trueth are met together: ryghteousnes and peace have kyssed eche other.

Trueth shall florysshe oute of the earth: and ryghteousnes hath loked downe from heauen.

Yea, the Lorde shall shewe louyng kyndnesse: and oure lande shall geue her encrease.

Righteousnes shal go before him: & he shal direct his goyng in the way.

The.lxxxvi.Psalme.

Inclina domine aurem.

Morning prayer.

B Owe downe thyne eare, O Lorde, and heare me: for I am poore and in misery.

Preserue thou my soule, for I am holy: my God saue thy seruaunt, that putteth his trust in thee.

Be mercifull vnto me (O Lord) for I wyll call dayly vpon thee.

Comforte the soule of thy seruant: for vnto thee (O Lorde) do I lyfte vp my soule.

Exo.34a Jer.32d Joel.2.e Psa.143d

* For thou Lord art good and gracious: and of greate mercye vnto all them that call vpon thee.

Geue eare Lorde vnto my prayer: and ponder the voyce of my humble desyres.

In the time of my trouble I will call vpon thee, for thou hearest me.

Psa.89a

* Among the goddes there is none lyke vnto thee (O Lord) there is not one that can do as thou doest.

All nacions whom thou hast made shall come and worshyp the, O Lord, and shall glorifye thy name.

For thou art great, and doest wonderous thinges: thou art God alone.

Teache me thy waye, (O Lord) and I wyll walke in thy trueth: O knytte my hert vnto thee, that it may feare thy name.

I wyll thanke thee, O Lorde my God, with all my harte, and wyll prayse thy name for euer.

Psa.89a

For great is thy mercy toward me: and * thou haste deliuered my soule from the nethermoste hell.

O God, the proud are risen against me, and the congregacion of naughty men haue sought after my soule, and haue not set thee before their eyes.

Exo.34a Jer.11d

* But thou, O Lorde God, arte full of compassion, and mercye, longe sufferynge, plenteous in goodnes and trueth.

O turne thee then vnto me & haue mercye vppon me: geue thy strength vnto thy seruant, and helpe the sonne of thyne handmayde.

Shewe some token vpō me for good, that they whiche hate me, may see it, and be ashamed, because thou Lorde hast holped me, and comforted me.

The.lxxxvii.Psalme.

Fundamenta eius.

H Er foundacions are vpon the holy hylles: the Lorde loueth the gates of Sion more then all the dwellynges of Jacob.

Very excellent thynges are spoken of thee, thou citye of God. Sela.

I will thynke vpon Rahab and Babylon, with them that know me.

Beholde, yea the Philistines also, and they of Tyre with the Morrians: lo, there was he borne.

And of Sion shalbe reported, that he was borne in her, and the moost hyest shall stablyshe her.

The Lord shall rehearse it, when he writeth vp the people, that he was borne there. Sela.

The singers also and trompetters shall be rehearse: all my freshe springes shalbe in thee.

The.lxxxviii.Psalme.

Domine deus salutis.

O Lorde God of my saluacion, I haue cryed daye and nyght before thee.

Oh let my prayer enter into thy presence, encline thyne eare vnto my callynge.

For my soule is ful of trouble: and my lyfe draweth nye vnto hell.

I am counted as one of them that go downe vnto the pytte, and I haue bene euen as a man that hath no strength.

Free

B Free amonge the deade, lyke vnto thẽthat be woũded, & lye in the graue which be out of remembrance, and are cut away from thy hand.

Thou hast laid me in the lowest pit: in a place of darknes, and in the depe.

Thyne indignation lieth hard vpon me, and thou hast vexed me with all thy stormes. Sela.

Thou hast put away myn acquaintaunce farre from me, and made me to be abhorred of them: I am so faste in prison, that I can not get foorth.

My sight faileth for very trouble: Lord I haue called dayly vpon thee, I haue stretched oute myne handes vnto thee.

Psal.5.a Esa.38d * Doest thou shew wonders amõg the deade? Or shall the dead ryse vp agayn, and prayse thee?

C Shall thy louing kindnesse be shewed in the graue, or thy faithfulnesse in destruction?

Shall thy wonderous workes be knowen in the darke, and thy righteousnes in the land, where all thynges are forgotten?

Vnto thee haue I cried, O Lorde, and early shall my prayer comme before thee.

Lord, why abhorrest thou my soule? and hydest thou thy face fro me?

I am in myserie, and like vnto him that is at the point to die (euen fro my youth vp) thy terrours haue I suffered with a troubled mynde.

D Thy wrathful displesure gothouer me, & the feare of thee hath vndon me.

They came rounde about me dayly lyke water, and compassed me togyther on euery syde.

My louers and frendes haste thou put away fro me, and hydde myne acquaintance out of my sight.

¶ The.lxxxix. Psalme.

Misericordias domini.

Euening prayer.

A Psl.101. MY song shalbe alway of the louyng kyndnes of the lord. with my mouth will I euer be shewynge thy truthe from one generation to an other.

For I haue sayde: mercie shalbe set vp for euer, thy trueth thou shalt stablishe in the heauens.

2 Re.5.a * I haue made a couenaunte wyth my chosen, I haue swore vnto Dauid my seruant.

2 Re.7.b Psa.132 Psa.19.a * Thy seede will I stablishe for euer, and set vp thy throne from one generacion to to another. Sela.

O Lorde * the verye heauens shall prayse thy wonderous woorkes, and thy trueth in the congregation of the saintes.

B Psal.70.a For who is he amonge the clondes that shalbe compared vnto the Lorde?

And what is he among the godds that shalbe lyke vnto the Lord?

God is very greatly to be feared in the councell of the sainctes, and to bee had in reuerence of all theym that are aboute him.

O Lord God of hostes, who is like vnto thee? thy trueth (moste mightye Lord) is on euery syde. Exo.14d Mat.8.b

* * Thou rulest the raging of the sea, thou stillest the waues therof, when they aryse.

Thou hast subdued Egipt and destroied it, thou hast scattred thine enemyes abrode wyth thy myghty arme.

The heauens are thyne, the earthe also is thyne: thou hast layd the foundation of the hole worlde, and all that therin is. C

Thou haste made the north and the South, Tabor and Hermon shall reioyce in thy name.

Thou hast a myghty arme, stronge is thy hand, and hye is thy right hãd.

Righteousnesse and equitie is the habitation of thy seate, mercye and truth shall go before thy face.

Blessed is the people (O Lord) that can reioyce in thee: they shall walke in the lyght of thy countenance.

Their delight shall be dayly in thy name, and in thy ryghteousnes shall they make their boast.

For thou arte the glorye of their strength, and in thy louing kindnesse thou shalt lift vp our hornes. Esai.1

For * the Lorde is our defence: the holy one of Israel, is our kynge.

Thou

Thou spakest sometime in visions vnto thy sayntes, and saydest: I haue layed helpe vpon one that is mightie, I haue exalted one chosen oute of the people.

* I haue founde Dauid my Seruaunt: with my holy oyle haue I annoynted hym.

Act.13.d
Re 16d

My hande shall hold him fast, and myne arme shall strengthen him.

2 Re.5.a

The enemy shal not be able to doe him vyolence, the sonne of wickednes shal not hurt him.

I shal smite downe his foes before his face, and plage thē that hate him.

My trueth also and my mercy shalbe wyth him, and in my name shal his horne be exalted.

* I wil set his dominion also in the sea, and hys ryght hand in the floods.

2 Re.8.a

He shal call me: thou art my father my God and my stronge saluation.

And I will make him my fyrste borne, hyer then the kinges of the erth

E

My mercye wyll I keepe for hym for euermore, and my couenaunt shall stande fast with him.

His sede also wil I make to endure for euer, and his throne as the dayes of heauen.

But if his children forsake my law, and walke not in my iudgementes.

3 Re. 9b

* If they breake my statutes and kepe not my commaundementes.

Exo.20a

* I wyll visite theyr offences wyth the rod, and theyr sin wyth scourges.

Neuertheless, my louynge kyndnesse will I not vtterlye take from hym, nor suffre my truth to fayle.

My couenaunte wyl I not breake: nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lyppes.

Act.7.f.

I haue sworne once by my holines: that * I wyl not fayle Dauid.

F

Psa.72.a

His seede shall endure for euer, and his seate is lyke as the sunne before me.

He shall stand fast for euermore as the moone, and as the faythfull witnes in heauen. Selah.

But thou hast abhorred and forsaken thyne annointed, and art displeased at him.

Thou hast broken the couenant of thy seruaunt, and caste his crowne to the g round.

Thou haste ouerthrowen all hys hedges, and broken downe into hys strong holdes.

Psa.20d

All they that go by, spoile him: and he is becom a rebuke vnto his neighboures.

Thou hast set vp the ryghte hand of his enemyes: and made all hys aduersaries to reioyse.

Thou hast taken awaye the edge of his swearde: and geuest him not victorye in the battaile.

Thou hast put out his glorye: and caste his throne downe to the ground.

G

The dayes of his youth haste thou shortened: and couered him wyth dishonour. Sela.

Lord, how longe wilte thou hyde thy selfe for euer? and shall thy wrath burne lyke fyre?

Remembre, how short my time is: wherefore hast thou made all men for naught?

* What man is he that lyueth, and shall not see death? and shal he delyuer his owne soule from the hand of hell? Selah.

Gen.2.c

Lord, where are thy old louing kyndnesses, which thou swarest vnto Dauid in thy trueth?

Remembre (Lord) the rebuke that thy seruantes haue: and how I doe beare in my bosome the rebukes of many people.

Wherewith thyne ennemyes haue blasphemed thee, and slaunder the footsteppes of thyne anoynted.

Praysed be the Lord, for euermore. Amen.

¶ The.xc. Psalme.

Domine refugium.

Morning prayer.

A

LOrde, thou hast bene our refuge: from one generation to another.

Before the mountaynes were brought forth, or euer the earth and the worlde were made, thou arte God from euerlastynge, and worlde wythout ende.

Thou turnest man to destruction. Agayne, thou sayest: Comme againe ye chyldren of men.

2.cor.7.c
2.Pe.3.b
* For a thousand yeres in thy sight ar but as yesterday, seyng that is past as a watche in the nyght.

As soone as thou scatterest theim, they are euen as a sleepe: and fade away sodeynly lyke the grasse.

In the mornyng it is greene, and groweth vp, but in the euening it is cut downe (dryed vp) and withered.

For we consume away in thy displeasure, and are afrayd at thy wrath full indignation.

Thou hast set our misdedes before thee, and oure secrete synnes in the lyght of thy countenance.

For when thou art angry, all our days ar gone, we bryng our yeres to an ende, as it were a tale that is told.

The dayes of our age are thre score yeares and ten: and though men be so stronge, that they come to foure score yeares: yet is their strength then but labour and sorowe: so soone passeth it away, and we are gone.

¶ But who regardeth the power of thy wrathe: for euen thereafter as a man feareth, so is thy displeasure.

Psa.39.a
* O teach vs, to numbre our days, that we may apply our heartes vnto wysedome.

Turne thee agayn (O Lord) at the last, & be gracious vnto thy seruants.

O satisfie vs with thy mercy, and that soone: so shall we reioyce and be glad all the dayes of our lyfe.

Comforte vs agayne, nowe after the tyme that thou haste plagued vs, and for the yeares wherein we haue suffred aduersitie.

Shew thy seruantes thy worke: and theyr chyldren thy glory.

And the glorious maiestie of the Lorde our God bee vppon vs: Prosper thou the worke of our hands vpon vs, O prospere thou oure handye woorke.

¶ The.xci. Psalme.

Qui habitat.

Who so dwelleth vnder the defence of the most hyest, shall abyde vnder the shadowe of the Almightie.

I will saye vnto the Lorde: Thou arte my hope, and my strong hold, my God, in hym wyll I trust.

For he shall delyuer thee from the snare of the hunter, and from the noysome pestilence.

He shall defend the vnder his wynges, and thou shalte be safe vnder hys fethers: his faithfulnesse and truthe shalbe thy shielde and buckler.

Thou shalte not be afrayde for any terrour by nyght, nor for the arrowe that fleeth by day.

B For the pestilence that walketh in the darknes, nor for the sickenes that destroyeth in the noone daye.

A thousande shall fall beside thee, and ten thousande at thy right hand: but it shall not come nye thee.

Yea, with thyn eyes thou shalt beholde, and see the rewarde of the vngodlye.

For thou Lorde arte my hope, thou hast set thyn house of defence very hye.

There shall no euyll happen vnto thee: neyther shall any plague comme nye thy dwellyng.

Mat.4.d
Luk.4.b
* For he shal gene his angels charge ouer the, to kepe thee in all thy ways.

They shall beare thee in their handes, that thou hurt not thy foote agaynst a stone.

Thou shalte go vppon the Lyon and Adder, the yonge Lyon and the Dragon shalt thou treade vnder thy feete.

Because he hath sette his loue vpon me, therfore shal I delyuer hym: I shall sette hym vp, because he hath knowen my name.

* He shall call vpon me, and I wil heare hym: yea, I am wyth hym in trouble: I wyll delyuer hym, and bryng hym to honour.

With long lyfe wyl I satisfy hym: and shewe hym my saluation.

¶ The.xcii. Psalme.

Bonum est confiteri.

It

A Heb.13.a

IT • is a good thyng to geue thankes vnto the Lorde: and to sing prayses vnto thy name O moste hyest.

To tell of thy louyng kyndnesse early in the morynge, and of thy trueth in the nyght season.

Upon an instrument of ten stringes, and vpon the lute: vpon a low de instrument, and vpon the harpe.

For thou Lord haste made me glad through thy workes: and I wyll reioyce in geuyng prayse for the operations of thy handes.

O Lorde, howe glorious are thy workes: thy thoughts are very depe.

B In vnwyse man doeth not well consider this: and a foole doeth not vnderstande it.

When the vngodly are greene as the grasse, and when all the workes of wickednes do florysshe: then shall they be destroyed for euer.

But thou Lorde, arte the moste hyest for euermore.

For lo, thyne enemyes, O Lorde, lo thyne enemyes shall perysshe, and all the workers of wyckednes shalbe destroyed.

But my horne shalbe exalted lyke the horne of an Unicorne, for I am anoynted with freshe oyle.

C Myne eye also shall see hys luste of myne enemyes: and myne eare shal heare hys desyre of the wicked that ryse vp agaynst me.

The righteous shall florysshe lyke a palme tree, and shall spreade abrode lyke a Ceder in Libanus.

Such as be planted in the house of the Lord, shall florysshe in the courtes (of the house) of the Lord.

They shall also brynge forth more fruite in their age: and shalbe fat and well lykynge.

That they maye shewe, howe true the Lord my strength is: and that ther is no vnrighteousnes in hym.

¶ The.xciii. Psalme.

Dominus regnauit.

THe Lorde is kynge, and hath put on glorious apparell: the Lord hath put on his apparell, and gyrded him selfe with strength. Euening prayer. A

• He hath made the round world so sure, that it cannot be moued. Psa.24.a

Euer sence the world began hath thy seate bene prepared: thou art from euerlastynge.

• The floudes are rysen, O Lorde, the floudes haue lyfte vp their noyse: the floudes lyft vp the waues. Psa.46.a

The waues of the sea are mightye, and rage horrible: but yet the Lorde that dwelleth on hye, is mightier.

Thy testimonyes, O Lorde, are very sure, holynesse becommeth thyne house for euer.

¶ The.xciiii. Psalme.

Deus vltionum.

O Lord God to whom vengeaunce belongeth: thou God to whom vengeaunce belongeth, shewe thy selfe. A Deu.22.e Ro.12.d

Ryse thou iudge of the worlde, and reward the proude after theyr deseruynge.

Lord how long shall the vngodly? how long shal the vngodly triumph?

Howe long shall all wicked doers speake so disdaynfully, and make such proude boastynge?

They smyte downe thy people, O Lorde, and trouble thyne heritage.

They murther the wyddowe and the straunger, and put the fatherlesse to death. B

And yet they saye: tushe • the Lord shall not see, neyther shall the God of Iacob regarde it. Psa.23.b

Take hede, ye vnwyse among the people: O ye fooles, when wyll ye vnderstande.

He that planted the eare, shall he not heare? or he that made the eye, shall he not see?

Or he that nurtereth the heathen, it is he that teacheth man knowlege: shall he not punyshe?

• The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are but vayne. 1.Co.3.b

Blessed is the man, whom thou chastenest (O Lorde) and teachest him in thy lawe.

That thou mayest geue him patience in time of aduersitie, vntill the pit be digged vp for the vngodlye.

For the Lorde will not fayle his people, neyther wyl he forsake his inheritaunce.

Until ryghteousnes tourne agayne vnto iudgement: al suche as be true of heart shal folow it.

Who will ryse vp with me against the wicked? Or who will take my part against the euill doers.

If the Lorde had not helped mee, it had not fayled: but my soule had bene put to silence.

Psa.32.d
Iob.13.c
Luk.15.d
1 Ioh.1.b
2 Co.1.a

*But when I said: my foote hath slipped, thy mercy O lord held me vp.

*In the multitude of the sorowes that I had in my heart, thy comfortes haue refreshed my soule.

Wilte thou haue anye thinge to doe with the scoole of wickednes, which ymagineth mischefe as a lawe?

They gather them together against the soule of the ryghteous, and condemne the innocent blud.

But the Lord is my refuge, and my God is the strength of my confidēce.

Her shall recompence theym their wickednes, and destroy them in their owne malice: yee the Lorde oure God shal destroye them.

¶ The.xcb. Psalme.

Venite exultemus.

Morning prayer.

A Eph.5.d

O Come, let vs singe vnto the Lorde: *let vs hertely reioise in the strēgth of our saluatiō.

Let vs come before his presēce with thankesgeuinge, and shewe our selfe glad in him with Psalmes.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great king aboue all Goddes.

In his hande are all the corners of the earth, and the strength of the hilles is his also.

The sea is hys, and he made it, and hys handes prepared the dry land.

O come, let vs worshippe and fall downe: and knele before the LORD our maker.

For he is the Lorde our God: and we are the people of his pasture, and the shepe of his handes.

Heb.3.b

To day yf ye will heare his voice, harden not your hertes as in the prouocation: and as in the day of temptation in the wildernes.

When youre fathers tempted mee, proued me, and sawe my workes.

Forty yeares long was I greued with that generation, and said: it is a people that do erre in their herts, for they haue not knowne my waies.

Num.14.f
Heb.4.d

*Unto whō I sware in my wrath that they shuld not enter into my rest.

¶ The.xcbi. Psalme.

Cantate domino.

O Syng vnto the Lord a newe song: singe vnto the Lorde all the whole earth.

Sing vnto the Lord and praise his name: dy telling of his saluation from day to day.

Declare his honour vnto the Heathen, and his wonders vnto all people.

Psa.47.a
Ecc.43.d

*For the Lorde is great, and canne not worthely be prayed: he is more to be feared *then all goddes.

As for al the goddes of the heathen they be but Idoles: but it is the Lord that made the heauen.

Glory and worship are before hym: power and honor ar in his sanctuary.

Ascribe vnto the Lord, (O ye kynredes of the people) ascribe vnto the Lord, worship and power.

B Psa.29.a

Ascrybe vnto the Lord the honoure due vnto his name: bringe presentes, and come into hys courtes.

O worship the Lord in the bewtie of holynes: let the whole earth stande in awe of hym.

Tell it out among the heathē that the Lorde is kinge: and that it is hee which hath made the round worlde so faste, that it canne not bee moued, and howe that hee shall iudge the people righteouslye.

Let the heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad: let the sea make a noise, and and all that therin is: let the felde bee ioyfull, and all that is in it: Then shal all the trees of the woode reioice, before the Lorde.

For he cōmeth: for he commeth to iudge the earth.

And wyth ryghteousnes to iudge the worlde, and the people with his truthe.

The.xcvii. Psalme.

Dominus regnauit.

THe Lord is king, the earth may be glad therof: yea, the multitude of the Iles may be gladde therof.

Cloudes and darkenes are rounde about hym, ryghteousnes and iudgemente are the habitation of his seate.

There shall goe a fyre before hym, and bourne hys ennemyes on euerye syde.

His lyghteninges gaue shine vnto the worlde, the earth sawe it, and was afrayde.

The hilles melted lyke waxe at ỹ presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

The heauens haue declared hys ryghteousnes, and all the people haue sene hys glory.

Confounded be all they that worshippe carued ymages: and that delite in vayne goddes, worshyp him all yee goddes.

Sion hearde of it and reioyced: and the daughters of Iuda wer glad because of thy iudgementes, O Lord.

For thou Lord art hier then all that ar in the earth, thou art exalted farre aboue all goddes.

O ye that loue the Lorde, see that ye hate the thing whiche is euill: the Lord preserueth the soules of his saintes, hee shall deliuer theym from the hand of the vngodly.

There is spronge vp a light for the ryghteous, and a ioyfull gladnesse for suche as be true hearted.

Reioyce in the Lord ye righteous: and geue thankes for a remembrance of his holynes.

The.xcviii. Psalme.

Cantate domino,

SYng vnto the Lord a newe song: for he hath doone marueloꝰ thynges.

With hys owne ryght hand and wyth hys holy arme hath he gotten hym selfe the victory.

The Lorde declared his saluation, his righteousnes hath he openly shewed in the sight of the heathen.

He hath remembred hys mercy and trueth towarde the house of Israell: and al the endes of the worlde haue sene the saluation of our God.

Shewe youre selues ioyfull vnto the Lorde all ye landes, singe, reioyce, and geue thankes.

Prayse the Lord vpon the harpe, singe to the harpe wyth a Psalme of thankesgeuing.

Wyth trompets also and shawmes: O shewe youre selues ioyfull before the Lord the king.

Let the Sea make a noyse, and all that therin is, the rounde worlde and they that dwelle therin.

Lette the fluddes clappe theyr handes, & let the hilles be ioyful together, before the Lorde, for hee is comme to iudge the earth.

Wyth ryghteousnes shall he iudge the worlde, & the people with equitie.

The.xcix. Psalme

Dominus regnauit.

THe Lorde is kynge, be the people neuer so vnpacient: he sitteth betweene the Cherubins of the earth, be the earth neuer so vnquiete.

The Lorde is greate in Sion, and hye aboue all people.

They shal geue thankes vnto thy name which is gret wonderful & holy

The kinges power loueth iudgement, thou hast prepared equitie, thou hast executed iudgement and ryghteousnes in Iacob.

O magnifie the Lorde our GOD and fal downe before hys footestoole, for he is holy.

Moses and Aaron among his prestes, and Samuell among such as cal vpon hys name: these called vpon the Lord, and he heard them.

Hee spake vnto theym oute of the cloudie piller, for they kepte hys testimonyes: and the lawe that he gaue theym.

Thou heardest them (O Lorde our God) thou forgauest them Oh God, and punishedst their owne inuencions.

O magnifie the Lord our God, and worship him vpon his holye hyll, for the Lord our God is holy.

The .C. Psalme.

Iubilate deo.

Be ioyfull in the Lord, all ye Landes, serue the Lorde with gladnes, and come before his presence wyth a sōg.

Bee ye sure, that the Lorde he is God: It is he that hath made vs, and not we our selues: we are his people and the sheepe of hys pasture.

O goe youre waye into hys gates wyth thankesgeuinge: and into hys courtes with praise: be thankful vnto him, and speake good of hys name.

For the Lord is gracious, his mercy is euerlasting, and his truth endureth from generation to generation.

The .Ci. Psalme.

Misericordiam et.

My song shalbe of mercy and iudgemente: vnto thee (O Lord) will I syng.

O let me haue vnderstandynge in the way of godlines.

When wylte thou come vnto mee? I will walke in my house with a perfecte hearte.

I wyll take no wycked thinge in hand, I hate the synne of vnfaythfulnes there shall no such cleue vnto me.

A froward hearte shall depart from me, I will not know a wycked person.

Who so priuely slaundreth his nebour, him will I destroye.

Who so hath also a proude loke, and an hie stomacke, I will not suffer him.

Myne eyes looke vnto such as be faythfull in the lande, that they maye dwel wyth me: who so leadeth a godly lyfe, he shalbe my seruaunt.

There shall no deceitfull persōne dwel in my house: he that telleth lies, shal not tary in my sight.

I shal sone destroye all the vngodlye that are in the lande: that I maye roote oute all wycked doers from the citie of the Lorde.

The .Cii. Psalme.

Domine exaudi orationem.

Morning prayer.

Heare my prayer, O Lorde, and let my crying come in vnto thee. Psl.143

Hyde not thy face from mee in the time of my trouble: encline thine eares vnto mee when I call, O heare mee, and that ryght soone.

For my dayes are consumed awaye lyke smoke, and my bones are brēt vp as it were a fyre brande.

My hearte is smitten downe, and withered lyke grasse, so that I forget to eate my breade.

For the voyce of my groninge, my bone will scarse cleaue to my flesh.

I am becomme lyke a Pellicane of the wildernes: and lyke an owle that is in the desert.

I haue watched and am euen as it were a sparow, that sitteth alone vpon the house toppe.

Myne enmemyes reuyle mee all the daye long: and they that are made vpon me, are sworne together agaynste me.

For I haue eaten ashes as it were breade, and mingled my drynke wyth weepynge.

And that because of thyne indignation and wrath, for thou haste taken me vp, and cast me downe.

My dayes are gone lyke a shadow: and I am withered lyke grasse.

But thou, O Lorde, shalte endure for euer, & thy remembrance throughout all generacions.

Thou shalte aryse, and haue mercy vpon

C Vpon Syon, for it is tyme that thou Esd.1.a. haue mercy vpon her, yea the tyme is come.

And why? thy seruauntes thinke vpon her stones, and it pitieth them to see her in the dust.

The Heathen shall feare thy name O Lord, and al the kinges of the erth thy maiestie.

Whan the Lorde shall buylde vppe Syon, and whan hys glory shall appeare.

Whē he turneth him vnto the prayer of the poore destitute, and despiseth not theyr desyre.

This shalbe written for those that Psa.22.g com after: and the people which shal bee borne, shall prayse the Lorde.

For he hath loked downe from hys Sanctuary, out of the heauen did the Lord behold the earth.

That hee myghte heare the mournynges of such as be in captiuitie, and delyuer the children appoynted vnto death.

D That they maye declare the name of the Lorde in Sion, and hys worshyp at Ierusalem.

When the people are gathered together, and the kyngdomes also to serue the Lorde.

He brought downe my strength in my iourney: and shortened my dayes.

But I saide, O my God, take mee not away in the middest of myne age: as for thy yeres, they endure throughout all generations.

Gen.1.a, * Thou Lord in the beginning hast Hebr.1.c laied ỹ foundations of the earth, and the heauēs ar the worke of thy hands.

They shal perish, but thou shalt endure: they all shall were olde as doeth a garment, and as a vesture shalt thou chaunge theym, and they shalbe changed.

But thou art the same, and thy yeares shal not faile.

The children of thy seruantes shall continue, and their sede shal stand fast in thy syght.

C The.Ciii.Psalme.
Benidic anima mea.

PRayse the Lord, O my soule, and al that is within me, prayse his holy name. Psl.104a

Prayse the Lorde, O my soule, and forget not his benefites.

Which forgeueth all thy sinne, and healeth all thine infirmities.

Which sauyth my lyfe from destruction, and crowneth thee with mercye and louynge kindnes.

Whiche satisfied thy mouthe wyth good thynges, making thy young and lustie as an Eagle.

The Lord executeth ryghteousnes
V and iudgement, for all theym that are oppressed wyth wronge.

He shewed hys wayes vnto Moyses, hys workes vnto the children of Israell.

* The Lorde is full of compassion, Exo.34a and mercye: longe sufferynge, and of Psa.16c greate goodnes.

He wil not alwaye be chiding, neither kepeth he hys anger for euer.

He hath not dealt with vs after our sinnes, nor rewarded vs according to oure wyckednesses.

* For loke how hie the heauen is in cōparison of the earth: so great is hys Psa.57b mercy also towarde thē that fear him.

Loke howe wide also the Easte is from the weast, so farre hath hee sette our sinnes from vs.

Ye, like as a father pitieth his owen children, euen so is the Lorde merciful vnto them that feare him.

For he knoweth wherof we be made
* he remembreth that we are but dust. C

The days of man are but as grasse: Psa.78b for he floryisheth as a floure of ỹ field.

For assoone as the winde goeth ouer it, it is gone: and the place thereof shall knowe it no more.

But the mercifull goodnes of the Lorde endureth for euer and euer, vpon them that feare hym, and his righteousnes vpon childrens children.

Euen vpon such as kepe his couenaunt, and thinke vpon hys commaūdementes to do them.

The Lorde hath prepared his seate in heauen, and his kingedome ruleth euer all.

O prayse the Lord ye angels of his, ye that excell in strength: ye that fulfyll his commaundemente, & herken vnto the voyce of his wordes.

O prayse the Lorde all ye hys hostes, ye seruauntes of hys, that do hys pleasure.

O speake good of the Lorde all ye workes of hys, in all places of hys dominion: prayse thou the Lorde, O my soule.

¶ The. C.iii. Psalme.

Benedic anima mea.

3 Psl.105a

PRayse the Lord, O my soule: O Lord my God, thou art become exceadyng gloryous thou arte clothed with maiestye, and honoure.

Thou deckest thy selfe with light, as it were with a garment, and spredest out the heauens like a curtayne.

Which layeth the beames of hys chambers in the waters, and maketh the cloudes his charet, and walketh vpon the wynges of the wynde.

Hebr. 1.c * He maketh his angels spyrytes, and his ministers a flamyng fire.

He layde the foundations of the earth, that it shoulde not moue at any tyme.

Thou couerdst it wyth the deepe lyke as wyth a garment: the waters stand in the hylles.

Psl.106c At thy rebuke they flie, at thy voice of thy thunder they are afrayde.

They go vp as hye as the hylles, and downe to the valleis beneth: euen vnto the place whiche thou hast appoynted for them.

Iob.26c and.38,a Iere. 5.c * Thou hast set them theyr bondes whyche they shall not passe, neyther tourne agayn to couer the earthe.

He sendeth † spryngs into the ryuers, which runneth among the hils.

All beastes of the fyelde drynke therof: and the wylde asses quenche theyr thyrste.

Besyde them shal the foules of the ayre haue theyr habitation, and synge among the braunches.

He watereth the hylles frome aboue, the earthe is fylled wyth the fruite of thy workes.

He bringeth forth grasse for the cattell, and grene herbe for the seruice of men: that he may * bryng fode oute of the earth: and wyne that maketh glad the hearte of man, and oyle to make him a chearefull countenaunce, and bread to strength mans herte. Gen. 1.d

The trees of the Lord also are ful of sappe, euen the Ceders of Libanus which he hath planted. C

Wherein the byrdes make their nestes, and the firre trees are a dwellynge for the storke.

The hye hylles are a refuge for the wylde goates, and so are the stonye rockes for the conyes.

He appoynted the Moone for certayne seasons, and the Sunne knoweth hys goyng downe.

Thou makest darkenesse, that it may be nyght, wherin all the beastes of the forest do moue.

The lyons roarynge after theyr praye to seke their meate at God.

The Sunne aryseth, and they get them away together, and laye them downe in their dennes.

* Man goeth forth to his worke, and to his labour vntyll the euenyng. Gen.3.d

* O Lorde, howe manyfolde are thy workes: in wysedome hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy ryches. Psa.92.f

So is the great and wide sea also, wherin are thinges creping innumerable, both smal and great beastes.

There go the shippes, and there is that * Leuiathan, whom thou hast made, to take hys pastime therin. Esa.27a Iob.40d

* They wayt all vpō the, that thou mayest gene them meat in due season. Psa.64a pſ. 145f

When thou genest it them they gather it: and when thou openest thyne hand, they are fylled with good. D

When thou hydest thy face, they are troubled: when thou takest away their breath they dye, and are turned agayne to their duste.

When thou lettest thy breath go forth, they shalbe made, and thou shalt renue the face of the earth.

The glorious maiestie of the Lord shall endure forever: the Lorde shall reioyce reioyce in his worckes.

The earth shall tremble at the loke of hym: if he do but touch the hylles, they shall smoke.

I wyll synge vnto the Lorde, as long as I liue: I will prayse my God whyle I haue my beyng.

And so shal my wordes please him: my ioye shalbe in the Lorde.

As for synners, they shalbe consumed oute of the earth, and the vngodlye shall come to an end: * prayse thou the Lorde, O my soule, Prayse the Lorde.

Psl.103a

Morning prayer.

¶ The.Cb.Psalme.
Confitemini domino.

1.pa.16b Esa.12a

* Geue thankes vnto the Lord, and call vpō his name: tell the people what thinges he hath done.

O let your songes be of him, and prayse him, and let your talkyng be of all his wonderous worckes.

Reioyce in his holy name: let ꝑ hert of them reioyce that seke the Lord.

Seke the Lorde, and his strength: seke his face euermore.

Remember the marueloꝰ worckes that he hath done, his wonders and the iudgementes of his mouth.

O ye sede of Abraham his seruant: ye childzen of Jacob his chosen.

He is the Lord our God: his iudgementes are in all the world.

He hath bene alway mindful of his couenaunt and promise, that he made to a thousande generacions.

Gen.17b * Euen the couenaunt that he made Ge.26a with Abraham, and * the othe that he sware vnto Jsahac.

Gen.28c * And apoynted the same vnto Jacob for a lawe, and to Jsraell for an euerlastyng testament.

Sayinge: vnto thee wyll I geue the lande of Canaan, the lot of youre inheritaunce.

When there was yet but a fewe of them, and they strangers in the land.

What time as they went from one nacion to another, from one kyngedome to another people.

* He suffered no man to do them wronge: but reproued euen kynges for theyr sakes. Ge.14.d

Touche not mine annoynted: and do my prophetes no harme.

Moreouer, he called for a dearthe vpon the lande, and destroyed all the prouision of breade.

* But he had sente a man before them: euen Joseph, whych was sold to be a bounde seruaunt. Ge,45.d

Whose fete they hurte in the stockes * the yron entred into his soule. Luke.2e Untyll the tyme came that hys cause was knowen: the worde of the Lorde tryed hym.

* The king sent and deliuered him: the prince of the people let him go fre. Ge.41.b

He made him Lorde also of hys house, and ruler of all his substaunce.

That he might enfourme his princes after his will, and teache his Senatoures wysedome.

* Jsraell also came into Egipte: and Jacob was a straunger in the lande of Ham. Gen.46a C

* And he increased his people exceadyngly: and made them stronger then theyr enemyes. Exod.1a Actes.7c

Whose hearte turned, so that they hated hys people, and dealte vntruelye with hys seruauntes.

* Then sente he Moyses his ser- Exo.24b uaunt and Aaron, whō he had chosen. Actes.7d

And these shewed his tokens amōg them: & wonders in the land of Ham.

* He sente darkenes, and it was Exo.13f darke, and they were not obedyente vnto hys worde.

* He turned theyr waters into Exod.7d blood, and slewe theyr fyshe. Psa.78e

* Their lande brought forth frogs: * Exo.8b yea, euen in their kynges chambers.

He spake the word, and there came Exod.1d all maner of flyes: and lyce in all their quarters.

* He gaue them hayle stones for Exod.9c rayne: and flames of fire in their land.

He smote their vynes also and fyg trees: and destroyed the trees that were in theyr coastes.

* He spake the word, and the gres- Exo.10d hoppers came: and caterpyllers innu- Psa.16.d mentable.

And dyd eate vp all the grasse in theyr lande: and deuoured the fruite of theyr grounde.

Exo.11b Pſ.135d Sap.18c

* He ſmote all the fyrſte borne in their lande: euen the chefe of all their ſtrength.

D He broughte them forth also with ſyluer and golde: there was not one feble person among their tribes.

Egypte was glad at their departyng, for * they were afrayed of them.

Exo.14g *Ex.13d

* He ſpred oute a cloude to be a coueryng: and fyre to geue lyght in the nyght ſeason.

Exo.16d Nu.11g

* At theyr deſyre he brought quayles, and he fylled them with the bread of heauen.

Exo.17b

* He opened the rocke of ſtone, and the waters flowed oute: ſo that ryuers ranne in the drye places.

For why? he remembred his holye promeſſe, and Abraham his ſeruant.

And he brought forth hys people with ioy, & his choſen with gladnes.

And gaue them the landes of the heathen: and they toke the labours of the people in poſſeſſion.

That they myght kepe his ſtatutes and obſerue his lawes. Prayſe the Lorde.

¶ The. cvi. Pſalme.

Confitemini domino.

Euening prayer

A 1.pa 16a Eſa.12b

O Geue * thankes vnto the Lord, for he is gracious: and his mercye endureth for euer.

Who can expreſſe the noble actes of the Lorde? or ſhewe forth all hys prayſe?

Bleſſed are they that alway kepe iudgement, and do ryghteouſnes.

Remember me, O Lorde, accordyng vnto the fauoure that thou bearеſte vnto thy people: O viſyte me me with thy ſaluacion.

That I maye ſee the felicitye of thy choſen, and reioyce in the gladnes of thy people: and geue thankes with thyne enherytaunce.

We haue ſinned with our fathers: we haue done amiſſe & delt wickedly.

Oure fathers regarded not thy wonders in Egipt, neither kept they thy greate goodnes in remembraūce: but were dyſobedient at the ſea, euen at the red ſea.

Neuertheleſſe, he helped them for his names ſake, that he might make his power to be knowen.

* He rebuked the red ſea alſo, and it B was dryed vp: ſo he led them through Pſ.104d the depe as through a wildernes.

And he ſaued them from the aduerſaries hand: and delyuered them from the hande of the enemye.

* As for thoſe that troubled them, Exo.14g the waters ouerwhelmed them, there was not one of them lefte.

* Then beleued they his wordes, Exo.25f and ſang prayſe vnto hym.

But within a while they forgat hys workes, and wolde not abyde hys counceil.

But luſte came vpon them in the C wyldernes, and they tempted God in the deſerte.

And he gaue them their deſire, and ſent leannes withal into their ſoul.

They angred Moyſes alſo in the tentes, & Aaron the ſaint of the Lord,

* So the earth opened, and ſwalo- Nu.16d wed vp Dathan, and couered the congregation of Abiram.

And the fire was kyndled in their cōpany: the flame brent vp the vngodly

* They made a calfe in Horeb, and Exo.32a worſhipped the molten ymage.

* Thus they turned theyr glorye Rom.1c into the ſimilitude of a calfe, that eateth haye.

And they forgatte God their Sa- D uioure: whiche hath done ſo greate thynges in Egypt.

Wonderous wordes in the land of Ham: & fearful thinges by the red ſea.

So he ſaid: he wold haue deſtroyed them, had not Moyſes his choſen ſtand before him in that gap: to turne aſway his wrathfull indignacion, leſt he ſhould deſtroy them.

* Yea they thought ſcorne of that Nu.14d pleaſaunt land, and gaue no credence vnto his worde.

But murmured in their tentes: and and herkened not vnto the voyce of the Lorde.

Then lyfte he vp his hand agaynst them, to ouerthrow them in the wilderneſſe.

To caſt out their ſede amonge the nations: & to ſcatter thē in the lands.

E • They ioyned them ſelues vnto Nu.25a Baal Peor: and eate the offerynges Jam.22d of the deade. 1Co.10b

Thus they prouoked him vnto anger with the ir owen inuencions: and the plage was great among them. Nu.25.c

• Thē ſtode vp Phinehes and prayed, and ſo the plage ceaſed.

And that was counted vnto him for righteouſneſſe: among all poſterityes for euermore. Exo.17a

• They angred him alſo at the waters of ſtryfe, ſo that he puniſhed Moſes for theyr ſakes.

Becauſe they prouoked hys ſpirite: ſo that he ſpake vnaduiſedlye with hys lyppes.

Neither deſtroyed they the Heathē: Deu.7.a • as the Lorde commaunded them.

But wer mingled among the Heathen: and learned their workes.

F In ſo muche that they worſhypped theyr ydoles, whiche turned to their owne decaye.

Deu.32c • Yea, they offered their ſōnes and Jere.7.d their daughters vnto deuyls. Deu.18.b

• And ſhed innocente bloode, euen Eze.20c the blood of their ſonnes and of their daughters: whom they offered vnto the ydols of Canaan, and the lande was defyled with blood.

Thus were they ſtayned with their owne workes, and went a whorying with their owne inuencions.

Therefore was the wrath of the Lorde kyndled agaynſt hys people: in ſo much that he abhorred his owen enherytaunce.

G And he gaue them ouer into the hand of the Heathē, and they that hated them, were lordes ouer them.

Their enemyes oppreſſed them, and had them in ſubiection.

Many a tyme dyd he delyuer them, but they rebelled agaynſte him wyth their owne inuencions, and were brought downe in their wickednes.

Neuertheles, when he ſawe their aduerſitie, he herd their complaynt.

He thought vpon his couenaunte, and • pitied them, accordyng vnto the deu.30.a multitude of his mercyes.

Yea he made all thoſe that had led them away captiue to pitye them.

Delyuer vs (O Lorde our God) and gather vs from among the Heathen: that we maye geue thankes to thy holye name, and make our boaſte of thy prayſe.

• Bleſſed be the Lorde God of Iſ- Luke.1 raell from euerlaſtynge, and worlde without ende: and let all people ſaye: Amen. Amen.

Prayſe the Lord.

¶ The. cxii. Pſalme. Confitemini domino,

Morning prayer.

O • Geue thanks vnto the Lord, for he is gracious: & his mercye endureth for euer. 1.pa.16d Pſ.105a

Let them geue thankes whom the Eſa.13a Lord hath redemed: and delyuered from the hand of the enemye.

And gathered them out of all the landes: from the Eaſte: and from the weſte, from the North, and from the South.

They went aſtraye in the wyldernelle oute of the waye, and founde no citye to dwell in.

Hungrye and thirſtye: theyr ſoule faynted in them.

So they cryed vnto the Lorde in theyr trouble: and he delyuered them from their dyſtreſſe.

He led them forth by the ryghte waye: that they myght go to the citye where they dwelt.

O that men would therfore prayſe the Lorde for hys goodnes, and declare the wonders that he doeth for the chyldren of men.

• For he ſatyſfyed the emptye Exo.16a ſoule: and fylled the hongrye ſoule Deu.8.a with goodnes.

Suche as ſyt in darkenes, and in the ſhadowe of deathe, beynge faſte bound in miſery and yron.

Becauſe they rebelled agaynſt the wordes wordes of the Lorde, and lyghtly regarded the counsaylle of the moste highest.

He also brought downe their heart thorow heuynesse: they fell downe, and there was none to helpe them.

So when they cried vnto the lord in their trouble: he delyuered theym out of their distresse.

For he brought theim out of darknesse, and out of the shadowe of death and brake their bandes in sunder.

C O that men would therfore prayse the Lorde for his goodnesse, and declare the wonders that he doth for the chyldren of men.

For he hathe broken the gates of brasse, and smytten the barres of yron in sunder.

Foolishe men are plaged for their offence, & because of their wickednesse.

Their soule abhorred all maner of meate, and they were euen harde at deathes dooze.

So whan they cried vnto the lorde in their trouble: he delyuered theym out of their dystresse.

Mat.8.a He sente hys worde, and healed them: and they were saued from their destruction.

O that men would therfore praise the Lord for his goodnes, and declare the wonders that he doth for the chyldren of men.

Heb.13.d * That they would offre vnto him Eccl.35. the sacrifice of thanksgeuyng, and tell Actes.10 out his workes with gladnes.
Ro.12.a
Phil.4.b They that goe downe to the sea in shyppes, and occupie their business in great waters.

These men se the workes of the lord and his wonders in the deepe.

Jon.1.b * For at his word, the stormy wind ariseth, whiche lifteth vp the waues thereof.

They are caryed vp to the heauen,
D and downe agayne to the deepe, theyr soule melteth awaye because of their trouble.

They reele to and fro, and stacker lyke a dronken man, and are at their wittes ende.

So whan they crye vnto the Lorde in theyr trouble: he delyuereth them out of th eyr distresse.

For * he maketh the storme to cease Mat.8.
so that the waues therof are still.

Then are they glad, because they be at rest, and so he bryngeth theim vnto the hauen where they would be.

O that men would therfore praise the Lord, for his goodnes, and declare the wonders, that he doothe for the chyldren of men.

That they would exalt hym also in the congregation of the people, & lowe hym in the seate of the elders.

3.Re.17 * Whiche turneth the flouds into a wyldernesse: and dryeth vp the water sprynges.

A fruitefull lande maketh he barayn, for the wyckednes of theim that dwell therin.

Agayne, he maketh the wildernes a standing water, and water sprynges of a drye grounde.

And there he setteth the hungrye, that they maye buylde theym a Citie to dwwelle in.

That they maye sowe theyr lande, and plant vineyardes, to yelde theym frutes of increase.

He blesseth them, so that they multiplie exceedyngly, & suffreth not their cattell to decrease.

And agayne: when they are mynished and brought low thorow oppression, thorow any plague or trouble.

Though he suffre theim to be cupll intreated thorowe tyrantes, and lette them wander oute of the waye in the wyldernesse.

Yet helpeth he the pooze out of miserie, and maketh hym housholders lyke a flocke of shepe.

The ryghteous wyll consider this, and reioyce: and the mouth of all wickednes shall be stopped.

Whoe is soo wyse, wyll ponder these thynges: and they shall vnderstande the louynge kyndenesses of the LORDE.

C The. C.viii. Psalme.
Paratum cor meum.

O god

A O God • my heart is ready (my heart is ready) I will synge and geue prayse with the best membre that I haue.

Awake thou lute and harpe, I my selfe will awake right early.

I will geue thankes vnto thee (O Lord) among the people: I will synge prayses vnto thee among all nations.

For thy mercye is greater then the heauens, and thy trueth reacheth vnto the cloudes.

B • Set vp thy selfe (O God) aboue all the earthe.

That thy beloued maye be deliuered: let thy right hand saue them, and heare thou me.

• God hath spoken in his holynes, I will reioyce therefore, and deuyde Sichem, and meete out the valley of Suchoth.

• Gilead is myne, and Manasses is myne: Ephraim also is the strēgth of my head, Juda is my lawe geuer.

C Moab is my washpot, ouer Edom will I caste out my shoe: vppon the Philistins will I triumph.

Who will leade me into the strong Citie? and who will bringe me into Edom?

Hast not thou forsakē vs (O god?) and wilt not thou god, go forth with our hostes?

O helpe vs against the enemie: for vayne is the helpe of man.

Thorow God we shall doo greate actes: and it is he, that shall treade downe our enemies.

The.Cix.Psalme.

Deus laudem meam.

A HOld not thy tong (O God) of my prayse.

For the mouth of the vngodly, yea, and the mouthe of the disceitfull is opened vppon me, and they haue spoken agaynste mee with false tongues.

They cōpassed me about also with wordes of hatred: and fought against me without a cause.

For the loue that I had vnto them: lo, they take me the contrary part, but I geue my selfe vnto prayer.

Thus haue they rewarded me euil for good: and hatred for my good will.

• Set thou an vngodly man to bee ruler ouer hym: • and lette Sathan stande at his righte hande. Deu.28.b • Zac.3.a

When sentence is geuen vppon him, let hym be condemned, and lette hys prayer be turned into synne.

• Let his dayes bee fewe, and let an other take his office. Acts.1.c

Let his children be fatherlesse, and his wife a widowe.

B Let his childrē be vagabundes, and begge their breade, let them seke it also out of desolate places.

Let the extorcioner consume al that he hath, and let the straungers spoile hys labour.

Let there be no man to pitie hym, nor to haue compassion vppon his fatherlesse children.

Let his posteritie be destroyed, and in the next generation, lette his name be cleane put out.

Let the wickednes of hys fathers be had in remembrance in the syght of the Lord: and let not the synne of hys mother be done awaye.

Let them alway be before the lord, that he maye roote out the memoriall of them from of the earthe.

And that because his mynd was not to doo good, but persecuted the poore helpelesse man, that he might slea hym, that was vexed at the hearte.

His delyte was in cursyng, and it C shall happen vnto him: he loued not blessyng, therfore shal it be farre from hym.

He clothed himselfe with cursyng like as with a raiement, and it shall come into his bowels like water, and lyke oyle into his bones.

Let it be vnto him, as a cloake that he hath vppon hym, and as the gyrdle that he is alway gyrded withall.

Let it thus happen from the lorde vnto myne enemies, and to those that speake euyll agaynst my soule.

But deale thou with me (O Lord God) accordynge vnto thy name, for swete swete is thy mercy.

O deliuer me, for I am helpeles, and poore: and my hearte is wounded wythin me.

D

I goe hence lyke the shadowe that departeth, and am driuen away as the grashopper.

My knees are weake through fasting, my flesh is dried vp for want of fatnes.

I became also a rebuke vnto them: Psa.21 d
* they that loked vpō me shaked their heades.

Healpe me O Lorde my God, Oh saue me according to thy mercy.

And they shall knowe that thys is thy hande, and that thou Lorde haste done it.

Though they curse, yet blesse thou: let them be confounded, that rise vp against me, but let thy seruant reioise.

Lette myne aduersaries bee clothed with shame: and let them couer themselues wyth their owne confusion, as wyth a cloake.

As for me, I will geue great thankes vnto the Lord wyth my mouthe, and prayse him among the multitude.

For * he shall stande at the ryghte hande of the poore, to saue his soule from vnrighteous iudges. psal.16.b

The.cx.Psalme.

Dixit dominus domino.

Morning prayer.

A

THe Lorde sayd vnto my Lorde: mat.22.d
* Sit thou on my ryght hand, mar.12 d vntill I make thyne enemyes thy footestoole.

The Lord shal send the rodde of thy power out of Sion, be thou ruler euē in the myddest among thine enemies.

In the daye of thy power shall thy people offer the frewil offrings with an holye worshippe, the dewe of thy birth is of the wombe of the morning

* The Lorde sware and wyll not Heb.7.c. repente: * thou art a priest for euer after Hebr.4.c the order of Melchisedech.

B

The Lorde vppon the right hande, shall wounde euen kinges in the day of hys wrath.

He shalbe iudge among the heathē he shall fill the places wyth deade bodies: and smyte a sonder the heades ouer diuerse countries.

He shall drynke of the broke in the waye: therefore shall he lift vppe hys heade.

The.cxi.Psalme.

Confitebor tibi domine.

A

I * will geue thankes vnto the Lorde wyth my whole heart: secretly amonge the faythfull and in the congregation. psa.138

* The workes of the Lorde are great, psal.111 sought out of all them that haue pleasure therin.

His worke is worthy to be praised and had in honoure, and hys righteousnes endureth for euer.

The mercifull and gracious Lorde hath so done hys merualous workes that they ought to be hadde in remembraunce.

* He hath geuen meate vnto theym psal.38.
that feare hym, he * shal euer be mindfull of his couenaunt. Ge.15.c.

B

He hath shewed his people ỹ power of his workes that he may geue thē the heritage of the heathen.

The workes of his handes are beritie and iudgement, all his commaūdementes are true.

They stande fast for euer and euer, and are done in trueth and equitie.

He sent redemption vnto hys people, hee hath commaunded his couenaunte for euer, holy and reuerente is his name.

* The feare of the Lorde is the be- Iob.28 ginning of wisedome, a good vnderstanding haue all they that doe thereafter: the praise of it endureth for euer. Prayse the Lord.

The.cxii.Psalme.

Beatus vir.

A

BLessed is the man that feareth psa.128
the Lorde, he hath great delyte in his commaundementes.

* Hys seede shalbe myghtie vppon psal.37 earth: the generation of the faythfull shalbe blessed.

Riches

Riches and plenteousnes shalbe in his house, and hys ryghteousnes endureth for euer.

Psa.27.a Psa.111.c Psal.19.c Unto the godlye there aryseth vp • lyght in the darkenes, • he is mercifull, louing and ryghteous.

A good man is mercyful and lendeth: and wil gyde his woordes wyth discretion.

For he shal neuer be moued: and the righteous shalbe hadde in an euerlasting remembraunce.

B He will not be afrayde of any euil tidinges, for his hearte standeth faste: and beleueth in the Lord.

His hearte is stablished, and wyll not shrinke: vntil he see hys desyre vpon hys enemyes.

2 Cor.9.b • He hath sparsed abroade, and geuen to the poore: and hys ryghteousnesse remayneth for euer, hys horne shall be exalted wyth honour.

The vngodly shall see it, and it shal greue hym: he shall gnashe wyth hys teeth, and consume awaye: the desyre of the vngodlye shal perysh.

¶ The.Cxiii.Psalme.

Laudate pueri.

A • Prayse the Lord ye seruantes: O praise the name of the Psa.138a Lord.

Blessed be the name of the Lord, from thys tyme forth for euermore.

The Lordes name is praysed, from the rysing vp of the Sunne, vnto the going downe of the same.

The Lorde is hye aboue all Heathen, and hys glorye aboue the heauens.

B Whoe is lyke vnto the Lorde oure God, that hath hys dwellyng so hye, and yet humbleth hym selfe, to beholde the thynges that are in heauen and earth.

Ge.2.b Hee taketh vppe the symple oute of the duste, and lyfteth the poore oute of the myre.

That hee maye sette hym wyth the princes, euen wyth the prynce of hys people.

He maketh the barren woman to kepe house, and to be a ioyfull mother of chyldren.

¶ The.Cxiiii.Psalme.

Euening prayer.

In exitu Israel.

A When Israel came out of Egypte, and the house of Jacob from among ỹ strange people.

• Juda was hys sanctuary, and Israell hys dominion.

Exo.29a Exo.14e • The sea sawe that and fled, • Jordan was dryuen backe. Jos.3.d.

The mountaines skypped like rãmes, & the litle hilles like yong shepe

What ayleth thee, O thou sea, that thou fleddest, and thou Jordan that thou wast dryuen backe?

B Yee mountaynes that yee skypped lyke rammes, and ye litle hylles lyke young shepe.

Tremble thou earth at the presence of the Lord: at the presence of the God of Jacob.

Exo.17b Mu.20b • Which turned the hard rocke into a standing water, and the flynte stone into a springing well.

¶ The.Cxv.Psalme.

Non nobis domine.

A

NOt vnto vs, O Lord, not vnto vs, but vnto thy Name, geue the praise, for thy louing mercy, and for thy truthes sake.

psal.79.b psa.135. Sap.1. Ba.6. • Wherefore shall the Heathen saye: where is now theyr God? as for our God, he is in heauen: he hath doone what so euer pleased hym.

• Theyr Idolles are syluer and Golde, euen the woorke of mennes handes.

They haue mouths and speake not: eyes haue they, and see not.

They haue eares, and heare not: noses haue they and smell not.

They haue handes, and handle not, fete haue they, and walke not, neither speake they thorowe theyr throte.

They that make them, are like vnto them: and so are all suche as putte theyr truste in them.

But ỹ house of Israel trust thou

Psal.9.a in the Lord: he is * their succoure and defence.

Ye house of Aaron put your truste in the Lorde, he is their helper and defendoure.

Ye that feare the Lorde, put youre truste in the Lord: he is their helper and defendoure.

C The Lorde hath bene myndful of vs, and he shall bielle vs: euen he shal bielle the house of Israell, he shall bielle the house of Aaron.

He shall bielle them that feare the Lord: both small and great.

The Lord shall encrease you more and more: you, and your chyldren.

Ye are the bielled of the Lorde, which made heauen and earth.

D All the whole heauens are the Lordes: the earth hath he geuen vnto the chyldren of men.

Psal. 9.a Esa.38.d * The deade prayse not thee (O Lord) neyther all they that go down into the silence.

But we wyll prayse the Lorde, from this time forthe for euermore.

Prayse the Lorde.

Morning prayer.

A The.cxvi.Psalme.

Dilexi quoniam.

I Am wel pleased that the Lord hath heard the voyce of my prayer.

That he hath enclined hys eare vnto me: therfore will I cal vpon him as long as I lyue.

Psa.18.a 1Re.2.a The snares of death compalled me round about: and the paynes of hell gat holde vpon me.

I shall fynde trouble and heauynesse, and I shall call vpon the name of the Lord, (O Lord) I beseech thee

B delyuer my soule.

Gracious is the Lorde and righteous: yea, our God is mercifull.

The Lord preserueth the simple: I was in miserye, and he helped me.

Turne agayne then vnto thy rest, O my soule: for the Lorde hath re-

Psa.59.c warded thee.

And why? * thou hast deliuered my soule from deathe, myne eyes from teares, and my fete from fallyng.

I wyll walke before the Lorde, in the lande of the lyuyng.

* I beleued, and therfore wyll I speake, but I was sore troubled, I sayd in my hast: * All men are lyers. 2Cor.4.c C Rom.3.a

What reward shall I geue vnto the Lord, for all the benefytes that he hath done vnto me?

I wyl receaue the cup of saluacion: and call vpon the name of the Lord.

I wyll paye my vowes nowe in the presence of all hys people, ryghte deare in the syght of the Lorde is the death of hys sayntes.

Behold (O Lord) how that I am thy seruaunt: I am thy seruaunt, and the sonne of thy handmaide, thou hast broken my bones in sunder. D

I will offer to thee the sacrifyce of thankesgeuyng, and will call vpon the name of the Lorde.

* I will paye my vowes vnto the Lorde in the syght of all his people, in the courtes of the Lordes house, euen in the middest of thee, O Jerusalem. Psa.92.a Heb.13.c

Prayse the Lorde.

The.cxvii.Psalme.

Laudate dominum.

O Prayse the Lord all ye heathē: prayse him al ye nacions. A Ro.15.b *psa.100

For his mercifull kyndnes is euer more & more toward vs, and the trueth of the Lorde endureth for euer. Prayse the Lord.

The.cxviii.Psalme.

Confitemini domino.

O * Geue thanks vnto the Lord, for he is gracious, because his mercy endureth for euer. A Ps.105.a 1.mac.3.c Esa.12.a

Let Israell nowe confesse (that he is gracious, and) that hys mercy endureth for euer. 1.pa.16.b

Let the house of Aaron nowe confesse, that his mercy endureth for euer

Yea, let them nowe that feare the Lorde confesse that his mercy endureth for euer.

I called vpon the Lord in trouble: and the Lord heard me at large. Heb.13.b

* The Lord is on my syde, I wyll B not feare what man doeth vnto me.

The

The Lorde taketh my parte with them that helpe me: therfore shall I see my desyre vpon myne enemyes.

It is better to trust in the Lorde, then to put any confidence in man.

It is better to trust in the Lorde: then to put any confidence in princes.

All nacions compassed me rounde aboute: but in the name of the Lorde will I destroye them.

They kepte me in on euery syde: they kepte me in (I saye) on euerye syde: but in the name of the Lorde, I will destroye them.

They came about me like bees, and are extincte, euen as the fire amonge the thornes: for in the name of the Lorde I will destroye them.

Thou hast thrust sore at me, that I might fal, but the Lord was my help.

Exo.15a • The Lord is my strength, and my song, and is become my saluacion.

The voyce of ioye and health is in the dwellynge of the righteous: the righte hande of the Lorde bryngeth mightye thynges to passe.

The ryghte hande of the Lorde hath the preeminence: the right hande of the L O R D bryngeth myghtye thinges to passe.

I will not dye, but lyue: and declare the workes of the Lord.

The Lord hath chastened and correcte me: but he hath not geuen me ouer vnto death.

Open me the gates of righteousnes, that I maye go into them, and and geue thankes vnto the Lord.

This is the gate of the Lord: the righteous shall enter into it.

I will thanke thee, for thou hast herd me: & art becom my saluacion.

mat.21.c mar.12.a Luk.20c Acts.4.b • The same stone which the buylders refused, is become the head stone in the corner.

This was the Lordes doyng, and it is marueylous in our eyes.

This is the daye whyche the Lorde hath made: we will reioyce and be glad in it.

mat.21.c Luk.19.f Joh.12b O Helpe (me) now O Lord: O Lord sende vs nowe prosperitie.

• Blessed be he that cõmeth in the name of the Lorde: we haue wyshed you good lucke, ye that be of the house of the Lorde.

God is the Lorde which hath shewed vs lyghte: bynde the sacrifyce with coardes, yea euen vnto the hornes of the aulter.

Thou arte my God, and I will thanke thee: thou arte my God and I will prayse thee.

O geue thankes vnto the Lorde, for he is gracious: and hys mercy endureth for euer.

¶ The.cxix.Psalme. Eueninge prayer.

Beati immaculati. Heph.

BLessed • are al those that be vndefiled in the way: and walke in the lawe of the Lorde. Psal.1.a

Blessed are they that kepe hys testimonyes: and seke him with their whole herte.

For they which do no wickednes, walke in hys wayes.

Thou hast charged that we shal diligently kepe thy cõmaundementes.

O that my wayes were made so direct, that I might kepe thy statutes.

So shall I not be confounded, whyle I haue respecte vnto all thy commaundementes.

I will thanke thee with an vnfayned heart, when I shall haue learned the iudgements of thy righteousnes.

I will kepe thy ceremonyes: O forsake me not vtterlye.

In quo corrigit. Beth.

WHerwithall shall a yong man clense his way: euẽ by ruling him selfe after thy worde.

With my hole herte haue I sought thee: O let me not go wronge out of thy commaundementes.

Deu.6.b • Thy wordes haue I hyd within my herte that I shoulde not synne agaynst thee.

Blessed arte thou, O Lorde: O teache me thy statutes.

With my lyps haue I bene telling of all the iudgementes of thy mouth.

I haue had as greate delyte in the waye of thy testimonies, as in al maner of ryches.

I will talke of thy cõmandements, and haue respect vnto thy wayes.

My delite shalbe in thy statutes: & I will not forget thy word.

Retribue seruo.

Gimel. DO well vnto thy seruãt, that I may lyue and kepe thy word.

Open thou myne eies, that I maye see the wonderous things of thy lawe.

Ge. 47. c Job, 14 b I am a strãger vpon earth: O hide not thy commandementes fro me.

My soule breaketh out, for the very feruent desyre that it hath alwaye vnto thy iudgementes.

Thou hast rebuked ẏ proude: & cursed ar they ẏ do erre frõ thy cõmandemẽts

O turne fro me shame and rebuke: for I haue kept thy testimonies.

Princes also did sit & speke against me: but thy seruãt is occupied ī thi statutes

For thy testimonies are my delite, and my counceliers.

Adhesit pauimento.

Daleth. Psa. 44 d MY soule cleueth to ẏ dust: O quicke thou me accordīg to thy word

I haue knowleged my wais, & thou herdest me: O teache me thy statutes.

Make me to vnderstãd ẏ way of thy cõmaundementes: and so shall I talke of thy wondrous workes.

My soule melteth awaye for verye heauinesse: comfort thou me accordyng vnto thy worde.

Take frõ me ẏ way of lieng, & cause thou me to make muche of thy lawe.

I haue chosen ẏ way of truth, & thy iudgementes haue I layde before me.

I haue sticken vnto thy testimonies: O Lord confound me not.

I will runne the waye of thy commandementes: when thou hast sette my hearte at libertie.

Morning prayer. He.

Legem pone.

TEache me, O Lord the way of thy statutes, and I shall kepe it vntil the ende.

Geue me vnderstandyng, & I shall kepe thy lawe: ye I shal kepe it with my whole heart.

Make me go in ẏ path of thy commandements: for therin is my delyte.

Enclyne my hearte vnto thy testimonies, and not to couetousnesse.

O tourne awaye myne eyes, leste they behold vanitie: and quicken thou me in thy waye.

O stablishe thy woord in thy seruant, that I maye feare thee.

Take away the rebuke that I am afraid of: for thy iudgemẽts are good.

Beholde, my delite is in thy commandementes: O quicken me in thy righteousnesse.

Et veniat super me

Vau.

LEt thy louyng mercy come also vnto me, O Lord, euẽ thy saluation accordīg vnto thy worde.

So shall I make aunswere vnto my blasphemers, for my truste is in thy worde.

O take not the worde of truth vtterly out of my mouthe, for my hope is in thy iudgementes.

So shall I alway kepe thy lawe, yea for euer and euer.

And I will walke at libertie: for I seke thy commaundementes.

I will speake of thy testimonies also, euen before kynges, and will not be ashamed.

And my delite shall be in thy commandementes: which I haue loued.

My handes also will I lift vp vnto thy commaundementes whiche I I haue loued, and my studye shall be in thy statutes.

Memor esto

Zain. OThynke vpon thy seruant, as cõcerning thy word, wherein thou hast caused me to put my truste.

The same is my comfort in my trouble, for thy word hath quickened me.

The proude haue had me excedingly in derision: yet haue I not shrynked from thy lawe.

For I remembred thyne euerlastyng iudgements (O Lord) and receaued comfort.

I am horribly afrayde for the vngodly, that forsake thy lawe.

Thy statutes haue ben my songes, in the house of my pilgremage.

I haue thought vpon thy name, O Lorde, in the nyght season, and haue kept kept thy lawe.

This I had, because I kept thy commaundementes.

Portio mea.

Heth. Num.18.c THou art my portion, O Lord: I have promised to keepe thy lawe.

I made myn hũble petitiõ in thy presence w̃ my whole hert: O be mercyful vnto me according vnto thy word.

I cal myne owne ways to remembraunce, and tourne my feete into thy testimonies.

I made haste, and prolonged not ꝑ tyme: to kepe thy commandementes.

The congregation of the vngodly have robbed me, but I have not forgotten thy lawe.

At mydnyght wyll I ryse, to geue thanks vnto thee: because of thy righteous iudgementes.

I am a cõpanion of al them that feare thee, & kepe thy commandementes.

Psa.33.a The earthe, O Lorde, is full of thy mercy, O teache me thy statutes.

Bonitatem fecisti.

Teth. O Lord, thou hast delt graciously wyth thy seruaunt, according vnto thy worde.

O learne me true vnderstanding, and knowledge: for I have beleued thy commaundements.

Before I was troubled, I went wrõg: but now have I kept thy word

Mat.19c Thou art good and gracious, O teache my thy statutes.

The proude have imagyned a lye against me: but I wil kepe thy commandementes with my whole heart.

Their hert is as fat as brawne: but my delite hath ben in thy lawe.

It is good for me ꝑ I have bẽ in trouble: that I may learne thy statutes.

The law of thy mouth is derer vnto me, then thousands of gold and siluer.

Euening prayer. Manus tuæ fecerunt.

Iod. THy hands have made me, & fashioned me: O geue me vnderstãding, that I mai learn thy cõmandements.

Gen.1.d Iob.10.a They that feare thee, wyll be glad, when they se me, because I have put my trust in thy worde.

I know, O Lorde, that thy iudgements are right, and that thou of very faithfulnesse haste caused me to be troubled.

O let thy mercyfull kyndnes be my comforte: according to thy worde vnto thy seruant.

O let thy louig mercies com vnto me ꝑ I mai liue: for thy lawe is my delite.

Let the proude be confounded, for they go wickedlye aboute to destroye me: but I wyll be occupied in thy cõmaundementes.

Let such as feare thee, & have knowen thy testimonies: be turned vnto me.

O let myne heart be sound in thy statutes, that I bee not ashamed.

Defecit anima mea.

My soule hath longed for thy saluation, and I have a good hope because of thy worde. Caph Myne eies long sore for thy word, saying: O whan wilt thou cõfort me.

For I am become lyke a bottell in the smoake: yet doo I not forgett thy statutes.

How many are the days of thy seruant? when wylt thou be auenged of them that persecute me?

The proude have dygged pittes for me, which are not after thy lawe.

Al thy cõmandements are true: they persecute me falsly, O be thou mi help

They had almoste made an ende of me vpon earth: but I forsoke not thy commaundementes.

O quickẽ me after thy louing kindnesse: and so shal I kepe the testimonies of thy mouthe.

In æternum domine

O Lorde: thy worde endureth for euer in heauen. Lamed.

Thy truthe also remaineth from one generation to an other: thou haste layde the foundation of the earth, and it abydeth.

They cõtinu this day according to thyn ordinance: for all thynges serue thee.

If my delite had not bẽ in thy lawe, I shold have perished in my trouble.

I wil never forget thy cõmãdemẽts for with thẽ thou hast quickned me.

I am thyne, O saue me: for I haue sought thy commaundementes.

The vngodly layde wayte for me to destroye me: but I wyll consider thy testimonyes.

I see that all thynges come to an ende: but thy commaundemente is exceadynge broade.

Mem. Quomodo dilexi.

LOrde: what loue haue I vnto thy law: all the daye longe is my studye in it.

Thou through thy cōmaundementes, haste made me wyser then myne enemyes, for they are euer with me.

I haue more vnderstāding then my teachers: for thy testimonies are my study.

I am wiser then the aged, because I kepe thy commaundementes.

I haue refrayned my fete frō euery euil way, that I may kepe thy word.

I haue not shrinked frō thy iudgementes: for thou teachest me.

O how swete are thy wordes vnto my throte? yea, sweeter then honye vnto my mouth.

Through thy commaundementes I get vnderstanding, therfore I hate all wycked wayes.

Morning prayer. Lucerna pedibus meis.

Mun. THy worde is a lanterne vnto my fete & a light vnto my pathes.

I haue sworn & am stedfastly purposed to kepe thy righteous iudgemēts.

I am troubled aboue measure: quicke me, O Lord, according vnto thy word.

Let the free wyll offerynges of my mouth please thee, O Lorde: and teach me thy iudgementes.

Iudi. 12 Iob. 13 c My soule is alway in my hande: yet do not I forget thy lawe.

The vngodye haue layed a snare for me: but yet swarued not I from thy commaundementes.

Thy testimonies haue I claymed as myne heritage for euer: and why? they are the very ioye of myne hert.

I haue applied myn hert to fulfyl thy statutes alway, euē vnto the ende.

Samech Iniquos odio habui.

I Hate them that imagyn euil thynges: but thy lawe do I loue.

Thou art my defence and shylde, and my truste is in thy worde.

Awaye fro me ye wycked: I wyl kepe the cōmaundements of my God.

O stablyshe me according vnto thy word, that I may lyue: and let me not be disappoynted of my hope.

Hold thou me vp, & I shalbe safe: yea, my delyte shal euer be in thy statutes.

Thou haste troden do wne all them that depart from thy statutes, for they ymagine but dysceate.

Thou puttest away all the vngodlye of the earth lyke drosse: therfore I loue thy testimonyes.

My flesh trembleth for feare of the, and I am afrayd of thy iudgements.

Ain. Feci iuditium.

I Deale with the thing that is lawfull and ryght: O geue me noteuer vnto myne oppressours.

Make thou thy seruaunte to delyte in that whiche is good: that the proude do me no wronge.

Myne eyes are wasted away with lokyng for thy health, & for the worde of thy righteousnesse.

O deale with thy seruaunte according vnto thy louynge mercye, and teache me thy statutes.

I am thy seruaunte, O graunte me vnderstandyng, that I may knowe thy testimonyes.

It is time for the lord to lay to thyn hand, for they haue destroied thy law.

For I loue thy cōmandementes aboue golde and precious stones.

Therfore hold I streight al thy cōmaundementes: and all false wayes I vtterly abhorre.

Phe. Mirabilia.

THy testimonies ar wonderful: therfore doth my soule kepe thē.

When thy worde goth forth: it geueth lyght and vnderstandyng, euen vnto the symple.

I opened my mouth and drue in my breath: for my delyte was in thy commaundementes.

O loke thou vpon me, and be merciful vnto me: as thou vsest to do vnto those that loue thy name.

Order

Order my steps in thy worde, and so shall no wickednesse haue dominion ouer me.

O deliuer me from the wrongfull dealings of men, and so shall I keepe thy commaundementes.

Shew thy light of the countenāce vpō thy seruant, & teache me thy statutes.

Myne eies gushe out with water, because men kepe not thy lawe.

Sade. Iustus es domine.

RIghteous art thou, O Lord, and true is thy iudgement.

The testimonies that thou haste commanded are exceding righteous and true.

Ps.99.b Iohn.2.b Ps.12.b and.18.e My zele hath cuē cōsumed me, because myn enemies haue forgotē thy wordes

* Thy worde is tried to the vttermost, and thy seruant loueth it.

I am small & of no reputatiō: yet do not I forget thy cōmaundements.

Thy righteousnes is an euerlasting righteousnes, & thy law is the truth.

Trouble and heynesse haue taken hold vpon me: yet is my delite in thy commaundementes.

The ryghteousnes of thy testimonies is euerlasting: O graūt me vnderstandyng, and I shall lyue.

Euening prayer. Caph. Clamaui in toto corde meo.

I Call with my whole heart, heare me O Lorde, I wyll keepe thy statutes.

Yea, euen vpon thee doo I cal, help me, and I shall kepe thy testimonies.

Early in the morning doo I crye vnto thee: for in thy word is my trust.

Myne eies preuent the nyght watches, that I might be occupied in thy woordes.

Heare my voice, O lord, according vnto thy louing kindnes: quicken me accordyng as thou art wont.

They draw nye that of malice persecute me, and are farre from thy law.

Be thou nye at hand, O lord, for all thy commaundementes are true.

As concernyng thy testimonies, I haue knowen longe sens, that thou hast grounded them for euer.

Vide humilitatem.

Res. Cōsider myn aduersitie, & deliuer me: for I do not forget thy lawe.

Auēge thou my cause, & deliuer me: quicken me according vnto thy word.

Healthe is farre from the vngodly: for they regarde not thy statutes.

Great is thy mercy, O Lord, quicken me as thou art wont.

Many there are that trouble me, and persecute me, yet do not I swarue from thy testimonies.

It greueth me, whē I se ỹ transgressors: because they keepe not thy lawe, Cōsider, O Lord, how I loue thy commandementes: O quicken me accordyng to thy louyng kyndnesse.

Thy woorde is true frome euerlasting: all the iudgementes of thy righteousnes, endure for euermore.

Principes persecuti sunt

Syn. PRynces haue persecuted me without cause: but my hert stādeth in awe of thy wordes.

* I am as glad of thy word, as one that fyndeth great spoyles.

Esa.9.a As for lyes, I hate and abhorre them, but thy lawe doo I loue.

Seuen tymes a day doo I prayse thee, because of thy righteous iudgementes.

Great is the peace that they haue, whiche loue thy law, and they are not offended at it.

Lorde, I haue loked for thy sauyng healthe, and done after thy commandementes.

My soule hath kepte thy testimonies, and loued them exceedyngly.

I haue kept thy commandementes and testimonies: for all my wayes are before thee.

Appropinquet deprecatio

Them: LEt my complaynt come before thee, O Lord, geue me vnderstandynge, according vnto thy woorde.

Oh let my supplicatiō com before the deliuer me according vnto thy word.

My lips shall speake of thy prayse, whē thou hast taught me thi statutes

Yea, my tong shal sing of thy word, for al thy cōmandemēts ar righteous.

Let thine hand helpe me for I haue chosen thy commaundementes.

I haue longed for thy sauing helth, O Lord, and in thy law is my delyte.

Oh let my soul liue, & it shal prayse the, and thy iudgemẽts shal helpe me.

I haue gon astraie, like a shepe that is lost: Oh seke thy seruant, for I do not forget thy commaundementes.

Morning prayer.

¶ The. cxx. Psalme.

Ad dominum cum tribularer.

A Joh. 2. a.

WHen I was in trouble, * I called vpon the Lorde, and hee heard me.

Deliuer my soule, O Lorde, from lying lyppes, and from a disceatefull tonge.

What reward shal be geuen or done vnto thee: thou false tongue.

Euen myghtie and sharpe arowes, with hote burnynge coales.

Wo is me that I am constrayned to dwel with Mesech: and to haue mine habitation amonge the tentes of Cedar.

My soule hath longe dwelt among them, that be enemyes vnto peace.

I laboure for peace, but when I speake vnto theym thereof, they make them to battayle.

¶ The. cxxi. Psalme.

Leuaui oculos.

I Wyll lyfte vp myne eyes vnto the hylles, from whence commeth my helpe?

psa. 124. a

* My helpe commeth euen from the Lord: which hath made heauen and earth.

He wyll not suffer thy foote to bee moued, and hee that kepeth thee, wyll not slepe.

Esai. 5. a

* Beholde, hee that kepeth Israell, shall neyther slumber nor slepe.

The Lorde hym selfe is thy keper: the Lorde is thy defence vppon thy ryght hand.

So that the sunne shall not burne the by day, nether the moone by night.

The Lord shall preserue thee from all euill, yea, it is euen hee that shall kepe thy soule.

The Lorde shal preserue thy going oute, and thy comminge in from thys tyme forth for euermore.

¶ The. cxxii. Psalme.

Lætatus sum.

I Was glad when they sayde vnto me: * we wyll go into the house of the Lorde.

A Esa. 3. a. Mic. 4. a.

Our fete shall stande in thy gates, O Jerusalem.

Jerusalem is builded as a city that is at vnitie in it selfe.

For thyther the trybes go vp, euen the trybes of the Lorde: to testifye vnto Israell, to geue thanckes vnto the name of the Lord.

For there is the seate of iudgement: euen the seate of the house of Dauid.

O praye for the peace of Jerusalē: they shall prosper that loue thee.

Peace bee wythin thy walles, and plenteousnes within thy palaces.

For my brethren and companions sakes, I wyll wysh thee prosperitye.

Ye, because of the house of the Lord our God, I wyl seke to do thee good.

¶ The. cxxiii. Psalme.

Ad te leuaui.

VNto thee lyft I vp mine eies, * thou that dwellest in the heuens.

A 2 Re. 8. d Esa. 46. a Acts 7. f. 2 par. 6. c

Beholde, euen as the eyes of seruauntes looke vnto the hand of their maysters: and as the eyes of a mayden vnto the hande of her mystresse, euen so our eyes wayte vpon the Lord our God, vntyll he haue mercy vpon vs.

Haue mercy vpon vs O Lord, haue mercye vppon vs: for we are vtterlye despysed.

Oure soul is filled with the scornfull reproofe of the welthie: and wyth the despytefulnes of the proude.

¶ The. cxxiiii. Psalme.

Nisi quia dominus.

IF the Lorde hymselfe had not bene of oure syde (nowe maye Israell saye) yf the Lorde hym selfe had not bene of oure syde when men rose vp against vs.

A

They

Psa.1.b. *They had swalowed vs vp quick, when they were so wrathfully displeased at vs.

Yea, the waters had drowned vs: and the streame hadde gone ouer oure soule.

The deepe waters of the proud had gone, euen ouer our soule.

But praysed be the Lorde, whyche hath not geuen vs ouer for a pray vnto theyr teeth.

Our soule is escaped, euen as a bird out of the snare of the fouler: the snare is broken, and we are delyuered!

Psa.121.a *Our helpe standeth in the name of the Lord, which hath made heauen and earth.

The.Cxxb.Psalme.

Qui confidunt.

A They that *put their trust in the Psa.125 Lorde, shalbe euen as the mount Sion, whiche maye not be remoued, but standeth fast for euer.

The hilles stande aboute Jerusalem, euen so standeth the Lord rounde aboute hys people, from thys tyme forth for euermore.

For the rodde of the vngodlie commeth not into the lot of the righteous: least the ryghteous put theyr hand vnto wyckednes.

Do well O Lord, vnto those that be good and true of heart.

As for suche as tourne backe vnto theyr owne wickednes, the LORD shall leade them foorth wyth the euil Gal.6.a doers, but *peace shall bee vppon Israell.

The.Cxxbi.Psalme.

In conuertendo.

A When the LORDE tourned agayne the captyuytye of Sion, then were we lyke vnto them that dreame.

Then was our mouth fylled wyth laughter: and our tongue with ioye.

Then said they among the heithen: the Lorde hath doone greate thynges for theym.

Yea, the Lord hath done great thinges for vs alreadye, wherof wee reioyce.

Turne our captiuitie, O Lorde, as the ryuers in the southe.

They that sowe in teares, shall reape in ioye.

He that nowe goeth in his way weepyng, and beareth forth good sede, shal doubtlesse come agayne with ioy, and bryng his sheaues with hym.

The.Cxxbii.Psalme.

Nisi dominus.

A Except the Lord buyld the house theyr laboure is but loste that buylde it.

Except the Lorde kepe the citie, the watcheman waketh but in vayne.

*It is but loste labour that ye haste Psa.126 to ryse vp early, and so late take reste, and eate the breadde of carefulnesse: for so he gyueth hys beloued sleepe.

Lo, chyldren, and the fruite of the wombe, are an heritage and gyft, that commeth of the Lorde.

Lyke as the arowes in the hande of the Gyant: euen so are the yong chyldrenne.

Happy is the manne, that hath his quiuer full of them: they shall not bee ashamed, when they speke with their ennemies in the gate.

The.Cxxbiii.Psalme.

Beati omnes.

A Blessed are all they that feare the Psal.34. LORDE, and walke in his wayes.

For thou shalte eate the labours of thyne handes: O well is thee, and happy shalt thou bee.

Thy wyfe shall bee as the fruitefulle vyne vppon the walles of thy house.

Thy children like the Olyue braū ches round about thy table.

Lo, thus shall the man be blessed, that feareth the Lorde.

The Lord from out of Sion, shall so bielle the: that thou shalt see Jerusalem in prosperitye al thy lyfe long.

Gen. 1.d Yea, that thou shalt se • thy childers Job.42d children, and peace vpon Israell.

¶ The. Cxxix. Psalme.
Sepe expugnauerunt

A MAnya time haue they fought agaynst me fro my youth vp (may Israell now say:)

Yea, manya tyme haue they vexed me fro my youth vp: but they haue not preuayled agaynst me.

The plowers plowed vpon my backe, and made long forowes.

But the ryghteous Lord hath hewen the snares of ✠ vngodly in peces

Let them be confounded and turned backewarde, as many as haue euyll will at Sion.

B Let them be euen as the grasse grawyng vpon the house toppes: which withereth afore that it be pluckt vp.

Wherof the mower filleth not his hand: neyther he that byndeth vp the sheaues, his bosome.

So that they which go by, saye not so much as: the Lord prosper you, we wysh you good lucke in the name of the Lorde.

¶ The. Cxxx. Psalme.
De profundis.

A OVt of the depe haue I called vnto the Lorde: Lorde heare my voyce.

Oh let thyne eare consider wel the voyce of my complaynt.

Job. 9.a • If thou Lord wylte be extreme to psa. 142c mark what is done amisse: Oh Lord who maye abyde it?

For there is mercy with the: therefore shalt thou be feared.

I loke for the Lord: my soule doeth wayte for hym, in hys worde is my trust.

My soule fleyeth vnto the Lord before the mornyng watch (I saye) before the mornyng watch.

O Israell truste in the Lorde, for with the Lord there is mercy: & with him is plenteous redemption.

And he shall redeme Israell from all hys synnes.

¶ The. Cxxxi. Psalme.
Domine non est exaltatū

LOrde I am not hye minded, I A haue no proude lokes.

• I do not exercise my selfe Eccl. 3.d in greate matters, whiche are to hye for me.

But I refrayne my soule, & kepe it lowe, lyke as a chylde that is weaned from his mother: yea, my soule is euen as a wened chylde.

O Israel truste in the Lord, from this tyme forth for euermore.

¶ The. Cxxxii. Psalme.
Memento domine Dauid. Morning prayer.

LOrde remember Dauid, and A all his trouble.

• Howe he swore vnto the 2. Re. 30 Lord: and vowed a vowe vnto the al- and. 4.d mightye God of Jacob. 1. pa. 22b

I will not come within the tabernacle of my house: nor clyme vp into my bed.

I will not suffer myne eyes to slepe, nor mine eye lydde to slumber: (neyther the temples of my heade to take any reste.)

Untyll I fynde out a place for the temple of the Lord: an habitacion for the mightye God of Jacob.

Lo, we herde of the same at Ephrata, and found it in the wood.

We wyl go into his tabernacle: and fall lowe on oure knees before hys fote stole. 1. Pa. 9f

• Aryse, O Lord into thy restynge place: thou & the arke of thy strength.

Let thy Priestes be clothed with ryghteousnesse: and let thy sayncts syng with ioyfulnesse.

For thy seruaunte Dauyds sake, turne

turne not away the presence of thyne anoynted.

2.Me.7b • The Lorde hath made a sayth=full othe vnto Dauyd: and he shall not shrynke from it.

Acts.13d • Of the fruite of thy bodye, shall I sette vpon thy seate.

If thy chyldren wyll kepe my co=uenaunte, and my testimonyes that I wyll learne them: theyr chyldren also shall syt vpon thy seate for euer=more.

℣ For the Lorde hath chosen Sion, to be an habitation for hym selfe hath he longed for her.

This shalbe my rest for euer: here wyll I dwell, for I haue a delyte therein.

I wyll blesse her vittayles with encrease: and wyll satisfye her poore with breade.

I wyll decke her Priestes wyth health: and her Sayncte shall re=ioyce and synge.

Luke.1.b There shal I make • the horne of Dauid to florysshe: I haue ordeyned a lanterne for myne anoynted.

As for his enemyes, I shall clothe them with shame: but vpon him selfe shall his crowne florysshe.

The.cxxxiii.Psalme.

Ecce quam bonum.

A Phil.2a BEhold how good and ioyfull a thing it is, • brethren to dwell together in vnitye.

It is lyke the precious oyntment vpon the head, that ranne downe vn=to the bearde: euen vnto Aarons bearde, and wente downe to the skir=tes of hys clothyng.

Lyke as the dew of Hermon: which fell vpon the hyll of Sion.

For there the Lorde promised hys blessyng: and life for euermore.

The.cxxxiiii.Psalme.

Ecce nunc benedicite.

A Psal.213a BEholde, (nowe) • prayse the Lorde all ye seruauntes of the Lorde, ye that by nyght stande in the house of the Lord: (euen in the courtes of the house of our God.

• Lyft vp your handes in the sanc= 1.tim.2b tuary, and prayse the Lord.

• The Lorde that made heauen Num.6b and earth, geue the blessynge oute of Sion.

The.cxxxv.Psalme.

Laudate nomen domini

O • Prayse the Lorde, laude ye the name of the Lorde, prayse Psa.113a it: O ye seruauntes of the Lorde.

Ye that stande in the house of the Lorde: in the courtes of the house of oure God.

O prayse the Lorde, for the Lorde is gracious: O synge prayses vnto his name, for it is louely.

For why? the Lord hath chosen Jacob vnto him selfe: and Israell for hys owne possession.

• For I knowe that the Lorde is Deut.4c greate: and that oure Lorde is aboue all goddes.

What so euer the Lord pleased, that dyd he in heauen and in earth: and in the sea, and in all depe places.

• He bryngeth foorth the cloudes Jer.10d from the endes of the worlde, and sen=deth for the lyghtnynges with the rayne: bryngynge the wyndes oute of hys treasures.

B

• He smote the firste borne of E= Exo.12c gypt, both of man and beaste.

• He hath sent tokens and won= Eccle.7. ders into the myddest of thee, O thou Psal.78c lande of Egypte, vpon Pharao and all hys seruauntes.

• He smote dyuers nacions, and Jos.12a slue myghtye kynges.

• Sehon the kyng of the Amorites, & Nu.21.c Og the kynge of Basan: and all the kyngdome of Canaan.

• And gaue theyr lande to be an Jos.12.a herytage: euen an herytage vnto Is=raell hys people.

Thy name, O Lord, endureth for euer: so doeth thy memoriall, O Lord from one generacion to another.

• For the Lorde wyll auenge Deu.3.c hys people: and be gracious vnto his seruauntes.

C
psa.115a
Sa.19.d
*As for the ymages of the heathen, they are but syluer and golde: the worke of mens handes.

They haue mouths and speake not: eies haue they, but they see not.

They haue eares, and yet they heare not: neyther is there any breath in their mouthes.

They that make them, are lyke vnto them: and so are all they that put theyr truste in them.

Prayse the Lorde ye house of Israell: prayse the Lorde ye house of Aaron.

Prayse the Lord ye house of Leui: ye that feare the Lord, prayse the Lord.

Praysed be the Lord out of Sion: which dwelleth at Jerusalem. Hallelujah.

Euening prayer.

The.cxxvi.Psalme.
Confitemini domino.

A
Jud.13e
Psa.15e
*Geue thanks vnto the Lord for he is gracious: & his mercy endureth for euer.

O geue thankes vnto the God of all goddes: for hys mercye endureth for euer.

O thanke the Lorde of all Lordes:
Jud,13d
Psa.71d
for his mercy endureth for euer.

*Which only doth great wonders: for his mercy endureth for euer.

Whyche by his excellent wisdome made the heauens, for hys mercy endureth for euer, Whiche layed out the earth aboue the waters: for his mercye endureth for euer.

Whiche hathe made greate lyght: for hys mercy endureth for euer.

The sunne to rule the daye: for his mercy endureth for euer.

The moone and the starres to gouerne the nyghte, for hys mercye endureth for euer.

B
Exo.12d
*Which smote Egypt with their furste borne: for hys mercye endureth for euer.

And brought out Israel from among them: for his mercy endureth for euer.

With a myghtye hande and stretched oute arme: for hys mercye endureth for euer.

Whiche deuyded the red sea in two parts: for his mercy endureth for euer Exo.14c
*And made Israell to go through the myddest of it: for hys mercy endureth for euer.

But as for Pharao and his host, he ouerthrue them in the red sea: for his mercy endureth for euer.
Exo.15d
*Whyche led hys people through the wylderneſſe: for hys mercy endureth for euer.
C Jos.12.a
*Which smote greate kinges: for his mercy endureth for euer.

Yea, and slue mightye kynges: for hys mercy endureth for euer.
Nu.21.c
*Sehon kyng of the Amorites: for his mercy endureth for euer.

And Og the king of Basan: for his mercy endureth for euer.

And gaue awaye their lande for an heritage: for hys mercy endureth for euer.

Euen for an heritage vnto Israel hys seruante: for hys mercye endureth for euer.

Whyche remembred vs when we were in trouble: for hys mercy endureth for euer.

And hath deliuered vs frō our enemies. for his merci endureth for euer.
psa.104d
*Which geueth fode vnto all flesh: for his mercy endureth for euer.

O geue thankes vnto the God of heauen: for his mercye endureth for euer.

O geue thanks to the Lord of lords: for his mercy endureth for euer.

The.cxxvii.Psalme.
Super flumina,

Euening prayer.
A
Ezec.1.a
BY the waters of *Babilon we sate, and wept, when we remembred (the O) Sion.

As for our harpes, we hanged them vp vpon the trees, that are therin.

For they that led vs away captiue, required of vs then a songe and melodye in our heuynes: synge vs one of the songes of Sion.
B
How shall we synge the Lordes songe, in a straunge lande.

I

If I forget the, O Jerusalem: let my right hand forget her cunnyng.
If I do not remember thee, let my tonge cleue to the rofe of my mouth.
Yea, yf I preferre not Jerusalem in my mirth.
Jar.49 d Remember the children of • Edom Eze.25 d O Lord, in the daye of Jerusalem, Ibdi. 1.a how they sayde: downe with it, down with it: euen to the ground.
O daughter of Babilon wasted with misery: yea, happye shall he be, that rewardeth thee, as thou haste serued vs.
Esa.13.c • Blessed shall he be, that taketh thy children, and throweth them a-gaynst the stones.

The.Cxxxviii.Psalme.

Confitebor tibi.

I • wyll geue thankes vnto the, Psal.9.a O Lord, with my hole herte: euen before the goddes wyll I syng prayse vnto thee.
Psal.5.a • I wyll worshippe towarde thy holye temple, and prayse thy name, because of thy louynge kyndnesse and trueth: for thou haste magnifyed thy name and thy word aboue all thinges.
When I called vpon thee, thou her-dest me: and endudest my soule with much strength.
All the kynges of the earth shall praise the O Lord: for they haue herd the wordes of thy mouth.
B Yea, they shall synge in the wayes Psa.113a of the Lorde, that greate is the glorye of the Lorde.
• For though the Lorde be hye, yet hath he respecte vnto the lowlye: as for the proude, he beholdeth hym a farre of.
Though I walk in the myddest of trouble, yet shalte thou refreshe me:
thou shalt stretche forthe thine hand vpō the furiousnes of thine enemies, and thy right hand shall saue me:
The Lorde shall make good hys louyng kindnesse toward me: yea, thy mercy, O Lorde, endureth forever.
Job.14c • despise not then the workes of thine owne handes.

The.Cxxxix.Psalme.

Morning prayer.

Domine probasti.

O Lorde thou haste searched me out and knowen me.
Thou knowest my downe syttynge and myne vprisynge: thou understandest my thoughtes longe before.
Thou art about my path and about my bed: and spiest out all my wayes For lo there is not a worde in my tongue, but thou, O Lorde knowest it all together.
Thou haste fashioned me behynde and before, and layde thyne hand vppon me.
Suche knowledge is to wonder-full and excellente for me: I can not attayne vnto it.
Amos.9 B • Whyther shall I go then from thy spirite: or whyther shal I go then from thy presence?
If I clyme vp into heauen, thou art there: if I go downe to hell, thou arte there also.
If I take the wynges of the mor-nynge, and remayne in the vtmoste partes of the sea: euen there also shall thy hande leade me: and thy ryghte hande shall holde me.
If I saye: peraduenture the darke-nesse shall couer mee, then shall my night be turned to daye.
Yea, the darkenes is no darkenes with the: but the night is all cleere as the daye: the darkenes and lighte (to thee) are both alyke. C For my reynes are thyne: thou haste couered mee in my mothers wombe.
I wyll geue thankes vnto thee:
for I am fearefullye and wonderouslye made: marueious are thy workes, and that my soule knoweth ryghte well.
My bones are not hyd from thee:
though I be made secretly, and fashioned beneth in the earth.
Thine eyes didde see my substaunce:
yet beyng vnperfect: and in thy booke were all my members written.

Which,

which day by daye were fashioned,
when as yet there was none of them.
D Howe deare are thy councels vnto me, O God howe great is the summe of them?

If I tel them, they are mo in numbre then the sande: when I wake vp, I am presente wyth thee.

Wilt thou not slaye the wycked, O God? depart fro me ye bloudthyrstye men.

For they speake vnryghteously against thee: and thyne ennemyes take thy name in vayne.

Do not I hate them O Lorde that hate thee? and am not I greued wyth those that ryse vp against thee?

Ye, I hate them ryght sore, euen as though they were myne enemyes.

Psa.26 a * Trye mee, O God, and seeke the grounde of myne heart: proue me and examyne my thoughtes.

Loke well if there be anye waye of wickednes in me, and leade me in the waye euerlasting.

¶ The. Cxl. Psalme.

Fripe me,

A DEliuer me, O Lord, from the euil man, and preserue me frō the wicked man.

Which ymagyne mischefe in theyr Rom.3 c heartes: and stere vp stryfe al the daye longe.

They haue sharpened their tonges lyke a serpent: * adders poyson is vnder their lippes. Sela.

Keepe me, O Lorde, from the handes of the vngodly: preserue me from the wycked men, which are purposed to ouerthrow my goynges.

The proude haue layed a snare for me: and spred a nette abrode with cordes: yea and set trappes in the waye.
B Sela.

I sayde vnto the Lord: thou art my God, heare the voyce of my prayer, O Lorde.

Psal.7.b O Lord God, thou strength of my health, thou hast couered my heade in the day of battaile.

Let not the vngodlye haue his desyre, O Lorde, let not his mischeuous ymagination prosper: least they be to proude. Sela. Psal.7.b.

* Lette the mischiefe of theyr owne lyppes fal vpon the head of them, that compasse me about.

Let whot burning coales fall vpon them: let them be cast into the fyre and into the pytte: that they neuer rise vp againe.

A man ful of wordes shal not prosper vppon the earth: euil shall hunte ỹ wicked person, to ouerthrow hym.

Sure I am, that the Lorde wil auenge the poore, and mayntayne the cause of the helpelesse.

The ryghteous also shall geue thākes vnto thy name, and the iuste shall continue in thy syght.

¶ The. Cxli. Psalme.

Domine clamaui.

A LOrde, I call vppon thee: haste thee vnto mee, and consydre my voyce when I crye vnto thee. Exo.30b Lette my prayer be set foorth in thy syght * as the incense, and let the lyftyng vp of my handes be an euenynge sacrifice. Ecc.22.c

* Set a watch, O Lord before my mouth: and kepe the doore of my lyps.

O lette not myne heart be enclyned to any euyll thyng: let me not be occupied in vngodlye woorkes, wyth the men that worke wyckednes, leaste I eate of suche thinges as please theim.

Let the ryghteous rather smite me frendly, and reproue me.

But let not theyr precious balmes breake myne heade: yea I wyll praye yet agaynste theyr wyckednes.

Let theyr iudges bee ouerthrowen in stonye places: that they maye heare my wordes, for they are swete.

Our bones lye scattered before the pitte, lyke as when one breaketh and heweth wood vpon the earth.

But myne eyes looke vnto thee, O LORDE GOD, in thee is my truste, O caste not oute my soule.

Keepe

Keepe me frome the snare whyche they haue layde for me: and frō me the trappes of the wycked doers.

Lette the vngodly falle into theyr owne nets togyther: and let me euer escape them.

¶ The.cxli.Psalme.
Voce mea ad dominum.

Euening prayer.

I Psa.17a

I. Cryed vnto the Lorde with my voyce: yea euen vnto the Lord did I make my supplicacion.

I powred out my complaynte before him, and shewed him of my trouble.

When my spyrite was in heauines thou knewest my pathe: in the waye wherin I walked, haue they pryuely laid a snare for me.

I loked also vpon my ryght hande and see, there was no man that wolde knowe me.

I had no place to flee vnto: and no man cared for my soule.

I cried vnto thee, O Lorde, and said thou arte my hope and my portion: in the land of the liuing.

Consider my complaynte: for I am brought very lowe.

O deliuer me fro my persecutours: for they are to strong for me.

Bring my soule out of prison, that I may geue thankes vnto thy name, which thing yf thou wilt graunt me, then shall the ryghteous resorte vnto my company.

¶ The.cxlii.Psalme.
Domine exaudi.

I

HEare my prayer, O Lorde, and consider my desyre: herken vnto me for thy truth and ryghteousnes sake.

And enter not into iudgemēt with thy seruaunt: • for in thy syghte shall no man liuing be iustified.

Iob.9.c. Ro.2.c.

For the enemy hath persecuted my soule, he hath smitten my lyfe downe to the ground: he hath layed me in the darkenes, as the men that haue beene longe dead.

Therfore is my spirit vexed with- B in me: and my heart within me is desolate.

• Yet do I remembre the time past, I muse vpon all thy woorkes, yea, I Psa.77.c exercise my selfe in the woorkes of thy handes.

I stretch forth myne handes vnto thee: my soule gaspeth vnto thee, as a Exo.34a thirstie land. Selah. Psa.86a

Heare me O Lorde, and that soone: for my spirite wareth faynt: hyde not thy face from me, least I be lyke vnto them that go downe into the pyt.

O let me here • thy louing kindnes Jer.32b betymes in the morninge: for in thee is my trust.

Shewe thou me the waye that I shoulde walke in: for I lyft vppe my soule vnto thee.

Deliuer mee O Lorde, fro myne enemyes: for I flee vnto thee to hyde me.

Teach me to do the thing that pleseth thee, for thou art my God: let thy louing spirite leade me forth vnto the land of ryghteousnes.

Quicken mee O Lorde, for thy names sake: and for thy ryghteousnesse sake bring my soule out of trouble.

And of thy goodnes slaye myne enemies: and destroye all theim that vexe my soule, for I am thy seruant.

¶ The.cxliii.Psalme. Morning prayer.
Benedictus dominus.

I

BLessed be the Lord my strength which teacheth • my handes to warre, and my fingers to fight. 2Re.12c Psa.18.c

My hope and my fortresse, my castell and deliuerer, my defender in whom I truste: whiche subdueth my people that is vnder me.

• Lord what is man, that thou hast Psa.8.a such respect vnto hym: or the sonne of man, that thou so regardest him?

• Man is lyke a thynge of nought: Iob.8.a. his tyme passeth awaye lyke the sha- B dowe.

Bowe thy heauens, O Lorde, and come downe, touch the mountaynes, and they shall smoke.

Cast forth thy lyghtning and tears them:

theym: shoote oute thyne arowes and consume them.

Send downe thyne hande from aboue, deliuer me: and take mee oute of the greate waters, from the hande of straunge children.

Whose mouthe talketh of vanitye: and their ryght hand is a ryght hande of wyckednes.

I wyll syng a new song vnto thee O God: and singe prayses vnto thee vpon a ten stringed lute.

Thou that geuest victory vnto kinges: and hast delyuered Dauid thy seruaunt from the peryll of the swearde.

C Saue me, and deliuer me from the hande of straunge childrenne, whose mouthe talketh of vanitie, and theyr right hād, is a right hand of iniquity.

That oure sonnes may growe vp as the yong plantes: and that our daughters may be as the polished corners of the temple.

Deu.28.a • That oure garners maye bee full and plenteous with al maner of store: that our shepe may bryng forth thousandes, and tenne thousandes in oure stretes.

That our oxen may be strong to labourе, that there be no decaye, no leading into captiuitye: and no complaynyng in our stretes.

Happy ar the people that be in such a case: ye blessed are the people which haue the Lorde for theyr God.

C The.Cxlv.Psalme

Exaltabo te deus,

I Psa.9.a. • Will magnifie thee, O God my kyng: and I wyl prayse thy name for euer and euer.

Euery daye wyll I geue thanckes vnto thee: and prayse thy name for euer and euer.

Great is the Lord, and marueilous worthy to be praysed: there is no ende of hys greatnes.

One generation shall prayse thy workes vnto another, and declare thy power.

As for me I wylbe talkinge of thy worshippe, thy glorye, thy prayse, and wonderous workes.

So that menne shall speake of the might of thy merueilous actes: and I will also tell of thy greatnes. S

The memorial of thyne aboundant kindnes shalbe shewed: and men shall synge of thy ryghteousnes.

• The Lorde is gracious and mercifull, longe sufferinge, and of greate goodnesse. Exo.34a Ier.32b

The LORDE is louyng vnto euerye man: and his mercy is ouer all hys workes.

All thy woorkes prayse thee, O LORD: and thy sayntes gyue thankes vnto thee.

They shewe the glory of thy kingdome, and talke of thy power.

That thy power, thy glorye, and myghtinesse of thy kyngdome myght be knowen vnto men.

C • Thy kingdome is an euerlasting kingedome, and thy dominion endureth throughout all ages. Deu.33.f Luk.1.c

The LORD vpholdeth all suche as fall: and lyfteth vp all those that be downe.

• The eyes of all wayte vppon thee (O Lorde:) and thou geuest thē their meate in due season. Psa.104

Thou openest thyne hande, and fyllest al thynges lyuyng wyth plenteousnesse. D

The LORDE is ryghteous in al hys wayes, and holy in al his workes.

The Lorde is nye vnto all theym that call vpon him, yea all such as call vpon hym faythfully: Deu.4.b

He wyll fulfill the desyre of theym that feare hym: he also wyl heare their crye, and wyll helpe theym.

The Lord preserueth al theym that lone hym: but scattereth abrode all the vngodlye.

My mouth shall speake the prayse of the Lord, and let al flesh geue thankes vnto hys holy name for euer and euer.

C The.Cxlvi.Psalme.

Lauda anima mea.

PRayse the Lorde, O my soule: whyle I lyue will I prayse the Psa.104 Lorde yea, as longe as I haue any beyng, I will synge prayses vnto my God.

Psa.117 a • O put not your truste in prynces, nor in any chyld of man: for there is no helpe in them.

For when the breath of man goeth forth, • he shall turne agayne to hys Gen.3.b earth, & then al his thoughtes perish.
Job.34.c Blessed is he that hath the God of Act.14.c Jacob for his helpe: • and whose hope is in the Lord his God.

Which made heauen and earth, the sea, and all that therin is: whiche keepeth his promise for euer.

Which helpeth them to right that suffer wrong: which fedeth ỹ hongry

The Lord loseth men out of prison.

the Lord geueth sight to the blynd.

W The Lorde helpeth them vp that are fallen: the Lorde careth for the ryghteous.

The Lord careth for the straungers, he defendeth the fatherlesse and widdowe: as for the waye of the vngodly he turneth it vpsyde downe.

The Lord thy God, O Sion shal be kynge for euermore: and throughout all generation. Hallelu iah.

¶ The. C. xbiii. Psalme.

Laudate Dominum.

OPrayse the Lorde, for it is a good thynge to synge prayse vnto our God: yea, a ioyfull & pleasaunt thyng is it to be thankful.

The Lorde doeth buyld vp Jerusalem, and shall gather together the outcastes of Israell.

He healeth those that are broken in herte, and geueth medicine to heale their sickneſſe.

Esa.40.d • He telleth the number of the starres: and calleth them all by theyr names.

Great is our Lord, and great is his power: yea his wisdome is infinite.

The Lorde setteth vp the meke: and bryngeth the vngodly downe to the grounde.

1 Esd.3.c • O synge vnto the Lorde with thankesgeuyng: synge prayse vpon the harpe vnto our God.

Whiche couereth the heauen with the cloudes, and prepareth rayne for Job.36.d the earth: and maketh the grasse to growe vpon the mountaynes, (and herbe for the vse of men.)

Which geueth foode vnto the cattell, and • feedeth the yong rauens that Job.38.d call vpon hym.

He hath not pleasure in the strength of an horse, neyther delyteth he in any mans legges.

But the Lordes delyte is in them that feare hym, and put theyr truste in hys mercye.

Prayse the Lorde, O Jerusalem: prayse thy God, O Sion.

For he hath made faste the barres of thy gates, and hath blessed thy children within thee.

He maketh peace in thy borders: & filleth the with the floure of wheate.

He sendeth forth hys commaundemente vpon earth: and his word runneth very swyftlye.

He geueth snowe lyke wooll, and scattereth the hore frost lyke ashes.

He casteth forth his yce lyke morsels: who is able to abide his frost?

He sendeth out his word, and melteth them: he bloweth with his wind and the waters flowe.

He sheweth hys worde vnto Jacob: hys statutes and ordenaunces vnto Israell.

He hath not dealt so with any nacion: neyther haue the heathen knowledge of hys lawes. Hallelu iah.

Prayse the euerlastyng.

¶ The. C. xbiii. Psalme.

Laudate dominum de celis.

Euenyng prayer. A

DPrayse the Lord of heauen: prayse him in the heygth.

Prayse hym all ye aungelles of hys: prayse hym all hys hoste.

Prayse him Sunne and Moone: prayse him all ye starres and light.

Prayse him all ye heauens: and ye waters that be aboue the heauens.

Let

Lette them prayse the name of the Lorde, for he spake the worde, and they were made: he commaunded, and they were created.

Psl.33.b He hath made them faste for euer & euer: he hath geuen them a lawe, whiche shall not be broken.

Prayse the Lord vpon earth, ye dragons, and all deepes.

Fyre and hayle, snowe and vapors wynde and stormie, fulfyllynge hys worde.

Mountaynes, and all hylles, fruitfull trees and all Ceders.

B Beastes and all cattell, wormes, and fethered foules.

Kynges of the earth and all people: Princes and all Iudges of the worlde.

Yonge men and maydens, old men and chyldren: prayse the name of the LORD, for hys name onely is excellent, and his prayse aboue heauen and earthe.

He shall exalt the horne of his people, all his saynctes shall prayse hym: euen the chyldren of Israell, euen the people that serueth hym.

Halleluiah.

Prayse the euerlastynge.

¶ The.C.xlix.Psalme.
Cantate domino.

A Esa.42.b SIng vnto the LORD a newe song: lette the congregation of Saynctes prayse hym.

Lette Israell reioyce in hym that made hym, and lette the chyldren of Sion bee ioyfull in theyr kyng.

Let them prayse his name in the daunce: lette them synge prayses vnto hym with tabret and harpe.

For the LORD hath pleasure in hys people: and helpeth the meeke hearted.

Lette thy saynctes bee ioyefulle wyth glorye: lette theym reioyce in theyr beddes.

Lette the prayses of GOD be in B theyr mouth, & a two edged sweard Heb.4.c in theyr handes.

To be auenged of the Heathen: and to rebuke the people.

To bynde theyr Kynges in chaynes, and theyr nobles, wyth lynkes of yron.

That they may bee auenged of Deu.33. theym, as it is wrytten: such honoure haue all his Psalmes. Halleluya.

¶ The.C.l.Psalme.
Laudate dominum in,

O Prayse GOD in hys holynesse: prayse hym in the fyrmament of hys power. A Prayse hym in hys noble Actes, prayse hym accordyng vnto his excellent greatnesse.

Prayse hym in the sounde of the trompet, prayse hym vppon the lute and harpe.

Prayse hym in the Cymbales and datnse, prayse hym vppon the strynges and pype.

Prayse hym vppon the swetsoned cymbales, prayse him vppon the loud Cymbales.

Lette euery thyng that hath breath prayse the Lorde. Hallelniah.

Prayse the euerlastyng.

The ende of the Psalter.

The Prouerbes of Salomon.

¶ The.fyrst Chapter.

THE Prouerbes of Salomon, the sonne of Dauid kynge of Israel: to lerne wisdom, and to perceiue the instruction, and to perceiue the wordes of vnderstandinge: and thereby to receyue prudẽce, ryghteousnes, iudgement and equity. That the very simple might haue wit, and that the yong men might haue knowledge and true vnderstanding. By hearing, the wise man shal come by more wisdome: and hee that is endued with vnderstanding, shall obtayne wit to perceyue a parable, and the interpretation therof, the wordes of the wyse, and the darke Iob.28.b Eccl.1.c Psa.111.b Pro.9.c. B speches of the same. ✱ The feare of the Lorde is the beginning of wisedome. But fooles despise wisedome and instruction. My sõne, heare thy fathers doctrine, and forsake not the lawe of thy mother: for that shall bringe grace vnto thy head, and shalbe as a cheyne aboute thy necke. My sonne, consente not vnto sinners yf they entyse thee, and saye: come with vs, we will laye wayte for bloud, and lurke priuely for the innocente wythoute a cause: wee
Psa.124
shal swalowe them vp lyke the hell, and deuoure them quicke and whole, as those that go downe into the pitte. So shall we fynde all maner of costly ryches, and fyll our houses with spoiles. Cast in thy lot among vs: and let vs haue all one purse. My son, walke not thou with them: refraine thy fote Pro.1.a
from their way. For ✱ their fete runne to euil: and are hastie to shed bloude. But in vaine is the net laid forth before the birdes eyes: yea, they theym selues lay wait one for anothers blud, and one of them would sleye another.
B
C
¶ These are the wayes of all such as be couetous, the one would rauisshe anothers lyfe. ✱ Wisedome crieth wythout, and putteth forth her voice in the stretes. Shee calleth before the congregatiõ in the open gates, and sheweth her wordes through the citie, saynge: O ye childzen, howe longe will ye loue childishnes: howe longe will the scorners delite in scorning, and the vnwyse bee ennemyes vnto knoweledge: O turne you vnto my correction: lo, I will expresse my mynd vnto you, and make you vnderstande my Esa.45.b Iere.7.a D wordes. ✱ I haue called, and ye refused it: I haue stretched oute my hand: and no manne regarded it: but all my councels haue ye despysed, and set my correction at nought. Therfore shal I also laughe in youre destruction, and mocke you, when that thyng that yee feare commeth vpon you: euen when the thynge that yee be afrayde of, falleth in sodenly like a storme, and your mysery lyke a tempest: yea whẽ trouble and heauines commeth vpon you. Then shall they call vpon mee, but I will not heare: they shall seke me earlye, but they shall not fynde me. And that because they hated knoweledge, and receyued not counsaile, and despised all my correction. Therefore shall they eate the fruytes of theyr owne waye, and be fylled wyth theyr owne inuencions: for the turnyng away of the vnwyse shall sleye theym: and the prosperite of fooles shalbe their owne destruction. ✱ But who so harkeneth vnto mee, shall dwell safelye, and bee sure from anye feare of euyll.
Pro. 3.d

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

MY sonne, if thou wylt receiue my wordes, and keape my commaundementes by thee, that thou wylt encline thine eare vnto wysedome, applye thyne heart then to vnderstandinge. For yf thou cryest after wysedome, and callest for knowledge: yf thou seekest after her as after money, and diggest for her as for treasure, then shalte thou vnderstande the feare of the Lord, and fynde the knowledge of GOD. For it is the Lorde that giueth wisedome: out of hys mouth commeth knowe-
B

ledge and vnderstandynge, he hydeth W by health for the ryghteous. He preserueth the welfare of the ryghteous, and defendeth thē that walke sincere-lye: he kepeth them in the right path, & preserueth the way of such as serue him with godlines. Then shalt thou vnderstand righteousnes, iudgement and equitie: yea, and euery good path.
Whē wisdome entreth into thyn hert and thy soule delyte in knowlege: thē shal counsel preserue the, & vnderstan ding shal kepe the, that thou mayest be deliuered from the euyll way, and frō the man ỹ speaketh frowards thinges.
From suche as leaue the hye strete, and walke in the wayes of darkenes:
which reioyce in doyng euyll: and de-lyte in wicked thinges: whose ways are croked, and they froward in their pathes. That thou mayest be delyue-Prou. 5a and. 7a red also * from the straunge woman, and from her that is not thine owne:
which geueth swete wordes, forsaketh the husbād of her youth, and forgetteth the couenaunte of her God.
For her house is enclined vnto death, and her pathes vnto hell. All they that go in vnto her, come not gayne, neyther take they holde of the waye of lyfe. Therefore, walke thou in the way of such as be vertuous, and kepe the pathes of the ryghteous. For the iuste shall dwell in the land: and they that be perfecte, shall remayne in it: but the vngodly shalbe roted oute of the lande: and the wycked doers shall be roted oute of it.

¶ The. iii. Chapter.

MY sōne * forget not thou my lawe, but se that thyne hert kepe my cōmaundementes.
For they shall prolong the dayes and yeres of thy life, and bryng the peace.
Let mercye and faythfulnes neuer go from the: bynd them about thy necke, and wryte them in the tables of thine herte. So shalt thou fynd fauour and vnderstandyng in the sight of God & men. Put thy truste in God with all thyne herte: and leane not vnto thyne owne wytte. In all thy wayes haue respect vnto him: and he shall order thy goynges. * Be not wyse in thyne owne conceyte: but feare the Lord, and depart from euyll: so shall thy nauell he hole, and thy bones strōg. Honour the Lorde with thy substaunce, and with the firstlynges of all thyne encreasse (geue vnto the poore:) so shall thy barnes be fylled with plenteousnes, and thy presses shall flowe ouer with swete wyne. My sonne, despise not the chastenyng of the Lorde, neyther faynt when thou arte rebuked of him. * For whō the Lord loueth, him he chastneth, and yet delyteth in him, euen as a father in his owne sonne.
Well is him that fyndeth wisdome, & obtayneth vnderstanding: for the get-tyng of it is better then any marchandise of syluer, and the profitte of it is better then golde. * Wisdome is more worth thē precious stones: and al the thinges that thou canst desire, are not to be compared vnto her. Vpon her right hand is long lyfe, and vpon her lefte hand is riches and honour. Her wayes are pleasaunt wayes, & all her pathes are peaceable. She is a * tree of lyfe to them that laye holde vppon her, & blessed is he that kepeth her fast With wisdome hath the Lord layde the foundation of the earth: and thorowe vnderstandyng hath he stablished the heauens. Throwe his wis-dome the depthes breake vp, and the cloudes dropp downe the dewe. My sonne, let not these thynges departe frō thine eyes: but kepe my lawe and my counsel, that thou mayst haue the pleasure of long lyfe and vnderstan-dynge: for they shalbe lyfe vnto my soule, and grace vnto my mouth.
Then shalt thou walke safely in thy waye, and thy fote shall not stomble.
* If thou slepest, thou shalt not be a-Pro. 3. d. frayd: but shalt take thy rest, and slepe swetely. Thou nedest not to be afra-D yed of any sodayn feare, nether for the violent rushynge in of the vngodlye, when it commeth. For the Lord shal stande by thy syde, and kepe thy fote, that thou be not taken. Withdraw no good thyng from thē that haue nede, so long as thyne hand is able to do it.

W Esay. 5. c
Ro. 12. c
* tob. 4. b
De. 26. a
Exo. 25 c

Heb. 12 b
Apoc. 3. b

W Pro. 1. a

Gen. 2. b

Say

Say not vnto thy neyghbour: go thy way, and come agayne, to morow wil I geue thee, where as thou hast now to geue hym. Intende no hurte vnto thy neighbour, seyng he doth dwel in rest by thee. Stryue not ygthly wyth any man wythoute a cause, whereas Pro. 1.a he hath done thee no harme. • Folow not a wycked man, and chose none of his wayes: for the Lord abhorreth the frowarde: but hys councel is amonge the ryghteous. The curse of the Lord is in the house of the vngodly: but he blesseth the dwellinges of the ryghteous. As for the scorneful doeth not he laugh them to scorne: but he geueth grace vnto the lowly. The wyse shal haue honour in possession: but shame is the promocion that foles shal haue.

¶ The.iiii. Chapter.

HEare, O yee children, the fatherlye exhortation, and take good hede, that yee maye learne wisedome. For I haue geuen you a good doctrine, forsake not ye my law. For when I my self was my fathers deare sonne, and tenderlye beloued of my mother: he taught me also, and said Deu. 6.b vnto me: • Let thine heart receiue my wordes, kepe my commaundements, and thou shalt lyue. Get thee wysedome: and get the vnderstanding: forget not the wordes of my mouthe, and shrynke not from theym. Forsake her not, and she shall preserue thee. Loue B her, and she shall kepe thee. The chefe poynt of wisdom is, that thou be willing to obtayne wysedome: and before all thy goodes to get thee vnderstan- den. 26.d dynge. • Make muche of her, and shee shall promote thee: Yea, yf thou embrace her, she shall bringe the vnto honoure. Shee shall make thee a gracious heade, and garnysshe thee wyth a crowne of glory. Heare my sonne, and receyue my wordes, and the yeares of thy lyfe shalbe many. I haue shewed thee the way of wysedome, and ledde thee into the ryght pathes. So that yf thou goest therein, there shall no straitnes hynder thee: and when thou runnest, thou shalt not fall. Take fast holde of doctrine, and let her not goe: keepe her, for she is thy lyfe. • Come C not in the path of the vngodlye: and Psal. 1.a walke not in the way of the wycked. and. 27.a Abhorre it, and go not therin: departe aside, and passe ouer by it. For they can not sleepe, excepte they haue fyrste done some myschefe: neyther take they any rest, excepte they haue fyrste done some harme. For they eate the breade of wickednes, and drinke the wyne of robberye. The path of the ryghteous shineth as the light, that is euer brighter and brighter vnto the perfect day. But the waye of the vngodlye is as the darkenesse: they knowe not wher they fall. • My sonne, marke my wor- Deu. 6.b des, and encline thyne eare vnto my and. 11. c sayinges. Let theim not departe from thyne eies, but kepe them euen in the middest of thyne hearte. For they are lyfe vnto all those that fynde theym, and health vnto al theyr bodies. Kepe thyne hearte wyth all diligence, for therevpon hangeth lyfe. Put away from thee a froward mouth, and lette the lyppes of slaunder bee farre from thee. Let thyne eyes beholde the thing that is rycht, and let thyne eye liddes loke straycht before thee. Pondre the path of thy feete, and let all thy wayes be ordred a rycht. • Turne not aside, Deu. 5.a neyther to the ryght hande, nor to the and. 27.b lefte, but withholde thy fote from euyl. (For the Lorde knoweth the wayes that are on the ryghte hande. As for the wayes that be on the lefte hande, they be frowarde. For he shall directe thy goynges, and thy wayes he shall guyde in peace.

¶ The.v. Chapter.

MY sonne, geue hede vnto my B wysedome, and bowe thine eare vnto my prudence: that thou maiest regarde good councel, and that thy lyppes maye speake knowe- Pro. 2.b. ledge. • (I pray not thou thy self to and. 7.a. the discretion of a woman) • For the lyppes of an harlotte are a droppinge honye combe, and her throate is more glisterynge then oyle. But at the laste she is as bytter as woormewodde, and (her toungue) as sharpe as a two edged swearde. Her fete go downe vnto death, and her steppes B pearse thorowe vnto hell. Parchanse thou dwelling with her, wylt ponder the path of lyfe: so vnstedfast are her wayes that thou canste not knowe them. Heare me now therfore (O my sonne) and depart not frō the wordes of my mouth. Kepe thy way far from her, and come not nye the dores of her house. That thou geue not thy stregthe vnto other, and thy yeares to the cruell. That other men be not fylled with thy goodes, & that thy laboures come not in a straūge house. Yea, that thou mourne not at the laste (when thou hast spent thy body & lusty grene C youth) and then say: Alas, why hated I nourture? why did my hert despise correctiō? wherfore was not I obedient vnto the voyce of my teachers, and herkened not vnto them that enfourmed me? I am come almost into all myssortune, in the middest of the multitude & congregacion. Drinke of the water of thine owne well, of the riuers that runne out of thyne owne springes. Let thy welles flow out abrode, that ther may be ryuers of waters in the stretes: but let them be onlye thyne owne, and not straungers with thee. Let thy wel be blessed, and be glad with the wife of thy youth.

Louing is the hind, and frendly is the D Roo: let her brestes alway satisfy the, and hold thee euer contente with her loue: Why sonne, why wilt thou haue pleasure in an harlot, and embrase the bosom of another womā? * For euery Ioē. 31 a mans wayes are open in the sight of and. 34. c the Lord, and he pondreth al their goynges. The wickednesse of the vngodly shall catch him selfe, and with the snares of his owne sinnes shal he be trapped. He shall dye without amendment, and for his greate foolyshnesse he shall go astraye.

The. vi. Chapter.

A
Pro. 17 c MY sonne * if thou be suretye for thy neyghbour, and hast fastened thine hand for another man, thou art bound with thyne owne wordes, and taken with thyne owne speach. Therfore my sonne, do this, and thou shalte be discharged:
when thou art come into thy neyghbours daunger. Go thy wayes then sonne, humble thy selfe and with thy frendes intreate thy creditour: let not thyne eyes slepe, nor thyne eye lydes slumber. Saue thy self as a doe, from the hand of the hunter, and as a byrde from the hand of the fouler: Go to the emmet (thou sluggard) consider her wayes, and learne to be wyse. She hath no guyd, nor ouersear, nor ruler:
yet in the sommer she prouideth her meat, and gathereth her fode together in the haruest. How long wilt thou B slepe, thou sluggish man? when wilt thou aryse out of thy slepe? Yes, slepe on still a lytle, slomber a lytle, folde thine handes together yet a lytle, that thou mayest slepe: so shall pouertye come vnto the, as one that trauayleth by the way, and necessitie like a weaponed man. (But if thou be not slothfull, thy haruest shal come as a springyng wel, and pouertie shal flee farre from the.) An vngodly person, a wicked mā goth with a froward mouth, he winketh with hys eyes, he tokeneth with his fete, he poynteth with C his fingers, he is euer ymaginynge mischefe and frowardnes in his hert, and causeth discorde. Therfore shall his destructiō come hastely vpon him, sodenly shall he be all to broken, and not be healed. * These syxe thynges Pro. 6. c doth the Lord hate, and the seuenth he vtterly abhorreth: A proud loke, a lying tonge, handes that shed innocent blood, an hert that goeth about with wicked imaginacions, * fete that be Psa. 140 swyft in runnyng to do a mischefe, a Pro. 1. a faise witnesse that bringeth vp lyes, D and such a one as soweth discorde among brethren. My sone kepe thy fathers commaundement, & forsake not the lawe of thy mother. Put them vp together in thyne hert, and bynd them about thy necke. That they may leade the wher thou goest, preserue the whē thou arte a slepe: and that when thou awakest, thou mayest talke of them.
For * the cōmaundemēt is a lanterne Psa. 119
and.

and the lawe a lyght: yea chastenynge and nourtour is the waye of lyfe that they may kepe the from the euil wo-Pro.5.a man, and from the flattering tonge of the harlot: that thou lust not after her bewtye in thyne heart, and least thou be taken wyth her fayre lookes. An harlot will make a man to begge hys breade, and a woman will hunte for the precious lyfe. Maye a manne take fyre in his bosome, and his clothes not be brent? Or can one go vpon whote coles, and his feete not be hurt? Euen D so, whosoeuer goeth into hys neyghbours wife, and toucheth her, can not Exo 21.a be vngylty. When do not vtterly despise a theefe that stealeth to satisfy his soule, when he is hungrye: but yf hee may be gotten, he restoreth agayne seuen tymes as much, or els he maketh recompence wyth all the good of hys house. But who so cõmitteth aduoutrye with a woman, he is a foole, and bryngeth hys lyfe to destruction. Hee getteth him self also shame & dishonor such as shal neuer be put out. For the gelousye and wrath of the man, wyll not be intreated, no though thou woldest offre hym great gyftes to make amendes, he will not receaue them.

¶ The. vii. Chapter.

A Deu.6.b and.11.a My sonne kepe my wordes, and laye vp my comaundementes by the. Kepe my cõmaundements and my lawe, euen as the apple of thyne eye, and thou shalte lyue. Bynde them vpon thy fingers, and wryte theim in the table of thyne hert. Say vnto wisdome: thou art my syster, & cal vnderstandyng thy kynswoman: that they may kepe the frõ Pro.2.b. and.11.a the straunge womã, and from the harlot which geueth swete wordes. For B oute of the wyndowe of my house I loked through the latisse, and beheilde the simple people: and amonge other simple folkes, I spyed one yong foole goyng ouer the streetes, by the corner in the way toward the harlots house, in the twilight of the euening, when it began now to be night and darke.
And beholde, there met him a woman Ecc.9.a with open tokens of an harlot, subtyl her hearte was hyd. She was full of loude wordes, and readye to dallye: whose fete could not abide in hir house now is she without, now in the stretes, and lieth a baite in euery corner, she caught the yonge man, killed him, and was not ashamed, sayinge: I had a bowe of peaceofferinges to pay, and thys daye I perfourme it. Therefore came I forth to mete thee, yt I might seke thy face, and so I haue found the. I haue deckt my bed with couerings and clothes of Egypte. My bed haue I made to smel of Myrre, Aloes, and Cinamon. Come, let vs lye together and take oure pleasure till it dee daye lyght: and we will enioye the pleasures of loue. For the good manne is not at home, he is gone far of. He hath take the bagge of money wyth hym. And he wyll returne home at the apoynted solempne feast. Thus with many swete wordes she ouercame hym, and wyth her flatteryng lippes she entysed him sodenlye to folowe her: as it were an oxe led to the slaughter, and lyke as it were a foole that laugheth, when he goeth to the stockes, to be punyshed, so long till shee had wounded hys lyuer with her darte: lyke as yf a byrde hasted to the snare, not knowinge that the peryll of hys lyfe lyeth
D there vpon. Heare me nowe therfore O my children, and marke the wordes of my mouth. Let not thine heart wandre in her wates, and be not thou deceiued in her pathes. For many one hath she wounded and cast downe: ye, many a strong man hath bene slain by the meanes of her. Her houses are the way vnto hell, and bring men downe into the chambers of death.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

A Pro.1.c. Doth not wisdome cry? doth not vnderstandinge put forth her voyce? Standeth she not in the hie places, in the streates and wayes? doth she not crye before the whole city, and in the gates wher mẽ go out and in? It is yee, O yee men (saith she) who I cal. Vnto the chyldren of men, doo I lyfte vp my voice.

Take heede vnto knowledge, O yee ignorant, be wise in heart O yee fooles. Geue eare, for I will speake of great matters, and open my lyppes to tell thynges that bee ryghte. For my throte shalbe talking of the truth, and my lyppes abhorre vngodlinesse. All the wordes of my mouth are ryghteous, there is no frowardnes nor falshoode therein. They are all plaine to such as wyll vnderstand, and ryght to them that fynde knowledge. Receaue my doctryne and not syluer: and my knowledge more then fyne gold. For Pro. 3.b * wisedome is more worth then precious stones, yea all thynges that thou canst desyre, may not be compared vnto it. I wisedome haue my dwelling B wyth knowledge, and prudent counceil is myne owne. The feare of the Lorde abhorreth wyckednes, pryde, dysdayne, and the euill waye: and a mouth that speaketh wycked thinges I vtterlye abhorre. I can geue counC cell, and I conferre thynges: I haue vnderstandynge, I haue strengthe. Den. 17d * Thrugh me, kynges reygne: thoSap. 6. a rughe mee counsaylers make iuste lawes. Thorough me do princes beare rule: and all iudges of the earthe execute iudgement. I am louynge vnto Luk. 11b those that loue me: and they that seke me earlye shall fynde me. Riches and honor are wyth me, ye excellent goodes and ryghteousnes. My fruite is better then golde and precious stone, and myne encrease more worth then fyne syluer. I wyll gayde thee in the C way of rightsousnes, and in the strete of iudgement. That I may lend prosperity to those that loue me, and to inSap. 2.b crease theyr treasure. * The Lord him selfe hadde me in possession in the beginning of hys wayes, or euer he began his workes afore tyme: * I haue Ecc. 24.b bene ordeyned from euerlastinge, and from the beginning or euer the earth was made. When I was borne, there were nether depthes nor sprynges of water. Before the foundations of the mountaynes were layed, yea before al hilles was I borne. The earth and al that is vppon the earthe was not yet made, no not the ground it selfe. * For Sap. 9. b when hee made the heauens, I was D present: when he set vp the depthes in order, when he hanged the cloudes about, when he fastened the sprynges of the depe. When hee shutte the Sea Gen. 1. 8 wythin certayne * bounds, that the Iob. 26. 8 waters shuld not go ouer their mar- Psa. 37. kes that hee commaunded. when hee layed the foundacions of the earth, I was wyth hym, ordrynge all thinges: delytynge dayelye, and reioysynge alwaye before hym. As for the rounde compasse of this worlde, I make it ioyfull: for my delyte is to be amonge the children of men. Therfore harken vnto mee O yee children, blessed are they that kepe my waies, O geue eare vnto nurture, be wyse, and refuse it not. Blessed is the man that heareth me, watchinge dayly at my gates, and geuynge attendeunce at the postes of my doores For who so findeth me, findeth lyfe, and shall obtayne fauoure of the Lorde. But whoe so offendeth agaynste me, hurteth hys owne soule. All they that hate mee, are the louers of death.

The .ix. Chapter.

WIsdome hath builded her selfe I an house, and hewen out seuē pillers, she hath killed her vitailes, powred out her wyne, and prepared her table. She hath sent forth her maydens to cry vpō the hiest place of the cittie. Whosoo is ignorant, lette him come hither. And to the vnwise she said: O come on your way, eat my bread, and drynke my wyne, which I haue poured out for you. Forsake ig- B norance, and ye shall lyue: and seke ye go in the way of vnderstandynge. Who so reproueth a scornful personne getteth him selfe dishonoure, and hee that rebuketh the vngodlye, staineth him selfe. Reproue not a scorner least hee owe thee euill wyll: but rebuke a wyse mā, and he will loue the. Geue a discret man but one occasion, and he will be the wyser: teache a ryghteous man, and he wyll encrease in knowe- Iob. 28 ledge. * The feare of the Lord is the be- Psa. 111 ginnyng of wisdome, and the knowe- Pro. 1a.

ledge

ledge of holye thynges, is vnderstandyng. For thrugh me thy dayes shall be prolonged, and the yeres of thy life shalbe manye. If thou bee wyse, thy wisdome shal do thy selfe good, but yf thou thinkest scorne thereof, it shalbe thine owne harme. A foolish rechelesse woman, ful of wordes, and such a one as hath no knowledge, sitteth at the doze of her house and in the hie places of the citie to call suche as goe by, and that walke streighte in theyr wayes. Whoso is ignorannt (sayeth she) lette hym come hither, and to the vnwyse she saith: stolen waters are swete, and the breade that is priuely eaten hath a good taste. And he doeth not consider, that they are but dead which be there, and that her gestes are in the deepe of hell. ¶ For he that wilbe ioyned vnto her, shall go downe to hel: but he that auoydeth from her shalbe saued.

¶ Prouerbes of Salomon.

¶ The .x. Chapter.

A wyse sonne maketh a glad father, but an vndiscrete son is an heuines vnto hys mother. Pro.15.c

Pro.11a Eccl.5.b

The treasures that are wickedlye gotten, profite nothinge, but ryghteousnes deliuereth from death. Pro.11a Eccl.5.b

Psa.34.b

The Lord will not let the soule of the righteous suffer hunger, but he taketh away the riches of the vngodlie.

An ydle hande maketh poore, but a quicke labouring hand maketh ryche.

Who so regardeth lesinges, fedeth the wind: and doth but folow byrdes: that haue taken theyr flyghte.

Whoe so gathereth in Sommer, is wise: but he that is slouggysh in haruest, bringeth him selfe to confusion.

Blessynges are vpon the heades of the ryghteous, and the mouthe of the vngodlye keepeth mischefe in secrete. Psa.112

The memorial of the iuste shall haue a good reporte, but the name of the vngodlye shall stinke.

A wise man will receaue warning, but a prattinge foole shalbe runyshed.

He that leadeth an innocente lyfe, walketh surelye, but whoe so goeth a wrong way shalbe knowen. Pr.23.a

Hee that winketh wyth hys eye will do some harme: but hee that hath a foolysh mouth shalbe beaten. Ecc.27.d

The mouth of a ryghteous man is a wel of lyfe, but the mouth of the vngodly kepeth myschefe in secret.

Euil wyll stereth vppe stryfe, but lone couereth the multitude of sinnes 1 Pe.4.d 1 Co.13

In the lippes of him that hath vnderstanding, a man shall fynde wysedome, but the rodde belongeth to the backe of the foolish.

Wise men laye vp knowledge, but the mouthe of the foolyshe is nye destruction.

The ryche mans goodes are hys stronge holde, but theyr owne pouertie feareth the poore.

The righteous laboureth to doe good, but the vngodlye vseth hys encrease vnto synne.

To take hede vnto the chastesninge of nurture, is the waye of lyfe: but he that refuseth to be refourmed, disceaueth hym selfe.

Dissembling lyppes keepe hatred secretlye, and hee that speaketh anye slaunder, is a foole. Pro.11b

Where much babbling is, ther must nedes be offēce: and he that refraineth his lyppes is wyse.

An innocent tonge, is a noble treasure, but the hearte of the vngodlye is nothing woorth.

The lippes of the ryghteous fede a whole multitude, but fooles shall dye in theyr owne follye.

The blessinge of the Lorde maketh ryche men, and for carefull trauaile, it doth nothing thereto. Psa.37.a Ecc.11.b

A foole doth wyckedly and maketh but a sporte of it, but wysdome ruleth the man that hath vnderstandyng.

The thinge that the vngodlye are afraid of, shal come vpon them, but the righteous shall haue theyr desyre.

The vngodly passeth when the tēpeste commeth, and the ryghtwise remayneth sure for euer.

D As vynegre is to the teeth, and as smoke is vnto the eyes, euen so is a sluggyshe personne to them that send hym forth.

The feare of the Lorde maketh a long lyfe, but the yeres of the vngodlye shalbe shortened.

The pacient abidyng of the righteous shalbe turned to gladnes, but the hope of the vngodly shall perysshe.

The waye of the Lorde geueth a courage vnto ỹ godly, but it is a feare for wycked doers.

Psa.125a * The righteous shall neuer be ouerthrowen, but the vngodly shal not remayne in the lande.

Psa.37.c * The mouth of the iust wil be talkynge of wisdome, but the tongue of the froward shall perysshe.

The lippes of the ryghteous are occupyed in acceptable thynges, but the mouthe of the vngoodlye taketh them to the worste.

The .xi. Chapter.

A Psa.16b * False balaunce is an abhominacion vnto the Lorde, but a true weyght pleaseth him.

Where pryde is, ther is shame also and confusion: but where as is lowlynes, there is wisdome.

The innocent dealynge of the iust shall leade them, but the wyckednes of such as dissemble, shalbe their owne destruction.

Pro.10a * Ryches helpe not in the daye of vengeaunce, but ryghteousnes deliuereth from death.

The ryghteousnes of the innocent ordereth hys waye, but the vngodly shall fall in his owne wickednes.

The righteousnes of the iuste shall deliuer them, but the wicked shalbe taken in their owne vngodlynes.

B Sap.5.b * When an vngodly man dyeth, his hope is gone, the confidence of ryches shall perysshe.

The ryghteous shalbe delyuered out of trouble, and the vngodlye shall come in hys steade.

Thorowe the mouthe of the dissembler is his neighboure destroyed, but thorowe knowledge shal the iust be delyuered.

When it goeth wel with the righteous, the citye is mery: and whē the vngodly perysshe, there is gladnesse.

When the iuste are in wealth, the citye prospereth: but whē the vngodlye haue the ruie, it decayeth.

A foole bryngeth by a sclaunder of his neyghbour, but a wyse man wyll kepe it secrete.

A dissembling person wyl discouer preuy thynges, but he that is of a faithfull hert, wyll kepe councell.

2.pe.12a C * Where no good counsell is, there the people decaye: but where as manye are that can geue counsell, there is wealth.

Pro.6.a * He that is suertye for a straunger hurteth him selfe: and he that medieth not with suertieshyp, is sure.

A gracious woman mayntayneth honesty, as for the wicked, they mayntayne ryches.

Isa.37.c * He that is mercifull, doeth hym selfe a benefyte, but who so hurteth his neighbour, is a tyraunt.

The labour of the vngodly prospereth not, but he that soweth righteousnes, shal receaue a sure reward.

Lyke as ryghteousnes bryngeth lyfe, euen so to cleue vnto euyll, bryngeth death.

The Lorde abhorreth them that be of a fayned herte, but he hath pleasure in them that are of an vndefyled conuersacion.

The wycked amendeth not for plage vpon plage, but the sede of the righteous shalbe preserued.

A fayre woman withoute discrete maners, is lyke a ryng of golde in a swynes snoute.

The desire of the ryghteous is acceptable, but the hope of the vngodlye is indignacion.

Psa.37b D * Some man geueth out his goods, and is the richer: but the nygard (hauing ynough) will departe from nothing, and yet is euer in powertie.

2.Co.9b * He that is liberall in geuing, shal haue plentye: and he that watereth, shalbe watered also him selfe.

Psal.1a Jer.17b * Who so hordeth by his corne, shall be be curſed among the people: but bleſſynge ſhall lyght vpon his heade that geueth foode.

He that laboureth for honeſtie, findeth his deſire: but who ſo ſeketh after miſchefe, it ſhal happen vnto him.

He that truſteth in his riches, ſhall Pſal.1.a haue a fall, but * the righteous ſhall Jer.17.b flozyſhe as the grene leafe.

Who ſo maketh diſquietnes in his owne houſe, he ſhall haue wynde for his herytage, and the foole ſhalbe ſeruaunt to the wyſe.

The frute of the righteous is a tree of life: and he that endeuoreth himſelf to wynne mens ſoules, is wyſe.

1.Pe.4.d * If the righteous be recompenſed vpon earth, howe much more then the vngodly and the ſynner?

¶ The.xii. Chapter.

WHo ſo loueth wiſdome, will be contente to be reſourmed: but he that hateth to be reproued, is a foole.

Gen.4.a. * A goood man is acceptable vnto the Lorde: but the wycked ymaginer wyll he condempne.

A man can not endure in vngodlyneſſe: but the roote of the ryghteous ſhall not be moued.

A huſwykely woman is a crowne vnto her huſbande: but ſhe that behaueth her ſelfe vnhoneſtly, is a corruption in his bones.

The thoughtes of the righteous are ryghte: but the ymaginacions of the vngodlye are deceitfull.

The talkynge of the vngodlye is, howe they may laye wayte for blood: but the mouth of the ryghteous wyll delyuer them.

Pſa.37.f * God ouerturneth the eſtate of the B wicked, & they ſtand not: but ℣ houſe of the righteous, ſhall ſtand ſtedfaſt.

A man ſhalbe commended for hys wiſdome: but a foole ſhalbe deſpiſed.

Eccl.10.d * A ſimple man which laboreth and worketh, is better then one that is gorgious, and lacketh bread.

A ryghteous man regardeth the life of his catell, but the vngodly haue Eccl.10.b cruell hertes.

* He that tilleth his land, ſhall haue plenteouſnes of bread, but he that followeth ydelnes, is a very foole.

(Who ſo hath pleaſure to continue at the wyne, leaueth diſhoneſtye in his owne dwellyng.)

The deſire of the vngodly hunteth after miſchefe, but the rote of the righteous bryngeth forth fruite.

The wicked falleth into the ſnare throwe the malice of his own mouth but the iuſt ſhal eſcape out of al peril.

Euery man ſhall enioye good, according to the frute of his mouth, and after the workes of his handes ſhall he be rewarded.

Loke what a foole taketh in hand, he thinketh it well done: but he that is wyſe wylbe counſeled.

A foole vttreth his wrath in all the haſt, but a diſcret mā coureth wrōg.

A iuſte man will tell the trueth, ¶ and ſhewe the thing that is right: but a falſe witneſſe diſceaueth.

A ſclaunderous perſon pyrcheth lyke a ſwoorde: but a wyſe mannes tonge is wholſome.

A true mouth is euer cōſtant: but a diſſembling tong is ſone chaunged.

They that ymagine euyll in their mynd, wyl diſceaue, but the cōſeilers of peace ſhal haue ioy folowinge thē.

There ſhal no miſfortune happen vnto the iuſt, but the vngodly ſhalbe filled with miſery.

* The Lorde abhorreth lyinge Pſon.3.b lyppes, but they that labour for truth, pleaſe hym.

He that hath vnderſtandyng, doeth hide wiſdome: but an vndiſcret herte telleth out his foliſhnes.

A diligente hande ſhall beare rule, but the ydle ſhalbe vnder tribute.

* Heauines diſcourageth the heart Pro.15.b of man, but a good woorde maketh it Eccl.10.c glad agayne.

The ryghteous excelleth his neyboure, but the waye of the vngodlys wyll diſceaue them ſelues.

The diſceitfull man ſhall not roſte that he toke in hunting: but ℣ riches 2.tim.6.b of the iuſt man is of great value.

In the waye of ryghteouſneſſe there is lyfe, and in the ſame waye there is no deathe.

¶ The .xiii. Chapter.

A wyse soonne will hearken to his fathers warnyng, but he that is scornefull, wyll not heare when he is reproued.

A good man shall enioye the fruite of his mouthe: but he that hath a frosward mynde, shal be spoyled.

He that kepeth his mouthe kepeth his lyfe: but who so openeth his lyppes to cuyll, destroyeth hym selfe.

The sluggard wold fayn haue, and can not get his desire: but the soule of the diligent shall haue plentie.

A righteous man abhorreth lyes, but the vngodly shameth bothe other and hym selfe.

Ryghteousnesse keepeth the innocent in the way, but vngodlynesse doeth ouerthrow the synner.

Psa. 17 b and. 112. Pro. 11 c

* Some men are riche, though they haue nothyng: agayne, some men are poore, hauyng great ryches.

With goods euery mā deliuereth his life, & the poore will not be reproued.

W

Pro. 24 a

The light of the righteous maketh ioyfull, but * the candle of the vngodly shalbe put out.

Amonge the prowde there is euer strife, but amōg those ẏ do all thinges with aduisement, there is wisedome.

Wrongfully gotten gooddes are soone spent: but they that be gathered together with the hande, shall increase.

Longe tarying for a thynge that is differred, greueth the heart, but when the desyre commeth, it is a tree of life.

Who so despiseth any thyng, shalbe hurte for the same: but he that feareth the commaundemente, shall haue the reward.

A disceitfull son shal haue no good, but a discrete seruant shal do ful wel, and his way shall prospere.)

The lawe is a well of life vnto the wyse, that it may kepe hym from the snares of death. Good vnderstandyng geueth fauour, but harde is the waye of the despysers.

A wise mā doth al thynges & discretion, but a foole wil declare hys folye.

An vngodly messanger falleth into mischiefe, but a faithfull ambassador is wholsome.

He that thynketh scorne to be rebuked, commeth to pouertie & shame: but who so regardeth correction, shall come to honoure.

When a desyre is brought to passe, it delyteth the soule: but fooles count it an abhomination to depart frō euyl

W

He that goth in the cōpany of wyse men, shall bee wyse: but who so is a companion of fooles, shall be hurt.

Mischiefe folowyth vpon sinners but the ryghteous shall haue a good reward.

Iob. 27 c

He that is vertuous, leaueth an inheritance vnto hys childers children, and the ryches of the synner, is layd vp for the iust.

There is plenteousnes of foode in the fieldes of the poore: but the fielde not well ordred, is without fruite.

* He that spareth the rodde, hateth his sonne, but who so loueth him, chastiseth hym betymes.

Ecc. 30 a Heb. 12.

* The righteous eateth, and is satisfied, but the bealy of the vngodly hath neuer ynough.

Psa. 34 b

¶ The .xiiii. Chapter.

W

Wyse women vpholde theyr house, but a foolish wife plucketh it downe.

Hee that walketh in the ryght pathe of the Lord, feareth hym: but he that turneth hym self from his waye, despiseth hym.

In the mouth of the foolyshe is the rodde of pryde, but the lyppes of the wyse wyll preserue them.

Where no oxen are, there the cribbe, is emptie: but where the oxen labour there is muche fruite.

A faithfull witnes wil not dissemble, but a false record wyl make a lye.

Pro. 8. a

A scornful body seketh wisdom, & findeth it not: but * knowlege is easy to come by, vnto him ẏ will vnderstand.

Be that thou medle not with a fole in whom thou perceyuest to bee noo knowledge.

The wisedom of him that hath vnderstandynge, is: to take heede vnto hys waye, but the foolishenesse of the vn-vnwyse disceaueth.

Fooles make but a spoꝛte of sinne, but ther is fauoꝛable loue among the ryghteous.

The herte feleth his owne syues bitternesse, neyther shall the straunger be partaker of his ioye.

The house of the vngodly shalbe ouerthꝛowē, but the tabernacle of the ryghteous shall flouꝛysshe.

W Pla.16 d Deu.12a Esa.55 b

* Ther is a way which some men thinke to be ryghte, but the ende therof leadeth vnto death.

The hert is soꝛowful euen in laughter, and the ende of mirth is heuines.

A backesliding herte shalbe fylled with hys owne wayes, but a good man shall lyue of his fruites.

An ignoꝛaunt bodye beleueth all thynges: but who so hath vnderstandyng, loketh well to his goynges.

(A disceatful sonne shal haue no good but a discrete seruāt shall do ful wel, and his waye shall pꝛosper.)

A wise man feareth, and departeth from euyll, but a furious foole goeth on pꝛesumpteously.

An vnpacient man dealeth foolishlye: but he that is well aduised is hated of the foole.

C

The ignoꝛaunte haue foolyshnes in possession, but the wyse are crowned with knowledge.

The euyll shall bowe them selues before the good, and the vngodly shall wayt at the doꝛes of the righteous.

The pooꝛe is hated euen of hys owne neyghbours, but the riche hath many frendes.

Who so despiseth his neyghboure, doth amysse, but * blessed is he that hath pitie of the pooꝛe,

(He that putteth his truste in the Lord, loueth to be mercifull.)

Without doubt they erre that ymagine wickednes, but they that muse vpon good thinges, vnto suche shall happen mercy and faythfulnes.

In euery labour ther is some pꝛofyt: but onely vayne woꝛdes, bꝛynge foꝛth penurye.

Ryches are as a crowne vnto the wyse, but the ignoꝛaunce of fooles is verye foolyshnesse.

A faythfull wytnesse delyuereth soules, but a disceitfull wytnes bꝛingeth foꝛth lyes. D

The feare of the Lorde is a strong holde, and hys chyldꝛen are vnder a sure defence.

The feare of the Lord is a well of life, to auoyde the snares of death.

The encrease and pꝛosperitie of the commens is the kinges honoure, but the decaye of the people, is the confusion of the pꝛince.

He that is pacient, hath much vnderstandyng, but he that is soone displeased, pꝛouoketh foolyshnes.

A mery herte is the lyfe of the bodye, but rancoure consumeth awaye the bones. Pꝛo.o.11b

* He that doeth a pooꝛe manne wꝛonge, blaspheмeth his maker: but whoso hath pitye of the pooꝛe, doeth honoure vnto God. mat.25.d

The vngodly is caste awaye foꝛ his iniquitye, but the ryghteous hath a good hope euen in death.

Wysedome resteth in the hearte of hym that hath vnderstandynge, and it shalbe knowen amonge them that are vnlearned. Pꝛo.11b

* Ryghteousnesse setteth vp the people, but the sacrifyce of the Heathen is synfull.

A discret seruaunt is a pleasure vnto the king: but one that is not honest pꝛouoketh hym vnto wꝛath.

¶ The.xv. Chapter.

A * Softe aunswere putteth awaye displesure, but frowarde woꝛdes pꝛouoke vnto anger. A Pꝛo.25c

The tongue of such as be wyse, vseth knowledge aryght, as foꝛ a foolyshe mouth it babbleth out nothyng but foolyshnesse.

The eyes of the Lord loke on euery place, beholding both the good & bad.

A wholsome tongue is a tree of lyfe, but he that abuseth it, hath a bꝛoken mynde.

A foole despiseth hys fathers coꝛrection, but he that taketh hede when he is repꝛoued, shal haue the moꝛe vnderstandynge.

(Where

where righteousnes is plentifull, there is verye greate power: but the ymaginations of the vngodly shall be rooted out.

The house of the righteous is full of ryches: but the increase of the vngodly are nye destruction.

A wyse mouth powreth out knowledge, but the hearte of the foolyshe doeth not so.

Pro.21d * The lorde abhorreth the sacrifice of Ecc.34.c the vngodly, but the prayer of the righ Esa.62a teous is acceptable vnto hym.

The way of the vngodly is an abhomination vnto the Lorde: but who so followeth ryghteousnesse, hym hee loueth.

He that forsaketh the ryght waye, shall be sore punished: and who so hateth correction, shall dye.

The hell with her paine is knowē vnto the Lord: how muche more then the hertes of men?

Hap.2.c A scornefull bodye loueth not one that rebuketh hym: neyther wyll hee come vnto the wyse.

Pro.12d * A mery heart maketh a cherefull and.17.d countenance, but an heauy hart com-Ecc.30.c pelleth a man to sygh.

The heart of him that hath vnderstandyng, doothe seeke after knowledge, but the mouth of fooles is fedde with foolishenes.

All the dayes of the poore are miserable: but a quiete herte is a continuall feaste.

Psa.37b * Better is a lyttell wyth the 1.tim.6b feare of the Lord, then great treasure wyth sorowe.

Better is a meale of pottage with loue, then a fatte oxe with euil wyll.

Pro.15a * An angrye man stereth vp stryfe, but he that is pacient stilleth discord.

The way of a slouthfull mā, is as it were hedged wyth thornes, but the strete of the righteous is wel cleansed

C * A wyse sonne maketh a glad father, but an vndiscrete body shameth hys mother.

Pro.10a A fooler reioyceth in foolishe thinges, but a wyse man looketh well to hys owne goynges.

Vnadui sed thoughtes shal come to naught, but wher as men are that can geue counsell, there is stedfastnesse.

A ioyful thing is it to a man when his counsel is followed: and very pleasant is a worde spoken in due season.

The waye of life leadeth vnto heuen, that a man should beware of hel beneathe.

The Lord will breake downe the D house of the proude, but he shal make fast the borders of the wydowe.

The Lorde abhorreth the imaginations of the wycked, but pure wordes of innocentes are pleasaunte vnto hym.

The couetous man rooted by hys owne house: but who so hateth rewardes, shall lyue.

Thorow mercy and faith are the sinnes purged, and thorowe the feare of the Lord doth euery one eschue euyl.)

The heart of the ryghteous studieth his answer afore: but the wycked mans mouthe spueth out mischiefe.

The Lord is farre from the vngodlye, but he heareth the prayer of the ryghteous.

Lyke as the clerenes of the eies, reioyceth the hearte, so doothe a good name fede the bones.

The eare that herkeneth to the reformation of lyfe, shall dwell among the wise.

He that refuseth to bee reformed, despiseth his owne soule: but he that submytethe hym selfe to correction, is wyse.

The feare of the Lord is the ryght science of wysedome, and lowlynesse goeth before honour.

¶ The.xvi. Chapter.

A Man maye well pourpose a A thyng in his heart: but the answere of the tonge commeth of the Lord.

* A man thinketh all hys ways to Pro.21a be cleane, but it is the Lord that iudgeth the myndes. Psa.33b

Commyt thy workes vnto ✠ lord, & Psa.17a loke what ✠ deuiseſt, it shall prosper.

The Lord doth all thinges for hys owne sake, yea and when he keepeth the vngodly for the day of wrath.

The

The Lord abhorreth all such as be of a proude heart, his hand is against their hande, and they shall not escape escape as innocentes.

(The beginnyng of a good lyfe is to doo righteousnes: for that is more accepted vnto God, then to offer vp sacrifices.)

By louing mercy and faithfulnes synnes be forgeuen, and who so feareth the Lord eschueth euill.

When a mans ways please the lord he maketh his verye enuemies to bee his frendes.

Better it is to haue a little thynge with righteousnes, then great rentes wrongfully gotten.

Pro.19c * A man deuiseth a way in his hert: but it is the Lorde that ordereth hys goynges.

When the prophecye is in the lyps of the kyng, his mouthe shall not goe wrong in iudgement.

Pro.11.a and.20.b * A true measure and a true balance are the Lordes iudgement, he maketh all weyghtes.

It is great abhomination, whē kinges are wicked: for a kings seat shold be holden vp with righteousnesse.

Righteous lips are pleasaunt vnto kynges: and he that speaketh truthe, shalbe beloued.

The kings displeasure is a messanger of death: but a wise man wyll pacifie hym.

The cherefull countenaunce of the kyng, is lyfe, and his louyng fauoure, is as the euenyng dewe.

Pro. 8.a * To haue wysedome in possession, is better than to haue gold: and to get vnderstandyng, is rather to be chosen then to haue syluer.

The pathe of the ryghteous is to eschue euill, and who so looketh well to his ways, kepeth his owne soule.

Presumptuousnes goth before destruction: and after a proude stomacke there followeth a fall.

Better is it to be of humble mynde with the lowely, then to deuyde the spoyles with the prowde.

Eccl.2. He that handleth a matter wysely, obteineth good: and blessed is he, that putteth his trust in the Lorde.

Who so hath a wyse vnderstanding shall be called to counsell: and he that can speake sayre, shall haue the more learnyng.

Vnderstandyng is a well of life vnto hym that hath it: as for the chastenyng of fooles, it is but foolishnesse. C

A wise hert ordreth his mouth wisely, & amendeth ỹ doctrine in his lips.

Faire wordes are an hony combe, a refreshyng of the mynde, and healthe of the bones.

* There is a way that men thynke to be ryght: but the ende thereof leadeth vnto deathe. Pro.14. Deu.12 Esa.55 b

A troublous soule disquieteth her self, for her owne mouth hath brought her thereto.

An vngodly persone stirreth vp euill, and in hys lyppes, he is as an whote burnyng fyre.

A froward body causeth stryfe, and he that is a blabbe of his tonge, maketh diuision amonge princes.

A wicked man begileth his neighbour, and leadeth hym into the waye that is not good.

The vngodly that looketh hastily D with his eyes, ymagineth myschiefe, and when he moueth hys lippes, he will doo some harme.

Age is a crowne of worshyp, if it be found in the way of righteousnes.

A patient manne is better then one strong: and he that can rule him selfe, is more worth then he that wynneth a citie.

The lottes are caste into the lappe, but the ordrynge thereof standeth all in the Lorde.

The .xvii. Chapter.

BEtter is a drye morsell wyth quietuesse, then a house full of fat offryng with stryfe. A

* A discreete seruaunt shall haue more rule then the sonnes that haue no wisedom, and shall haue like heritage with the brethren.

* Like as siluer is tried in the fyre, and gold in the fornace, euen so doeth the Lorde proue the hearttes.

A wicked body geueth audience to false false lyppes, and a frowarde person geueth eare to a disceitfull tongne.

Pro.14.b Who so laugheth the poore to scorn, Iob.31.c blasphemeth hys maker: and hee that is glad of an other mans hurte, shall not be vnpunished.

Chylders chyldren are a worshyppe vnto the elders, & the fathers are the honour of the chyldren.

Speeche of auctoritie becommeth not a foole, muche lesse a lying mouth then besemeth a prince.

B A reward is a precious stone vnto hym that hath it: but vnto whom so euer it turneth, it maketh him vnwise

Who so couereth an other mannes offence, seketh loue, but he that discloseth the faut, setteth the prince against hym selfe.

One reproue onely doth more good, to hym that hath vnderstandyng, then a hundred stripes vnto a foole.

1.re.12.c A seditious person seeketh mischiefe: and therfore is a cruell messanger sent agaynst hym.

C It were better to come agaynste a she Beare robbed of her whelpes, thē against a foole (trustyng) in his foolishenesse.

Ro.12.d Who so rewardeth cuyll for good, 1.Tes.5. the Plague shall not departe frome hys house.

The beginnynge of stryfe is, when a man maketh an issue for water, therfore, or the metyng ber: leaue of contencion.

The Lorde hateth as well hym that iustifieth the vngodly, as him that cōdemneth the innocent.

What helpeth it to geue a foole treasure in his hand, where as he hath no Pro.6.a mynde to hye wysedome?

Who so buyldeth his house to hie seketh destruction: and he that refuseth to learne, shall come into mischief

He is a frende that alwaye loueth, and in aduersitie a man shall knowe who is his brother.

Pro.9.a Who so promiseth by the hand, and is suertie for his neighboure, he is a foole.

He that delyteth in synne, loueth strife: and who so setteth hys dooze to hye, seketh after a fall.

Who so hath a froward hert obteyneth no good: & he that hath an ouerthwart tonge, shall fall into mischefe.

He that begetteth a foole, begetteth hys sorowe: and the father of a foole can haue no ioye.

A merye hearte maketh a lusty Pro.12d age, but a sorowfull minde dryeth vp Eccl.30c the bones.

The vngodlye taketh giftes oute of the bosome, to wreste the wayes of iudgement.

Wisdome shyneth in the face of Eccl.2.c
him that hath vnderstandynge, but the eies of fooles wander throughout all landes.

An vndiscrete sonne is a grefe Pro.19d vnto his father, and an heuynesse vnto his mother.

To punyshe the innocente, and to smite the princes that geue true iudgement, are both cuyll.

A wise man vseth a few wordes: Iam.1.b and he is a man of vnderstādyng, that and.3.a maketh much of his spirite.

Yea, a verye foole (when he holdeth his tonge) is counted wyse, and Iob.14d to haue vnderstandyng, when he shutteth his lyppes,

The.xviii. Chapter.

HE accompanyeth hym selfe B with all stedfaste and wholsome doctrine, that hath a feruent desyre vnto it, and is sequestrate from company.

A foole hath no delite in vnderstandyng, but only in those things wherin his hert reioyseth.

When the vngodly commeth, then commeth also disdayne, and with the dyshoneste person commeth shame and dishonoure.

The wordes of the wise mannes mouth are lyke depe waters, and the wel of wisdome is like a ful streame.

It is not good to regard the per- Pro.24d son of the vngodly, or to put backe the righteous in iudgement.

A fooles lippes are euer brawlyng, & his mouth prouoketh vnto battell.

A fooles mouthe is his owne de- B struction, and hys lyps are the snare

for

for his owne soule.

The wordes of a slanderer are very woundes, and go thorow vnto the innermost partes of the body.

• Feare casteth downe hym that is slouthfull: and the soules of suche as liue in voluptuousnes shall hunger.)

Who so is slouthful and slack in his laboure, is the brother of hym that is a waster.

The name of the Lorde is a stronge castell, the ryghteous fleeth vnto it, and is in sauegarde.

But the riche mans goodes are his C strong hold, yea, he taketh them for an hye wall rounde about hym.

After pride cometh destruction, and honour after lowlynes.

Ecc.40b • He that geueth sentence in a matter beefore he heare it, is a foole, and worthy to be confounded.

A good stomacke dryueth awaye a mans disease, but when the spirite is vexed, who may byde it?

A wyse hearte laboureth for knowledge, and a prudente eare seeketh vnderstandyng.

Liberalitie bryngeth a man to honour and worshyppe, and setteth hym among great men.

The ryghteous declareth his owne cause fyrst hym selfe, yf his neyghbor come, he shall fynde hym.

The lot pacifieth the variance, and parteth the myghtie a sunder.

A brother though he be greued with offence, yet is he more woorthe then a verye stronge castelle: and they that holde together, are lyke the barre of a palaice.

A mans bealy shalbe satisfied with the fruite of his owne mouthe, and D with the increase of his lippes shal he be fylled.

Deathe and lyfe are in the instrument of the tonge, and they that loue it, shall enioye the fruite thereof.

Pro.24c • Who so fyndeth a (good) wyfe, findeth a good thing, and receaueth a holsome benefite of the Lorde.

(He that putteth away a good woman, putteth away a good thing: but he that keepeth an harlotte, is a foole, and vnwyse.)

The poore maketh supplication and prayeth mekely: but the ryche geueth a rough answere.

A man that loueth his frends wyll be companable with them, and somme frende stycketh faster to a man then his brother.

The xix. Chapter.

A
Pro.20a BEtter • is the poore that lyueth godly, then the blasphemer that is but a foole.

Where noo discretion is, there the soule is inclined to the thynge that is not good, and is swyfte on foote, and offendeth.

Foolishenes maketh a man to goe out of his waye, and then is his hert vnpacient against the Lorde.

Riches maketh many frends: but the Deu.19 poore is forsaken of hys neyghbour.

• A false wytnes shall not remayne vnpunished: and he that speaketh lies, shall not escape.

The multitude hangeth vpon great men: and euery manne fauoureth hym that geueth rewardes.

As for the poore, he is hated among all hys owne brethren: yea his owne frendes withdraw from hym: and yf he aske them the cause, they disdayne to answere hym.

B He that is wyse, loueth his owne soule: and kepeth vnderstandyng, that he may prospere.

A false wytnesse shall not remayne vnpunished: and he that speaketh lies shall perishe.

Pleasure becometh not a foole, much more vnsemely is it, a bonde manne to haue the rule of princes.

A wyse manne can put of displeasure, and it is honoure to lette some faultes passe.

Pro.28. The kinges displeasure is like the ro-Pſ.133a. ringe of a lion, but • his frendshyp is lyke the dewe vpon the grasse.

Pro.17b An vndiscrete sonne is the heuynes Pro.17b of his father: • and a brawlynge wyfe is lyke the droppe of an house, where through it is euer droppyng.

A howse and rychelle may a man haue by the heritage of hys elders:

but

Pro.18a but a discrete woman is the gyfte of the Lorde.

Slouthfulnes bringeth slepe: and a soule accustomed wyth crafte shal suffer hunger.

Who so kepeth the commaundement keapeth hys owne soule: but hee that regardeth not hys way, shall dye.

C He that hath pitie vppon the poore, lendeth vnto the Lord: and loke what he layeth oute, it shalbe payed hym agayne.

Chasten thy sonne while there is hope, but let not thy soule be moued to slaye him.

A manne of greate wrath beareth a payne: and thoughe thou once deliuer hym, thou must agayne do almuch for hym.

O geue eare vnto good councel, and be content to be refourmed, that thou mayest be wyse in thy latter dayes.

Pro.16b • There ar many deuyces in a mans heart, neuertheiesse the councel of the Lord shall stande for euer.

It is a mans worshyp to do good, and better it is to be a poore man then a dissembler.

The feare of the Lorde bringeth a man to lyfe, and he shal rest the whole nyght in plenteousnes: without visitation of any plague.

Pro.16b • A slouthfull manne shutteth hys handes into hys bosome as into the pot: and wyll not take payne to put it to hys mouth.

Pro.21b • If thou smytest a scornefull person, the ignorant shal take better hede and yf thou reprouest one that hath vnderstanding, he will be the wyser.

He that hurteth his father, or chaseth out his mother, is a shameful and an vnworthye sonne.

My sonne heare no more the doctrine that leadeth thee vnto errours, from the wordes of vnderstandynge.

A false wytnes laugheth iudgemēt to scorne, and the mouth of the vngodlye eateth wickednes.

Punyshmentes are ordeyned for the scornefull: and strypes for fooles backes.

¶ The xx. Chapter.

WYne maketh a manne to bee scornefull: and strong drinke causeth a man to be vnquiet: who so delyteth therin, shall neuer be wyse.

Pro.19b • The kinge ought to bee feared as the roarynge of a lion: who so prouoketh him vnto angre, offendeth against his owne soule.

It is a mans honoure to keepe hym selfe from strife: but they that haue pleasure in braulynge, are fooles euerye one.

A slouthful body will not go to plowe for colde of the wynter, therefore shall he go a begging in sommer, and haue nothynge.

Wyse counsell in the hearte of man, is like a water in the depe of the earth and a man that hath vnderstandynge bryngeth it foorth.

Many there be that wold be called good doers: but where shal one fynde a true faithfull man?

Psa.137 B • Whoso leadeth a godly & an innocent life, is righteous: and happy shal his children be, whom he leaueth behynd hym.

A kynge that sytteth in the throne of iudgement, and loketh well aboute hym, driueth away all euill. 1 Joh.1d

• Who can saye my hearte is cleane, I am innocent from synne. 3 Re.8.c 2 par.6.[illegible] Eccl.7.c

To vse two maner of wayghtes, or two maner of measures, both these ar abhominable vnto the Lord.

A childe is knowen by hys conuersation, whether his woorkes be pure and right.

The eare to heare, the eye to see, the Lorde hath made them bothe

Delyte not thou in slepe, least thou come to pouertie: but open thyne eyes that thou mayest haue bread inough.

It is naught it is naught (sayth he that byeth any thynge) but when hee C commeth to hys owne house, then hee boasteth of his peny worth.

A man that hath a mouth of vnderstanding, hath many precious stones and costly Jewels.

Pro.9.a • Take hys garment that is surete for a straunger: and take a pledge for him hym for the vnknowne mans sake.

Euery man lyketh the breade that is gotten wyth disceite: but at the last his mouth shalbe filled with gravell.

Through councel, the thinges that men devise go forward: and with discretion ought warres to bee taken in hande.

The craftie disceatefull bewrayeth secrete councel: and to him that custometh flattering lips ioine not thy self

Exo.20b Leu.20b Deu.27.c 2Re.15a * Whoso curseth his father and mother: his light shalbe putte oute in the middest of darkenes,

* The heritage that commeth to hastily at the fyrst, shall not be praysed at the ende.

Mat.5.e Ro.12.c D * Say not thou, I wil recompense evil: but put thy trust in the Lord, and he shal defende thee.

Pro.11a and.16.b * The Lorde abhorreth two maner of weightes, and a false balance is an evil thinge.

Jer.10.d * The Lorde ordreth euery mannes goynges: howe maye a man then understande his owne waye.

It is a snare for a man to devoure that which is holy: and after the vow to turne to thyne owne vse, the thing that thou hast vowed.

2Re.15c * A wyse kinge destroyeth the vngodly, & bringeth the whele ouer thē.

The ianterne of the Lorde is the breath of man: and goeth through all

Pro.29b the inwarde partes of the body.

* Mercye and faythfulnes preserue the king: and wyth louynge kindnes hys seate is holden vp.

The strength of yonge menis their worshipp, and a graie head is an honor vnto the aged.

Woundes dryue awaye evil, and so do strypes the inwarde partes of the bodye.

A ¶ The.xxi. Chapter.

4Re.2.c THe * kynges hearte is in the hand of the Lord, like as are the riuers of water: he may tourne it whither soeuer he wyll.

Euery man thinketh his owne way to be ryghte: but the Lord iudgeth the heartes.

* To doo ryghteousnes and iudgement is more acceptable to the Lorde then sacrifice.

A presumptuous loke, a proud stomacke: and the plowing of the vngodlye is sinne.

The deuyces of one that is diligent bring plenteousnes: but he that is vnadvysed commeth vnto pouertie.

Who so hoordeth vp ryches wyth the dysceatfulnes of his tongue, he is vayne and a foole, and like vnto them that seke theyr owne death.

The robberies of the vngodly shall bee theyr owne destruction: for they wil not do the thing that is right.

The wayes of the frowarde are straunge: but the * workes of him that Tim.1.c is cleane are right.

* It is better to dwell in a corner Pro.25d vnder the house toppe, then wyth a brauling woman in a wyde house.

The soule of the vngodlye wisheth evil: and hath no pity vpon his neighboure.

* When the scornefull is punyshed, Pro.19d the ignorannte take the better heede: and when he seeth the wise men prosper, hee wyll receaue the more vnderstanding.

The righteous man wyselye considereth the house of the wycked: and for theyr wyckednes God ouerthroweth the vngodlye.

* Who so stoppeth his eares at the mat.18d crynge of the poore: he shall crye hym selfe, and not be heard.

A priuye reward pacifieth displeasure, and a gifte in the bosome stilleth furiousnes.

The iust delyteth in doing the thig that is ryght, but ouer the workers of wyckednes hangeth destruction.

The man that wandreth out of the way of wisdome, shall remayne in the congregation of the dead.

He that hath pleasure in banquettes Pro.23c shalbe a poore man. ¶

Whoso delyteth in wyne and delicates, shal not be riche.

The vngodlye shalbe geuen for the righteous, and the wicked for the iust

* It is better to dwell in a wilder- Ecc.25c nesse, then wyth a chyding and an angrye woman.

In a wyse mannes house, there is great treasure and oyle: but a foolishe body spendeth vp all.

Whoe soo foloweth righteousnesse and mercye, fyndeth bothe lyfe, rygh-teousnesse, and honour.

A wyse man wynneth the cytie of the myghtie: and as for the strengthe that they trust in, he bringeth it downe.

Pro.12b * Who so keepeth his mouth & hys tongue: the same keepeth hys soule from troubles.

He that is proude and presumptu-ous, is called a scornefull man, which in wrathe dare worke maliciously.

The voluptuousnes of the slouth-full is his owne death: for his handes will not labour.

He coueteth and desireth al the day long, but the righteous is alway ge-uyng, and kepeth nothyng backe.

The sacrifices of the vngodly is ab homination: howe muche more when they offer the thynge that is gotten with wickednes?

Pro.19a * A false wytnes shall perishe: but he that is a true man boldely speaketh that he hath heard.

An vngodly man goth forth rashly: but the iust reformeth his owne way.

Eccl.1.b and.46.b Esa.33.c * There is no wisedom, there is no vnderstandyng, there is no counsayle agaynst the Lord.

* The horse is prepared agaynste the day of battail: but the Lord geueth the victorye.

The.xxii.Chapter.

A Ecc.46b Ecc.7.a * Good name is more worthe then greate rychesse: and lo-uyng fauour is better thenne siluer and golde.

The ryche and poore are together: the Lorde is the maker of theym all.

A wyse man seeth the plague, and hydeth hym selfe, but the foolyshe go on styll, and are punished.

The end of lowlynes, and the feare of God is ryches, honor, prosperitie, and health.

Thornes and snares ar in the way of the frowarde: but he that doth kepe hys soule, wyll flee from suche.

Teache a chyld in his youth what way he should go: for he shal not leaue it when he is olde.

The ryche ruleth the poore: and the borower is seruant to the lender.

He that soweth wickednesse shall reape sorowe: and the rod of hys cruel tie shall perysshe.

Ecc.31b B * He that hath a louing eye shalbe blessed: for he gyueth of his bread vn-to the poore.

Who so geueth rewardes, shall ob-tayn the victory and honor: but he ta-keth awaye the soule of suche as re-ceaue them.)

Caste out the scorneful man, and so shall stryfe go out with hym: yea, va-riance and sclaunder shall cease.

Who so deliteth to be of a clean hert and of gracious lyppes, the kyng shal be his frende.

The eies of the lord preserue know ledge: but as for the wordes of the dessyptefulle, hee bryngeth theym to naughte.

The slouthfull body sayth: there is a lyon without, I myght be slayne in the strecte.

Pro.23c * The mouth of an harlot is a depe pytte, wherin he falleth, that the lord is angrye withall.

Foolyshenes sticketh in the hearte of the ladde, and the rodde of correcti-on shall dryue it awaye.

C Who so dooeth a poore man wrong to encrease his owne ryches, & geueth vnto the rych to please hym, at the last commeth to pouertie hym selfe.

My sonne, bowe downe thyn eare, and hearken vnto the wordes of wis-dome, applye thy mynde vnto my doc-trine: for thou shalt be excellēt, if thou kepe it in thyne hearte, and practise it in thy mouth: that thou mayste putte thy trust in the Lorde.

I haue shewed thee this daye, the thyng that thou knowest.

Haue not I warned thee very ofte with counsel & lerning: that I might shew thee the truth, & that thou with the veritie myghtest answere theym that sende vnto thee.

D Spoile thou not the poore, because he is weake, and oppresse not the symple in iudgement: for the Lord hym selfe wyll defende theyr cause, and do violence vnto them that haue vsed violence.

Make no frendshyp wyth an angry wilfull man, and keepe no companye with the furious: least thou lerne his waies, and receaue hurte in thy soule. Pro.6.a.

• Bee not thou one of theym that bynd theyr hand vpon promise, & are suerty for weightie causes: for yf thou hast nothing to pay, they shall take away thy bed from vnder thee. Pro.23b

• Thou shalt not remoue the lande marke, which thy fore elders haue set.

Seest thou not, they which be diligent in theyr busines, stand before kinges, and not among the simple people

¶ The xxiii. Chapter.

3 WHen thou sittest at the table to eate wyth a Lord, ordre thy selfe manerlye with the thinges that are set before thee.

Measure thine appetite: and if thou wilte rule thyne owne selfe, be not ouer gredye of hys meate, for meate beguileth and disceaueth. Ecc.27.a

Jer.17b • Take not ouer great trauaile and labour to be ryche, beware of suche a purpose.

1.tim.6b • Why wilt thou set thine eye vpon the thynge which sodenlye vanysheth away? for riches make theym selues wynges, and take theyr flight lyke an B Eagle into the ayre.

Eate not thou wyth the enuious, and desyre not his meate, for he doeth as a manne that prescribeth a measure to thee in his heart: he saith vnto the: eate and drynke, wher as his heart is not wyth thee: yea, the morsels that thou haste eaten shalte thou perdrake and lese those swete wordes.

Tel nothing into the eare of a foole, for hee wyll despyse the wisedome of thy wordes. Pro.12b

• Remoue not the olde land marke, deu.27.c. and come not within the fielde of the fatherlesse: for he that delyuered them is myghtye, euen he shall defende theyr cause agaynst thee.

Apply thyne hearte vnto correction, and thyne eare to the wordes of knowledge.

• Withholde not correction frō the child, for yf thou beatest him wyth the rod, he shall not die therof. Pro.13d Ecc.30a

If thou smyte him with the rodde, thou shalt deliuer his soule from hel.

My sonne, if thy heart receiue wisdome, my heart also shal reioyce; yea, my reynes shalbe merye gladde, yf thy lyppes speake the thing that is right. Pro.24a

• Let not thyne hearte be gelous to folow synners but kepe the stil in the feare of the Lorde al the day longe: for the ende is not yet come, and thy patient abiding shal not be in vayne.

My son geue eare and be wyse, and set straite thyne hearte in the waye of the Lorde.

• Keepe noo companye wyth wine C bibbers, and ryotous eaters of flesshe: Pro.21c for such as be dronkardes and riotous shal come to pouertie, and hee that is geuen to muche sleepe, shal go wyth a ragged coate.

Geue eare vnto thy father that begatte thee, and despyse not thy mother when she is old.

Labour for to get the trueth, sell it not away, and so do by wisdome nurture and vnderstandyng: for a ryghteous father is meruelus glad of a wise son: and he that begetteth a wyse child shall haue greate pleasure in hym.

Doo so that thy father and mother may be glad of thee, and that shee that bare thee, may reioyce.

My sonne geue me thyne heart, and lette thyne eyes haue pleasure in my wayes.

• For an whore is a depe graue, and Pro.12b an harlot is a narrowe pyt.

She lurketh like a theefe, & bringeth vnto her such men as be ful of vyce.

Who hath wo, who hath sorow? who hath strife: whoe hath braulinge: and who hath wōdes without cause? or who hath red eyes: euē they they that be euer at the wyne, and seke excesse?

Loke not thou vpon the wine, how red it is, and what a coloure it geueth in the glasse.

It goeth downe softely, but at the last it byteth like a serpent, and stynge-geth as an adder. So shall thyne eies loke vnto strange women, and thyne hert shal muse vpon froward things.
Yea, thou shalt be as though thou layest in the myddest of the sea, or slepest vpon the toppe of the mast of a shyppe. They wounded me (shalte thou saye) but it hath not hurte me: they haue all to broken me, but I felt it not, when I am well wakened, I wyll go to the drynke agayne.

¶ The xxiiii. Chapter.

A Pro.23 b and. 24.c BE not thou gelous ouer wyc-ked men, and desyre not to bee among them. For theyr heart imagineth to doo hurt, and their lyp-pes talke of mischiefe.
Thorowe wysedome is an house buylded, and wyth vnderstandyng is it set vp. Thorow discretion shal the chambers bee fylled wyth all costely and pleasant ryches.
A wyse man is euer stronger: yea, a manne of vnderstandynge encreaseth of strength.
For wyth dyscretion muste warres be taken in hande, and wheras are manye that can geue counceil, there is the victorye.
Wisdom is to hie a thing for a foole, for he dare not open his mouth in the gate.
He that ymagineth mischiefe, maye wel be called an vngracious person.
The thought of the foolysh is syn, and the scornefull is an abhomination vnto men.
If thou be ouersene and negligente in tyme of nede, then is thy strengthe but small.
B Delyuer them that go vnto death, and are led away to be slayne, and be not negligente therein yf thou be able to do them good.
If thou wilt saye: I knowe not of it. Thinkest thou that he which made the heartes, doeth not consider it? and that he which regardeth thy soule, seeth it not? Shall not he recompence euery manne according to hys worc-kes.
My sonne, thou eatest honey and the sweete honye combe, because it is good and swete in thy mouth. Euē so shal the knowledge of wisdom be vnto thy soule, assone as thou hast gottē it: And thou shalte haue longe dayes, yea, thy hope shall not be in vayne.
Laye no priuye wayte (O wicked man) vppon the house of the ryghte-ous and disquiet not his resting place.
* For a iust man falleth seuen tymes, Psa.137 and ryseth vp agayne, but the vngod-lye fall into wickednes.
* Reioyce not thou at the fall of Pro.17b thyne enemye, and let not thine heart be glad when he stombleth: Least the Lord (when he seeth it) be angry, and turne hys wrath from him vnto thee.
* Let not thy wrath and gelousye Pro.22a moue thee, to folowe the wycked and and.24.a vngodly: And whye the wicked shall haue no posteritie, and * the candle of Job.21b the vngodly shalbe put out. Pro.13d
* My sonne, feare thou the Lorde, *pro.20. and the kynge, and kepe no company wyth them that slyde backe from hys feare: for theyr destruction shall come sodeinly, and who knoweth the adversitie that may come of them both?
These are also the sayinges of the wyse.
* It is not good to haue respecte Pro.18b of any person in iudgement.
He that sayeth vnto the vngodlye:
thou art ryghteous, hym shal the people curse, yea, the commenaltye shall abhorre him.
But they that rebuke the vngodlie, in them doeth God delyte, and a ryche blessing shall come vpon them.
Euery man shall kisse hys lyppes, that geueth a good answer.
Fyrst make vp thy worke that is wythoute, and looke welle to that which thou hast in the felde, and then buylde thyne house.
Be not a false wytnes agaynst thy neyghboure, and speake no falshoode wyth thy lippes.
Say not: I wil handle him euē as he hath delt with me and wil reward ¶ euery man according to hys dedes.
I went by the feld of the slouthful,
and

and by the vyneyarde of the foolyshe man.

And lo, it was all couered with nettels, and stode full of thistles, and the stone wall was broken downe: This I sawe, and considered it wel: I loked vpon it, and tokeit for a warnynge. * Yea, slepe on styll (I saye) a lytle, slomber a lytle, fold thy handes together yet a lytle: so shall powertye come vnto thee, as one that trauayleth by the way, and necessitye lyke a weaponed man. Pro. 9.c

¶ The.xxb. Chapter.

¶ IT is the honoure of God to kepe a thinge secrete, but the kynges honoure is to searche oute a thynge.

The heauen is hye, the earthe is depe, and the kynges herte is vnsearcheable.

Take drosse from the syluer, and there shalbe a cleane vessell thereof. Take awaye vngodlynesse from the kynge, and his seate shalbe stablysshed with ryghteousnes.

Put not forth thy selfe in the presence of the kyng, and preace not into the place of greate men. * Better is it that it be sayd vnto the: come vp hyer, then thou to be put lower in the presence of the prynce, whom thou seest with thyne eyes. Luk.14.b

* Be not hastye to go to the lawe, leste happlye thou do some offence after the stryfe be ended, whereby thy neyghbour putteth the to shame. Eccle.8.b Mat.5.c

Handle thy matter with thy neighbour him selfe, and discouer not another mans secret: lest whē men heare therof: it turne to thy dishonoure, and least thyne euyll name do not ceasse.

(Grace and frendshyp doeth deliuer, which se that thou kepe for thy selfe, least thou be reproued.)

A worde spoken in due season, is lyke apples of golde in a graued worke of syluer.

The correction of the wise is to an obedient eare, a golden cheyne and a iewell of golde.

Like as the winter coole in the harueste, so is a faythfull messengee to them that sende him: for he refresheth hys masters mynde.

Whoso maketh greate boastes and geueth nothyng, is lyke cloudes and wynd without rayne. ¶

With pacience is a prince pacified, and * with a softe tonge is righteousnes broken. Pro.15.a

If thou findest hony, eate so muche as is sufficient for the: lest thou be ouer full, and perbrake it out agayne. De.19.a 1.re.25.c

Withdrawe thy foote from thy neyghbours house, leaste he be werye of thee, and so abhorre thee.

Whoso beareth false witnesse agaynste his neyghboure, he is a berye club, a sweard, and a sharpe arowe.

The hope that is put in a false man in tyme of nede, is lyke a rotten tooth and a sliperye foote.

Who so taketh away a mans garment in the cold wether, is like vineger vpon chalke, or like him that singeth songes to an heauy heart.

(Lyke as the moth hurteth a garment, & a worme the tree, so doeth the heuines of a man hurt the herte.)

* If thine enemy hunger, fede him: if he thirst geue him drynk: for so shalt thou heape coales of fire vppon hys head, and the Lord shall reward the. Rom.12

The north wind driueth away the rayne: euen so doeth an earnest sober countenaunce a backebiters tonge. ¶

* It is better to syt in a corner vnder the rofe, then with a brawlynge woman in a wyde house. Pro.21.a

A good report out of a far country, is like colde water to a thirsty soule. A ryghteous man fallyng downe before the vngodlye, is lyke a troubled well, and a spryng that is destroyed.

Lyke as it is not good to eate to muche hony, * euen so he that wyll searche out hye thynges, it shall be to heauy for hym. Eccl.3.c

He that can not rule him selfe, is like a citye which is broken downe, and hath no walles.

¶ The.xxvi. Chapter.

¶ LYke as snowe is not mete in sommer, nor rayne in haruest: euen so is worshyp vnsemely for a foole.

Lyke as the birde and the swalowe take their flyght, and flye here and there, so the curse that is geuen in vayne, shall not lyght vpon a man.

Pro.26b * Vnto the horse belongeth a whyp, to the Asse a brydle, and a rodde to the fooles backe.

Geue not the foole an answere after his foolyshnes, least thou become lyke vnto him, but make the foole an answere vnto his foolyshnes, least he be wyse in his owne conceite.

He is lame of his fete, yet dronken is he in vanitye, that commytteth a message to a foole.

Lyke as a lame man hys legges are not equall, euen so is a parable in a fooles mouth.

He that setteth a foole in hye dignitye, that is euen as yf a man put a stone in a slynge.

A parable in a fooles mouth is like a thorne that prycketh a dronken man in the hande.

(Great is he that hath formed all thyng: he rewardeth the foole, and recompenseth the transgressours.)

A man of experience discerneth all thynges well: but he that putteth the foole to scilence endeth the stryfe.

1.Pe.2b * Like as the dog turneth againe to his vomite, euen so a foole beginneth his folyshnes agayne a freshe.

Yf thou seest a man that is wyse in his owne conceyte: there is more hope in a foole then in hym.

Pro.22b * The slouthfull sayth: there is a lyon in the waye, and a lyon in the myddest of the stretes: Lyke as the doore turneth about vpon the henges, euen so doeth the slouthful welter him selfe in hys bed.

Pro.19c * The slouthfull body thrusteth hys hand into his bosome, and it greueth him to put it agayne to his mouth.

The slogarde thinketh him selfe wyser then seuen men that sytte and teache.

Who so goeth by and medleth with other mens stryfe: he is lyke one that taketh a dog by the eares.

Lyke as a madde man that casteth fyre brandes, and shooteth deadely arowes and dartes, euen so doth a dissembler with hys neyghboure. And then sayth he, (when he is taken) I dyd it but in sporte.

Where no wood is, there the fire goeth oute: Euen so where the tale betrayer is taken away, ther the strife ceaseth. Ecc.28b

* Coles kindle heate, and wood the fire: euen so doth a brawlynge felowe stirre vp variaunce. D

The talebearers wordes are like men that strike with hammers, but they pearse the inward partes of the body.

Venimous lyppes and a wycked herte, are lyke a potshard couered with syluer drosse. Pro.1

An enemy shalbe knowen by his talkyng, and in the meane seaso he ymagineth mischefe, but whē he speaketh fayre, beleue him not: for there are seuen abhominations in hys heart. Ecc.10b

Who so kepeth euyl will secretly, to do hurt, his malice shalbe shewed before the whole congregacion. Pro.1

* Who so diggeth vp a pyt shall fall therin: and he that weltreth a stone, shall stumble vpon it him selfe.

A dissemblynge tongue hateth one that rebuketh him, and a flatterynge mouth worketh myschefe.

¶ The.xxvii. Chapter.

A Luk.29.c
Eze.18a
Jam.3.b

MAke not thy boast of to morow, * for thou knowest not what may happen to daye.

Let an other man prayse thee, and not thyne owne mouthe, yea other folkes lyppes and not thyne.

The stone is heauye, and the sande weyghtye: but a fooles wrath is heuier then them both.

Wrathe is a cruell thynge, and furyousnes is a very tempest: but who is able to abyde enuye?

An open rebuke is better then a secrete loue.

Faythfull are the woundes of a louer, but the kysses of an enemye are cruell.

He that is full abhorreth an honye combe: but vnto hym that is hungry, euery sowre thyng is swete.

He

Hee that ofte tymes flytteth, is like a birde that forsaketh her neaste.

Balme and sweete incense make the hearte mery: so is the swete councel of a mans frend that agreeth to his purpose.

B Thine owne frend and thy fathe frend see thou forsake not: but go not into thy brothers house in time of thy trouble.

For better is a frend at hand, then a brother far of.

My sonne, be wyse, and thou shalt make me a glad hearte, so that I shall make an answere vnto my rebukers.

A wise man seing the plague, wyll hide hym selfe, as for fooles they go on stil, and suffer harme.

Pro.10.c * Take his garment that is suerty for a straunger, and take a pledge of him for the vnknowen mans sake.

Hee that is to hastie to prayse hys neyghbour wythout measure: shalbe taken as one that geueth an euyll re-Pro.19b poyte.

C * A braulyng woman and the rooke of the house droppyng in a rayny day, may wel be compared together.

Hee that refraineth her, refrayneth the wynd, and holdeth the oyle fast in his hand.

Like as one yron whetteth another so doth one man comfort another.

Who so kepeth hys fig tree, shal enioye the fruites therof: euen so he that waiteth vpon his master shal come to honoure.

Like as in one water there appere diuerse faces, euen so diuers men haue diuerse heartes.

Eccl, 1.a Like as hell and destruction are ne-Eccl.14. uer full, euen so * the eies of men canne neuer be satisfied.

Siluer is tryed in the moulde, and gold in the fornace, and so is a manne when he is openly praised to his face.

The hert of a wicked man seketh after mischiefe, but a true hearte seketh for knowledge.

D Though thou sholdest braye a foole with a pestle in a morter like firmentie corne, yet wil not hys foolishnesse from him.

Se that thou knowe the numbre of thy cattel thy self, and loke wel to thy flockes.

For riches abideth not alwaye, and the crowne endureth not for euer.

The heye groweth, the grasse commeth vp, and herbes are gathered in the mountaynes.

The lambes shall clothe thee, and for the gotes thou shalte haue money to thy husbandrye.

Thou shalte haue goates mylke ynoughe to feede thee, to vphalde thy houshold, and to sustaine thy maides.

¶ The .xxviii. Chapter.

T He vngodly fleeth whē no mā chaseth him: but the ryghteous standeth stiffe as a lion. B

* Because of sinne the land doth oft chaunge her prince: but through men of vnderstandinge and wysedome, a Leu. 26 c Realme endureth longe.

One poore manne oppressing another by violence, is lyke a contynuall rayne that destroyeth the fruite.

They that forsake the lawe, prayse the vngodlye: but suche as keepe the law, abhorre them.

* Wicked menne discerne not the 1 Cor. 2 b thing that is ryght: but they that seke after the Lord, discusse all thynges.

A poore man leading a godlye lyfe, is better then the ryche that goeth in Pro. 19 a froward wayes.

Who so kepeth the lawe, is a chylde B of vnderstanding: but he that is a companion of ryotous men, shameth hys father.

He that by vsery and vniust gaines gathereth ryches, he shal laye them in store for a manne that wyll pytye the poore.

* Hee that tourneth away hys eare Pro. 1. b from hearinge the lawe, hys prayer shalbe abhominable.

Who so leadeth the ryghteous into an euill waye, shal fall into hys owne pyt, but the iust shal haue the good in possession.

The rich man thynketh hym selfe to be wyse, but the poore that hath vnderstanding can perceaue hym wel ynough.

Ecc.10.a When the ryghteous nienne are in Pro.29.a prosperitye, then doth honoure flourish, but when the vngodlye come vp, the state of men chaungeth.

He that hideth his sinnes, shall not Job.13.c prosper: but * whoe so knowledgeth Psa.22.b them: and forsaketh theym, shal haue 1 Jh.1.b. mercy.

¶ Wel is him that standeth alway in awe, as for hym that hardeneth hys heart, he shall fall into myschefe.

Like as a roaring lion, and an hun-grie beare, euē so is an vngodly prince ouer the poore people.

Where the prynce is withoute vnderstanding, there is great oppression and wronge: but yf he bee suche a one as hateth couetousnes, hee shall longe regne.

Gen.4.b * He that by violence sheddeth any mannes blud, shalbe a runnagate vnto hys graue, and no man shalbee able Pro.10.d to succour him.

* Who so leadeth a godly and an innocente lyfe, shalbe saued: but he that goeth froward wayes, shal once haue a fall.

Pro.41.b * He that tilleth his land, shal haue Ecc.20.b plenteousnes of bread: but he that fo-loweth ydelnes, shall haue pouertye ynough.

A man that dealeth faythfully, shal 1 Ti.6.b be filled with blessinges, and * he that Pro.23.a maketh to muche haste for to be ryche shal not be vngyltye.

To haue respect of persons in iudge-mēt is not good, and why, a man wil do wrong, ye, euen for a pece of bread.

He that wyl be rich al to soone, hath an euill eye: and considereth not, that pouertie shal come vpon hym.

D He that folowing my preceptes re-buketh a man, shal fynd more fauour at the last, then he that flattreth hym.

mat.15.a * Who so robbeth his father and mother, and sayeth it is no syn: the same is like vnto a destroyer.

He that is of a proud stomacke and swythoute feare, stereth vp strife: but he that putteth hys trust in the Lord, shalbe well fed.

He that trusteth in hys own heart is a foole, but he that dealeth wyselye shalbe safe.

* Hee that geueth vnto the poore, 2 cor.9.b. shall not lacke, but he that turneth awaye hys eyes from such as be in ne-cessitye, shall suffer greate pouertye him selfe.

* When the vngodlye are come vp Pro.28.b men are fayne to hyde theym selues, but when they perysshe, the righteous increase.

¶ The.xxix.Chapter.

HE that is stifnecked, and wyll not be refourmed: shal sodeinly be destroied without any helpe

* When the ryghteous haue the ouer Pro.28.b hand, the people are in prosperity: but Ecc.10.a when the vngodly beareth rule, there the people mourne.

Whoe so loueth wysedome maketh Pro.5.a hys father a glad manne: * but he that Luk.15.a kepeth company wyth harlots, spendeth away that he hath.

Wyth true iudgement the king setteth vp the land, but yf he be a manne that oppresseth the people with gathe rings, he tourneth it vpsyde downe.

Who so flattereth his neyghboure, layeth a net for hys fete.

The sin of the wicked is his owne snare, but the ryghteous doeth singe and reioyce.

The righteous cōsidereth the cause of the poore: but the vngodlye regardeth no vnderstanding.

Wicked people bryng a Citie in decay, but wyse men set it vp agayne.

If a wyse man go to lawe wyth a foole (whether he deale wyth hym frendly or roughly) he getteth no rest.

The bloudthirstie hate the righteous, but the iust seke his soule.

A foole powreth out his spyryte altogether, but a wise man kepeth it vntill afterwarde.

If a prince delite in lyes, al his ser-uantes are vngodly.

The poore and the lender mete together, and the Lorde lightneth both theyr eyes.

¶ * The seate of the king that faith- Pro.20.d fullie iudgeth the poore, shal continue sure sure for euermore.

The rod & correction minister wisdome, but yf a child be not loked vnto, he bringeth hys mother to shame.

When the vngodlye come vp, wyckednes encreaseth: but the righteous shall see theyr fall.

Nurtour thy son wyth correction, and thou shalt be at rest: ye he shall do thee good at thyne heart.

When the word of God is not preched, the people perish, but wel is hym that kepeth the law.

A seruaunte wyll not bee better for woordes, for though he vnderstande: yet wyl he not regard them.

If thou seest a man that is hasty to speake vnaduisedly, thou mayest trust a foole more then hym.

He that delicately bryngeth vp hys seruaunt from a childe, shal make hym hys master at length.

An angry man stereth vp strife, and D he that beareth euil wil in his mynde, doth much euyl.

Job.2.2d. After pryde commeth a fall. • but a lowly spirit, bryngeth great worshyp

Whoe so keepeth companye wyth a thefe, hateth his owne soule: hee heareth blasphemyes, and telleth it not forth.

He that feareth man shal haue a fal, but whoe so putteth his truste in the Lord, is wythout danger.

Many ther be that trust in Princes fauoure, but euery mans iudgemente commeth from the Lord.

The ryghteous abhorreth the vngodlye: but as for those that be in the ryght way, the wicked hate them.

(A child that kepeth the word, shal be wythout destruction.

A ¶ The.xxx. Chapter.

THe woordes of Agur, the sonne of Jaket and the prophecy that the same man spake vnto Jthiel, euen vnto Jthiel and Uchall.

I am more foolysh then anye man, and haue no mans vnderstanding. I neuer learned wysedome, nor hadde knoweledge of holye thynges, whoe hath clymed vppe vnto heauen: who hath come downe from thence: whoe hath holden the wynde fast in hys handes: who hath comprehended the waters in a garment: who hath sette all the endes of the worlde: what is his name, or his sonnes name, Canste thou tell?

All the woordes of God are pure and cleane, for he is a shyeld vnto all psal.19.c them that put theyr trust in hym.

Put thou nothynge vnto hys woor- deu.13 des, least he reproue thee, and thou bee found a lyer.

Two thynges haue I required of B thee, that thou wilt not denye me before I dye. Remoue fro mee vanytye and lyes: geue mee neyther poueryte, nor riches, onely graunt me a necessarye lyuynge. Least yf I bee to full, I denie thee, and say: who is the Lord? Exo.5.a And least I beynge constrayned thorough pouertie fal vnto stealing, and deu.28.c. Job.21d take the name of my God in vayne.

Accuse not a seruant vnto hys master, leaste hee speake euill of thee, and thou be hurt.

There is a generation that curseth theyr father, and doeth not blesse their mother.

There is a generation that thinke them selues cleane, and yet is not clē- sed from theyr spithines.

There is a generation that hathe a proude loke, and doth caste vp theyr eye lyddes.

There is a generation whose teeth are swoordes, and wyth theyr chawe bones they consume, and deuoure the simple of the earth, and the poore frō among men.

The horseleache hath two daugh- ters crying: bring hither, bring hither

There be three thynges that are ne C uer satysfyed: yea, four thinges saieth neuer ho. The graue, a womās wōbe closed: and the earth that hath neuer water ynough: As for fyre it saythne- uer ho.

Who so laugheth his father to scorn Exo.21b and setteth his mothers commaunde- deu.27.c ment at naught: the rauens pycke out hys eyes in the valleye, and deuoured be he of the yonge Aegles.

There bee three thynges to hye for me: as for the fowerth, that passeth my knowlege. The way of an Egle in the aire: the waye of a serpent ouer a stone, the waye of a shyppe in the sea: and the waye of a manne with a yonge woman.

Suche is the way also of a wyfe that breaketh wedlocke, whiche wypeth her mouth, lyke as whenne she hath eaten, and saieth: As for me, I haue doone no harme.

Thorowe three thynges the earthe is disquieted, and the fourthe may it not beare. Thorow a seruant that beareth rule: Thorough a foole that hathe to muche breadde. Thorowe a wyfe woorthye hatrede, whenne she is maryed, and thorowe an handmayden that is heyre to her mayDstresse.

These bee fower thynges in the earthe, the whyche are verye lyttell: Pro.6.a but in wysedome they exceede the wyse. The emmets are but weake people, yet gather they their meate together in the harueste. The Conyes are but a feeble folke, yet make they theyr couches among the rocks. The Gresshoppers haue not a guyde, yet goe they foorthe together by heapes. The Spyder labourethe wyth her handes, and is in kynges palaces.

There be three thynges that go stifflye: yea foure are comely in goyng. A Lyon which is strongest among beastes, and geueth place to no manne, A greye hounde stronge in the hynder partes. A Ramme also, and a kyng, agaynst whome noo man arysethe vppe.

If thou hafte done foolishly when thou wafte in hye estate, or yf thou hafte taken euyll counsell: then laye thyne hande vppon thy mouthe.

Whoe so chirmeth mylke, maketh butter: and hee that rubbethe hys nose, maketh it bleede: Euen soo hee that causeth wrathe, bryngethe foorthe strife.

The .xxxi. Chapter.

The woordes of kynge Lamuell, and the lesson that hys Mother taught hym.

My sonne (why do ye so) thou I sonne of my bodye: O my dere beloued sonne, geue not ouer thy strength and ways vnto women, which ar the destruction euen of kynges, O Lamuell, it is not for kynges, it is not (I saye) for kynges to drynke wyne, nor princes stronge drynke: (for there is no secrete where dronkennesse reigneth) least they beynge dronken, forget the lawe, and peruerte the iudgemente of all poore mens chyldren.

Geue strong drynke to suche as be condemned to deathe, and wyne vnto those that mourne: that they maye drynke it, and forgette theyr myserie and aduersitie.

Be thou an aduocate for the dombe and stande in iudgement thy selfe, to speake for all suche as bee succourlesse in this transitorie worlde.

Open thy mouth, defend the thing that is lawful and right, and the cause of the poore and helpelesse.

Who so fyndeth an honest faithfull B woman, she is muche more woorthe then pearles.

The hert of her husband may safely trust in her, so that he shall fall in no pouertie.

She wyll doo hym good, and not euill, all the dayes of her lyfe.

Shee occupyethe woolle and flaxe, and laboureth gladdelye with her handes.

Shee is lyke a Marchauntes shyppe, that bryngeth her vytailes from a farre.

She is vppe in the nyghte season: to prouyde meate for her household, and foode for her maydens.

She consydereth lande, and byeth it, and wyth the fruite of her handes she planteth a vineyarde.

Shee gyrdethe her loynes with strengthe, and courageth her armes.

And

And yf she perceyue that her husbwifrye doeth good, her candle goeth not out by nyght.

She layeth her fynger to the spyndle, and her hande taketh holde of the distaffe.

She openeth her hand to the poore, yea, she stretcheth out her handes to such as haue nede.

C She feareth not that the colde of wynter, shall hurte her house for all her houshold folkes are clothed wyth scarlet.

She maketh her selfe fayre ornamẽtes, her clothinge is whyte silke and purple.

Her husbande is much set by in the gates, when he sytteth among the rulers of the land.

She maketh cloth of silke: and selleth it, and deliuereth girdels vnto the marchant.

Strength and honoure is her clothinge, and in the latter daye she shall reioyce.

She openeth her mouth with wisdome, and in her tonge is the lawe of grace.

D She looketh well to the wayes of her household: and eateth not her bred with ydlenes.

Her childzen shall aryse, and cal her blessed: and her husbande shall make much of her.

Many daughters there be that gather ryches together, but thou goest aboue them al.

As for fauour, it is disceatfull and beawtie is a vayne thing: but a womã that feareth the Lord, she is worthye to be praysed.

Geue her of the fruit of her handes, and lette her owne workes prayse her in the gates.

¶ The end of the Prouerbes of Salomon.

¶ The Booke of the Preacher: otherwyse called Ecclesiastes.

The fyrst Chapter.

THese are the wordes of the Preacher, the sonne of Dauid kynge of Jerusalem. Ecc. 12. e

* All is but most vaine vanitie (sayth the preacher) and al is moste vayne (I say) and but plaine vanity. For what els hath a manne of all the labour that he taketh vnder the sunne? One generation passeth away, another commeth: but the earth abydeth still. The sunne goeth downe, and retourneth to hys place, that hee maye there ryse by agayne. The wind goeth toward the South, and tourneth vnto the north, fetcheth his compasse, whirleth about, and goeth forth and hys circuit retourneth agayne to hym selfe. Job. 14b B

* All flouddes runne into the sea, and yet is the sea it selfe not fylled: for loke vnto what place the waters runne, thence they come to flow agayn. All these thynges are so hard to be knowē that no man can expresse them. Pro. 17c

* The eye is not satisfied with sight: the eare is not filled wyth hearing. Ecc. 14b

* That thing that hath ben commeth to passe agayne: and the thynge that hath beene done, shalbe doone agayne: There is no newe thynge vnder the sunne. Is there anye thynge whereof it maye bee sayde: lo this is newe? For it is long ago in the times that haue ben before vs. The thinge that is past, is out of remembraunce: Euen so the thinges that are for to come, shal nomore be thoughte vppon amonge theym that come after. I my selfe the preacher was king of Israel at Jerusalem, and dyd applye my mind to seke out and search for knoweledge of all thynges that are doone vnder heauen. Suche trauayle and labour hath God geuen vnto the childzen of men, to exercyse theim selues therein. * Ecc. 3 b

Thus

Thus haue I considered all the thinges that come to passe vnder the sun: and lo, they are all but vanitie & vexation of mynde. The crooked can not be made streight, nor the thing that is vnperfect, can not be accompted with things that are perfect. I cōmuned wt myne owne heart, sayinge: Lo, I am come to a great estate, and haue gotten more wisedom, then al they that haue ben before me in Jerusalem. Yea, my heart had greate experience of wysedome and knowledge, for therunto I applied my mynde, yt I might knowe what were wisedome and vnderstandyng, what were errour and foolishnesse: and I perceiued, that this was also but a vexation of mynd: for where much wisedome is, there is also great trauaile and vnquietnes: and the more knowledge a manne hathe, the more is hys care.

The.ii. Chapter.

A Then sayd I thus in my hearte: Nowe go to, I will take myn ease, and haue good days. But lo, that is vanitie also: in so muche, that I saide vnto the manne geuen to laughter: Thou art mad, & to mirthe, What doest thou? So I thoughte in my hert, to geue my flesshe vnto wine: and agayne, to apply my mynde vnto wisedom, and to comprehend foolishnesse vntill the tyme that (among all the things which ar vnder the Sun, I might see what were beste for men 3.Re.3. to doo, so long as they lyue vnder he-4.5.6. uen. * I made gorgious kayze woorks
B I builded me houses & planted vineyardes. I made me orchards and gardeyns of pleasure, and planted trees in them of all maner of fruites. I made pooles of water, to water the greene and fruitfull trees withall. I bought seruantes and maydens: and hadde a great householde. As for catteil and sheepe, I hadde more substaunce of them, then all they that were beefore me in Jerusalem. I gathered syluer & golde together: euen as a treasure of kynges and landes. I prouided mee syngers and women, whiche coulde play on instruments, to make menne myrth and pastyme. I gat me plaiteries & longes of musyke. And I was greater, and in more worship then all my predecessours in Jerusalem. For wisedom remained with me: and loke what soeuer myne eyes desyred, I let them haue it: and wherin soeuer my hearte delited or had any pleasure, I withhelde it not frome it. Thus my heart reioyced in all that I byd: and this was my portion of al my trauel. But when I considred all yt workes that my hands had wrought, & all the labour that I had taken therin: lo, all was but vanitie & vexation of mynd, C and nothynge of any value vnder the Sunne. Then turned I me to consider wisedom, errour, and foolishnesse: (for what is he amōg men, that might be compared to me the kynge in suche workes?) and I sawe that wisdom excelleth foolishnesse, as farre as light dooth darknesse. For a wise mā hath his eies in his head, but the fole goth in the darknes. I perceiued also that they bothe had one end. Thē thought I in my mynd: If it happen vnto the foole, as it doth vnto me: what nedeth me then to labour any more for wisedome. So I confessed wythin my heart, that this also was but vanitie. For the wyse are euer as little in remembrance as the folishe: for the days shall come when al shalbe forgotten: yea the wise man dieth aswell as the fole. Thus began I to be wery of my life, in so muche yt I could away with nothing that is done vnder the sunne, for all was but vanitye and vexation of mynd: yea I was wery of al my laboures which I had taken vnder the sunne, bicause I shold be fain to leaue thē vnto an other man that cometh after me. And whoe knoweth whether he shalbe a wise mā or a fole? And yet D shal he be yt lord of al my labors, whi che I wt such wisdō haue takē vnder yt sun. This is also a vain thing. So I turned me to refrain my mynd frō al suche trauaile, as I toke vnder the sun: for so much as a man shold werye himself with wisdom, with vnderstā standynge and opportunitie, and yet

be

he fayne to leaue his labours vnto an other, that neuer swet for thē. This is also a vayne thyng and great mise-rye. For what getteth a man of al the labour and trauell of his mynd, that he taketh vnder the sunne, but heauinesse, sorowe, and disquietnesse all the the dayes of his life: In so much, that his hert can not rest in the night: this is also a paynefull thyng. ¶ Is it not Eccl. 5.d better then for a man to eate & drinke, and hys soule to be merye in hys labour: Yea, I saw that this also was a gyft of God. For who wyll eate or go more lustely to his worke then I: And why: God geueth to the mā that is good before him, wisdome, vnderstanding and gladnesse. But vnto the sinner he geueth werynesse (and superfluous care) that he maye gather, and heape together the thyng that afterward shalbe geuen vnto him, whō it pleaseth God. This is now a vayn thynge: yea, a very disquietnesse and vexation of mynde.

¶ The. iii. Chapter.

A Every thynge hath a tyme: yea, all that is vnder the heauen hath his conueniente season.

Ther is a time to be borne, and a time to dye. There is a tyme to plant, and a tyme to plucke vp the thinge that is planted. A tyme to slay, and a time to make hole. A time to breake down, and a tyme to buylde vp. A tyme to wepe, and a tyme to laugh. A tyme to mourne, and a tyme to daunce. A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together.

A tyme to embrase, and a tyme to refrayne from embrasynge. A tyme to wynne, and a tyme to lese. A tyme to spare, and a tyme to spende. A time to

B cut in peces, and a tyme to sowe toge-Eccl. 20a 34.32a ther. ¶ A tyme to kepe silence, and a tyme to speake. A tyme to loue, and a tyme to hate. A tyme of warre, and a tyme of peace. What hath a man els (that doeth any thing) but werinesse and labour: For as touchyng the trauell and carefulnes: which God hath geuen vnto men, I see that he hath geuen it them, to be exercised in it. All this hath he ordeyned maruelous goodly, to euery thyng his due tyme. He hath planted ignorannce also in the hertes of men, that they shold not comprehend the ground of his workes which he doeth from the beginnynge to the ende. So I perceaued, that in these thinges there is nothyng better for a man, then to be mery, and to do well as long as he lyueth. For all that a man eateth and drynketh: yea, whatsoeuer a man enioyeth of all his labour, that same is a gyft of God. I considered also that whatsoeuer God doeth, it continueth for euer. And that nothyng can be put vnto it, nor taken from it, and that God doeth it to the intent, that men shoulde feare hym.

¶ The thyng that hath bene, is now, Eccle. 1 d and the thing that is for to come, hath C bene afore tyme: for God restoreth agayne the thyng that is paste. Moreouer, I saw vnder the sunne vngodlynesse in the stede of iudgement, and iniquitye in steade of ryghtcousnesse. Then thought I in my mynde: God shall seperate the ryghteous from the vngodlye, and then shall be the tyme and iudgement of all councelles and workes, I communed with myne owne hert also, concernynge the children of men: howe God hath chosen them, and yet letteth them appeare, as though they were beastes: for it happeneth vnto men, as it doeth vnto beasts, & as ỹone dieth, so dieth the other: yea, they haue both one maner of breath: so that (in this) a man hath no preeminence aboue a beaste, but al are subdued vnto vanitye. They go all vnto one place, for as they be all of D dust, so shall they all turne vnto dust Eccl. 2. a agayne. Who knoweth the spirite of man that goeth vpwarde, and the breath of the beaste that goeth downe to the earthe: wherefore I perceaue that ther is nothing better for a man, then to be ioyfull in hys labour: for that is his portion. But who wyll bringe hym to see the thyng that shall come after hym?

¶ The. iiii. Chapter.

A So I turned me, and considered Mal. 1.a all the violent wrong that is done Eccle. 5. vnder the sunne: and beholde, the teares of such as were oppressed: and there was no man to comforte them, or that wold deliuer and defend them from the violēce of their oppressours.
Wherefore, I iudged those that are dead, to be more happy then those that be alyue: yea, him that is yet vnborne to be better at ease then they both: because he seeth not the miserable wor-kes that are done vnder the sunne. A-B gayne, I sawe that all trauell and diligence of labour that euery man taketh in hande, was done of enuye a-gaynst his neighbour. This is also a vayne thing, and a vexation of mynd.
The foole foldeth his handes together, and eateth vp hys owne flesshe.
One handefull (sayeth hee) is better with reste, then bothe the handes full with labour and trauayle of mynde.
Moreouer, I turned me, and behold, yet another vanitye vnder the sunne.
C There is one man, no mo but hym selfe alone, hauing neyther chylde nor brother: yet is there no ende of hys carefull trauell, his eyes cannot be satisfyed with riches, (yet doeth he not remember him selfe, and saye:) For whom do I take suche trauayle? For whose pleasure do I thus consume away my life? This is also a vayne & miserable thing. Therfore, two are better then one, for they may well enioye the profyt of their labour. For if one of them fall, hys companion hel-peth him vp agayne. But wo is him that is alone. for if he fall, he hath not another to helpe him vp. Againe, whē two slepe together, they are warme:
but how can a body be warme alone?
One may be ouercome, but two may make resistaunce. A thre folde gable is not lightly broken: A pore chylde beyng wyse, is better then an old kyng, D that doteth, and can not beware in Ge. 41.b time to come. Some one commeth 1 Re. 16e oute of prysone, whyche is made a 2. pa. 33c kynge, and another whiche is borne in the kyngdome commeth vnto po-uertye. And I perceyued, that all men lyuynge vnder the Sunne goo with the seconde chylde, that shall stande vp in the stede of the other. As for the people that haue bene before him, and that come after him, they are innumerable: And they that come after him shall not reioyce of him. This is also a vayne thynge, and a vexation of mynde. When thou commest into the house of God, kepe thy fote and draw nye, that God whith is at hand maye 1.re.15d heare, that thou geue not the offerynges of fooles: for they knowe naught, but to do euyll.

The. v. Chapter.

B E not hastye with thy mouth, A and let not thyne herte speake any thyng rashely before God.
For God is in heauen, and thou vpō earth, therfore let thy wordes be few.
For where much carefulnesse is, ther are many dreames, and where manye wordes are, there menne maye heare fooles. If thou make a vowe vnto Deu. 23.d God, be not slacke to performe it. Baru. 1.c As for foolyshe vowes, he hath no pleasure in thē. If thou promise anye thyng, pay it: for better is it that thou make no vowe, then that thou shouldest promise and not pay. Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesshe for to synne, neyther saye thou before the Aungels, that it is thy ignorannce.
For then God wyll be angrye at thy voyce, and destroye all the workes of thyne handes. And whye? where as are many dreames and many wordes, there are also dyuers vanityes: but B feare thou God. If thou Eccl. 4.a seest the poore to be oppressed, and Bar. 1.d wrongfully dealte withall, so that equity and ♁ righte of the law is wrested in the lande, marueil not thou at such a thynge, for one greate man kepeth touch with another, & the migh-tye mē are in auctoritie ouer the pore.
The encrease of the earth vpholdeth all thyng, yea the kynge hym selfe is mayntayned by husbandrye. He that loueth money, wyl neuer be satisfyed with money: and who so delyteth in ryches, shall haue no profyte thereof.

This

Job.
Tim.

Eccl.

This is also a vayne thyng. Wher as much ryches is, there are manye also that spend thē away. And what pleasure moze hath he that possesseth thē, saupnge that he maye loke vpon them with his eyes? A labouryng man slepeth swetelye whether it be lytle oz much that he eateth: but the aboundaunce of the rych, will not suffer him to slepe. Yet is there a sooze plague, C which I haue sene vnder the sunne, (namely) riches kepte to the hurte of him that hath them in possession. Foz ofte times they perysshe with his gret misery and trouble: and if he haue a Job. 1.d child, it getteth nothynge. * Lyke as Tim. 6.b he came naked oute of hys mothers wombe, so goeth he thither agayne, and caryeth nothing away with him of all his labour. This is a miserable plage, that he shall go awaye euen as he came. What helpeth it him thē that he hathe laboured in the wynde? All the dayes of hys lyfe also he dyd eate in the darke, with great carefulnesse, Eccl. 2.d sickenes, and sozowe. * Therfoze me think it a better and a fayzer thyng, a mā to eat & drink, & to be refreshed of al his labour, that he taketh vnder the sunne all the dayes of his lyfe, which God geueth him, foz this is his pozcion. Foz vnto whomsoeuer God giueth riches, goodes and power, he geueth it him to enioye it, to take it foz his pozcion, and to be refreshed of his labour: this is the gyft of God. Foz he thinketh not much how longe he shall lyue, foz so much as God fylleth his hert with gladnes.

The. vi. Chapter.

I There is yet a plague vnder the sunne, and it is a general thing among men: whenne God geueth a man riches, gooddes, and honour, so that he wanteth nothynge of all that hys herte can desyre: and yet God geueth him not leaue to enioye the same, but another man spendeth them. This is a vayne thynge and a B miserable plague. If a man beget an hundred chylderen, and lyue manye yeres, so that hys dayes are manye in number, and yet can not enioye hys good, neyther be buryed: as foz him I saye: that an vntymely birth is better then he. Foz he commeth to nought, and spendeth his tyme in darkenesse, and his name is forgottē. Moreouer, he seeth not the sunne, and knoweth not of it: and yet hath he more reste then the other. Yea, though he lyued thousande yeres, yet hath he no good lyfe. Come not al to one place? All the C labour that a man taketh, is foz him selfe, and yet hys desyre is neuer fylled after hys mynd. Foz what hath the wyse more then the foole? What helpeth it the pooze, that he knoweth to walke with fooles before the lyuynge? The cleare syght of the eyes is better, then that the soule should walke after desyres of the lust. Howbeit, this is also a vayne thyng, and a disquietnes of mynd. The thyng that D hath bene is named already, and knowen, that it is euen man hym selfe, neyther maye he go to lawe with him that is myghtyer then he. Manye thynges there be that increase vanitye: and what hath a man els? Foz who knoweth what is good foz man lyuyng, in the days of his vayne life, whiche is but a shadowe? Oz who will tell a man what shal happen after him vnder the sunne?

The. vii. Chapter.

A * Good name is more worthe then * pzecious oyntmente and the daye of death is better then the daye of byrth. It is better to go into an house of mournynge, then into a banketynge house. Foz there is the ende of all men: and he that is lyuynge taketh it to hearte. Grauitye is better then to laughe: Foz when the countenaunce is heauye, the herte is refourmed. The hearts of the wyse is in the mournynge house, but the heart of the foolyshe, is in the house of myrthe. * It is better to geue eare to the chastenyng of a wyse man, then to heare the song of fooles.

Foz

For the laughynge of fooles is lyke the crackyng of thornes vnder a pot. And that is but a vayne thynge. The wyse man hateth wrong dealyng: and abhorreth the hearte that coueteth rewards. Better it is to consider thend of a thyng then the begynnyng. The patient of spirit, is better then the hye mynded. Be not hastily angry in thy mynde, for wrath resteth in the bosom of fooles. Say not thou: What is the cause, that the dayes of the olde tyme were better, then they that be nowe? for that were no wyse question.

Wysedome with enheritance is good: yet better is it with them that without care maye beholde the sunne. For wysedome defendeth as well as money, and the excellent knowledge and wysedome geueth lyfe vnto hym that hath it in possession. Cõsyder the workes of God, howe that no man canne make the thing streight, which he maketh croked. Vse wel the time of prosperitie, and remembre the tyme of C mysfortune: for God maketh the one by the other, so that a man can fynde nothyng els. All thynge haue I considered in the tyme of my vanitie: that the iust man perisheth for his righteousnes sake, and the vngodlye lyueth in his wyckednesse. Therefore • bee thou neyther to righteous, nor ouer wyse, that thou perishe not: be neither to vnrighteous also, nor to foolyshe, lest thou dye before thy time. It is good for thee to take holde of this, and not to let that go out of thy hande. For he that feareth God, commeth forth with them all. Wisdome geueth more courage vnto the wyse, then tenne myghtye men of the citie: • for there is not one iust vpon earthe that doth good, and sinneth not. Take no hede vnto euery worde that is spoken, lest thou heare thy seruant curse thee: for thyne owne heart knoweth that thou thy selfe also hast ofte times spoken euyll by other men. All these thynges haue I proued in wysedom: for I thoughte to be wyse, • but shee went farther fro me, then she was before: yea, and so depe, that I might not reache vnto her. I applied my mynd D also vnto knowledge, and to seeke and searche out science, wisedom, and vnderstandyng: to knowe the foolishnes of the vngodly, and the errour of doting fooles. And I found, that • a wo Pro. 7. b man is bitterer then deth: for she hath cast abrode her heart as a net that men fyshe with, and her handes are chaynes. Who so pleaseth God shal escape from her: but the synner wyll be taken wyth her. Beholde (sayth the Preacher) this haue I diligently serched out & proued. One thing must be consydered wyth another, that a man maye come by knowledge: whyche as yet I seke, and fynd it not. Among a thousand men I haue found one, but not one woman amonge all. Lo, thys onely haue I found, that • God made man iust and ryght, but they soughte Gen. 1. d many inuentions.

The. viii. Chapter.

WHo is wyse? whoe hathe I knowledge to make answer? A mans wysedome • maketh Pro. 17. b his face to shyne, but vnshamefastnes Iob. 9. d putteth it out of fauour. I must kepe the kynges commaundement, and the othe that I haue made vnto God. Be not hastie to go out of his syght, and see thou continue in no euyll thynge, for whatsoeuer it pleaseth hym, that doothe he. Lyke as when a kyng geueth a charge, his commaundemente is myghtie: Euen so • who may say Iob. 9. b vnto hym, what dooest thou? • Who Leui. 18. so kepeth the commaundement, shall fele no harme: but a wyse mans heart discerneth the tyme and iudgement. For euery thyng wyl haue oportunitie and iudgemente: and thys is the thing that maketh men ful of carefulnes and sorow. And why? a man B knoweth not what is for to come: for who will tell hym? Neither is there any man that hath power ouer the spirite, to keepe styll the spirite, nor to haue any power in the tyme of death: is it not he also that can make an end of the battayle, neyther may vngodlynes

Rom. 12

3. reg. 8. c
2. pa. 6. g
Pro. 20. d
1. Ioh. 1.

Iob. 28.

hynes deliuer them that medle with-all. All these thynges I haue considered, and applyed my mynde vnto enery worke that is vnder the sunne, howe one man hath lordshyp vpon a-Pla. 37 c nother to his owne harme. For • I haue sene often the vngodly brought to their graues: and yet they haue returned into the citie againe, and came from the place of holye men, which in the citye were growen out of memorye, as wer those also that liued well.
C This is also a vayne thyng. Because now that euill workes are not hastelye punyshed, the hert of man geueth him selfe ouer vnto wickednes. But though an euyll person offend an hun dred times, and God differre geuynge him longe lyfe: yet am I sure, that it shall go well with them, that feare God, because they haue hym before their eyes. Againe as for the vngodly it shall not be well with him, neyther shall he prolonge his dayes: but euen as a shadow so shall he be that feareth not God. Yet is there a vanitye vpon earth. There be iust men, vnto whom it happeneth, as though they had the workes of ỹ vngodly. Againe, ther be vngodly, with whō it goth as though they had the workes of the righteous.
This haue I called also a vayn thing Therfore I cōmend gladnes, because a man hath no better thyng vnder the sunne, then to eate and drynke, and to be mery: for that shall he haue of hys labour all the daies of his lyfe, which D God geueth him vnder the sun. And so I applyed my mynd to learne wis-dome, and to know the trauell that is in the worlde (and that of suche a fashion, that I suffred not mine eyes to slepe neyther daye nor nyght.) I vn-derstode of al the workes of God, but it is not possible for a man to attayne vnto the workes that are done vnder the sunne: and though he bestowe his labour to seke them oute, yet can he not reache vnto them: yea, though a wise man wolde vndertake to know them, yet shall he not fynde them.

C The .ix. Chapter.

FOr all these thynges, purposed I in my mynd to seke out. The righteous & wise, yea and their seruauntes also, are in the handes of God, and there is no man that knoweth eyther loue or hate, but al thin-ges are before them. It happeneth vnto one as vnto another: it goeth with the ryghteous as with the vngodly: • with the good and cleane as with the vncleane: with him that of-fereth, as with him that offereth not:
like as it goeth with the vertuous, so goeth it also with the sinner: As it happeneth vnto the periured, so happeneth it also vnto him that is afrayd to be forsworne. Amonge all thynges that come to passe vnder the Sunne, this is a mylerye, that it happeneth vnto all alyke. This is a cause also that the hertes of men are ful of wickednesse, and madde foolishnesse is in their hertes as long as they lyue, vntyll they dye. And why? As longe as a man lyueth, he hath an hope: for a quicke dogge (say they) is better then a deade lyon: for they that be lyuynge, knowe that they shall dye, but they that be deade, knowe nothyng, neyther deserue they any more. For their memoriall is forgotten, so that they be neyther loued, hated, nor enuyed: neyther haue they any more parte in the worlde, in all that is done vnder the Sunne. Go thou thy waye then, eate thy breade with ioye, and drynke thy wyne with a glad herte, for thy workes please God. Let thy garmentes be alway white, and • let thy head lacke none oyntment. • Lyse thy self to lyue ioyfullye with thy wyfe, whom thou louest, all the dayes of thy lyfe, which is but vayne, that God geueth thee vnder the sunne, all the dayes of thy vanitye: for that is thy portion in thys lyfe, of all thy labour and tra-uayle that thou takest vnder the sun.
Whatsoeuer thou takest in hād to do, that do with all thy power, for in the graue that thou goest vnto, there is neyther worke, councell, knowledge nor wysedome. So I turned me vnto other thynges vnder the sunne,

Job. 2. b

B

Mat. 6. c
• 1 Pet. 5. a

C

and I sawe, that in runnyng, it helpeth not to be swyfte: in battayle it helpeth not to be strong: to fedynge, it helpeth not to be wyse: to ryches, it helpeth not to be suttell: to be had in fauoure, it helpeth not to be cunning: but that al lyeth in tyme and fortune.

Eccl.9.d For a man knoweth not his time, but lyke as the fyshe are taken with the angle, and as the birdes are caught with the snare: Euen so are men taken in the perilious time, when it cōmeth sodenly vpon them. This wisdome haue I sene also vnder the sun, and me thoughte it a greate thynge. There was a lytle cytye, and a fewe men within it: so there came a greate kyng and beseged it, and made greate bulwarkes agaynst it. And in the cytye there was founde a poore man, (but he was wyse) which with hys wisdome delyuered the cytye: yet was there no body, that had any respect vn to such a symple man. Then sayde I: Wisdome is better then strength. Neuertheles, a simple mans wisedome is despysed, and hys woordes are not herde. The wyse mans counsell that is folowed in scilence, is farre aboue the crying of a captayne amonge fooles.

Sap.6.a * For wisedome is better then harnesse, but one vnthryft alone destroyeth much good.

¶ The.x. Chapter.

A Deade flye doeth corrupte swete oyntment, and maketh it to stynke. Euen so ofte times he that is made of for wisdome and honoure, is abhorred because of a litle foolyshnes. The wyse mans herte is vpon the ryght hand, but a fooles herte vpon the left. A foole will shew hym selfe when he goeth by the way, yet thinketh he that euery man doeth as foolyshely as hym selfe. If a principall spirite be geuen thee to beare

Ro.12.b rule, be not negligent then in thyne office: for he that can take cure of hym selfe, auoydeth great offences. Another plage is ther, which I haue sene vnder the sunne: namely, the ignorannce that is cōmenly among princes: in that a foole sytteth in gret dignitye, and the ryche are set downe beneth: I haue sene seruantes ryde vpon horses, and princes goyng vpon their fete as it were seruantes. * But

Pro.26 he that diggeth vp a pytte, shall fall Ecc.27 therin him selfe: and who so breaketh downe the hedge, a serpent shall byte him. Who so remoueth stones, shall haue trauayle withal: and he that heweth wood, shalbe hurte therewith. When an yron is blont, and the poynt not sharpened, it must be whet again, and that with might. Euen so doeth wisdome folowe diligence. A babler of his tonge is no better, thē a serpent that stingeth without hyssyng. The woordes oute of a wyse mans mouth, ¶ are gracious, but the lippes of a foole will destroye hym selfe. The begynnyng of his talking is foolishnes: and the laste woord of his mouth is starke madnesse. A foole is full of woordes, and a man cannot tel what shall come to passe: who will then warne him of it that shall folowe after hym? The labour of the folysh is greuous vnto them, whyle they knowe not how to go into the cytye. Wo be vnto thee (O ¶ thou land) whose king is but a child, and whose princes are early at their bankettes. But wel is thee (O thou land) whose kyng is come of nobles, and whose princes eate in due season, for necessitye, and not for lucke. Thorowe slouthfulnesse the balckes fall downe, and thorowe vdle handes it raineth in at the house. Meat maketh men to laughe, and * wyne maketh Psa.104 them merye: but vnto money are all thynges obedient. Wishe the kyng no euyll in thy thought, and speake no hurt of the ryche in thy preuy chamber: for a byrde of the ayre shall betray thy voyce, and with her fethers shall she bewraye thy woordes.

¶ The.xi. Chapter.

Lay thy bread vpon wete faces, ¶ and so shalt thou fynd them after many dayes. Geue part seuen dayes, and also vpon the eyght: for

thou

thou knowest not what miserye shall come vpon ỹ earth. When the cloudes are full, they powre oute rayne vpon the earth, and when the tree falleth, (whether it be towarde the south, or North) in what place soeuer it fall, there it lyeth. He that regardeth the wind shall not sow, and he that hath respect vnto ỹ cloudes, shal not reape. Nowe lyke as thou knowest not the way of the breath howe it entreth into the lytle body beyng yet in the mothers wombe: Euen so thou knowest not the workes of God, which is the worke master of all. Cease not thou therfore with thy handes to sow thy sede, whether it be in the morning or in the euenyng: for thou knowest not whether this or that shal prosper, and yf they bothe take, it is the better.

C The lyghte is swete, and a pleasaunt thynge is it for the eyes to loke vpon the Sunne. If a man lyue manye yeres, and be glad in them all, let him remember the dayes of darkenesse, whyche shalbe manye: and that foloweth, all thynges shalbe but banitie. Be glad then (O thou ponge man) in thy youth, and let thyne hearte be merye in thy ponge dayes, folowe the ways of thyne owen hert, & the lust of thine eyes: but be thou sure, that God shall bringe thee into iudgemente for all these thynges.

The.xii. Chapter.

REmoue away displeasure oute of thyne hearte, and remoue euyll frome thy bodye: for childhode and youthe is but banitie. Remember thy maker, the sooner in thy youth, or euer the dayes of aduersitie come, and or the yeares drawe nye, when thou shalte saye: I haue not pleasure in them: before the Sunne, the light, the moone and starres bee darkened: and or the cloudes tourne agayne after the rayne, when the kepers of the house shall tremble, and when the stronge men shal bowe them selues: when the millers stand styll: because they bee soo fewe, and whenne the lyght of the wyndowes shall waxe dymme, when the doores in the streetes shal be shut, and when the voyce of the myller shall be layde downe: when menne shall ryse vp at the voyce of the byrde, and when all the daughters of musyke, shall bee broughte lowe: when men shal feare in hye places, and bee afrayde in the stretes: when the Almonde tree shal flourishe and be laden with the grashopper: and when all luste shall passe (because Manne goeth to hys longe home, and the mourners goe aboute the streetes.) Or euer the syluer lace be taken away, and or the golden C weill bee broken. Or the potte be broken at the well, and the whele vppon the cesterne: Then shall the dust bee turned again vnto earth, from whens it came, and the spirite shall returne Eccl. 1.8 vnto GOD, whyche gaue it. ✣ All is but banitie (saythe the Preacher) all is but playne banitie. The Preacher was yet more wyse, and taught the people knowledge: he gaue good hede, sought out the grounde, and set D foorthe many parables. His diligence was to fynde out acceptable wordes, right Scripture, and the woordes of trueth. For ✣ the wordes of the wise Hebr.4.c are lyke prickes and nayles that goe thorowe, wherwith the stuffe gathered is holden vp: For they are geuen of one shepheardе onely. Therefore beware (my sonne) of that doctrine that is beside this: for to make many bookes it is an endlesse woorke: and to lowde cryinge werieth the bodye. Lette vs heare the conclusion of all thynges: Feare God, and kepe hys commaundementes: For that toucheth all menne. For God shall iudge all woorkes and secrete thynges, whether they be good or euyll.

☞ The ende of the Booke of the Preacher, otherwyse called Ecclesiastes.

¶ The Ballet of Ballettes of Salomon: called it in Latin Cantica Canticorum.

¶ The first Chapter.

A That he wold kisse mee wyth ỹ kysses of his mouthe: for thy loue is more pleasant then wine, and that becaus of the good and pleasant sauour of thy moost precious balmes. Thy Eccl.7.8 name is a swete smellyng oyntmente when it is shed forth: therfore doo the maydens loue thee: drawe thou me vnto thee: wee wyl runne after thee. The kynge hath brought me into hys preuy chambers. We wyl be glad and reioyce in thee, we thinke more of thy B loue then of wyne. They that be righteous loue thee. I am blacke (O yee Gen.35b daughters of Jerusalem) like as the *2pa.3.c *tētes of the Cedarenes, and * as the hangynges of Salomon: but yet am I fayre and well fauoured wythall. Marueil not at me that I am so black for why? the sonne hath shyned vpon me. My mothers children hadde euill wyl at me, they made me the keper of the vyneyardes: but mine owen vineyard haue I not kepte. Tell mee of hym whome my soule loueth, where thou fedest the sheepe, where thou makest theym reste at the noone daye: for why shall I be lyke hym, that goeth C wrong about the flockes of thy companions? If thou knowe not thy self (O thou fayrest among womē) then go thy way forth after the footesteps of the sheepe, and feede thy goates beside the shepeherdes tentes. Vnto the Exo.14c *hoost of Pharaos charettes haue I compared thee O my loue. Thy chekes and thy necke is beutifull as the turtils, and hanged wyth spāges and goodly Jewels: a necke band of gold wyll we make thee wyth siluer buttons. Whenne the kynge sitteth at the table, hee shall smell my Nardus: a D bundel of Myrre is my loue vnto me: he wyl lye betwyxte my breastes. A cluster of Camphyr in the vynyardes of Engaddi is my loue vnto me. * O how fayre art thou my loue? O how Can.4.a fayre art thou? thou haste doues eyes. O howe fayre art thou (my beloued) how well fauored art thou? Our bed is deckt wyth floures, the seelynges of our house are of Cedre tree, and ours crosse ioyntes of Cypresse.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

I Am the lilie of the fielde and rose of the valleis: as the rose among the thornes, so is my loue amonge the daughters. Lyke as A the apple tree amōg the trees of wod, so is my beloued among the sons. My delyte is to syt vnder hys shadow, for his fruit is swete vnto my throte. He bringeth me into hys wyne seller, his banner spread ouer me, is loue. Set about me cuppes of wyne, comfort me wyth apples, for I am sicke of loue. His lefte hande lieth vnder my head, Can.8.a and his ryght hand shal embrace me. * I charge you, O yee daughters of Can.3.b Jerusalem) by the Roes and hindes B of the fylde, that yee wake not by my loue, nor touch her, til shee be content her self. Me thynke I heare the voice of my beloued: loe, there commeth hee hoppynge vpon the mountaynes, and leaping ouer the little hilles. My beloued is lyke a Roe, or a young harte: Behold, he standeth behynd our wal, he loketh in at the wyndowe, and peyeth throughe the grate. My beloued answered and sayd vnto me: O stand vppe my loue, my beautifull, and goe to thyne owne: for lo, the winter is now past, the rayn is away and gon. The floures are come vp in the field the tyme of the birdes singing is com and the voice of the Turtle doue is heard in our lande. The fig tree bringeth forth her figges, and the vynes bear blossoms, and haue a good smel. C O stande vp then and come my loue. my beutifull, and come and saye: (O my doue) out of caues of the rockes, oute of the holes of the wall: O lette me se thy countenaunce and heare thy boyce, for fayre is thy face. Gette vs the foxes, yea the litle foxes, that hurt the vynes, for oure vynes beare blossoms. • My loue is myne, and I am hys whych feedeth amonge the roses, vntil the daye breake, and tyll the shadowes be gone. Come again (O my beloued) and bee lyke as a Roe, or a younge harte vppon the wyde mountaynes. Can.6.a

¶ The.iii. Chapter.

By nyght in my bed I soughte hym, whome my soule loueth: yea diligentlye soughte I him, but I found hym not. I wyll get vp, (thought I) and go about the Citye, in the wayes, in al the stretes wyl I seke him whom my soule loueth: but when I soughte him, I founde hym not. The watchmē also that go about the citie, found me. Sawe ye not hym whom my soule loueth: So when I was a lytle past theim, I founde hym whom my soule loueth. I haue gottē holde vpon hym, and wyl not let hym go vntill I bringe hym into my mothers house, and into her chaumbre that bare mee. • I charge you, O yee daughters of Ierusalem, by the Roes and hindes of the felde, that ye wake not vp my loue nor touch her, tyll shee be content her selfe. Who is this that cōmeth vp out of the wildernes lyke vapours of smoke, as it wer a smell of Myrre, frankencense, and all manner spyces of the apotecarye? Beholde, about Salomons bedstede there stand .lx. valeaunt mē of the most mighty in Israel. They hold swerds euery one, and are expert in warre. Euerye man also hath his swerde vppon hys thygh, because of feare in the nyghte: Kynge Salomon had made hym selfe a palace of the wood of Libanus, the pyllers are of syluer, the couering of gold, the seate of purple, the ground is pleasantly paued with loue of the daughters of Ierusalem. Go forth (O ye daughters of Sion) and beholde kyng Salomon in the crowne: wherwyth hys mother crowned hym in the day of hys mariage, and in the day of the gladnes of his heart. Can.3.a Can.3.b Can.2.b

¶ The.iiii. Chapter.

Howe fayre arte thou, my loue, howe fayre arte thou: thou hast doues eyes, beside that whych lyeth hyd wythin. • Thy hearye lockes are lyke the wol of a flocke of gotes that be shorne vppon mount Gilead: Thy teeth are lyke shepe of the same bygnes, whych wente vp from the washynge place: where euery one beareth two twins, and not one vnfruitfull among them. Thy lyppes are lyke a rose coloured ribonde. Thy wordes are louelye, thy cheekes are lyke a peece of a pomgranate wythin thyne heares. Thy neck is lyke the towre of Dauid buylded wyth costly stones lynge oute on the sydes, whervpon there hang a thousand shieldes, yea all the weapons of the gyauntes. • Thy two brestes are lyke twoe twynnes of younge Roes, which feede amonge roses. O that I myght go to the mountaine of Myrre and to the hyll of frankencense: til the daye breake, and till the shadowes be past away. Thou art all fayre, O my loue, and no spotte is there in thee. Come to mee from Libanus (O my spouse) com to me from Libanus, loke from the top of Amana, from the top of Sanir and Hermon, from the Lyons dennes, and from the mountaines of the Leopardes. Thou haste wyth loue bewytched my hearte, O my sister, my spouse, thou haste bewytched my hearte, wyth one of thyne eyes, and wyth one cheyne of thy necke. O howe fayre are thy brestes my syster, my spouse: Thy brestes ar more pleasant then wyne, and the smel of thine oyntmentes passeth all spyces. Thy lippes, O my spouse drop as the hony combe, yea mylke and hony is vnder thy tonge, and the smel of thy garmentes is lyke the smel of Libanus. A gardē well locked is my syster, my spouse, a gardē wel locked, & a sealed wel. The fruits ỳ ar planted in thee, are lyke a herye Paradyse of Pomgranates wyth swete fruites: as Cāphyre, Nardus and Saffron, Calamus, and Synamon, wyth all swete Can.4.a Can.7.a Can.4.b Can.4.c

smellynge trees: Myrre, Aloes and al the beste spyces: a well of gardens, a well of lyuyng waters, whych ranne downe frō Libanus. Aryse thou North wind, come thou South wynde, and blowe vpon my garden, that the smell thereof may be caried on euery syde: yea that my beloued maye come into his garden, and eate of the swete frutes that growe therein.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

I Am come into my garden, O my syster, my spouse: I haue gathered my Myrre with my spyce. I haue eaten hony & my hony combe, I haue dronke my wine with my mylke. Eat, O ye frendes, drinke and be merye, O ye beloued. As I am a slepe, and my hearte is wakinge, I heare the voyce of my beloued, when he knocketh. Open to mee, O my syster, my loue, my doue, my darlynge: for my heade is full of dewe, and the locks of my heare are ful of the night droppes. I haue put of my cote, how can I doe it on agayne? I haue washed my frete, howe shall I syle them agayne? My loue put in his hande at the hole, and my hearte was moued within me. I rose vp to open vnto my beloued, and my handes dropped with Myrre, and the Myrre ranne down by my fingers vpon the lock. I opened vnto my beloued, but he was departed and gone his waye. Nowe when he spake, my hearte was gone: I sought hym, but I coulde not find him: I cryed vpon him, neuertheles, hee gaue mee no aunswere. So the watchmen that went about the cytie founde mee, smote mee, and wounded me: Ye, they that kept the walles tooke a waye my kercheafe fro me. I charge you therfore, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, yf ye finde my beloued that ye tell hym how that I am sicke for loue. What maner of manne is thy loue above other louers? O thou fairest among wemen? Or what caune thy loue do, more then other louers, that thou chargest vs so straightlye? Ya for my loue, hee is whyte and red coloured, a goodly person among ten thousande: his heade is as the moste fyne golde, the lockes of his heare are bushed, and blacke as a crowe. His eyes are as the eyes of dooues by the water brookes, as though they were washed with milke, and are set lyke perles in gold. His cheekes are lyke a garden bed, wherein the Apotecaries plant al maner of swete thinges: His lippes are lyke roses that drop swete smellynge Myrr. His handes are lyke gold rynges hauing enclosed the precious stone of Tharsis, his bodye is as the pure yuorye, deckt ouer with Saphires: His legges are as the pilers of marble, set vppon sockettes of golde. His face is as Libanus, and as the bewtie of the Cedre trees. The wordes of his mouth are swete, yea, he is altogether louely. Such one is my loue, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, such one is my loue.

¶ The. vi. Chapter.

WHither is thy loue gone then (O thou fayrest amonge wemen) whither is thy loue departed: we wil seeke him with thee: My loue is gon downe into his garden, vnto the swete smelling beddes, that he maye refreshe hym selfe in the garden, and gather roses. My loue is myne, and I am his, which feedeth among the roses. Thou art bewtifull, O my loue, as is the place of Thirza thou art fayre as Jerusalem, fearfull as an armye of men with their banners. Turne away thine eies fro me, Can. 2.
for they haue fette me on fyre. Thy heary lockes are lyke a flocke of goates shorne vpon the mount of Gilead. Thy teeth are lyke a flocke of shorne shepe, which go out of the washynge place, wher euery one beareth twins and not one vnfruitful among them. Thy cheekes are lyke a pece of a pomgranat, within thy bowpers. There are three score Queenes, foure score wiues, and damselles without number. One is my doue, one is my dearlynge. Shee is the onelye beloued of her her mother, and deare vnto her that bare her. When the daughters sawe her, they said, she was blessed. Yea the Queenes and wyues praysed her.

What is she this that loketh forth as the morning? faire as the moone, clere as the sunne, and fearefull as an army of men with their banners. I went downe to the nut garden, to see what greiue by the brookes, and to loke yf the vineyard flourished, or yf the pomgranates were shot foorth. I knewe not that my soul had made me the chariote of the people that bee vnder tribute. Turne agayn, turne agayne, O thou perfect one, turne agayn, tourne agayne, and we wyl looke vpon thee. What will yee see in the Sulamyte? She is lyke men of warre, singynge in a companye.

¶ The.vii. Chapter.

How pleasaunt are thy tredynges with thy shoes, thou princes daughter? Thy thighes are lyke a fayre iewell, whyche is wrought by a connyng workemaster. Thy nauell is lyke a round goblet which is neuer wythout drynke. Thy wombe is lyke a hepe of wheat that is set aboute wyth roses. Thy two breastes are lyke twoe twinnes of younge Roes. Thy necke is as it were a tower of yuorie: thine eies also are lyke the water pooles that are in Hesebon, beside the porte of Bathrabbim: thy nose is lyke the tower of Libanus, which looketh towarde Damascus. That heade that standeth vppon thee, is lyke Carmell and the heare of thy heade is lyke purple, and lyke a kynge goinge foorth with hys garde aboute him. O howe fayre and louely art thou my dearlynge in pleasures? Thy stature is like a Palme tree, and thy brests are like grapes. I said: I wil clime vp into the Palme tree, & take hold of his hie braunches. Thy breastes also shalbe as the vyne clusters, the smell of thy nostrels is like the smel of apples, and thy tawes are lyke the beste wyne: which goeth strait vnto my beloued, and thrusteth forth by the lyppes of the auncient elders. There wyll I turne me vnto my loue, and he shall turne him vnto me. O come on my loue, we wyll go forth into the fielde, and take our lodging in the villages. In the morning will we go see the vyneyard: we wyl see if the vyne be spronge forth, if the grapes be growen, and if the pomgranates be shot out. There will I geue my brestes, the Mandragoras geue their swete smel: and beside our doores are al maner of pleasaunt frutes: both newe and olde: whiche I haue kepte for thee, O my beloued.

¶ The.viii. Chapter.

O That I might find the without, and kysse thee, whom I loue as my brother, whyche suckt my mothers brests: & that thou shalt not be despysed. I wyll lead the and bring the into my mothers house: that thou mightest teach me, and that I mighte geue thee drynke of spyced wyne, and of the sweete sappe of my pomgranates. His lefte hand shalbe vnder my head, and his ryghte hande shall embrase me. I charge you, O ye daughters of Ierusalē, that ye wake not by my loue, nor touche her, tyll she be contente her selfe. What is she this that commeth vp from the wyldernes, and leaneth vpon her loue? I woked the vp among the appie trees, where thy mother conceyued thee, where thy mother (I saye) brought the into the world. O set me as a seale vpon thine hert, and as a seale vpon thyne arme: for loue is mighty as the death, and gelousye as the hell. Her coales are of fyre, and a verye flame of the Lorde: so that manye waters are not able to quenche loue, neyther may the streames drowne it. Yea, if a man would geue all the good of hys house for loue, he should count it nothing. Our sister is but yong, & hath no brestes: what shall we do for oure syster, when she shall be spoken for? If she be a wall, we shall buylde a syluer bulwarke there vpon: if she be an open doore, we shall fasten her with borders of Cedre tree. I am a wall, my my breastes lyke towres, thenne was I as one that hath found fauor in his syght. Salomon hath a vyneyard at Baal Hamon, and this vineyarde deliuered he vnto the keepers: that euery one for the fruite therof, shoulde geue hym a thousande pieces of syluer. My vyneyarde is in my syghte, thou (O Salomon) muste haue a thousand, and the kepers two hundred with the fruite. Thou that dwellest in the gardeins, O lette me heare thy voyce, that my companions may hearken to the same. O get thee away, my loue, and bee as a roe or a yong harte vpon the sweete smellyng mountaynes.

¶ The ende of Ballette of Ballettes of Salomon, called in Latin, Canticũ Canticorũ.

¶ The Booke of the Prophecie of Esay.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

THe vision of Esaye the sonne of Amos, whiche he sawe vpon Juda and Jerusalem: in the days of Vzia and Joathã, Achaz and Jehezekiah kynges of Juda. Heare O heauen, and, Hearken, O earthe: for the Lorde hathe spoken: I haue nourished & brought vp children, but they haue doone wyckedly againste me. The oxe hath knowen his owner, & the asse his masters cribbe: but Israel hath receiued no knowledge, my people hath no vnderstanding. Alas, for this synfull nation, a people of great iniquitie, a seede of vngracious people, corruptyng theyr wayes. They haue forsaken the lord, they haue prouoked the holye one of Israell vnto anger, and are gone backwarde. Whereby should ye be plagued any more, for ye are euer fallyng awaye: The whole head is sicke, and the heart is heauye. From the soale of the foote vnto the head, ther is no whole part in al your body, but all are woundes, botches, sores, and stripes, which can neyther be helped, bound vp, mollified, nor eased with any oyntment. Your land lieth waste, your cities are brẽt vp, your enemies deuoure your land, & ye muste be fayn to stand, and loke vpon it, and it is desolate, as they were subuerted that were alienate frome the Lorde. Moreouer, the daughter of Sion is lefte alone lyke a cotage in a vineyard lyke a lodge in a garden of Cucumbers, like a walled Citie. And excepte the Lord of hostes had left vs a fewe alyue, we shold haue ben as Sodoma & like vnto Gomorra. Hear the word of the Lord ye lordes of Sodoma: and herken vnto the law of our God, thou people of Gomorra. Why offer ye so many sacrifices vnto me saith ỹ Lord: I am ful of the brent offrynges of wethers, and of the fatnesse of fed beastes. I haue no pleasure in the bloode of bullocks, lambes, and goates. Whẽ ye come to appere before me, who requireth this of you to treade within my porches? Therefore offer me no mo oblations, for it is but lost labour. Incense is an abhominable thing vnto me. I May not away wt your new moones, your Sabbaths & gathering togither at the solemne dayes. I hate your newe holy dayes & solemne feastes, euen fro my very hert. I can not away with such vanitie & holding in of the people. They lye vpon me as a burthen, & I am wery of bearing thẽ. Whã ye hold out your hands, I wyll turne myn eies frõ you. And though ye make many prayers, yet wil I here nothing at all, seyng your hands are ful of blod. Wash you therfore, & make you clean, put away your euill entẽts out of my sight, cease from doyng of euil. Learn to do right, apply your selues to equitie, deliuer the oppressed, helpe the fatherles to his right, let the widowes cõplainte come before you. Come I pray you (saithe the Lorde,) lette let vs reason oure matter together. Though your synnes be as redde as scarlet, they shalbe as white as snow. And though they were lyke purple, they shalbe as whyte as woll. If ye be louyng and obedient, ye shall enioye the best thynge that groweth in the lande. But if ye be obstinate and rebellious, ye shalbe deuoured with the swearde: for thus the Lorde hath promysed with hys owne mouthe. How happeneth it then that the righteous citye (whiche was full of equitye) is become vnfaythfull as an whore: righteousnes dwelte in it, but nowe murtherers. Thy syluer is turned to drosse, and thy wine myxt with water. Thy princes are wicked and cõpanions of theues. They loue gyftes altogether, and gape for rewardes. As for the fatherles, they helpe hym not to hys ryghte, neyther will they iette the wydowes causes come before them. Therfore, saith the Lord God of hoostes, the mighty gouernoure of Israel: Out vpon ye, I will ease me of mine enemyes, and I will auenge me of mine aduersaries, I shall laye my hande vpon thee, and burne out thy drosse from the fynest and purest, and put oute all thy tyme, and set thy iudges agayne as they wer somtime, and the Senatours as they wer from the beginnyng. Then shalt thou be called the ryghteous citye, the faythfull cytye. Sion shall be redemed with equitye, and they shall turne agayne vnto her in ryghteousnesse. For the transgressoures and vngodly, and suche as are become vnfaythfull vnto the Lorde, must altogether bee vtterlye destroyed. For they shall be ashamed of the gods that you longed for. And ye shall be put to shame, for the Idols grene gardens that ye haue chosen: ye shall be as a tree whose leaues are fallen awaye, and as a garden that hath no moystnesse. And as for the glorye of youre graued Images, it shalbe turned to drye strawe, and he that made them to a sparke. And they shall both burne together, so that no man shalbe able to quenche them.

The. ii. Chapter.

A

This is the word that was opened vnto Esaye the sonne of Amoz, vpon Juda, and Jerusalem. It wyl be also in the last days that the hylle where the house of the Lord is builded, shall be the chiefe among hylles, and exalted aboue all littell hilles. And all nations shal praye vnto hym, and the multitude of people shal go speaking thus one to an other: Psal. 32 Mat. 4, 6
Up, let vs go to the hyll of the lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob: that he may shew vs his way, & that we may walke in his pathes. For the lawe shall come out of Sion, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem, & shal geue sentẽce among the Heathen, and shal reform the multitude of people. They shal breake their sweardes also into mattockes, & their speares to make sithes. And one people shall not lift vp weapõ against another, nether shal they learne to fyghte from thense foorth. Com ye (O house of Jacob) let vs walke in the light of the lord.

B

But thou hast forsaken thy people the house of Jacob) because they go farre beyond the eastcountreis in sorceries (whom they haue as the Philistins had) and in straunge children they think thẽ selues to haue inough. Their lande is also full of syluer and gold, neither is there any end of theyr treasure. Their land is also ful of horses, & no end is there of their charets. Their land is also full of vain gods, and before the worke of their own handes haue they bowed them selues, yee euen before the thing that their owne fyngers haue made. Then kneleth the man, there falleth the man down before them: but thou (O lord) wilt not leaue them vnpunished. And therfore get thee into some rock, and hide thee in the ground for feare of the Lord, & for the glory of his maiestie. Whiche casteth downe the highe lokes of presumptuous persons, & bringeth lowe the pride of man, and the Lorde onely shalbe exalted in that day. For the daye of the Lorde of hostes shall goe ouer all pryde and presumption, vpon all them that exalt them selues, and shall bryng them all dowe: vpon all the high and stoute Cedre trees of Libanus, and vpon all the okes of Basan, vpon all high hils, and vpon all stout mountaynes, vpon all costly towres, and vpon all strong walles, vpon all shyppes of Tharsis, and vpon euery thyng that is glorious & pleasaunt to loke vpon. And it shall bring dowe the pryde of man, & lay mās presumptuousnesse full lowe, and the Lorde shall onelye haue the victorye in that D daye. But the Idols shall vtterly be roted out. Men shall crepe into holes of stone, and into caues of the earth, for feare of the Lord, and for the glory of his maiestye: what time as he shall arise vp to condemne the earth. Then shall man caste away his gods of syluer, and his gods of golde (whiche he neuertheles had made to honour thē) vnto Molles and Backes. And they shall crepe into the caues and rockes, and into the clyftes of harde stones, for feare of God, and for the glorye of his maiestye, when he ryseth to condemne the earth. Feare not ye thē any man, whose breth is in his nostrels. For what is he of reputation?

C

The .iii. Chapter.

A FOr lo, the Lord God of hostes doeth take away from Jerusalem and Juda, all possessions and power, all meate and drynke, the captayne and the souldior, the iudge & the prophet, the wyse and the aged man, the prince of fifty yere old, & the honorable: the Senatous, and men of vnderstandyng: the master of craftes, and oratours. And I shall geue them chyldrē to be theyr princes, and babes shall haue the rule of you. The people also shalbe pylled and polled, and one shall euer be doyng violence & wrong to another. The boye shall presume agaynst the elder, and the vyle person agaynst the honorable. Yea, one shall take a frend of hys owne kyndred by the bosome, and saye: Thou haste clothing, thou shalt be our head, for thou mayest kepe vs from this fall and perill. Then shal he sweare and saye: I B can not helpe you. Moreouer, there is neyther meate nor clothynge in my house, make me no ruler of the people. For Jerusalem is ouerthrowen, and Juda must fall to the ground, because that both their wordes & councels are against the Lord, to prouoke the presence of his maiestye vnto anger. The chaunging of theyr countenaunce bewrayeth them: yea, they declare theyr owne synnes them selues, as the Sodomytes, and hyde them not. Wo bee vnto their soules, for they haue retourned euyll vnto them selues. Byd the ryghteous do well, for they shall enioye the fruites of theyr studyes. But wo be to the vngodlye and vnryghteous, for they shalbe rewarded after their workes. Chyldren are ex- C torcioners of my people, and wemen haue rule of them. O my people, those that call thee blessed, deceaue thee, and deprayue the waye of thy footesteppes. The Lorde is ryssen vppe to cōmen of the matter, and standeth vp (I saye) to geue iudgemente of the people. The Lorde shall come forth to reason with the Senatoures, and princes of hys people. It is ye that haue burnt vp my vyneyarde, the extorcion done to the poore is in youre houses. Wherfore do ye oppresse my people, and marre the faces of the poore? sayth the Lord God of hostes. Moreouer, thus saieth the Lorde: Seynge the daughters of Sion are become so proude, and come in with stretched out neckes, and with vayne wanton eyes: seynge they come in tryppynge so nycely with theyr fete. Therefore shall the Lorde shaue the heades of the daughters of Syon, and shall dyscouer theyr shame. In D that daye shall the Lorde take awaye the gorgiousnesse of theyr apparell, and spanges, chaynes, partlettes, and collares, braceiettes, and hoeues, the goodly floured swyde and browdered raiment, & brooches, and headbandes, rynges and garlandes, holy day cloa-

thes and bailes, kercheles and pinnes, glasses, and cypresses, bonetts and taches. And in steede of good smelle there shall bee stynke among theim. And for their gyrdles, there shall bee louse bandes. And for well set heare, there shall be baldnesse. In stede of a stomacher, a sackclothe, and for their beautie, wythrednesse, and sonne burnyng. Your husbandes and myghtye men shall perysshe with the swearde in battaile. At that tyme shall their gates mourne and complayne, and they shall sytte as desolate folke vppon the earth.

¶ The. iiij. Chapter.

THen shall seuen wyues take holde of one man, and say: we will lay all our meate and clothyng together in common, only that we may be called thy wyues, and that this shamefull reproche may bee taken frome vs. After that tyme shall the braunche of the Lorde bee beautifull and mighty, and the fruit of the earth shalbe fayre and pleasant, for those Israelites that shall spryng therof. The shall the remnaunt in Syon and the remnant at Jerusalem be called holy Namely, all suche as are written among the liuing at Jerusalem: what tyme as the Lorde shall washe awaye the filthines of the daughters of Sion, and purge the blood out from Jerusalem with the wynde of his iudgement, and with fyre. Moreouer vpon all the dwellyngs of the hyll of Sion, and vpon theyr whole congregation, shall the Lorde prouide a cloude and smoke by day, and the shynynge of a flamynge fyre by nyghte: for all theyr glory shalbe preserued. And Jerusalem shalbe a tabernacle for a shadowe, because of heate in the daye tyme, a place and refuge where a man may kepe hym from wether & rayne.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

NOw wyll I synge my beloued frende, a songe of my frendes, because of his vineyard. My beloued frende hath a vineyarde in a very fruitfull plenteous ground. This he hedged, this he walled rounde about, & plãted it with goodly grapes In the myddest of it builded he a toure and made a wine presse therin. And afterward when he looked that it shold bryng hym grapes, it brought forthe thornes. Nowe therefore (O ye citisens of Jerusalem, and whole Juda:) Judge I praye you, betwixte me, and my vineyarde. What more couldc haue bene doone for it that I haue not done. Wherfore then hath it geuen thornes, wher I loked to haue hadde grapes of it? Well, now I shall tell you howe I wyll dooe with my vineyard: I wil take the hedge from it, that it maye perysshe and breake downe the wall, that it maye bee troden vnder foote. I wyll laye it waste, that it shall neyther bee bygged nor cutte, but beare thornes and bryers. I wyll also forbyd the cloudes that they shall not rayne vppon it. As for the vineyard of the Lorde of hostes, it is the house of Israel, and whole Juda his fayre plantyng. Of these he loked for equity, but se there is wrõg: for righteousnesse, lo, It is but miserie. Woe vnto theym that ioyne one house to an nother, and bryngc one lande so nygh vnto an other, that the poore can gette no more grounde, and that ye may dwell vpon the earthe alone. These thynges are in the eares of the Lorde of hostes: shall not many greatter and more gorgious houses bee so waste that no manne shall dwell in theim? And tenne akers of vynes shall geue but a Quarte, and xxx. bushelles of seede shall geue but an Epha. Woo bee vnto theym, that ryse vp early to folowe dronkennesse, and to theim that continue so, vntyll nyghte, and tyll they be sette on fyre with wyne. In those companies are harpes and lutes, tabrets, and pypes, and wyne. But they regarde not the worke of the Lord, and consyder not the operation of his hands. Therfore commeth my folke also into captiuitie, because they haue noo vnderstandyngc. Theyr glorye is dampished with with hunger, and their pryde is marred for thirste. Therfore gapeth hell, and openeth her mouth marueylous wyde: that their pryde, boastynge and welth, with suche as reioyce therein, maye descend into it. Thus hath man a fall, and is broughte lowe, and the high looke of the proude shalbe layde downe. But the Lord of hostes is exalted in iudgement, and God that is holy, is praised in righteousnes. Thē shall the sheepe eate in order, and the ryche mennes landes that were layde waste, shall straungers deuoure. Woo be vnto them, that drawe wickednes vnto them with cordes of vanity and synne, as it were with a carte rope. Whiche vse to speake on this maner: let him make hast nowe, and go forth with hys worke, that we may see it. Let the councell of the holy one of Israell come, and drawe nye, that wee may knowe it. Woo be vnto them that call euyll good, and good euill, which make darkenes light, and light darknesse, that make sowre sweete, and swete sowre. Woo be vnto them that are wyse in their owne syghte, and thinke them selues to haue vnderstādyng. Woo be vnto thē, that are strong to suppe oute wyne and experte men to set vp dronkēnes. These geue sentence with the vngodly for rewards, but condempne the iuste cause of the righteous. Therfore, lyke as fire lyeketh vp the strawe, and as the flame consumeth the stubble: Euen so their rote shalbe as corruption: and theyr blossome shal vanishe away like dust: for they haue caste away the lawe of the Lorde of hostes, and blasphemed the worde of the holy maker of Israel.

F Therefore is the wrath of the Lorde kyndled also agaynst hys people, and he shaketh his hande at them: yea, he hath smytten, so that the hylles dyd tremble. And their karcases dyd lye in the open stretes, lyke mire. And in all thys, the wrath of God hath not ceassed, but his hand is stretched out styll. And he shall geue a token vnto a straunge people: and cal vnto them in a farre countrye: and behold, they shal come hastely with spede. There shall not be one faynt nor feble among thē, no not a sluggysh nor sliperye person. There shal not one of them put of the gyrdle from his loynes, nor lowse the lachette of his shooe. His arowes are sharpe, and all his bowes bente. His horse hoofes are lyke flynte, and hys cartwheles lyke a stormy wynd. His crye is as it were a Lyon, and he roreth lyke lyons whelpes. They shall roare and hanche vp the praye, and no man shall recouer it, or gette it from them, in that day they shalbe so fearse vpon them, as the sea. And yf we loke vnto the lande, beholde, it shalbe all darkenes and sorowe. If we loke toward heauen: behold, it shalbe darke.

¶ The. vi. Chapter.

IN the same yeare that kynge Oziah died, I sawe the Lord sittyng vpon an high & glorious seate, & his trayne filled ✠ temple. And about him stode the Seraphins, wherof euerye one had syx wynges. With twayne eche one couered his face, with twayne his fete, & with twayne did he flye. They cryed also eche one to other on this maner: holy, holy holy, is the Lord of hostes. The whole worlde is full of his glorye. Yea, the geastes and dorechekes moued at hys cryinge, and the house was full of smoke. Then I sayde: O woo is me. For I am loste, in asmuch as I am a man of vncleane lyppes, and dwell among people that hath vncleane lyppes also: for myne eyes haue sene the Kynge and Lorde of hoostes. Then flewe one of the Seraphines vnto mee, hauynge a hotte cole in his hande, whyche he had taken from the aulter with the tonges, and touched my mouth, and sayde: Lo, thys hathe touched thy lyppes, and thyne vnrygheteousnesse is taken away, and thy sinne forgeuen. Also, I herde the voyce of the Lorde, sayinge on thys maner: Whom shall I sende and who wyll be oure messaunger? Then I sayde: here am I, sende me,

And

And he sayde: go, and tell this people:
mat.13.b • Ye shall heare in dede, but ye shall Mar.4.b not vnderstand: ye shall playnely see, Luke.8.b and not perceaue. Harden the herte of Acte.28.f this people, stop their eares, and shut Joh.12.f their eyes, that they se not with their D eyes, heare not with their eares, and vnderstand not with their hertes, and conuert and be healed. Then spake I: Lorde, howe longe? he answered: vntyll the cities be vtterly wasted with out enhabitoures, & the houses without men, tyl the land be also desolate, & lye vnbuylded. For the Lorde shall take the men farre awaye, so that the land shall lye wast a longe season, yet in it shall succede ten kynges, and the land shall returne and be layde waste.
And as the terebinte tree and oke in winter cast their leaues, and yet haue their sappe in them, so shall the holye seede continue in their substaunce.

¶ The.vii. Chapter.

A IT happened in the tyme of Ahaz the sonne of Iotham, which was 4.re.16.a the sonne of Vziah kynge of Iu-da, that • Razin the kyng of Siria, and Pechah the sonne of Romeliah, kynge of Israell, wente vp towarde Ierusalem to besege it, but Razin was not able to wynne it. Nowe when the house of Dauid (that is Ahaz) herde word therof, that Siria and Ephraim wer confederate together: hys herte quaked (yea and the hertes also of his people) lyke as whē a tree in the fielde is moued with the wynde. Then sayd God vnto Esay: go mete Ahaz (thou and thy son Sear Iasub) at the heade of the ouer pole, in the fote path by the fullers grou̅d, and saye vnto hym: Take hede to thy selfe and be styll, but feare not, nether be faynt herted, for these two tayles, that is: for these two smokynge fire brandes, the wrath and furiousnes of Razin, the Sirian and Romelies sonne: because that the kyng of Siria Ephraim, and Romelies sonne haue wickedly conspired agaynst the, saying: We woll go vp agaynste Iuda, vexe them, and bryng them vnder vs, and set a king there, euen the sonne of B Tabeell. For thus sayth the Lorde God therto: It shall not so go forth, nether come so to passe: for the head citye of the Sirians is Damascus, but the head of Damascus is Razin.
And after fyue and threescore yeare shall Ephraim be no more a people.
And the chiefe citye of Ephraim is Samaria, but the heade of Samaria is Romelies sonne. If ye beleue not it commeth of thys, that ye are vnfaythfull to God. Moreouer, God spake once agayne vnto Ahaz, saying:
Require a token of the Lorde thy god, whether it be towarde the depth be-neth, or towarde the heygth aboue.
Then sayd Ahaz: I will require none, nether will I tempt the Lord. Then Lorde answered: Then heare to, ye of ꝑ house of Dauid: Is it not ynough for you that ye be greuous vnto men, but ye must greue my God also. And therfore the Lord shall geue you a to- C ken: Behold, a virgin shall conceaue and beare a sonne, and thou (his mother) shalt call hys name Emanuell.
Butter and hony shal he eate, that he may knowe to refuse the euyll, and chose the good. For or euer the childe come to knowledge, to eschew ꝑ euyl & chose the good: The land (that thou so abhorrest) shalbe desolate of both her kynges. The Lord also shall send a time vpon the, vpon thy people, and vpon thy fathers house (suche as neuer came sence the tyme that Ephraim departed from Iuda) thorowe the kynge of the Assirians. For at the same tyme shall the Lorde whistle for the flyes that are aboute the waters of Egypte, and for the Wees in the Assirians lande. These shall come, and shall lyghte all in the desolate valeys, in the holes of stones, vppon all thornye and bushye places. At the same tyme shall the Lorde shaue the heare of the head and the fete, and the beard cleane of, with the rasoure that D he shall hyer beyonde the water:
namely, with the kynge of the Assi-rians. At the same tyme shall a manlyue

lyue with a kowe, and two shreepe. Theune, because of the abundance of mylke, he shall make butter and eate it. Soo that euerye one whyche remaynethe in the Lande, shall eate butter and honye. At the same tyme all vineyardes (thoughe there bee a thousande vynes in one, and were solde for a thousand sylueryngs) shal be turned to bryers and thornes. Like as they shall come into the land with arrowes and bowes, so shall all the the lande become bryers and thornes. And as for all hylles that are hewen downe, there shall not comme vppon theym any feare of bryers and thornes. But the cattell shall be dryuen thyther, and the sheepe shall feede there.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

A MOreouer, the Lorde sayde vnto me: Take thee a great leafe, and wryte in it, as men doo wyth a penne, make hasty speede to robbe, and haste to the spoyle. And I called vnto me faythfull wytnesses to recorde: Uriah the preest, and Zachariah, the sonne of Barachiah. After that wente I vnto the Prophetisse, that had conceyued and borne a sonne. Then sayde the Lorde to me: Geue hym thys name: a spedye robber, an hastye spoyler. For why, or euer the chylde shall haue knowledge to crye Father and Mother: shall the riches of Damascus, and the substãce of Samaria bee taken awaye by the spoyler, before the kynge of the Assirians. B The Lorde spake also vnto me, sayinge: for so muche as this people refuseth the styll rennynge water of Syloa, and put theyr delyte in Razin and Romelies sonne: Beholde, the Lorde shall bryng myghtie and greate flouds of water vpon them: namely, the kynge of the Assurians, wyth all hys power: whych shall clyme vppe vpon all hys flouds, and renne ouer all theyr bankes. And shall breake in vpon Juda, flowyng and increasyng in power, tyl he get hym by the neck. He shall fyll also the wydenesse of thy lande wyth hys broade wynges, O Emanuell. Breake downe (O ye people of Assur) and ye shalbe broken downe: Hearken to, all yee of farre countreys. Muster you, and you shall be broken downe, prepare you to battell: and you shall be torne in pieces: take your councell together, yet muste your councell come to naught: go in hand withall, yet shal it not prospere: C for God is with vs. For the Lorde spake thus to me in the power of his hande, & warned me, saying vnto me: that I should not walke in the way of this people. He sayde moreouer: rounde with none of them, who so euer say, yonder people are bound together, feare them not, neyther bee afrayde of them, but sanctifie the Lord of Hostes, let hym be your feare and drede. For he shall bee the holy place to flee to, and stone to stomble at: the rocke to fall vpon: a snare and net to bothe the houses of Israell, and the inhabitours of Jerusalem. And many shall stomble, falle, and bee broken vpon hym: yea, they shall bee snared and taken. Nowe lay the wytnesses D together, and seale the law with my disciples. Thus wyll I waite vpon the Lorde that hathe tourned his face from the house of Jacob, and I wyll looke for hym. But lo, as for me, and the children which the Lord hath geuen me, wee are a token and wonder in Israell, for the Lord of hostes sake, which dwelleth vpon the hil of Sion. And if they say vnto you: aske councel at the sothesayers, witches, charmers and coniurers, then make them this answer. Is there a people any where that asketh not councell at his God? • Shold men renne vnto the dead for • Luk. 24 the liuing? If any man want lyght, lette hym loke vpon the lawe, and the testimonye, whether they speake not after this meanynge. If he doo not this, he stombleth and suffereth hunger. And if he suffre hunger he is out of pacience, and blasphemeth his king and his god. Then loketh he vpward and downeward to the earth, and beholde, there is trouble and darkenesse, vexation is rounde about hym,

and

and the cloude of errour. And oute of such aduersitie, shal he not escape. Euen lyke as in tyme past, it hath bene well seene, that the lande of Zabulon, and the lande of Nephthali (where thzough the sea way goeth ouer Jordan into the lande of Galile) was at the firste in little trouble: but afterwarde sore vexed.

¶ The. ix. Chapter.

THe people that walke in darkenes haue seene great light. As for them that dwell in the land of the shadowe of death, vpon theym hath the lyghte shyned. Thou haste multiplyed the people, and not en-Psal.118 creased theyr ioye. They reioyce before thee, euen as men make merye in harueste, and as men that haue gotten the victorie whē they deale the spoile.
For thou haste broken the yoke of the peoples burthen: the staffe of his shol der, and the rod of hys oppressoure, as B in the dayes of Madian. And truelye euerye battayle that the warrior accomplisheth, is done with confused noyse, and defilinge theyr garmentes with bloud: But this battayle shalbe with burning and consuming of fire.
For vnto vs a child is borne, and vnto vs a sonne is geuen. Vppon hys shoulder doth the kingdome lye, and hee is called with hys owne name, wonderful. The geuer of councel, the mighty God, the euerlastinge father, the prince of peace, hee shall make noo ende to encrease the kingedome, and peace, and shall syt vppon the seate of Dauid, and in his kingdom, to set vp the same, and to stablish it with equity and righteousnes, from hence forth C for euermore. This shall the gelousye of the Lord of Hostes bring to passe.
The Lorde sent a worde into Jacob, the same is come into Israell. And all the people of Ephraim shal know and they that dwel in Samaria, that can say with pride and hie stomackes on this maner: The tile worke is fallen downe, but we wil build it with squared stones: The mulbery timbre is broken, but we shal set it vp againe with Cedre. Neuertheles the Lord shal prepare Razin the enemy against them, and so ordre their aduersaryes, that the Sirians shall laye hold vpo them before, and the Philystynes behynde, and so deuoure Israel with open mouthe. After all this, is not the wrath of the Lord ceassed, but yet hys hand stretched out styll. For the people turneth not vnto him that chasti-seth theym, neyther doo they seeke the Lorde of Hostes. Therefore hath the Lorde rooted out of Israel both head and taple, braunche and twygge in one day. By the heade, is vnderstande the Senatour and honorable manne, and by the taple, the Prophete that preached lyes. For all they which ensourme the people that they be in a ryght case, such be disceuers. Suchas mē think also to be perfect amōg these D are but caste awayes. Therefore shall the Lorde haue no pleasure in theyr ponge men, neyther fauoure their fatherlesse and widowes. For they are all together ypocrytes and wycked, and all theyr mouthes speake follye.
After al this, is not the Lords wrath ceassed, but yet hys hande is stretched out styll. For vngodlynes burneth as a fyre in the bryers and thornes. And as it were out of a fyre in a wood, or a reede bushe, so ascendeth the smoke of their pride. For because of ỹ wrath of the Lord of Hostes, is the land full of darkenes, and the people be consumed as it were with fyre, no manne doeth spare hys brother, but hee robbeth on the ryght hand: and doth lamyshe, hee eateth on the left hand, and he shal not haue ynough. Euery manne shall eate the flesshe of hys owne arme. Manasses shal eate Ephraim, and Ephraim Manasses, and they both shal eate Iu da. After all thys, is not the Lordes wrath ceassed, but yet is hys hande stretched out still.

¶ The x. Chapter.

VAo be vnto them that make vnrighteous lawes, and deuyse things, which be to hard
for

for to keepe: where thorow the poore are oppressed on every syde, and the innocentes of my people robbed of iudgemēt: that widowes mai be their pray, and that they maye robbe the fatherlesse. What wyll ye doo in tyme of the visitation, and when destruction shal come from farre? To whom will ye runne for helpe? and to whom will ye geue youre honoure, that he maye keape it? that when I withdraw my hand, ye com not among the prisoners, or lye among the dead? After all this dothe not the wrath of the Lord ceasse, but yet is his hand stretched out styll. Woe also vnto Assur, whyche is a staffe of my wrathe, in whose hand is the rod of my punishement. I shall sende him among those hypocritish people, among the people that haue deserued my displeasoures shall I send hym, that he may vtterly robbe theym, spoyle theym, and treade them down lyke the myre in the strete Howbeit, his meanyng is not so, neither thinketh his hert on this fashion But he imagineth only, how he may roote out and destroye muche people, for he sayth: Are not my Princes all Kynges? Is not Calno as easye to wynne, as Charchamis? Is it harder to conquer Hamath then Arphad? Or is it lighter to ouercome Damascus, then Samaria? As who saye, I were able to wynne the Kyngdom of the Idolaters and their gods: but not Jerusalem and Samaria. Shall I not doo vnto Jerusalem and their ymages, as I dyd vnto Samaria, and theyr idols? Wherfore the lord saith: As soone as I haue perfourmed my whole worke vpon the hyll of Syon and Jerusalem, then wyl I visite the noble and stoute heart of the kyng of Assyria with hys prowde lokes. For he standeth thus in his owne conceit. This dooe I thorowe the power of myne owne hande, and thorowe my wysedome: For I am wise, I am hee that remoue the landes of the people: I robbe their treasures: and (like one of the worthies) I dryue them from their hye seates. My hand hath found oute the strengthe of the people, as it wer a nest. And like as egges ỳ were layde here and there, are gathered together: So do I gather al countreis. And there is no man that dare bee so boide, as to touche a feather, that dare open his mouthe, or ones whysper. Shal the axe boast it self against him that heweth therewith? or dothe the sawe make any bragging against him that ruleth it? That were euen lyke, as if the rodde dyd exalt it self against hym that beareth it: or as though the staffe should magnifie it selfe, as who say: It were no wood. Therfore shal the Lord of hostes send hym amonge hys fatlyngs, leannesse, and burne vp his glory, as it were with a fyre. But the lyght of Israell shall be that fyre, and hys Sanctuarie shalbe the flame and it shall kyndle, and burne vp hys thornes and briers in one day: yea all the glory of his woodde and fieldes shalbe consumed with body and soule. And they shall be as an hoste of men, whose standerde bearer fayleth. The trees also of hys field which remayn, shalbe of suche a numbre, that a chyld may tell them: After that day, shall the remnant of Israell, and suche as are escaped oute of the howse of Jacob, seeke noo more comforte at hym that smote them: but with faithfulnes and truth shal they trust vnto the lord, the holy one of Israel. The remnant euē the Posteritie of Jacob, shall cōuerte vnto GOD the myghtie one. For though thy people (O Israel) bee as the sande of the sea, yet shall the remnant of them conuert in hym. Perfect is the iudgemēt of hym ỳ floweth in rightuousnes, & therfore the Lord of hostes shall perfectly fulfil the thyng that he hath determyned in the myddest of the whole worlde. Therfore thus sayeth the Lorde God of hostes: Thou my people, that dwellest in Syon, be not afrayde for the kyng of the Assyrians: Hee shall smyte thee wyth a rodde, and shall wagge hys staffe at the, as the Egyptians dyde sometyme: But soone after, shall my wrathe, and mine indignation be fulfilled filled in the destruction of the. More-G ouer, the Lorde of hostes shall prepare a scourge for him, lyke as was the slaughter of Madian vppon the rocke of Oreb. And he shall lyfte vp his rod ouer the sea, as he dyd some-tyme ouer the Egiptians. Then shal his burthen be taken from thy shoulders, and hys yocke from thy necke:

yea, the same yocke shalbe corrupt for very fatnesse. He shal com to Riath, & thorow toward Migron: at Michi-mas shall he lay vp his harnesse, & go ouer the foord. Gibea shalbe their re-styng place, Rhamah shalbe afrayed, Gibea Saul shall flee awaye. The voyce of the noyse of thy horses (O daughter Gallim) shalbe herde vnto Lays and to Anathoth, whiche also shalbe in trouble. Madmena shal trē-ble for feare, but the citezens of Ga-bim are manly, yet shall he remayne at Nob that daye. After that, shall he lyfte vp his hand agaynst the mounte of the daughter Sion, the hyll of Jerusalem. But see, the Lorde God of hostes shal take away the proud from thence, with feare. He shall hewe downe the proude, and fell the hye mynded. The bushes also of the wood shal be rote out with yron, and Libanus shall haue a mighty fall.

¶ The .xi. Chapter.

A And there shall come a rod I forth of the kynred of Isai, and a blossome shall florysshe out of his rote. The spyrete of the Lord shall lyghte vpon hym: the spyrete of wysedome, and vnderstandynge: the spyrete of councell, and strength, the spyrete of knowledge, and of the feare of the Lorde: and shall make him feruent in the feare of God. For he shall not geue sentence, after the thing that shall be brought before hys eyes, neyther reprone a matter at the fyrst hearyng: but with ryghteousnes shall he iudge the poore, and with holynesse shall he reformme the symple of the world. He shal smyte the world with a rod of his mouth, & with the breath of his mouth shal he slaye the vngod-lye. Righteousnesse shalbe the gyrdle of his loynes, truth and faithfulnesse, the girdynge vp of hys reynes. The wolfe shall dwell with the lambe, and the Leopard shall lye downe by the goate. Bullocks, Lions, and cattell shall kepe companye together, so that a lytle chyld shal rule them. The cowe and the Beare shall fede toge- B ther, & theyr yong ons shall lye together. The Lyon shall eate straw lyke the oxe, or the kowe. The child while he sucketh, shall haue a desyre to the serpentes nest, and when he is weaned, he shall put hys hande into the Cockatrice denne. No man shall do cuyll to another, no man shall destroy another, in all the hyll of my holynes.
For the earth shalbe full of the know ledge of the Lord, euen as the sea flo-weth ouer with water. And in that daye shall the Gentils enquire after the rote of Jesse, which shalbe set vp for a token vnto the people, and hys dwelling shalbe glorious. At the same C tyme shall the Lorde take in hande a-gayne, to conquere the remnaunte of hys people (which shalbe left alyue.) From the Assirians, Egipcians, Ara-bians, Mozians, Elamites, Caldeys Antiochiās, and from the Flandes of the sea. And he shall set vp a token among the Gentiles, and gather together the disperssed of Israell, yea and the out castes of Juda from the foure corners of the worlde. The hatred of Ephraim also and enemyes of Juda shalbe cleane roted out. Ephraim shal D beare no cuyll wyll to Juda, and Juda shall not hate Ephraim: but they both together shal flye vpō the shoulders of the Philistines towarde the weste, and spoyle them together that dwell toward the Easte. The Idumites & the Moabites shall let their handes fall, and the Ammonites shall be obedient vnto them. The Lord also shall cleaue the tunges of the Egiptians sea, and with a mightye wynde shall he lyft vp his hand ouer Mius, and shall smyte hys seuen streames, and make men go ouer dryc shod. And thus shall there be a waye for hys people, that remaineth from the Assirians, like as it happened to the Israelytes what time they departed out of the land of Egypt.

¶ The .xii. Chapter.

SO that then thou shalte saye: O Lorde, I wyll thanke thee, for thou wast displeased at me, but refrayne thou from thy wrathe, and comfort me. Beholde, God is my saluation, in whom I will trust, and not be afraide. For the Lorde God is my strength, and my songe, he also is become my saluation. Therefore wyth ioye shall ye drawe water oute of the welles of the Sauiour, and then shal ye saye: geue thankes vnto the Lord, call vpon his name, declare his councels amonge the people, kepe them in remembraunce, for his name is excellent. O singe prayses vnto the Lorde, for he hath doone great thynges, as it is knowne in all the worlde. Cry out and syng thou that dwellest in Sion for great is the holye one of Israel in the myddes of thee.

¶ The .xiij. Chapter.

THis is the heauye burthen of Babilon, which Esay the son of Amos dydde see. Lift vp the banner vpon the hie hil, cal vnto the, holde vp your hand, that the Princes maye goe in at the dooze. I haue sente for my debities and my giantes (saith the Lorde) which shal execute wrath, I will call for suche, as triumphe in my glorye. There is a noyse of a multitude in the mountaynes, lyke as of a great people, a rushinge, as thoughe the kingedomes of the nacions came together. (And the Lorde of hoostes, mustreth hys armye to battell.) They come out of a farre countrye, from the ende of heauen: Euen the Lorde hym
B selfe with the ministers of his wrath, to destroye the whole lande. Mourne ye, for the daye of the Lord is at hand, and shall comme as a destroyer from the almyghtye. Therefore shall all handes be letten downe, and al mens heartes shall melte awaye, they shall stande in feare, carefulnesse and sorow shal come vpon them, and they shall haue payne, as a woman that trauaileth wyth childe. One shalbe abashed of another, and their faces shal burne lyke the flame of fyre. Beholde, the daye of the Lorde shall come, terrible, B ful of indignation, furoure and wrath to make the lande waste, and to roote out the sinners thereof. For the starres and planettes of heauen shall not geue theyr lyght, the sun shalbe darkned in the rysynge, and the mone shall not shyne wyth hys lyghte. And I wyll punyshe the wickednes of the worlde, and the synnes of the vngodlye, sayeth the Lord. The hye stomackes of the proude will I take away, and wyll laye downe the boastyng of C tyrauntes. I wyll make a man dearer then fyne golde, and a man to bee more worth then a golden wedge of Ophir. Therefore, I wyll shake the heauen, and the earth shal remoue out of her place: in the wrath of the Lord of hostes, and in the daye of hys feareful indignation. And Babilon shalbe as an hunted or chased doe, and as a shepe that no man taketh vp. Euery man shal turne hys owne people, and flie eche one into his owne land. Who so is found alone shalbe shot through: And who so gather together, shalbe destroied with the swearde. * Their Psa. 137 childzen shalbe slaine before their eies their houses spoiled, and their wiues D rauished. For lo, I shall bring vp the Medes agaynst theym, whyche shall not regarde siluer, nor be desyrous of golde. With bowes shal they destroie the yonge childzen, and haue no pytye vpon wemen wyth child, and their faces shall not spare the childzen. And Babilon (that glorye of Kingdomes and beautye of the Caldees honour) shall bee destroyed euen as GOD Ge. 19.
destroyed * Sodome and Gomorra. It shall not endure for euer, neyther shall there be anye more dwellynge there, from generation to generation. The Arabians shal pytche no tentes there.

there, nether ſhal the ſhepherds make their foldes there any more: but fearfull wilde beaſtes ſhall lye there, and the houſes ſhalbe full of greate Oules. Eſtriches ſhall dwell there, and Apes ſhal daunſe there, wilde cattes ſhal crye in the palaces, and dragons ſhalbe in the pleaſaunte houſes. And as for Babilons time, it is at hande, and her daies ſhall not be prolonged.

¶ The.xiiii.Chapter.

A BVt the Lorde wyl be merciſull vnto Jacob, and will yet chooſe Iſraell agayne, and ſet theym in their own land. Straungers ſhal cleaue vnto them, and get them to the houſe of Jacob. ¶ The people ſhal take them, and carye theym home to theyr owne lande. And make them to inherite the houſe of Iſraell in the lande of the Lord that they may be ſeruantes and hande maydens of the Lorde.

B Thei ſhal take thoſe priſoners whoſe captiues they hadde beene afore: and rule thoſe that had oppreſſed theym. When the Lord, now ſhall bryng the to reſt, from the trauayle, feare, & hard bondage that thou waſt laden withall: then ſhalt thou vſe thys mockage vpon the kyng of Babilon, and ſaye: Howe happeneth it that the oppreſſoure leaueth of? Is the golden tribute come to an ende? The Lord hath broken the ceptre of the vngodly, and the rod of the Lordlye. Whyche when he is wroth smyteth the people with continual ſtrokes, and tyrannouſelye reygneth ouer the heathen, whom he

C perſecuted without compaſſion. And therfore the whole world is nowe at reſte and quietnes, and men ſynge for ioye. Ye, euen the Fyr trees, and Cedres of Libanus reioice at thy fal, ſaiynge: Now that thou art laid downe, there come vp no mo to hewe downe vs. Hel alſo beneth trembleth to mete thee at thy comming, and for thy ſake hath rayſed his deade, and all mighty men, and princes of the earth. Al kinges of the earth ſtande vp from theyr ſeates, that they may all anſwere and ſpeake vnto thee. Arte thou become weake alſo as we? arte thou become lyke vnto vs? Thy pompe and thy pryde is layde downe into the pytte, and ſo is the melodye of thy inſtrumentes. Wormes be layde vnder the, and wormes bee thy couerynge. Howe art thou fallen from heauen (O Lucifer) thou faire morynge child? howe haſte thou gotten a fall euen to the grounde, and art become weaker the the people? For thou ſaydeſt in thyne hearte: I will clime vp into heauen, D and exalte my throne aboue beſide the ſtarres of God, I wil ſyt alſo vppon the holye mount toward the North, I will clyme vp aboue the cloudes, and wyll be lyke the higheſt of all. Yet thou ſhalte be broughte downe to the depe of hell. ¶ They that ſee thee, ſhall narowly looke vpon thee, and thinke in theym ſelues, ſayinge: Is thys the man, that brought all landes in feare, and made the kingdomes afrayd? Is this he that made the world in a maner waſte, and layde the cities to the grounde, which let not his priſoners go out? The kings of the nacions lye euery one in his owne houſe wyth worſhippe, and thou art caſt oute of thy graue lyke a fylthye abhominable braunch: lyke as dead mens raymente that are ſhot through with the ſwerd and goe downe to the ſtoones of the depe: as a dead coarſe that is troden vnder feete: and arte not buried wyth theym: Euen becauſe that thou haſte waſted thy lande, and deſtroyed thy people. The generation of the wycked ſhalbe wythout honour for euer. Let there a way be ſought to deſtroy their childzen, that be in their fathers wyckednes, that they come not vp agayne to poſſeſſe the lande and fyl the worlde full of enemyes. I wyl ſtand vp agaynſt theym (ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes) and roote oute the name and remnant, ſonne, and ſonnes ſonne of Babilon (ſayeth the L O R D E) and wyll geue it to the Otters, and wyll make water puddelles of it. And I wyll ſwepe theim oute wyth the beſoome of deſtruction, ſayeth

F the Lorde of hostes. The Lorde of hostes hath swornе an othe, sayinge: It shall come to passe as I haue determined, and shall bee fulfilled as I haue deuysed. So that Assiria shal I destroye in my lande, and vppon my mountaynes vyll I treade him vnder foote. Wherethrough hys yoke shall come from theym, and hys burthen shalbe taken from their shoulder. This deuyse hath GOD taken through the whole world, and this is hys hand stretched oute ouer all people. For yf the Lorde of hostes determin a thinge, who is able to disanull it? And yf he stretch foorth his hand, who maye holde it in agayne? The same yeare that king Ahaz died, God threatned on this maner: Reioice not (thou whole Palestina) because the rod of him that beateth thee, is broken: for oute of the serpentes roote, there shal come an adder, and the fruit shalbe a fiery flying worme. But the first borne of the poore shalbe fed, and the simple shall dwell in safetie. Thy roote also vyll I destroye wyth hunger, and it shall slaye thy remnaunte. Mourne thou porte, wepe thou citye, for (O whole lande of Palestina) thou arte layde waste, for there shall come from the North, a smoke, that not one alone may abyde in his place. Who shall then aunswer the messengers of the Gentyles? For the Lorde hath stablished Sion, and the poore of his people that be therein, doo put their trust in him.

The.xv. Chapter.

This is the heauy burthen vpon Moab: Ar of Moab was destroyed and ouerthrowen in the nighte season: Kir also in Moab was destroyed, and perished in the nyght. They wente vp to the ydoles house, euen to Dibon to the hye places, to wepe for Nebo, and Moab did mourne for Medba: All their heades, were balde, and all their beardes shauen. In their streates are they gyrded aboute wyth sackecloth. In all the toppes of theyr houses and streates shalbe nothinge but mournynge and wepyng. Hesbon and Eleale shal cry that their voyce shalbe hearde vnto Jahaz. The worthies also of Moab shall bleate oute and crye for very sorowe of their mindes: Woe shall my heart be for Moabs sake. They shall flee vnto the citie of Zoar, whyche is lyke a fayre younge bullocke of three yeare olde, for they shall all go vp to Luith wepting. Euen so by the waye towarde Horonaim they shall make lamentation for theyr vtter destruction. For the waters of Nimrim shalbe dryed vp, by reason wherof the grasse is withered, the herbes destroied, and the greene thinges gone. For the residue that he hath done, they are sory. As for theyr substaunce, the enemyes haue caried theim to the brooke of the willowes. For the crye went ouer the whole land of Moab: vnto Eglaim and vnto Beer Elim was there nothing but mourning, because the waters of Dimon were full of bloud: for I the Lord shal send more bloud vpon Dimon, and lyons vpon the remnant of the land, and on them that are escaped from Moab.

The.xvi. Chapter.

Sende the Lorde of the worlde a lambe: from the rocke that lieth toward the desert, vnto the hyll of the daughter Sion. For as for the daughters of Moab, they shalbe as a tremblynge birde, that is put oute of harueste, for they shall carye them vnto Arnon: gather your councel, come together in iudgemēt, couer vs with your shadowe in the mid daye, as the nyghte doeth hyde the chased, and bewraye not them that are fled, lette my persecuted people dwell among you. Moab, be thou theyr refuge agaynste the destroyer: for the aduersarye is brought to naught, the robber is vndoone, the tyraunte is wasted oute of the land. And in mercye shal the state be prepared, and he shall sit vpon it in the truth, in the Tabernacle of Dauid iudging and sekinge iudgement, and makinge haste vnto ryghteousnes.

Wo-

we haue heard of the pryde of Moab, he is very proude, presumptuous, arrogante, and full of indignation, and vayne are hys ives. Therefore shall Moab make lamentation because of the Moabytes (that shalbe slaine) ye they shall waile al together. Because of the foundations of the Citye that is made of brycke, shall ye complayne: euen the lame people that ar left one-C lye behynde. For the vynes of Hesebon are cut downe: As for the vine of Sibna, the lordes of the Heathen haue broken down her principal braū ches: they are come euen vnto Jazer, they went on wandring vnto the wil derneſſe. Her goodly branches were throwen downe, as they wente ouer the Sea. Therefore wyll I mourne for Jazer, and for the vine of Sibna. I wyll poure my teares vppon thee, O Hesbon and Eleall, for the crye of thine enemies is fallen vpon thy som mer fruites, and vpon thyne harueſt. The Mirth and chere is taken away out of the plentifull fyelde, and in the vyneyardes there shall be no ioye nor gladnes. The treader shall treade out no wyne in the presses, the songe of their mery chere haue I layd downe.
D Wherefore, my bowels shall romble lyke an harp for Moabs sake, & myne inward partes for the cities sake that is made of brycke. And it shall come to passe, that whā it is seue that Moab shalbe made wery of hys hil chappels, hee shall come to hys temple to praye, but he shall not be able. So thē this is the sayinge that the Lord hath spoken concerning Moab, sence that tyme. But nowe the Lorde hath spoken, saying: In three yeares whiche shalbe as the yeares of an hyred seruaunte, shall the glorye of Moab bee turned into confusion, throughout all his multitude, which is verye great. And that which remaineth, shalbe very small and feble.

The .xvii. Chapter.

A THis is the heauye burthen vppon Damascus. Beholde, Damascus is taken away, to be no more a Citie, but shall bee an heape of brokē stones. The walled citie of Aroer shalbe foldes for cattell, whyche shall lye there, and there shalbe none to fraye theym awaye. Ephraim also shal no more be stronge: and Damascus shal no more be a kyngdome, and the remnaunt of Siria shalbe as the glorye of the children of Israell, saith the Lorde of hoſtes. And in that daye it shall come to paſſe that Jacob shalbe made very poore, and the fatnes of his fleshe shall waxe leane. And hee shalbe as one that gathereth vp corne in harueſt, euen like him whose arme reapeth the eares of corne. He shalbe also lyke hym that gathereth eares of corne in the valey of Rephaim. Som gathering in dede shal there be left in it, euen as in the shaking of an Olive tree there remayne two or three bearies in the toppe of the vppermooſte bowe, and foure or fyue in the brode fruitfull braunches therof, sayeth the Lorde God of Israel. Then shal man B tourne agayne to hys maker, and hys eyes shall haue reſpect to the holy one of Israell. As for the altares whyche are hys owne handyeworke, he shall not regarde them: and the things that hys fyngers haue made (as groues and ymages) those shall hee not caſte hys eye vnto. In that daye shall their strong cities be as the forsaken shrubbes and braunches, which they left because of the children of Israel, and the lande shalbe desolate. Because thou haſt forgotten God thy saluation, and haſt not bene mindfull of thy stronge rocke, therefore shalt thou set pleſant plantes, and shalt graffe the braunche of another mannes vyne. In that day shalte thou make thy plant to growe: and earlye in the morning shalt thou make thy seede to flourish. The harueſt shalbe gone in the daye of enheritāce, and there shalbe sorowe without hope of confort. Woe shalbe to the multitude of muche people, whyche shall make a C sound lyke the noyse of the Sea. And the vyolence of the nacions, whyche shall rage lyke the rushinge in of many waters: Euen lyke many waters shal the people rage. God shal rebuke him, and he shall flye farre of. He shal be chased away lyke as a dyse strawe vpon the mountaynes before the wind and lyke a thing that tourneth before the storme. At euen beholde, there is trouble: and or euer it be morning, lo, he is gone. This is the portion of them that oppresse vs, and the lotte of them that robbe vs.

The.xviii.Chapter.

O That lande that trusteth vnder the shadowe of wynges, that lande which is beyonde the waters of Ethiopia: Sendinge messengers by the sea, euen in vessels of reedes ouer the water. Goe you hence (ye spedie messangers) to a nation that is scattred abroade and robbed of that they had: a feareful people from their beginning hitherto: a nation troden downe by little and little whose land the flouds haue spoyled. And al ye inhabiters of the world & in dwellers of the earth, loke vp whan he setteth a token in the mountaines, and hearken whan he bloweth wyth the trompe. For so the Lord sayd vnto me: as for me, I wyll take my reste and loke vpon the matter in myne habitation, lyke a fayre heate after the rayne, and lyke a cloude of Dewe in the heat of harueste. For afore the harueste, whan the braunche is growen there shall come rype fruite out of the floure, and he shall cut downe the increase wyth sythes, and the branches shall he take awaye wyth hookes. Thus shal they be lefte together vnto the foules of the mountaynes, and to the beastes of the earth: for in sommer the birdes shall remaine vpon it, & euery beast of the lande shalbe vpon it in the winter. In ỳ time shall there a present be brought vnto the Lord of hoostes: euen a people that is scattred abrode, and robbed of that they hadde, that same people whith hath ben fearfull from their beginning, hitherto: a nation troden downe by lytle and litle, whose land the flouds haue spoyled: To the place of the name of the Lorde of hoostes, euen to the mounte Sion.

The.xix.Chapter.

THe heauye burthen of Egypt: Behold, the Lorde rideth vpon a swifte cloude, and shall come into Egypt, and the ydols of Egypt shall trembie at the presence of hym, and the heart of Egypt shal quake in the myds of her. And I will set ỳ Egyptiãs one against another, so ỳ one brother shall fighte against an other, and one neyghbour agaynst another, cytie against citie, and realme against Realme. The mynde also of Egypte shalbe cleane without councell within it selfe, and the deuice that they take will I destroye, so that they shal seke councell at ydols, and at sorcerers, at workers wyth spirites, and at soothsayers. And the Egyptians wyll I geue ouer into the hande of a marueilous cruell Lord, and a myghtye king shal haue dominion ouer them, sayeth the Lord God of hoostes. The waters of the sea, shal fayle, and the riuer shal decreace and be dryed dype. The waters shalbe drawen oute: the riuer of Egypte shalbe emptied and dried vp, the reedes and flagges shal be cutte downe. The grasse in the riuer and by the ryuers banke, and all that groweth by the riuer, shall wither away, and be brought al to naught. The fishers also shall mourne, and all they that cast an angle into the water, shal make lamentation, and they that laye forth their net beside the waters, shal bee rooted oute. Moreouer, they that worke in flaxe and make fine workes shall be confounded, and so shall they that weaue open woorkes. For they open woorkes shalbe euen destroyed, and al they that make pondes and slewes for fyshe, shall come to naughte. But ye foolyshe princes of Zoan, ye wyse counceliers of Pharao, whose witte is tourned to foolishnes, howe saye ye vnto Pharao: I am comme of wise men, and of auncient kynges.

where are they? where are (I saye) thy wise men? Let theim tell thee (yf they can) what the lord of hosts hath deuised vpon Egypt. The princes of Joan are become fooles, the princes of Noph are disceaued, they haue deceaued Egypte, euen they that were taken for the chiefe kynrede thereof. In the myddes of it, hath the Lorde powred the spirite of wyckednesse, and they haue deceyued Egypte, in euery worke therof, euen as a dronken man staggereth in his vomite. Neyther shall the head or taile, the branch or reede be able to doo any woorke in Egypt. In that daye shall Egypt be lyke vnto women: It shalbe afrayd, and stand in feare at the motion of the hand of the Lorde of Hostes, whiche he shaketh ouer it. And Egypt shalbe afrayd of the lande of Juda: so that euery one whiche maketh mention of it, shall be afrayde therat, because of the conncell of the Lorde of Hostes, whyche he deuyseth for it. In that daye shall fyue cities in the lande of Egypte speake the language of Canaan, and sweare by the Lord of Hostes, the citie of desolation shalbe called one of them. In that day shal the altare of the Lorde bee in the myds of the lande of Egypt, and this title beside it: Vnto the Lorde. And it shall be a token & a wytnesse vnto the lord of hostes in the lande of Egypt. For they shall crye vnto the Lord because of suche as trouble them, and he shall send them a Sauior and a great man to deliuer them. And the Lorde shall be knowen in Egypt, and the Egyptians shal know the Lord in that day, and do sacrifice and oblation: yea they shal bowe a bowe vnto the Lord, and performe it. The Lord also shal smite Egypte sore, and heale theim agayne, and they shall bee conuerted vnto the Lord, and he shalbe intreated of them and shall heale theym. In that daye shall there be a common waye oute of Egypte into Assiria, and Assiria shall come into Egypt, and Egypt into Assiria, so ỳ the Egyptians and the Assyrians shall serue the Lord together. In that day shal the nation of Israel be the third with Egypt and Assiria, and they shal be blessed in the myddes of the lande, whyche land the Lorde of Hostes hath blessed, saying: Blessed is my people of Egypte: Assur also is the worke of myne handes, and Israell is myne inheritance.

The.xx. Chapter.

In the yere that Thartancam came vnto Asdod (when Sargon the kyng of Assiria had sente hym (and hadde soughte agaynste Asdod, and taken it. At the same time spake the Lord by the hande of Esaye the sonne of Amos, sayinge: Go, and take of the sackcloth from thy loyns, and put of thy shoe frome thy foote. And he dyd so, walkynge naked, and barefoote. And the Lorde sayd: Like as my seruant Esay hath walked naked, and barefoot for a signe and wonder three yeares vppon Egypte, and Ethiopia: Euen so shall the kyng of Assiria take away out of Egypt and oute of Ethiopia, chyldren and olde men, naked and barefoote, wyth their loynes vncouered, to the great shame of Egypte. They shalbe brought in feare also, & ashamed one of an other: Ethiopia of Egypte, and Egypt of Ethiopia, consyderyng what glorye they were in afore. And they that dwelle in the same Ile, shall saye in that daye: Beholde, thus are we regarded. whyther shall wee flee for healpe, that wee maye bee delyuered from the kyng of Assyria? And howe shall we escape?

The.xxi. Chapter.

The burthen of the waste sea: Euen as the stormye weather that passethe thorowghe at the noone day to come frō the wildernes from that horrible lande. A greuous vysyon was shewed vnto me: Let one disceitefull offender comme agaynste an other, and one destroyer agaynste an other. Vp Elam, laye syege thou of Media, all their gronyng haue I layde downe. Therefore are my loynes fylled wyth sorowe, heynesse hath taken hold vpon me, as the pangs of a woman, that is trauailyng. It made me stoupe when I heard it, and it vexed me when I sawe it. My heart panted, fearefulnes came vpon me. The nyght of my voluptuousnes hath he turned against me into feare. Whyle they garnyshed the table, the B watchman loked: And whyle I was eatyng and drynkyng (it was sayd:) Vp ye Captaines, take you to youre shield. For thus hath the Lord sayde vnto me: Goe and set a watcheman, to telle what he seeth. And he sawe a charet, whiche two horsemen sat vpon, with the cariage of an Asse, and the cariage of a Camell. So he loked and toke very diligent heede. And the Lyon cryed, Lord, I stande waityng all the whole daye, and am appoynted to kepe my watche euery nyght. And behold, here commeth a charet of men with two horsemen. And he answered and sayd: Babylon is fallen, it is fallen, and all the images of hir gods hath he smitte downe vnto the ground. O thou art he, whom I must threshe, & thou belongest to my corn flour. This that I hearde of the Lord of Hostes, the God of Israell haue I shewed vnto you. The burthen of Duma, he calleth vnto me out of Seir: Watch-C man, what hast thou espied by night? Watcheman, what hast thou espied by nyght? The watchmanne sayd: The morneng commeth, and so doothe the nyght. If ye will aske any question, then aske it, returne, and come agayn. The burthen concerning Arabia: In the pleasant grounde of Arabia shall ye tarye all nyght, euen in the stretes of Dedanim. The inhabiters of the lande of Thema brought foorthe water to hym that was thyrstie, they prefented him with theyr bread that was fled away. For because of the swerdes are they become fugitiue, euen for the drawen swearde, and for the bente bowe, and because of the greeuousnes of warre. For thys hath the Lord sayd vnto me: There is yet a yere according to the yeares of an hyred seruaunt, and all the glory of Cedar shall fayle. And the nombre of theym that shall escape from the bowes, shall be mynyshed by the myghtie chyldren of Cedar, for so the Lord God of Israel hath spoken.

The xxii. Chapter.

THe burthen of the valey of vi- I sion: What haste thou to doo here, that thou clymest vnto the house tops? Thou that arte full of occupying, thou seditious & proude citie, thy slayne men are neyther put to death with sweard, nor dead in batayle. All thy captaynes are fugitiue together, the archers haue take theim prisoners: All they that are found in thee, are in captiuity together, because they fled farre of. Therfore sayd I: let me alone, and I will make lamen- Luk. 19 tation. Ye shall not be able to comfort Jere. 9. d me, because of the destruction of the daughter of my people. For this is a day of trouble, of ruine, and of destruction that the Lord wyll bryng to passe in the valey of vision, breakyng downe the citie, & crying vnto mountayns. E Iam bare the quyuer wyth
B a charet of foote men and of horsmen, and the citie of Kyr shewed the shield open. Thy chief valey also was full of charets, and the horsemen set their faces directly towarde the gate. And in that daye dyd the ennemye take away the beautie of Juda, and thenne dyddest thou loke toward the armour of the house of the foreste. Ye haue sene also the broken places of the Citie of Dauyd, howe that they are manye, and ye gathered together the waters of the lower poole. As for the houses of Jerusalem ye haue numbred theym, and the howses haue ye broken downe to make the walle stronge. A pytte also haue ye made betwene the two walles, for the waters of the olde poole, and haue not regarded the maker thereof, neyther hadde respecte vnto hym that tooke it in hande. And in that day dydde the C Lorde GOD of Hostes call menne vnto weepynge and mournynge, to baldnesse and gyrdynge about wyth sackesackecloth. And beholde, they haue ioye and gladdnesse, slayenge Oxen, and killyng sheepe, eatyng flesshe and 1.cor.15 drynkyng wyne. * Lette vs eate and Sa.22.b drynke: for to morowe wee shall dye.

And it came to the eares of the Lorde of Hostes: This iniquitie shall not be pourged frome you tyll ye dye, saieth the Lord God of Hostes. Thus saith the Lord God of Hostes: Goe, Esai.36. get thee into ponder treasurer, euen vnto * Sebna, whiche is the ruler of the house. What hast thou to do here?
and whome hast thou here, that thou shouldest here hewe thee out a sepulchre, as it were one that heweth him out a sepulchre an hie, or that graueth an habitation for hym self in a harde rocke? Behold, O thou manne, the Lord shal cary thee away into capti-uitie, and shal surely couer thee with confusion. The Lorde shall turne the ouer lyke a bal with his handes (and shall sende thee) into a farre contrey: There shalte thou dye, and there (in stede of the charettes of thy pompe) shall the house of thy Lord haue confusion. I wyll dryue thee frome thy place, and out of thy dwellyng shall he ouerthrowe thee. And in that day shall I call my seruant Eliakim, the sonne of Helkia. And with thy garmentes wyll I clothe hym, and with thy gyrdle wyll I strength hym: thy power also will I committe into his E hande, and he shall be a father of such Job.12b as dwelle in Jerusalem, and in the Apo.3.b house of Juda. * And the keye of the house of Dauid wyll I lay vpon his shoulder, so that he shal open, & no mã shall shut. He shall shut, and no man shall open. And I wyl fasten hym as a nayle in a sure place, and he shall be the glorious seat of his fathers house Moreouer, all generations and po-sterities shall hang vpon hym, all the glorye of their fathers house, all vessels bothe great and small, and all instrumentes of measure and musike.
In that daye (sayth the Lord of Hostes) shall the nayle that is fastned in the sure place departe, be broken and fall, and the burthen that was vppon it, shalbe pluckt awaye, for so the lord hath spoken.

The.xxiii.Chapter.

THe burthen of * Tyre: Mourn yee shyppes of Tharsis, for there commeth suche destruction that ye shall not haue an house to entre into: Oute of the lande of Cittim haue they knowledge of this plage. Be stil, ye ỳ dwell in the Ile, the marchants of Zidon, and such as passe ouer the sea, haue made the plen teous. The corn that groweth by the great waters of Nilus, and the fruites of the ryuer were her vitailes, so that it became a common marte of the nations. Be ashamed thou Zidon, for the see (euẽ the strength of ỳ sea) hath spoken, sayeng: I haue not trauailed nor brought forth chyldren, nor nourished vp yong menne, or brought vp birgins. When tidynges commeth to the Egyptians, they shall be sory for the rumor that goeth of Tyre. Gette you to Tharsis, mourne ye that dwel in the Isle. Is not thys that glory-ous Citie of yours, whiche hath ben of olde antiquitie? Her owne feete shall carye her foorth to bee a sotourner into a farre countrey. Who hathe deuysed this agaynst Tyre (that geuethe garlandes vnto other Cities) whose marchauntes are princes, and whose captaynes are honourable in the world? Euen the Lord of hostes hath deuysed this to put downe the pryde of all suche as be glorious, and to mynyshe all theym that bee proude vppon earth. Get the out of thy land vnto the daughter of Tharsis, seyng thou haste no more strength. He that smote the kyngdomes together, holdeth oute his hande ouer the sea, euen the Lord hymselfe hath geuen a commaundement agaynst the same common place of marchaundise, that they shall vtterly destroye the might ther-of. And he sayd: Make no more thy boast, O birgin, thou daughter Zidon) thou shalt be broughte downe: Vppe, gette thee ouer vnto Citim, where neuertheless thou shalte haue

Ezc.26a

B

C

no reste. Beholde, this people come not of the Caldees, but Assur made them stronge with greate shyppes. They set vp the stronge holdes therof, and destroyed hys palaces, and he broughte it in decaye. Mourne ye shippes of Tharsis, for your strength D is brought downe. And in that daye shall Tyre be forgotten seuentye yeares (accordynge to the yeares of one king) and after the ende of the seuentye yeare shall Tyre synge as doeth an harlot. Take an harpe, and go about the citie (thou harlot thou haste bene forgotten) make swete melodye, synge mo songes, that thou mayest be had in remembraunce. And after the ende of the seuentye yeares, shall the Lorde vysyte Tyre, and shee shall conuerte vnto her rewarde, and shall commytte fornicatiō with all the kyngedomes of the earth, that are in the worlde. Theyr occuppynge also and their rewarde shalbe holye vnto the Lorde. Theyr gaynes shall not be layde vp nor kepte in store, but it shal be theirs that dwell before the Lord, that they may eate ynough, and haue clothyng sufficient.

¶ The .xxiiij. Chapter.

A Beholde the Lorde maketh the earth waste and emptye: he turned it vpsyde downe, and scattereth abrode the inhabitours therof: And the priest shalbe as the people, and the master as the seruaunte, the mastresse lyke the mayde, the seller lyke the byer: he that lendeth vpon vsury, lyke him that borroweth vpon vsurye: the creditoure as the detter. The worlde shalbe cleane wasted, and vtterly spoyled, for so the Lorde hath spoken. The earth is sorye and consumeth away, the worlde is feble and perysheth, the proud people of ỹ earth are com to naught. The earth also is becom vnprofitable vnder the inhabitoures therof, which haue transgressed the lawes, chaūged the ordinance, broken the euerlastynge couenaunte.
B Therefore hath the curse consumed the earth, and they that dwell therin, are fallen into trespace. Wherfore, the inhabitours of the earth are perysshed with drouth, and fewe men are left behinde. The wyne fayleth: the vyne hath no myght, al they that haue bene merye of hert, are come to mourning. The myrthe of tabrettes is layde down, the noyse of such as haue made merye, is ceassed, the ioye at the harpe is at an ende. They shall drynke no more wine with mirth, strong drinke shall be bytter to them that drynke it. The citie of vanitie is broken down, euery house is shut vp, that no man maye come in. In the stretes is there a crying because of wyne, all chere is vanyshed awaye, the myrthe of the worlde is gone, in the cirye is left desolacion: and the gate is smitten with C destruction. For in the middes of the worlde, euen amonge the people, it shall come to passe, as at the shakynge of Olyues, and as the grapes are whē the wine herueste is done. They shall lyfte vp theyr voyce: and make a merye noyse, and in magnifyinge of the Lorde, shall they crye oute of the weste. Wherfore, prayse ye the Lorde in the valleys, euen the name of the Lord God of Israel in the Iles of ỹ sea. From the vttermost part of the earth haue we heard prayses & myrth because of the righteous. And I said: I know a thyng in secret, wo is me, the transgressours haue offended, the transgressours haue greuously offended. Fearefulnesse, the pytte, and the snare are vppon thee, O thou that dwellest on the earth. It wyll come to passe, that whoso escapeth that fearfull noyse, shall fall into the pyt. And he that commeth vp out of the pytte, shalbe taken with the snare. For the D windowes from an hye are open, and the foundacions of the earth are moued. The earthe is vtterlye broken downe, the earth hath a sore rupne, the earth quaketh exceadyngly. The earth shal reele to and fro like a dronkerd, and shalbe remoued lyke a tente (of one night) and the iniquitie therof shalbe heauy vpon it. It shall fall, and not ryse vp agayne. And in that daye shall the Lorde visyte the hooste aboue that is on hye: and the kynges of the worlde that are vpon the earth. And they shall be gathered together, as they that be in prison: and they shalbe shut vp inward, and after manye dayes shall they be visited. * The Luk.21 r moone shall be abashed, and the sunne ashamed, whē the Lord of hostes shal reygne in mount Sion and in Ierusalem with worshyp, and in the syght of such as shalbe of his counsell.

¶ The.xxv.Chapter.

A THou arte the Lord my God, I wyl magnifye the, I wil geue thankes vnto thy name. For thou hast brought wonderful things to passe, accordyng to thyne olde counseles truely and faythfully. * Thou Esa.29 a hast made of a citie an heape of stones and brought a strong towne into decaye. The habitacion of straungers hast thou made to be no citye, neyther shall it be buylded any more. Therfore shal the mighty people geue glorye vnto thee, the citye of the valeant Heathen shall feare thee. For thou haste bene a strength vnto the poore, and a succoure for the needye in hys trouble. A refuge agaynst euyll wether, a shadow agaynst the heate. For the blaste of ragynge men is lyke a B stormе that casteth down a wal. Lyke as thou bryngest heate downe out of a drie place, so shalt thou suppresse the noyse of aliauntes. The heate is in the shadow of the cloude: the braunch of the myghty shall be brought low. Luk.14 d And in thys mountayne shall * the Lorde of hoostes make vnto all people a Feaste of plenteous and delycate thynges, euen of moste pleasaunt and deyntye dishes. And in thys mountayne shall the Lorde destroye the couerynge, that all people are wrapped in, and the hangyng that is Ose.13 c spred vpon al nacions. * As for death, Apoc.7.c he hath destroyed it for euer. * And the Lord God shal wipe away teares from all faces, and the rebuke of hys people shall he take away oute of all the earth. For so the Lord hath sayd. And in that daye it shalbe sayde. Lo, C this is our God, we haue wayted for hym, * and he shall saue vs. Thys is Ephe.2 a the Lorde, in whom we haue hoped, we wyll be merye, and reioyce in the saluacion that commeth of him. For in this mountayne shall the hande of the Lorde cease, and Moab shall be threshed vnder him, euen as strawe is threshed vpon the ground. And he shall stretch out his hand in the middes of them (as he that swymmeth, casteth out hys handes to swymme: and with the strength of hys handes shall he brynge downe their pryde. The strong holde also and defence of thy walles hath he ouerthrowen and caste downe and brought them to the ground, euen vnto dust.

¶ The.xxvi.Chapter.

IN that day shall this song be A songe in the lande of Juda. * we haue a strong citye. Sal Psa.18 c uacion shall God appoynte in stede of walles, and bulwarkes. * O- psa.118 b pen ye the gates that the ryghteous people which kepeth the trueth maye enter in. Their mynd is set vpon the because thou preseruest them * in Rom.5 b peace, yea in peace: because they putte theyr trust in thee. Put ye your trust alway in the Lorde: for in the Lorde God there is strength for euermore. * For he hath brought downe the hye Esa.25 c mynded citezens. As for the proude citye, he hath brought it lowe: euen vnto the ground shal he cast it down, and bryng it vnto dust. The fote euen the foote of the poore, and the steppes of such as be in necessitye shall treade it downe: The path of equitye wilte B. thou graunte vnto the iuste, O thou moste ryghteous, * thou shalte order Psa.16 a the pathe of hym that is ryghteous. Yea, in the waye of thy iudgementes, O LORDE, haue we put our truste in thee. Thy name also, and the remembraunce of thee, is the thynge that oure soule longeth for. * My soule hath longed for thee all Psa.63 b the night, and with my spirite (which is within me) wyll I seke the earlye in the morynyng. For when thy iudgmentes are in the earthe, the inhabytoures of the worlde shal learne righteousnes. Shall the vngodly man be fauoured, whiche hath not learned righteousnes, but doeth wickedlye in the earth, where nothynge oughte to be done, but that whiche is ryghteous: he shall not see the glorye of the Lorde. Lorde, when thy hand is lyfte vp to stryke, they se it not: but they shall see it, and be confounded with the zele of the people, and the fier that consumeth thyne enemyes, shall deuoure them. Lorde vnto vs thou shalt Phil.2.a prouyde peace: * for thou also haste wroughte all our workes in vs. O Lord our God, other Lordes beside thee hath subdued vs, but we wyl be myndefull onely of thee, and of thy name. The deade wyll not lyue, and they that be oute of lyfe wyll not ryse agayne: therfore hast thou visited and roted them out, and destroyed all the memorye of them. Thou hast encreased the people (O Lorde) thou haste increased the people, and thou arte Leu.26 g prayed: thou hast sente them farre of vnto al the coastes of the earth. * Lord D in trouble haue they visited thee: they powred oute theyr prayer, when thy Joh.16 c chastenyng was vpon them. * Lyke as a woman with chylde that draweth nye towarde her trauell, is sorye and cryeth in her paynes, euen so haue we bene in thy syghte, O Lord.

Rom.8 d * We haue bene with chylde, and suffered payne, as though we had broughte forthe wynde. For there is no saluacion in the earth, neyther do the inhabitours of the worlde submytte 1 Cor.6 d them selues. * Thy deade men shall lyue, euen wyth my bodye shall they ryse agayne. Awake and synge ye that dwell in duste. For thy dewe is euen as the dewe of herbes, and the earthe shall caste oute them that be vnder Gen.19 c her. Come my people, * enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doores Apoc.6 a about thee: * hyde thy selfe for a lytle whyle, vntyll the indignacion be ouer paste. For lo the Lorde is commynge out of his place, to visyte the wickednesse of such as dwell vpō earth. The earthe also shall dysclose her owne bloode, and shall no more hyde them that are slayne in her.

¶ The .xxvii. Chapter.

IN that daye, the Lorde with hys sore, great, and myghtye sweard shall visyte * Leuiathan the fugitiue serpent, euen Leuiathan that crooked serpente: and he shall slaye the dragon that is in the sea. In that day, see that ye synge of the congregation whiche is the vyneyarde, that bryngeth forth the best wine. Euen I the Lorde doo kepe it. In due season shall I water it: and leaste the enemye doo it any harme, I wyll both nyght and day preserue it. There is no displeasure in me, els (when the vyneyarde bryngeth me foorth bryers and thornes) I wolde go thorowe it by war, and burne it vp together. Let it take holde of my strength, and it shalbe at one with me, euen at one shall it be with me. The dayes are commynge, that Jacob shall take roote, Israell shall be grene and flourysshe, and the worlde shalbe filled with fruite. Hath he smytten hym as sore as he dyd the other that smote hym: Or is he slayn with so sore a slaughter as they that slewe hym? In measure doeth he smyte hym, whyle he sendeth vnto hym suche thynges, wherby he commeth to his mynd agayne. For in the daye that the easte wynde bloweth sore, it taketh away the frutes. Thus therfore shall the iniquitye of Jacob be reconsiled, and here is al the fruite of the takynge awaye of hys synne, yf he make all the stones of the aultare of Idoles, as chalke stones that are beatē in sunder, that their groues and ymages ryse not vppe agayne.
1 Cor.10 f
Reuel.12 c
Esa.40 a Mat.16 c
Dier.3 c
Esa.5 c
Reuel.20 b
Esa.17 c
Esa.32 c
Esa.5 c
Esa.9 c
Esa.10 c
Esa.14 c
Esa.17 c
Esa.18 c
Esa.19 c
Esa.21 c
Esa.22 c
Esa.23 c
Esa.24 c
Esa.25 c
Esa.26 c
Esa.27 c
Esa.28 c
Esa.29 c
Esa.30 c
Esa.31 c
Esa.32 c
Esa.33 c
Esa.34 c
Esa.35 c
Esa.36 c
Esa.37 c
Esa.38 c
Esa.39 c
Esa.40 c
Esa.41 c
Esa.42 c
Esa.43 c
Esa.44 c
Esa.45 c
Esa.46 c
Esa.47 c
Esa.48 c
Esa.49 c
Esa.50 c
Esa.51 c
Esa.52 c
Esa.53 c
Esa.54 c
Esa.55 c
Esa.56 c
Esa.57 c
Esa.58 c
Esa.59 c
Esa.60 c
Esa.61 c
Esa.62 c
Esa.63 c
Esa.64 c
Esa.65 c
Esa.66 c
Esa.67 c
Esa.68 c
Esa.69 c
Esa.70 c
Esa.71 c
Esa.72 c
Esa.73 c
Esa.74 c
Esa.75 c
Esa.76 c
Esa.77 c
Esa.78 c
Esa.79 c
Esa.80 c
Esa.81 c
Esa.82 c
Esa.83 c
Esa.84 c
Esa.85 c
Esa.86 c
Esa.87 c
Esa.88 c
Esa.89 c
Esa.90 c
Esa.91 c
Esa.92 c
Esa.93 c
Esa.94 c
Esa.95 c
Esa.96 c
Esa.97 c
Esa.98 c
Esa.99 c
Esa.100 c
Esa.101 c
Esa.102 c
Esa.103 c
Esa.104 c
Esa.105 c
Esa.106 c
Esa.107 c
Esa.108 c
Esa.109 c
Esa.110 c
Esa.111 c
Esa.112 c
Esa.113 c
Esa.114 c
Esa.115 c
Esa.116 c
Esa.117 c
Esa.118 c
Esa.119 c
Esa.120 c
Esa.121 c
Esa.122 c
Esa.123 c
Esa.124 c
Esa.125 c
Esa.126 c
Esa.127 c
Esa.128 c
Esa.129 c
Esa.130 c
Esa.131 c
Esa.132 c
Esa.133 c
Esa.134 c
Esa.135 c
Esa.136 c
Esa.137 c
Esa.138 c
Esa.139 c
Esa.140 c
Esa.141 c
Esa.142 c
Esa.143 c
Esa.144 c
Esa.145 c
Esa.146 c
Esa.147 c
Esa.148 c
Esa.149 c
Esa.150 c
Esa.151 c
Esa.152 c
Esa.153 c
Esa.154 c
Esa.155 c
Esa.156 c
Esa.157 c
Esa.158 c
Esa.159 c
Esa.160 c
Esa.161 c
Esa.162 c
Esa.163 c
Esa.164 c
Esa.165 c
Esa.166 c
Esa.167 c
Esa.168 c
Esa.169 c
Esa.170 c
Esa.171 c
Esa.172 c
Esa.173 c
Esa.174 c
Esa.175 c
Esa.176 c
Esa.177 c
Esa.178 c
Esa.179 c
Esa.180 c
Esa.181 c
Esa.182 c
Esa.183 c
Esa.184 c
Esa.185 c
Esa.186 c
Esa.187 c
Esa.188 c
Esa.189 c
Esa.190 c
Esa.191 c
Esa.192 c
Esa.193 c
Esa.194 c
Esa.195 c
Esa.196 c
Esa.197 c
Esa.198 c
Esa.199 c
Esa.200 c
Esa.201 c
Esa.202 c
Esa.203 c
Esa.204 c
Esa.205 c
Esa.206 c
Esa.207 c
Esa.208 c
Esa.209 c
Esa.210 c
Esa.211 c
Esa.212 c
Esa.213 c
Esa.214 c
Esa.215 c
Esa.216 c
Esa.217 c
Esa.218 c
Esa.219 c
Esa.220 c
Esa.221 c
Esa.222 c
Esa.223 c
Esa.224 c
Esa.225 c
Esa.226 c
Esa.227 c
Esa.228 c
Esa.229 c
Esa.230 c
Esa.231 c
Esa.232 c
Esa.233 c
Esa.234 c
Esa.235 c
Esa.236 c
Esa.237 c
Esa.238 c
Esa.239 c
Esa.240 c
Esa.241 c
Esa.242 c
Esa.243 c
Esa.244 c
Esa.245 c
Esa.246 c
Esa.247 c
Esa.248 c
Esa.249 c
Esa.250 c
Esa.251 c
Esa.252 c
Esa.253 c
Esa.254 c
Esa.255 c
Esa.256 c
Esa.257 c
Esa.258 c
Esa.259 c
Esa.260 c
Esa.261 c
Esa.262 c
Esa.263 c
Esa.264 c
Esa.265 c
Esa.266 c
Esa.267 c
Esa.268 c
Esa.269 c
Esa.270 c
Esa.271 c
Esa.272 c
Esa.273 c
Esa.274 c
Esa.275 c
Esa.276 c
Esa.277 c
Esa.278 c
Esa.279 c
Esa.280 c
Esa.281 c
Esa.282 c
Esa.283 c
Esa.284 c
Esa.285 c
Esa.286 c
Esa.287 c
Esa.288 c
Esa.289 c
Esa.290 c
Esa.291 c
Esa.292 c
Esa.293 c
Esa.294 c
Esa.295 c
Esa.296 c
Esa.297 c
Esa.298 c
Esa.299 c
Esa.300 c
Esa.301 c
Esa.302 c
Esa.303 c
Esa.304 c
Esa.305 c
Esa.306 c
Esa.307 c
Esa.308 c
Esa.309 c
Esa.310 c
Esa.311 c
Esa.312 c
Esa.313 c
Esa.314 c
Esa.315 c
Esa.316 c
Esa.317 c
Esa.318 c
Esa.319 c
Esa.320 c
Esa.321 c
Esa.322 c
Esa.323 c
Esa.324 c
Esa.325 c
Esa.326 c
Esa.327 c
Esa.328 c
Esa.329 c
Esa.330 c
Esa.331 c
Esa.332 c
Esa.333 c
Esa.334 c
Esa.335 c
Esa.336 c
Esa.337 c
Esa.338 c
Esa.339 c
Esa.340 c
Esa.341 c
Esa.342 c
Esa.343 c
Esa.344 c
Esa.345 c
Esa.346 c
Esa.347 c
Esa.348 c
Esa.349 c
Esa.350 c
Esa.351 c
Esa.352 c
Esa.353 c
Esa.354 c
Esa.355 c
Esa.356 c
Esa.357 c
Esa.358 c
Esa.359 c
Esa.360 c
Esa.361 c
Esa.362 c
Esa.363 c
Esa.364 c
Esa.365 c
Esa.366 c
Esa.367 c
Esa.368 c
Esa.369 c
Esa.370 c
Esa.371 c
Esa.372 c
Esa.373 c
Esa.374 c
Esa.375 c
Esa.376 c
Esa.377 c
Esa.378 c
Esa.379 c
Esa.380 c
Esa.381 c
Esa.382 c
Esa.383 c
Esa.384 c
Esa.385 c
Esa.386 c
Esa.387 c
Esa.388 c
Esa.389 c
Esa.390 c
Esa.391 c
Esa.392 c
Esa.393 c
Esa.394 c
Esa.395 c
Esa.396 c
Esa.397 c
Esa.398 c
Esa.399 c
Esa.400 c
Esa.401 c
Esa.402 c
Esa.403 c
Esa.404 c
Esa.405 c
Esa.406 c
Esa.407 c
Esa.408 c
Esa.409 c
Esa.410 c
Esa.411 c
Esa.412 c
Esa.413 c
Esa.414 c
Esa.415 c
Esa.416 c
Esa.417 c
Esa.418 c
Esa.419 c
Esa.420 c
Esa.421 c
Esa.422 c
Esa.423 c
Esa.424 c
Esa.425 c
Esa.426 c
Esa.427 c
Esa.428 c
Esa.429 c
Esa.430 c
Esa.431 c
Esa.432 c
Esa.433 c
Esa.434 c
Esa.435 c
Esa.436 c
Esa.437 c
Esa.438 c
Esa.439 c
Esa.440 c
Esa.441 c
Esa.442 c
Esa.443 c
Esa.444 c
Esa.445 c
Esa.446 c
Esa.447 c
Esa.448 c
Esa.449 c
Esa.450 c
Esa.451 c
Esa.452 c
Esa.453 c
Esa.454 c
Esa.455 c
Esa.456 c
Esa.457 c
Esa.458 c
Esa.459 c
Esa.460 c
Esa.461 c
Esa.462 c
Esa.463 c
Esa.464 c
Esa.465 c
Esa.466 c
Esa.467 c
Esa.468 c
Esa.469 c
Esa.470 c
Esa.471 c
Esa.472 c
Esa.473 c
Esa.474 c
Esa.475 c
Esa.476 c
Esa.477 c
Esa.478 c
Esa.479 c
Esa.480 c
Esa.481 c
Esa.482 c
Esa.483 c
Esa.484 c
Esa.485 c
Esa.486 c
Esa.487 c
Esa.488 c
Esa.489 c
Esa.490 c
Esa.491 c
Esa.492 c
Esa.493 c
Esa.494 c
Esa.495 c
Esa.496 c
Esa.497 c
Esa.498 c
Esa.499 c
Esa.500 c
Esa.501 c
Esa.502 c
Esa.503 c
Esa.504 c
Esa.505 c
Esa.506 c
Esa.507 c
Esa.508 c
Esa.509 c
Esa.510 c
Esa.511 c
Esa.512 c
Esa.513 c
Esa.514 c
Esa.515 c
Esa.516 c
Esa.517 c
Esa.518 c
Esa.519 c
Esa.520 c
Esa.521 c
Esa.522 c
Esa.523 c
Esa.524 c
Esa.525 c
Esa.526 c
Esa.527 c
Esa.528 c
Esa.529 c
Esa.530 c
Esa.531 c
Esa.532 c
Esa.533 c
Esa.534 c
Esa.535 c
Esa.536 c
Esa.537 c
Esa.538 c
Esa.539 c
Esa.540 c
Esa.541 c
Esa.542 c
Esa.543 c
Esa.544 c
Esa.545 c
Esa.546 c
Esa.547 c
Esa.548 c
Esa.549 c
Esa.550 c
Esa.551 c
Esa.552 c
Esa.553 c
Esa.554 c
Esa.555 c
Esa.556 c
Esa.557 c
Esa.558 c
Esa.559 c
Esa.560 c
Esa.561 c
Esa.562 c
Esa.563 c
Esa.564 c
Esa.565 c
Esa.566 c
Esa.567 c
Esa.568 c
Esa.569 c
Esa.570 c
Esa.571 c
Esa.572 c
Esa.573 c
Esa.574 c
Esa.575 c
Esa.576 c
Esa.577 c
Esa.578 c
Esa.579 c
Esa.580 c
Esa.581 c
Esa.582 c
Esa.583 c
Esa.584 c
Esa.585 c
Esa.586 c
Esa.587 c
Esa.588 c
Esa.589 c
Esa.590 c
Esa.591 c
Esa.592 c
Esa.593 c
Esa.594 c
Esa.595 c
Esa.596 c
Esa.597 c
Esa.598 c
Esa.599 c
Esa.600 c
Esa.601 c
Esa.602 c
Esa.603 c
Esa.604 c
Esa.605 c
Esa.606 c
Esa.607 c
Esa.608 c
Esa.609 c
Esa.610 c
Esa.611 c
Esa.612 c
Esa.613 c
Esa.614 c
Esa.615 c
Esa.616 c
Esa.617 c
Esa.618 c
Esa.619 c
Esa.620 c
Esa.621 c
Esa.622 c
Esa.623 c
Esa.624 c
Esa.625 c
Esa.626 c
Esa.627 c
Esa.628 c
Esa.629 c
Esa.630 c
Esa.631 c
Esa.632 c
Esa.633 c
Esa.634 c
Esa.635 c
Esa.636 c
Esa.637 c
Esa.638 c
Esa.639 c
Esa.640 c
Esa.641 c
Esa.642 c
Esa.643 c
Esa.644 c
Esa.645 c
Esa.646 c
Esa.647 c
Esa.648 c
Esa.649 c
Esa.650 c
Esa.651 c
Esa.652 c
Esa.653 c
Esa.654 c
Esa.655 c
Esa.656 c
Esa.657 c
Esa.658 c
Esa.659 c
Esa.660 c
Esa.661 c
Esa.662 c
Esa.663 c
Esa.664 c
Esa.665 c
Esa.666 c
Esa.667 c
Esa.668 c
Esa.669 c
Esa.670 c
Esa.671 c
Esa.672 c
Esa.673 c
Esa.674 c
Esa.675 c
Esa.676 c
Esa.677 c
Esa.678 c
Esa.679 c
Esa.680 c
Esa.681 c
Esa.682 c
Esa.683 c
Esa.684 c
Esa.685 c
Esa.686 c
Esa.687 c
Esa.688 c
Esa.689 c
Esa.690 c
Esa.691 c
Esa.692 c
Esa.693 c
Esa.694 c
Esa.695 c
Esa.696 c
Esa.697 c
Esa.698 c
Esa.699 c
Esa.700 c
Esa.701 c
Esa.702 c
Esa.703 c
Esa.704 c
Esa.705 c
Esa.706 c
Esa.707 c
Esa.708 c
Esa.709 c
Esa.710 c
Esa.711 c
Esa.712 c
Esa.713 c
Esa.714 c
Esa.715 c
Esa.716 c
Esa.717 c
Esa.718 c
Esa.719 c
Esa.720 c
Esa.721 c
Esa.722 c
Esa.723 c
Esa.724 c
Esa.725 c
Esa.726 c
Esa.727 c
Esa.728 c
Esa.729 c
Esa.730 c
Esa.731 c
Esa.732 c
Esa.733 c
Esa.734 c
Esa.735 c
Esa.736 c
Esa.737 c
Esa.738 c
Esa.739 c
Esa.740 c
Esa.741 c
Esa.742 c
Esa.743 c
Esa.744 c
Esa.745 c
Esa.746 c
Esa.747 c
Esa.748 c
Esa.749 c
Esa.750 c
Esa.751 c
Esa.752 c
Esa.753 c
Esa.754 c
Esa.755 c
Esa.756 c
Esa.757 c
Esa.758 c
Esa.759 c
Esa.760 c
Esa.761 c
Esa.762 c
Esa.763 c
Esa.764 c
Esa.765 c
Esa.766 c
Esa.767 c
Esa.768 c
Esa.769 c
Esa.770 c
Esa.771 c
Esa.772 c
Esa.773 c
Esa.774 c
Esa.775 c
Esa.776 c
Esa.777 c
Esa.778 c
Esa.779 c
Esa.780 c
Esa.781 c
Esa.782 c
Esa.783 c
Esa.784 c
Esa.785 c
Esa.786 c
Esa.787 c
Esa.788 c
Esa.789 c
Esa.790 c
Esa.791 c
Esa.792 c
Esa.793 c
Esa.794 c
Esa.795 c
Esa.796 c
Esa.797 c
Esa.798 c
Esa.799 c
Esa.800 c
Esa.801 c
Esa.802 c
Esa.803 c
Esa.804 c
Esa.805 c
Esa.806 c
Esa.807 c
Esa.808 c
Esa.809 c
Esa.810 c
Esa.811 c
Esa.812 c
Esa.813 c
Esa.814 c
Esa.815 c
Esa.816 c
Esa.817 c
Esa.818 c
Esa.819 c
Esa.820 c
Esa.821 c
Esa.822 c
Esa.823 c
Esa.824 c
Esa.825 c
Esa.826 c
Esa.827 c
Esa.828 c
Esa.829 c
Esa.830 c
Esa.831 c
Esa.832 c
Esa.833 c
Esa.834 c
Esa.835 c
Esa.836 c
Esa.837 c
Esa.838 c
Esa.839 c
Esa.840 c
Esa.841 c
Esa.842 c
Esa.843 c
Esa.844 c
Esa.845 c
Esa.846 c
Esa.847 c
Esa.848 c
Esa.849 c
Esa.850 c
Esa.851 c
Esa.852 c
Esa.853 c
Esa.854 c
Esa.855 c
Esa.856 c
Esa.857 c
Esa.858 c
Esa.859 c
Esa.860 c
Esa.861 c
Esa.862 c
Esa.863 c
Esa.864 c
Esa.865 c
Esa.866 c
Esa.867 c
Esa.868 c
Esa.869 c
Esa.870 c
Esa.871 c
Esa.872 c
Esa.873 c
Esa.874 c
Esa.875 c
Esa.876 c
Esa.877 c
Esa.878 c
Esa.879 c
Esa.880 c
Esa.881 c
Esa.882 c
Esa.883 c
Esa.884 c
Esa.885 c
Esa.886 c
Esa.887 c
Esa.888 c
Esa.889 c
Esa.890 c
Esa.891 c
Esa.892 c
Esa.893 c
Esa.894 c
Esa.895 c
Esa.896 c
Esa.897 c
Esa.898 c
Esa.899 c
Esa.900 c
Esa.901 c
Esa.902 c
Esa.903 c
Esa.904 c
Esa.905 c
Esa.906 c
Esa.907 c
Esa.908 c
Esa.909 c
Esa.910 c
Esa.911 c
Esa.912 c
Esa.913 c
Esa.914 c
Esa.915 c
Esa.916 c
Esa.917 c
Esa.918 c
Esa.919 c
Esa.920 c
Esa.921 c
Esa.922 c
Esa.923 c
Esa.924 c
Esa.925 c
Esa.926 c
Esa.927 c
Esa.928 c
Esa.929 c
Esa.930 c
Esa.931 c
Esa.932 c
Esa.933 c
Esa.934 c
Esa.935 c
Esa.936 c
Esa.937 c
Esa.938 c
Esa.939 c
Esa.940 c
Esa.941 c
Esa.942 c
Esa.943 c
Esa.944 c
Esa.945 c
Esa.946 c
Esa.947 c
Esa.948 c
Esa.949 c
Esa.950 c
Esa.951 c
Esa.952 c
Esa.953 c
Esa.954 c
Esa.955 c
Esa.956 c
Esa.957 c
Esa.958 c
Esa.959 c
Esa.960 c
Esa.961 c
Esa.962 c
Esa.963 c
Esa.964 c
Esa.965 c
Esa.966 c
Esa.967 c
Esa.968 c
Esa.969 c
Esa.970 c
Esa.971 c
Esa.972 c
Esa.973 c
Esa.974 c
Esa.975 c
Esa.976 c
Esa.977 c
Esa.978 c
Esa.979 c
Esa.980 c
Esa.981 c
Esa.982 c
Esa.983 c
Esa.984 c
Esa.985 c
Esa.986 c
Esa.987 c
Esa.988 c
Esa.989 c
Esa.990 c
Esa.991 c
Esa.992 c
Esa.993 c
Esa.994 c
Esa.995 c
Esa.996 c
Esa.997 c
Esa.998 c
Esa.999 c
Esa.1000 c

I.cor.15 c
Apo.12 c

Esa.5 c
Reuel.20 b
Esa.17 c
Esa.32 c
Esa.5 c
Esa.9 c
Esa.10 c
Esa.14 c
Esa.17 c
Esa.18 c
Esa.19 c
Esa.21 c
Esa.22 c
Esa.23 c
Esa.24 c
Esa.25 c
Esa.26 c
Esa.27 c
Esa.28 c
Esa.29 c
Esa.30 c
Esa.31 c
Esa.32 c
Esa.33 c
Esa.34 c
Esa.35 c
Esa.36 c
Esa.37 c
Esa.38 c
Esa.39 c
Esa.40 c
Esa.41 c
Esa.42 c
Esa.43 c
Esa.44 c
Esa.45 c
Esa.46 c
Esa.47 c
Esa.48 c
Esa.49 c
Esa.50 c
Esa.51 c
Esa.52 c
Esa.53 c
Esa.54 c
Esa.55 c
Esa.56 c
Esa.57 c
Esa.58 c
Esa.59 c
Esa.60 c
Esa.61 c
Esa.62 c
Esa.63 c
Esa.64 c
Esa.65 c
Esa.66 c
Esa.67 c
Esa.68 c
Esa.69 c
Esa.70 c
Esa.71 c
Esa.72 c
Esa.73 c
Esa.74 c
Esa.75 c
Esa.76 c
Esa.77 c
Esa.78 c
Esa.79 c
Esa.80 c
Esa.81 c
Esa.82 c
Esa.83 c
Esa.84 c
Esa.85 c
Esa.86 c
Esa.87 c
Esa.88 c
Esa.89 c
Esa.90 c
Esa.91 c
Esa.92 c
Esa.93 c
Esa.94 c
Esa.95 c
Esa.96 c
Esa.97 c
Esa.98 c
Esa.99 c
Esa.100 c
Esa.101 c
Esa.102 c
Esa.103 c
Esa.104 c
Esa.105 c
Esa.106 c
Esa.107 c
Esa.108 c
Esa.109 c
Esa.110 c
Esa.111 c
Esa.112 c
Esa.113 c
Esa.114 c
Esa.115 c
Esa.116 c
Esa.117 c
Esa.118 c
Esa.119 c
Esa.120 c
Esa.121 c
Esa.122 c
Esa.123 c
Esa.124 c
Esa.125 c
Esa.126 c
Esa.127 c
Esa.128 c
Esa.129 c
Esa.130 c
Esa.131 c
Esa.132 c
Esa.133 c
Esa.134 c
Esa.135 c
Esa.136 c
Esa.137 c
Esa.138 c
Esa.139 c
Esa.140 c
Esa.141 c
Esa.142 c
Esa.143 c
Esa.144 c
Esa.145 c
Esa.146 c
Esa.147 c
Esa.148 c
Esa.149 c
Esa.150 c
Esa.151 c
Esa.152 c
Esa.153 c
Esa.154 c
Esa.155 c
Esa.156 c
Esa.157 c
Esa.158 c
Esa.159 c
Esa.160 c
Esa.161 c
Esa.162 c
Esa.163 c
Esa.164 c
Esa.165 c
Esa.166 c
Esa.167 c
Esa.168 c
Esa.169 c
Esa.170 c
Esa.171 c
Esa.172 c
Esa.173 c
Esa.174 c
Esa.175 c
Esa.176 c
Esa.177 c
Esa.178 c
Esa.179 c
Esa.180 c
Esa.181 c
Esa.182 c
Esa.183 c
Esa.184 c
Esa.185 c
Esa.186 c
Esa.187 c
Esa.188 c
Esa.189 c
Esa.190 c
Esa.191 c
Esa.192 c
Esa.193 c
Esa.194 c
Esa.195 c
Esa.196 c
Esa.197 c
Esa.198 c
Esa.199 c
Esa.200 c
Esa.201 c
Esa.202 c
Esa.203 c
Esa.204 c
Esa.205 c
Esa.206 c
Esa.207 c
Esa.208 c
Esa.209 c
Esa.210 c
Esa.211 c
Esa.212 c
Esa.213 c
Esa.214 c
Esa.215 c
Esa.216 c
Esa.217 c
Esa.218 c
Esa.219 c
Esa.220 c
Esa.221 c
Esa.222 c
Esa.223 c
Esa.224 c
Esa.225 c
Esa.226 c
Esa.227 c
Esa.228 c
Esa.229 c
Esa.230 c
Esa.231 c
Esa.232 c
Esa.233 c
Esa.234 c
Esa.235 c
Esa.236 c
Esa.237 c
Esa.238 c
Esa.239 c
Esa.240 c
Esa.241 c
Esa.242 c
Esa.243 c
Esa.244 c
Esa.245 c
Esa.246 c
Esa.247 c
Esa.248 c
Esa.249 c
Esa.250 c
Esa.251 c
Esa.252 c
Esa.253 c
Esa.254 c
Esa.255 c
Esa.256 c
Esa.257 c
Esa.258 c
Esa.259 c
Esa.260 c
Esa.261 c
Esa.262 c
Esa.263 c
Esa.264 c
Esa.265 c
Esa.266 c
Esa.267 c
Esa.268 c
Esa.269 c
Esa.270 c
Esa.271 c
Esa.272 c
Esa.273 c
Esa.274 c
Esa.275 c
Esa.276 c
Esa.277 c
Esa.278 c
Esa.279 c
Esa.280 c
Esa.281 c
Esa.282 c
Esa.283 c
Esa.284 c
Esa.285 c
Esa.286 c
Esa.287 c
Esa.288 c
Esa.289 c
Esa.290 c
Esa.291 c
Esa.292 c
Esa.293 c
Esa.294 c
Esa.295 c
Esa.296 c
Esa.297 c
Esa.298 c
Esa.299 c
Esa.300 c
Esa.301 c
Esa.302 c
Esa.303 c
Esa.304 c
Esa.305 c
Esa.306 c
Esa.307 c
Esa.308 c
Esa.309 c
Esa.310 c
Esa.311 c
Esa.312 c
Esa.313 c
Esa.314 c
Esa.315 c
Esa.316 c
Esa.317 c
Esa.318 c
Esa.319 c
Esa.320 c
Esa.321 c
Esa.322 c
Esa.323 c
Esa.324 c
Esa.325 c
Esa.326 c
Esa.327 c
Esa.328 c
Esa.329 c
Esa.330 c
Esa.331 c
Esa.332 c
Esa.333 c
Esa.334 c
Esa.335 c
Esa.336 c
Esa.337 c
Esa.338 c
Esa.339 c
Esa.340 c
Esa.341 c
Esa.342 c
Esa.343 c
Esa.344 c
Esa.345 c
Esa.346 c
Esa.347 c
Esa.348 c
Esa.349 c
Esa.350 c
Esa.351 c
Esa.352 c
Esa.353 c
Esa.354 c
Esa.355 c
Esa.356 c
Esa.357 c
Esa.358 c
Esa.359 c
Esa.360 c
Esa.361 c
Esa.362 c
Esa.363 c
Esa.364 c
Esa.365 c
Esa.366 c
Esa.367 c
Esa.368 c
Esa.369 c
Esa.370 c
Esa.371 c
Esa.372 c
Esa.373 c
Esa.374 c
Esa.375 c
Esa.376 c
Esa.377 c
Esa.378 c
Esa.379 c
Esa.380 c
Esa.381 c
Esa.382 c
Esa.383 c
Esa.384 c
Esa.385 c
Esa.386 c
Esa.387 c
Esa.388 c
Esa.389 c
Esa.390 c
Esa.391 c
Esa.392 c
Esa.393 c
Esa.394 c
Esa.395 c
Esa.396 c
Esa.397 c
Esa.398 c
Esa.399 c
Esa.400 c
Esa.401 c
Esa.402 c
Esa.403 c
Esa.404 c
Esa.405 c
Esa.406 c
Esa.407 c
Esa.408 c
Esa.409 c
Esa.410 c
Esa.411 c
Esa.412 c
Esa.413 c
Esa.414 c
Esa.415 c
Esa.416 c
Esa.417 c
Esa.418 c
Esa.419 c
Esa.420 c
Esa.421 c
Esa.422 c
Esa.423 c
Esa.424 c
Esa.425 c
Esa.426 c
Esa.427 c
Esa.428 c
Esa.429 c
Esa.430 c
Esa.431 c
Esa.432 c
Esa.433 c
Esa.434 c
Esa.435 c
Esa.436 c
Esa.437 c
Esa.438 c
Esa.439 c
Esa.440 c
Esa.441 c
Esa.442 c
Esa.443 c
Esa.444 c
Esa.445 c
Esa.446 c
Esa.447 c
Esa.448 c
Esa.449 c
Esa.450 c
Esa.451 c
Esa.452 c
Esa.453 c
Esa.454 c
Esa.455 c
Esa.456 c
Esa.457 c
Esa.458 c
Esa.459 c
Esa.460 c
Esa.461 c
Esa.462 c
Esa.463 c
Esa.464 c
Esa.465 c
Esa.466 c
Esa.467 c
Esa.468 c
Esa.469 c
Esa.470 c
Esa.471 c
Esa.472 c
Esa.473 c
Esa.474 c
Esa.475 c
Esa.476 c
Esa.477 c
Esa.478 c
Esa.479 c
Esa.480 c
Esa.481 c
Esa.482 c
Esa.483 c
Esa.484 c
Esa.485 c
Esa.486 c
Esa.487 c
Esa.488 c
Esa.489 c
Esa.490 c
Esa.491 c
Esa.492 c
Esa.493 c
Esa.494 c
Esa.495 c
Esa.496 c
Esa.497 c
Esa.498 c
Esa.499 c
Esa.500 c
Esa.501 c
Esa.502 c
Esa.503 c
Esa.504 c
Esa.505 c
Esa.506 c
Esa.507 c
Esa.508 c
Esa.509 c
Esa.510 c
Esa.511 c
Esa.512 c
Esa.513 c
Esa.514 c
Esa.515 c
Esa.516 c
Esa.517 c
Esa.518 c
Esa.519 c
Esa.520 c
Esa.521 c
Esa.522 c
Esa.523 c
Esa.524 c
Esa.525 c
Esa.526 c
Esa.527 c
Esa.528 c
Esa.529 c
Esa.530 c
Esa.531 c
Esa.532 c
Esa.533 c
Esa.534 c
Esa.535 c
Esa.536 c
Esa.537 c
Esa.538 c
Esa.539 c
Esa.540 c
Esa.541 c
Esa.542 c
Esa.543 c
Esa.544 c
Esa.545 c
Esa.546 c
Esa.547 c
Esa.548 c
Esa.549 c
Esa.550 c
Esa.551 c
Esa.552 c
Esa.553 c
Esa.554 c
Esa.555 c
Esa.556 c
Esa.557 c
Esa.558 c
Esa.559 c
Esa.560 c
Esa.561 c
Esa.562 c
Esa.563 c
Esa.564 c
Esa.565 c
Esa.566 c
Esa.567 c
Esa.568 c
Esa.569 c
Esa.570 c
Esa.571 c
Esa.572 c
Esa.573 c
Esa.574 c
Esa.575 c
Esa.576 c
Esa.577 c
Esa.578 c
Esa.579 c
Esa.580 c
Esa.581 c
Esa.582 c
Esa.583 c
Esa.584 c
Esa.585 c
Esa.586 c
Esa.587 c
Esa.588 c
Esa.589 c
Esa.590 c
Esa.591 c
Esa.592 c
Esa.593 c
Esa.594 c
Esa.595 c
Esa.596 c
Esa.597 c
Esa.598 c
Esa.599 c
Esa.600 c
Esa.601 c
Esa.602 c
Esa.603 c
Esa.604 c
Esa.605 c
Esa.606 c
Esa.607 c
Esa.608 c
Esa.609 c
Esa.610 c
Esa.611 c
Esa.612 c
Esa.613 c
Esa.614 c
Esa.615 c
Esa.616 c
Esa.617 c
Esa.618 c
Esa.619 c
Esa.620 c
Esa.621 c
Esa.622 c
Esa.623 c
Esa.624 c
Esa.625 c
Esa.626 c
Esa.627 c
Esa.628 c
Esa.629 c
Esa.630 c
Esa.631 c
Esa.632 c
Esa.633 c
Esa.634 c
Esa.635 c
Esa.636 c
Esa.637 c
Esa.638 c
Esa.639 c
Esa.640 c
Esa.641 c
Esa.642 c
Esa.643 c
Esa.644 c
Esa.645 c
Esa.646 c
Esa.647 c
Esa.648 c
Esa.649 c
Esa.650 c
Esa.651 c
Esa.652 c
Esa.653 c
Esa.654 c
Esa.655 c
Esa.656 c
Esa.657 c
Esa.658 c
Esa.659 c
Esa.660 c
Esa.661 c
Esa.662 c
Esa.663 c
Esa.664 c
Esa.665 c
Esa.666 c
Esa.667 c
Esa.668 c
Esa.669 c
Esa.670 c
Esa.671 c
Esa.672 c
Esa.673 c
Esa.674 c
Esa.675 c
Esa.676 c
Esa.677 c
Esa.678 c
Esa.679 c
Esa.680 c
Esa.681 c
Esa.682 c
Esa.683 c
Esa.684 c
Esa.685 c
Esa.686 c
Esa.687 c
Esa.688 c
Esa.689 c
Esa.690 c
Esa.691 c
Esa.692 c
Esa.693 c
Esa.694 c
Esa.695 c
Esa.696 c
Esa.697 c
Esa.698 c
Esa.699 c
Esa.700 c
Esa.701 c
Esa.702 c
Esa.703 c
Esa.704 c
Esa.705 c
Esa.706 c
Esa.707 c
Esa.708 c
Esa.709 c
Esa.710 c
Esa.711 c
Esa.712 c
Esa.713 c
Esa.714 c
Esa.715 c
Esa.716 c
Esa.717 c
Esa.718 c
Esa.719 c
Esa.720 c
Esa.721 c
Esa.722 c
Esa.723 c
Esa.724 c
Esa.725 c
Esa.726 c
Esa.727 c
Esa.728 c
Esa.729 c
Esa.730 c
Esa.731 c
Esa.732 c
Esa.733 c
Esa.734 c
Esa.735 c
Esa.736 c
Esa.737 c
Esa.738 c
Esa.739 c
Esa.740 c
Esa.741 c
Esa.742 c
Esa.743 c
Esa.744 c
Esa.745 c
Esa.746 c
Esa.747 c
Esa.748 c
Esa.749 c
Esa.750 c
Esa.751 c
Esa.752 c
Esa.753 c
Esa.754 c
Esa.755 c
Esa.756 c
Esa.757 c
Esa.758 c
Esa.759 c
Esa.760 c
Esa.761 c
Esa.762 c
Esa.763 c
Esa.764 c
Esa.765 c
Esa.766 c
Esa.767 c
Esa.768 c
Esa.769 c
Esa.770 c
Esa.771 c
Esa.772 c
Esa.773 c
Esa.774 c
Esa.775 c
Esa.776 c
Esa.777 c
Esa.778 c
Esa.779 c
Esa.780 c
Esa.781 c
Esa.782 c
Esa.783 c
Esa.784 c
Esa.785 c
Esa.786 c
Esa.787 c
Esa.788 c
Esa.789 c
Esa.790 c
Esa.791 c
Esa.792 c
Esa.793 c
Esa.794 c
Esa.795 c
Esa.796 c
Esa.797 c
Esa.798 c
Esa.799 c
Esa.800 c
Esa.801 c
Esa.802 c
Esa.803 c
Esa.804 c
Esa.805 c
Esa.806 c
Esa.807 c
Esa.808 c
Esa.809 c
Esa.810 c
Esa.811 c
Esa.812 c
Esa.813 c
Esa.814 c
Esa.815 c
Esa.816 c
Esa.817 c
Esa.818 c
Esa.819 c
Esa.820 c
Esa.821 c
Esa.822 c
Esa.823 c
Esa.824 c
Esa.825 c
Esa.826

and sette theim on lyze. • For it is a people of no vnderstanding, and therfore he that made theym, shall not fauour them: and he that created theim, shal geue them no grace. And in that day shall the Lord make a threshyng from the myds of the ryuer Euphrates vnto the ryuer of Egypte, and ye chyldren of Israel, shall be gathered together one to an other. In that day shall the great trompet be blowne, so that they which were lost in the land of Assiria: and they that were banyshed into the land of Egipt, shal come and woorshyp the Lorde in the holye mount at Jerusalem.

¶ The. xxviii. Chapter.

A Oseæ. 3. a

WO be vnto the croun of pryde euen • to the dronken people of Ephraim, whose greate pompe is as a flowre that fadeth away, vpon the head of the valey of such as be in wealth and are ouerladen with wyne. Behold, • there Mat. 16. cometh a vehement and sore day from the Lord lyke an vnmeasurable hayle and perillous tempeste, euen lyke the force of myghtie and horrible waters that violently beareth downe all thinges. The crowne of the pryde of the dronken Ephraemites shalbe troden Esa. 40 a vnder foote: • so that the floure of his fayrenes and beautie, which is in the head of the valey of fatnesse, shall fade away, as dooth an vntymely rype fyg afore harueste, whiche whan a manne spyeth, he loketh vpon it, and whyle it is yet in his hande, he eateth it vp. In that day shall the Lorde of hostes B be the crowne of glory, and diamonde of beautie vnto the residue of his people. He wyll be also a spirite of perfecte knowledge to hym that sytteth in iudgement, and strength vnto thē that tourne awaye the battaile to the gate of the enemies. But they are out of the way by reason of wyne: yea, far out of the way are they thorow strong Esai. 5. c drinke. The prieste also and the prophete are gone astraye by the meanes of stronge drynke, they are dronken with wine, they goe amysse thorowe stronge drynke: they fayle in prophecying, and stumble in iudgemēt. For the tables are so full of vomyt & fylthines, that no place is clean. Whom thā shall suche one teache knowledge? And whome shall he make to vnderstand the thyng that he heareth? For they are as ignorant as yong chyldren that are taken from the mylk, and are weined. For they that be suche, must C have after one lesson, another lesson: Esa. 10 a • after one commaundement, another Mat. 23 commaundement, after one rule another rule, after one instruction, an other instruction, there a lyttell, and there a lyttell. For he that speaketh vnto this people, is euen as one that vseth rudenesse of spech, and a strange language. If any man say vnto them Lo, this is the rest, wherwith ye may ease hym that is werye, this is the refreshing, they will not herken. • Therfore the worde of the Lorde (lesson vpon lesson, commaundement vpon cōmaundement, rule vpon rule, instruction vpon instruction, there a lyttell, and there a lyttell) shalbe vnto them an occasion of stomblynge, that they may go on, and fall backwarde, be brused, tangled, and snared. Wherefore, D heare the worde of the Lord, ye mockers ye that haue rule of this people, whiche is at Jerusalem. Because ye haue sayd: We haue made a couenant with deathe, and with helle are we at agrement. And though there go forth a sore plague, it shall nat com vntous. For we haue made falshoode our refuge, and vnder vanitie are we hyd. Therfore thus sayth the Lord God: Behold, I lay in Sion for a foundation a stone, euen a tryed stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation. Who so beleueth, let him not be to hastie. Judgement also wyll I laye to the rule, and ryghtousnes to the balance: so that the hayle shal take away youre bayne confidence as a broome, and the ryuy place of your refuge shal the waters renne ouer. And thus the couenant that ye made wyth deathe, shalbe disanulled: and your agrement that ye made wyth hell, shall not stād.

1. Co. 14.

Yea

Yea, whenne the sooze plague goeth soozth, ye shall be troden downe vnder it. Frome the tyme that it goeth sozth, it shall take you awaye. For early in the mozynynge, euerye daye, yea, bothe daye and nyghte shall it go thozowe: and whenne the noyse ther-of is perceaued, it shall gendze vexaci-on. For the bed is narowe, and not large: and the coueryng so smal that a man can not wind him self vnder it.
Esa.36.f For the lozd shal stand as in mount 2.re.5 a Parazim, & shalbe wzoth like as in Jo.10b the valley Gibeon, that he maye do his worke, his straunge wozke, and bzyng to passe his acte, his straunge F acte. Nowe therfore see that ye be no mockers, lest your punyshemente increase: for I haue herd of the Lozde of hostes, that there shall come a shozte ende vpon the whole earth. Heare ye then, and herken vnto my voyce, consider and ponder my spech. Doth not the husbandman plowe all the daye, and openeth and breaketh the clottes of his ground, that he may sowe? whē he hathe made it playne, wyll he not spred abzode the fitches, and sowe co-myn, and caste in wheate by measure, and the appoynted barley and rye in their place? God will instruct him to haue discreacion, euen his God wyll teach hym. For fitches shall not be threshed with an harowe: neither shal a cart whele be brought thozowe the cumyn: but that fitches ar beaten out with a staffe, and comyn with a rod.
But the sede that bread is made of, is threshed, thoughe it be not alwaye a threshyng. And the carte whele must be brought ouer it, leste he grynde it with hys teeth. This also commeth of the Lozde of hostes, whiche wozk-eth with wonderfull wisdome, and bzyngeth excellent wozkes to passe.

¶ The.xxix. Chapter.

I Vlo vnto thee, O Ariel Ariel thou citie that Dauid dwelt in: Go on from yere to yeare, 2Reg.5b and let the lambes be slayne. I wyll lay a sege vnto Ariel, so that ther shal be heauynesse and sozowe in it: and it shall be vnto me, euen as an aulter of slaughter. I wyll besege thee rounde about, and fyght agaynst thee thozow a bulwarke: and wyl reare vp dyches agaynst thee. Thou shalt be brought downe, and shalt speake oute of the grounde, and thy speche shall go lowe out of the dust. Thy voyce also shall come out of the ground like ỹ voice of a witch: and thy talkyng shall whysper out of the duste. Moreouer, the noyse of thy straunge enemyes shalbe lyke thynne duste, & the multitude of tyrauntes shalbe as drye straw that Psal.1.b can not carye: euen sodaynelye and in haste shall their blaste go. Thou shalt V be visited of the Lozd of hostes with thonder, earthquake, and with a gret noyse: with stozme and tempest and with the flame of a consumyng fyre.
And the multitude of all nacions that fyghte agaynste Ariell, shall be as a dreame sene by nyght: euen so shall Psa.83.d all they be, that make warre agaynst it, and stronge holdes to ouercome it, and that lay any sege vnto it. In conclusion, it shalbe cuē as when an hon gry man dreameth that he is eatyng, and when he awaketh, hys soule is emptye. Or as when a thirstye man dreameth that he is drynkynge: and whē he awaketh, he is yet faint, & his soule hath appetite. Euen so shall the multitude of all nacions that fyghte agaynst Sion. Ponder these thinges E once in youre myndes, and wonder.
Blynded are they them selues, and the blynde guydes of other. They are mat.15.b dronken, but not with wyne: they are vnstable, but not thozowe strong drynke. For the Lozde hath couered you with a slomberynge spzete, and hath closed your eyes. Youre prophetes also and rulers that shoulde see, them hath he couered. And the visi- Esay.6c on of all the prophetes is become vnto you, as the wozdes of a booke that is sealed vp, whiche men delyuer to one that is learned, sayinge: Reade thou in it. And he sayth: I can not, for it is sealed. And the boke is geuen vnto him that is not learned, saying: Reade thou in it, and he sayeth: I am not learned. Therfore thus hath the

Lozd

mat.15.a Lorde sayde: • For so muche as thys people when they be in trouble, do honoure me with theyr mouthe, and wyth theyr lyppes: but theyr hearte is farre fro me, and the feare wherche they haue vnto me, proceadeth of a commaundemente that is taughte of D men. Therfore wyll I do maruayles amonge this people, euen marueloꝰ 1 Cor.2.c thynges (I say) and a wonder. • For the wysedome of their wyse men shal perysshe, and the vnderstandynge of theyr wyttye men shall hyde it selfe. Wo vnto them that kepe secrete their thoughtes, to hyde their counsel from the Lorde, and doo theyr workes in Esa.47.b darkenesse, saying: • Who seeth vs? and who knoweth vs? Doubtlesse, youre destruction is (in my handes) in reputacion as the potters claye. And doeth the worke saie of him that made it, he made not me? And doeth an earthen vessel saye of him that fashioned it, he had no vnderstandyng? Is it not harde at hande, that Libanus shalbe turned into a lowe field, & that the lowe fyelde shalbe taken as the woode? And in that daye shall deafe men heare the wordes of the booke, and the eyes of the blynd shall see, euen oute of the cloude, and out of darkenes. The meke spyrite also shal be merye in the Lorde, and the poore among them that be lowely, shall reioyce in the holy one of Israell. For he that dyd violence, is broughte to naught, and the scorneful man is consumed: and they roted oute that were hastye so soone to vnrighteousnes, Makyng a man to sinne in the word, and that toke him in a snare, whiche reproued them in the open place: and they that haue turned the cause of the righteous to naught. Therfore thus sayth the Lord vnto the house of Jacob, euen thus sayth he that redemed Esa.43.a Abraham: • Jacob shall not nowe be confounded, nor hys face pale. But when he seeth his chyldre, the worke of my handes in the myddes of hym, they shall sanctyfye my name, and prayse the holye Lorde of Jacob, and feare the God of Israell. They also that haue bene of an erronious spyrite shall come to vnderstanding, and they that haue bene scornefull, shall learne doctryne.

¶ The.xxx. Chapter.

Alas, for those disobedient chil
A dren (sayth the Lorde) • that Esa.8.b they wyl take counsel without me. Alas, that they will take a secrete aduyse, and not out of my spyrite, and therfor adde they synne vnto sin. Euen they that walke to go downe into Egypte, and haue asked no question at my mouth: but seke strength in the might of Pharao, and truste in the shadowe of Egipt. Therfore shal the strength of Pharao be your confusion, and the truste in the shadowe of Egypte youre shame. For his captaynes were at Zoan: and his ambassadours came vnto Hanes. • They 4.re.11.d were all ashamed of the people that coulde do them no good, and that might not helpe them, nor shew them any profyte, but were their confusion and rebuke. The heauy burthē of the B beastes of the south in a lande of trouble and angusshe, from whence shall come the yonge and olde Lion, the viper and fyrye serpente that fleeth agaynst them that vppon coles beare their ryches, and vpon camelles their treasures, to a people that can do thē no good. For vayne and nothynge worth shall the helpe of the Egyptians be. Therfore haue I cryed vnto Jerusalem. They shalbe quiet ynough, yf they wyl settle their myndes in quietnes. • Nowe therfore, go Esay.1.a thy waye and wryte this before them in a table, and note it in a booke, that it maye finallye remayne and be kept styll for euer. For thys is an obsti- Esay.1.b
nate people, and dyssemblynge children, chyldrenne that refuse to heare the lawe of the Lorde: For they saye
C vnto the seers: Se not, and to them that be cleare of iudgement: looke not oute ryghte thynges for vs: but speake fayre wordes vnto vs: looke oute erroures, gette you oute of thys waye, departe oute of thys path, and turne the holy one of Israell fro vs.

Wher-

wherefore thus sayeth the holye one of Israell: Because your hertes rysse agaynst thys worde, and because ye trust in wrong dealyng, and peruerse iudgemente, and put your confidence therin. Therfore shall ye haue thys mischefe for your destruction and fal, lyke as an hye wall that falleth, because of some ryft or blast, whose brea Psal.2.d kynge commeth sodenly. * And the hurt therof is lyke an erthen vessell, which breaketh without help: so that in the burstyng of it, ther is not found one sheuer to fetch fire in, or to take D water withall oute of the pyt. For thus sayth the Lord god, euen the holye one of Israell: In repentaunce Exo.14c and in-reste shall ye be saued: in quietnes 2.pa.20c and sure confidence shalbe youre strength. But ye haue had no lyste therto. For ye haue sayd: No, but we wyll escape thorowe horses. (Therfore shall ye flye) and we will get vs vp vpon swifte beastes. And therfore shall your persecutours be swyfter.
Leu.26a * A thousande shall flye at the rebuke of one, and at the rebuke of fyue shall ye all flye, tyll ye be lefte as a shyppemaste vpon the top of a mountayne, Rom.2a and as a beäken vpó an hyll. * Therfore doth the Lord cause you to wayt, that he may haue mercy vpon you: to thintent that he may haue the preemi nence, when he is gracious vnto you. For the Lorde is the God of iudge
E ment. Blessed are all they that hope in hym. If the people remayne in Sion and at Jerusalem, thou shalte not be in heauynesse: but at the voyce of thy complaynte shall he haue mercye vpon thee. And when he heareth it, he shall geue thee an answere. And though the Lord geue you the breade of trouble, and the water of aduersitye, thy rayne shall bee no more so scantely but thyne eyes shall see thy rayne. Yea, and thyne eare shall heare the talkynge of hym that doth speake Deu.4.a behynde thee. * This is the waye, walke ye in it. Turne not aside, neyther to the right hand, nor to the left. Ye shall destroye also the couering of your syluer ymages, and the deckyng of your golden ydols. Euen as fylthynes shal ye put them away. And thou shalt say vnto it: Get the hens. Then shall God geue rayne vnto thy seede, that thou shalt sow the ground withall, and breade of the increase of the earth, which shalbe fat and very plenteous. In that day also, shall thy cattell bee fed in large pastures. The oxe lykewise, and the yong asses, that eate the grounde, shall eate cleane prouender, which is purged with the wynd and the fanne. Finally, vppon euery hye mountayn and hyll shall there be F ryuers and streames of waters, * in 2.pe.3.b the day of the greate slaughter, when the towers fall. Moreouer, the light of the Moone shall be as the lyght of the sunne, and the sunne lyght shalbe seuen folde, and haue as muche shyne as in seuen dayes beside, whenne the Lorde byndeth vp the sore of his people, and healeth the stroake of theyr wounde. Beeholde, the name of the Lord commeth from farre, and his presence is so hote, that no man is able to abyde. His lippes are ful of indignation, and his tongue is a consumyng fyre. Hys breathe is as a vehemente flood of water that reacheth vp to the neck. That he may sift away the heathen in the synne of vanitie. And his G Ipse.5. breathe is as a bridle of errour in the iawes of the people. And ye shal syng lyke as in the nyghte, when the holye solempnitie begynneth. And ye shall haue gladnesse of heart, lyke as when one commethe wyth a pype vnto the hyll of the Lord, and to the most mighty one of Israell. And the Lord shal cause his glorious voyce to be heard, & shall declare his stretched out arme with a terrible coũtenance, and with the flame of a consumynge fyre, wyth noysome lyghtnyng, wyth a showre, and wyth hayle stones. For thorowe Esa.10 the voyce of the Lord shall * Assur be destroyed, whyche smote other menne with the rodde. And it shall comme to passe, that whether so euer he goeth, the rodde shal cleaue vnto him, which the Lord shall lay vppon hym, wyth tabrets and harpes, and with greate warre

warre shall he fyghte agaynste hys mate.25c hoaste. * For the fire of payne is ordeyned from the beginnyng: yea, euen for kynges is it prepared. This hath the Lorde set in the depe, and made it wyde: the burnynge whereof is fire and muche wood. The breathe of the Lorde, whyche is a ryuer of brymstone, doeth kyndle it.

¶ The. xxxi. Chapter.

A VAo be vnto thē that go downe into Egipt for helpe, and truste in horses, and put their confidence in charetts, because they be many, and in horsemen, because they be mighty and stronge. But they regarde not the holye one of Israell, and the y aske no question at the Lorde. Where as he neuertheles (beyng wyselest of all) plageth the wycked, and yet goth not from hys worde, when he stepeth forth, and taketh the victorye agaynst the houshoulde of the frowarde, and agaynst the helpe of cuyll doers. Nowe the Egiptians, are men and not God, and their horses flesshe and not spyrite. And assone as the Lorde stretcheth out his hand, then shall the helper fall, and he that shoulde haue bene helped, and they shall all together be destroyed. For thus hath the B Iyon. 5.a Lord spoke vnto me: Like as the * lyon or * lyons whelpe roareth vpon
* Gen. 49b the praye that he hath gotten, and is not afrayed, though the multitude of shepherdes crye out vpon hym, neyther abashed for al the heape of them. So shall the Lorde of hoostes come downe to fyght for mount Sion, and C defende his hyll. Like as birdes flutter Deu. 32d about their nestes, * so shall the Lord of hoostes kepe, saue, defende, and deliuer Jerusalem. Therfore, O ye chyldren of Israel, turne agayn, from Esay. 2.c that infidelitie, wherin you drowned youre selues. * For in that day euery man shall cast out hys ydoles of syluer, and hys ydoles of golde, whiche D ye haue made with your owne han-Gen. 37e des vnto your synne. * Assur also shal be slayne with the swearde, not with a mannes swearde, neyther shall the swearde of anye man deuoure hym. And he shall flee from the slaughter, and hys seruauntes shalbe discomfited in their hertes. He shall goo for feare to his stronge holdes, and hys prynces shall flee from hys badge. Thys hath the Lorde spoken, whose lyght burneth in Syon, and hys fier in Jerusalem.

¶ The. xxxii. Chapter.

BEholde, a kynge shall goueme A after the rule of ryghteousnes, and the prynces shall rule, accordynge to the balaunce of equitie. And that man shalbe vnto men as a defence for the wind, and as a refuge for tempeste: lyke as a ryuer of water in a thirstye place, and the shadowe of a great rocke in a drye lande. The eyes of the seynge shall not be dymme, and the eares of them that heare, shal take diligente hede. The herte of the vnwyse shall attaine to knowledge, and the vnperfyte tongue shall speake playnely and distinctlye. Then shall B the foolishe nygarde be nomore called gentle, nor the churle lyberall. But the nigarde wyll be nigardelye mynded, and hys herte wyll worke cuyl, and playe the ypocryte, and ymagyne abhominacions agaynst God, to make the hongrye leane, and to withholde drynke from the thirstye. These are the perilous weapons of the churlyshe, these be hys shameful councels: that he maye begyle the poore wyth dysceptfull wordes: yea, euen there as he shoulde gene sentence wyth the poore. * But the lyberal person ymagineth honest thynges, and commeth Pro. 17b vp for liberalitye vnto promotion. Vp (ye rich & idle wome) herken vn- C to my voice. Ye careles cities, marke my wordes. After, yeares and dayes shall ye be broughte in feare, O ye careles cities. For harueste shalbe out, and the grape gatherynge shall not come. O ye ryche ydell cities, ye that feare no parell. Be abashed, you that liue in abundance, tremble you that lyue careles: caste of your rayment, make youre selues bare, putte sacke clothe about you. For as the infantes wepe when their mothers teates are dryed: so shall you weepe for youre faire fieldes and fruitful vineyardes. My peoples field shal bryng thornes and thistles: and so shall it be euen in euery house of voluptuousnes, and in euery citie that reioyceth. The palaces also shalbe broken downe, and the greatly occupied cities desolate. The toures & bulwarks shall become dennes for euermore, the pleasure of mules shalbe turned to pasture for shepe: vnto the tyme that the spirite be poured vpon vs from aboue. Then shall the wylderneſſe be a fruitfull fielde, and the plenteous fielde shalbe reckened for a woodde. Then shall equitie dwell in the desert, and righteousnes in a fruitfull land. * And the reward of righteousneſſe shalbe peace, and her fruite, reste and quietnes for euer. * And my people shall dwelle in the Innes of Peace, and in sure dwellyngs, in safe places of comfort. And when the hayle fallethe, it shall fall in the wodde, and the citie shall be set lowe in the baley. O how happy shall ye be, when ye shall safely sowe your sede beside al waters, and drive thyther the feete of your oxen & asses.

Rom. 5 a
Jer. 33 c

¶ The .xxxij. Chapter.

WO to thee, that destroyeſte, whenne thou waste not destroyed, thou breakeſte the league, where as none hathe broken it with thee: for whenne thou shalt leave destroyeng, * thou thy self shalt bee destroyed. And when thou ceasseſt frome breakynge the league, then shall they breake it to thee. O Lorde, have mercy vpon vs: we have put our whole truste in thee. Bee an arme to suche early: and * our helthe in the tyme of trouble. At that confuse noyse, the people fledde, and at thyne exaltynge, the Heathen were scattered. And the spoyles shall bee gathered (whyche shall be youres) as are the gatherynge of Bruchus.

Exo. 21 d
Le. 24. d
Isa. 11. c
Mat. 7 a Psal. 9 b

And the Multitude gooynge to it, shall bee as Locustes, runnynge to and fro. The Lorde is exalted, for it is he that dwelleth an hye: he hathe fylled Syon wyth Judgement and ryghteousneſſe. And a sure stablyshyng of thy tymes shall be strength, healthe, wysedome, and knowledge: and the verye feare of the Lorde shall be the treasure of it. Behold, thy messengers shall crye withoute: and the ambassadours of peace shall wepe bitterly. The streetes are waste, there walketh no man therein. God hathe broken the appoyntemente, the cities are cast away, and men are nothynge regarded, the desolate earth is in heauyneſſe: Libanus is shamed, and hewen downe. Saron is lyke a wylderneſſe: Basan and Charmel are despoyled of theyr fruites. And therefore sayth the Lorde: I wyl vp now: nowe wyll I be auanced: now wyll I be exalted as a myghty God. * Ye shall conceaue Stubble, and beare strawe, and youre spirite shall be the fier, that it may consume you: and the people shalbe burnt like lyme, and as thornes burne that ar hewen of, and caste in the fyre. Now hearken to ye that are farre of, howe I haue done, and consyder my power, ye that be at hande. The synners at Sion are afrayde, a sodeyn fearefulneſſe is come vppon the hypocrites. What is he, amonge vs, saye they, that shall dwell by the consumynge fyer? whyche of vs may abyde that euerlastyng heat? He that leadeth a godly lyfe, saye I, and speaketh the trueth. He that abhorreth gaynes woonne by vyolence and disceyte: he that keepethe hys hande, that he touche noo rewarde: whyche stoppeth hys eares, that he heare no counceil agaynste the innocent bloode: whyche holdeth downe his eyes, that he see none cupil. He it is, that shall dwelle on hye: whose sauegarde shall bee in a bulwarke of rockes, to hym shall be geuen meate, and his waters shal not fayle. Thyne eies shal se the king in his glory: euen the king of the farre countreies shall they see: thyne hert studied for feare, thynckynge thus. * what shalle thenne becomme of the Scrybe? of the Receyuer of our money? what

Jer. 5. d
¶ Psa. 14 and. 23. d
2. Co. 6

of

of hym that taxed our sayntest houses: There shalt thou not see a people of a straunge tongue to haue so diffused a language, that it maye not be vnderstande, neyther so straunge a speeche D but it shalbe perceaued. There shal Sion be seene the head Citie of oure solemne feastes. There shal thine eies Heb.9.b see Jerusalem that glorious habitation: the tabernacle that neuer shal remoue: whose nayles shall neuer be taken out world without end: whose cords euerychone shal neuer corrupt: for the glorious maiestie of the Lorde shall there be present amonge vs: as a place, where sayre broade riuers and streames are, through the which shal neyther galley rowe, nor great shippe sayle. For the Lord is our iudge, the Jacob.4.c Lord is our lawe geuer. The Lord is our king, and he him self shall be our Sauioure. There are the coardes so layde abroade, that they canne not be better. And therfore thei haue not fixed their mast, nor spredde abrode their sayle. Then there is dealed greate spoyle: yea, lame men runne after the praye. There lieth no man that sayth: I am sicke, but all euil is take away from the people that dwell there.

A

The.xxxiiii.Chapter.

COme yee heythen and heare, take hede ye people. Hearken thou earth and all that is ther in: thou rounde compasse and all that groweth therevppon: for the Lord is angrye with all people, and hys displeasure is kyndled againste all the multitude of them, he hath destroyed them and deliuered thē to the slaughter. So that their slaine shalbe caste out, and their bodyes stynk that euen the verye hylles shalbe wet with the bloude of them. All the starres of heauen shall waste, and the heauen shall folde together lyke a roll, and all the B starres thereof shall fall, lyke as the leaues fall frome the vynes and fygtrees. For my sword shalbe bathed in heauen, and shall immediatelye come down in iudgement vpon Idumea, and vppon the people whyche I haue cursed for my vengeaunce. And the Lordes sword shalbe ful of blud, and be rustye with the fatnesse and bloud of lambes and goates, with the fatnes of the kidneis of wethers. For the Lorde shall kyll a great offring in Bozra, and a greate slaughter in the land of Idumea. There shall the vnicorns fall with them, and the bulles with the giauntes: and their land shalbe throughly soked with bloude, and their ground corrupted with fatnes. Vnto thee also, O Sion, shall comme the daye of the vengeaunce of God, and the yeare when thine owne iudgements shalbe recompensed. And C his floudes shalbe tourned to pytche, and his earth to brymstone: and therwith shal the land be kyndled, so that it shal not be quenched day nor night: but smoke euermore, and so foorth to lye waste. And no man shal go through it for euer. But Pellicans, storckes, greate oules and rauens shall haue it in possession, and dwel therein. For God shall spreade out the lyne of desolation vpon it, and way it with the stones of emptines. When kynges are called vpon, there shalbe none, and all princes shalbe away. Thornes shall growe in their places, nettles, and thistels in their stronge holdes, that the dragons may haue their pleasure therein, and that they maye be a court for Estriches. There shall straunge D bisures and monstrous beastes mete one another, and the wilde kepe company together. There shal the Lamia lye and haue her lodginge. Ther shal the onle make her nest, build, be there at home, and bring forth hys younge ones. There shall the kytes come together, eche one to hys lyke. Seeke throughout the Scripture of the Lorde and reade it. There shall none of these thynges be lefte oute, there shal not one, nor suche like, fayle. For what hys mouth commaundeth that same doth his spirit gather together, or ful fylleth. He hath cast the lot for them, and to those beastes hath hys handes deuided the lyke: therefore those shall possesse the enheritaunce from generation to generation, and dwell therin for euer.

¶ The .xxxv. Chapter.

A BUt the deserte and wildernesse shall reioice, the waste ground shalbe glad and flourysshe as the lylye. She shall flourysshe pleasauntly and be ioyfull, and euer be geuyng of thankes more and more. For the glorie of Libanus, the bewtie of Carmel and Saron shalbe geuen her. These Heb. 12b shall knowe the honoure of the Lord and the mightye of oure God. * And therefore strengthy the weake handes, B and confort the feble knees. Say vnto Deu. 20. a to them that are of a fearefull hearte: and. 31. b Be of good chere, and feare not. * Beholde, youre * God commeth to take vengeaunce: and you shall see the reward that God geueth: God com- mat. 11. a meth his owne selfe, and wyl delyuer Luke. 7. c you. * Then shal the eyes of the blind * psa. 8. a, be lyghtned, and the eares of the deafe * Esa. 41 opened. Then shall the lame manne C leape as an hart, and the * dombe mãs tongue shall geue thankes: * In the wildernes also there shalbe welles sprynges, and flouds of waters in the deserte. The drie grounde shal tourne to riuers, and to the thirstie sprynges of water: where as dragons dwelte afore there shall growe swete flowres and grene rushes. There shalbe foote pathes and common stretes, this shal be called the holye waye. No vncleane persou shal go through it: for the Lord hym selfe shall goe wyth theym that D waye, and the waifarer, nor ignorant shall not erre. There shalbe no Lion, and no rauyshynge beastes shall come therin, nor be there, but men redemed shall goe there frer and safe. And the redemed of the Lorde, I say, shal conuerte and come to Sion wyth thankes geuynge. Euerlastynge ioye shal they haue, pleasure and gladnes shalde among them. And as for all sorow and heauines, shall vanysh away.

¶ The .xxxvi. Chapter.

IN * the .xiiii. yeare of the kynge Hezekias came Sẽnacherib king A of the Assirians downe to laye 4 K. 18 c lege vnto al the strong Cities of Iu- 2 Pa. 2 2 a da, to co conquere them. And the king Esay. 7. b of the Assirians sente Rabsaketh frõ Lachis towarde Ierusalem agaynste king Hezekia, with an exceding host, which set him by the condit of ỹ ouer poole in the way that goeth thorowe the fullers lande. And so there came forth vnto him Eliakim Helkias son the president, * Sabna the scribe, and Esa. 22 b Joah Asaphs sonne the secretarye. And Rabsakeh sayde vnto them: Tel Hezekias, that the greate kyng of Assiria saieth thus vnto him: what presumption is this, that thou trustest vnto? I sayde, Surelye thou trustest in vayne wordes, when councell and strength are necessarye to battaile, or els wherto trustest thou that thou cafleste thy self of frõ me? * lo, thou put- 4 Re. 18 b testt thy trust in a broken staffe of reed Eze. 29 a (I meane Egypt) which he that leaneth vppon, it goeth into hys hande and shooteth hym thorough. Euen so is Pharao the king of Egypte, vnto all theym that truste in hym. But yf thou wouldest saye to me: we trust in B in the Lord our God. A goodly God in deede: whose hye places and aultars Hezekia toke downe, and commaunded Iuda and Ierusalem to worshippe oneiye before the aultare. Nowe therfore deliuer hostages that thou rebelle nemore agaynst my Lord the Kinge of Assirians. And I will geue thee twoe thousande horses: yf thou be able to set men vppon theym. How darest thou resyst the power of the smalest prince that my lord hath? howe darest thou trust in the charettes and horsemen of Egypt? Moreouer, thinkest thou that I am come vp hither to destroye this land without the Lordes wyll? The Lord said vnto me: go vp into the lande, that thou mayest destroye it. Then sayde Eliakim, Sobna and Joah vnto Rabsakeh. Speake to vs thy seruaunts, (we praye thee) in the Sirians language for we vnderstand it wel. And

D Esa. 10 a

speake

speake not to vs in the Iewes tonge, least the folk heare, which sitteth vpon the wall. Then answered Rabsakeh: Thinke ye, that the kynge sent me to speake this vnto thy Lorde and thee? hath he not sent me to them also, that sit vppon the wall? that they may be ℭ compelled to eate their owen dunge, & drinke their owen stale with you? And Rabsakeh stode stylle, and cried with a lowde voice in the Iewes tong, and said: Now take heede, how the great king of the Assirias geueth you warning. Thus saithe the kyng: Let not Hezekias deceyue you: for he shal not be able to delyuer you. Moreouer, let not Ezekias comfort you in the lord, when he saith: The Lorde without doubt shall defende vs, and shall not geue ouer this Citie into the handes of the kyng of the Assirians, beleeue hym not. But thus saith the kyng of Assiria: obteyne my fauour, encline to me, so may euery man enioy his vineyardes & fyg trees, and drinke the water of his cesterne, vnto the tyme that I come my self, and bryng you into a lande that is lyke your owne: wherin is wheate and wine, whiche is bothe sowen with seede, and planted wyth vineyardes. Let not Ezekias deceue D you, when he saieth vnto you: The Esa.10a Lorde shall deliuer vs? *Wyght the gods of the Gentils kepe euery mans land, from the power of the kynge of the Assirians? Where is the God of Hemath & Arphad? Where is the god of Sepharaim? And who was able to defend Samaria out of my hande? Or which of all the gods of these landes hath deliuered their countrey out of my power? Is the Lorde in deede able to deliuer Ierusalē fro my hand? Unto this, Hezekias messengers held their tongues, and answered not one word, for the king had charged them that they should geue him none answer. So cam Eliakim Helkias son, the president, Sobna the scribe, and Joah Asphas sonne, the secretarie, vnto Hezekia, with rent clothes, & tolde hym the wordes of Rabsakeh.

When Hezekias hearde that, A he rent his clothes, *and put 3.re.19a on sacke clothe, and went into the temple of the Lord: but he sent Eliakim the presidente, Sobna, the scribe, with the eldest priests, clothed in sackecloth vnto the prophet Esay Jon.18.3 the sonne of Amoz, & they sayde vnto hym: Thus sayth Ezekias: This is the daye of trouble, of plague, and of blasphemye: for the children are come to the place of birthe: but there is no power to bryng them forth. The lord thy God (no doubt, hath well considred the wordes of Rabsaketh, whom his Lord & king of the Assirias hath sent to defye & blaspheme the lyuinge God, wyth suche wordes as the lord thy God hath heard rycht well. And therefore, lyfte vp thy prayer for the remnant, that yet are left. So the seruauntes of the kynge Hezekias came to Esay. And Esaie gaue them thys B answer: Saye thus vnto your Lord, thus sayth the Lord: Bee not afrayd of the wordes, that thou hast hearde, wherwith the kyng of the Assirians Esa.31b seruants haue blasphemed me. *Behold, I wyll cause a wynde to go ouer hym, as soone as he heareth the rumoure, he shall go againe into hys countrey: there will I destroye hym 1.re.23c with the swearde in his owen lande. *Nowe when Rabsakeh retourned, he founde the kyng of Assiria laying siege to Libnas: for he hadde vnderC stand that he was departed from Lachis. For there came a rumour, that Tharakas kynge of Ethiopia was come forth to warre agaynste hym. And when the kyng of Assiria heard that, he sent other messangers to king Hezekias, with thys Commaundement: Say thus to Hezekias kynge of Juda: Lette not thy God deceaue thee, in whom thou hopest, & sayest: Ierusalem shal not be geuen into the handes of the kynge of Assiria. For lo, thou knowest well howe the kynges of Assiria, haue handeled all the landes that they haue subuerted, and hopest thou to escape? Were the people of the Gentiles (whome my pro-genitours conquered) delyuered at a-1Re.17a ny tyme, thrꝛough their goddes? As namelye, Gozan, Haran, Rezeph, and the childꝛen of Eden, which were at Thalassar. Where is the king of Hemath, & the kynge of Arphad, and the king of the Citye Sepharuaim, Ena and Iua? Nowe when Hezekia had receaued the letter of the messangers, and read it, he went vp into the house of the Lozd, and opened the letter before the Lozd: and Hezekia prayd before the Lozde on thys manner: O Exo.25e Lozde of hostes, thou God of Israel, whiche dwellest vppon Cherubin. Thou art the God that only is God Gen.1.a of al the kingdomes of the wozld, for Deu.2.c thou onely hast created heauen and earth, Encline thyne eare Lozd and consider: opē thyne eies, O Lozd and se, and ponder all the woordes vppon Sennacherib, whiche hath sente hys D embassage to blaspheme the lyuynge God. It is true, O Lozd, that the kinges of Assiria haue conquered all kingdomes and landes, and cast their goddes in the fyre. Notwithstandynge those were no goddes but the wozkes of mens handes, of wod oꝛ stone, therfore haue they destroyed them. Deliuer vs then, O Lozd our God, frō the hands of Sennacherib, thas al kingdomes of the earth maye knowe, that thou onelye art the Lozde. Then Esaye the sonne of Amoz sent vnto Hezekia, saying: Thus sayth the Lozde God of Israel, Where as thou haste made thy prayer vnto me, as touching Sēnacherib the kyng of Assiria, this is the aunswere, that the Lozde hath geuē concerning him: Lo, despised art thou, and mocked (O daughter of Iae.2.b. Sion) he hath shaken his head at the mat.15b O daughter of Ierusalem. But thou Acts.9c Sennacherib: whome hast thou defied and blasphemed? Against whom hast thou lyfted vp thy voyce, and exalted thy proude lookes? euen against the holye one of Israell. Thou wyth thy seruauntes haste blasphemed the Lozde, and thus boldeste thou of thy selfe: I wyll couer the hye mountaynes, and sydes of Libanus wyth my hoꝛsemē. And there wyl I cut down E the hye Cedꝛe trees and the fayreste Fyꝛ trees: I wil vp into the heighte of it, and into the cheefest of his timbꝛe woddes. If there be no water, I wil graue and dꝛinke, And as foꝛ waters of defence, I shall dꝛye them vp wyth the feete of myne hoofe. Ye, hast thou not hard, what I haue taken in hand and bꝛought to passe of olde tyme?

That same wil I do nowe also, wast, destroye, and bꝛyng stronge cities vn- F to heapes of stones. Foꝛ their inhabitours shal be like lame mē bꝛought in feare and confounded. They shalbe lyke the grasse and greene herbes in the field, lyke the hey vpon the house toppes, that withereth afoꝛe it be growen vp. I knowe thy wayes, thy going fooꝛth and thy commynge home, yea, & thy madnes agaynst me. Therfoꝛe thy furiousenes against me, and thy prꝛyde is come before mee, I wyll put my rynge into thy nose, and my bꝛidle bit into the chawes of thee, and turne thee about, euen the same waye thou camest. I wil geue the also this token (O Hezekia) this yere shalt thou eate such as groweth of it selfe: and the seconde yeare, that whyche spꝛingeth agayne of the same, and in the thirde yeare, yee shall sowe and reape, yea, ye shall plante vyneyardes, and enioye the fruites thereof. And such of the house of Iuda as are escaped, shall come together, and the remnant shal take roote beneth, and bꝛing fooꝛthe fruite aboue. Foꝛ the escaped shall goe oute of Ierusalem, and the remnaunte from the mounte Syon.
And this shal the gelousy of the Lozd G of hostes bꝛyng to passe. Therefoꝛe thus sayeth the LORD, concerning the Kynge of the Assirians. He shall not come into thys Cytye, and shall shoote no aroꝛwe into it, there shall no shyeld hurt it, neyther shall they caste dytches aboute it. The same waye that hee camme, he shal retourne, and not comme at thys Cytye, sayeth the Lozd: And I wyll kepe and saue this City, sayeth he, foꝛ myne owne, and foꝛ my Seruaunte Dauyds sake. 4Re.19

Thus

Ecc48.b * Thus the angell of the Lord went Esa.31 a foorth, and slew of the Assirians host 2.ma.25. an hundred fourescore and fiue thousand. And when men arose vp earely in the morninge: Behold, they were slayn, and all laye full of dead bodies.
So Sennacherib the king of the Assyrians brake vp, and dwelte at Ninive. Afterwarde it chaunced, as he prayed in the temple of Nesrah hys God, that Adramelech and Sarazer his owne sonnes slew hym with the swerde, and fled into the land of Armenia. And Asarhadon hys soonne reigned in hys steade.

¶ The.xxxviii.Chapter.

In NOt long afore this, was He-zechia sycke vnto the deathe:
4.R.20 a * And the Prophete Esaye, 2.pa.34 f the soonne of Amoz came vnto hym, and sayd: Thus commaundethe the Lorde: Sette thyne house in order, for thou must dye, and shalt not escape Then Hezekia tourned his face to-warde the wall, and prayed vnto the Lord, and said: Remembre (O Lord) that I haue walked beefore thee in truth and a stedfast hert, and haue don the thing that is pleasant to thee. And Hezekia wept sore. Then sayde God vnto Esai: Go and speake vnto Hezekia: The Lord God of David thy fa ther sendeth thee this woord: I haue heard thy prayer, and considered thy Iona.3b teares: * Behold, I will put fiftene yeares mo vnto thy lyfe, and deliuer B thee, and the Citie also, from the hand 1.reg.2.f of the kyng of Assiria, for I wyl defende the Citie: * And take the this token of the LORD, that he wyll doo it, as he hathe spoken: Bee-holde, I wyll retourne the shadowe of Ahaz dyall, that nowe is layd out Iosu.10 with the Sunne, and bringe it ten degrees backeward. * So the Sun turned tenne degrees backeward, the whiche he was descended afore.

¶ A thankesgeuing which Hezekia King of Juda wrote, when he had ben sicke, and was recouered.

I thought I shoulde haue gone to the gates of hell, when myn age was shortned, and haue wanted the residue of my yeres.

I spake within my self, I shall neuer visite the Lord, (the Lord I say) in this lyfe.

I shall neuer see manne among the dwellers of the worlde.

Myne aege is folden vp together, and take away fro me, like a shepards cotage: I haue hewen of my lyfe by my synnes, lyke as a weauer cutteth of hys webbe.

He will with pinyng sickne make an ende of me: yea, he wyll make an ende of me in one day.

* I thought I wold haue liued vn Iob. 4.b to the morow, but he brosed my bones lyke a Lyon, and in one day thou wilt make an ende of me.

Then chattered I like a swalow, & like a crane, and mourned as a doue.

I lift vp myn eies into the height:
O Lorde (said I) my sickne kepeth me downe, ease thou me.

What shal I say? The Lorde hath made a promise to me: Yea, & he hym selfe hath performed it.

I shal therfore so long as I lyue re membre thys bytternes of my lyfe.

O Lord, men may liue beyond their D yeares: and I will declare to al men:
that euen in those yeres I haue a ioyfull lyfe, and that it was thou that cau sedst me to sleape, and again thou hast geuen lyfe to me.

Behold, bitter as gall was my pen siuenes, so sore longed I for healthe.

And it was thy pleasure to deliuer my life from the fylthy pitte, for thou it is (O Lord) that hast caste all my synnes behynde thy backe.

* For hell prayseth not thee, death Psal.6.a doeth not magnifie thee. 78.b.105

They that go downe into the graue praise not thy truthe, but the lyuyng:
yea, the lyuyng acknowlege thee, like as I doo this daye.

The father telleth his childerne of thy faithfulnesse.

* To heale me it is the lordes worke, Luk.1.g and we wyll synge my songes in thy house, all the dayes of our lyfe.

And Esaye sayde, Take a playster of sygges, and lay it vpon the sore, so shal it be whole. Then sayd Hezekia: O what a great miracle is thys, that I shall go vp into the house of the Lorde.

¶ The .xxxix. Chapter.

A ¶ In the same tyme Merodach
4.re.20c Baladam, Baladamus sone, kyng of Babilon, sent letters and presentes to Hezekia. For he vnderstode howe that he had bene sicke, 2par.33c and was recouered agayn. And Hezekia was glad thereof, and shewed them the cōmodities of hys treasure, of syluer, of gold, of spices and roots, of precious oyles, all that was in his B cubbordes and treasure houses. There was not one thing in Hezekias house & so throughout al his kyngdom, but he let them see it. Then came Esaye the prophet to king Hezekia, and said vnto him: What haue the men sayde, and from whēce came they vnto the? Hezekia answered, they came out of a farre countrye vnto me out of Babilon. Esay said: What haue they loked vpon in thine house? Hezekia answered: All that is in myne house haue they sene: and there is nothyng in my treasure, but I shewed it them. Thē
C said Esay vnto Hezekia: Vnderstand 4reg.24c the word of the Lord of hostes. Behold, the tyme wyll come that euery thynge whiche is in thyne house, and all that thy progenitoures haue laide vp in store vnto thys daye, shalbe caryed to Babilon, and nothing left be-D hynd. Thus sayth the Lorde: yee, and part of thy sonnes, that shall come of thee, and whom thou shalt get, shalbe caryed hence, and become gelded chamberlaynes in the kynge of Babilons courte. Then sayd Hezekia to Esaye. Nowe God prosper his owne counsell whiche thou haste tolde me. He sayd moreouer, So that ther be peace and sayfulnesse in my tyme.

¶ The .xl. Chapter.

A ¶ Comfort my people (O ye pro phetes) comforte my people, sayth your God, comforte Ie-rusalem at the herte, and tell her: that her trauayle is at an ende, that her offence is pardoned, that she hath receaued of the Lordes hand sufficient correction for all her synnes. * A voyce Mat.3.a cryeth in wildernes, Prepare ye way Mar.1.a for the Lord in the wildernesse, make Luke.3.b
streyght the path for oure God in the John.1.c
deserte. Let all valleys be exalted, and euerye mountayne and hyll be layde lowe: what so is croked, let it be made streyghte, and let the roughe be made playne feldes. * For the glory of the Joh.12b B Lorde shall appeare, and al flesh shal at once se it: for why, the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it. The same voyce spake: Crye. And the prophete answered: what shall I crye? * That Psal.90.
all flesh is grasse, & that all the good- Iom.1.c
lynes thereof, is as the floure of the 1.pet.1.b field. The grasse is withred, & flour falleth away. Euen so is the people as grasse, when the breath of the Lord bloweth vpon them. Neuertheles, whether the grasse wyther, or the floure fade away: * Yet the worde of Psa.32b our God endureth for euer. Goo vp 1.pet.1.b vnto the hie hyl (O Sion) thou that Jam.1.b bringest good tydynges, lyfte vp thy E voyce with power, O thou preacher Jerusalem: Lift it vp without feare, and say vnto the cityes of Juda: Behold your God, behold the Lord God shal come with power, and beare rule with his arme, Behold, he bryngeth his treasure with him, & his workes go before him. He shall fede his flocke lyke an heardeman. He shall gather the lambes together with hys arme, and cary them in his bosome, and shal kyndelye intreate those that beare yonge. Who hath holden the waters in hys fyst? Who hath measured heauen with his spanne, and hath comprehended all the earth of the worlde in theyr measures? who hath weyed the mountaynes and hylles in a balance. Who hath reformed the mynd of the Lorde? or to whom hath he shewed his counsel? * Or who is of his D counsell to teache hym? or who hath Ro.11b geuen him vnderstandyng, and hath taught him the pathe of iudgement. Who taught him connynge, & opened to

to hym the waye of vnderstandynge.
Behold, all people are in comparison of hym, as a drop, to a bucketfull, and are counted as the leaste thynge that the balaunce weyeth. Yea, and the Iles he taketh vppe as a verye lytle thing. Libanus is not sufficiente to minister fyre for hys offerynge, and al the beastes therof, are not inough to one sacrifyce. All people in comparison of him are reckened as nothynge, Psa. 62 d E * if they be compared with hym, lesse then nothynge, and as it, that is not.
To whom then will ye liken God? or what similitude will ye set vppe vnto him? Shal the caruer make him a carued ymage? and shall the goldesmith couer him with gold, or cast him into a fourme of siluer plates? Moreouer, shall the ymage maker (that the poore man which is disposed may haue some thynge to set vp also) seke oute, and chose a tree, that is not rotte, and carue therout an ymage that moueth not? Know ye nothing, o wretches? Heard ye neuer of it? Hath it not ben preached vnto you, sence the begynnyng? Haue ye not bene enfourmed of this, by the foundation of the earth that he sitteth vppon, the fyrcle of the worlde, and that all the inhabitours F of the worlde are in comparison of Esa. 44 d him, but as grashoppers. * That he spreadeth out the heuens as a couering, that he stretcheth them out, as a tente to dwell in. That he bryngeth princes to nothing, and the iudges of the earth to dust, so that of thē it may be sayd: they be not planted nor sowē agayne, neyther their stocke roted agayne in the earth. For as sone as he bloweth vpon them, they wither and fade away, like the straw in a whirle wind. To whom now will ye lyken me, and whom shall I be lyke, sayth the holy one? Lyfte vp your eyes on
Psa. 147 a hye, and consider: * who hath made these thinges, whiche come out by so G great heapes? he can call them all by their names. For ther is nothing hid vnto the greatnes of hys power, strength, & mighte. Howe maye then Jacob think, or how may Israel say: My wayes are hyd from the Lorde, and my GOD knoweth not of my iudgementes. Knowest thou not, or hast thou not heard, that the euerlasting God, the Lorde which made all the corners of the earth, is nether werye nor faynt? and that hys wisedome cannot be comprehended: but that hee geueth strength vnto the werye, and power vnto the faynt? Children are wearye and faynte, and the strongest Jer. 17 b men fall. * But vnto theym that haue the Lord before theyr eies, shal streng the be encreased. Iegles wynges shal growe vpon them. When they runne they shall not fall: and when they go, they shall not be wery.

¶ The .xli. Chapter.

BE stylle (ye landes) and herken
A vnto me. Be stronge ye people. Come hither, * shew me youre cause, we wil go to the law together. Who raysed vp the iust man from the rysyng of the sunne, and called him to go forth? who cast downe the people, and subdued the kynges before hym: that he maye throwe theym all to the grounde wyth hys sweard, and scatter them lyke stubble wyth his bowe? He foloweth vppon theim, and goeth safelye hym selfe. And that in a waye where before his foote had not trodē. Who hath made and created all these thynges? euen hee that called the ge-B nerations frome the begynnynge: *
Esa. 44 & Iyp. 1. b. Euen I the Lorde, whyche am the fyrste, and wyth the laste. The Iles sawe it, and dyd feare, and the endes of the earth, were abashed, drewe nye, and came hither. Euery man exhorted his neyghboure, and brother, and bad hym be stronge. The carpenter confirted the goldesmyth, and the goldesmith the hammer man, saying: Glue wil do very wel in it. It shalbe good that we fasten this easie woorke: and then they fastened it with nailes, that it should not be moued. But thou Israel art my seruaunt: thou Jacob arte electe, thou art the sede of Abrahā my beloued, thou art he, whome I ledde from the endes of the earthe by the hand. For I called thee from far euen from amonge the glorionse men of it, and sayd vnto thee. Thou art my ser-uaunt, I haue chosen the, and not cast Esa.43 b the away: ¶ be not afrayed, for I am with thee. Welt not away as waxe:

for I am thy God, to strength thee, helpe thee, and to kepe thee with this right hand of myne. Behold, all they that resist the, shall come to confusion and shame: and thine aduersaries shal be destroyed and broughte to naught.
So that whoso seketh after thē, shal not fynd them. Thy destroyers shall perysshe, and so shall they that vnder-take to make battel against the, be as that is not, and as a thing of naught.
D For I thy Lord and God will streng then thy right hand. Euen I that say vnto thee: Feare not, I wyll helpe the. Be not afrayed thou litle wo?me Jacob, and thou despised Israell: for I wyll helpe the, sayth the Lord, and the holy one of Israel thine auenger.
Behold, I will make of thee a treading cart and a newe flayle, that thou mayest thresshe and grynd the moun-taynes, and bryng the hyls to pouder.
Thou shalt fan them, and the wynde shal cary thē away, & the whirlwind shall scatter them. But thou shalt re-ioyce in the Lorde, and shalt delyte in E praysing ỹ holy one of Israel. ¶ whē Gen.21c the thirstye and poore seke water and fynd none, & when theyr tonge is dry of thyrste, I geue it them sayeth the Lord. I the God of Israel forsake thē not. ¶ I bryngе foorth floudes in the Esa.35 b hilles, and wels in the playne feldes.
I turne the wildernes to riuers, and the dry land to condites of water. I plant in the wast ground, trees of Ce der, Boxe, Myrre and Olyues. And in the dry, I set Fyrre trees, Elmes and Hawthornes together. All thys do I, that they altogether may se and marke, perceue with their herts, and consider, that the hand of the lord ma keth these thinges, and that the holye one of Israel bryngeth them to passe.
Stand at your cause (sayth the lord) and bring forth your strongest grou̇d, sayeth the kynge of Jacob. Let them bryng forth their goddes, and let their gods tell vs wh at shall chaunce here after: yea, let thē shewe vs the things that are passe, what they be: let them declare them vnto vs, that we maye take them to herte, and knowe them hereafter. Ether, shew vs thinges for to come, and tell vs what shalbe done herafter: so shal we knowe, that you ar gods: do somthing, ether good or bad:
so wyl we both knowledge the same, and tell it out. Behold, ye are gods of G naught, & your makyng is of naught, yea, abhominable is the mā that hath Esa.41.b chosen you. Neuertheles, ¶ I haue waked vp one from the northe, and he shall come. And another frō the East, which shall call vpon my name, and shal tread vpon princes as vpon clay, and as the potter treadeth downe the myre: Who declared this from the be ginnynge, and we wyll knowe hym.
Or from the olde tymes, and we will confesse, and say that he is ryghteous.
But ther is none that sheweth or declareth any thyng, there is none also that heareth your wordes. The firste is he that shal saye to Sion: Behold, behold, they are present, and to Jerusalem it selfe will I geue an Euan-gelist. But when I consider there is not a man among them, nor anye that can geue counsell, nor that when I examyne them, that can answere one word: Lo wicked are they and vayne, with the thinges also that they take in hande, yea their ymages are but wynd and vayne thinges.

¶ The.xlii. Chapter. I Mat.3.b

BEhold, ¶ this is my seruaunte vpon whom I leane, myne elect, in whom my soule is pacified. I haue geuen him my spyrte, that he may shew forth iudgemēt, and equitye among the Gentiles. He shal not be an outcrier, nor lift vp his voice His voyce shall not be hearde in the stretes. And a bruised rede shall he not breake, and the smokynge flaxe shall he not quenche: but faythful and truly shal he geue iudgement, not be pēs-siue nor carefull, that he may restore righteousnes vnto the earth, and the Gentiles also shall kepe his lawes.

For

Esa. 40 a B him (euen he that made the heauens, and spred them abrode, & set forth the erth with her increase: which geueth breath vnto ỹ people that is in it, and spirite to them that dwell therin. I the Lord haue called the in ryghteousnes, & led the by the hand • Therfore Esa. 49 b will I also defend the, and geue thee for a couenaunt of the people, and to Luke. 2. c be the • light of ỹ gentils. That thou • Iac. 9 b mayest open the eyes of the blind, • let out the presoners from their bondes, and them that sit in darkenes, out of the dongeon house. Euen I am the Psa. 150 a Lord, and this is my name: • And my glory will I geue to none other, neyther mine honour to grauen ymages. Behold, olde thynges are come to passe, and newe thinges do I declare. And or euer they come, I tell you of them. Syng vnto the Lorde a newe song of thankesgeuing, blow out hys prayse from the ende of the worlde. ℭ They that be vpō the sea, and all that is therin prayse him, the Iles & they that dwel in them. Let the wildernes with the cities lifte vp her voyce, the townes also, that they of Cedar dwel in: Let them be glade that syt vppon rockes of stone, and let thē cry downe from the hye mountaynes, ascribyng glorye vnto the Lorde, and magnifyinge hym among the Gentiles. The Lord shal come forth as a gyaunt, and take a stomake to him, lyke a fresh mā of warre. He shall roare and crye, and ouercome his enemyes. I haue longe holden my peace (sayth the Lorde) I haue bene styll and refrayned my self, but nowe I wyll crye lyke a trauelyng woman, and at once wyll I destroye and deuoure. I wyll make waste both mountayne, and hyll, and drye vp euery grene thinge that groweth therō. I wil drye vp the floudes of water, and drynke vp the ryuers. I wyll bryng the blynd into a strete, that they knowe not, and leade them into a footepathe that they are ignoraunt in. I shal make darkenes light before them, and the thynge that is croked to be streyght. These thynges haue I done vnto thē, and not forsaken them. • They are fallen backe, ye Esa. 44 b and let theym be ashamed earnestlye, that hope in ydoles, and say to fall hioned images: ye are our gods. Heare, O ye deafe mē, and sharpē your sightes to se, O ye blind. • Who is blinde D but my seruaunte? Or so deafe as my mat. 14. b messāger, whō I sente vnto thē. For who is ỹ ruler so blind (say they) as the perfect mā and so blind as ỹ Lordes seruaunte? Thou vnderstandest much, and kepest nothing: the eares are open, & no man heareth. The lord is merciful vnto them for hys ryghteousnes sake, that his word might bee magnified & praysed. But the people them selues is robbed & troden vnder the fote, cheyned in dongeōs, and they al (I say) be shut into prison houses. • They be caryed awaye captiue, and deu. 28. b no man doth lowse theym. They bee troden vnder foote, and no man doeth laboure to bring them agayne. • But who is he among you, that pondreth Esay. 44 thys, that considereth it, and taketh it for a warning in tyme to come? • Who barn. 1. b suffred Iacob to be troden vnder fote Tob. 3. a and Israel to be spoiled? Dyd not the Dan. 9. a Lord? Because we haue sined against him, and haue had no delyte to walke in hys wayes, neither bene obedient vnto his law. Therfore hath he poured vpon him his wrathfull displeasure, and strong battaile, whych fareth hym on euery syde, yet wyll hee not vnderstande. He burneth him by, yet sinketh it not into hys heart.

ℭ The. xliii. Chapter.

BVt nowe, the Lord that made thee O Iacob, and he that fashioned thee: O Israel, sayeth I thus: • Feare not, for I haue redemed Gen. 17. c. the. • I haue called the by name thou Esa. 41. c art mine own. • If thou gost through • deu. 7. a the water, I wilbe wyth thee, that • Exo. 14. the stronge floudes should not plucke • Da. 3. a thee away. • And yf thou walkest thoroughe the fyre, it shall not burne the and the flame shall not kyndle vppon thee. For I am the Lorde thy GOD the holy one of Israel, thy Sauiour.

I

I gaue Egypt for thy deliueraunce, the Morians, and the Sabees for the because thou wast dere in my sight, & because I set by thee, and loued thee.
I wyll geue ouer all men for the, and deliuer vp all people for thy sake, fear not: for I am wyth thee. * I wyll Esa. 41b bringe thy sede from the East, and ga-Mat. 8.b ther thee together from the weste. I B wyll saye to the North, let goe. And Esa. 29d to the South, keepe not backe: * but Gal. 3.a. bringe me my sonnes from farre, and my daughters from the endes of the worlde. Namely all those that be called after my name. For them haue I created, fashioned, and made for myne Luk. 14c honour. * Bringe foorth that people, which is blynde and yet hath eies, Ephe. 4c which are deafe although they haue eares. * If al nacions come in one and be gathered together. Which amonge them shall declare such thynges, and tel vs what is to come? Let thē bring their wytnes, so shal they be free: els let them here, and say, it is truth. You are my wytnes (sayth the Lord) and my seruaunt, whome I haue chosen: therfore be certified and geue me faith ful credence: and consider * that I am Esay. 44 he, before whom there was neuer any Apo. 1. b God, and that there shalbe none after me. I am, euen I am, the onely Lord Ose. 13b * and beside me there is no Sauiour.
C I gaue warninge, I made whole, I taught you when ther was no strāge God amonge you. And thys recorde must ye beare me your selues (sayeth the Lord) that I am God. And euen Joh. 10f he I am from the begynnyng, & * ther is none that can take any thing out of my hande. I do the worke, and who shall be able to let it? Thus sayth the Esa. 5. d Lord the holy one of Israell your redemer: * for your sake I haue sent to Babilon, and broughte downe the strongest of them. All they are fugi-tiue with the Caldees that boast thē Josu. 3 c of their shyppes: Euen I the Lorde * Ex. 14. your holy one, which haue made Israell, and am your kyng. Thus sayth the lord (* euē he that maketh a way in the sea, and a fotepath in the migh-tye waters: * which bringeth foorth the charrettes and horses, the hoost, and the power of war, that they maye fall and neuer rise, and be extinct like as towe is quenched. Remembre not thinges of olde, and regard nothynge that is paste: beholde, I shall make a newe thing, and shortely shall it ap-peare, and shall you not knowe it? I wyll make stretes in the deserte, and riuers of water in the wildernesse.
D The wilde beastes shall worshyppe Psa. 6. d. me: the dragons, and the yonge Estri-Esa. 35b ches. * For I shall geue water in the wyldernes, and streames in the deserte: that maye geue dryncke to my people, whom I chose. This people haue I made for my self: and they shal shewe forth my prayse. For thou Jacob, wouldest not call vppon mee, but thou haddest an vnlust towarde mee.
O Israell, thou gauest me not thy beastes for burnte offeringes, neyther dyddest honour me wyth thy sacrifyces. Thou boughtest me no dere spice wyth thy mony, neyther pouredst the Esay. 1.a fat of thy sacrifices vpon me. * How-Jere. 27f beit I haue not bene chargeable vnto thee in offeryngs, nether greuous in incense. But thou hast laden me with Psa. 24.a thy sinnes, and wered me with thine Jer. 33b vngodlynes. * Where as I yet, euen I, am he onely, that for mine owne selfes sake do awaye thyne offences, and forget thy synnes: so that I wyll neuer thinke vpon theym. Putte me nowe in remembrance (for we wyll reason together) and shew what thou hast for thee, to make thee ryghteous.
Gen. 3.b. * Thy fyrste father offended sore, and Nu. 20.b thy rulers haue sinned agaynste me.
Therfore I eyther suspended, or slue the chyefest prynces. I did curse Jacob, and gaue Israel into reproofe.

The. xliii. Chapter.

A SO here nowe, O Jacob my ser-uāt, and Israel whō I haue cho sen, for thus saith the Lorde that made thee, fashioned thee, and helped thee, euen from thy mothers wombe.
Be not afraide, O Jacob my seruant thou righteous, whom I haue chose.
Esa. 35b * For I shal poure water vpō the dri ground, and riuers vpon the thrysty.

* I

Eze. 36 a
Joel. 2. f
Acts. 2. b

I shall powre my spirite vpon thy seede, and myne encrease vpon thy stocke. They shall grow together, like as the grasse, and as the wyllowes by the waters syde. One shall say: I am the Lordes. Another shal call him selfe after the name of Jacob. The thirde shall subscribe with his hande vnto the Lord, and geue himselfe vn-B der the name of Israell. Thus hathe the LORD spoken, euen the kyng of Israell, and his redemer, the Lorde Esa 41 a
Apoc. 1. b
Esa. 48 c
Apo. 22 c
Esa. 43 b
of Hostes. • I am the fyrst, and the laste, and wythout me, there is no God. If any be lyke me, let hym call forth the thing past, and openly shew it, and laye it playne before me, what hath chaunced since I appoynted the people of the world, and what shalbe shortly, or what shall come to passe, in tyme longe to comme, lette theym shew these thynges. Be not abashed nor afrayd. For haue not I euer told you hytherto, and warned you? Ye can beare me recorde your selues. Is there any GOD excepte me? or any maker, that I should not know him?
Ill caruers of Images are but vain, and the carued ymages that they loue can doo no good. They muste beare record them selues (ẏ seyng they can neyther see nor vnderstande) they
Esa. 42 b
shall be confounded. • Who dare then make a GOD, or fashion an ymage, Ps. 114 d
Sap. 13 c
that is profytable for nothing? • Behold, all the felowshyp of them must be brought to confusyon. And truely all the workmasters of them are men they shall all bee gathered togyther, they shall stande, tremble, and be confounded one wyth an nother. The smythe maketh an axe, and tempereth it wyth haatte coales, and fashyoneth it wyth hammers, and woorketh it with all the strengthe of his armes:
yea, sommetyme he is faynte for very hunger, and so thirstye, that he hathe no more power. The carpenter (or image caruer) taketh measure of the tymber: and spreadethe foorthe hys lyne: he marketh it wyth somme colour. He playneth it, he ruleth it, and squareth it, and maketh it after the image of a man, and according vnto the beautie of a man: that it may stand in the Temple. Moreouer, he goeth out to hewe downe Cedre trees. He C bryngeth home Elmes and Okes, and takyng a bold courage, he seketh out the best tymbre of the wodde. He hym selfe hathe planted a Pyne tree, whyche the rayn hath swelled, which wodde serueth for men to burne. Of this he taketh and warmeth hy mselfe withal: he maketh a fyre of it to bake bread. And afterward maketh a God therof, to honor it: & an Idol to knele before it. One piece he burneth in the fire, with an other he rosteth flesshe, ẏ he may eat rost his bealy ful: with the third he warmeth hymself, and sayth: Aha, I am well warmed, I haue ben at the fyre. And of the residue, he ma-keth hym a God, & an Idole for hym selfe. He kneleth before it, he worshippeth it, he prayeth vnto it, & saith: De- Esa. 13 c liuer me, for thou art my God. • Yet men neither consider nor vnderstand, because their eyes are stopped, ẏ they can not se: & their herts, that they can not perceiue. They pōder not in their myndes, for they haue neither knowe-ledge nor vnderstandynge, to thynke thus: I haue brent one pece in the fire I haue baked bread with the coales therof, I haue rosted flesshe withal, & D eaten it: shall I nowe of the residue make an abhominable Idole, and fall down before a rotten piece of wood?
Thus he doth but lese his labor, and his hert which is disceiued, doth turn him aside: so ẏ none of them can haue a free conscience to thinke, may not I erre? Consider this (O Jacob & Israel, for thou art my seruaunt: I haue made thee, that thou myghtest serue me. O Israel, forget me not. • Is for Esa. 43 b thyne offences, I haue driuen them away lyke the cloudes, and thy sinnes as the myst. Turn the again vnto me for I haue redemed thee. Be glad ye heauens, whom the Lord hath made, for the lord hath delt graciously with his people, let all that is here benethe vpon the earth be ioyfull. Reioyce ye mountains & woods, with al ẏ trees therof therof: for the Lord hath redemed Jacob, & wyll shew his mercy vpon Israell. Thus sayth the Lorde thy redemer, euen he that fashioned the frō thy

Gen. 2.a mothers wombe. • I the Lord, do all Esa:45.c thinges my selfe alone. I onely spred out the heauens, & I only haue layde the foundation of the earth by myne owne selfe. I destroye the tokens of wytches, and make the Sothsayers fooles. As for the wyse, I turne thē backeward, & make their connyng folyshnesse. He doeth set vp the purpose of his seruant, and fulfilleth the cōsell of his messengers. Concernynge Jerusalem, he sayth: It shalbe inhabited. And of ỳ cityes of Juda. They shalbe buylded againe, and I wyl repayre their decayed places. He sayth to the grounde: Be dry. And I wyll dry vp the water floudes. He sayth of Cirus: He is myne herdman: so that he shall fulfyll all thynges after my will. He sayth also of Jerusalem: It shall be builded, and of the temple: It shalbe fast grounded.

¶ The .xlv. Chapter.

THus saith the Lord vnto Cyrus his anoynted, whō I haue taken by the right hand, to sub 1 Esd. 1.a due nations before hym. • I wyll loose the girdle of kynges, & I wyll open the gates before his face, and not to shut their dores. I wyll go before the, & make the croked streight. I shal breake the brasen dores, and burst the yron barres. I shall geue thee that hyd tresures, & the thing which is secretly kept: that thou mayest knowe that I am the Lord God of Israell, whiche
Gen. 38.a haue called the by thy name: and • that for Jacob my seruauntes sake, & for Israell my chosē. For I called the by thy name, & ordeyned the or euer thou Esa. 63.b knewest me. • Euen I the Lorde before whom there is none other: for Jere. 1.a without me ther is no God. • I haue 2B prepared the or euer thou knewest me that I might be knowen, from the rysyng of the sunne, to the goyng down of ỳ same, that al is nothing without me. For I am the Lorde, and there is
Gen. 1.a els none. It is I that • created the light & darkenes. • I make peace and trouble: yea, euē I the Lord do al thes Judi. 9.b thinges. Ye heauens from aboue drop down, & let the cloudes rayne righteousnes The erth open it selfe, & bring forth health, that therby righteousnes may florysh. Euen I the Lord dryng it to passe. • Wo be vnto him that striueth with his maker, ỳ potsherd with Esa. 29.c the potter. Saith the clay to the pot-Jer. 18.c ter: What makest thou? or, thy worke
Rom. 9.c seruyth for nothing? Wo be vnto him that saith to his father: why begettest thou? and to his mother: why bearest thou? Thus saith the Lorde, euen the holy one, & maker of Israell. Aske me of thynges to comme concernyng my sons, and put me in remembrāce, as touching the workes of my handes. I haue made the earth, & created man vpon it. With myne handes haue I spred forth heauen, & geuen a cōmaundement for all the host therof. I shall wake him vp with righteousnes, and order all his wayes. • He shall buyld 1 Esd. 11 my citie, & let out my presoners: & that neither for gift nor rewards, saith the C Lord of hostes. Thus saith the Lord: The occupiers of Egypt, the marchauntes of the Moryans & Sabees, shal com vnto thee with tribute, they shalbe thine, they shal folow the, & go with cheynes vpon theyr fete. They shall fall downe before the, and make supplicatiō vnto the. For God (without whom there is none other God)
Ro. 11.d shalbe with thee. • O how profound art thou, O God, thou God and Sauiour of Israel? Confoūded are they all, & put to dishonoure: they are gone hence together with shame, euen the makers of ymages. But Israel shall be saued in the Lord, which is ỳ euerlasting saluacion. Ye shal not come to shame nor confusion, world without end. For thus saith the Lorde: • euen
Gen. 1.d he that created heauen, the God that made ỳ earth, that fashioned it, & set it forth: he dyd not make it for naught, but to be enhabited. Euen I ỳ Lord, Exo. 20.c without whō ther is none other. • I haue not spoken secretlye, neyther in darke places of the erth. It is not for naught

naught, that I sayde vnto the sede of Jacob: seke me. I am the Lord, which whenne I speake, declare the thyng that is ryghteous & true: gather you, and come together, drawe nye hither, you that are escaped of the people. • D Esa.44.c Haue they any vnderstandynge, ỹ set vp the stockes of theyr Idols, & pray vnto a God, that can not helpe them? drawe nye, come hyther, and let thē alle counsel one at an another, & shew forth What is he that tolde this before? or who spake of it euer sence the begynnyng? Haue not I the Lord done it? without whō ther is none other god: the true God & Sauiour, and ther is Esa.44.b els none, but I. • And therfore turne you vnto me (al ye endes of the erth) that ye may be saued: for I am God, and ther is els none. I sweare by my selfe, oute of my mouth commeth the word of ryghteousnes, and that maye Ro.14.b no man turne: • but all knees shall bowe vnto me, and all tongues shall sweare by my name, saying: Verely, in the Lorde is my ryghteousnes and strength. To him shall men come: but all they that thynke scorne of hym, shalbe confounded. And the whole sede of Israell shalbe iustifyed, and make their boast in the Lorde.

¶ The .xlvi. Chapter.

I Bell is fallen, Nabo is brokē Bel.c downe: whose ymages were a .ie,15.a burthen for the beastes & cattel to ouerlade them, and to make them werye. They are soncke downe, and fallen together, for they may not ease them of their burthen: therfore muste they go into captiuitye. Herken vnto me, O house of Jacob, and all ye that remaine yet of the household of Israel: whom I haue borne from your mothers wombe, & brought you vp from your birth, till ye wer growen. I, I, which shall beare you vnto your last age, I haue made you, I wil also norysshe you, beare you, and saue you. B • Whom wyll ye make me lyke? or to Ro.2.a whom wyl ye make me equall, or cōpare me that I sholde be lyke hym, in Ro.3.c fashion or ymage, that I may be like him? • Ye fooles (no doubt) wyl take out syluer and gold out of your purses, and weye it, and hire a goldsmith to make a god of it: that men may Esa.44.c knele downe and worshippe it. • Yet C must he be taken on mens shoulders & borne, & set in his place, that he may stand and not moue out of his place. Alas, that men shoulde crye vnto him which geueth no answere: and deliuereth not the man that calleth vpon hym, from his trouble. Consider this well, and be ashamed, Go into youre own selues (O ye runnagates:) Remember the thinges which are past, sence the beginnynge of the worlde: that I am God, and that there is els no god: yea, and that there is nothing lyke vnto me. In the begynnynge of a thing, I shew the end therof: & I tell before, thinges that are not yet come to passe. My deuyse stādeth, stedfastly stablished, & I fulfill all my pleasure. • I cal a byrd out of the East, and the Exo.15a man by whom my counsel shalbe fulfilled out of far countreys, as sone as I thynke to deuyse a thynge, I do it. Heare me, O ye that are of an hye ito macke, but farre from ryghteousnes, I shal bring forth my ryghteousnes. It is not farre, and my health shal not tary long away. I will laye health in Sion, and in Israell my glory.

¶ The .xlvii. Chapter.

B Vt as for thee O daughter, I thou virgin Babylon, sit thou downe in the dust, sit vpon the ground, and not in a throne. (O thou mayden of Caldea,) Thou shalte no more be called tender and pleasaunte. Bynge forth the queene and grynde meale, vntrusse the broded heare, put of thy shoes, make bare thy knees, and Exe.16b wade thorough the water ryuers. • Thy shame shalbe discouered and thy priuities shalbe seene. For I wyll auenge me of thee, and wyll shewe no mercye to thee, as I do to other men saith our redemer, which is called the Lorde of Hoastes, the holye one of Israell. Sytte styll, holde thy tongue, and get thee into some darcke corner, (O daughter Caldea) for thou shalt no more be called lady of kingdomes.

I

I was so wroth wyth my people, that I punished mine enheritaunce, and gaue them into thy power. • Me-Pro.21b uertheiesse thou shewedest theym no mercy, but euen the very aged men of them, diddest thou oppresse right sore wyth thy yoke, and thou thoughtest thus: I shalbe ladye for euer. And besyde all that, thou hast not regarded these things, nether remembred what was the ende of that Citye Jerusalem. Heare nowe therfore, thou wyl-full, that sittest so careles: and spekest Esa.20b thus in thine heart: • I am alone, and Apo.18b without me is there none: I shal neuer be widowe, nor desolate agayne.
And yet both these thinges shall come C to the vpon one day in the twinkling Dan.5c. of an eye: • Namely, widdowheade, and desolation. They shall myghtely fall vppon thee, for the multitude of thy witches, and for the greate heape of thy conjurers. For thou hast tru-Esa.29c sted in thy wyckednes, and hast sayd:
• No manne seeth mee. Thine owne wisdome and cunning hath deceaued thee. In that thou hast sayde: I am alone, and without mee there is none.
Therfore shall trouble come vppon thee, and thou shalte not knowe from whence it shall aryse. Mischiefe shal fall vpon thee, which thou shalte not be able to put of. A sodayne vtter destruction, shal come vpon thee or euer thou be aware. Nowe go to thy con-jurers, and to the multitude of thy witches, (with whom thou hast we ried thy selfe from thy youth) if they maye helpe thee or strengthen thee.
D Thou hast hitherto had many couns-cels of them, so let the heauen gasers, and the beholders of starres, e moone prophetes come on nowe and deliuer thee: ye and let them shew, whē these newe thinges shall come vppon thee.
Behold, they shalbe like straw whiche yf it be kindled with fire, no man may rid it for the vehemencye of the flāe. And yet it geueth no sinders to warme a mā by, nor cleare fyre to syt by. Thus are they vnto whō thou halte werried thy selfe, and thus ar thy mar-chāts ỳ haue ben vnto the frō thy youth

The.xlviii.Chapter.

HEare this, O thou house of Jacob, ye that are called by the name of Israell, and are come oute of one stocke wyth Juda:
which sweare by the name of the lord and beare wytnes by the God of Israell) but not with truthe and right) which are called • free men of the ho- Eph.2 ly citie, and are grounded vppon the God of Israell, • whose name is the Esa.51.
Lord of hostes. The thinges that I and.54.
shewed you, euer sens the begynnyng Jer.31 haue I not brought them to passe, im mediatly as they came out of my mou the, and declared them, and they are come. Howbeit, I knowe that thou art obstinate, and that thy necke hath an yron veyne, and that thy browe is of brasse. Neuertheiesse I haue euer sens the begynnynge shewed thee of thynges for to com, and declared them vnto thee, or euer they came to passe, that thou shouldest not say: Myne y-dol hath doon it, my carued or molten ymage hath shewed it. Thou herdest it before, and beholde, It is come to passe, and whether can ye prophecy of thynges to come? But as for me I told thee before at the beginning, new B and secret thinges that thou knewest Esa.48 not of. • And some done nowe not of olde tyme, whereof thou neuer hear-dest before they were brought to passe that thou canst not say: Beholde, I knewe of them: Moreouer, there bee some, wherof thou hast neyther herd nor knowne, neither haue they bene opened vnto thyne eares afore time.
For I knewe that thou woldest maliciously offende, therfore haue I called thee a transgressoure, euen from thy mothers wombe. Neuertheiesse for my names sake, I wyl withdraw my wrathe, and it shall be for my honors sake, yf I pacientiy forbeare the, and doo not roote the out. Behold, I haue pourged thee: yet not as syluer.
• I haue chosen the in the fyre of affli Exo.3 ction, and that onely for myne owne sake, yea • euen for myne owne sake Esa.41 will I do this, or els, what dishonor would they doo to my name? Herken vnto

vnto me, O Jacob, and Israell whō he • hath made my mouthe • lyke a Esa.51.c I haue called. I am euen he, that is: sharpe swoorde, vnder the shadow of • Eph.6c I am the first and the last. My hand his hand hath he defended me, and hid hath layd the foundation of the earth: me in his quiuer as a good arow, and and my right hand hath spanned ouer sayd vnto me: Thou art my seruaunt the heauens. Allone as I call them, Israell, • I wyll be honoured in the. Joh.17d they are there. Gather you all toge- Then answered I: I haue loste my ther, and herken: whiche of yonder labour, I haue spent my strength in gods hath declared this? The Lorde vayne. Neuertheles, I will commit B hath a lone vnto him, and he shal per- my cause & my worke vnto the Lorde fourme his will agaynst Babell, and my God. And nowe sayth the Lorde, declare his power agaynst the Chal- euen he that fashioned me fro my modees. I my selfe alone, euen I, haue thers wombe to be hys seruaunt, that tolde you this before. Yee, I dyd call I maye bryng Jacob agayne vnto him: and bring him forth, and he shall him: howbeit Israell will not be ga-geue a prosperous iourney. Come thered vnto hym agayne. In whose nye and heare this: haue I spokē any sight I am greate, which also is my thyng darkely, sence the begynnyng? Lord, my God, and my strength. And when a thyng beginneth, I am ther. he sayde: It is but a small thyng that wherfore, the Lorde God & his spirete thou arte my seruaunt, to sette vp the hath sente me. And thus sayeth the kinredes of Jacob, and to restore the Lord God: thy redemer, the holy one destruction of Israell. • For I haue of Israell. I am the Lorde thy God, made thee the lyght of the Gentyls, Esa.42b Rom.7b which teach thee • profytable things, that thou mayest be my healthe vnto Iohn.8b C and leade thee thy waye, that thou the end of the worlde. Moreouer, thus Deut.28 sholdest go. • O that thou haddest re- sayth the Lorde the redemer and holy garded my commaundementes, then one of Israell: because of the abhor-had thy welthines bene as the water ryng and despisyng among the Genstreame, and thy ryghteousnes as the tyles, concernyng the seruaunt of all D Esay.48 waues flowyng in the sea. Thy sede theym that beare rule: Kynges and also had bene lyke as the sande in the Princes shall see, and aryse and wor-sea, and the fruit of thy body lyke the shippe, because of the holy one of Isgrauel stones therof. His name sholde raell, whiche hath chosen thee. And not be rated out: nor destroyed before thus sayth the Lorde: • In the tyme Jer.92.a me. • Go awaye from Babilon, flye accepted haue I heard thee, and in the 2Cor.6a from the Caldees with a mery voyce day of saluacion haue I helped thee. Jer.11.a speke of this, declare it abrode, and go • I wyll preserue thee and make thee Esa.42a forth vnto the ende of the worlde, saye to be the attonemente of the people, ye: The Lorde hath redemed his ser- that thou mayest helpe vp the earth uant Jacob, & they suffred no thurste, agayne: and possesse agayne the desohe led them thorowe the wyldernes, late herytages. • That thou mayest Zach.9.b and caused the waters to flowe oute saye to the presoners: go forth, and to Luke.4b Exo.17b vnto them from out of the rocke. • He them that are in darkenes: come into Nu.20b claue the rocke a sunder, and the water the lyghte, they shall fede in the hye
• Es.57c gushed out. • As for the vngodly, they waies, and get their pasture in al hye haue no peace, sayth the Lorde. places. They shall nether honger, nor thurste, heate nor sunne shal not hurt them. For he that fauoreth them, shal leade them, and geue them drynke of the spryngе welles. I wyll make wayes vpon all my mountaynes, and my foote pathes shalbe exalted. And behold, they shall come from farre: lo,

The.xlix. Chapter.

A Yes, herken vnto me, and take hede ye people from far. The Lorde hath called me fro my birth, and made mention of my name fro my mothers wombe:

some from the north and weste, some from the land of Sinis, which is in Esa.42 a the south. • Reioyce ye heauens: and syng prayses, thou earth. Talke of ioy ye hilles, for God hath comforted his people, and wyll haue mercye vpon his, that be in trouble. But Sion Ro.11.a sayde: • God hath forsaken, and my Lord hath forgotten me. Wyll a wyfe forget the chylde of her wombe, and not pitye the sonne whom she hath borne? And though she do forget, yet wyll I not forget the. Behold, I haue written the vp vpon my handes, thy walles are euer in my syghte. They make haste to buyld thee vp agayne. As for those that ouerthrewe the, and made the waste, they shal depart from Gen.14a the. • Lyft vp thyne eyes, and loke about thee: all these gather them together, and come to thee. As truly as I lyue (sayeth the Lorde) thou shalt put them all vpon thee, as an apparell, and gyrd them to thee, as a bryde doth her iewels. As for thy land that lyeth desolate wasted and destroyed: it shalbe to narowe for them that shall dwel in it. And they that wolde deuoure the, they shalbe far away. Then the chyld whom the baren shal bryng forth vnto the, shal say in thine eare: this place is to narowe, gyue place that I maye haue rowme. Thē shalt thou thynke by thy selfe: who hath begotten me these? seynge I am baren and alone, a F captiue & an out caste? And who hath norysshed them vp for me? I am desolate and alone, but from whence com these? And therfore thus sayeth the Lord God: Behold, I wyll stretche out mine hand to the Gentils, and set vp my token to the people. They shal bryng thee thy sons in theyr lappes: & carye thy daughters vnto thee vpon their shoulders. For Kynges shalbe thy nursynge fathers, and Queenes shalbe thy nursyng mothers. They shall fall before thee with their faces flat vpon the earth: and lycke vp the duste of thy feete: that thou mayest Rom.9 a know how that I am ỳ Lord. • And who so putteth his truste in me, shall not be confounded. Who spoyled the Gyaunt of his pray? or who taketh the prisoner from the mightye? And therfore, thus sayth the Lorde. The prisoners shalbe taken from the Gyaunte: and the spoyle delyuered from the violente, for I wyll mayntayne thy cause agaynst thyne aduersaryes, and saue thy sons. And will fede thyn enemies with their owne flesshe, and make thē drynke of their own blood: as of swete wine. And all flesshe shall know, O Iacob, that I am the Lord thy sauiour, thy noble redemer.

¶ The. i. Chapter.

THus sayth the Lorde: • where Jere.3.a is the byll of your mothers deuorsement, that I sente her away? for who is the vsurer, to whom I solde you? • Behold for your own Esa.50a offences are ye sold, & because of your transgression, is your mother forsaken. For why wolde no man receaue me, when I came? and whē I called, no mā gaue me answer. • Is my hand Nu.11.a shortened that it might not helpe? or haue I not power to delyuer? Lo • at Exo.14a a worde, I drynke vp the sea, • and of • Jos.3.b water floudes I make drye lande: so that for wante of water the fishe corrupt and dye for thurst. • As for heauē, I cloth it with darkenes, and put as it were a sacke vpon it. ¶ The Lorde
B Exo.10a God hath geuen me a well learned tongue, • so that I con comforte them 1 Cor.11 which are troubled, yea & ỳ in due season. He waketh myne eare vp by times in the morning: by times in the morning, I say, he will waken mine Psa.39b eare, ỳ I might herken as to the scole masters. • The Lord god hath opened mat.26§ myn eare, therfore can I not say nay, nor withdraw my selfe: • but I offer C my backe vnto the smyters, and my Psa.55a chekes to the nyppers. • I turne not my face from shame and spittyng, and the Lord God shal helpe me, therfore shall I not be confounded. I haue hardened my face lyke a flynte stone, for I am sure, I shall not come to cōfusion. He is at hande that iustifyeth me, who will thē go with me to law? Let vs stande one agaynste another: if there be any that wyll reason with me, me, let hym come here foorth to mee.

* Behold, the Lord God standeth by me, what is he then that can condemne me? Lo, they shalbe all lyke as an old clothe, the moath shall eate them vp.
Therfore who so feareth the Lord among you, lette him heare the voice of his seruant. Who so walketh in dark nes, and no lyght shyneth vpon hym, lette hym put vpo trust in the name of the Lord, and holde hym by his God.
But take hede, ye all kyndle a fyre of the swathe of God, and stirre vp the coales: Walke on in the glysterynge of youre owne fyre, and in the coales that ye haue kyndled. This commeth vnto you fro my hand, namely that ye A shall slepe in sorowe.

¶ The .ii. Chapter.

HErken vnto me, ye that hold of righteousnes, and ye that seke the Lord. Take hede vn Ge.21.a to the stone, wherout ye are hewen, & Rom.4. to the graue wherout ye are dygged.
Ge.12.a Cõsider * Abraham your father, and Gt.12.a Sara that bare you: how that I called him alone, and blessed him, and en creased hym. Therfore shall the Lord comfort Syon, and repaire all her decayes: makyng her desert as a paradise: & her wildernes as the garden of the lord. Myrth & ioy shalbe found there, thankesgeuyng & the voyce of prayse.
Esai.2.a Haue respect vnto me then, O my peo ple, both hygh and low, and lay thyne eare to me: * for a lawe and an ordinance shall go forthe fro me, to light-ten the Gentiles. It is harde by that my health and my righteousnes shall B goe foorth, and the people shall be ordred with myne arme. The Ilandes, Psa.102 yͤ be in the Gentils, shal hope in me, & Mat.24 put their trust in myne arme. Lyft vp a.pe.3.b your eies towarde heauen, and looke vpon the earth benethe. * For the hea uens shall vanyshe away lyke smoke, and the erth shal waxe old like a cloth and they that dwell therin, shall perishe in like maner. But my saluation shall endure for euer, and my righte-ousnesse shall not ceasse. Hearken vn-Ier.21.f to me ye that haue pleasure in righte-*mat.10 ousnes, thou people that * beareſt my law in thine hert. * Feare not yͤ curse Luk. 12.
of men: be not afraid of their blaspheme- *Psa.120 mies and reuilinges: * for wormes & C moths shal eat thẽ vp like cloth & wol But my righteousnes shal endure for euer, & my sauing helth from generation to generatiõ. Wake vp, wake vp: & be strong, O thou arme of the lord, wake vp, like as in tyme paste, euer & Esa.14.b
sens yͤ world began. * Art not thou yͤ Exo.24.c same arme, yͤ hast wounded the proude Egypt, & hewen the dragon in peces?
Art not thou cuẽ he, which hast dried vp the depth of yͤ sea, which hast made plaine yͤ sea ground, that the deliuered D might go thorow? Therfore the rede med of the lord shal turne again, & com Esa.1.b to ioy vnto Syon, there to endure for euer? That mirth and gladnes might 1.cor.1.c be vp thẽ: that sorow & wo might flee from thẽ? * Yea I, I am euen he, yͤ in al thigs geueth you consolatiõ. What Esa.40.a art thou then, yͤ feareſt a mortal man: 1.pe.1.d the childe of man, which * goth away as doth yͤ flowre? And forgetteſt yͤ lord E yͤ made thee, yͤ spreade out the heuẽs, & laid the fundation of the earth. But thou arte euer afraide for the sight of thyne oppressor, whiche is redy to do harm. Wher is yͤ wrath of the oppressor? The time cometh on fast, when yͤ prisoner shalbe loosed, & he shal not die Mat.8.a in the dũgeon, nor yet be consumed by Esa.48.a famishmẽt. * I am yͤ lord thy God yͤ *Esa.49 make yͤ sea to be still, & to rage: whose name is the Lorde of hostes. * I haue put my wordes in thy mouthe, & haue F defended thee in the shadowe of my hand: that I may plãt the heauens, & Psa.75.b lay the foundation of the earthe, & say Ier.25.c vnto Sion: Thou arte my people. Wake, awake, and stande vp O Ieru-salem, thou that from the hand of the Lord, hast dronkẽ out the * cup of his wrathe: thou that haste supped of, & sucked out the dregges of his deadly cuppe to the bottome. For amonge all the sonnes whome he hathe begotten, there is not one that maye hold it by,
and not one to leade it by the hand, of all the soonnes that he hathe nourysh-ed. Both these thynges are happened vnto thee, but who is sory for it?

Yea, destruction, wastinge, hunger, & sweard, but who wil comforte thee?
Thy soonnes lye comfortelesse at the G heade of euerye strete like a taken venison, and ar ful of the terrible wyath of the Lorde, and punyshmente of thy God. And therefore, thou miserable, and dronke, howbeit not with wine, heare this. Thus sayth the Lord, thy Lorde and God, the defender of hys people: Beholde, I will take the stupyng cuppe out of thy hande, euen the cuppe with the dregges of my wyath: that from henceforth, thou shalt neuer drynke it more, but I will put it into theyr hande that trouble thee: which haue spoken to thy soul, stoupe downe, that we may go ouer the: and thou ladest thy bodye euen wyth the ground, and as the strete to go vpon.

¶ The.lii. Chapter.

A VP Sion vp, take thy strength vnto thee: put on thine honest rayment, O Jerusalem, thou holy citye. For from this tyme forth, there shall no vncircumcised nor vncleane person come in the. Shake the from the dust, aryse and stand vp, O Jerusalem, Plucke oute thy necke frō the bond. O thou captyue daughter Sion. For thus sayeth the Lord:
B Rom.7.b
* ye are solde for naught, therfore shal ye be redemed also without any money. For thus saith ỹ lord god: * My people wente downe afore tyme into Egypt there to be strāgers, * and the kyng of the Assirians oppressed them without anye cause. And nowe what profite is it to me (sayeth the Lorde) that my people is frelye caried away, and dronghte into heauines by their rulers, * and my name euer styl blasphemed, sayth the LORDE? But that my people may know my name, therefore I saye, in that day they shal know it, that I am he that do speake: I say, euen I. * O howe bewtyfull are the fete of the Embassatour, that dringeth the message from the mountaine, and proclaymeth peace that dringeth the good tidinges, and preacheth helth, and sayth vnto Sion: thy God is the kyng. Thy watch men shal lift vp their voyce: wyth lond voyce shall they preache of hym: for they shal see hym presente, when the Lorde shal conuert Sion. * Be glad with thankes geuyng, O thou desolate Jerusalem, and reioyse together: for the Lorde hath conforted hys people, he hath deliuered Jerusalem. The Lord hath made bare hys holye arme, and shewed it forth in the syghte of all the Gentyles, * and all the endes of the earth hath sene the sauynge health of our God. * Away, away, get you out from thence: and touche no vncleane thynge. Go out from amonge suche: And be cleane that beare the vessels of the Lorde. For ye shall not escape by running, nor by flyinge awaye: but * the Lord shall go before you, and the God of Israell shal gather you together. Beholde, my seruaunt shal deale wysely, therefore shall he be magnified, exalted, and greatly honored. Like as the multitude shal wonder vppon him, because his face shalbe so deformed, and not as mans face, his * bewtie lyke no man: Euen so shal the multitude of the Gentiles loke vnto him, and kynges shall shut their mouthes before hym. * For they that haue not ben told of him, shal see him, and they that heard nothinge of him, shall beholde hym.

Gen.46.a Exo.1.a *4re.18.

Esa.52.c 2 Joh.1.c *Esa.49 C

Psa.98.b

Exo.13.b

D

Esa.53.c

Esa.65.c Ro.15.c

¶ The.liii. Chapter.

BVt who hath * geuen credence vnto the thing that we heard? Or to whom is the arme of the Lord knowen? For he did grow before the Lord like as a branch, and as a roote in a drye grounde. * Hee hath nether bewtye nor fauour. when we shall looke vpon him, there shalbe no fayrenes: we shall haue no luste vnto him. * He is despysed and abhorred of men, he is such a man as is full of sorowe, and as hath good experience of infirmities. We haue reckened him so vile, that we hid our faces from him, yee he was dispised, and therefore we regarded him not. Howbeit * he only hath taken on hym oure infirmities, and borne our paynes. Yet wee dydde

I Joh.22.c Ro.12.c

Esa.52.c

Heb.5.a

B

Mat.8.c 1 Pe.2.b

indge

iudge him,as thoughe he wer plagued and cast down of God,and punished: 1.cor.11. • wher as he (notwithstãding) was wounded for our offences, and smittē for our wickednes. For the chastisemēt of our peace was layd vpon him, and with hys strypes are we healed. Ps.113. C • As for vs, we haue gone all astraye (like shepe) euerypne hath turned his own way. But the lord hath heaped together vppon him, the iniquitie of vs all. He: suffered violence,and was euill intreated:and did not yet opē his Jer.11.d mouth. • He shall be led as a shepe to mat.27.b be slayne, yet shall he bee as still as a Acts.8.d lambe before the shearer,and not open 1.Co,5.e his mouth. He was had away frome prison:his cause not heard,and without any iudgement: whose generation yet who may numbre? he was cut of frō the ground of the liuing:which punishment dyd go vpon him, for the transgression of my people,whiche in dede had deserued that punishement. mat.27.e • His graue was geuen hym with ỹ condemned, and with the riche mā at his deathe. 2.cor.5.c • where as he dyd neuer 1.pet.2.d violence,nor vnright: neyther hathe there bene any disceitfulnesse in hys D mouth. • Yet hath it pleased the lord Joh.11.c thus, to bruse him with plagues, and Rom.8.d to smite him with infirmitie, ỹ when he had made his soule an offeryng for synne,he myght see long lastyng sede. And this deuice of the lord shal prosper in his hand. With trauail & labor of his soule,shal be obtain fruite,& he shall be satisfied, • by the knowledge Rom.3.c of hym, whiche is my righteous seruant: he shall iustifie the multitude, for he shall beare away their synnes. Therfore will I geue hym the multitude for his part: and he shal deuyde the spoyle with the strongest,because he geueth ouer his soul to deth. • And Mar.15. is reckened among the transgressors, Luk.23.b which neuertheles hath taken away the sinnes of the multitude,and made intercession for the mysdoers.

C The.liiij. Chapter.

1 BE glad nowe thou barein,that bearest not,reioyce,synge,& be mery thou that arte not wyth childe: For the desolate hath mo children then the maryed wyfe, saieth the Lorde. Make thy tentes wyder, and spread out the hanginges of thyne habitation:spare not,laye forth thy cordes,and make fast thy stakes: for thou shalt be multiplyed on the right syde, & on ỹ left: & thy sede shal haue ỹ Gentiles in possessiō, & dwel in ỹ desolate B cities. Feare not, for thou shalt not be confounded: Be not ashamed, for thou shalt not come to confusion: Ye, thou shalt forgette the shame of thy youth, and shalt not remembre the dishonour of thy widdowehead. For hee that made thee shalbe thy Lord, • and husbande (whose name is the • Lorde of Esa.62.a hostes) and thy redemer, shalbe euen Eze.16.b the holye one of Israell, the Lorde of 2.Cor.11 the whole world. For the Lord hath • Eze.48 called thee, beyng as a desolate sorowful woman,and as a ponge wife that hath broken her wedlocke, saieth thy God. • A litle while haue I forsaken C thee, but wyth great mercifulnes shal Esa.26.c I take the vp vnto me. When I was Psa.29.a angrye, I hyd my face from thee for a litle season,but through euerlastynge mercie haue I pardoned thee, sayeth the Lorde thy redemer. • And this is Gen.9.b vnto me as the water of Noe: for like as I haue swoorne ỹ I will not bring the water of Noe, any more vpon the world: so haue I swoorne ỹ I wil neuer be angry with the, nor reproue ỹ: 2 Re.7.a The mountaynes shall remoue, and the hylles shal fall downe: but my louing kyndnes shall not moue,and the bond of my peace shal not fall downe from thee, saith the Lord, thy mercyfull louer. Behold thou poore,ouerwhelmed wyth tempest and • wyth- Esay.6.b out comfort, I wyll make thy walles of precious stones, and thy foundation of Saphires, thy windowes of Chrystal, thy gates of fine clere stone, and al thy borders of pleasant stones. D • Thy children shall all bee taughte 1 Joh.2.b of God,and I wyll geue theim plen- and.6.c. teousnes of peace. In ryghteousnesse shalt thou bee grounded,and be farre from oppression: for the whyche thou nedest not be afrayde, nether for hynderaunce, for it shal not come nie the. Beholde, the aleaunt that was farre from me, shall dwel wyth thee, and he that ioyneth battayle agaynst the shal perishe. Beholde, I make the smyth that bloweth the coales in the fyre, and he maketh a wepon after his hãdye woorke: I make also the waster to destroye: but all the weapons that are made against the, shal not prosper.

Luk.21b Act.4.a * And as for al tonges, that shal resist thee in iudgement, thou shalt ouercõe them, and condemne them. This is the heritage of the Lordes seruantes, and their ryghteousnes commeth of me, sayth the Lord.

¶ The.lb. Chapter.

A Ecc.51.d Iahn.7.d Apo.22d * Come to the waters all yee that bee thirstye, and yee that haue no mony. Come bie, that ye may haue to eate. Come, bie wyne, and milke wythout any mony, or mony worth. Wherefore do ye laye oute your mony for the thing that feedeth not, and spende your labour about the thig that satisfieth you not? But herken, herkẽ rather vnto me, and ye shal eat of the best, and your soul shal haue her plesure in plenteousnes. Enclyne youre eares, and come vnto mee, take hede (I saye) and your soul shal lyue.

Act.13.d 3Re.7.c. B * For I wil make an euerlasting couenant wyth you, euen the sure mercies of Dauid. Beholde, I gaue hym for a wytnes amonge the folcke, for a Prince and captaine vnto the people. Lo thou shalt call an vnknowen people, and a people that had no knoweledge of thee, shal runne vnto the: because of the Lord thy God, and the holye one of Israell, whiche glorifyeth thee. Seke the Lord, whyle he maye be found: and call vpon him whyle he is nye. * Lette the vngodlye man forsake his own waies, and the vnrighteous his owne imaginatyons, and tourne againe vnto the Lord: so shall he be mercifull vnto him: and to ours

Ezec.18c Ps.103.a C God. For he is very readye to forgeue. * For thus sayth the Lorde: my thoughtes are not your thoghtes, and your waies are not my waies, but as farre as the heauens are hyer thenne the earthe, soo farre dooe my wayes excede youres, and my thoughte, youres. * And lyke as the rayne and deu.23.a snowe commeth downe from heauen and returneth not thither againe, but watereth the earth, maketh it fruitefull, and grene, that it may geue corne vnto the sower, and bread to him that eateth. So the worde also that commeth out of my mouth, shal not turne agayne voyde vnto me, but shal accõplish my wil, and prosper in the thing wherto I sende it. And so shal ye go foorthe wyth ioye, and be ledde wyth peace. The mountaines and hilles shal singe wyth you for ioye, and all the trees of the feld shal clap their handes. For thornes there shall grow Fyre trees, and the Myrre tree in the stede of bryeres. And thys shalbe doone to the prayse of the Lorde, and for an euerlasting token, that shall not be taken away.

¶ The.lvi. Chapter.

THus sayeth the Lord: * kepe equity, and do ryght, for my sauyng health shall come shortely, and my ryghteousnes shalbe opened. Blessed is the manne that doeth this & the mans child whiche kepeth the same. * He that taketh heede, that he vnhalowe not the Sabboth (that is) he that kepeth him self, that he do no euill. Then shall not the stranger which cleaueth to the Lord, say: * Alas the Lord hath shut me cleane oute from hys people. Neyther shall the * gelded man say: lo, I am a drye tree. For thus sayeth the Lorde vnto the gelded that kepeth my saboth. Name lye, that holdeth greatly of the thyng that pleaseth me, and kepeth my couenant: Vnto theim wyll I geue in my housholde, and wythin my walles, a better heritage and name, then yf they had bene called sonnes and daughters * I wyll geue them an euerlastynge name, that shall not perysshe. Againe, the straungers, that stycke to the Lorde, to serue him, and to loue hys name: * and to be hys seruantes. And all they, whych keepe theym selues, that.

A Mat.3.c Esa.58 deu.23.c B * Sa.3.b John.12 C Joh.8.c

that they vnhalowe not the Saboth, namely, that they fulfyl my couenant: Them wil I bring to my holy mountayne, and make theim ioyefull in my house of prayer. Their burnte offrynges and sacrifices shalbe accepted vpon myne aultare. * For my house shalbe called an house of prayer for all people. Thus sayeth the Lorde God which gathereth togethery scattered of Israell: I wyll bring yet another congregation to hym. Com al ye beastes of the feyld, that ye maye deuoure all the beastes of the wood. * For his watchmen are all blynd, they haue al together no vnderstandinge, they are all domme dogges, not beyng able to barcke: They are sleepye, slogysshe are they, and lye snorynge: they are shamlesse dogges, that be neuer satysfyed. The shepeherdes also in lyke maner haue no vnderstandinge, * but euerye man tourneth his owne waye, euerye one after his own couetousnes, with all his power. * Come (saye they) I wyll fetch wyne, so shall wee fil oure selues, that we maye be dronken. And do to morowe, lyke as to day: yee, and much more.

3Re, 8.f
mat.20.b
mat.11.b
D Jer.12.b
Eze.34.a
Jer.6.b.
Esa.22.b 1Cor.15

A

¶ The.lvii. Chapter.

Sap.2.b

THe * ryghteous perysheth, and no mā regardeth it in his hert. Good godlye people are taken awaye, and no manne considereth it. Namely, that the ryghteous is conuayed away from the wycked. He cōmeth into peace, and godly menne rest in their chambres, and before the godly man goeth peace. Come hither therfore ye charmers children, * ye sonnes of the aduouterer, & the whore: Wherin take ye your pleasure: Upon whō gape ye wyth your mouth, and bleare out youre tonge: Are ye not chyldren of aduoutry, and a seede of dissimulation: * Ye make youre fyre vnder the okes, and vnder all greene trees, and yee offre children in the valleies, and dens of stone. Thy part shalbe wyth the stonye rockes by the ryuer. Yea euen these shalbe thy parte. For there thou hast poured meat and drinke offering vnto them. Shoulde I delyte in that? Thou hast made thy bed vpon hye mountaynes, thou wentest vp thither, and there hast thou slayne sacrifices. * Behynde the doores and postes, hast thou sette vp thy remembraunce. Whenne thou haddest dyscouered thy selfe to an other then mee, when thou wentest vp and made thy bed wider, and wyth those I dolles hast thou made a couenaunte, and louedst their couches, where thou sawest them. Thou wentest straighte to kynges wyth oyle * and diuers oyntmentes (that is) thou haste sente thy messangers far of, and yet art thou fallen into the pit therby. Thou art werye for the multitude of thyne owne wayes, yet saydest thou neuer: I wil leue of. * Thou hast had the lyfe that thy handes wroughte, and therefore thou arte careleſſe. For when wylte thou bee abashed or feare, seinge thou hast broken thy promise, and remembrest not mee, neyther haste me in thy hert? Thinkest thou, that I also will holde my peace (as afore tyme) that thou feresst me not? Ye, vtterly I wil declare thy goodnes and thy workes, but they shal not profit the: whē thou cryest, let thy chosen heap deliuer the. But the wind shal blow thē foorthe, and vanitie shal take theim all away. * Neuertheleſſe, they that putte theyr trust in me, shal inherite the land: and haue my holye hill in possession. And therfore thus sayth he: * Make plain make plain: and clense the strete, take vp the stumbling blockes out of that waye that leadeth to my people. For thus sayth the hie and excellent, euen he that dwelleth in euerlastingnesse, whose name is the holy one: * I dwel hie aboue: and in the Sanctuary, and wyth hym also, that is of a contryte and humble spyryte doe I dwell: that I may heale a troubled mynde, and a contryte hearte. * For I chyde not euer, and am not wroathe wythoute ende. But the blastynge goeth from mee, and is included in the bodye, and I made the breathe. I am wroathe wyth hym for hys couetousnesse.

Eze.16.b
Esa.65.a Jere.7.a
deu.28.b
deu.37.b
C
Esa.40.c
Psa.50.b
Esa.66.a Ps.103.a
Jer.3.e.

I smyte hym, I hide me, and am angry, when he tourneth himselfe, and followethe the byaye of hys owne heart. I haue sene hys wayes, and I Luk.15a heale him. I leade him and restore to him comforte, and to those that were sorye for him. I make the fruites of Eph. 2.c thankesgeuing, that he maye saye: Peace peace. vnto theym that are far of, and to them that are nie, sayeth the Lorde, and I make him whole. But the wycked are lyke the ragynge sea, that cannot rest, whose water soweth with the mire and grauel Euē so the Esa.48d wicked haue no peace, sayth God.

¶ The.lviii.Chapter.

A CRye now, as loude as thou Ezec.3.c canst. Leaue not of, lifte vp thy Jer.19.a voyce lyke a trompette, and shewe my people theyr offences, and the house of Jacob their sinnes. For they seke me daylye, and wyll knowe my wayes, euen as it were a people that dyd ryghte, and had not forsaken the statutes of theyr God. They argue with me concerning right iudgement, and will be nye vnto GOD.
Mat.9.b Wherefore faste wee (saye they) and thou seest it not? we put our lyues to straightnes, and thou regardest it not.
Esay.1.b Beholde, when ye fast, your iust remaineth still: for ye doo no lesse violence to youre detters: loe, ye faste to B strife and debate, and to smyte with the fyst of wickednes. Now ye shall not fast thus that you mai make your Jac.7.a. voice be herd aboue. Thinke ye this fast pleaseth me, that a manne shoulde chasten hym selfe for a daye, and to wrythe his head about like an hoope, and to lye vpon the earth in an hearie cloth? Should that be called fasting, or a day that pleaseth the Lord? Doth not this fastyng rather please me, that Deu.15a. thou loose him oute of bondage, that is in thy daunger? that thou breake the othe of wicked bargaines? that thou let the oppressed go fre, and take from them all maner of burthens? to Gen.18b deale thy breade to the hungrye, and mat.15,c. bryng the poore wanderyng home into thy house? when thou seest the naked that thou couer hym, & hyde not thy face from thy neyghbour (and despyse not thyne owne kynsfolke.) Then shall C Luk.11b thy light breake forth as ye morning, thy health florysshe ryght shortly: thy ryghteousnes shall go before thee, and the glorye of the Lorde shall embrace Pro.21b thee. Then yf thou calleste, the Lorde shall aunswere thee: yf thou cryest, he shall saye: here I am, Yea, if thou layest away from thee thy burthens, and holdest thy fyngers, and ceasest from Jach.7& maca.5.b blasphemous talkyng, yf thou haste compassion vpon the hungry, and refressheste the troubled soule: Then shall thy lyght spryng out in the darknes, and thy darkenes shalbe as the noone daye. The Lorde shall euer bee thy guyde, and satisfye the desyre of thyne heart in the tyme of drought, and fyll thy bones with mary. Thou shalt be Joh.4.b lyke a fresh watred garden, and lyke the fountayne of water, that neuer leaueth runnynge. Then the places that euer haue bene wast, shalbe builded of thee: there shalte thou laye a foundacion for many kynreds. Thou shalte be called the maker of hedges, and the builder againe of the waye of the Sabboth. Yea, yf thou turne thy D Esa.55e feete in the Sabboth, so that thou do not the thyng whych pleaseth thy selfe in my holye daye: and thou call the pleasaunt, holy, and glorious Sabboth of the Lorde, and that thou geue hym the honour, so that thou dooe not after thine owne ymagination, neyther seke thyn owne wyl, nor speake thine owne wordes. Then shalt thou haue thy pleasure in the Lorde, and I wyll cary thee hye aboue the erth, and fede thee with the heritage of Jacob, thy father: for the Lordes own mouth hath so promised,

¶ The.lix.Chapter.

BEholde the Lordes hande is Esa.40c not so shortened that it cannot Nu.11c helpe, neyther is hys eare so *Jer.5c stopped that it maye not heare. But Esay.1 your mysdeedes haue separated you from your GOD, and youre synnes hyde hys face from you, that he heareth

reth you not. For your handes are defyled wyth bloud, and youre fyngers wyth vnryghteousnes: Your lyppes speake lesynges: and youre tonge letteth out wyckednes. No man regardeth ryghteousnes, and no man iudgeth truely. Euery manne hopeth in vayne thinges, and ymagineth disceat Job.15.d • conceaueth wearines, and bryngeth Psal.7.b forth euyll. They breede Cockatryce egges, and weaue the spiders webbe: Who so eateth of theyr eyges, dyeth. But yf one treade vpon theym: there commeth vp a serpente. Theyr webbe maketh no clothe, and they maye not couer them wyth theyr labors. Their dedes are the deedes of wyckednesse, and the woorke of robbery is in their Pro.1.a. handes. • Their feete runne to euyll: Psal.5.d and they make haste to shedde inno-• Ro.13 cent bloude, theyr councelles are wicked councels, harme • and destruction are in theyr wayes. But the waye of peace they knowe not. In theyr goynges is no equitie: their wayes are so croked: that whosoeuer goeth therin, knoweth of no peace. And thys is the cause that equitie is so farre from vs, and that ryghteousnes commeth
B not nye vs. • We loke for lyghte, lo: it Esay.59.a is darkenes: for the moznynge shyne, Job.30.c • deu.28.c se, we walke in the darke. • We grope Joh.19.c lyke the blynde vppon the wall, wee grope euē as one that hath none eies. We stumble at the none day, as though it were toward night: In the fatting places, lyke men that are halfe deade. We roze al lyke Beares, and mourne styll lyke doues. We loke for equitye, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs. For oure offences are manye before thee, and our synnes testifye agaynst vs. Yea, we must confesse that we offende, and knowledge that we do amisse: Namely transgres and dissemble agaynste the Lorde, and fall away from our God, vttinge presumptcous and traytorous ymaginations and casting false matters in our hartes. And therfore is equitie gone Dis.3.a. aside, and ryghteousnes standeth far of, • truth is fallen down in the strete, and the thing that is plaine and euen, maye not be shewed. Ye the trueth is taken awaye, and he that refrayneth hym selfe from euyl, must be spoyled. When the Lorde sawe this, it displesed him sore, that there was no equitye. Hee sawe also, that there was no man ryghteous, and he wondred that ther was no man to helpe him. Wherfore he helde him by hys owne power, and he sustayned him by hys owne Ephe.6b ryghteousnes. • He put ryghteousnes 1 Thes.5a vpon him for a brest plate, and set the helmet of health vpon his heade. Hee put on wrath in stede of clothing, and toke geleusye aboute him for a cloke: (lyke as when a manne goeth forth wrathfullye to recompence hys enemies, and to be auenged of his aduersaryes.) Namely, that he myghte recompence and reward the Ilandes, where through the name of the Lord might be feared, from the rising of the Sunne: and his maiesty, vnto the going downe of the same. For hee shall com as a violent water streme which C the winde of the Lorde hath moued.
• But vnto Sion there shall come a Psa.131.a redemer, and vnto theym in Jacob Ro.11.b. that tourne from wyckednes, sayeth the Lord. I will make thys couenant wyth theym (sayeth the Lord:) My spyrite that is vpon the, and the wordes which I haue put in thy mouth, shall neuer go out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy childers childzen, from this tyme forth for euermore, worlde without ende, saith the Lorde.

¶ The.lx. Chapter.

A
GEtte thee vp betymes, and be Act.26.c bzight (O Jerusalem) for thy Eyhe.5b • lyght commeth and the glory of the Lord is risen vp vpon thee. For lo, while the darknes and cloude couereth the earthe and the people, the Lord shall shew the light, & his glory Esa.19d shalbe sene in thee. • The Gentiles shal come to thy lyghte, and kinges to the bzyghtnes that spzingeth forth vpō thee. • Lyft vp thyne eies, and loke Esa.49.d round aboute thee. All these gather Mar.8.d
them selues: and come to thee: thy sonnes shal come vnto thee from far, and Ge.15.a

thy daughters shall gather thē selues to the on euery syde. Then thou shalt se this: & be glorious, thou shalt marueil exceadyngly, and thine hert shall be opened: when the aboundaunce of the sea shalbe cōuerted vnto the (that is) when the ryches of the Gentiles shall come vnto thee. The multitude of Camels shall couer thee, the dromadaries of Madian and Epha. * All Esa.72 b Mat.2.b they of Saba shall come, bryngynge gold and incense, and shewynge the prayse of the Lorde. All the cattell of Ceder shalbe gathered vnto thee, the rams of Nabaioth shall serue thee, to be offred acceptatably vpon mine aulter, * whiche I haue chosen, and in Heb.2 3b 25 the house of my glorye which I haue garnyshed. But whatare these, that flee here lyke the cloudes and as the doues flyinge to their wyndowes? The Iles also shal waite for me, and specially the shippes of Tharsis: that they may bryng thy sonnes from far, and their syluer and their golde with them, vnto the name of the Lorde thy God, vnto the holy one of Israel, that Esa.54 d hath glorified the. * Straungers shal buyld vp thy walles, and their kings shal do the seruice. For when I was angry, I smote thee: and of my mercy Apo.21 d I pardoned thee. * Thy gates shall stand open still both day and night, & neuer be shut, that ye host of the Gentiles may come, and that their kinges may be brought vnto the. For euerye people & kingdome that serueth not the, shall perysshe, & be destroyed with vtter destruction. The glory of Libanus shal com vnto the. The fyr trees, Boxes & Ceders together to garnish the place of my sanctuary, for I wyll
C glorifye the place of my fete. Moreouer, those shal come kneling vnto the, that haue vexed the: and all they that despised thee, shall fall downe at thy fote. Thou shalt be called the citye of the Lord. Sion the citye of the holye one of Israel. Because thou hast ben forsaken & hated: so that no man went thorowe the: I wyll make the glorious forcuer & euer, & ioyfull thorowe Esa.49 c out al ye posterities: * Thou shalt suck the milke of the Gentiles, and kinges breastes shall fede thee. And thou shalt knowe that I the Lord am the Sauiour & redemer, the mighty one of Jacob. For brasse, will I geue the gold, and for yron siluer: for wood brasse, & for stones yron. I wyll turne thyne D oppression into peace, and thyne exactions into ryghteousnesse. Violence and robbery shall neuer be heard of in thy lande, neyther harme and destruction within thy borders. Thy wals shalbe called health: and thy gates the prayse of God. * The sunne shall ne- Apo.21 uer bee thy daye lyght: and the lyght of the Moone shall neuer shyne vnto the: but the Lord himselfe shalbe thin euerlastinge light, and thy God shalbe Apo.22 thy glory. * Thy sunne shal neuer go down, and thy moone shal not be hid: for the Lord him selfe shalbe thine euerlastyng lyghte, and thy sorowfull dayes shalbe ended. Thy people shall be all ryghteous: and possesse the land euer, the floure of my plantynge: the worke of my handes, wherof I wyll reioyce. The youngeste and leaste shall growe into a thousande, and the simplest into a strong people. I the Lord shall shortly bryngе thys thyng to passe in his tyme.

¶ The .xxi. Chapter.

THe spyrete of the Lord God is I
* vpon me, for the Lord hath an- Luke.4
noynted me, and sente mee, to preache good tidinges vnto the poore, that I might bynd vp the wounded hertes, * that I might preach deliue- Esa.57 b raūce to the captiue, & open the prison to them that are bound: that I might declare the acceptable yere of ye Lord, and the day of the vengeaunce of our mat.15.a God: * that I might comfort al them that are in heauynesse, that I myghte geue vnto them that mourne in Sion, that I might geue I say, beawty, in steade of asshes, ioyfull oyntmente for syghynge, pleasaunte raymente, for an heauy mynd: That they might B be called trees of righteousnes, a planting of the Lord for him to reioyce in. They shal buyld the long rough wilderneslle, and sette vp the olde deserte.

They

They shall repeyre the waste places, and such as haue ben void thorowout many generations. Straungers shal stande and fede youre cattell, and the Aelantes shall be your plowmen, and Esa.66.a dressers of your vines. ✠ But ye shall Ier.33.d be named the Priestes of the Lorde & men shall call you the seruants of our God. Ye shall enioy the goodes of the Gentiles, and triumphe in their substance. For your greate reproofe you shall haue double ioy, and for shame shall they haue ioye of their portion.
For they shall haue double possession in their lande, and euerlastynge ioye shall be wyth them. For I the Lord ℣ which loue ryght, and hate robbery, (though it were offred me, shal make their workes full of faithfulnesse, and make an euerlastyng couenant wyth them. Their seed also, and their generation shalbe knowen among the Gē tiles, and among the people. All they that see them, shal know that they are Luke.2.b the hye blessed sede of the Lorde. And Ps.133. therfore ✠ I am ioyfull in the Lorde, and my soule reioyceth in my God.
✠ For he hath put vpon me the garment of saluation, & couered me with the mantell of righteousnesse. ✠ He shall decke mee lyke a Bridegroome, and as a bryde that hath her apparell vppon her. For like as the grounde bryngeth foorthe fruite, & as the gar-dein shooteth forth sede: so shal the lord God cause righteousnes and praise to God to flourysh forth before all ℟ the Heathen.

℣ The.lxii. Chapter.

FOr Sions sake therfore, will I not hold my tung, and for Je rusalems sake, I will not ceasse vntil their righteousnes breake forth as the shyning light, and their saluation as a burnyng lampe. Then shall the Gentils se thy righteousnes, and al Joh.1.c kynges thy glory. Thou shalt be na-Apo.2.b med with ✠ a newe name, whiche the ℟ mouth of the Lord shall shew. Thou shalt be a crowne in the hande of the Lorde, and a glorious garlande in the hand of thy God. Frō this time forth thou shalt neuer be called the forsakē, & thy land shall no more be called the wildernes, but thou shalte bee called, My pleasure is in her, & thy land shal be called: The maried woman: for the Eze.16.b Lord loueth thee, and thy land shalbe Osee.2.c ioined in mariage. ✠ And like as a yōg Esa.54.a man taketh a daughter to mariage, so shall thy sonnes be maried vnto thee.
And as a bridegrome is gladde of hys bryde, so shall thy God reioyce ouer ℣ thee. I haue sette watchemen vpon thy walles (O Ierusalem) whiche shall neyther ceasse day nor nyghte to preache the Lorde. And yee also that remembre the Lorde, ye shall not kepe hym close, nor leaue to speake of hym, vntyll Ierusalem be set vp, and made the praise of the worlde. The Lorde hath sworne by his ryght hande, and by his strong arme, that frome hensefoorth, he wyll not geue thy corne to be meate for thyne ennemies, nor thy wine, wherin thou hast labored) to be drynke for thy straungers. But they that haue gathered in the corne, shall eate it, and geue thankes to the Lord: ℟ and they that haue borne in the vine, shall drynk it in the court of my sanctuarie. Go you, go you thorough the gates, make clean the way for the peo ple, make playn, make playn thy foot pathe, and take away the stones oute of it, and set out a tokē for the people.
Esa.40.b Behold, the Lorde proclaimeth vnto Zach.9.b the ends of the worlde: ✠ tel the daugh Mat.21. ter Sion: see, thy sauioure commeth, behold, he bryngeth hys treasure with hym, and his workes go before hym.
Esa.54.a For they whom the Lord deliuereth, shalbe called the ✠ holy people: and as for thee, thou shalt be named, the great ly occupied, and not the forsaken citie.

℣ The.lxiii. Chapter.

WHat is he this, that commeth ℟ from Edom, with redde coloured cloathes of Bosra?
(which is so costly cloathe) and commeth in so myghtily with all his strengthe. I am he that teacheth ryghteousnesse, and am of power to helpe. wherfore then is thy clothyng red, and thy raiment like his that trea deth in the wynepresse? ✠ I haue trode
the

the prese my felf alone, and of all people there is not one with me. Thus will I trede downe myne enemyes in my wrath, and set my fete vpon the in my indignacion. And their bloode shalbe sprong vpon my clothes, and so Esa.34b wyl I stain al my raiment. • For the daye of vengeaunce is assigned in my herte, and the yeare when my people shalbe deliuered, is come. I loked a-boute me, and there was no man to shew me any helpe: I marueyled that no man helde me vp. Then I held me by mine owne arme, and my feruent-nesse sustayned me. And thus will I tread downe the people in my wrath, and bath them in my displeasure, and vpō the erth wil I lay their strength.
Exo.15a • I wyll declare the goodnes of the Esa.12a Lord, yea, and the prayse of the Lorde for all that he hath geuen vs, for the great good that he hath done for Israell: which he hath geuē them, of his owne fauoure, and accordynge to the multitude of hys louynge kyndnes.
For he sayd: These, no doubt are my people, and no shrinking childzen, and C so he was their sauyoure. In their Exo.13d troubles, he • was also troubled with them, and the angell that went forth frō his presence, deliuered them: Of verye loue and kyndnesse that he had vnto thē, redemed them: He hath born them, and caryed thē vp, euer sins the worlde began. But after they prouoked him to wrath, and vexed his holy mind, he was their enemy, & fought a gaynst them him self. Yet remembred Israell the old time of Moyses & his Exo.14c people • saying: Wher is he ỹ brought •psa.77b them from the water of the sea • with them that fede his shepe? where is he that hath geuen his holy spirit amōg them? he led them by the righte hande of Moyses with his glorious arme: deuyding the water before thē (wher by he gat hym self an euerlastynge name) he ledde them in the depe, as an horse is ledde in the playne, that they shold not stomble, as a tame beast goeth in the field: and the breath geuē of D God, geueth him rest. Thus, O god, haste thou led thy people to make thy self a glorious name withall. • Loke downe then from heauen, and behold the dwellyng place of thy sanctuarye, and thy glory. How is it that thy gelousy, thy strength, the multitude of thy mercyes, and thy louynge kyndenesse, will not be entreated of vs? Yet arte thou our • father. For Abraham knoweth vs not, neyther is Israell acquaynted with vs. But thou Lord art oure father and redemer, and thy name is euerlastyng. O Lord, wherfore hast thou led vs out of thy way?
• wherfore hast ỹ hardened our herts, ỹ we fear the not? Be at ons with vs agayne, for thy seruauntes sake, & for the generacion of thyn heritage. Thy people haue had but a lytle of thy sanc tuarye in possession, for our enemyes haue troden down the holy place. And we were thyne from the beginning:
when thou waste not their Lord, for they haue not called vpon thy name.

De.26.d Baru.2c Mat.6.b Luk.11c
psa.119b

¶ The .lxiiii. Chapter.

O That thou wouldest cleane I the heauē in sondre, and come downe: that the mountaynes might melt away at thy presence, like as at an hote fire: and that the malicious might boyle as the water doeth vpō the fire: Wherby thy name might be knowen amonge thyne enemyes, and that the Gentyles myght tremble before thee. When thou wrough-test wonderous strange worckes, we loked not for them. Thou cammest downe, and the hyles melted at thy presence. For sins the begynnynge of the worlde, it hath not ben heard or percepued, • neyther hath anye eye sene an other God beside thee: which doest so much for them, that put their truste in thee. Thou helpest him that doeth ryghte with cherefulnesse, and them that thynke vppon thy wayes.
But lo, thou hast bene angrye, for we offended, and haue bene euer in sinne, thoughe the worlde hath cleaued to them: • yet shall we be saued. We are all as an vncleane thynge, and all our ryghteousnesse are as the clothes stayned with the floures of a wom̄:

1Cor.2
B Rom.3b

we

C we fall euerychone as the leafe: for oure synnes carye vs awaye lyke the wynde. There is no man that calleth vppon thy name, that ſtandeth vp to take holde by thee. Therefore hydeſt thou thy face from vs, and conſumeſt vs becauſe of our ſynnes. But now Rom.9.f O Lorde, thou father of ours: * we are thy clay, and thou art our potter:
Pſ.79.a and we all are the worke of thy han-Jer.10.d des. Bee not to ſore diſpleaſed (O D lord) and kepe not our offence to long in thy remembrance, but conſider that we are all thy people. The citie of Mich.3.c thy Sanctuarie lyeth waſt. * Sion is a wylderneſſe, and Jeruſalem a deſert. Oure holy houſe whych is oure beautie, where oure fathers prayſed thee, is brente vp: yea, all oure commodities and pleaſures are waſted awaye. Wylte thou not bee intreated, (Lord) for all this? wylt thou hold thy peace, and ſcourge vs ſo ſore?

C The. lxv. Chapter.

A
Eſa.51.c THey ſeeke me, that hytherto haue not aſked for me: they fynde me, that hytherto haue Ro.10.a not ſought me. * I haue ſayd: I am here, I am here. I am founde of a people that neuer called vppon my name. For thus long haue I euer holden out my handes to an vnfaithfull people that go not the ryght way, but after their owne imaginations: Eo a Deu.12. people that is euer defying me to my and.14.b face. * They make their oblations in *Ex.20. gardeins, and their ſmoke vpon * aulters of brycke, they lurke among the Deu.12. graues, and lye in the dennes al night Le.11.a * They eate ſwynes fleſhe, & vnclean brothe is in their veſſels. If thou cõmeſt nye them, they ſay: touche me not for I am holyer then thou. All theſe Mat.25. men when I am angry, ſhall be turB ned to ſmoake and * fyer, that ſhall burne for euer. Behold, it is written Jer.7.a before my face, and ſhall not be forgot Eſa.57.a ten, but recõpenced. * I ſhal reward Ezr.11. it them into their boſome: I meane your myſdedes, and the myſdeedes of poure fathers togyther (ſayeth the Lorde) whyche haue made their ſmokes vpon the mountaynes, and blaſphemed me vpon the hilles: therfore wil I meaſure their olde deedes into their boſome agayn. Moreouer, thus Ro.11.c ſayth the Lorde: * lyke as when one wold gather holy grapes, men ſay vnto him: Breake it not of, for it is holy:
1.Re.19.a * euen ſo wil I doalſo for my ſeruan-Rom.9.c tes ſakes, that I will not deſtroy the all. But I wil take a ſede out of Jacob, and out of Juda one, to take poſſeſſion of my hyll. My choſen ſhall poſſeſſe theſe thinges, and my ſeruantes ſhall dwelle there. Saron ſhalbe Joſu.7.b a ſhepefolde, and * the valey of Achor ſhall geue the ſtallynge for the cattell Pſa.1.c of my people that feare me. * But as Jer.7.b for you, ye are they that haue forſake the Lord, and haue forgotten my holy hyll. Ye haue ſet vp an altar vnto Jupiter, and geuen riche drinkeofferynges vnto the planets. Therfore wyll I number you with the ſweard, that ye ſhalbe deſtroyed all togyther. For when I called, no man gaue me anſwere: when I ſpake, ye herkned not vnto me, but did wyckednelſe before myne eies, and choſe the thinge that pleaſed me not. Therfore thus ſayth the Lord God: Behold, my ſeruantes ſhall eate, but ye ſhall ſuffer hunger: Behold, my ſeruants ſhall drynk, but ye ſhall ſuffer thyrſt. Behold, my ſeruantes ſhalbe mery, but ye ſhalbe confounded. Behold, my ſeruantes ſhall reioyce for very quietneſſe of hearte. But ye ſhall crye for ſorow of heart, and complayn for veration of mynd. Youre name ſhall you leaue accurſed among my choſen: for God the Lorde ſhal ſlea you, and call his ſeruants by Jere.9.b an other name. * who ſo reioyceth 1.cor.1.c vpon earthe, ſhall reioyce in the true 2.cor.11 God. And who ſo ſweareth vppon earth, ſhall ſweare in the true God. For the olde enemitie ſhalbe forgotten, and taken awaye out of my ſight.
2.pet.3.b * For lo, I ſhall make a newe heauen Apo.21. and a newe earth. And as for the old, they ſhall neuer be thought vpon, nor kept in mynd: but the Lord ſayth: be D gladde, and euermore reioyce, for the thynges that I ſhall doo. For why?

I ſhall

Beholde, I shall make a ioyfull Ie-rusalem, and hys people ioyefull: yea, I my selfe wyll reioyce wyth Jerusalem, and be gladde with my people.
Apoc.21.a • And the voyce of weepyng and wailinge shall not be hearde in her from thence forth. There shall neyther bee childe nor old man, that haue not their full dayes. But when the child commeth to an hundred yeare olde, it shal dye. And if he that is an hundred yeres Deu.18.c of age, doue wrange, he shalbe cursed.
• They that builde houses, and dwel in them: they shall plant vyneyardes, and eate the fruit of them. They shall not builde, and another possesse: they Gen.2.b shal not plant and another eate. • But Jer.17.b the lyfe of my people shalbe like a tre, Psal.1.a and so shal the worke of their hands.
My chosen shal lyue longe, they shall not labourne in vayne, nor beget wyth trouble: for they are the hye blessed seede of the Lorde, and theyr fruites wyth theym. And it shalbe, that or e-uer they call, I shall answere theym.
while they are yet but thinking how Esa.11.b to speake, I shall heare theym. • The wolfe and the lambe shall feede together, and the Lyon shal eate haye lyke Gen.3.c the bullocke. • But earthe shalbe the serpentes meate. There shal no man hurt nor slaye another, in all my holie hill, sayth the Lord.

¶ The.lxvi. Chapter.

A
3 Re.8.a Thus sayth the Lord: • Heauen 2 Pa.6.c. is my seate, and the earth is my Acts.7.f foote stole. Where shall nowe the house stande that ye will build vn to mee? And where shalbe the place, that I wil dwel in? As for these thin ges, my hande hath made them al, and Psal.50. they are all created, sayeth the Lorde.
Esa.57.c • Which of them shall I then regard?
Euen him that is poore and of a lowe ly troubled spirit, and standeth in awe of my wordes. For whoso slayeth an oxe for me, dooth me so great dyshon-oure as hee that kylleth a manne.
Hee that killeth a sheepe for me, knet cheth a dogge. He that bringeth mee meate offerynges, offereth swynes bloud: Who so maketh a memorial of B incense, prayseth the thing that is vnryghte. Yet take they suche wayes in hand, and their soule deliteth in these Iob.6.d. abhominations. • Therfore wil I al so haue pleasure in laughinge them to Pro.1.b scorne, and the thing that they feare, Esa.65.b wyll I bring vpon them. • For whē
I called, no man gaue answer: whē I spake, they would not heare. But dyd wyckednesse before myne eyes, and chose the things that displeased me. Heare the word of the Lord all ye that feare the thynge whiche he speaketh: Your brethrē that hate you, and cast you out for my names sake, saye: The Lorde is greuous agaynst vs, C but you shal see hym in ioye whē they Zach.14 shalbee confounded. • Then shall bee hearde a greate noyse from the Cytye and the temple, the voyce of the Lord, that wil reward, and recompence his enemyes: lyke as when a wyfe bringeth forth a manne chylde, or euer she suffre the payne of the birth, and an-guishe of the trauayle. Who euer hard or saw such thinges? doth the ground beare in one daye? or are the people borne all at ones, as Sion trauayled D in childe birth and bare her soonnes?
Ge.16, For thus sayth the Lorde. • Am I he that maketh other to beare, and beare not my selfe? Am not I he that bea-teth and maketh barē? saith thy God?
Mat.5.c Reioice with Jerusalem, and be glad wyth her, all yee that loue her.
• Be ioyefull wyth her, all yee that mourned for her. For yee shall sucke consorte out of her breastes: and be satisfied. Ye shall taste, and haue delyte in the plenteousnes of her power.
For thus sayeth the Lord: beholde, I will let peace into her, lyke a waterfloude, and the myghte of the Hethen lyke a flowynge streame. Then shall ye sucke, ye shalbe borne vpon her sy-des, and be ioyefull vppon her knees.
For like as a child is consorted of his Pro.17 mother, so shall I consort you, and ye Eze.37 shalbe consorted in Jerusalem. And E when ye see this, your heart shall re-ioyce, • and youre bones shall flourysh lyke an herbe. Thus shall the hand of the Lorde be knowen among hys seruauntes, and his indignation amōg hys enemies. For beholde, the Lorde shal come wyth fyre, and hys charette shalbe like a whirlwind, ỳ he may re cōpence his vengeāce in his wrath, & his indignation with ỳ flame of fyre.
the

For the Lorde shall iudge all flesshe F wyth the fyre, and wyth hys sweard: and there shalbe a great numbre slaine of the Lorde. Such as haue made thē selues holy and cleane in the gardens, and those that haue eatē swines flesh, myce, and other abhominations, shalbee taken awaye together, sayeth the Lorde. For I wyll come to gather al people and tonges wyth theyr woorkes and ymaginations: these shal com and see my glorye. Unto them shal I geue a token and sende certayne of thē (that be deliuered) amonge the Gen- G tyles: into Cilicia, Affrica, and Lidia, Esa.94.a where men can handle bowes) into Italie, and also Greke land. • They yles far of: that haue not hearde speake of mee, and haue not seene my glorye, Esa.64.a shal preache my praise among the Gē tiles, and shal bring al youre brethren for an offeryng vnto the LORDE, oute of all the people, vppon horses, charets, and horse litters, vpon mules and cartes to Jerusalem, my holye hyll (sayeth the LORDE) lyke as the childzen of Israel bring the ofkring in cleane vessels, to the house of Esa.61.a the Lord. • And I shall take out cer- Ze.1.b tayne of theym for to bee priestes and Ro.11.a Leuites, sayth the Lord: For lyke as the newe heauen and the newe earth which I wil make, shalbe fast stablished by me (sayth the Lord,) So shal your seede, and your name contynue, and there shalbe a newe Moone for the other, and a newe Sabboth for the other, and all flesshe shall come to worship before me (sayth the Lorde) And they shal go forth, and loke vpon Mat.9.a the carios of thē that haue trāgressed against me. • For their wormes shall not die, neither shal their fire be quē ched, and al flesh shal abhorre theym.

¶ The end of the booke of the Prophete Esay.

¶ The boke of the Prophete Jeremye.

¶ The first Chapter.

THese are the ser- A mons of Jeremye the sonne of Helki- ah the priest, one of theym that dwelt at • Anathote in the Jere.11.a lande of Ben Ja- min, when the Lorde hadde fyrst spo- ken wyth hym, in the tyme of Jo- siah, the sonne of Amon, kynge of Juda, in the thirtene yeare of hys reygne: and so durynge vnto the time of Jehoakim, the sonne of Josiah kynge of Juda, • and vntyll the .xi. 4.re.25.a yere of Zedekiah the sonne of Josiah Jer.39.a kynge of Juda were ended: when Jerusalem was taken, euen in the fyfthe Moneth. The woorde of the Lorde spake thus vnto mee: • Before Esa.44.a I fashyoned thee in thy mothers Psa.70.a wombe, I dydde knowe thee. And or B euer thou waste borne, I sanctifyed thee, and ordeyned thee, to be a Pro- phete vnto the people. Then sayde I: • Oh Lorde GOD, I can not Exi. speake, for I am yet but yonge. And Acte. the Lorde aunswered me thus: Saye et not soo: I am to yonge: • For thou Mat. shalt go to all that I shall sende thee vnto, • and whatsoeuer I commaund 1 Cor. thee, that shalt thou speake. Be not afrayed of their faces, for I am with the, to deliuer thee, sayth the Lorde. C
• And with that, the Lorde stretched Psal. 6.a out his hand, and touched my mouth, Jer.18.b. and the same Lord sayd vnto me: Be- holde: I putte my woordes in thy mouth, and behold, this daye do I set the ouer the people, and kyngdomes, that thou mayest roote oute, breake of, destroye, and make waste: and that b thou mayest buylde vppe and plante: After thys, the Lorde spake vnto me, saying: Jeremy, what seest thou? And I sayd: I see a rod of an almond tree.

Then:

Then ſayd the Lorde vnto me: thou haſt ſene ryght, for I wyll make haſt ſpedely vpon my worde, to perfourme it. It happened after warde, that the Lorde ſpake to me agayne, and ſayde: What ſeeſt thou? And I ſayde, I doo ſee a ſeethynge potte, lokynge from oute of the Northe. Then ſayde the Lorde vnto mee: Oute of the Northe ſhall come a plage vpon all the dwellers of the lande. For lo, I wyll call Jer.24.d D all the kynredes of the kyngdomes of the Northe, ſayeth the LORD, And they ſhall come, and euerye one ſhall ſet hys ſeate in the gates of Ieruſalem, and in all theyr walles round about, and in all the cityes of Iuda. And thorowe them, ſhal I declare my iudgemente, vppon all the wyckednesse of thoſe men that haue forſaken me: that haue burnt incenſe vnto ſtraunge goddes, and worſhipped the worcks of their owen handes.
Ezec.3.a • And therefore gyrde vp thy loynes, aryſe, and tell them all, that I geue the in commaundement. Feare them not, leſt I deſtroye thee before them.
Jer.15.d • For behold, this day do I make the a ſtronge defenced towne, an yron pyller, and a braſen wall agaynſt the hole lande, againſt the kinges & mighty men of Iuda, agaynſt the prieſtes and people of the lande. They ſhall fyght agaynſt the, but they ſhal not be 3 able to ouercome thee, for I am with in thee, to deliuer the, ſayth the Lord.

The.ii. Chapter.

A MOreouer, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying: go thy way, cry in the eares of Ieruſalem, and ſaye, Thus ſayeth the Lorde, I remember thee for the kindnes of thy youth, and because of thy ſtedfaſt loue: at the time of thy diſpoſing, in that thou folowedſt me thorowe the wilderneſſe, in an vntilled land. Iſraell was an halowed thing vnto the Lorde, and ſo was his firſte frutes. • All they that deuoure Iſraell Zach.2.d ſhall offend: miſfortune ſhal fall vpon them ſayth the Lord. Heare therfore the worde of the lord, O thou houſe of Jacob, and all the generations of the houſe of Iſrael. Thus ſayth the Lord B What vnfaythfulneſſe found your fathers in me, that they wente ſo far aſwaye fro me, falſlynge to lyghtneſſe, & beyng ſo vayne? They thought not in their herts: Where haue we left the Lord, that brought vs out of the land of Egypte, • that led vs throughe the Exo.14.f
wylderneſſe, thorough a deſerte and rough lande, through a dry and deadly land, yea, a land that no man hadde gone thorough, and wherin no manne Deu.6.b hadde dweite. • And when I hadde broughte you into a pleaſaunte well builded land, that ye might enioy the frutes and all the commodities of the ſame: ye wente foorth and defiled my lande, and broughte myne heritage to abhomination. The Prieſtes them ſelues ſayde not: Where is the Lorde? They that had the lawe in their handes, knewe me not: The ſhepeherdes offended agaynſt me. The Prophets C did ſeruice vnto Baall, and folowed ſuch thinges as ſhall bryng theym no profite. Wherfore I am conſtrayned (ſayth the Lord), to make my cõplaint vpon you, and vppon youre childrens childrẽ: Go into the Iles of Cethim and loke well: ſend vnto Cedar, take diligent hede, and ſee, whether ſuche thinges be done ther, wether the Gẽtiles them ſelues deale ſo falſelye and vntruely wyth their goddes (which yet, are no goddes in deede.) But my people haue geuen ouer their hye honour for a thing that maye not helpe them. Be aſtonished (O ye heauens) be afrayed and abaſhed at ſuch a thing ſayth the Lorde. For my people haue done two euyls. They haue forſaken me the well of the • water of lyfe, and Jer.17.b digged them pyttes, yea vyle and broken pyttes, that can holde no water. Joh.4.b Exo.4.b
Is Iſrael a bonde ſeruaunt, or one of the houſhold? why then is he ſo ſpoiled? Why do they roze and crye then vpõ him, as a Lyõ? They haue made Eſay.1.a his lande waſt. • hys cities are ſo brẽt vp, that there is no man dwelling in them. Yea, the children of Noph and Tophnes haue defiled thy necke.

• Commeth

Jer. 32. c * Cōmeth not this vnto thee, because D thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, euer sins he led thee by the way? And what hast thou now to do in ỹ strete of Egypt? to drinke the water of Ni lus? Either what makest thou in the way of Assiria? To drinke water of Job. 22 b the flood? * Thine owne wyckednes shal reproue the, and thy tournyng a waye shall condempne thee: that thou mayest knowe and vnderstand, howe euyll and hurtfull a thinge it is, that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, & not feared him, saith the Lord God Esa. 45 a of hoostes. * I haue euer broken thy yoke of old, and burst thy bondes: yet Jere. 3. b sayest thou: * I will no more offende, but (lyke an harlot) thou runnest a bout vpon all hye hylles, and among all grene trees, where as I planted thee as a noble vyne, and a good rote, Esay. 5. a whose sede is all faythful. * How art thou turned then into a bytter, vn fruitfull, and strange grape? Yea, and that so sore, that though thou washe the with Nitrus, and make thy selfe to sauour with that swete smellynge herbe of Borith: yet in my sight thou art stayned with thy wyckednesse, saith the Lord thy god. Say not now E I am not vncleane, and I haue not fo
Gre. 17 b lowed Baal. * Loke vpon thyn owne Eia. 37 a wayes in the woodes, valeyes and Eze. 16 b dennes: so shalte thou knowe, what thou hast done. Thou art like a swift Dromedarye, that goeth easelye hys waye, and thy wantonnesse is lyke a wyld Asse, that dseth the wildernes, and that snuffeth and bloweth at hys wyll. Who can tame thee? All they that seke thee shall not fayle, but find thee in thyne owne vnclennesse. Kepe thou thy fote from nakednes, and thy throte frō thirste, and without shame thou answerest: No, for I haue lo ued straungers, and them will I fo lowe. Lyke as a theefe that is taken with the dede commeth to shame, euē so is the house of Israel come to con fusion: the commen people, their kin ges and rulers, their priestes and pro Rom. 1 c phetes * For they say to a stocke: thou art my father, and to a stone: thou hast begotten me: * yea, they haue turned Jer. 32 d their backe vpon me, & not their face. Zach. 7. c
* But in the tyme of their trouble, * Ps. 32 b when they saye: stande vp, and helpe F vs, I shall answere them. Where are now thy goddes, that thou hast made thee? let them stand vp, and helpe thee in the tyme of nede (if they be able.)
* For loke howe manye cityes thou Jer. 11, b hast (O Juda) so many goddes haste thou also. Wherefore than wyll ye go to lawe with me, seyng ye all are sin ners agaynst me, sayth the Lorde? It is but loste labour, that I smite your chyldren, for they receyue not my cor rection. * Your owne sweard destro- 2 pa. 24. d yeth your prophetes like a deuouring lyon. O ye people, loke vpon the word of the Lord. Am I then become a wildernesse vnto the people of Is rael? or a lande that hath no lyghte?
Wherefore sayth my people then: we are lordes, we will come nomore vn to thee? Doeth a mayden forgette her raymente, or a bryde her stomacher?
But as for my people, they haue for gotten me, dayes innumerable. Why boastest thou thy wayes so hylye (to obtayne fauoure therthorowe (when thou hast yet stayned them with blas phemies? and teachest thyne owne wayes. * Upon thy wynges is found G the blood of poore & innocent people, De. 18. b and that not in corners and holes on psa. 105 a ly, but openly in all these places. Yet darrest thou saye: I am (without syn and gyltiesse. Tushe, his wrath can not come vpon me. Beholde, I con demne the in iudgement, because thou darest saye: I haue not offended. And why runnest thou so often to and fro to chaunge thy ways? For thou shalt be confounded, as wel of Egypt, as of the Assirians: yea, thou shalte go thy waye from them, and smyte thyne handes together vpon thyne heade.
Because the Lord doth abhorre that confidence and hope of thine, and thou shalt not prosper withall.

¶ The. iii. Chapter.

COmmenly, * whan a man put I teth awaye hys wyfe, and she De. 23. a goeth from him, and maryeth with an other, then the question is: shulde he resort vnto her any more after that? Is not this felde then defyled and vncleane? * But as for thee, thou hast played the harlot with many louers: yet turne again to me, saith the Lord. Lift vp thyne eyes vnto the hilaulters, and loke, if thou be not defiled with whordome. Thou haste wayted for theym in the streetes, as a murtherer in the wildernes. Thorowe thy whordome and shamefull blasphemies is the lande defyled. * Thys is the cause that the rayne and euenyng dew hath ceased. Thou hast gotten thee an whores forehead, and wilte not be ashamed. Eis wouldest thou say vnto me: O my father, thou art he that hast brought me vp, & led me fro my youth. Wylt thou then put me away, and cast me of for euer? Or wilt thou withdraw thy selfe cleane fro me? Neuertheless, thou speakest such wordes, but thou art euer doing worse & worse. * The Lord sayde also vnto mee: in the tyme of Iosiah the king: hast thou sene what ỹ rebellion Israell hath done? how she hath run vp vpon all the hilles, and amonge al ỹ thick trees, and ther played the harlot: hast thou sene also? when she had doone all this) how I sayd vnto her: that she shulde turne agayne vnto me, & yet she is not returned? * Juda that vnfaithful sister of hers also saw this Namely, that after I had well sene the aduoutry of the shrinkyng harlot Israell: * I put her awaye, and gaue her a byl of deuorcement. For al this, her vnfaythfull sister Juda was not ashamed, but went backe and playeth the whore also: Yea, and the noyse of her whordom hath defyled the whole land. For she hath committed fornicatiō with stones and stockes. Neuertheless, her vnfaythfull syster Juda is not turned vnto me agayne with her hole heart, but fainedly sayeth the Lord. And the Lorde sayde vnto me: * The bakeslider Israel is more righteous, then the vnfaithfull Juda: and therefore go preache these wordes toward the North, and say: Thou disobediente Israell, turne agayne (sayth the Lorde) and I wyll not let my wrath fall vpon you. I am mercifull sayth the Lord) and I wil not alway * beare displeasure agaynst thee: but this I wyll, that thou knowe the great blasphemy. Namely, that thou hast vnfaythfully forsaken the Lorde thy God, and hast made thy selfe partaker of straunge goddes * vnder all grene trees, but hast had no wyll to heare my voyce, sayth the Lord, * O ye disobedient children, turne agayne sayth the Lord, and I will be maryed with you. For I wil take one out of the citye, and two out of one generation, from among you, and bryng you into Sion: and will geue you herdmen after mine owne mynde, whiche shal fede you with learnyng and wisdome. Moreouer, when ye be increased and multiplyed in the lande, then (sayth the Lord) there shall no more boste be made of the Arke of ỹ Lordes testament: No man shal thinke vpon it: neither shall any man make mencion of it: for from thence forth it shall neyther be visited, nor honored with giftes. * Then shal Jerusalē be cated the Lordes seate, and all heathen shal be gathered vnto it: for the name of the Lordes sake, which shalbe set vp at Jerusalem. And from that tyme forth, they shall folowe no more the imagination of their owne frowarde herte. Then those that be of the house of Juda shal go vnto the house of Israell: * and they shall come together out of the North, into the same lande that I haue geuen your fathers. I haue shewed also, how I toke the vp beyng but a chyld, & gaue the a pleasaunt land for thine heritage: yea, and a goodly hoste of the heathen, & howe I commaūded thee, that thou shouldest * call me father onely, and not to shrynke fro me. But lyke as a woman vnfaythfully sayeth her husband, so are ye vnfaythfull vnto me, (O ye house of Israel) saith ỹ Lord. * And therfore the voyce of the chyldren of Israell was hearde on hye, wepinge and waylyng: for they haue defi-

Ose.2.a.
Psa.102a
Esa.17a
Ezec.1.b
2.re.16 a
2.re.17 b
C Ezc.23 b
4.re.17.a Ose.5.a
D Eze.16 c
Gala.4 c
F Mat.2.c
Mat.22c
Jer.31.c

defiled their waye, and forgotten god G theyr Lord. O ye disobedient chyldrē, tourne agayne, sayenge: Lo, we are thyne: for thou arte the Lorde oure God:)and so shall I heale your backe turnynges. Truely, vaynly trusteth Osee. 12 he for health that looketh for it in the Acts. 4. a hilles: and in vaine is it sought in the Thren. a multitude of the mountaynes: * but Dan. 9. c the healthe of Israell standeth onely Baru. 1 b vpon God our Lord. Confusion hath Jer. 14 d deuoured our fathers labor from our youth vp, yea, their shepe and bullocke, their sonnes and daughters: So Ps. 105 a do we also slepe in our confusion, and Esa. 64 a shame couereth vs: * for we and our Judi. 7. c fathers, from our youth vp vnto this 1. Esd. 9. day, haue sinned agaynst the Lord our and. 10. b GOD, and haue not obeyd the voice of the Lorde our God.

¶ The. iiii. Chapter.

Israel, if thou wilt turn the then turne thee vnto me, sai-I eth the lord. And if thou wilt put away thyne abhominations out of my syght, thou shalt not be moued: * And shalt sweare: The Jere. 5, a LORDE liuethe in truthe, in 6. 12. a equitie and ryghteousenesse: and all people shall be fortunable and ioyfull in hym. For thus sayth the Lorde, to all Juda and Jerusalem: Plow your land, and sow not among the thorns.
Jer. 6. b * Be circumcised in the Lord, and cut 6. 9. a away the foreskynne of your heartes, Coll. 2. b all ye of Juda, and all the inhabitters of Jerusalem: * that my indignation Jer. 11. c breake not out lyke fyre, and kyndle, so that no man may quench it, because B of the wickednes of your imaginati-Esa. 58 a ons. * Preache in Juda and Jerusalem, cry out and speake: blow the trō-pets in the land, crie that euery man may heare, gather togyther, and say: Gather you togyther, and we wyll go into strong cities. Set vp the token Jere. 1. b in Syon, spede you, and make no taryeng. * For I wyll brynge a greate plague and a great destruction frome the north. For the spoyler of the gentiles is broken vp from his place, as a Lyon out of his denne, that he maye make thy land waste, and destroy the cities, so that no man may dwel therin. Wherfore gyrd your selues about with sacke clothe, mourne, and wepe:
C for the fearefull wrathe of the Lorde is not withdrawen from vs. At the same tyme (sayth the Lorde) the hert of the kynge, and of the princes shall be gone, the Priestes shall be astonished, and the Prophetes shall be sore afrayde. Then sayd I: O Lord god, Deu. 23 hast thou then deceiued thys people, and Jerusalem, saying: Ye shall haue peace, and now the sweard goth thorow theyr lyues: Then shall it be said Jere. 1. b to the people & to Jerusalē, * a strong wynde in the hye places of the wilderneste, commeth thorow the wape of my people, but neyther to fanne, D nor to cleanse. After that, shall there come vnto me a stronge wynde from those places, and thenne wyll I also geue sentence vpon theym. For lo, hee commeth vppe lyke as a clowde:
and hys charettes are lyke a stormye wynde: Hys horsemenne are swifter Thre. 4 a Dani. 5. Psa. 51 a Esai. 1. b thenne the Egle. Woe vnto vs, for wee are destroyed. O Jerusalem,
* washe thyne hearte frome wyckednesse, that thou mayest bee healped.
How long shall thy noysom thoughtes remayne wyth thee? For a voyce from Dan, and frō the hyl of Ephraim, speaketh out, and telleth of a destruction. Remembre the Heathen, and geue Jerusalem warnynge, and preache vnto her, that watchers ouer her, are commynge frome farre countreyes. They haue cryed out against the Cities of Juda. And they haue besette her aboute in euery place, like as the watchemen in the fielde. * For Zach 8. they haue prouoked me to wrath, sai-3. re. 18 eth the Lorde. * Thy wayes and thy Jere. 2. thoughtes, haue brought thee vnto 43. d this, suche is thyne owne wickednes and disobedience: and because it is a bytter thynge, it hath striken thee to the hert. Ah my belye, ah my belye, shalt thou crie) how is my hert so sore? my hert panteth within me: I can not be still, for I haue heard the crye nge of the trompettes and peales of warre.

They crye: murther vppon murther, the whole lande shal perysh. Immediatelye, my tentes were destroyed, and my hanginges in the twinckling of an eye. Howe longe shall I see the tokens of warre, and heare the noyse of the trompettes? Neuertheles this Esay.5.b shall come vpon theym, • because my Bar.3.b people is become foolish, and hath not • Ose.4.b knowen mee. • They are the chyldren of foolyshnes, and without anye dyscretion. To doo euyll, they haue witt ynough: but to do well, they haue no wysedome. I haue looked vppon the earth, and se: it was wast and voyde. I looked toward heauen, and it had noo shyne. I beehelde the mountaynes, and lo, they trembled, and all the hilles were in a feare. I loked aboute me, and there was no body, and al the birdes of the ayre wer away. I marked well, and the plowed fyelde was becomme waste: yea, all theyr Cytyes were broken downe at the presence of the Lord, and indignatiō of his wrath For thus hath the Lorde sayde: The whole lande shalbe desolate, yet will I not then haue done. And therefore shall the earth mourne, and the heauē be sorye aboue: for the thinge that I haue spoken to the Prophetes, purposed, and taken vpon me to doe, shall not repent me, and I wyll not go frō E it. The whole lande shall flee, for the noyse of the horsemen and bowemen: they shal runne into tentes, into woodes, and clyme vp the stonye rockes. All the Cities shall be voyde, and no man dwellinge therein. What wilte Jer.2.c. thou nowe do, thou beyng destroied? • For though thou clothest thy selfe • Re.9.k. wyth scarlette, and deckest thee wyth golde: • though thou paynttest thy face wyth colours nowe, yet shalte thou trym thy self in vayne. For those that hitherto haue bene thy greate fauourers, shall abhorre thee, and goe about to slaye thee. For I heare a noise like as it were of a woman trauailyng, or one labouring of her fyrst child: Euē the voyce of the daughter Sion, that casteth out her armes, and swoneth saying: Wy ah wo is me, how sore wered, & faynt is my heart, for feare of the murtherers?

The .v. Chapter.

LOke throughe Jerusalem, beholde and see: Seke throughe her streetes also wythin, yf yee can fynde one man that doeth equall and ryght, or seketh for the truth, and I shall spare that Cytye (sayeth the Jer.4.a. Lord) • For though they can saye, the Lord lyueth, yet do they swere to disceyue. Where as thou (O Lorde) lokest oneiye vppon fayth and trueth. Thou haste scourged theym, but they tooke no repentaunce: thou hast corrected them for amendmente, but they refused thy correction. They made theyr faces harder then a stoane, and B would not amend. Therfore I thoght in my selfe: peraduenture they are so simple and foolyshe, that they vnderstande nothinge of the Lordes waye, and iudgements of our God. • Therfo ze wyl I go vnto theyr heades and deu.17.d rulers, and talke wyth theym: if they knowe the waye of the Lord, and the iudgementes of our God. But these (in like maner) haue broken the yoke, and burste the bondes in sundre. deu.22.d, • Wherfore, a Lion out of the woddes hath hurt thē, and a wolfe in the euenyng shall destroye them. The Leopard doth lye lurking by their cities, to teare in pieces all theym that come thereout. For theyr offences are multiplyed, and their departyng away is encreased. Should I then for all this haue mercy vpon thee? Thy children haue forsaken me, and • swore by thē Hoy.2.a that are no goddes. And albeit that I fed theym to the full, yet they fall to aduoutry, and haunt harlots houses. In the desyre of vncleanly lust they Eze.22.b are becom lyke the stoned horse. euery mā neieth at his neybours wyfe: • Jer.9.a • Shoulde I not correcte this, sayeth the Lord? Should I not be auenged of euerl people, that is like vnto this? Clyme vp vppon theyr walles, beate them downe, but destroye theym not vtterly, take awaye theyr fortresses, because they are not the Lordes: For vnfaythfullye vnfaythfully hath the house of Israell and Juda forsaken mee, sayeth the 2Pe.2.a. Lorde: * They haue denyed the Lord, and sayde: it is not he that looketh vpon vs. * Tush, there shal no misfortune come vpon vs: we shal see nether Jer.14.b deu.29.e Sap.1.c * Jer.6.b D sweard nor hunger. * As for the warninge of the Prophetes they take it but for wynde, yea, there is none of these which wyll tell them, that suche thynges shall happen vpon theym.

Wherefore, thus saith the Lorde God of hostes: because ye speake such wor-Esa.31.b des, beholde: * The woordes that are in thy mouth wil I turne to fyre, and deu.28.c. Bar.4.c. make the people to bee wood, that the fyre may consume them. * Lo I wyll bringe a people vpon you from farre, O house of Israel (sayeth the Lord) a myghtye people, an olde people, a people whose speache thou knowest not, neyther vnderstandest what they say. Their arowes are sodayne death: yea, they them selues be very gyantes.
This people shall eate vp thy fruyte and thy meate, yea, they shall deuoure thy soonnes and thy daughters, thy sheepe and thy bullockes. They shall eate vppe thy grapes, and figges. As for thy strong and well defensed Cities wherin thou dyddest truste, they Jer.16.b shall dying to pouertye, and that thorough the sweard. Neuertheless, I will not then haue doone wyth you, sayth the Lord. But yf they say: Wherfore doeth the Lorde our God all thys E vnto vs? Then answere theym: * be-deu.28.g cause that lyke as ye haue forsake me, and serued straunge goddes in youre owne lande, euen so shall yee serue other goddes also in a straunge lande.
Preache this vnto the house of Jacob and crye it out in Juda, and say thus:
Esay.6.b Heare this (thou foolyshe & vndiscrete people) * yee haue eies but ye see not: eares haue ye, but ye heare not. Feare Job.26.b ye not me, sayth the Lord? Are ye not ashamed to loke me in ỹ face? * which binde the sea wyth the sand, so that it can not passe hys bondes. For though it rage, yet canne it do nothinge, and though the wawes therof do swel, yet maye they not go ouer. But this people hath a false and obstinate hearte, they are departed and gone away fro me. They thinke not in theyr hertes, O let vs feare the Lord our god, that geueth vs raine earlye and late, when nede is: which kepeth euer stil the har-Esa.59.a G uest for vs yearelye. * Neuertheless your mysdedes haue turned these frō you, and your sinnes haue robbed you hereof. For amonge my people are found wycked persons, that prepelye laye snares and swapt for men, to take theim, and destroie them. And like as a net is ful of byrdes, so are their houses full of that which they haue gottē wyth falshoode and dyscey te. Hereof commeth their greate substaunce and riches: hereof are they fat and welthy, and are more mysheuous then anye Esay.1.e other. * They minister not the lawe, they make no ende of the fatherlesse Jere.5.b cause, yea, and they prospere: yet they iudge not the poore accordynge to equitye. * Should not I punysh these thynges, sayth the Lorde? shoulde not I bee auenged of all suche people as these be? Horrible and greuous thynges are done in the lande. The Pro-Osee.7.a phetes teache falselye, and the prestes Rom.1.d receyue gyftes, and my people * hath pleasure therin: What wyl come therof at the last?

¶ The.vi. Chapter.

A COme out of Jerusalē, ye strōg 2Re.14.a childzen of Ben Jamin: blow vp the trompettes ye * Tecuites, sette vp a token vnto Bethcaran: for a plage and a great miserye appeareth out from the North. I wyll lyken the daughter of Sion to a fayre and tender woman, and to her shall come the sheepeheardes wyth theyr flockes. Their tentes shal they pytch rounde about her, and euery one shall fede theym that are vnder hys hande.
Make battayle agaynst her (shal they say) Aryse, lette vs goe vp, while it is B yet daye. Alas the daye goeth awaye, and the nyght shadowes fall downe: Aryse: let vs go vp by nyght, and destroie her strong holdes, for thus hath the Lord of hostes cōmaunded. Hewe downe her trees, and set vp bulwarkes agaynste Jerusalem, for the time is come that this citie must be punyshed: for in her is al maliciousnes.

Lyke as a condite spouteth out waters, so she spouteth out her wyckednes. Robberye and vnryghteousnes is heard in her, sorowe and woundes are euer there in my syghte. Amende thee (O Jerusalem) least I wythdrawe my heart from thee, and make thee desolate: and thy lande also, that no man dwel in it. For thus saith the Lorde of hoostes: The residue of Israel shalbe gathered as the remnãt of grapes. And therfore turn thyn hand agayn into ỹ basket, like the grape gatherer. But vnto whō shal I speake whō shal I warn ỹ he mai take hede?
C * Their eares are so vncircumcysed, that they maye not heare. Beholde, * they take the woord of God but for a scorne, and haue no lust therto. And therfore, I am so full of thine indignation (O Lorde) that I maye suffer no longer. But shed it out vpon the childzen that are without, and vpon all ponge men. Ye, the manne must be taken preseners wyth the wyfe, and the aged wyth the cripple. Their houses wyth theyr lands and wiues shal be tourned vnto straungers, when I stretche out myne hand vpon the inhabiters of this land, sayth the Lord.
D * For from the least vnto the moost, they hange all vppon couetousnesse, and from the prophete vnto the priest they go all about wyth falshoode and lies. * And beside ỹ, they heale ỹ hurt of my people with swete woordes saiynge: peace, peace, when there is no peace at all. Were they ashamed whē they had committed abhomination? Truly nay they be past shame? * And therfore they shal fal among the slain, and in the houre when I shall visite theym, they shalbe broughte downe, sayeth the Lord: go into the streates, consider and make inquisition for the olde way: and if it be the good & right way, then go therin that ye maie find rest for youre soules. But they saye: we will not walke therin, and I wil set watchmen ouer you, and therefore take hede vnto the voyce of the trompette. But they say: we wil not take hede. Heare therfore ye Gentiles, and thou congregation shalt know, what I haue deuyled for them. Hear thou earth also: beholde, * I wyll cause a plage to come vpon this people, euen the fruite of their owne ymaginations. For they haue not bene obedient vnto my wordes and to my lawe, but abhorred them. Wherefore * bring yee mee incense from Saba, and sweete smellynge Calamus from farre countres? Your burnt offrynges displease me, and I reioyce not in your sacrifyces. And therefore thus sayeth the Lorde: behold, I wil make this people fall, and there shall fall from among them the father with the childzen, one neyghbour shal perish with another. Thus sayth the Lord, * Behold, there shall come a people from the North, and a great people shall aryse from the endes of the earth, with bowes and wyth dartes shall they be weaponed. It is a roughe and fearce people, & an vnmercifull people, their voyce roareth lyke the Sea, they ride vpon horses wel apoynted to the battail agaynst thee, O daughter Sion. The crie of them haue we herd. Our armes are feble, heauines and sorowe is come vpon vs, as vpon a womã trauelyng wyth chylde. Let no man goe foorth into the field, let no man come vpon the hye strete: for the swerd and feare of the enemye is on euerye side.
G Wherefore, gyrde a sacke cloth aboute the (O thou daughter of my people) sprinkle thy self wyth ashes. * mourn and wepe bitterly, as vpon thy onely beloued sonne. For the destroyer shal sodeinly fall vpon vs. Then haue I sette a stronge towre (O thou Prophete, * and a wel fensed wall among my people, to seke oute and to trye theyr wayes. * For they are all stubberne apostates and fallen away, walkynge disceptfully, they are cleane brasse and yron, for they hurt and destroye euery man. The bellowes are brente in the fyre, the leade is molten

Jer. 4. a Jere. 5. c
Esa. 56. c
Jer. 8. b.
Esa. 56 c
Jer. 8. b.
Jer. 19
Esay. 1 b
Jer. 7. c.
F Jer. 1. f.
Amos. 8.
Psa. 14. 8
Rom. 3. f

ten, the melter melteth in vayne, for the euel is not taken away frō them. Therfore do they call them naughty siluer, because the Lorde hath caste them out.

¶ The.vii. Chapter.

A Jerr17 b THese are the wordes that God spake vnto Jeremye, sayinge: • Stand vnder the gate of the Lordes house, and crie out these wordes there, with a loude voyce, and saye: Heare the worde of the Lord all ye of Juda that go in at the doore, to worshyp the Lord. Thus sayeth the Lorde of hoostes, the God of Israel.

Esay.1.c Jer.26 c • Amende your waies and your councels, and I wyl let you dwel in thys place. Trust not in false lying woordes, saynge: here is the temple of the Lorde, here is the temple of the Lord, here is the temple of the Lorde. But

B Exo.22 c Jac.8.c. Leui.29g rather in dede amend your waies and councels, • and iudge ryghte betwixt a man and hys neyghboure: oppresse not the straunger, the fatherlesse, and the widowe: shed not innocent bloud in thys place: cleaue not to straunge Goddes to youre owne destruction: then wyll I lette you dwell in thys place, yea in the lande that I gaue afore tyme vnto your fathers for euer. But take hede, ye trust in lying tales that begyle you and do no good. For when ye haue stollen, murthered, cōmitted aduoutrye, and periurye: whē ye haue offered vnto Baal, folowing straūge and vnknowen gods shal ye be vnpunished? Yet then come ye, and 3Re.8.9 stand before me in this house, • which hath my name geuen vnto it, and saye:

C Esa.56 b Jer.7.b mat.21 b • Jer.32. • Jo.18 a • Jer26 a Tushe, we are absolued quite, though we haue done al these abhominations • what? thinke you thys house that beareth my name, is a den of theues? • And yet I see what you thinke, saieth the Lord. Go to my place in Siloh, • wherevnto I gaue my name afore tyme, and looke well • what I dyd to the same place for the wyckednes of my people of Israel. And now thoughe ye haue done all these dedes, (saith the Lord) & I my selfe rose vp euer betimes to warne you & to cōme with you, yet wolde ye not heare me. • I called, ye wold not answere. And therfore, • euen as I haue done vnto Siloh, so wyll I do to this house, that my name is geuē vnto (and that ye put your trust in) yea vnto ý place that I haue geuen to you, and youre fathers. And I shall thrust you oute of my sight, • as I haue caste oute all your brethrē the whole sede of Ephraim. • Therfore, thou shalte not praye for this people, thou shalt nether geue thākes, nor byd prayer for them: thou shalt make no intercession to me for them, for in no wise wyl I heare the. Seest thou not what they do in the cityes of Juda, and in the stretes of Jerusalem? • The chylderene gather stickes, the fathers kindle the fire, the women kneade the dowghe, to bake cakes for the quene of heauen. They poure oute drynkofferynges vnto straunge goddes, to prouoke me vnto wrath. Howbeit they hurte not me (sayth the lord) but rather confound, and shame them selues. And therfore thus sayth the Lord God, behold, my wrath & my indignation shalbe poured oute vpon this place, vppon men and cattel, vpon the trees of the fielde, and frute of the lande, and it shall burne so that no man may quench it. Thus sayth the Lorde of hoostes, the

E Esa.1.a God of Israell: Heape vppe youre • burnte offerynges with youre sacrifyces, and eate the flesshe. • For when

Deu.10a I brought youre fathers oute of Egypt, I spake no worde vnto them of burnt offerynges and sacrifyces: but this I commaunded them, saying: • herken and obey my voyce, & I shalbe

Exo.10a your God, and ye shalbe my people: so that ye walke in all the wayes, which I haue commaunded you, that ye maye prosper. • But they wer not

Zach,7.a obedient, they inclined not their eares thervnto, but went after their owne imaginations, and after the motions of theyr owne wycked hearte, and so turned them selues awey, & conuerted not vnto me. And thys haue they done, from the time that your fathers

I came out of Egypt, vnto thys daye.
Jer.25.a * Neuertheles, I sente vnto you, all my seruauntes the prophetes. I rose vp early and sent you word, yet wold they not herken, nor offer me their eares, but were obstinate, and worse then their fathers. And thou shalte nowe speake all these woordes vnto them, but they shall not hear the: thou shalt crye vpon them, but they shall not answere the. Therfore shalt thou say vnto them: this is the people, that neyther heareth the voyce of the Lord their God, nor receaueth hys correction. * Faythfulnesse and trueth is Jere.5.a cleane rooted out of their mouthe.
* Ezec,5a G * Wherfore cut of thine heare O Ierusalem, and cast it awaye, take vp a complaynt on hye, for the Lorde hath cast away, and scattered the people that he is displeased withall. For the children of Juda haue done euyll in Jer.42.b my sight, saith the Lord. * They haue sette vp their abhominacions, in the house that hath my name, and haue defyled it. They haue also buylded an aulter at * Topheth, whiche is in the Deu.32c valey of the children of Hennom: that 4.re.23.c they might burne their sonnes and pſa.106.c daughters in fyre, which I neuer commaunded them, neyther came it euer in my thought. And therfore behold, the dayes shall come (sayth the Lord) ẏ it shal nomore be called Tophepth, or the valley of ẏ childrē of Hennom, but the valley of slaughter, for in Topheth, they shalbe buryed, because Jere.8.b they shall els haue no rowme. * Yea, the deade bodyes of this people shall be eaten vp of the foules of the ayre, and wyld beastes of the earth, and no man shall fraye them awaye. * And as Eze.16 d for the voyce of myrth and gladnes of the cityes of Juda, and Jerusalem, the voice of the brydgrome, and of the bryde, I wyl make them ceasse, for the lande shalbe desolate.

The.viii. Chapter.

¶ AT the same tyme sayeth the Lord, the bones of the kinges of Juda, the bones of hys princes, the bones of the priestes and prophetes, yea and the bones of the cytezens of Jerusalē, shalbe brought out of theyr graues and layd agaynst the. * Sunne, the Moone and all the Deu.4.c heauenly hooste: whom they loued whom they serued, whom they ranne after, whom they soughte and worshipped. They shal neyther be gathered together nor buryed, but shall lye as dong vpō the earth, to their shame and despisyng. * And all they that re- Luk.23.c mayne of thys wycked generacion, shall desire rather to dye then to lyue, whersoeuer they remayne, and wher as I scattred them, sayth the Lord of hoostes. This shalt thou say vnto thē also. Thus sayth the Lord: Do men E fall so, that they aryse not vp agayne? Or if Israell repent, wyll not God turne agayne to them? Wherfore then is this people and Jerusalem gone so far backe, that they turne not agayn? They are euer the longer the more obstinate, and wyll not be conuerted. * For I haue loked, and considered: Ezr.20.f but there is no man that speaketh a good woorde: there is no man that taketh repentaunce for his synne, that will so much as say: wherfore haue I done this? But euery man (as soone as he is turned backe) runneth forth still, lyke a wylde horse in a battell. The storke in the ayre knoweth hys apoynted tyme, the Turtle doue, the Swalowe & the Crane consider the F time of their tranell, * but my people Esay.1.d will not know the time of the punishment of the Lorde. How dare ye saye then, we are wise, we haue the lawe of the Lorde amonge vs? Truely in vaine hath he prepared his penne, and vainely haue the wryters written it, therfore shal the wyse be confounded, they shalbe afrayde and taken: for lo, * they haue cast out the woorde of the Deu.4.f Lorde: what wisdome can then be a- Psal.19g mong them? Wherfore, I wyll geue their wyues vnto aleautes, and their D fieldes to destroyers. * For from the Ezec.6.d lowest vnto the hyest, they folowe all filthy lucre: and from the prophete vnto the priestе, they deale all with Esa.56.c lyes. * Neuertheless, they heale the Eze.13.d hurte of my people verye slenderly, saying saying: peace, peace, where ther is no peace at all. Fye for shame, howe abhominable thynges do they? and yet they be not ashamed, yea they knowe Jere. 7.d of no shame. • Wherfore, in the tyme of their visitacio, they shal fall among the dead bodyes, and be ouerthrowen sayeth the Lorde. Moreouer, I wyll consume theym in deede (sayeth the Lorde) so that there shall not be one grape vpon the vyne, neyther one fyg vpon the fygge tree, and the leaues E shalbe pluckte of. And the thing that I haue geuen theym shall be taken from theym: whye prolonge we the tyme? Lette vs gather oure selues together, and goe into the stronge Citye, there shall we bee in reste.

For the Lorde oure God hath put vs to scilence, and geuen vs water myxt with gall, to dynke: because we haue Jere. 14d synned agaynst hym. • We loked for F peace, and we fare not the better: we wayted for the tyme of healthe, and lo, here is nothynge but trouble. The noyse of hys horses is hearde frome Dan, the whole lande is afrayed at the neying of hys stronge horses: for they are come in, and haue deuoured the lande, with all that is in it: the cityes, and those that dwell therein.
Leui. 26b • Moreouer, I wyll sende Cockatryces and serpentes amonge you, (whiche wyll not be charmed) and they shall byte you, sayeth the Lorde.
G I woulde haue had comforte agaynst sorowe: but sorowe is come vpon me, and heauynesse vexeth my herte: for lo, the voyce of the cryeng of my people is hearde for feare of theym, that come frome a farre countrye. Is not the Lord in Sion? Is nat the Kyng in her? wherefore thenne haue they greued me (shall the Lorde say) with theyr ymages and foolysshe straunge fashyons of a foreyne god? The harueste is gone, the Sommer hath an ende, and we are not helped. I am sore vexed, because of the hurt of my people. I am heauye and abashed, is there no triacle at Gilead? Is there no Phisition there? why then is not the healthy of my people recouered?

The .ix. Chapter.

O who • wil geue my head wa- I ter ynough, and a well of teares for myne eies: that I may Esa. 22a wepe nyght and day, for the slaughter of my people? Wold God, that I had a cotage some where farre from folke, that I might leaue my people, and go from them: for they be al aduoutrers, & a chrynkyng sort. They bend theyr B tonges lyke bowes, to shoote out lies. They waxe stronge vppon earth. Bu for the trueth, they maye nothynge awaye wyth all the worlde. For they goe from one wyckednes to another: and wil not knowe me, sayth the Lord.
Jer. 12b • Ye, one must kepe him selfe from another, no man maye safely truste hys
Mat. 10c owne brother: for • one brother vnder Mich. 7a mineth another, one neighbour begileth another. Yea one dissembleth with another, and they dele with no truth.
Psa. 28.a • They haue practised theyr tongues to lye, & taken great peynes to do mischiefe. Thou sittest in the middes of a disceitful people, which for very dissemblyng falshed, will not knowe me sayth the Lord. Therfore thus sayth C the Lorde of Hostes: Behold, I wyll melte them, and trye theym: for what Pro. 18a should I els do to my people? • Theyr Psa. 18a tunges ar like sharp arowes, to speke Jer. 5. b disceate. With their mouth they speke peaceably to their neighbour, but priuily they lay wayt for him. • Should I not punishe them for these thynges sayth the Lord? Or should I not be auenged of any suche people as thys? Upon the mountains wyl I take vp a lamentation and a sorowful cry, and a mournyng vppon the fayre playnes of the wildernes. Namely, how they are so brente vppe, that no man goeth there anye more. Yea, a man shall not heare one beaste crye there. Birdes and cattell are all gone frome thence. I wylle also make Jerusalem, an heape of stones, and a denne of bene- D Pl. 79. a mous wormes. And I wyll make Mich. 3. the Cities of Juda so waste, that no man shall dwelle therein. What man is

is so wise, as to vnderstand this? Or to whom hath the Lorde spoken by mouth, that he maye shewe this, and saye. Oh thou lande, why perysshest thou so? Wherfore art thou so burnte vp, and like a wildernes, that no man goeth thorowe? Yea, the Lorde hym selfe tolde the same vnto them, that forsoke hys lawe, and kepte not the thyng that he gaue them in cõmaun-De.29.b demente, neyther lined therafter. but followed the wyckednesse of theire owne hertes, and serued straunge gods, as their fathers taughte them.

E Therefore, thus sayeth the Lorde of hoostes, the God of Israell. Behold, I wyll fede this people with wormwood, and geue them gall to drinke, De.22.b * I wyll scater them also among the Heathen, whome neyther they nor Deu.20c their fathers haue knowen: * and I will sende a swearde among them, to persecute them, vntyll I bringe them to naught. Moreouer, thus sayth the Lord of Hoostes: Beware of the vengeaunce that hangeth ouer you: and call for mournyng wyues, and sende for wyse wemen: that they come shortly, and synge a mournyng song of you: that the teares maye fall out of our eies, and that your eye liddes may F gushe oute of water. For there is a lamentable noyse heard of Sion. O howe are we so sore destroyed? O howe are we so piteously confounded? we muste forsake our owne naturall countrye, and we are shut oute of oure owne lodgynges. Yet heare the worde of the Lorde (O ye wemen) and let your eares regard the wordes of his mouth: that ye may learne your daughters to mourne, and that euery one maye teache her neyghboures to make lamentacion. Namelye thus: Death is clymyng vp in at our windowes, he is come into our houses, to destroye the chylde before the doore, and the ponge man in the strete. But G tell thou playnelye, thus sayeth the Jere.7.d Lorde: * The dead bodyes of men shall lye vpon the grounde, as the donge vpon the fielde, and as the heye after the mower, and there shalbe no man to take them vppe. Thus sayeth the Lord. Let not the wyse man reioyce in hys wysdome, nor the stronge man in his strength, neyther the rych man in his ryches. * But whoso wyll re-Esa.55.d ioyce, let him reioyce in this, that he 1 Cor.1.b vnderstandeth and knoweth me: for I am the Lord which do mercy, equitye and righteousnes vpon the earth.
* Therfore, haue I pleasure in suche Mat.9.b thynges, sayth the Lord. Behold, the Deut.6.b tyme commeth (sayth the Lord) that I wyll vysyte all them, whose foreskinne is vncircumcised. The Egyptians, the Iewes, the Edomites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, * and the Rom.2.b shauen Madianites, that dwell in the wyldernes. For all the Gentiles are al vncircumcised in the flesshe, but al the house of Israel are vncircumcised in the herte.

¶ The .x. Chapter.

HEare the worde of the Lorde A that he speaketh vnto the, O thou house of Israell. Thus sayth the Lorde. * Ye shall not learne Esa.47.d after the maner of the Heathen, and ye shall not be afrayde for the tokens of heauen: for the Heathen are afrayd of suche: yea, all the customes and lawes of the Gentiles are nothyng, but vanitye. * They hewe downe a Esa.44.b tree in the woode with the handes of the workeman, and fashion it with the axe: they couer it ouer with golde or syluer, they fasten it with nayles and hammers, that it moue not. It standeth as stiffe as the palme tree, it can neither speake nor go one fote, but 4.Re.17.b muste be borne. * Be not afrayed of such, for they can do neyther good nor euyl. But ther is none like vnto the, O Lord, and great is the name of thy power. Who wold not feare thee? O king of the gentiles for thyn is the do-minõ. For among al the wise men of B the gentiles, & in al their kingdomes, ther is none that may be likened vnto the. They are all together vnlearned & vnwise in this one thinge. All their counyng is but vanitie: namely wod, syluer

siluer, which is brought out of Tharsis, and beaten to plates: and gold frō • Ophir, a worke that is made with the hand of the craftesman, and the caster, clothed with yelow sylke & scarlet: euen so is the work of their wise men all together. But the Lorde is a Nu. 1.a true God, a lyuing God, and an euerlastyng kyng. • If he be wrothe, the erth shaketh: all the Gentils may not abyde his indignation. As for theyr goddes, thus shall you saye to theym: They are gods, that made neither heauen nor earth, therfore shall they perysshe from the earth, and from al thinGen. 1.a ges vnder heauen. (But as for oure God:) • He made the earth wyth hys power, and with his wysedome doth hee order the whole compasse of the C worlde, with his discretion hathe he spredde out the heauens. At his voice Ps. 144. the waters gather together in ỹ ayre. • Hee draweth vp the cloudes frome the vttermoste partes of the earth: he turneth lyghtnyng to rayne, and bringeth forthe the wyndes out of theyr treasures. His wysedome maketh all men fooles. And confounded bee all Esa. 1.d and. 44.b Jerre. 6.c casters of images: for that they caste, is but a vayne thyng, and hath no life. • The vayne craftesmen wyth theyr workes, that they in their vanity haue made, shall perysh one with an other in the tyme of visitation. Neuer the lesse, Jacobs portion is no suche: but it is he that hath made all thyngs, and Israell is the rod of his inheritance. The Lord of hostes is his name. Gather vppe thy wares out of the land, thou that art in the strong place. For thus sayth the Lord: Behold, I wyll now throwe as with a stone sling, the inhabiters of this land, at this once, & I will brynge trouble vpon them, that they shal proue true the wordes that I haue spokē by the prophets. Alas, how D am I hurt? Alas, how painfull ar my scourges vnto me? For I consyder this sorowe by my selfe, and I muste suffre it. My tabernacle is destroyed, and al my cordes ar broken. My children are gone fro me, and can no wher bee founde. Now: haue I none to spreade out my tent, or to sette vp my hangynges. For the heardmen haue doone foolyshely that they haue not sought the Lord. Therfore, haue they dealt vnwisely with theyr cattel, and all are scattred abroade. Beholde, the noise is hard at hand, and great sedition out of the north: to make the cities of Juda, a wildernes, & a dwellinge place for Dragons. • Nowe I know (O Lord) that it is not in mans power to ordre his owne wayes, or to rule his owne steppes and goynges.

Therfore, chasten thou vs, O Lord, Pro. 20.d but with fauor, • & not in thy wrath: Psal. 6.a bring vs not vtterly to naught. Pour and. 38.a out thyn indignation rather vpon the Esa. 64.
Gentiles, that know the not, & vpon the people ỹ cal not on thy name. • And that because they haue consumed, deuoured and destroyd Jacob, and haue made his habitation waste.

The .xi. Chapter.

THis is an other Sermon, whiche the Lord commaunded Jeremie for to preache, sayenge: I Heare the wordes of the couenaunt, and speake vnto the menne of Juda, and to all them that dwelle at Jerusalē. And say thou vnto them: Thus Deu. 27.
sayth the Lord God of Israel: • Cur- and. 28.b
sed be euery one that is not obediente Gal. 3.b
vnto the wordes of this couenaunt: whyche I commaunded vnto youre fathers, what time as I brought thē out of Egypt, from the yron fornace, saying: • Be obedient vnto my voice Exo. 19.
do accordyng to all that I commande you: so shall ye bee my people, and I wyll be your God, and wyll kepe my promise, • that I haue sworne vnto Gen. 15. your fathers. Namely, that I would geue theym a lande, whiche floweth with mylke and hony, as ye see, it is come to passe vnto this day. Then an B swered I, and sayde: Amen, Let it be euen so Lord, as thou sayest. Thenne the Lord sayd vnto me agayn: Preach this in the cities of Juda, and round aboute Hierusalem, and saye: Heare the wordes of thys Couenaunte, that ye may kepe theym: for I haue diligently exhorted youre fathers euer,

euer sens the tyme that I broughte them out of the lande of Egypt, vnto this daye I gaue theim warnyng betymes, saying: Herken vnto my voice.
Jer.13 b * Neuertheiesse, they would not obey me, nor encline their eares vnto me, but folowed the wicked imaginatiõs of their owne heartes. And therefore, I haue accused them as transgressors of al the wordes of this couenant that I gaue them to kepe, which they notwithstanding) haue not kept. And the Lord saide vnto me: It is founde out, that whole Israell, and all the Citizens of Jerusalẽ are gone back. They haue turned themselues to ỹ blasphemies of theyr forfathers, whiche had no lust to heare my word. Euen lyke-
C wise haue these folowed strange goddes, & worshipped theym. The house of Israell and Juda haue broken my couenant, which I made with theyr fathers. Therfore, thus saith the lord: Behold, I wyll sende a plague vpon them, which they shall not bee able to escape: and though they crye vnto me, Jac.7. b I wyll not heare theim. * Then shall the townes of Juda and the citezens Deu.35 c of Jerusalem go, and call vpon * their gods, vnto whom they made their oblatiõs: but thei shal not be able to help Jer. 2. d theim in tyme of their trouble. * For as many cities as thou hast, O Juda, so many gods hast thou had also. And looke howe many streetes there be in the (O Jerusalem) so many shamfull aultars haue ye set vp, aulters I say, Jere.7.d and.15.a to offer vpõ them vnto Baal. * Therfore, pray not thou for this people, bid neither praise nor prayer for theim, for though they crie vnto me in their trouble, yet will I not heare them. What parte hathe my beloued in my house, Agge.2 b seyng he hath wrought abhomination seruyng many gods? * The holy flesh offrings in the temple are gone frome thee, O Juda, and thou when thou hast done euyll, makest thy boast of it.
Jer.17 d * The Lord called thee a grene Olive Mat.7.b tree, a fayre one, a fruitfull one, a good Ro.11. c fyr one: but with greate clamour hath the enemie set fyre vpon it, and the braches of it are destroyed. For the Lord of Hostes that planted the ee, hath deuised a plague for thee (O thou house of Israel and Juda) for the euill that ye haue don to prouoke him to wrath in ỹ ye dyd seruice vnto Baall. Thus D (O Lord) haue I lerned of the, to vnderstande it, for thou haste shewed me their imaginations. * But I am (as Esa.52 b a meke lambe, an oxe (that is caried away to be slayne, not knowynge that they had deuised such a coũcel against me, saying: We will destroy his meate Jer.18 b with wodde, and drive him out of the land of the liuyng, that his name shal neuer be thought vpon. Therfore, * I Jer.20 a will beseche the now (O Lord of hoand.17.b stes, thou righteous iudge, thou that triest the reines and the hearts: let me see thee auenged of them: for vnto the haue I cõmitted my cause. * The lord Esa.30 b therfore spake thus of the citisens of Anathoth, that thought to slea me, say Amos.7 b eng: * Preache not vnto vs in ỹ name of the lord, or els thou shalt dye of our handes. Thus (I say) spake the lord of Hostes. Beholde, I wylle visyte you. Youre younge men shall perysshe wyth the swearde, youre sonnes and youre daughters shall vtterlye dye of hunger, so that none shal remain. For vpon the Citezens of Anathoth will I bryngе a plague, euen the yeare of their visitation.

¶ The. xii. Chapter.

I
O Lorde, thou arte more righ- Job.21 b teous, then that I shuld dis- Habac.1.b pute with thee. Neuer the Ps.73.a lesse, lette me talke wyth thee in thinges reasonable. Howe happeneth it, that the waye of the vngodlye is soo prosperous: and that it goeth so wel with them, which without anyshame offend and lyue in wyckednes? Thou plantest theym, they take roote, they growe and bryng forth the fruit. They boast much of thee, yet art thou farre from theyr reynes. But thou Lorde (to whom I am well knowne) thou that haste sene and proued my hearte, * take theym away, lyke as a flocke is caryed to the slaughter howse,

and

appoint them for the day of slaughter. How long shall the land mourne Jere.14. * and all the herbes of the field perish, for the wickednes of them that dwell B therin. The cattel and the byrdes are Jere.19c gone, yet say they tushe, * God wyll Jere.5.b not destroye vs vtterly. Seyng thou Ezech.23.c art weary in ruunyng with the foote Zephy.1 men, how wilt then runne with horses? In a peasible sure lād thou mayst be safe, but how wilt thou doo in the Jere.9.a furious pryde of Jordane? For thy brethren and thy kynred haue altogether despised thee, and cried out vpon thee in thyne absence. * Beleue them not, though they speake fayre wordes to thee. As for me, (I say) I haue forsaken myne own dwelling place, and left myne heritage. My lyfe also that Esa. 19. I loue so well, haue I geuen into the handes of myne enemies. Myne heritage is becomme vnto me, as a lyon in the wodde. It cried out vpon me, therfore, haue I forsaken it. Myn heritage is vnto me, as a speckled byrd, a byrde of diuers colours is vpon it.
C Come, and gather ye together all the Esa.56a beasts of the field. Come that ye may Esa.5c eate it vp. * Diuers heardmen haue broke downe my * vineyard, and troden vpon my portiō. Of my pleasant portion, they haue made a wylderues and desert. They haue layd it waste:
and now it is waste, it sigheth vnto me. Yea, the whole land lyeth waste, and no man regardeth it. The destroiers come ouer the heath euery waye:
for the sweard of the Lord dothe consume from the one ende of the land to the other, and no flesh hath rest. They haue sowen wheate, and reaped thornes. They haue taken heritage in possession, but it dooth them no good.
And the Prophetes were ashamed of your fruites, because of the greatte D wrathe of the Lord. Thus sayeth the Lord vpon all myne euyll neighbors, that lay hand on myn heritage, which I haue possessed, euen my people of Israell. Behold, I will pluck them (namely Israell) out of their lande, and put out the house of Juda, from Jere.4.c amonge theym. * And when I haue roted them out, I wil be at one with and. 30.a them agayne, and I will haue mercy Esa.53.b vpon them, and bryng them agayn, e- 1.Esd.1. uery man to his owne heritage, and into hys lande. And yf they (Namely, that trouble my people) will lern the wayes of them, to sweare by my name: The Lord liueth (like as they lerned my people to sweare by Baal, then shall they be reckned among my people. * But yf they wyll not obey, mat.22.b then wyll I roote out the same folke, and destroye them, saith the Lord.

C The. xiii. Chapter.

THus sayth the Lorde vnto me: I go thy way, and get me a lynnen breche, and gyrde it about thy loynes, and lette it not bee wette.
Then I got me a breeche, accordynge to the commaundement of the Lord, and putte it about my loynes. After this, the second tyme, the Lorde spake vnto me again: Take the breche that thou haste prepared, and putte aboute thee, and get the vp, and go vnto Euphrates, and hyde it in a hole of the rocke. So went I, and hyd it at Euphrates, as the Lorde commanded me.
And it happened long after this, that the Lorde spake vnto me: Vppe, and get thee to Euphrates, and fette the breche from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there. Then wēt I to Euphrates, and digged vp, and toke the breeche from the place where I had hid it: and behold, the breeche was corrupt, so that it was profyta- B ble for nothing. Then sayd the Lord vnto me: Thus sayth the Lord, euen so will I corrupt the pryde of Juda, and the hye mynde of Jerusalē. This Jere.7.c people is a wicked people, * they wyl 11.b.18a not heare my worde, they folowe the and. 19.c wicked imaginations of theyr owne heart, and hang vpon straunge gods, them they serue and worshyppe: and therfore they shall bee as this breeche that serueth for nothynge. For as straitly as a breche lieth vpon a mannes loynes, so straitly dydde I bynde the whole house of Israell, and the whole house of Juda vnto me, sayth
the

Deu.4.c the Lord: that they myght be my peo-Jer.30d ple: that they myghte haue a glorious name: that they myght be in honoure: but they would not obeye me. Wherefore laye this riddle before them, and say: Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel: Euery pot shalbe filled wyth wyne. And they shall saye: thinkest thou we knowe not, that euery potte shalbe filled with wine? Then shalte thou say vnto them. Thus sayeth the C Lord: Beholde, I shall fill al the in-habitours of this land wyth dronkēnes, the kings that sit vpon Dauids stole, the priestes and prophetes, with all that dwell at Jerusalem. And I will set them one agaynst another, yea the fathers agaynst the sonnes, sayeth the Lord. I wyl not pardon theim, I will not spare them, nor haue pitie vppon them, but destroie them. Be obediente, geue eare, take not disdayne at it, for it is the Lord him selfe that speketh. Honour the Lord your GOD herein, or he take his light from you, and or euer your fete stomble in darknes at the hill: least when ye looke for the light, he turne it into the shadow and darkenes of death. But if ye will not heare mee, that geue you secrete warninge, I will mourne from my whole hearte for youre stubbournes.
Jer.31c . Witously will I wepe, and the tea-res shall gushe oute of mine eies. For the Lordes flocke shalbe caried away captiue. Tel the king and the queene: Humble youre selues, set you downe lowe, for your dignitie shalbe throwē downe, and the crowne of your glory shal fall from your heade. The cityes toward the South shalbe shut vppe, D and no man shall open them. All Iu-da shalbe caried away captiue, so that none shal remayne. Lift vp your eies, and beholde them, that come from the North, where is the flocke (O thou land) that was geuen the. And wher Jer.21b are thy fat and ryche shepe. ✱ To whō Esa.13b wilte thou make thy mone, when the enemye shall come vpon thee? for thou hast taught theym thy selfe, and made them maisters ouer thee. Shal not so-rowe come vpon thee, as on a woman trauailing wyth childe? And if thou wouldest saye then in thyne hearte, wherfore come these thinges vpon mee? ✱ Euen for the multitude of thy blasphemies, shall thy hinder partes Jer.13 and thy feete bee discouered. For lyke as the man of Inde may chaunge his skinne, and the cat of the mountayne her spottes: so maye ye that bee exercysed in euyl, do good. Therfore wyll I scatre them, like as the stubble that is taken awaye wyth the Southe wind. Thys shalbe your portion, and the portion of your measure, where-wyth ye shalbe rewarded of me, sayth the Lord: because ye haue forgottē me, and put your trust in disceatful thin-ges. ✱ Therfore shal I turne thy clo- Ose.2 thes ouer thy heade, and dyscouer thy thygh, that thy priuities may be sene, thy aduoutry, thy deadlye malyce, thy beastlines, and thy shamefull whoredome. For vpon the feldes and hilles I haue sene thy abhominations. Wo bee vnto thee (O Jerusalem) when wilt thou euer be cleansed anye more?

J.

C The.xiiii. Chapter.

THe worde of the Lord shewed vnto Jeremye, concernynge the dearth of the fruits. Juda hath mourned, his gates are desolate: (they are desolate) they ar brought to heauines euen vnto the grounde, and the crye of Jerusalem goeth vp. The lordes sent their seruauntes to fetche water, and when they camme to the welles, they dyd finde no water, but caried their vesselles home emptye.
They bee ashamed and confounded, & couer their heades. ✱ For the ground Jer.3 is dried vp, because there commeth no rayne vpon it. The plowemen also be ashamed, and couer theyr heads. The Hinde also forsooke the ponge fawne that he brought forth in the field, because there was no grasse. The wilde B Asses dyd stand in the hye places, and drewe in theyr wind lyke the dragōs their eies did faile for want of grasse.
Doutles, oure owne wickednes doth reward vs. But lord doo thou, according to thy name, thogh our trāsgressions

ons and synnes be many, and agaynst
.49 b thee haue we synned. * For thou arte the comforte & helpe of Israell in the time of trouble. Why wilt thou be as a straūger in the land, and as one that goeth ouer the fielde, and commeth in onelye to remayne for a nighte? Why wilt thou make thy self a coward, and as it were a gyaunt that yet may not helpe? For thou (O Lord) art in the middest of vs, and thy name is called vpō of vs: forsake vs not. Thus hath the Lord sayd vnto this people: Seyng they haue had such a luste to wander abrode, and haue not refrayned theyr fete, and therfore displeased the Lord, but he wyl nowe bryng agayne to re-membraunce all their mysdedes, and punyshe all their synnes. Yea, euen re.7.b thus sayde the Lord vnto me. * Thou shalt not pray to do this people good.
a.1.b * For though they faste, I will not heare their prayers, and though they offer burntofferynges and sacrifyces, ¶ yet will not I accept thē. For I wyl destroy them with the sword, honger and pestilence. Then answered I: O yp.1.d Lord God, * the prophetes saye vnto e.12a them: Tushe, ye shal * nede to feare no sword, and no honger shal come vppon you, but the Lorde shall geue you continuall rest in this place. And the Lorde sayde vnto me: The prophetes preache lyes in my name, where as I
.33 d haue not * sente them, neyther gaue I them any charge, neyther dydde I speake vnto thē: yet they preach vnto you false visions, charming, vanitye, disceatefulnes of their owne herte.
Therfore thus saith the Lord. As for those prophetes that preache in my name (whō I neuertheless haue not sent) and that say: Tushe ther shal no
.14.a * sworde nor honger be in this lande, with sworde and with honger, shall those prophetes perysh, and the people to whō they preach shalbe cast
.16 b out of Jerusalem, dye of honger, and be slayne with the sworde, * (and there shalbe no man to burye them) both they and their wiues, their sons and their daughters. For thus wyll I poure their wickednes vpon them.
This shalt thou say also vnto theym. D Myne eyes shall weepe wythoute Tre.1.d ceasynge daye and nyghte: For my people shalbee destroyed wyth great harme, and shall perysh wyth a great plagne. For yf I go into the field, lo, it lyeth all full of slayne men. If I come into the citie, lo, they be al famished of hunger. Ye, their Pro phetes also and preistes shalbe led into an vn knowen lande. Hast thou then vtterly forsaken Juda? Doest thou not abhorre Sion? Or haste thou so plaged vs, that we canne be healed no more:
* We looked for peace, and there commeth no good: for the time of healthe, Jere. 8.c and lo, here is nothing but trouble.
We knowledge O Lorde, all our misdedes, and the sinnes of oure fathers, that wee haue offended thee. Wee not dyspleased, (O Lord) for thy names Esa.59.d sake, * forget not thy louing kindnes.
Remember the throne of thyne ho-noure, breake not the couenaunt, that thou haste made wyth vs. * Are there Jere.5.d any among the gods of the Gentiles:
that sende rayn, or geue the showres of heauen? Or may the heauens drop rayne wythout thy commaundemēt?
Doest not thou it, O Lorde our God, in whom we trust? Yea Lorde, thou doest all these thynges.

A
¶ The.xv. Chapter.

Jere.7.b Ezc.14c
THen spake the Lorde vnto me:
* Though Moses and Samuel stoode before mee, yet haue I no heart to this people. Dryue them away, that they maye goe oute of my syghte. And yf they saye vnto thee:
Whither shal we go? then tell theym:
The Lord geueth you thys aunswer.
* Som vnto death, som to the sword, Ezec.5.c
some to hunger, some into captiuitye.
For I wyll bring foure plagues vppon them, sayth the Lord. The sword shall sleye them, the dogges shal teare Jer.16.a
them in peces, * the foules of the ayre and beastes of the earth, shal eat them vp, & destroy thē. I wil scatre them a bout also in al kingdoms & lāds to be plaged, because of * Manasseh the son 4Re.21a
of Hezekia Kynge of Juda, for the thynges that he dydde in Jerusalem

Who

B who shall then haue pitye vpon the, O Ierusalem? who shall be sorye for the? Or who shall make intercession, to obteyne peace for thee? seynge thou goest fro me, and turnest backeward, sayeth the Lorde? Therfore, I wyll stretch out myne hand agaynst the, to destroy thee, & I haue ben sorȝ for the so long that I am wery. I haue scattered them abrode with the same on Jere.7.c euery syde of the lande. * I haue wasted my people, and destroyed them.
Yet they haue had no lust to turne frō their owne wayes. I haue made their widdowes mo in number, then the sandes of the sea. Vpon the mothers of their children did I bring a destroyer in the noone daye. * Sodenly and vnawares did I sēd a feare vpō their cities. She that hath borne seuen children hath none, her heart is full of Amo.8 d sorowe. * The Sunne doth fayle her in the cleare daye, she is confounded and fayntye for very heuinesse As for those that remaine, I will deliuer thē vnto the sweard before their enemies Jer.20 d sayth the Lorde. * O mother, alas that euer thou diddest beare me, a brawler & rebuker of the whol land. Though I neuer lent nor receaued vpon vsu-rye, yet all men speake euyll vpon me.
C And the Lorde answered me: Verelye thy remnaunte shall haue welthe.
Come not I to the, when thou art in trouble and helpe thee, when thyne enemye oppresseth thee? Doeth one yron hurt another, or one metall that commeth from the North, another?
Jer.17.a * As for thy ryches and treasure, I wil geue them out into a pray, not for any money, but because of al thy syns, that thou hast done in all thy coastes.
Deu.32c * And I will bringe thee with thyne enemyes into a lande, that thou kno-west not: for the fire that is kyndled in my indignation, shall burne you vp. O Lorde, thou knowest: therfore remember me, and vysyte me, deliuer me fro my persecuters. Take me not from this life in the time of the longe pacience, thou knowest, that for thy Psa.109 sake I suffer rebuke. * When I had D found thy wordes, I did eate them vp gredely: they haue made my hert loyfull and glad. For thy name was called vpon me, O Lorde God of hostes.
I dwell not among the scorners, ney ther is my delyte therin: but I dwell onely in the feare of thy hand, for thou hast fylled me with bytternes. Shall my heauynesse endure for euer? Are my plages then so gret, that they may neuer be healed? Wylt thou be as one that is false, and as a water, that fai-leth, and cannot continue? Vpō these wordes, thus sayd the Lorde vnto me: If thou wylt turne agayne, I shall sette thee in my seruyce: and yf thou wilt take out the thinges that ar precious from the vyle, thou shalt be euē as myne owne mouth. * They shall Jer.1 conuert vnto thee, but turne not thou vnto them: and so shall I make thee a stronge brasen wall against this people. * They shall fyght agaynst thee, Jer. but they shal not prenayle. For I my selfe wyll be with thee, to helpe thee, and deliuer thee, sayth the Lorde. And I wil rid thee out of the hands of the wicked, and deliuer thee oute of the handes of tyrantes.

¶ The .xvi. Chapter.

THus sayde the Lorde vnto mee. I Thou shalt take thee no wife, nor beget childrē in this place.
For of the children that are borne in this place, of their mothers that haue borne them, and of their fathers that haue begotten them in this land, thus saith the Lorde. They shal dye an horrible death, * no man shal mourne for Lev.
them nor burye them, but they shall lye as donge vppon the earth. They shall perishe thorowe the sweard and Psa. honger, * and their bodyes shall be meate for the foules of the ayre, and beastes of the earth. For thus sayeth the Lorde: Go not thou in vnto them nor come to mourn & wepe for them:
for I haue taken my peace from thys people (saith the Lorde) yea my fauor and my mercy. And in this land shall they dye, olde and yong, and shall not be buryed: no man shal bewepe them, no man shall clyppe or shaue himselfe for them. There shall not one bisy ane-

another, to mourne with theym for their deade, or to comfort them. One shall not offer another the cup of consolacion, to forget their heaupnes for 1Co.15b father and mother. * Thou shalt not go in to their feast house, to sit down, to eate or drink with them. For thus sayth the Lorde of hostes the God of Jer.25.d Israell: * Behold, I shall take away out of this place, the voyce of myrthe and gladnes, the voyce of the bryde-grome and of the bryde: yea, and that in your daies, that ye may se it. Now
C when thou shewest thys people all these wordes, and they say vnto thee: Wherefore hath the Lord deuised all this great plage for vs? Or what is the offence and synne, that we haue done agaynst the Lord our God? Thē Deu.4.d make thou them this answere: * Because your fathers haue forsaken me (sayth the Lorde) and haue walked after straunge gods, whom they haue honoured and worshypped: but me haue they forsaken, and haue not kept my lawe. * And ye with your shamefull blaspheming, haue exceaded the Jere.7.d wickednes of your fathers. for euery one of you haue folowed the frowarde and cuyll ymaginacions of his own herte, and is not obediente vnto me.
* Therfore wil I cast you out of this Deu.28c land, into a lande that ye and your fathers knowe not: and there shall ye serue straunge gods daye and night, there will I shewe you no fauoure.
Jer.23.b * Behold therfore (sayeth the Lorde) the daies are come, that it shal nomore be sayde: The Lorde lyueth, whiche brought the chyldren of Israell oute of the lande of Egipte: but it shalbe said, the Lord liueth, that brought the chyldren of Israell from the North, and from all landes wher he had scatered them. For I wyll bryng them agayne into the land, that I gaue vnto their fathers. Beholde (sayeth the Math.4c Lord) * I wil send out many fyshers to take them, and after that wyll I sende out many hunters to hunt them out, from all mountaynes and hilles, and oute of the caues of stone. For mine eyes behold all their waies, and they cannot be hyd fro my face, neyther can their wicked dedes be kepte close out of my sight. But first wyll I sufficiently reward their shameful blasphemies and sinnes, because they haue defiled my lande: Namely with their stinkyng Idols, and with the carions of their abhominacions, wherwith they haue fylled myne heritage.
* O Lorde, my strength, my power, Jer.24.a and refuge in tyme of trouble. The Gentiles shall come vnto the frome the endes of the worlde, and say: Verely our fathers haue cleaued vnto lyes, their Idoles are but dayne, and vnprofitable. Howe can a man make those his goddes, whiche are not able to be goddes? And therefore I wyll once teach them, sayth the Lorde, I wyll shewe them my hande and my power, that they may know, that my name is the Lorde.

The.xvii. Chapter.

THe synne (O ye of the A tribe of Juda) is written in the table of your hertes, and grauen so vpon the edges of your aulters with a penne of yron, and with an adamant clawe: that as the fathers thynke vpon their chyldren, so thynke you also vppon youre aulters, woodes, thycke trees, hye hylles, mountaynes, and fieldes.
* Wherefore, I wyll make my mount Jer.15.a that standeth in the fielde all youre substaunce and treasure to be spoyled for the great synne that ye haue done vpon your hye places, thorowout all the coastes of your lande. Ye shall be caste oute also from the heritage, that I gaue you. And I wyll subdue you vnder the heauy bondage of your enemyes in a lande that ye knowe not. For ye haue ministred fyre to my indignacion, whiche shall burne euermore. Thus sayth the Lorde. * Cursed be the man that putteth his truste B Psal.49c in man, and that taketh fleshe for his Pro.11.c arme: and he, whose herte departeth Eze.29.a from the Lorde: he shall be lyke the heathe, that groweth in the wylderneslle. As for the good thynge that is foꝛ to com, he shall not se it: but dwel in a dꝛye place of the wildernes, in a Psal.2.b salt and vnoccupied land. * O blessed and. 39.c is the man that putteth hys truste in Pro.22 c the Lord, and whose hope is the lorde

*Psa.1 a hym selfe. * Foꝛ he shall be as a tree, Pro.11 b that is planted by the water side: whi che spꝛeadeth out the roote vnto moist nesse, whom the heate can not harme whē it cometh, but ẏ leaf shalbegrene And though ther growe but lytle fruit bicause of dꝛouth, yet is he not careful but he neuer leaueth of to bꝛing foꝛth C fruite. Among all thynges, man hath Jer.11.d the most disceitfull and stubboꝛn hert.
Apoc. 2.d who shall then knowe it? * Euen I *Psa.7 b the Lord search out the ground of the Rom.2 a hearte, and tꝛye the reynes, * and re-Pro.23 a warde euery man accoꝛdynge to hys Psa.52 b wayes, and accoꝛdyng to the fruite of Luk.13 b hys woꝛkes. * The Partriche maketh a nest of egges, which she layde not.
He commeth by ryches, but not righteously. In the midst of his lyfe must he leaue them behynd hym, and at the laste be found a very foole. But thou (O Lorde) whose thꝛone is most glo rious, excellent, and of moste antiquitie, which dwellest in the place of our holy rest: Thou art the comfoꝛt of Is-racll. All they that foꝛsake thee, shall be confounded: all they that departe Jere. 3.d from thee, shall be wꝛitten in earthe, Eze.36 b * foꝛ they haue foꝛsaken the Lord, the Joh. 4.b very cundite of the waters of lyfe.
D Heale me, O Lorde, and I shall bee whole: saue thou me, and I shalbe saued, foꝛ thou art my pꝛayse. Beholde, these men say vnto me: where is the woꝛde of the Lord (Let it com now.) Where as I neuertheiesse obediently folowed thee as a shepherd, and haue not vncalled taken this office vppon me, this knowest thou wel. My woꝛ-des also, were right befoꝛe thee. Bee not nowe terrible vnto me O Lorde, Jer.14.a * foꝛ thou arte he, in whome I hope, and.16.c when I am in perill. Let my perse-cuters be confounded, but not me: let them bee afraide, and not me. Thou shalt bꝛynge vppon them the tyme of theyꝛ plague, and shalt destroy them E right soꝛe. Thus hath the Lord sayd vnto me: * Go and stande vnder the Eth.23b gate, where thoꝛowe the people and Deu.5.b the kynges of Juda go out and in, yee vnder all the gates of Jerusalem, and say vnto them: Heare the woꝛd of the Lord, ye kynges of Juda, and all thou people of Juda, and all ye citisens of Jerusalem, that go thoꝛow this gate.
Thus the Lord commandeth, * Take Exo.20b hede foꝛ youre lyues, that you cary no burthen vpon you in the Sabboth, to bꝛyng it thoꝛowe the gates of Jerusalem: ye shall beare no burthen also out of your houses in the Sabbothe.
Ye shall doo no labour therin, but ha-low the Sabboth, * as I commaunded your fathers. Howebeit, they obeyd me not, neither herkned they vn to me: but wer obstinate & stubboꝛne and neither obeyed me, noꝛ receaued my coꝛrection. Neuertheiesse, yf yee wyll heare me (sayth the Lorde) and beare no burthen into the Citie tho-row this gate vpon the Saboth: if ye will halowe the Sabboth, so that ye do no woꝛke therein: then shall there goe thoꝛowe the gates of this Citie, kynges and pꝛinces, that shall sytte vpopn the thꝛone of Dauyd: They shalbe caried vpon charets, and ryde F vppon hoꝛses, bothe they and theyꝛ Pꝛinces. Yea, whole Juda, and all the citisens of Jerusalem, shall goe here thoꝛough, and this Citie shall e-uer moꝛe and moꝛe bee inhabited.
There shall come men also frome the Cities of Juda, from aboute Jerusalem, and from the lande of Beniamin, from the playne fieldes, frome the mountaynes, and frome the wyl-dernesse: whiche shall bꝛyng burnt offerynges, sacrifices, oblations, and incense, and offer vppe thankeige-uyng in the house of the Lorde. But if ye wilt not be obedient vnto me, to halowe the Sabboth, so that ye will beare your burthens thoꝛowe the gates of Jerusalem vppon the Sabbothe: Thenne shall I sette fyre vppon the gates of Jerusalem, and it shall bourne vppe the houses of Jerusalem, and no manne shall bee able to quenche it.

The

¶ The.xviii.Chapter.

THis is another communicatiō, that God had with Jeremye, sayinge: Aryse, and goo downe into the Potters house, and ther shall I tel the more of my mind. Nowe when I came to the Potters house, I founde hym makynge hys woorke vppon a wheele. The vessell that the Potter made of claye, brake amonge his handes: So he began a newe, and made another vessel accordyng to his mynde. Then sayde the Esa.25.b Lord thus vnto me: * May not I do Rom.9.c with you, as this Potter doth, O ye B house of Israell, sayth the Lord? Beholde, yee howse of Israell, ye are in my hande, euen as the claye in the Eze.14.c Potters hande. * when I take in Luk.15.a hande to rodte out, to destroye, or to wast awaye any people or kyngdome John.3.d * if that people against whom I haue thus deuised) conuert from their wickednes: I repent of the plage, that I 1Re.15.f deuised to bring vppon them. * Agayn, when I take in hande, to buylde, or to plante a people or a kyngdome: if the same people do euyll before me, and heare not my voyce: I repente of the good, ỹ I deuised to doo for them: Speake nowe therefore vnto whole Juda: and to them that dwell at Jerusalem. Thus sayth the Lorde: Beholde I am deuisynge a plague for you, and am takynge a thyng in hand Jer.25.a agaynste you. * Therefore let euerye man turne from hys euyll way, take vpon you the thyng that is good, and do ryghte. But they sayde: Nomore Jer.14.a of this * we wyll folowe oure owne
C imaginacions, and do euerye man accordyng to the wylfulnes of his owne mynd. Therfore thus sayth the Lord: Aske among the Heathen, if any man hath herde such horrible thinges, as ỹ daughter of Sion hath done. Shal not the snowe (that melteth vpon the stony rockes of Libanus) moisten the feldes? Or may the sprynges of waters be so grauen awaye, that they run nomore, geue moistnes, nor make fruitfull? But my people hath so forgotten me, that they haue made sacrifice vnto vayne Goddes. And theyr prophetes make theym fall in theyr swayes from the auncient pathes, and to go into a foote way not vsed to bee troden of iust men. Wherethroughe they haue brought theyr land into an euerlastynge wildernes and scorne.
Jer.19.b * So that whosoeuer trauleth therby, shalbe abashed, and swagge theyr heades. Wyth an East wind wyll I scater theim before theyr enemy. And when their destruction commeth, I wyll turne my backe vppon theym, but not my face. Then sayde they, Jer.11.b * come, let vs ymagine somethinge agaynst thys Jeremy. For the prieste shall not be destitute of the law, neyther shall the wyse menne bee destitute of councel, nor the prophetes destitute of the woorde of God: Come, and let vs smyte hym wyth the tong, and let vs marke all hys wordes.
D Consider me, O Lord, and heare the Psa.109 voyce of myne enemies, * shall they recompence euyll for good? for they Jer.10.d haue digged a pyt for my soule. * Remembre, howe that I stoode before thee, to speake good for theym, and to turne awaye thy wrath from theym.
Psa.109 * Therfore let theyr childrē die of hū Exo.3.f ger, and let theym be oppressed wyth the swerd. Let their wiues be robbed of theyr childzen, & becom widowes: let theyr husbandes be slaine, let their younge menne bee kylled wyth the swearde in the fyelde. Let the noyse be hearde oute of theyr houses, when the murtherer commeth sodenly vpon theym. * For they haue dygged a Jer.11.d pytte to take me, and layed snares for my feete: Yet Lorde, thou knowest al theyr councel, that they haue deuysed to slaye me. Forgeue not theyr wickednes, and lette not theyr synne bee putte oute of thy syght: but let theim be iudged before thee as the gyltye. Thys shalte thou doo vnto theym in the tyme of thy indygnation.

¶ The.xix.Chapter.

THus sayde the Lorde: Goe thy waye and bye thee an earthen pitcher, and bringe foorth the Senatoures and chiefe priestes into the valley of the childzen of Hennom, whiche lieth before the dooze that is made of bricke, and shewe them there the wordes, that I shall tell thee, and saye thus vnto them: Heare the word of the Lorde ye kinges of Juda, and 3Re.23 c ye citiezens of Jerusalem. * Thus saieth the Lord of hoostes the God of Israell. Beholde, I wil bringe suche a plage vpon thys place that the eares of all that heare it, shall glowe. And that because they haue forsaken mee, and vnhalowed thys place, and haue offred in it vnto strange gods: whom nether they, theyr fathers, nor the kinges of Juda haue knowen. They B haue filled thys place also wyth the deu.12.d bloudde of innocentes, for they haue Psa.109 sette vp an aulter vnto Baal to burne Eze.16 c theyr childzen for a burnte offeryng
* Jer.7 d vnto Baall, whiche I neyther commaunded nor charged theym neyther thought once therupon. Behold therfore * the tyme commeth (sayeth the Lord) that thys place shal nomore be called Topheth: nor the valley of the childzen of Hennom, but the valley of slaughter: For in thys place wyll I slaye the Senatours of Juda and Jerusalem, and kyll theym downe wyth the sweard in the syght of their ennemies and of them that seke their liues And their dead carcasses will I geue to be meate for the foules of the ayre, and beastes of the fielde. And I wyll C make thys citye so desolate and despised: * that whoso goeth thereby, shall 3Re.9.b be abashed and iealt vpon her, becaus Jer.18 b of all her plages. * I will feede them
* Tre.4b also with the flesh of their sonnes and
* Deu 28 e theyr daughters. * Ye, euery one shall eate vp another in the besegynge and straitnes, wherewith theyr enemies (that seke their lyues) shal kepe them in. And the pitcher shalt thoubreke in Jer.18 a the syght of the men that shalbe with thee, and say vnto thē. Thus saith the Lord of hoostes: * Euen so wyl I destroye this people and citiezas a man breaketh an earthen vessell, that can not be made whole agayn: * In Tophety shall they bee buryed, for they Jer.7 d shall haue none other place. Thus wil I do vnto this place also, saith ỹ Lord, and to them that dwell therein: yea, I wil do to this city as vnto Topheth. (For the houses of Jerusalem and the houses of the kinges of Juda shalbe defiled, lyke as Topheth) because of al ỹ houses, in whose parlers they dyd sacrifice vnto all the hoost of heauen, & poured drink offerings vnto straunge goddes. And so Jeremye came from Topheth, where the Lord had sene him to prophecie, and stode in the court of the house of the Lord, and spake to al the people. Thus saith the Lorde of hoostes the God of Israell: Beholde I wyll bring vpon this citie and vpon euery towne about it: al the plages ỹ I haue deuised againste Jer.7 d them: * for they haue beene obstinate, and wolde not obeye my warninges.

¶ The.xx. Chapter.

WHen Phashur the priest the I sonne of Emer, chiefe in the house of the Lord, hearde Jeremye preache so stedfastly: * he smote Joh.18 c Jeremy, and put hym in the stockes, that are by the hie gate of Ben Jamin, in the house of the Lorde. The next day folowing Phashur brought Jeremye oute of the stockes agayne. Then sayde Jeremy vnto him: The Lord shall call the no more Phashur, (that is excellent and increasing) but Magor (that is fearfull and afrayde) euery wher. For thus sayth the Lord: beholde, I wyl make the afraid, euen thy self, and al that fauour the, which shal perysh wyth the sweard of theyr B enemyes, euen before thy face. And I wil geue whole Juda vnder the power of the king of Babilon, which shal carye some vnto Babilon presoners, 4Re.20 c and slaye some wyth the sweard. Jer.15.b Moreouer all the substaunce of thys lande, all their precious and gorgious worckes, all costlines, and al the treasure sure of the kynges of Juda: wyll I geue into the handes of their enemies which shall spoyle them, and cary thē vnto Babylon. But as for thee (O Phashur) thou shalte be caryed vnto Babylon, with all thyne housholde, and to Babylon shalte thou come, where thou shalte dye, and be buryed, thou and all thy fauourers, to whom thou haste preached lyes. O Lorde: if I am dysceaued, then haste thou disceaued me: thou haste dealt strongly: and haste preuayled, and makest mee Thre.4b stronger agayne. * All the daye longe am I despised, and laughed to scorne of euerye man: because I haue nowe preached longe agaynst malicious tyranny, and shewed them of destruc-Jere.5.b tion. * For the which cause they caste the worde of the Lorde in my teeth, C and take me euer to the worst. Wherfore, I thought from hence forth, not to speake of hym, nor to preache anye more in his name. But the worde of the Lorde was a very burnynge fire in my herte and in my bones, whiche when I wold haue stopped, I might Psa.31b not. For why * I herde so manye derisions and blasphemyes on euerye syde of me: complayne vpon him, saye they, and we wyll tell hys tale, yea euen of myne owne companions, and such as were conuersaunte with me, wente aboute to murther me, saying: vpon him, we shal one waye or other begile him and preuayle against him, and be auenged of him. But the Lorde stode by me, lyke a myghtye gyaunte, therefore my persecutoures fell, and coulde do nothinge. They shalbe sore confounded, for they haue done vnwisely, they shal haue an euerlastyng Jer.11.d shame. * And nowe, O Lorde of hoostes, thou ryghteous searcher (whiche knowest the reynes and the very hertes:) let me see them punyshed, for vnto thee I cōmyt my cause. Synge vnto the Lorde, and prayse him, for he hath deliuered the soule of the oppressed, from the hande of the Job.3.a violente. * Cursed be the day, wherin I was borne, vnhappye be the daye wherin my mother brought me forth Cursed be the man, that brought my father the tydynges to make hym glad, saying: thou haste gotten a son. Let it happen vnto that man, as to the cities * which the Lorde turned vp Gen.17c syde downe. Let him heare crying in the mornyng, and at none day lamentable howlynge. Why slewest thou not me, as sone as I came out of my mothers wombe? O that my mother had bene my graue her selfe, that the birth mighte not haue come out, but remayned styll in her. * Wherefore Job.10c came I forth of my mothers wombe? To haue experyence of laboure and sorowe? and to leade my lyfe with shame?

¶ The.xxi. Chapter.

THese are the woordes that the A Lorde spake vnto Jeremye, * Jer.37.a what tyme as kyng Zedekiah sent vnto him, Phashur the sonne of Melchias, and Sophonias the sonne of Maasias the preest, saying. * Aske 3Re.23b counsell at the Lord) we pray thee) of our behalfe, for Nabuchodonozor the kyng of Babilon besiegeth vs, yf the Lorde (peraduenture) will deale with vs, accordyng to hys marueylous power, and take him frome vs. Then spake Jeremye: Geue Zedekias this answere. Thus sayth the Lord God of Israell: beholde, I wyll turne backe the weapons that ye haue in your handes, wherwith ye fighte agaynst the kyng of Babilon and the Caldees, which besyege you rounde about the walles, and I wyll bringe theym together into the myddest of this citye, and I my selfe wyll fyght agaynste you, with an out stretched hande, and with a mightye arme, in great displeasure and terrible wrath, and wyll smyte them, that dwell in this citye: yea, both men and cattell B shall dye of a great pestilence. * And Jer.39.a after this (sayth the Lord) I shall deliuer Zedekias the kyng of Juda, and his seruauntes, his people (and suche as are escaped in the citye, from the pestilence, sworde and honger) into the power of Nabuchodonozor kyng of Babilon: yea, into the handes of their ennemies, into the handes of those that folowe vppon their lyues, whiche shall smite theym with the sweard, they shal not pitie them, they shal not spare them, they shal haue no C mercy vpon them. And vnto thys peo deut.30.e ple thou shalte saye: Thus sayeth the Lorde: * behold, I laye before you the Jer.27.a waye of life and death. * Who so abydeth in this citie, shall perysshe eyther swyth the sweard, with hunger, or swyth pestilence. But who so goeth oute to holde on the Chaldees parte, Jer.22.a that besiege it, hee shall saue his lyfe, & shal wyn his soule for a praye. For I haue set my face agaynst this City (sayeth the Lorde) to plague it, and to do it no good. It muste be geuen into the hand of the king of Babilon, and be brēt with fire. And vnto the house of the king of Juda, saye thus: Heare the woorde of the Lorde (O thou house Esay.2.c of Dauid) for thus saieth the Lorde.

Jer.20.a * Minister ryghteousnes, and that
* Jer.4.a soone, deliuer the oppressed from vio-D lēt power * or euer my terrible wrath breake out lyke a fyre, and burne, so that no man maye quenche it, because Jer.41.a of the wickednes of your ymaginations. * Beholde (sayeth the Lorde) I wyll come vppon you, that dwell in the valleyes, rockes, and fyeldes and deu.29.c saye. * Tush: who wil make vs afrai-Jere.5.b ed? or who will come into oure hou-Soph.1 ses? For I wyll visit you (sayeth the Lorde) because of the wickednes of your inuencions, and wil kyndle such a fire in your wood, as shall consume all that is about you.

C The.xxii. Chapter.

A THus sayd the Lord, Go downe into the house of the kinge of Juda, and speake there these woordes, and saye: Heare the woorde of the Lorde, thou kinge of Juda that sytteste in the kinglye seate of Dauyd: thou and thy seruantes and thy people that goe in and oute at thys gate.
Esay.1.c Thus the Lord commaundeth: * kepe equitie and ryghteousnes, delyuer the oppressed from the power of the violent: dooe not gryeue nor oppresse the stranger, the fatherlesse nor the wyddowe, & shed no innocent blud in this place. And yf ye keepe these thinges saythfullye, then shal there come in at the doore of this house, Kinges to sit vpon Dauids seate: they shall be caried in charettes, and ryde vpon horses, both they and their seruantes, and their people. But yf ye wil not bee obediente vnto these commaundementes, * I sweare by myne owne selfe Esay.1.c (sayeth the Lord) this house shall bee Jer.41.c waste. For thus hath the Lorde spoken vpon the kynges house of Juda. Thou Gilead art vnto mee the heade of Libanus. Shall I not make thee so waste (and thy cities also) that no man shal dwell therein? I will prepare a destroyer swyth hys weapons for thee, to hewe downe the speciall Ceder trees, & to cast them in the fyre C And all the people that go by this cy-
* deu.29. tye, shal speke one to another. * Wher-3 Re.9.b fore hath the Lorde doone thus vnto
* deu.29. this noble citie? Then shal it be aun-1 Par.7.b swered: * because they haue broken
* 4 Re.23 the couenant of the Lorde their God, and haue worshipped & serued strāge goddes. * Mourne not ouer the dead, and be not wo for theym, but be sorye for hym that departeth awaye: for hee commeth not agayne, and seeth hys natyue countrey no more. For thus sayeth the Lorde, as touchinge * Sel-2 Par.36 lum the son of Josias king of Juda, whiche reygned after his father, and is caried out of this place, he shall neuer come hither agayne, for he shal die in the place, where vnto he is led captiue, and shall see this lande nomore.
D * Wo worth him, ỹ buildeth his house Esay.58 swith vnrighteousnes: & hys parlers swith the good, that he hath gottē by violēce, which neuer recōpenseth his neyghboures labour, nor paieth him hys hyre. He thinketh in him selfe, I wil build me a wide house, and gorgious parlers. Hee causeth windowes to be hewē therin, & the selinges and toystes maketh he of Cedre, & paynteth thē with Sinaper. Thinkest ỹ to reygne, nowe that thou prouokest me me to wrathe with the Cedre trees? Wyd not thy father eate and drynke, & prosper well, as long as he delt with equitie & righteousnes? Yea, when he helped the oppressed and pore to their ryght, then prospered he well. From whence came thys, but onely because he had me before hys eyes, sayeth the lord? Neuertheless, as for thine eyes and thine heart, they loke vpon couetousnesse, to shedde innocent bloud, to 4Re.23c doo wrong and violence. * And therfore thus sayth the Lorde agaynst Jehoakim, the sonne of Josias kyng of Juda. They shal not mourn for him (as they vse to doo, Alas brother, Alas syster. Neither shall they say vnto hym. Alas syr, alas for that noble prynce. But as an asse shall he be buryed, corrupt and be caste without the gates of Jerusalem. Clymbe vp the hyll of Libanus (O thou daughter of Syon) lifte vp thy voyce vppon Basan, crye frome all partes: for all thy louers are destroyed. I gaue thee warnyng, while thou wast yet in prosperitie. But thou saydest: I wyll not heare. And this maner haste thou vsed from thy youth, that thou wouldeste neuer heare my voyce. All thy heardemen shall be dryuen wyth the wynd, and thy dearlyngs shallbe caried away into captiuitie. Then shalt thou be brought to shame and confusion, because of all thy wickednesse, Thou that dwellest vpon Libanus, & Esa.13b makest thy nest in the Cedre trees:

* O how lyttle shalt thou bee regarded whenne thy sorowes and panges 4Re.24b come vpon thee, as a woman trauaylyng with chylde. * As truely as I lyue (sayth the Lorde) Though Conanias, the sonne of Jehoakim kyng of Juda were the sygnet of my right hande, yet wyl I pluck hym of. And I wyll geue thee into the power of them, that seeke to slea thee, and into the power of them that thou fearest: into the power of Nabuchodonosor, the kynge of Babylon, and into the power of the Chaldees. Moreouer, I wyll send thee, and the mother that bare thee into a straunge land, where ye were not borne, and there shall yee dye. But as for the land that ye will & desyre to retourne vnto, ye shall neuer comme at it agayne. This manne Conanias shall be lyke an image robbed and torne in pieces, whiche pleaseth no man for all hys apparayle. Wherfore both he and his sede shal be sent away, & cast out into a land that they know not. O thou earth, earth, earthe: Heare the worde of the Lord. Thus sayth the Lorde: Wryte thys man among the outlawes, for no prosperitie shall this manne haue all hys lyfe long. Neyther shall any of hys sede be so happy, as to sytte vpon the seate of Dauid, and to beare rule in Juda,

¶ The. xxiii. Chapter.

WO bee vnto the shepeherdes & that destroye, and scatter my Eze.34a flocke, sayth the Lord. Wherfore this is the commandemente of the Lorde God of Israell, vnto the shepherdes that fed my people: Ye scatter & thrust out my flocke and loke not vppon theim. Therefore now wyll I visite the wyckednesse, of youre ymaginations (sayeth the Lorde. And wyl gather together the remnant of my flocke, frome all landes that I hadde dryuen theim vnto, and wyll brynge theym agayne to their pastures that they maye growe and increase. I wyll set shepeherdes also ouer theym, whyche shall feede them. They shall nomore feare and B dreade, for there shall none of theym be lost, sayeth the Lorde. * Behoolde, the Jre.33.c tyme commeth, sayth the Lorde, that I wyll rayse vp the rygyteous braunche of Dauid, * which kynge shall Esa.11.a beare rule, and he shall prosper wyth wysedome, and shall sette vp equitye and ryghteousnesse agayne in the earthe. In thys tyme shall Juda be saued, and * Israell shall dwell with-Deut33.c out feare. And thys is the name that they shall call hym: * euen the Lorde 1Cor.1.d our ryghteousnesse. And therefore behold, the tyme commeth, sayth the Lorde, that it shall nomore be sayde:

the Lorde lyueth, which brought the childzen of Iſraell out of the lande of Egypte: But the Lord liueth, which brought forth, and led the ſeede of the houſe of Iſrael, out of the Northy lād:
and from all countreis where I had ſcatred theim, and they ſhall dwell in their owne lande agayne. My hearte breaketh in my bodye becauſe of the falſe prophetes, all my bones ſhake:
I am become lyke a dronken manne (that by the reaſon of wyne can take no reſt) for verye feare of the Lorde, and of his holy wordes. Becauſe the lande is full of aduouterers, and tho-Jer.14.a rough ſwearyng it mourneth, * and C the pleaſaunte paſtures of the deſerte are dryed by, Yea, the waye that men take, is wicked, and their gouernance is nothing lyke the holy word of the Lord. For the prophetes & the prieſts theym ſelues are polluted ypocrytes, and their wickednes haue I founde in my houſe, ſayth the Lorde. Wherefore, their way ſhalbe ſlippery in the darknes, wherin thei may ſtacker and fall. For I will bring a plague vppon them, euen the yeare of their viſitation ſayth the Lord. I haue ſeene folie amonge the Prophetes of Samaria, that they preached for Baall, and diſceaued my people of Iſraell.
I haue ſeene alſo amonge the Prophetes of Jeruſalem foule aduoutry, and preſumpteous lyes. They take the moſt ſhamfull men by the hande, flatteryng theim, ſo that they can not retourne from their wyckednes. All theſe with their citezens are vnto me, as Sodome, and as the inhabitoures of Gomorra. Therfore thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes concerninge the Pro-Jer.9.b. phetes. * Beholde, I wil fede theym wyth wormewood, and make theym drynke the water of gall. For from D the prophetes of Jeruſalem is ypocriſie come into al the land. And ther Jer.27b fore the Lorde of Hoſtes geueth you thys warning. * Heare not the wor-des of the prophetes, that preach vnto you, and diſceyue you: ſurely they teach you vanitie, for they ſpeake the meanynge of their owne hearte, and not oute of the mouthe of the Lorde.
* They ſaye vnto theym that deſpyſe me. The Lord hath ſpoken it: Tuſhe: ye ſhal proſper ryght well. And vnto all them, that walke after the luſte of their owne hearte, they ſaye: Tuſhe there ſhal no myſfortune happen you, For who hath ſitten in the counceil of the Lorde, that he hath hearde and vnderſtande what he is about to doe:
whoe hath marked hys deuyce, and Jer.30 heard it? * Beholde, the ſtormye wether of the Lorde (that is his indygnation) ſhall go forth, and a vyolente whirlewind ſhall fall downe vppon the heade of the vngodlye. And the wrath of the Lorde ſhal not tourne a-gayne, vntil he perfourme and fulfyll the thoughte of hys hearte. * And in Jer.30 the latter dayes yee ſhall knowe hys meanyng. I haue not ſent theſe prophetes (ſayth the Lorde) and yet they E ranne. * I haue not ſpoken to theym, Jer.14b and yet they preached. But yf they had continued in my counceil they had opened to my people my wordes and they had tourned my people frō their euyl wayes and wycked ymaginations. * Am I then God that ſeeth but the thinge, whych is nye at hand, and not that is farre of? ſayeth the Lord.
* May any man hyde him ſelf ſo, that Pſa.139
I ſhal not ſee hym? ſayeth the Lorde. Ezr.8.b.
* Do not I fulfyll heauen and earth? ſayeth the Lorde. I haue hearde well Pſa.139 ynough, what the prophetes ſay that * Eſa.66 preache lyes in my name, ſayinge: I haue dreamed, I haue dreamed. How longe wyll this continue in the prophetes heart to tell lyes, and to preach the craftie ſubtilty of their own hert? whoſe purpoſe is (wyth the dreames that euerye one tel) to make my people forgette my name, as their fore-fathers dyd, when Baal came vp. The prophete that hath a dreame, let hym 2 Cor.4.a tell it: and hee that vnderſtandeth my 1 Pet.4.b woord, let hym ſhewe it faythfullye.
For what hath chaffe & wheat to do together ſaieth the Lorde. Is not my woorde lyke a fyre, ſayeth the Lorde, and like an hammer, that breaketh the harde ſtoane. * Therefore thus ſayth

sayeth the LORDE: Beholde I will vpō the prophetes, that steale my worde priuelye from euery man: Behold, here am I (sayth the Lord) agaynste the prophetes, that make tunges tender to speake, and say: The Lord hath said it. Behold, here am I (sayth the Lord) agaynst those prophetes, that dar prophesy lying dreames, & disceaue my people with their vanities and miracles, whō I neuer sent, nor cōmaunded them. They shal do this people great harme, sayth the Lord. If this people, eyther any prophet or priest aske thee & say: what is the burthen of the Lorde? Thou shalte say vnto them, what burthen? Therfore will I cast you fro me, sayth the Lorde, because ye your selues are (a burthen.) And the prophet, priest or people that vseth this tearme (the burthen of the Lord) him will I visite, and his hous also. But thus shal ye saye, euery one to another, and euerye man to his brother. What answer hath the Lord geuen? or what is the G Lordes commaundemente? And as for the burthen of the Lorde, ye shall speake nomore of it: for euerye mans owne worde is his burthen, because ye haue altered the wordes of the lyuyng God the Lorde of hoostes, our God. Thus shall euerye man saye to the prophetes: what answer hath the Lorde geuen thee? Or, what sayeth the Lorde? And not once to name the burthen of the Lorde. Therfore thus sayth the Lorde. For so muche as ye haue vsed this terme (the burthen of the Lord) where as I notwithstandyng sent vnto you, and forbade you to speake of the Lordes burthen. Beholde therfore, I wyll repute you as a burthen, and wyll cast you oute of my presence: yea, and the citye also, that I gaue you, and your fathers: and wyl bryng you to an euerlastyng confusion, and into such a shame, as shall neuer be forgotten.

¶ The.xxiiii. Capter.

A THe Lorde shewed me a vision: Behold, ther stode two maundes of figges before the temple of the LORDE, after that Nabuchodonosor king of Babilon had led awaye captiue Iechonias the son of Iehoakim king of Juda, the mighty men also of Juda, with the workmasters, and cunning men of Jerusalē, vnto Babilō. In the one maunde, wer very good figges, euen like as those that be first ripe. In the other maund wer very naghty figs, which might not be eaten, they were so euil. Then said the lord vnto me: what seest thou Ieremye? I sayde, figges, Osee.9.b wherof some be verye good, and some so euil, that no man maye eate theym. B Then came the word of the Lord vnto me, after thys maner: Thus sayeth the Lorde the God of Israell: like as thou knowest the good figges, so shal I knowe the men led awaye, whom I haue sente oute of thys place into the land of the Caldees, for their profite: and I will set myne eies vppon them for the beste, for I wyll bryng them agayne into this lande: I wyll buylde them vp, and not breake them downe: I will plante theym, and not C roote theym oute. And I will geue deu.29.a them an heart, to knowe howe that Jer.30.d I am the Lord. They shalbe my people, and I wilbe theyr God, for they shall retoutne vnto mee wyth theyr Jer.29.c whole heart. And like as thou knowest the naughtye figges, whiche may not be eaten, they are so euyl: Euen so wil I (sayth the Lorde) let Zedekias the king of Juda, (ye and al hys princes, and the residue of Jerusalē that remaine ouer in this lande, and them also that dwel in Egipt) to bee vexed and plagued in all kingdomes and landes. And wil make them to be a reproſe, a commē by word, a laughing stocke and shame, in al the places, D where I shal scater them, I wil send Psa.79.a the sweard, hunger and pestilence among them, vntil I haue cleane consumed them oute of the lande, that I gaue vnto them and their fathers.

¶ The.xxv. Chapter.

A ASermon that was geuen vnto Jeremy, vpon all the people of Juda. In the fourthe yeare pere of Jehoakim the sonne of Josias kinge of Juda, that was in the first yere of Nabuchodonosor king of Babilon. which sermon, Jeremy the prophete made vnto all the people of Juda, and to all the inhabitours of Jerusalem, on this maner. From the thirtene yeare of Josias the sonne of Ammon kyng of Juda, vnto this pre sent day (that is euen .xxiii. yeare) the Jer.29.c word of the Lord hath bene committed vnto me. * And so I haue spoken to you, I haue risen vp early, I haue 2.pa.39.c geuen you warning in season, but ye wolde not heare me. * Though the Lorde hath sente hys seruauntes, all the prophetes vnto you in season. Yet wolde ye not obey, ye wolde not en-4Ma.17.c clyne your eares to heare. He sayde

* turne agayne euery man from hys euell way, and from your wicked ymaginacions, and so shal ye dwell for euer in the land, that the Lord promised you and your forefathers. And go not after straunge godes, serue them not, worshipp them not, and angre me not with the workes of your handes:
then will not I punysh you. Neuer-theles ye wolde not heare me (sayth the Lord:) but haue defyled me with B the workes of your handes, to youre Jere.8.b owne greate harme. Wherfore thus sayth the Lord of hoostes. * Because ye haue not herkened vnto my word, lo, I will send out, and call for all the Esa.10.a people, that dwel in the North, sayth the Lord, and wyl prepare Nabucho-nosor the kyng of * Babilon my ser-uaunt, and wyll bringe theym vpon this lande, and vpon all that dwell therein, and vpon all the people that are about them, and will vtterly rote C them out. I wil make of them a wil-Jere.7.b derneſſe, a mockage, and a continuall desert. * Moreouer, I will take from them the voyce of gladnes and solace, the voyce of the bridegrome, and the bryde, the voyce of the annoynted with the creshettes: and this whole lande shall become a wylderness, and 2pa.26.d these nations shall serue the kyng of 1Esd.1.a Babilon, threescore yeares and ten.
Dan.9.a * When the .lxx. yeres are expired, I will vyset also the wyckednes of the kynge of Babylon, and hys people saith the Lord: yea, and the land of the Caldees, & wyll make it a perpetuall wildernes, and wil fulfyl al my wor-des vpon that land, which I haue de-uised agaynst it: yea, all that is written in this boke, which Jeremy hath prophecied of all people: so that they Jobz.34 also shalbe subdued vnto dyuers na-cions and great kynges, * for I wyll recompence them, accordyng to their D dedes and workes of their owen han-des. For thus hath the Lorde God of Esa.51 Israell spoken vnto me: Take thys Psa.65
* wyne cuppe of indignacion fro my hande, that thou mayest cause all the people, to whom I sende thee, for to drynke of it: that when they haue dronken therof, they may be mad, and out of their wittes, when the sword commeth, that I wyll sende amonge them. Then toke I the cup from the Lordes hand, and made all people to drinke therof, vnto whom the Lorde had sent me. But first the citie of Jerusalem, and all the cities of Juda, their kynges and princes, to make them desolate, wast, despised, and hissed at, and cursed, accordynge as it is E come to passe this day. Yea, and Pharao the kyng of Egypt, his seruauntes, his princes and his people all together one with another, and all kinges of the land of Hus, all kynges of the Philistines land, Ascalon, Azah, Accaron and the remnaunt of Asdod, the Edomites, the Moabites and the Ammonites, all the kynges of Tyrus and Sidon: the kynges of the Iles that are beyond the sea: Dedan, Thema, Buz, and al them that dwel in the vttermost partes of the world:
all the kynges of Araby, and (generally all the kynges that dwell in the desert: all the kynges of Zamri, al the kinges of Elam, all the kynges of the Medes, all the kynges toward the North, whether they be farre or nye, euery one agaynst his neyghbours: Yea, and all the kyngdomes that are vppon the whole earthe. The kynge of Serach sayde he, shall drynke with

with them also. Therefore saye thou vnto them: This is the commaundement of the Lord of Hostes the God of Israell: Drynke and be dronken, spewe and fall, that ye neuer ryse, and that thorowe the swearde, which I wyll sende among you. But yf they will not receaue the cup of thy hand, and drynke it, then tell them. Thus doeth the Lorde of Hooستes threaten Ezec.9.b 1 Pet.4.c you: drinke it ye shall, and that shortlye. For lo, • I begynne to plage the citye, that my name is geuen vnto: thinke ye then that I wyl leaue you vnpunyshed? Ye shal not go quite, for whye? I call for a swearde vpon all the inhabitoures of the earth, sayeth the Lorde of Hooستes. Therefore tell Joel.4.c Amas.1b them all these wordes, and saye vnto them. • The Lorde shall crye from aboue, and let his voyce be herde from hys holye habitacion. With a greate noyse shall he crye from hys court regall. He shall geue a greate voyce (lyke the graye gatherers) and the sounde thereof shalbe herde vnto the ende of the worlde. For the Lorde hath a iudgement to geue vpon all people, and wyll holde his courte of G iustice with all flesshe, and punish the Jer.30.b vngodly sayth the Lorde. For thus sayth the Lorde of Hostes: • Behold, a miserable plage, shall goo from one people to another, and a great stormy water shall aryse from all the endes of the earthe. And the same daye shall the Lorde hym selfe slaye them, from one ende of the earthe to another. There shall no mone be made for any of them, none gathered vp, none buryed: but shall lye as donge vpon the ground. Mourne (O ye shepherdes) and crye: sprinkle youre selues with asshes, O ye Rams of the flocke: for the tyme of your slaughter is fulfylled, that ye shal slaye one another, and Esa.14.a ye shalbe scatered, and ye shal fal lyke beestes cunnyngly made for pleasure. • The shepeherdes shal haue no way to flee, and the rammes of the flocke shall not escape. Then shal the shepeherdes crye horryblye, and the rams of the flocke shall mourne: for the Lorde hath consumed their pasture, And their best feldes lye dead because of the horrible wrath of the Lorde. They haue forsaken their foldes like as a Lyon: For their lande is waste because of his furious crueltye for hys fearefull indignation.

¶ The .xxvi. Chapter.

A

In the beginning of the reign of Iehoakim the sonne of Iosiah kinge of Juda, came thys word from the Lord, sayinge: Jere.7.a Thus sayth the Lord: • Stand in the court of the Lordes house, and speake vnto all them which (out of the Cyties of Juda) come to doo worshipp in the Lordes house, al the wordes that Deu.4.a I commaund thee to say. • Loke that thou keepe not one woorde backe, yf (peraduenture) they wil herken, and turne euery manne from his wicked Jer.18.a way: • that I may also repent of the Joh.3.b plague, which I haue determined to brynge vppon theym, because of their wycked inuencions. And after thys maner shalte thou speake vnto them:

B

Thus sayth the Lorde, yf ye wil not obey me, to walke in my lawes whiche I haue geuen you, and to heare the wordes of my seruantes the prophetes, whom I sent vnto you, rising vp timely, and stil sending. Yf ye wil not folowe the ym (I saye) then wyll I do to this house, • as I dydde vnto Jere.7.a Siloh, and wyll make thys Citye to bee abhorred of all the people of the earth. And the preestes, the Prophetes, and all the people heard Jeremie preache these woordes in the house of the Lorde. Nowe when he had spoken out all the wordes, that the Lord commaunded hym to preache vnto the people, then the preestes, the prophetes & al the people tooke hold vpō him, & said, thou shalt dy. How darest thou be so bold: as to say in ỹ name of the Lord: it shal happen to this house as it did vnto Siloh: & this citie shal be so wast, ỹ no man shal dwel therin

C

And whē al ỹ people wer gathered about Jeremy i ỹ house of ỹ Lord, the princes of Juda herd of this rumor, & they cāe sone out of the kinges palace into into the house of the Lorde, and satte 4.re.15 a them downe before the * newe doore Jer.36 g of the Lord. Then spake the Priestes and the Prophets vnto the Rulers:

and to all the people, these wordes: Joh.19a * This man is worthy to dye, for he Mat.26. hath preached against this citie, as ye your selues haue herd with your eares. Then said Jeremie vnto the rulers, and to all the people: The Lord D hath sent me to preache agaynst thys house, and against this Citie, all the wordes that ye haue heard. Therfore amend your waye & your aduisemēts: and be obedient vnto the voyce of the Lord your God: so shall the Lord repent of the plague, that he had deuised against you. Nowe as for me: I am in your hands, doo with me, as ye thinke expedient and good. But this shall ye knowe: if ye put me to death, Mat.23. * ye shall make your selues, this citie, and all the inhabiters therof, guiltie of innocent blood. For this is of a truth
E that the Lord hath sente me vnto you, to speake all these wordes in your eares. Then said the rulers and the people vnto the priestes and Prophetes: This man may not be condemned vnto death, for he hath preached vnto vs in the name of the Lord our GOD. The elders also of the land stode vp, and said thus vnto all the people: Mi Mich.1a cheas the Morasthite, * which was a prophete vnder Ezekiah king of Juda, spake to all the people of Juda:
Mich.3c Thus sayth the Lord of hostes: * Syon shalbe plowed like a field, Jerusalem shalbe an heape of stones, and the hyll of the Lordes house shalbe tourned to an hie wood. Did Ezekiah the kyng of Juda, & all the people of Juda put hym to death for this. Did ve-Jon.3.b rily, * but rather feared the Lord, and made their prayer vnto hym. For the which cause also, the Lorde repented of his plague, that he had deuised against them. Shuld we then do such a shamefull deede against our soules. There was a prophete also that preached stiffly in the name of the Lorde, called Uriah, the sonne of Semeiah, of Kariathiarim: this man preached also against this city, and against this land, according as al as Jeremy saith. G Nowe * when Iehoakim the kyng 3.re.21 with all the estate and princes hadde heard his wordes, the kyng went a- 4.re.23 bout to slea hym. * When Uriah per- Mat.2
ceiued that, he was afrayde, and fled, and departed into Egypt. Then Iehoakim the kyng sent seruantes into the land of Egypte: Namely Elnathan, the son of Achbor, and certayne men with him into Egypt, whych fetched Uriah out of Egypt, & brought him vnto kyng Iehoakim, that slew hym with the sworde, and caste hys dead bodye into the common peoples graue. But Ahikam, the soonne of Saphan, healped Jeremye, that hee cam not into the handes of the people to be slayne.

The.xxvii. Chapter.

IN the beginning of the reign of Iehoakim, the soonne of Josiah kynge of Juda, came this woord vnto Jeremie, frome the Lorde, whiche spake thus vnto me: Make thee bondes and chaynes, and put theim aboute thy necke, and sende theym to the kynge of Edom, to the kyng of Moab, to the kynge of Ammon, to the kynge of Tyrus, and to the kyng of Sydone: and that by the messangers, which shall come to Jerusalem vnto Zedekiah, the kynge of Juda, and byd theym saie vnto theyr maysters: Thus saieth the Lorde of Hostes, the God of Israell: Speake Deu.10
thus vnto your maisters: * I am he B that made the earthe, the men, and the cattel that are vpon the ground, with my great power & outstretched arme, and haue geuen it vnto whome it pleased me. * And nowe wyll I de- Ecc.10a
liuer all these Landes into the po- Jud.11. wer of Nabuchodonosor the kynge Jer.27.
of Babylon, * my seruant. The bea- Dan.4. stes also of the fyelde, shall I gene Jer.2
hym, to do hym seruice. * And all the Jer.27 people shall serue him, and his sonne 38.44.
and hys childers childerne, vntylle the tyme of the same lande be comme also: Yea, manye people, and greate Kynges shall serue hym.

More-

Moreouer, that people and kingdom, which will not serue Nabuchodonosor, and that will not put their necks vnder the yoke of the kyng of Babylon: the same people wylle I vysyte with the sweard, with hunger, with pestilence, vntyll I haue consumed them in his handes, sayth the Lord.

Jer.23 d * And therfore folow not your Proand.29.b phetes, Sothesayers, expounders of Dreames, Charmers, and Wytches, which say vnto you: Ye shal not serue the king of Babylō. For they preach you lies, to bring you farre from your land, and that I myght cast you oute, and destroy you. But the people that put their necks vnder the yoke of the kyng of Babylon, & serue hym: those will I let remayne styll in their owne lande, sayth the Lorde, and they shall

C occupye it, and dwelle therein.

Jer.38.c All these thynges tolde I Zedekiah, the kynge of Juda, and sayde: Putte youre neckes vnder the yoake of the kyng of Babylon, and serue him and his people, that ye maye lyue. Wherfore wylte thou and thy people perysshe with the sweard, with hunger, with pestilence: lyke as the Lorde hath denised for all people that wil not serue

Jer.22.c the king of Babilon? Therfore geue Jer.39.b no eare vnto those prophets (that tell you: Ye shall not serue the kynge of Babylon) for they preache you lyes, neyther haue I sente theym (sayeth the Lorde: Howebeit they are bolde, falsely to prophecie in my name, that I myght the sooner dryue you oute, and that ye myght perysshe with your preachers. I spake to the priests also, and to all the people: Thus sayth

r.28 a the Lorde: Heare not the wordes of those Prophetes, that preache vnto you, and say: Behold, * the vesselles of the Lordes house shall shortly bee brought hyther agayn from Babylon For they prophecye lyes vnto you. Heare them not, but serue the kynge of Babylon, that ye may lyue. Wher

D fore will ye make this Citie to be destroyed? But if they be true prophets in very dede, and yf the worde of the Lorde be committed vnto them, then let them pray to the Lord of Hosts, þ the remnant of the ornaments (whyche are in the house of the Lorde, and remayne yet in the house of the kyng of Juda and at Jerusalem) be not caryed to Babylon also. For thus hath the Lord of Hostes spokē concerning the pillers, the Lauer, the seate: & the residue of the ornamentes that yet remayne in this Citie, which Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon toke not, * when he caried away Jeconiah 4.re.14.
the sonne of Jehoakim, kyng of Juda, with all the power of Juda and Jerusalem, frome Jerusalem, vnto Babylon, captiue. Yea, thus hathe the Lorde of Hostes, the GOD of Israell spoke, as touchynge the residue of the Ordynaunces of the LORDES house, of the kyng of 4.re.25.c Judaes house, and of Jerusalem: * They shall be caryed vnto Babylon, 1.Esd.1.
and there they shall remayne, vntyll I vysite them, sayth the lord. * Then wyll I bryng them hyther agayne. And this was done in the same yere euen in the beginnnyng of the reigne of Zedekia kynge of Juda.

C The.xxviii. Chapter.

BUt in the fourthe yeare of the reigne of Zedekiah, kynge of Juda, in the fyfth Moneth, it hapned that Hananiah, the soonne of Assur the prophete of Gibeon, spake to me in the house of the Lorde, in the presence of the Priestes, and of al the people, and sayd: Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel: I haue broken the yoke of the kynge of Ba- Jer.17.c
bylon: * and after two yeare wyll I bryng again into thys place: al the ornamentes of the Lordes house, that Nabuchodonosor kyng of Babylon, caried away from this place vnto Babylon: yea, I wyll bryng agayn Jechoniah, the soonne of Jehoakim the kyng of Juda hym selfe, with all the prisoners of Juda) that are caryed vnto Babylon) euen into this place, saieth the Lorde: for I wyll breake the yoake of the kynge of Babylon.

Then the prophet Jeremie geue answer swer vnto the prophete Hananiah be fore the priests, and before al the people that were presente in the house of the Lord. And the prophete Jeremy Mic.3.c. sayde: Amen, the Lorde doe that, and graunte the thinge which thou haste prophecied: that he may bring againe al the ornaments of the Lordes house and restore al the presoners from Ba-bilon into this place. Neuertheless, herken thou also: what I wil say that thou and all the people maye heare.

The Prophetes that were before vs in time past, which prophecied of war or trouble, or pestilēce, either of peace, vpon many nations and great kinge-domes, were proued by this (yf God deu.18.d had sent them in verye dede) when Nu.16.a the thinge came to passe, whiche the C prophete told before. And Hananyah the prophete toke the chaine from the prophete Jeremies necke, and brake it, and with that sayd Hananiah, that all the people myghte heare: Thus hath the Lord spoken: Euen so wyll I breake the yoke of Nabuchodonosor kinge of Babilon, from the necke of all nations: yea, and that within thys two yeare. And so the Prophet Jeremye went his waye. Nowe after that Hanania the prophet had taken the chayne from the prophet Je-remies necke, and broken it: The word of the Lord came vnto the Prophet Jeremy, saying: Go, and tel Ha naniah these wordes. Thus sayth the Lord: Thou hast broken the chaine of wood: but in stead of wood thou shalt make chaynes of yron. For thus saith D the Lorde of hoostes, the God of Israell: I wil put a yoke of yron vpon the necke of all thys people, that they may serue Nabuchodonozor the king of Babilon: yee, and so shall they doe.
And I will geue him the beastes in the fielde. Then sayde the Prophete Jeremy vnto the prophet Hananiah: heare me Hananiah: The Lord hath Jer.29.c not sent thee, but thou bryngest thys people into a false beliefe. And therefore thus sayeth the Lord: beholde: I wyll send thee out of that lande, and within a yeare thou shalt die, because thou hast falsely spoken againste the Lord. So Hananiah the Prophet died the same yere in the seuenth moth.

C The .xxix. Chapter.

THese are the wordes of the booke, that Jeremy the Pro-phete sent from Jerusalem vn A to the prysoners, the senatours, prystes, prophets, and al the people, whō Nabuchodonosor had led from Jerusalem vnto Babilon, after the time that king Jechoniah and his quene, his chamberlaines, the princes of Iu da and Jerusalem, the workemasters of Jerusalem were departed thither.
Which broke Elasah the sonne of Saphan, and Gamariah the son of Hel-kiah dyd beare, whome Zedekiah the king of Juda sent vnto Babylon to Nabuchodonosor the kyng of Babilon: these were the wordes of Jeremyes booke. Thus hath the Lorde of hoostes, the God of Israell spoken B vnto all the prysoners, that were led from Jerusalem vnto Babilō. build you houses to dwell therin: plant you gardens, that ye maye eniope the fru- Jer.35.d tes thereof: Take you wyues, to beare you sonnes and daughters, pro- Gen.1.d uide wyues for your sonnes, and husbandes for your daughters, that they may get sonnes and daughters, and that ye maye multiply there. Labour not to be few but seke after peece and prosperitye of the city, wherin ye be prysoners, and praye vnto the Lord Bar.1.d for it. For in the peace thereof, shall 1 Ti.2.a youre peace bee. For thus sayeth the Lorde of hoostes the God of Israell: Let not these prophetes and southsayers that bee amonge you dysceaue Jer.33.d you, and beleue not your owne dreāmes. For why they preache you lies in my name, and I haue not sente thē Jer.14.b sayth the Lorde. But thus sayeth the C Lorde: when ye haue fulfylled four 1.pa.26.
score yeares at Babilon, I wil bring 1 Esd.1 you home, and of mine own goodnes, I will carye you hither againe into thys place. For I knowe what I haue deuysed for you, sayth the Lord.
My thoughtes are to geue you peace
and

and not trouble, whiche I geue you already, and that ye might haue hope agayne. * Ye shall crye vnto me, ye Deu. 4.c shall go and call vpon me, and I will heare you. * Ye shall seke me and fynd John. 7.b me. Yea, yf so be that ye seke me with your whole hert, I will be found of you, sayth the Lord, and wyll delyuer you out of prison, and gather you together agayne out of all places, wher in I haue scatered you, sayeth the D Lorde: and wyll bryng you agayne to the same place, from whēce I caused you to be caryed away captyue. But where as ye saye, that God hath raysed you vp prophetes at Babilon: Thus hath the Lorde spoken to the king that sitteth in the throne of Dauid, and to al the people that dwell in this Cityе, youre brethern, * that are not gone with you into captiuitye. 4reg. 14d Thus (I saye) speaketh the Lord of Jer. 24.b hooستes: Beholde, * I wyll sende a sweard, hunger, and pestilence vpon them: and will make them lyke vntymely fygges, that may not be eaten for bytternes. And I will persecute them with the sword, with hunger, & E pestilence. I will delyuer them vp to be vexed of all kyngdomes, to be cursed, abhorred, laughed to scorne, and put to confusion of all the people, amonge whom I haue scatered them: and that because they haue not bene obedient vnto my cōmaundementes, sayth the Lorde, which I sente vnto them by my seruantes, the prophetes. Jer. 25.a * I stode vp early, and sente vnto thē: but they wouldе not heare, sayth the Lord. Heare therfore the worde of the Lord, all ye prisoners, whom I sente from Jerusalem vnto Babilō. Thus hath the Lorde of hooستes the God of Israell spoken of Ahab the sonne of Colaiah, and of Zedekiah the sonne of Maasiah, whiche prophesye lyes vnto you in my name. Beholde, I will delyuer them into the hande of Nabuchodonosor the kyng of Babilon, that he maye slaye them before youre eyes. And all the prisoners of Juda, that are in Babilon shall take hyde this curssynge, and say: Nowe God do vnto thee, as he dyd vnto Zedekiah and Ahab, whom the kynge of Babilon rosted in the fire, because they synned shamefullye in Israell. For they haue not onelye defyled their neyghbours wiues, but E also preched lying wordes in my name which I haue not commaūded them. This I testifye and assure, sayth the Lord. But as for Semeiah the Nehelamite, thou shalt speake vnto him. Thus sayth the Lorde of hooستes the God of Israell: Because thou haste sealed letters vnder thy name vnto all the people that is at Jerusalem, and to Sophoniah the sonne of Maasiah the priest: yea, and sent them to al the Priests: wherin thou writest thus vnto him: The Lord hath ordeined thee to be priеste in the steade of * Jehoiada the priеste, that thou sholdest be the chefe in the house of the 4Re. 21. Lord aboue all Prophets, and preachers, and that thou mightest set them vppon the pillerye, or in the stockes. Howe happeneth it then, that thou hast not reproued Jeremye of Anathoth, which neuer leaueth of his prophesying. And besyde all this, he hath sent vs worde * vnto Babilon, and tolde vs playnely: that our captiuitie Jer. 29.c shall longe endure: that we shoulde buyld vs houses to dwell therin: and to plant vs gardens, that we may enioye the frutes therof. Whiche letter Sophoniah the priest red, and let Jeremy the prophet heare it. Then cam the worde of the Lord vnto Jeremy, G saying: Sende word to all them that be in captiuitie, on this maner: Thus hath the Lorde spoken concernynge Semeiah the Nehelamite: Because that Semeiah hath prophecied vnto you without my Commission, and brought you into a false hope, therefore thus the Lord doeth certify you: Behold, I wyl vysite Semeiah, the Nehelamit, & his sede: so that none of hys shall remayne amonge thys people, and none of them shal se the good that I wyll do for this people, sayth the Lord. For he hath preached falsly of the Lorde.

The

¶ The.xxx. Chapter.

THese are the wordes, that the Lord sheweth vnto Jeremye, saying. Thus sayth the Lorde Jer. 30.c God of Israel: • wryte vp diligently all the woordes that I haue spoken vnto the, in a booke. For lo, the tyme commeth, sayth the Lord, that I wyll bryngе agayne the prysoners of my people of Israell and Juda, saith the Lord. For I wyll restore them vnto the land, that I gaue to their fathers, and they shall haue it in possession. Agayne, these woords spake the Lord, concerning Israell and Juda: Thus sayth the Lorde: We haue heard a terrible crye, feare and disquietnes. For what elles dooeth this signifye, that I see? Namely that all stronge men smyte, euery man his hand vpon hys Jer. 13.b loynes • as a woman in the payne of her trauel. Who euer sawe a man trauell with chylde? Enquire therafter, W and see. Yea all their faces are marueilouse pale. Alas for this day, which is so dreadefull that none maye be lykened vnto it: and alas for the tyme of Jacobs trouble, from the whiche he shal yet be deliuered. For in that day sayeth the Lorde of hoostes, I wyll take hys yoke from of thy necke, and breake thy bondes. And straungers shall nomore serue him: but they shall do seruice vnto God theyr Lorde, and Eze. 34.d to • Dauyd their kynge, whom I • Jer. 49.g wyll rayse vp vnto them. • And as for thee, O my seruaunt Jacob, feare not, sayth the Lord, and be not afraid, O Israell. For lo, I will helpe thee also from farre, and thy sede from the lande of their captiuitye. And Jacob shall turne agayne, he shalbe in reste, and haue a prosperous life, and no mã shall make hym afrayde. For I am with the to helpe the, sayth the Lord. And though I shall destroye all the people, among whom I haue scatered thee, yet wyll I not destroy thee, but correct the, and that with discretion. For I knowe that thou arte in no Exo. 44.a wise • without fault. Therfore thus sayth the Lorde: Thy brooslynges are perelous, and thy woundes readye to caste thee into sickenes. There is no man to medle with thy cause, or to lay plaster vppon thee, or to bynde vp thy woundes, there may no man help the. All thy louers haue forgotten the, and C care nothing for the. For I haue geuen thee a cruell stroke, and chastned thee roughly: and that for the multytude of thy mysdeedes: for thy synnes haue had the ouer hand. Why makest thou mone for thy harme? in dede, thou arte sore wounded and in ieopardie:
Jer. 13.d • but for the multitude of thy mysdedes and sinnes, I haue done this vnto thee. • And therfore al they that de-Jer. 13.d and, 10.d noure thee, shalbe deuoured: and all thyne enemyes shalbe led into captiuitie. All they that make thee wast, shal be wasted theym selues, and all those that rob thee, wyl I make also to bee robbed. For I wil geue the thy helth again, and make thy woundes whole sayth the Lorde, because they reuyled thee, as one cast awaye and despysed. Sion (sayd they) is she whom no mã regardeth. For thus sayeth the Lord: D Mu. 24 Beholde, • I wyll bryngе awaye the captiuitye of Jacobs tentes, and desende hys dwellynge place. The Citie shalbe builded in her olde estate, and the houses shall haue their right foundation. And out of them shall goe thankesgeuing, and the voyce of ioye. I will multiplye them, and they shal not bee fewe. I shall endue thē with honoure, and no man shal subdue thē. Their chyldren shalbe as afore tyme, and their congregation shall continue in my syghte. And all those that vexe them, will I visitie. • A gouernour also shall come of theim: and a Prynce Mich. 5. shall spryng out from themyddest of theym: hym wyll I chalenge to my selfe, and he shal come vnto me. • For
Joh. 6.c what is he that geueth ouer his herte to come vnto mee? saithe the Lorde.
Jer. 23.b • Ye shalbe my people also, and I wil be your God. • Behold, on the other syde shal the wrath of the Lord breke out, as a stormye water, as a mightye whirlewynd, and shall fall vpon the heades of the vngodly. The terrible displeasure of the Lord shal not leaue of, vntyl he haue done, and perfourmed Jer.22.c the intente of hys herte, * whiche in the latter days ye shal vnderstand. At the same time sayth the lord, I shal be the God of all the generations of Israell, and they shalbe my people.

¶ The.xxxi. Chapter.

A Nu.13.c THus sayth the Lorde: * The people of Israell, which escaped in the wylderneſſe frome the sweard, found grace to come into their reste. Euen so shall the Lorde nowe also appeare vnto me from far,
John.6.d and say: * I loue the with an euerlastinge loue, therfore, by my mercye I haue drawē the to me. I wil repayre the agayne, O thou daughter of Israell, that thou mayest be faste & sure. Thou shalt take thy tabretes againe, and go forth with them, that lead the daūce. Thou shalt plant vines agayn vpon the hylles of Samaria, and the grape gatherers shall plant, and commenly eate of it. B For the dayes shall come when the watchmen vpon the mount of Ephraim shall crye, * aryse Esay.2.a let vs go vp vnto Sion to our Lorde God, for thus saith the Lord: Reioyce with gladnes because of Jacob) crie vnto the head of the Gentiles: speake out, sing & saye, O Lord saue thy people, the remnaunt of Israell, & make them whole. Behold, I wyll bringe them agayne from out of the Northe land, and gather thē from the endes of the world, with the blind & lame that are among thē, with the wemen that be gret with child, and such as be also deliuered: and the cōpanye of them that come agayne shalbe great. They shal come weping, and with merciful pitie will I bring thē hither agayne. I will leade thē to the riuers of water in a streyght way, wher they shall De.33.a not stumble. * For I am Israels fa-*ge.47.d ther, and * Ephraim is my first borne. Hear the word of the Lord, O ye Ētyles, preache in the yles, that lye far of, & say: he that hath scatered Israel, shal gather him together agayne, and shall kepe him as a shepherd doth his flocke. For the Lorde hath redemed Jacob, and ryd hym from the hand of the violente, and they shall come, and reioyce vpon the hyll of Syon, and shall haue plenteousnes of goodes, which the lord shal geue thē. Namly: wheate, wyne, oyle, yonge shepe and calues. And their conscience shalbe as a well watred garden, for they shall & nomore be hungrie. Then shall the C maide reioyce in the daunce: yea, both yonge and olde folkes. For I wyll turne their sorow into gladnesse, and will comfort them frō their sorowes, make them ioyfull. I wyll powre plenteousnes vpon the hertes of the priestes, and my people shalbe satysfied with my goodnes saith the Lord. Math.2.c Thus sayth the Lord: * The voyce of heynes weppynge and lamentacion was hearde on hye: euen of Rachell mournyng for her children, and wold not be conforted, because they were away. But now sayth the Lord, leaue of from weppyng and cryinge, withholde thine eyes from teares, for thy labour shalbe rewarded: sayeth the Lord. And they shall come againe out of the lande of their enemyes: Yea, euen thy posteritye shall haue consolacion in this, sayth the Lord, that thy children shall come agayne into their owne land. Moreouer, I herd Ephraim, that was led away captiue, com-Eze.20.c plaine on this maner. * O Lord, thou hast corrected me, and thy chastenyng haue I receaued, as an vntamed calfe Zach.1.a * Conuert thou me, and I shalbe conuerted: for thou arte my Lorde God: Yea, allone as thou turnest me, I shal reformme my selfe, and when I vnderstande, I shall smyte vpon my thigh. For verely I haue committed shamefull thinges. For I haue borne the reproſe and cōfusion of my youth. D Upon this complaynte, I thoughte Gen.48.d thus by my selfe: * Is not Ephraim my deare sonne? Is he not the chylde, with whom I haue had al my mirth and passtime? For sens the tyme that I firste communed with him, I haue hym euer in remembraunce: therefore, my dery herte dryueth me vnto him, gladlye and louingly I wyll haue mercy vpon him: sayth the Lord. Get the watchmen, prouyde teachers for thee, set thyne hert vpon the right way, that thou shouldest walke, and turne agayne, O thou daughter of Israell, turne agayne to the cytyes of thyne. Howe longe wylte thou go astraye, O thou shrynkynge daughter? For the Lorde wyll worke a newe thynge vpon earth. A woman shall compasse a man. For thus sayth the Lorde of Hoostes the God of Israell, It wyl come therto, that when I haue brought Juda out of captiuitye, these wordes shalbe heard in the lande and in his cityes. The Lord which is the fayre * bydegrome of ryghteousnes, make thee fruitefull, O thou holye hyll. And there shall dwelle Juda, and all her cityes, the shepeherdes, and husbandmen. For I * shall feede the hungry soule, and refreshe all faynte hertes. When I heard this, I came againe to my selfe, I mused, lyke as I hadde bene waked out of a swete sleepe: Beholde, sayth the Lord, the dayes come that I wyll sowe the house of Israell, and the house of Juda, with men and with cattell. * Yea, it shall come therto, that lyke as I haue gone about in tymes paste to rote them out, to scatre them, to breake them downe, to destroy them, and chasten them: Euen so wyll I also go diligentlye aboute to buyld them vp againe, and to plant them sayth the Lorde. * Then shall it no more be sayde: the fathers haue eaten a sowre grape, and the childrens teethe are set on edge: for euerye one shall dye for hys owne mysdede, so that whoso eateth a sower grape, his teeth shalbe sette on edge. * Beholde, the daies come, sayth the Lord, that I wyll make a newe couenaunte with the house of Israell, and wyth the house of Juda: not after the couenaunt that I made with their fathers, whē I toke theym by the hande and ledde theym oute of the lande of Egypte: whiche couenaunte they brake: yea, euen when I as an husband had rule ouer them sayth the Lord: * But this shall be the couenaunte that I wyll make with the house of Israell after those dayes sayth the Lord. * I wyll plante my lawe in the inward partes of them, and wryte it in their hertes, * and wyll be their God, and they shalbe my people. And frome thence forth, shall no man teache his neyghboure or his brother, and saye: knowe the Lorde. But they shall all knowe mee from the lowest vnto the hyest, sayth the Lorde. For I will forgeue their mysdoedes, and wyll neuer remēber their sinnes anye more. Thus sayeth the Lord, whyche gaue * the sunne to be a lyghte for the daye, and the moone and starres to shyne in the night: which moueth the sea, so that the floudes therof waxe fearce: hys name is the Lorde of Hoostes: Lyke as this ordinaunce shall neuer be taken out of my syght, sayth the Lorde: So shall the seede of Israell neuer ceasse, but alwaye be a people before mee. Moreouer, thus sayth the Lord: lyke as the heauen above can not be measured, and as the foundacions of the earth beneth maye not be sought out: * So wyll I also not caste oute the whole seede of Israell, for that they haue committed, sayth the Lord. Behold: the dayes come, sayth the Lord, that the citie of the Lord shalbe enlarged from the * tower of Hananeell, vnto the gate of the corner wall. From thence shall the ryght measure be taken before her, vnto the hyll toppe of * Gareb, and shall come aboute Gaath, and the whole valley of the deade carkases, and of the ashes, and all the fyeldes vnto the brooke of Cedron: and vnto the corner of the horsegate towarde the easte, where as the sanctuarye of the Lorde also shalbe set. And when it is newe buylded, and set vp of this fashion, it shall neuer be broken nor cast downe any more.

¶ The .xxxii. Chapter.

These

Esa.42.a

Mat.5.a and.11.c

deu.28.g Zach.8.c

Eze.18.a

Hebr.8.b

Heb.13.b

Esa.51.b

Jer.24.b

F

Gen.1.b

G

Mo.11.a

2 Esd.11

Jer.19.b

THese wordes spake the Lorde vnto Jeremy, in the tenth yere of Zedekiah kynge of Juda: which was the .xviii. yere of Nabuchodonosor, what tyme as the kynge of Babilons hoste layde seege vnto Jerusalem: But Jeremy the prophet lay bound in the courte of the prison, whiche was in the kynge of Judas house: where Zedekiah the kynge of Juda caused him to be layde, because he hadde prophesied of thys maner: Jer.34.a Thus sayth the Lord: * Beholde, I wyll delyuer this citie into the hands of the kyng of Babilon, which shall take it. As for Zedekiah the kyng of Juda, he shal not be able to escape the Caldees: but surely he shal come into the handes of the kynge of Babilon, which shall speake with hym mouth to mouth: and one of them shall loke another in the face. And Zedekiah shalbe caried vnto Babilon, and ther shall he be, vntill the tyme that I visyte him, sayth the Lord. But yf thou takest in hande to fighte agaynst the Caldees, thou shalt not prosper. And B Jeremy sayd: thus hath the Lord spoken vnto me: Behold, Hananeell the sonne of Selum thyne vncles sonne shall come vnto thee, and require thee to redeme the land that lyeth in Anathoth vnto thy selfe: * for by reason of Leu.25.d Nu.24.a Ruth.4.a kinred it is thy right to redeme it, and to bye it out. And Hananeell myn vncles sonne came to me in the courte of the prison, accordynge to the word of the Lord, and sayde vnto me: Bye my land, I pray thee: that lyeth in Anathoth in the countrie of Beniamin: for by heritage thou hast right to loose it out for thy selfe, therefore redeme it. Then I perceaued that this was the commaundement of the Lorde, and so I bought the land from Hananeel of Anathoth, myne vncles sonne, and wayed him there the money: euen se-C uen sicles and ten siluer pence. I caused him also to make me a wrytynge and to seale it: and called record therby, and weyed him there the money vpon the weyghtes. So I toke the euidence with the copy when it was orderly sealed & redouer, and I gaue the euidence vnto Baruch the son of Nerias, the sonne of Maasiah in the sight of Hananeell my cosine, & in the presence of the witnesses, that be named in the euidence: and before all the Jewes that were therby in the court of the prison. I charged Baruch also before them, sayinge: The Lorde of hostes the god of Israel cōmaundeth the, to take this sealed euidence with the coppe, and to laye it in an earthen vessel, that it may long continue. For the Lorde of Hoostes the God of Israell hath detetmyned that houses, fyeldes, and vyneyardes shall be possessed agayne in thys lande. Nowe when I had delyuered the euidence vnto Baruch the sonne of Nerias, I besought the Lorde, saying: O Lorde God, * it is thou that hast made hea- Gen. 1.a uen and earth with thy great power and hye arme, and ther is nothing hid from the. * Thou shewest mercy vp- Exo.34.a on thousandes, thou recompencest the wickednes of the fathers, into the bosome of the chyldren that come af- D ter theym. Thou arte the greate and mighty God, whose name is the lord of Hostes: great in counsel, and excellent in worke. Thine eyes loke vpon all the wayes of mens chyldren, * to Rom.2.a reward euerye one after hys waye: and accordyng to the fruites of hys inuencions. * Thou haste done great Exod.7. tokens and wonders in the lande of vnto the Egypt, as we se this daye, vpon the 15.chap-people of Israel, and vpon those men ter.
to make thy name great, as it is come to passe thys daye. Thou haste brought thy people of Israell out of the land of Egipt with tokēs, with wonders, with a mightye hande, with a stretched out arme, & with gret terriblenes: and hast geuē them thys land, lyke as thou haddest promysed vnto their fathers. Namelye, that thou wouldest geue them a lande, that floweth with milke and hony. * Nowe Jud.2.3
when they came therin, and possessed 4.6.8.
it, they folowed not thy boyce, and walked not in thy lawe, * but all Deut.5.b that thou commaundest them to doo, that haue they not done, and therfore come al these plages vpon them. Behold, there are bul worckes made now agaynste the Citie, to take it: and it shalbe won of the Chaldees that besiege it, with swerde, with hunger, & death: and loke what thou haste spoken that same shall come vpon them.

E For loe, all these thinges are present vnto thee: Yet (sayeste thou vnto me, O Lord God) and commaundest me that I shall loose a piece of lande vnto my self, and take wytnesses ther to: and yet in the meane season the citie is deliuered into the power of the Chaldees. Then came the woorde of the Lord vnto me saying: Behold, I Jer.95.b am the Lord God of al flesh, is there any thing then to hard for me? Therfore thus sayth the Lord: • Behold, I shall deliuer this Citie into the power of the Chaldees, and into the power of Nabuchodonosor the kyng of Babilon, they shal take it. For the Chaldees shall come, and winne this citie, and set fire vpon it, and burne it: with the gorgious houses in whose parlers they haue made sacrifice vnto Baal, and powred drynkeofferinges vnto straunge goddes, to prouoke me vnto wrath. For seinge the chyldren of Israell, and the children of Juda haue wrought wickednes before me euer from their youth vp, what haue they els done, but prouoked me with the woorkes of their owne handes? sayth the Lorde. Or what hath thys Citie bene elles but a prouokinge of my wrath, euer sence the day that thei builded it, vnto this houre, wherin I cast it oute of my syghte, because of the great blasphemyes of the children of Israel and Juda, which they haue to prouoke me? ye, they, their kinges, their princes: their prestes, their pro-Jer.2.d. phetes, the men of Juda, and the Ci-F tezins of Jerusalem. • When I stoode vp early, and taught thē and instructed them, they turned their backes to me, and not their faces. They would Jer.8.d. not heare, to bee reformed and correct: • but set their Idols in the house that is halowed vnto my name to defyle it. They haue builded hie places for Baal in the valley of the children of Hennom, to bow their sunnes and daughters vnto Moloch, whiche I neuer cōmaunded theim, nether came it euer in my thoughte, to make Juda sinne wyth such abhomination. And nowe therefore, thus hath the Lorde God of Israell spoken concerninge this Citie, which (as ye your selues cōfesse) shalbe deliuered into the hand of the kinge of Babilon, when it is wonne with the swearde, with hun-deu.30.d ger and wyth pestilence. • Behold, I will gather theym together from all landes, wherein I haue scatred them in my wrath, in my feareful and great dyspleasure: and wil bring them again vnto this place, wher they shal dwell Psa.129 G safely. And thei shalbe my people, and I wilbe theyr God. • And I wyll geue theim one hearte and one waye, Eze.36.d that they maye feare me all the dayes of theyr lyfe, that they and their children after them may prosper. • And I will set vp an euerlastynge couenant wyth them. Namely, that I wyl neuer ceasse to do them good, and that I will put my feare in their heartes, so deu.30.d that they shal not runne awaye from Jer.31.d me. • Ye, I wil haue a luste and pleasure to do them good, and faythfullye to plante them in this lande with my whole heart, and with all my soule. For thus sayeth the Lorde: lyke as I haue brought al this great plage vpon this people, euen so will I also bring vpon them all the good, that I haue promysed them. And men shal haue their possessions in this lande, wherof ye saye nowe, that it shal neyther be inhabited of people, nor of cattel: but be deliuered into the handes of the Chaldees. Ye, the lande shalbe bought for mony, and euidences made therevpon, and sealed before wytnesses in the countrey of Ben Jamin, & rounde about Jerusalem, in the cityes of Juda, in the cities that are vppon the mountaynes, and in them that lie beneth: yea, and in the cities that are in the South. For I wil bring their prisoners hither agian (saith ỹ lorde.

Ezech.

¶ The .xxxiii. Chapter.

A MOreouer, the woꝛde of the Lord came vnto Jeremy on this maner, * when he was Jer.20.a yet bound in the court of the pꝛiſon. Thus ſayth the Lord, whiche fulfilleth the thynge that he ſpeaketh: the Lord which perfourmeth the thynge that he taketh in hand, euē he whoſe Exo.14d name is the Lord: * cꝛye vnto me, and 1Reg.7b I will anſwere, and ſhew thee great and hye things, which were vnknowen vnto thee. Thus (I ſaye) ſpake the Lord God of Iſraell, concerning the houſes of this city, and the houſes of the kynges of Juda, that they are broken thoꝛowe the ordinaunce and the ſweard. Becauſe the inhabitours of this citie haue com to fight againſt the Caldees: and they are fylled with the deade carkaſes of men, whom I haue ſlayne in my wꝛath and diſpleaſure: when I turned my face frome this citye, becauſe of all her wyckednes. Behold, ſayth the Lord, I wyll repaire and heale their woundes, and make them whole: I wil open them the large treaſures of peace & trueth.
And I wyll returne the captiuitie of Juda and Iſraell: and wyll ſet them Eſa.44d vpagayne, as they wer afoꝛe. * From all myſdedes, wherin they haue offended agaynſt me, I will cleanſe them. And all their blaſphemyes whiche they haue done agaynſt me, whē they regarded me not, I wyll foꝛgeue thē.
B And this ſhal get me a name, a pꝛaiſe and honour amonge all the people of the earth, whiche ſhall heare all the good, that I wyll ſhewe vnto them: yea, they ſhalbe afrayd, and aſtonyed at all the good dedes and benefites that I wyll do foꝛ them. Moꝛeouer, Jere.7.b thus ſayth the Lord: * In thys place wheroſ ye ſay, that it ſhalbe a wilderneſſe: wherin neyther people noꝛ cattell ſhall dwell: in lyke maner in the citꝛes of Juda, and without Jeruſalem (which alſo ſhalbe ſo voyde, that neyther people noꝛ cattell ſhall dwell there) ſhall the voyce of gladnes be heard agayne, the voyce of the bꝛyde-grome and of the bꝛyde, the voyce of them that ſhall ſynge: * Pꝛayſe the pſa.118a Lorde of hoſtes, foꝛ he is louyng, and his mercy endureth foꝛ euer: and the voyce of them that ſhall offer vp gyftes in the houſe of the Lorde. Foꝛ I wyll reſtoꝛe the captiuitye of thys land, as it was afoꝛe, ſaith the Lorde.
Thus ſayth the Lorde of Hooſtes: It ſhal come yet therto, that in this land which is voyde from men and cattel, and in all the citꝛes of the lande, there ſhalbe ſet vp ſhepeherdes cotages: in the citꝛes vpon the mountaynes: and in the citꝛes that lie vpon the playne, and in the citꝛes of the Southe. In C the land of Ben Jamin, in the feldes of Jeruſalem, and in the cytꝛes of Juda, ſhall the ſhepe be numbꝛed agayn, vnder the hand of him that telleth them, ſayeth the Lorde. * Be-Jer.23a holde, the tyme commeth, ſayeth the Lorde: that I wyll perfourme that good thyng, which I haue pꝛomiſed vnto the houſe of Iſraell, and to the houſe of Juda: In thoſe dayes and at the ſame tyme, I wyll bꝛynge foꝛthe vnto Dauid, the bꝛaunche of ryghteouſnes, and he ſhall doo equitye and ryghteouſneſſe in the lande. In thoſe dayes ſhall Juda be helped, * and Je-Eſa.32.c ruſalem ſhall dwell ſafe, and he that ſhall call her, is euen God our ryghteouſneſſe. Foꝛ thus the Lorde pꝛomyſeth: * Dauid ſhall neuer wante 2Reg.7c one to ſit vpon the thꝛone of the houſe of Iſraell: * neither ſhall the pꝛieſtes 1.Re.2g and Leuites want one to offer alway befoꝛe me burntofferynges, to kyndle the meateofferynges, and to pꝛepare the ſacrifyce. And the woꝛde of the D Lorde came vnto Jeremye after thys maner. Thus ſayth the Lorde: May the couenaunt * which I haue made
Gen.8.b with daye and nighte be bꝛoken, that there ſhould not be day and night in due ſeaſon: Then may my couenaũt alſo be bꝛoken, whiche I made with Dauid my ſeruaunt, and ſo he not to haue a ſonne to reygne in his thꝛone, * ſo ſhall alſo the pꝛieſtes and Leuites 1Pet.2a neuer fayle, but ſerue me. * Foꝛ lyke *Ge.15a as the ſtarres of heauen maye not be numbred, neyther the sande of the sea measured: so will I multiply the seede of Dauid my seruaunt, and the Leuites my ministers. Moreouer, the word of the Lorde, came to Jeremy, saying: Considrest thou not what this people speaketh? Two kyndredes (saye they) had the Lorde chosen, and those same two hath he caste awaye. For so they haue despised my people, and ther reputed them as though they wer no people. Therfore thus saith the Lord: If I haue made no couenaunt wyth daye and nyght, and geuen no statute vnto heauen and earthe: then will I also cast awaye the sede of Jacob and Dauyd my seruaunte, so that I will take no prynce out of hys seede to rule the posteritie of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. But yet I will turne agayn their captiuity, & be merciful vnto thē

¶ The. xxxiii. Chapter.

The Jer.39a These are the wordes which the Lorde spake vnto Jeremye, * what tyme as Nabuchodonosor the kinge of Babilon, and all hys hostes (out of all the kingedoms that were vnder hys power) and all hys people foughte agaynste Jerusalem, and all the cities thereof. Thus saith the lord God of Israel: Go, speake to Zedechiah ỹ kinge of Juda and tel hym: The Lorde sendethe thee thys 4Re.24. word: Behold, * I will deliuer this Jer.32.a city into ỹ hāds of ỹ king of Babilō: he shal burn it, & thou shalt not escape his hands, but shalt be led awaye prisoner, and deliuered into his power. Thou shalt loke the king of Babilon in the face, and he shal speke with the mouth to mouth: and then shalt thou go to Babilon. Yet heare the word of the Lord, O Zedekiah, thou kyng of Juda: Thus saith the Lord vnto the. 1Re.31c Thou shalte not bee slaine wyth the swearde, but shalt die in peace. * Lyke as thy fore fathers the kinges, thy progenitors were brent: so shalt thou be brent also, and in thy mourning they shal say: Oh Lorde. For thus haue I determined, sayeth the Lorde, Then spake Jeremye the prophete all these B wordes vnto Zedekiah kyng of Juda in Jerusalem: what tyme as the king of Babilons hoste besieged Jerusalem, and the remnante of the Cyties. Namely, Lachis and Azecah whiche yet remayned of the * stronge defensed cities of Juda. These are 2Pa.11 the wordes that the Lorde spake vnto Jeremy the prophet, when zedekyah was agreed with al his people at Jerusalem, that there should be proclaimed a liberty: so that euery mā should Exo.15a let his seruaunte and handmayde goe deu.15.b free: Hebrue and Hebruesse, and no Jewe to holde his brother, as a bōdman. Nowe as they had consented, al the princes and al the people whyche had gathered vnto this agremēt, that euery man shoulde set at libertye hys bondseruant and bond women and no longer to holde them bounde: euen so they were obedient and let theym goe free. But afterwarde they repented and tooke agayne the seruauntes and handmaydens, whome they hadde let go free, and so made them bond again. For the wych cause the woord of the Lorde came vnto Jeremye from the Lorde hym selfe, saying: Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israell: * I made a deu.15.a couenant wyth our fathers, when I Exo.21b brought theym oute of Egypte, (that they should nomore be bondmen, saynge: when seuen yeares are out, euerye man shal let hys boughte seruant and Hebrue go free, if hee haue serued him sixe yeares. But your fathers obeyed me not, and herkened not vnto me. As for you, ye were nowe turned and did ryght before me in that ye proclaymed, euery man to let his neyghboure goo free, and in that ye made a couenaūt before me in the temple that bereth my name. But yet ye haue turned youre selues againe, and blaspheamed my name. In this that euerye man hath requyred his seruaunte and handmayden agayne, whom ye hadde lette go quyte and free, and compelled theym to serue you agayne, and to be youre bondemenne, and bondwomen. And therefore thus sayeth the Lorde:

ye

ye haue not obeyed me, euerye manne to proclayme fredome vnto hys brother and neyghbour: wherfore, I wil call you vnto a freedome, sayeth the Lorde: euen vnto the swearde, to the pestilence, and to hunger, and wyll make you to be plaged in al the kingdoms of the earth. Yea, those mē that haue broken my couenaunt, and not kepte the wordes of the apoyntmente Ge. 15. b whyche they made before mee: when they hewed the calfe in two, and whē there went through the twoe halues therof: The princes of Juda, the princes of Jerusalem, the gelded men, the priestes and all the people of the land, which went through the twoe sydes of the calfe. Those menne wil I geue into the power of their enemyes, and into the handes of theym that folowe Psa. 73. a vppon their lyues. And theyr deade Jer. 7. d bodyes shalbe meate for the foules of the ayre, and beastes of the fielde. As for Zedekiah the kinge of Juda, and his princes, I wyl deliuer them into the power of their ennemies, and of them that desyre to slaie them, and into the hand of the kyng of Babilons Jer. 37. c hoost, whych nowe is departed from you: But throughe my commaundement (sayth the Lord) they shal come agayne before thys Citye, they shall fyght agaynst it, wynne it, and burne it: Moreouer, I wyl laye the Cityes of Juda so waste, that no manne shall dwel therin.

¶ The. xxxv. Chapter.

THe woordes which the Lorde spake vnto Jeremy, in the reygne of Jehoakim the soonne of Josiah kynge of Juda are these: Goe
4. Kin. 10. vnto the house of the Rechabits and cal them out, and bringe theym to the house of the Lorde into some commodious place, and geue theym wyne to drynke. Then tooke I Jazaniah the sonne of Jeremye the sonne of Habazinia, and his brethren, and all hys sonnes and the whole houshold of the Rechabytes: and brought theym into the house of the Lord into the closette of the children of Hanan the sonne of Jededaliah the man of God, whyche was by the closet of the princes, that is aboue the closette of Maaliah the sonne of Selum, whiche is the treasurer. And before the sons of the kynred of the Rechabytes, I sette pottes ful of wyne, and cuppes, and said vnto theym: Drynke wyne. But they sayde: wee will drincke no wyne, for Jonadab the soonne of Rechab oure father commaunded vs, saying: ye and your sonnes shal neuer drynke wine, B Jer. 29. b * build no houses, sowe no sede, plant no vynes: yea, ye shall haue no vyneyardes: but for all youre tyme, ye shall dwel in tentes, that ye may lyue long in the lande wherin ye be straungers. Thus haue we obeied the commaundement of Jonadab the sonne of Rechab oure father, in all that hee hath charged vs, and so we drinke no wine all our lyfe longe: we, nor our wyues our sonnes and our daughters. Neyther buylde wee anye house to dwell therein, we haue also among vs, neither vyneyardes, nor corne lande to sow: but we dwel in tentes, we obey and do according vnto al that Jonadab our father commaunded vs. But C nowe that Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon came vp into the lande, we sayde: come, let vs go to Jerusalē that we maye escape the hooste of the Chaldees and the Assirians: and so we dwel nowe at Jerusalem. Then came the worde of the Lord vnto Jeremy, sayinge: Thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel: Goe and tel the men of Juda and the inhabytours of Jerusalem. Wyll ye not bee reformed, to obey my wordes, saieth the Lorde? The woordes which Jonadab the sonne of Rechab commaūded his sonnes that they should drink no wyne, are fast and surely kept: for vnto thys day they drynke no wyne, but obeye their fathers commaundement. But as for me, * I haue stande Jer. 18. a vp early, I haue spokē vnto you, and geuen you earnest warnynge: and yet haue ye not ben obediēt vnto me. Yea I haue sente my seruauntes, all the Prophetes vnto you, I rose vp early, and sent you worde, saying: O tourne you, nowe euery man from his wicked waye: amende your lyues, and go not after straunge gods to worshipp them: that ye may continue in the land, whi che I haue geuen vnto you, and your fathers, but ye would neyther heare me, nor folowe me. The children of Jonadab Rechabs son haue stedfastly kept their fathers commandement, that he gaue them, but this people is not obedient vnto mee. And therefore thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel: Behold, I wyl bring vpon Juda, and vpon euery one that dwelleth in Jerusalem, all the trouble that I haue deuised against them.

Pro.1c. * For I haue spoken vnto theim, but Esa.65b they wold not folowe: I haue called Jer.7.b vnto them, neuertheles they would geue me no aunswere. Jeremie also spake vnto the housholde of the Rechabites: Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israell. For so muche as ye haue obeyed the commandement of Jonadab your father, & kepte all his preceptes, and done accordinge vnto all ỳ he hath bydden you: Therfore thus sayth the Lord of hostes, the Jer.33c God of Israel: * Jonadab the sonne of Rechab shall not fayle, but haue one out of his stocke, to stande alway before me.

¶ The .xxxvi. Chapter.

A IN the fourth yeare of Jehoakim the sonne of Josiah, the kynge of Jer.30a Juda, came the woord of the lord vnto Jeremie, saying: * Take a boke and write therin all the wordes that I haue spoken to the agaynst Israel, agaynst Juda, & against all the people from the time ỳ I began for to speake vnto thee (in the reygne of Josiah) vnto this day. That when the house of Juda heareth of the plague, which I haue deuised for theym: they maye Jer.18a peraduenture * turne euery man from his wicked way: that I may forgyue their offences and synnes. Then dyd Jer.45a Jeremie call Baruch the son of Neriah, * and Baruch wrote in the boke at the mouth of Jeremie, all the wordes of the Lord, which he had spoke vnto hym. And Jeremie commanded Baruch, sayinge: I am in prison, so that I maye not come into the house of the Lord: therfore go thou thither, and rede the boke that thou hast written at my mouth: Namely, the wor- B des of the Lord: and reade them in the Lordes house vpon the fastynge day, that the people, whole Juda, and all they that come out of the cities maye heare. Peraduenture, they will pray mekely before the face of the Lorde, and turne euery one from his wicked way. For great is the wrath and displeasure, that the Lord hath taken agaynst thys people. So Baruch the sonne of Neriah dyd accordyng vnto all that Jeremie the Prophete commaunded hym, readyng the wordes of the Lord out of the booke in the Lordes house. And this was done in the fift yeare of Jehoakim, the sonne of Josiah kyng of Juda, in the .ix. moneth, * when it was commaunded, Jer.26i that al the people of Jerusalem shold faste before the Lorde, and they also that were come from the cities of Juda vnto Jerusalem. Then red Baruch the wordes of Jeremie oute of the boke within the house of the lord out of the treasurie of Gamariah, the sonne of Saphan the scribe, which is beside the hyer loft of the * new dore Josu.31 of the Lords house, that al the people myght heare. Now when Micheah C the sonne of Gamariah, the sonne of Saphan had heard all the wordes of the Lorde oute of the booke, he went downe to the kynges palace into the Scribes chaumbers, for there all the Princes were set. Elisama the scribe Dalaiah, the sonne of Semei, Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, Gamariah the sonne of Saphan, Zedekiah, the sonne of Hananiah, with all the princes. And Micheah tolde them all the wordes, that he hearde Baruch reade D out of the boke before the peple. Thē all the Princes sente Jehudi, the son of Nathaniah, the sonne of Selamiah, the sonne of Chusi vnto Baruch, sayenge: Take in thyne hande the booke, wherout thou hast red before

all

all the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Neriah toke the boke in his hand, and came vnto theym. And they sayd vnto hym: Syt downe, and reade the boke, that we may heare also. So Baruch redde that they might heare. Nowe when they had hearde all the wordes, they were abashed one vpon an other, and said vnto Baruch: we wyll certify the kyng of all these wordes. And they examined Baruch, saying: Tell vs, howe dyddest thou write all these woordes oute of hys mouthe? Then Baruch aunswered them: He spake all these wordes vnto me with his mouth, and I wrote them in the boke. Then sayd the princes vnto Baruch: Go thy way, & hide thee with Ieremie, so that noo man know where ye be: And thei went in to the kynge to the courte: But they kept the boke in the chamber of Elisama the Scribe, and told the king al the wordes, that he might heare. So the kyng sent Jehudi to fet hym the booke whiche he brought out of Elisama the scribes chaumber: And Jehudi red in it that the king and al the princes which wer about him might heare. Now, the kyng sat in the winter house, for it was in the .ix. moneth and ther was a fyre before hym. And whē Jehudi had red thre or four leaues therof, he cut the boke in peces & a penknyfe, and * cast it into the fyre vpon the harth, vntil the booke was all brent in the fyre vpon the harthe. Yet no man was abashed thereof, or rent his cloathes: neyther the kynge hym selfe, nor his seruauntes, though they heard all these wordes. Neuertheless Elnathan, Delaiah, and Gamariah besoughte the kynge, that he would not burne the boke: not withstandyng the kyng woulde not heare them, but cōmaunded Jerahmeel, the sonne of Amalech: Saraiah the sonne of Eziel, and Selamiah the sonne of Abdiell, to laye handes vpon Baruch the scribe, and vpon Jeremie the prophete: but the Lord kept them out of syght. After nowe that the kyng had brent the boke, and the sermons whiche Baruch wrote at the mouthe of Jeremie. The woorde of the Lorde came vnto Jeremy, saying: Take an other boke, and wryte in it all the former sayde sermons, that were written in the first boke, whiche Jehoakim the king of Juda hath brent. And tel Jehoakim the king of Juda: thus sayth the Lorde: thou hast brent the booke, and thoughtest within thy selfe: Why hast thou written therin, that the kynge of Babylon shal come, and make this land waste: so that he shall make both people and cattel to be out of it? Therfore thus the Lorde saieth of Jehoakim the kyng of Juda. * There shall none of his generation sytte vpon the throne of Dauid. His deade coarse shall be caste out, that the heate of the day, and the froste of the nyghte maye come vppon hym. And I will visite the wickednes of hym, of his seede, and of his seruantes. Moreouer, all the euill that I haue promised them, (though they hearde me not) wyll I bring vpon them, vpon the inhabiters of Jerusalem, and vppon all Juda. Then toke Jeremy another boke, and gaue it Baruch the Scribe, the sonne of Neriah, whiche wrote therin out of the mouthe of Jeremie: all the sermons that wer in the first boke, whiche Jehoakim the kyng of Juda dyd burne. And there wer added vnto thē many mo sermons then before.

1. Mac. 3

4. re. 24 b
Jer. 22. c

The .xxxvii. Chapter

ZEdekiah, the son of Josiah, * which was made king thorowe Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, reigned in the land of Juda, in the steade of Cononiah, the son of Jehoakim. But neyther he, nor his seruants, nor the people in the land, wold obey the wordes of the Lorde, whiche he spake by the prophete Jeremie. * Neuertheless, Zedekiah the kyng sent Jehucal, the sonne of Semeliah, and Sophoniah, the sonne of Maasiah the priest, to the prophete Jeremy, saying, O pray thou vnto the Lord our God for vs. Nowe Jeremy walked free amonge

4. re. 24.

Jer. 31 & and. 12. &

the people at that tyme, and was not Eze.17 d putte in prisone as yet. * Pharaos B hoste also was come out of Egypte:
whiche when the Chaldees that besieged Jerusalem perceyued, they departed from thens. Then camme the worde of the Lord vnto the Prophet Jeremie, saying: Thus sayth the lord God of Israell, this aunswere shall ye geue to the king of Juda, that sent Jer.46 a you vnto me for counsayle: * Behold, Pharaos hoste which is come forth to helpe you, shall returne to Egypt into his owne lande: but the Chaldees shall come agayne, and fyght against this Citie, wynne it, and set fyre vpon it. For thus sayth the Lord, De-ceaue not youre owne myndes, thyn-king on this maner: Tushe, the Chal dees, go now their way from vs. No thei shal not go their way. For thogh ye had slaine the whole hooste of the Chaldees, that besiege you, and euery one of the slayne lay in hys tente, yet should they stande vp, and set fyre vpon this Citie. Now when the hoste of the Chaldees was broken vp from Jerusalem, for feare of the Egyptiās army: Jeremy went out of Jerusalem, toward the land of Ben Jamin, to get hym from amonge the people.
And when he came vnder Ben Ja-mins porte, there was a porter called Jeriah, the sonne of Selemiah, the sonne of * Hananiah, which fell vpon C him, and toke hym, saying: thy mynde Jer.18 b is to run to the Chaldees. Then sayd Jeremie: It is not so. I go not to the Chaldees. Neuertheles Jeriah wold not beleue him, but brought Jeremye boūd before the Princes. Wherfore ỹ princes were angry with Jeremie, & e smote hym, and layd him in prison, in the house of Jonathas the scribe. For he was the ruler of the prison. Thus was Jeremy put into a dongeon and prison, and so lay there a longe tyme.
* Then Zedekiah ỹ king sent for him D and called him, and asked hym quietly Jer.28.c in his owne house, saying: Thynkest thou thys busines (that is in hande) commeth of the Lorde? Jeremy aun-swered: Yea that it doth: & thou (saied he) shalt be deliuered into the kynge of Babylons power. Moreouer, Je remy said vnto king Zedekiah. What haue I offended agaynst thee, agaynst thy seruantes, or agaynst this people, that ye haue put me in prison? Where are your Prophetes which haue pro-phecied vnto you, and sayde: that the kyng of Babylon should not come a-gaynst you and this lande? And therfore heare now, O my Lord the kyng let my prayer be accepted before thee, and send me no more into the house of Jonathas the scribe, that I dye not there. Then Zedekiah the kyng commaunded to put Jeremie in the fore-entry of the prison, and daily to be gi-uen him a cake of bread out of the bakers strete, vntill all the breade in the citie was eaten vp. Thus Jeremye remained in ỹ fore entrie of the prison

The.xxxviii. Chapter.

A Sphatiah, the sonne of Mathan, I Godoliah, the sonne of Phashur Jucall, the soonne of Semeliah and Phashur, the sonne of Melchiah perceyued the wordes, that Jeremye had spoken vnto all the people, namely on this maner: Thus saith the lord Jer.21 c
* Who so remayneth in thys Cytie, and.27.d shall perysshe, either wyth the sword, wyth hunger, or with the pestilence.
But who so falleth vnto the Chaldees, shall escape wynnyng his soule for a pray, and shall lyue. * For thus Jer.21 sayth the Lord: This citie (no dout) muste be deliuered into the power of the kynge of Babylon, and hee also shall wynne it. Then sayd the pryn-ces vnto the kyng: Syr, wee beseche you, lette this man be put to deathe.
For thus he discourageth the handes of the Souldiors that be in this C i- B tie, and the handes of all the people, when hee speaketh suche wordes, vnto theym. This man veryly laboreth not for peace of the people, but mys-chief. Zedekiah the kyng aunswered and sayde: Lo, he is in your handes:
for the kyng may denye you nothing.
Then tooke they Jeremye, and caste him into the dongeō of Melchiah the sonne

sonne of Hamelech, ẏ dwelt in the fore entry of the prison. And they let down Jeremy with cordes into a dongeon, where ther was no water, but myre. So Jeremy stacke faste in the myre. Now when Abedmelech ẏ Mozian, beyng a chamberlayne in the kynges courte, vnderstode that they had caste Jeremy into the dongeon: he wente out of the kinges houle, and spake to the king, (whiche then sate vnder the port of Beniamin) these wordes: my lord the kyng, wheras these mẽ, meddle with Jeremy the prophet, they do him wrõg: Namely in that they haue put him in prison, ther to dye of hunger, for ther is nomore bread in the citie. Then the kyng commaunded Abedmelech the Mozian, & sayd: Take from hence .xxx. men whõ thou wylt, and draw vp Jeremy the prophet out of the dongeon before he dye. So Abedmelech toke the mẽ with him, and went to the house of the kyng, & there vnder the treasurye he gate olde rags and worne cloutes, and let thẽ down by a corde, into the dongeon to Jeremye. And Abedmelech the Mozian sayd vnto the prophet Jeremy: O put these rags & cloutes vnder thyn armeholes, betwyxt thee and the cordes: and Jeremy did so. So they drew vp Jeremy with cordes, & toke him out of the dongeon, and he remayned in the fore entry of the prisõ. Then Jer. 37. e zedekiah the kyng sent, and caused Jeremy ẏ prophet to be called vnto him into the third entry that is in ẏ house of the Lord. And the kynge sayd vnto Jeremy: I will aske thee somewhat, but hide nothing fro me. Then Jeremy answered zedekiah: Yf I be playn vnto the, thou wilt cause me to suffer deathe. Yf I geue the counsell, thou wilt not folow me. So ẏ king swore an oth secretly vnto Jeremy, saying: As truly as the lord lyueth that made vs these soules, I wyll not slay thee, nor geue the into the handes of them that seke after thy life. Then sayd Jeremy vnto zedekiah. Thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel: Yf case be, that thou wylt go forth vnto the kyng of Babylons princes, thou shalt saue thy lyfe, and this citye shalt not be brente: yea, both thou and thy houshold shal escape with your liues. But yf thou wylt not go forth to the kyng of Babylons princes, then shal this citye be delyuered into the hands of the Chaldees, whiche shall set fire vpon it, and thou shalte not be able to escape them. And zedekiah sayd vnto Jeremy. I am afrayd for the Jewes, that are fled vnto the Chaldes, leaste I come in their hands, and so they to haue me in derisiõ. But Jeremy answered: No, they shal not betray the: O herken vnto the voyce of the Lord (I beseche the) whiche I speake vnto the, so shalt thou be well, and saue thy lyfe. But yf thou wylt not go forth, the Lord hath told me this playnely: Behold, al the women that are left in the kynge of Judas house, shalbe led forth to the kyng of Babilons princes. And they shall saye, that thou art disceiued: and ẏ the mẽ in whom thou diddest put thy trust haue gotten thee vnder, and set thy face fast in the mire and gone their way from the. Therfore all thy wyues with their childrẽ shall they leade forth vnto the Chaldees, and thou shalt not escape their handes, but shalt be the kyng of Babilons prisoner, and this citye shalte thou cause to be brent. Then sayde zedekiah vnto Jeremy: loke that no body knowe of these wordes, and thou shalt not dye. But if the princes perceaue, that I haue talked with thee, & com vnto the, saying: O speake, what sayd the kyng to the: hide it not from vs (we pray the) what sayd the kyng to thee: Se thou geue them this answere: I haue humbly beseought the kinge, that he wyll let me lye nomore in Jehonathãs house, that I dye not ther. Then came all the princes vnto Jeremy, and asked him. And he tolde them after the maner as the king had him. Then they held their peace, and let him alone: for they perceaued nothing. So Jeremy abode still in the Jer. 37. f fore entry of the prison, vntill the day that Jerusalem was won.

The

A

Jer.42.a 5Re.25.

¶ The.xxxix. Chapter.

NOwe when the citie of Jerusalem was take (for in the ix. yeare of Zedekiah king of Juda, in the tenth moneth, came Nabuchodonosor ✠ king of Babilon, and all his hoste, and besieged Jerusalem and foughte agaynst it. And in the.xi. yeare of Zedechiah in the fourth moneth. the. ix. day of the moth, he brake into the citie.) Then all the princes of the kinge of Babilon, came in, and sat them downe vnder the port: Neregel, Sarezer, Samgarnebo, Sarsachim, Rabsaris, Neregel, Sarezer, Rabmage with al the other princes of the king of Babilon. And when

Jer.34.a

Zedekiah the king of Juda with his souldiours sawe them, they fled, and departed out of the citie by nyght thorough the kyngs garden, and through the porte that is betweene the twoe

B

walles, and so they went toward the wyldernesse: But the Chaldees hoste followed fast after them, and tooke Zedekiah in the fyelde of Jericho, and broughte him prysoner to Nabuchodonosor king of Babilon, vnto Reblath, that lieth in the land of Hemath, where he gaue iudgemente vnto hym. So the kinge of Babylon caused the children of Zedechiah, & al the nobles of Juda to be slayn, before his face at Reblath. And made Zedekias eies to be putte oute, and bounde

C

4Re.25.d
Jer,22.d

hym with twoo chaynes and sent hym to Babilon. Moreouer, the Chaldees brent vp the kinges palace with the other houses of the people, and brake downe the walles of Jerusalē. As for the remnaunte of the people that were in the Citie, and suche as were come to helpe them (whatsoeuer was left to the common sort, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine caryed them to Babilō. But Nabuzaradan the chiefe captayne let the ralcal people (and those that had nothing) dwell still in the lande of Juda, and gaue thē vyneyardes, and corne fieldes at the same tyme. Nabuchodonosor also the king of Babilon gaue Nabuzaradan the chiefe captayne a charge, concernyng Jeremy, sayinge: take and cherysshe him, and make much of him, see thou doo hym no harme, but intreate hym after hys owne desyre. So Nabuzaradan the chefe captaine, Nabusazban, Rabsares, Nergall, Sarezer, Jer.38.b Rabmage, and all the kynge of Babilons lordes sent for Jeremye, and caused him to be fet out of the fore entrye of the prison, & so committed him vnto Godoliah the sonne of Ahicam, the sonne of Saphan, that he shoulde carye him home: and so he dwelte Jer.40.b
amonge the people. Nowe while Jeremy laye yet bound in the fore entrie of the prison, the woorde of the Lorde came vnto him, sayinge: Goe, and tell Abimelech the Mohian: Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel: Behold, the cruel and sharpe plage that I haue deuysed for this Citye, wyll I bryng vpon theym, that thou shalte see it: but I will deliuer thee (sayth the Lorde) and thou shalte not come in the handes of those men whō thou feareste. For doutlesse, I wyll saue thee, so that thou shalte not perysshe wyth the swearde: but thy lyfe shalbe saued, & that because thou haste put thy trust in me, sayth the Lord.

¶ The.xl. Chapter.

A

THis is the woord that the Lorde spake vnto Jeremy, whē Nabuzaradan the chyefe captayne Jer.43.b had lette him go free from Ramath, Iesa.18.b whither he had led him bound among all the prisoners that were caryed from Jerusalem and Juda vnto Babilon. The chiefe captaine called for Jeremye, and sayde vnto hym: The Lorde thy God spake myghtelye before, of the myserye vpon this place. Nowe the Lorde hath sente it, and performed it as he hathe promysed. For ye haue synned against the Lord and haue not bene obediente vnto his voyce: therefore commeth this plague vppon you. Beholde, I lose the bandes from thy handes thys day: if thou wylte nowe goe wyth me vnto Babilon: vp then, for I wyll see to ther, and prouyde for thee. But yf thou

wylt

not go with me vnto Babylō, then re B mayne here. * Behold, all the landes Ge.13.b is at thy will, loke where thou thin-Tob.1.b kest conueniente and good for thee to abide, there dwell. For as yet he was not gone backe agayne to Godoliah, therfore he sayde to hym: Go backe to Godoliah, the sonne of Ahicam, the 4Re.25c sonne of Saphan: whom the king of Babylon, hath made gouernour ouer the Cities of Juda, and dwelle with hym among ỹ people, or remain wher so euer it pleaseth thee. So the chiefe captain gaue him his expences with a reward, & let hym go. * Then went Jer.39.c Jeremie vnto Godoliah, the sonne of Ahicam, to Mizpa, and dwelte there with him among the people that wer left in the land. Now when the cap-C tains of the host of Juda, which with their felowes were scattered abroade on euery syde in the land) vnderstode ỹ the king of Babylon, had made Go doliah, the sonne of Ahicam gouernor in the lande, and that man, wyfe, and chyld, yea & the poore men in the land (ỹ were not led captiue to Babylon, shuld be vnder his iurisdiction. They came to Godoliah vnto Mizpa: Namely, Ismael, the sonne of Nathan-ah, Johanan and Jonathan, the son-nes of Careah, Sareah, the sonne of Thanhometh, the sonnes of Ophay, the Nethophathite, Jezaniah, the son of Maachari with their companions And Godoliah, the sonne of Ahicam, the son of Saphan sware vnto them Re.25e and their felows in this maner. * Be not afrayd to serue ỹ Chaldees, dwell in the land, & doo the kyng of Babilō seruice, so shall ye prosper. Behold, I dwell at Mizpa to be an officer in the Chaldees behalfe, and to satisfie such as come to vs. Therefore gather you wyne, corne, and oyle, and kepe theim D in youre ware houses, and dwell in your cities that ye haue in keping, ye, al the Jewes also that dwelt in Moab vnder the Ammonytes, in Idumea and in al the countries, whē they heard that the kinge of Babilon had made Godoliah the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan, gouernour vppon them that wer lefte in Juda. All the Jewes (I saye) returned oute of all places where they were fled vnto, and camme into the lande of Juda to Godoliah vnto Mizpa, and gathered wyne and other fruites, and that very much. Moreouer, Johanan the son of Careah and al the captaynes of the hoste, that were scatred on euery side in the land, came to Godoliah in Miz pa, and sayd vnto him: Knowest thou not that Baal the king of the Ammo-nytes hath sente Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah to slaye thee. But Godo-liah the sonne of Ahikam beleued, thē not. Then said Johanan the sonne of Careah, vnto Godoliah in Mizpa, these woordes secretly. Let me go, I praye thee, and I will slaye Ismaell the son of Nathaniah, so that no bo-dye shall knowe it. Wherfore wyll he kyll thee, that al the Jewes which re sorte vnto thee, might be scatered, and the remnaunte in Juda perishe? And Godoliah the sonne of Ahikam sayde to Johanan the son of Careah. Thou shalt not dooe it, for they are but lyes, that thou sayest of Ismael.

The.xli. Chapter.

BUt in the seuenth moneth it A happened * that Ismael the son 4Re.25D of Nathaniah the sonne of E-lisama (one of the kinges blud) came wyth them that were greatest aboute the king, and tenne menne that were swoorne wyth him: vnto Godoliah the soonne of Ahicam to Mizpa, and they dyd eate together. And Ismaell the sonne of Nathaniah wyth those ten menne that were swoorne to hym start vp, & smote Godoliah the son of Ahicam the son of Saphā, wyth the swerd, slew him, whom the kyng of Babilon had made gouernour of the lande. Ismael also slew al the Jewes that were wyth Godoliah at Mizpa, and al the Caldees, and he found ther waytyng vppon hym that those that were able to fight he slew with him.
The next day after that he had slayne Godoliah (the matter was yet vnknowen) and ther came certaine men from Sichem, from Siloh, and Samaria,

maria, to the number of .lxxx. whiche had shauen their beardes, rente their clothes: and were al heuye bryngin g meateofferinges and incense in their Ecc.12.c handes, to offer it in the house of the B Lorde. And Ismaell the sonne of Nathaniah went foorth to Mizpa ·weping, to mete them. Nowe when hee met them, he saide: Go youre waye to Godoliah the sonne of Ahicam. And when they came in the middest of the citie, Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah (wyth them that were sworne vnto hym) slewe them, euen at the middest of the pitte. Amonge these foure score men, there were ten, that saide vnto Ismael: Oh slaye vs not, for we haue yet a greate treasure in the fielde of wheate, barly, oyle and honye. So he spared them, and slew them not with 4Re.25· their brethren. Now the · pit wherin Ismael did cast the dead bodyes of the men (whom hee slewe because of Godoliah) had kinge Asa caused to be made for feare of Baasa the kynge of Israell, and the same pit did Ismaell fil wyth slayne men. As for the remnaunt of the people, the kinges daughters, and all the people that were yet 4Re.25c C left at Mizpa, vpon whom · Nabuzaradan the chiefe captayne had made Godoliah the soonne of Ahicam gouernoure: Ismaell the sonne of Nathaniah caried them awaye prisoners towarde the Ammonytes. But whē Johanan the sonne of Careah and all they which had bene captaynes ouer the kinges hoost with him, hearde of all the wyckednes that Ismaell the Ge.13.c sonne of Nathaniah had done: · they 1Re.30b tooke their compantons, and wente out for to fyght wyth Ismael the son of Nathaniah, and founde him by the greate waters that are in Gibeon. Nowe when all the people, whome Ismaell led captiue, sawe Johanan the sonne of Careah, and all the other captaines of the hoost, they wer glad. So al the people that Ismael had caried away from Mizpa, wer brought againe. And when they returned, thei came to Johanan the sonne of Careah. But Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah fled from Johanan with eyghte of his sworne companions, and went D to the Ammonytes. Then Johanan the sonne of Careah and all the captaynes of the hoofte that were wyth hym, toke all the remnant of the people, whom Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah had led away. (When he had slayn Godoliah the sonne of Ahicam) whom they also hadde rescued frome hym: fyghtynge menne, womenne and childzen, and gelded men, whome they brought againe from Gibeon: and went from thence, and sat theym downe at Geruth Canaan, whyche lyeth beside Bethlehem, · that they Jer.13.b myght go into Egypte for feare of the Chaldees: of whom they wer afraide, because that Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah had slayne Godoliah Ahicās Jer.40a son, · whom the kinge of Babilō had made gouernour in the lande.

The .xlii. Chapter.

SO al the captaines, and Johanā A the sonne of Careah, Iezaniah, the sonne of Osaiah, came wyth all the people from the least vnto the moofte, and sayde vnto Ieremye the Prophet. · O heare our petition that Jer.21b thou mayest praye for vs, vnto the Lorde thy God, namelye, for all the remnaunte whereof there be beryfewe of vs lefte of manye, as thou seest vs: that the Lorde thy God maye shewe vs a waye to go in, and tell vs what we shoulde do. Then Ieremye the Prophet sayd vnto them, I haue heard you. Behold, I will praye vnto God your Lorde as ye haue requyred me: and loke what aunswer the Lord geueth you: I shall certifie you therof, and keepe nothynge backe frō you. And they sayd vnto Ieremye: · The Iof.1.c Lorde of trueth and faythfulnesse be 1.Mac. our recorde, that we will do al that the Jer.43.a Lord thy God commaundeth vs whether it be good or euil. we will herken B vnto the voyce of the Lorde God, to whom we sende thee, that we maye prosper, when wee haue folowed the voyce of the Lorde oure God. And after tenne dayes came the worde of the Lorde vnto Ieremy. Then called he

Iehonan

Johanan the ſonne of Kareah, and al the captaynes of the people that were wyth him: yea, and al the people from the leaſt to the mooſte, and ſayde vnto them: Thus ſayeth the Lorde God of Iſrael vnto whom ye ſent me, to lay foorth your prayers before him: ✠ Yf Jer.21.a ye will dwell in thys lande: I ſhall buylde you vppe, and not breake you downe: I ſhall plante you, and not roote you out: for I repent, as concernynge the trouble that I haue done to you. Feare not the kyng of Babylon, of whom ye ſtande in awe: O be not afrayde of him, ſayeth the Lorde: for I wyl be with you, to helpe you, and deliuer you from his hand, I wil pardon you, I wil haue mercye vpon you, and cauſe him to pitie you, and bryngе you agayne into youre owne
C lande. Neuertheleſſe, yf yee purpoſe not to dwell in this lande, nor to folow the voyce of the Lorde your God: but will ſaye thus, we wil not dwel here, but goe into Egipte: where we ſhall neyther ſee warre, heare the noyſe of the trompet, nor ſuffer hunger, ther wil we dwel. Wherefore yeare nowe the worde of the Lord, O ye remnant Jer.27.a of Juda. ✠ Thus ſayeth the Lorde of hoſtes the God of Iſrael: Yf yee be wholye purpoſed to go into Egipte, Jer.41.e and to bee there as ſtraungers: ✠ the ſwearde that ye feared, ſhall ouertake you in Egipte, and the hunger wherof ye be here afrayde, ſhal hange vpon you and folowe you into Egypt, and there ye ſhall dye. And al they that of ſet purpoſe vndertake to go into Egypte, to ſoiourne there, ſhall perylhe wyth the ſwearde, wyth hunger and peſtilence: not one of thē ſhal remaine there ſhal none eſcape the plage, that I will bringe vpon theim. For thus D ſayeth the Lorde of hoſtes the God of Iſrael: lyke as my wrath and indignation is moued againſt the inhabitoures of Jeruſalem, ſo ſhall my diſpleaſure be kyndled agaynſte you alſo, yf ye goe into Egypte: and there ye ſhalbe reuyled, abhorred, broughte to ſhame and confuſiō: and as for this place, ye ſhall neuer ſee it more. The Lorde forbiddeth you (O ye remnant of Juda) that ye ſhal not go into Egypte. And forgette not that I haue warned you earneſtly this day, for ye haue diſſembled wyth mee. ✠ For yee ſent me vnto the Lord your God, and ſayd: O praye thou the Lord our God Jer.42.a for vs: and looke what aunſwere the Lord our God geueth the, that bring vs agayne, and we ſhal do thereafter. Nowe haue I ſhewed and declared vnto you, but you haue not obeied the voyce of the Lorde youre God, for the wyth cauſe he hath ſente me to you. Nowe therefore: ✠ Yf ye will not folowe it, be ſure ỳ ye ſhal perilhe with the ſwearde, wyth hunger and peſtylence: euen in the ſame place, where Deu.28.c youre luſt is to go, and dwell.

¶ The.xliii. Chapter.

NOwe when Jeremye hadde ended all the woordes of the Lord hys God vnto the people which to declare the Lorde theyr
A God had ſent him to theim, (euen al theſe woordes I ſaye) Azariah the ſon of Ozaiah, and Johanan the ſonne of Kareah wyth all ſtubberne perſons, ſayd vnto Jeremie: ✠ Thou lieſt: the Lorde our God hath not ſente thee to Jer.42.a ſpeake vnto vs, that we ſhoulde not go into Egypt, and dwel there. But Baruch the ſonne of Neriah prouoketh thee agaynſt vs, that he myghte bryng vs into captiuitie of the Chaldees: that they might ſlaye vs, and carie vs away priſoners vnto Babilō.
So Johanan the ſon of Kareah, and B all the captaynes of the hoſt, and all the people folowed not the commaūdement of the Lord: Namely, to dwel in the land of Juda. But Johanan ỳ ſon of Kareah, and al the captains of the hoſt, caried away al the remnaunt in Juda, ỳ were cōe together agayne frō al ỳ hethen (among whō they had bene ſcatred) to dwell in the lande of Juda. Men, women, chyldren, the kings daghters: all thoſe that Nabuzaradan the chyefe captaine had lefte wyth Godoliah the ſonne of Ahikam the ſon of Saphan. They caried away alſo ỳ prophet Jeremy Baruch the ſon of Neriah, & ſo cāe into Egipt

for

for they were not obediente vnto the commaundemēt of God. Thus came C they to Taphnis. And in Taphnis the worde of the Lord happened vnto Jeremy, saying: Take great stones in thyne hand, and hyde them in the bryckie wall, vnder the dore of Pharaos house in Thaphnis, that all the men of Juda maye see, and saye vnto them. Thus sayth the Lord of hostes Jer.39.c the God of Israell. Behold, I will sende and call for Nabuchodonozor the kyng of Babylon my seruaunte, and wyll sett hys seate vppon these stones that I haue hyd, and he shall D spread his tent ouer them. And when he commeth, he shal smyte the land of Egypte, some with slaughter, some with prisonment, and some with the sweorde. He shall sette fyre vpon the temples of the Egyptians gods, and burne them vp, and take them selues prisoners. Worcouer, he shall araye himselfe with the land of Egipt, like as a shepeherde putteth on hys cote, and shall depart his way from thence in peace. The pilers also of the temple of the Sunne that is in Egypte, shal he breake in peces, and burne the temples of the Egiptians gods.

The.xliiii. Chapter.

A THys is the woorde that was shewed to Jeremy, concerning all the Jewes: which dwelt in Egypt: at Migdol, at Taphnis, at Noph, and in the lande of Patures. Thus sayth the Lord of hooستes, the God of Israell: Ye haue sene all the misery, that I haue brought vppon Jerusalem, and vppon the cityes of Juda: so that thys daye they are desolate, and no manne dwellyng therin: and that because of the greate blasphemyes whyche they commytted, to prouoke me vnto anger. In that they wente backe to do sacrifyce, and worshyppe vnto straunge goddes: whome neyther ye, nor youre fathers haue knowen. Howebeit, I sente vnto them my seruauntes al the Jer.25.a prophetes. * Arose vp earlye, I sente vnto them, and gaue them warnyng, O do not such abhominable thinges, and thynges that I hate. But they woulde not folowe nor hearken, to B tourne from their wickednes, and to doo no more sacrifices vnto straunge gods. Wherfore myne indignation & wrathe was kindled, and it brent vp the cities of Juda, the fields with the streetes of Jerusalem, so that they were made wast and desolate, as it is come to passe this day. Nowe therefore, thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel: Howe happeth it, that ye doo so greate euyll vnto youre owne soules, thus to destroy the men and women, children & babes of Juda: so that none of you is left, because ye prouoke me vnto wrathe with the workes of your owne handes: when ye offer vnto straunge Goddes in the lande of Egypt, where as ye be gone to dwell. That ye myght vtterly perysshe, and that ye myghte bee reuiled, and shamefully intreated of all nations. Or haue ye nowe forgotten the wickednesse of your forefathers, the wyckednesse of the Kynges of Juda, and their wyues, the wyckednes that ye your selues and your wyues haue done in the land of Juda, in C the citie, and in the stretes of Jerusalem. Yet are ye not sory vnto this day ye feare not, neyther walke ye in my law, & in my commandements that I haue geuē vnto you & your forefathers Therfore thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israell: I am stedfastely aduised and determyned to punyshe you, and to roote out all Juda.
As for the remnant of Juda, that purJer.8. and.43. posely went into Egypt ther to dwel I wyll take them, * and they shall all be destroyed. In the lande of Egypt shall they perysshe, beeynge consumed with the sweard, and with honger. For from the least vnto the most, thei shall perisshe with the sweard & with hunger. Worcouer, they shalbe reuiled, abhorred, shamed, and confounded Jer.39 For I wyl visite them that dwell in Egypt, * as I haue visited Jerusalem, with the sweard, with hunger, and with pestilence. So that none of the the remnaunte of Juda, whyche are gone to dwel in Egypte, shal be lefte to come agayne into the lande of Juda, although they thinke to come thyther agayne, and to dwell there. For none shal come agayne, but such as are D fled awaye. Then all the men which knew that their wyues had offred vn to straunge gods, and a greate sorte of wynes that stode there, ye, and all the people that dwelt there in Egipte in the citye of Patures, answered Jeremye, and sayde: As for the wordes that thou hast spoken vnto vs, in the name of the Lorde, we wil in no wise heare them: but whatsoeuer goth out of our owne mouth, that we will doo. Wee will doo sacrifice and offer oblacions vnto the quene of heuen, • lyke as we Jere.7.b and our forefathers, oure kinges, and our heads haue done in the Cities of Juda, and in the streetes and feldes of Jerusalem. For then had we plenteousnes of vitayles, then were we in prosperitie, and no misfortune came E vpon vs. • But sens we left to burne 1 mac.1.b incense, and to doo sacrifice vnto the quene of heauen, we haue had scarsenes of all thinges, and perysshe wyth the swearde and hunger. Last of all, when we wemen dyd sacrifice & offered vnto the queene of heauen dyd we make her cakes and poure vnto her drinkeofferinges, euen to that ymage dyd we sacrifice and seruice, without oure husbandes willes? Then sayde Jeremy vnto al the people, to the me, to the wemen, and to all the folcke which had geuen him that aunswer: Dyd not the Lorde remember the sacrifices that ye, your forefathers, your kinges and rulers, wyth all the people, haue offred in the cities of Juda, in the stretes and land of Jerusalem? and hath he not considered this in his minde? In somuch that the LORD

Esay.1.a might no longer suffer the wickednes of your inuencions, and the abhominable thinges which ye did: • Is not your land desolate and voyde: yea abhorred and accursed, so that no manne F dwelleth therein anye more, as it is Jere.18.b come to passe thys daye? • Dyd not al this happe vnto you, because ye made such sacrifices to ydols, and sinned agaynst the Lorde? • Ye haue not folo- Bar.3.a wed his voyce, to walke in his lawe, in his ordinances and statutes. Yea, this is the cause, that all myssortune happened vnto you, as it is come to passe thys daye. Moreouer, Jeremye spake vnto al the people, and to al the wemen. Heare the worde of the Lorde al Juda, ye that bee in the lande of Egypt. Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel: Ye and your wyues haue spoken with youre owne mouth, that thing thye haue fulfil- Jer.44.c led in dede. • Yea, thus haue ye sayde: Wee wil not fayle, but performe the vowes that we haue vowed, we wil do sacrifice and powre out drinkofferynges to the quene of heauen. Purposely wyl ye set vp your owne meanynges and performe your vowes. And therfore heare the wordes of the Lorde, all Juda, yee that dwell in the lande of Egypte. Beholde, • I haue G swoorne by my great name, sayeth the Ge.22.a Lorde: that my name shall not bee rehearsed through any mans mouth of Juda, in all the land of Egypt, to say: The Lorde GOD lyueth: for I wil watche to plague theym, and not for Jer.42.c theyr wealth. • And al the men of Juda that be in the land of Egypte shall perysshe wyth the swearde, and with hunger, vntil they be vtterly destroyd. Neuertheless, those that fled awaye for the swearde, shal come agayne into the lande of Juda: but there shal be verye fewe of them. And all the remnaunt of Juda, that are gone into Egypt, there to dwel, shal know whose woordes shalbe founde true: theirs or myne. Take this for a token that I C wyll visit you in this place sayth the Lorde: and that ye may knowe that I (wythout doubt) will performe my purpose vpon you to punish you. Beholde, sayth the Lorde: I wyll delyuer Pharao Hophra kinge of Egypt into the handes of hys ennemyes that Jer.39.a seke after hys lyfe: • euen as I gaue 4 Re.25.a Sedekias the kinge of Juda, into the handes of Nabuchodonosor, kynge of Babilon his enemy which sought after hys lyfe.

¶ The.xlv. Chapter.

A THese are the wordes that Jeremye the prophete spake vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah:

Jer.33 a * After that hee hadde written these sermons in a booke at the mouthe of Jeremy, In the fourth yeare of Jehoakim the sonne of Josias kinge of Juda, saying: Thus sayth the Lorde God of Israell vnto the, O Baruch: In so muche as thou thoughtest thus when thou wast wryting: Wo is me, the Lord hath geuen me sorow vpon sorowe. I haue weried my self wyth sighing, and haue fonde no rest. Therfore tell him, (O Jeremye), that the Lorde sayth thus: Behelde, the thyng that I haue builded, will I breake

B downe agayn, and rote out the thing that I haue planted. Yea, this whole land. And seekest thou yet promotion? Loke not for it, and desyre it not. For Jer.21 b I will bryng a miserable plage vpon all flesh, sayeth the Lorde. * But thy lyfe wyl I geue thee for a praye in al places, whersoeuer thou goest.

¶ The.xlvi. Chapter.

A HEre folow the wordes of the Lord to the prophet Jeremy, which he spake agaynst al the Gentyles. These wordes folowyng preached he to * the Egyptians concernynge the hoste of Pharao Necho kynge of Egypt: * when hee was in Charcamis, beside the water of Euphrates: what time as Nabuchodonosor the king of Babilon slewe him, in the fourth yeare of Jehoakym the Jer.36.d son of Josias king of Juda: * Make ready buckler and shield, and go forth to fyght: harnes your horses, and sette your selues vpon them: set youre sadlettes fast on, bryng foorthe speares, scoure your swerds, and put on your brest plates. But alas, howe happeneth it, that I see you so afrayd? why shrinke ye backe? Eyther woorthyes are slayne. Yee, they runne so faste away, that none of them loketh behind him. Fearefulnes is fallen vpon euerychone of them, sayth the Lord. The lyghtest of foote shal not flee awaye, and the worthies shal not escape. To-

B ward the North by the water of Euphrates, they did stumble and fall. But what is hee this, that swelleth vp, as it were a floud, roaring and raging lyke the streames of water? It is Egypte that ryseth vppe lyke the floudde, and casteth oute the waters wyth so great noyse. And he sayd: I wyll go vp, & will couer the earth, I will destroye the Citie wyth theym that are therein. Get you vp ye horses, roll forth ye charets, com forth ye worthies: ye Mozians, yee Libeans wyth your bucklers, yee Lideons & your bowes. This daye of the Lorde God of hostes, is a daye of vengeance that he maye auenge hym of his ene-

C mies. The swearde shall deuoure, it shalbe satisfied, and bathed in theyr blud. For the Lord God of hostes shal haue a slayne offeringe towarde the Northe, by the water of Euphrates. Go vp, O Gilead, and bryng triacle vnto the daughter of Egipt. But in vaine shalte thou go to surgery: for thy wounde shal not be stopped. The heithen haue heard of thy shame, and the lande is full of thy confusion, of one stronge man dyd stumble vpon another, and they are fallen both toge-

D ther. These are the woordes that the Jer.43 b Lorde spake to the prophete Jeremye concernynge the commyng of Nabuchodonosor the kinge of Babilon, whych was sent to destroye the land of Egypte. Preache out through the lande of Egypte: and cause it to bee proclaymed at Mygdol, Noph, and Taphnis, and say: stande styll, make thee readye, for the swearde shal consume thee rounde aboute. Howe happeneth it, that thy myghtie worthies are fallen? why stoode they not faste? Euen because the Lorde thrust theim downe. The slaughter was greate, for one fell euer styll vppon another. One cried vppon another: Vp, let vs go agayne to our owne people, and to oure owne natural contrey from the cruel swerd. They did cry euen there

O Pharao kyng of Egypt, thou trou blous kyng: the tyme will bryng sedition. As truely as I lyue, saieth the kyng, • whose name is the Lorde of Esa.48.a and. 51.c Hostes, it shal come as the mount of Thabor, and as Libanus, if it stoode in the sea, O thou daughter of Egypt make readye thy geare to flytte. For Moph shalbe boyde & desolate, so that no man shall dwell therin. The land of Egypt is like a goodly faire calfe, but destruction shall come oute of the North. I say it commeth. Her waged souldiors that bee with her, are like fat calues. They also shall flee away togither, and not abyde: for the day of their slaughter, and the time of their visitation shal come vpon them.
The crye of them, shall make a noyse F as the blast of a trompette. For they shall enter in with their hostes, and comme with axes, as it wer hewers downe of woodde. And they shall cut downe her woodde, saieth the Lorde.
They shall be innumerable, for they shalbe mo in numbre then the gresh op pers, so that no man shalbe able to tel them. The daughter of Egypt is con founded, and deliuered into the hands of the people of the Northe. Thus sayth the Lord of Hostes, the God of Israell: Beholde, I wyll visite that reteleslle people of Alexandria, Pharao, and Egypt: yea, bothe theyr god-des and their kynges: euen Pharao, and all theym that put their truste in hym. Yea, I wyll deliuer theim into the handes of those, that seeke after theyr lyues. Namely into the power of Nabuchodonosor the kyng of Babylon, and into the power of his ser-G uantes. And after all these thyngs it shalbe inhabited, as afore tyme sayethe the Lorde. But be not thou afrayde, (O my seruant Jacob) fear not thou O Israell. For lo, I wyll helpe the from farre, and thy sede from the land of their captiuitye. Jacob also shall come agayne, and be in reste; he shall prospere, and no man shall doo hym harme. Feare thou not (O Jacob, my seruant) sayth the Lord, for I am with thee: and wyll destroy all nations amonge whom I haue scattered thee. Neuertheless I wyll not consume thee, but chasten and correct the:
yea and that with discretion: neyther wyll I spare thee, as one that were fauteleslle.

¶ The.xlvii. Chapyer.

THese are the wordes, that the Lorde spake vnto Jeremye the Prophet agaynst the Philistines, before that Pharao smote the ci-tie of Azah. Thus sayth the Lord: Be holde, there shall waters arise out of the north: and shall growe to a greate floode, runnyng ouer, and couerynge the land, the cities, & them that dwell in the land, shall mourne at the noyse and stampyng of their strong barbed horses, at the shaking of theyr charettes, and at the rombling of the wheles. The fathers shal not loke to their children, so feble and weary shal their handes be: at the same tyme when he shalbe there, to destroy the whole land of the Philistins: he shall makt wast bothe Tyrus, Sydon, and all other that are sworne vnto theym. For the Lord wyll destroy the Philistins, the remnāt of the yle of Chaptor. Baldnes is come vpon Azah, Ascalon with her other valeys shall kepe her peace.
How longe wylt thou slape, O thou sword of the Lord? When wilt thou ceasse? Turne agayne into thy swete reste, and leaue it of. But how can it ceasse? when the Lorde hym self hath geuen hym a charge against Ascalon, and raised it vp agaynste the cities of the sea coast?

¶ The.xlviii. Chapter.

THus sayeth the LORD of Hostes, the GOD of Israel, agaynst • Moab: wo be to the cyties of Nebo, for it is layde waste brought to confusyon: and Kariath-tarim taken, Misegab is brought to shame and afrayde: Moab can boaste no more of Heschon: for they haue de-uised agaynst it. Come, shal they say, let vs roote them out, that they may be nomore amonge the numbre of the Esa.15.a 16.a and c.25.b Ezec.25.b Sop.2.b

Gentiles, and that the Madmen may no more bee thought vppon: and the ſwearde ſhall perſecute thee. A voyce ſhall cry from Horonaim: With great waſtynge and deſtruction is Moab made deſolate. Chudren coulde tell of the cry thereof. For at the goyng vp into Luyth, he aroſe with lamentation and mournynge, and downe towarde Horonaim, they heard a cruell and deadly cry. Get you awaye, ſaue Eſai. 2. b your liues, and be like vnto the heath Jer. 17. b in the wildernelle. * For becauſe thou Eze. 29 a haſt truſted in thyne owne woorkes
B and treaſure, thou ſhalt be taken. Chamos, with hys prieſtes and Princes ſhall go away into captiuitie. The deſtroyer ſhal come vpon all cities, none ſhall eſcape. The valleys ſhall be deſtroyed, and the fieldes ſhall be layde waſte, lyke as the Lord hath ſpoken. Geue wynges vnto Moab, that ſhee gette her away ſpedilye: for her cities ſhalbe made ſo deſolate, ꝑ no man ſhal dwell therein. Curſed be he that doth the woorke of the Lord negligentely, & curſed bee hee that keepeth backe hys Jer. 47 b * ſweard from sheaddyng of bloode. Moab hath euer ben ryche and careleſſe from her youth vp, ſhe hath ſytten and taken her eaſe with her treaſure. For ſhe was neuer yet put out of one veſſel into an other (ꝑ is) ſhe neuer went away into captiuitie, therC fore her taſt remaineth, & her ſauoure is not yet changed. But lo, the tyme cometh, ſaith ꝑ lord, that I ſhall ſend her truſſers to truſſe her vp, whyche ſhall remoue her from her dwelling: and to emptye her veſſels, and breake her wyne pottes. And Moab ſhalbe aſhamed of Chamos, lyke as Iſrael Jere. 12 a was aſhamed of * Bethel, wherin ſhe put her truſt. Wherfore do ye thinke thus: We are mighty and ſtrong men of warre? Moab is deſtroyed, and her cities brent vp: her choſen yonge men be ſlayne, ſayth the kyng, whoſe name is the Lord of hoſtes. The deſtruction of Moab cometh on apace, and her fall is at hand. All her neighbours ſhall mourn for her, and al they that knowe her name ſhall ſaye; O how hapneth it, that the ſtrong ſtaffe and the goodly rodde is thus broken? And thou daughter Dibon, comme downe frome thy glorye, and ſytte in thyrſt. For he that deſtroyeth Moab ſhall come vp to thee alſo, and breake downe thy ſtrong holdes. And thou that dwelleſt in Aroer, get thee to the D ſtrete, and loke about thee: aſke them that are fled & eſcaped, and ſaye: what thyng is hapned? Oh, Moab is confounded and ouercome. Mourne and cry, tel it out at Arnon, that Moab is deſtroyed. For iudgement ſhal come vpon the playn land: Namely, vppon Holon, and Jahazah, vppon Mephaath and Dibon, vpon Nabo, and the houſe of Deblathaim, vpon Cariath iarim, & vpon the houſe of Gamul, vpon the hous Maon, & Carioth, vpon Bozrah, & all the cities in the lande of Moab whether they lie far or nere. The horne of Moab is ſmiten downe and her arme broken, ſayth the Lorde. Make her dronken, for ſhe magnified her ſelf aboue the Lord: that men may clappe their handes at her vomite, and that ſhe alſo may be laughed to ſcorn.
Mat. 25 d O Iſraell, thou ſhalt not laugh him to ſcorne, when he is taken amonge theues. * Yea, becauſe of thy wordes that thou haſte ſpoken againſt hym, thou ſhalt be driuen away. Ye Moabytes ſhall leaue the cities, and dwell in rockes of ſtone, and becomme lyke doues that make their neſtes in holes. E Eſa. 16 a * Is for Moabs pride, we haue heard Jer. 49 b of it: ſhe is verye hyghe mynded. I knowe her ſtoutneſſe, her boaſtynge, her arrogancie, and the pride of her ſtomacke, ſayth the Lorde. I knowe (ſayth the Lord) her indignation, ſhe dooth not right, her wordes are lies, and they haue not delt truely. Therfore ſhall there mournyng be made for Moab, and euery man ſhall crye for Moabs ſake: Lamentation ſhalbe made to the men that ſtande vppon the wall. So ſhall I mourne for the alſo, O Jazer, and for thee, O thou vineyarde of Sabaniah. Thy wyne braunches ſhall come ouer the ſea, and the braunches of Jazer, but vnto the sea: the destroyer shal breake into thy harueſt and grape gatherynge: mirth and chere shalbe taken away from the tymber fyelde, and frome the whole land of Moab. Ther shalbe no swete wyne in the presse, the treader shall haue no stomacke to crye, yea, there shalbe none to crye vnto hym: whych afore tyme were hearde from Heſebon to Eleale and Jahaz, whych lifted vppe theyr voyce from Zoar vnto Horonaim, that bullocke of three yere olde shall goe mournynge. The waters also of Nemrim shall bee dryed vp. Moreouer, I wyll make Moab F cease, sayeth the Lorde, from the offerynges and censynge that shee hath made vnto her goddes in hye places. Wherefore my hearte mourneth for Moab, lyke a crowde playinge an henye songe: and for the menns sake of the brycke wall, my hearte mourneth also: euen as a pipe that pipeth a doleſull songe: for they shalbe verye fewe, and destroied. * All heades shalbe sha-

ſea,

Esa. 15 d uen, and all beardes clypped of, al hãdes bounde, and loynes gyrded about wyth sacke cloth. Upon all the houſe toppes and streetes of Moab, there shalbe lamentable mourninge: For I wyll breake Moab lyke an vnprofitable veſſel, sayth the Lorde. O howe is she destroyed? O howe mourneth shee? O howe doeth Moab hange downe her heade, and she ashamed? Thus shall Moab bee a laughynge
Deu. 28. e stocke, and hadde in derision of all Jer. 49 d them that be rounde about her. * For thus sayeth the Lorde: Beholde, the ennemye shall come fleynge as an eagle: and spreade hys wynges vpon G Moab. They shall clymbe ouer the walles, and wyn strong holdes. The the myghtye mens heartes in Moab shalbe like the heart of a woman trauayling wyth child. And Moab shall be made so desolate: that she shall nomore be a people, because shee hath set Esa. 24. f vp her self agaynst the Lorde. * Feare, pytte and snare shall come vpon thee, O Moab, sayeth the Lorde. Who so escapeth the feare, shal fall in the pyt: and whoso getteth out of the pyt, shal be taken in the snare. For I wyll bryng a yere of visitation vpon Moab, sayth the Lord. They that are able to flee, shall stande vnder the shadow of Heſebon. For there shall go a fyre out of Heſebon, and a flame from Sion, and shal burne vp that proud people of Chamos shalt perysh. Ye, thy sons and daughters shalbe ledde awaye captyue. Yet at the laste wyl I bryng Moab oute of captiuitie egayne, sayth the Lorde. Thus farre is of the plage of Moab.

¶ The. xlix. Chapter.

A

AS concernyng the Ammoni- Eze. 21 d tes, thus the Lord sayth: Hath Amo. 1. a Israell no children, or is hee wout an heyre? Why hath your king then taken Gad in? Wherefore doeth his people dwel in his cities. Beholde therefore, the tyme commeth, saith the Lorde, that I will brynge a noyse of warre into Rabah of the Ammonytes: and it shall bee layde on a deſolate heape: and her cities brent vp, and the Israelytes shalbe lordes ouer those that had them in poſſeſſion afore, sayeth the Lorde. Heſebon shall mourne for he shalbe rooted out of the grounde, sayeth the LORDE. The Cytyes of Rabah shall crie oute, and gyrde theym selues wyth sacke clothe: they shall mourne, and runne aboute the walles, for theyr Kynge shal be ledde awaye prysoner, yee, hys Pryeſtes B and Princes wyth hym. Wherefore truſteſt thou in the valley? thy valley hath flowed awaye, O thou fearce daughter, and thynckeſt thou that thou arte so safe, by reason of thy treſure, that no manne shal come to thee? Beholde, I wyll brynge a feare vpon thee, sayeth the LORDE GOD of Hooſtes, from all those that bee aboute thee: so that ye shalbe scattered euerye manne from another and no man shall gather them together agayne that be fledde. But after that, I wyll brynge the Ammonytes

Esa.21 b also out of captiuitie agayne. * Upon Eze.25b the Edomites hath ỹ Lord of hostes spoken on this maner: Is there no more wisdome in Theman? Is there nomore good councel among his people? Is their wisedome then turned clene to naught? Get you hence, turne your backes, crepe downe into the depe, O ye citezens of Dedan. For I will bringe destruction vpon Esau: yea, and the daye of his visitation. If the grape gatherers came vpon thee, should they not leaue some grapes. If the night robbers came vpō the, shold they not take somuch as they thought wer inough? But I wil make Esau bare, and discouer his secretes, so that he shall not be able to hyde them. His sede shalbe wasted away: yea, his brethren and his neighbours, and he him selfe shall not be lefte behynde. Thou shalt leaue thy fatherlesse childzen behind thee, and I will kepe them, and thy wyddowes shall take their comfort in me. For thus hath the Lorde Jer.25 b spoken. * Beholde they that men Ezec.9.b thought wer vnmete to drynke of the 1Pet.4.c cup, haue dronken with the first: and thinkest thou then to be free? No, no, thou shalt nether be quite nor fre: but thou must drinke also. For whye? I haue sworne by my selfe, saith ỹ Lord, that Bozrah shall become a wildernes, an open shame, a laughing stocke and cursinge, and all her citie shalbe a D continuall desert. For I am perfectly informed of the lord that he hath sent a message already vnto the Heathen.
Gather you together, and goo forthe agaynst them: make you ready to the Abd. 1 .a battayle: for lo, * I will make the but small among the heathen, and litle re-Esa.41 b garded amonge men. * Thy hye stomacke and the pryde of thy hert haue disceaued the, because thou wilt dwel in the holes of stony rockes, and haue the mountaynes in possession. Ne-uertheles, though thy nestе were as hye as the Egles, yet wil I cast thee downe, saith the Lorde. Moreouer, Jer.18 b Idumea shalbe a wildernes: * whoso goeth by it shalbe abashed, and won-Gen.19e der at all her miserable plages. * Like as Sodome, Gomorra, and the cities that laye therabout were turned vp syde downe, sayth the Lord: so shal no body dwell in Idumea, and no man shall haue his habitation there. Be-holde lyke as the Lyon, so shall a destroyer come vp from the pleasaunte medowes of Iordan vnto the strong dwellynge place: and when I haue made him quiet, I wyll make him to flee from her: and all chosen men will I set in aray against her: who is lyke vnto me? What is he that will stryue with me? what shepeherd may stand in my handes? * Therfore, heare the Psa.37 councell of the Lorde that he had taken vpon Idumea: and his purpose that he hath deuysed vpon the cyte-fens of Theman. The leaste of the G flocke shall teare them in peces: and take what fayre thing they haue, they shall make it waste, and them selues also. At the noyse of their fall, the earthe shall quake, the crye of their voyce shalbe hearde vnto the red sea.
Beholde, the enemye shall come and flee vp hither, like as it wer an Egle, and spreade his wings vpon Bozrah.
Then shall the herts of the worthies of Edom be as the herte of a woman traueling of child. * Vpō Damascus, Esa.17 Hemath and Arphad shall come con- Amo.1. fusion, for they shall heare euyll tydynges: they shalbe tossed to and fro like the sea that cannot stand styl. Da mascus shalbe sore afrayed, and shall flee, tremblyng shall come vpon her.
Sorowe and payne shall ouertake her as a woman traueling of chylde.
But how shuld so worshipful & glorious a citye be forsaken? Heare therfore: her ponge men shall fall in the stretes, and all her men of war shalbe taken awaye in that tyme, sayeth the Lorde of hostes. I wyll kyndle a fyre in the walles of Damascus, whiche shall consume ỹ palace of Benhadad.
* As for Cedar and the kyngdome of Psa.21 Hazor, whom Nabuchodonosor the kynge of Babylon smote downe, the Lorde hath spoken thus vpon them: Aryse, and get you vp vnto Cedar, & destroy the people towarde the easte.

Theis

Their tentes and their flockes shall they take away: Yea, their hangynges and their vessels. Their camels also shall they carry away with thē. They F shall crye to them: Feare is on every syde. Flee, get you fone away, creape into caues, that ye may dwel ther, O ye inhabitors of Hazor, saith the lord: for Nabuchdonosor the king of Babylon hath holden a councell concerning you, and concluded his deuice against you. Arise, & get you vp against yonder rich & careles people (saith the Lorde) which haue neyther gates nor dore barres, but dwell alone. Their camels shalbe stollen, and the droues of their cattel dryuen away. Moreouer, those wil I scatter toward al the windes: and bring thē to destruction: yea, and that thorow their own fantiyers, sayth the Lord. Hazor also shall be a dwellyng for dragons, & an euerlastynge wildernes: so that no bodye G shall dwell there: and no man shall haue ther his habitation. These are ỹ Ezr.32 b Dani.8a wordes that the Lord spake to the prophet Jeremy, concernyng. ¶ Elam in the beginnyng of the raygne of Zedekiah kinge of Juda. Thus sayth the Lord of hostes: Behold, I will breake the bowe of Elam, and take awaye their strēgth: and vpon Elam I will bring the foure windes from the four quarters of heuen, and wil scatter thē agaynst the same foure windes. And ther shalbe no people, but some of Elam shall flee vnto them. For I wyll cause Elam to be afrayd of their enemyes, and of thē that seke their lines: and will bryng vpon them the indignacion of my wrath, sayth the Lorde. And I will persecute them with the sweard, so longe tyll I haue brought them to naught: I will set my throne in Elam, I wyll destroye bothe the kynge and the princes frome thence, saith the Lord. But in proces of tyme I will bryng Elam out of captiuitye agayne, sayth the Lord.

¶ The .l. Chapter.

THe wordes that the Lord spake vnto the prophet Jeremy, concernyng Babilon, and the land of the Chaldees: ¶ Preach among the Gentyles, let your voyce be heard, make a token, cry out, kepe no silence but saye: Babilon is wonne. ¶ Bel is confounded, and Merodach is ouercome. ¶ Yea, their gods be brought to shame: and their ymages burst in peces. For out of the North there doth come a people agaynste her: whiche make her land so waste, that no body dwell therin, neyther man nor beaste: for they flee and departe from thence. Esa.15 a Jer.25 b ¶ Esa.46 Dan.4.a ¶ In those dayes and at that tyme, saith the Lord, the chyldren of Israel shall come, they & the chyldren of Juda, weppyng and makyng hast, & shall seke the Lorde their God. They shall aske the waye to Syon, thyther shall they turne their faces, sayinge: Come and we will cleaue to the Lorde, in a couenaunt that neuer shalbe broken. My people hath bene a lost flocke, my shepeherdes haue disceaued them, and haue made them go astraye vppon the hylles. They haue gone frome the mountaynes to the lytle hyll, and forgotten their folde. All they that came vpon them, haue deuoured them: and theyr enemyes sayde: We haue made no defaulte agaynste theym: for they haue displeased the Lorde: yea, euen the Lorde, whiche is the bewtye of their ryghteousnesse, and that defended their fathers. Yet shall ye flee frome Babylon, and departe oute of the lande of the Chaldees, and be ye as the rammes that goo before the flocke. ¶ For loo, I wyll wake vp an hooste of people frome the Northen lande, and bringe them vppon Babylon: these shall laye syege to it, and wynne it. Their arowes shall not mysse, lyke as a cunnynge archer shooteth not wronge. And the Chaldees shall bee spoyled, and all they that spoyle theym, shall bee satysfyed, sayeth the LORDE, although ye were so chearefull and gladde, to treade downe myne heritage, and fulfylled youre pleasures, 1 Esa.1 a Jer.23 a Ezec.36 b B Jer.50 a Esa.47 a as the calues in the grasse, and trimmphed ouer them like the bulles, when C he had gotten the victorye. Your mothers shalbe sore confounded, and they that bare you, shall come to shame. Sye shalbe the leaste set by amonge the nacions, voyde, wasted and dryed vp. No man shalbe able to dwel ther, for the feare of the Lord, but he shall Jer. 11 b be whole desolate. * All they that go and. 49. c by Babylon, shall stande styll, and be abashed, and shall wonder at all her plagues. Go forthe in your araye agaynst Babylon rounde about, all ye that can handle bowes: shote at her, spare no arowes: for she hath synned agaynst the Lorde. Crye oute vppon her, vppon her, agaynst her rounde about: she shall yeld her selfe, her foundations shall fall, and her walles shal come downe: for it shall be the vengeaunce of the Lord. * Yea, vengeaūce Exo. 21 b shall be taken of her, and as she hath Leu. 24. d done, so deale ye with her. Rote oute the sower from Babylon, and hym that handleth the sickle in haruest. For feare of the sweard of the enemy, euery man shall get hym to his owne people: and euery man shal flee to his owne lande. Israell is a scatered flocke, the lyons haue dispersed them, 4 Re. 17 e * Firste the kyng of the Assirians de-Esa. 10 a uoured them, * laste of all this Na-

* 2 re. 25 d buchodonosor kyng of Babylon hath brosed all their boones. Therefore, thus sayeth the Lorde of hoostes the God of Israell: Behold, I wyll vysite the kynge of Babilon and hys
4. re. 19 g kyngedome as * I haue visyted the Esa. 14 a kyng of the Assirians, and wyl bring Israell agayne to hys pleasaunt pasture, that he maye feede vpon Charmell and Basan, and be satisfyed vpon the mount of Ephraim and Ga-Jer. 51. c laad. * In those daies and at the same tyme, sayeth the Lorde, yf the offence of Israell be soughte for, there shall none be founde. If men enquire for the synne of Juda, there shalbe none: for I wyll be mercifull vnto theym, whom I suffre to remayne ouer. Go down, O thou auenger, into the enemyes lande, and vysit them that dwel therin: downe with them, and smyte them vpon the backes, saith the Lorde: do accordyng to all that I haue commaunded thee. There is gone about the lande a crye of a slaughter and greate murther, namelye on this maner. Howe happeneth it, that the hammer of the whole worlde is thus broken and brosed in sunder? Howe chaunceth it, that Babilon is become a wildernesse among the heathen on this maner? I my selfe haue layed wayt for thee, and thou art taken, vnwares arte thou trapped and snared: for whye? thou haste prouoked the Lord vnto anger. The Lord hath opened his house of ord inance, & brought forth the weapons of his wrath. For the thyng that is done in the lande of the Caldees, it is the Lorde of hostes worke. Come agaynst her, for this is C her ende: breake vp her chestes, threshe her as ye thresshe corne: destroye her, that nothyng shalbe lefte. Slaye all their myghtye souldiers, and putte them to deathe. Woo be vnto theym, for the daye and tyme of their visitation is at hande. Me thinke I heare already a cry, of them that be fled and escaped out of the lande of Babilon, which shew in Sion the vengeaunce of the Lord our God, the vengeāce of of his temple: yea, a voyce of theym, that crye agaynst Babilon. Call vp all the archers agaynste Babylon, pytche your tentes round about her, Jer. 50. d that none escape. * Recompence her, Apo. 18 b as she hath deserued: and accordynge as she hath doone, so deale with her 2 thes. 1 a agayne, for she hath * set vp her selfe agaynst the Lorde, agaynste the holye one of Israell. Therefore shall her yonge men fall downe in the stretes, and all her men of warre shalbe roted out in that daye, sayth the Lord. Behold, I speake vnto thee, O thou proud, sayth the Lord God of hostes: for thy daye shall come, euen the tyme of thy visitation. And the proud shall stomble and fal and no man shal helpe him vp. I wyll burne vp hys cytyes with fyre, and it shal consume all that F is rounde about him. Thus sayth the

Lord

Lorde of hostes: the chyldren of Israell and Juda suffer violence together. All they that haue them in captiuitye, kepe them faste, and will not let them goo, but their auenger and redemer is myghtye, whose name is the Lord of hostes: he shal mayntayne their cause, he shall make their land shake, and iudge them that dwel therin, one with another. The swearde shall come vpon the Chaldees, sayeth the Lorde, vpon theym that dwell in Babilon, vpon their princes, and vpon their wise men. The sweard vpō their southsayers, as for those, they shall become fooles. The sweard vpon their worthyes, so that they shall stand in feare. The sweard vpō their horsemen and charettes, and vpon all the commen people that dwell vnder them: so that they shal all become lyke women. The swearde vppon their treasure, so that it shalbe stolē away. A drought vpon their waters, so that they shalbe dryed vp. For the lande worshippeth ymages, and delyteth in straunge wonderfull thinges. Therfore shall wyld beasts, Lamia and cat of mountaynes, and estriches dwell therin, for ther shall neuer man dwel there, neyther shall any man haue his habitacion there for euermore. Lyke as God destroyed Sodome and Gomorre, with the cityes that laye there about, sayeth the Lorde: So shall no man dwel there also, neyther shal any man haue there his habitacion. * Beholde, there shall come a people frome the north with a great bonde of men, and many kynges shall stand vp from the endes of the earthe. They beare bowes and bucklers, cruell are they and vnmercifull. Their voyce roareth like the raging sea, they ryde vpon horses, and come weapened to fight agaynst thee, O Babylon. Assone as the kyng of Babylon heareth tell of them, hys handes shall ware feable. Sorowe and heauynes shall come vpon him, as a woman trauelynge with chyld. Behold, * lyke as the lyon commeth vp from the pleasaunt medowes of Iordan vnto the grene pastures of Ethan, so will I dryue them forth, and make them run agaynst her. But whom shal I chose oute: and ordeyne to suche a thinge? * For who is lyke mee, or who will stryue with me? or what shepeherde maye stande agaynste me? Therfore, heare the counsell that the Lorde hath geuen vpon Babylon, and the deuice that he hath taken vpon the lande of the Chaldees. The leaste among the people shall teare them in peces, and loke what pleasaunt thyng they haue they shall laye it waste. The noyse at the wynnyng of Babilon shall moue the earth, and the crye shalbe heard among the Gentyles.

Gen.19e

Jer.50b

Deu.28c

Jer.39.c

Job.41d

¶ The.li. Chapter.

THus hath the Lord sayde: * beholde, I wyl rayse vp a perilous wynde agaynst Babylon and her cytezens, that beare euill wyl against me. I will send also into Babylon fanners, to fanne her out, and to destroye her lande: for in the day of her trouble they shalbe aboute her on euery syde. Moreouer, the Lord hath sayd vnto the bowe men, and to them that clyme ouer the walles in brasse plates. Ye shall not spare her yonge men: kyll downe all her hoste. Thus the slayne shall fall down in the land of the Chaldees, and the wounded in the stretes. * As for Israell and Juda they shall not be forsaken of their god, of the Lord of hostes, for the holy one of Israels sake: no, though they haue filled all their land full of sinne. * Flee awaye from Babylon, euerye man saue hys lyfe: that ye be not roted out with her wickednesse: for the tyme of the Lordes vengeaunce is come: yea, he wyl reward her agayne. Babylon hathe bene in the Lordes hande, * a golden cuppe that maketh all landes droncken. Of her wyne haue all people dronken: therefore, are they oute of theyr wyttes. * But sodenly is Babylon fallen, & destroyed. Mourne for her, bryng plasters for her woundes, if she maye peraduenture be healed agayne. We wolde haue made Babylon whole, say they:

N

Jer.25b

Jer.50.d

Esa.48d

Jer.25.c

Esa.21b

Apo.18a

but shee is not recouered. Therefore wil we let her alone, and go euery mā into hys owne country. For her iudge ment is come into heauen, and is gon vppe to the cloudes. The Lorde hath brought forth our ryghteousnes. And therfore come on, we wyl shew Siō the worke of ỹ Lord our God. Make sharpe the arowes, and multiply your shieldes: for the Lorde shall raise vp Iud.2.c the spirit of the king of the Medees, 3 Re.11c which hath alredy a desyre to destroie Babilon. This shalbe the vengeance of the Lorde, and the vengeaunce of his temple. Set vp tokens vpon the walles of Babilō: make your watche strong, set your watchmē in aray: yea holde priuie watches, and yet for all that, shall the Lorde go forth with the deuice, which he hath taken vpon thē that dwell in Babilon. O thou that dwellest by the greate waters. O thou that hast so great treasure and riches, thyne ende is come, and the reckeninge of thy wynninges. * The Amos.6c Lorde of hoostes hath sworne by him Ier.22a selfe, that he wil ouerwhelme the with men, lyke gresshoppers in number, Ier.35.b whyche with a corage shall crye, ala-rum, alarum agaynst thee. * Yea, euen the Lorde of hoostes, that wyth hys power made the earth, wyth hys wis dome prepared the rounde worlde, and wyth hys discretion spred out the he-uens. Assone as he letteth hys voyce Psa.135 be heard, the waters in the ayre waxe fearce. * Hee drawe th vp the cloudes from the endes of the earth. He tour-neth the lightninges to rain, he bryn-geth the wyndes out of their secrete places: if they be esteemed by their wis Esa.44.c dome, al men are become fooles. * Cō-Bar.6.a. founded be all the casters of ymages: for the thynge that they make, is but disceate, and hath no breth. Vayne is it and an erronious worke: and in the time of visitation it shal perysshe. Ne-uertheles, the portion of Iacob is none such, but he that made al things whose name is the Lorde of hostes, he is the rod of his enheritaunce. Thou hast beene myne hammer and weapons for warre: for with thee haue I broken the people in peces: and with thee haue I destroyed kyngdomes.
Through the I haue beaten to poulder horse and horseman: yea, the cha-rettes and suche as sat vppon theym.
Through thee I haue broken manne and woman, olde and yonge, bacheler and mayden. Throughe thee, I haue destroyed the sheepehearde and hys flocke, the husbandman and hys cat-tel, the princes and their rulers. Ther fore wyll I reward the Citie of Ba-bilon and all her citezins, the Chaldees, wyth all the euell whyche they haue don vnto Siō, yea, that ye your selues shall see it, sayth the Lord: Behold, I come vpon thee, thou noisome hyl, sayth the Lord: thou that destroiest all landes: I wyl stretche oute my hande ouer thee, and cast thee downe from the stonye rockes: and wil make thee a brent hill: so that nether corner stones nor pinacles, nor foundations of stones shalbe taken anye more oute of thee, but waste and desolate shalte thou lye for euermore, saith the Lord.
Set vp a token in the lande: blowe the trompettes amonge the Heathen: prouoke the nacions against her, call the kingdoms of Ararat, Menni, and Ascanes agaynst her. Set the prince agaynst her, bryng as greate a sort of terrible horses agaynst her: as yf they were gresshoppers. Prepare against them the people of the Medes with their kynges, princes, and all they chefe rulers: yea, and the whole lande that is vnder hym. The land also shal shake and be afrayd when the deuyce of the Lorde shal come forth agaynste Babilon: to make the land of Babilō so waste, that no man shal dwell anye more therein. The worthies of Ba-bilon shal leaue the battaile, and kepe theym selues in stronge holdes, their strength hath fayled them, they shalbe lyke wemen. Their dwellyng places shalbe brente vp, their barres shalbe broken. One pursuaunt shall meete another, ye one poste shall come by another, to bryng the kynge of Ba-bilon tydinges, that hys citie is take on euerye syde, the foordes occupyed,

the

the fennes bzente by, and the ſouldiers ſoze afrayde. For thus ſayth the Lozde of hooſtes the God of Iſracll: the daughter of Babilon hath beene in her tyme, lyke as a thzeſhing flooze, but ſhortly ſhall her harueſt come. Nabuchodonoſoz the kyng of Babylon hath deuoured and deſtroyed mee, he hath made me an empty veſſell. He ſwalowed me by lyke a dzagon, and fylled hys bely wyth my delycates: he hath caſte me oute, hee hath taken my ſubſtaunce awzy, and the thinge that was left me hath he caryed vnto Babylon, ſayth the daughter that dwelleth in Sion: yea, and my bloude alſo vnto the Chaldees, ſayth Jeruſalem. Therfoze thus ſayeth the Lozde: Beholde, I wyll defende thy cauſe, and auenge thee: I wyll dzyncke by her ſea, and dzye by her water ſpzynges.

Eſa. 22 c E * Babilon ſhall become an heape of ſtones, a dwellyng place foz dzagons, a fearefulnes and wondzynge, becauſe no manne dwelleth there. They ſhall roare together lyke lyons, and as the yonge lyons when they be angrye, ſo ſhall they bende them ſelues. In their heate I ſhall geue them a dinner, and Jere. 2 b they ſhalbe dzonken foz ioye. * Then ſhall they ſlepe an euerlaſtinge ſleepe and neuer wake, ſayeth the Lozde. I ſhall carye theym downe to be ſlayne lyke ſheepe, lyke wethers and goates, O howe was Sezach won? O howe was the glozye of the whole land taken? howe happeneth it, that Babylon is ſo wondzed at amonge the heathen? The ſea is ryſen ouer Babilon and hath couered her wyth hys great waues. Her Cities are layed waſte, the lande lyeth vnbuilded and voyde: it is a lande where no man dwelleth, and wher no mã traueileth thzough.

Jer. 1. a. Da. 14. d Moreouer, * I wil viſet Bel at Babilon: and the thing that he hath ſwalowed vppe, that ſame ſhal I plucke out of his mouth. The Gentyles alſo ſhal runne nomoze vnto him, yea, and the walles of Babilon ſhall fall. O my people, * com out of Babilon, that

Eſa. 52 b euery man may ſaue his life, from the fearefull wzath of the Lozde. Bee not faynt hearted, and feare not at euerye rumour that ſhalbe heard in the land: foz euery yeare bzyngeth newe tydinges, and in the yeare folowyng newe tydynges, and robbyng in the lande, and Lozde vppon Lozde. And loe the tyme commeth, that I wyll viſet the ymages of Babilon, and the whole lande ſhalbe confounded: yea and her ſlayne ſhall lye in the myddeſt of her. Heauen and yearthe wyth all that is therein, ſhall reioyce ouer Babilon, when the deſtroiers ſhal come vppon her from the Nozth, ſayth the Lozde.

F * Like as Babilon hath beate̅ downe and ſlayne manye oute of Iſraell, ſo Jer. 50 a ſhall there fall many, and be ſlayne in all her kyngdome. Ye that haue eſcaped the ſweard, haſt thou, & ſtand not ſtil, remembze the Lozd a farre of, and thinke vpon Jeruſalem, foz we were aſhamed to heare the blaſphemyes: our faces were couered wyth ſhame, becauſe the ſtrange aleantes came into the Sanctuary of the Lozd. Wherfoze beholde (ſayth the Lozd) the time commeth that I wyll viſet the ymages of Babilon, and thzoughe the whole land they ſhal mourne and fal.

Jer. 49 b * Thoughe Babilon clymed vp into heauen, and kepte her power an hye: yet ſhall I ſende her deſtroyers ſaith the Lozd. A piteous crie ſhalbe heard from Babilon, and a great miſery frō the lande of the Chaldees, when the LORD deſtroieth theim, and when he dzyueth oute the hye ſtomacke and pzoude boaſtynge, wherewyth they haue beene as furious as the waues of greate water flouddes, and made greate crakes wyth their woozdes. For the deſtroyers ſhall come vppon her (euen vppon Babylon) whyche ſhall take theyr wozthyes, and breake theyr bowes: foz GOD is dyſpoſed to auenge hym ſelfe vppon them, and ſuffycientelye, to recompence theym. Yea (ſayeth the LORDE,) I wil make theyr pzinces, their wiſe men, their chiefe rulers, and all their wozthies, dzoncken: ſoo that they ſhall ſleepe an euerlaſtynge ſleepe, and neuer wake. Thus ſayeth the Kynge, whose name is the Lorde of hostes. Moreouer, thus sayeth the Lorde of hoostes. The thycke wall of Babylon shalbe broken, and her hye gates shalbe brent vp. And the thynge that the Gentyles, and the people haue wrought wyth greate trauayle and laboure, shall comme to naughte, and bee consumed in the fyre. Thys is the charge that Jeremye gaue vnto Saraiah the soonne of Neriah, the sonne of Maasiah, when he went towarde Babilon wyth Zedekiah the kynge of Juda, in the fourth yeare of his reigne. Now thys Saraiah was a peaceable prince: Jeremye wrote in a boke all the misery that should come vpon Babilon, yea, and al these Sermons that be written agaynst Babilon, and gaue Saraiah thys charge. When thou commest vnto Babylon, see that thou reade all these woordes, and say: O Lorde thou arte determined to roote out thys place, so that nether people nor cattel shal dwell there anye more, but to lye waste for euer and when thou hast redde oute the booke, bynde a stone to it, and caste it in the middst of Euphrates, and say: Euen thus shall Babilon sincke, and be thrust downe wyth the burthen of trouble, that I wil bring vpon her: so ỳ she shal neuer come vp again. Thus farre are the preachynges of Jeremy.

whoſe

¶ The .lii. Chapter.

Zedekiah was. one and twẽtie yeare olde, when he was made king, and he reygned eleuen yeare in Jerusalem. 3 Re. 24. 2 Par. 36

His mothers name was Hamutall. Jeremies daughter of Libna. He lyued wyckedlye before the Lorde, euen as Jehoakim dyd. For the lorde was angrye at Jerusalem and Juda, so longe tyll he had cast them out of hys presence. And Zedekiah fell from the kyng of Babilon. But in the nynth yeare of hys reygne, In the tenth moneth, in the tenth day of the moneth it happened, that Nabuchodonosor the kinge of Babilon wyth all hys hoste came before Jerusalem, and besieged it, and made them bulwarkes rounde Jer. 39 a 4 Re. 25.

aboute it. And thys besleginge of the Citie endured vnto the eleuenth yere of kyng Zedekiah. And in the fourth B monthe the ninth daye of the moneth, there was so great hunger in the Cytie: that there were no more vytayles for the people of the lande. So all the souldiers brake away, and fled out of the citie by night through the way of the porte betwene the two walles by the kynges garden. Nowe the Chaldees had compassed the citye round about, yet went these men theyr waye towarde the wildernes. And so the Chaldees followed vppon theym, and toke Zedekiah the kyng in the fyelde of Jericho, when his hooste was run from him: So they caryed the kynge awaye prisoner to Reblath, vnto the kynge of Babilon in the lande of Hemath, where he gaue iudgemente vpon him. The kynge of Babilon also Jer. 39 b caused Zedekiahs sonnes to be slayne C before hys face, ye and put al the princes of Juda to death at Reblath. Moreouer, he put out the eies of Zedekia, & caused him to be bound with two cheynes, to bee caryed vnto Babilon: and let him lye in prison, tyll he dyed. Now the tenth day of the fifth moneth in the nynth yeare of Nabuchodonosor ỳ king of Babilon, Nabu saradan the chiefe captayne and the kynge of Babilons seruauntes came vnto Jerusalem, and brente vppe the house of the Lord. He brẽt vp also the kynges palace, all the houses and all the gorgeous buildinges in Jerusalem. And the whole hoste of the Chaldees that wer wyth the chefe captain brake downe all the walles of Jerusalem rounde about. As for the poore people and such folke as yet was left in the citie: which also were fallen to the kynge of Babilon: yea, and whot D people as yet remayned: Nabuzaradan the chiefe captayne caried theym away prisoners. But the poore people of the countrey did Nabuzaradan the chiefe captayne leaue in the lande, to occupye the vyneyardes & fieldes. The Chaldees also brake ỳ brasē pillers ỳ were in the house of the Lorde

yea,

yea, the seat and the brasen lauer that was in the house of the Lord: and caryed all the mettal of them vnto Babilon. They toke away also the Caal drons, shouels, fleshehokes, sprynklers, spones, and all the brasen vessell that was occupyed in the seruice: with the basens, colepans, sprinklers pots, candlesticks, spones, and cups: wherof some were of golde, and some E of syluer. The chefe captayne toke also the two pillers, the lauer, the .xii. brasen bullockes that stode vnder the 3.Re.7 b seate, which king Salomon made in the house of the Lorde: and all the vessell conteyned so much metall, that it might not be weyed. For euery pyller was eightene cubites hye: and the rope that went about it, was twelue cubites, and foure fyngers thicke and rounde. Nowe vpon the rope were brasen knoppes, and euery knop was fyue cubytes hye: and vpon the knoppes were whopes, and pomgranates
F rounde about of cleane brasse. After thys maner were bothe the pyllers fashyoned with the pomgranates, wherof there were an hundred and .xxvi. which hanged vpon the whopes round about. The chefe captayne also toke Sariah the hye priest, and Sophoniah that was chefe next him, and the three kepers of the treasurye. He toke out of the citye a chamberlayne which was a captayne of the souldiers, and seuen men that were the kinges seruauntes, which were founde in the citye: and Sepher a captayne, that vsed to muster the men of warre, with threescore men of the countrey that wer take in the citie. These Nabuzaradan the chiefe captayn toke, and caryed them to the kyng of Babilon vnto Reblath: and the king of Babilon caused them to be put to death at Reblath in the land of Hemath. And thus Juda was ledde away captiue, out of his owne lande. This is the summe of the people, whom Nabu-
G chodonosor led away captyue. In the seuenth yere of his reygne, he caryed away of the Jewes, three thousande and three and twentye. In the .xviii. yere Nabuchodonosor caryed awaye from Jerusalem eyght hundred thirtye and two personnes. In the .xxiii. yere of Nabuchodonosor Nabuzaradan the chiefe captayne, toke awaye seuen hundred fortye and fiue Jewes presoners. The whole summe of all the presoners, is foure thousande and syxe hundreth. In the .xxxvii. yere after that Jehoakim the kyng of Juda was caryed away in the .xxv. daye of the .xii. moneth, Euilmerodach kyng of Babylon (the same yeare that he reygned) gaue Jehoakim the king of Juda his pardon, and let him oute of presone, & spake louyngly to him. And set his trone aboue the trones of the other kynges that were with him in Babylon. He chaunged also the clothes of his presone, yea, and he did eate with him al his life long. And he had a continuall lyuyng geuen him of the kynge of Babylon, euery daye a certayne thyng alowed him all the days of hys lyfe, vntyll he dyed.

¶ The end of the boke of the Prophet Jeremy.

¶ The lamentacions of Jeremy.

¶ The firste Chapter.

ALas, howe sytteth the citie
I so desolate, that sometyme was full of people: How is she become lyke a wydowe, which was the lady of all nations? 2 Re.4.d Howe is she brought vnder trybute, that ruled all landes. She weepeth 4.re.15 v sore in the nyghte, so that the teares runne downe her chekes: for amonge all her louers, there is none that geueth her any comforte: ye her nexte Job. 6.b frendes transgresse agaynste her, and are become her enemyes. Juda is taken presoner, because she was defiled: and for seruynge so manye straunge gods, she dwelleth nowe amonge the heathen. She fyndeth no reste, all they they that persecuted her, toke her in streyt places where she coulde not es-B cape. The stretes of Syon mourne, because no man commeth nomore to the solempne feastes. All her gates are desolate, her priestes make lamentation, her maidens are carefull, and she her selfe is in great heauynes. Her e-nemyes haue ben rulers ouer her, and her enemyes haue prospered: because the Lorde, hath chastened her for her great wickednes: * her chyldren are Jer, 52.c led away captiue before their enemie.

C All the bewtye of the daughter of Sion is away, her princes are becom lyke hartes, that fynde no pasture.
They are dryuen awaye before theyr enemy, so that they haue nomore power. Now doth Jerusalem remember the tyme of her myserye and disobedience, yea, the ioye and pleasure that she hath had in tymes past, seyng her people is brought downe thorow the power of theyr enemy, & there is no man for to helpe her: her enemyes stande lokynge at her, and laugh her Sabboth dayes to scorne. Jerusalem hath sinned euer, more and more, ther fore is she come in decay. All they that had her in honour despise her: for they haue sene herfylthines. Yea, she sigh-eth, and is ashamed of her selfe. Her skirtes ar defiled, she remembred not what wold folow: therfore is her fall so wonderfull, and there is no man to D comforte her. O Lorde consider my trouble, for myne enemye hath the vpper hand. The enemy hath put his hand to all the precious thinges that she had, yea, euen before her eyes came the Heathen in and out of the Sanc-Deu. 23.c tuary: * whō thou (neuertheles) hast 4. Re. 6.c forbydden to come within thy con-Tren. 2.c gregation. * All her people seke their bread with heauynes, and loke what precious thyng euery man hath, that geueth he for meate, to saue hys lyfe.
Consider, O Lord, and see howe vile I am become. Haue ye no regard O all ye that go fore by, behold and see, if there be any sorowe lyke vnto myne, wherwith the Lorde hath troubled me, in the daye of his fearfull wrath.
From aboue hath he sente downe a fire into my bones, and it burneth thē cruelly: he hath layed a net for my fete and thrown me wyde open: he hath made me desolate, so that I must euer be mourning. The yoke of my trans- E gression is come at the last, with hys hand hath he taken it vp, and put it about my necke. My strength is gone, the lord hath delyuered me into those handes, wherout I cannot quyte my self. The Lord hath destroyed all the mighty men, that wer in me. He hath proclaymed a feast, to slaughter al my beste men. The Lorde hath troden downe the doughter of Juda, lyke as it were in a wyne presse. * Therfore Jere. 4.c do I wepe, and myne eyes gushe out Tren. 2.c of water: for the comfort that should F quicken me, is farre fro me. My chyldren are dryuen away, for whyle the enemye hath gotten the ouer hande.
Sion casteth out her hands, and ther is no man to comforte her. The Lorde hath layed the enemyes round about Jacob, and Jerusalem is become ab-hominacion in the myddest of them.
* The Lord is ryghteous, for I haue Dani. 9a prouoked his countenaunce vnto anger. O take hede al ye my people, and consider my heauynesse. My may-dens and my yong men are led away into captiuitye. I called for my lo-uers (but they begyled mee) for my priestes and counceilers, but they pe-ryshed: euen whyle they soughte for G meate, to saue their lyues. * Consi- Tren. 1.c dre (O Lorde) howe I am troubled, my wombe is disquieted, my hearte turneth about in me, and I am full of heauynes, because I rebelled stub-burnlye. The swearde hurteth me without, and within I am lyke vnto death. They heare my mourning, but there is none that wyll comforte me.
All myne enemyes haue heard of my trouble and are glad thereof, because thou haste doone it, and thou haste brought forth the tyme which thou calledst, when they also shall be lyke vnto me. From thee shal com al their aduersitye, thou shalt plucke them away euē as thou hast plucked me, because

cause of al my wickednes. For my sorow is very great, & my hert is heuy.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

A Las, how hath the Lorde darkened the daughter of Sion so sore in his wrath? Is for the honour of Israell, he hath cast it down from heauen vnto the earth. Howe happeneth it, that he remembred not his owne fote stole when he was angrye? The Lord hath caste downe all the habitations of Jacob without any fauoure, all the stronge places of the daughter of Juda hath he broken in his wrath, & throwen them downe to the ground: her kingdom & her princes hath he suspended. In the wrath of his indignacion he hath broken all the horne of Israell: he hath withdrawē his right hand from the enemy: yea, a flame of fire is kyndled in Jacob, and hath consumed vp all round about. He hath bent his bowe lyke an ennemye, he hath fastened his righte hande, as an aduersarye: and euery thing that was pleasant to se, he hath smitten it downe. He hath poured out his wrath lyke a fire into the tabernacle of the daughter of Sion. The Lord is become lyke as it were an enemy, he hath deuoured Israell and all hys palaces: yea, all his strong holdes hath he destroyed, and fylled the daughters of Juda with muche sorowe and heauynes. Her tabernacle (whiche was lyke a garden of pleasure) hath he destroyed: her hye solemn feasts hath he put down. The lord hath brought it so to passe, that the solempne feastes and Sabbothes in Sion, are cleane forgotten. In hys heauy displeasure hath he made the kyng and prieste to be despised. The Lord hath forsaken his owne aulter, and hath abhorred his owne Sanctuary, & hath geuē the walles of theyr tounes into the hands of the enemy. ¶ Their enemyes made a noyse in the house of the Lorde, as it had bene in a solemne feast day. The Lord thought to breake downe the walles of the daughter of Sion, he spred oute hys lyne, and drew not in his hand, till he had destroyed them: Therfore mourn the turrettes and the broken walles together. Her gates are sonke downe to the grounde, her barres are broken and smytten in sunder. Her kynges and princes are caryed away to the Gentyles. They haue neyther lawe nor Prophetes, nor yet anye vysyon frome the Lorde. The senatoures of the daughter Syon syt vppon the grounde in sylence: they haue strawed asshes vppon theyr heades, and gyrded them selues with sacke clothe. The maydens of Jerusalem hange downe theyr heades to the grounde. Myne eyes begynne to fayle me throwe weppynge, my body is dysquieted, my lyuer is poured vppon the earthe, for the greate hurte of my people, seynge the chyldrenne and babes dydde swowne in the streetes of the Cytye. Euen when they spake to their mothers: where is meate and drynke? for whyle they soo sayde, they fell downe in the streetes of the Cytye, lyke as they hadde bene wounded, and some dyed in their mothers bosome. What shall I saye of thee, O thou daughter Jerusalem, to whome shall I lyken thee? To whome shall I compare thee, O thou daughter of Syon, to comforte thee withall? Thy hurte is lyke a mayne sea, who maye heale thee? Thy prophetes haue looked oute vayne and foolyshe tynges for thee, they haue not shewed thee of thy wyckednesse, to keepe thee from captiuitye: but haue ouerladen thee, and throwe thee fallshed scatered thee abrode. All they that gooe by thee, clappe their handes at thee: hyssynge and waggynge theyr heades vppon the daughter of Jerusalem, and saye: Is this the Cytye that men call so fayre: where in the whole lande reioyseth? All thyne enemyes gape vpon thee: whisperinge and bytinge their teeth, saying: let vs deuour, for the time that we loked for is come: we haue found and sene it. The Lorde hath fulfylled the thing, that he was purposed to do: and

Pa.29a
Psa.98a
Lam.4d
Lam.2a
Jer.52b
Lam.1a
Jere.5.b
14.b.23c 27.b.and 29.b.
Jere.7.b
E
E

and perfourmed that that he had deuyſed longe ago: he hath deſtroyed, and not ſpared. He hath cauſed thyne aduerſary to triumph ouer the, and ſet vp the horne of thyne enemye. * Let thyne herte crye vnto the Lorde, O thou cirye of the daughter Sion: let thy teares runne downe lyke a ryuer daye and nyghte, reſte not, and let not the aple of thyne eye leaue of. Stande vp and make thy prayer in the firſte watch of the nighte, poure out thyne hert lyke water before the Lord, lyfte vp thyne handes, for the lyues of thy yonge chyldren, that dye of hunger in the ſtretes. Behold, O Lord, and conſider, why haſte thou gathered me vp ſo cleane? Shal the wemen then eate their owne fruite, euen chyldren of a ſpanne longe? Shall the prieſtes and prophetes be ſlaine thus in the Sanctuarye of the Lorde? Yonge and olde lye behynde the ſtreetes vppon the ground, my maydens and yonge men are ſlayne with the ſwearde: whome thou in the daye of thy wrathfull indignation haſt put to death: yea, euen thou haſte put them to death, and not ſpared them. My neyghbours that are round about me, haſt thou called, as it were to a feaſt day: ſo that in the daye of the Lordes wrath none eſcayed, neyther was anye lefte behynde. Thoſe that I haue brought and noryſhed, hath myne enemy deſtroyed.

Deu.4.e and.39.a Jer.29.c

¶ The.iii. Chapter.

I Am the man, that (throwe the rod of his wrath) haue experyence of miſerye. He droue me forthe and led me, yea, into darkenes but not into lyght. Againſt me only he turneth his hand, and layeth it euer vppon me. My fleſhe and my ſkynne hath he made olde, and my bones hath he bruſed. He hath buylded round about me, and cloſed me in with gal and trauaile. He hath ſet me in darkenes, as they that be deade for euer. He hath ſo hedged me in, that I cannot get out, and hath layed heauy fynkes vpon me. Though I cry and call piteouſlye, yet heareth he not my prayer. He hath ſtopped vp my ways with foure ſquared ſtones, and made my pathes croked. He layeth wayte for me lyke a Beare, and as a Lyon in a hole. He hath marred my wayes, and broken me in peces, he hath layed me waſte al together. He hath bente his bowe, and made me as it were a marcke to ſhoote at: The arowes of his quiuer hath he ſhot euen into my reins. * I am laughed to ſcorne of all my people, they make ſonges vppon me all the daye longe. He hath fylled me with bytterneſſe, and geuen mee wormewood to drynk. He hath ſmitten my teeth in peces with ſtones, and rolled me in the duſt. He hath put my ſoule out of reſt, I forget all good thinges. I thought in my ſelfe: I am vndone, there is no hope for me in the Lorde. O remember yet my myſerye and my trouble, the wormewood and the gall. Yea, thou ſhalte remember them, for my ſoule melteth awaye in me. While I conſyder theſe things in my hert, I get a hope agayne. Namelye, it is of the Lordes mercyes that we are not vtterlye conſumed. For truely hys pytefull compaſſion hath not ceaſſed. Newe mercyes ſhall the Lorde ſhewe vpon thee early, yea, in the dayes ſprynge. (O Lorde) great is thy faythfulneſſe. * The Lorde is my portion ſayth my ſoule, therfore wyll I hope in hym. O howe good is the Lorde vnto them, that put their truſt in hym, and to the ſoule that ſeketh after him? The good man with ſtylnes & pacience taryeth, for the health of the Lorde. O howe good is it for a man, to take the yoke vppon him from his youth vp. He ſytteth alone, hee holdeth hym ſtyll, and dwelleth quietlye by hym ſelf. He layeth hys face vpon the earth, yf (percaſe) there happen to be anye hope. He offereth his cheeke to the ſmyter, he wyll be content with'reproues. For the Lord wil not forſake for euer, * but though he punyſhe hym: yet accordyng to the multitude of hys mercyes, he receaueth to grace againe: For he doth not plage, and caſt out the childre of men

Ioh. Pſa. Ecc. Cuen

Jer.28.b Pſa.17.b 1 Re.2.b

from from his heart. To treade all the prisoners of the earth vnder his fete. To mone the iudgement of man before the moste hyghest. To condemne a man in E his cause. The Lord hath not pleasure in suche thynges. What is he then that saith: There should be som thing done without the Lordes cōmaundement?

Out of the mouth of the most highest goeth not euill and good? Wherefore then murmureth the lyuyng man? let Iob.37d hym murmure at his owne syn. *Let Psa.14a vs looke well vpon our owne wayes and remembre our selues, and turne a-gayn to the Lord. Let vs lyft vp oure heartes with our handes vnto the lord y is in heuen. We haue ben disseblers, and haue offended, wilte thou not be therfore intreated? Thou hast cou-ered vs in thy wrath, & persecuted vs, thou haste slayne vs without any fa-Ecc.35b uour. *Thou hast hidde thy selfe in a cloude, that our prayer should not go thorowe. Thou haste made vs outca-stes, and to be despised amōg the people. All oure ennemies gape vpon vs.
Feare and pytte is come vpon vs, yea, Gen.19 deceit and destruction. *Whole riuers of water gushe out of myne eyes, for the greate hurte of my people. Myne F eyes runne, and can not cesse, for there is no rest. O Lorde, when wylt thou looke downe from heauen, and consy-der? Myne eyes breaketh my hert: be cause of all the daughters of my citye.
Myne enemies hunted me out sharply, lyke a byrde, yea, and that without a cause. They haue put downe my life into a pyt, and they haue caste stones vpon me. They poured water vppon my head, then thought I: now am I vndoone. I called vpon thy name, O Lord, out of the depe pyt. Thou haste herd my voice, & hast not turned away thyne eares fro my sighing & crying.
Thou hast enclyned thy self vnto me, when I called vppon thee, and haste G sayd: feare not. Thou (O Lord) hast mainteyned the cause of my soule, and hast redemed my lyfe. O Lorde, thou haste sene my blasphemers, take thou my cause vpon thee. Thou haste well consydered, how they go about to doo me harme, and that all their councels are agaynst me. Thou hast herd their despitefull wordes (O Lord) yea and all their imaginations against me.
The lyps of myne enemies, and their deuises that they take agaynst me, all the day longe. Thou seest also their sytting downe, and their rysyng vp:
they make their songes of nothynge but of me. Reward them (O Lord) accordyng to the workes of their han des. Geue them an obstinate heart: euen thy curse. Persecute them (O Lorde) with thyne indignation, and roote them out from vnder the heuen.

The. iiii. Chapter.

H O we is the golde become so dimme? Howe is the goodly colour of it so sore changed?
and the stones of the sanctuarie thus scattred in the corner of euery strete?
The children of Syon that were al-way in honour, and clothed with the most precious gold: how ar they now lyke the earthen vesselles, whiche bee made wyth the potters hande? The dragons geue their ponge ones sucke with bare brestes: but the daughter of my people is cruell, and dwelleth in the wildernes, like the Estriches.
The tongues of the suckyng children cleaue to the roofe of their mouthes for very thyrste. The yong childerne aske breade, but there is no man that geueth it them. They that wer wont to fare delicately, perishe in the stre-tes: they that afore were brought vp in purple, make much nowe of dong.
The synne of the daughter of my peo ple, is become greater then the wic- Gen.19a kednes of Sodom, that sodenly was destroyed, and not taken with hands.
Her absteiners (or Nazarees) were whiter then the snowe or milk: their colour was freshe, red as Corall, their beautie like the Sophire. But now their faces be very blacke. In somuche, that thou shouldest not know the in the stretes. *Their skyn cleaueth to Psa.102a their bones. It is withered & become like a dry stock. They y be slain with the sweard, are happier then suche as dye of hunger, and perysshe away, fa-myshyng for the fruites of the fielde.

Deu. 28.e 4.reg.6.f * The women (whiche of nature are pitifull) haue sodden their owne children with their handes, that they might be their meat in the miserable destruc-Tren.2.a tion of the daughter of my people.
* The Lord hath perfourmed his hey wrath: he hath poured out the furiousnes of his displeasure. He hathe kyndled a fyre in Syon, which hathe consumed the fundations therof. Neyther the kinges of the earth, nor al the inhabiters of the world, would haue beleued, that the ennemie & aduersary C should haue com in at the gates of the citie of Jerusalem. Whiche neuer the lesse is come to passe for the syn of her Gen. 9.a prophetes, & for the wickednes of her priestes: that haue shede * innocentes blood within her. So that the blynd men went stombling in the streetes, and stayned them selues with bloode. They would in no wyse touche theyr garmentes. But they cried vnto euery man: Flee the staynyng, away, get you hens, touche it not. Yea, they fled and remoued frō them: yea, they haue sayd among the Heathen, they shal no more dwel in this citie. The countenaunce of the Lorde hathe banyshed them, and shall neuer loke more vpon them. For they theym selues neyther regarded the Priests, nor pitied their elders. Wherfore yet our eies faile vs, D whyle we loke for vayne helpe: seyng we be euer waiting vpō a people that can doo vs no good. The iay so sharp wayte for vs, that we can not go safe vpon the stretes: for our end is come our days are fulfilled, our end is here.
Jere.4.a. Lam.4.a * Our persecuters are swifter then the Egles of the ayre, they folowed vpon vs ouer the mountaynes, and layed wayte for vs in the wildernes. The Gen.2.b very * breathe of our mouth, euen the annoynted Lord hym selfe was taken in their net, of whom we say: Vnder his shadow we shall be preserued among the Hethen. And thou (O daughter Edom) that dwellest in the lād of Huz, be gladde, and reioyce: for the cuppe shal come vnto thee also, which when thou suppest of, thou shalte bee dronke n. Thy synnes be well punyshed (O thou daughter Syon) he shall not suffre thee to be caried away any more. But thy wickednes (O daughter Edom) shall he bylite, and for thy synnes sake, he shall leade thee into captiuitie.

¶ The .v. Chapter.

¶ The prayer of Jeremy.

CAll to remembrance (O lord) A what we haue suffered, consy-der, & see our confusyon. Our enheritance is tourned to the straunger, and our houses to the aleauntes. We are become careful and fatheries, and our mothers ar as the widowes. We are fayne to drinke our own water for money, and oure owne woodde muste we bye with money. Our nec-kes are vnder persecution, we ar we-rye, and haue no rest. Afore tyme we B yelded oure selues to the Egyptians, nowe to the Assyrians, onely that we myght haue bread ynough. * Our fa- Jer.31.f thers (whiche nowe are gone) haue Ezr.18.a synned, and we must beare theyr wicednes. Seruantes haue the rule of vs, and no man delyuereth vs oute of their handes. We must get our liuing with the peryll of our lyues, because of the drouth of the wildernes. Our skyn is as it had ben brent in an ouen, for very sore hunger. The wyues are rauished in Syon, and the maydens in the Cities of Iuda. The prynces are hanged vp with the hande of the enemies: they haue not spared the old sage men, they haue taken yong mens lyues from them, and the boyes are hanged vp vpon trees. The elders syt no more vnder the gates, and the yong men vse no more playing of musike. The ioy of our hert is gone, our C mery quyer is turned to mournynge. The garlād of our head is falle: Alas that euer we sinned so sore. Therfore our heart is full of heuines, and oure eies dimme, because of the hill of Sy-on, that is destroyed. In soo muche that the foxes ranne vpon it. But thou, O LORD, that remaineste foreuermore, and thy seate worth wythout ende; wherefore wylt thou styll
for-

Jer.31.c forget vs, and forsake vs so long? ✠ O Lorde turne thou vs vnto thee, and so shall we be turned. Renew our days, as in old tymes: for thou haste banyshed vs now long inough, and haste bene sore displeased at vs.

¶ The ende of the Lamentations of Jeremie.

¶ The Boke of the prophete Ezechiell.

¶ The first Chapter.

A

T chaced in the .xxx. yeare, the fyfth daye of the fourth moneth that I was amonge the prysoners by the riuer of Cobar, wher the heauens opened, and I sawe a vision of God. Nowe the fyfth day of the moneth made out ỹ fyfth yere of king Jehoachims captiuitie. At the same tyme came the worde of the Lord vnto Ezechiel the son of Buzi the Priest, in the land of the Chaldees by the water of Cobar, Ezc.10.a B ✠ where the hand of the Lord came vpon hym. And I looked, and behold, a stormy wynde came out of the north with a great cloude full of fyre, whiche with hys glystre lyghtened all rounde about. And in the middest of the fyre, it was all cleere like the face of an angell, and as it were the lykenesse of ỹ foure beasts, and this was their lykenes. They were fashioned lyke a man: sauynge, that euery one had foure faces, and foure wynges. Their legges were streight, but their feete were lyke bullockes feete, and they glystered, as it hadde bene fayre scoured mettall. Under theyr wynges vppon all the foure corners, they hadde mennes handes. Theyr faces and their wynges were towarde the foure corners: yet were the wynges so, that one ouer touched an other when they went, they turned theym not about: but echeone went streight forward. Furthermore, this was the Eze.10.b similitude of their faces. ✠ Vpon the ryght syde of these foure, their faces were lyke the face of a manne, and the face of a Lion. But vpon the left side they hadde the face of an Oxe, and the face of an Egle. Theyr faces also and theyr wynges were spred out aboue: so that twoo wynges of one touched euer twoo wynges of an other, and with the other they couered their body. Euery one when it went, it went Eze.10.c streight forwarde. Where as the spi- D rite ledde theym, thyther they went, ✠ and tourned not aboute in theyr goynge. The fashyon and countenance of the beastes, was lyke hotte coales of fyre, euen as thoughe burnynge cressettes hadde bene among the beastes: (thys was the bylyon) and the fyre gaue a glystre, and out of the fyre there went lyghtenynge. When the beastes went forward and backward, one wouide haue thoughte it hadde lyghtened. Nowe whenne I hadde well consydered the beastes, I sawe a worke of wheles vppon the earthe with foure faces also nyghe vnto the beastes. The fashyon and woorke of the wheeles was lyke the sea.

The foure wheeles were ioyned and made (to looke vpon) as it had bene one whele in an an other. When one went forward, they wente all foure, and turned theym not about in theyr goynges. They were large great and horryble to looke vppon. Theyr backes were full of eyes rounde aboute theym all fower. When the beastes wente, the wheles wente also with theym. And whenne the beastes lyft themselues vppe from the earth, the wheles were lyfte vp also. Whyther soeuer the spirite went, thither went they also, and the wheles were lyfte E vp, and folowed them: for the spirite of lyfe was in the wheeles. When the beastes wente foorthe, stoode styll, or lyft themselues from the earthe, then the wheles also went, stode styll, and were lyft vppe, for the breath of lyfe was in the wheles. Aboue, ouer the heades of the beastes there was a firmament, whiche was fashioned as it had bene of the moste pure Chrystall, and that was spred oute aboue vpon theyr heades: vnder the same firmament wer their wynges layde abrode one towarde another, and two wynges couered the bodie of euerye beast.

F And when they went forth, I hearde the noyse of theyr wynges lyke the noyse of great waters, as it had bene the voyce of the greate G O D, and a russhynge together, as it were of an hoste of menne. And when they stode still, they lette downe theyr wynges. Nowe when they stode still, and had letten downe theyr wynges, it thondred in the firmamente that was aboue theyr heades. Aboue the firmamente that was ouer theyr heades, there was the fashion of a seate, as it had bene made of Saphir. Upon the

G seate there satte one lyke a manne. Ezec. 8 d I beheilde him, and he was like an aungell, as it had bene all of fyre wythin from his loines vpward. And beneth wher I looked vpon hym vnder the loynes, me thought he was like a shinynge fyre, that geueth lyght on euerye syde. Yea, the shyne and glystre that lyghtened rounde aboute, was lyke a rayne bowe, whych in a rainie daye appereth in the cloudes. Euen so was the similitude, wherin the glory of the Lorde appeared. When I sawe it, I fell vpon my face, and herkened vnto the voyce of him that spake.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

B AND then sayde he vnto mee, Ezec. 3 d Stande vp vpon thy fete (O thou son of man) and I will talke wyth thee. And as hee was commonyng with me, the spirit came into me and set me vp vpon my feete: so that I marked the thinge that hee sayde vnto me. And he sayd: Behold,

B thou soonne of man: I wyll send thee to the chyldren of Israel, to those rebinagates, and obstinate people: for thei haue taken parte agaynst me, and are runne away from me: both they and Exo. 22 B theyr forefathers vnto thys day. Yea, I will sende thee vnto a people that haue rough visages and stiffe stomackes: vnto whome thou shalte saye on thys maner: This the Lord God himselfe hath spoken, that whether they be obedient or no (for it is a froward housholde) they may knowe yet that there hath beene a prophete amonge theym. Therefore (thou son of man) Jere 1.f. C feare them not, neyther bee afrayde of their wordes: for prouokers and thornes are with the. Yea, thou dost dwell amonge scorpions, but feare not their wordes, be not abashed at their lokes for it is a froward housholde. Se that thou speake my wordes vnto theym, whether they be obedient or not, for they are obstinate. Therfore thou son of man, obey thou all thynges that I saye vnto thee, and bee not thou stiffenecked, lyke as they are a stiffnecked D housholde. Open thy mouth, and eate that I geue thee. So as I was looking vp, behold, there was sent vnto me an hande, wherein was closed a Apo. 5. a booke: and the hande openedit before mee, and it was wrytten wythin and wythout ful of carefull mournynges: alas, and wo.

¶ The.iii. Chapter.

A FTer thys, sayd he vnto mee: Thou sonne of man, eat that I whatsoeuer it be: ye, eat that Jer. 15. c booke, and go thy way, and speake vn 4 Esd. 14 to the chyldren of Israell: So I opened my mouthe, and hee gaue mee the booke for to eate, and saide vnto mee: Thou sonne of man, thy bealye shall eat, and thy bowels shalbe filled with the boke, that I geue thee. Then did I eate the booke, and it was in my mouth sweter thē hony. And he said Psa. 19 b vnto me: thou son of manne, get the Apo. 11 c soone vnto the house of Israell, and * Jer. 1. b shewe them the wordes, that I com- B maunded the, for I send thee not to the people that hath a straunge vnknowen, or harde speeche, but vnto the house of Israel. Not to many nations, which haue dyuers speaches & harde languages, whose wordes thou vnderstandest not. • Neuertheles, yf I sent the to those people, they woulde folowe thee. But the house of Israel wyll not folowe thee, for they wyll not folow me: yea, al the house of Israell haue stytte foreheades and harde herts. • Behold therfore, I wil make thy face prenayle agaynst their faces, and harden thy forehead against their foreheades: so that thy forehead shalbe harder then an • Adamante or fiynte stone: that thou maiest feare them the lesse, and be lesse afrayde of them, for they are a froward houshold. He sayd moreouer vnto me: thou sone of man, take diligent heede with thyne eares, to the wordes that I speake vnto the, fasten them in thyne herte: and go to the prisoners of thy people, speake vnto them, & saye on this maner: Thus the Lorde God hath spoken: whether ye heare or heare not. With that the spirite toke me vp. And I hearde the noyse of a greate russhyng and remouinge of the moste blessed glory of the Lorde oute of hys place. I heard also the noyse of the wynges of the beastes, that rushed one agaynst another, yea, and the ratlyng of the wheles, that wer by them, which russhyng and noyse was verye great. • Nowe when the spirite toke me vp, and caryed me away, I went with an heauye and a sorowfull mynde, but the hand of the Lorde confortes me ryght soone. And so in the beginning of the moneth Abib, I came to ỹ prisoners, • that dwelte by the water of Cobar, and remayned in that place, where they were: And so continued I among them seuen dayes, beyng verye sory. And when the seuen days were expired, the Lord sayd vnto me: Thou sonne of manne, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israell: therfore take good hede to the wordes of my mouth, and geue thē warninge at my commaundemente. If I saye vnto thee, concernynge the vngodlye man, that (without doubte) he muste dye, and thou geuest hym not warnyng, nor speakest vnto hym, that he may turne from his euell way, and so to lyue: Then shall the same vngodly man dye in his owne vnrighteousnes: but his blood will I require of thine hand. Neuertheles, yf thou geue warning vnto the wicked, and he yet forsake not his vngodlynesse: then shall he dye in his owne wickednesse, but thou hast discharged thy soule. Now yf a ryghteous manne goo from • hys ryghteousnes, and do the thynge that is euell: I wyll laye a stomblynge blocke before him, and he shall dye because thou haste not geuen him warnyng: yea, dye shall he in hys owne sinne, so that the vertue, which he did before shall not be thought vpon: but hys bloode wyll I require of thyne hande. Neuertheles, yf thou exhortest the righteous, that he synne not, and so the ryghteous doo not synne: then shall he lyue, because he hath receaued thy warninge, and thou haste discharged thy soule. And there came the hande of the Lorde vpon me, and he sayd vnto me: Stand vp, and go in to the fielde, that I maye there talke with thee. So when I had risen vp, and gone forth into the field: Behold, the glory of the Lord stode ther, • like as I sawe it afore, by the water of Cobar. • Then fel I down vpon my face, & the spirite came into me, which set me vp vpon my fete, and sayd thus vnto me: Go thy way, and shutte thy selfe in thyn house. Behold (O thou sonne of man) there shall chaynes be brought for the, to bynd the withal, so that thou shalt not escape out of them. And I will make thy tong cleue so to the rofe of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dōme, and not be as a chyder with them: for it is an obstinate houshold. But when I speake vnto thee then open thy mouth, and saye: Thus sayth the Lord god: who so heareth, let him heare: who so wyll not, let him leaue, for it is an obstinate houshold.

whyche

Jane. 3 a Mic. 3. b
Esa. 50 b
C Ezec. 8. a
D
Psa. 137 a
E Ezec. 18 a
F
Ezec. 1. a Ezec. 2. a
G

¶ The. iiii. Chapter.

THou sonne of man: take a lytle stone, and laye it before thee, and describe vpon it the citye of Jerusalem, howe it is besieged, howe bulwarkes and stronge dyches are grauen on euery side of it: describe also tentes, and an hoste of men round about it, with engynes of war. Moze ouer, take an yron pan, and sette it betwyxt thee and the Citie, in stede of an yron wall. Then sette thy face towarde it, besiege it, and laye ordinaunce agaynst it, to win it. Thys shalbe a token vnto the house of Israel. But thou shalt slepe vpon thy left syde, and laye the sinne of the house of Israel vpon thee. Certaine daies ap-B pointed, thou shalte slepe vppon that Dani.9a syde, and beare their sinnes. ✱ Neuertheless, I wil apoynt thee a time (to putte of their sinnes) and the number of the daies. Three hundred & ninety daies must thou beare the wickednes of the house of Israel whē thou hast fulfilled these dayes, lye downe again and slepe vppon thy ryght side forthe Nu.14c dayes, and bear the sinnes of the house of Juda. ✱ A day for a yeare, a day (I saye) for a yeare, wil I euer laye vpon thee. Therefore set nowe thy face agaynst that besieged Jerusalem, and dyscouer thyne arme, that thou maiest prophecie agaynst it. Behold, I wyll laye chaines vpon thee, that thou shalt not turne thee from one syde to another, tyl thou hast ended the dayes of thys besieging. Wherefore, take vnto

H

C thee wheate, barlye beanes, grosweli seede, Milium and fitches: and putte these together in a vessell, and make thee loaues of bread therof, according to the number of the dayes that thou muste lye vppon thy syde, that thou mayest haue bread to eate, for. iii. hundred and ninety daies. And the meate that thou eatest, shall haue a certayne weight appointed: namelye twentie sicles euerye daye. This appointed meate shalte thou eate daylye from the beginnynge to the ende. Thou shalte drynke also a certaine measure of water: Namely, the fyrst parte of an Hyn shalt thou drinke daily from the beginnyng vnto the ende. Barly cakes shalt thou eate, yet shalte thou fyrste toste them at a fyre made wyth mans donge, that they may see it. And with that sayde the Lord. Euen thus shall the children of Israel eate their defiled bread in the myddest of the Gentyles, amonge whome I will scatter them. Then sayde I: Oh Lord God, Behold my soule was yet neuer stayned: for fro my youth vppe vnto thys houre, I dyd neuer eate of a dead carcase, or of that whiche was slayne of wilde beastes, nether came there euer any vnclene flesh in my mouth. Wher vnto he answered me, and sayde: Wel than, I wyl graunte thee to take cowes donge for the donge of a manne, and to tooste the breade withal before them. And he sayde vnto me: Behold
D thou son of man, ✱ I wyl minyshe all Ezec.5.d the prouision of bread in Jerusalem, so that they shal mete their bread: and eate it wyth scarsitye. But as for water, they shal haue a verye little measure therof to drinke. And when they haue noo more breade nor water, one shalbe destroyed wyth another, and famishe away, for their wickednes.

¶ The. b. Chapter.

O Thou sonne of man, take thee
A then a sharpe knyfe, namelye, a rasoure. Take that, & shaue the heare of thy head and beard: Then take the skales and the weyghte, and deuyde the heare a sunder. And after thou haste accomplished the dayes of the syege: burne the third part therof in the fire in the middest of the Citye, and cut the other third part in pyeces wyth a knyfe. ✱ As for the third part Jer.7.d that remaineth, caste it in the wynde, and I wyl drawe out the sweard after them. Yet afterward, take a lyttle of the same, and bind it in thy cote lap Then take a curtesie of it, & cast it in the middest of the fyre: and burne it in the fyre. Oute of the same fire shall B there go a flame, vpon the whol house of Israel. Moreouer, thus sayeth the Lorde God: This same is Jerusalē, I set her in the middest of the heathē and nations that are rounde aboute her, but shee hath despised my iudgementes more then the Gentyles themselues, selues, and broken my commaundementes more then the nations, that lye rounde about her: For they haue caste oute myne ordinaunces, and not walked in my lawes. Therefore thus

Leu. 18 d saieth the Lord God. * For so muche as ye haue beene more augmented in number of people then the heathen, that dwel rounde aboute you, and yee haue not walked in my lawes, neyther haue yee kepte myne ordinances, and ye haue not lyued so righteouslye as the heathen that are rounde aboute you: Therefore thus saieth the Lorde
C God, I wyl also come vppon thee, I my self I say, for in the myddst of the will I sit in iudgement, in the sighte of the heathen, and will handle the of such a fashion as I neuer did before, and as I neuer wil doo frō that time foorthe, and that because of all thyne abhompynations. For the fathers
Deu. 28. c * shalbe fayne to eate their owne sonnes, and the soonnes their owne fa-4 Re. 16 f thers. Such a courte wil I keepe in thee, and the whole remnaunt of thee wyll I scattre into all the windes. Wherfore, as truely as I lyue (saieth the Lord God) seyng thou hast defyled my sanctuarye, wyth al manner of abhominations, and wyth all thy shamfulle offences: For thys cause will I also destroye thee. Myne eye Ier. 25 a shall not oversee thee, neyther wyll I spare thee. * One third part with-in thee, shall dye of the Pestilence, and of hunger. Another thirde parte shal be slayne downe round about the with the sweard: The other thirde parte that remayneth, will I scatter
D abroade towarde all the windes, and drawe oute the sweard after theim. Thus I wil perfourme my indignation, and set my wrath agaynst them, and ease my selfe. So that when I haue fulfilled mine anger agaynste them, they shal knowe that I am the Lorde whyche wyth a feruent gelousye haue spoken it. Moreouer I will make thee waste and abhorred, before al the heathen that dwel aboute thee, and in the sight of all them that go by thee: so that when I punishe thee in my wrath, in mine anger, and wyth the plague of my whole displeasure: thou shalt bee a derye abhomination, shame, a gasyng and wondring stock, among the Hethen, that lie about the. Euen I the Lord haue spoken it, and it shal come to passe, when I shote among them the perlous dartes of hūger, which shalbe but death. Yea, ther Eze. 14.
fore shall I shote them, because I wil destroye you: * I will encrease hunger, and minishe all the prouision of bread among you. Plages and misery wil I send you, yea and wild beastes also to destroy you. Pestilēce & bloodsheadyng shal come vpon you, and the sweard wil I bring vpon you. Euen I the Lorde, haue said it.

C The. vi. Chapter. A

AND the woord of the Lorde came vnto me, sayinge: Thou sonne of man, tourne thy face to the * mountaynes of Israell, that Eze. 36.
thou mayst prophecie vnto them, and saye: Heare the woord of the Lord god O ye mountaynes of Israell: Thus hath the Lord god spoken to the mountayns, hylles, baleys, and dales. Behold, I, I my selfe I say, wyl bring a sweard ouer you, and destroye your Aultares, and breake downe youre hye places: I wyll caste down youre images. Your slayne men wyl I laye before your gods, and the dead carkases of the children of Israel wyll I caste before theyr Idoles, youre bones wylle I destroye rounde aboute B youre aultars, and dwellyng places. The Cityes shall be desolate, the hyll chapelles layde waste: your aultars destroyed and broken: youre Goddes caste downe and taken awaye, youre temples layde euen with the ground, youre owne woorkes cleane rooted oute. Youre slayne menne shall lye amonge you, that ye maye learne to knowe, howe that I am the Lorde. Those that bee among you, and haue escaped the sweard, wylle I leaue amonge the Gentyles, for I wylle scatter you amonge the Nations. And they that escape of you, shall thynke vppon me among the Hethen, where they shalbe in captiuitie. As for that whoredyshe and vnfaythefull heart of theirs, wherewyth they ran awaye fro mee, I wyll breake it: yea, and put out those eyes of theirs: that commytte fornication wyth theyr ydols. Then shal they be ashamed and displeased wyth their selues, for the wyckednesses and abhominations, whych they haue done: and shall lerne to knowe, that I am the Lorde, howe that it is not in vaine, that I the Lord spake, to bringe such mysery vppon them. The Lord sayd moreouer vnto mee: Smyte thyne handes together, and stampe with thy fete, & saye: Wo woorthe all the abhominations and wyckednesses of the house of Israell, for because of them, they shall perysh with the swearde, wyth hunger and wyth pestilence. Whoe so is farre of: shall dye of the pestilence: hee that is nye at hande, shall perysh wyth the sweard: and the other that remayne, and that are besieged, shal die of hunger. Thus wyl I satysfye my wroth full displeasure vppon theim. And so shall yee learne to knowe, that I am the Lord, when your slaine men lye amonge your ydols, and about your alters: vppon all hie hilles and toppes of mountaines among al grene trees, among al thycke okes: euen in the places, where they did sacrifice vnto all theyr ydols. I will stretch mine hand oute vppon theym, and wyl make the lande waste. So that it shal lye desolate and voyde, from the wylderneſſe of Deblothah forth, through al their habitations: to learne theym for to knowe that I am the Lorde.

¶ The.vii. Chapter.

THe woorde of the Lorde came vnto me on this maner. Thee I cal, O thou sonne of manne. Thus sayth the Lorde God vnto the lande of Israel: The end commeth vpon the lande of Israel: ye verely the ende commeth vpon all the foure corners of the lande. But nowe shall the ende come vpon thee, for I will send my wrath vpon thee, and wyl punish thee accordynge to thy wayes, and reward thee after all thyn abhominatiõs. Myne eye shal not oversee thee, Ezec.7.b nether will I spare, but reward the, accordyng to thy ways, and declare thyne abhominations. Then shal yee knowe that I am the Lorde. Thus sayeth the Lorde God: Beholde, one misery and plage shal come after mother: the ende is here. The ende I say is come, it watcheth for thee, beholde, it is come alreadye, the destruction is earlye come agaynst thee, that dwelleth in the lande. The time is at hand, the day of sedition is hard by, and the crye shall not bee as the soundynge agayne of the mountaynes. Therefore B I wyll shortly poure out my sore displeasure ouer the, and fulfyl my wrath vpon thee, I will iudge the after thy ways, & recõpence thee all thy abhominations. Myne eye shal not ouer- Ezec.7.b see thee, neyther will I spare thee: but C reward thee after thy wayes, and thyne abhominations shall bee punyshed in the myddes of thee, to learne you for to knowe, how that I am the Lorde that smyteth. Behold, the daye is here, the daye is come, the houre is runne out, the redde forbyddeth, pryde wareth greene, malicious violence is growen vp, and the vngodlye waren to a staffe. None of them shal remaine ouer, none of their ryches, not one of theyr seede, and no lamentation shalbe made for them. The time commeth 1 Cor.7.b the daye draweth nye: Whoso byeth let him not reioyce: he that selleth, let Jer.15.b him not be sorye: for why? Trouble 1 Esd.6.a shal come in the myddest of theym all: D so that the seller shal not come againe to the thyng he solde, although their lyfe be yet wyth the liuing. For whē the prophecie was preached vnto all the people, none returned from their sin, and no man tooke strength to hym agaynste his wyckednes, to saue hys owne lyfe. The trompettes shall yee blowe, and make you all readye, but no man shal go to the battel, for I am wroth wyth al the whole multitude. The sweard shalbe wythoute, pestylence & hunger within: so that whoso

is

is in the felde, shalbe slayne with the sweard, and he that is in the city shal perysshe wyth hunger and pestilence.
And suche as escape and flee from among theym, shalbe vpon the hylles, like as the doues in the fielde: euerye one shalbe afrayd because of his owne wickednes. All handes shalbe lette downe, and al knees shalbe weake as the water: they shall gyrde theym sel-ues wyth sackcloth, feare shal fal vp-F pon them. Their faces shalbe confou Esa.15.d ded. And their heades balde: their silu-er shall they cast forth in the stretes, Sop.1.d and their golde shalbe despysed. Yea Eccl.5.b their siluer and golde may not deliuer them, in the day of the feareful wrath of the Lord. They shal not satisfy their hungry soules, neither fyl their empt-Ose.8.a. tie belies therwyth: For it is become their owne decay through their wickednes: And their bewtiful costly ornament that God had ordeyned to bee their greate glory, in it they haue set vp abhominations vnto their vdols.
For thys cause wyll I make theym and it to bee abhorred. Moreouer, I wyll geue it into the handes of the straungers to bee spoyled: and to the wicked, for to be robbed, and they shal destroye it. My face wyl I turne frō them, my treasurye shalbe defyled: for the theues shall go into it, and suspēd it. Make a chein, for the land is whol G defyled wyth vnrygh teous iudge-ment of innocent bloud, and the citye is full of violent oppression. Wherefore, I wil bryng the most cruel ti-rantes from amonge the Heathen, to take their houses in possession. I wil make the pompe of the proud to cease, and their sanctuarye shalbe defyled.
When thys trouble commeth, they shall seeke peace, but they shall haue none. One mischefe and sorowe shall follow one another, and one rumour shal Jer.38.c come after another. Then shall they seeke visions in vayne at their Prophetes. The lawe shall be gone from the priestes, and wysedome from the elders. The kynge shall mourne, the Princes shalbe clothed with heuines and the handes of the people in the lande shal tremble for feare. I wil do vnto them after their owne wayes, according to their owne iudgements will I iudge them: to learne them for to knowe, that I am the Lord.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

I

IT happened, that in the sixt yeare the fifth day of the syxt moneth, I sat in my house, and the Lordes of the councel of Juda wyth me: and the hande of the Lorde God fell euē there vpon me. And as I looked vppe, I Ezec.1.c sawe as it were a likenes of fire from his loines downeward, and from his loynes vpward, it shined meruelous cleare and like an angel to loke vpon.
Ezec.3.b
B This similitude stretched oute an hande, and toke me by the hearye loc-kes of my head, and the spirite lift me vp betwyxte heauen and earthe: and brought me in a vision to Jerusalem into the entrye of the inner porte that lyeth towarde the North: there stode an ymage, wyth whome he that hath all thinges in his power, was verye wroth. And beholde, the glorye of the God of Israel was in the same place:
euen as I hadde seene it afore in the Ezec.1.a fielde. And he sayde vnto me: Thou sonne of man, O lyfte vp thine eyes, and loke towarde the North. Then lyfte I vppe mine eies towarde the C North, and beholde: beside the porte northward, there was an aulter made vnto the ymage of prouocation in the verye entryng in. And hee sayde furthermore vnto me: Thou son of man seest thou what these do? Seest thou the great abhominatiōs that the house of Israel committeth in this place? to dryue me from my sanctuary? But turne thee about, and thou shalt se yet greater abhominations. And wyth that brought he me to the court gate: D and when I loked, behold, there was an hole in the wal. Then sayd he vnto mee: Thou sonne of manne, dygge through the wall. And when I dygg-ed through the wall, beholde, there was a dore. And he sayd vnto me: Go thy way in, & loke what wicked abhominatiōs they do here. So I went in,and sawe: and behold,there wer al maner ymages of wormes & beastes, all Idoles and abhominacions of the house of Israell paynted euerye one round about the wall. Ther stode also before the ymages. lxx. Lordes of the counsell of the house of Israell: and in the middst of them stode Jaazniah the sonne of Saphan. And euery one of thē had a censoure in his hand, and oute of the cense, there wente a smoke,as it had bene a cloude. Then sayd he vnto me: Thou sonne of man, hast thou sene what the Senatoures of the house of Israel do secretly,euery one in his chamber? * For thei say: Tushe, the Lorde seeth vs not,the Lord regardeth not the world. And he sayd vnto me: Turne thee yet agayn, and thou shalt se yet greater abhominacions that they do. And with that he brought me to the dore of the porte of the Lords house,toward the north. And behold, there sat women mournyng for Tamus. Then sayd he vnto me:haste thou sene this,thou sonne of man? Turne the about,and thou shalt see yet greater abhominations then these are. And so he brought me into the inward court of the Lords house: and beholde at the porte of the Lordes house,betwyxt the fore entrye and the aulter,there were fyue and twentye men, that turned their backes vppon the temple of the Lord,and their faces towarde the east,and these worshipped the sunne. And he sayde vnto me: hast thou sene this, thou son of man? Thynketh the house of Juda, that it is but a tryfle, to do these abhominacions here? Should they fill the land full of wickednes, and vndertake to prouoke me vnto anger? Yea,and purposely to cast vp their noses vpon me. Therfore will I also do some thyng in my wrathfull displeasure, so that myne eye shall not ouersee them,neyther wyl I spare thē. * Yea,& though they crye in myne eares with a loude voyce,yet will I not heare them.

Ezo.18d

E

Job.22b Esa.22c

F

G

Prou.1c Jer.11b Mich.3a

¶ The.ix.Chapter.

He cried also with a loud voyce in myne eares saying: Come, heare ye rulers of the cytye, euery man with his weapened hand to the slaughter. Then came ther syxe men out of the strete of the vpper porte towarde the North, and euery man a weapen in his hand to the slaughter. There was one amongest them, that had on hym a lynnen raymente, and a writers pynckhorn by his side. These A B wente in,and stode beside the brasen aulter: for the glory of the Lorde was gone away from the * Cherub which Exo.40c was vpon him, and was come down to the threshoide of the house, and he called the man that had the lynen raymen vpon him,and the writers pynkhorne by hys syde, and the Lord sayde vnto him: Go thy waye thorowe the citie of Jerusalem, and sette a marke vppon the foreheades of theym, that mourne & are sory for all the abhominacions,that be done therin. And to the other,he sayd that I might heare: * Go ye after hym thorowe the citye, Judi.2.a slay,ouersee none,spare none,kill and C destroy both men and yong maydens childrē,and wyues. But as for those, that haue the marke vppon them: see that ye touch them not, * and begyn at Jer.25d my Sanctuary. Then they began at 1Per.4c the elders,which were in the temple, for he had sayde vnto them. When ye haue defiled the temple,and fylled the court with the slayne, then go youre waye forth. So they wente out,and slewe downe thorow the citie. Now whē they had done the slaughter,& I yet escaped: I fel down vpō my face, and cried,saying: O Lord God,wylt D thou then destroy al the residue of Israel,in thy fore displeasure,that thou hast poured vpon Jerusalem? Then sayd he vnto me: The wickednesse of the house of Israel and Juda is very great:so that the land is full of blood, and the citye full of vnfaythfulnesse: for they saye: * Tushe,the Lorde re- Job.22b gardeth not the earth,he seeth vs not. Esa.29.f Therfore wyll I vpon them, * myne * Ezk.7a eye shall not ouersee theym, neyther will I spare them, but wyll recompense pence their wickednesse vppon theyr heades. And behold, the man that had the linnen rayment vpon him, and the wryters ynkehorne by his side: tolde all the maner howe it happened, and sayde: Lorde as thou haste commaunded me, so haue I done.

¶ The.x. Chapter.

A And as I loked, behold, in the firmamente that was aboute the Cherubines there appeared the similitude of a stole of Saphir vpon them: * Then sayde he that sat therin, to him that had the lynen rayment vppon him: Creepe in betwene the wheeles that are vnder the Cherubines, and take thyne handefull of hoate coles oute from betwene the Cherubines, and caste them ouer the citye. And he crept in, that I myghte see. Now the Cherubines stode vpō the right syde of the house, when the men went in, and the cloude filled the inner courte. * But the glorye of the Lorde remoued from the Cherubines, and came vppon the thresholde of the house: so that the temple was full of cloudes, and the court was full of the shyne of the Lordes glorye. Yea, and the sounde of the Cherubines wynges was heard into the fore court, lyke as it had bene the voyce of the almightye God, when he speaketh. Now when he had bydden the man that was clothed in linnen, to go and take the hote coles from the myddest of the wheles which were vnder the Cherubines: he went and stode besyde the wheles. Then the one Cherub reached forthe his hand from vnder the Cherubins, vnto the fire that was betwene the Cherubins, and toke therof, and gaue it vnto hym that hadde on the lynnen rayement in his hande: whiche tooke B it, and wente oute. And vnder the wynges of the Cherubines, there appeared the lykenes of a mans hand: I sawe also foure wheeles besyde the Cherubins, so that by euery Cherub there stode a whele. And the wheles were (to loke vpon (after the fashion of the precious stone of Charsis: yea (vnto the sight) they were all foure of one fashion, as yf one whele hadde bene in another. When they wente forth, they went all four together, not turning about in their goynge. But where the first went, thyther wente they after also, so that they turned not about in their goynge. Their whole bodies, their backs, their handes, and wynges, yea, and the wheeles also, were all full of eyes round about thē all foure. And I hearde hym call the wheles. * Euery one of them hadde foure faces: so that the one face was the face of a Cherub, the seconde of a man, the third of a lyon, the fourth of an Egle, and they were lyfted vp aboue. This is the beast, that I sawe at the water of Cobar. Nowe when the Cherubines wente, the wheeles went with them, and when the Cherubins shoke their wynges to lyfte them selues vpward, the wheeles remayned not behynde, but were with them also. Shortly, whē they stode, these stode also. And when they were lyft vp, the wheles were lyft vp also with them, for the spyrete of lyfe was in the wheles. * Then the glorye of the Lorde was lyft vp from the thresholde of the temple, and remayned vpon the Cherubins: And the Cherubins flackered with their wynges, and lyfte them selues vppe from the earth: so that I sawe whē they went, and the wheles with them. And they stode at the easte syde of the port that is in the house of the Lorde. So the glorye of the Lorde was vpon them. This is the beast that I sawe vnder the God of Israell, by the water of Cobar. And I perceaued, that it was the Cherubins. Euery one had foure faces, and euerye one foure wynges, and vnder theyr wynges, as it were mens handes. Nowe the fygure of their faces was, euen as I had sene them, by the water of Cobar, and so was the countenaunce of theym. Euery one in hys goyng went streight forwarde.

Ezec.9.a

2 Par.7.a

C

D

Eze.11.b

Ezec.1.b

The

¶ The.xi. Chapter.

A Moreouer, the ſpyrete of the Lorde lyft me vp, & brought me vnto the Eaſt port of the Lordes houſe. And behold ther were xxv. men vnder the dore among whō I ſawe Jaazniah the ſonne of Azur, and Pheltiah the ſonne of Banaiah the rulers of the people. Then ſayde the Lorde vnto me: Thou ſonne of man: theſe men ymagyne myſchefe, & a wycked counſell take they in thys cytye, ſaying: tuſh, there is no deſtruction at hande, let vs buylde houſes: thys Jeruſalem is the cauldron, and we be the fleſhe. Therfore ſhalt thou prophecye vnto them, yea, prophecye ſhalte thou vnto theym, O ſonne of man. And with that fell the ſpyrete of the Lorde vpon me, and ſayde vnto me: Speake, thus ſaith the Lord: On thys maner haue ye ſpoken (O ye houſe of Iſraell) and I knowe the B ymaginations of your hertes. Many one haue ye murthered in this cytye, and filled the ſtretes ful of the ſlayne. Therfore thus ſayth the Lord God: The ſlayne men that ye haue layed on the grounde in thys citye, are the fleſh, and thys citye is the cauldron: Eze.14.a * But I will bring you out of it, * ye
* mat.26 haue feared the ſwearde, and I wyll bringe a ſwearde ouer you ſayth the Lord God. I wyll dryue you out of this citie, and delyuer you into youre enemyes hande, and will condemne you. Ye ſhalbe ſlayne in all the coſtes of Iſraell, I will be auenged of you: to lerne you for to knowe, that I am the Lord. This city ſhall not be your cauldron, neither ſhall ye be the fleſhe therin: but in the coſtes of Iſrael wil I punish you, that ye may knowe, that I am the Lord: in whoſe commaundemētes ye haue not walked, nor kept Leu.18.a his lawes: * but haue done after the De.11.d cuſtomes of the Heathen, that lye rounde aboute you. Nowe when I C preached, Pheltiah the ſonne of Banaiah dyed. Then fell I downe vpon my face, and cryed with a loude voyce, ſaying: O Lord god, wilt thou then vtterly deſtroy all the remnaunt of Iſraell? And ſo the worde of the lord cam vnto me on this maner, thou ſonne of man: thy brethren, thy kynſfolke, and the whole houſe of Juda, which dwell at Jeruſalem, ſay: with drawe ye farre from the Lord, for the lande is geuen vs in poſſeſſion. Ther fore tell them, thus ſayeth the Lorde God: I will ſend you farre of among the Gentyles, and ſcater you amonge the nacions, and I wyll halowe you but a lytle, in the landes wher ye ſhal come. Tell them alſo, thus ſayeth the Lord God: I will gather you agayne oute of the nacions, and bringe you frome the countreys where ye be ſcatred, and will geue you the land of Iſraell againe. And they ſhall come hyther. And they ſhall take awaye all D their Idoles and al theyr abhominacions from thence. * And I will geue Jer.31.c you one hert, and I will plant a new Eze.36 ſpyret within your bowels. That ſtony hart wyl I take out of your body, and geue you a fleſhely herte, that ye may walke in my cōmaundementes, and kepe myne ordinaunces, and doo them: that ye may be my people, and I your God. But loke whoſe hertes are diſpoſed to folowe their abhominacions and wicked liuings: thoſe mens dedes will I bring vpon their owne heades, ſayth the Lorde God. After this dyd the Cherubines lyfte vp their wynges, & the wheles went with them, and the glory of the Lord Eze.10.b was vpon them: * So the glorye of the Lordes went vp from the myddeſt of the cytie and ſtode vpon the mount Eze.3.b of the citye toward the Eaſt. * But the wynd toke me vp, and in a viſion (whiche came by the ſpyrete of God) it brought mee agayne into Caldea among the priſoners. Then the viſion that I had ſene vanyſhed awaye fro me. So I ſpake vnto the priſoners, al the wordes of the Lord, which he had ſhewed me.

¶ The.xii. Chapter.

THe woorde of the Lorde came A vnto me, ſayinge: Thou ſonne of manne, thou dwelleſte in the mid the myddest of a froward housholde: * whiche haue eyes to see, and yet see not: eares haue they to heare, and yet heare they not, for they are an obstinate housholde. Therefore (O thou sonne of man) make thy geare redy to flyt, and go forth by fayre daye lyght, that they maye see. Yea, euen in their sight shalt thou go from thy place to an other place: if peraduenture they will consider, that they bee a disobedient housholde: Thy geare that thou hast made ready to flyt with all, shalt thou beare out by fayre day lyght that they maye see: and thou thy selfe shalt go forth also at euen in their syght, as a man doeth when he flytteth. Digge thorow the wall, that they may see, & beare thorowe it the same thyng, that thou tokest vp in their sight. In their sight shalt thou beare vpon thy shoulders, and carye it forthe in the darke. Hyde thy face that thou see not the earth, for I haue made the a shew token vnto the house of Israell. Nowe as the Lorde commaunded me, so I dyd: the geare that I had made ready brought I out by daye. At euen I brake downe an hole thorowe the wall, with my hand: and whē it was darke, I toke the gere vpon my shoulders, and bare them out in their sight.

And in the morning, came the word of the Lorde vnto me, sayinge: Thou sonne of man, the Israell that froward housholde aske thee, and saye: what doest thou there? Then tell them: Thus sayth the Lorde God: Thys punyshement toucheth the chefe rulers at Ierusalem, and all the house of Israell, that dwell amonge them. Tell them: I am your shewe token: lyke as I haue done, so shall it happen vnto you: Flee shall ye also, and go into captiuitye. * The chefest that is amonge you, shall lade hys shoulders in the darke, and get him away. He shall breake downe the wall, to carye stuffe therthorowe: He shal couer his face, that he se not the ground with his eyes. * My lyne will I spred out vpon him, and catch him in my net, and carye him to Babylon, in the land of the Caldes: which he shal not see, and yet shall he dye there. As for all his helpers, and all his hostes, that be about him: I wyll scater them to ward all the windes, and draw out a sweard after them. * So when I haue scatered them amonge the Heathen and strawed them in the lands, they shall know, that I am the Lord. But I wyll leaue a lytle number of them from the sweard, hunger, and pestilence: to tell all their abhominacions among the Heathen, wher they come: that they may know, howe that I am the Lord. Moreouer, the word of the Lorde came vnto me, sayinge: Thou sonne of man with a fearefull trembling shalt thou eate thy breade, with carefulnesse and sorowe shalte thou drynke thy water. And vnto the people of the land, speake thou on this maner: Thus sayth the Lord God, to them that dwell in Ierusalem, and in the land of Israell: Ye shall eate your bread with sorowe, and drynke youre water with heauines: Yea, the lande with the fulnes thereof shalbe layde waste, for the wickednes of them that dwell therein. And the cityes that nowe be well occupied, shalbe voyde, and the lande desolate: that ye maye knowe, howe that I am the Lorde. Yet came the worde of the Lord vnto me agayne, saying: Thou sonne of man, what maner of byworde is that, which ye vse in the lande of Israell, saying: Tushe, * seyng that the dayes are so slacke in commyng, all the visions are of none effect: Tell them therfore, thus sayeth the Lorde God: I will make that byworde to ceasse, so that it shall no more be commenlye vsed in Israell. But saye thys vnto them: the daies are at hand, that euery thynge whych hath bene prophesied, shalbe fulfylled. There shall no vision be in vayne, neyther any prophesie fayle among the chyldren of Israell: For it is I the Lorde, that speake it: and whatsoeuer I the LORDE speake, it shalbe performed. And not be slacke in commynge. Yea, euen in your daies (O ye froward housholde)

wyll

Esay. 6 b
mat. 13. b
mar. 4. a Luke 8. b
Acts. 28 b Ro. 11. b

r. 31. f
ec. 36

e. 10 b

ec. 3. b

Jer. 21 b
D

Eze. 11 a

Eze. 15 b and. 22. b

E

F

2 Pet. 3 d

G

wyll I deuyse somme thynge, and bryngе it to passe, sayeth the Lorde God. And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying: Behold, thou sonne of man: The house of Israel sayth on this maner: Tushe, as for the vision that he hath sene, it wyll be manye a day or it come to passe: It is farre of yet, the thynge that he prophecyeth. Therefore saye vnto theym: Thus sayth the Lorde God: All my wordes shall no more be slacke: Loke what I speake, that same shall come to passe, sayth the Lorde.

¶ The. xiii. Chapter.

A THe word of the Lorde came vnto me sayinge: Thou sonne of man: Speake, prophesy against those prophetes, that preache in Israell: and say thou vnto them that prophesye out of their owen herte: Heare the worde of the Lord, thus sayth the Lord God: * Wo be vnto those folysh prophetes, that folowe theyr owne spyrete, and speake where they see nothyng. O Israell, thy prophetes are lyke the foxes vppon the drye fyelde: For they stand not in the gappes, nether make they an hedge for the house of Israell, that men might abyde the battell in the day of the Lord. Vaine thynges they see, and tell lyes, to- Jer. 22. c mayntayne their preachings withall. The Lorde (saye they) hath spoken it, when in verye dede the Lorde hath not sente them. Vayne vysyons haue ye sene, and spoken false prophesyes, when ye saye: the Lorde hath spoken it, where as I neuer sayde it. Therefore, thus sayeth the Lorde God: B Because youre wordes be vayne, and ye seke out lyes: Beholde, I wyll vpon you, sayeth the Lorde. Myne handes shal come vpon the prophetes that looke oute vayne thynges, and preach lyes: they shall not be in the counsell of my people, nor wrytten in the boke of the house of Israell, neyther shall they come in the lande of Israel: that ye may knowe, how that I am the Lorde God. And that for because they haue disceaued my people, * and told them of peace, where no peace was. One setteth vp a wal, and Jere. 8. b they daube it with loose claye. Therfore tell them whiche daube it with vntempered morter, that it shall fall. * For there shal come a great shower Math. 7. of rayne, greate hayle stones shall fall vpon it, and a sore storme of wynde shall breake it, so shall the wall come downe. Shal it not then be sayd vnto you: where is nowe the morter, that ye daubed it withall? Therfore thus saith the Lord God: I wil breake out in my wrathfull displeasure, with a stormy wynde, so that in myne anger there shall come a myghty shower of rayne, and hayle stones in my wrath to destroy withall. As for the wall that ye haue daubed with vntempred C morter, I will breake it down, make it euen with the ground: so that the foundacion therof shall remoue, and it shall fall: yea, and ye youre selues shall perysshe in the myddes therof: to learne you for to know, that I am the Lorde. Thus wyll I performe my wrath vpon this wal, and vpon them that haue daubed it with vntempered morter, and then wyll I say vnto you: The wall is gone, and the daubers are away. These are the prophetes of Israell, which prophesye vnto the cityе of Jerusalem, and loke oute visions of peace for them, wher as no peace is, sayth the Lord God. Wherfore (O thou sonne of man) set thy face agaynst the daughters of thy people, which prophecy out of their owen hertes: and speake thou, prophecye agaynst theym, and saye: Thus sayeth the Lorde God: Wo be vnto you, that D sowe pyllowes vnder al arme holes, and bolsters vnder the heades bothe of yonge and olde, to catche soules withall. For when ye haue gotten Ezay. 5. the soules of my people in youre captiuytye, ye prompte theym lyke, and dishonoure mee to my people, for an handefull of barley, and for a pece of bread: when ye kyl the soules of them that dye not, and promes lyfe to them, that lyue not: Thus ye dissemble with my people that beleueth youre lyes. Wherfore thus sayth the Lorde God: Beholde, I wyll also vppon the pyllowes wherwith ye catch the soules in flyinge: them will I take from your armes, and let the soules go, that yee catch in flyinge. Youre bolsters also will I teare in pieces, and deliuer my people oute of youre handes, so that they shall come nomore in youre handes to be spoyled, and ye shal knowe, that I am the Lord. Seing that with your lies ye discomfort the hert of the ryghteous, whom I haue not discomforted. Againe: For so muche • as yee Dte.4.b corage the hande of the wicked, so that he may not tourne from hys wycked waye and lyue: therfore shall ye sppe out no more vanitye, nor prophecye your owne gessynges: for I will deliuer my people oute of youre hande, that ye maye knowe, howe that I am the Lord.

my

¶ The.xiiii. Chapter.

A Ezc.20.a THere resorted • vnto mee certayne of the elders of Israell, and satte downe by mee. Then came the worde of the Lord vnto me, sayinge: Thou sonne of manne, these menne beare theyr vncleannesse in theyr heartes, and goe purposely vppon the stumblynge blocke of theyr owne wyckednes: should I then answere, at theyr requeste? Therefore speake vnto them, and say, thus saith the Lorde God: Euerye manne of the house of Israel that beareth hys vncleane Idols in his heart, purposyng to stumble in hys owne wyckednes, and commeth to a prophet, to enquyre anye thinge at mee by him: vnto that man wyll I the Lorde my selfe geue aunswer, accordinge to the multitude of the ydols: that the house of Israell maie be snared in their owne heartes, because they be cleane gone fro me, for their abhominations sakes. Wherfore B Ezc.20.c tell the house of Israel: thus saith the Lorde God: • Be conuerted, forsake your Idols, and tourne your wyues from your spithines, and turne your faces from all youre abhominations. For euerye manne (whether he be of the house of Israel or a stranger, that sogeorneth in Israell) whiche departeth fro me, and carteth Idols in hys heart, purposing to go styl stombling in hys owne wyckednes, and commeth to a prophet, for to aske councell at me through hym: vnto that manne wyll I the Lorde geue aunswere, by myne owne selfe. I wyll set my face agaynst that man, and will make hym C to be an exaumple for other, yea, and a common byworde: and wyll roote him out of my people, that he may knowe howe that I am the Lorde, • and yf 3Re 22d that Prophete be dysceaued, when he Job.23 c telleth hym a worde: then I the Lord my selfe haue dysceaued that prophet, and will stretch forth myne hande vpon him, and rote him out of my people of Israell: and they bothe shalbe punished for their wickednes. Accordinge to the sinne of him that asketh, shall the sinne of the Prophet be: that the house of Israel be led no more fro me throughe erroure, and be nomore D defyled in theyr wyckednes: but that they maye be my people, and I theyr God, sayeth the Lorde God. And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, sayynge: Thou sonne of man, when the land synneth against mee, and goeth forth in wyckednes: I will stretche out myne hande vpon it, • and destroy Ezec.3 b all the prouision of their breade, and sende dearth vppon theim, to destroye manne and beaste in the lande. • And though Noe, Daniel, and Job, these Jer.15 a three men were among them, yet shal they in theyr ryghteousnesse deliuer but their owne soules, sayth the Lord God. If I bryng noysome beastes into the land, to waste it vp, and it be so desolate, that no mā may go therin for beastes: if these three men also were in the land, as truely as I liue (saith the Lord God) they shal saue neither sonnes nor daughters, but be only deliuered them selues: and as for the land, it shalbe waste. Or yf I bryng a sword E into the land, and charge it to go thorough the land: so that I slaie downe manne & beaste in it, & if these three men F were were therein: As truely as I lyue (sayth the Lord God) they shall deliuer neither sonnes nor daughters, but only be saued them selues. If I send a pestilence into the lande, and powre out my sore indignation vppon it in bloode, so that I roote out of it bothe man and beast: And if Noe, Daniel, and Job were therin: as truely as I lyue (saith the Lord God) they shall delyuer neither sonnes nor daughters but saue their owne soules in theyr rightuousnes. Moreouer, thus saieth the Lord God: Muche more when I Jer. 27.b sende my * foure troublous plagues vpon Jerusalem: the sweard, hunger perylious beastes, and pestilence, to destroye man and beast out of it. Beholde, there shall be a remnant saued therin, which shall bryng forth their sonnes and daughters. Behold, they shall come forth vnto you, and ye shall see their waye, and what they take in hande, and ye shalbe comforted, as touchynge all the plagues that I haue brought vpon Jerusalem. They shall comfort you, when ye see theyr waye and workes: and ye shall know howe that it is not without a cause that I haue done so against Jerusalem, as I dyd, sayth the Lord God.

¶ The .xv. Chapter.

A THe word of the Lord came vnto me, sayinge: Thou sonne of manne: What commeth of the vyne among al other trees: and of the wylde vyne stocke amonge all other tymbre of the grone? Do menne take wodde of it to make any worke with all? Or may there a nayle be made of it, to hang any thyng vpon: Beholde, it is caste in the fyre to bee brente, the fyre consumeth bothe the endes of it, the myddest is brente to ashes. Is it mete then for any worke? No. Seyng B then, that it was mete for no worke, beyng whole, muche lesse maye there any thing be made of it, when the fire hath consumed and brent it. And therfore thus sayth the Lord God: Lyke as I cast the vyne into the fyre for to be brent, as other trees of the wodde: Euen so will I doo with theim that dwelle in Jerusalem, and set my face agaynst them: they shal go out from the fyre, & yet the fyre shall consume them. Eze. 12 & * Then shall ye know: that I am the end. 22.b Lord, when I sette my face agaynste them, and make the land wast: because they haue so sore offended, sayth the Lorde God.

¶ The .xvj. Chapter.

A AGayne, the word of the Lord spake vnto me, saying: Thou sonne of man, shewe the Citie of Jerusalem, theyr abhominations, and say: Thus sayth the Lorde God vnto Jerusalem: Thy progenie and kinred cam out of the land of Canaã, * thy father was an Ammorite, thy mother a Cethite, thus was the maner of thy byrthe. In the daye of thy byrth whē thou wast born, the stryng of thy nauell was not cutte of: thou wast not bathed in water to make the cleane. Thou waste neyther rubbed with salte, nor swadeled in cloutes. No man regarded thee so muche, as to doo any of these thyngs for thee, or to C shewe thee such fauour: but thou wast vtterly cast out vpon the field, yea, despised wast thou in the day of thy birth. Then came I by thee, and sawe thee troden downe in thyne owne bloode, and sayd vnto thee: Lyue, although thou be defiled in thyne owne blood: yea euen I (I telle thee) sayde vnto thee: lyue, although thou be defyled in Esai. 5.a thyne owne bloode. * So I planted Jer. 11.b thee, as the blossome of the field: thou art growen vp, and waxen great: thou haste gotten a meruailous pleasannt beautie, thy breastes are come vppe, B thy heare is goodly growen, where as thou waste naked and bare afore. Nowe when I went by thee, and loked vpon thee: Beholde, tyme was come, yea, euē the tyme to wowe thee. Then spred I my cloathes ouer thee, to couer thy dishonestie: yea, I made Jer. 3.b an othe vnto thee, * and maryed my Oseæ. 2 selfe with thee (sayth the Lord God) and so thou becammest myne owne: Then washed I thee with water, & purged purged thy bloode from thee. I annointed thee with oyle: I gaue thee chaunge of raymentes: I made thee shoes of Taxus leather: I gyrded thee about with white silke: I clothed thee with kercheses, I decked thee with costly apparell, I put rynges vpon thy fingers: a chayne about thy necke, spanges vpon thy forehead, earerynges vpon thyn eares, and set a beautyfull crowne vpon thyne heade. Thus was thou decked with siluer and gold, and thy raiment was of fine whyte silke, of nedle worke, and of diuers colors. Thou dydst eat nothing but symneis, hony, and oyle: meruailous goodly was thou and beautiful: yea, euen a very Queene waste thou. In somuch, that thy beautie was spoken of amonge the Heathen: for thou wast excellent in my beautie, whiche I put vpon thee, saith the Lord God. But thou hast put confidence in thyn owne beautie, and played the harlot, when thou hadst gotten thee a name. Thou haste commytted whoredome with all that went by thee, and haste fulfylled their desyres: yea thou hast taken thy garmentes of dyuers colours, and deckt thyne aultars therwith, wherupon thou myghtest fulfyll thyne whoredom, * and of such a fashyon, as neuer was done, nor shall be. * The goodlye ornamentes and Jewels, whiche I gaue thee of myne owne gold and siluer, hast thou taken and made thee mens images therof, & committed whoredome withal. Thy garmentes of dyuers coloures haste thou taken, and deckt them therwith: myne oyle and incense haste thou sette before them. My meat which I gaue thee, as symneis, oyle, and hony: (to fede thee withall) that haste thou set before them, for a swete sauour. And this came also to passe, saith the Lord God. * Thou hast taken thyn owne sonnes and daughters, whome thou haddest begotten vnto me: and these haste thou offred vp vnto them, to be their meat. Is this but a smal whoredome of thyne (thynkest thou) that thou slayest my chyldren, and gyuest them ouer, to be brent vnto them? And yet in all thy abhominations & whoredome, thou haste not remembred the dayes of thy youthe, howe naked and bare thou wast at that time, & troden downe in thyne owne bloode. After all these thy wyckednesses (wo woe vnto thee, saith the Lord) (thou hast buylded thy stewes and dordell houses in euery place.) Thou hast buylt hye places, yea, at the head of euery strete hast thou buylded thee an aulter. * Thou hast made thy beautie to be abhorred, thou hast layd oute thy legges to euery one that came by, and multiplied thyne whoredom. * Thou hast committed fornication with the Egyptians thy neyghbours, whiche hadde muche flesh: and thus hast thou encreased thyne whoredome, to anger me. Behold, I dyd stretche out myne hande ouer thee, and dydde * mynyshe thy store of foode, and deliuered thee ouer into the wylles of the Philistines thyn enemies, whiche are ashamed of thy abhominable way. * Thou hast played the whoore also with the Assyrians, because thou waste insatiable: Yea, thou hast (I say) with theym played the harlote, and yet haddest thou not ynough. Thus hast thou furthermore commytted thy fornication from the lande of Canaan vnto the Chaldees, and yet thy luste not satisfied. Howe obstinate is thyne hert (saith the lord God) seyng thou doost all these workes of an errant whoore: buyldinge thy stewes at the head of euery strete, and thy dordell houses in all places & Thou hast not bē as an other whore, that holdeth scorne of a small reward, but a wyfe that breaketh wedlocke, and taketh other in steede of her husbande. Gyftes are geuen to all other whoores, but thou geuest rewardes vnto al thy louers: and offrest thē gyftes, to com vnto thee out of al places, & to cōmyt fornication with thee. It is come to passe in thee in thy whoredom contrary to ye vse of other women yea, there hath no such fornication bē committed after thee, seyng that thou

D Eze.23.b

Eze.4.b 5.d. 14.c

Eze.25.a

Jere.1.3 and. 5.b Esa.46.a Osee.2.b and. 13.a Eze.7.d and.20.d

Le. 18.c and.26.a deu.17.b and. 32.c Jere.7.d Eze.20.d Psa.105

proffereſt giftes vnto other, and no re ward is geuen thee: this is a contrary thyng. Therfore, heare the worde of the Lord, O thou harlot: Thus ſaith the Lord God: For ſomuche as thou haſt ſette foorth thy youth to whoredome, and diſcouered thy ſhame, thor-ow thy whoredome with all thy lo-uers, and with al the Idols of thy ab hominations in the blood of thy chil-4.re.16.a dren, • whom thou haſt geuen theim:
and.17.c Behold therfore, I will gather together all thy louers, vnto whom thou haſt made thy ſelfe common: yea, and all them whom thou fauoureſt, & eue-ry one that thou hateſt: I will (I ſay) gather them together rounde about thee Eſa.47.a and • will diſcouer thy ſhame before Naũ.3.a them, that they may ſee all thy filthi-•Eze.23 nes. • Moreouer, I will iudge thee as a breaker of wedlocke and a mur-therer, & recompence thee with owne blood in wrathe and ielouſy. I will geue thee ouer into their power, that breake downe thy ſtues, and deſtroye thy bordell houſes: they ſhall ſtrippe thee out of thy clothes, all thy fayre & beautyfull Iewels ſhall they take from thee, and ſo let the ſyt naked and Le.20.d bare: • yea they ſhal bring the cõmon people vpon thy, which ſhal ſtone thee and ſlay the downe with their ſwer-4.re.35.b des. • They ſhall burne vp thy houſes, and punyſhe thee in the ſyghte of many women. Thus will I make thy whoredome to ceaſſe, ſo that thou ſhalte geue oute no more rewardes.
Should I make my wrath to be ſtil, take my ielouſy from the, be contente, and no more to be diſpleaſed? ſeynge thou remembreſt not the dayes of thy youth, but haſt prouoked me to wrath in all theſe thynges? Beholde therfore I will bring thyne owne wayes vpon thyn head, ſayth the Lord God:
howbeit I neuer did vnto thee accor-dyng to thy wyckednesſe and all thy abhominations. Beholde, al they that vſe common prouerbes, ſhall vſe this prouerbe alſo agaynſt thee, ſuch a mother, ſuche a daughter. Thou arte euen thy mothers owne daughter, that hathe caſte of her huſbande, and her chyldren: • Yea, thou art the ſyſter of Eze.16.a thy ſyſters, whiche forſake their huſbandes and their chyldren. Your mother is a Cethite, and youre father an Ammorite. Thyne eldeſt ſiſter is Sa maria, ſhee and her daughters that dwell vpon thy lefte hande. But thy youngeſt ſyſter that dwelleth on thy ryghte hande, is Sodoma, and her f daughters. Yet haſte thou not walked after theyr wayes, nor doone after their abhominations, but thou ſto deſt a lytteli and very ſmall tyme, and in all thy wayes thou haſt been more corrupt thenne they. As truely as I lyue, ſayth the Lorde God: Sodoma thy ſyſter with her daughters, hathe not doone ſo eupi as thou & thy daugh ters. Behold, • the ſynnes of thy ſy- Ge.13.c ſter Sodoma were theſe: Pryde, ful- and.18.c neſſe of meate, abundance, and Idel- E.19.b.c neſſe, theſe thynges hadde ſhe and her daughters. Beſides that they reached not theyr hand to the poore and nedy, but were proude, and dyd abhominable thyngs before me: therfore I toke them awaye, as pleaſed me. Neyther hath Samaria done half of thy ſinnes • yea thou haſt exceded theim in wyckednes: In ſo muche that in compa- Jer.12.c riſon of all the abhominations which thou haſte done, thou haſte made thy ſyſters good women. Therfore thou (whiche diddeſt condemne thy ſiſter) beare thyn owne ſhame, for thyn own offences, that thou haſt cõmitted, more abhominable then they did, which in-dede ar more righteous then thou art.
Be thou (I ſay) aſhamed, and beare thy ſhamefull rebuke, ſeyng that thou haſt proued thy ſyſters, in comparíſon of thee, ryghteous. As for theyr cap- G tiuitie, namely the captiuitie of So-doma, and her daughters: the capti-nitie of Samaria and her daughters I will bring them agayn: ſo will I alſo bryng agayn thy captiuitie amõg them: that thou maiſt take thyn owne confuſion vpon thee, and be aſhamed of all that thou haſt done, and to com fort them. Thus thy ſyſters (namely) Sodoma and her daughters: Samaria, and her daughters, with thy selfe, & thy daughters shalbe brought againe to your old estate. When thou wast in thy pride, and before thy wic kednes came to light: thou wouldest not heare speake of thy sister Sodoma: vntyl the time that the Sirians with al their townes, and the Philistines with al that lye round about them, brought thee to shame and confusion: that thou myghtest bear thine owne filthines and abhomination, saythe the LORDE. For thus sayeth the Lord God: I shoulde (by right) deale with thee as thou haste done. Thou hast despised the oth, and broken the couenaunte. Neuerthelesse, I will remember the couenant that I made with the in thy youth, in so muche that it shalbe an euerlasting couenaunt: so that thou also remembre thy wayes, and bee ashamed of them: then shalt thou receaue of me thy elder and younger sisters, whome I wil make thy daughters, and that Jer.31.c besyde thy couenant. And so will I Heb.8.b. renue my couenaunt with thee, that thou mayeste knowe that I am the Lord: that thou mayest thinke vppon it, be ashamed, and excuse thyne owne confusion nomore: when I haue forgeuen thee, all that thou haste doone saith the Lord God.

¶ The.xvii. Chapter.

I THe word of the Lord came vnto me, saying. Thou sonne of Eze.24.c man: put foorth a darke speaking and a parable, vnto the house of Israel and say: Thus saith the Lorde GOD: There came a great Gagle Dan.7.a with great winges, yea, with a migh tye longe bodye, and full of fethers of dyuers coloures, vpon the mounte of Libanus, & toke the hiest branche frō a Cedar tree, and brake of the top of hys twyg, and caried it into the lande of Canaan, and set it in a citie of mar chātes. He toke also of the sede of the land, and planted it in a fruitful groūd he brought it vnto great waters, and set it as a willowe tree therby. Then did it growe, and was a greate vyne stocke, but low by the ground, whose braunches turned into it selfe, and the rootes of it, were fastened vnder it, thus there camme of it a vyne, and it brought forth blossomes, and spreade out braunches. But there was another Eagle, a great one, which hadde B great wynges and many fethers, and beholde, the rootes of thys vyne had an hunger after hym, and spread oute hys braunches towarde him, that hee myght water her with the orchyard that he had planted. Neuertheleſſe it was planted vpon a good ground besyde great waters: so that (by reason) it should haue brought oute branches and fruit, and haue ben a goodly vine.
Speake thou therfore, thus saith the Lorde God: Shal this vine prosper? C shal not hys rootes be pluckte out, his frute be broken of, his grene branches wyther and fade away? yea without either stronge arme or manye people, that it be plucked vp by the rotes. Be holde, it was planted: shal it prospere therfore? Shal it not be dryed vp and withered, yea euen in the shoting out of his blossomes, as sone as the East wind bloweth? Moreouer, the word of the Lorde camme vnto me, saying: D Speake to that frowarde housholde:
knowe ye not, what these thynges do signify? Tel them: Behold, the king of Babilon came to Jerusalē & toke 4Re.24g the king & his princes, and led thē to Babilon. He toke of the kinges sede, and made a couenaunt with him, and toke an othe of him: The princes of ỹ lande toke he with him also, that the land might be holden in subiection, & not to rebel, but kepe the couenāt, and fulfil it. But he fel from him, & sēt his Embassadours into Egipt, that hee might haue horses and much people.
Should that prosper? Should he be kept safe, that doth such thinges. Or should he escape, that breaketh his couenant? As truely as I liue saith the E Lorde God: He shal die at Babylon, in the place where the kynge dwelleth that made hym King: whose oth he hath despysed, and whose couenant he hath broken. Neither shal Pharao with his great host, and multitude of people, mayntayne him in the warre:

when they cast vp diches, and set vp bulwarkes to destroy muche people: For seyng he hath despised the othe, and broken the couenaunt (where as he yet gaue his hande therupon) and done all these thynges, he shall not escape. Therfore thus sayth the Lorde God: As truely as I lyue, I wyll bringe myne othe that he hath despysed, and my couenant that he hath bro-Ezc.12 b ken, vpon his owne heade. • I wyll and.32.a cast my net about hym, and catch hym in my arme. To Babylon will I carry hym, there wil I punyshe him, because of the great offece that he made me. As for those that flee frome hym out of the hoost, they shall be slayne with the sweard. The relidue shalbe scattered toward all the wyndes: and G ye shall knowe, that I the Lord haue spoken it. Thus sayth the Lord god: I wyll also take a braunche from an hye Cedre tree, and wyll set it, & take the vppermost twyg, that yet is but tender, and plant it vpon an hye hyll: Namely, vpon the hye hyll of Syon wyll I plant it: that it maye bringe foorth twygges, and geue fruite, and be a great Cedre tree, so that all maner of foules maye buylde in it, and make theyr nestes vnder the shadowe of his branches. And all the trees of the field shall know, that I the Lord haue brought downe the hye tree, and set the low tree vp: that I haue dried vp the greene tree, and made the dry tree to flourysshe: Euen I the Lorde that spake it, haue also bronghte it to passe.

¶ The .xviii. Chapter.

THe worde of the Lord came vnto me, on thys manner: What meane ye by this common prouerbe, that ye vse in the lande of Jsrael, saying: • The fathers haue eaten sowre grapes, and the childrens teeth are set on edge. As truely as I lyue, sayth the Lord God, ye shall vse thys
B bywoord no more in Jsrael. Beholde, Ps.23.a • all soules are myne. Lyke as the father is myne, so is the sonne myne also. The soule that synneth, shall dye.
Le.17.a • If a man be godly, and do the thing that is equall and right, he eateth not vpon the hilles: he lifteth not his eies Leui.18.
vp to the foule Idols of Jsrael: he defileth not his neighbors wife: he medleth wyth no menstruous woman: he greueth no body: he geueth his detter his pledge agayne: he taketh none other mans good by violence: • he par mat.25.c
teth his meate wyth the hungrye: he clotheth the naked: • he lendeth no- Psa.15.a thyng vpon vsury, he taketh nothyng ouer, he withdraweth his hand frome doyng wrong: he dealeth faithfully betwixte man and man: and walketh in my commandementes, and kepeth my lawes, and performeth them faith Ro.10.a fully: • This is a righteous man, he shal surely liue sayth the lord God. If he now get a sonne that is a murtherer. a sheder of bloode: if he do one of these thynges, though he doo not all) Jaco.2.a eateth vpon the hylles: he defileth his neighbours wife, he greueth the pore and nedy, he robbeth and spoyleth: he geueth not the detter hys pledge again, he lyfteth vp his eyes vnto Idols, and medleth with abhominable thynges: he lendeth vpon vsurye, and taketh more ouer. Shall this manne lyue? he shall not lyue, seyng he hath done all these abhominations, he shal C dye, his bloud shalbe vpon him. Now if this man get a sonne also, that seeth all his fathers synnes, which he hath done, and feareth, neyther dooth suche lyke: Namely, he eateth not vpon the mountains, he lifteth not his eies vp to the Idols of Jsrael, he defileth not his neighbors wife, he vexeth no man he kepeth no mans pledge: he neyther spoileth nor robbeth any man: he dealeth his meate with the hungrye: he clotheth the naked, he oppresseth not the poore: he receaueth no vsury, nor any thyng ouer: he kepeth my lawes and walketh in my commandements. This manne shall not dye in his fathers synne, but shall lyue without faile. As for his father, because he oppressed and spoyled hys brother, and dyd wyckedly among his people: Lo, he is deade in hys owne synne. And yet saye ye: wherfore then should not

thys

this sonne beare hys fathers synne? Therfore, because the sonne hath don equitie and ryghte, hath kepte all my commaundementes, and done theym: therfore shall hee lyue in deede. The same soule that sinneth, shall dye.

deu.24.c 2pa.15 d The sonne shall not beare the fathers offence, neyther shall the father beare the sonnes offence. The ryghteousnes of the ryghteous shall bee vpon him, and the wyckednes of the wycked shalbe vppon him selfe also.

Iere.18. Eze.33 c But yf the vngodlye will tourne away from all hys sinnes that he hath done, and kepe al my commaundemẽtes, and do the thing that is equal and right: doutles he shal liue, and not dy. As for all his sinnes that hee dyd before, they shal not be thought vppon: but in his ryghteousnes that he hath done, he shall lyue. For haue I anye 2Pe.3.b pleasure in the death of a sinner, saith the Lorde God, but rather that he conuert and lyue? Agayn: if the righteous turne away from hys ryghteousnes, and do iniquitie, according to all the abhominations that the wycked man doeth: shall he lyue? All the ryghteousnes that he hath done, shall not bee thoughte vppon: but in the faulte that he hath offended wythall, and in the synne that he hath done, he shal die. And yet ye saye: Tushe, Eze.33 d the waye of the Lord is not indifferente. Heare therefore yee house of Israell: Is not my waye ryghte? Or are not Eze.32.a your wayes rather wycked? When a righteous man turneth away from hys ryghteousnes, and medleth with vngodlines, he must die therin, ye, for the vnryghteousnes that he hath don Esa.55.b must he dye. Againe: When the wicked man turneth away from his wickednes that he hath done, and doeth the thing which is equal and ryghte: G he shal saue his soule alyue. For in so much that he remembreth hym selfe, and turneth him from al hys vngodlynes that he hath vsed, hee shall lyue and not dye. And yet sayth the house of Israell. Tushe, the waye of the Lord is not equall. Are my ways vnryght? O ye house of Israel: Are not youre wayes rather vnequall. As for me, I will iudge euery man according to hys wayes, O ye house of Israel, sayth the Lord God. Wherefore, bee Esa.55 b conuerted, and turne you cleane from Mat.3.a all youre wyckednes, so shal there no sinne do you harme, Cast away from you all your vngodlines, that ye haue Eze.11 b done: make you newe heartes and a newe spyryte. Wherfore wyll ye dye, O ye house of Israell? seinge I haue no pleasure in the death of him that dyeth, sayth the Lorde God. Tourne you then, and ye shall lyue.

The .xix. Chapter. A

BVt thou sonne of man mourne thou for the princes of Israel, and saye. Wherfore lay thy mother the lioneſſe among the lyons, and norysshed her yonge ones amonge the lyons whelpes? One of her whelpes she brought vppe, and it became a lyon, it learned to spoyle, and to deuoure folke. The heathen hearde of hym, and tooke him in their nettes, and brought hym in chaynes vnto the lande of Egipt. Nowe when the B damme saw that al her hope and comforte was awaye, shee tooke another of her whelpes, and made a Lyon of hym: which went among the Lyons, and became a fearce Lyon: learned to spoyle and to deuour folke, he destroied their palaces, and made their cities waste. In so muche that the whole land and euery thyng therin, was vterly desolate, through the very voice of his roaring. Then came the heathē together on euery side out of al countreys againste him, laied their nettes for hym, and toke him in their pytte. 4Re.25a Jer.39.a * So they bound hym with chaynes and brought him to the kyng of Babilon: whiche put him in pryson, that hys voyce should nomore be heard vpon the mountaynes of Israell. As for thy mother, shee is lyke a vyne in thy bloud, planted by the water syde: her fruites and braunches are growē out of many waters, her stalkes were so strong, that men mighte haue made staues therof for officers: she grew so hye in her stalkes: so when men saw that she exceaded the heygth & multitude of her braunches, she was rooted out in displeasure, and cast downe to the grounde. The East wynde dryed vp her fruite, her stronge stalkes were broken of, wythered and brente in the fyre. But nowe she is planted in the wildernes, in a dry and thyrsty groũd And there is a fyre gone oute of her stalkes, whiche hath brente vppe the braunches and her fruite, so that shee hath no mo stronge stalkes, to be staues for officers. This is a piteous and miserable thing.

¶ The.xx. Chapter.

A Eze.24.a

IN the vii. yeare the tenth daye of the fifth month • it happened, that certayne of the elders of Israell came vnto me, for to aske councell at the Lorde, and sat them downe by me. Then came the woorde of the Lorde vnto me on this maner: Thou soonne of man: speake vnto the elders of Israell, and say vnto theym. Thus sayth the Lorde God: are ye come hyther to aske any thing at me? As truly as I lyue (saith the Lorde) I wyll geue you no aunswer. Wilt thou not reproue them (thou sonne of manne) wilt thou not reproue them? Shewe them the abhominations of their forfathers, and tel them: Thus saith the Lorde God: • In the daye when I chose Israel, and lyft vp mine hande vppon the seede of the house of Jacob and shewed my selfe vnto them in the lande of Egypt: Yea, when I lyft vp myne hand ouer them, and sayd: I am the Lorde your God, euen in the daye that I lyft vp myne hande ouer them to bringe theym oute of the lande of Egypt, into a land that I had prouided for theym, whiche floweth wyth mylke and honye, and is a pleasaunte lande amonge all other. Then sayde I vnto them: • Cast awaye euery mã the abhominations that hee hath before him, and defyle not youre selues wyth the Idols of Egypte, for I am the Lorde your God. But they rebelled agaynst me, and would not folowme: to cast away euery man the abhominations of hys eyes, and to forsake the ydols of Egypte. Then I made mee to poure myne indygnation ouer them, and to satisfie my wrath vppon theym: yea euen in the middest of the lande of Egypte. But I would not do it, for my names sake: that it shuld not be vnhalowed before the heathen, among whom they dwelt, and among whom I shewed my selfe vnto them, that I would bryng theim out of the lande of Egypt. Nowe when I had caryed them out of the land of Egipt and brought them into the wildernes I gaue them my commaundementes, and shewed them my lawes, • which whoso keepeth shall lyue in theym: I gaue them also my holy dayes, to be a token betwyxt me and them, and ther by to knowe, that I am the Lorde, which halowe thẽ. And yet the house of Israell rebelled agaynste me in the wildernes, they would not walke in my commaundements, they haue cast awaye my lawes (whiche whoso keepeth shal lyue in them) and my Sabboth dayes haue they greatelye vnhalowed. • Then I made mee to poure out myne indignation vpon thẽ, and to consume them in the wyldernesse. Yet I would not do it, for my names sake: least it should be dyshonored before the heathen, from the whyche I had caryed them away. But I swore vnto theym in the wildernes, that I woulde not bryng them into the land which I gaue them: a lande that floweth wyth mylke and hony, and is a plesure of all landes: and that because they refused my lawes, and walked not in my commaundementes, but had vnhalowed my Sabbothes, for their hert was gone after their idols. Neuertheless, myne eye spared them so that I wold not vtterly slay them, and consume them in the wyldernes. Moreouer I sayd vnto theyr sons in the wildernes • walke not in the statutes of youre forefathers, keepe not their ordinances, & defile not your selues with their ydols, for I am ỳ lord your god. But walk in my statutes, keepe

Deu.4.b Gala.3.a Leu.28.b Exo.16.c

Nu.14.b Psa.97.b C

Exo.18

B Exo.3.b.

Deu.7.a

kepe my lawes and doo them, halow Exo.16.c my Sabbothes: • for they are a token 31.c betwixt me & you, that ye may knowe how that I am the Lorde your God.
Nu.15.a Notwithstanding their sons • rebel-Leui.18. led against me also: they walked not Gal.3.b in my statutes, they kepte not my la-Ro.10.a wes to fulfil the (which he that doth, shall liue in theym:) neither halowed they my Sabboth dais. Then I made me again to poure out my indignatiō ouer them, and to satisfye my wrathe D vpon them in the wildernesse. Neuer theiesse, I withdrewe my hande for my names sake, lest it shoulde be vn-halowed among the Heathen, before whom I had brought them foorth. I lift vp my hand ouer theim also in the wildernesse, that I wold scatter them among the Heathen, and strawe them among the nations, because they had not kept my lawes, but cast alyde my cōmaundementes, vnhalowed my sab bothes, and lifte vp their eies to theyr fathers Idols. Wherefore I gaue thē also cōmandements not good, & lawes whereby the whyche they should not Exo.13. lyue, and I vnhalowed them in their awne gifts, • (when I appointed for my selfe all their first borne) to make them desolate: that they might know, E how that I am the lord. Therfor (O thou sonne of manne, tell the house of Israell, thus saith the Lord God: Be side al this, your fathers haue yet blas phemed me more, and greately offēded against me. For after I had brought them into the land, that I promised to geue them, when they saw euery hye hill and all the thick trees: they made there their offeringes, & prouoked me with their oblations, makinge swete sauors there, & poured out theyr drink offrings. Then I asked theim: What is that hil aultar that ye go to it? And therfore is it called the hie place vnto this daye. Wherefore, speake vnto the house of Israel: Thus saith the lorde God: Ye are euen as vnclean as your forefathers, and cōmit whordom also with their abhominatiōs. In al your Ier.19.a idols, whervnto ye bring al your oblations, • and to whose honor ye burn youre children, ye defile your selues, Deu.12.b euen vnto this day: how dare ye then 31.b come, and aske any question at me, O Eze.19.c ye houshold of Israel? As truely as 4.re.11.c I lyue saith the Lord God) ye get no 21.a answere of me: and as for the thynge 2.pa.18.a that ye goe aboute, it shall not come to F passe, where as ye say: We will be as the Hethen, and do as other people in the land: wodde & stone wil we worshyp. As truely as I liue, saieth the Lorde God, I my selfe will rule you with a mighty hand, with a stretched out arme, and with indignation poured out ouer you: and will bryng you out of the nations and landes, wherin ye are scattered, and gather you together with a myghtye hande, wyth a stretched out arme, and wyth indignation poured out vpon you: and wil bryng you into the wildernesse of the people, and there I will reason with you face to face. Lyke as I punished your forefathers in the wylderness of Egypt, so will I punishe you alsoo, sayth the Lorde God. I wyll bryngе you vnder my iurisdiction, and vnder the bond of the couenant. The forsa-kers also and the transgressours will I take from amonge you, and bryngе them out of the lande of youre habitation: As for the lande of Israel, they shall not comme in it: that you maye knowe how that I am the LORD.
Goe to nowe then (sayeth the Lorde Esai.2.c GOD) ye house of Israell: • Euer- 30.d ry one of you folow your Idols, and Eze,14.a serue them seing ye refuse to obey me.
And my holy name shall ye noo more vnhalow with your offrings and Idols. For vpon my holy hill cuē vpon the hie hill of Israell, saieth the Lord god, shall all the house of Israell, and all that is in the lande, worshyp me:
• and in the same place wyll I fauour deu.15.a them, and there wyll I require your 14.b heaue offerynges, and the fyrstlynge of your oblations, with all your holy thynges. I will accept your swete sauour, when I bring you from the nations, and gather you together out of the lands, wherein ye be scatred, that I maye bee halowed in you before the Heathen, and that ye may knowe, that I am the Lorde, whiche haue brought you into the land of Israell: yea, into the same land, that I swore to geue vnto your forefathers. There shall ye call to remembraunce youre owne wayes, and all your ymaginations, wherin ye haue bene defyled:

Jer. 18 a * and ye shall iudge your selues worthy to be destroyed, for all your wyckednes, that ye haue done. And ye shal knowe, that I am the Lorde: when I entreate you after my name, not after your wicked wayes, no, according to your corrupt workes: O ye house of Israell, sayth the Lorde. Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying: Thou sonne of man, sette thy face toward the south, and speake to the south wynd, and saye to the wood toward the south: Heare the word of the Lord, thus sayth the Lorde God: Behold, I will kyndle a fire in thee, that shall consume the greene trees with the drye. No man shalbe able to quenche his flame, but all that loketh from the South to the Northe, shall be brente therein: and all flesche shall see, that I the Lorde haue kyndled it, so that no man may quench it. Then sayde I: O Lorde, they wyll saye of
Jer. 10 b me: * Tushe, they are but fables, that he telleth.

¶ The .xxi. Chapter.

A THe worde of the Lorde came to me saying: Thou sonne of man, set thy face toward Jerusalem, speake agaynst the Sanctuarye, and prophesye agaynst the land of Israel, say to the land of Israell, Thus saith the Lorde: Behold, I will vpon the, and will drawe my sweard out of the sheath, and rote oute of thee both the ryghteous and the wicked. Seynge then that I will rote out of thee both the righteous & wicked, therfore shall my sword go out of his sheath against all flesche from the north to the south: that all flesche maye knowe how that I the Lord haue drawen my sweard oute of the sheathe: and it shall not be B put in agayne. Mourne therfore (O thou sonne of man) that thy loynes cracke withal, ye mourne bytterly for them in their presence. And yf they saye, wherfore mournest thou? Then tell them: for the tydynges that commeth, at the which all herts shal melt, all handes shalbe letten down, all stomackes shal faynt, and all knees shall waxe feble. Beholde, it commeth and shalbe fulfilled, sayth the Lord God. Agayne, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying: Thou sonne of man, prophesy, and speake. Thus sayth the Lorde God: speake. The sweard, the C sweard is sharpened, and well scoured. Sharpened is it for the slaughter, and scoured that it may be bright.
Shall we then make mirth? Agaynst Esa. 10 the * tribe of my sonne it is gone forth destroying all trees. He hath put his sweard to the dyghtyng, that good holde may be taken of it. This sword is sharpened and dyght, that it maye be geuen vnto the hande of the manslayer. Crye (O thou sonne of man, and howle, for this sword shall smyte my people, and all the rulers in Israell:) my people shalbe feared thorowe this sweard. Smyte therfore thou vpon the thyghe, for it is gone forthe to make a tryall. And what a tryall shall thys bee, when euen my scepter shalbe reproued? it shal not be sayth the Lord God. Prophesye thou D sonne of man, and smyte thine handes together, make the sword two edged, yea, make it thre edged, that manslayers sweard, that sweard of the greate slaughter, which shall smyte them, euen in their preuy chambres: to make them abashed and faynt at the hertes, and in all gates to make some of them fall. I haue geuen ỳ fearefull sweard, O how bright and sharpe is it, howe well dight and mete for the slaughter? Get the some place alone, eyther vpō the right hand or on the left, whither so euer thy face turneth: I wyll smite my hands together also, and satisfye my wrathfull indignacion: Euen I the Lorde haue sayde it. The word of the Lord came yet vnto me agayn, saying: Thou son of man, make the two stretes, that the sweard of the E kynge of Babylon may come. Bothe thes stretes shal go out of one kings land. And chose the a place, at the head of the strete, chose out a corner. Make the a strete, that the sweard may com toward Rabath of the Ammonites, and to the strong citie of Jerusalem.

For the kyng of Babylon shall stand in the turning of the way, at the head Leu.19f of the two stretes: * to aske councel at De.13,a the sothsaiers, casting the lottes with his arowes, to aske councel at the Idole, and to loke in the liuer. But the sothsayinge shall poynt to the ryghte syde vpon Jerusalem, that he may set men of war, to smyte it with a great noyse, to crye out Ararum, to set battel rammes agaynst the gates, to graue vp diches, and to make bulwerkes.
Neuertheles, as for the sothsayinge, they shal holde it but for vanitye. And esteme them as those to whom they haue often sworn. Notwithstanding he shal remember their wickednes, so that by ryght they must be taken and wone. Therfore sayth the Lord God.
F For so much as ye your selues shewe youre offence, and haue opened youre wickednes, so that in all your werkes men may see your sinnes: therfore are ye come to remembraunce, and ye shal be taken by violence. O thou shame-full wicked guyde of Israell, whose day is come: euen the tyme that wyckednes shall haue an end. Thus saith the Lord God: Take away the garland, and put of the crowne, and so is it awaye: the humble is exalted, and the proude brought lowe. Ouerthe, ouerthe, ouerthe them wyll I,
and destroy them: and that shal not be fulfylled vntill he come, to whom the iudgement belongeth, and to whome I haue geuen it. And thou (O sonne of man) prophesye, and speake: Thus sayth the Lorde God to the chyldren Jer.49d of * Ammon, and to their blasphemy, Eze.21a speake thou: The sweard, the sweard Amos.1 is drawen forth alredy to the slaugh-G ter, and scoured to consume, that it glistreth (because thou hast loked the oute vanities, and prophecied lyes) that it may come vpon thy necke, like as vpon the other vngodly, which be slayne: whose daye came, when their wickednes was full. Should I put it vp agayne? Naye I will punyshe thee, in the land where thou wast no-ryshed and borne, and peur my indig-nacion vpon the, and will blowe vp-on thee in the fire of my wrath, and delyuer the vnto cruell people, which are learned to destroye. Thou shalte fede the fyre, and thy bloode shall be shed in the lande, that thou mayest be put oute of remembraunce. Euen I the Lord haue spoken it.

The.xxii. Chapter.

MOreouer, the worde of the Lord cam vnto me, and said:
thou sone of man, wilt thou not reproue this blood thurstye Cytye? Shewe them their abhominations, and tell them: Thus sayeth the Lord God: O thou citye that shed-dest blood in the myddest of thee, that thy tyme maye come also: and makest thee Idoles to defyle thee with all.
Thou hast made thy selfe gilty, in the blood that thou haste shede, and defiled the in the Idols, which thou hast made. Thou hast caused thy dayes to drawe nye, and made the tyme of thy yeres to come. Therfore wyl I make B the to be confounded among the Heathen, & to be despised in all the landes, whether they be nye or farre frome thee: they shall laughe thee to scorne, thou that haste gotten thee so foule a name, and art full of myschefe. Be-holde, the rulers of Israell haue brought euery man his power, to shed blood in the. * In the haue they despi- Deu.29c sed father & mother, in thee haue they oppressed ỹ stranger, in the haue they vexed the widowe and the fatherles.
Thou hast despysed my Sanctuary, and vnhalowed my Sabboth. Mur-therers are there in thee, that shede bloode, and eate vpon the hylles, and Leu.18.a in thee they vse abhominacions. * In thee haue they discouered theyr fathers shame, in thee haue they vexed wemen in their sickenes. Euery man hath dealt shamefully with his neighbours wyfe, and abhominably defyled his daughter in lawe. In the hath euery man forced his owne sister, euen Deu.27c his fathers daughter: yea, * gyftes haue bene receaued in thee, to shedde Exo.22c blood. * Thou hast taken vsurye and encrease, thou hast oppressed thy neyboures by extorcion, and forgotten me, sayth the Lord God. Beholde, I D haue smitten my handes vpon thy couetousnesse, that thou haste vsed, and vpon the blood which hath bene shed in thee. Is thy hert able to endure it, or may thy hands defend them selues, in the tyme that I shall vprynge vpon thee? Euen I the Lorde that spake it, Eze.12c will vprynge it also to passe. * I wyll scatter thee amonge the Heathen, and strowe thee about in the landes, and will cause thy filthynes to ceasse oute of thee: yea, and thou shalte be thyne owne enheryteaunce and not myne, in the syghte of the Heathen, that thou mayest knowe that I am the Lorde.

Elay.1c And the word of the Lord came vnto me, sayinge: Thou sonne of man, * the house of Israell is turned to drosse. All they that should be brasse, tynne, yron and leade are in the fyre become drosse. Therfore, thus sayth the Lord God: For so muche as ye all are turned into drosse, beholde, I wyll bring you together vnto Ierusalem, lyke as syluer, brasse, yron, tynne and leade are put together in the fornace, and the fire blowen therevnder to melte
E them. Euen so will I gather you, put you in together, and melte you in my wrath and indignation. I will bring you together, and kyndle the fyre of my cruell displeasure vnder you, that ye may be melted therin. Lyke as the syluer is melted in the fyre, so shall ye also be melted therein: that ye maye knowe, howe that I the Lorde haue powred my wrath vpon you. And the word of the Lorde came vnto me, sayinge: Thou sonne of manne, tell her, F Thou art an vncleane lande, whiche is not rayned vpon in the daye of the Mich.3c cruell wrath: * thy prophetes that are in the, are sworne together to devour soules, lyke as a roaryng Lyon, that lyueth by hys praye. They receaue ryches and good, and make many widowes in thee. Thy priestes breake my lawe, and defyle my Sanctuary.
* They put no difference betwene the Leu.10.c holy and vnholy, neither discern they betwene the cleane and vncleane: they turne theyr eyes fro my Sabbothes, and I am vnhalowed amonge them. Thy rulers in the are lyke rauysshing wolues, to shedde blood, and to destroy soules, for their owne couetous lucre.
* As for thy prophetes, they daube Mich.3c with vntempered claye, they see va- Sop.3.c nityes, and prophesie lyes vnto them, Eze.13b sayinge: the Lord God sayth so, wher as the Lorde hath not spoken. The people in the lande vseth wycked extorcion and robbery e. They bere the poore and nedye, and * oppresse the Exo.20a stranger agaynste ryghte. And I G soughte in the lande for a man, that wold make vp the hedge, and set him selfe in the gap before me in the lands behalfe, that it shoulde not be corrupted: but I could fynd none. Therfore I wyll poure out my cruell displeasure vpon them, and burne thē in the fyre of my wrath: theyr owne wayes will I recompence vpon their heades sayth the Lorde God.

¶ The .xxiii. Chapter.

A The word of the Lord came vnto me, sayinge: Thou sonne of man, there were two wemen, that had one mother: these (whē they were yong) began to play the harlots
* in Egipt. There were their breses Eze.20a brosed, and the pappes of their mayden hood dyd the Egiptians destroy. The eldest of them was called Oholah and her yongest syster Oholibah. These two wer my wyues, and bare sonnes and daughters. Theyr names were Samaria, and that was Oholah: and Ierusalem, that was Oholibah. As for Oholah, she began to go a whoryng, when I had taken her to me. * She was set on fire vpon her 4.re.15d louers the Assirians, as her neyghbours whiche hadde to doo with her,

that

euen the princes and lordes that wer deckt in costly aray, sayre yong men, B lusty ryders of horses. Thus thorow her whordoms, she cleued vnto all the yonge men of Assiria. Yea, thee was mad vpon them, and defyled her selfe with all their Idols. Nether ceassed she from the fornication, that she vsed with the Egiptians, for in her youth they lay with her, they broused the brestes of her maydenhead, and pourged their whordome vpon her. Wherfore, 4.Re.18 * I deliuered her into the hãds of her louers, euen the Assirians, whõ she so loued. These discouered her shame, toke her sons & daughters, and slewe her with the swerd. In euil name gat she of all people, & they punished her.
Jere.1.b * Her syster Oholibah sawe this, and destroyed her selfe with inordinate loue more then she, and exceded her si-
4.re.16b ster in whordome, * she loued the Assiriãs (which also lay with her) namely, the princes and greate lordes, that wer clothed with all maner of gorgious apparel, all lusty horsmen & faire C younge persons. Then I sawe that they both were defiled alike. But she increased still in whordome, for whẽ she sawe men painted vpon the wall, the ymages of the Chaldees set forth with fresh colours, & sayre girdles about them, and goodly bonettes vpon their heades, lokyng all lyke princes (after the maner of the Babilonians and Chaldees in their owne lande, wher they be borne (immediately, as sone as she sawe thẽ, she brent in loue vpon them, and sente messengers for them into the lande of the Chaldees. Now when the Babilonians cam to her, they lay with her, and defiled her with their whordom, and so was she polluted with theym. And when her Esa.47 a lust was abated from theym, * her Hau.3.d whordome and shame was dyscouered and sene: then my hert forsoke her lyke as my herte was gone from her sister also. Neuertheless, she vsed her whordome euer the longer the more, and remembred the dates of her youth wherin she had played the harlot in Ex.16 t the lande of Egypt: * she brent in lust vpon them, whose flesh was lyke the flesshe of asses, and their sede lyke the sede of horses. Thus thou hast renued the filthynes of thy youthe, when thy louers broused thy paps, and marred thy breastes in Egypt. Therfore, D (O Oholibah) thus sayth the Lord God: I wyll rayse vppe thy louers (with whom thou haste satisfyed thy luste agaynst thee, and gather theym togither round about thee: namely the Babilonians, & all the Chaldees, rulers, mightye men and tirantes, with all the Assirians: all younge and sayre louers: princes and lordes, knightes, and gentilmen, whiche be all good horsmen. These shall come vpon thee with horses, charettes, and a greate multitude of people: whiche shall be harnessed aboute thee on euery syde, with brest plates, shyldes and helmettes, I wyll punishe thee before them, yea, they theym selues shall punyshe thee, accordyng to their owne iudgemente. I will put my gelousye vpon thee, so ỹ they shall deale cruelly with thee. They shall cutte of thy nose and thine eares, and the remnaunte shall fall thorowe the sweard. They shall cary awaye thy sons and daughters, and the residue shalbe brẽt in the fire. They shal strippe thee out of thy clothes, and carye thy costlye Jewelles awaye with theym. Thus wyll I make an end of thy filthynes & whordome, whiche thou haste brought out of the lande of Egypte: so that thou shalte turne thyne eyes nomore after them, and cast thy mind nomore vpon Egypt. For thus sayth the Lorde: be-E hold, I will deliuer the into the handes of them, whome thou hatest: yea, euen into the handes of theym with whome thou haste fulfylled thy luste which shall deale cruellye with thee. All thy laboure shall they take with them, and leaue thee naked and bare, & thus the shame of thy fylthy whordome shall come to lyghte. All these things shall happen vnto thẽ, because of thy whordome whiche thou haste vsed among ỹ Gentiles, with whose Idoles thou haste defyled thy selfe.

Thou

Thou hast walked in the way of thy syster, therefore wyl I geue thee her cuppe in thy handes. Thus sayth the Lord God: Thou shalt drynke of thy systers cuppe, howe depe and farre so euer it be to the bottome. Thou shalt be laughed to scorne, and had as gretlie in derision, as it is possible. Thou shalt be ful of dronkennes and sorow for the cuppe of thy syster. Samaria is a cup of destruction and wastinge, the same shalt thou drynke, and suppe it oute euen to the dregges, yea, thou shalt eate vp the broken pyeces of it, and so teare thyne owne brestes. For euen I haue spoken it sayth the Lord God. ℣ Therefore thus saith the Lord God: For so much as thou haste forgotten me, and caste me a side behynd thee, so beare nowe thyne owne fylthynes and whoredome. The Lorde sayde moreouer vnto me: Thou sonne of man wilte thou not reproue Oholah and Oholibah, shewe them theyr abhominatiõs, namely that they haue broken their wedlocke, and stayned their handes wyth bloudde: yea, euen with their ydoles haue they committed aduoutrye * and offred them by the fyre their owne childzen (to be deuoured) whom they had borne vnto mee. Yea, and thys haue they doone vnto me also: they haue defyled my Sanctuary in that same daye, and haue vnhalowed my Sabboth. For whē thei had slaine their childzen for theyr Idols, they came the same day into my sanctuarye to defyle it. Loe this haue they done in my house: Beside al this thou hast sent thy messangers for mē, out of farre countrees: and whē they came, thou hadste bathed and paynted, thyne eyes wyth coloures, trymmed, and set forth thy self of the best fashiō, thou sattest vpon a goodly bed, and a table spred before the, wherupō thou hast set myne * incense and mine oile. ℣ Then was there greate cheare wyth her to obtayn peace, and though with those men many men cāme, yet were there also brought men of Saba from the wyldernes: whiche gaue theym bracelets vpon their handes, and sette glorious crownes vpon their heads, and I sayde vnto her: that seinge she was strikē inoge in her whordoms: nowe shal her fornications come to an ende wyth her. And they wente into her as vnto a cōmen harlot. Euen so wente they (I saye) to Oholah, and Oholibah those fylthy wemen. O al ye that loue vertue and ryghteousnes iudge them, punyth them, * as aduoutrers and murtherers oughte to bee iudged and punyshed. For they are breakers of wedlocke, and the bloude is in their handes. Wherefore thus sayth the Lorde God: I wyl bryng a great multitude of people vpon them and make them be scattered and spoyled: these shall stone theym, and gore theym wyth their swerdes. They shal slay their sonnes and daughters, and burne vp their houses with fyre. Thus wil I destroye al such fylthynes oute of the land: that all wemen maye learne, not to do after your vnclennes. And so they shall laye their filthines vpon your owne selues, and ye shalbe punished for the sinnes that ye haue committed with your ydols: and ye shal know that I am the Lord God.

Lev.20b Eze.16b

4Re.21c Eze.16c

Exo.23.

¶ The.xxiiii. Chapter.

A

IN the nynthe yeare, in the tenth moneth, the tenth daye of the moneth came the word of the Lorde vnto me, saying: O thou son of man, wryte vp the name of this day, yea, euen the houre of this presente daye: when the king of Babilon sette him selfe agaynst Jerusalem. Shew that obstinate housholde * a parable and speake vnto theym. Thus saieth the LORDE God: Set thee a pot, set it on and poure water into it: putte al the pieces together in it all the good pieces, the loine and the shoulder, and fil it wyth the best bones. Take one of the best sheepe, and an heape of bones wythal: let it boyle wel, and lette the bones seeth wel therin. With that said the Lorde God on this manner, B * Woe be vnto the bloddye citye of the pot, wherupon the rustines hangeth, and

Eze.17b Eze.11b

Mali.3c Habac.2b

and is not yet scoured awaye. Take out the peces that are in it, one after another: there nede not lots to be cast therfore, for the blood is yet in it. Upon a playne drye stone hath she poured it, and not upon the grounde, that it might be couered with duste. And therfore haue I letten her powre her blood upon a playne dry stonye rocke, because it shold not be hid, and that I might bring my wrothfull indignation and vengeaunce upon her. Wher C fore thus sayth the Lord God: O wo be unto that bloodethyrsty citye, for whom, euen I my selfe will make a greate fyre and set muche woode, and kindell the fyre, and seethe the flesshe, and spyce the potte, so that the verye bones shalbe brent: Moreouer, I will set the pot emptye upon the coles, so that his metal shal be brent and molten also for heate, and the filthynes of it shalbe molten in it, and the drosse of it shalbe consumed. Thou tokest gret
D payne thus to defile thy selfe. And it will not be purged fro the exceadyng drosse in it: but thorow fyre shall the drosse of it be purified. In thy filthynes, euen in thy mysscheuous dedes, thou doest continue, and because thy filthynes is abhominable, for I haue clensed thee, but thou art not clensed: Thou shalt not be pourged fro thyne vnclennesse, tyll I haue powred my wrathfull indignacion upon thee. E-E uen I the Lord haue so deuised. Yea, it is come therto already, that I wyll do it, I will not go backe, I wyll not spare, I will not be intreated: but accordyng to thy wayes and ymaginations, thou shalte be punyshed, sayth the Lorde God. And the worde of the Lord came unto me saying: Thou son of man behold, I will take away the pleasure of thyne eies with a plague: yet shalte thou neyther mourne, nor wepe: nor water thy chekes: therfore thou mayest mourne by thy self alone but vse no deadly lamentacion. Holde on thy bonet, and put on thy shoes upon thy fete, couer not thy face, & eate F no mourners bread. So I spake unto the people betymes in the morning and at euen my wyfe dyed: then upon the next morowe, I did as I was cōmaunded. And the people sayde unto me, wilte thou not tell us what thys signifyeth towarde us, for this thou doest for our sake? I answered them, the worde of the Lorde came unto me, saying: Tell the house of Israel, thus sayth the Lord God: beholde, I wyll suspend my sanctuary, euen the glory of your power, the pleasure of youre eyes, and the thing that ye loue, youre sonnes and daughters whom ye haue lefte, shall fall thorowe the swearde. Like as I haue don, so shal ye do also: Ye shal not hide your faces, ye shal eate no mourners breade: your bonnets shall ye haue upon your heades, G and shoes upon your fete. Ye shal neither mourne nor wepe, but in youre synnes ye shalbe sorowfull, and one repēt with an other. Thus Ezechiell is your shewe token. For lyke as ye haue done, so (when this commeth) ye shall do also: that ye maye learne to know that I am the Lord God. But behold O thou sonne of man: In the daye when I take from them their power, their ioye and honour, the lust of their eyes, the burthen of their lyues: namely, their sonnes and daughters, shall not this be knowen? Then shall there one escape, and come unto the, for to shewe the. In that day shal thy mouth be opened to him, whiche is escaped, that thou mayest speake, and be nomore domme. Yea, and thou shalt be their shewe token that they may know how that I am the Lord.

¶ The .xxv. Chapter.

THe worde of the Lord came unto me, sayinge: Thou sonne of man, set thy face agaynste the
* Ammonites, prophecye upon them, Eze.21.b and saye unto the Ammonites: Heare Jer.49.a the worde of the Lorde God. Thus sayth the Lorde God: For so much as thou spekest ouer my sanctuary: A, ha, I trowe it be nowe suspended, and ouer the land of Israell: I trow it be nowe desolate, yea, and ouer the house of Juda, I trowe they be nowe led away prisoners: Beholde I will de-

lyuer

liuer the to the people of the east, that they may haue the in possession, these shall set their castelles and houses in the. They shal eate thy fruit, & drinke vp thy mylke. As for Rabath, I wil make of it a stall for camelles, and of Ammon a sheepfold: and ye shal know that I am the Lorde. For thus sayth the Lorde God: In so muche as thou hast clapped with thyne handes, and stamped with thy fete, yee, reioyced in thine herte ouer the lande of Israell B with despyte: behold, I will stretche out myne hand ouer the also, and deliuer thee, to be spoyled of the Heathen, and rote the out from among the people, and cause the to be destroyed oute of al lands: yea, I will make the to be layde wast, that thou mayest knowe, that I am the Lord. Thus sayth the Esa.15.a Lord God: For so muche as * Moab Sop.2.b and Seir do saye: As for the house of Juda: it is but lyke as al other Gentiles be: Therfore beholde, I will open the syde of Moab, and take away their strength, their cityes and chefe coastes of their lande, whiche are the C pleasures of that countrey. As namely, Bethi, Simoth, Baalmeon and Cariathaim, these will I open vnto them of the easte, that they maye fall vpon the Ammonites, & wyll geue it them in possession, so that the Ammonites shall nomore be had in remembraunce among the Heathen. Euen thys will I punishe Moab also, that they may knowe, how that I am the Esa.24.a LORD. Moreouer thus sayth the Jer.49.a lord God: Because that * Edom hath auenged and cased him selfe vpon the house of Juda, and hath done greate offence, and auenged hym selfe vppon them, therfore, thus sayth the Lord: I will reach out myne hand vpon Edō, and take away man and beast oute of it. From Theman vnto Dedan wyll Ezec.25.a I make it desolat: they shall be slaine with the sweard. * Thorow my people of Israel wil I auenge me agayn vpon Edom, they shall handle him, accordyng to my wrath and indignatiō, so that they shall knowe my vengeaunce, sayeth the Lorde God. Thus sayth the Lorde God: For so much as D Esa.14.c the * Philystynes haue dome thys, Jer.47.a namely, taken vengeaunce with despytefull stomackes, and of an old euyl wyll set them selues to destroy: Therfore, thus sayth the Lorde God: Behold, I will stretche out myne hande ouer the Philistines, and destroy the destroyer, and cause all the remnaunt of the sea coste, to perysh. A great vengeaunce will I take vpon them, and punyshe them cruelly: that they may knowe, howe that I am the Lorde, which haue auenged me of them.

The.xxvi. Chapter.

IT happened, that in the eleuenth yere, the firste daye of the moneth the worde of the Lorde came vnto Esa.23.a me saying: Thou sonne of man, * be-Jer.27.b cause that Tyre hath spoke vpon Je-Eze.27.b rusalem: A ha, now I trow the portes of the people be broken, and shee turned vnto me, for nowe that shee is destroyed, I shall be fylled. Yea, therfore sayth the Lorde God: Behold O Tyre, I wil vpon thee, I will bring a great multitude of people agaynste the, like as when the sea ariseth with hys waues: These shall breake the walles of Tyre, and caste downe her towres: I wyll scrape the grounde from her, and make her a bare stone: yea, as the drying place, where the fyshers hang vp their nettes by the sea side. Euen I haue spoken it, saith the Lorde GOD. The Gentyles shall spoyle her: her daughters vppon the fielde shall perysh with the sweard, that they maye knowe howe that I B am the Lorde. For thus sayeth the Lorde God: Beholde, I wyll bringe hyther Nabuchodonosor (whiche is the kyng of Babylon, and a kynge of kynges) from the northe vpon Tyre: with horses, charettes, horsemen, and with a greate multitude of people.
Thy deughters that are in the lande, shall he slaye with the swearde: but agaynste thee, he shall make bulwarkes, and graue vp dyches about thee, and lyfte vp hys shyeld agaynst thee. His slynges and batell rammes shall he prepare for thy walles, and wyth

hys

his weapõs breke dowñ thy towres. The duste of hys horses shall couer thee: they shalbe so manye, thy walles shall shake at the noise of the horsemẽ charets, and wheles, when he comeih to thy portes, as men do into an open citie. With the hoofes of his horsefete C shall he treade downe all thy stretes. He shall slea the people with ẏ swerd and breake downe the pyllers of the strength. They shal washe away thy ryches, and spoyle thy marchandise. Thy walles shall they breake downe and destroye thy houses of pleasure. Thy stones, thy tymber, and foundacions shall they caste in the water. Iere.7.b

* Thus wyll I stynt the melody of thy songes, and the voyce of thy mynstrelsy to an ende, so that they shall no more be heard. I wyll make a bare stone of thee: yea, a drynge place for nettes, and thou shalt neuer be buylded agayn. For euen I the Lord haue spoken it, saith the Lord God. Thus hath the Lord God spokẽ concerning Tyre. The Iles shalbe moued at the noyse of thy fall, and at the cry of the slayne that shalbe murthered in thee. All synges of the sea shall com down from theyr seates regall, they shal lay D away theyr robes, and putte of theyr costly clothyng. Yea, with trembling shall they be clothed, they shall syt vpon the ground, they shalbe afrayd at thy sodein fal, and be abashed at thee. Ezec.1.a They shall mourne for thee, and saye Apo.18.c vnto thee: * O thou noble Citie, that haste bene so greatly occupied of olde, thou that hast ben the strongest vpon the sea, with thyn inhabiters, of whõ all men stode in feare. Howe arte thou nowe so vtterly destroyed? Nowe at the tyme of thy fall, the inhabiters of the Iles, yea & the Iles them selues shall stande in feare at thy hand. For thus sayth the Lord God: Whenne I make thee a desolate Citie, as other Cities bee, that no man dwell in: and when I bring the depe vpon the, that great waters may couer the: then wil I cast thee down vnto them, that descende into the pyt, vnto a people that hath ben long deade, and set them in a lande that is benethe, lyke the old wildernesse, with them which go downe to theyr graues, soo that no man shall dwell more in thee. And I wylle make thee to be no more in honour, in the land of the lyuyng. I will make an ende of thee, and thou shalt be gone. Though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou not be found for euermore, saith the Lorde God.

¶ The .xxvii. Chapter.

THe woorde of the LORDE A came vnto me, saying: O thou sonne of man, make a lamentable complaynte vpon * Tyre, and saye vpon Tyre, thou whiche art a port of the sea, that occupieth with muche people, and many Iles: Thus speakethe the Lorde GOD: O Tyre, thou haste sayde: What, I am a noble Citie, thy borders are in the myddest of the sea, and thy builders haue made thee meruailous goodlye. All thy tables haue they made of Cypres trees of the mounte Sanyr. From Libanus haue they taken Cedre trees, to make thee Maistes: and the Okes of Basan to make thee rowers. The boordes haue they made of yuory, and al costly wodde out of the yle of Cethim. Thy sayle was of dyuers colours, small nedell woorke out of the lande of Egypte, to hang vpon thy maste: and the hangynges of pealowe silke, purple out of the yles of Elisah. They of Sydon and Arnad were thy maryners, & the wisest in Tyre were thy shyppemaysters. The eldest and wyselst at Gebal, wer they, that mended and stopped thy shippes. All shippes of the sea wyth theyr shyppmenne occupyed theyr marchaundise in thee. The Perses, Lydians, and Phutens were in thyne hoste, and helped thee to fight, these hanged vp their shields & helmets with the, these set forth thy beautie. They of Arnad were wyth thyn hoste rounde about thy walles, and the Pigmentans wer thy watchmẽ vpon thy toures, these hanged vp their quiuers rounde about thy walles, and made the meruelous goodly. Tharsis occupied & thee in al maner of wares, in siluer, yron, tinne, & lead, and made thy market greate: Iauan, Tubal, and Meschech were thy marchantes, which brought the men, and ornamentes of metal for thy occupying. They of the house of Thogarma broughte vnto thee at the tyme of thy marte, horse, horsemenne, and mules.

Ezec.25.c They of Dedan were thy marchantes: and manye Iles that occupyed with thee, broughte the wethers, Elephant bones and Pecockes for a presente. The Syrians occupied with thee because of thy dyuers woorkes, and encreased thy marchandise, with Smaragdes, with scarlet, with nedle woork, with white lynnen cloth, with silk & with cristall. Iuda & the

D lande of Israel occupyed with thee, and broughte vnto thy markettes, wheat of Minith and panneg, balme hony oyle and triacle. Damascus also vsed marchaundyse with thee, in the beste wyne of Helbon, and with wool: because thy occupyinge was so greate, and thy wares so many: Dan, Iauan, and Mensal haue brought vnto thy markettes, yron readye made, with Cassia, and Calamus, accordyng to thyne occupying. Dedan occupyed with thee in fayre tapestrye woorke and cushines. Arabia and all the princes of Cedar haue occupyed with thee, in shepe, wethers and goates. The marchauntes of Seba, and Rema haue occupyed also with thee, in all costly spices, in all precious stones and golde, which they broughte vnto thy markettes. Haram, Chene, and Eden, the marchauntes of Saba Assiria and Chelmad, were all doers with thee, and occupied with the. In costly rayment of yelowe silke and of nedle woorke (very precious, and therfore pacte and bounde together with roapes.) Yea, and in Cedar wood, at the tyme of thy markettes, The shipE pes of Tharsis were the chiefe of thy occupying: Thus thou art full and in great worshyp, euen in the middest of the sea. Thy robbers shal bringe the into great waters, the east wind shall euer beare thee into the middst of the sea: so that thy wares, thy marchaundyse, thy riches, thy mariners, thy shyppmasters, thy builders of thy broke places, thy occupiers (that brought thee thinges necessarye) the menne of F warre that are in thee: yea, and all thy comens shal perysh in the myddest of the sea: in the day of thy fall. The suburbs shal shake at the loud cry of the shyppmen. All wyfrie menne, and all mariners vpon the sea, shall leape out of their boates, and set them selues vpon the lande. They shal lift vp their voyce because of thee, and make a lamentable crye. They shal cast dust vpon their heades, and lye downe in the ashes. They shal shaue theym selues, and put sackecloth vpon them for thy sake. They shall mourne for thee with heartful sorowe, and heuye lamentation, yea, they also shall weepe for thee. Alas, what citie hath so bene G destroyed in the sea, as Tyre is? Whe thy wares and marchaundyse came from the seas: Thou gaueste al people ynough. The kinges of the earth hast thou made rych, throughe the multytude of thy wares and occuppinge. But thou art nowe caste downe into the depe of the sea, al thy resort of people is perysshed with thee. All they that dwell in the yles are abasshed at thee, and all their kynges are afraide, yea, their faces haue changed colour. The marchantes of the nations wonder at thee: In that thou art so cleane broughte to naught, and commest no more vp.

The .xxviii. Chapter.

THe worde of the Lord came vnto me saying: thou sonne of man A tel the princes of Tire: Thus Eze.26.d saith the Lord God, because thou hast Esa.10.e a proud heart and hast sayde: I am a God, I haue my seate in the myddest of the sea lyke a God: where as thou art but a manne and not God, and yet standest in thyne owne conceate, that thou arte God. Beholde, thou thynkest thy self wyser then Daniel, that Dan.2.b there is no secretes hydde from thee. With thy wisedome and thy vnderstandyng

standyng thou hast gotten thee great welthynes, and gathered treasure of syluer and gold. With thy great wisdome and occupying, hast thou increased thy power, & because of thy greate B rychesse, thy heart is proude. Therefore, thus sayth the Lorde God: For so muche as thou hast lyft vp thyne heart as though thou were God: behold, I wyl bring enemies vpon thee euen the tyrants of the Hethen: these shall drawe out their swoordes vpon thy beautie and wysedome, and shall defyle thy glory. They shall cast thee downe to the pytte, so that thou shalt dye in the myddest of the sea, as they that be slayne. Let see, yf thou wylte say then (before theim that slay thee) I am God: where as thou arte but a man and not God, in the handes of them that slaye the. Dye shalt thou, euen as the vncircumcised in the handes of the enemies, for I my self haue C spoken it, saith the Lord God. Moreouer, the woord of the Lord came vnto me, sayinge: Thou sonne of man, make a lamētable complaint ouer the kyng of Tyre, and telle hym: Thus sayth the Lorde God: thou art a seale of a lykenesse, full of wysedome and excellent beautie. Thou hast bene in the pleasant gardeyn of God: thou art deckt with all maner of precious stones, with Rubie, Topas, Christall, Jacinct, Onix, Jaspis, Saphir, smaragde, Carbuncle, and golde. Thy beautie and the holes that be in thee, were set foorth in the day of thy creation. Thou art a fayre Cherub, exalted by the annointing, stretched wide out for to couer. I haue sette thee in this dignitie vpon the holy mount of God, there hast thou ben, and walked amonge the fayre glysteryng stones. From the tyme of thy creation thou hast ben right excellent, tyl wickednes was found in thee. Because of thy great marchandise, thy heart is full of wickednes, and thou hast offended. Therfore wil I cast the from the mount of God (O thou couering Cherub) and destroy the among the glysteryng stoones. Thy hearte was proude in thy fayre beautie, and thorowe thy beautie thou haste destroied thy wysedom. I will cast the downe of the ground, and that in the syghte of Kynges. Thou haste defyled thy Sanctuarie, with the great wyckednes of thy vnrighteous occupieng. I E will bryng a fyre from the myddest of thee to consume thee: and wyll make thee to ashes in the syght of all them that looke vppon thee. All they that haue been acquaynted with thee amonge the Heathen, shall bee abashed at thee, seeynge thou arte so cleane brought to naughte, and commest no more vp. And the woord of the Lorde came vnto me, sayinge: Thou sonne of man, set thy face agaynste Sydon. Prophecy vpon it, and speke: Thus Joel. 3.a sayth the Lord God: Behold, O Sydon, I will vpon thee, and get me ho Zach. 9.a nour in thee, that it may bee knowen, how that I am the Lorde: when I punyshe her, and gette me honoure in her. For I will sende pestilence and bloodshedyng into her stretes, so that those which be slain with the swerd, shall lye rounde about in the myddest of her, and they shall knowe that I am the Lorde. She shall no more be a prickynge thorne, and an hurtynge bryer vnto the house of Israel, nor vnto them that lye round about her, and hate her, and they shall know that I F am the Lorde God. Thus sayth the Lord God: when I gather the household of Israell together agayn frome the nations amonge whome they bee scattered, then shall I be sanctified in them, in the syghte of the Gentiles, and they shall dwell in the lande, that I gaue to my seruaunt Jacob. They shall dwell safely therin, buylde houses, and plant vineyardes, yea safely shall they dwell therein: when I Deu. 28. haue punyshed all those, that despise them round about: and then shall they know, that I am the Lord their god.

Ezec. 26.a
Esa. 10.a
D Esai. 2.b
Dan. 2.b

The .xxix. Chapter.

IN the tenth yere, vpon the twelfth day of the tenth moneth, the woord of the Lord came vnto me, sayinge:

Esai.19. and.20.a Jer.46.a Eze. 30. 31.&32.

O thou sonne of man(set nowe thy face agaynst Pharao the kyng of Egypt: Prophecye against him, and against ỹ whole lād of Egypt. Speke & tell him, thus saith ỹ Lord God: behold, O Pharao, thou king of Egypt I will vpon thee thou great dragon, that liest in ỹ waters: thou that sayst: the water is myne, I haue made it my selfe. I will put an hooke in thy chawes, and hange all the fishe in thy waters vpon thy skales: After that I will draw thee out of thy waters, B yea, & all the fyshe of thy waters that hang vpon thy skales. I wil cast thee out vpon the dry lande with the fyshe of thy waters, so that thou shalte lye vpon the field. Thou shalt not be gathered nor taken vp: but shalt be meat for the beastes of the field, and for the foules of the ayre: that all they which dwell in Egypt, may knowe, that I am the Lord: because thou hast bene a 4.re. 18. Esai.30. 31.&36.

staffe of reed to the house of Israel. whē they toke hold of the with their hand, thou brokest and prickedst them on every side: and if they leaned vpon the, thou brakest & hurtedst the rayns of their backes. Therfore, thus saithe the Lord God: Behold I will bryng a sweard vpon thee, and roote oute of thee both man and beast: Yea, the land of Egypt shalbe desolate and waste, and they shall knowe, that I am the Lord. Because he said: The water is myne, I my selfe haue made it. Be- C hold therfore, I wil vpon the, and vpon thy waters: I wil make the land of Egypt waste and desolate, and in a bashement, for the tower of Syenes vnto the borders of the Morians lād: so that in forty yeares there shall no foote of man walke there, neither fote of cattell go there, neither shall it bee inhabited. I will make the lande of Egypte to bee desolate, among other waste countreys, and her cities to lye voyde forty yeares, among other void cities. And I will scatter the Egyptians among the heathen and nations and strawe them in the landes about.

Jer.46.c

Agayn, thus sayth the Lord GOD: ✱whē the.xl. yere is expyred, I wil gather the Egyptiās together againe out of the natiōs, among whom they were scattered, and wyll bryng the prisoners of Egypte agayne into the lande of Pathures their owne natiue cuntrey, that they may be there a lowly small kyngdome: yea, they shall be the smallest among other kyngdomes least they exalt them selues aboue the Heathen: for I wyll so mynysh them that they shall no more rule the Heathen. They shall no more be an hope vnto the house of Israell, neyther prouoke theym any more to wickednes, to cause them turne backe, and to D folowe theym, and they shall knowe that I am the Lorde God. In the xxvii. yeare, the fyrst day of the fyrste moneth, came the worde of the Lorde vnto me, sayinge: Thou son of man, Nabuchodonosor the kyng of Babylon hath made his hoste with greate trauayle and laboure to comme before Tyre: that euerye heade may bee balde, and euerye shoulder bare. Yet hath Tyre geuen neither him, nor his hoste any reward for the greate trauayle that he hath taken there. Therfore thus saieth the Lorde God: Behold, I wyll geue the land of Egypt vnto Nabuchodonosor the kynge of Babylon, that he may take awaye all her substaunce, robbe her robberies, and spoile her spoiles, to pay his hoste theyr wages withall. I wille geue hym the lande of Egypte for hys labour that he toke for me before Tyre. At the same tyme wylle I cause the horne of the house of Israell to growe forth, and open thy mouth againe among theym: that they maye knowe, howe that I am the Lorde.

¶ The. xxx. Chapter.

THe woorde of the Lorde came moreouer vnto mee, sayinge: Thou sonne of man, prophecye and speake: Thus sayeth the Lorde GOD: Mourne, woe worth this daye: For the daye is here, the daye of the LORD is come, the darke day of the heathen, the howre is at hand. the sweard commeth vpon Egypte.

when

when the wounded men fall downe in Egypt, when her people are taken away, and when her foundacions are destroyed, the Mozians lande shall be afraied, yea, the Mozians land, Libia, and Lidia, all their commen people, and Chub, and all that be confederat vnto them, shall fall with them thorowe the swearde. Thus sayeth the Lozd: The maintainers of the land of Egypt shall fall, the pryde of her power shall come downe euen vnto the tower of Sienes shall they be slayne down with the swerd, saith the lozd God: among other desolate countreis they shalbe made desolate, and among other wast citys they shalbe wasted. And they shall knowe, that I am the Lozde, when I kyndle a fire in Egypt, and when al her helpers are destroyed. At that time shall their messengers go forth from me in shippes, to make the careles Mozians afrayd, and sozowe shall come vpon them accozding to the day of Egipt, foz doutC les it shal come. Thus sayth the Lozd God: I wyll make an end of the people of Egypte thozowe the hande of Nabuchodonosoz the kyng of Babilon. He and hys people with him: yea and the cruell tyzauntes of the Heathen shall be bzoughte to destroye the lande. They shall dzawe oute theyz sweardes vpon Egypte, and fyll the land full of slayne men. I will dzy vp their flouddes of water, and sell the land into the handes of wicked people. The land and all that is therein, will I destroy thozow the enemyes. Euen I the LORD haue sayde it.
Iae.13.a thus sayth the Lozde God. * I wyll destroy the ydoles, and bzyng the Images of Noph to an end. Ther shal nomoze be a pzynce of Egypt, and a fearfulnesse will I sende into the ED giptians lande. As foz Pathures, I will make it desolate, & kyndle a fire in Zoan the city. No, I will punysh and poure my wzathfull indignation vpon Sin, which is the strength of Egypt. All the substaunce of Alexandzia will I destroy, & kyndle a fire in E Egypt. Sin shalbe in greate heauynes, Alexandzia shalbe roted out, and Noph shall haue dayly sozowe. The best men of Helyopolis and Bubasto shalbe slayne with the swearde, and caryed away captiue. At Caphnis the day shalbe darke, when I bzeake ther the septer of the lande of Egypt, and when the pompe of her power shall haue an ende. A cloude shal couer her, and her daughters shall be led awaye into captiuitie. Thus will I punish Egypt, that they maye knowe howe that I am the Lozde. It happened in the eleuenth yeare, vpon the seuenth day of the first moneth, that the lozdes wozd came vnto me, saying: Beholde, thou sonne of man, I wyll bzeake the arme of Pharao kyng of Egypt: and lo, it shall not be bounde vp to be healed, neyther shall any playster be laied vpon it, foz to ease it, oz to make it so F strong as to hold a sweard. Therfoze thus sayth the Lozde God: Beholde, I will vpon Pharao the kyng of Egypt, and bzuse his stronge arme (yet is it but a bzoken one) and will smite the swearde oute of hys handes. As foz the Egyptians, I wyll scatter them among the Heathen, and straw them in the landes about. Agayne I wyll strength the arme of the kyng of Babylon, and geue hym a swearde in hys hande, but I wyll bzeake Pharaos arme, so that he shall holde it befoze hym pyteously, lyke a wounded man. Yea, I wyll stablyshe the kyng G of Babylons arme, and the armes of Pharao shall fall downe: that it may be knowen, that I am the Lozd whiche geue the kynge of Babylon my sweard in his hand, that he may dzawe it oute vpon the lande of Egypte, and that when I scater the Egiptians among the Gentiles, and strawe them in the landes about, they may knowe, that I am the Lozd.

¶ The.xxxi. Chapter.

MOzeouer, it happened in the H xi. yere, the firste daye of the third moneth, that the wozd of the Lorde came vnto me sayinge: thou sonne of man, speake vnto Pharao the kyng of Egypt, and to all his people. Whom arte thou lyke in thy greatnes? Behold, Assur was lyke a Cedar tree vpon the mount of Libanus with fayre braunches: so thicke, that he gaue shadowes and shotte out very hye. His toppe reached vnto the cloudes. The waters made him gret, and the depe set him vp an hye. Rounde aboute the rotes of hym ranne there floudes of water, he sente out his lytle ryuers vnto all the trees of the B field. Therfore was he hyer then all the trees of the fielde, and thorow the multitude of waters that he sent frō him, he obtayned many longe braunches. All foules of the ayre made their nestes in hys braunches: vnder hys bowes gendred all the beastes of the field, and vnder his shadow dwelt all people. Fayre and bewtifull was he in hys greatnes, and in the length of his braūches, for his rote stode beside great waters, no Cedar tree myght hyde him. In the pleasaunt garden of God, there was no fyre tree like his braunches, the playne trees were not

C lyke the bowes of him. All the trees in the garden of God might not be cōpared vnto him in his bewty, so fayre and goodly had I made him with the multitude of hys braunches. In so muche that all the trees in the pleasaunt gardē of God had enuy at him.
D Therfor thus saith the lorde God: for so much as he hath lift vp him self to hye, and stretched his top to the cloudes, and seyng his herte is proude in his hyghnes, I will delyuer him into the handes of the mightiest among the Hethen, which shal rote hym out. Accordyng to his wickednes wyll I cast hym awaye, the enempe shall destroy him, and the myghty men of the Heathen shall so scater him, that hys braunches shall lye vppon all mountaynes and in all valleys: his bowes shalbe broken downe to the grounde
E thorowout the lande. Then all the people of the lande, shall go from hys shadowe, and forsake him, when he is fallen, all the foules of the ayre shall syt vpon him, and all wylde beastes of the fielde shall go about among his braunches: so that from hence forthe, no tree in the water shall attayne to his hyghnes, nor reach his toppe vnto the cloudes, neyther shall any tree of the water stand so hye, as he hathe done. For vnto death shall they all be delyuered vnder the earthe, and go downe to the graue lyke other men.
F Moreouer, thus sayth the Lord God: In the day when he goeth downe to the graue, I wil cause a lamentation to be made, I will couer the depe vpon him, I will staunch his floudes, and the great waters shalbe restrayned. I shall cause Libanus to be sorowfull for his sake, and all the trees of the fyelde shalbe smytten. I wyll make the Heathen shake at the sound of his fall, when I caste him downe to hell with them that descende into Esa.15c the pyt. All the trees of Eden, with Eze.32c all the chosen and best trees of Libanus, yea, and all they that are planted vpon the waters, shall mourne with him also in the lower habitations: for they shal go downe to hell with him, vnto theym that be slayne with the sweard, which dwelt afore vnder the shadowe of his arme among the Heathen. To whom shalt thou be lykened, that art so glorious and great, a-G mong the trees of Eden? Yet art thou cast downe vnder the earth (amonge the trees of Eden) where thou must lye among vncircumcised, with them that be slaine with the sweard. Euen thus is it with Pharao and all hys people, sayth the Lord God.

The xxxii. Chapter.

I N the eleuenth yere, the first day I. of the tweluth moneth, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me saying: thou sonne of man, take vp a lamentacion vpon Pharao the kyng of E- Eze.19b gypt and saye vnto him, thou arte reputed as a lyon of the Heathen, and as a whalefysh in the sea: thou castest thy waters about the, thou troublest the waters with thy fete and stampest in their floudes. Thus sayth the

Lorde

Eze.22.f and.17.a Lorde God: * I wyll spreade my net ouer thee, namely, a greate multitude of people: these shall dryue thee into my yarne, for I wil cast thee vpon the land, and let thee lye vpon the fielde, that all the fowles of the ayre may syt vpon thee. I will geue all the beasts of the field inough of thee. Thy flesshe will I caste vppon the hilles, and fyll the valeys with thy highnesse. I wil water the lande with the abundaunce of thy blood, euen to the mountayns, and the ryuers shalbe full of thy blud. when thou art put out, I wyl couer the heuen, & make hys starres dimme Esa.33b * I wylle spreade a clowde ouer the Sunne, and the Moone shal not geue her lyght. All the lyghtes of Heauen wyll I put out ouer thee, and bringe darknes vpon thy land, sayth the lorde God. I wylle trouble the heartes of many people, when I bryng thy destruction among the Heathen & countreys, whome thou knowest not. Yea I will make many people with their kings so afraid thorow the, that their heare shall stande vp, when I shake my sweard at theyr faces. Sodeynly shall they be astonied, euery manne in hymselfe, at the daye of thy falle. For thus sayth the Lorde God: The king of Babylons sweard shall come vpon thee, with the swordes of the woorthies wyl I smyte down thy people. All they that bee myghtie amonge the Gentiles shall wast the proud pompe of Egypte, and bryngе downe all her people. All the cattell also of Egypte wyll I destroye, that they shall come no more vpon the waters: so that neither mans foote nor beasts clawe, shall stirre them any more. Then wyll I make theyre waters deepe, and cause theyr floods to runne lyke oyle, saith the Lord God. When I make the lād of Egypte desolate, and whenne the countrey with all that is therin, shall be layde waste, and when I smyte all theym whyche dwelle in it, that they may know that I am the lord. This is the mournynge that the daughters of the Heathen shall make: Yea, a sorow & lamentation shal they take vp, vpon Egypt, & all her people, sayth the Lord God. In the.xii.yeare the.x.day of the moneth cam the woord of the lord vnto me, saying: Thou sonne of man: Take vp a lamentation vpon the people of Egypt, and caste them downe, yea, them I say, and the myghty people of the Heathen also, euen wyth them * that dwell benethe, and wyth theym that go downe into the graue. Downe (how fayre soeuer thou bee) and lay the with the vncircumcised. Among those that be slayne with the sweарde, shal they lye. To the sword is shee alreadye delyuered, therefore plucke down to the grounde, her, and all her multitude. The myghtye woorthies shall speake to hym out of the hyll, and to his healpers, that bee gone downe and lye vncircumcised, & with theym that bee slayne with the sweard. Assur is there also with hys company, & their graues round about which were slain and fel all with the sweard, whose graues lye beside him in the lowe pitte. His commens are buried round about his graue altogether, wounded and slayne wyth the sword, which men afore time brought feare into the lande of the lyuyng. * There is Elam also with all his people, and theyr graues rounde about: whiche all beynge wounded & slayne with the sweard, are gone down vncircumcised vnder the earth, whiche neuertheless sometyme brought feare into the land of the liuing: for wyth whiche they beare their shame, wyth the other that be gone down to the graue Theyr burial is geuen them, and all their people, amonge theym that bee slain. Their graues are rounde about all them, which be vncircumcised, and with them that be slaine thorowe the sweard: for seyng that in tymes paste, they made the land of the lyuynge afrayd, they must now bear theyr own shame with theym that go downe to the pytte, and lye among them that be slayne. There is Meseech also, and Tubal, and theyr people, and their graues rounde about. These all are among the vncircumcised, and theym that be slayne wyth the swearde, because afore tyme they made the lande of the lyuynge afrayde. Shoulde not they then lye also amonge the woorthies, and vncircumcysed Gyauntes: which wyth their weapons are gone downe to hell, whose swordes are layed vnder their heades, whose wickednes is vpon theyr bones: because that as woorthies, they haue brought feare into the land of the lyuinge. Yea amonge the vncircumcysed shalt thou be destroyed, and slepe wyth thē, that G perished throgh the sword. There is Jer.49b the land of Edom wyth theyr kynges, and prynces also, whyche wyth their strength are layed by them that were slayne wyth the sword: yea, amonge the vncircumcysed, and theym whyche are gone downe into the pit. Moreouer, ther be al the prynces of ꝑ north, with al the Sidonians which are gone downe to bee slayne. Wyth their feare and strength they are come to confusion, and lye there vncircumcysed among those that be slaine with the swearde: and beare their owne shame, wyth them that be gon downe to the pit. Nowe when Pharao seeth thys, he shalbe comforted ouer al hys people, that be slayne with the sword both Pharao & all his hoste, sayth the lord God. For I haue geuē my feare in the lād of the liuing. But Pharao and al hys people shal lye amonge the vncircumcised, and among them that be slayne wyth the sword, sayeth the Lord God.

Esa.14 e Eze.31 c Jer 49 e Dan.8.a

¶ The .xxxiii. Chapter.

A Gayne, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying: Thou A sonne of man: Speake to the children of thy people and tell theym: whan I send a swearde vpon a land, yf the people of the lande take a man of their countrye, and sette him to bee b their watchmanne, the same manne (when he seeth the sword come vpon the land) shal blowe the trompet and warne the people. If a manne nowe heare the noyse of the trompette and wyl not be warned, and the swearde come, and take him away: hys bloude shalbe vpon hys owne heade, for he hearde the sounde of the trompet, and wouldе not take heede, therefore hys bloud be vpon him. But yf he wil receaue warning, he shal saue hys lyfe. B Agayne yf the watche manne see the sword come, and blowe it not wyth the trompet, so that the people is not warned, if the sword come then, and take any man from amonge them, the same shalbe taken away in hys owne synne, but his bloud wyll I requyre Exe.3,c of the watchmans hande. And nowe (O thou sonne of man) I haue made thee a watchmanne vnto the house of Israel, that where as thou hearest any thyng out of my mouth, thou maiest warne theym on my behalfe. Yf I saye vnto the wicked, thou wicked, thou shalt surely die, and thou geuest him not warning that he mai beware of his vngodlye waye: then shall the wycked dye in hys owne synne, but hys bloud wil I requyre of thy hand. Neuertheless: yf thou warne the wycked of hys waye, to tourne from it, where as he yet wyll not be turned from it, then shal he dye because of his synne, but thou haste deliuered thy soule. Therfore (O thou son of man) C speake vnto the house of Israel. Yea, say thus: Our offences and sinnes lie vpon vs, and we be corrupt in theym, howe shoulde we then be restored vnto lyfe? Tell them: As truelye as I Eze.18c lyue sayeth the Lord God, I haue no pleasure in the death of the wycked, but muche rather, that the wycked turne from hys way and liue. Turne you, tourne you from your vngodlye wayes, O yee of the house of Israel. Wh wherefore wyll yee dye? Thou soonne of manne, tell the chylderne of thy people: The ryghteousnesse of Eze.18d the righteous shal not saue hym whē soeuer he turneth away vnfaythfully Again, ꝑ wickednes of ꝑ wicked shal not hurt him, whēsoeuer he conuerteth frō his vngodlines, & the righteousnes of the righteous shal not saue his lyfe, whan soeuer he synneth. If I say vnto the righteous, that he shall surely liue, and so he trust to his owne ryghte-rightcousnes, and do synne, then shall his rightcousnes be no more thought D vpon, but in the wickednes ẏ he hath Esa.55.b done, he shal die. • Again, if I say vn-Jer.18.a to the wicked: thou shalt surely die, & so he turn from his sinnes, and do the thing that is lawfull and right: In so muche ẏ the same wicked man geueth ẏ pledge againe, restoreth that he had taken away by robbery, walketh in ẏ cōmaundementes of life, and doth no wrong. Then shall he surely liue, and not die. Yea, the sinnes ẏ he hath don, shal neuer be thought vpon. For in so much as he doth now the thyng that is lawful & right, he shal liue. And yet the childrē of thy people say: Euen, ẏ way of the lord is not right: but they lie, wher as their own way is rather vnright. When the rightous turneth from his rightcousnes, and dothe the thing that is wicked, he shal die therfore. But if the wicked turne frō his wyckednes, doynge the thyng that is lawfull & right, he shall lyue therfore.

Eze.18.f Yet ye saye: • The way of ẏ Lorde is •Ro.2.a not equal: O ye house of Israell, • I will iudge euery one of you after his E wais. In the.xii. yere, the.v. day of ẏ tenth month of our captiuitie, it hapned, ẏ one which was fled out of Jerusalē, cam vnto me, & saide: The citie is destroied. Now ẏ hand of the Lord had bē vpon me the euening afore this man (which was escaped) came vnto me, & had opened my mouth, vntil the morning ẏ he cam vnto me: yea, he ope ned my mouthe, so ẏ I was no more dombe. Thē came ẏ word of the Lord vnto me, & saide: Thou son of mā: these that dwel in ẏ wasted land of Israel, say: Abrahā was but one man, and he had the land in possession: now ar we many, and the land is genē vs to pos-F sesse also. And therfore tel thē. Thus Le.17.d sayth the Lorde God: • In the bloud haue ye eaten, your eyes haue ye lifte Deu.3.a vp to Idoles, • and haue shed bloud:
shall ye then haue the land in possession? Ye leane vpon your swearde, ye worke abhominations, euery one defyleth hys neighbors wyfe: and shall ye then possesse the lande? Saye thou these wordes vnto them. Thus sayth the Lorde God. As truely as I liue, all ye that dwell in this wyldernesse shalbe slain with the sweard: what so euer is vppon the fielde, I wyll geue vnto the beastes to be deuoured: those that be in strong holdes and dennes, shall dye of the pestilence. For I wil make the lande so desolate and waste, and the pompe of her strengthe shall come to an ende. The mountaines of Israel shalbe so wast that no mā shall G trauaile thereby. • Thenne shall they Ezec.5.e learne to know, that I am the Lord, when I make the land waste and desolate, because of all theyr abhominations, that they haue wrought. And thou sonne of man, the childzen of thy people that talke of thee, by the wal-les and in the doores of theyr houses saying one to an other: Come, let vs heare, what word is gone forth from the Lord. These shal come vnto thee after the maner of a great people: yea, as who sayth, they were my people, they syt downe before thee, and here thy wordes, but they doo not thereafter: • for in theyr mouthes they Esa.31.e make a iest of them, and theyr hert Mat.15.
goeth after their owne couetous lucre. And as a ballet that hath a swete tune, and is pleasaunte to synge, so shalt thou be vnto them: thy wordes shall they heare, but they wylle not doo therafter. When thys commeth to passe: (for lo, it commeth in dede) thenne shall they knowe, that there hath ben a prophet among theim.

¶ The.xxxiiii. Chapter.

I

AND the woorde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying: Thou soonne of man, prophecye a-gaynste the shepheardes of Israell, Prophecie and speake vnto theym.
Thus sayeth the LORDE God: Eze.13.a • Woe bee vnto the shepeheardes of Israel, that fede them selues. Shold not the shepeherdes fede the flockes?
Yehaue eaten vp the fatte, yee haue clothed you wyth the wol: The best fed haue ye slayne, but the flock haue ye not norysshed. The weake haue ye Luke.4b not holden vp, * the sicke haue ye not healed, the broken haue ye not bounde together, the oute castes haue ye not brought agayne, the loste haue ye not 1Pet.5a sought, but * churlishlye and cruelye haue ye ruled theym. Thus are they scatred here and ther without a shepherd, yea, al the beastes of the field de-B uoure them, and they go astraye. My sheepe go wandringe vpon all moun-taynes and vpon euery hye hyll: Yea, they be scatred abrode in all ỹ feldes, & ther is no man that careth for them, or seketh after theym. Therefore, O ye shepeherdes, heare the woorde of the Lord. Thus sayth the Lord God: As truelye as I lyue, for so muche as my shepe are robbed, and deuoured of all the wylde beastes of the field, hauing no shepherd: and seyng that my shepherdes take no regarde of my sheepe, but fede them selues only, and not my C shepe. Therfor heare the woord of the Lord (O ye shepherdes) Thus sayth the Lorde God: Beholde, I my selfe wil vpon the shepherdes: and require my shepe from their hands, and make them ceasse from fedyng of my shepe:

yea, the shepherdes shall fede theym selues nomore. For I wil deliuer my sheepe out of their mouthes, so that D they shal not deuoure them after this:
Joh.10a For thus sayth the Lord God: * Be-Heb.13d holde, I will loke to my sheepe my 1Pet.2c selfe, and seke them. Lyke as the shepherd among the flock seketh after the shepe that are scatered abrode, euen so wil I seke after my shepe, and gather them together out of all places, wher they haue bene scatered in the cloudy and darke day. I will bring them out from al people, and gather them together out of all landes. I will bringe them into their owne lande, and fede them vpon the mountaynes of Israell, by the riuers and in all the places of the countrey. I will fede them in right good pastures and vppon the hye mountaynes of Israel shall their foldes be. Ther shal they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shal they fede euen vpon the mountaines of Israel.
I will fede my sheepe my selfe, and bringe theym to their reste, sayth the Lord God. * Such as be lost, will I Luke.4.c seke: such as go astray will I bringe Joh.10c agayne, suche as be wounded, will I bynde vp, suche as be weake, will I make strong, such as be fat and strōg, those will I roote out, and fede them with the thing that is lawful. And as for you (O my shepe) sayth the Lord E God, * I will put a difference among Mat.25.a the shepe, among the wethers, and the geates. Was it not ynough for you, to eate vp the good pasture, but ye muste treade downe the residue of your pasture with your fete also? Was it not ynough for you to dryncke cleare water, but ye muste trouble the residue also with your fete? Thus my shepe must be fayne to eate the thinge, that ye haue troden down with your fete, and to drink it, that ye with your fete haue defiled. Therfore thus sayth the Lord God vnto them: Behold I will feuer the fat shepe from the leane: for so muche as ye haue shot the weake shepe vpon the sydes and shoulders, and runne vppon theym with youre hornes, so longe tyll ye haue vtteriye scattred them abrode. I wil helpe my sheepe, so that they shall nomore be spoyled: yea, I will discerne one shepe from another. I will rayse vp vnto them one only shepherd, euen my seruant * Dauid, he shall * fede them, and Jer.30d he shall be their shepherd. I the Lord * Act.2.e will be their God, and my seruaunte * Dauid shalbe their prince. Euen I Mich.5a the Lorde haue spoken it. Moreouer, F I wyll make a couenaunte of peace with them, and dryue all euill beastes out of the land: so that they may dwel safelye in the wildernes, and slepe in the wods. Good fortune and prosperi tye will I geue the, and vnto all that be round about my hyll. * A prospe- deu.11.b rous shower and rayne will I sende them in due season, that the trees in the wod may bring forth their frutes and the grounde her increase. They shalbe safe in their land, & shall know that I am the Lord, which haue broken their yocke and delyuered theym out

out of the handes of those, that helde G them in subiection. They shall no-more be spoyled of the Heathen, nor deuoured with the beastes of the land but safely shal they dwel, and no man shall fraye them. I will set vp an ex-cellente plante for theym, so that they shal suffer nomore hunger in the land, neyther beare the repryfe of the Heathen any more. Thus shall they vn-derstand, that I the Lorde their God am with them, and that they (euen the house of Israell) are my people sayth the Lord God. Ye men are my flocke, Psa.95 f • ye are the shepe of my pasture: and I am your God, saith the Lord God.

¶ The.xxxb. Chapter.

A MOreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying:
Thou sonne of man, turne Esa.34 a thy face towarde the mounte • Seir, Jer.49 b prophesye vppon it, and saye vnto it.
Eze.35 b Thus sayth the Lord God: Beholde, (O thou mount Seir) I will vpon thee, I will reach out myne hande ouer the, yea, waste and desolate will I make thee. Thy cities will I breake downe, and thou shalt lye voyde, that thou mayest know, howe that I am Nu.20.c the Lord. • For so much as thou bea-Deu.2.a rest an olde enemitie against the children of Israell, and haste drawen the children of Israell vpon the sweard, what tyme as they were troubled and punyshed for their sinne: Therfore, as truely as I liue, saith the Lord God, B I will prepare thee vnto bloode, yea, 1 Mac 5c blood shall folowe vpon thee: • seyng thou layest wayte for bloode, therfore shall blood persecute thee. Thus will I make the mount Seir desolate and waste, and bryng to passe that ther shal no man goo thyther, nor come frome thence. His mountaynes will I fyll with his slayne men: thy hilles, valleys, and riuers, shal lye full of them, that are slayne with the sweard. I will make thee a perpetuall wildernes, so that thy cities shal not returne to their former estate, that ye maye C knowe, how that I am the Lord. And because thou haste sayde: What, bothe these nations and bothe these landes must be myne, and I will haue them in possession, • wher as the Lord was there. Therfore, thus sayth the Lorde Exo.25 f God: As truly as I liue, I will handle the accordynge to thy wrath and gelowsye, lyke as thou hast dealt cruelly with them, that I may be knowē among them, howe I haue punyshed thee. Yea, and that thou also mayest be sure, that I the Lord haue herd all thy despitefull wordes, whiche thou haste spoken againste the mountaynes of Israell, sayinge: Lo, they are made waste, and geuen vs to deuour. Thus D with youre mouthes ye haue made your boaste againste me, yea, and mul-tiplyed your proude wordes againste me, whiche haue herde altogether.
Wherunto thus sayth the Lord God: to the ioye of all the worlde wyll I make the waste. And like as thou (O mount Seir) waste glad, because the heritage of ỹ house of Israel was destroied: euē so wil I do vnto the also, that thou and whol Edom shalbe destroyed, & knowe, that I am the Lord.

¶ The.xxxbi. Chapter.

THou sonne of man, prophesye A vpon the mountaynes of Is-racll, and speake: • Heare the Ezec.6.a worde of the Lord, O ye mountaynes of Israell. Thus saith the lord God.
Because your enemy hath sayd vpon you: A, ha, the hye euerlastyng places are now become ours: prophesie therfore, and speake: thus sayth the Lorde God. Seyng ye be wasted and trodē downe on euerye syde, and become a possessiō vnto the residue of the Gentiles: whiche haue brought you into mennes mouthes, and vnto an euyll name amonge the people. Therfore, heare the woorde of the Lorde God, O ye mountaynes of Israell. Thus, sayth the Lord God vnto the mountaynes and hylles, valleys and dales, to the voyde wylderneste and desolate cityes, whiche are spoyled, and had in derisyon on euery syde, among the residue of the Heathen. Yea, euen thus B sayth the lord God. In the fire of my gelousy haue I take a deuyce against the residue of the Gentiles, & against Eze.35.a all • Edom: which haue taken in my land vnto them selues for a possession:

which also reioyced from their whole harte with a disceitfull stomake, to waste it, and to spoyle it. Prophesye therfore vpō the land of Israel, speak vnto the mountaynes and hilles, to valleys and dales, thus sayth the lord God: Behold, this haue I deuised in my gelousy and terrible wrath. For so muche as ye haue suffred reprofe of the Heathen, therfore thus saieth the Lorde God. I haue sworne that the Gentiles whiche lye about you, shall beare their confusion them selfes. And for you (O mountaynes of Israell) ye shal shote out your braunches, and bryng forth your fruite to my people of Israel, for it is hard by that it will come. Behold, I come vnto you, and vnto you wyll I turne me, that ye C may be tilled and sowen. I will send you much people, which shalbe of all the house of Israell, the cityes shalbe inhabited, and the decayed places shal be repayred agayne. I will prouyde you with muche people and cattelle, which shall increase and bring fruite, I will restore you also to your olde estate, and shewe you more kyndnes then euer ye hadde before: wherby ye shall know that I am the Lord. Yea, people will I sende vnto you (O my folke of Israell) which shal haue the in possession, and thou shalt be their enherytaunce, so that thou shalte noo more be without them. Agayne thus sayth the Lord God. For so muche as they saye vnto you, thou arte an eater vp of men, and a waster of thy people:
therfore thou shalte eate no mo men, neyther destroy thy people anye more sayth the Lord God. And I will not suffer thee for to heare thyne owne confusion amonge the Gentiles from hence forth. Thou shalt not beare the reprofe of the nations, nor caste oute thyne owne people any more, saith the D Lorde God. Moreouer the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, sayinge: O thou sonne of man, when the house of Israel dwelt vpō their own ground, they defyled theym selues with their owne wayes and ymaginacions: so that in my sight their way was lyke the vnclennesse of menstruous women. Wherfore, I poured my wrothfull displeasure vpon thee, because of the bloode that they had shedde in the land, and because of their idols, wher with they had defiled them selues. I scatred them also among the Hethen, so that they were strowed aboute in the landes. Accordyng to their wayes and after their owne inuentions, so E dyd I punyshe them. • Nowe when Esa.52.d they were gone vnto the Hethen, and Ro.15.c come in among them, they dishonored my holy name: so that it was sayd of them: Are these the people of God, and must go out of their owne lande?
Then spared I my holy name, which the house of Israell hadde dyshono-uredde amonge the Gentyles, to whome they camme. Therefore telle the house of Israell: Thus sayth the Lorde God: I do not this for your sakes (O house of Israel) but for my holy names sake, which ye dishonou-red among the Hethen, when ye came to them. Therfore, I will halow my great name agayne which among the Gentiles is euyll spoken of: for ye your selues haue dyshonoured it among them. And the Gentiles shall knowe that I am the Lord, when I am honored in you before their eyes, sayth the Lorde God. As for you, I will take you from amonge the Heathen, and gather you together out of Esa.44.a all countreys, and bryng you agayne Jer.17.a into youre owne lande. • Then wyll I poure cleane water vpon you, and ye shall be cleane: yea, frome all your vnclennesse and from al your Idoles shall I clense you. A newe herte also will I geue you, and a newe spyrte will I put into you. As for that stonye herte, I will take it out of youre F bodye, and geue you a fleshely herte, Deu.8.d I will geue my spyrte amonge you.
• And cause you to walke in my commaundementes, to keepe my lawes,

and

and to fulfyll theym. And so ye shall dwelll in the lande, that I gaue to your forefathers, and ye shall be my people, and I wyll be your God. I will helpe you out of al your vnclennes. I will call for the corne, and wil encrease it, and let you haue no honger. I will multiply the frutes of the trees and the increase of the fielde for you, so that ye shall beare nomore reproke of honger among the Heathen. Then shall ye remember your owne wicked wayes, and your ymaginacions, which were not good: so that ye G shall thinke that ye were worthye to be destroyed, for your sinnes and abhominacions. But I wyll not doo thys for your sakes (sayeth the Lorde God) be ye sure of it. Therfore, O ye house of Israell, be ashamed of youre synnes. Moreouer, thus sayeth the Lorde God: What tyme as I shall clense you from al your offences, then will I make the cityes to be occupied agayne, and wyll repayre the places that be decayed. The desolate lande shall be buylded agayne, which afore tyme laye waste in the syghte of all them that wente by. Then shall it be sayde: this wast lande is become like a garden of pleasure, and the boyde, desolate and broken downe cityes are nowe stronge, and defenced agayne. Then the residue of the Heathen that lye round about you, shall know that I am the Lorde, whiche repayre that that was broken downe, and plante agayne, that that was made waste. Euen I the Lord haue spoken it, and will doo it in dede. Thus sayeth the Jer.53 a Lord God: I will yet once be founde agayne of the house of Israell, and do this for them: I shall increase them as a flocke of men. Lyke as the holye flocke and the flocke of Ierusalem are in the hye solempne feastes: so shal also the wylde wasted citys be filled with flockes of men: and they shall knowe that I am the Lord.

The xxxvii. Chapter.

A THe hand of the Lorde came bypō me, and caried me out in the spyrete of the Lorde, and let me downe in a playne fielde that laye full of bones, and he led me rounde about by them: and beholde, the bones that laye vpon the fielde, were very many, and maruelous drye also. Then sayde he vnto me: Thou sonne of man: thinkest thou these bones may liue again. I answered, O Lord God, thou knowest. And he sayd vnto me: Prophecie thou vpon these bones: and speake vnto them. Ye drye bones, heare the worde of the Lorde. Thus sayth the Lord God vnto these bones: Behold, I will put breath vnto you, that ye may lyue: I will geue you sinowes, and make fleshe to growe vpon you, & couer you ouer with skynne: and so Gene.2b B geue you breath, that ye may lyue, and knowe that I am the Lord. So I prophecied, as he had cōmanded me And as I was prophecying, ther cam a noyse and a great mocion, so that the bones ranne euerye one to another. Now whē I had loked, behold, they had sinowes, and fleshe grewe vpon theym: and aboue they were couered with skynne, but there was no breath in theym. Then sayde hee vnto mee. Thou sonne of man, prophesye thus towarde the wynde: prophesye, and speake to the wynde. Thus saith the C Lord God. Come (O thou ayre) frō the foure wyndes, and blowe vpon these slayne that they may be restored to lyfe. So I prophecied as he hadde commaunded me: then came the breth vnto theym, and they receaued lyfe, and stode vp vpon their fete, a maruelous greate sorte. Moreouer, he sayde vnto me: Thou sonne of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. Behold, they say: Our bones ar dried vppe, our hope is gone, we are cleane cut of. Therfore prophesye thou, and speake vnto theym: thus sayeth the Lorde God. Beholde, I wyll open D your graues (O my people) and take you oute of youre Sepulchres, and bring you into the lande of Israell agayne. So shall ye knowe that I am the Lord, when I open your graues and bring you out of them. My spyrete also will I put in you, & ye shal lyue:

I

I will set you agayne in your owne lande, and yee shall knowe that I am the Lord which haue sayd it, and fulfilled it in deede. The woorde of the Lorde came vnto mee, sayinge: thou sonne of man, take a sticke, and wryte vpon it. Vnto Juda and to the chyldren of Israel hys companions. The E take another sticke and wryte vppon it: Vnto Joseph the stocke of Ephraim, and to al the housholde of Israell hys companions. And then, take both these together in thyne hand, so shall there be one sticke therof. Now if the children of the people saye vnto thee, wylte thou not shewe vs, what thou meanest by these? Then geue theym thys aunswere: thus saith the Lorde Osee. 1 b God: Behold. * I will take the stocke of Joseph, whiche is in the hande of Ephraim and of the trybes of Israell hys felowes, and will put them to the stocke of Juda, and make theym one stocke, and they shalbe one in my hand And the two sticckes wherupon thou writest, shalt thou haue in thine hand that they may see, and shalte say vnto them. Thus saith the Lorde God: be-F hold, I will take awaye the chyldren of Israell from among the heathen, vnto whom they be gone, and will ga ther them together on euery side, and bryng theim agayne into their owne lande: yea, I will make one people of theym in the lande, vppon the moun-taines of Israel, and they al shal haue but one kinge. They shal nomore bee two peoples from hence forth, nether be deuyded into two kingdomes: they shall also defyle theym selues nomore wyth theyr abhominations, theyr Idols, and al their wycked doinges. I will helpe them out of all their dwellynge places, wherein they haue synned: and wyl so clense them, that they shalbe my people, and I their God.
G Dauid my seruant shalbe theyr king, and they all shal haue one shepeheard only. They shal walke in my lawes, and my commaundementes shal they both kepe and fulfyl. They shal dwel in the lande, that I gaue vnto Jacob my seruaunte, wher as youre fathers also haue dwelt: Ye, euen in the same lande shall they, their children: and their childers children dwel for euermore, and my seruaunt Dauid shalbe their euerlastinge prince. Moreouer, I will make a bonde of peace wyth them, which shalbe vnto theym an euerlasting couenant. I wil settle the also, and multiplye them, my sanctuarye wyl I set among theym for euermore. * My dwellynge shalbe wyth Leu. 26 b theym: yea, I wyll bee their God, and they shalbe my people. Thus the hethen also shall knowe that I the Lord am the holye maker of Israell, when my sanctuary shalbe among them for euermore. ¶ The .xxxviii. Chapter. J

AND the woorde of the Lorde came vnto me, sayinge: Thou sonne of man, tourne thy face towarde Gog the lande of Magog, which is the chiefe prince at Meselech and Tubal: prophecie agaynste hym, and saye. Thus saith the Lorde God: Ezec. 39 a * O Gog thou chief prynce of Me- Apo. 20. b selech and Tubal: behold, I wil vppon thee, and wil turne the about and put a byt in thy chawes: I wyll bryng thee forth and all thy hoste, both horse and horsemen, which be al weaponed of the best fashion: a great people that handle altogether speares, shyldes, and swoordes: the Perses, Mozians and with them the Libians, which al beare shildes and helmettes: Gomer and all hys hostes: the house of Thogorma out of the north quarters, and all hys hoostes, yea, and much people B wyth thee. Therfore prepare thee, set thy selfe in araye wyth all thy people, that are come vnto thee by heapes, and be thou their defence. After mani dayes thou shalt be visited, and in the latter yeares thou shalt come into the lande that hath beene destroyed wyth the swoorde, and nowe is replenished agayne wyth diuers people vpon the mountaynes of Israell, whych haue long lien waste. Ye they bee broughte out of the nations, and dwell all safe Thou shalt come vppe lyke a storme wether to couer the lande, and as it wer a darke cloude, thou with al thyn hostes

hostes, and a great multitude of peo-C ple with thee. Moreouer thus sayth the Lord God: at the same time shall many thynges come into thy mynde, so that thou shalt ymagin myschyefe, and saye: I will vp to yonder playne land, seyng they sit at ease, and dwel so safely (for they dwell all without any walles, they haue neither barres nor dores) to spoyle them, to rob them to laye hand vpon their so well inha-D bited wildernesses: agaynst that people that is gathered together from amonge the hethen, which haue gotte catteil & good, and dwell in the midst of the lande. Then shall Saba, and Dedan, and the marchantes of Thar sis with all their worthyes say vnto thee. Art thou come to rob? Hast thou gathered thy people together because thou wilte spoyle: to take siluer and E golde: to carye away cattel and good, and to haue a great praye? Therefore,
O thou sonne of man, thou shalt prophecie and saye vnto Gog. Thus saieth the Lorde God. In that day thou shalt knowe that my people of Israel dwelleth safe: and shalte come from thy place oute of the Northe partes:
thou & much people with thee which ryde vpon horses, whereof there is a great multitude and an innumerable sorte. Yea, thou shalt come vppon my people of Israel, as a cloude to couer F the lande. This shall come to passe in the latter dayes: I wil bryng thee vp into my lande, that the heathen maye knowe me, when I get me honoure vpon thee (O Gog) before their eies.
Thus saieth the Lorde God: Thou art he, of whom I haue spoken afore tyme by my seruauntes the prophetes of Israel, whiche prophecied in those dayes and yeres, that I should bring thee vppon theym. At the same tyme, when Gog commeth vp into the land of Israel (saieth the Lorde) shall my indignation go foorthe in my wrath.
Dan. 12.a For in my gelousie and hote displea-Luk. 21.e sure I haue deuysed, that there shal-be a great trouble in the land of Isra el at that time. The very fishes in the sea, the fowles in the ayre, the beastes of the field, and al the men that are vp-on the earth, shal tremble for fear of me. The hilles also shalbe turned vp G syde downe, the stayres of stone shall fal, and al the walles shal sinke to the ground. I will cal for a sweard vpon them in all my mountaynes, saith the Lord God: so that euery mans swerd shalbe vpon another. With pestilence and blud wyl I punyth him, stormie raine and haile stones, fyre and brenstone wyl I cause to rayne vpon hym and all hys heape, yea, and vppon all that greate people that is with hym.
Thus wyl I be magnifyed, honored, and knowen among the heathen: that they may be sure, howe that I am the Lord.

¶ The. xxxix. Chapter.

THerfore, O thou son of mā, prophecie agaynst Gog, & speake. ¶ Thus sayeth the Lorde God: Behold, * O Gog thou chiefe prynce Eze. 38.c at Meschech and Tubal, I wyll vpon the, and punyth thee with sixe plages and leade thee from the north parres, and bryng thee vp to the mountaines of Israell. As for thy bowe, I wyll smyte it out of thy left hande, and cast thyne arowes out of thy ryght hand.
Thou with all thyne heape, & al the people yͭ is with thee, must fall vpon the mountaines of Israel. Then wil I geue thee vnto fowles and wylde beastes of the fielde, to bee deuoured:
there must thou lye vppon the fielde:
for euen I the Lorde haue spoken it, ¶ sayeth the Lorde God. Into Magog and amonge those that syt so careles in the Iles: wil I sende a fyre, and they shal knowe, that I am the Lord, I wyll make also the name of my ho-linesse to be knowen among my people of Israel: and I wyl not iette my holy name be euil spoken of any more:
but the very heathen also shal knowe that I am the Lorde, the holye one of Israel: Behold, it commeth, and shal be fulfylled in deede, sayeth the Lorde God. Eyhs is the daye whereof I haue spoken. They that dwell in the cityes of Israell, shal go forth and set fyre

fyre vppon the weapons, and burne them, sheldes and speares, bowes and arowes, billes and clubbes: seuen yeres shal they bee burnynge thereof, so that they shall els bryng no stickes from the fielde, neyther haue neede to hewe downe any out of the woodde. For they shal haue weapons inough to burne. They shal robbe those that robbed theym, and spoyle those that C spoyled them, saith the Lord God. At the same tyme wil I geue vnto Gog a place to be buryed in Israell, euen the valley wherthrough men go from the easte to the seawarde. Those that trauayle thereby shal stop their noses for the stenche. There shal Gog & all hys people be buried: and it shalbe called, the valley of the people of Gog. Seuen monethes long shal the house of Israell be burienge of theym, that they may clense the lande. Yea, all the people of the land shal bury theym. D It shalbe a glorious daye, when I get me that honour, saith the Lord God.
D They shal ordeyn men also to be dead buriers, euer going throughe the land, and appoynt them certayne places to bury those in, which remayne vppon the field, that the land may be clensed. From ende to ende shal they seke and that seuen monethes longe. Nowe those that go throughe the land, where they see a mans bone, they shal set vp a token by it, tyll the deade buryers haue buryed it also, in the valley of the people of Gog. And the name of the citie shalbe called Hamonah (that is a multitude) Thus shal they make the lande cleane. And thou sonne of manne: thus sayeth the Lorde God: Speake vnto al the foules and euery byrde, yea, and to al the wyld beastes of the fyelde, heape you together, and come, gather you round about vppon my slaughter, that I haue slayne for Apo.19 d you: euen a great slaughter vpon the mountaynes of Israel, eate flesh and drynke bloud. Ye shal * eat the flesh of the worthies, and drynke bloude of the princes of the land: of the wethers of the lambes, of the gotes, and of the oxen that be all slayne at Basan. Eat the fat youre bealye full, and drynke bloud, til ye be dronken of the slaughter, whiche I haue slayne vnto you. Fyl you at my table wyth horses and strong horsemen, wyth captaynes and men of warre, sayth the Lord God. I F wyl bryng my glory also amonge the Gentyles, that all the heathen may se my iudgement that I haue kepte, and my hand which I haue layed vppon theym: that the house of Israell maye knowe, howe that I am the Lorde God from that day forth. And the hethen shall knowe, that wher as the house of Israel were ledde into captiuitie: it was for theyr wyckednesse sake, because they offended me. For the which cause I hid my face from them and deliuered theym into the handes of theyr enemies, that they myghte be all slayn wyth the sword. Accordyng to their vnclennes and vnfaithful delynges, so haue I entreated them, and G hyd my face from theym. Therefore thus sayeth the Lord God: Now wil I bryng agayne the captaynes of Jacob, and haue mercy vppon the whole house of Israel, and be gelous for my holye names sake. Al their confusion and offence that they haue don against me shalbe taken away: and so safelye shall they dwel in their lande, that no manne shal make theym afrayde. And when I haue brought theym agayne from amonge the people, whē I haue gathered them together oute of their ennemyes landes, and am praysed in them before many hethen: Then shal they know, that I am the Lord their God which suffred them to be led into captiuitie amonge the heathen, but nowe haue I brought theym agayne into their owne land, and not left one of theym ponder. After that wyll I hide my face nomore from them, * but Ezr.36 wyll poure out my spiryte vppon the house of Israel, saith the Lorde God.

¶ The .xl. Chapter.

IN the fiftenth yere of oure captiuitye, in the begynnynge of the I yeare, the tenth daye of the month: that is the fouretenth yeare after that the Citie was smytten downe: the same same daye came the hand of the Lorde vpon me, and caried me forth: euen into the land of Israel, brought he mee in the visions of God: and sette mee downe vpon a maruelous hye mountayne, wherevpon there was a buyldyng (as it had ben of a city) toward the North. Thyther he caried me, and behold, there was a man, whose similitude was lyke brasse, which hadde a threde of flaxe in his hand and a mette rodde also. He stode in the dooze, and sayde vnto me: thou sonne of manne marke well wyth thyne eyes, herken to wyth thyne eares, and fasten it in thyne heart whatsoeuer I shal shewe the, for to that intent that they myght bee shewed thee, therefore arte thou brought hyther. And whatsoeuer thou seest, thou shalt certify the house of Israel therof. Beholde, there was B a wall on the outsyde rounde aboute the house: the metrodde that he had in his hande, was sixe cubites long and a spanne. So he measured the bredth of the buyldynge, whiche was a metrodde, and the heyghte also a metrod. Then came he vnto the east doze, and wente vp the staires, and measured the postes of the doze, whereof euery one was a meeterod thycke. Euerye chamber was a meterodde longe and brode: betwene the chaumbers were fyue cubytes. The pooste of the dooze wythin the porch, was one mettrod. He mesured also the porche of the innermer doze whych contayned a mete rod. Then measured he the entrye of the dooze, that contayned eyght cubites: and hys Pyllers twoo Cubytes: and this entry stode inward. The C chambers of the doze eastward, were three on euerye syde, alike broade and longe. The pyllers also that stoode of bothe the sydes were of one measure After thys, he measured the wydenes of the dooze, which was tenne cubites, and the heyght of the doze xiii. cubites. The edge before the chambers was one cubyte broade vppon bothe the sides, and the chambers syxe cubites wyde on eyther syde. Hee measured the dooze from the rydge of one chamber to another, whose wydenes was .xxv. cubytes, and one doze stode agaynst another. He made pyllers also ix. cubytes hye, rounde aboute the court doze. Before the inwarde parte vnto the foze entrye of the innermer doze were fyftye cubites. The chambers and theyr pyllers within, rounde aboute vnto the doze hadde fine windowes. So had the foze entrye also, whose wyndowes wente rounde about wythin. And vppon the pyllers there stode date trees. Then brought he me into the foze court wheras wer chambers and paued wozkes, made in the foze courte rounde aboute thirtye chambers vppon one paued woozke. Now the paued wozke was a longe beside the doozes, and that was the lower paued woozke. After thys hee measured the bredth from the lower doze, vnto the innermer courte of the outsyde, which had an C. cubites vppon the Easte and the Northe parte. And the dooze in the vttermost court toward the North, measured he after the length and bredth: hys thze chambers on eyther syde wyth hys pillers, and foze entryes: which had euen the measure of the fyrst doze. His heyghte was fifty cubites, in bredth .xxv. cubites, hys wyndowes, and porches wyth hys date trees, hadde euen lyke measure as the doze toward the East: there were seuen steppes to go vpon, and their porche before theim. Nowe the doze of the innermer courte stode streyght ouer against the dooze, that was toward the northeast. From one D doze to another he measured C. cubites. After that, he brought me to the southsyde, where there stoode a dooze toward the south, whose pillers and porches he measured, these had ye first measure, & with ther porches they had windowes round about, like the first windowes. The heigth was fyftye cubites, the bredth .xv. with steppes to go vp vpon: his porch stode before with his pillers & date trees on ether side. And ye doze of the innermer court stode toward the south, & he mesured frō one doze to another an C. cubites.

He

So he brought me into thinnermost coart, thorow the doore of the southsyde, which he measured, and it hadde the measure aforesayd. In like maner his chambres, pilers, and forentries, hadde euen the foresayd measure also.
And he had with his porches rounde aboute wyndowes of fyftye cubites heigth, and .xxv. cubites broade. The porches round about were .xxv. cubi-tes longe, and .v. cubites broade: and his porch reached vnto the vttermost courte, vppon his pyllers, there were E date trees, and eyght steppes to go vp vpon. He brought me also into the in most court vpon the east side, and mea sured the doore, according to the measure aforesayd, his chambers, pilers, and porches, had euen the same measure, as the fyrst had: and with his por ches, he had windowes round about.
The heighte was fyftie Cubites, the breadth .xxv. cubites, his porche reached vnto the vttermost court: his pil lers also had date trees on either syde, and. viii. steppes to go vp vpon. And he brought me to the north doore, and measured it, whyche also hadde the foresayd measure. His chambres, pillers, & porches, had wyndowes roũd about: whose height was. l. cubites, and the breadth .xxv. His pillers stode toward the vtmoste courte, and vpon them bothe were date trees, and. viii. steppes to go vp vpon. There stode a chambre also, whose entrance was at F the doore pillers, and there the burnt offerings were washed. In the doore porch, there stode on eyther syde two tables for the slaughtyng: to slea the brent offrynges, synoffrings, and tres-passe offrynges therupon. And on the outsyde as men go foorth to the north doore, there stode two tables. Foure tables stode on eyther side of the dore that is. viii. tables, wherevppon they slaughted. Foure tables were of hewen stone for the burnt offrynges, of a cubite and a half long and broade, and one cubite hye, wherupon were laied the beselles and ornamentes, whiche were vsed to the burnt and slaine offeringes, when they were slaughted.
And within, there wer hookes foure fyngers broade, fastened round about to hang flesshe vpon, and vpon the tables was layd the offering flesshe. On the outside of the innermore doore wer the syngers chambers in the inward court beside the northe doore ouer a-gaynst the south. There stode one also beside the east doore northeward. G And he sayd vnto me: This chamber on the Southe syde, belongeth to the priestes, that kepe the habitation: and this towarde the north, * is the prie- 1.pa.25.
stes that wayt vpon the aulter: whiche bee the soonnes of * Sadoch, that 3.reg.2. doo seruice before the Lorde, in steede of the childzen of Leui. So he measured the fore court, whiche hadde in length an. C. cubites, and almuche in breadthe by the foure corners. Nowe the aulter stode before the house. And he brought me to the fore entric of the house, and measured the walles by the entry doore, whiche were. v. cubites long on either side. The thicknes also of the doore on either syde was thre Cubites. The lengthe of the porche was. xx. cubites, the breadth. xi. cubi-tes, and vpon steppes wente men vp to it: by the walles also were pilers on eyther syde one.

¶ The. xli. Chapter.

AFter thys, he brought me to the temple, and measured the postes, whiche were of bothe sydes sixe cubites thicke, accordynge to the widenes of the tabernacle. The breadthe of the doore was ten cubites and the walles of the doore on eyther syde. v. cubites. He measured ꝑ length therof, whiche conteyned. xl. cubites, and the breadth. xx. Then went he in, and measured the doore postes, which were two cubites thicke: but the dore it self was sixe cubites, & the bredth of ꝑ doore was. viii. cubits. He measured the length and breadth therof, whiche were euery one. xx. cubites before the temple. And he sayde vnto me: This is the holyest of all. He measured also the wall of the house, which was. vi. cubites. The chãbers that stode roũd aboute aboute the howse, were euerye one fower cubytes wyde: and one stoode harde vppon another, whereof there were three and thirtie, there stoode postes beneth by the walles rounde about the house, to beare them vp, but B in the wall of the house, they wer not fastened. The syde chambers wer the hyer and wyder, and had steppes thōrough them rounde aboute the house.

Thus was it wyder aboue, that frō the lowest, men might go to the hiest by the mydde chambers. I sawe also that the house was verye hye rounde aboute. The foundation of the syde chambers was a metrod, that is syxe cubytes broade. The thyckenes of the syde wall wythout, conteyned fiue cu bites, and so didde the out wall of the chambers in the house. Betwene the chambers was the wydenes twentie cubites rounde about the house. The chamber dozes stode ouer against the outwal, the one doze was toward the nozth, the other towarde the South:
and the thyckenes of the oute wall was. v. cubites round about. Nowe the buylding that was seperated toward the west, was. lxx. cubits wide:
the wal of the building was fiue cu-bites thicke rounde aboute, and the length four scoze cubites and ten. So he measured the house, whyche was an hundzed cubites longe, and the se-perated buylding wyth the wal was an hundzed cubites longe also. The C wydenes befoze the house, and of it that was seperated toward the East, was an hundzed cubyts. And he mesured the length of the buyldinge be-foze and behynd wyth the chambers vpon both the sydes: and it conteyned an hundzed cubytes. The innermer temple, the pozch of the foze court, the syde postes, these three had syde wyndowes and pyllers round about ouer agaynst the postes, from the grounde vp to the windowes. The windows theym selues were sieled ouer wyth boozdes: and thus was it aboue the doze vnto the inmost house: and with out also. Yea the whole wal on euery syde both wythin and wythout was sieled ouer with great bozdes. There were cherubins and date trees made also, so that one date tree stoode ouer betwyxte twoe cherubins. One cherub had two faces, the face of a manne D lokynge aslyde towarde the date tree, and a lyons face on the other syde.
Thus was it made round about in al the house. Yea the cherubins and date trees wer made from the grounde vp aboue the doze, and so stoode they also vpon the wal of the temple. The hye postes of the temple were foure squa-red, and the fashion of the sanctuarye was • euen as it appeared vnto me a- Eze.1.e. foze in the vision. • The table was of • Exo.23 wood. iii cubites hye, and. ii. cubytes long: his cozners, the length and the walles were of wood. And hee sayde vnto me: This is the table that shall stande befoze the Lozde. The temple and the holiest of all, hadde eyther of them two dozes: and euery dooze had two lytle wyckettes which wer folden in one vppon another, on euerye syde two. And vppon the dozes of the temple, there were made cherubyns and date trees, lyke as vpon the wal-les: and a great thycke balke of wood was befoze on the outside of the pozch Upon both the sydes of the walles of the pozche, there wer made depe windowes and date trees, hauing beames and balkes, lyke as the house had.

¶ The. xlii. Chapter.

THen caried hee me oute into the foze courte towarde the nozth, and bzoughte me into the chamber that stode ouer agaynst the backebuylding nozthward, whiche had the length of an hundzed cubytes, whose doze turned toward the Nozth. The wydenes contayned fyftye cubytes: ouer agaynste the twentye cubites of the innermer courte, and againste the paued wozke that was in the courte, besyde al these three, there stoode pyl-lers, one ouer agaynste another. And befoze thys chamber ther was a wal-kinge place of ten cubites wyde, and within was a way of one cubit wide and their dozes toward the Nozthe.
Thus the hiest chambers wer alway narrower then the lowest and myddlemooste of the buyldinge, for they bare chamber vpon chaumber, & stode three together one vpon another, not hauinge pyllers lyke the fore courte: therfore were they smaller then those benethe and in the middest, to reckon B from the ground vpward. The wall wythout that stode by the chambers toward the vtmooste courts vpon the fore syde of the chambers, was fiftye cubytes long: for the length of the vtmoste chambers in the fore court was fyftie cubytes also: but the lengthe therof before the temple was an hundred cubytes. These chambers hadde vnder them an intraunce of the East syde, whereby a man myght goe into them out of the forcourt through the thicke wal of the fore court towarde the east, ryght ouer agaynst the separated building. Before the same building vpon this syde, there wer chambers also which had a way vnto them lyke as the chamber of the northside, C of the same length and wydenesse.

Their intraunce, fashion, and doores wer also of the same maner. Yea, euen lyke as the other chamber dores wer: so were those also of the southsyde.
And before the way toward the syngers steppes on the easte syde, there stode a dore to go in at. Then sayd he vnto me: The chambers towarde the north and the south which stande before the backe building: those be holy habitations, wherin the priestes that do seruice before the Lord, muste eate the mooste holye offerynges: and there must they laye the moste holye offerynges, meatoffringes, sinne offerynges, and trespasse offringes: for it is an holy place. Whē the prestes come therin, they shal not go out into the forcourt: but seyng they be holy, they shal leaue the clothes of their ministration, and put on other garmentes, when they haue anye thinge to do wyth the people. Nowe when he had measured all
D the innermer house, he broughte mee forth through the east part, and measured the same round about. He measured the east syde wyth the metrod, wyche round aboute conteyned fyue hundred metroddes: And the Northsyde measured hee whiche contayned round about euen so much. The other two sydes also toward the south and the west, which he measured, conteyned eyther of them fyue hundred metroddes. So he measured all the foure sydes, where there went a wal round about. v. C. metroddes longe, and as brode also wyche separated the holye from the vnholy.

The. xliii. Chapter.

SO he broughte mee to the doore
I that tourneth towarde the east.
Behold, then came the glorye of the God of Israel from out of the east whose voyce was lyke a great noyse of waters, and the earth was lyghtened with his glory. His syght to loke Eze. 10 vpon, was lyke the first, that I sawe when I wente in, what tyme as the Eze. 1. 8 citie should haue ben destroyed: and lyke the vision that I sawe by the water of Cobar. Then fell I vppon my face: but the glory of the Lord cam into the house, through the east doore. So a wynd toke me vp, and brought me into the innermer courte, and behold, the house was full of the glorye of the Lorde. I heard one speakynge vnto me oute of the house: and there B stoode one by me, that sayd vnto mee: Esay. 66 O thou sonne of man, this rowme Apo. 21 is my seate, and the place of my foote steppes where as I wil dwel among the children of Israel for euermore: so that the house of Israel shal nomore defyle my holy name, neither they nor their kinges through their whoredom through their hie places, and through the dead bodies of their kings: which haue builded their thresholds in maner harde vppon my thresholdes, and their postes almost at my postes, and a wall betwyxte me and them. Thus haue they defyled my holy name with their abhominations, that they haue committed. Wherfore I haue destroied them in my wrath. But nowe they shal put away their whoredome and the dead bodies of theyr kyngs out of my syght, that I may dwell amonge them

C theym for euermore. • Therefore, Zach.2.a O thou sonne of man, shew thou the houshold of Israel a temple that they may be ashamed of their wickednes & me-sure them selues an exãple therat.
And whẽ they be ashamed of al their worckes, thẽ shew them the forme and fashion of the tẽple, the cõming in, the going out, al the maner & descryption therof: yea, al the ples and ordinances of it, that they may kepe & fulfil al the fashions, and customes thereof. This D is the description of ỹ house. Aboue vpon the mount round aboute all the corners, it shalbe the holiest of al. Be hold, that is the description & fashion of the house. This is the measure of ỹ alter, after the true cubite: which is a spã longer thẽ another cubit, his bottom in the middest was a cubit longe and wide, & the ledge that went roũd about it, was a span brode. This is the heigth of the alter. From ỹ groũd to the lower steps, the length is. ii. cu bits: and the bredth. i. cubit: and from the lower steps to the hier, are foure cubites, and the bredth but one cubit.
Exo.27.a • The aulter was. iiii. cubits hie, and frõ the aulter vpward, stode. iiii. hornnes, and it was. xii. cubites long, and
xii. cubits brode, vpon the iiii. corners the coueringe of the aulter was. xiiii. cubites long and brode vpon the four corners, and the ledge that went roũd about, had halfe a cubyte, and the bot-tome therof round about one cubyte: E his steppes stode toward the east. And he sayd vnto me: Thou sonne of man, thus saith the Lord God: these are the ordinaunces and lawes of the aulter:
in the daye, whan it is made to offer burntofferinges, and to sprinkle blud ther vpon. To the priestes, to the Leuytes, that be of the sede of • Sadock Ezc.44.b and treade before me to do me seruice, sayth the Lord God. Vnto these geue thou a yong bullocke for a synoffring:
and take the blud of him, and sprinkle his four hornes withal: and the foure corners of the aulter couering, with the ledge that goth round about, ther with shalt thou clense it, and recõcile Lcu.16.f it. • Thou shalt take the bullocke also of the sinoffringe, and burne him in a seuerał place without the sanctuarte The next day, take a goatbucke, with out blemish for a synoffring, to reconcile the aultar withal, lyke as it was reconcyled with the bullock. Now when thou haste made it cleane, then Leui.22.
offre a ponge bullocke • without ble-myshe, and a ramme oute of the flocke without blemish also. Offer thẽ before the Lorde: and let the priest caste • salt therupon, and geue them so vnto Leui.2.b the Lord for a burntoffringe. Seuen G dayes shalt thou bring euerye daye a goat bucke for syn. A ponge bullocke and a ram of the flocke, both without blemish, shal they offer. Seuen dayes shall they reconcyle and clense the altar, and offre vpõ it. When these daies are expired, then vpon the eyghte day and so forth, the priestes shal offer their burntoffrings and healthoffrings vp-on the aultar: so wil I be mercyfull vnto you, sayth the Lord God.

C The. xliiii. Chapter.

AFter this he broughte me a- B gayn to the outward dooze of the sanctuarie on the east side and that was shutte. Then sayde the Lord vnto me: this dooze shalbe still shutte, and not opened for any man to go thorow it: but onely for the Lorde God of Israell: yea, he shall go tho-row it, els shall it be shutte still. The prince him selfe shall come thorow it, that hee maye eate breadde before the Lord. At the porche shall he come in, and there shall he go out again. Then brought he me to the dooze vppon the north syde of the house. And as I loked aboute me, beholde, • the glory of Exo.24.d
the Lorde fylled the house: and I felle and 60.e downe vppon my face. So the Lorde Num.9. spake vnto me: O thou sonne of man 4.re.8.b fasten this to thyne hearte: Beholde, 2.pa.7.a and take dyligente heede to all that I wyll say vnto thee, concernyng all the ordynaunces of the LORDE and all hys lawes: ponder wel with thyne hert the comyng in of the house and the going forth of the sanctuary:
and telle that obstinate houshold.

of Israel. Thus saith the Lord God: O hous of Israel, ye haue now done ynough with all your abhominations, seynge that ye haue brought into my sanctuary straungers, hauing vncircumcised hertes and flesshe, where thorow my sanctuary is defiled, whē ye offer me bread, fat and blood. Thus with al your abhominations ye haue broken my couenaunte, and not kept the holy ordinances of my sanctuary: but set kepers of my sanctuarye, euen after your own mynd. Therfore thus C saith the Lord God: of all the straungers that dwel among the childzen of Israell, no strangers whose hert and flesshe is not circumcised, shall come within my sanctuary: Nay, nor the Leuites that be gone backe fro me: and haue disceaued the people of Israell with all errours, going after their ydoles: therfore shall they beare their owne wickednes. Shold they be set and ordeyned to minister vnder the dores of the house of my sanctuarye: And to do seruice in the house: to slay burntofferinges and sacrifices for the people: to stand before them, & to serue them, seynge the seruice that they do them, is before their ydoles, and cause the house of Israell to stōble thorow 3 Reg. 2 f their wickednes: * For the which he D cause I haue pluckt out myne hande ouer them, saith the lord God, so that nowe they must beare their own iniquitie, and not to come nie me to serue me with their priesthode, in my sanctuary, and most holyest of al: that they may beare their owne shame and abhominacions, which they haue done. Shold I vse them to be porters of the house, and to all the seruice that is done therin? But the priestes, the Le-
Eze. 44 b uites, the sōne of * Sadoch, that kept the holye ordinaunces of my sanctuarye, whenne the childzen of Israell were gone fro me, shall come to me to do me seruice, to stande before me, and to offer me the fat and the blood, saith E the Lord God. They shall go into my sanctuary, and treade before my table: to do me seruice, and to wayte vppon myne ordinaunces. Now when they go in at the doores of the innermer court: they shall put on lynen clothes, so that no wollyn come vppon them, while they do seruice vnder the dores of the innermer courte, and within. They shall haue fayre lynnen bonets vpon their heades: and lynen breches vpon their loynes, which in their labour they shall not put aboute them. And when they go forth to the people into the outward court, they shal put of the clothes wherin they haue ministred, and laye them in the habitatiō of the sanctuary, and put on other apparell, lest they vnhalowe the people with their clothes, * They shall Leu. 19 f not shaue their heades, nor norysh the bushe of their heare, but rounde their heades only. * All the priestes that go Leu. 10. c into the inmost court shall drinke no wine. * They shal marry no widow, Leu. 21 b neyther one that is put from her hus- Osee. 1 a bande: but a mayde of the sede of the house of Israell, or a wydowe that hath had a priest before. * They shall deu. 17 c shew my people the differēce betwen the holy & vnholy, betwene the cleane and vncleane. If anye discorde aryse they shall discerne it: and geue sentēce after my iudgementes. My solempne G feastes, my lawes and ordinaunces shall they kepe, & halow my sabothes. * They shall come at no deade person Leu. 21 a to defyle them selues, excepte it be father or mother, sonne or daughter, bro- Num. 6 b ther or sister, that hath had yet no husband, in such may they be defiled. And when he is clensed, there shalbe rekened vnto him. vii. dayes: and if he go into the sanctuary agayn to do seruice he shall bryng a synoffering, saith the Lord God. * They shall haue an he- deu. 18. a ritage: yea, I my selfe wyll be their Nu. 18. c heritage: els shal ye geue them no pos- Jos. 13 b. session in Israell, for I am their possession. The meatoffering, sinoffring and trespaceoffering shal they eat, and euery dedicate thing in Israel shalbe theirs. The firstlinges of all the first frutes, & al their frewilofferings shal be the priestes. Ye shall geue vnto the priestes also all the first frute of your first bozne, all I saye, and all that is separated vnto God, all your heaue-offerynge I say) shall be the prestes, Exo. 21. and also the fyrstlyngs of your dough Leui. 12. that God may prosper the residue. • But no deade carpon shall the priest eate, nor such as is deuoured of wyld beastes, fowles, or cattell.

¶ The. xlv. Chapter.

A When ye deuide the land by the Ezr. 47. lot ye shal put aside one-part for the Lord, to be holy frome other landes: namely xxv. M. mette roddes long, and. x. M. broade. This shall bee holye, as wide as it is round about. Of this part there shal belong vnto the sanctuary. v. C. metroddes in all the foure corners, and. l. cubites wide rounde about to the suburbes. And from this mesure, namely of. xxv. M. met rods long, and ten M. brode, thou shalt measure wherin the sanctuarie & the holiest of all may stand. The residu of that holy grou̇nd shalbe the priests, which do seruice in the sanctuarie of the Lord, & go in before the Lorde to serue hym, that they B maye haue roome to dwell in. As for the sanctuarie, it shall stand for it self: and to the Leuites, that serue in the house, there shalbe geuen. xx. habitations of the. xxv. M. length, & x. M. breadth: ye shall geue also vnto the citie a possession of. v. M. mette roddes broade, and. xxv. M. long, beside the part of the sanctuarie: that shalbe for
Ezr. 48. the whole house of Israel. • Uppon C bothe ꝑ sydes of the sanctuaries part, and by the citie, there shalbe geuen vnto the prince, what soeuer lyeth ouer against the citie, as farre as reacheth westward and eastward: which shall be as long as one part, from the west vnto the east. This shall be his own land in Israel, that my princes be no more chargeable vnto my people. And suche as remaynethe yet ouer in the land, shalbe geuen to the house of Israell, accordyng to their tribes. Thus sayth the Lorde God: O ye princes, ye haue now oppressed and destroyed ynough: nowe leaue of, handle accordyng to the thynge that is equall and lawfull: and thruste out my people no more, sayth the Lorde God. • Ye shall Leui. 19. haue a true weight, a true Epha, and deu. 15.c a true bathe. The Epha and the bath Pro. 20. shalbe lyke. One bathe shall conteyne the tenthe parte of an Homer, and so D shall one Epha do: theyr measure shal Exo. 30.
be after the homer. • One sicle ma- Leui. 27. keth. xx. gerras. So twentie sicles, Nu. 3. g and. xxv. & xv. sicles maketh a pound. This is the heaue offerynge that yee shall geue to bee heaued: namely, the xvi. part of an Epha, out of an homer of wheate, and the. xvi. part of an Ephah, out of an homer of barley. The oyle shalbe measured with the bathe:
E euen the tenth part of one bath out of a Cor. Ten bathes make one homer, for one homer fylleth ten bathes. And one lambe from ii. C. shepe out of the pasture of Israel: for a meatoffering, burnt offeryng, and healthy offryng, to reconcile them, sayth the Lord God. All the people of the lande shall geue this heaue offering with a freewyl for the people of Israell. Agayn, it shall be the princes part to offer burnt offerynges, meate offeryngs and dryncke-offeryngs vnto the Lord, in the holy dayes, newe moones, sabbothes, and in all the hye feastes of the house of Israel. The syn offeryng, meat offering,
F burnt offeryng & health offering shall he geue to reconcile the house of Israel. Thus sayth the Lord God: The fyrst day of the fyrst month, thou shalt take a yong bullock without blemish & clense the sanctuarie. So the priest shall take of the blood of the synnofferyng, and sprynkle it vpon the postes of the house, and vpon the foure corners of the aultar, with the doore postes of the innermer court. And thus shalt thou do also the seuenth daye of Nu. 15.
the moneth • (for suche as haue synned of ignorance, or beyng deceiued) Exo. 12.8 to reconcile the house withall. • Up- Le. 23.8 pon the. xiiii. day of the fyrst moneth, Deu. 16.8
ye shall kepe Ester. Seuen days shal the feast continue, wherin there shall no soure nor leuened breade be eaten. Uppon the same daye shall the prince geue for hym selfe, and all the people of the land, a bullocke for a sinoffring. And in the feast of the seuen dayes he shall offer euery day a bullocke and a ram, that are without blemyshe for a burntoffering vnto the Lorde: and an he goate dayly for a synoffering. For the meateofferinges he shal geue euer an ephah to a bullocke, an ephah to a ram, and an hin of oyle to an ephah. Upon the fifteenth daye of the seuenth moneth, he shall kepe the seuen dayes holy, one after another, euen as the other seuen dayes: with the synneoffernge, burnteoffernyg, meatoffernyg, and with the oyle.

¶ The .xlvi. Chapter.

A THus sayth the Lorde God: the doze of the innermer court toward the easte shalbe shut the syxe wozking dayes: but in the Sabboth, and in the day of the new mone, it shalbe opened. Then shal the prince come vnder the doze pozch, and stande still without by the dooze cheke. So the priestes shall offer vp his burnte and healthoffernges. And he shall wozshyp at the doze polte, and go hys waye forth agayne: but the doze shall B nomoze be shut tyll the euenyng. On the same maner shall the people of the land also do their wozshyp before the Lorde without this dooze vpon the Sabbothes and newe mones. This is nowe the burntoffernge, that the prince shall bryngе vnto the Lord vpon the sabboth, sixe lambes without blemysh, and a ram without blemysh, and an ephah for a meatoffering, with the ramme. As for the lambes, he may geue as many meatoffernygs to them as he will: and an hyn of oyle to an ephah. In the day of the newe moneth it shalbe a yong bullock without blemishe, sixe lambes & a ram also without blemyshe: With the bullocke he shal geue an ephah, and with the ram an ephah also for ỹ meateoffering, but to the lambes, what he may come by. And euer an hyn of oyle to an ephah. C When the prince commeth, he shal go vnder the doze pozch, and euen there depart forth agayne. But when the people of the lande come before the lord in the hie solemne feast, as many as come in by ỹ nozth doze to do wozshyp, shall go out agayne at the south dooze. And they that come in at the south doze shall go forth againe at the nozth doze. There shal none go out at the doze, where he came in, but shall go right forthe ouer on the other side, and the prince shall goo in and out among them. Upon the solemne & hye D feast days this shalbe ỹ meatoffring An ephah to a bullocke & an ephah to a ram, & to the lambs, as many as he wyl: but euer an hyn of oyle to an ephah. Now when ỹ prince bringeth a burntoffringe or an healthoffring to a free wyl vnto the Lord, the east doze shalbe opened vnto him, that he maye do with his burnt and healthofferinges, as he doth vpon the sabboth: and when he goth forth, the doze shall be shut after him agayne. He shall dayly bryng vnto the Lord a lambe of a yere olde without blemishe for a burntoffernge: this shall he do euerye mozнyng. And for a meatoffering he shall G geue the sixt part of an ephah, and the third part of an hin of oyle, to myngle with the cakes, euery mozning. Yea, this shalbe dayely meatofferinge vnto the Lord: for an euerlastyng ordenaunce: and thus shall the lambe the meatoffering and oyle be geuen euery mozнyng, for a dayly burntoffernyg. Moreouer, thus sayth the Lord God: Yf the prince geue a gyft vnto any of his sonnes, then shall it be his sonnes herytage perpetuall, that he may possesse it. But if he will gene one of his Leu. 25 a seruauntes, some of hys herytage, it shalbe his to the free yeare, and then Nu. 36. c to returne agayne vnto the prince: for his heritage shalbe his sonnes onely. F 3 Re. 21 b The prince also shall take none of the peoples enherytaunce, nor put the from their possession: but to his owne sonnes shall he geue hys possession, that my people be not scatered abrode, but that euerye man maye haue hys own. And he brought me thorow the entraunce at the side of the doze to the habitacion of the Sanctuary, that belongeth to the priestes and stode towarde ſwarde the noꝛthe, and beholde, there ſwas a place vpon the weſt ſyde, then G ſayde he vnto me: This is the place ſwhere the prieſtes ſhall dight the treſ pace and ſinofferynges, and bake the meateofferynges, that they neede not beare them into the outwarde courte:

and ſo to vnhalow the people. So he bꝛoughte me vnto the vtmoſte courte round about al the foure cozners. Be hold, in euery cozner of the court, ther ſwas yet a lytle courte. Yea, in all the foure cozners of the court, there ſwas made a litle court of .xl. cubites longe, and .xxx. cubites bꝛode: theſe foure lytle courtes ſwere of one lyke meaſure:
and there ſwent a rydge ſwal round about them all foure, vnder the ſwhich there ſwere harthes made rounde about. Then ſayd he vnto me: This is the kechyn ſwher the miniſters of the houſe ſhall dight the ſlayne offeringes of the people.

¶ The .xlvii. Chapter.

AFter thys, he bꝛoughte me a-gayne before the dooze of the houſe: and behold, ther guſhed A out water frome vnder the poſtes of the houſe eaſt ward, foꝛ the houſe ſtode toꝛward the eaſt, that ran doꝛwne vpon the ryght ſyde of the houſe, which lyeth to the aulter ſouthward. Then ca ried he me out to the noꝛth dooze, and bꝛought me foꝛth there round aboute by the vtmoſt doze that turneth eaſtward. • Behaild, there came foꝛth the water vppon the ryght ſyde. Nowe Iac.13.a ſwhen the man that had the metrod in his hand ſwent vnto the eaſte doze, he meaſured a. M. cubites, and then he bꝛought me thoꝛowe the water, euen to the ancles: ſo he meaſured yet a M. & bꝛought me thoꝛow ẏ water again vnto ẏ knees: yet meaſured he a thouſande, and bꝛought me thoꝛowe the water vnto the loynes. After this he meaſured a thouſande agayne, then ſwas it ſuch a ryuer, that I might not B ſwade thoꝛowe it. The water ſwas ſo deepe, that it ſwas nedefull to haue ſwymmed, foꝛ it might not be ſwaded ouer. And he ſayde vnto me: haſt thou ſene this, O thou ſonne of man? and ſwith that, he bꝛought me to the riuer bancke agayne. Nowe when I came there, there ſtode manye trees vppon eyther ſyde of the ryuer banke. Then ſayde he vnto me: This water that floweth out toward the eaſt, and run neth doꝛwn into the playne field, commeth into the ſea: and from the ſea, it runneth out, and maketh the waters ſwhole. Yea, all that lyue and moue, ſwher vnto this ryuer commeth, ſhall recouer. • And ſwher this water commeth, there ſhalbe much ſylhe. Foꝛ all that • commeth to this water ſhall be luſty and ſwhole. By thys ryuer ſhall the ſylhers ſtand from Engaddi vnto En Eglaim, and ther ſpꝛead out their nettes: foꝛ there ſhalbe great heapes of fyſhe, lyke as in the mayne ſea. As foꝛ hys clay and pittes, they ſhall not be ſwhole, foꝛ why? it ſhalbe occupyed foꝛ ſalte. By thys ryuer vppon bothe the ſydes of the ſhoꝛe, ther ſhall gꝛow all maner of fruitefull trees, ſwhole leaues ſhall not fall of, neyther ſhall their frute peryſhe: but euer be rype at their monethes: foꝛ theur water runneth out of the ſanctuarye. His fruite C is good to eate, and hys leafe pꝛofytable foꝛ medicine. Thus ſayeth the Loꝛde God. Lette thys bee the boꝛ-der, wherin ye ſhall deuyde the lande vnto the twelue trybes of Iſraell, ſwyth the lyne. Parte it indifferently vnto one as vnto another: • of the Gen.22c ſwhyche lande I ſware vnto youre fathers, that it ſhoulde fall to youre enherytaunce. Thys is the boꝛder of the lande vpon the Noꝛthſyde, frome the mayne ſea, as men go to Hadada:
namely, Hemath, Berotha, Sabarim from the boꝛders of Damaſcus and Hemath vnto Hazar Tychon, and that lyeth vpō the coſtes of Haueran.
Thus the boꝛders from the ſea foꝛth, ſhall be Hazar Euan: the boꝛder of Damaſcus, the noꝛth and the boꝛders of Hemath, that is ẏ noꝛth part. The D eaſt ſide ſhall ye meaſure from Haueran and Damaſcus, from Galead and the land of Iſraell by Iꝛꝛdan, and ſo ſooꝛth, from the ſea coaſte, that lyeth eaſtwarde: and this is the eaſte parte.

The south syde is, frome Thamar Nu.29.b foorthe to the • Waters of stryfe vnto Exo.17.b Cades the riuer of the mayne sea: and that is the southe parte. The weste parte: namely the greate sea from the borders thereof, tyll a man come vnto Hemath: thys is the weste parte. • Nu.33.f Thys lande shall ye part among you, accordynge to the trybes of Israell, and deuyde it to bee an herytage for you • and for the strangers that dwel Leu.19.g amonge you, and beget chyldren. For dan.10.d ye shall take theym amonge the chyl-drenne of Israell, lyke as thoughe they were of youre owne housholde and countrey, and they shall haue herytage with you amonge the children of Israell. Loke in what tryde the straunger dwelleth, in the same tribe shall ye geue hym hys herytage, sayth the Lorde God.

¶ The .xlviii. Chapter.

THese are the names of the tribes that lye vppon the Northsyde, by the way of Hetlon, tyll thou commest vnto Hemath, and Hazar Enam; the borders of Damascus, toward the north, beside Hemath: Dan shall haue his portion from the East quarter vnto the weste. Upon the borders of Dan from the east side vnto the west shall Asser haue his porcion. Upon the borders of Asser from the Easte parte vnto the weste shall Nephtali haue his portiō. Upon the borders of Nephtali from the Easte quarter vnto the west, shal Manasses haue his portion. Upon the borders of Manasses from the easte syde vnto the west, shal Ephraim haue his portion. Upon the borders of Ephraim from the east part vpon the west, shal Ruben haue his portion. Upon the borders of Ruben from the east quar ter vnto the weste, shall Juda haue his portion. Upō the borders of Juda from the easte parte vnto the west ye shall set aside one portion of .xxv.
thousand metroddes long and brode:
lyke as another portion from the east syde vnto the weste, wherin the sanctuary shall stand. • As for the portion that ye shal separate out for the Lord, Exe.45.a it shalbe .xxv. thousand longe, and ten M. brode: which separated holy portion shall belong vnto these, namely, to the priestes, toward the north .xxv.
M. and toward the west .x. M. brode, and toward the east .x. M. brode also, and towarde the south .xxv. M. longe wherin the sanctuary of the Lord shal stand. Yea, this same place shalbe the priestes, that are of the chyldren of • Sadoch and haue kept my holy ordi- Eze.43.a naunce which went not astray in the C erroure of the chyldren of Israell, like as the Leuites are gone astraye: and this separated pece that they haue of lande, shall be the moste holye, harde vpon the borders of the Leuites. And nexte vnto the priestes shall the Le-uites haue .xxv. M. long, and .x. M. brode. This shalbe on euery syde .xxv M. longe, and .x. M. brode. Of thys portion they shall sell nothynge, nor make any permutation therof, lest the chiefe of the lande fall vnto other: for it is halowed vnto the Lorde. The other .v. M. after the bredth that lyeth by the .xxv. M. shalbe commen: it shall belonge to the citye, and to the suburbes for habitacions, and the citye shall stande in the myddest therof.
Let this be the measure: towarde the north part .v. C. and .iiii. M. toward the south parte, .v. C. and .iiii. M. toward the easte part .v. C. and .iiii. M toward the west part .v. C. and foure M. The suburbes harde vpon the citye, shall haue towarde the north .i.
and .ii. C. toward the south .i. and .ii.
C. toward the east .i. C. .ii. C. toward the west also .i. and .ii. C. As for the residue of the length, that lyeth harde vpō the separated holy ground: name lye .x. M. towarde the east, and .x. M. toward the west, next vnto the holye portion: it and the increase therof shal serue for their meate, that laboure in the cytye. They that laboure for the wealth of the citye, shall mayntayne thys also, oute of what tryde soeuer C they be in Israell. All that is separated of the .xxv. M. longe, and .xxv. M. brode on the foure partes, that shal ye gue:

put a syde for the separated porcion of the sanctuarye, and for the possession of the citye. The residue vpon both the sides of the sanctuarye and possession of the citye, shall belong to the prince, before the place of the .xxv. M. vnto the easte ende, and before the place of the .xxv. M. westwarde vnto the borders of the citye: this shalbe the princes porcion. This shall be the holye place, and the house of the sanctuarye shall stand in the middest. Moreouer, from the Leuites and the cityes possession, that lye in the myddest of the princes parte: loke what remayneth betwyxte the border of Juda and the border of Ben Jamin, it shall be the princes. Nowe of the other trybes. From the easte parte vnto the weste, shall Ben Jamin haue hys porcion. Vpon the borders of Ben Jamin frō the eastside vnto the weste, shall Simeon haue his porcion. Vpon the borders of Simeon from the easte parte vnto the west, shall Jssakar haue his porcion. Vpon the borders of Jssakar from the east syde vnto the west, shall Zabulon haue his porcion. Vpon the borders of zabulon from the east part vnto the weste, shall Gad haue hys D porcion. Vppon the borders of Gad southward, the costes shall reache frō Thamar, forthe vnto the waters of strife to Cades, and to the floud, euen vnto the mayne sea. This is the land Nu. 32. with his porcion, which ye shall di-Josu. 13 stribute vnto the trybes of Jsraell, sayth the Lord God. Thus wide shal the citye reach vpon the northe parte b.C. and.iiii.M. measures. The portes of the citye, shall haue the names of the trybes of Jsraell. Thre portes of the northside: one Ruben, another Juda, the third Leui. Vpon the easte side. b.C. and.iiii. M measures, with three portes: the one Joseph, another Ben Jamin, the thirde Dan. Vpon the southside. b.C. and.iiii.M. measures, with the three portes: the one Simeon. another Jzachar, the thirde Zabulon. And the westside. b.C. and iiii. M. mesures, with. iii. portes also: the one Gad, another Asser, the third Nephtali. Thus shall it haue. xviii. M. measures round about. And from that tyme forthe the name of the citye shalbe, the Lord is there.

¶ The end of the prophecye of Ezechiell.

¶ The boke of the prophet Daniell.

¶ The firste Chapter.

IN the third yeare of the raygne of Jehoakim kyng of Juda, came Nabuchodonosor kyng of Babilon vnto Jerusalem, and besieged it: and the 4Re.24a Lord delyuered Jehoakin the kynge of Juda into his hand, with certayne ornamentes of the house of GOD, which he caryed away vnto the lande of Semner, to the house of his God, and there he broughte them into hys gods treasurye. And the kynge spake vnto Asphanaz the chyefe chamberlayne, that he should bryngе him certayne of the chyldren of Jsraell, that were come of the kynges seede and of princes ponge sprygaldes without any blemyshe, but fayre and well fauoured, instructe in all wisdome, connyng and vnderstanding: which were able to stande in the kinges palace, to reade and to learne for to speake Caldeyshe. Vnto these the kyng appoynted a certayne porcion of hys owne meate and of the wyne, whiche he dranke hym selfe, so to norysshe them thre yere: that afterward they might stande before the kynge. Among these now were certayne of the children of Juda: namely Daniell, Jnanias, Misaell and Azarias. Vnto these, the chefe chamberlayn gaue other names, and called Daniell, Balthasar: Ananias, Sidrach: Misaell, Misach: and Jsarias, Abednago. But Daniell was at a poynt with him selfe, that he wolde not be defyled thorowe the Gen.42e Tabi.1b

C kynges meate, nor the wyne whyche he dronke. And this hee desyred of the chiefe chamberlayne, least hee should defyle hym selfe. So God gaue Daniel fauour and grace before the chefe chamberlaine, that he sayd vnto him: I am afrayde of my Lord the Kyng, which hath appointed you your meat and drynke: least he spye your faces to be worse lyking then the other sprigalds of your age, and so ye shal make me lose my head vnto the king. Then Daniel answered Melassar, whome the chiefe chamberlayne had set ouer Daniel, Ananias, Misael and Asarias, and sayde: O proue but ten dayes wyth thy seruauntes, and let vs haue potage to eate, and water to drynke then loke vppon our faces, and theyr that eate of the kynges meat. And as thou seest, so deale wyth thy seruauntes. So he consented to them in thys matter, and proued them. x. dais. And after the ten dayes, their faces were better lykynge and fatter, then al the young sprigingaldes, which dyd eat of D the Kynges meate. Thus Melassar toke awaye theyr meat and wine, and gaue them potage therfore. God gaue nowe these four sprigingaldes cunning and learnyng in al scripture and wisdome: but vnto Daniel specially, hee gaue vnderstanding of al visions and dreames. Nowe when the time was expyred, that the kinge had appointed to bryng in these younge sprigingaldes vnto him, the cheyfe chaumberlayne brought them before Nabuchodonosor, and the king communed with thē But among them al wer found none such as Daniel, Ananias, Misael and Asarias. Therfore stode thei before ỹ king, which in al wisdom & matters of vnderstanding, that he enquired of them, foūd them. x. times better, then all the sothsayers and charmers that wer in al his realme. And Daniel abode still, vnto the fyrst yeare of king A Cyrus.

Job. 7. b. C The. ii. Chapter.

IN the secande yeare of the reygne of Nabuchodonosor, had Nabuchodonosor a dreme, wherthrogh his spirite was vexed, and hys sleepe brake from him. Then the king commaunded to call together all the sothsayers, charmers, witches, and Chaldees, for to shewe the king his dreme. So they came, and stoode before the king. And the kyng sayd vnto theim: I haue dreamed a dreame, and my spirit was so troubled therwith, that I haue cleane forgotten what I dreamed. Vppon this the Chaldees answered the king in the Siriās speche: O kinge, God saue thy lyfe for euer. Shewe thy seruauntes thy dreame, and we shal shewe thee, what it meaneth. The kinge gaue the Chaldees their aunswere and sayde: It is gone fro me. Yf ye wil not make me vnderstande the dreame wyth the interpretation therof, yee shall dye, and your houses shalbe pyyled. But yf yee tell me the dreame and the meanyng ther- B of, ye shall haue of me gyftes, rewardes and great honour: onely shew me the dreame and ỹ signification of it. They aunswered agayne, and sayde: the king must shewe hys seruauntes the dreame, and so shall wee declare what it meaneth. Then the Kynge aunswered, sayinge: I perceaue of a trueth, that ye dooe but prolonge the tyme, for so muche as yee see that the thynge is gone fro mee. Therefore yf ye wyll not tell mee the dreame, yee shall haue all one iudgemente. But yee sayne and dyssemble wyth vayne woordes, whyche ye speake before mee, to putte of the tyme. Therefore tell mee the dreame, and so shall I knowe, yf ye canne shew mee what it meaneth. Vppon thys, the Chaldees gaue aunswere before the kynge, and sayd: there is no man vpon earth, that can tel the thinge, whiche the Kynge speaketh of: yea, there is neyther kyng prince ne lorde, that euer asketh suche thynges at a soothsayer, charmer or Chaldey: for it is a verye hard matter that the Kynge requyreth. Neyther is there anye, that canne certyfye the Kyng therof, except the gods, whose dwelling is not amōg the creatures. For the whyche cause the kinge was C wroth

wroth with great indignation, and cõmaunded to destroye all the wise men at Babylon: and the proclamation went foorth, and the wyse men were slayne. They sought also to slea Daniell with his companions. Thenne Daniell enquired of Arioche the kinges steward, of the iudgement & sentence, that was gone foorthe alredy to kyll such as were wise at Babylon. He answered and sayde vnto Arioch, deyng then the kynges deputie: why hath the kyng proclaymed so cruell a sentence? So Arioch told Daniel the matter. Upon this, went Daniel vp, and desired the kinge, that he myghte haue leysure, to shewe the kyng the interpretation, and then came hee home agayn, and shewed the thyng to Ananias, Misael, and Azarias, his companyons: that they shoulde beseeche the GOD of heuen for grace in this secrete, that Daniel and his felowes with other such as were wise in Babylon, perished not. Thenne was the mysterye shewed vnto Daniell in a vision by nyght. And Daniell praysed the God of heuen. Daniell also cried loude, and said: O ẏ the name of God might be praised for euer and euer, for wisedom & strẽgth are his owne: He chãgeth ẏ times & ages. He putteth down kings: he setteth vp kings: he geueth wisedome vnto the wyse, and vnderstandynge to those that vnderstand, he openeth the depe secretes: he knoweth the thyng that lyeth in darknes, for the light dwelleth with him I thanke thee, and prayse thee (O thou God of my fathers, ẏ thou hast lent me wysedome and strength, and hast shewed me the thing, that we desyred of thee, for thou hast opened the kynges matter vnto me. Upon thys went Daniel vnto Arioch, whom the king had ordeyned to destroy the wise at Babylon, he went vnto hym, and sayd: Destroy not suche as be wyse in Babylon, but bryng me in vnto the kyng, and I shall shew the kyng the interpretation. Then Arioch brought Daniell into the kyng in all the hast, & sayd vnto hym: I haue founde a man amonge the prysoners of Juda, that shall shewe the kynge the interpretation. Then answered the kyng & said vnto Daniel, whose name was Balthasar. Art thou he, that canst shewe me the dreame, which I haue sene, & the interpretation therof? Daniel answered the kyng to his face, and said: As for this secrete, for the which the king maketh inquisition, it is neither the wise, the sorcerer, the charmer, nor the deuill coniurer that can certify the kynge of it. Onely God in heauen can open secretes, and he it is, that sheweth ẏ kyng Nabuchodonosor what is for to come in the latter days. Thy dreame, and that which thou hast sene in thyne head, vpon thy bed, is thys: O kynge, thou dyddeste caste in thy mynde, what should come hereafter. So he that is the opener of mysteries telleth thee, what is for to comme. As for mee, thys secrete is not shewed me, for anye wysedome that I haue, more then any other liuing, but onely that I myghte shewe the kynge the interpretation, and that he might knowe the thoughtes of hys owne heerte. Thou kynge sawest, and beholde, there stoode before thee a great Image, whose fygure was merueylous greate, and his visage grymme. The Images head was of fyne gold, hys breaste and armes of syluer, hys body and loynes were of copper, hys legges were of yron, hys feete were part of yron, & part of earth. Thys thou sawest till ẏ tyme, that without any hands, there was hewen a stone, which smote the image vpon the feet, that were both of yron and earth, and brake them to pouldre: then was the yron, the earth, the copper, the syluer, & gold brokẽ altogether in pieces: & became like ẏ chaffe of corne, ẏ the wind bloweth away from the sommer flowres, ẏ they can no more be found. But the stone ẏ smote the image, became a great mountain, which fylleth the whole earthe: This is the dreame. And nowe wyll we shewe before the kynge what it meaneth. O kynge thou art the kyng of kynges. For the God

D Dan. 7. d Luk. 1. c Job. 34 c Jer. 27 a Dan. 4. c Job. 32. 1 tim. 6 c

1. Joh. 1

Mat. 11.

E

Mat. 21 Luk. 20

F Dan. 3. 8

GOD of heauen hath geuen thee a kyngdome, ryches, strength and maiesty: and hath delyuered thee al thinges, that are among the childrē of mē: the beastes of the feld, and the fowles vnder the heauen, and geuen the dominion ouer them al. Thou arte that golden heade. After that there shall aryse another kingdome, which shalbe lesse then thine. The third kingdome shalbe lyke copper and haue domination in all landes. The fourth kyngdome, shalbe as stronge as yron. For lyke as yron bruseth and breaketh all thinges: Yea, euen as yron beateth euerye thinge downe, so shal it beate downe and destroye. Where as thou sawest the fete and toes, part of earth and parte of yron: that is a deuyded kingdome, whych neuertheless shall haue some of the yron grounde myxte wyth it, for so much as thou hast sene the yron myxte wyth the claye. The toes of the fete that were part of yron and parte of claye, sygnifyeth: that it shalbe a kingdome partly strong, and partlye weake. And where as thou sawest yron myxte wyth claye, they shall myngle theym selues wyth the sede of simple people, and yet not continue one wyth another, lyke as yron wil not be souldered with a potsherd:

G Esay.9.b In the dayes of these kynges, shall the God of heauen set vp an euerlasting kingedome which shall not perysh, and his kyngedome shal not bee geuen ouer to another people: yea, the same shal breake and destroye al these kingdomes, but it shall endure for euer. And where as thou sawest, that wythout any handes there was cutte oute of the mounte a stoane whiche Heb.12.c brake the yron, the copper, the earth, mat.21. the syluer and golde in pieces: by that hath the great God shewed the king, what wyl come after this. Thys is a Act.14.b true dreame and the interpretation of it is sure. Then the kinge Nabuchodonosor fell downe vpon his face, and bowed him selfe vnto Daniell, and commaunded that they shoulde offre meat offringes and swete odoures vn to him. The kyng answered Daniel, and sayde: yea, of a truth your God is a God aboue all goddes, a Lorde aboue al kynges, and an opener of Secretes: seyng thou canst dyscouer thys mistery. So the kinge made Daniell a great man, and gaue him many and great gyftes. Hee made him ruler of all the countries of Babilon, & Lorde of al the nobles that wer at Babilon. Now Daniel intreated the kinge for Sidrach, Misach, and Abednago: so that he made them rulers ouer all the officers in the land of Babilon: But Daniell him selfe remayned still in the court by the king.

The.iii. Chapter.

A Nabuchodonosor the king caused a golde ymage to be made, which was xl cubits hie, and vi. cubites thicke. This he made to be set vp in the feld of Dura in the land of Babilon, and sent out to gather together the dukes, lordes and nobles, the iudges and officers, the debitys, and shreues: with all the rulers of the land: that they myghte come to the dedication of the ymage, which Nabuchodonosor the king hadde set vp. So the dukes, lordes and nobles, the iudges and officers, debities and shreues with al the rulers of the land gathered them together, and came vnto the dedicating of the ymage, that Nabuchodonosor the king had set vp. Now B when they stoode before the Image, whyche Nabuchodonosor set vp, the bedle cryed out wyth all hys myghte: O ye people, kynreddes and tongues to you be it sayde: that when ye heare the noyse of the trompettes, whiche shalbe blowē, with the harpes shawmes, Psalteries, Simphonies, and al maner of Muslike: ye fall downe and woorshyppe that golden ymage that Nabuchodonosor the kyng hath sette vp. Who so then falleth not down and boweth him selfe, shall euen the same hour be cast into an hote burning ouē Therfore whē al the folke herd thys noise of the trompets that wer blowē with the harpes, shawmes, Psalteryes, Symphonies and all kynde of melodye, then all the people kinreds,

and

and nations fell downe, and bowed theym selues vnto the golden image, that Nabuchodonosor the kynge had set vp. Now were there certain men of the Chaldees, that went euen then and accused the Iewes, and said vnto the kyng Nabuchodonosor: O kyng, god saue thy life for euer. Thou being kyng haste geuen a commaundement, that all men, when they here the noise of the trompets, shaulmes, psalteries, symphonies, & all the other melodies, shall fall down and bow them selues, toward the goldē image: who so then fell not downe and worshipped not, ẏ he should be cast into an hote burning ouen. Now are ther certain Iewes, Dan. 2. g whom thou haste seruer the officers of the land of Babylon: namely, Syrach, Misach, and Abednago. These men (O kyng) regarde not thy commaundement, yea they will not serue thy goddes, nor bowe them selues to the golden Image, that thou haste set vp. Then Nabuchodonosor in a cruell wrath and displeasure, commaunded, that Sydrach, Misach, and Abednago should be brought vnto him. So these menne were brought before the kyng. Thenne Nabuchodonosor spake vnto them, and said: What? O Sydrach, Misach, & Abednago, will not you serue my goddes? nor bowe your selues to the golden Image that I haue set vp? Welt, be ready hereafter. Whenne ye heare the noise of the trompets blow with the harpe, shaumes, psalteries, symphonies, and all the other melodies: that ye fal downe, and worshipp the Image whyche I D haue made. But if ye worshipp it not, ye shal be cast immediatly into an hot burnyng Ouen. Lette se, what God is there, that may delyuer you out of my handes. Sidrach, Misach, and Abednago answered the kyng, & sayde: O Nabuchodonosor, we oughte not to consent vnto the in this matter, for Da. 16 g why? our God, whom we serue, • is able to kepe vs from the hot burnyng ouen (O kinge) and can right well delyuer vs oute of thy handes. And thoughe he wille not, yet shalte thou knowe (O kynge) that we wyll not serue thy goddes, nor do reuerence to that Image, whiche thou haste set vp. Then was Nabuchodonosor full of indignation, so that the countenaunce of his face chaunged vpon Sydrach, Misach, and Abednago. Therfore he charged and commaunded, that the ouen should be made. vii. tymes hotter than it was wont to be: and spake vnto the strongest woorthies that were in his hoste, for to bynd Misach, and Sydrach, and Abednago, and to caste them into the hote burnyng Ouen. So these men were bounde in theyr cotes, hosen, shoes, wyth their other garmentes, and cast into an hote burnyng ouen: for the kynges commaun- E dement was so straite, and the Ouen was excedynge hotte. As for the men that put in Sydrach, Misach, and Abednago, ẏ flame of the fyre destroyed them. And these thre men Sydrach, and Misach and Abednago fel down in the hote burnyng ouen, beyng faste bounde. Then Nabuchodonosor the kyng meruailed, and stoode vp in all haste: he spake vnto his counceil and sayd: Did not you cast these thre men bound into the fire? They answered and said vnto the king: Yea, O kyng. He answered and said: Lo, for all that yet doo I see fower men goyng loose in the mydst of the fyre, and nothinge corrupte, and the fourthe is lyke the F sonne of God to looke vpon. Upon this, went Nabuchodonosor vnto the mouthe of the hotte burnyng Ouen, he spake also, and sayd: O Sydrach, Misach, and Abednago, ye seruantes of the hie God, go forth, and come hyther. And so Sidrach, Misach, and Abednago went oute of the fire. Then the dukes, iorges, and nobles, and the kynges counceil came together to see Esa. 44 a these men, • vpon whom the fire had no maner of power in theyr bodyes. In soo muche that the very heare of theyr head was not burnt, and theyr cloathes vnchaunged, yea there was no smel of fyre felt vpon them? Then spake Nabuchodonosor, and sayde: Blessed bee the GOD of Sydrach,

Misach

Dan.3.e Misach and Abed nago: • which hath Acts.12.e sent his aungel, and defended his seruauntes, that put their truste in him, that hathe altered the kynges com-maundemente: and ieopard their bodies therupon, rather then they wold serue or worshyp anye other God, ex-G cept their owne God only. Therfore I will and commaund, that al people, kynredes and tonges, which speake any blasphemye agaynste the God of Sidrach, Misach, and Abednago, shall dye, and their houses shalbe pri-Esa.51.c sed: because • ther is no God that may Dan.13.b saue, as this. So the kyng promoted Sidrach, Misach, and Abednago, in the lande of Babylon.

¶ The.iiii. Chapter.

A
Dani.6.c • Nabuchodonosor king vnto all people: kinredes and ton gues that dwell vpon the whole earth: peace be multiplied among you. I thought it good to shewe the tokens and marueilous workes, ỳ the hye God hath wroght vpon me. O, howe greate are his tokens, and how myghty are his won-Psa.45.b ders: • Hys kyngdome is an euerla-Dan.7.d stynge kyngdome, and his power la-Luke.1.c steth for euer and euer. I Nabuchodonosor beyng at reste in myne house, and florysshynge in my palace, sawe a dreame, whiche made me afrayed: and the thoughtes that I hadde vpon my bed, with the visions of myne heade, Dani.2.a troubled me. • Then sente I oute a commission, that all they which were of wisdome at Babylon shoulde bee brought before me, to tell me the inter pretacion of the dreame. So there came the sothsayers, charmers, Chal dees & conturers of deuils: to whō I told ỳ dreame, but what it betokened they coulde not shewe me: tyll at the laste there came one Daniell (otherwyse called Balthazar, accordyng to the name of my God) which hath the spirite of the holye goddes in hym, to B whom I tolde the dreame saying: O Balthazar, thou prynce of Southsayers: For so much as I know that thou haste the spirite of the holye gods and no secrete is hydde from thee: tell me therefore, what the vision of my dreame (that I haue sene) maye sygnifye. I sawe a vision in my head vppon my bed: and beholde, there stode a tree vpon the grounde, which was very hie, greate and mighty: the heigth reached vnto the heuē, and the bredth extended to all the endes of the earth:
hys leaues were fayre, he had verye much frute, so that euery man had ynough to eate therin. The beastes of the fielde had shadowes vnder it, and the foules of the ayre dwelt in the bowes therof. Shortly, al creatures fed of it. I sawe in my head a vision vpon my bed: and beholde, a watcher and a holy one cam down from heauen, and cryed mightely, saying: Hewe down the tree, breake of hys braunches, shake of hys leaues, and scatter hys frutte abrode: that all the beastes may get them away from vnder him, and the foules from his braunches. Neu-ertheles, leaue the grounde of hys rote styll in the earth, and bynde hym vpon the playne fielde, with cheynes of yron and steele. With the dewe of heuen shall he be wette, and shal haue hys parte in the herbes of the ground with other wild beastes. C That mans C herte of his shall be taken from hym, and a beastes herte shall be geuen him till seuen yeres be come and gone vppon him. This errand of the watcher, is a commaundemente grounded and sought out in the counsel of him, that is most holy, to learne men for to vnderstande, that the hyest hath power ouer the kyngdomes of men, and geueth them, to whome it lyketh hym, and bryngeth the verye outcastes of men ouer them. Thys is the dreame, that I kynge Nabuchodonosor haue sene. Therfore O Balthazar, tel thou me what it signifyeth: for so much as all the wise men of my kingdome are not able to shewe mee, what it mea-neth. But thou canst do it, for ỳ spirite of the holy gods is in the. Then Daniell (whose name was Balthazar) held hys peace by the space of one houre, & his thoughtes troubled him.

So

So the king spake, and said: O Balthasar, let neither the dreame nor the interpretation therof feare thee. Balthasar answered, saying: O my lorde, D this dreame happen to thyne enemies and the interpretation to thyn aduersaries. As for ỹ tree that thou sawest which was so great & mighty, whose heighte reached vnto the heauen, and his breadth into all the world: whose leaues wer fayre, and the frute much, vnder the whyche the beastes of the fielde had their habitation, and vpon whose branches the fowles of the aire dyd syt. Euen thou (O kyng) art the tree, great and strong. Thy greatnes increaseth, and reacheth vnto the heauen, so dothe thy power to the endes of the earthe. But where as the king sawe a watcher euen an holye angell, that came down from heauen, & saide: Hewe downe the tree, and destroy it, yet leaue the grounde of the roote of the earth: & bynd hym vpon the plaine field with chaines of yron and steele. He shalbe wet with the dewe of heauen, and his part shalbe with the beastes E of the field tyll .vii. yeres become and gone vpon hym. This (O king) is the interpretation, yea, it is the very deuice of hym, that is hyest of all, and it toucheth my Lorde the kynge. Thou shalt be cast out from men, and thy dwelling shalbe with the beastes of the field, with grasse shalt thou be fed like an oxe. Thou muste be wette wyth the dewe of heauen: yea seuen yeares shall come and go vppon thee, till thou know, • that the hiest hathe Dan. 3. a power vpon the kyngdomes of men, Ier. 27. c and geueth theim to whome he liste. Moreouer, where as it was said, that the roote of the tree should be left still in the ground, it betokeneth, that thy kyngdome shall remayne whole vnto thee, after thou hast learned to know, that the power cometh from heauen. Wherfore, O kyng, be content with Ecc. 19 a my councell, that thou mayst redeeme thy synnes with almesse, • and thyne offences with mercy to poore people, for this shalbe an healyng of thyn errour. All these thyngs touch ỹ kynge Nabuchodonosor. So after xii. mo- F nethes, the kyng walked vp & downe in the palace of ỹ kingdom of Babylon, and said: This is the great citie of Babylon, which I my self (with my power and strength) haue made a kinges court, for the honor of my maiestie. While these wordes were yet in the kynges mouthe, there fell a voice from heauen, saying: O kyng Nabuchodonosor, to thee be it spoken: Thy kyngdome shal depart from the, thou shalt be cast out of mennes company, thy dwellyng shalbe with the beastes of the fielde, soo that thou shalte eate grasse lyke an Oxe, till seuen yeares be come and gone ouer thee: euen vntill thou knowest, that the hyest hath power ouer the kyngdomes of men, and that he may geue them vnto who it pleaseth him. The very same houre was this matter fulfilled vpon Nabuchodonosor: so that he was cast out of mens company, and did eate grasse lyke an oxe. His body was wet with the dewe of heauen, tyll his heares were as great as Egles fethers, and his nayles lyke byrdes clawes. When G this tyme was past: I Nabuchodonosor lift vp myne eies vnto heauen, and myne vnderstandyng was restored vnto me agayne. Thenne gaue I thankes vnto the highest. I magnified and praised hym that liueth for euermore, • whose power endureth al Dan. 3. c way, and his kingdom from one generation to an other: in comparyson of whome all they that dwell vpon the erth, ar to be reputed as nothing. • He Ps. 135. handled according to his wil, among the powers of heauen, and among the inhabiters of the earthe: and there is none that may resist his hande, or say: Iob. 42 b What doest thou? • At the same tyme was myne vnderstandyng geuen me agayn, and I was restored to the honour of my kingdom, to my dignity, & to myne own shape agayn. My great estates and princes sought vnto me, & I was sette in my kyngdom agayne, so that I had yet greater worshyppe. Then dyd I Nabuchodonosor loue, magnifie and mayse the king of heuen for for all hys woorkes are true, and hys wayes ryght. As for those that go on prondelye, he is able to bryng theym downe.

¶ The .v. Chapter.

A KYng Balthazar made a gret bancket to hys thousand lordes: with al these thousande hee made greate cheere, and when hee was dronken wyth wyne, he commaunded to bryng him the gol-1 Pa. 36 c den and siluer vessels • which his father Nabuchodonosor had taken out of the temple at Jerusalem: that the kyng and hys lordes with hys quene and concubines myght drynke therout. So they brought the golden vessel that was taken oute of the temple of the Lordes house at Jerusalem.
Then the kinge and his lordes wyth his quene and concubines dronke out of them. They dronk wyne, and praysed their ydols of gold, syluer, copper, B yron, woodde and stone. In the verye same houre there appered fyngers, as it had bene of a mans hande writyng, right ouer against the candelstick vpō the playne wall in the kynges palace, and the kynge sawe the palme of the Jer. 50. a hand that wrote. • Then changed the king hys coūtenance, and his thoughtes troubled him, so that the ioyntes of hys bodye shooke, and hys knees
Dan. 2. a smote one against the other. • Wherefore the kynge cryed myghtelye, that they should bryng him the charmers, Chaldees and coniurers of deuyls.
The kyng spake also to the wise men of Babilon, and sayd: who so canne rede thys wryting, and shewe me the plaine meaning therof: shalbe clothed wyth purple, haue a cheyne of golde aboute hys necke, and rule the thyrde parte of my kyngedome. Upon thys came al the kinges wise men: but thei could neyther read the wrytynge, nor shewe the kynge what it signifyed.
Then was the kinge sore afrayde, in so much that his colour changed, and his lordes were sore vexed. So by reason of thys matter, that had happened
C to the kyng and hys lordes, the quene went vp her selfe into the banckette house, and spake vnto the kinge, saynge: O kynge, God saue thy lyfe for euer. Lette not the thoughtes trouble thee, and let not thy countenaunce be changed. For why? there is a man in thy kingdome, that hath the spirite of the holye goddes wythin him, • as it Dan. 2. f was seene in thy fathers dayes. Hee hath vnderstandinge and wisedome lyke the goddes. Ye the king Nabuchodonosor thy father made this man chyefe of the southsayers, charmers, Chaldees, and readers of destenies because that such an abundant spyrite knowledge and wisdome to expound dreames, to open secrettes, and to declare harde doubtes was in him: yea, euen in Daniel, whom the kyng named Balthasar. Let thys same Daniel be sent for, and he shall tell what it meneth. Thē was Daniel brought before the king. So the kynge spake vnto Daniel, and sayd. Art thou that Daniel one of the prisoners of Juda, whom my father the kinge brought out of Jewrye? I haue heard speake of the, that thou hast the spyrite of the holye goddes, experience, and vnderstandinge, and that there hath beene greate wysedome founde in thee.
D Nowe haue there bene brought me wyse and cunning charmers to reade this wrytynge, and to shewe me the meanyng therof: But they could not telle me what thys matter sygnified. Then heard I say, that thou canst expound darke things, and declare hard doubtes. Well then, if thou canst rede this writing, and shewe me the meanyng thereof, thou shalte be cloathed with purple, haue a cheyn of golde about thy neck, and rule the third part of my kyngdome. Daniell answered E 4. reg. 5 b and sayd before the kyng: As for thy Mat. 10. rewards, keepe theym to thy selfe, or geue thy ryche gyftes to an other: yet not the lesse, I wyll rede the writing vnto the kyng, and shew hym the interpretation therof. • O kyng heare: Dan. 2. f GOD the hyest gaue vnto Nabuchodonosor thy father, the dignitie of a kyng, with worshyp and honour, so that al people kinredes and tonges stode in awe and feare of him, by reason of the hye estate, that he had ī the ī him. For whye, he slewe whome hee would: he smote whom it pleased him Agayne, whom he would, he sette vp: and whom he list he put downe. But Dan. 4.d • because his heart was so proud, and his stomacke set so faste vnto wilfulnes: he was deposed from his kingly throne, and hys Maiestie was taken from him. He was shutte out from among men, his heart was lyke a beastes hearte, and his dwellynge was F wyth the wild asses: he was fayne to eate grasse lyke an oxe, and his bodye was wet wyth the dewe of the heauē till he knew, that the hiest hath power vpon the kingedomes of men, and setteth ouer them whom he lyst. And thou hys sonne (O Balthazar) for al this, thou hast not submitted thin hert thoughe thou knewest al these thynges: but hast magnified thy self aboue the Lorde of heauen, so that the vessels of hys house were brought before thee, that thou, and thy Lordes, with thy quene and concubins might drynke wyne therout. And hast praysed the ydols of syluer and golde copper and yron, and woodde and stoane, which neither see, heare nor vnderstande. As for the G O D • in whose Act. 17.d hand consysteth thy breath and all thy waies, thou hast not loued him. Ther G fore is the palme of thys hand sent hither from him, to token vp thys writing. And this is the scripture, that is written vp: Mane, Thetel, Phares. Now the interpretation of the thing is this: Mane, G O D hath numbred the kingedome, and broughte it to an end: Thetel, thou art weyed in the balaunce, and art found to lyght: Phares, thy kyngdome is dealt in partes, and giuen to the Medes and Perses. Then commaunded Balthazar, to cloth Daniel wyth purple, to hange a cheyne of golde about hys necke, and to make a proclamation concernynge Esa. 47.b hym: that he should be the ruler of the thirde parte of hys kyngdome. • The very same nyght was Balthazar the king of the Chaldees slaine, and Darius out of Medea toke in the kingdome, beyng. lxii. yeare of age.

that

The. vi. Chapter.

IT pleased Darius to set ouer his kingdome an hundred and twēty I lordes which should be in all hys kyngdome aboute. Aboue these he set three princes (of whom Daniel was one) that the lordes might geue accomptes vnto them, and the kinge to be vndiseased. But Daniell exceaded all these princes and Lordes, for the spirit of God was plenteous in him: so that the king was mynded to sette him ouer the whole realme. Wherefore the princes and Lordes soughte to pycke out in Daniell some quarell agaynst the kingdome: yet could they fynde none occasion nor faulte vppon him. For whye, he was so faythfull, that there was no blame nor dyshonestie founde in him. Then sayd these B men: we canne get no quarel againste this Daniel, excepte it be in the lawe of hys God. Vppon this, twente the princes and Lordes together vnto the kyng, and sayd thus vnto him: kynge Darius, God saue thy lyfe for euer. All the great estates of the realme: as the Prynces, Dukes, Senatoures, and iudges, ar determined to put out a commaundemente of the kynge, and to make a sure statute: namelye, that whoso desyreth any petition, either of any God or man (wythin this thirty dayes) excepte it be onelye of thee, O kyng: the same person may be cast into the Lyons den. Wherfore, O kyng confirme thou this statute, & make a wrytyng: that the thing whyche the Medes and Perses haue ordeined, be not altered nor broken. So Darius
C made the wrytyng: and confyrmed it. Now when Daniel vnderstode that the wrytinge was made, he went into his house: and the wyndowes of hys wall towarde Jerusalem stoode open. There kneled he downe vppon hys knees, three tymes a daye: there he made his petition, and praysed hys God, lyke as hys maner was to do afore time. Then these men made serch and found Daniel makinge his petition, and praying vnto his God. So they came to the kinge, and spake before him concerning his commaundement, saying: O kinge, haste thou not subscrybed the statute, that within xxx. dayes, whoso requireth his petition of any God or man but onelye of thy selfe, O king: he shalbe caste into the den of the Lions? The kynge answered, and sayde: yea, it is true. It must be as a lawe of the Medes and D Perses, that may not be broken. Then answered they, and sayde vnto the kyng: Daniel one of the preseuers of Juda, O kyng, regardeth nether the, nor thy statute, that thou haste made: but maketh his petition three times a daye. When the kinge hearde these wordes, he was sore greued, & wolde haue excused Daniel, to delyuer him, and put of the matter, vntill the Sun went downe, to the intente that hee myght saue him. These men perceauinge the kinges mynde, sayde vnto him: knowe this (O kinge) that the lawe of the Medes and Perses is, that the commaundement and statute which the king maketh, maye not bee

Bel. 1. altered. * Then the kyng badde them bryng Daniel, and they cast him into the Lyons den. The kinge also spake vnto Daniel, and sayd: thy God, whō thou alway seruest, euen hee shall defende thee. And there was broughte a stone, and layed vpon the hole of the denne, thys the kyng sealed with his owne ryng, and with the sygnet of hys pryaces: that the kynges commaundemente concernynge Daniell, shuld not be brokē. So the king wēt into hys palace, & eate no meate that nyght, neyther was there anye mynstrelsye brought in before him, nether could he take any slepe. But betymes in the morninge, at the breake of the day, the kynge arose, and wente in all haste vnto the denne of the Lions.

Nowe as hee came nye vnto the den, hee cryed with a piteous voyce vnto Daniel: yea, the kyng spake, and saide vnto Daniel: O Daniel, thou seruaunte of the liuinge God, is not thy god (whom thou alway seruest) able to delyuer the from the lions? Daniel sayd vnto the king: O kynge, God saue thy life for euer. * My God hath F sent hys aungel, which hath shut the Dan. 3.f lyons mouthes, so that they myghte Jud. 14.e not hurte me. For why? myne vnrighteousnes is founde out before hym. And Heb. 11.f as for thee, O king, I neuer offended thee. Then was the kyng exceadinge glad, and commaunded to take Daniel oute of the denne. So Daniel was brought out of the denne, and no maner of hurte was founde vppon hym. For he put hys trust in his G O D. And as for those men, which had accused Daniel, the kyng commaunded to bring them, and to cast them in the Lions denne: them, their children, and Da. 14.g their wyues. * So the Lyons badde the maistrye of them, and brake all their bones a sonder, or euer they came at the grounde. * After thys, wrote Dan. 3.f
kyng Darius vnto al people kinreds and tongues, that dwelt in al landes: peace bee multiplyed with you. My commaundement is, in all my dominion and kingdome, that menne feare and stande in awe of Daniels God.
Dan. 14.f * For he is the lyuinge God, whyche abydeth euer: hys kyngdome shal not faple, and hys power is euerlastynge.
Esa. 14.h * It is he that deliuereth, and saueth, Dan. 3.g
he doeth woonders and marueylous woorkes, in heauen and in earthe, hee hath preserued Daniel from the power of the Lions. This Danyel prospered in the reygne of Darius and Cyrus of Persia.

The. vii. Chapter.

IN the fyrst yeare of Balthazar kynge of Babilon, sawe Daniell a dreame, and a vision was in hys heade vppon hys bed. Whyche dreame hee wrote, and the summe of the matter is thys: Daniel spake and sayde: I sawe in my vision by nyght, and beholde the four wyndes of the heauen stroue vppon the Sea, and foure greate beastes came vp from the Sea, one vnlike another.
A

The

The first was as a lion, and yet had Jer.4.a b he • Eagles wynges. I sawe that his Eze.17.a wynges were pluckt from him, and he taken away from the earth: that he stode vpon hys fete as a man, and that there was geuen him a mans hearte.
B Behold, the seconde beast was like a Apo.18 c • beare, and stode vppon the one syde.
Amonge hys teeth in hys mouth, he had thre great long teeth, and it was sayde vnto him: Aryse, eate vp muche flesh. Then I loked, and behold there was another like vnto a leopard, this Dan.8.b had wynges as a foule, • euen four v-Apo.13.a pon the backe. This beaste had foure heades, and there was power geuen him After thys I sawe in a vision by nyghte, and beholde, the fourth beaste was grimme and horrible, and mar-uelous strong. It had great yron teeth it deuoured and destroyed, and stamped the residue vnder hys fete. It was farre vnlyke the other beastes, C that wer before it: for it had • ten hor-Apo.1.c. nes, wherof I tooke good heede. And beholde, there came vp among theym another lytle horne, before whō there was three of the fyrst hornes pluckte awaye. Beholde thys horne had eyes lyke a man, and a mouth speaking pre Da.10.a sumptuous thynges. • I looked tyll the seates were prepared, and tyll the old aged sat him downe. His clothing was as whyte as snow, and the hea-res of his heade lyke the pure wool.
His throne was lyke the fyrye flame, and hys wheles as the burnyng fyre.
There drewe foorth a fyerie streame, Apo.5.d and went out from him. • I thousand times, a thousande serued him. x. M.
times ten thousand stode before hym.
The iudgement was set, and the bokes opened. Then toke I hede there vnto, because of the voice of the proud wordes, which the horne spake. I be-D helde tyl the beast was slaine, and his mat.25.d bodye destroyed, • geuen ouer to bee brent in the fyre. As for the power of the other beastes also it was taken away, but their lyues were prolonged for a tyme and season. I sawe in a vy-Mat.13 sion by night, and behold, • there came Acte.1.b one in the cloudes of heauen lyke the sonne of man, which wente vnto the olde aged, before whom they brought him. Then gaue he him • power and Phil.2.a dignitie regal, that al people, trybes, and tunges shoulde serue him. • Hys mat.28.e power is an euerlastynge power, Joh.12.b which shall neuer be put downe: and his kingdom endured vncorrupt. My heart was vexed, and I • Daniel had Dan.14 a troubled spirite wythin me, and the visions of my head made me afrayde:
till I gat me vnto • one of them that Den.9.b stode by, to knowe the trueth concernynge all these thinges. So he tolde me, and made me vnderstande the interpretation of these thynges. These E foure greate beastes, are foure kinges whych shall aryse oute of the earthe.
These shall take in the kyngedome of the sayntes of the most hyest, and pos-sesse it still more and more for a longe seson. After this I requyred diligent-lye to knowe the trueth, concerninge the fourth beaste, which was so farre vnlyke the other beastes, and so horrible: whose teeth were of yron, and his nailes of brasse: whiche deuoured & destroied, & slāyed the residue vnder his fete. I desyred also to knowe the truth as touching the • ten horns that Apo.15.a he had vpon his head, and this other, and.17.c whiche came vppe afterwarde, before whose face there fel down thre, which horn had eies and a mouth, that spake presumptuous thynges, and looked with a grymmer visage then his fellowes. I beheld, and the same horne F made battaile against the saincts: yea and gate the victorie of theym, vntyll the tyme that the olde aged came, that the iudgement was geuē to the chiefest Sainctes: and tyll the tyme that the sainctes had the kyngdom in possession. He gaue mee this answere.
That fourthe beast shalbe the fourth kyngdome vppon earthe: it shall bee more thenne all other kyngedomes, it shall deuoure, treade downe, and de-stroye all other landes. • The tenne G hornes, are tenne kynges, that shall Zach.1.c aryse oute of the kyngedome, after whom there shall stande vp another, whiche shalbe greater then the fyrste.

he shal subdue three kinges, and shal speake wordes agaynst the hyest of al: he shal destroy the sayntes of the most
Dan. 2,c hyest, * and thynke, that he maye chaunge times and lawes. They shal Apo. 12d be geuen vnder his power, * vntyll a tyme, two tymes, and halfe a tyme. But ỹ iudgement shalbe kept, so that his power shalbe taken from him, for he shalbe destroyed, and perishe at the last. As for the kingdome power and all might that is vnder the heauen: it shalbe geuen to the holy people of the Luke. 1.c most hyest, * whose kingdome is euer Dan. 14f lasting: yea, all powers shal serue and obey him. Thus farre extend the wordes. Neuertheles, I Daniel was so Luke. 2,c vexed in my thoughtes, that my countenaunce chaunged, * but the wordes I kept styll in my herte.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

A IN the third yeare of the reygne of kyng Balthasar, there appeared a vision vnto me Daniell af-Dani. 7 a ter that I had sene the * firste. I sawe in a vision (and when I sawe it, I was at Susis in the chefe citye, whi-Jer. 49.f che lieth in the land of * Elam) and in Eze. 32 d the vision, me thought I was by the ryuer of Ulai. Then I loked vp and sawe: and beholde, there stode before the ryuer, a ramme, which hadde two hornes: and these two hornes were hye, but one was hyer then another, and the hyest came vp behynd. I sawe that thys ramme pushed with hys hornes, agaynst the west, agaynst the north, and agaynste the south: so that no beastes mighte stande before hym, nor defend them from his power: but he did as him lysted, and waxed gret-B ye. I toke hede vnto thys, and then came there an he goate from the west ouer the whole earth and touched not the ground. This goate had a maruelous wrethen horne betwixt his eies and came vnto the rãme, that had the two hornes (whom I had sene afore by the ryuer syde) and ranne fearcely vpon him with hys mighte. I sawe him draw nye vnto the ramme, beyng very fierce vpon him: ye, he gaue him such a stroke, that he brake hys two hornes. Neyther hadde the ramme so muche strengthe as to stande beefore him: but he cast him down, trode him vnder his fete: and no man was able to delyuer the ramme oute of his power. The goate waxed exceadynge great, and when he was at the strongest, his great horne was broken also
* Then grewe there other foure such Dan. 7. 8 lyke in the steade, towarde the foure 1 Esa. 11 windes of the heauen. Yea, out of one C of the least of these hornes, there came vp yet another horne, whiche waxed maruelous great, towarde the southe, toward the east, and toward the fayre pleasant land. It grew vp to the host of heauen, whereof it dyd caste some downe to the ground, and of the starres also, and trode them vnder fete. Yea, it grewe vppe vnto the prince of the host, from whom the dayly offerynge was taken, and the place of his Sanctuary casten downe. And a certayne season was geuen vnto it, agaynst the dayly offerynge (because of wickednes) that it might cast downe the veritye to the grounde, and so to prosper in all thinges, that it wente aboute.
D Upon this I herd one of the sayntes speakyng, whiche sayncte sayde vnto one that asked this question. Howe long shall this vysyon of the dayly sacrifice and of the wasting abhomination endure: that the Sanctuarye and the power shall so be troden vnder fote: And he answered him: Vnto the euening and the morneyng, euen two thousand and three hundreth dayes: then shall the Sanctuarye be clensed agayne. Nowe when I Daniell had sene this vision, and soughte for the vnderstandynge of it: beholde, there stode before me a thinge lyke vnto a man. And I herd a mans voyce in the ryuer of Ulai, which cryed, and sayd:
O Gabriell, make this man vnderstande the vision. So he came, and stode by me. But I was afrayed at his commynge, and fell downe vpon my face. Then sayde he vnto mee: O E thou sonne of man, marke well, for in the last tyme shall this vysyon be ful-fylled.

filled. Now as he was speaking vnto me, I waxed faint, so that I sanke downe to the grounde. But he tooke holde vpon me, and sette me vp again, saying: Beholde, I will shewe thee what shall happen in the last wrathe: for in the tyme appoynted, it shall bee fulfylled. The ramme whyche thou sawest with the twoo hornes, is the kyng of the Medes and Perses: but the goate is the kyng of Grekelande: the greate horne that stoode betwixte his eyes, that is the principall kyng. But where as it brake, and foure other rose vp in the stede: it signifieth, 1. Maca. 1. 8 that out of this people shall stande vp F foure kyngdoms, but not so mighty as it. After these kyngdomes (while vngodlynesse is a growynge) there shall arise a Kynge of an vnshamefast face, whiche shalbe wyse in darke speakynges. He shall bee mighty and stronge, but not in his own strength. He shal destroy aboue measure, and al that he goeth about, shall prosper: he shall slea the strong and holy people. And throwe his craftynes, falshode shall prospere in his hande, his herte shalbe proude, and many one shall bee put to deathe in his welthinesse. He 2. Ma. 9. shall stande vp agaynst the Prynce of 2. Tes. 2. Princes, * but he shall bee destroyed without hande. And this vision that Esa. 8. d is shewed vnto thee, is as sure as the euening and the morning. * Therfore write thou vp this sight, for it wil be long or it come to passe. Vppon thys, was I Daniell very fainte, so that I lay sicke certayne dayes: but when I rose vp, I went about the kyngs businesse, and merualled at the vision, neuertheles no man knewe of it.

The. ix. Chapter.

A Dan. 5. c IN the fyrst yeare of Darius, the sonne of Ahasuerus, which was of the sede of the Medes, and was made kyng ouer the realme of the Chaldees: yea, euen in the fyrst yeare of his reigne, I Daniell desyred to knowe the yearely numbre out of the bokes, Jer. 25 b and. 29. b wherof the Lord spake vnto * Jeremie the Prophet: that Jerusalem should lye waste. lxx. yeares: I tourned me vnto God the Lorde, for to praye and make myne intercession, with fasting sackcloth and ashes, I prayed before the Lorde my God, and knowledged, 2. Es. 1. 8 saying: * O LORDE, thou great and. 9. c and fearefull God, thou that keepest couenaunte and mercye wyth theym whyche loue thee, and doo thy commandementes. * We haue synned, we Baru. 1. haue offended, we haue beene disobedient, and gone back: yea, we haue departed from all thy precepts and iudgementes. We wolde neuer folowe B thy seruauntes the Prophetes, that spake in thy name to our kynges and Princes, to our forfathers, and to all Tren. 1. the people of the land. * O LORD ryghteousnesse belongeth vnto thee, vnto vs pertayneth nothynge but open shame: as it is come to passe thys daye vnto euery man of Juda, and to them that dwelle at Jerusalem. Yea, vnto all Israell, whether they be far or nye, throughout all landes: wherin thou hast strawed them, because of the offences, that they hadde done agaynst thee. Yea, O Lorde, vnto vs, to our kynges and princes, to our for- Ps. 106. C fathers, euen to vs all, * that haue offended thee, belongeth open shame. But vnto thee, O Lorde oure God, pertayneth mercye and forgeuenesse. As for vs, wee are gone backe frome hym, and haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord our GOD, to walke in 2. Pe. 1 d hys lawes, * whyche he layde before Zach. 7. b vs by hys seruantes, the Prophetes: yea, all Israell haue transgressed, and gone backe from thy law, so that they haue not hearkened vnto thy voyce. Deu. 27. Wherfore, the curse and othe * that is and. 28. Leui. 26. wrytten in the lawe of Moyses, the seruaunt of GOD (against whome * Bar. 28 wee haue offended) is poured vppon vs. * And he hathe performed hys wordes, whiche he spake against vs, and agaynst our Iudges, that iudged vs, to bryng vppon vs, suche a greate plague, as neuer was vnder heauen, lyke as nowe it is comme to passe in Jerusalem. Yea, all thys plague, as it is wrytten in the lawe of Moy-ces, is come vppon vs. Yet made we not our prayer before the Lorde oure God, that wee myghte turne agayne from oure wickednes, and to be learned in the veritye. Therfore hath the D Lorde made hast, to bring this plague vppon vs, for the Lorde oure God is ryghteous, in all his workes whiche he doeth: for why? we wolde not herken vnto his voyce. * And nowe, O Baru.2b *Exo.12 13.&14b lord our God * thou that with a mighty hand hast brought thy people out of Egypt, to get thy self a name whiche remayneth this day: we haue sinned, O Lorde, and done wickedlye agaynst all thy ryghteousnes: yet lette thy wrathfull displeasure be turned away (I beseech the) from thy citye of Jerusalem, thy holy hyll. And why?

for our synnes sake, and for the wyckednesse of our forefathers, is Jerusalem and thy people abhorred, of all them that are about vs: Nowe therfore, O our God, heare the prayer of thy seruaunt, and his intercession. O let thy face shine ouer thy Sanctuary that lyeth waste: for the Lordes sake.
O my God, enclyne thyne eare, and E herken (at the leaste for thyne owne sake) open thyne eyes: behold howe we be desolated, yea and the citie also, whiche is called after thy name: for we do not cast our prayers before the in oure owne ryghteousnesse, no, but onely in thy great mercyes. O Lord heare: O forgeue Lord, O Lord consider, tary not ouer long: but for thine owne sake do it, O my God: for thy citie, and thy people is called after thy name. As I was yet speakyng at my prayers, knowledgynge myne owne sinnes, and the sinnes of my people, makynge so myne intercession before the Lord my God, for the holye hylles sake of my God: yea, whyle I was yet speakyng in my prayer: beholde, Dani.7c and.8.a the man Gabriell, (* whome I had sene afore in the vision) came flyinge to me, and touched me about the offeryng tyme in the euening. He informed me, and spake vnto me: O Daniell sayd he: I am nowe come to make the vnderstand it. For as sone as thou beganneste to make thy prayer, it was so deuised, and therfore am I come to F shewe thee. And why? * For thou art Dan.10c a man greatly beloued. Wherfore, ponder the matter well, that thou mayest learne to vnderstande the vision. Lxx.
weekes are determined ouer thy people, and ouer the holye citye: that the wickednes may be consumed, that the synne may haue an ende, that the offence maye be reconcyled, to bryng in euerlastyng ryghteousnes, to fulfyll the visions, and the prophetes, and to annoynte the most holy one. Vnder-G stand this the, and marke it well: that from the tyme it shalbe concluded * to 1par.36b go and repayre Jerusalem agayne, 1Esd.18 vnto Chryst (or the anoynted) prince: there shalbe seuen weekes. Then shall the stretes and walles be buylded agayne. lxii. weekes, but with harde troublous time. After these. lxii. weekes, shall Chryste be slayne, and they shall haue no pleasure in him. Then shall there come a people with the Prince, and destroye the citie, and the Sanctuary: and his end shal come as the water floode. But the desolation shall continue till the ende of the battell. He shall make a stronge bonde with many for ỹ space of a weke: and when the weke is halfe gone, he shall put downe the slayne and meatofferyng. * And in the temple there shal mat.24.b be an abhominable desolation, tyll it mar.13.b haue destroied al. And it is concluded, that thys wasting shall continue vnto the ende.

¶ The.x. Chapter.

IN the thirde yere of kyng Cirus A of Persia, ther was shewed vnto Danyell (otherwyse called Balthazar) a matter, yea: a true mater, but it is yet a longe tyme vnto it. He vnderstode the matter well, and perceaued what ỹ vision was. At the same tyme, I Daniell mourned for the space of three weekes, so that I had no lust to eate breade: as for flesshe and wyne, there came none wythin my mouth: Nor, I dyd not once anoynte
my

my selfe, tyll the whole three weekes were out. Upon the .xxiiii. day of the first moneth, I was by the grete flood Dan.7.b Apoc.1.c called Tigris, ✱ I lyft vp myne eyes, and loked: and beholde, a man clothed in lynnen, whose loynes were gyrded vp with fyne golde of Araby: his body was lyke the Chrisolyte stone, his face (to loke vpon) was lyke lyghtening, his eies as the flame of fyre, his armes and fete were lyke fayre glysteryng metall, but the voyce of hys wordes was lyke the voyce of a multitude. ✱ I Daniell alone sawe thys B Dani.3.c ✱Act.9.a vision, ✱ the men that were with me, sawe it not: but a great fearefulnes fell vpon them, so that they fled away and hid them selues. I was left there my selfe alone, and sawe this great vision, so long tyl ther remayned no more strength within me: yea, I loste my colour clene, I wasted away, and my strength was gone. Yet hearde I the voice of his wordes: and as sone as I heard it, sayntnes came vpon me, and I fell downe flat to the grounde, vpon my face. And beholde, an hande touched me, which set me vp vpō my knees, and vppon the palmes of my Dan.9.b handes, saying vnto me: ✱ O Daniel, thou welbeloued man: take good hede of the wordes, that I shall saye vnto thee, and stand ryght vp, for vnto the C am I nowe sente. And when he had sayde these wordes, I stode vp, tremblyng. Thē sayd he vnto me: feare not Daniell: for why? sence the first daye that thou set thin hert to vnderstand, and diddest chasten thy selfe before thi God: thy wordes haue ben herd. And I had come vnto thee, when thou begannest to speake, had not the prince ouer the kingdom of the Perses with Iosu.3.d Dan.13.a stand me .xxi. dayes. But lo ✱ Michael one of the chefe princes, came to helpe me, and I was left to continue there with the kynges of Persia, and am come to shewe the, what shall happen vnto the people in the latter dayes. For it wilbe long yet or the vision be fulfylled. Now when he had spoken these wordes vnto me. I cast downe my head to the ground, and held my tonge. Behold, ther touched my lyps one very lyke vnto a man. Then opened I my mouth, and sayde vnto him that stode before me: O my Lorde, my joyntes are loosed in the vision, & there is nomore strength within me. How D may me my Lordes seruaunt then talke with my Lorde? seynge there is no strength in me, so that I can not take my breth? Upon this there touched me agayne, one much lyke a man, and Dani.9.d comforted me, saying: O thou man so welbeloued, feare not, be content, take a good hert vnto thee, and be strong. So when he had spoken vnto me, I recouered, and sayde: Speake on my Lord, for thou hast refreshed me. Thē sayd he, knowest thou wherfore I am come vnto the? now wil I go again to fight with the kyng & prince of the Perses. As sone as I go forth, lo, the prince of Grekeland shall come. Neuertheles I will shew the that thing that is faste noted in the scripture of truthe. And as for all ponder matters, there is none that helpeth me in them, but Michaell your prince.

The .xi. Chapter.

A And in the firste yeare of Darius of Media, I stode by hym to comforte hym, and to strength him, and nowe will I shew thee the trueth. Beholde: there shall stand vp yet thre kings of Persia, but the fourth shalbe far rycher then they all. And when he is in the chefest power of his ryches, he shal prouoke euery man against the realm of Greke lande. ✱ Then shall there aryse yet a Dani.7.a mightye kynge, that shall rule with great dominiō, and do what him list.
1 Mac 1.a ✱ And as sone as hys kyngdome cometh vppe, it shall be destroyed, and deuyded towarde the foure wyndes of the heauen. They that come after hym, shalle not haue suche power and dominion as hee, but hys kyngedome shallbe scatred, yea, euen among other then those. And the kynge of the south shalbe myghtyer, then hys other princes. And one shalbe strōger then he, and shall rule his dominion

B with great power. And in the ende of yeares, they shall be ioyned together, and the kynges daughter of the south shall come to the kynge of the north, for to make frendshyppe, but she shall not obtayne the power of that arme, neyther shall shee be able to endure thorowe his might, but she and suche as brought her (yee, and he that begat her, and conforted her for hys tyme) shalbe delyuered vp. Out of the braū-ches of her rote, there shall one stande vp in his stead which with power of armes shal go thorow the kynges land of the north, and hādle him accordyng to hys strength. As for their Idoles and princes, with their costlye Jewels of gold and siluer, he shall carye them away captines into Egipt, and he shall reygne more yeares then the kynge of the north. And when he is come into the kynges realme of the south, he shalbe fayne to turne agayne into his owne land. Wherfore his sons shalbe displeased, and shall gather together a mighty great host of people:
and one of theym shall come, and goo thorowe lyke a water flood: then shal he turne, and go forth with defyynge and boastynge vnto his owne lande.

C Then the kyng of the south shalbe an gry, & shal come forth to fight against the kynge of the North: yea, he shall bryng a great multitude of people together, and a great heape shalbe geuen into his hand: these shall he carye away with great pryde, for so much as he hath cast downe so many thousandes, neuertheles, he shal not preuayle.
For the kyng of the north shall gather (of the newe) a greater heape of people then afore, and come forth (after a certaine time and yeres) with a migh tye hoste, and exceadyng greate good.
At ỹ same time there shal many stand vp agaynst the kyng of the southe, so that the wicked childrē of thy people also shall exalt them selues (to fulfyll the vision) and then fall. So the kyng of the north shal come to lay sege, and to take the stronge fensed cityes. And the power of them of the south shall not be able to abyde him, and the beste men of the people shal not be so strōg, as to resist him. Shortly, whē he cōmeth, he shall handle him as he lyste, and no mā shalbe so hardy as to stand agaynste him. He shall stande in the pleasaunt countrey, whiche thorowe hym shalbe destroyed: he shall set his face with al his power to obtayne his kyngdome, and to be lyke it. Yea, that shall he doo, and geue hym vnto the daughters among wemen, to destroy him. But he shall fayle, neyther shall he obtayne his purpose. After thys shall he set his face vnto the Iles and take many of them. A prince shal stop him, to do him a shame: besyde the con fusion that els shall come vnto hym.
Thus shall he turne agayne to hys D owne lande, stomble and fall, and be nomore found: so he that came vppon him and did him violence, shall stand in his place, & haue a pleasaunt kingdome: and after a fewe days he shalbe destroyed, and that neyther in wrath, nor in battell. In his steade ther shall aryse a vyle person, not holdē worthy of a kynges dignitye: this shall come in peaceably, and obtayn the kingdom with fayre wordes: he shall fyght a-gaynst the armes of the mightye (and destroye them) yea, and agaynste the prynce of the couenaūt. So after that he hath taken truce with him, he shall handle disceatfully: that he maye get vp, and ouercome hym with a small flocke: and so with craftynesse to get him to ỹ fattest place of the lande, and to deale other wyse, then ether his fathers or graundfathers dyd. For he shall destroy the thyng, that they had robbed and spoyled, yea, and all theyr substaunce, ymagenyng thoughtes a-gaynst the strong holdes, and that for a tyme. His power and harte shall be E stered vp with a great armie agaynst the kyng of the south, where thorow the kynge of the south shalbe moued then vnto battell, with a greate and mighty host also. Neuertheless, he shall not be able to stand, for they shal cōspire against him. Yea, thei that eat of his meat shall hurt him: so that his hoost shall fall, and manye be slayne downe.

downe. These two kynges shall be mynded to do mischefe, and talk of discrete at one table: but they shall not prosper, for whye? the ende shall not come yet, vnto the tyme appoynted.

2 mac. 5. a • Then shall he go home agayne into his owne lande with great good, and set his herte agaynste the holye couenaunt, he shalbe bulye agaynst it, and then returne home. At the same tyme appoynted he shal come again, and go toward the south. So shall it happen otherwyse then at the firste, yet ones

Nu. 24. d agayne. And whye? • the shippes with Italians shal come vpon him, that he may be smytten and turne agayn: that he may take indignation agaynst the couenaunt of holines, to medle against it. Yea, he shall turne him, and drawe such vnto him, as leaue the holy couenaunt. F He shall sette myghtye men to bahalowe the sanctuary of strength, to put downe the dayly offeryng, and to set vp the abhominable desolation. And such as breake the couenant shal he flatter with fayre wordes. But the people that wyll knowe their God, shall haue the ouerhand and prosper. Those also that haue vnderstandyng among the people shall enfourme the multitude: and for a long season, they shalbe persecuted with sweard, with fire, with captiuitie, and with the takyng awaye of their goodes. Nowe whē they fall, they shalbe set vp with a lytle helpe: but many shall cleue vnto them faynedly. Yea, some of those which haue vnderstanding shalbe persecuted also, that they maye be tryed, purifyed and clensed, tyll the tyme be out: for there is yet another tyme appoynted. The kynge shall do what

2 Thes. 2. a him lyst, • he shal exalt and magnifye him self against al, that is God. Yea, he shall speake maruelous thinges a-

Apo. 15. a gainst the God of all goddes, wherin he shal prosper so long tyl the • wrath be fulfylled, for the conclusion is decreed alreadye. He shall not regarde the God of his fathers, but his lust shall be vpon wemen. Yea, he shal not care for any God, for he shall magnify him self aboue all. In his place shall hee worship the mighty stoute God: and the God whō his fathers knew not, shall he honour with gold and siluer, with precious stones and pleasaunte Jewels. Thus shall he do, thorowe his strong fensed places, settynge vp G his strange god, whom he confesseth, and encreasyng his glorye. Suche as will receaue hym, and take hym for God, he shall geue thē great worship and power: yea, and make them lordes of the multitude, and geue theym the lande wyth rewardes. In the latter tyme shall the kinge of the southe stryue with him: and the kyng of the north in like maner shal come against him with charets, horsmen and with a great naupe of shyps. He shall com into the landes, destroy & go thorow: he shall enter also into the fayre pleasaunt land. Many cityes & countreys shall decay • except Edom, Moab, and the beste of the chyldren of Ammon, Apo. 12. a which shall escape from his hand. He shall stretch forth his hands vpon the countreys, and the land of Egypt shal not escape him. For thorowe his goynge in, he shall haue dominion ouer the treasures of syluer and golde, and ouer all the precious Jewels of Egypt, Libia, and Ethiopia. • Neuertheles, the tydynges oute of the easte Apo. 11 a and the Northe shall trouble him, for the which cause he shall go forth to destroye and rote out a great multitude. The tentes of his palace shalbe pytched betwyxt the two seas, vpon the hill of the noble sanctuary, for he shall come to his death, • and then shall no Apo. 19 d man helpe hym.

¶ The. xii. Chapter.

THe tyme will come also, that I the gret prince • Michael, which Apo. 5. c shall aryse vp, for • there shall come a Mat. 24. tyme of trouble, suche as neuer was, sens ther began to be any people vnto that same tyme. Then shal thy people be delyuered, yea, all those that be found wrytten in the boke. • Manye Job. 15. c of theym that slepe in the dust of the 2 Co. 13. a earthe shall awake: some to the euer-lastyng lyfe, some to perpetual shame mat.13c. and reproofe. ✠ The wyse (suche as B haue taught other) shal glyster as the shyning of heuen: and those that haue instruct the multitude vnto godlines shalbe as the starres, world wythout ende. And thou O Daniel, shutte vp these wordes, and seale the booke tyll the laste tyme. Many shall go aboute here and there, and then shall knowe-ledge increase. So I Daniel looked, and beholde, there stoode as it were other two: one vppon thys shore of the water, the other vpō yonder side. And one of theym sayde vnto him whiche C was clothed in lynen and stode aboue vppon the waters of the flud. Howe long shal it be to the end of these wōderous workes? ✠ Then heard I the Apo.10 a man wyth the lynnen clothes which stode aboue vppon the waters of the flud: when he helde vp hys ryght and lefte hand vnto heauen, and sware by Apo.11.c him whiche liueth for euer, ✠ that it shal tarye for a tyme, twoe times and halfe a tyme: and when the power of the holye people is cleane scatered a-D brode, then shal al these thinges be ful filled. I hearde it wel, but I vnder-stode it not. Then said I: O my Lord what shal happen after that? He answered: Go thy wai Daniel, for these wordes shalbe closed vp and sealed, til the laste time: and many shalbe puri-fyed, clensed and tryed, (as it were mat.13 b with fyre) But the vngodly shal liue wyckedly ✠ and those wycked (as ma nye of theym as they be) shal haue no vnderstandynge. As for such as haue vnderstandinge, they shall regarde it.

And from the tyme forth that the dai-lye offring shalbe put downe, and the abhominable desolation set vp, there mat.10.c shalbe a. M.ccxc. dayes. ✠ O well is hym that waiteth and commeth to the. M.iii. C. & xxxv. days. Go thou thy way now til it be ended: take thy rest, and abyde thy lotte, til the days haue an end.

☞ The end of the prophe-cie of Daniel.

☞ The boke of the Pro-phecy of Oseas.

☞ The.i. Chapter.

THis is the worde of A the Lorde, that came vnto Oseas, the son of Beery ✠ in ỹ dayes 4Re.15.
of Oseas, Joathan, Ahaz and Jezekias kinges of Juda: and in the tyme of Jeroboam the sonne of Joas kinge of Israell. Fyrste, when the Lorde spake vnto Oseas, he sayd vnto him: ✠ Go thy way, take an har- Leu.21 b lot to thy wyfe, and gette children by her: for the lande hath committed gret . whordome against the Lorde. So he went, and toke Gomer the daughter of Deblaim: whiche conceaued and brought forth a sonne. And the Lorde sayde vnto him: call hys name Jesraell, for ✠ I wyll shortelye auenge the 4Re.15c blud of ✠ Jesraell vppon the house of ✠Re.21 Jehu, and wyll bringe the kingdome of the house of Israell to an end. The wyll I breake the bowe of Israel, in the valley of Jesrael. She conceaued yet agayne, and bare a daughter. And B he sayde vnto him: Cal her name Loruhamah (that is, not obtaining mercye) for I wil haue no pitie vpon the 4Re.19c house of Israel, but forget theym, and C put them cleane out of remembraunce.
✠ Neuertheles, I wyl haue mercy v- Ge.49.c pon the house of Juda, and wyll saue theym, euen through the Lorde theyr God. But I wyl not deliuer theym thrugh any bow, sweard, battel, horses or horsemen. Now when she had D weyned Loruhamah, she conceaued a-gayne, and bare a son. Then sayde he: cal hys name Loany. For wyfe-lyce are not my people, therefore wyll not I be your God. And though the nūbre of the children of Israel be as the sande of the sea, which can neyther be measured nor tolde: yet in the place where it is sayd vnto thē, ✠ ye be not Rom.9.c my people: euen there shal it bee thus ✠Joh.10 reported of theym, ✠ they be the chyl-

dren

dren of the liuyng God. ✠ Then shall the children of Iuda and the children of Israel be gathered together again, and chose themselues one head, & then depart out of the land: for great shalbe the day of Israell.

¶ The. ii. Chapter.

A TEll your brethren, that they ar my people, & your systers, that they haue obteined mercye. As for youre mother, ye shall chyde with her, & reproue her: ✠ for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband, onelesse she put away her whordom oute of my syght, and her aduoutrie frome her breastes. If no, I shall strip her naked, and sett her ✠ euen as she came into the worlde: yea, I shall laye her wast, and make her like a wyldernes, and slea her for thirst. I shal haue no pitie also vpon her children, ✠ for they be the children of fornication. Their mother hath broken her wedlock, and she that bare them ✠ is come to confusion. For she sayd: I wyl go after my louers, that geue me my water & my bread, my wolt and flaxe, my oyle and my drynke. But I wyll hedge the way with thornes, and stoppe it, that she shall not fynd her foote steps: and though she runne after her louers, yet shall she not get them: she shall seeke them, but not fynd them. ✠ Then shal she say: Wel, I will go turne again to my first husband, for at that time was I better at ease, then nowe. But this wold she not know, where as I yet gaue her corne, wyne, oyle, syluer, and gold, ✠ whiche she hath hanged vpon Baal. Wherfore, now wil I go take my corne and wyne again in their season, and fet agayne my wooll and my flaxe, which I gaue her, to couer her shame. ✠ And nowe will I discouer foolyshnes, euen in the syght of her louers, and no man shall deliuer her out of my handes. Moreouer, I wylle take away all her mirthe, ✠ her holye dayes, her newe moones, her Sabbothes, and all her solemne feastes. I will destroy her vineyardes, and fygtrees, though she saythe: Lo, here are my rewardes, that my louers haue geuen me. I wil make it a wood, and wyld beastes shall eate it vp. I wyll punishe her also for the dais of Baal, ✠ wherin she censed him, decking him with her care rynges and cheyns whe she folowed her louers, & forgate me, saith ✠ Lord. Wherfore behold, I wil call her agayn, bring her into a wyldernes, and speake frendly vnto her: there wyl I geue her her vineyardes agayn, yea, and the ✠ valley of Achor also, to shewe her hope and comforte. Then shall she syng there, ✠ as in the tyme of her youthe, and ✠ lyke as the day when she came out of the land of Egypt. Then (saythe the Lorde, she shall saye vnto me (O my husbande, and shall call me no more Baal: for I wyl take away those names of Baal from her mouthe, yea, she shall neuer remember theyr names any more. ✠ Then wil I make a couenant with them, with the wyld beasts, with the foules of the ayre, & with euery thing that crepeth vpon the earth. ✠ As for bowe, sweard, and battell, I will destroy suche out of the lande, and wyll make theym to sleape safely. ✠ Thus will I marrye thee vnto myne owne selfe for euermore: yea, euen to my self wil I mary thee in righteousnes, in equitie, in louyng kindnes and mercy In faithe also wyl I mary thee vnto my self, and thou shalt know ✠ Lord. At the same time wil I shew my self frendely & gracious vnto the heauēs, saith the lord: & the heuēs shal help ✠ earth, and the earth shall help ✠ corne, wine, and oile, & they shal help Israel ✠ I will sow them vpon earthe, for a sede to myne owne self, and wyl haue mercy vpon her, ✠ was without mercy. And to them whiche were not my people, I wyl say: Thou art my people, and he shal say: Thou art my god.

¶ The. iii. Chapter.

THen sayd the Lord to me: ✠ Go yet thy way, and wowe an aduouterous woman, whom thy neighbour loueth, as the Lorde doothe the children of Israell: howe bee it, they haue respecte to straunge Gods, ✠ and loue the wyne cannes.

So

Jere. 3. a
Eze. 16 a
Joh. 8. d
Leui. 15.
Eze. 16 b
Jere. 13.
Gen. 16. c
Jud. 2. b and. 10. b
Ose. 7. d
Jud. 5. a
Eze. 15 a
Leui. 26
Esai. 2. a
Eze. 16
1. pet. 2. a
Ro. 9. c
Eze. 62 a
Esa. 28 a
Amos. 6.

So I gather for .xv. syluerlings, and for an homer and an half of barly, and sayd vnto her: Thou shalt abide with mee a longe season, but see that thou playest not the harlot, and looke thou 2Pa.15c medle with none other man, and then will I kepe my self for thee. • Thus the children of Israell shal sit a great while without king and prince, with oute offerynge and aulter, withoute priest and reuelation. But afterward shal the childrē of Israel conuert and seke the Lord their GOD, and • Da Exe.34d uid their kynge: & in the latter dayes they shall worshyp the Lord, and hys louyng kindenes.

¶ The .iiii. Chapter.

A HEare the word of the Lorde, O ye children of Israell. For the Lorde must punysh them, that dwelle in the lande. And why? there is no trueth, there is no mercy, there is no knowledge of God in the land: but swearing, lying, manslaughter, theft and aduoutry, haue gotten the ouerhand, and one bloudgyltines foloweth another. Therfore shall the lande bee in a miserable case, and all they that dwel therein, shalbe rooted out. The beasts in the feld, the foules in ỹ ayre, & the fishes in ỹ sea, shal die Yet is there none, that wyll chasten Mala.1b nor reproue another. • For thy people rebuketh the priestes, whyche should reforme other men. Therfore stumblest thou in the day time, and the pro B phet with thee in the nyght. I wyll bringe thy mother to scilence, and why? • my people perish because they Bar.3.b haue no knowledge. Seyng thē that thou hast refused vnderstandynge, therefore wyll I refuse thee also, so that thou shalt nomore be my priest: and for so much as thou hast forgottē the lawe of thy God, I wil also forgette thy children. The more they increased in the multitude, the more thei synned agaynst me, therefore wyll I change theyr honor into shame. They eate vp the synnes of my people, and Esa.24a corage thē in theyr wickednes: • thus the priest is become lyke the people.
C Wherfore ỹ wil punysh thē for their wycked wayes, and reward them according to their owne ymaginations.
• They shal eat, and not haue inough Lem.6.a They haue vsed whordome, therfore Jg.1.a. shal they not prosper: and whye? they haue forsaken the Lorde, and not regarded him. Whordome, wyne & drynkennes taketh the heart away. • Thy 4Re.1.a people aske councel at their stockes, their staffe must tel thē. For an whorysh mynde hath dysceaued them, so that they commyt fornication against 4Re.17 their God. • They make sacrifices vpon the hie mountaynes, & burne their incense vppon the hilles: yea, amonge the okes, groues and bushes, for there are good shadowes. Therefore youre D daughters are becomme harlots, and your spouses haue broken their wedlocke: I wyl not punish your daughters for beyng defyled, and your bryNu.25d des that became whoores: • seinge the fathers thē selues haue medled with harlottes, and offered with vnthryftes: but the people that wil not vnderstand must be punyshed. Though thou Israel art dysposed to playe the harlot: yet shouldest not thou haue offended, O Juda, thou shouldest not haue 3Re.12d runne vnto Gilgal • nor haue gon vp to Bethauen, nor haue sworne, the Lord liueth. For Israel is gone backe lyke a wanton cowe. The Lord therfore shall make her feede, as the lambe that goeth astraye. And where as Ephraim is become partaker of Idols: wel, let him go, their dronkēnes hath put them backe, and brought theim to whordome. Their rulers loue rewardes, bringe (saye they) to their owne shame. A wynd shal take hold of their fethers, and they shalbe confounded in theyr offrynges.

¶ The .v. Chapter.

A OYe priestes here this, take hede O thou houshold of Israell: geue eare O thou kingly hous, for it were your part to se iudgement done, but you are become a snare vnto Mizphah, & a spred net vnto ỹ mount of Thabor: they kil sacrifices by heapes, and turne far from the Lord, and I haue beene a rebuker of theym all.

I

I know Ephraim well ynough, and Israell is not hyd fro me: for Ephraim is now become an harlot: and Israell is defiled. They are not mynded to turne vnto their God, for they haue
B an whorishe heart, so that they canne Osee. 7 d not knowe the LORDE. * But the pryde of Israel will be rewarded hym in his face, yea both Israell and Ephraim shall fall for their wicked-Jer. 3. d * deu. 4. c nesse, & Juda with them also. * They
Eze. 14 a shall come with their sheepe and bullockes * to seke the lord, but they shal
C not fynde hym, for he is gone from them. As for the Lord, they haue refused hym, and brought vp bastard children: a moneth therfore shall deuoure theym with their portions. Blowe with the shaulmes at Gibea, & with the trompet in Ramah, cry out at Bethauen vpon the one side of Ben Jamin. In the tyme of the plague shall Ephraim be layd wast, therfore did I faithfully warn the tribes of Israel.
Dan. 19. and. 27. c Yet are the princes of Juda become lyke them. * that remoue the land markes, therefore will I poure oute my wrath vpon them like water. Ephraim is oppressed, and can haue no right of the lawe: for why? they folow the doctrines of ỹ vngodly mē. Therfore will I be vnto Ephraim as a mothe, D and to the house of Juda as a cater-
4. re. 16 b piller. When * Ephraim saw his sikenes, and Juda his disease, * Ephraim went vnto Assur, and sent vnto kyng Jareb: yet could not he helpe you, nor ease you of your payn. I am vnto Ephraim as a lyon, & as a lions whelpe to the house of Juda. Euen, I will spoyle them, and go my way. I will take them with me, and no man shall rescue them. I will go, and returne to my place, tyll they knowledge that they haue synned, and seke me.

The. vi. Chapter.

A
Job. 5. a In their aduersitie they shall early seke me, and saye: Come, lette vs turne agayne to the Lorde: for he hath smitten vs, and he shal heale vs: He hathe wounded vs, and he shall bynd vs vp agayne: after two dayes shall he quicken vs, in the third daye he shall raise vs vp, so ỹ we shall liue in his syght. Then shal we haue vnderstanding, and endeuour our selues to knowe the LORDE. He shall B Pro. 16 a go forth as the spring of the day, and comme vnto vs, * as the euenyng and morning rayne vppon the earth. O Ephraim, what shal I do vnto thee? O Juda, how shall I intreate thee? seeyng your loue is lyke a morynge cloude, and lyke a dew that goeth early away. Therfore haue I cut downe the Prophetes, and let them be slaine for my woordes sake: so that thy pu-C nishement shall come to lyght. * For Mat. 9. b and. 12. a Jere. 7. c I haue pleasure in louyng kindnesse, and not in offeryng: yea, in the knowledge of God, more then in burnte sacrifice. But euen like as * Adam did,
Gen. 3. c so haue they broken my couenant, and set me at naught. Gilead is a Citie of wycked doers, of malicious people, and blodsheaders. And as theues armed, wayte for hym that passeth by ỹ way: suche is the councell of the priestes, which with one agreed councell, murther cruelly such as kepe the way yea, they dare do all vnspeakable mischief. * Horrible thyngs haue I sene
Jere. 8. b in the house of Israell, there playeth Ephraim the harlot, and Israel is defyled: yea, and thou Juda keepest an harlotte for thy selfe, when I returne the captiuitie of my people.

The. vii. Chapter.

W
When I vndertake to make Israell wholle, then the vngraciousnes of Ephraim, and the wickednes of Samaria commeth to light: then go they about with lies ther for the theefe robbeth within: and without the spoiler destroyeth. They consider not in their herts, that I remembre all their wickednesse. Nowe Rom. 1 d. their owne inuētions haue beset them, which I se wel inough. * They make the king and the princes, to haue pleasure in theyr wickednes and lies. All these burne in aduoutrie, as it wer an ouen that the baker heateth, when he hath left kneading, tyll the dowgh be leuened. Euē so goth it this day with our kings & princis, for they begyn to bee:

be wod dronken thorowe wyne: they vse familiaritie with such as disceaue them. They with the ymaginacion of their hert are like an ouen, their slepe is all the night lyke the slepe of a baker, in the morning is he as hot as the flame of fire: they are altogether as C hote as an ouē. They haue deuoured their owne iudges, all their kynges are fallen: yet is there none of thē that calleth vpon me. Therfore muste Ephraim be myxt among the Heathen: Ephraim is become lyke a cake, that no man turneth, straungers haue deuoured his strength, yea he regardeth it not: he waxeth full of gray heares, Osee.5 a yet will he not know it, and the pride of Israell is cast downe before theyr face, yet will they not turne to the Lorde their God, nor seke him for all this: Ephraim is lyke a doue, that is 4.re.16 b begiled, and hath no hert: • Now call they vpon the Egiptians, nowe goo they to the Assirians: but whyle they be going here and there, I wyll spred my net ouer them, and drawe theym D downe as the foules of the ayre: and Esay.1.a according as they haue bene warned, so wyll I punyshe them. • Wo be vnto them, for they haue forsaken me. They must be destroied, for they haue 2Pet.2 a set me at naught. • I am he that haue redemed them, and yet they dissemble Mtt.15 a with me. • They call not vppon me Esa.10.c with their hertes, but lye howlynge vpon their beddes. Wheras they come together, it is but for meate & drinke, and me will they not obey. I haue taught them, and defended their arme yet do thei imagin mischef against me They turne theym selues, but not to the mooste hyest, and are become as a broken bowe. Their princes shall be slayne with the sweard, for the malice of their tunges, suche scorners shall they haue in the land of Egypt.

C The.viii. Chapter.

A SEt the horne to thy mouth, and blowe: swiftlye (as an Egle) shall the enemye come agaynste deu.31.d the house of the Lorde: for they haue broken my • couenaunt, and transgressed my lawe. Israell should haue said vnto me: thou art my God: we know the: but he hath refused the thing that 3Re.22c is good, therfore shall the enemye folowe vp pon him. • They haue ordeyned kynges, but not thorow me: they Exec.7.d haue made princes, and I muste not knowe of it. • Of their syluer and golde haue they made them Images, to bryng them selues to destruction.
3.re.12.d • Thy calfe, O Samaria, shalbe taken away, for my wrathfull indignation is gone forth agaynst thee. How long will it be, or they can be clensed. For the calfe came frome Israell, the workeman made it, therfore can it be no God, but euen in peces shall the calfe of Samaria be broken. They haue sowne wind, therfore shall they reape a storme. Their sede shall beare no corne, there shall no meale be made of theyr increase: though they reape, yet shall straungers deuour it vp. Israell shall perysshe, the Gentiles shall intreate him as a foule vessell. Hence they wente vp to the Assirians, they 4Re.17c are becom lyke a wildernesse in the de Eze.16.b sert. • Ephraim geueth rewardes to get louers, and though they hyre them
C among the Heathen, yet nowe wil I gather them vp. They shall begyn to be wery with the burthen of kings and princes. Ephraim hath made many aulters to do wyckednes, his aulters (I saye) he hadde to his synne. Though I shewe them my lawe neuer so much, they count it but strange D doctrine. Where as they do sacrifyce, offeryng the flesshe and eatynge it: the Lord wil haue no pleasure therin: but deu.19.d will remember their wickednes, and punyshe their sinnes. • Israell tur-4.re.17.a neth agayne into Egypte, they haue forgotten him that made theym, they buyld fayre palaces, and Juda maketh many stronge citees: • therefore will I sende a fire into their citees, and it shal consume their palaces.

C The.ix. Chapter.

DO not thou tryumph, O Israell, make no boastynge ouer
I ioyous things as do the Heathen, for thou hast committed aduoutry agaynst thy God, whorishe rewards hast

haſt thou loued moze then all the corn floores. ✠ Therfore ſhall they nomore Iudg. 2. c enioy the cornefloores, and wyne preſſes, and their ſweete wine ſhall fayle them. They will not dwell in the lord-Eze. 4. c des lande, ✠ but Ephraim tourneth a-gayn into Egypt, and eateth vnclean thynges among the Aſſirians. They poure out no wine for a drynkoffrynge vnto the Lord, neither geue they hym theyr ſlain offerings, but they be vnto them as mourners meates, wherin all they that eate them, ar defiled. For the bread that they haue ſuch luſt vnto, ſhall not come into the houſe of the Lord. What will ye do then in the ſolemne days, & in the feaſt of the lord?
Lo, they ſhall get theym away for the B deſtruction. Egypt ſhal receiue them Moph ſhall burie theym. The nettles ſhal ouergrowe their pleaſant goods, burres ſhall bee in their tabernacles. Be ye ſure (O Iſrael) the time of viſitation is come, the days of recompēſynge ar at hand. And then ſhal Iſrael knowe, that they were deceiued by a prophet foolithe, mad, and in a frenēſy, for the multitude of thyne iniquitie, god ſhal multiply enemies againſt thee. Ephraim hathe made hymſelfe a watchman of my God, a prophet, that is become a ſnare to doo hurt in every ſtrete, and abhomination in the houſe of his God. They bee gone to farre, and haue deſtroyed theim ſelues, lyke Iud. 19. as they dydde afore tyme, at ✠ Gaboa,
1. re. 10. c therfore their wickednes ſhall be re-
4. reg. 9. c membred, and their ſynnes puniſhed.
C I found Iſrael like grapes in the wil-Ier. 24. a dernes, and ſawe their fathers as the Pſal. 25 b fyrſte ✠ fygges in the top of the fygge tree. ✠ But they ar gon to Baal Peor and turne away fro me to that ſhamfull Idol, and are become as abhominable as their louers, Ephraim fleeth like a byrde, ſo ſhall their glorie alſo. In ſo muche, that they ſhall neyther begette, conceaue, nor beare children. And thoughe they bringe vp any, yet will I make them childleſſe among men. Yea, woe ſhall comme to theym, Ge. 47. a when I depart from them. ✠ Ephraim (as me thynke) is planted in welthines, like as Tyrus, but now muſt ſhe bryng her owne children forthe to the manſleer. O Lorde, thou ſhalte geue them: what ſhalt thou geue the?
D geue them an vnfruitfull wombe and dry breſtes. All their wickednelles is done at ✠ Gilgall, there do I abhorre Iosu. 4. d them. For the vngraciouſnes of their owne inuentions, I will driue them out of my houſe. I will loue them no more, for al their princes are vnfaithfull. Ephraim is hewen downe, their roote is dried vp, ſo ỳ they ſhall bryng no more fruite, yea, and though they bryng forth any, yet will I ſlea euen the beſt beloued fruite of their bodye. My God ſhall caſte them awaye, for they haue not ben obedient vnto him: therfore ſhall they go aſtraye amonge the Heathen.

¶ The. x. Chapter.

ISrael was a goodly ✠ vine, but he Iſai. 5. c hath brought forth vnprofitable E fruite: yea, the more fruit he had, the mo aulters he made: the more good I did to their land, the more frēdſhip ſhewed they to their images. Their hearts is deuided, therfore will they be deſtroyed. The Lorde ſhall breake downe their ymages, he ſhall deſtroye their aulters. Then ſhal they ſay: We haue no kyng, for why? we haue not feared the lord. And what ſhal then ỳ kyng do vnto vs. Thei cōmē together & ſweare vain othes: they be confederate together, therfore groweth their B puniſhement, as the wedes in the forowes of the lande. They that dwell in Samaria haue worſhypped ỳ calf of Bethauen: therfore ſhall ỳ people mourne ouer them. Yea, and the prieſtes alſo, that in their welthynes reioyſed with theym: and why? it ſhall paſſe away frō them. I ſhalbe brought to the Aſſirian: for a preſēt vnto kyng Iareb. Ephraim ſhalbe receaue full puniſhement. Iſrael ſhalbe confounded for his owne imaginations. Samaria with his kig ſhal baniſh away as the ſcumme in the water. The hie palaces of Auen, where Iſraell doo ſyn, ſhalbe caſte downe: thiſtles and thorns ſhal growe vpon their aulters.

✠ The

Luk.23c C Jud.19a

*Then ſhall they ſaye to the mountaynes: couer vs, and to the hilles: fal vpon vs. O Iſrael, thou haſte ſinned as *Gabaa did afore time, where they remayned: ſhoulde not the battel then come vpon the wycked children, as well as vpon the Gabaonytes? I wyl chaſten theym, euen after myne owne deſyre, the people ſhalbe gathered together ouer them, when I punyſh them for their great wickednes. Ephraim was vnto mee, as a kowe that is vſed to go to plowe, therefore I loued him, and fell vpon hys fayre necke. I droue Ephraim, Iuda plowed, and Iacob played the huſbande manne: Sowe vnto ryghteouſes, and reape the fruites of weldoyng: plowe vp youre freſhe lande, for it is time to ſeke the Lorde tyl he come, and rayne ryghteouſnes vppon you. But you haue plowed vngodlynes: ye haue reped iniquitie, you haue eaten the fruit of lyes. Seyng thou putteſt thy confidence in thyne owne wayes, and leaneſt to the multitude of thy woorthyes: there ſhall growe a ſedition amonge thy people; All thy ſtronge Cityes ſhall be layed waſte, euen as Salmana was deſtroyed wyth his familiers thorough hym that was auenged of Arbell, in the daye of battell, where the mother perylhed wich her children. Euen ſo ſhal it go with you (O Bethel) becauſe of your malicious wyckednes. Lyke as the mornyng goeth away, ſo ſhal the kinge of Iſraell paſſe.

C The.xi. Chapter.

A Exo.3.b. Mat.2.c. 2Re.12c

When Iſrael was younge, I loued hym: *& called my ſon out of the land of Egypt. But the more they were called, the more they went back, *offring vnto ydols of Baal, and cenſyng ymages. I lerned Ephraim to go, and bare them in myne armes, but they regarded not me, that would haue helped theym. I led theim wyth coardes of frendſhip, and wyth bandes of loue. I was euē hee, that layed the yoke vppon theyr neckes. *I gaue them fodder my ſelf Exo.26. c that they ſhoulde not go agayne into Egypte. And nowe is Aſſur their kynge. For they would not turne vn to mee. Therefore ſhall the ſwearde beginne in their Cities, the more that they haue layed vp, ſhalbe deſtroyed and eaten: and that becauſe of theyr owne ymaginations. And my people B ſhall ſtande in a doubte whither to turne theym, for when the prophetes called them to the moſte hyeſt, not one yet would geue him hys glory. What greate thynges haue I geuen thee, O Ephraim? Howe faythfull ye haue I defended thee, O Iſraell? haue I dealt wyth thee as wyth *Adama? Ge.19.d or haue I entreated thee lyke Sebo- deu.29.a im? No, my heart is other wyle minded. Yea, my mercy is ſo feruent: therfore haue I not turned me to deſtroye Ephraim in my wrothful diſpleſure. For I am God, and no man. I am euen that holy one, in the myddeſt of thee, thoughe I came not within the C Citie. The Lorde roareth lyke a lion, Apo.5.a that they may folowe him: yea, *as a lyon roareth he, that they maye bee afrayd lyke the children of the ſea, that they maye be ſcattred awaye from Egypt, as menne ſcatter byrdes: and afraide away (as doues vſe to dee) frō the Aſſirians land: and that becauſe I would haue them tary at home, ſayth the Lord. But Ephraim goeth about me wyth lyes, and the houſe of Iſrael diſſembleth. Onelye Iuda holdeth him wyth God and wyth the true holye thynges.

C The.xii. Chapter.

A Ephraim is fed wyth ayre, & foloweth after & eaſt wynd: he is euer increaſynge lyes and deſtruction. They be confederate wyth 4.re.16d the Aſſyrians, *theyr oyle is caryed Eſa.57b into Egypt. The Lord hath a courte to hold with Iuda, and will punilhe Iacob. After theyr owne wayes, and accordyng to their owne inuentions, ſhal he recōpence them. *He toke his Ge.25.c brother by the hele, when he was yet in hys mothers wombe, and in hys ſtrength he wraſtled with God: *He Ge.32.d ſtroue with the angel, and gat the victorie, ſo that he prayed & deſired hym.

*He

he found him at Bethel, and there he talked with vs. Yea, the Lorde God of hostes, euen the Lorde hym self remembred him. The turne to thy God kepe mercye and equity, and hope still in thy God. But thou arte like the marchant that hath a false weyght in hys hande, he hath a pleasure to occupy extoxtion. Ephraim thinketh thus Apo.3.c. * Tushe, I am riche, I haue good ynough: in all my worckes shall not one faute be founde that I haue offended. Yet am I the Lord thy God, euen as when I brought thee out of the land of Egipt, and sette thee in thy tentes, and as in the hye feaste dayes. I haue spoken throughe the Prophetes, and C shewed dyuers visions and declared my self by the ministration of the prophetes. But at Galaad is the abhominacion, they are fallen to vanitie. At Gilgal they haue slayne oxen: as manye heapes of stones as they hadde in theyr lande forowes, so many aulters Ge.28.b haue they made. * Jacob fled into the lande of Siria, and Israell serued for a wyfe, and for a wyfe he kepte shepe. By a prophete the Lorde brought thē out of Egipt, and by a prophet he preserued them. But Ephraim hath prouoked hym to displeasure through his abhominatiōs, therfore shal his blud be poured vpon him self, and the Lord his God shal reward him of his blasphemies.

C The.xiii. Chapter.

A When Ephraim spake, the he then trembled: & he was exalted among the Israelites, but he is gone backe to Baal. Therefore must hee die: And nowe they sin more and more: * of their syluer they make Esa.46.a Eze.16.d them molten ymages, after the ymaginations of their own braines, that is verye vdols, and yet al is nothynge but the worcke of the craftesmā. Not withstanding they preach of the same to such as there sacrifyeth: whoso wil kisse the calues, offereth perfectlye. Therfore they shalbe as the morning clowde, and as the dewe that earely passeth away, and like as dust that the whyrle wind taketh awaye from the flooze, and as smoke that goeth out of Exo.20.a the chimney. I am the Lorde GOD B which brought thee out of the land of Egipt: that thou shouldest kno we no God but me only, and that thou shouldest haue no sauiour, but onely me. I Esa.43.b toke diligent hede of thee in the wylderneſſe that dry land. But whē they were wel fedde and had ynough, they waxed proude, and forgat me, * therefore wyll I be vnto theym as a lyon and as a leoparde in the wayes, to the Assirians. I wyl come vpon them as a she beare, that is robbed of her whelpes, and I will breake the stubberne heart of theyrs. There will I deuour them as a lyon: yea, the wilde beastes shal teare them. * O Israel, thine iniquitie hath destroyed thee, but in mee Job.22.a onely is thy helpe. Where are thy kinges nowe, that should helpe thee in al thy Cities? Yea, and thy Judges, of whom thou saydest * geue me a kynge 1Re.8.a and prynces (wel) I gaue the a king in my wrathe, and in my displeasure will I take him from the again. The wyckednes of Ephraim is bound together, and his synne lyeth hyd. Therefore shall sorowes come vpon him, as vppon a woman that trauayleth. An vndiscrete son is he, for he considreth not, that he should not haue bene able to haue endured in the tyme of hys byrth, had not I defended him frō the graue, and deliuered him from death. D * O death: I wilbe thy death: O hel, 2Cor.15 I wyll be thy stynge, yet can I see no comfort, for whē he is now the goodliest among the brethrē, the east wind (euen the wynde of the Lorde) shall come downe from the wyldernes: and drye vp hys conduites, and drinke vp hys welles: he shal spoile the treasure of al pleasant vessels. As for Samaria, they shalbe made waste, and why? thei are disobedient vnto their God. They shal perish with the sword, their children shalbe slaine, and their wemen great with child shalbe ript vp.

C The.xiiii. Chapter.

O Israel, * turne thee nowe vn- A to ỹ Lord thy God, * for thou Jer.18.a hast taken a great fal through Eze.18.c

thy wyckednes. Take these woordes wyth you, when ye turne to the Lord and saye vnto him: O forgeue vs all our synnes, & receaue vs graciously, Psa.92.a Heb.3,c, * and then wyll wee offer the bullockes of oure lyppes vnto thee: Assur shalbe nomore our helper, nether wyl we ryde vppon horses anye more. Ys for the workes of our handes, we wil nomore cal vpon them: For it is thou that arte oure God, thou shewest euer mercy vnto the fatherlesse. O (if they would do this) I shoulde heale theyr sores: yea, with al my heart would I loue theym: so that my wrath shoulde cleane be turned away from thē: Yea, I would be vnto Israel as the dewe and he should growe as the lilye, and hys roote should breake out as Libanus. His branches should spread oute abroade, and be as fayre as the Oliue tree, and smel as Libanus. They that dwel vnder hys shadowe, shuld come againe, and growe vp as the corne, and florysshe as the vyne. He shoulde haue as good a name as the wyne of Lybanus. O Ephraim what haue I to do wyth ydols any more? I wyll graciouslye heare him, and leade him forth. I wyll be vnto thee as a greene figge tree: vpon me shalt thou find thy fruit Jere.9.b * Who so is wyse, shal vnderstande thys: and he that is right instruct wil Psa.18.c regard it. * For the waies of the Lord are ryghteous, such as be godly wyll walcke in theym. As for the wicked, they wyll stumble therin.

The end of the prophecie of Oseas.

The booke of Joel the prophet.

The.i. Chapter.

THys is the woord of the Lord, that came vnto Joel the sonne of Phatuel. Heare, O ye elders: ponder thys wel, all ye that dwell in the lande: yf euer there happened such a thing in youre dayes, or in the daies of your fathers. Tel your childzen of it, and let theym shewe it vnto their childzen, and so they to certifie their posteritie thereof. Looke what the caterpiller hath lefte, that hath the grashopper eaten vppe: what the grashopper left, that hath the locust eatē vp: and what the locust hath left, that hath ỹ blasting wind consumed. Wake vp ye dronkards, & wepe: mourne all ye wyne suppers, because of your swete wyne, for it shalbe taken awaye from youre mouth. Yea, a myghtye and an innumerable people shal come vp into my land: these haue teeth like ỹ teeth of lions, & chawbones lyke the Lionesses. * They shall make my vyneyarde waste, they shall pyll of the barckes of my fyggetrees, stryppe them bare, calle theim awaye, and make the branches whyte. Make thy mone as a virgin doeth, that girdeth her selfe wyth sacke, because of her brydegroome. For the meate and drinkeoffring: shalbe taken away frō the house of the Lord, and the preests the Lordes ministers shal mourne. The feld shalbe wasted, the land shalbe in a miserable case: for the corn shal be destroyed, the swete wyne shall come to confusion, and the oyle vtterly desolate. The husbandmen and the wyne gardeners, shall loke pitcously and make lamentation, for the wheat wine & barly, and because the harnest vpō the feld is so clene destroied. The grape gatherers shal make gret mone when the vineyard and figtrees be so vtterly wasted. Yea, al the pōgranats palme trees, appletrees, and the other trees of the field shal wither awaye, Thus the mery cheare of the childzen of men, shal come to confusion. Girde you, and make your mone, O ye preestes, mourne ye ministers of the aulter: go your way in, and slepe in sacke cloth, O yee officers of my God: for the meat and drinkeoffring shalbe takē away from the house of your God
Deu.32.b Proclayme a fasting, call the congregation, gather the elders * and all the Joel.2.b inhabiinhabitours of the land together into the house of the Lorde your God, and crye vnto the Lord: alas, alas for thys day. And why? the daye of the Lorde is at hande, and commeth as a destroier from the almyghtye. Shal not the meates bee taken awaye before oure eyes, the mirth also and ioye from the house of our God? The sede shall perysshe in the grounde, the Garners shall lye waste, the floores shalbe brokē downe, for the corne shalbe destroied. O what a sighing make the kine? the bullockes are in very euil lyking, because they haue no pasture: and the shepe are kampished away. O Lord, to thee wyll I cry: for the fire hath consumed the goodly pastures of the wildernes, and the flame hath brent vp al the trees of the fyeld. Yea, the wylde beastes crye also vnto thee, for the water ryuers are dryed vp, and the fyre hath consumed the pastures of the wyldernes.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

A

Hoph.1.c Zmo.5.c

BLowe out the trompet in Sion, and crye vpon my holy hil that all suche as dwell in the lande, may tremble at it: for the daye of the Lord commeth, and is harde at hande: a darke day, a glooming daye, a cloudy daye, yea a stormy daye, lyke as the mornyng spreadeth out vpon the hylles. Namely, a greate and myghtye people, such as haue not ben sence the beginning, neither shall bee after them for euermore. Before him shalbe a consuming fyre, and behynde hym a burning flame. The lande shal be as a garden of pleasure before him, but behynd him shal it be a very wast wyldernesse, and there is no man that shal escape him: They are to loke vpon lyke barbed horses, and run lyke horsemen. They skyppe vp vpon the hilles as it were the sound of charettes: as the flame of fyre that cōsumeth the strawe, and as a myghtye people ready to the battaile. The folke shall be afrayed of hym, all faces shalbe as blacke as a pot; These shal runne like gyauntes, and leape ouer the walles lyke men of warre. Euery manne in his going shal kepe his aray, and not go oute of hys path. There shall not one dryue another, but eche shal kepe hys owne waye. They shal breake in at the windowes, and not bee hurte: They shal come into the citie, and run vpon the walles. They shall clymbe vp vpon the houses, and styppe in at the windowes like a theefe. The erth shal quake before hym, yea the heuēs shalbe moued. * The Sunne and the Moone shalbe darkened, and the starres shal wythdrawe their shine. The Lorde shal shewe hys voice before his hoste, for his host is great, strong and myghtye to fulfil his commaundemēt This is that greate and maruaylous fearefull day of the Lorde. * And who is able to abyde it? Now therfore sayeth the Lorde. * Turne you vnto mee wyth all your heartes, wyth fastinge weppynge and mourning, rente youre heartes and not your clothes. Turne you vnto the lord your god, * for he is gracious and merciful, long suffring, and of great compassion: and ready to pardon wyckednes. Then (no dout) he also shal turne, and forgeue, and after his chastening, he shal let your increase remayne, for meat and drynke offrynges vnto the Lorde your God. * Blowe oute wyth the trompette in Sion, proclayme a fasting, cal the con gregation, and gather the people together, warne the congregation, gather the elders, bring the children and sukelynges together. Let the brydegrome go forth of hys chambre, and the bride out of her closet. Let the preestes serue the Lord betwyxte the porche and the aulter, weping and saying, be fauourable, O Lord, be fauorable vnto thy people, lette not thyne heritage bee brought to suche confusion, leaste the Heathen be lorded thereof. * wherefore should they saye among the Heathen: where is now theyr God? Then shal the Lord be gelous ouer his land, & spare his people: yea the Lorde shal answer and say vnto his people, Beehold, I wil sēd you corne, wine & oile,

B

C

D

E

Deu.4.c Pla.86.a Joel.1.c Pla.79.b

so that ye shall haue plentye of them: and I will no more geue you ouer to be a reproke among the Heathen. Agayne, as for him of the north, I shall dryue him farre from you: and shutte him out into a drie and wast land, his face toward the east sea, and his hynder partes towarde the vtmoste sea. The stinke of him shal go vp, and his filthy corruption shall fall vpon hym selfe, because he hath dealt so proudly. Feare not (O land) but be glad, and reioyce, for the Lorde wyll do greate things. Be not ye afraied, nether (O ye beasts of the field) for the pastures shalbe grene, and the trees shall beare their frute: the fygtrees and vyneyardes shall geue their increase. Be glad then (O ye children of Sion) and reioyce in the Lorde youre God, for he hath geuen you a teacher of righteousnesse: * and he it is that shal sende you downe shoures of rayne, early & late in the firste moneth: so that the garners shalbe full of corne, and the presses plenteous in wyne and oyle. And as for the eares that the greshoper, locust blasting, and caterpiller (my great host, which I sent among you) haue eaten vp, I shall restore them to you agayne, so that ye shall haue ynough to eate, and be satisfyed: and prayse the name of the Lorde your God, that so marueilously hath dealte with you. And my people shall neuer be confoũded any more. Ye shall well knowe, that I am in the myddest of Israell, and that I am the Lorde your God, yea, and that there is none other, and my people shall nomore be brought to confusion. * After this, wyll I poure out my spyrete vpon all flesh: and your sonnes and your daughters shall prophesye: youre olde men shall dreame dreames, and youre yonge men shal se vysyons, yea, in those dayes I wyll poure out my spyrete vpon seruauntes and maydens. I will shew wonders in heauen aboue and tokens in the earth beneth, blood and fyre, and the vapoure of smoke. The sunne shal be turned into darknes, and the moone into bloode, before the greate and notable daye of the Lorde come. And the tyme shal come, that * whosoeuer calleth on the name of the Lord shall be saued, for vpon the mount Syon and at Jerusalem, ther shalbe a saluacion, lyke as the Lord hath promysed: yea, and among the other remnaunt, who the Lorde shall cal.

Leu.26 a De.12.b Mu.11.f
Esa.44 a Eze.36 d
Acts.2.b
Re.19.b

The.iii. Chapter.

FOr take heede: in those dayes and at the same tyme, when I turne agayne the captiuitye of Juda and Jerusalem: I shall gather all the people together, & bryng them in the valley of Josaphat: and there wyll I reason with them, because of my people and herytage of Israell, whom they haue scatered about in the nations, and parted my land: yea, they haue caste lottes for my people, the yong men haue they set in the bordell house, and solde the damseis for wine, that they might haue to drink. * Thou Tyrus and Sidon and all ye borders of the Philystines: what haue ye to do with me? Will ye defye me? well, if ye wyll nedes defye me. I wyll recompence you, euen vpon your heade, and that ryght worthelye: for ye haue taken away my syluer and golde, my fayre & goodly Jewels, and brought them into your goddes houses. The children also of Juda and Jerusalem haue ye sold vnto the Grekes, that ye myght bryng them farre from the borders of theyr owne countreys. Behold therfore, I wyll rayse them oute of the place, where ye haue sold them, * and wyl reward you euẽ vpon your heade. Your sonnes and your daughters wyll I sell thorowe the handes of the chyldren of Juda, and so they shall geue them forth to sell, vnto the of Saba, a people of a farre countrey: for the Lorde him selfe hath sayde it. Crye out these thynges amonge the Gentils, proclayme warre, wake vp the gyaunres, let them drawe nye, let them come vp all the iustye warryoures of them. * Make you swordes of youre plowshares, and speares of youre

Ioel.3 a Ezech.26 a Amos.1 b Jere.1.f
Abdi.5.d
Esay.2.d

your sicles and sithes. Let the weake man say: I am stronge. Muster you, and come al ye heathen round about: gather you together, there shall the Lord laie al thy giantes to ꝑ ground. Let the people aryse, and get theym to Apo.14b the valley of Josaphat, for there wyll I sit, and iudge al heathen rounde aboute. ℣ Laye to youre sythes, for the harvest is rype: come get you downe: the wynepresse is ful, yea, the wynepresses runne ouer, for their wyckednes is waxen great. In the valey appointed, there shalbe many people: for the day of the Lord is nye in the val-
Joel.2.b ley apointed. ✱ The sunne and moone ℣ shalbe darkened, and the starres shall Jer.25b wythdrawe their ygght. ✱ The Lorde shal roare out of Sion, and crye oute of Jerusalem, that the heauens and the earth shal quake wythal. But the Lorde shalbe a defence vnto his owne people, and a refuge for the children of Israel. Thus shal yee knowe that I the Lorde your God dwel vppon my holy mount of Sion: Then shall Jerusalem bee holye, and there shall no Amos.9 straungers go through her any more. ✱ Then shal the mountaynes droppe swete wyne, and the hylles shal flow wyth mylcke. All the ryuers of Juda shal haue water ynough, and oute of Jer.46a the Lordes house there shall flowe a ✱Jer.49. spring, to water the broke of ✱ Sittim but Egypte shalbe layed waste, ✱ and Edom shalbe desolate: because they haue dealte so cruelly wyth the children of Juda, and shed innocent blud in their lande. Agayne, Juda shalbe inhabited for euermore, and Jerusalem from generation to generation: for I wyll not leaue their blud vnauenged. And the Lord shal dwel in Sion.

¶ The end of the prophecie of Joel.

(∴)

¶ The boke of the prophet Amos.

¶ The.i. Chapter.

THese are the Sermons that wer shewed vnto Amos, ℣ (which was one of the shepeheardes at Thecua) vpon Israel, in the tyme of ✱ Osiah kynge of 4Re.15a Juda, and in the tyme of ✱ Jeroboam the sonne of Joah kynge of Israell, two yere before the earth quake. And 3Re.14c he sayde: ✱ The Lorde shal roare oute Jer.25b of Sion, and shewe hys voyce from Jerusalem: so that the pastures of the shepherdes shalbe in a miserable case, and the toppe of Charmel dryed vp. Thus sayeth the Lord: For three and Esa.17.a four wickednesses of ✱ Damascus, I wyll not spare her, because they haue threshed Galaad wyth yron flayles. But I wil send a fyre into the house of Hazael, the same shall consume the ℣ palaces of Benadab. Thus will I breake the barres of Damascus, and roote out the inhabiter from the field of Auen: And him that holdeth the scepter, oute of the pleasaunt house: so that the people shalbe dryuen oute of fayre Siria, sayeth the Lorde. Thus sayth the Lorde: For three and foure Zach.9.a wyckednesses of Gaza, ✱ I will not spare her: because they make the presoners yet more captiue, and haue dryuen theym into the lande of Edom. Therefore wyl I send a fyre into the walles of Gaza, whiche shal deuoure her houses. I wyll roote oute theym that dwel at Asdod, and him that holdeth the scepter of Ascalon, & stretche out mine hand ouer Accaron, that the remnant of the Philistines shall perysshe, sayeth the Lorde. Thus sayeth the Lord: For thre and four wicked- ℣
Joel.3.a nesses of the Cytye of ✱ Tyre, I wyl not spare her, because they haue encreased the captiuitie of the Edomytes, and haue not remembred the ✱ bro 3Re.5.a therlye couenant. Therfore wyll I sende a fyre into the walles of Tyre, that shal consume her palaces. Thus sayth the Lorde: For three and foure wyckednesses of Edom, I wyll not spare him, because he persecuted hys brother wyth the swearde, destroyed hys mothers wombe, bare hatred perye longe, and so kept indignation alway by hym. Therefore wyl I sende a fyre into Theman, whiche shall deuoure the palaces of Bozra. Thus sayeth the Lorde: for three and foure wyckednesses of the children of Ammon, I wyll not spare them: because they rypte vp the women great wyth chyld in Galaad, to make the borders of their lands the wider. Therfore, I wyll kyndle a fyre in the walles of Rabbath, that shal consume her palaces: wyth a greate crye, in the daye of battayle, in tempest and in the daye of storme: so that theyr king shal go into captiuitie, hee and hys princes together, sayth the Lord.

Abdi. 1. a
Jer. 49 b

Jer. 49. a
Eze. 21 d

The. ii. Chapter.

Thus sayth the Lord: For three and foure of the wyckednesses of Moab, I wil not spare him because he brent the bones of the king of Edom to ashes. Therefore, wyll I send a fyre into Moab, which shal consume the palaces of Carioth, so that Moab shall perysshe wyth noyse, and the sounde of a shawme. I wyl roote out the iudge from among them, and slea all his princes wyth him, sayeth the LORD. Thus sayth the Lorde: For three and foure wickednesses of Juda, I wil not spare hym: because he hath cast asyde the lawe of the Lord, and not kept hys commaundementes: for whyle they would needes bee dysceaued wyth the lyes that their forefathers folowed. Therefore wyl I sende a fyre into Juda, which shal consume the palaces of Jerusalē.

Amos. 1. a Jer. 49. c
Eze. 25 a

Micah. 1. c

Jer. 44. e
Eze. 20 c

Thus sayth the Lord: For three and four wyckednesses of Israell, I wyll not spare him, because he hath sold the ryghteous for money, and the poore for shoes. They treade vppon poore mens heades in the dust of the earth, and croobe the wayes of the meeke.

The soonne and the father goe to the harlot, to dyshonoure my holy name, they lye beside euery alter vpon clothes taken to pledge, and in the house of their goddes, they drinke the wine of the oppressed. Yet destroyed I the Amorites before them, that was as hye as the Cedre trees, and as strong as the okes: notwithstandinge I destroyed hys fruit from aboue, and his roote from vnder. Again, I brought you out of the lande of Egypt, and led you forty yeares through the wyldernes, that ye myght haue the Amorytes landes in possession. I raised vp prophetes amonge your chyldren, and abstayners from among youre yonge men. Is it not so, O ye children of Israel sayeth the Lorde? But ye gaue the abstayners wine to drinke: yea, ye commaunded the prophetes, sayinge: Prophecye not. Beholde I wil crash you in sonder, lyke as a wayne crasheth, that is ful of sheaues, so that the swyfte shall not escape, neyther the stronge be able to doe enye thinge: no the gyant shal not saue his owne life. The archer shall not abyde, and the swyfte of foote shall not escape. The horseman shall not saue hys lyfe, and he that is as manly of stomake as a giant, shal in that day be fayne to runne hys way naked, sayth the Lord.

Num. 13. d
Deu. 1. a
Exo. 14. c
D Num. 6. a Jer. 11

The. iii. Chapter.

Heare, what the Lorde speaketh vnto you (O ye children of Israel) namely, vnto al the tribes, whom I brought oute of Egypte, and sayde: you onelye haue I accepted from all the generations of the earth: therfore, wil I visit you in all youre wickednesses. May twayn walke together, excepte they bee agreed amonge theim selues? Dooth a Lyon roare in the woodde, excepte he haue a praye? Dyd eyther a Lyons whelpe oute of hys denne, excepte he haue gotten some thing? Dooth a birde fall in a snare vppon the earthe where no fouler is? Taketh a man his snare vp from the ground, afore hee catch somwhat. Cry they out Alarū, wyth the trompet in the Citye, and the

Deu. 4. c
Job. 6. d

the people not afraide? Cōmeth there any plage in the cytye without it bee the Lordes doynge? Nowe doeth the Lorde God no maner of thing, but he telleth hys secrete before vnto his seruauntes the prophetes. When a Lion roreth, who wil not be afrayde? Seeing then that the Lorde God him self speaketh, whoe will not prophecye? Preache in the palaces of Asdod, and in the palaces of ℣ land of Egipt, and ℭ saye: gather you together vpp in the mountaynes of Samaria, so shall ye see great murther and violent oppression amonge them: for why? they regarde not the thing that is right sayeth the Lord: they gather together euil gotten goodes, and lay vp robbe- D rye in theyr houses. Therefore, thus sayth the Lord: God: This land shal be troubled and beseged round about, thy strength shalbe pluckt from thee, and thy palaces robbed. Thus saith the Lord, lyke as an heardman taketh two legges or a pece of an eare out of the lions mouth: Euen so the childrē of Israel (that dwel in Samaria) ha uing their couches in the corner, their beds at Damascus, shalbe pluckt awaye. Heare and beare record in the 4Re. 16. house of Iacob (sayth the Lorde God of hosts) that when I beginne to visit the wickednes of Israell, I wyll visit the alters at Bethel also: so that the hornes of the aulter shalbe broken of, and fall to the grounde. As for the winter house, and sommer house, I wyl smyte them downe: and the houses of yuory, yea and many other houses shal perish, and be destroyed, sayth the Lord.

ℭ The. iiii. Chapter.

HEare thys word ye fat kyne, that be vppon the hill of Samaria: ye that do poore menne wrong, and oppresse the nedy: ye that saye to your lordes: bringe hither, let vs drynke. Therfore, the Lorde hath sworne by hys holinesse: The dayes shal come vpon you, that the enemyes shal carye you awaye in shyppes, and your posteritie shalbe caried away vpon fyshers hookes. Yee shal get you oute at the gappes one after another, euen the kinges palace shal you ouerthrowe, to make a way to escape, sayeth the Lorde. Ye came to • Bethel for Ios. 16.a to worke vngratiousnes, and haue in 3Re. 12. creased youre sinnes at • Gylgall: yee Ose. 9.c. brought your sacrifyces in the mor- B ning, and youre tythes vnto the third day. Ye made a thankoffring of leuen, ye promised frewil offringes, and pro claymed them. Such luste had ye, O ye children of Israel, sayth the Lorde God. Therfore haue I geuen you ydle teeth in al your cities, and scarsenes of breade in all youre places: yet wyl ye not turne vnto me, sayeth the Lord. When there were but three monethes vnto the harueste, I withheld deu. 11. b the rayne from you: yea: I rayned vpon one citie, and not vppon another: Ier. 14.a one piece of grounde was moystured ℭ wyth rayne, and the grounde that I rayned not vpon, was dry. Wherefore two, yea, three cities cam vnto one to dryncke water, but they were not satisfyed, yet wil ye not turne vnto me, sayeth the Lorde. I haue smitten you wyth drouth and blastinge: and looke howe manye orchardes, vineyardes, fygtrees and olyuetrees ye hadde, the caterpyller hath eaten them vp: But yet wyl ye not tourne vnto me, sayeth the Lorde. Pestilence haue I sente among you, • as I dyd in Egypt: your Exo. 9 b, younge men haue I slayne wyth the sweard, and caused your horses to bee taken captiue: I made the stinckynge sauour of your tentes to come vp into your nostrels. Yet wyll ye not tourne vnto me sayeth the Lorde. Some of you haue I ouerthrowen, • as I o- Gen. 19, uerthrew Sodome and Gomorra, so D that ye were as the brand pluckt out of the fyre: Yet wil ye not turne vnto me, sayeth the Lorde. Therfore, thus will I handle thee agayne, O Israell, yea euen thus wil I handle thee. Make thee readye then to meete thy GOD, O Israell. For loe, hee maketh the mountaynes, he ordeyneth ℣ wind, he sheweth man what hee is about to do, he maketh ℣ morning ℭ the darknes he tredeth vpō the hie places of the earth: the Lord God of hostes is his name.

The. v. Chapter.

A HEare this word, O ye hous of Israel, and why? I must make this mone for you.

The virgin Israell shal fal, and neuer rise vp agayn: she shall bee caste downe vpon her owne ground, and no man shall healpe her vp. For this sayth the Lorde God: Where as there dwelt a. M. in one Citie, there shalbe left scarse an hundred therein: and where there dwelte an hundrede, there shall scarce ten be left in ỹ house
B of Israel. Neuertheles thus saith the Lord vnto the house of Israell: Seke after me, and ye shal liue, but seke not after Bethell. Come not at Gilgal, and goe not to Berseba: for Gilgal shalbe caried away captiue, and Bethel shall come to naught. Seke the Lord, that ye may lyue, lest the house of Joseph be brent with fyre, and consumed, & lest there be none to quenche Bethel. Ye turne the law to wormwood, and cast downe ryghteousnes Job. 9.a vnto the ground. • Ye forsake the lord, C that maketh the. vii. starres and the Oxions, that turneth the nighte into day, and of the day he maketh darke-Amo. 9.a nes. • He calleth the waters of the sea and poureth them out vpon the playn ground: the LORD is his name. He raiseth destruction vpon ỹ mighty people, and bryngethe downe the strong hold. But they owe hym euyl wyll, that reproueth theim openly: & who so telleth them the playn truthe, they abhorre him. For so muche then as ye oppresse the poore, and rob hym of his best sustenance: therfore wher
Deu. 28.c • as ye haue builded houses of square Soph. 1c stone, ye shal not dwell in them. Wer nailous pleasant vineyardes shall ye plant, but the wyne of them shall ye not drynke: and why? as for the multitude of your wickednesses, & youre stoute synnes, I knowe them rycht D well. Enemies are ye of the righte-Exo. 23b ous, • ye take rewards, ye oppresse the Mic. 3.c poore in iudgemẽt. Therfore the wyse must now be sayne to hold his tunges, so wicked a tyme is it. Seke after the thynge that is good, and not euill, so shal ye lyue: yea, the Lord God of hostes shall be with you, accordynge to your owne desire. • Hate the euyll, & Ps. 97.b

loue the good: • syt vpryght agayn in Ro. 12.b
the yorte (and no doubt) the lord god deu. 17.d of hostes shall be mercyfull vnto the E remnant of Joseph. If no (sayth the Lord God, the God of hostes) there shalbe mourning in al stretes, yea thei shall say in euery streete, Alas, alas. They shal cal the husbandman to lamentation, and suche as can mourn, to mournyng. In all vineyardes there shalbe heuines, for I will com amõg you, saieth the Lord. Woo be vnto the that desire the day of the Lord. Wher fore would ye haue it? As for the day of the Lord, it shalbe dark & not clere. Yea, like as when a man runneth frõ a lyon, and a beare meteth with hym: or when he commeth into the house, and leaneth hys hand vpon the wall, a serpent byteth hym. Shall not the F day of the Lord be dark, • & not clere? Joel. 2.b shall it not be cloudy, and no shyne in Soph. 1c it? • I hate & abhorre your holy dais, Esay. 1.d and where as ye cense me whenne ye and. 58.a come together, I wyll not accept it. Mich. 6.
And thoughe ye offre me burnte offe- Mala. 1i rynges and meate offerynges, yet haue I no pleasure therein. As for youre faste thanke offerynges, I wyll not looke vpon them. Away wyth that noyse of thy songs. I wyll not heare thy playes of Mulyke: but see that G Equyte flowe as the water, and Jere. 7.i ryghteousnesse as a myghty streame. Acts. 7.i O ye house of Israell, • gaue ye me offerynges and sacrifyces those forrye yeares long in the wildernesse? yet Leui. 20.
haue yee sette vppe Tabernacles to 3. re. 11.
your • Moloch, and Images of youre Idoles, yea, and the starre of youre God Rempha, fygures, whyche ye made to woorshyppe theym. Therfore wyll I cause you to bee caryed awaye beyonde Damascus, sayth the LORDE, whose name is, The God of hostes.

The. vi. Chapter.

Luk. 6. c

WOe be to ye proude welthy in Sion, to such as thinke the so sure vpon ye mout of Samaria, which hold the selues for the best of the world, & rule the house of Israel euen as they lyst. Go vnto Caine, and see: and from thens gette you to Hemath the great citie, and so go downe to Gath of the Philistins: be they better at ease then these kingdomes, or the border of theyr land wider then yours? Ye are taken out for the euyll daye, euen ye that syt in the stoole of wylfulnesse. Ye that lye vpon beddes of yuorye, and vse youre wantonnesse vpon youre couches: ye that eate the best lambes of the flock, and the fattest calues of the droue: ye that syng to the lute, and in playinge of instrumentes compare your selues vnto Dauid: ye that drink wine out of gobblets, and annoynt your selues with the best oyle: but no man is sory for Josephs hurt. Therfor, now shal ye be the fyrst of them, that shalbe led away captiue, and the lusty cheere of the wylful shall com to an end. The Lord God hath sworne euen by hym selfe (saith the Lord God of Hostes) I hate the pride of Jacob, and I abhorre his palaces: and I wyll geue ouer the citie, with all that is therin: so that though there remayn ten men in one house, they shall dye. So their next kinsfolkes & ye dead buriers, shal take them, & carye away theyr bones, and say vnto hym, that is in the inner mer house: Is there yet anye moo by thee? And he shall answere: they are all gone: hold thy tung (shall he say) for they wolde not remember the name of the Lord. Behold, the Lord is mynded to smyte the great houses, so that they shall decay: and the lyttel houses, that they shal cleaue asunder. Who can runne with horses, or plow with oxen vpon the harde rockes of stone. For why? ye haue turned true iudgemente vnto bytternes, and the fruite of rightousnesse into woormewoode: Yea, euen ye that reioyce in thynges: ye that say, Haue not we obtayned hornes in oure owne strength? Well, take hede O ye house of Israell, sayth the Lord God of hostes: I wil bryng a people vpon you which shall trouble you, from ye waye that goeth toward Hemath, vnto the brooke in the medowe.

Jere. 2. c
Amos. 8.
Deu. 8. d

The. vii. Chapter.

THe Lord God shewed me such a vysion: Behold, there stoode one that made gresshoppers, euen when the corne was shootynge foorth, after the kyng had clypte hys shepe. Now when they vndertoke to eate vp the grene thinges in the land, I sayd: O Lord God, be mercyfull, I beseche thee, who should els helpe vp Jacob, that is broght so low. So the Lord was gracious therin, & the Lord sayd: Well, it shall not be. Agayne, the Lord shewed me this vision, behold, ye Lord God called the fyre to punysh withall, and it deuoured the greate depe, yea, it consumed apart all ready. Then sayd I, O lord god, hold thyne hād, for who shold els help vp Jacob ye is broght so low? So the lord was mercifull therin, and the Lorde God sayd: Wel, it shal not be. Moreouer, he shewed mee this vision: beholde, the Lorde stode vppon a plastered wall, and a masons trowell in hys hande. And the Lorde sayde vnto me: Amos what seest thou? I answered: a masons trowell. Then sayde the Lorde: Beholde, I wyll laye the trowell amonge my people of Israell, and wyl nomore ouersee them; but the hie hil-chappels of Isaac must be layd wast, and the churches of Israel made desolate, and as for the house of Jeroboam, I wyll stande vp agaynste it wyth the swearde. Vppon this sente Amasiah the prieste of Bethell vnto Jeroboam the kynge of Israell, saying: Amos maketh the house of Israell to rebell agaynste thee: the lande canne not awaye wyth hys wordes. For Amos sayeth, Jeroboam shall dye wyth the swearde, and Israel shal be ledde awaye captyue oute of theyr owne lande. And Amasiah sayd vnto

3. reg. 12. a
3. reg. 8. b

E Esa.30 b Amos: get thehence, (thou that canst see so well) and flee into the lande of Iuda, get thee there thy liuyng, and prophesie there: and prophesy nomore at Bethel, for it is the kinges chapel, D and the kinges court. Amos answe-Iac.13.a red, and sayd to Amasiah: a As for me I am nether prophet, nor prophetesse sonne, but a keper of catell. Howe as I was breakyng downe mulberyes, and goyng after the cattell, the Lorde toke me, and sayde vnto me: Go thy waye, and prophesye vnto my people of Israell. And therefore heare thou now the worde of the Lorde: Thou sayest: Prophesy not agaynst Israel, and speake nothyng againſt the house of Isaac: wherefore thus sayeth the Lord: Thy wyfe shalbe defiled in the citye, thy sonnes and daughters shall be slayne with the swearde, and thy land shall be measured oute with the lyne. Thou thy selfe shalte dye in an 4 Re.17.c vncleane land. and Israel shalbe driuen out of his owne countrey.

¶ The.viii. Chapter.

THe Lorde God shewed me this vision: and beholde, there was a maunde with sommer fruite. And he sayd: Amos, what seest thou? I answered: A maunde with somer fruite. Then sayd the Lorde vnto me: The ende cometh vpon my people of Israell. I will nomore oversee them. In that daye shall the songes of the temple be turned into sorowe, sayeth the Lord God: many dead bodyes shal lye in euery place, and be caste foorthe Esay.5.a secretly. a Heare this, O ye that oppresse the poore, and destroy the nedye
B in the lande, sayinge: when will the newe moneth be gone, that we maye sell vitaile, and the Sabboth, that we maye haue scarcenes of corne to make the bushel lesse, and the sicle greater? we shall set vp false waygh tes, that we may get the poore vnder vs, with their moneye, and the nedye also for shoes: yea, let vs sell the chaffe for Amo.6.d corne. a The Lord hath swoorn againſt C the pryde of Iacob, these woorkes of theyrs will I neuer forget. Shal not the land tremble, & all they that dwell therin, mourne for this? Shall not their destruction com vpon them like a water streame, and flowe ouer them as the floude of Egypt? a At the same Tobi.2.c tyme (sayth the Lorde God) I shall cause the sunne to go downe at none, and the lande to be darke in the cleare day. a Your hye feastes will I turne to sorowe, and your songes to mournyng: I will bryngе sackecloth vpon all backes, and baldnesse vppon euery heade: yea, suche a mourninge will I sende them, a as is made vpon an only Ier.15. begotten sonne, and they shall haue a miserable end. Behold, the time commeth (sayeth the Lorde God) that I shall sende an hunger into the earth, not the hunger of bread, nor the thirst of water: but an honger to heare the worde of the Lord: so that they shall go from the one sea to the other, yea from the northe vnto the east, runnynge about to seke the worde of the Lord, and shall not fynde it. In that tyme shall the fayre virgins, and the yong men perysh for thirste: yea, euen they that sweare in the execrable calfe of Samaria: and say, as truely as thy God liueth at Dan: and as truelye as thy God liueth at Bersaba. These shall fall, and neuer ryse vp agayne.

¶ The.ix. Chapter.

I Sawe the Lord standynge vpon J the aulter, and he sayde: smyte the doore cheke, that the postes maye shake withall. For their couetousnes shall fall vppon all their heades, and their posterity shalbe slayne with the sweard. a They shall not flee awaye, psa.139 there shall not one of them escape, nor bee delyuered. a Though they were Abd.1.d buried in the hell, my hand shall fetch them from thence: though they clyme vp to heauen, yet shall I caste theym downe: though they hide them selues vpon the toppe of Carmell, yet shall I seke them oute, and bryngе theym from thence: though they crepe down from my syghte into the depe of the sea.

I shall

I shall commaunde the serpent, euen there to byte them. If they goe away before their enemies into captiuitie, then shall I commaunde the swearde there to slea theim. Thus wyll I set myne eies vpon them, for their harme and not for their wealthe. For when the Lorde God of hostes touchethe a land, it consumeth away, and all they that dwel therin, must nedes mourn. And why? their destruction shall arise as euery streame, and runne ouer them, as the floud in Egipt. • He that hathe hys dwellynge in heauen, and groundeth hys tabernacle in earthe. • He that calleth the waters as the sea, and poureth them out vpon the playn ground: his name is the Lorde. O ye children of Israel, are ye not vn to me, euen as the Mozians, saith the Lorde? haue not I brought Israell out of the land of Egipt? • The Philistines from Capthor, and the Syrians from Cyr? Behold, the eyes of the Lord are vpon the realme that sinneth, to root it cleane out of the earth. Neuertheless, I wyll not vtterlye destroye the house of Jacob, saith the Lord. For lo, this I promise, though I syft the house of Israell among all nations (lyke as they vse to syft in a sieue) yet shall not the smallest grauell stone fall vpon the earth. But all the wicked doers of my people, that say: Tushe, the plague is not so nye to come so hastily vpon vs: those shall perishe with the swearde. • At that tyme will I buyld agayne the tabernacle of Dauid, that is fallen downe, and hedge vp hys gappes, and looke what is broken, I shall repayre it: yea, I shall buyld it vp agayne, as it was afore tyme, that they maye possesse the remmaunt of Edom: yea, and all suche people as cal vpon my name with them, sayth the Lorde, whyche dooth these thynges. Behold, the time commeth (sayth the Lorde) that the plowman shall ouertake the mower, and treader of grapes, hym that soweth seede. • The mountaynes shall droppe sweete wyne, and the hylles shalbe fruitfull, and I wyl turne the Captyuitie of my people of Israell: they shall repayre the waste Cities, and haue them in possession: they shal plant vineyards, and drinke the wine therof, they shall make gardeins, and enioye the fruites of theym. And I will plant theym vpon their owne grounde, so that I wyll neuer roote theym out agayne frome their lande, which I haue geuen them sayeth the Lord GOD.

¶ The ende of the Prophecie of Amos.

¶ The Boke of the Prophete Abdi.

THIS is the vyson that was shewed vnto Abdye. Thus hath the lord God spoken vpon • Edō. We haue herd of the Lorde ẏ there is an embassage sēte among the Heathen: Vp, let vs arise, and fyght against them. Behold, • I wyll make thee small among the Heathen, so that thou shalt be vtterly despised. The pryde of thyne heart hath lyft thee vp, thou that dwellest in the strong holdes of stone, and hast made thee an hye seat. Thou saiest in thyne heart, who shal cast me downe to the ground? • But though thou wentest vp as hie as the Egle, and madest thy nest • aboue amonge thy starres: yet wold I plucke thee downe frō thens saith ẏ Lord. If the theues & robbers cam to thee by night, thou taking thy rest, shold they not steale, tyl they had inough? If the grape gatherers came vpon thee, would they not leaue thee som grapes? But how shal thei reape Esau, & seke out his treasure. Yea, ẏ mē ẏ wer swoorn vnto thee, shal driue thee out of the borders of thyne owne land. They that be now at one with the, shal disceiue the: & ouercome thee,

Euen

Ezech. 28 b and. 35. a Amos. 1 c

Jer. 49 c

Amos. 1 c

Abac. 2. b

Euen they that eate thy breade, shall betraye thee, or euer thou perceaue it.
Esa.29.e • Shall not I at the same tyme de-1 Cor,1.c stroy the wise mē of Edom, and those C that haue vnderstandynge frome the mounte of Esau? Thy giauntes (O Theman) shalbe afrayde: for thorow the slaughter they shalbe all cuerthrowen vpō the mount of Esau. Shame shall come vpon thee: for the malyce Gen.27 f that thou shewedst to thy • brother Jacob: yea for euermore shalt thou perysshe, and that because of the tyme, when thou diddest set thy self against him, euen when the enemyes caryed away his host, and when the aleauntes came in at his portes, and cast lots
D vppon Jerusalem, and thou thy selfe wast as one of them. Thou shalt nomore see the day of thy brother, thou shalt nomore beholde the tyme of hys captiuitye: thou shalt nomore reioyce ouer the childzen of Juda, in the daye of their destructiō, thou shalt triumph nomore in the tyme of their trouble.
E Thou shalte nomore come in at the gates of my peple, in the tyme of their decay: thou shalt not see their misery in the daye of their fall. Thou shalte send out no man agaynst their hooste, in the day of their aduersitye: neyther shalt thou stand waytyng any more at the corners of the stretes, to murther such as are fled, or to take them presoners, that remayne in the day of their trouble. For the daye of the Lorde is Jer.50.c hard by vpon all the Heathen. • Lyke Joel.3.b as thou haste done, so shalte thou bee dealt withal. yea, thou shalt be rewarded euen vpon thyne heade. For lyke wyse as ye haue dronken vpon myne holy hyll, so shall all Heathen drynke continually: yea, drinke shall they, and swalowe vppe, so that ye shall bee, as F though ye had neuer bene. But vpon the mounte Sion shall the saluation be an holynes, these shalbe holy and the house of Jacob shall possesse euen Zach.3.b those, • that had them selues afore in possession. Moreouer, the house of Jacob shalbe a fire, the house of Jo-Jere.5.c seph a flame, and the • house of Esau shalbe the strawe: whiche they shall kyndle and consume, so that nothyng shall be lefe of the house of Esau, the Lord him selfe hath sayde it. They of the south shall haue the mountaine of G Esau in possession: and loke what lyeth vppon the grounde, that shall the Philistines haue: the playne fyeldes shal Ephraim and Samaria possesse: and the mountaynes of Galaad shall Ben Jamin haue: And this host shal be the childzen of Israels presoners. Nowe what so lyeth frome Canaan vnto zareptah, and in Sepharad, that shalbe vnder the subiection of Jerusalem, and the cities of the south shall enheryte in it. Thus they that escape vpon the hill of Sion, shall go vp to punyshe the mount of Esau, • and the Zach.4.b kyngdome shalbe the Lordes.

The end of the boke of the prophecye of Abdi.

The booke of the prophete Jonas.

The firste Chapter.

THE woorde of the A Lord came vnto • Jo 4.Reg.14.b nas the sonne of Amithai, saying: • Jonas.1.d Aryse, and get thee to Niniue ỹ • great ci- Gen.10.b ty, & preach vnto thē how that • their wickednes is come Gene.18 vp before me. And Jonas made hym ready to flee vnto Tharsis from the presence of the Lorde, and gatte hym downe to Joppa: where he founde a shyppe ready for to go vnto Tharsis. So he payed his fare, and went aboord, that he might go with them vn to Tharsis, from the presence of the Lord. But the Lorde hurled a greate winde into the sea: and there was a mighty tempest in the sea: so that the shippe was in ieopardy of goynge in peces. Then the mariners wer afraid and cryed euerye man vnto hys God: and the goodes that were in the shyp, they they cast into the sea, to lyghten it of B them. But Jonas gat him vnder the hatches, where hee layed him downe and slombred. So the mayster of the shyp came to him and sayd vnto hym: why slombrest thou? Vp, call vppon thy God: yͤ God happely wil thinke vpō vs that we perysh not. And they sayde one to another: come let vs caste lottes, that we may know, for whose Josu.7.c cause wee are thus troubled. ✱ And so they cast lottes, and the lot fell vppon Jonas. Then sayd they vnto him: tell vs for whose cause are we thus troubled? what is thine occupatiō? whēce cōmest thou, and whether goest thou?

what countrye man arte thou, and of what nation? He answered them: I C am an Ebrue, and I feare the Lorde God of heauen, which made both the sea, and dry e land. Then were the mē exceadingly e afrayde, and sayde vnto him: whye dyddest thou so? for (they knewe, that he was fled from the pre sence of the Lorde, because he had told them) and sayde moreouer vnto him: what shall we do vnto thee, that the sea may ceasse from troubling vs? for the sea wrought and was troublous, he answered theym: take me, and caste me into the sea, so shal it let you be in rest: for I wote, it is for my sake, that D thys great tempest is come vppon you.
Neuertheless, the men assayed wyth rowing, to bryng the shyp to land: but it wold not be, because ẏ sea wrought so: and was so troublous against thē.
Wherfore they cryed vnto the Lorde, Gen.21.d and sayd: ✱ O Lord, let vs not perysh for thys mans death, nether laye thou innocent bludde vnto oure charge: for thou, O lord, hast don euē as thy ple-sure was. So they tooke Jonas, and caste him into the sea, and the sea lefte ragyng. And the men feared the Lorde exceedingly, doinge sacrifices, and making bowes vnto the Lord.

¶The.ii.Chapter.

A
Jon.17.a BUt the Lord prepared a great fyshe to sialow vp Jonas. So ✱ was Jonas in the bely of the fyshe, three dayes and three nightes.
And Jonas prayed vnto the Lord his God, out of the fyshes bealy, and said:
✱ In my trouble I called vnto the Ps.130.c Lorde, and he heard me, out of the bely of hell I cried, and thou herdest my voyce. Thou haddest caste me downe in the myddest of the sea, and the flud Ps.62.d. compalled me about: yea, al ✱ thy wa- B wes and roules of water wente ouer me, I thought that I had bene cast away out of thy syght. But I wil yet agayne loke toward thy holy temple.
The waters compalled me, euē to the very soule: the depe laye about me, and the wedes were wrapte aboute myne heade. I went downe to the bottome of the hylles, and was barred in with earth for euer. But thou, O Lord my God, haste brought vp my life againe C out of corruption. When my soul fain ted wythin me, I thought vppon the Lord: and my prayer cam in vnto thee euen into thy holy temple. They that holde of vayne vanities, will forsake D hys mercy. But I will do thee sacri-fyce wyth the voyce of thanckesgetyng, and wyl pay that I haue vowed: for why? saluation commeth of the Lorde. And the Lorde spake vnto the fyshe, and it cast out Jonas againe vpon the dry land.

¶The.iii.Chapter.

THen cam the word of the Lord I vnto Jonas agayne, sayinge: Jona.1.b ✱ vp, and gette thee to Ninive that great Citie, and preach vnto thē the preaching which I bad thee. So Jonas arose, and went to Ninive at the Lordes commandement. Ninive was a great Citie vnto God, namely, of three dayes iourney. And Jonas went to, and entred into the citie: e- B uen a daies iourney, and cried, saying:
There are yet fortye dayes, and then shal Ninive be ouerthrowē. And the Esd.3.7.a people of Ninive beleued God, and proclaymed fastynge, and arayed them selues in sackecloth, as well the great as the small of them. And the tydynges came vnto the kynge of Ninive,
whyche

which arose out of his seate, and dyd hys apparell of, and put on sackecloth C and sat him downe in asshes. And it was cryed and commanded in Niniue, by the auctoritye of the kyng and mat.12 d his Lordes, saying: • see that neyther Luk.11.c man nor beast, oxe or shepe tast ought at all: and that they neyther feede nor drink water: but put on sackcloth both man and beast: and crye mightely vn-Jer.11.a to God • Yea, se that euery man turne from his euil way, and from the wic-D kednes, that he hath in hand. Who can tell? God maye turne, and repent and cease from his fearce wrath, that we perysshe not. And when God sawe their workes how they turned from Esa.21 b their wicked wayes • he repented on the euyll, which he sayd he would do vnto them, and dyd it not.

¶ The.iiii. Chapter.

A THerfore Jonas was sore dys-content and angry. And he prayed vnto the Lord: and sayd: O Lorde, was not thys my sayinge (I praye thee) when I was yet in my countrey? therfore I hasted rather to Psa:86 a flee vnto Tharsis, • for I know wel ynough that thou art a merciful God, full of compassion, long suffering, and of great kindnes, and repentest when 3 Re.10 a thou sholdest take punishment. • And nowe O Lorde, take my lyfe from me (I beseche thee) for I had rather dye then lyue. Then sayd the Lorde: arte thou so angrye? And Jonas gat hym out of the citye, and sat downe on the eastlyde therof: and there made him a booth, and sat vnder it in the shadow, B tyll he myght se, what should chaunce vnto the citye. And the Lorde God prepared a wyld vyne: which sprange vp ouer Jonas, that he myghte haue shadowe aboue hys heade, to delyuer him out of his payne. And Jonas was exceading glad of the wild vine.
But vppn the next morowe agaynste C the sprying of the day. The Lord ordey ned a wourme, which smote the wylde vyne, so that it withered awaye: And when the Sunne was vp, God prepared a feruente easte wynd: and the Sunne bet ouer the heade of Jonas, that he faynted agayne, and wyshed vnto his soule, that he might dye, and sayde: It is better for me to dye, then to lyue. And God sayde vnto Jonas:
Art thou so angry for the wyld vyne?
And he sayd: yea, verye angrye am I, euen vnto the deathe. And the Lorde D sayde: thou haste compassion vppon a wyld vyne, wheron thou bestowedst no labour: nor madest it growe, which sprang vp in one nighte, and perysshed in another: And shoulde not I then haue compassion vppon Nynine that great citie, wherin there are about an hundred and twenty thousand persõs that knowe not their right hand from the left, besydes much catell?

¶ The ende of the Pro-phecye of Jonas.

¶ The booke of the Pro-phete Micheas.

¶ The firste Chapter.

THis is the worde of the A Lorde, that came vnto Micheas the Morasthite in ỹ dais of • Jo- 4.re.15 i than • Ahas and • Ehe 2.pa.27 i zekiah kings of Juda • 3 re.16 i which was shewed him vpõ Sama • 4 re.19 i ria and Jerusalem. • Heare al ye peo- • de.32.i ple, marke this well, O earth, and all Esay.1 i that therin is. Yea, the Lord God him selfe be witnesse among you, euen the lord from his holy temple. For lo • beholde, the Lord shall go out of hys Esa.26 i place, and come downe, and tread vppon the hye thinges of the earth. The mountaynes shal consume vnder him and the valleys shall cleue a sunder:
lyke as waxe consumeth at the fire, and as the waters runne downward And all this shalbe for the wickednes of Jacob, and the synnes of the house
of

B of Israell. But what is the wicked-3Re.12c nesse of Iacob? Is not • Samaria? which are the hie places of Iuda? Is 3.re.11.c not • Ierusalem? Therefore I shall 4.re.16a make Samaria an heape of stones in the feelde, to laye about the vineyard:
her stones shal I cast into the valley, and discouer her foundations. All her Images shal be broken downe and al her garmētes shalbe brent in the fire: yea, all her Idols will I destroy: for Deu.33e whye? • they are gathered oute of the hyre of an whore, and into an whores hyre shal they be turned againe. Wher fore I will mourne and make lamentacion, bare and naked will I go: I must mourne lyke the dragons, and take sorow as the Estriches: for their wound is past remedy: And why? it is com into Iuda, & hath touched the port of my people at Ierusalem alre-2Reg.1c dy. • Wepe not, least they at Geth per C ceaue it. Thou at Bataphra, welter thy selfe in the dust and asshes. Thou that dwellest at Saphir, get the hēce with shame. The proude shall boaste nomore for very sorow: and why? her neyghboure shall take from her what she hath. The rebellious city hopeth that it shall not be so euyll, but for all that, the plague shall come frome the Lord, euen into the porte of Ieruса-lem. The great noyse of the charettes 4Re.17c shal feare them, that dwel at • Lachis, D whiche is an occasion of the synne of the daughter of Sion, for in thee cam vp the wickednes of Israel. Yea, she sente her coursers into the lande of Geth. The houses of lyes will dysceaue the kynges of Israell. And as for the (O thou that dwellest at Mo rasta) I shall bring a possessioner vppon thee, and the plage of Israel shall reache vnto Odolla. Make the bald, and shaue thee, because of thy tender chyldren: Make thee cleane balde as an Egle, for they shalbe caryed away captiue from thee.

C The.ii. Chapter.

3 O Wo vnto them, that ymagine to do harme, and deuise vngra cious nes vpon theyr beds, to perfourme it in the cleare day: for ther power is agaynst God. When they come to haue lande, • they take it by 3Re.21a violence, they robbe men of theyr hou ses. Thus they oppresse a man for his howse, and enery manne for hys herytage. Therefore thus sayeth the Lord: Behold • against this houshold Amos.5b haue I deuised a plague, whereunte ye shall not plucke your neckes: Ye shall nomore go so proudly: for it will be a perilous tyme. In that day shal this terme be sed, and a mournyng shalbe made ouer you on thys maner: We be vtterlye desolate, the portion of my people is translated. When wyll he B parte vnto vs the lande, that he hath Nu.33.f taken from vs? Neuertheles • there shalbe no man to deuyde the thy portion in the congregation of the Lord.
Tushe, holde your tonge (saye they) It shall not fall vpon this people, we shall not come so to confusion, sayeth the house of Iacob. Is the spyrte of the Lorde so cleane away? or is he so myaded? Truth it is, my woordes are frendly vnto them that liue right:
but my people doeth the contrarye, therfore muste I take parte agaynste them: for they take awaye bothe cote C and cloke frome the symple. Ye haue turned youre selues to fight, the we-men of my people haue ye shutte oute from their good houses, and taken away my excellent gyftes from theyr chyldren. Vp, get you hence, for here shall ye haue no rest. Because of their Idolatrye they are corrupte, and shal miserablye perysshe. Yf I were a fleshelye felowe, and a preacher of lyes, and tould them that they might sytte bybbynge and bollynge, and be droncken, O that were a Prophete for thys people. But I wyll gather thee in deede, O Iacob, and dryue the remnaunte of Israell all together.
I wyll carye theym one wyth another, as a flocke in the foulde, and as the cattelle in theyr stalles, that they maye bee disquieted of other menne.
Whoo soo breaketh the gappe, hee shall goo before. They shall breake vp the porte, and go in and oute at it.

The

The kyng shall go before theym, and the Lord shalbe vpon ỹ head of them.

A ¶ The. iii. Chapter.

Deu. 17.d
Iere. 5.a
* Psa. 82
Esai. 5.c

AND I sayd: Heare, O ye heades of the house of Jacob, and ye leaders of the house of Israell. * Should not ye know what were lawfull and righte? But ye hate the good, and loue the euill: ye pluck of mens skinnes, and ỹ flesh from their bones: ye eate the flesh of my people, and flay of their skynne: ye breake their bones, ye chop theym in pieces, as it were into a cauldron, and as flesh into a potte. Now the tyme

Esai. 1.b
Ezec. 8.c
1. Pe. 3 b

shall come, * that when they call vnto the Lord, he shall not heare them, but hyde his face from them, because that thorowe their owne imagynations, they haue dealte so wyckedly. And as concernyng the prophets that deceyue my people, thus the lord saith against

B

Eze. 13 d

them. * When they haue any thyng to byte vpon, then they preache that all shall be well: but if a manne put not some thyng into their mouthes, they

Deu. 28. c

preache of war agaynst hym. * Therfore your visiõ shalbe turned to night, and your prophecieuge to darkenesse.

C

The sunne shall go down ouer those prophetes, and the day shall be darke vnto them. Then shall the vision seers be ashamed, and the soothsayers confounded: Yea, they shalbe fayne, all the packe of them, to stoppe their mouthes, for they haue not Goddes

Iere. 1.c
Eze. 13 d

word. * As for me, I am ful of strẽgth and of the spyrete of the Lord, full of iudgement and boldnesse, to shew the house of Jacob their wickednes, and the house of Israell their synne. O heare this, yee rulers of the house of Jacob, and ye iudges of the house of Israel, ye that abhorre the thyng that is lawfull, and wrest aside the thyng

Habac. 2.b

ỹ is streight. * Ye that buyld vp Syon with blood, and Jerusalem with

Eze. 22 b
* Je. 6. b

dooyng wrong. * O ye Judges, ye geue sentence for giftes: O ye priests ye teache for lucre. * O ye prophets, ye prophecie for money. Yet will they be taken as those that hold vpon god, and say: Is not the Lord among vs? Vnlyke, ther can no misfortune happen vs. * Therfore shal Syon (for your sakes) be plowed like a field. * Jerusalem shall become an heape of stones, and the hill of the temple shalbe turned to an hie wodde.

Jere. 9.b
3. Re. 9.b
and. 21.b
Luk. 23 b

¶ The. iiii. Chapter.

A

Leui. 16.
Esd. 2.d

BVt * in the latter dayes it will come to passe, that the hyll of the Lordes house shalbe sette vp hyer then any mountains or hilles: Yea, the people shall preasse vnto it, and the multitude of the Gentiles shall haste thither, saying: Come

Esa. 2.d

* let vs go vp to the hyll of the Lord,

Ps. 112.

and to the house of the God of Jacob that he may teache vs his waies, that we may walke in his pathes. * For

Ps. 49.c
Esay. 2.d
Luk. 24b

the lawe shall come out of Sion, and the woorde of God from Jerusalem, and shall geue sentence amonge the multitude of the Hethen, and reforme the people of farre countreyes: so that of their swoardes, they shall make

B

ploughe shares, and sythes of their speares. * One people shall not lyfte

Esa. 11 b
and. 65.d

vp a sword against another: yea, thei shall no more learne to fight, but euery man shall syt vnder his vineyarde, and vnder his fygge tree, and no man to fray hym away: for the mouthe of the Lorde of Hoostes hath spoken it. Therfore wher as al the people haue walked euery manne in the name of his owne God, we will walk in the name of oure God for euer and euer.

Soph. 3

* At the same tyme saythe the Lorde, will I gather vp the lame, & the outcastes, and suche as I haue chastened, and wyll geue issue to the lame, and make of the outcastes a great people:

Luke. 1.d

* and the Lord hym selfe shalbe theyr kyng vpon the mounte Syon, from this tyme foorthe for euermore. And

C

Gen. 35.

vnto thee, (O thou tower of * Eder, thou strong hold of the daughter Sion) vnto thee shall it come, euen the lordshyp and kyngdom of the daughter Jerusalem. Why then arte thou nowe so heauy? Is there no kyng in thee? Are thy counsailers away, that thou thou art so payned, as a woma in her trauell? And nowe (O thou daughter Sion) be sory, let it greue thee as a wyfe labouryng with chyld: for now must thou get the out of the cityе, and dwell vpon the playne field. Yea, vnto Babylon shalt thou go, there shalt Mich.5b thou be deliuered, and ther the Lord shall loose the from the hand of thyne enemyes. Nowe, also there are many people gathered together against the, saying: what, Sion is cursed, we shal see our lust vpō her. But they know Esa.14d not the thoughtes of the Lord, they vnderstand not his councel, that shall gather them together as the sheues in the barne. Therfore get thee vp, O thou daughter Sion, and threshe out the corne: For I wil make thy horne yron, and thy clawes brasse, that thou mayest grynde manye people: their goods shalt thou appropriate vnto the Lorde, and their substaunce vnto the ruler of the whole worlde.

¶ The.v. Chapter.

A AFter that shalte thou be robbed thy selfe, O thou robbers daughter: they shall laye siege against vs, and smite the iudge of Is-Mat.2.a racil with a rodde vppon the cheke.
Joha.7d And thou Bethleem Ephrata, arte lytle among the thousandes of Juda.
Out of the shall come vnto me which shalbe the gouernour in Israel: whose outgoyng hath bene from the begyn-nyng, and from euerlastynge. In the meane whyle he plageth them for a season, vntil the time that she (which shall beare) hath borne: then shal the remnaunt of his brethrē be conuerted Eze.34d vnto the children of Israell. He shall Joh.10a stande faste, and geue foode in the Ro.1.b strength of the Lord, and in the victo-rye of the name of the Lord his God:
and when they bee conuerted, he shall B be magnified vnto the farthest partes of the world. Then shal ther be peace, so that the Assirian maye come into your land, and treade in your houses.
We shall dryng vp seuen shepherdes, and eyghte princes vppon them: these shall subdue the lande of Assur with Gen.10b the sweard, and the land of Nymrod mich.4c with their naked weapons. Thus shall he deliuer vs from the Assirian, when he commeth within our lande, and setteth his fote within oure borders. And the remnaunt of Jacob shal C be among the multitude of people, as the dew of the Lord, and as the drops vpon the grasse, that tarieth for no man Gen.49b and wayteth of no body. Yea the residue of Jacob shall be amonge the Gentils and the multitude of people, as the lyon amonge the beastes of the wod, and as the lions whelpe among a flocke of shepe: which when he goeth thorowe (treadeth downe, teareth in peces, and there is no man that can help. Thyne hand shalbe lift vp vpon thyne enemies, and all thine aduersa- D ryes shall perysh. The time shall com also sayth the Lorde, that I will take thine horses from the, and destroy thy charettes. I will breake downe the cityes of the lande, and ouerthrow all Deu.18.b thy strong holdes. All witchcrafts will I rote out of thyne hande, there shall no mo south sayinges be within Naum.1 thee. Thine Idols and thine Images, will I destroy out of the, so that thou shalt nomore bowe thy selfe vnto the workes of thine owne handes.
Thy groues wyl I plucke vp by the rotes, and breake downe the cityes.
Thus will I be auenged also, vpon all the heathen that will not heare.

¶ The.vi. Chapter.

A HErken nowe what the Lorde Esa.58a sayth: Vp, reproue the moun taynes, and let the hilles hear thy voyce. O heare the punyshmente of the Lorde, ye mountaynes, and ye mightye foundacions of the earth: for the Lorde wyll reproue hys people, and reason with Israell. O my people what haue I done vnto thee? or wherein haue I hurte thee? geue me answere. Because I brought thee from the lande of Egypte, and deliy- B uered the out of the house of bōdage? Exo.14c Because I made Moyses, Aaron,

Mar.1. and and Myriam to lead the? Remember Nu.22. (O my people) * what Balach the 23.24. kyng of Moab had ymagined against 25. thee, and what answere that Balaam the sone of Beor gaue him, from Sethim vnto Gilgal, that ye may know the louynge kyndnesses of the Lord.

What acceptable thynge shall I offer vnto the Lord? shal I bowe my knee to the hye God? Shal I come before hym with brent offeringes, and with calues of a yere olde? Hath the Lorde a pleasure in manye thousande rams? or innumerable streames of oyle? Or shall I geue my firste borne for myne offences, and the fruite of my body for the synne of my soule? I will shewe thee, O man, what is good, and what the Lord requireth of thee. Namely, to do right, to haue pleasure in louing kyndnes, to be lowely, and to walke Micay.1d with thy God. * The Lordes voyce cryeth vnto the citie, and the man that shalbe saued considreth thy name (O Lord.) Herken what is your rod, and Leui.19g here him that warneth you? * Shold Deu.25c I not be displeased, for the vnrygh-Pro.20b teous good in the houses of the wyc-Eze.45b ked, and because the measure is mynnyshed? Or shoulde I iustifye the false balaunces, and the bagge of dysceytefull weyghtes, amonge those that bee full of ryches vnrygh teously gotten: where the cytesens with falshode, speake lyes, and haue disceptfull tonges in their mouthes? Therfore I will take in hand to punyshe the, and to make thee desolate, because of thy Leu.26.d sinnes. * Thou shalt eat, and not haue Osee.4b ynough: yea thou shalt bring thy self Agge.1a downe. Thou shalt fle, but not escape, Deu.21c and those that thou woldest saue, wil I deliuer to the * sweard. Thou shalt sowe, but not reape: thou shalte presse oute oyues, but oyle shalte thou not haue to anoynt thy selfe withall: thou shalt treade out swete must, but shalt 3Re.16e drinke no wine. Ye kepe the ordinauces of * Amri, and all the customes of the house of Ahab: ye folowe their ple sures, therfore will I make the wast, and cause thy inhabiters to be abhorred O my people; and thus shalt thou beare thyne owne shame

The.vii. Chapter.

VVo is mee: I am become as I one, that goeth a gleanyng in the haruest. There are no mo grapes to eate, yet wonlde I fayne (with all my herte (haue of the beste frute. * There is not a godlye vppon Rom.3 earthe, there is not one ryghteous among men. They labour all to shede blood, and euery man hunteth his bro ther to deth: yet they say they do wel, when they doo euyll. As the prynce will, so saith the iudge, that he may do him a pleasure agayne. The great mā speaketh what his herte desireth: and the hearers allowe him. The beste of them is but as a thistle, and the moste righteous of them is but as a breer in the hedge. But when the daye of thy preacher commeth, that thou shalte be visyted, then shall they be wasted away. * Let no man beleue hys frende, Jere.9 nor put hys confydence in a brother. B Kepe the port of thy mouth from her that lyeth in thy bosome, * for the sone mat.10 shall putte hys father to dyshonoure, den.1 the daughter shall ryse agaynste her Psa.37 mother, the daughter in lawe against her mother in lawe: and a mans foes shalbe euen they of his own housholde Neuertheles, I will loke vp vnto the Lord, I will patiently abide God my sauyour, my God shall heare mee.
* O thou enemy of myne reioyce not Pro.17 at my fall, for I shall get vp agayne:
and though I sytte in darkenesse, yet the Lorde is my lyghte. I will beare the punyshemente of the Lorde (for why? I haue offended him) till he syt iudgement vpon my cause, and se that I haue ryghte. Hee will bringe mee forth to the lyght, and I shall see hys ryghteousnes. She that is mine ene- C mye shall loke vpon it and be confoun ded, whiche nowe sayeth: * where is 4Re.19 ỹ Lord thy God? Myne eies shal be-holde her, when shee shall be troden downe as the clape in the streetes.
* The time will come that the gappes Amos.8 shalbe made vp, and the lawe shall go abrode; and at that tyme shal they com

vnto

vnto thee from Assur vnto the strong cityes, and from the strong cities vppon the ryuer: from the one sea to the other, from the one mountayne to the other: Notwithstandynge, the lande must be wasted, because of them that dwell therein, and for the fruites of their owne ymaginacions. Therfore fede thy people with the rod, the flock of thyne heritage which dwell dese-late in the wod: that they maye be fed vpon the mount of Carmell, Basan, and Gylead, as afore tyme. Marue-Exo.13a lous thinges will I shew them, ✱ like D as when they came oute of Egypte.
This shall the Heathen see, and be a-Iob.39d shamed for all their power, ✱ so that they shall laye their hande vpon their Gene.3c mouth, and stop theyr eares. ✱ They shall lycke the dust lyke a serpent, and as the wormes of the earth, that trem ble in their holes. They shalbe afrayd of the Lorde our God, and they shall feare the. Where is there suche a God as thou? that pardonest wickednesse, and forgeuest the offences of the remnaunt of thyne herytage? he kepeth not his wrath for euer: and why? his Mich.7.d delyte is to haue compassion: ✱ he shal turne agayne, and be mercifull to vs:
he shall put downe our wickednesses and caste all our synnes into the bot-tome of the sea. Thou shalte kepe thy trueth with Jacob, and thy mercy for Abraham, lyke as thou haste sworne vnto our fathers long agoe.

¶ The ende of the pro-phecye of Micheas.

¶ The booke of the pro-phete Nahum.

¶ The firste Chapter.

THis is the heauy burthen of Niniue, which Nahum of Elchos did wryte as he sawe it.
Deu.5.b ✱ The Lorde is a gelous God, and a taker of vengeaunce is the Lord, & wrath-full. ✱ The Lorde taketh vengeaunce Rom.2a of hys enemyes, and reserueth dyspleasure for hys aduersaryes. ✱ The Rom.2a Lord suffreth longe, he is of great po- Exo.18a wer, and so innocent ✱ that he leaueth ✱ Je.10b no manne fautlesse before him. The Lord goth forth in ỹ tempest and stor mye wether, the cloudes are the duste of his feete. When he reproueth the B sea, he dryeth it vp, and turneth all the floudes to drye land: Basan is dese-late, Carmell and the pleasure of Li-banus wasteth awaye. The moun-taynes tremble for hym, the hylles consume. At the syghte of hym, the earth quaketh: yea, the whole worlde, and all that dwell therin. ✱ Who may Jer.10.b endure before his wrath? Or who is Esa.34a able to abyde hys grym displeasure? Abac.3.a Hys angre taketh on lyke fyre: and Sop.3.b the harde rockes are clouen a sunder C before him. Ful gracious is the Lord, and a strong holde in the time of trouble, he knoweth them that putte their trust in hym: when the flond rumeth ouer, and destroieth the place: & when the darkenes foloweth still vpon his enemyes. What do ye ymagine then agaynste the Lorde on thys maner?
(Cushe when he hath once made an ende, ther shal come nomore trouble.) For lyke as the thornes that stryke together, and as the drye strawe, so shal the dronkardes be consumed toge ther, euen when they be full. There D come out of thee such as imagine mischefe: and geue vngracious councell agaynste the Lorde. Therefore thus sayth the Lorde: Let them be as well prepared: yea, and as manye as they can, yet shall they be hewen downe, and passe away. And as for the, I wyl dere thee, but not vtterly destroy the.
And nowe wyll I breake hys rodde from thy backe, and burste thy bonds in sundre. But the Lord hath geuen a cõmaundement concerning thee: that there shall come nomore seede of thy name. ✱ The carued & casten ymages Mich.5c will I roote oute of the house of thy god. Thy graue shall I prepare for thee, and thou shalt be confounded.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

A Esa. 52 a Ro. 10. a

BEhold, * vpon the mountaines come the feete of him, that bringeth good tydinges: and preacheth peace. O Juda, kepe thy holye dayes, performe thy promises: for Belial shal come nomore in the, he is vtterlye rooted oute. The scatterer shal come vp agaynste thee, and laye siege to the castell. Loke thou well to the streetes, make thy loynes stronge, arme thy selfe wyth al thy myght: for the Lorde shal restore agayne the glorye of Jacob, lyke as the glory of Israel. The destroyers haue broke̅ them downe, and marred the vine branches The shield of his gyantes glistereth, his men of warre are clothed in purple. His charettes are as fyre, when hee maketh hym fore warde, and hys speare shaftes are soked in venyme.

B The Charettes roll vppon the stretes, and welter in the hie wayes.

They are to loke vpon lyke cressettes of fyre, and go swyftlye as the lyghtninge. Whē he doeth but warne his gyauntes, they fal in their araye, and hastely they clyme vp the walles, yea the engyns of the warre are prepared already. The water portes shalbe opened, and the Kynges palace shall fal. The quene her selfe shall be led away captiue, and her gentle wemen shal mourne as the doues, and grone wythin their hertes. * Niniue is like a poole ful of water, but thē shal they be fayne to flee. Stand, stande, (shall they cry) and there shal not one turne backe. Away wyth the syluer, away wyth the golde, for here is no ende of treasure. There shall bee a multitude of all maner of costly ornamentes. Thus must she be spoiled, emptied, and cleane stripped out: that theyr hartes maye bee melted awaye, theyr knees tremble, all their loynes bee weake, and their faces black as a pot. Where is nowe the dwellynge of the lions, and the pastures of the lyons whelpes: where the lion and the lionesse wente wyth the whelpes, and no man fraid them away: But the lion spoyled ynough for hys yong ones and deuoured for hys lioneſſe: hee fylled hys dennes wyth his praye, and hys dwellyng place, with that he had rauished. Behold, I wyl vpon thee, sayth the Lorde of hostes, and wil set fyre vpon thy charetts, that they shal smoke withal, and the sweard shal deuoure the yonge lions. I wyll make an ende of thy spoyling, from oute of the earth, and the voice of the messangers shal nomore be heard.

Tob. 14b Soph. 2a

C

¶ The.iii. Chapter.

A

VVo * to the bloudthirstie Citye which is al ful of lyes and robberye and wyl not leaue of frō rauyshynge. There a man may heare scourginge, rushynge, the noyse of the wheles, the crying of the horses, and the rollynge of the charettes. There the horsemenne gette vp wyth naked swerdes, and glysteryng speres, there lyeth a multitude slayne, and a greate heape of dead bodyes, there is no ende of dead coarses: yea, menne fall vpon their bodies. And that for the greate and manyfold whoredome, of the faire and beutiful harlot, which is a maystresse of witchcrafte: yea, and selleth the people through her whoredome, and the nations through her wytchcrafte. * Beholde, I wyl vppon thee, (saith the lord of hostes) and wil pul thy clothes ouer thy head: that I may shewe thy nakednes amonge the heathen, and thy shame among the kingdomes. I wyl cast dyrte vpon thee, to make thee be abhorred, and a gasinge stocke: Yea, al they that looke vppon thee, shall start backe, & say: Niniue is destroyd. who wil haue pitie vpon thee: where shal I seke one to conforte thee: Arte thou better then the greate Citye of * Alexandria: that laye in the waters, and hadde the waters round aboute it: whyche was strongelye fenced and walled wyth the sea: Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength and that exceadynge great, aboue mesure. Aphrica and Libia were her healpers, yet was shee dryuen awaye, and broughte into captyuitye, her younge chyldrenne were smitten downe at the head of euery streete, the

B Esa. 47 a Eze. 16 d

Eze. 30 c

lotte-

Eze. 14 a Abac. 2. b

lottes were caste for the mooste auncient menne in her, and all her myghtye menne were bounde in chaynes.
C Euen so shalt thou also be dronckē, and hyde thy self, and seke some helpe agaynst thyne enemy. All thy stronge cities shalbe lyke sygtrees with rype sygges: whiche when a man shaketh, they shal fal into the mouth of the eater. Beholde, thy people wythin thee are but wemen, the portes of thy land shalbe opened vnto thine ennemyes, and the fyre shal deuoure thy barres. Drawe water nowe against thou be besieged, make vp thy stronge holdes, goe into the claye, temper the morter, make stronge brycke: * yet the fyre shall consume thee, the swearde shall destroye thee: yea, as the locust doeth, so shal it eate thee vp. It shal fal heauelye vppon thee as the locustes: yea, ryght heauely shall it fal vpon thee, euen as the grasshoppers. Thy marchauntes haue beene numbred wyth the starres of heauen, but nowe shall they spreade abroade as the locustes, and flee their waye. Thy Lordes are as the grasshoppers, and thy captaynes as the multitude of grasshoppers which when they be cold, remayne in the hedges: but whan the Sunne is vp, they flee away, and no man canne telle where they are becomme. Thy shepeheardes are aslepe (O kinge of Assur) thy worthies are laid downe, thy people is scattred abroade vppon the mountaynes, and no manne gathereth theym together agayne. Thy wounde cannot be hyd, thy plague is so sore. All they that heare thys of thee, shal clappe theyr hādes ouer the. For what is he, to whom thou haste not alwaye beene doynge hurt?

Esa.10.a
Iac.po.b

The end of the prophecie of Nahum.

The booke of the Prophete Abacuc.

The fyrste Chapter.

THis is the heauye burthen whiche the prophet Abacuc did see. O Lord, * howe long shal I crie, and thou wilt not hear? * howe long shal I complaine vnto thee, suffring wrong, and thou wilte not helpe? whye letteste thou me see swerynes and labour? * Tyranny and violence are before mee, power ouergoeth ryghte: for the lawe is torne in pieces, and there cannot ryght iudgement go forth. And why? the vngodlye is more set by then the ryghteous: thys is the cause, that wronge iudgement proceadeth. * Beholde, amonge the heathen, and loke well, wondre at it, and bee abashed: for I will doo a thinge in your tyme, which thoughe it be tolde you, yee shall not beleue.
* For lo, I wyl rayse vp the Caldees that bitter and swyft people: whyche shal go as wyde as the land is, to take possession of dwelling places, that be not their owne. A grymme and bolsterous people is it, these shall syt in iudgement and punysh. Their horses are swifter then the cattes of the mountayne, and byte theym sorer then * the wolues in the euening. Their horsemen come by great heapes from farre, they flee hastely to deuour as the Egle. They come al to spoyle, out of the commeth an east wind, which blowe-eth, and gathereth their captaynes, lyke as the sande. They shall mocke the kynges, and laugh the prynces to scorne. They shal not set by any strōg holde, for they shal laye ordinaunce agaynst it, and take it. Then shall they take a freshe corage vnto theym: to go forth and to do more euyll, and to ascrybe the power vnto * their GOD. But thou O Lorde my God * my holie one, thou arte from the beginning, therefore shall we not dye. O Lorde,

A
Psa.22.a Iob.21.a
B
Eccl.4.a.
Act.13.b
C
deu.28.c
Soph.3.
Esa.46.a
Psa.89.c

thou hast ordeyned them for a punish mente, and sette theym to reproue the myghty. Thyne eyes are cleane, thou mayest not se evil, thou canste not be-D holde the thing that is wicked. * Wher Jer.12.a fore then doest thou loke vpon the vn godlye, and holdest thy tongue, when the wicked deuoureth the man that is better then him self? Thou makest men as the fysh of the sea, and lyke as the creping beastes, that haue no gyde they take vp al with their angle, they catche it in their net, and gather it in their yearne, wherof they reioyce and are glad. Therefore offre they vnto their net, and doe sacrifice vnto theyr yearne, because that through it, theyr portion is become so fatte, and theyr meate so plenteous. Wherefore, they cast out theyr nette agayne, and neuer cease to slay the people.

¶ The.ii Chapter.

A I Stode vppon my watch, and set me vpon my bulwarke, to loke and se what hee woulde saye vnto me, and what answere I should geue him that reproued me.
But the Lord answered me, and said: Wryte the vision playnely vppon thy tables, that whoso commeth by, maye rede it: * for the vision is yet far of for Dan.9.d a tyme, but at the last it shal come to Heb.10b passe and not fayle. * And thoughe he tarye, yet wayte thou for hym, for in verye deede he will come, and not bee slacke. Behold the vnryghteous thin Gala.3.b keth him selfe in sauegarde, as in a Heb.10d stronge holde: * but the iust shall lyue B by hys fayth. Lyke as the wynde dysceaueth the dronkard, euē so the proud Pro.30b shal fayle and not endure. He openeth hys desyre wyde vp as the hell, * and is as vnsatiable as death. All heathen gathereth he to him, and heapeth vnto him al people. But shall not all these take vp a prouerbe agaynste hym, and mocke ym with a dye word, and saye: Wo vnto him that heapeth vp other mennes goodes: How longe wyll he lode hym selfe wyth thicke claye: O howe sodenly wyl they stand vp, that shal byte, and awake, that shal teare thee in pieces: yea, thou shalt be their praye: * Seing thou hast spoiled ma- Ibdi.11 ny heathen, therfore shal the remnant of the people spoyle thee: because of mens blud, and for the wrong done in the lande, and in the citie, and vnto al theym that dwel therein. * Woe vnto Esay.5b him that couetouslye gathereth euyll gotten goodes into his house, that hee may set hys nest on hye, to escape from the power of myslfortune. Thou haste C deuided the shame of thine own hous for thou haste slayne to much people, and haste wylfullye offended, so that the very * stones of the wal shall crye Luk.19b out of it, and the tymber that lyeth betwixt the iointes of the buylding shal answer. * Wo vnto him that buildeth Ezr.28d the towne with bloud, and mayntay- Num.31 neth the citie wyth vnryghteousnes.
Shal not the Lorde of hostes bryng thys to passe, that the labourers of the people shalbe brent with a great fire:
and that the thinge where vpp on the people haue wered them selues, shal- Exo.9.c. be loste: For the earth shalbe ful of Nu.14c knowledge of the Lordes honor, lyke as the waters that couer the sea. Woe vnto hym that geueth his neyghbour dryncke, putting in gall, and makynge him dronken, * that hee maye see hys Gen.9.d. priuities. Therfore with shame shalt thou be fylled, in steade of honoure.
Drincke thou also, tyll thou stombre withal: for the cuppe of the Lordes ryght hand shal compasse thee about, and shamefull spewing in steade of thy Jer.50.f worshyp. * For the wronge that thou hast don in Libanus, shal ouerwhelm thee, and the wyld beastes shal make thee afrayd, because of mēs blud, and for the wrong done in the land, in the citie, and vnto al such as dwel therin.
What helpe then wyl the ymage do, whom the workman hath fashioned:
Or the dayne caste ymage, wherein because the craftesman putteth hys trust, therefore maketh he domme Idoles: Woe vnto him that sayeth to a piece of wood: aryse, and to a domme stone: stand vp. For what instruction may such one geue: Behold, it is layd ouer wyth golde and siluer, and there is no breath in it. But the Lorde in his holye temple is he, whome all the worlde should feare.

¶ The.iii. Chapter.

A O Lorde, when I heard speake of thee, I was afrayde. The worke that thou hast taken in hande, shalte thou perfourme in hys tyme. O Lorde: and when thy tyme commeth, thou shalt declare it. In thy very wrath thou thinkest vpon mercy. God commeth from Theman, and the holy one from the mount of Pharan. Selah. Hys glorye couereth the heauens, and the earth is ful of hys prayse. Hys shine is as the sunne, and beames of lyght go out of hys hands, there is hys power hyd. Destruction
B goeth before hym, and a pestilent sickAmos.9a nes goeth from hys feete. He standeth, and measureth the earth. He looketh, and the people consume awaye, the mountaynes of the worlde fall downe to poulder, and the hilles are faine to bowe themselues, for his goinges are euerlasting and sure. I saw that the pauilions of the Mozians, and the tentes of the land of Madian were vexed for werines. Waste thou not angrye, O Lorde, in the waters? was not thy wrath in the flouddes, and thy displeasure in the Sea? Yea, when thou sattest vpon thyne horse, and when thy charettes had the victorye. Thou shewedst thy bowe openly, lyke as thou haddest promised Ge.66.c with an oth vnto the tribes. Selah. Thou dyddest deuyde the waters of the earth. When the mountaynes saw thee, they were afrayde, the water C streame went away: the depe made a Ios.10.c noyse at the lyfting vp of thyne hand. The Sunne and Moone remained still in their habitation. Thine arrowes went out glysteringe, and thy speares as the shyne of the lightning.
Ios.11.a Thou troadest downe the lande in thine anger, and diddest threshe the hethen in thy displeasure. Thou camest forth to helpe thy people, to helpe thin annoynted. Thou smotest downe the head of the house of the vngodly, and discouereddest hys foundations, euen vnto the necke of him. Selah. Thou dyddest stryke through wyth his scepter the heades of hys playne people: which come as a stormy wind to scatter me abrode, and are glad when they may eate vp the poore secretly. Thou makest a way for thyne horses in the sea, euen in the myddes of great waters. When I heare thys, my body is vexed, my lippes tremble at the voice therof, my bones corrupt. I am afraid where I stand. O that I myght rest in the daye of trouble, that I myghte go vp vnto our people, which are already prepared. For the fygtrees shal not be grene: and the vines shal beare no fruite. The labour of the Olyue shalbe but lost, and the land shal bring no corne: the shepe shalbe taken out of the folde, and there shalbe no cattell in the stalles. But as for me, I wyll be glad in the Lord, and wyl reioyce in Psa.18b God my Sauiour. The Lord God is my strength, he shal make my feete as the feete of hartes, and hee whiche geueth the victorye, shal bring me to my hye places, syngynge vppon my Psalmes.

¶ The end of the prophecie of Abacuc.

☞ The booke of the Prophete Sophony.

¶ The.first Chapter.

THis is the worde of the Lorde, whyche came vnto Sophony the son of Chusi the sonne of Gedoliah, the son of Amariah, the soonne of Hezekiah in the tyme of Iosiah the sonne of Amon 4Re.21. kynge of Iuda. I wyll gather vp all 4Re.12 things in the land, saith the Lorde. I will gather by man and beast: I will gather vp the foules in the ayre, and the fyshe in the sea) to the great decay of the wycked) and will vtterlye destroy the men out of the land, saith the Lord. I will stretch out myne hande vpon Juda, and vpon al such as dwel B at Jerusalem. Thus will I rote out the remnaūt of Baal from this place, 2.Re. 23 and the names of the • Remutins and • de. 17. b priestes: yea, and • such as vpon their Jere. 5.d house toppes worshipp and bow them selues vnto the host of heauen: which sweare by the Lorde, and by theyr Malchom also, whiche starte abacke from the Lord, and neyther seke after Zach. 1,0 the Lord nor regard him. • Be still at the presence of the Lorde God, for the day of the Lorde is at hande: yea, the Lord hath prepared a slayne offeryng, and called his gestes therto. And thus shall it happen in the day of the Lords slayne offerynge. I will visyte the 2.re. 27 b princes, • the kinges chyldren, and all Jer. 29 b such as weare straunge clothyng. In the same day also will I visit al those that tread ouer the threshold so proudly, which fill their Lords house with C robbery and falshoode. At the same time (sayth the Lord) ther shalbe herd 3 Esd. 3 a a great crye from the • fisshe porte, and an howlyng from the other port, and a greate murther frome the hylles. Howle ye that dwell in the myll, for al the marchaunt people are gone, and all they that were laden with syluer, are roted out. At the same tyme will I seke thorow Jerusalem with lanternes, and visite them that continue Jere. 5. c in their dregs, and say in their hertes:

Deu. 29 c • Tush, the Lord will do nether good • Amo. 5 c nor euill. Their goodes shalbe spoyled, and their houses layd wast: • they D shall buylde houses, and not dwell in them, they shall plant vineyardes, but Joel. 1. a not drinke the wyne thereof. For the great • day of the Lord is at hand, it is hard by, and cometh on a pace. Horrible is the tydynges of the Lords day, then shall the gyaunt crie out: for that daye is a daye of wrath, a day of trouble and heauynesse, a daye of vtter destruction and mysery, a darke and glo-mynge day, a cloudy and stormy daye, a daye of the noyse of trompettes and shawmes, agaynst the stronge cityes and hye towers. I will bringe the people into suche vexation, that they shall go about like blynd men, because they haue synned agaynste the Lorde. Their blood shalbe shed as the duste, Ezec. 7. d and their bodyes as the mire. • Neyther their syluer nor their gold shalbe Sop. 1. b able to delyuer them in that wrathfull day of the Lorde, but the • whole lande shall be consumed thorowe the fyre of hys geloufye: for he shall sone make cleane ryddaunce of all theym that dwell in the land.

¶ The. ii. Chapter.

EXamine your selues, and searche A O thou nacion, that hast no desire to the lawe, or the thyng go forth that God hath concluded, and or the tyme come. wherein man shall passe away as the duste: or the fearefull wrath of the Lorde come vppon you: yea, or the day of the Lordes sore displeasure come vpon you. Seke the Lorde all ye meke herted vpon earth; ye that worke after hys iudgement, seke ryghteousnes, • seke lowlynesse: 4 Re. 20 b that ye may be defended in the wroth Jona. 3 a full day of the Lord: • For Gaza shal • Esa. 24 be destroyed, and Ascalon shalbe laied Jer. 46 b wast. They shall caste oute Asdod at Eze. 25 b the none day, & Accaron shalbe pluckt B vp by the rootes. Woo vnto you that dwell vpon the sea coaste ye murtherous people: the worde of the Lorde shal come vpon you. O Canaan thou lande of the Philistines, I will destroye thee, so that there shall no man dwell in thee anie more: and as for the sea coaste, it shalbe herdemennes cotages and shepefoldes, yea, it shall be a portion for suche as remayne of the house of Juda, to fede therevpon. In the houses of Ascalon shall they reste towarde nyghte: for the Lorde their God shal visit them, and turne away their captiuitye. • I haue hearde the Esay. 15 despite of Moab, & the blasphemyes Jer. 48 b of the chyldren of Ammon, howe they Eze. 25 haue shamefully intreated my people,
and

and magnifyed theim selues wythin the bozders of their lande. Therefoze as truely as I lyue (saieth the Lozde of hostes, the God of Israel) Moab shalbe as Sodome, and Ammon as Gomozra, euen dzye thozne hedges, salte pittes, and a perpetuall wildernes. The residue of my folcke shall spoile them, the remnant of my people Zach. 2 b shal haue theym in possession. • Thys shal happen vnto them foz their pzide because they haue deait so shamefully wyth the Lozde of hostes people, and magnifyed them selues among them.
Esay. 2. c The Lozd shalbe grimme vpon them, and destroy al the goddes in the land.
D And all the Iles of the heathen shall wozshyp him, euery man in his place. Ye Mozias also shal perysh with my sweard: Yea, he shal stretche oute hys hand ouer the nozth, and destroye As-
Tob. 14 f sur. • As foz Niniue, hee shal make it desolate, dzye and waste. The flockes and all the beastes of the people shall lye in the middest of it: pellicanes and stozkes shal abide in the vpper postes of it, foules shal sing in ŷ windowes and rauens shal sit vpon the balckes, foz the boozdes of Cedze shalbe ryuen downe. Thys is the pzoud and careless citie, that sayd in her hert, I am, and there is els none. O howe is she made so waste, that the beastes lye therin? Whoso goeth by, mocketh her and pointeth at her wyth hys fynger.

I

The. iii. Chapter.

WO to that abhominable, fylthye, and cruel citie: whiche wyl not heare, noz be refourmed. Her truste is not in the Lozde, neyther wyll shee holde her to her God. Her rulers wythin her are as roaringe • lions: her iudges are as
Eze. 22. c • wolues in the euening, which leaue Hab. 1. b nothing behinde them til the mozow. Her pzophetes are lyght persons and vnfaythful menne, her pziestes vnhalow the sanctuary, and do wzong vnder the pzetence of the lawe. But the iust Lozd that doth no vnright, was among them, euerye mozninge shewyng them hys lawe clearely, and ceased not. But the vngodlye wyll not learne to be ashamed. Therefoze wyll I roote out thys people, and destroye their towzes: yea, and make their stretes so voide, that no man shal go therin. Their cities shalbe bzoken downe so that no bodye shalbe left, noz dwel B there any moze. I sayd vnto them, O feare me, and be content to be refourmed. That their dwellyng should not bee destroyed, and that there shoulde happen vnto them none of these thinges, wherewith I shal viset theym. But neuertheless, they stand vp earlye, to folowe the fyithynes of theyz owne ymaginations. Therefoze, yee shal wait vpon me (sayeth the Lozde) vntyl the tyme that I stand vp: foz I am determined, to gather the people, and to bzyng the kingdomes together that I may poure out myne anger, ye Nah. 1 a al my wzathful • displeasure vpon the
• So. 1. c • Foz al the wozlde shalbe consumed wyth the fyze of my gelousie. And then wyll I clense the lyppes of the people, that they may euerychone call vpon the name of the Lozd, and serue him wyth one shoulder. Suche as I haue subdued, and my chyldzen also, whome I haue scattered abzode, shall bzinge me pzesentes beyonde the waters of Ethiopia. In that tyme shalte thou nomoze bee confounded, because of al thy ymaginations, wherthzough Iere. 1. a thou haddest offended me: foz • I wyl take away the pzoud bosters of thyne honour from thee, so that thou shalte nomoze triumph because of my holye hyll. In thee also wyl I leaue a smal pooze simple people, which shal truste in the name of the Lozde. The remnant of Israel shal do no wickednes, noz speake lyes, neyther shal ther any disceatful tongue bee founde in theyz mouthes. Foz they shalbe fedde, and take their rest, and no man shall make them afraid. Geue thankes, O daughter Sion, be ioyful, O Israel: reioice and be glad from thy whole heart, O daughter Ierusalē, foz the Lozd hath takē away thy punishment, & turned backe thine enemies. The king of Israel, euen the Lozde him self is wyth thee:

thee: so that thou nedest nomore to feare any misfortune. In that tyme it shall be sayd to Jerusalem: feare not, and to Sion: let not thyne handes be slacke, for the Lorde thy God is with thee, it is he that hath power to saue: he hath a speciall pleasure in thee, and a maruelous loue toward thee: yea, he reioyseth ouer thee with gladnesse. Such as haue bene in heauynes, wil I gather together, and take out of thy congregacion: as for the shame and re proue that hath bene layed vpon the, it shalbe farre from thee. And lo, in that tyme will I destroye all those that Mic.4.b vexe thee: • I wil helpe the lame, and gather vp the castaway: yea, I wyll gette them prayse and honoure in all landes, where they haue bene put to shame. At the same time wil I bring you in, and at the same tyme wyll I gather you. I will gette you a name, and a good report among all people of the earth, when I turne backe youre captiuitye before youre eyes (sayeth the Lord.)

¶ The ende of the prophecye of Sophony.

¶ The booke of the prophete Aggeus.

¶ The firste Chapter.

A
1 Esd.2 c
Dani.5 c
IN the second yeare of kynge • Darius in the syxte moneth the firste daye of the moneth, came the worde of the Lorde (by the prophet Aggeus) vnto • Zorobabell the sonne of 1 Es.2,3 and,4.b Salathiell the prince of Juda, and to Jesua the sonne of Josedech the hye priest, saying: Thus speaketh the Lorde of hostes, and sayth. This people doeth saye: The tyme is not yet come to buylde vp the Lordes house.
B Then spake the Lorde by the prophet Jer.22 a Aggeus, and sayde, • Ye youre selues can fynd tyme to dwell in sieled houses, and shall thys house lye waste? Consider nowe youre owne wayes in youre heartes (sayeth the Lorde of hostes) • ye sowe much, but ye bringe Leu.26b little in, ye eat, but ye haue not ynough Mich.6b ye drinke but ye are not filled, ye decke Ose.4.b youre selues, but ye are not warme: Mala.3b and he that earneth anye wages, putteth it in a broken purse. Thus sayth the Lord of hostes. Consider youre owne wayes in your hertes: get you vp to the mountayne, fetche wodde, and buylde vp the house • that it may 3 Re.8.c be acceptable vnto me, & that I maye C shewe myne honour, sayth the Lord. Ye loked for much, and lo, it is come to lytle, and though ye bryng it home, yet do I blowe it away. And why so sayth the Lord of hostes? • Euen be- 1 Cor.3 b cause that my house lyeth so waste, and 2 Cor.6.c ye ronne euerye man vnto hys owne house. Wherfore, the heauen is forbid den to geue you anye dewe, and the earth is forbiddē to geue you increase • I haue called for a drought, both vp Deu.28.b pon the land and vpon the mountaynes, vpon corne, vpon wyne, and vpon oyle, vpon euerye thynge that the ground bringeth forth, vpon men and vpon cattell, yea, and vpon all handye laboure. Nowe when Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Jesua the son of Josedech the hye priest, with the D remnaūt of the people, herd the voyce of the Lord their God, and the wordes of the prophet Aggeus (lyke as the Lord their God had sent him) the people dyd feare the Lorde. Then Aggeus the Lordes Aungell, sayde the Lordes message vnto the people: I am with you, sayeth the Lorde. • Deu.7.d So the Lorde waked vp the spyrete of Jer.44.f zorobabel the prince of Juda, and the Agge.5 spyrete of Jesua the sonne of Josedech the hye priest, and the spyrete of the remnaunt of all the people: that they came and laboured, in the house of the Lord of hostes, their God.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

Upon

A Upon the. xxiiii. daye of the sixt moneth, in the seconde yeare of Kyng Darius, the xxi. day of the seuenthe moneth, came the woꝛde of the Lord by the pꝛophet Aggeus, saying: Speke to Zoꝛobabel, the sonne of Salathiel Pꝛynce of Juda, and to Jesua, the sonne of Josedech the hye Pꝛiest, and to the residue of the people, and say:

1.Es.3.c • Who is left amonge you, that sawe this house in her fyꝛst beautie? But what thynke ye now by it? Is it not in your eyes, euen as though it were nothynge? Neuertheless, be of good chere, O Zoꝛobabel (sayth the Lord)

deu.31.b • bee of good comfoꝛt, O Jesua, thou Josue.1. soonne of Josedech, the hye Pꝛieste: Take good heartes vnto you also, all ye people of the lande, sayth the Lorde of Hostes, and doo accoꝛdyng to the Agge.1.b woꝛde: (• foꝛ I Am with you, sayth the Lorde of Hoostes) iyke as I agreed wyth you, whenne ye came out of the lande of Egypte: and my spi-

B rite shall be amonge you, feare ye not. Foꝛ thus sayth the Lorde of Hostes:

Heb.12.b • Yet ones moꝛe wyll I shake heauen and earthe, the sea, and the dꝛye

Esa.40.a land, yea, • I wyl mouc all Heathen, and the comfoꝛte of all Heathen shall come, and soo wyll I fylle this house wyth honour, sayth the Lord of Ho-

Deu.8.b stes. • The syluer is myne, and the gold is myne, sayth the LORDE of Hoostes. Thus the gloꝛye of the laste house shall bee greatter thanne

C the fyꝛst, sayth the Lorde of Hostes: and in thys place wyll I geue peace, saith the Lord of hostes. The. xxiiii. daye of the nynthe moneth, in the seconde yeare of kyng Darius, camme the woꝛde of the Lord vnto the Pꝛophete Aggeus, saying: Thus sayth the Lorde God of hoostes: Aske the Jer.11.c Pꝛiestes concernynge the lawe, and say: • If one beare holye flesthe in hys coate lappe, and wyth his lappe doo touche the bread, potage, wyne, oyle, oꝛ any other meate, shall he bee holye also? The pꝛiestes answered, & sayd: No. Then sayde Aggeus: Nowe yf aue beyng defyled wyth a dead carkas touche any of these, shal it nat be vnclean? The pꝛiests gaue answer, and Leui. 5.b said: • Yea, it shalbe vnclean. The Ag Nu.19.b geus answered & said: Euē so is this people, & this nation befoꝛe me, saithe the Lord: and so are all the woꝛkes of their handes: yea, & all that they offer, is vnclean. And nowe (I pꝛay you) consider from this day toꝛth, & howe it hathe gone with you afoꝛe, oꝛ euer there was layde one stone vpon another in the Temple of the Lorde: that when ye came to a coꝛne heape of. xx.

Agge. 1. bushels, there were scarce ten: • & that when ye cam to the wine pꝛesse foꝛ to poure out. l. pottes of wine, ther wer scarce. xx. Foꝛ I smote you with heat blasting, and haile stones in all the labours of your handes: yet was there none of you that wold turne vnto me,

D sayeth the Lord. Consider then from this day foꝛth, and afoꝛe: namely, frō the xxiiii. day of the ninth moneth, vn to the daye that the foundation of the Lordes Temple was layd. Marke it

Zach.8.b wel, • is not the seed yet in the barne? haue not the vynes, the fygge trees, the pomegranates, and Olyue trees, ben yet vnfruitful? but from this day foꝛth, I shall make them to pꝛosper. Moꝛeouer, the. xxiiii. daye of the moneth, came the woꝛd of the LORD vnto Aggeus agayn, saying: Speke to Zoꝛobabell the pꝛince of Juda, and saye: I wyll shake bothe heauen and earth, and ouerthꝛowe the seate of the Kyngedomes, yea, and destroye the myghtye kyngdome of the Heathen. I wylle ouerthꝛowe the Charettes, and those that syttе vppon theim, so that bothe hoꝛse and manne shall fall downe, euery manne thoꝛoughe hys neyghbours sweard: And as foꝛ thee O Zoꝛobabell (sayeth the LORD of Hostes) thou sonne of Salathiel, my seruaunt: I wyll take thee (sayth the Lorde) at the same tyme, and make thee as a seale, foꝛ I haue chosen thee, sayeth the Lorde of Hoastes.

¶ The end of the Pꝛophecie of Aggeus.

The

The Boke of the Prophete Zacharie.

The fyrst Chapter.

A IN the eight moneth of the second yere of kyng Darius, came the worde of the Lord vnto * zacharye, the sonne of Barachias, the son of Addo, the prophete, sayinge: The Lorde hathe ben sore displeased at youre forefathers. And say thou vnto them: Thus
Mat. 23
Jer. 30. c Mala. 3. b sayth the Lord of Hosts: * Turne you vnto me (sayth the Lord of Hostes) and I will turne me vnto you, sayth Jer. 44. a Psal 78. a the Lord of hoostes. * Be ye not lyke your forefathers, vnto whom the prophets cryed afore tyme, saying: Thus Osee. 14 Tob. 13. Je. 44. a sayth the lord God of hostes: * Turn you from your euill ways, and frome youre wicked imaginations. * But they would not heare nor regard me, sayth the Lord. What is now become of your forefathers, and the prophets: are they styll alyue? But dyd not my wordes and statutes which I cōmanded by my seruantes, the Prophets) touche your forefathers? Upon thys, they gaue answer, and said: Like as ꝑ Lorde of hostes deuised to do vnto vs, acordyng to our own ways and imaginations, euen so hath he delt wyth vs. Upon the. xxiiii. day of the. xi. moneth, which is the moneth Sebat, in the second yeare of Darius, came the worde of the Lord vnto zacharye, the sonne of Barachias, the sonne of Addo, ꝑ prophet, saying: I saw by night, zacha. 6. a Apoc. 6. a and lo, there sat one vpon a red horse and stode styll among the myrre trees that were benethe vpon the grounde, and behynd hym wer there red speckled and whyte horses. Then sayd I, O my Lord, what are these? And the angell that talked wyth me, sayd vnto me: I wyll shewe thee, what these bee. And the manne that stoode amonge the Myrre trees, answered, and sayde: These are they, whome the LORDE hathe sent to go thorough the worlde. And they answered the angell of the Lorde, that stode amonge the Myrre trees, and sayde: We haue gone thorow the world: and behold, al the world dwelleth at ease, C and are careles. Thenne the Lordes aungell gaue answere, and sayde: O Lorde of Hoostes, howe longe wylte thou bee vnmercyfull to Jerusalem, Jer. 20. and to the Cytyes of Juda? wyth and. 29. b whome thou haste beene displeased 1. Esd. 1. nowe these three score and tenne yeares. So the LORDE gaue a louyng and a comfortable answere vnto the Aungell, that talked with me. And the angell that commened with me, sayde vnto mee: Crye thou, and speake: Thus sayth the LORDE of Hostes: I am exceadynge iealous ouer Jerusalem and Syon, and sore displeased at the careles Heythen: For where as I was but a lyttell angrye, they dydde theyr beste that I myghte destroye theym. Therefore thus sayeth the Lord: * I wyl turne zacha. 3. D me agayne in mercy toward Jerusalem, so that my house shalbe buylded in it, sayth the Lorde of Hostes, yea, and the plommet shalbe layde abraode in Jerusalem, sayethe the LORD of Hoostes. Crye also, and speake: Thus sayethe the Lorde of Hoostes: My Cityes shall bee in good prosperitie agayne, the Lorde shall yet comforte Syon, and choose Jerusalem. Thenne lyfte I vppe myne eyes, and sawe, and behold fower hornes. And I sayd vnto the aungell, that talked wyth me: What bee these? He answered me: * These are the hornes, Dan. 7. which haue scattered Juda, Israel, and Jerusalem abroade. And the Lord shewed me fower carpenters. Then said I: what will these do? He answered, & said: Those ar the horns, which haue so strawed Juda abrode, that no man durst lift vp his head. But these are come to fray them away, & to caste out the hornes of the Gentils: which lift vp their horn ouer the land of Juda, to scatter it abroade.
B

The. ii. Chapter.

I lift

A I lyft vp myne eyes agayn, and loked: and beholde, • a man with a measure lyne in his hande. Then sayd I: whether goest thou? and he sayd vnto me: To measure Ierusalem, that I may see, howe longe and how brode it is. And behold, the angell that talked with me, wente hys way forth. Then went there out an other angell to mete him, and said vnto him: Runne, speake to this yonge man, and say: Ierusalem shalbe inhabited without any wall, for the very multitude of people and catteile that shalbe therin. • Yea, I my self (sayth the Lord) wyll be vnto her a wall of fyre round about me, and will be honoured in her. O get you forthe, O flee from the land of the north, sayethe the Lord, yee • whom I haue scatred into the foure wyndes vnder heauen, sayeth the LORD. Saue thy selfe, O Syon, thou that dwelleste wyth the daughter of Babylon. For thus sayeth the LORD of Hostes. After that glorious power hath he sent me out to the Heathen, which spoiled you: • for who so toucheth you, shall touche the apple of his owne eie. Behold, I wyll lyft vp myne hand ouer them: • so that they shall bee spoyled of those which afore serued them: and ye shall know, that the Lorde of Hostes hath sent me. Be gladde, and reioyce, O daughter of Syon, for lo, • I am come to dwell in the mydst of thee, sayth the lord. At the same time there shall manye Heathen cleaue to the Lorde, & shalbe my people. Thus wyll I dwell in the myddest of thee, and thou shalt know that the Lord of hostes hathe sent me vnto thee. The Lord shal haue Iuda in possession for his part in the holy ground, and shall chose Ierusalem yet agayne. • Let all fleshe be still before the Lorde, for he is rysen out of his holy place.

Exe. 43 a Apoc. 21.

Deu. 4.d
Zach. 9.a

B

Jer. 23.d

Jere. 1.a
22.d & 30
Psa. 7. b
Act. 11.a
Esai. 11.
12. a

C

Exo. 33 a
mat. 23.e

A

Psal. 109.
Mat. 4.a
Iud. 1.b

¶ The. iii. Chapter.

AND he shewed me Iesua the hye Prieste, standynge before the angell of the Lorde, • and Sathan stode at his right hand to resyst hym. And the lord said vnto Sathan: The Lorde reproue thee (thou Sathan) yea, the Lord that hath chosen Ierusalem, reproue thee. Is not this a brande taken out of the fyre? Now Iesua was clothed in vncleen rayment, and stode before the aungell, which answered and sayd vnto those that stoode before hym: Take awaye the foule clothes from hym. And vnto hym he sayde: Beholde, I haue taken awaye thy synne frome thee, and will decke thee with chaunge of raiment. He sayd moreouer, sette a fayre myter vpon his heade. So they set a fayre myter vpon his head, and put on cloathes vpon hym, and the angell of the Lord stode there. Then the angel of the Lord testified vnto Iesua, and spake: Thus sayth the Lord of hostes If thou wylt walke in my wayes, & kepe my watche, thou shalte rule my house, and kepe my courtes, & I wyll geue thee place among these that stād here. Heare (O Iesua) thou hyghe Prieste, thou and thy frendes, that dwel before thee, for they are wonderous people. Beholde, I wyll bring forth • the branches of my seruants: For lo, the stone that I haue layde before Iesua: Vppon one • stoone shall be seuen eyes. Beholde I wyll hewe hym out (sayth the LORD of Hostes) and take away the sinne of the lande in one daye. Then shall euery man call for hys neighbour vnder the vine, and vnder the figge tree, sayth the Lorde of Hostes.

B

C

D

Esai. 4. a
Jer. 23. a
and. 24. c
Zach. 6. d
Esa. 28 a
1. Pe. 2 a

¶ The. iiii. Chapter.

A AND the Angell that talked with me, camme agayne, and waked me vppe, as a manne that is rayse d onte of his sleape, and sayde vnto me: What seest thou? And I sayd, I haue loked, and beholde: A Candelsticke all of gold, with a bolle vppon it, and hys seuen lampes therin, and vppon euery lampe seuen stalkes. And • two Olyne trees ther by, one vppon the ryght syde of the bolle, and the other vppon the lefte syde. So I answered and spake to the angell gel that talked wyth me, sayinge, O B my Lorde what are these? the angell that talked with mee aunswered and sayde vnto mee: knowest thou not what these be? And I sayde: No my Lorde. He aunswered, and sayd vnto me: This is the worde of the Lorde Esa.11.a vnto Zorobabel, saying: Neither tho rough an hoste of menne, nor through strength, but through my spirit sayth the Lorde of hooستes. What art thou, thou greate mountayne, before Zoro-babel? thou must be made euen. And C he shal bringe vp the fyrste stoane, so Esa.28.c that men shal cry vnto him, good luck good lucke. Moreouer, the woorde of Phi.1.a. the Lord came vnto me, saying: The handes of Zorobabel haue layed the foundation of this house: his handes Deu.18.d shal also finish it, that ye may know howe that the Lorde of hooستes hath sent me vnto you. For he that hath bē despysed a little season, shall reioyce, when he seeth the tynne weyghte in D Zorobabels hand. The seuen eyes are the Lordes whiche go throughe the whole worlde. Then aunswered I and sayde vnto hym, what are these two olyue trees vppon the ryght and lefte syde of the candlestickes? I spake moreouer, and sayde vnto hym: what be these two olyue braunches (which through the two golden pypes) emptye them selues into the gold? He answered me, and sayde: knowest thou Apo.1.a not what these be? And I said, no my Lorde. Then sayd he: These are the two Olyue braunches, that stand be fore the ruler of the whole earth.

The.v. Chapter.

A SO I turned me, lifting vp mine eyes, and loked, and behold, a flyying booke. And he sayd vnto me what seest thou? I answered: I see a flying booke of twentye cubites long and ten cubites brode. Then sayde he vnto me: This is the curse, that goeth forth ouer the whole earth: for all B theues shalbe iudged after thys boke, and al swearers shalbe iudged according to the same, and I wyl bryng it forth saith the Lorde of hostes, so that it shal come to the house of the thefe, and to the house of him, that falsely sweareth by my name: and shall re-mayne in hys house, and consume it, wyth the timbre and stones thereof.
Then the angel that talked with me, wente foorth and sayde vnto me, lyft vp thine eyes and see, what is thys, ꝑ goth forth. And I sayd: What is it?
He answered, this is a measure goyng out. He said moreouer: Euen thus are they that dwel vpon the whole earth, to looke vpon. And behold, ther was lyfte vp a talent of lead: and lo, a woman sat in the middest of that measure C And he sayde, this is vngodlynesse.
So hee caste her into the myddest of the measure, and threwe the lumpe of leade into the mouth of the measure.
Then lift I vp myne eyes, and loked and behold, there came oute two womenne, and the wynde was in theyr wynges (for they had wynges lyke the wynges of a storke) and they lyft D vp the measure betwyxt the earth and the heauen. Then spake I to the angel that talked with me: whither wil these beare the measure? And he saide Ge.15 vnto me, into the lande of Sinear, to build them an house, which when it is prepared, the measure shalbe sette there in his place.

The.vi. Chapter.

I

MOreouer, I turned me, lyftyng vp myne eyes, and loked, and beholde, there came foure charettes out from betwixt.ii.
hylles, whych hylles were of brasse.
In the fyrste charet were red horses, Zach.6 in the seconde charet blacke horses, in the thirde charet were whyte horses, in the fourth charet wer horses of dy-uerse colours, and strong. Then spake I, and sayd vnto the aungell that talked with me, O lord, what are these?
The aungel aunswered and said vnto Jer.4.b me. These are the foure windes of B heauen, whych be come forth to stand before the ruler of al the earth. That wyth the blacke horse went into the land of the north, and the whyte followed theym, and the speckled horses wente foorth towarde the South.
These horses were verye stronge
and

and went out, and sought to go & take their iourney ouer the whole earthe. And he sayde: Get you hence, and goe thorowghe the worlde. Thenne cryed thei vnto me, & spake vnto me, saying: Behold, these that go toward ỳ northe shall stylle my wrathe in the Northe countrey. And the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying: Take of the prisoners that are come from Babylon: namely, Heldai, Tobiath, and Idaia and come thou the same day, and go in to the house of Iosiah, the son of Sophonye. Then take golde and syluer, and make crownes thereof, and sette them vpon the hed of Iesua, the son of Iosedech, the hye priest, and speake vnto hym: Thus saieth the Lorde of hosts: Behold, the man, whose name is • the branch: and he that shal spring vp after hym, • shal buyld vp the temple of the Lord, yea, euen he shal build vp the Temple of the Lord. • He shal beare the praise, he shall syt vppon the Lordes throne, and haue the dominyon. • A priest shall be also vppon hys throne, and a peaceable councell shall be betwixt them both. And the crownes shalbe in the temple of the Lord, for a remembrance vnto Helem, Tobiah, Idaiah, and Hen the soonne of Sophonie, & suche as be farre of, shal come and buyld the temple of the lord, that ye maye knowe, howe that the Lorde of hostes hathe sente me vnto you. And this shall come to passe, yf ye wyll hearken diligentely vnto the voyce of the Lorde your God.

Zach.3.b Psal.127a Apo.4.b Ind.5.a Psal.110b Hebre. 1.6.7.

¶ The.vij. Chapter.

A IT hapned also in the fourth yere of kyng Darius, that the worde of the Lord came vnto Zachary in the fourth day of the nynthe moneth, whiche is called Casleu: What tyme as Sarasar and Rogomelech, and the men that were wyth them, sent vnto Bethel, for to pray before the Lorde: and that they shold say vnto the priestes, whiche were in the house of the Lorde of hostes, and to the prophets. Shold I wepe in the • fyfthmoneth, & absteyn as I haue don now certain yeres? Then came the word of ỳ lord of hostes vnto me, sayinge: Speake vnto all the people of the lande, and to the Priests, and say: when ye fasted, and mourned in the fyfthe • and seuenth moneth (now this .lxx. yeres) dyd ye faste vnto me? when ye didde eate also and drynke, dydde ye not eate and drynk for your owne selues? Are not these the wordes, whiche the Lorde spake by hys Prophetes afore tyme, when Ierusalem was yet inhabited and welthy, she and the cities rounde about her: when there dwelt men, bothe towarde the southe, and in the playn countreys? And the worde of the Lord came vnto Zacharie, saying: Thus saith the Lord of hostes: • Execute true iudgemēt: shew mercy and louyng kyndnesse, euery mā to his brother: Do the wydow, the fatherles, the stranger & pooze no wrōg and let no man imagine euyll agaynst his brother in his hert. Neuertheles, they would not take hede, but turned their backes, and stopped theyr eares, that they shoulde not heare: yea, they made theyr heartes as an Adamante stone, leaste they should heare the lawe and woordes, • whiche the Lorde of hostes sent in his holy spirite by the Prophetes afore tyme. Wherfore the Lorde of hostes was very wrothe at them. And thus is it comme to passe: • that like as he spake, and they wold not heare: euen soo they cried, and I would not heare (sayth the Lorde of hostes) but scattered them amonge all Gentiles, whom they knew not: Thus the lande was made so desolate, that there trauayled no manne in it, neyther too, nor fro, for that pleasant lande was vtterly layd waste.

Jer.41.a 3.re.25.a C Jach.8.c Exo.22. Leui.21. Iob.24.a Jere.7.a Jere.7.c 1.Pe.1.b D Jer.11.a

¶ The.viij. Chapter.

AGAYN the worde of the LORDE came vnto me, sayenge: Thus saythe the LORDE of hostes: I was in a greate iealousye ouer Syon, Yea, I haue ben verye gealous ouer her in a greatte displeasure: Thus sayth the LORD of hoostes. I wylle tourne me agayne vnto Syon, and wylle dwelle

B

in

Esdr. 1.d in the middest of Jerusalem: • so that Jerusalem shall be called a faythfull and a true citie, the hyll of the Lord of hostes, yea & the holy hill. Thus saith the Lorde of Hostes: There shall yet olde men and wemen dwell againe in the stretes of Jerusalem: Yea, and suche as go with staues in their handes for very age. The streetes of the citye also shalbe full of yonge boyes and damselles, playing vpon the stretes. B Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes: if the residue of this people think it to mat. 19.d be vnpossible in these dayes: • shoulde it therfore be vnpossible in my sight, sayth the Lord of hostes? Thus sayth the Lord of hostes: Behold, I will deliuer my people from the lande of the east and west, and will bring them agayne: that they maye dwel at Jerusalem. Jere. 3.f • They shalbe my people, and Apo. 21.d I will be their God in trueth & righteousnes. Thus sayeth the Lorde of Hebr. 8.f hostes: let your handes be strong, ye that nowe heare these wordes by the mouth of the prophetes, whiche be in these dayes, that the foundacion is layed, vpon the Lorde of hostes house that the temple may be buylded. For Agge. 1.a whyle • • before these dayes, neyther men nor catteli could wyn any thing, neyther might anye man come in and out in rest, for trouble: but I let euery man go agaynst his neyghbour. Neuertheles I will nowe intreate the residue of this people nomore as afore Agge. 1.a tyme, sayth the Lorde of hostes, • but they shalbe a sede of peace. The vineyard shall geue her frute, the grounde shall geue her increase, & the heauens shall geue their dewe: and I shall cause the remnaunt of this people, to haue all these in possession. And it shall C come to passe, that lyke as ye were a curse among the Gethen (O ye house of Juda, and ye house of Israel:) Euen so will I deliuer you, that ye shal be a blessyng: feare not, but let youre handes be strong. For thus sayth the Lord of hostes: lyke as I deuysed to punyshe you, what tyme as your fathers prouoked me vnto wrath, saith the Lord of hosts, & spared not; Euē so am I determined nowe in these dayes, for to do well vnto ỹ house of Juda & Jerusalē, therfore feare ye not. Now the thinges that ye shall do, are these: Ephe. 5.c • Speake euery man the trueth vnto Malac. 2.a his neyghboure: execute iudgemente truely, and peaceablye within youre yoztes, none of you imagine euyll in his herte agaynst his neighboure, and loue no false othes: for al these are the thinges that I hate, sayth the Lorde. And the worde of the Lord of hostes, came vnto me, saying: thus sayth the Lord of hostes: The fast of the fourth moneth, the fast of the fyfte, the fast of the seuenth, and the faste of the tenth, shalbe ioy & gladnes, and prosperous hye feastes vnto the house of Juda: Onelye, loue the trueth and peace. Thus sayth the Lord of hostes. There D shall yet come people, and the inhabytoures of manye cityes, and they that dwel in one citye shall go to another, saying. • Up let vs go, and praye before the Lorde, let vs seke the Lord of Esay. 2.a hostes, I will go with you, yea, much Psa. 121.a people and mightye heathen shal com Jer. 31.b and seke the Lord of hostes at Jerusalem, and to praye before the Lorde. Thus sayth the Lorde of hoostes: In that time shal ten men (out of all maner of language of the Gentils) take one Jew by the hem of his garment, and say: we will go with you, for we haue herd, that God is among you.

¶ The. ix. Chapter.

THe worde of the Lorde shalbe I receaued at Adrach, & Damascus shalbe his offeryng: for the eyes of all men, and of the trybes of Israell shall loke vp vnto the Lorde. The borders of Hemath shalbe herde therby. Tyrus also and Sydon, for Jyel. 4.d they are verye wyse. • Tyrus shall make her selfe strong, heape vp syluer as the sande, and golde as the claye of the stretes. Beholde, the Lorde shall Ezec. 14.f take her in, and haue her in possessiō: • he shall smyte down her power into the sea, and shee shall be consumed with fire. Thus shall Ascalon se, and Jer. 47.a be afrayde, • Gaza shalbe very sorye, Amm. 1.b so shall Accaron also, because her hope is come to cõfusion. For the kynge of Gaza shall perysshe, and at Ascalon shall no man dwell. Straungers shal dwell at Asdod, and as for the pride of the Philistines, I shall roote it oute.

Act.15.d • Their blood wyll I take away frõ their mouth, and their abhominatiõs from amonge their teeth. Thus they shalbe left for our God, yea, they shall be as a prince in Juda, and Accaron like as a Jebusite. And so will I compasse my house rounde aboute wyth men of warre goynge to and fro: that no oppressoure come vpon them anye moze. for that haue I sene now with myne eyes. • Reioyce thou greatlye,

Esa.62.c mat.21.a Joh.12d O daughter Sion, be glad, O daughter Jerusalem. For lo thy kyng commeth vnto thee, euen the ryghteous, and Sauiour. Lowely and simple is he, he rydeth vpon an Asse, and vpon the foole of an Asse. I will rote oute

C the charettes from Ephraim, and the horse frõ Jerusalem, the battel bowes shalbe destroyed. He shal geue the doctryne of peace vnto the Heathen, and his dominion shalbe from the one sea to the other, and from the floudes to the ende of the worlde. Thou also thorowe the bloode of thy couenaunt

Esa.62.a Apoc.9.a • Ro.8.c shalte lette • thy prisoners out of the • pytte wherein is no water. Turne you nowe to the strong holde, ye that be in prison, and longe sore to be deliuered. And this day I bring the worde that I will reward the double again. For Juda haue I bent out as a bow for me, & Ephraim haue I filled. Thy sonnes: O Syon, will I rayse vp agaynst the Grekes, and make thee as a gyauntes swearde, the Lorde God shalbe sene aboue them, and his dartes shall go forth as the lyghtnyng. The

D Lord God shall blowe the trompet, and shall come forth as a stormе out of the south. The Lorde of hostes shall defend them, they shall consume and Zach.2.a Re.17.f deuour, and subdue them with • sling stones. They shal drinke and rage, as it were thorowe wyne. They shalbe fylled lyke the basens, and as the hornes of the aulter. The Lord their god shall delyuer them in the daye, as the flocke of hys people: For as precious stones of a diademe they shalbe set vp ouer his lande. O howe prosperous and goodly a thyng shal that be? The corne shall make the yong men cheresull, and the new wyne the maydens.

¶ The.x. Chapter.

PRaye the Lorde then betymes to geue the latter raine, • so shal the Lord make bryghte cloudes, A deu.38.b and geue you rayne ynough for all the increase of the fielde. For vaine is the answere of Idols. The southsayers saye lyes, and tell but vayne dreames, the comfort that they geue, is nothyng worth. Therfore, go they a stray lyke a flocke of shepe, and are troubled because they haue no • shepeherde. My Eze.13.a B wrothful displeasure is moued at the shepherdes, and I wyl visit the goates. For the Lord of hostes will graciously visite hys flocke, the house of Juda, and holde theym as a goodlye fayre horse in the battel. Out of • Juda shal come the helmet • the naile, the Gen.49b • Esa.22 batelbowe, and all the princes together. They shall be as the gyauntes, which in the battell tread downe the myre vppon the stretes. They shall fight, for the Lorde shalbe with them, so that the horsemen shalbe confounded. I will comforte the house of Juda, and preserue the house of Joseph. I will turne theym also, for I pytye

C. thẽ: and they shalbe like as they were when I had not cast them of. For I the Lord am their God, and will here them. Ephraim shall be as a gyaunt, and their hert shalbe cheresull as thorowe wyne: yea, their chyldren shall see it, and be glad, and their herte shall reioyce in the Lord. I will blowe for them, and gather them together, for I wil redeme them. They shal increase, as they increased afore. I will sowe them amõg the people, that they may thinke vppon me in farre countryes, they shal liue with their children, and turne agayne. I will bryng them agayne also from the lande of Egypte, and gather thẽ out of Assiria. I wyll cary them into the land of Gilead and to Libanus, and they shall wante nothynge. He shall goo vppon the sea of trouble, and smyte the sea waues, so that all the depe floudes shal be dryed vp. The proud boastyng of Assur shal Esa.13 a be cast down, and the scepture of Egipt shalbe taken awaye. Ezec.39 a I will conforte them in the Lord, that they maye walke in his name, sayth the Lord.

¶ The.xi. Chapter.

OPen thy dores, O Libanus, that the fyre may consume thy Cedre trees. Howle ye fyre trees for the Cedre is fallen: yea, all the proude are wasted awaye. Howle (O ye oke trees of Basan) for ẏ migh tye strong wodde is cut downe. Wen may here the shepherdes mourne, for their glorye is destroyed. Wen maye here the Lions whelpes roare, for the pryde of Jordan is wasted awaye. Thus sayth the Lord my God: Fede the shepe of the slaughter, which shal be slayne of those that possesse theym: yet they take it for no synne, but they that sell them, say: The Lord be thanked, I am rych: yea, their owne shepeherdes spare them not. Therfore wyl B I nomore spare those that dwell in the lande, (sayth the Lorde) but lo, I will deliuer the people, euery man into his neyghbours hand, and into the hand of his kyng: that they may smyte the lande, and out of their handes I will not deliuer them. I my selfe fede the slaughter shepe (a pore flocke verely) and toke vnto me two staues, the one is called louyng kyndnes, the other is called destroyer, and so kepte the sheepe. Three shepherdes I put oute of office in one moneth, for I might not awaye with them, neyther had they any delyte in me. Then sayd Ipo.22.c I: I wil fede you nomore • the thing that dieth, let it dye: and that that wil perysshe, let it perisshe, and let the remnaunt eate, euery one the flesshe of his neyghboure. I toke also my louynge mekestaffe, and brake it, that I might disanull the couenaūt, which I made with all people. And so it was broken C in that daye. Then the poore symple shepe, that hadde a respecte vnto me, knewe therby that it was the worde of the Lorde. And I sayd vnto them: yf ye thinke it good, bryng hyther my price: if no, thē leaue. • So they weyed Mat.27c downe.xxx. siluer pence, the value that I was prised at. And the Lorde sayd vnto me: cast it vnto thi potter (a good lye price for me to be valued at of thē) and I toke the.xxx. syluer pence, and cast them to the potter in the house of the Lorde. Then brake I my other D staffe also (namely destroyer) that I might lowse the brotherhead betwixt Juda and Israell. And the Lord said vnto me: Take thee also the staffe of a folysshe shepherde, for lo, I will rayse vp a shepherd in the land, which shall not seke after the things that be lost, nor care for such as go astray, he shall not heale the wounded, he shall not norysshe the thyng that is whole, but he shall eate the flesh of such as be fat, and teare their clawes in peces. O Idolles shepherde, that leaueth the flocke. The swearde shall come vpon his arme and vpon his right eye. His arme shalbe cleane dryed vp, and hys ryght eye shalbe fore blynded.

¶ The.xii. Chapter.

THe heauye burthen whyche the B Lorde hath deuised for Israell. Thus sayth the Lorde • whych Esa.10a spredde the heauens abrode, layde the Mat.17c foundacions of the erth • and geueth • Ge.2.b man the breath of life. Behold, I wil make Jerusalem a cup of surfet, vnto all the people that are rounde aboute her. • Yea, Juda him selfe also shalbe Zac.14.c in the seege agaynste Jerusalem. At the same tyme will I make Jerusalem an heauye stone for all people, so that all such as lyft it vp, shalbe torne and rente, and all the people of the earthe shall be gathered together agaynste it. • In that daye, sayeth the B Lord, I will make al horses abashed, Abdi.1.c and those that ryde vpon theym, to be Amo.1.a oute of their wyttes. I wyll open myne eyes vppon the house of Juda,

and

and smyte all the hoꝛses of the people with biyndnesse. And the pꝛynces of Juda shall saye in their hertes: The inhabyters of Ierusalem shall geue me consolation in the Loꝛde of hostes their God. In that time wyl I make ꝥ pꝛinces of Juda, like as an hot burning ouē with wod, & like a cressel of fire amōg ꝥ straw: so ꝥ they shal con sume al the people round about them, both bpō the ryght hand and the left.
Ierusalē also shalbe inhabited again:
namely, in the same place where Je-C rusalem standeth. The Loꝛd shal pꝛeserue the tentes of Juda, like as afoꝛe tyme, so that the glozy of the house of Dauid, and the glozy of the citisens of Ierusalem, shalbe but lytle regarded, in comparison of the glozye of Juda.
In that daye shall the Loꝛde defende the citesens of Ierusalem, so that the weakest then among them shall be as 1Re.17f * Dauyd: and the house of Dauyd shalbe like as Gods house, and as the Angel of the Loꝛd befoꝛe them. At the same tyme will I go about to destroy all suche people as come agaynst Jerusalem. Moꝛeouer, bpon the house of Dauyd, and bpon the citisens of Exo.36c Ierusalem * will I poure oute the Joel.2.f spꝛete of grace and compassion, so that Acts.2.b they shall loke bpon me, whom they Joh.19d haue pearsed, and they shall beswepe him as men mourne foꝛ their onelye begotten sonne: yea, and be sozye foꝛ hym, as men are sozye foꝛ their firste Luk.23c chylde. * Then shall there be a greate D mournyng at Ierusalem, * like as the 2.pa.35c lamentacion of Adzemnō in the field of Maggadon. And the land shall bewaple euery kynred by them selues.
The kynrede of the house of Dauyd 2Re.21a them selues alone, and their wiues by thē selues. The kinred of the house of * Nathanthem selues alone, and their wynes by them selues. The kynred of the house of Leui, themselues alone and their wiues by them selues. The kyndred of the house of Semei them selues alone, and their wiues by them selues: In lyke maner, all the other generations euerychone by them sel ues alone, & their wiues by thē selues.

¶ The.xiii. Chapter.

IN that tyme shall the house of Dauid and the citisens of Ierusalem haue an open * well, to washe of synne and vnclennesse. And then (sayth the Loꝛde of hoostes) * I wyll destroy the names of the Idoles out of the lande, so that they shall nomoꝛe be put in remembꝛaunce. * As foꝛ the false pꝛophetes also, and the vncleane spꝛetes, I shall take them oute of the land: So that if any of them pꝛophecy any moꝛe, * his owne father and mother that begatte him, shall saye vnto him: Thou shalt die, foꝛ thou speakest lyes vnder the name of the Loꝛde: yea, his owne father and mother that begate him shall wounde him, when he pꝛophecyeth. And then shal those pꝛophetes be confounded, euerye one of his vision when he pꝛophecieth: neyther shall they weare sackclothes any moꝛe, to deceyue men withall. But he shal be sayne to say. * I am no pꝛophet: I am an husbandman, foꝛ so am I taught by * Adam from my youthe bp. And if it be sayd vnto him: howe comme these woundes then in thyn handes? He shall answere: Thus am I wounded in the house of myn owne frendes. Aryse, O thou swerde, bpon my shepherde, and bpon the pꝛince of my people, sayth the Loꝛde of hostes.
* Smyte the shepherde, and the shepe shalbe scatred abꝛode, & so will I turn myne hande to the lytle ones. And it shall come to passe (sayeth the Loꝛde) that in all the land two partes shalbe roted oute, * but the thirde parte shall remayne therein. * And the same third parte will I bꝛing thoꝛowe the fire, and will clense them, as the syluer is clensed, yea, and tꝛye them lyke as golde is tryed. Then shall they call bpon my name, and I will heare thē: I will say: it is my people. And they shall saye: Loꝛd my God.

¶ The.xiiii. Chapter.

BEhold, the day of the Loꝛd cōmeth that thou shalte be spoy-led and robbed, foꝛ I will gather together all the Heathen to fight agaynst Ierusalē, so ꝥ the city shalbe swonne, ỹ houses spoiled, & the womē defyled. The halfe of the citye shal go awey into captiuitee, and the residue of the people shall not be caryed out of the citye. After that shall the Lord go forth to fight agaynst those Heathen, as men vse to fighte in the day of battell. Then shall his fete stande vppon the mount Oliuet, that lieth vpon the B east syde of Jerusalem. And the mount Oliuet shall cleue in two, eastwarde and westward, so that there shall be a great valley, and the halfe mount shal remoue towarde the north, and the other towarde the southe. And ye shall flee vnto the valley of my hylles, for the valley of the hylles shall reache Amos.1. vnto Asal. Yea, flee shall ye lyke as ye fled for the earthquake in the dayes of Osiah king of Juda. And the Lord my God shall come, and all sayncte with hym. In that day shall it not be Mat.24e lyght, other cleare or dymme. This shalbe ỹ special day, which is knowē vnto ỹ lord, nether day nor night, but zach.12.e about the euening time it shalbe light Apo.22a And in that tyme shall there waters of lyfe runne oute from Jerusalem: the halfe parte of them toward the Easte sea, and the other halfe towarde the Abdi.1.d vttermost sea, and shall continue both somer and wynter. And the Lorde hym selfe shall be kynge ouer all the C earth. At ỹ time shal there be one lord onely, and hys name shall be but one. Men shall go about the whole earth, as vpon a fielde from Gibea to Rennon, and frome the southe to Jerusalem. She shall be set vp, and inhabited in her place: from Ben Jamyns 2Esd.1a porte, vnto the place of the firste porte, Jer.31.f and vnto the corner porte: and frome the power of Hanancell, vnto the kynges wyne presses. There shall men dwell, and there shall be nomore cursynge, but Jerusalem shalbe safelye inhabited. This shal be the plage, wherwith the Lorde will smyte all people, that haue fought agaynst Jerusalem. Namely, their flesshe shalbe consumed awaye, though they stande vpon theyr fete, theyr eyes shalbe corrupte in theyr holes, and their tonge shall consume in their mouthe. In that daye shall the LORDE make a greate sedityon amonge theym, soo that one manne shall take another by zach.12a the hande, and laye hys handes vpon the handes of hys neyghboure. Juda shall fyghte also agaynste Jerusalem, and the goodes of all the Heathen shall be gathered together round aboute: golde and syluer, and a verye greate multitude of clothes. And soo shal thys plague go ouer horses, mules, camels, Asses, and all the beastes that shall bee in the hooste, lyke as yonder plague was. Euerye one that remaynethe thenne of all the people, whyche camme agaynste Jerusalem, shall goo vppe yeareiye, to worshippe Leu.23.f

the kynge (euen the LORDE of Num.29d Hooste) and to keepe the feaste of 3Esd.5f tabernacles. And looke what gene- 2Ma.1d ration vppon the earthe goeth not to Jerusalem, for to woorshyppe the kynge (euen the LORDE of Hooste,) vppon the same shall come no rayne. If the kyndrede of Egipte D goo not vppe, and come not, it shall not rayne vppon them neyther. This shall be the plague wherewith the LORDE wyll smyte all the Heathen, that come not vppe to keepe the feaste of tabernacles: yea, thys shall be the synne plague of Egypte, and the synne plague of all people, that goo not vppe to keepe the feaste of tabernacles. At that tyme shall the rydyng geare of the horses be holye vnto the LORDE, and the ketteles in the LORDES house, shall be lyke the basyns before the auitare: yea, all the ketteles in Jerusalem and Juda, shall be holye vnto the LORD of Hooste: and all they that sica offerynges, shal come and take of them, and dyghte them therein. And at that tyme there shall be no mo Cananites in the house of the Lorde of hoste.

The ende of the prophesye of Zachary.

The

The boke of the Prophet Malachy.

The fyrst Chapter.

THe heauy burtheyn which the Lord shewed against Israel by Malachy. I haue loued you, saieth the LORD: and yet ye say: Wherin haste thou loued vs? Was not Esau Jacobs brother, saith the Lord: yet haue I loued Jacob, and hated Esau, yea I haue made his hilles wast, and his heritage a wyldernesse for dragons. And though Edom sayde: Well, wee are destroyed, we wyll go buylde vp agayne the places that be wasted, yet (sayth the Lorde of Hostes) what they buylded, that brake I downe: so that it was called, a cursed land, and a people, whome the Lord hathe euer been angrye withall. Your eyes haue sene it, and ye your selues muste confesse, that the Lorde hath brought the land of Israell to gret honor. An honest son honoreth his father, & a seruant his maister: If I be now a father, where is myne honour? If I be the Lord, where am I feared? sayth the Lorde of Hostes. Nowe to you preistes, that despise my name. And yf ye saye: Wherein haue wee despised thy name? In this, that ye offer vncleane breade vppon myne aultar. And yf ye will say: Wherin haue we offered any vncleane thynge vnto thee? In thys that ye say: The aulter of the Lord is not to be regarded: If ye offre the blind is not that euyll? And yf ye offre the lame and sick, is not that euill? Yea offer it vnto thy prince, shall he be content with thee, or accepte thy persone, sayth the Lord of hostes? And nowe make your prayer before God, that he maye haue mercy vppon vs: for suche thinges haue ye done. Shall he regard your persons, thinke ye, sayth the lord of hostes? Yea, what is he among you that will do so muche as to shutte the doores, or to kyndle the fyre vppon myne aultar for naught? I haue no pleasure in you, sayth the LORD of hostes: And as for the meatoffe-rynge, I wyll not accepte it at youre hande. For from the rysyng vp of the Sunne, vnto the goyng down of the same, my name is greate amonge the Gentils: yea, in euery place shal there sacrifice be done, and a cleane meatofsryng offered vp vnto my name: For my name is great among the Hethen, sayeth the Lorde of Hoostes. But ye haue vnhalowed it, in that ye say, the aulter of the Lord is not to be regarded, and the thyng that is set therupon not worthy to be eaten. Now say yee: It is but labour and trauayle. And thus haue ye thoughte scorne at it (sayeth the Lorde of Hostes) offerynge robberye, yea, the lame and the sycke. Ye haue brought me in a meatofferyng, shoulde I accept it of youre hande, sayth the Lord? Cursed be the dissembler, which hath in hys flocke one that is a male, and when he maketh a bowe, offreth a spotted one vnto the Lorde. For I am a great kyng (sayeth the Lorde of Hostes) and my name is feareful among the Heathen.

Ge. 25. c
Rom. 9 d
Iosi. 13 a Abdi. 1. a
Exo. 20 a Leui. 32. a Leui. 22 c
Eze. 43 e
Gen. 4. a
D Esai. 1. b
Psl. 113 a

The. ii. Chapter.

AND nowe (O ye Preists) thys commaundemente toucheth you: If ye wil not here it, nor regard it, to geue the glory vnto my name, sayth the Lord of hostes, I wyll send a curse vpon you, & will curse your blessynges: yea, curse them wyll I, yf ye doo not take hede. Behold, I shall corrupte your seede, and caste dounge in youre faces, euen the donge of your solemne feastes, and it shall cleaue faste vppon you. And ye shall knowe, that I haue sente thys Commaundement vnto you, that my couenaunte whyche I made wyth Leui, myght stande, sayth the Lorde of Hoostes. My couenaunte of lyfe and peace wyth hym: This I gaue hym, that he myght stande in awe of me: and so he dydde feare me,

deu. 28. e Mal. 25.

and had my name in reuerence. The lawe of truth was in hys mouth, and there was no wyckednes founde in hys lyppes. He walked wyth mee in peace and equitie, and dyd turne ma-Osee.4 b ny one away from their sinnes. For in the prieستes lyppes shoulde be sure knowledge that menne maye seke the lawe at his mouth, for he is a messanger of the Lorde of hostes. But as for you, ye are gon cleane out of the way, and haue caused the multitude to bee deu. 33 b offended at the lawe: ye haue broken the couenant of Leui, sayth the Lord of hostes. Therfore wyl I also make you to be despysed, and to be of no reputation among al the people: because ye haue not kept my wayes, but haue bene parcial in the lawe. Haue wee Ephe.4 a not al one father? hath not one God
C made vs? why doth euery one of vs Zach.7 b then despyse hys owne brother, and so breake the couenant of our fathers. Nowe hath Juda offended, yea, the abhomination is done in Israel, and Esdr.9.a. in Jerusalem, for Juda hath defiled the Sanctuary of the Lord which he loued, and hath kepte the daughter of a straunge God. But the Lorde shall destroye the man that doth thys: (yea both the master and the scoler) out of the Tabernacle of Jacob, wyth hym that offereth meatofferinge vnto the Lord of hostes. Now haue ye brought it to thys poynt again, that the auiter of the Lorde is couered wyth tearcs, weping and mourning: so that I wil nomore regard the meatoffering, neyther wyll I receaue or accepte anye thyng at your handes. And yet ye say wherfore? Euen because that where as the Lord made a couenant betwixt Gen.2. d thee, and the wyfe of thy youth, thou hast despysed. Yet is she thine owne companion and maryed wyfe. So dyde not the one, & yet had he an excellent spirit. What dyd then the one? He sought the seede promised of GOD. Therefore loke well to youre spirite, D and let no manne despyse the wyfe of hys youth. If thou hatest her, putte her away sayeth the Lorde of Israell and geue her clothinge for the scorne sayth the Lord of hostes. Looke well then to youre spirite, and despise her not. Ye greue the Lorde wyth youre wordes, and yet ye say: wherewith al haue we greued hym? In this that ye say. All that dooe euil are good in the syght of God, and such as please him. Or els where is the God that punysheth.

The.iii. Chapter.

I
Behold. I wil send my messan mat.11 ger, which shal prepare the way Luk.7 before me: and the Lord whom Ge.4 ye would haue: shall sone come to hys Esa.40 temple, yea, euen the messanger of the couenaunte whom ye longe for. Behold, he commeth, sayth the Lorde of hostes. But who may abide the daye of hys commyng? who shalbe able to endure, when he appereth? For he is B lyke a golde smythes fyre, and lyke washers sope. He shal set him downe to crye and to clense the siluer, he shal pourge the children of Leui, and purifie theym lyke as golde and siluer, that they maye bring meatofferinges vnto the Lord in all ryghtcousnesse. Then shall the offering of Juda and Jerusalem bee acceptable vnto the Lorde lyke as from the beginninge and in the yeares afore time. I wyll comme, and punyshe you, and I my selfe wyll be a swyfte wytnesse a-gaynst the wytches agaynste the aduoutrers, agaynst false swearers: yea C and agaynste those that wrongfully keepe backe the hyrelynges dewtye: whych were the wyddowes and the fatherlesse, and oppresse the straunger and feare not me sayeth the Lorde of Hoostes. For I am the Lorde that change not: and ye (O ye chyldren of Jacob) wil not leaue of, ye are gone away fro myne ordinances, and sence deu.31 the tyme of youre fore fathers haue I Jac.4 not kepte them. Tourne you nowe C vnto me, and I wil tourne mee vnto you, sayth the Lord of hostes: ye saye: wherein shall we tourne? Shoulde a manne vse falshed and dysceyte wyth God, as yee vse falshed and dysceyte wyth me, yet ye say, wherein vse wee dysceat,

Leui.27d dysceate wyth thee: * In tythes and Ag.1.a heaueofferinges. * Therfore are ye cur sed wyth penurye, because ye dyssem-Mat.3.b ble wyth mee, all the sorte of you.
* Bryng euerye tythe into my barne, that there may be meate in my house, and proue me wythal (sayth the Lord of hostes) if I wyl not open the win dowes of heauen vnto you, and poure you out a blessing wyth plenteousnes Yea, I shal reproue the consumer for your sakes, so that he shal not eate vp the fruit of your ground, neither shal the vyneyarde be barreyn in the felde, sayth the Lorde of hostes: In so much that al people shal say, that ye be blessed: for ye shalbe a pleasaut land, sayth the Lorde of hoostes. Ye speake harde wordes agaynste me, sayeth the Lord And yet ye say: What haue we spoken D agaynst the? Ye haue said, It is but a Iob.21.a lost labour to serue God. * What pro-Psa.73.b fit haue we for keeping hys commaundementes, and for walkinge humbiye Iob.21.a before the Lord of hostes? * Therfore maye we say: that the proude are hap-pye, and that they which deale wyth vngodlynes, are set vp: for they tempt God, and yet escape. But they that feare God, saye thus one to another:
The Lorde considereth and heareth it. Yea, it is before hym a memoriall booke wrytten for suche as feare the Lorde, and remembre hys name. And in the daye that I wyll make (sayeth the Lorde of hostes) they shalbe myne owne possession: and I will fauoure them, lyke as a manne fauoureth hys owne sonne, that doeth hym seruice.
Tourne you therefore, and consider what difference is betwixte the righteous and vngodly, betwixt him that serueth God, and him that serueth hym not.

The fourth Chapter.

FOr marke, the daye commeth that shall bourne as an ouen: I and all the proude, yea, and all Psa.18 b such as do wickednes, shalbe strawe, and the daye that is for to come, shall burne theym vp (sayeth the Lorde of hostes) so that it shal leaue them neither roote nor branche. But vnto you that feare my name, shal that sonne of ryghteousnes aryse, and health shalbe vnder hys wynges: ye shal go forth, and multiplye as the fatte calues, yee shal treade downe the vngodlye: * for Psal.1.b they shalbe lyke the ashes vnder the soles of youre feete, in the day that I shal make, sayeth the Lorde of hostes.
Remembre the lawe of Moyses my seruaunt, * which I committed vnto Deu.4.a. him in Oreb for all Israel, wyth the statutes and ordinances. Beholde, I wyl send you * Elias the prophet: be- mat.11.b fore the commynge of the daye of the * Luk.1.a greate and fearefull Lorde. * Hee shal tourne the heartes of the fathers to their children, and the heartes of their children to theyr fathers, that I come not and smyte the earth wyth cursinge.

The end of the prophecie of Malachy: and consequently of al the prophetes.

¶ The volume of the Bokes called Hagiographa.

The third Booke of Esdras.
The fourth boke of Esdras.
The Booke of Tobiah.
The Boke of Judith.
The reste of the boke of Esther.
The Boke of wysedom.
Ecclesiasticus.
Baruch, the Prophete.
The songe of the three Chyldren in the Oven.
The storye of Sulanna.
The storye of Bell, and of the Dragon.
The prayer of Manalleh.
The first boke of the Machabees.
The second boke of the Machabees.

¶ To the Reader.

IN consideration ỳ the bokes before ar found in ỳ Hebrue tong, receiued of all mē: and ỳ the other folowing, which ar called Hagiographa (because they wer wont to be red, not opēly, & in cōmon, but as it wer in secrete, & apart) are neither found in the Hebrue nor in ỳ Calder: in whiche tunges they haue not of long time ben writtē (oncelesse then it were haply the boke of Sapience) wherupon it were now very hard to repaire & amend thē: And that also they are not receiued nor takē as legitimate & lefull, aswel of the Hebrues of ỳ whole church, as S. Jerom sheweth: we haue separate them, & set thē a side, ỳ they may the better be knowē: to thintent ỳ men may know of whiche bokes witnes ought to be receiued, & of whiche not. For the said S. Hierom speaking of the boke of Judith (which is Hagiographa) saith, that the auctoritie therof is not esteemed worthy & sufficient to confirme & stablishe the things that light in disputation. And generally of al the bokes called Hagiographa: he saith, that men may rede them to the edifying of the people: but not to confirme & strengthen the doctrine of ỳ church. I leaue out here ỳ law as they cal it of Canō. c. Sācta Romana. xb. dist. wher he sheweth his iudgement. Likewise the Glose of. c Canones. xbi. distinct. which saith, ỳ men rede them, but not in generall: as though he should say, that generally & thoroughly they are not allowed. And not without a cause. For that they haue bene corrupted & falsified in many places, it appereth sufficiently by Eusebius in his boke called Historia Ecclesiastica, which thing is easy to be knowē euē now a days in certain pointes, namely in the bookes of the Machabees, whose second boke S. Jerom confesseth, that he found not in the Hebrue, by the meanes wherof, it is become vnto vs ỳ more suspect, & the lesse receiued. In like maner is it of the third & fourth boke of Esdras, which S. Hierom protesteth that he wold not haue translated, esteming them for dreames: where as Josephus yet in his boke of his antiquities declareth ỳ summe of the matter after the maner of a story, aswel of the boke of Machabees, as of the. iii. of Esdras: although he esteme the bokes compiled from ỳ reigne of kyng Artaxerxes vnto his time, to be Hagiographa wherfore then, whē thou wilt mainteyn any thing for certein, rendring a reason of thy faith, take hede to procede therin by ỳ liuing & pithy Scriptures, folowing S. Peter, which saith: He ỳ speaketh, let hym speake as though he spake the word of God. He saith, the word of God, as a thing most true and certein, opened by the Prophets & Apostles, inspired with the holy ghost: of whom we haue witnesse more clere then the day. Lawyers hauing great desire to confirme and stablish their opinions by the law of man, say: that they shame to speake without law. How much more feare & dreade then ought he to haue, that saith, he is a Christian, the whiche holdeth not him self, or resteth not in the lawes of the liuing God, but in mēs inuentions: Judging of all things according to them, and leaning to an vncertain imagination & fantasy? Let vs therfore, that are buylded on the foundation of the holy Prophetes, and Apostles, and on the head corner stone (on which they them selues were founded, & whych they preached, that is, Jesus Christ, the sure stone) leaue the thinges that are vncerten to folowe the certain: holding vs, and resting vs in them, and fastening our anker there, as in a sure place. For our Christen faith consisteth not in doubtfull thynges, but in playn and most certayn assurance, and in moste true persuasion, taken and confyrmed by infallible veritie. In which GOD graunt vs to walke perpetually, to thintent that according to it, fulfyllyng his holy wyl in vs, and setting aside all inuentions contrary vnto hym) wee maye lyue to hys honour, and to the edifyeng of hys Churche. So bee it.

In ỳ prologue to ỳ prouerbs

In ỳ prologue before Judith.

In ỳ prologue to ỳ prouerbs

In ỳ iiii. boke the 22. chap.

In ỳ prologue of Esdras.

In ỳ prologue vpō the bokes of ỳ kinges.

In ỳ. II 12. & 13. of the antiquities

In the 4. booke against Appion.

1. pet. 4. c

1. pet. 1 b

1. pet. 1 d

Erubescimus sine lege loqui.

1. To. 3 c

Eph. 2. d

¶ The thyrde booke of Eſdras.

¶ The fyrſt Chapter.

AND * Joſias helde the feaſte of Eaſter in Jeruſalē vnto the Lorde, and ſlewe the Paſſeouer the fourtenth day of the firſt moneth. He ſette the Prieſtes alſo in order (accordinge to their dayelye courſes) beynge arayed in longe garmentes in the temple of the Lorde. And he ſpake vnto the Leuytes the holye miniſters of Iſraell, that they ſhoulde halow them ſelues vnto the Lord, to ſet the holy Arke of the Lorde, in the houſe that kinge Salomō the ſonne of Dauid had builded, and ſayd: Ye ſhal nomore bear the ark vppon youre ſhoulders. Nowe ſerue your Lord, and take the charge of hys people of Iſrael, after your vyllages and your trybes: accordynge as kyng Dauid the king of Iſrael hath ordeined, and accordyng as Salomon hys ſonne hath honorablye prepared: yea, loke that ye al do ſeruyce in the temple, accordinge to the ordrynge and diſtribution of the principal mē whiche are appoynted out of the trybes, to do ſeruyce for the childzen of Iſrael. Kil the Paſſeouer, and prepare offrynges for your brethren, and do accordinge to the commaundemente of the Lorde which was geuen vnto Moſes. And vnto the people that was founde, Joſias gaue thirtie thouſande of ſheepe, lambes, kyddes and goates, and three thouſande oxen. Theſe the kinge (of hys kingly lyberalitie) gaue vnto the people, accordyng as he had promiſed: and to the prieſtes for the Paſſeouer, he gaue two. M. ſheepe, and an hundred oxen. Moreouer Iechonias and Semeiah, and Nathaniel hys brethren, and Hazabias, Jehiel, and Joſabab gaue them to the Paſſeouer. v. thouſand ſheepe and fyue hundred bullockes. And whan theſe thynges were brought to paſſe, the prieſtes and the Leuytes ſtoode goodly in their order, and had the vnleuened bread throughout the trybes. And after the ordrynge of the principal men in the tribes, thei offred vnto the Lorde in the ſyghte of the people, accordyng * as it is wrytten in the booke of Moyſes, and ſo they rolled the Eaſter lambe, as accordyng was. As for the thankoffringes and the other, they dyght them in ketels and pottes, and ſette them before the people wyth good wil, and afterward before them ſelues, and the prieſtes. For the prieſtes offered the fat, vntil the tyme was expyred, but the Leuytes prepared for them ſelues and for their brethren the childzen of Aaron. The holy ſingers alſo the childrē of Aſaph ſtoode in their order, accordinge as Dauid deuyſed. So dyd Aſaph, Zacharye and Iduthum, which were appoynted by the king. Moreouer the porters and dore kepers ſtode by the doores, and that diligentlye, ſo that none went out of hys ſtandinge and ſeruyce: for their brethren, the Leuits, prepared for them. Thus wer al thynges perfourmed, that belonged to the offring of the Lord. In that day they helde the Paſſeouer, and offered thankeoffringe beſyde the ſacrifice of the Lord, accordyng to the commaundement of kinge Joſias. So the childzen of Iſrael which were then preſente, helde an honorable Paſſeouer, and the feaſt of ſwete bread. vii. daies long. Yea ſuche a Paſſeouer was not kepte in Iſrael, from the tyme of the prophete Samuel. And al the kynges of Iſrael held not ſuch an Eaſter, as this which king Joſias held, and the Prieſtes, the Leuytes, the Iewes, and al Iſraell, of all theym that were at Jeruſalem. And in the Eyghtenthe yeare of the reygne of Joſyas, was thys Paſſeouer kept. And wyth a perfecte hearte dydde kynge Joſyas order all hys workes, before the LORDE, and the thynges that were wrytten of hym in tymes paſte, concernynge thoſe that ſyn-2Pa.25. 4Re.23.

Exo.12

Exo.12 d

B

C

synned,and wer vngodly agaynst the Lord before all ỹ people,& that sought 4.re.23.f not the word of the Lord vpon Isra= 2.pa.35d ell. * After al these actes of king Jo= sias, Pharao, the kynge of Egypte went vp, and came towarde Carmis by Euphrates, and Josias wente to mete hym. Then sent the king of E= gypt vnto Josias, sayeng: What haue D I to do with thee, O kyng of Juda?
I am not sent of the Lord to fyght a= gainst thee, for my warre is vpon Eu phrates, go thou thy way home again in all the haste. And Josias woulde not turne agayne vpon his charet, but vndertoke to fyght agaynst hym, and hearkned not vnto the woorde of the Prophete, which he told hym out of the mouth of God, but pitched a bat= taile against hym in the field of Ma= geddo. And the Prynces prealled to kyng Josias. Then said the kyng vn to hys seruantes: Cary me away out of the battaile, for I am sore wounded.
And immediatly his seruantes tooke hym away out of the front of the bat= taile. Then sat he vp vpon the second charet, came to Jerusalem, dyed, and was buried in his fathers sepulchre.
And in al Jury they mourned for Jo sias, yea, the rulers also with theyr wyues made lamentation for hym vn to this day. And this was doone euer styl in Israel. These things ar writ= ten in the Booke of the stories of the Kynge of Juda: namely, all the Actes and workes of king Josias, his kingly power and maiesty, his vnderstāding in the law of God, & what he dyd: yea things, whiche are not written in the boke of the kynge of Israel and Ju= 3.re.23.f da. * And the people toke Jechonias 2.pa.26a the soonne of Josias, and made hym E kynge in steede of Josias his father, whan he was.xxiii.yere olde. And he raigned ouer Israell three monethes.
And the king of Egipt put him doun that he should not reigne in Jerusa= lem, and raised vp a taxe of the people:
namely, an C. talentes of syluer & one talent of gold. The kyng of Egypte also made Joachim hys brother kyng of Juda and Jerusalē. As for them of the kynges councell, with the kyng hymselfe, and Zaraceles his brother, he toke them, and caried theim awaye prisoners into Egypt. Fiue & twen= tie yeare old was Joachim, when he was made kyng in the lande of Juda and Jerusalem, and he dyd euil before the Lord. After this, * Nabuchodo= 4.re.24 nosor, the kyng of Babylon, came vp, and bound him wyth bandes of yron, and caried him vnto Babylon. Nabu chodonosor also tooke all the vesselles that were halowed in the Temple of the Lord: and all the Jewels, & caried them vnto Babilō, and brought them Jer.3 into his own temple at Babylon. Of his vnclennes and vngodlynes, it is F written in the boke of the acts of the kynges. And Joachim his son reigned in his stede. He was made kyng, be= yng.xviii.yere olde, and reigned but iii. moneths and.x.days in Jerusalē, and did euil before the Lord. So after a yeare, Nabuchodonosor sent & caus= ed hym to be brought vnto Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lord, and Jer.2 made Zedechias his brother kyng of Juda and Jerusalem, when he was
xxi. yeare old: and he reigned.xi. yere.
And he dyd euyl also in ỹ sight of the Lord, & cared not for the woordes that Jer.26 were spoken vnto hym * by the pro= phet Jeremy at ỹ mouth of the lord. 1.pa.3 And where he had made an othe vnto kynge Nabuchodonosor, he forswore hym self, and fell from him, hauyng a styffe necke & a hert, and transgressed all the statutes and ordinances of the Lord GOD of Israel. The rulers also, and the headdes of the people of the LORDE dyd muche euyll, and became vngodlye, more then the Heathen, beyng defyled in all maner of abhominations: Yea, and defiled the holy temple of the Lorde at Je= rusalem. And the god of their fathers sente hys messangers vnto theym, to turne them backe, and to calle theym agayn from theyr synnes: for he would G fayn haue spared them for his holy ta bernacles sake. Neuerthelelle, they had his messangers in derision: & toke what God spake vnto them by hys
pro=

prophetes, they made but a ſporte of it. Thys dwewe on ſo longe tyll the Lorde was wroth wyth hys people for their vngodlynes, and til hee cauſed the kinges of the Caldees to com vp, which ſlewe their yonge mē with the ſweard, yea, euen in the compaſſe of their holy temple, and ſpared no bo dye, neyther younge nor olde, neyther mayden nor yonge man: but they wer al deliuered into the power of the kin ges of the Chaldees, and al the holye veſſels of the Lorde, and the kynges treaſures toke they, and caryed theym Jer.39.b vnto Babilon. * As for the houſe of the Lord, they went vp into it, & brent it, and brake downe the walles of Je ruſalem, ſet fyre vpon her towres, de ſtroied al her noble buildinges, and brought them to nought: and the peo ple that wer not ſlayne with ỳ ſword they caried vnto Babilon. Thus be came they priſoners and bondemen of the king of Babilon, til they wer de liuered, and reigned for theym ſelues, Jer.25.e * when the wordes of the Lorde were fulfylled, which he promiſed them by the mouth of the prophet Jeremye, & tyl the land had her reſt: namely, al the time that it laye waſte, had it reſt and quietnes. lxx. vii. yeares.

A 1.pa.36b

¶ The ii. Chapter.

NOw whan king Cyrus reigned ouer the Perſians, and when the Lorde wonlde per fourme the word that he had promyſed by the mouth of the prophete Je remy, the Lord raiſed vp the ſpyrite of Cyrus, the king of the Perſians, ſo ỳ he cauſed hys wryting to be proclai med throughoute hys whole realme, ſaying: Thus ſaith the king of Per ſians: The Lorde of Iſraell, that hye Lord hath made me kyng of the land, and commaunded me to build him an houſe at Jeruſalem in Jewrye. If there be any nowe of your people, the Lorde be wyth him, and go vp wyth him to Jeruſalem. And al they that dwel round about that place ſhal help thē, whether it be wyth gold, with ſil uer, with giftes, wyth horſes and ne ceſſarye catteil, and al other thinges that are brought with a freewyll to the houſe of the Lord beat Jeruſalem. Then the principal men out of ỳ tri bes & villages of Juda and Beniamin ſtode vp: ſo dyd the prieſts alſo & the Leuites (whome ỳ Lord had mo ued) to go vp, & to buyld the houſe of the Lorde at Jeruſalem. And they that were about them, helped theym with all maner of gold and ſyluer, & cattell alſo, and with manye ryberall giftes: and this dyd many one, whoſe B mynd was ſtirred vp therto. * Kyng 1.Eſ.1.c Cyrus alſo brought forth the veſſels and ornaments, that wer halowed vn to the Lord (which Nabuchodonoſor the king had caried away from Jeru ſalem, and conſecrated them to his y doll and ymage) and deliuered thē to Mithridatus his treaſurer, & by him they were deliuered to Salmanaſar, the debitie in Jewrye. And this was the numbre of them: Two thouſande and. iiii. C. ſyluer bolles. xxx. ſyluer baſyns. xxx baſons of golde. ii. M. & iii. C. veſſels of ſyluer, and a. M. be ſide. All the veſſels of gold and ſyluer were. v. M. viii. C. and. ix. Theſe wer numbred vnto Salmanaſar, and to them that were come agayne with him to Jeruſalem out of the captiui tie of Babylon. * Now in ỳ tyme of kyng Artaxerſes the kyng of Perſia 1.Eſ.4.b theſe men: Belemus and Mithridatus, Sabbellius, Rathimus, Balthe mus, Semelius the Scribe, & other that dwelt in Samaria, and in other places vnder the dompnion thereof, wrote a letter vnto kyng Artaxerxes, wherein they complained vnto the kyng of them in Jewry and Jeruſa lem. The letter was made after this maner: Syr, thy ſeruants Rathimus the ſtorye wryter, Sabbellius, the ſcribe, and other iudges of the court in Celoſiria and Phenices. Bee it knowen and manyfeſt to oure Lorde the Kynge, that the Jewes which are comme vp frome you vnto vs in to the rebellious and wicked Citie, begynne to buylde it agayne, and the walles about it, and to ſette vppe the Temple a newe. Nowe yt thys Ci tie and the walles thereof be sette vp agayne, they shall not only refuse to geue tributes and taxes, but also rebell vtterly agaynst the king. And for soo muche as they take this in hande now about the temple, we thought it reason, to thinke no scorne of it, but to shewe it vnto our Lord the kyng, and to certifie him therof: to thintent that if it please the kynge, he maye cause it to be sought in the bokes of olde: and thou shalt fynd such warnyng wrytten, and shalte vnderstande, that thys Citye hathe alwaye bene rebellyous and dysobedient, that it hath subdued kyngs and cities: and that the Iewes which dwell therin, haue euer bene a rebellious, obstinate, vnfaythful, and fightyng people, for the whiche cause thys citye is wasted. Wherfore nowe we certifye our Lord the kyng, that if this citye be buylded and occupyed agayne, and the walles therof set vp a newe, thou canst haue no passage into D Celosiria and Phenices. Then wrote the kyng to Rathimus the storye writen, to Balthemus, to Sabellius the Scrybe, and to the other officers and dwellers in Syria and Phenices, after this maner: I haue red the Epistle which thou sentest vnto me, and haue commaunded to make diligente search, and haue found, that the cytye hath euer resisted kings, that the same people are disobedient, and haue caused muche warre, and that mightye kinges haue reygned in Ierusalem, which also haue rayled dyuerse taxes in Syria and Phenices. Wherefore, I haue commaunded those people, that they shall not buylde the Cytie, that they make nomore in it, and that they proceade no further with the buyldyng: for so much as it myghte be the cause of warre, and dyspleasure vnto kynges. Now when Rathimus and Sabellius the Scrybe, and the rulers in the land had red the wrytynge of kyng Artaxerses, they gat them together, and came in all the hast to Ierusalem with an hoolste of horsemen, and with muchpeople of fote, and forbad them to build. And so they lefte of from building of the temple, vnto the second yere of kyng Darius.

¶ The .iii. Chapter.

KYnge Darius made a greate A feast vnto his seruantes, vnto all his court, and to all the officers of Media and Persia, yea, to all the debities and rulers that were vnder him, from India vnto Ethiopia, an hundreth and. xxvii. countreys. So when they had eaten and dronken, beyng satisfied, and wer gone home agayne, Darius the kyng wente into his chamber, layed him downe to slepe, and so awaked. Then the three yonge menne, that kepte the kynges person, and watched hys bodye, commoned amonge them selues, and spake one to another: let euery one of vs say some thyng, and loke whose B sentence is wiser and more excellente then the other, vnto hym shall kynge Darius geue great gyftes, and clothe him with purple. He shall geue hym vessels of golde to drink in, clothes of golde and couerynges: he shall make hym a costlye charette and a brydle of golde, he shall geue hym a bonette of whyte silcke, and a cheyne of golde aboute hys necke: yea, he shalbe the second and principall nexte vnto kynge Darius, and that because of his wysdome, and shall bee called the kynges kinseman. So, euery one wrote his meaning, sealed it, and laied it vnder the kynges pelowe, and sayd: whē the kynge aryseth, we will geue hym our writings, and loke whose worde the kyng and hys chefe Lordes iudge to be the most wisely spoken, the same shall haue the victorye. One wrote: C Wine is a stronge thing. The seconde wrote: The kynge is stronger. The thirde wrote: Wemen haue yet more strength, but aboue all thynges, the trueth beareth awaye the victorye. Now when the kyng was rysen vp, they toke their wrytynges and deliuered them vnto him, and so he redde theym. Then sente he forth to call all hys chefe Lordes, all the debityes and rulers of the countrees of Media and Persia. And when they were set

downe.

downe in the counceil, the writinges were red red before them. And he commaunded to cal for the yong men, that they might declare their meanynges themselues by mouth. So when they were sente for, and came in, the kyng sayde vnto them: shewe vs and make vs to vnderstande what the thynges D are that ye haue written. Then began the firste (whiche had spoken of the strengthe of wyne) and sayde: O ye Psa.100 men, wine is maruelous strong, and ouercommeth them that drinke it: it disceaueth the mynde, and bryngeth both the poore man, and the kynge to dotage and vanitie. Thus doeth it also with the bondeman and with the free, with the poore and ryche: it taketh away their vnderstandynge, and maketh them careiesse and merye, so that none of them remembreth any heauynes, or det or dewty. It causeth a man to thinke also that the thing which he doth, is honest and good: and remembreth not that he is a king, nor that he is in auctoritie, and that hee ought not to dooe suche thynges. Moreouer, when men are drynkynge, they forget all frendshyp, al brotherly faythfulnes and loue: but as soone as they are dronken, they draw out the sword and will fyghte: and when they are layed downe from the wyne, and so risen vp agayne, they can not tell what they did: iudge ye nowe, is not wyne the strongest? For who wold els take in hand to do such things? And when he had spoken this, he held his tonge.

¶ The.iiii. Chapter.

A Then the secõd (which had sayd) that the kyng was stronger began to speake saying: O ye men are not they the strongest and mooste excellent, that conquere the lande and the sea, and al that is in the sea, and in the earth? Nowe is the kynge lorde of all these thynges, and hath dominyon of theym all, and looke what he commaundeth, it is done. If he sende hys men forth a warfare, they go and breake downe hyls, walles & towres. They are slaine, and slay (other men) them selues, and ouerpasse not the kinges woord. If they get the victorye, they brynge the kynge all the spoyle. Lykewyse, the other, that meddle not with warres and fyghting, but tylle the grounde: when they reape, they bryng tribute vnto the kyng. And if the kyng alone do but commaunde to kyll: they kill: if he commande to forgeue, they forgeue: if he cõmaunde to smyte, they smyte: if he bydde driue away, they driue away: if he cõmaunde to build, they build: if he commaunde to breake downe, they breake downe: if he commande to plant, they plante. The common people and the rulers C are obedient vnto him. And the kynge in the mean season sitteth hym down, eateth and drinketh, & taketh his rest: then kepe they watche round aboute the king, and not one of them dare get out of the way to do hys owne busynes, but muste be obediente vnto the kyng at a woorde. Iudge ye now, O ye men, how should not he go farre aboue, vnto whom men are thus obedient? And when he had spoken thus he held his tongue. The third whose name was Zorobabell, whiche hadde spoken of women, and of truthe, beganne to saye after this maner: O ye men, it is not the great kyng, it is not the multitude of menne, neither is it wyne that excellethe. Who is it then, that hath the lordshyp ouer the? Haue not women borne the king, and al the people that rule those thynges? Haue not women borne them, and brought them vp, that plant the vynes, wherout the wyne commeth? They make garmentes for all men, they gene honour vnto all men, and without women can not men lyue. If they gather gold and syluer, and all precious thinges, and see a fayre wel fauoured woman, they leaue al together, and turne their eyes only vnto the woman, and gape vpon her, and haue more desyre vnto her, thenne vnto the syluer and gold, or any maner of precious thing. Gen. 2.d A manne leaueth hys father that Mat. 19. brought hym vp, leaueth hys owne 1.Cor.6.b
naturall countrey, and cleaueth vnto Eph.5.g

the woman, yea he ieopardeth his life with the woman, and remembreth neyther father nor mother, nor countrey. By thys then ye muſt nedes knowe, that wemen haue the dominion ouer you. Doeth it not greue you? A man taketh his ſweard, and goth his way to ſteale, to kyll, to murther, to ſayle vpon the ſea, and ſeeth a lion, & goeth in the darkenes: and when he hath ſtollen, diſceaued and robbed, he bringeth it vnto his loue. Agayne, a man loueth hys wyfe better then father or mother: yea, manye one there be that renne out of their wittes, and become bondmen for their wyues ſakes: manye one alſo haue peryſhed, haue bene ſlaine, and haue ſinned becauſe of wemen. And nowe beleue me, I knowe a kyng which is greate in his power, and all landes ſtande in awe of hym, and no man dare laye hand vpon him: yet did I ſee, that Apame (the daughter of the great kynge Barracus) the kynges concubine, ſat beſide the kyng vpon the ryght hand, and toke of hys crowne from his heade, and ſet it vpon her owne heade, and ſmote the D kyng with her lefte hand. Moreouer, the kynge loked vpon her with open mouth: if ſhe laughed vpon hym, hee laughed alſo: but if ſhe toke anye diſpleaſure with hym, the kynge was fayne to flatter her, and to geue her good woordes, tyll he had gotten her fauour againe. O ye men, are not wemen then ſtrōger? Great is the earth and hye is the heauen. Who doth theſe thinges? Then the kyng and the princes loked one vpon another. So he beganne to ſpeake of the trueth. O ye men, are not wemen ſtronger? Great is the earth, hye is the heauen, ſwifte Eccl. 1.a is the courſe of the ſunne: he compaſſeth the heauen round about, and fetcheth his courſe agayne to his owne place in one daye. Is hee not excellent that doeth this? Yea, great is the trueth, and ſtronger then all thinges. All the earth calleth vpon the trueth, the heauen prayſeth it, all woorkes ſhake and tremble at it, and with it is no vnryghteous thyng. Wyne is vnryghteous, the kyng is vnrighteous, wemen are vnrighteous, all the children of men are vnryghteous, yea, all their woorkes are vnryghteous, and there is no truth in them, in their vnryghteouſneſſe alſo ſhall they be deſtroyed and peryſhe. As for the truth, E * it endureth, and is alway ſtrong: it Esd.10a lyueth and conquereth for euermore, pſa.117a woorld without ende. The trueth accepteth no perſons, it putteth no difference betwyxte the ryche or poore, betwyxte the myghtye or ſymple, but doth right vnto euery man, whether they be euyll or good, and al men are loupnglye dealte withall in the woorkes of it. In the iudgement of it there is no vnryghteous thynge, but ſtrength, kyngdome, and power and maieſtie for euermore. Bleſſed be the God of trueth. And with that he held his tonge, and all the people cried, and ſayd: Greate is the trueth, and aboue all. Then ſayde the kynge vnto hym: Aſke what thou wylte, more then is appoynted in the wryting, and I ſhal geue it the: for thou art founde wyſer then thy companyons, thou ſhalte ſyt next me, and be my kynſemen. Then ſaid he vnto the king: Remember thy promiſe and bowe, which thou haſte bowed & promiſed (in the daye when thou cameſt to the kingdome) to build vp Jeruſalem, and to ſend agayne all the veſſels and Jewels, that wer taken away out of Jeruſalem: whiche Cyrus ſeparated, when he offered in Babylon, and would ſende theym agayne. And thy mynd was to buyld F vp the temple, whiche the Edomites brent, when Jeruſalem was deſtroyed by the Caldees. This onely (O kyng) is ỹ thyng that I require, this is the maieſtye: whiche I deſire and aſke of thee, that thou perfourme the bowe, which thou with thyne owne mouthe haſte made vnto the kynge of heauen. Then Darius the king ſtode vp, and kyſſed him, * and wrote a let- 2 Esd.2b ter vnto al the debities and ſhreues, to 3 Esd.6b all the Lordes and nobles, that they ſhould conuey him forth, and all them that wold go vp with him. He wrote a letter vnto all the Shreues that Eccl. 1.

ſhere-

were in Celosyria and Phenices, and vnto Libanus, that they should draw Cedre trees from Libanus vnto Jerusalem, to buylde the citye withall. Moreouer, he wrot vnto al ꝑ Jewes that were gone out of his realme into Jewry because of the fredome, that no officer, no ruler, nor Shreue shold come to their dores, and that all theyr land which they had conquered, shold be free and not tributary. And that the Edomites sholde geue ouer the cities and vyllages of the Jewes, whiche they had taken in: yea, and that they sholde yerely geue .xx. talentes to the buyldynge of the temple, vntyll the time that it were finished, and to the dayly halowing of the brentoffringes (as it is commaunded) ten talentes yerely also: And that all they whyche come from Babilon to buylde the cytye, shoulde haue free lybertye, they and their children, and al the prestes. He wrote the greatnes also, and commaunded that the holy garment shold be geuē to thē, wherin thei ministred: and wrote that commaundementes shold be geuen to the Leuites, vntyll the day, that the house were finished, and Jerusalem buylded vp: and commaunded that all they that watched the citie shold haue their porcions and G wages. He gaue ouer also all the vessels that Cyrus had separated frome Babilon: and all that Cyrus had geuen in commaundemente, the same charged he also, that it shold be done, and sent vnto Jerusalem. Now whē this ponge man was gone forthe, hee turned his face towarde Jerusalem, and prayed the kynge of heauen, and sayd: Of thee commeth the victorye, Eccl.1.a. of thee commeth wisdome and clearenesse, and I am thy seruaunt. Blessed arte thou, which hast geuen me wysdome: thee will I prayse, O Lorde, thou God of oure fathers. And so he tooke the letters, and wente vnto Babylon. And when hee came there, he tolde this vnto all hys brethren that were at Babylon, and they prayed the GOD of their fathers, that he had geuen theym refreshynge and lybertye to go vp, and to buylde Jerusalem and the temple (wherein the name of the Lorde is called vpon) and they reioyced with instrumentes and gladnes seuen dayes longe.

¶ The.v. Chapter.

AFter this were the prynepall A men of all the villages chosen in the trybes and kynredes, that they should go with their wiues and children, with their seruauntes and maidens, with all their catell and substaunce. And Darius the kynge sent with them a thousand horsemen, to conuey thē safely vnto Jerusalem: and their brethren were glad, playing vpon instrumentes and singing. And these are the names of the men, which went vp out of the villages, according to the trybes. Of the prestes, the son of Phinehes, the sonne of Aaron: Jesua the sonne of Josedec, Joachim, the sonne of Zorobabel, the sonne of Matt.1b Salathiell (of the kynred of Dauid, oute of the kyndred of Phares of the tribe of Juda) which spake wonder full thinges vnder Darius the kyng of Persia, in the seconde yeare of hys raygne, in the firste moneth of Nisan. These also are they of Jewry, which came vp, and turned agayne vnto Jerusalem, out of the captiuity that Nabuchodonosor the kynge of Babylon had brought vnto Babilon. And euerye man sought his porcion agayne in Jewry, his citie, they that came with Zorobabell, and with Jesua, Nehemias, Saraias, Raelaias, Elimus, Emmanius, Mardocheus, Beelserus, Nechpha, Rochor, Oliozus, Esmonias, one of their prynces. And B the nnmbre of them according to their kynredes and rulers were: The children of Phares, two thousande, an hundreth and lxxii. The chyldren of Ares, three thousand, an hundred and lvii. The chyldren of Femo, an hundred, and .xlii. The sonnes of Jesua and Joabes, a. M. iii. C. & two. The sonnes of Benin .ii. M. iiii. C. and lxx. The sones of Chorora. ii. C. and v. The sonnes of Banica, an. C. and lxvii. The sonnes of Rebech, iiii. C.

and thre. The sons of Archad. iiii. C. and. xxvii. The sons of Cham. xxxvii The sons of Zozsar. ii. M. and. lxvii. The sonnes of Adinu. iiii. C. and. lxi. The sonnes of Adarectis an. C. and. viii. The sonnes of Ciaso, and Zelas an. C. and seuen. The sons of Azozec, iiii. C. xxxix. The sons of Zedarbone an. C. xxxii. The sonnes of Hanamas an. C. and. xxx. The sons of Asoni xc. The sons of Marsar. iiii. C. and. xxii The sons of Zabarus. xcv. The sons of Hepholemon an. C. and. xxiii.

The sons of Nepopas. lv. The sons of Hechanatus an. C. and. lviii. The sons of Zebethanus an. C. and. xxxii. The sons of Crearpatros (whiche is called also Enohadies and Modias) iiii. C. and. xxiii. Of thē of Gramos, and Eabea an. C. and. xxi. Of theim of Belleion & Teagge. lxv. Of them of Bastarus an C. and. xxii. Of them of Beche nobles. lv. Of the sonnes of Lyptis, there were an. C. and. lv. Of the sonnes of Labonus iii. C lvii. Of the sonnes of Sichem. iii. C, and. lxx. Of the sonnes of Suadon and Elimon. iii. C. and. lxxviii. Of the sons of Ericus. ii. M. an. C. and. xlv. The sonnes of Snaas. iii. C. and. lxx. The C Priestes: The sons of Jeddus. The sonnes of Euther: the soonnes of El Jasib. iii. C. and lxxii. The sonnes of Emerus. ii. C. and. lii. The sons of Falurius. iii. C. and. lvii. The sons of Carea. ii. C. and. xxvii. The Leuytes. The sonnes of Jesus in Cadubel and Banus, & Serebias, and Edeas, seuentye and foure. The whole nunber of these from. xii. yeares was. iii. M. iiii. C. and. lxii. Of the sonnes, daughters and wiues, the whole summe was. iiii. M. ii. C. and. xlii. The sonnes of the priestes that praised God in the temple: The sonnes of Asaph, of whom there wer an. C. and xxviii. But the dooze keepers were, The childzen of Esuenus: the chyldzen of Aser: the childzē of Amon: the childzen of Cuba, Topa: the childzen of Tobi. an hundzed and. xxxix. in all. The priestes that serued in the temple: The sonnes of Sei, the sonnes of Galpha, the sonnes of Tobioch, the sonnes of Caria, the sonnes of Sud, the sonnes of Helin, the sonnes of Sabana, the sons of Armacha, the sons of Acad, the sonnes of Utha, the sons of Cetha, the sons of Aggab, the sons of Obay, the sons of Anani, & sonnes of Canna, the sons of Geddu, the sons of Ani, the sonnes of Radin, the sons of Desanon, the sonnes of Mechoba, the sonnes of Caseba, the sonnes of Goza, the sonnes of Ozul, the sonnes of Sisona, the sons of Atra, the sons of Hasten, the soonnes of Asiana, the sons of Manei, the sons of Masisin, the sonnes of Accua, the sonnes of Agitta, the soonnes of Azui, the sons of Fauon, the sonnes of Phazaion, the soonnes of Meeda, the sons of Susa, the sonnes of Cared, the sons of Barcus, the sonnes of Sarea, the sonnes of Coeli, the sonnes of Masi, the sonnes of Agitta, the sons of Pedon: Salomon hys sonnes, the sonnes of Alophot, the soonnes of Phazida, the sonnes of Celi, the sonnes of Dedon, the sonnes of Gadahel, the sonnes of Zepheus, the soonnes of Aggia, the soonnes of Hacharet, the soonnes of Sabathen, the sonnes of Saroneth, the sonnes of Walsyt, the soonnes of Anis, the sonnes of Salsus, the sonnes of Addus, the sons of Suba, the sonnes of Enra, the soonnes of Rabotis the sonnes of Phasphat, the sonnes of Walmon. All these ministred in the Sanctuary, and were seruauntes of Salomon: euen foure hundzed and foure scoze and two. These folowing D are they, that went vp from Thelmei at Thelarsa (whose Pzynces were Carmelam and Careth) and myghte not shewe fozth their cyties and kinredes, howe they were of Israell: The sonnes of Dalarus, the sonnes of Tubin, the sonns of Mechodatus. Of the Pzyestes that executed the office of Priesthoode, and were not founde. The soonnes of Obia, the sonnes of Achyros, the sonnes of Addin, whych maried one of the daughters of Phargelen, and were named after hym. The wzytynge of the same

kyndzed

kindred was sought in the regyster of their generation, but it was not found: and therefore were they forbidden to execute the office of the preesthoode. Unto theim sayde Nehemyas and Athsharas, that they shoulde haue no portion in the sanctuarye, til there rose vp an hye preeste, that were well instructe in the playne clearenes and trueth. Of all Israel (beside seruantes and maydens) there were .xlii. M. two hundred and forty. Nowe were there of seruantes and maydens, seuē thousand three hundred thirty and six. Of syngyng men and synging womē ther wer two hundred and .lxv. Four hundred and .xxxv. Camelles. Seuen thousand and .xxxvi. horses. Two. C. M. and .xlv. Mules. Fyue. M. and .xxv. asses. Their heades also and the rulers in the trybes, when they came to Jerusalem, and wolde builde and sette vp the temple of God agayne in hys place, they gaue (after their abylitie) vnto the temple, to the treasure, and to the seruyce of the sanctuarye, .xii. thousande poundes of golde, fyue thousande of syluer, and an hundreth preestes garmentes. And so dwelt the preestes and the Leuites, and the people that went oute to Jerusalem, and in the countrye there aboute, the syngers also and the porters, every one of 1.Es.3.a Israel in hys owne land. * So when the seuenth moneth came, and whan the childrenne of Israel were euerye manne at hys busynes, they came all wyth one consent into the court whiche was before the Easte dooze. And there stoode Jesua the sonne of Josedech and hys brethren the preestes, and Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel and hys brethren, setting vp an alter, to offer burnt sacrifyces vppon it, as it is written in the law of Moses. There came people also of other countreys, and the Heathen out of all landes to sette vp an auiter in hys place, and offered sacrifyces and brente offerynges vnto the Lorde in the morninge. And so they helde the feaste of Leui.23 Nu.29b tabernacles, * as it is commaunded in the lawe. And dayelye offered they as accordynge was, and made the sacrifyces appointed, the offerynges also of the Sabbothes and the newe mones, and all holye feastes. And al they 1 Esd.3. that vowed offerynges vnto the Lord begaune at the newe Moone of the seuenth moneth to offer vnto GOD, for the temple of the LORDE was not yet buylded. And they gaue vnto the Masons and Carpenters, F money, meate and drinke wyth therefulnes. Unto theym of Sydon also, and Tyre they gaue carres, that they shoulde carye Cedre trees from Libanus to be ioystes and beames, and that they shoulde make shyppes in the hauen of Joppe, accordynge, as it was appoynted, and ordeyned by Cirus kynge of the Persians. And in the seconde yeare they came into the Ezr.3.a temple of GOD at Jerusalem. * In the seconde moneth beganne Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Jesua the sonne of Josedech and theyr brethren the preestes and Leuites, and all they that were comme vnto Jerusalem oute of the captyuitie of Babylon, and layed the foundation of the Temple, in the newe moone of the seconde moneth in the seconde yeare that they were come into Jewry and Jerusalem. And they appointed the Leuites, that wer aboue twēty yere old, vnto the seruice of the Lorde: so Jesua and hys sonnes and hys brethren, & al the Leuytes stode together, and performed the lawe and ordeynaunce in the house of the Lorde. And the preestes stode, and hadde their garmentes and trompettes, and the Leuytes, the sonnes of Asaph had Cymbals, geuynge thankes and prayses vnto the 2.pa.16b Lord, according * as Dauid the kyng of Israel had ordeyned. And the song Psa.135 that they dydde sing vnto the Lorde, was after thys maner: * O synge vnto the Lorde, for hee is gracious, and his goodnes vppon Israel endureth for euer. And al the people blewe out with trompets, and sang wyth loude voyce, praysyng the Lord together in the rering vp of the hous of the Lord. * There cam also frō amōg the preests,

and

and Leuytes, the rulers and elders, accoꝛding to the tꝛybes and kynreddes, (such as had seene the house afoꝛe) to the buildinge of thys Temple wyth great cꝛye and great mournyng, many also with trompettes and great ioye. In so much, that the trompets might not wel be heard foꝛ the weping and mournyng. Foꝛ the common people blewe goodly vppon the trompettes.

1 Es. 4. a. * Then came the enemyes of the tꝛibes of Juda and Beniamin, to knowe what that trompettinge and noyse of shawmes myghte bee. And they perceaued that it was they, wyych were come agayne oute of captiuitie, and wouldе builde the temple vnto a newe vnto the Loꝛde God of Israell. So they wente to Zoꝛobabel and Jesua, and to the rulers of the villages, and sayde vnto theym: Shal wee buylde wyth you also? Foꝛ wee lykewyse haue heard youꝛ Loꝛd, and we walke after the same maner, from the dayes of Asbazareth the kynge of Assiria, wyych bꝛought vs hyther. Then Zoꝛobabel and Jesua, and the rulers of the villages of Israell sayd vnto thē It is not mete that ye shoulde builde the temple of our God wyth vs: wee our selues alone wyll buyld vnto the 1 Es. 1. a. Loꝛde, lyke as * Cyꝛus the kynge of the Persians hath commaunded vs. But the Heathen in the lande layed them selues agaynst those that were in Jewry, held vp the buyldinge frō them, layed wayte vpon them pꝛincipye, stopped suche as bꝛoughte anye thyng to them, foꝛbad them to builde, and hyndꝛed those that made thē passage, that the buylding should not be kynyshed, and thys continued so long as king Cyꝛus liued, and so they put of the buyldynge foꝛ the space of two yeares, vntyl the raygne of king Darius.

¶ The .vi. Chapter.

IN wythstandinge in the seconde yeare of the reygne of Darius. * Aggeus and Zacharye the sonne of Addo pꝛophecied vnto them in Jewry and Jerusalem in the name of the God of Israell.

1 Es. 5. a.

Agg. 1. c.

* Then Zoꝛobabel the son of Salathiel, & Jesua, the son of Josedech, stode vp, and began to build the house of the Loꝛd at Jerusalē, whan the pꝛophets of the Loꝛd helped them. At the same tyme cam Sisennes the vnder shꝛeue in Siria and Phenyces, wyth the landlꝛoꝛdes and hys companions, and sayde vnto them: Who hath bydde and commaunded you to build the house, to make the rouse, and al other thynges agayne? And who are the wꝛokmen that buylde them? Neuertheles the elders of the Jewes hadde suche grace of the Loꝛde, that they wouldе not be let (thoughe they were pꝛouoked thereto) but builded on stil, vntil the tyme that kyng Darius wer certifyed thereof, and an aunswer receaued from hym. The letter that these men sent vnto kyng Darius, was after thys manner. Sisennes the vnder shꝛeue in Siria and Phenices, and the landlꝛoꝛdes wyth their companyons, which are head rulers in Syria and Phenyces, sende their salutation vnto Darius the kynge. We certyfye the Loꝛde the kynge, that we came into the lande of Jewry, and wente to Jerusalem: where we founde theym building the greate house of God and the temple, wyth greate costlye free stone, and with goodly timber foꝛ the walles: yea, they make greate haste wyth the wꝛoꝛke, and helpe one another, and it goeth foꝛth pꝛosperously in theyꝛ handes, and wyth greate diligence and wꝛoꝛshyp is it made. Then asked we the elders, who hadde commaunded them to make vp the house and the building, and thys we dyd, to the intent that we myght certify thee perfectlye, and wꝛyte vnto thee, the names of those that wer the rulers of the wꝛoꝛke. So they gaue vs this answere: wee are the seruauntes of the Loꝛde, which made heuē & earth, & as foꝛ this house, * it hath beene builded & set vp afoꝛe time by the greate and mighty king of Israel. But whēour fathers pꝛouoked God vnto wꝛathe, and synned agaynste the GOD of Israel, * he gaue theym ouer into the

3 Re. 6. a

Jer. 39.

power

power of Nabuchodonoſor kynge of Babylon, the kyng of the Chaldees, whiche brake downe the houſe, and brente it, and caryed awaye the people 1 Eſd.5.c priſoners vnto Babylon. * Neuertheles, in the firſt yere that kyng Cirus reygned at Babylon, Cirus the kyng wrote, and commanded to build vp this houſe agayne: and al the ornamentes that Nabuchodonoſor caried away from Jeruſalem vnto Babilō, and appropriated vnto his owen temple: theſe brought Cyrus forth agayn, and deliuered them to Zorobabel, and to Salmanaſar the vnder ſhreue, commaundynge theym that they ſhoulde bryng thoſe ſame ornamentes agayne to Jeruſalem into the temple, and to begyn from that tyme forth, to buylde the temple agayne in his owne place. Then Salmanaſar layed the foundacion of the Lordes houſe at Jeruſalem, and euer ſence haue they builded, and yet is it not ended. ¶ And therefore, O kyng, if thou thinkeſt it good, let it be ſoughte in the Libraries and rolles of kynge Cyrus, if it be founde then, that it is done with the counceil and conſent of kyng Cirus, and if our Lord the kynge be ſo minded, let hym 2 Eſd.6.a wryte vnto vs thereof. * Then com-3 Eſd.4.e maunded kyng Darius to ſeke in the Libraries: & ſo at Egbathanis in a lit tel city of Medea ther was fōūd ſuch a wrytynge. In the firſte yeare of the reygne of Cyrus, the ſame kyng Cyrus commaunded, that the houſe of the Lorde at Jeruſalem, ſhoulde bee buylded agayne (& odours to be made there continually vnto the Lorde) whoſe heyghth ſhalbe .x. cubites, and the bredth, threeſcore cubites, & foure ſquare with thre hewen ſtones, with a lofte of timber of the ſame countrey, yea, with a newe lofte, and the expenſes therof to be geuen of the houſe of kyng Cyrus. And the ornamentes of golde and ſiluer, that Nabuchodonoſor toke out of the houſe of the Lord at Jeruſalem, ſhall be ſet agayne in the temple at Jeruſalē, where they were afore. Sitſennes alſo the vnder ſhreue in Syria and Phenices, the princes and their companions and the other that be heade rulers in Syria and Phenices, ſhall not medle nor haue D aūye thynge to do with that place. I Cyrus haue commaunded alſo, that they ſhall buyld the houſe of the Lord whole vp, and haue ordeyned them, to helpe thoſe that be come out of captiuitye: tyll the houſe of the Lord be finiſhed: and out of the tribute and taxyng that is yerely rayſed vp in Syria and Phenices, diligently to geue them a certayn ſumme to the offering of the Lord: and the ſame to be deliuered vnto Zorobabel the officer, that he therwithall may ordeyne oxen, rams, lambes, and corne, ſalt, wine and oyle, and that continually euery yere: after 1 Eſd.6.d
the expences which the prieſtes that be at Jeruſalem, ſhewe to be made daylye: this ſhalbe geuen vnto theym without delay, that they may offer ſacrifices daily to the hieſt God, for the kyng and for hys ſeruauntes, and to pray for their lyues. Let it be proclaymed alſo on euery ſyde, that whoſoeuer breaketh or deſpiſeth this commaundement of the kyng, ſhalbe hanged vpō a galowes (made of hys owen good) and all hys goodes ſhalbe ſeaſoned vnto the kyng. The Lord therfore (whoſe name is ther called vpō) roote out and deſtroye all the kynges and people, that vndertake by violence to hynder the ſame, or to deale vncurteouſlye with the houſe of the Lord at Jeruſalē. I Darius the kyng haue ordeyned, that theſe thynge ſhal be done with all diligence.

¶ The .vii. Chapter.

THē Sitſennes the vnder ſhreue I in Celoſiria, and Phenices, and the other landlordes with their companions, obeyed the thynges that kyng Darius had ordeyned, and were diligent in the holy workes, and were felow helpers with the old rulers of the Jewes. And ſo the worke of the Sanctuarye went forthe, and proſpered, when Aggeus and Zacharye prophecied. And they perfourmed all thynges thorowe the commaundemaundement of the Lord God of Israell, and after the deuyse of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerses, kynges of B Persia. And thus was our house fynyshed vnto the .xxiii. daye of the monethe Ader in the .vi. yeare of kynge Darius. And the chyldren of Israell, the Pryestes and the Leuytes, and the other that were comme oute of captiuitie, and suche as were ioyned vnto theym, didde accordyng as it is wrytten in the booke of Moyses. And in the dedication of the temple: they offred an hundred oxen, two hundred rammes, foure hundred lambes, and twelue goates for the sinnes of al C the people of Israel, after the number of the trybes of Israell. The pryestes also and the Leuites stode arayed in the pryestly garmentes, after the trybes, ouer all the workes of the Lorde God of Israel, accordyng to the boke of Moses, & the porters by al ꝯ dores. And the chyldren of Israell (wyth those that were come oute of captiuitye) helde the Passeouer the fourtēth day of the firste moneth, whenne the pryestes and the Leuites were sanctifyed. They that came out of captiuitye, were not all sanctifyed together: but the Leuites wer all sanctifyed together, and so all they that came out of captiuitie, killed the Easter lambe for their brethren, for the pryestes, and for D them selues. And the chyldren of Israell that came out of captiuitye, and escaped from all the abhominacions of the Heathen, sought the Lorde, and kept the feast of the vnleuened breade seuen daies long, eating and drinking and were mery before the Lorde: that the Lord had turned the deuice of the kyng of Assiria, and confirmed their handes to the workes of the Lorde God of Israell.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

A
1 Esd. 7 D AND after him, when Artaxerses the kyng of the Persians reigned, ther went vnto him Esdras the sonne of Sarayas, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Helchiach, the sonne of Sallum, the sonne of Sadoch, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Amarias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Boccus, the sonne of Abisu, the sonne of Phineas, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron the firste Priest. This Esdras went vp from Babilon (for he had good vnderstandyng in the lawe of Moses, that was geuen of the Lord God of Israell, to be taught and done in dede.) And the kyng fauored him, and dyd him great worshippe and honoure after all hys desires. There went vp with him also certayne of the chyldren of Israell, of the pryestes, of the Leuites, of the syngers, porters and ministres of the temple at Jerusalem. In the seuenth yere of the reigne of kyng Artaxerses, in the fiueth moneth, that is in the seuenth yere of the raygne, they went from Babylon in the newe moone of the .v. moneth, and came the hye waye to Jerusalem after hys commaundement, lyke as the Lorde had prospered their iourney. For in these Esdras gat great instruction, that he shoulde leaue none of the things behind, whiche are in the lawe and commaundementes of God. And he taught whol Israell all ryghteousnes and iudgement. Then came the Secretaries of kyng Artaxerses, and delyuered the wrytinges (that were come from Artaxerses the kyng (to Esdras ꝯ pryest and reader of the lawe of the Lorde. And this is the coppe of the letter: King Artaxerses sendeth his greting vnto Esdras the pryeste and reader of the lawe of the Lord. Of frendshipe & good wil, I haue ordeined & charged, if ther be any of the Jewes, of ꝯ pryestes and Leuites in my realm, which desireth and is contēt to go with thee vnto Jerusalem, that he maye doo it.
B Therfor, if any man be minded to bear thee company, let them come together and go with thee (lyke as I am content, and my seuen frendes, my counselers) to see what they do at Jerusalem and in Jewry, and keepe the thynges accordyng as thou hast in the lawe of the Lorde: and to bryng the gyftes vnto God the Lorde of Israel,

that

that I and my frendes haue promised to Jerusalem, and all the syluer and golde that is in the countrie of Babilon, vnto the Lorde to Jerusalē, with the thyng that is geuen for the people in the Lordes temple at Jerusalem. Yea, that the same syluer and golde may be gathered: and oxen, rammes, sheepe and goates and other that belonge to these thynges: and that they offer sacrifyces vnto the Lorde, vpon the aulter of their Lorde, whiche is at Jerusalem. And what soeuer thou and thy brethren will do with the siluer and golde, that do after thy mynd, accordyng to the commaundemente of the Lord thy God: and likewise, with the holy vessels that are geuen the, for the seruice of the house of the Lorde thy God: and other thynges whatsoeuer is necessary for the to the worke of the temple, that shalbe geuen thee of the kynges treasure, and loke what thou with thy brethren will do with the golde and syluer, that do after the will of the Lorde. And I kynge Artaxerses haue cōmaunded the kepers of the treasures in Siria and Phenices, that whatsoeuer Esdras ỹ priest and reader of the lawe of the Lorde doeth wryte, it shalbe geuen him: till an hundred talentes of syluer, and of gold in lyke maner. Of corne also an hundred measures, and tyll an hundred vessels of wyne, and other plenteous thynges wythoute number. Lette all thynges be doone after the lawe of the hyest G O D, that the wroth of God aryse not in the realme of the kynge, and of hys soonnes. I commaunde you also, that ye requite no tare nor trybute of the Priestes, Leuytes, Syngers, and mynysters of the temple, nor of the writers and that no man haue authorytye to medle anye thynge agaynste theym. As for thee (O Esdras) set thou iudges and arbitrers in the whole lande of Siria and Phenices, after the wisdom of God: and learne all such as are ignorant in the law of God thy lord, and let al them that offend against the law be punished: whether it be wyth death, with payne to be condemned in money, or to be banyshed. Then sayde Esdras the writer. * Blessed bee the God of our fathers, that hath geuen so good a mynde & will into the heart of the Kynge, to magnifye his house that is at Jerusalem, and hath made me to be accepted in the syghte of the kyng, of his councell, of his frendes, & of his nobles. And so I was stedfast in my mynde, accordyng as ỹ Lord my God helped me, and I chose oute mē of Israel to go vp with me. * And these are the heades (after their kynredes & houses of their fathers) that went vp with me from Babylon, out of the kyngdome of Artaxerses: Of the soonnes of Phares, Gersonius: Of the soonnes of Siemarith, Amenus. Of the sonnes of Dauid, Accus, the sonne of Cecilia. Of the sonnes of Phares, Zacharye: and wyth hym there turned agayne an hundred and fifty menne. Of the sonnes of the captain of Moabilon, Zaraei, & with hym. ii. C. and. l. men. Of the sonnes of Zachnes, Jechonias, Zecholy, and with hym two hundred and fifty mē. Of the soonnes of Salamathias, Gotholy, and. lxx. with him. Of the sonnes of Zaphatia, zarias. Miheli, and with hym foure score. Of the sonnes of Job, Abdias, Jehely, & with hym two hundred and twelue men. Of ỹ sonnes of Bania, Salimoth the sonnes of Josaphia, and wyth hym an hundred and three score men. Of the sonnes of Beer, zacharie Behei, and with hym two hundred and. viii. mē. Of the sonnes of Esead, Johannes Ezechā, and with hym an hundred and ten men. Of the sonnes of Adonicam those that were the last, & these are theyr names. Eliphatā the sonne of Gebel and Semeias, & with hym lxx. men. All these called I together by the water of Thia, where we pitched our tentes thre dais, and there I mustered them. As for the sons of the Priestes and Leuites, I found none there. Then sente I vnto Eleazar, and Ecelom, and Maimam, and Malabam, and Enathan, and Sames, and

I. Esd. 7.

I. Es. 8. b

and Jozibimathan, Eunagan, Zacharie, Mosollamun, these were the Elders and menne of experience: and I sente them wooꝛde, that they shoulde come vnto Loddeus, whiche was by the place of the treasurye, and commaunded them that they shuld speake vnto Loddeus and to his bꝛethꝛē, and to those that were in the treasurye, to sende vs such men, as myghte execute the pꝛiestes office in the house of the Lozd our God. And wyth the mightye hande of oure Lozde God, they bꝛought vnto vs men of good experience, from amonge the sons of Mooslins, the sonne of Leui, the son of Israell, Sebeiam, and the sonnes, and his bꝛethꝛen Asbin and Anin, of whō there were eyghtene. From amonge the childꝛen of the sonnes of Chananeus, and their sonnes were .xx. menne. And of theym that serued in the tēple, whom Dauid had ozdeyned, and the pꝛincipal men that ministred foꝛ the wozke vnto the Leuytes in the temple two hundꝛed and twenty menne, whose names are al tokened vppe in wꝛytinge. * Than commaunded I a fasting vnto the ponge men befoꝛe the Lozde, that I myghte desyꝛe of hym a pꝛosperous iourney, and a good waye foꝛ vs, yee, foꝛ vs, foꝛ our chyldꝛen and foꝛ the cattel, because of the layinges awapte, and I durste not requyꝛe of the kinge men of hoꝛse and of foote, to conueye vs safely agaynst oure ennemyes: foꝛ we had sayde vnto the king that the power of the Lozd our God should be wyth them that seeke hym wyth their whole hearte. And therefoꝛe, we besought God our Lozd earnestly because of these thinges, and he was merciful vnto vs, and heard our pꝛayer. And I separated from among the rulers of the people, and from the pꝛiestes of the temple twelue men, and Hebeia and Asania, and ten menne of their bꝛethꝛen wyth theym. And I weyed them the golde and the syluer and al the pꝛiestlye oꝛnamentes of the house of our God, which the kynge, and hys councel, and his pꝛinces, and whole Israel had geuen. And when I had weyed it, I gaue them an hundꝛed and fiftie talentes in syluer and an hundꝛed Talentes of syluer vessel, an hundꝛed talentes of golde, and of golden vessel seuen tymes twenty, and vessels of other metal (ye, of good metal) twelue glistering as the gold, and sayde vnto them: ye are holye vnto the Lozde, and the vessels are holy, and the golde and the siluer is pꝛomised vnto the Lozd God of our fathers. Be diligent nowe and kepe it, vntyll the tyme that ye deliuer it to the rulers of the people, to the pꝛyestes, to the Leuytes, and to the pꝛincipal men of the cities of Israel in Ierusalem, and in the chamber of the house of our God. * So the Pꝛyestes and the Leuytes, which receaued of me the gold the syluer and the vessel, bꝛoughte it vnto Ierusalem, into the temple of the Lozd. And from the riuer of Thia we bꝛake vp the twelueth daye of the fyꝛst moneth, til wee came to Ierusalem. And when the thyꝛde daye was paste, the weyed gold, and syluer was delyuered in the house of the Lozd the fourth daye, vnto Marimoth, the son of Joz the pꝛyeste, and with him was Eleazar the soonne of Phineas, and wyth theim were Josabdus the sonnes of Jasnet, Medias and the sonne of Banus, and certayne of the Leuytes to the number and to the wayght: and the waight of them was wꝛitten vppe the same time. As foꝛ those that were come out of captiuitie, they offered sacrifyce vnto the Lozde the God of Israel: euen twelue oxen foꝛ al Israel. lxxxvi. rammes. lxxii. sheepe. xii. goates foꝛ sinne, twelue kyne foꝛ a thankeoffering, al to the sacrysyce of the Lozde. And the kinges commissiō delyuered they vnto the stewardes and debities of the kynge, and to the vndershꝛeues in Celosiria and Phenices. * Nowe, when these thynges were done, the rulers came vnto me, and sayde: The generation of Israel, the pꝛinces, the pꝛiestes, and Leuites, the strange people, and indwellers of the land, haue not put away their vncleennes, from ϸ Cananites, Hethites

Pheres-

2 Esd. 1 a

1 Esd. 8

1 Esd. 9

Pherelites, from the Moabites, Egiptians, & Edomites. For both they and their sonnes haue myngled them selues with the daughters of thē, and the holye sede is mixte with the oute landysh Heathen, and sens the beginning of their reygne haue the rulers and heades bene partakers of theyr wickednes. ✠ As sone as I had herde these thynges, immediately I rent my holye garmentes, and pulled out the heare of my head and my berd, and sat me downe sorowfull and heauy. So all they that were moued thorow the word of the God of Israell, came vnto me: and I sat still, full of heauines, vntyll the euenynge sacrifyce. Then stode I vp from fastyng, hauyng rent clothes and the holy garment, kneled downe vppon myknees, held vp my handes vnto the Lorde, and sayde: O Lorde, I am confounded and ashamed before thy face, for our synnes are become many vpon our heades, and our wickednesses are exalted vnto the heauen, for sens the tyme of our fathers, we are in great synne vnto thys day. And for the synnes of vs and our fathers, we with our brethrē and with our priestes haue bene delyuered vnto the kynges of the earthe, into the swerd, and into captiuitie, and became a spoyle, with confusion and shame vnto this day. And nowe, O Lorde god, how great is thy mercy that we haue gotten of thee: in that thou haste lefte vs a rote & a name in the place of thy sanctuary, to discouer our light in the house of ✠ lord our god, & hast geuē vs meat at all tymes of oure ministration. And whē we were in captiuity we were not forsakē of ✠ Lord our god: but he made ✠ kings of Persia gracious and fauourable vnto vs, so that they gaue vs byttayles and meate, yea, and leaue to buylde vp the temple of our Lord God againe, to repayre the wasted places of Sion, and to dwell in Iewry and Ierusalem. And now, O Lord, what shal we say, hauyng all these thinges in possessiō? For we haue brokē thy cōmandemēts which thou gauest vnto vs by the handes of thy seruantes ✠ prophets, sayinge: The lande that ye go vnto and that is geuen you for an herytage to haue in possession, is defyled with the vnclennesse and fylthines of the Heathen, and with their abhominacion haue they poluted it altogether. Ther fore, shal ye not ioyne your daughters vnto their sonnes, nor marye youre sonnes vnto their daughters. Moreouer, ye shall not seeke to make peace with them, that ye maye increase and eate the beste in the lande, and that ye may deuyde the inherytaunce of the land vnto your children for euermore. As for the thynge that nowe happeth vnto vs, it commeth all for our wycked workes and great sinnes, yet hast thou geuen vs such a rote, that we are come agayne into our owne land, and we are so wicked, that we haue broken thy statuees and commaundementes agayne, and myngled oure selues with the vnclennes of the outlandish Hethen. O Lord, art thou angry with vs: wilt thou rote vs cleane out: that our rote and name remayne nomore? O Lord god of Israell thou art true, for our roote endureth yet vnto thys present daye. And beholde, nowe are we before thee in our sinnes, now can we not stand before thee in thē. ✠ And when Esdras with thys prayer had knowledged the synne, weppynge, and lying flat vpon the ground before the temple, there gathered vnto him from Ierusalem a great multitude of men and wemen, of yonge men and maydens, for there was a very great weppyng and mourning in the congregation. So when Iechonias the sonne of Jeheli one of the chyldren of Israell cryed, he sayde vnto Esdras: we haue synned agaynste the Lorde, because wee haue maryed outelandyshe wemen of the Heathen. Nowe arte thou ouer all Israel. We will sweare an othe therfore vnto the Lorde, that we shall put awaye all oure wyues, which we haue taken of the Hethen, with their rhyldren: lyke as it is appointed thee by our forelders. Stand vp then, open thou it, and declare it playnelye vnto vs, accordynge to the law of the Lord: for the matter belongeth vnto thee, and we will helpe the, quite thy selfe manly. So Esdras arose, and toke an othe of the rulers, of the Priestes, and of the Leuites, and of Israell, to do after these thynges:

and they sware.

¶ The. ix. Chapter.

A
1 Es. 10b THen Esdras stode vp from the court of the temple without, and wente into the chamber of Jonathas, the soonne of Nasabus, and remayned there, and dyd eate no meate, nor dronke drinke, for the multitude of the wyckednesse of the people. And there was made a proclamation in all Jewry and at Jerusalem, for all such as wer gathered at Jerusalem out of captiuitye, that whosoeuer came not to Jerusalē within two or three days (according to the iudge-ment of the old lordes of the councel) his goodes should be taken from him, and be excluded from the congregatiō of the captiuitye. And in three dayes were all they of the trybe of Juda and Beniamin gathered together at Jerusalem, the twentieth daye of the ninth moneth. And the whole multitude sat tremblyng in the court of the temple, for it was wynter. So Esdras arose vp, and sayde vnto them: ye haue done vnryghteouslye, in that ye haue taken outlandisshe wiues in ma-riage, and so to increase the synnes of Israell. And nowe knowledge the same, and geue prayse vnto the Lorde god of our fathers, and perfourme his B will, departyng from the Heathen of the lande, and from the outlandyshe wiues. Then cryed the whole multitude with a loude voyce, and said: like as thou hast spoken, so wil we do: but for so much as the people are manye, and the wynter here, we maye not stand without the house: agayne, this worke is not a thynge, that can be fynyshed in a day or two, for we be many that haue synned in these thynges.
Ordeyne therefore that the rulers of the multytude, and they that dwell with vs, and as manye as haue outlandysh wyues, that the priests also & iudges of euery place may stand in the tyme appoynted, tyll they swage the wrath of the Lorde in this busynes.
Then Jonathas the sonne of Ezely, and Ozias and Thecan receiued the charge of this mater, and Bozozamus and Leius, and Sabatheus helpeth them therto. After thys all they stode vp that were come oute of captiui-tye. And Esdras the priest chose vnto him the principall men from amonge the fathers, according to their names, and the newe mone of the tenthe mo-neth they sat together, to examin this C matter. And so the matter was a determining (concernynge the men that had outlandyshe wyues) vntyll the newe mone of the firste moneth. And of the priestes that had myxte theym 1 Es. 10 selues with outlandyshe wyues, ther were found: Of the sons of Jesus, the sons of Josedec and his brethren, Mazeas, Eleazar, Jozibus and Joadeus, which offred them selues to put away their wiues, and to offer a ram for their ignorannce. And of the sons of Semmeri, Masseas, and Elles, and Jeelech, Azarias. Of the sonnes of Fosera, Limesias, Hismaen, Mathanea, Jussio, Jeddus, and Ualsas.
And of the Leuites, Josabdus, Semeis, and Colnis, Caletas, Facteas, Colnas, and Elionas. Of the singers of the sanctuary, Eliarib, Zacharus.
Of the porters, Sallumus and Tol banes. And of Israel, of the children of Foro, Ofi, and Remias, and Ged-dias, and Melchias, Michelus, Elea zarus, Jemmebias, & Bannas. And the chyldren of Jolaman, Thanias, zachari, Jeizrelus, Jodius, Erimoth and Elias. And of the soonnes of Ja-thoim, Eliadas, Liasamus, and Zo- D chias, Larimoth, Sabdis, and Zebedias. And of the sonnes of Zebes, Joannes, Amanias, Zabdias, and Emmenis. And of the soonnes of Bannus, Olammus, Malachus, Jeddus, Jasub, Asabus, & Jerimoth
And of the sonnes of Joden, Naatus

and

and Mooslas, and Caleus, and Raanas, Maalias, Mathathias, Beseli, Bannus, and Manasses. And of the sonnes of Naue, Nones, Aras, Melchias, Sameas, Simon, Beniamin, Malchus, and Marras. And of the sonnes of Asom, Cartaneus, Mathathias, Bamus, Eliphalach, Manasses, Semei. Of the sonnes of Bannus, Jeremie, Moodias, Abzamas, Joheil, Baneas, Delias, Jona, Marimoth, Eliasib, Mathaneus, Eliasis E Ozias, Dielus, Semedius, Zambzis, and Joseph. Of the sonnes of Nobeius, Idelus, Mathathias, Sabadus, Zecheda, Sedmi, Jesseus, and Baneas. All these had taken outlandish women to mariage, and they put them away with theyr childzen. The Pzieftes and Leuytes, and all they that were of Jsraell, dwelte at Jerusalem, and thozowout all the land, in the new moone of the seuenth moneth, and the childzen of Jsrael were in theyr dwellynges: And the whole multitude came together, vppon the flooze at the Easte syde of the holye Pozt of the Temple. And they spake vnto Esdzas, the hye Pzieft and reader, that he would bzyng the lawe of Moyses, whyche was geuen of the LORD GOD of Jsraell. So Esdzas the hye Pzieste bzoughte the lawe vnto the whole multitude, to man and woman, and to all the pzieftes, that they myght heare the lawe, 2.Es.3.a * in the newe Moone of the seuenthe 1.Es.3.a monethe. And he redde in the flooze that is before the holy pozt of the temple, from the mozning earely vnto the euenyng, before men and womenne.
f And they applyed theyr mynd all vnto the lawe. And Esdzas the Pzieste and reader of the lawe stoode vp vpon a pulpyt of wodde, whyche was made therefoze: and vppon hys right hande there stode by hym Mathathias, Samus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, Dzechias, and Balsamus. Upon hys lefte hande stoode Faldeus, Misaell, Malachias, Abuschas, Sadus, Nabadias, and zacharye. Then tooke Esdzas the Booke beefoze the whole multitude: foz he was the pzincipall, and hadde in moste honoure of theym all. And when he hadde redde out the lawe, they stoode all streight vppon theyr feete. So Esdzas pzayfed the LORDE, the mooste hye GOD, the Almyghtye GOD of Hooftes. And all the people aunswered, Amen: and healde vp theyr handes, fell downe flatte vppon the earthe, and pzayfed the LORDE. And Jesus, Beneas, Sarebias, Jaddimus, Accubus, Sabbatheus, 5 Calithes, Azarias, Jozadus, Ananias, and Philias, the Leuites, lyfte theyr handes vpwarde, and bowed theyr faces to the grounde, and pzaised the LORD. Those were they whyche taught the lawe of the Lozd: and redde the lawe of the LORD in the congregation: and euery man fette theym before, that vnderstoode the lawe. Thenne spake Atharates vnto Esdzas, the hye Pzieft and reader, and to the Leuytes, that taughte the multitude, sayenge: Thys daye is holye vnto the Lozde, and all they 2.Esd.8.
that hearde the lawe wept. So Esdzas sayd: * Departe your way then, and eate the beste, and dzynke the sweeteft, and sende gyftes vnto them that haue nothynge: foz thys daye is holye vnto the Lozde, and bee not ye sozy: foz the LORDE wyll bzyng you vnto honour. Then wente they theyr waye euerychone, and dyd eate and dzynke, and were mery, and sente rewardes vnto theym that hadde nothynge, that they also myght eate wyth gladneffe: foz they were excedyng retoyced, thozowe the woozdes that were redde vnto theym in the law. And so they were al gathered together at Jerusalem, to hold the feaft, accozding to the couenaunte of the Lozde GOD of Jsrael.

¶ The ende of the thirde Booke of Edzas.

¶ The.iiii. Booke of Esdras.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

A 1.Es.7.a 3.Es.8.a

THe seconde Boke of the Prophete • Esdras, the son of Saraias, the soonne of Azarias, the sonne of Helchia, the sonne of Salium, the son of Sadoc, the soonne of Achitob, the son of Achia, the soonne of Phinees, ℔ sonne of Hely Amerias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Marimoth, the sonne of Sarahias, the sonne of Uzi, the sonne of Bocchus, the son of Abisu, the sonne of Phineas, the sonne of Eleazar, the soonne of Aaron (of the tribe of Leui) which was prisoner in Esa.58.a the lande of Medes, in the raigne of Artaxerses kyng of Persia. • And the word of the Lord came vnto me, sayeng: Go thy way & shewe my people theyr synfull dedes, and theyr childrē theyr wickednesses, which they haue done against me, that they maye telle their childrens childrē the same, for B the synnes of their fathers are increased in them. And why? they haue forgotten me, & haue offred vnto strange goods. Am not I euē he, that brought them out of the land of Egypte from the house of bondage? But they haue prouoked me vnto wrath, and despysed my councels. Pull thou out than the heare of thy head, and cast all euil ouer them, for they haue not ben obediente vnto my lawe. It is a people without lernyng and nourture. How longe shall I forbeare theym, vnto whom I haue doone so much good? Nu.21.d Iosue.8. 10.E.12. Ex.14.g • Many kyngs haue I destroyed for theyr sakes. • Pharao wyth his seruauntes, and all hys power haue I smytten downe and slayne. All the nations haue I destroyed and rooted out before them: and in the East haue I broughte twoo landes and people to naughte, euen Tyre and Sydon, and haue slayne all theyr ennemies. Speke thou therfore vnto them, sayeng: Thus sayeth the Lorde: • I led you thorowe the sea, and haue gyuen you sure stretes sens the begynnyng. Exo.14.f • I gaue you Moyses to be your captain, and Aaron to be the Priest. • I gaue you lyghte in a pyllour of fyre, and greate wonders haue I doone amonge you: yet haue you forgotten me, sayth the LORDE. Thus sayeth the almyghty Lorde: I gaue you quayles to eate, and tentes for youre succour: Neuertheless ye murmured and ascribed not the victorye of youre enemies vnto my name: yea, the same day doo ye yet mourne. Where are the benefites, that I haue doone for you? When ye were hungry in the wilderness, • dydde ye not cry vnto me: Why haste thou brought vs into this Wildernes, to kyll vs? It had ben better for vs, to haue serued the Egiptians, then to dye in this wyldernes. Then had I pitie vpon your mournynges, and gaue you Manna to eate. • Ye did eate Angels foode. • When ye were thirsty, dyd not I hewe the hard stone, and caused water to flowe thereout? For the heate I couered you with the leaues of the trees. A good pleasaunt fat lande gaue I you: I cast oute the Cananites, the Pherezites, and Philistines beefore you. • What shall I doo more for you, saith the LORDE? Thus sayth ℔ Almighty Lorde: • Whē ye were in the wildernes, in the water of the Ammorites, beyng a thirste, and blasphemynge my name, I gaue you not fyre for youre blasphemies, but cast a tree into ℔ water, and made the ryuer swete. What shall I do vnto thee, O Jacob? Thou Juda wouldest not obey me. • I wyll turne me to another people, and vnto those will I geue my name, that they may kepe my statutes. Seynge yee haue forsaken mee, I wyll forsake you also. Whenne ye desyre me to bee gracious vnto you, I shall haue no mercy vpon you. • When ye call vppon me, I wyll not heare you. For yee haue defyled your handes wyth blood, and your feete are swifte to commit manslaughtes.

Exo.14.f Exo.3.b Nu.18.a Exo.12.b Nu.14.a Sap.16. • Nu.20 C Esay.5.a Exo.15.b Deu.32. Esai.1.b

slaughter. Yee haue not forsaken me, (in a maner) but youre owne selues saieth the Lorde. Thus sayth the almyghtye Lorde: Haue I not prayed you, as a father his sonnes, as a mother her daughters, & as a nourse her yong babes, that ye wold be my people, and I should be youre God: that ye would be my children, and I shold Mat. 23 be youre owne father? • I gathered you together, as an henne gathereth her chickens vnder her winges. But D Esay. 1 d and. 65. a nowe what shall I doo vnto you? I shall cast you out frō my face? whan you offer vnto me, I shall tourne my face from you: for your solemne feaste days, your newe Moones, and youre circūcisions haue I forsaken. I sent vnto you my seruantes the Prophets whom ye haue taken and slayne, and tone theyr bodyes in pieces, whose blond I will require of your handes, sayth the Lorde. Thus sayth the almyghty Lord: Your house must be desolate. I wyl cast you out as ỹ wind dothe the strawe: your children shall not bee fruitfull, for they haue despised my commandement, and done the thyng that is euyll before me. Youre Esa. 65. houses wil I geue vnto a people that Ro. 10. c shal come, & • they that neuer herd me, shall beleue in me: & they vnto whom I neuer shewed token, shall doo the thyng that I commande them. They haue sene no Prophets, yet shall they call theyr sinnes to remembrance, and knowledge theim. I repose me vnto the grace, that I wyll do for the people whyche is come, whose children reioyce in gladnes, and thoughe they haue not seene me wyth bodily eyes, yet in spirite they beleeue the thynge that I say. And nowe brother, behold what great worshyp, and see the people that cometh from the East, vnto whome I wyll geue the Dukedome Esa. 41 d Luk. 13. Mat. 8. d • of Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob, of Oseas, Amos, and Micheas, of Joel Abdi, Jonas, Nahum, and Abacuc, of Sophonye, Aggeus, Zacharye, and Malachye, whiche is called also an Aungelle, (or messaunger) of the Lorde.

The.ii. Chapter.

THus sayth the LORDE: I brought this people oute of A of bondage, I gaue theim my commaundementes by my seruauntes, the Prophetes, whyche they woulde not heare, but despysed my counsayles. The mother that bare theym, sayeth vnto theym: Goe youre waye yee children, for I am a wyddowe, and forsaken: I brought you vppe wyth gladdenesse, but with sorowe and heuynesse haue I lost you: for yee haue synned before the Lorde your GOD, and doone the thynge that is euyll before hym. But what shall I nowe dooe vnto you? I am a wydow, & forsaken: Goe your waye O my children, and aske mercy of the B Lord. As for me, O father, I call vpon the for a wytnes ouer the mother Ge. 19c. of these children, whiche woulde not keepe my couenant, that thou bringe them to confusyon, and their mother to a spoyle, that she beare no more. Let theyr names be scattered amonge the Hethen. Let thē be put out of ỹ earth for they haue thought scorn of my couenannt. Wo be vnto the Assur, thou that hydest the vnryghteousnesse by thee. Thou wycked people, remember • what I dyd vnto Sodom and Gomorra, whose lande is tourned to pitche and ashes. Euen so also wyll I doo vnto all theym, that heare me not, sayth the Almighty Lord. Thus sayth the Lord vnto Esdras, Tell my people, that I wylle geue theym the Kyngdom of Jerusalem, whyche I would haue geuē vnto Israel. Their glory also I toke vnto me, & geue thē the euerlastyng tabernacles, whiche I had prepared for those. The tree of lyfe shalbe vnto thē a swete smellyng oyntment, they shall neyther labour, C nor be weery. Go ye your waye, and ye shall receaue it. Pray for your selues a fewe days, that they may dwell therein Nowe is the kyngdome prepared for you, therfore watche. Take heauen and earthe to wytnesse, for I haue broken the euyll in pieces, and created the good: for I lyue, sayth the Lord. Mother embrace thy chyldren, and bryng thē vp with gladnes: make their fete as fast as a piller, for I haue chosen thee, sayth the Lord. And those that be deade will I rayse vp agayne from their places, and bryng them out of the graues, for I haue knowen my name in Israell. Feare not thou mother of the children, for I haue chosen thee, sayth the Lord. And for thy helpe I shall sende thee my seruauntes Esay and Jeremy, after whose counceil I haue sanctified and prepared for the twelue trees with diuerse frutes, and as many welles, flowyng with milk and honye, and seuen mountaynes, wherupon there growe roses and lylyes, wherin I will fyll my children with ioy. Execute iustice for the widowe, be iudge for the fatherles: geue to the poore, defende the comfortlesse, clothe the naked, heale the wounded and sicke, laughe not a lame manne to scorne, defende the crepell, and let the blynd come into the lyght of my clearnes: * Where soeuer thou fyndest the dead, take them, and bury them, and I shall geue thee, the firste place in my resurrection. Holde still (O my people) and take thy rest, for thy quietnes is come. Feede thy children, O thou good norse, stablyshe their fete: As for the seruauntes whom I haue geuen thee, there shall not one of theym perysshe. For I will seke them from thy numbre, vexe not thy selfe. For when the day of trouble and heaynes commeth, other shall weype and be sorowfull, but thou shalt be mery and plenteous. The hethen shalbe gelous, but they shalbe able to do nothing against the, sayth the Lord. My handes shall couer the, so that thy children shal not see the fire euerlastyng. Be ioyfull, O thou mother with thy children, for I will defyuer the, sayth the Lord. Remember thy dead children, for I shall bryng them out of the earth, and shew mercy vnto them, for I am mercifull, sayth the Lorde almightye. Embrace thy children, vntill I come, and shew mercy vnto them, for my welle runne

Tob. 1. d

ouer, and my grace shall not fayle. I Esdras receaued a charge of the Lord vpon the mount Oreb, that I should go vnto Israell. But when I came vnto Israell, they set me at naughte, and despised the commaundemente of the Lorde. And therefore I saye vnto you, O ye heathen that heare and vnderstand: Loke for your shepehearde, he shall geue you euerlastyng rest, for he is nye at hande, that shall come in the ende of the worlde: Be readye to the reward of the kyngdome, for the euerlastynge lyghte shall shyne vpon you for euermore. Flee the shadow of this worlde, receaue the ioyfulnes of your glory. I testify my sauiour open lye, O receyue the gyft that is geuen you, and be glad, geuing thankes vnto him that hath called you to the heauenly kyngdome. Aryse vp, and stand fast: behold the number of those that be sealed in the feast of the Lord, whiche are departed from the shadowe of the worlde, and haue receaued glorious garmentes of the Lord. Take thy number O Sion, and shut vp thy purified, which haue fulfylled the lawe of the Lord. The number of thy children whom thou longest for, is fulfilled, beseech the power of the Lord, that thy people whiche haue bene called from the beginning, may be halowed. * I Esdras saw vpon the mount Sion a great people, whom I could not number, and they all praysed the Lord with songes of thankesgeuyng. And in the myddest of theym there was a yonge man of an hye stature, more excellent then all they, and vpon euerye one of their heades he set a crowne, and was euer higher and higher, whiche I marueled at greatly. So I asked the aungell, and sayde: Sir, what are these? He answered and sayd vnto me: These be they, that haue put of the mortall clothynge and put on the immortall, & haue testified and knowledged the name of God. Nowe are they crowned, & receaue the rewarde. Then sayd I vnto the aungell: what yong persō is it, that crowneth them, and geueth them the palmes in theyr

Apoc. 7. a

Gene.

Gen. 7

handes,

handes. So he answered, and sayde vnto me: It is the sonne of God, whō they haue knowledged in the worlde. Then began I greately to commende them, that stode so stiffly for the name of the Lord. And so the aungell sayde vnto me: Go thy way, and tel my people, what maner of thynges and how great wonders of the Lord thy God, thou haste sene.

¶ The. iii. Chapter.

IN the thirty yere of the fall of the citye, I was at Babilon, and laye troubled vpon my bedde, and my thoughtes came by ouer my herte: for I sawe the desolation of Sion, and the plenteous wealth of theym that dwelt at Babilon: and my spirite was sore moued, so that I began to speake fearfull wordes to the most hyest, and sayd: O Lorde, Lorde, thou spakest at the beginnyng, when thou plantedst the earth (and that thy self alone) and gauest commaundement vnto the people, and a bodye vnto Adam, whiche was a creature of thy handes, and hast breathed in hym the breth of life: and so he lined before the, and thou leddest him into Paradise, whiche garden of pleasure thy right hande had planted, or euer the earth was made: And vnto him thou gauest commaundemente to lone thy way, which he transgressed, and immediatly thou appoyntedst death in hym, and in his generations. Gene. 6b Of him came nacions, trybes, people, B and kynreddes out of number. * And euery people walked after their owne will, and did nyce thynges before the: Gen. 7.b and as for thy cōmaundemenees, they despysed them. * But in processe of time thou broughtest the water flood, vpon those that dwelt in the worlde, and destroyedst them. And lyke as the death was in Adam, so was the water flood also in these. Neuertheles, one of them thou lefte st: namely, Noe with his housholde, of whom came the righteous men. And it happened that when they that dwelt vpon the earth began to multiplye, and had gotten many children, and were a great people, they began to be more vngodlye then the first. Now when they al liued so wickedlye before thee, * thou Gen. 12. 15. diddest chose thee a man from amonge them, whose name was Abraham. Him thou louedst, and vnto him only thou shewedst thy will, and madest an euerlastyng couenaunt with him, promisynge hym, that thou wouldest Gen. 21a neuer forsake hys seede. * And vnto * Ge. 25c him thou gauest Isaac, * vnto Isaac also thou gauest Jacob and Esau. As for Jacob thou dyddest chose him, and Gen. 32a put backe Esau. * And so Jacob became a greate multitude. And it happened that when thou leddest his sede Exo. 19a out of Egypt, * thou broughtest them Deu. 4.b vppe to the mounte Sion, bowynge downe the heauens, settynge fast the earthe, mouynge the ground, makyng the depthes to shake, and troublynge the worlde: And thy glorye went thorow foure portes of fyre, and earth quakes, and wyndes, and colde: that thou mightest geue the lawe vnto the sede of Jacob, and diligence vnto the generation of Israell. And yet tokest thou not away from them that wicked herte, that thy lawe myght bryng forth fruite in them. For the first Adam bare a wicked hert, transgressed, Rom. 8a and was ouercome, and so be all they that are borne of him. * Thus remayned weaknes with the lawe in the hertes of the people, with the wickednes of the rote: so that the good departed away, and the euil abode still. So the times passed away, and the yeres 1 Re. 16c were brought to an end. * Then diddest thou rayse thee vp a seruaunt cal- 2. Re. 5a led Dauyd, * whom thou commaundedst to buylde a citye vnto thy name, and to offer vppe incense and sacrifyce vnto the therin. This was done now many yeres. Then the inhabytrs of the city forsoke the, and in all thinges did euen as Adam and all hys generations had done: for they also had a wicked hert. And so thou gauest thy citty ouer into the hands of thine enemyes. Are they of Babilon then better & more righteous then thy people, B that they shall therefore haue the dominion of Sion? For when I came there, and sawe their vngodlines, and so great wickednes, that it coulde not be numbred: yea when my soule sawe so manye euyll doers (in the thirtye yere) my herte fayled me: for I sawe, howe thou suffrest them in suche vngodlynes, and sparest the wicked doers: but thyne owne people hast thou roted out, and preserued thin enemies and this haste thou not shewed me. I cannot perceaue how this happeneth. Do they of Babilon then better, then they of Sion? Or is there anye other people, that knoweth thee, sauyng the people of Israell? Or what generation hath so beleued thy couenauntes as Jacob? And yet theyr reward appeareth not, and their labour hath no fruite. For I haue gone here and ther thorowe the Heathen, and I see that they be rych and wealthy, and thinke not vppon thy commaundementes. Weye thou therfore our wickednesse nowe in the balaunce, and theirs also that dwell in the worlde, and so shall thy name be no where founde but in Israell. Or where is there a people vpon earth, that hath not synned before thee? Or what people hath so kept thy commaundementes? Thou shalt fynde, that Israell by name hath kepte thy preceptes, but not the other people and Heathen.

¶ The .iiij. Chapter.

A And the Angell that was sent vnto me (whose name was Uriell) gaue me an answere, and sayd: Thy hert hath take to much vpon it in this worlde, and thou thinkest to comprehende the waye of the hyest. Then sayde I: Yea my Lorde. And he answered me, and sayde: I am sent to shewe thee the wayes, and to set forth three similitudes, before the: whereof if thou canst declare me one, I will shewe thee also the waye, that thou desirest to see: and I shall shewe thee frome whence the wycked herte commeth. And I sayde: Tell on my Lord. Then sayde he vnto me: Go thy way, weye me the weyght of the fire, or measure me the blast of the wynd, or call me agayne the day that is past. Then answered I, and sayde: what man borne is able to do that? why requirest thou such of me? And he sayde vnto me: If I should aske thee, howe depe dwellynges are in the sea? Or how great water sprynges are vppon the firmament? Or how great water sprynges are in the begynnyng of the depe? Or which are the out goynges of Paradyse? Peraduenture thou woldest say vnto me: I neuer went downe yet into the depe nor hell, neyther dyd I euer clime vp into heauen. Neuertheles, nowe haue I asked thee but onely of fire and wind, and of the day, wherthorowe thou haste traueled, and from the which thou canst not bee separated: and yet canst thou geue me no answere of them. He sayd moreouer vnto me: Thyn owne thigs and such as are growen vp with the, canst thou not knowe: howe shoulde thy vessell then be able to comprehend the waye of the Hyest, and nowe out wardly in the corrupt worlde, to vnderstand the corruption that is euydent in my syghte? Then sayd I vnto hym: It were better that we were not at all, then that we should lyue in wickednesse, and to suffer, and not to B knowe wherfore. He answered me, Judi.9b and sayd: I went in a wood, and the 2Pa.15 trees toke such a deuice, & said: Come let vs go, and fight agaynst the sea, that it maye departe awaye before vs, and that we may make vs yet more wods The floudes of the sea also in lyke maner toke this deuice, and sayd: Come, let vs go vp, and fighte agaynste the trees of the wodde that we may make our land the wider. The thought and deuyce of the wod was but vayne and nothyng worth, for the fire came and consumed the wood: The thought of the floudes of the sea came lykewyse to naught also, for the sande stode vp and stopped them. If thou wer iudge nowe betwyxt these two, whom woldest thou iustifye, or whome woldest thou condemne? I answered and said: Verely it is a foolyshe thoughte that they

Esa.45 John.1 1Cor.2

1Joh.5

they bothe haue deuyſed. For the ground is geuen vnto the woode, and the ſea alſo hath his place to beare his fluodes. Then anſwered he me, and ſayd: thou haſt geuen a ryghte iudgement, why iudgeſt thou not thy ſelfe alſo? For lyke as the ground is geuen vnto the wood, and the ſea, to his fluodes: euen ſo • they that dwell vpon Eſa.45.c earth, may vnderſtand nothyng, but Iohn.3.c that which is vpon earth: and he that 1 Cor.2.b dwelleth aboue ỹ heauens, may onely vnderſtād ỹ thinges, that ar aboue the heuens. Then anſwered I, & ſayd: I beſech the, O Lord, let me haue vnderſtandyng: for it was not my mynd to be curious of thy hye thynges, but of ſuch as we daily medle withal, namely: wherfore that Iſraell is blaſphemed of the heathen, and for what cauſe the people (who thou euer haſte loued) is geuen ouer, to be punyſhed of vngodlye nacions: and whye, the lawe of oure fathers is brought to naught, and the written couenauntes com to none effect, and we paſſe away out of the worlde as the greshappers, and our lyfe is a verye feare, and we are not worthye to obtayne mercy: what will he do then vnto his name, whiche is called vpon ouer vs? Of theſe thinges haue I aſked queſtion. Then anſwered he me, and ſayd: The C moore thou ſearcheſt, the moore thou ſhalte marueil: for the worlde haſteth faſt to paſſe away, and cannot compre hend the thynges that are promyſed for the ryghteous in tyme to come: for 1 Ioh.5.c • this worlde is full of vnryghteouſnes and weakenes. But as cōcerning the thinges wherof thou aſkeſt me, I will tell thee. The euyl is ſowen, but the deſtruction therof is not yet come. If the euyll nowe that is ſowen, be not turned vpſide downe, and yf the place where the euyll is ſowen, paſſe not away, then can not the thing come that is ſowen wyth good. For the corne of euyll ſede hath bene ſowen in the herte of man from the begynning, and howe muche vngodlynes hath he brought vp vnto this tyme: and howe much ſhall he yet bryng forth, vntyll he come into the barne? Ponder nowe by thy ſelfe, when the corne of euyll ſede is cut downe, how great a barne ſhall it fyll: I anſwered and ſayde: Howe and when ſhall theſe thynges come to paſſe? Wherfore are our yeres fewe and euyl? And he anſwered me, ſaying: Haſte not thou to much vpon the hyeſt, for thy haſtines to be aboue him is but vayn, thou makeſt to much a doe. Dyd not the ſoules alſo of the righteous aſke queſtion of theſe thinges in their holynes, ſaying: • Howe Apoc.6.b longe ſhall I hope of thys faſhyon? when commeth the fruit of my barne, and my reward? And vpon thys Jeremiell the Archangell gaue them anſwere, and ſaid: Euen when the number of the ſedes is fylled in you, for he hath weyed the worlde in the balaūce; in meaſure and number hath he meaſured the tyme, and moueth it not vntyll the ſame meaſure be fulfylled. Then anſwered I, and ſaid: O Lord, Lord, nowe are we all full of ſinne, and for oure ſake perauenture it is not, the barne of the ryghteous ſhall not be fylled, becauſe of the ſynnes of thē that dwell vpon the earth. So he anſwered me, and ſayd: Go thy waye to D a woman with chyld, and aſke of her when ſhe hath fulfylled her nyne monethes, if her chyldbed maye keepe the birth anye longer within her. Then ſayde I: No Lorde, that can ſhe not. And he ſayd vnto me: In hell the ſecret places of ſoules are lyke the mayn chamber of a woman. For lyke as a woman that trauayleth, maketh haſte, when the time and neceſſitye of the byrthe is at hande. Euen ſo doth ſhe haſte to delyuer it, that is committed vnto her. Loke what thou deſireſt to ſee, it ſhalbe ſhewed the from the begynnyng. Then anſwered I, and ſayde: If I haue founde grace in thy ſyghte, and yf it bee poſſybie, Or, If I bee meete therefore, ſhewe me thenne, whether there bee more to comme then is paſte, or more paſte, thenne is for to comme. What is paſte I knowe: but what is for to come, I knowe not. And he ſaid vnto me: Stād vp vppon the ryghte syde, and I shall expounde the similitude vnto the. So I stode, and behold, an whot burning ouen went ouer before me: and it happened that when the flame was gone by, the smoke had the vpper hand. After this, there wente ouer before me a waterye cloude, and sent down much rayn with a stormie: and when the story rayne was paste, the droppes remayned styll. Then sayde he vnto me: like as the rayne is more thē the droppes, and as the fyre exceadeth the smoke, euen so the mesure of the thinges that are paste, hath the vpperhande. Then wente the droppes and the smoke aboue: and I prayed, and sayde: Maye I lyue (thinckest thou) vntyl that tyme? Or what shall happen in those dayes? He answered me, and sayde: As for the tokens whereof thou askest me, I may tel the of them in parte: but as touchinge thy lyfe, I may not shew thee, for I am not sent therefore.

The .v. Chapter.

NEuertheleſſe, as concerninge the tokens, marke thys. Behold, the dayes shal come, that they which dwell vpon earth, shalbe taken in a great number, and the way
mat. 14. a of the trueth shalbe hyd, and the lande shalbe baren from fayth, but * iniquitye shall haue the vpper hande, lyke as thou haste seene nowe, and as thou haste heard longe agoe. And the land that thou seest now to haue rule shalt thou shortlye see waste. But yf God graunt thee to lyue, thou shalte see after the thyrde trompette, that the sunne shal sodenly shyne agayn in the nyght, and the moone three tymes in the daye, and blud shall droppe out of woodde, and the stoane shal geue hys voyce, and the people shalbe vnquiete: and emōg the shal rule, whom they hope not, that dwel vpon earth, and the fooles shal flit, and the Sodomitishe see shal caste oute hys tythe, and make a noyse in the nyght, which many shall not knowe, but they shal al heare the voice therof. There shalbe a confusion also in manye places, and the fire shalbe ofte sent againe, and the wilde beastes shal go their waye, and monstruous wemen shal beare monsters, and salte waters shalbe founde in the swete: one frende shall fyght againste another: then shall all wit and vnderstanding be hydde, and put asyde into their secrete places, and shalbe sought of manye, and yet not bee founde: then shal vnryghteousnes and voluptcousnes haue the vpper hand vpon earth. One lande also shal aske another, and saye: Is ryghteousnes gone through thee? And it shall say, No: At the same tyme shal men hope, but nothinge obtayne: they shall labour, but theyr wayes shal not prosper. To shew the B such tokens I haue lene, and yf thou wylt praye agayn, and wepe as nowe, and faste seuen dayes, thou shalt heare yet greater thinges. Then I awaked and a fearefulnes wente throughe all my bodye, and my mynde was feeble and carefull, so that I almost sowned wythall. So the aungell that was come to talke wyth me, held me, comforted me, and sette me vppon my fete. And in the seconde night it happened, that Salathiel the captaine of the people, came vnto me, saying: Where hast thou beene? and whye is thy countenaunce so heauy? Knowest thou not, that Israel is commytted vnto the, in the lande of their captiuitye? Up then and eate, and forsake vs not, as the shepeherde that leaueth hys flocke in the hands of ỹ wicked wolues. Then sayde I vnto hym: Go thy waye fro me, and come not nye me: and he heard it, and as I saide: so went he his way fro me. And so I fasted seuen dayes, mournyng and weppyng, like as Uriel the aungel commaunded mee. And after seuen daies it happened, that the thoughtes of my herte wer very greuous vnto me agayne, and my soule receaued the spyrite of vnderstanding and I began to talke wyth the moste hyest agayne, and said: O Lord Lord, of euerye wood of the earth, and of all the trees therof, thou haste chosen the one only vyneyarde: & of all landes of the whole worlde, thou hast chosē thee one pit: and of all floures of the grouñd thou haste chosen thee one lilye: and of al the depthes of the sea thou hast filled the one ryuer: and of al builded cytyes thou haste halowed Sion vnto thy selfe: and of all the foules that are created, thou hast named the one doue: and of al the cattel that are made, thou haste prouided the one sheepe, and among al ỹ multitudes of folckes, thou haste gotten the one people, and vnto thys people whome thou louest, thou gauest a law, that is proued of al. And nowe, O Lorde, why haste thou geuē this one people ouer vnto many? and vpon the one roote thou hast prepared other, and why haste thou scattred thy one only people among many? whych treade them downe: yee whyche haue euer withstand thy promises, and neuer beleeued thy couenauntes? And C though thou werest enemye vnto thy people, yet shouldest thou punishe thē with thine owne handes. Now whē I had spoken these wordes, the Angel that came to me the nyghte afore, was sent vnto me, and sayd vnto me: Here me, and herken to the thing that I say, and I shal tell the more. And I sayd: Speake on my Lord. Then said he vnto me: Thou arte sore vexed and troubled for Israels sake. Louest thou that people better then him that made them? And I said: No Lord, but of verye grefe and compassion haue I spoken. For my reynes payne me euerye houre, because I would haue experyence of the way of the moste hiest, and to seeke oute part of hys iudgemente. And he sayde vnto me: that thou mayest not. And I sayde: wherfore Lord, whereunto was I borne then? Or why was not my mothers childebed then my graue? So hadde I not sene the misery and trouble of Iacab, and the trauayle of my people of Israell. And hee sayde vnto me: Number the thynges that are not yet come: gather me together the droppes that are scattred abrode: make me ỹ floures grene agayne, that are withered: open mee the thing that is closed: and bring me forth the wyndes, that are shut vppe: Shewe me the ymage of a voice, and then shal I declare the thynge, that thou labourest to know. And I said: O Lorde Lord, who may know these things, but he that hath not his dwelling wyth men? As for me, I am vnwise: how may I then speake of these thinges whereof thou askest me. Thē sayde he vnto me: lyke as thou canste do none of these thynges that I haue spoken of, euen so canst thou not fynd out my iudgemente, or in the ende the loue that I haue promised vnto my people. And I said: Behold O Lord, yet art thou nye vnto them that haue no ende: and what shall they doe, that haue beene before mee: or we that bee nowe, or they that shall comme after vs? And he sayde vnto me: I wyll lyken my iudgement vnto a ryng. Lyke as there is no slackenesse of the laste, euen so is there no swyftenes of the ryste. Soo I aunswered and sayde: couldest thou not make those (that haue bene made, and be now, and that ar for to come) in one, that thou mightest shew thy iudgemente the sooner? Then answered he me, and sayd: The D creature may not haste aboue the maker, nether may the worlde hold thē at once, that shalbe created. And I sayd: How hast thou said then vnto thy seruaunt, that thou liuyng maker, haste made the creature, liuing at once, and the creature bare it? euen so myght it now also bear them that be present at ones. And he said vnto me: Like the childbed of a womā, and say vntoher: If thou bringest forth children, why doest thou it not together, but one after an other. Pray her therfor, to bring forth ten children at ones. And I said She cānot, but muste doo it one after another. Then said he vnto me: Euē so haue I geuen a childebed vnto the earthe, for those that be sowen vpon it by processe of tyme. For lyke as a younge chylde maye not bryng foorth thinges that belonge to the aged: euen so haue I ordeyned the worlde whyche I made. And I asked, and sayde: Seeyng thou haste nowe geuen me awaye, I will speake before thee: for our mother of whom thou haste tolde me, is yet yonge, and nowe she draweeth nye vnto age. He answered me, and sayd: Aske a woman that beareth chyldren, and she shal tel thee. Saye vnto her: wherfore are not they (whō thou haste nowe brought forth) lyke those that were before thee, but lesse of stature. And she shal answer thee:

the

They that bee borne in the youthe of strength are of one fashion, and they that are borne in the time of age (whē the childbed fayleth) are otherwyse.
Consider nowe thy selfe, how that ye are lesse of stature, thē those that were before you, and so are they that come after you lesse thē ye, as the creatures which nowe begynne to be olde, and haue passed ouer the strēgth of youth.
Then sayde I: Lorde I beeche thee, if I haue found fauour in thy syghte, shewe thy seruaunt, by whome doest thou visite thy creature?

The .vi. Chapter.

AND he sayd vnto me: In the begynning when the ground was made: before the world stoode, or euer the windes blewe, before it thondred and lyghtened, or euer the foundations of Paradyse were layed, before the fayre flour-es were seene, or euer the moueable powers were stablyshed, before the innumerable multitude of aungelles were gathered together, or euer the highnesses of the ayre were lifted vp, afore the measures of the fyrmamente were named, or euer the chimneys in Syon were hote, and or the pre-sente yeares were sought out, and or euer the inuēctions of them that now synne, wer put asyde, before they wer sealed that nowe gather thy the for a treasure: then did I consider and ponder all these thynges, and they al wer made through me, and throughe none other: by me also they be ended, and by none other. Then answered I and sayd: whych shalbe the partyng asunder of the times? Or when shalbe the ende of the fyrste, and the begynninge of it that followeth? And he sayde vnto mee: From Abraham vnto Isaac, when Jacob and Esau were borne of hym, Jacobs hande helde fyrste the heele of Esau: for Esau is the ende of thys world, and Jacob is the begyn-ning of it that followeth. The hand of man betwixte the hele and the hande.
Other question (Esdras) aske not thou. I answered then, and sayd: O Lorde, Lorde, yf I haue found fauour in thy syght, I beseche thee, shewe thy seruaunte, the ende of thy tokens, whereof thou shewedst me parte the laste nyghte. Then he answered, and sayde vnto me: Stand vp vpon thy feete, and heare the perfect voyce and sounde. There shal come a great motion, but the place wher thou standest shal not be moued. And therefore whē thou hearest the wordes: be not afraide:
for of the ende shal the worlde and the foundacion of the earth be vnderstand And why? the worlde therof trembleth and quaketh, for it knoweth, that it must be chaunged at the ende. And it B happeneth that when I had heard it, I stoode vp vpon my feete, and herkened: and beholde, there was a voyce that spake, and the sounde of it was lyke the sounde of manye waters, and it saide: Beholde the dayes come, that I will begynne to drawe nye, and to visite them that dwel vpon earth, and wil begynne to make inquisition of them, what they be that haue hurtequitye wyth vnrighteousnesse, and when the lowe estate of Syon shall be fulfylled: and when the worlde, that shal vanyshe awaye, shalbe ouerlea-led, then wyl I do these tokens. The bookes shalbe opened before the fyr-mamente, and they shall see altogether, and the chyldren of a yeare olde shall speake wyth theyr voyces: the wemen wyth childe shall bryng forth vntymelye children of three or foure monthes olde, and they shall lyue, and be rayled vp: and sodenly shal the sow en places appeare as the vnsowen, the full store houses shall sodaynelye
be

be founde emptye, and the trompette shal geue a sounde, which when euery man heareth, they shalbe hastelye afrayde. * At that tyme shall frendes Mich.7.a fyght one agaynst another lyke ennemyes, and the earth shall stand in fear wyth them. The sprynges of the welles shal stand styl, and in three houres they shal not renne, whoe so euer remayneth from al these thynges that I haue tolde thee, shal escape, and see my saluation, and the ende of youre worlde. And the men that haue receiued, shal see it, they that haue not tasted death from theyr byrthe, and the heart of the indwellers shalbe chaunged, and turned into another mening: for euil shalbe put out, and disceit shal bee quenched. As for faith, it shal florysshe, corruption shalbe ouercome, and the truth, whiche hath beene so longe wythout fruite, shalbe declared. And it happened whenne hee talked wyth me, that I looked demurely vpō him, before whom I stode, and these wordes sayde he vnto mee: I am come to shewe thee the tyme of the nyghte for to come. If thou wylt praye yet more and faste seuen dayes agayne, I shall tell thee more thynges, and greater ℣ then before: for thy voyce is heard before the hyest: for whye? the myghtye hath seene thy ryghteous dealyng: he hath seene also thy chastytie, whiche thou haste had euer sence thy youthe:
and therefore hath he sent me to shewe thee all these thynges, and to saye vnto thee: Be of good confort, and feare not, and haste not with the times that are paste to thynke vayne thinges, and make not hast of the latter times. And it hapned after this, ỹ I wept agayn, and fasted seuen daies in like maner, that I myghte fulfyll the three weekes: whyche hee tolde mee: In the eyghte nyghte was my hearte vexed wythin me agayne, and I beganne to speake before the hyest: for my spyrite was greatelye sette on fyre, and my soule was in dystresse, and I said: O Lorde, thou spakest vnto thy creature Gen.1.a. from the begynning) (euen the fyrste daye) and saydest. * Lette heauen and earth be made, and thy worde was a perfect worke. And then was there the spirite, and the darknesses were yet on euery side, and silēce: there was no mans voyce as yet from thee. Thē commaundedst thou a fayre lyghte to come foorth out of thy treasures, that thy worke might appeare and be sene.
Upon the second day thou madest the spirite of the firmament, and commandedst it to part a sunder, and to make a diuision betwixt the waters, that the one part myght remayne aboue: And the other benethe. Uppon the thyrde day thou broughtest to passe, that the waters were gathered in the seuenth part of the earth: sixe partes hast thou dryed vp, and kepte them, to thintent that men myght sow and occupy husbandry therin. As soone as thy worde wente foorthe, the worke was made.
For immediatly there was great and innumerable fruite, and many diuers pleasures and desires of temptation, flowers of changeable colour & smell Gen.1.d and this was done the third day. * Upon the fourth day, thou commādedst that the Sunne should geue his shine and the Moone her lyght: the starres diddest thou set in order, * and gauest Deu.4.c them a charge, to do seruice euen vnto man, that was for to bee made. Upon the fyft day, thou saydest vnto the seuenth part (where the * waters were Gen.1.c gathered) that they shold bryng forth dyuers beastes, foules, and fyshes.
And so it came to passe, that the dombe ℣ waters, and withoute soule, brought foorth lyuyng beasts, at the commandement of God, that all people might prayse thy wonderous workes. Then bydst thou preserue two foules, ỹ one thou calledst Enoch, and the other Leuiathan, and dyddest separate the one from the other: for the seuenth parte (namely, wher the water was gathered together) might not holde theym bothe. Unto Enoch thou gauest one part, whiche was dried vp the thirde day, that he shoulde dwell in the same part, wherin ar a thousand hyls. But vnto Leuiathā, thou gauest the seuēth part, namely the moyst, and hast kepte hym

him to deuoure what thou wilte, and whan. Upon the syxte daye thou gauest commaundement vnto the earth, that before thee, it should bryng forth beastes, cattel, and all that creepe, and (besydes thys) Adam also, whome thou madest Lorde of all thy creatures. Of hym come we al, and the people also, whom thou haste chosen specially vnto thy selfe. Al thys haue I said now and spoken before thee, that I myght shewe how that the worlde is made for our sakes. As for the other people which also come of Adā, thou haste sayd, that they are nothing but be lyke a spetle, and haste lykened the aboundaunce of them vnto a drop that falleth frō the roofe of the house. And nowe O Lorde, the Heathen which haue euer bene reputed as nothing, haue begonne to be lordes ouer vs, and to deuour vs: but we thy people (whom thou haste called the firste borne, thy onely begotten, and thy feruent louer) are geuen into their handes and power. If the worlde now be made for our sakes, why haue we not the inheritaunce in possession wyth the worlde. How longe shal this endure?

¶ The. vii. Chapter.

And it happened after that I had spoken out these wordes, there was sente vnto mee an angel, which had bene by me also the nightes afore, and he sayde vnto mee: Up Esdras, and heare the woordes that I am comme to tell thee. And I sayde: speake on Lorde my God. Thē sayde he vnto me: The sea is set in a wyde place, that it myght be depe and great: but the entraunce is narrowe and smal lyke a ryuer. For who wold goe into the sea, to looke vpon it, and to rule it? If he wente not throughe the narowe, howe myght he come into the brode? Item another: A citye is buylded, and set vpon a brode field, and is ful of all goodes, the entraunce is narow and sodaine, like as yf there were a fyre at the ryghte hande, and a deepe water at the left, and as it were onely one straite path betwixt theym both, so small that there could but one man go there. If this citie now were geuen to an heyre and he neuer wente throughe the perilous waye, howe woulde he receaue hys inheritaunce? And I sayde: It is so Lord. Thē said hee: Euen so is Israel also a portion. And why, for their sakes haue I made the worlde: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was the thinge iudged that was done. Then were the entrances of the world made narowe, ful of sorowe and trauayle. They are but fewe and euyl, full of perels and laboure. For the entraunces of the fore worlde were wyde and sure, and brought immortall fruite.

If they nowe whiche are entred into this world may not comprehend these strayte and bayne thinges, much lesse may they comprehend and vnderstand the secrete thynges. Whye disquietest thou thy selfe then, seing thou art but a corruptible man? And what wouldest thou know, whereas thou art but mortal? And whye haste thou not receaued into thyne heart the thing that is for to comme, but that is presente? Then sayde I: O Lorde Lord, thou haste ordeyned in the lawe, that the ryghteous should inherite these thinges, but that the vnfaythfull and vngodye should perysshe. Neuertheiesse the ryghteous shal suffer strayte thinges, and hope for wyde: for they that haue lyued vngodly and suffred strayt thynges, shal not see the wide. And he sayde vnto me: There is no iudge aboue God, and none that hath vnderstandynge aboue the hiest. For there be manye that perysshe, because they despise the law of God, that is set before them. For God hath geuen strait commandement to such as come, that they knowe what they do, and howe they shold liue: and if they kept this, they should not be punished. Neuertheiesse they were not obediente vnto him, but spake agaynste him: ymagyned vaine thynges, and purposed to synne, and sayde moreouer, that there was no God, and that God regarded it not. Hys wayes haue they not knowen

Deu. 8. B

Ge. 18.
Exo. 3

2 Re. 24
2 pa. 4.
3 re. 17

swen, hys law haue they despised, and denied hys promises: in hys statutes and ordinaunces haue they not beene faythfull and stedfast, and haue not performed hys workes. And therefore Esdras: vnto the full, plentye: and to the emptye, emptines. Beholde the tyme shal come, that these tokens whiche I haue tolde thee, shall come to passe, and the bryde shal appeare, and the earth that now passeth away, shal be shewed, and whosoeuer is deliuered from the foresayde euels, shall see my wonders. For my sonne Iesus shalbe openlye declared, wyth those that be wyth him: and they that remayne, shalbe merie in foure hundred yeares. After these same yeares shall my sonne Chryst dye, and all menne that haue lyfe, and the worlde shalbe turned into the old silence seuē daies, lyke as in the fore iudgementes, so that no man shal remayne. And after seuen dayes, the world that yet awaked not, shalbe raised vp, and shall dye corrupte. And the earth shall restore those that haue slepte in her, and so shal the duste those that dwell in scylence, and the secrete places shal delyuer those that bee commytted vnto theym. And the moste hyest shalbe openly declared vpon the seat of iudgement, and all myserye shall vanishe awaye, and longe suffringe shalbe gathered together. But the iudgemente shal continue, the truth shal remaine, and faith shal waxe strong, the worke shal folowe, and the reward shalbe shewed: the ryghteousnes shal watch and the vnrighteousnes shal beare no rule. Then sayde I: * Abraham prayed first for the Sodomites, * and Moses for the fathers that synned in the wyldernes, and hee that camme after hym for Israel, in the time of Achas and Samuel: and * Dauid for the destruction, * and Salomon for theym that came into the Sanctuarye, * and Helias for those that receaued rayne, and for the dead, that he myghte lyue: and Ezekias for the people in the tyme of Sennacherib: and dyuerse other in lyke maner, which haue prayed for many. Euen so now, seinge the corrupte is growen vp, and wyckednes increased, and the righteous haue prayed for the vngodlye, wherefore shal it not bee so nowe also? He answered me, and saide: Thys presente worlde is not the end, there remayneth much honoure in it. Therefore haue they prayed for the weake. But the daye of doome shalbe the ende of thys tyme, and the begynninge of the immortalytie for to come, wherein all corruption banyshed, all volupteousnes is losed, al mysbeleefe taken away, ryghteousnes growne, and the verity spronge vp. Then shal no man bee able to saue him that is destroyed, nor to oppresse him that hath gotten the victorye. I answered then, and said: Thys is my fyrst and last saying: that it hadde bene better, not to haue geuen the earth vnto Adam: or els when it was geuen him, to kepe hym that hee should not synne. For what profit is it for men now in thys presente tyme to lyue in heauines, and after death to looke for punishment? O thou Adam what haste thou done? For though it was thou that synned, thou arte not fallē alone, but we al that come of the. For what profit is it vnto vs, if there be promised vs an immortall tyme, where as we medle wyth deadly workes? and that there is promised vs an euerlasting hope, where as our selues are euil and vaine, and that there are laied vp for vs dwellings of health & fredome, wher as we haue lined euil, and that the worshippe of the hyest is kept to defend them, which haue led a patient life, wheras we haue walked in the most wicked waies of al? And that there shalbe shewed a paradyse, whose fruit endureth for euer, wherin is fredome and medicyne, where as we shall not go in: for we haue walked in vnpleasaunte places: And that the faces of them, which haue abstyned, shal shine aboue the starres, wher as our faces shalbe blacke and darke: For while we lined and dyd vnrighteoustye, we consydered not that wee shoulde suffer therefore after death:

Then

Ge.18.d
*Exo.32
2Re.24b
*2pa.4,c
*3re.17.

The answered he me, and said: This is the consideration and thoughte of the battayle, whiche man hath vppon earth: that yf he bee ouercome, he shall suffer as thou haste said. But if he get the victorye, he shal receaue the thing that I saye. For thys is the lyfe, wherof Moyses spake vnto the people, whyle he lyued, sayinge: ✱ Chose the lyfe, that thou mayest lyue. Neuer theless, they beleued hym not, neither the prophetes after him. No nor mee whiche haue spoken vnto theym that heauines should not reache vnto them to their destruction, lyke as ioye is for to come ouer those that haue suffered them selues to be enfourmed in salua tiō. I aunswered then, and sayde: I knowe Lorde, that the hieste is mercyful, in that he hath mercye vpon them which are not yet in the world, and vpon those also that walke in hys lawe: and that ✱ he is paciente and long sufferynge towarde those that haue sinned in their workes, and that he is liberal to geue where as it requyreth: and that he is of great mercye, for hee multiplyed hys louinge kindnes towarde those that are present, and that are paste, and to them which are for to come. For yf he multiply not hys mercies, the worlde shall not be made lyuynge, wyth those that dwel therein. He geueth also, for yf hee gaue not of hys goodnes, that they whiche haue done euil myght bee eased from theyr wyckednes, the ten thousand parte of men should not be made lyuyng. And yf the iudge forgaue not those ỳ may be healed with his word, & if he wold stroye the multitude that stryueth, there shoulde be very fewe lefte in an innumerable multitude.

deu. 30.d

Rom. 2.a

¶ The viii. Chapter.

And he answered me, sayinge: The moste hyest made thys worlde for many, but ỳ world to come for fewe. I wil tel thee a similitude, Esdras: As when thou askest the earth, it shal saye vnto thee, that it geueth much moulde, wherof earthen vesselles are made, but little of it that gold commeth of. Euen so is it wyth the worke of thys world, ✱ There be many created, but fewe shalbe preserued. Then aunswered I and sayde: Then swalowe vppe the wit (thou soule) and deuour the vnderstanding, for thou art agreed to hearken and to geue care, and wyllyng to prophecye: for thou haste no longer space genen thee, but onelye to lyue. O Lord, wilt thou not geue thy seruants leaue that wee maye praye before thee, and that thou mayest geue sede vnto our heart, and builde our vnderstandynge, that there maye come fruit of it: and that euery one which is corrupte, and beareth the state and place of a man, maye lyue? For thou art alone, & we all are one workmanshyp of thy hands, lyke as thou hast sayd. And like as ỳ body is fashioned nowe in the mothers wombe, and geueste the members, and thy creature is preserued in fyre and water: and nyne monethes doeth thy worke suffer thy creature, which is fashioned in her: but the thing that preserueth, and it, that is preserued, shall bothe bee kepte together: and and when time is, the wombe deliuereth the thynge that is kepte and growen in her. For thou haste commaunded the breastes to geue mylke vnto the fruit, that the thyng whiche is created and fashioned, may be nozished for a tyme: and then thou dyspossest and ordrest it wyth thy mercye, bryngest it vp wyth thy ryghteousnes, nurturest it in thy lawe, and refourmest it wyth thy vnderstanding, mortifyest it as thy creature, and makest it lyuing as thy worke. Seynge then that thou destroiedst him, which wyth so great labours is created and fashioned through thy commaundemente, thou couldest lyghtlye ordeyne also, that the thynge whiche is made, might be preserued. And this I speak nowe of al menne in general: as thou knowest, but of thy people: for whose sake I am sorye: and of thy inheritaunce, for whose cause I mourn: and of Israel for whom I am woful: and of Iacob, for whose sake I am grieued, therefore begin I to praye before thee, thee, for my self and for them, for I see the fall of vs, euen of vs, that dwell vpon earth. But I haue hearde the swiftnes of the iudge, whiche is to come: therfore heare my voice, and vnderstand my wordes, and I shall speke before thee. This is the beginnyng of the wordes of Esdras, before he was receaued: O Lorde, thou that dwellest in euerlastyngnesse, whose eyes are lyft vp in the ayre, whose stoole is exceading hye, whose glorye and maiestye maye not be comprehended, before whō the hostes of heauē stand with trembling, whose keping is turned in wynde and fyre, whose word is true, whose talking is stedfast, whose commaundement is stronge, whose ordynaunce is fearefull, whose loke drieth vp the depthes, whose wrath maketh the mountaynes to melte awaye, and whose truth beareth witnes. O hear the prayer of thy seruaunt, and marke with thyne eares the petition of thy creature. For whyle I lyue, I wyll speake, and so longe as I haue vnderstanding, I will answer. O loke not vpon the synnes of thy people, which serue in the trueth. Haue no respecte vnto the wicked studies of the Heathen, but to the desire of those that kepe thy testimonyes with sorowes. Thinke not vpō those that do walke sayndlye before thee, but vpon them, which with will haue knowen thy feare. Let it not be thy will to destroy them, whiche haue had beastlye maners, but to loke vppon them that haue clearly taught thy lawe. Take thou no indignation at them, whiche are worse then beastes: but loue them, that alway put their trust in thy righteousnes and glorye: for we and oure fathers haue all the same sickenes and disease, but because of our sinnes thou shalt be called mercifull. For yf thou hast mercy vpon vs, thou shalt be called mercifull, where as we haue no workes of ryghteousnes: for the rygh C teous whiche haue layed vppe manye good workes together, shall oute of their dedes receue reward. For what is man, that thou shouldest take displeasure at hym? Or what is the corruptible & mortall generation, y thou shouldest be so rough towarde hym? 2 Par 6.

* For of a trueth there is no man among them that be borne, but he hath dealt wickedly: and among the faythfull ther is none, which hath not done amysse. For in this (O lord) thy righteousnes and thy goodnes shalbe praysed and declared, if thou be mercyfull vnto them, which are not rich in good workes. Then aunswered he me, and sayd: Some thinges hast thou spoken aright, and accordyng vnto thy wordes it shal be. For I will not vereiye considre the workes of them, whiche haue synned before deathe, before the iudgement, before destruction, but I wil reioyce ouer the worke & thought of the ryghteous. I wyll remember also the pilgremage, the holy making and the reward. Like as I haue spoken now, so shall it come to passe. For as the husbandman soweth much sede vpon the ground, and planteth manye trees, and yet alway the thyng that is sowen or planted is not all kept sake, neyther doeth it all take rote: Euen so is it of theym that are sowen in the world, they shall not all be preserued. I answered then and sayd: If I haue found grace, then let me speake. Lyke as the husband mans sede perysheth, if it receaue not rayne in due season, or if ther come to much rayne vpon it: Euen so perysheth man also, whyche is created with thy hands, and is like vnto thyne owne ymage, and to thy selfe, for whose sake thou hast made all thinges, and lykened him vnto the husband mans sede. Be not wroth at vs, O Lord, but spare thy people, and haue mercy vpon thyne owne inheritaunce: O be mercifull vnto thy creature. Then answered he me and sayd: Thinges present are for the present, and thinges to come, for such as be to come. For thou lackest yet muche, scynge thou mayest loue my creature aboue me: I haue ofte tymes drawen nye vnto thee, but neuer to the vnrighteous. In this also thou art marueious before the hyest, in that thou haste humbled thy selfe, as it becommeth the, and hast not regarded thine owne selfe, that thou arte had in such honoure among the ryghteous. Therfore shall great wretchednes and mysery come vpon them, that in the latter time shall dwel in the worlde, because they haue walked in great pride But vnderstand thou for thy self, and seke out glory for such as be lyke the: for vnto you is paradise opened, the tree of life is planted, the time to come is prepared, plenteousnesse made readye, a citye is buylded for you, and a reste is prepared, yea perfect goodnes and wisedome. The roote of euyll is marked from you, the weakenes, and mothe is hyd frome you, and into hell flyeth corruption in forgetfulnes. Sorowes are vanyshed away, and in the ende is shewed the treasure of immortalitye. And therfore aske thou no more questions concernynge the multitude of them that perysshe. For they haue taken libertie: despised the hyest, thought scorne of his lawe, and forsaken his waye. Moreouer, they haue Psa. 14 a trodden down his righteous, and · said in their herte, that there is no God, yea and that wittingly, for they dye. For lyke as the thynge that I haue spoken of, is made ready for you: Euē so is thirste and payne prepared for them. For it was not hys wyll that men shoulde come to naught, but they wich be created, haue defiled the name of hym that made theym, and are vnthankefull vnto him, which prepared lyfe for theym. And therefore is my iudgement now at hand. These thinges haue I not shewed vnto all men, but vnto fewe, namely vnto thee, and to such as be like the. Then answerd I and sayde: Behold O Lorde, nowe hast thou shewed me the multitude of the tokens, whiche thou wilte begyn to do at the last: but at what tyme and when, thou hast not shewed me.

Gen. 4.a

D

¶ The. ix. Chapter.

3 HE answered me then & sayde: Measure thou the tyme dilygentlye in it selfe, when thou seest that one part of the tokens come to passe, whyche I haue tolde thee beefore: So shalte thou vnderstande, that it is the very same tyme, wherin the Hyest will begynne to visite the worlde, whiche he made. And when there shall be an earthe quake and vproare of the people in the worlde, then shalte thou well vnderstand, that the most hyest spake of those thinges, frō the dayes that were before thee, euen from the begynnyng. For lyke as all that is made in the worlde hath a beginning and end, and the ende is manyfest: Euen so the tymes also of the hyest haue plain beginnings in wonders and signes, and the ende in worckynge and in tokens. And euery one that shalbe saued, and shall be able to escape by hys workes and by faythe, wherin ye haue beleued, shalbe preserued from the sayd perils: and shall see my sauioure in my lande, and within my borders, for I haue halowed me from the world. Then shall they be in carefulnesse, whiche nowe haue abused my wayes: and they that haue cast them out dispitefullye, shall dwell in payne. For suche as in their life haue receaued benefites, and haue not knowen me, and they that haue abhorred my lawe, whyle they had yet fredome, and when they had yet open leysure of amendemente and conuersion, and vnderstode not, but despysed it: the same muste knowe it after deathe in payne. And therefore be thou nomore carefull, how the vngodly shalbe punyshed, and howe the ryghteous shall be saued, and whose the world is, and for whom the worlde, and when it is. Then answered I and sayd: · I haue B talked before, and now I speake, and 4 Esc. 8. b will speake also hereafter, that there be many mo of them whiche perysshe, then shalbe saued, lyke as the floude is greater then the droppes. And he answered me, saying: lyke as the field is, so is also the sede: as the floures be, so are the coulours also: suche as the workeman is, such is also the worke: and as the husband man is hym selfe, so is hys husbandrye also, for it was the tyme of the worlde. And when I prepared.

prepared for theym that are nowe, or euer the worlde was made, where in they should dwell, then was there no man that withstode me. Nowe when euery one was, and the maker also in the world, whiche is nowe prepared, and the moneth that ceaseth not, and the lawe, whyche is vnsearcheable, their maners were corrupte. Soo I considred the world, and beholde, ther was peryll, because of thoughtes that were come into it. And I sawe, and spared theim greately, and haue kepte me a wyneberye of the grapes, and a plante frome amonge manye generacions. Let the multitude peryshe then, whiche are growen vp in vayne, and let my grape and wyneberry be kepte: euen my plante, for with greatte laboure haue I made it vp. Neuertheless, yf thou wylte take vpon thee yet seuen dayes moo (but thou shalte not faste in them) goo thy waye then into the fielde of floures, where no house is buylded, and eate onely of the floures of the field, taste not flesshe, drinke no wyne, but eate floures onelye. Praye vnto the Hyest continually, so C wyll I come, and talke with the. So I wente my waye and came into the fielde whiche is called Ardath (lyke as he commaunded me) and there I sat amonge the floures, and dyd eate of the hearbes of the fielde, and the meate of the same satisfyed me. After seuen dayes I sat vppon the grasse, and my herte was vexed within me lyke as afore: and I opened my mouth and beganne to talke before the Hyest, and sayde: O LORDE, thou Exo.19d that shewest thy selfe vnto vs, • thou Deut.4d haste declared and opened thy selfe vnto oure fathers in the wyldernesse, in a place, where no man dwelleth, in a baren place, when they came oute of Egypte, and thou spakest, sayinge: Heare me, O Israell, and marke my wordes, thou sede of Jacob: Behold, I sowe my lawe in you, and it shall brynge fruite in you, and ye shall bee honored in it for euer. For our fathers which receiued the lawe, kept it not, and obserued not thyn ordinances and statutes, and the fruit of thy lawe was not declared, for it might not. for why it was not thyne. • For they that re- Deu. 32. f ceiued it, perysshed because they kepte not the thyng that was sowen in the. It is a custome when the ground receaueth sede, or the sea a ship, or a vesselle meate and drynke, that when it perisheth, or is broke, wherin a thyng is sowen, or wherin any thing is put: the thynges also peryshe, and are broken, whiche are sowen or put therin. But vnto vs it hath not happened so: D for wee that haue receyued the lawe, peryshe in synne, and our heart whyche also receaued the law: Not withstandynge, • the Lawe perisheth not, Esa.40 a but remaynethe in hys laboure. And 2.tim.2 a when I consydered these thynges in my hearte after thys manner, I looked aboute me wyth myne eyes, and vppon the ryght syde. • I sawe a wo- 4.Es. 10 man, which mourned sore, made great lamentation, and wept with a lowde voyce: her cloathes were rent in pieces, and shee hadde ashes vppon her heade. Then let I my thoughtes go, that I was in, and tourned me vnto her, and sayd: Wherfore wepest thou? why arte thou so sory, and discomforted? And she sayd vnto me: Syr, let me bewayle my selfe, and take yet more sorowe: for I am sore vexed in my mynde, and brought very lowe. And I sayde vnto her: What ayleth thee? Or who hath done any thyng to thee? Tell me. She sayde: I haue bene vnfruitfull and barcyn, and haue hadde an husbande thyrtye yeares. And these thyrtye yeares I doo nothynge elles daye and nyghte, and all howers, but make my prayer to the Hyest. After thyrtye yeares GOD heard me thy handmayden, & loked vpon my miserie, consydred my trouble and gaue me a sonne, and I was glad of hym, so was my husbande also, and all my neyghbours, & we gaue greate honoure vnto the Myghtie. And I nourysshed hym wyth great trauayle. So when he grewe vp, and came to the tyme, that he should haue a wyfe, I made a feast.

The. x. Chapter.

AND it happened that whē my sonne went into hys chamber he fel dowe, and dyed: then ouerthrewe we al the lyghtes, and all my neighbours rose vp to conforte me. Then toke I my rest vnto the second day at nyght: and when they hadde al rested, that they myghte comforte me, I rested and also rose vppe by nighte, and fledde, and am comme hither into thys fyelde as thou seest: and am purposed not to come in the citye, but to remayne here, and neyther to eate nor drynke, but continually to mourn and to faste, vntyl I dye. Then let I my meditations and thoughtes fall, that I was in, and spake to her in displeasure: Thou foolysh woman, seest thou our heuines and mourninge, and what happeneth vnto vs: how Sion our mother is all wofull, and sory, and howe shee is cleane brought dowe and in mysery: seing we be all nowe in heauines, and make oure mone (for we be all sorowful.) As for the heuynes that thou takest, it is but for one sonne. Demaunde the earth, and shee shal tel the, that it is she which ought (by reason) to mourne, for the fall of so manye that growe vppon her. For from the begynnyng al men are borne of her, and other shal come: and behold they walke almoste al into destruction, and manye of theym shalbe rooted oute. Whoe shoulde then (by reason) make more mourninge then she, that hath loste so greate a multitude: and not thou which art sorye, but for one. But yf thou wouldest saye vnto me: My mourning is not lyke the mournyng of the earth, for I haue loste the fruite of my body, which I bare with heaupnes: but the earth is accordyng to the maner of the earth, and the present multitude goeth agayne into her as it is come to passe. Then say I vnto thee: lyke as thou hast borne wyth trauayle and sorowe, euen so the earth also from the begynninge geueth her fruite vnto manne, of hym that made her. And therefore wythholde thy sorowe and heauines by thy selfe, and looke what happeneth vnto the, beare it stronglye. For yf thou iudgest the marcke and ende of God to be righteous and good, and receauest hys counsel in tyme, thou shalt be commended therein. Go thy way then into the citye to thy husband. And she sayd vnto me: that wyll I not do, I wyl not go into the citye, but here wil I dye. So I commened more with her and said: Doe not so, but be counselled, and folowe me: for howe manye falles hath Sion? Be of good comfort because of the sorowe of Jerusalem. For thou seest that our sanctuary is laid waste, & our aulter broken, our tēple destroyed, our playinge of instrumentes and syngynge layed dowe, the thankes geuing put to silence, our mirth is banyshed awaye, the lyghte of oure candlestycke is quenched, the arcke of the couenaunte is taken from vs, all our holy thyngs are defiled, and the name that is called vpon ouer vs, is dyshonoured: our childzen are put to shame, our pryestes are brente, oure Leuytes are caried away into captiuitye, oure byrgyns are defyled, and oure wyues rauished, our ryghteous men spoyled, and our chyldzen destroyed, our yong men are brought in bondage, and our stronge worthyes are become weake: and Sion (whyche seale is the greatest of al) is louted vp from her worshyp: for she is deliuered into the handes of theym that hate vs. And therefore shake of thy great heaupnes, and put away the multitude of sorowes: that the myghty may be merciful vnto thee, and that the hyest maye geue the rest from thy labour and trauaile. And it happened, that when I was talkyng wyth her, her face dyd shyne, and glyster, so that I was afrayde of her, and mused what it myght be. And immediatly she cast out a great voice, verye feareful, so that the earth shoke at the noyse of the woman: and I loked, and beholde, the woman, appeared vnto mee nomore: but there was a Cytye buylded, and a place was shewed

Heb. 11.

4. Esr. 4

4. Esd.

swed frome the grounde and foundacion. Thenne was I afrayde, and C cryed wyth a lowde voyce, and sayde:
4.Esd.4.a where is Uriell the angell, • whiche came to me at the fyrst? For he hathe caused me to comme in many consyderations and hys thoughtes, and myne ende is turned into corruption, & my prayer to rebuke. And as I was speakyng these wordes, he came vnto me, and loked vpon me, and I laye as one that had bene dead, and myne vnderstandyng was altered, and he toke me by the ryght hande, and comforted me, and sette me vpon my fete, and sayde vnto me: What ayleth thee? and why is thyne vnderstandyng vexed? and the vnderstandyng of thy hearte, and wherfore arte thou sory? And I said: Because thou haste forsaken me: and I haue done • accordyng vnto thy wor-4.Esd.9. des: I went into the fielde, and there haue I seene thynges, that I am not able to expresse. He sayde vnto mee: Stand vp, and be manly, and I shall geue thee exhortation. Then sayd I: Speake vnto me my Lord, forsake me not, least I dye in vayne: for I haue sene that I knew not, and heard that I doo not know. Or shall my vnderstandyng bee disceaued, & my mynde?
But nowe I beseche thee, that thou wilt shew thy seruaunt of this wonder. He answered me then and sayd: Heare me, and I shall enfourme thee, and tell thee wherfore thou art afraid, for the hyest hath opened many secrete thynges vnto theee. He hath sene that thy way is right, and that thou takest sorowe contynuallye for thy people, and makest great lamētation for Sion: and therfore vnderstande the visiō, whiche thou sawest a little while agoe after this maner: Thou sawest a woman mournynge, and thou haste comforted her: Neuertheless, nowe seest thou the lykenes of that woman noo more, but thou thoughtest there was a Citie builded: and lyke as shee tolde thee of the fall of her sonne, so is thys the answere: The woman whō thou sawest, is Syon, and where as she tolde thee, that she hath ben thyrtye yeres vnfruitfull and barein, those are the .xxx. yeres, wherin there was no offerynge made in her. But after D xxx. yeres Salomon buylded her, and offred, and then bare the bareyn a son.
And where as she tolde thee: that shee nourysshed hym with labor, that was the dwellynge of Jerusalem. But where as she told thee that her sonne dyed, when she came into her chaumber, that is the fal of Jerusalem. And thou sawest her lykenesse, howe shee mourned for her sonne: and what els hapned vnto her, I haue shewed the.
And nowe God seeth, that thou arte sorye in thy mynde, and suffrest frome thy hert for her, and so hath he shewed thee her clerenesse, and the fayrenesse of her beautie. And therfore I badde thee remayne in the fielde where noo house is buylded. For I knewe that the Hyest wold shew this vnto thee, therfore I cōmanded thee to go into the field, where no foūdation nor buil dynge is. For in the place where the Hyest wyll shew his citie, there shall be no mās building. And therfore fear not, and let not thyne heart be afrayd, but goe thy way in, and see the glorious and fayre buyldynge, and howe great it is, & how great thou thinkest it after the measure of thyne eies, and then shalt thou heare as much as thyn eares may comprehend. For thou art blessed aboue many other, and art called with the Hyest, as the fewe. But to morow at nyght thou shalt remain here, and so shall the Hyest shew thee visions of hye thynges, which he will doo vnto them, that dwell vpon earth in the last dayes. So I slept the same nyght, lyke as he commaunded me.

The .xi. Chapter.

THen sawe I a dreame, and be- B hold, there came vppe from the sea an Egle, whiche hadde .xii. wynges, and thre heades. And I sawe and beholde, he spredde hys wynges euer all the earth, and all the wyndes of the ayre blewe in them, and so they were put together agayn. And I behealde, and oute of his feathers there grewe other lyttle contrarye fethers: the heades rested, the head in the middest was greater then the other, yet rested it wyth the residue. Moreouer I sawe, that the Egle flewe wyth hys wynges, and reygned vpon earth, and ouer all theym that dwell vppon the earth: and I sawe that al thinges vnder heauen, were subiecte vnto him, and no man spake agaynst him, no not one creature vpon earth. I sawe also, that the Egle stode vp vpon hys clawes, and gaue a sounde with his fethers, and a voyce, sayinge after thys maner: watch not altogether, slepe euery man in his owne place, & watch for a tyme, but let the heades be preserued at the last. Neuertheles I sawe that the voyce went not oute of hys heades, but from the middest of his body. And I numbred hys contrarye fethers, and beholde, there were eyghte of them. And I loked, and beholde vpon the ryght syde there arose one fether, and reygned ouer al the earthe.

B And it happened, that when it reigned, the ende of it came, and the place therof appeared no more. So the next folowing stoode vp, and reygned, and had a greate tyme, and it hapened that when it reigned, the end of it came also lyke as the first, so that it appeared nomore. Then came there a voice vnto it, and sayde: Heare thou that haste kept in the earth so longe, this I saye vnto thee, before thou beginnest to appeare nomore: There shal none after thee attayne vnto thy tyme. Then arose the thyrde: and reygned as the other afore, and appeared nomore also. So went it with all the residue one after another, so that euerye one reygned, and then appeared nomore. Then I looked, and beholde, in processe of tyme the fethers that folowed were set vp vpon the ryghte syde, that they myght rule also: and some of them ruled, but within a whyle they appeared nomore: for some of them were set vp, but ruled not. After thys I loked, and behold the twelue fethers appeared no more, nor the twoo wynges: and there was nomore vpon the Egles body, but twoo heades that rested and syxe fethers. Then sawe I also that the syxe fethers were parted in twoe, and remained vnder the heade, that was vpon the ryghte side, for the C foure continued in their place. So I loked, and behold, they that were vnder the wynges, thoughte to sette vp theym selues, and to haue the rule.

Then was ther one set vp, but shortly it appeared nomore, and the second was sooner away then the first. And I beheldе and lo, the two thought also by themselues to reigne, and when they so thought, behold, there waked one of the heades that were at reste, namelye, it that was in the myddest, for that was the greater of the twoe heades. And thenne I sawe, that the twoe heades were kylled wyth hym, and the heade was turned wyth them that were by hym, and dydde eate vp the two vnder wynges, that wouide haue reygned. But thys head put the whole earth in feare, and bare rule in it ouer al those that dwelt vpon erth, with muche labour, and he hadde the gouernaunce of the world, ouer al the foules that haue bene. After thys, I looked, and beholde, the heade that was in the middest sodeinly appered nomore, lyke as the wynges: then came the two heades, which ruled vpon earth, and ouer those that dwelte therin. And I beheld, and lo, the head vppon the ryghte syde, deuoured it that was vppon the lefte syde. And I heard a voyce, whyche sayde vnto me: looke before thee, and consider the thinge that thou seest. Then I sawe, and beholde, as it were a lion that roreth, renning hastely out of the wood and he sent out a mannes voyce vnto the Egle, and sayde: Heare thou, I wyl talke wyth thee, and the hiest shal saye vnto thee: Is it not thou that hast the victory of the foure beastes, whom I made to reygne vppon earth and in my worlde, and that the D ende of theyr tymes might come thorough them: And the fourth cam, and ouerranne all the beastes that were past, and had power ouer the worlde

wyth

wyth great fearefulnes, and ouer the whole compasse of the earth, with the moste wycked labour, and so longe time dwelte he vppon the earth with dyscease, and the earth haste thou iudged not wyth trueth. For thou haste troubled the meke, thou hast hurt the peaceable and quiet, thou haste loued lyers, and destroied the dwellinges of them that brought forth fruit, and hast cast downe the walles of such as dyd thee no harme. Therfore is thy wrõgeous dealinge and blasphempe come vp vnto the hyest, and thy pryde vnto the myghtye. The hyest also hath looked vppon the proude tymes, and beholde, they are ended, and their abhominations are fulfylled. And therfore appeare nomore thou Egle, and thy horrible wynges, and thy wycked fethers, and thy vngracious heades and thy synful clawes, and al thy vain body: that the earth maye bee refreshed, and come agayne to her self, whan she is delyuered from thy violence, and that she may hope for the iudgemente and mercy of him that made her.

The.xii. Chapter.

AND it happened when the Lyon spake these words vnto the Egle, I sawe and beholde, the head that afore had the vpper hande, appered no more: neither dyd the four wynges appere any more that came to him, and were sette vp to raygne, and their kingdom was smal and ful of vproure. And I sawe, and beholde, they appeared nomore, and the whole body of the Egle was brent, and the earth was in great fear Then awaked I out of the traunce of my mynde, and from greate feare, and sayde vnto my spyrite. Lo, thys haste thou geuen me in that thou searchest out the wayes of the hyest: lo, yet am I wery in my mind, and very weake in my spirite, and lyttle strength is there in me, for the great feare that I receiued thys nyght. Therfore wil I nowe beseche the hiest, that hee wyll comfort me vnto the end: and I sayde, Lorde Lord, yf I haue found grace be fore thy syghte, and yf I am iustifyed with the before many other, and if my prayer be come vp before thy face, comfort me then, and shewe mee thy seruaunte the interpretation and plaine differẽce of thys horrible sight, that thou mayest perfectlye comforte my soule: for thou haste iudged me worthye, to shewe me the laste of tymes. And he sayde vnto me: thys is the interpretation of thys syght. The Egle whom thou sawest come vp from the sea, is the kingdome • which was Dan.7.c
sene in the vision of thy brother Daniel, but it was not expounded vnto hym, for nowe I declare it vnto thee. B Beholde, the dayes comme, that there shal ryse vp a kingdome vppon earth, and it shalbe feared aboue al the kingdomes that wer before it. In the same kingdome shal.xii. kinges reigne, one after another. For the seconde shall begyn to reygne, and shall haue more time then the other twelue: and this do the twelue wynges signify, which thou sawest. As for the voyce that spake, and that thou sawest goe oute from the heades, but not from the bodye, it betokeneth, that after the tyme of the kyngedome, there shal aryse greate stryuynges, and it shal stande in peryll of fallynge: neuertheless it shall not yet fall, but shalbe sette into hys beginning. And the eyght vnderwinges which thou sawest hãg vnto the wynges of him betokẽ, that in him ther shal arise. viii. kings, whose time shalbe but smal, and their yeres swift, and two of them shal beare. But whẽ the middest tyme commeth, there shal be foure kepte in the tyme, when hys time beginneth to come that it may be ended, but two shall be kept vnto the end. And where as thou sawest three heades resting, this is the interpretation: In his last shall the Hyest rayse vp three kyngdomes, and cal many agayne into them, and they shall haue C the dominion of the earth, and of those that dwelle therein, wyth muche labour aboue all those that were before theym. Therefore are they called the heades of the Egle: for it is they that shall bynge forthe his wickednes a-gayne, and that shall performe and finyshe his iaste. And where as thou sawest, that the greate head appeareth nomore, it signifieth, that one of them shall dye vppon his bed, and yet with payne, for the two that remayne, shall be slayn with ỹ sword. For the sword of the one shall deuoure the other, but at the laste shall he fall thorowe the sword him selfe. And whereas thou sawest two vnderwings vpon the head that is on the ryght syde, it signifyeth that it is they, whom the Hyest hath kepte vnto their ende: thys is a small kingdome, & full of trouble. The Lion whom thou sawest rysyng out of the wood, and roaring, and speaking vnto the Egle, and rebukynge him for hys vnrighteousnesse, is the wind, which the Hyest hath kept for them, and for their wickednes vnto the end: he shal reproue them, and rent them a sunder before them. For he shall set them ly-uyng before the iudgement, and shall rebuke them: for the residue of my peo ple shall he deliuer with trouble, these that be preserued ouer myne endes: and he shall make them ioyfull vntill the comming of the day of iudgement, whereof I haue spoken vnto the from the begynnynge. Thys is the dreame that thou sawest, and this is the inter pretacion. Thou onely hast bene mete to knowe the secret of the hyest. Ther fore wrote all these thinges that thou haste sene in a booke, and hyde them, and teache them the wyse in the peo-ple, whose hertes thou knowest may comprehende and kepe these secretes. But wayte thou here thy selfe yet se-uen daies moo, that it may be shewed thee, whatsoeuer it pleaseth the Hyest to declare vnto thee, and with that he went his way. And when al the peo-ple perceaued, that the seuen dayes were past, and I not come agayne in-to the citie, they gathered them all to-gether from the leaste vnto the moste, and cam vnto me, and sayd: what haue we offended the: and what euyll haue we done against thee, that thou forsa-kest vs, and syttest here in this place: For of all people thou onely arte left vs, as a grape of the vyne, and as a can dell in a darke place, and as an hauen and shyp preserued from the tempest. Haue we not euls aduersitye ynough, but thou must forsake vs: Were it not better for vs, that we had bene brente with Sion? For we are not better, then they that dyed there: and they wept with a loude voyce. Then aun-swered I them and sayd: Be of good comforte O Israell, and be not heauy thou house of Jacob: for the Hyest hath you in remembraunce, and the mighty hath not forgotte you in ỹ tẽ-ptation. As for me, I haue not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place to praye, because of the misery of Israell, that I might seke mercy for the low estate of youre Sanctuarye. And nowe go your waye home euery man, and after these dayes wyll I come vnto you. So the people went their waye into the city, like as I commaunded them: but I remayned styl in the field seuen dayes, as the Angell bad me, and dyd eate onely of the flowres of the fielde, and hadde my meate of the herbes in those dayes.

The .xiii. Chapter.

AND it happened after the se-uen dayes, that I dreamed a dreame by nyght. And behold there arose a wynde from the sea, that it moued all the floudes thereof. And I loked, and beholde: the man was stronge and increased with the clou-des of heuen: and when he turned his countenance to consider, all the thin-ges trembled that were seene vnder him: and when the voyce went out of his mouthe, all they brente that herde him, lyke as the earth when it feleth the fire. After those I sawe, and be-holde, there was gathered together a multitude of men out of number from the foure windes of the heauen, to fighte agaynst the man, that came out from the sea. And I loked, and behold he graued hym selfe a greate moun-

tayne tayne, and shewe vp vpon it. But I woulde haue seene the order or place, wherout the hill was grauen, and I could not. I sawe after these, that all they which cam to fight against him, were sore afrayed, and yet durste they fighte. Neuertheless, when he sawe the fearsenes and violence of the people, he nether lyfte vp hys hande nor helde sweard, nor anye weapon: but onely (As I sawe) he sent out of hys mouthe, as it had bene a blaste of fyre, and oute of hys lyppes the wynde of the flame: and out of his tonge he cast oute sparkes and stormes, and they were all myxte together: the blaste of fire, the wynde of the flames, and the great storme, and fel with a rushe vppon the people, whiche was prepared to fyghte, and brente them vp euerychone: so that of the innumerable mul titude there was nothynge seene, but B oncly duste and smoke. When I sawe thys, I was afrayde. Afterwarde sawe I the same man come downe from the mountayne, and callyng vnto hym another peaceable people: and there came muche people vnto hym:

some were glad, some were sory, some of them were bound, so that they wer caryed and brought forth. Then was I sicke thorowe greate feare, and I awaked, and sayde: thou hast shewed thy seruant all thy wonders from the begynnynge, and haste counted me worthye, that thou myghtest receaue my prayer: shew me nowe yet the interpretation of this dreame. For thus I cõsider in my vnderstading: wo vn to them that shall be left in those days and much more wo vnto them that ar not lefte behynde: for they that were not left, were in heauines. Now vn-derstand I the thinges that are layed vp in the latter dayes which shal happen vnto theym, and to those that are not lefte behynde. Therfore are they come into great parels, and many necessities, like as these dreames declare.
Yet is it easier, that he which sûffreth hurte, come in these, then to passe away as a cloude out of the world, and not to se thy thinges that shall happen in the last. Then answered he me, and sayde: The interpretation of the sight shall I shewe thee, and I wyll open vnto thee, the thing that thou hast required. For thou hast spoken of them that are lefte behynde, and thys is the interpretacion. He that taketh awaye the peryll in that tyme, hath kept hym selfe. They that be fallen into harme, are suche as haue sworkes and fayth vnto the moste mightye. Knowe it, is therfore, that they whiche be lefte behynde, are more blessed, then they that be deade. This is the meanyng of the vision. Where as thou sawest a man commyng vp from the depe of the sea, the same is he, whom God the Hyest hath kepte a greate season, whyche by hys owne selfe shall deliuer his creature, and he shall order them that are left behynde. And where as thou sa-west, that out of his mouth ther came a blaste of wynde, fire and storme, and howe that he lifte vp neyther sweard nor weapon, but that the rushynge in of him destroyed the whole multitude that came to fight agaynst him: it signifyeth, that the dayes come, when God will deliuer them that are vpon earth, and in a traunce of mynd shal he come vppon theym, that dwell in the earth. And one shal vndertake to fight agaynst another, one citye agaynst an other, one place agaynst another, one mat. 24. a. people agaynst another, & one realme agaynst another. When this commeth to passe, then shall the tokens come, that I shewed thee before: and then shal my sonne be declared, whom thou sawest clyme vp as a man. And when all the people heare his voyce, euery man shal in their owne land leaue the battayle that they haue one agaynste another, and an innumerable multitude shalbe gathered to ether, as they that be wyllyng to come, and to ouer-come hym by syghtyng. But he shall stande vpon the toppe of the mounte Sion. Neuertheles Sion shal come, and shall be shewed, beynge prepared and buylded for all men, lyke as thou sawest the hyll grauen forth without any handes. But my sonne shall re-bake the people that are com, for their wickednes, with the tempest, and for their cupll ymaginacions: and theyr paynes wherwith they shalbe punyshed, are likened vnto the flame: and without any laboure, shall he destroy them, euen by the law, which is compared vnto the fire. And whereas thou sawest, that he gathered another peaceable people vnto hym: those are the ten trybes whiche were caryed away preſoners oute of their owne lande, 4 Re. 17a • in the tyme of Oseas the kynge, whom Salmanasar the kyng of Assyria toke preſoner, and caryed awaye ouer the water, and so came they into another lande. But they gaue theym this councell, that they shoulde leaue the multitude of the heathen, and to go forth into a farther countrie, wher neuer mankynde dwelte: that they might ther kepe their statutes, which they neuer kept in their owne lande. And so they entred in at the narowe passages of the water of Euphrates, D and God shewed tokens for theym, •

Exo. 13 c and helde styll the floude till they wer Iosu. 3. d passed ouer, for thorowe the countrey there was a greate waye, namely of a yere and a halfe iourney, for the same region is called Asareth. Then dwelt they there vnto the latter tyme: and when they come forthe agayne, the Hyest shall holde styll the sprynges of the streame agayne, that they maye go thorow, therfore sawest thou the multitude with peace. And they that be lefte behynde of thy people, are those that be founde within my border.

Now when he destroyeth the multitude that is gathered together, he shal defende hys people that remayne, and then shall he shewe them great wonders. Then sayde I: O Lorde, Lord, shewe me this, wherfore haue I sene the man commyng vp from the deepe of the sea? And he sayd vnto me: Like as thou canneſt neyther seke oute nor knowe these thynges that are in the deepe of the sea, euen so mayest thou not se my sonne, or those that be with him, but in the tyme of the day. Thys is the interpretation of the dreame, which thou sawest, therfore thou only arte here lyghtened: for thou haste forsaken thyne owne lawe, and applyed thy dylygence vnto myne, and soughte it. • Thy lyke haste thou ordred in wisdome, and • hast called vnderstandynge thy mother, and therfore haue I shewed thee, the treasure of the Hyest. After three dayes I will shewe thee more, and talke with thee more at large, yea heauy and wonderous thynges wyll I declare vnto thee. Then wente I forthe into the field, geuing praise and thanks greatlye vnto God, because of his wonders which he dyd in tyme, and because he gouerneth the same, and such as is in time, and there I sat three dayes.
3 Reg. 19 • Pso. 77

¶ The .xiiij. Chapter.

VPon the thirde daye I satte vnder an oke tree, then came there a voyce vnto me oute of the bushe, and sayd: Esdras, Esdras? And I sayde: here am I Lorde, and stode vp vpon my fete. Then spake he vnto me: • in the bushe dyd I appeare vnto Moyses, and talked with hym, when my people serued in Egypte. And I sent him, and ledde my people out of Egypt, and brought him vpon the mount Sion, where I helde him by me a longe season, and told him my wonderous wordes, and shewed him the secretes of the times and the ende, and commaunded him, sayinge: These wordes shalt thou declare, and not hide them. And nowe I say vnto the, that thou lay vp in thyne hert the dreames that thou haste sene, and the interpretacions whiche I haue shewed thee: for thou shalt be receaued of all, thou shalte bee turned and remayne with my councell, and with such as be lyke thee, vntyll the tymes be ended. For the worlde hath loste hys youthe, and the tymes beginne to waxe olde. For the time is deuided into twelue parts and ten partes of it are gone already, and halfe of the tenth part: yet remayneth there that whyche is after the halfe of the tenthe parte. Therefore

Mat. 2
1. Joh.

prepare prepare and ordre thy house, and reforme thy people: confort such of them as be in trouble, and tell nowe of the destruction: let go from thee mortall thoughtes, cast away the burthens of man. Put of the weake nature: Laye vp in some places, the thoughtes that are most heuy vnto thee, and hast thee to flee from these times: for such cuyll and wickednesse as thou haste nowe Mat. 24. 1. Joh. 2 sene happen, shall they doo yet muche woorse. • For the weaker that the worlde and the tyme is, the more shall syn and wickednes increase, in them that dwell vpon earth. For the truth is fledde farre awaye, and leasynge is hard at hande. For nowe hasteth the vision to come, that thou haste seene.

Then answered I before thee, & said:
Behold Lord, I wyl go as thou hast commanded me, and reforme the people whiche are present. But they that shalbe borne afterward, who will ex-horte, or rebuke theym? Thus the worlde is set in darknes: and they that dwell therein, are without lyght: for thy lawe is kyndled, because no man knoweth the thynges that are done of thee, or that shall be done. If I haue founde grace before thee, send the holy ghost into me, and I shall wryte al that hath ben doone in the worlde sens the beginning, which was written in thy law, that men may fynd the path, and that they which liue in the latter days, may lyue. And he answered me saying: Go thy waye, gather the people together, and say vnto theym, that they seeke thee not for forty dayes, but loke thou gather thee many boxetrees and take wyth thee Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ecanus, and Asiell, these fyue, which are redy to wryte swiftly and come hyther, and I shall lyght a candell of vnderstandynge in thyne hearte, which shall not be put out, tyll the thynges be perfourmed which thou shalt begyn to wryte. And then shalte thou declare some thyngs openly vnto the perfect, and some thinges shalt thou shew secretly vnto the wise. To morow thys houre shalt thou begyn to wryte. Then went I foorthe (as he commaunded me) and gathered all C the people together, and sayde: Heare these wordes, O Israel: Our fathers at the begynnyng, were straungers in Egypt, from whens they were deli-uered, and receyued the lawe of lyfe, • whyche they kept not, which ye also haue transgressed after them. Then was this lande and the land of Sion parted among you by lotte to possesse.
But your fathers, and ye your selues also haue doon vnrighteousnesse, and haue not kepte the ways, whyche the Hyest commaunded you. And for soo muche as he is a righteous iudge, he toke from you in tyme the thyng that he hadde geuen you. And nowe are ye here, and your brethren amonge you.
Therfore yf so bee, that ye wyll subdue your owne vnderstandynge, and reforme your heart, ye shalbe kepte a-lyue, and after deathe shall ye obteyne mercy. For after death shal the iudge-ment come, when we shal liue again:
and then shall the names of the righteous, bee manyfeste, and the woorkes of the vngodly shall bee declared.
Lette no man therefore comme nowe D vnto me, nor aske any question at me these fourtye dayes. So I tooke the fyue menne (as he commaunded me) and wee wente into the fielde, and re- Ezec. 3. mayned there. The nexte daye a voyce Apo. 10 b called mee, saynge: Eldras, • open thy mouthe, and drynke that I geue thee. Then opened I my mouth, and beholde, hee reached me a full cuppe, whyche was fulle, as it were wyth water, but the coloure of it was lyke fyre. And I toke it, and dranke. And when I had dronken it, my heart had vnderstandyng, and wysedom grewe in my breste: for my spirite was kept in remembraunce, and my mouthe was opened, and shutte no more. The Hyest gaue vnderstandyng vnto the fyue menne, that they wrote the hye thynges of the nyghte, whyche they vnderstode not. But in the night they dyd eate bread: As for me, I spake in the day, and held not my tongue by nyghte. In forty dayes, they wrote two hundrede and fower Bookes,

And

And it happened whē the fourty dates were fulfylled, that the hyest spake, saying: The fyrst that thou hast wrytten, spake openly, the worthy and vnworthye maye reade it. But kepe the .xx. last, that thou mayest shew it onelye to such as be wyse among thy people. For in them is the springe of vnderstanding, the fountayne of wysedome, and the streame of knowledge. And I did so.

¶ The. xv. Chapter.

BEholde, speake thou in the eares of my people the wordes of ỹ prophecy, which I wyll put thy mouth, sayth the Lorde: and cause theym to be wrytten in a letter, for it is the trueth. Feare not the ymagynations agaynst thee. Let not the vnfaythfulnes of them trouble the that speake agaynste thee. For all the vnfaythful shal dye in their vnfaithfulnes. Behold sayth the Lorde, I wyll bryng plagues vppon the worlde, the swearde, hunger, death, and destruction, for wickednes hath the vpper hand in al the earth, and their shamefull workes are fulfylled. Therefore sayth the Lord: I wyl hold my tong nomore vnto their wickednes, which they doo so vngodlye: neyther will I suffer theym in the thynges that they deale wythal so wyckedlye. Behold Apoc. 6. b * the innocent blud of the troubled crieth vnto mee, and the soules of the ryghteous complayne continually, and therefore (sayth the Lord) I wyl surely auenge, and receaue vnto me al the innocent blud from amonge them.
Psa. 44 c * Behold, my people, is led as a flocke Rom. 8 c of shepe to be slayne, I wyl not suffer theym nowe to dwel in Egipte, but wyll bryng them out wyth a myghtye hande, and a stretched oute arme, and smite it with plages as afore, and wil destroye al the lande of it. Egipt shal mourne, and the foundations of B it shalbe smytten wyth the plage and punyshment, that God shal bryng vpon it. They that tyl the ground, shal mourne: for their sedes shalbe destroyed throughe the blastynge and hayle, and an horrible starre. Wo worth the worlde and theym that dwel therein, for the swearde and their destruction draweth ny, and one people shal stand vp to fyght against another, and swerdes in their handes. For men shalbe vnstedfaste, and some shal do violence vnto other: they shal not regard their king and prynces, the wayes of theyr doings and handlings shalbe in their power. A man shal desire to go into ỹ city, and shal not be able. For because of their pryde the cities shalbe brought in feare, the houses shal shake, and mē C shalbe afraide. A man shal haue no pytye vpon hys neyghbour, but one shal prouoke another vnto battel, to spoile their goodes because of the hunger of bread, and because of the gret trouble. Behold, I gather and call together al the kynges of the earth whiche are from the vprysyng, from the South, from the East, and Libanus, to turne vnto theym. and restore the thynges that they haue geuen theym. Lyke as they do yet thys daye vnto my chosen, so wyl I do also, and recompence thē D in their bosome. Thus sayth the Lord God: My ryght hande shal not spare the sinners, and my swearde shal not cease ouer theym, that shed the innocent blud vpon earth. The feare is gone oute from hys wrathe, and hath consumed the foundations of the erth, and the synners lyke the strawe that is kyndled. Wo worth them that syn, and kepe not my commaundementes sayth the Lorde. I wyl not spare thē. Go your way ye chyldren from violence, defyle not my Sanctuarye: for the Lorde knoweth all theim that syn agaynst hym, and therfore delyuereth he theim vnto death and destructyon: For nowe are the plages come vpon the worlde, and ye shal remaine in thē. For god shal not delyuer you, because ye haue synned agaynste hi n. Behold an horrible vision commeth from the East, where generations of Dragōs E shall comme oute, and the people of the Arabes wyth manye charretes. And the multytudes of theym, shalbe

shalbe as the wynde vpon earth, that all they which heare them ragynge in theyr wrath, may feare, and be afraid, and as the wild bores out of the wod, so shall they go oute, and with greate power shall they come, and stand fighting with theym, and shall waste the portion of the lande of the Assyrians. And then shall the Dragons haue the vpper hande, not remembrynge theyr byrthe, and shall turne aboute, swearyng together in great power, to persecute theym. But these shalbe afraid kepe silence at their power, and shall flee, and one out of the land of the Assirians shall besiege them, & consume one of them, and in theyr host shall be feare and drede, and strife among their kynges. Beholde, clowdes frome the Easte, and frome the Northe vnto the South, and they are very horrible to loke vpon, full of wrath and stormе. They shall smyte one vpon an other, and they shal smite at the great starre vppon earth, and theyr starre, and the blood shalbe from the sweard vntothe bealy, and the smoke of man vnto the Camelles lytter: And there shall be great fearefulnes and trembling vpon earth: and they that see the wrath shall be afrayde, and a trembling shall come vpon them. And then shal there come great raynes from the Southe, and from the Northe, and parte from the weste, and from the stormy wynd from the East, and shall shutte theym vp agayne, and the cloude whyche he raised vp in wrathe, and the starre to cause feare toward the East and west wynde, shalbe destroyed: & the greate cloudes shalbe lyfte vp, and the mightie cloudes fulle of wrathe, and the starre: that they maye make all the earth afrayde, and theym that dwelle therein, and that they may poure out ouer all places an horryble starre, fire and hayle, flying sweardes, and manye waters: that all fieldes maye bee ful, and all riuers, and they shal breke downe the cities and walles, mountaynes and hylles, all trees, woodde, and the grasse of the medowes, and all their frute. And they shall go stedfast vnto Babylon, and make her afrayde: they shall come to her, and besiege her, the starre and all wrath shal they poure out vppon her. Then shal the dust and smoke go vp vnto the heauen, and all they that bee aboute her, shall bewayle her: and they that remayne vnder her, shall doo seruice vnto theym that haue put her in feare. And thou Asia, that comfortest thy selfe also vpon the hope of Babylon, and arte a worshyp of her person: woo bee vnto thee thou wretche, because thou haste made thy selfe lyke vnto her and haste decked thye daughters in whoredome, that they myghte trymphe and please thy louers, whiche haue alway desyred to commyt whoredome wyth thee, thou haste folowed the abhominable citie in all her workes and inuentions. Therfore saythe God: I wyl send plagues vpon thee, wydowhead, pouertie, hunger, warres, and pestilence, to waste thy houses wyth destruction and deathe: and the glorye of thy power shalbe dried vp as a flower, when the heate riseth that is sent ouer thee. Thou shalt be sycke as a poore wyfe, that is plagued and beaten of wome: so that the mighty and louer shal not be able to receue thee. Woulde I soo hate thee, saythe the Lorde? If thou haddest not alwaye slayne my chosen, exaltyng the stroke of thy hands, & layd ouer their deathe, when thou wast dronken, set foorth the beautie of thy countenance The reward of thy whoredome shall by bee recompenced thee in thy bosome, therefore shalte thou receiue reward. Lyke as thou hast done vnto my chosen (sayeth the Lorde) euen so shall God doo vnto thee, and shall deliuer thee into the plague. Thy childerne shal dye of hunger, and thou shalt fall thorow the sweard. Thy cities shall be broken downe, and all thyne shall perishe with the swerde in the fielde. They that be in the mountaynes shal dye of hunger, and eate theyr owne flesche, and drynke theyr owne blood, for very hunger of breade, and thyrst of water. Thou vnhappye shalt come thorowe

thzough the sea, and receaue plagues agayne. In the passage they shal caste downe the slayne citye, and shal roote out one part of thy land, and consume ꝑ portiō of thy glozy. They shal tread the downe lyke stubble, and they shal be thy fyze, and shal consume thee, thy cytyes and thy land, thy wood and thy fruitful trees shal they burne vp with the fyze. Thy childzen shal they carye awaye captyue, and looke what thou hast, they shal spoile it, and marre the bewtye of thy face.

¶ The. xvi. Chapter.

WO be vnto the Babilon and Asia, wo be vnto Egipt and Syzia: gyzde youre selues with clothes of sacke, and heare, & mourn foz your chyldzen: bee sozy, foz your destruction is at hande. A sweard is sent vpon you, and who wyl turne it backe? A fyze is kyndled amonge you, and who wil quench it? Plages are sent vnto you, and what is he that wyll dzyue theym awaye? May any man dzyue awaye an hungrye lyon in the wood? Oz may anye man quench the fyze in stubble, when it hath begonne to burne? Maye one turne agayne the arowe, that is shot of a strong archer. The myghty Lozde sendeth the plages, and what is hee that wyll dzyue theym awaye? The fyze is kindled and gone foozth in his wzath, and what is he that wil quēch it? He shal cast lyghtninges, and who shall not feare? Hee shall thonder, and who shal not be afrayde? The Lozde shal threaten, and who shal not vtterly be beaten to pouider at his presēce? The earth quaketh, and the foundations thereof: the sea aryseth vp wyth waues from the depe, and the fludds of it are vnquiet, and the fishes therof also before the Lozd, and before the glorye of hys power. Foz stronge is hys ryght hand that holdeth the bow, hys arowes that hee shooteth are sharpe, and shal not misse when they beginne to be shot into the endes of the world. Beholde, the plages are sent, and shal not turne againe, til they come vppon earth. The fyze is kyndled and shall not be put out til it consume the foundations of the earth. Lyke as an arow which is shot of a myghtye archer, retourneth not backeward: euen so the plagues that shall bee sente vppon Earthe, shall not tourne agayne. Wo is me, wo is me, who shal deliuer me in those dayes? The beginning of sorowes and great mourning: the beginninge of dearth and greate death, the begynnyng of warres, and the powers shal stande in feare: the beginning of euils and they shal tremble euerye one. What shal I do in these thynges, when the plages come? Behold, hunger and plague, trouble and anguyshe are sent, as scourges foz amendmente. But foz all these things, they shal not tourne from their wyckednes, noz bee alwaye myndful of the scourges. Beholde, bytayles shalbe so good cheape vpon earth that they shal thinke them selues to be in good case: and euē then shal mischefe grow vpon earth, warres, derth, and great dysquietnes. Foz many of them that dwel vppon earth, shal perysshe foz hunger, and the other that escape the hunger, shal the sword destroye: and the dead shalbe caste out as doung, and there shalbe no man to confozte theym. Foz the earth shalbe wasted, and the Cytyes shalbe caste downe: there shalbe no man left to tyl the earth and to sowe it. The trees shal geue fruite, and who shall plucke them of, and gather theym? The grapes shalbe rype, and who shall treade them? Foz al places shalbe desolate of men, so that one man shal desyre to see another, oz to heare hys voyce. Foz of one whole citye there shalbe ten lefte, and two in the felde, which shal hyde them selues in the thyckebushes, and in the clyffes of stones, like as when there remain thzeoz foure oliues vpon the olyue tree, oz as when a vyneyard is gathered: there are left some grapes of them that diligently sought throgh the vyneyard. Euen so in those dayes there shalbe thze oz four left, foz theim that searche their houses wyth the sword. And the earth shalbe left wast, and the feldes therof shall waxe olde:

and

and her wayes and al her pathes shall growe ful of thornes, because no man shall trauayle there throughe. The daughters shal mourne, haupnge no bridegromes: the wemen shal make la mētation, hauing no husbandes, theyr daughters shal wepe hauing no helpe of their brydegrome. In the warres shal they be destroyed, and their husbandes shal perysshe of hunger. O yee seruauntes of the Lorde, heare these thynges, and marke theym. Beholde, the woorde of the Lord, O receaue it:
beholde, the plagues drawe nye, and are not slacke in taryinge. Lyke as a trauaylinge woman, whiche after the ninth month bryngeth forth a soonne when the houre of the birth is come, an houre, twoe or three afore that the paynes come vpon her body, and whē the childe commeth to the byrth, they tarie not the twinckling of an eie. Euen so shal not the plages be slacke to come vpon earth, and the worlde shal E mourne, and sorowes shal come vpon it on euerye syde. O my people, heare my word, make you redy to the battel:
Col. 7 d & in al euyl be euen as pylgrims vpō earth. * He that selleth, let hym be as he that fleeth his way, & he that byeth, as one that wil lese. Whoso occu-pyeth marchaundyse, as he that winneth not, & he that buildeth, as he that shal not dwel therein: he that sowēth, as one that shal not reape: he that wy-sheth the vyneyarde, as hee that shall not gather the grapes, they that marye, as they that shal get no childrē:
Isa. 17 and they that marye not, as the wyd-Ecc. 11 b dowes: and therfore they * that labor, labour in vayne. For straungers shal reape their fruites, and spoile theyr goodes, ouerthrowe their houses, and take their chyldren captiue, for in cap-tiuitye and hunger, shall they gette children. And they that occupie theyr marchaundyse wyth robberye, howe longe decke they their Cityes, their houses, their possessions, and persons, the more will I punyshe theym for their synnes, sayeth the LORDE.
Like as an whoore enuyeth an honest woman, so shall ryghteousnesse hate inyquitye, when she decketh her self, and shall accuse her to her face, when he cometh that defendeth, whych shal make inquisition for all synne vppon earthe. And therefore bee not ye lyke therunto, nor to the woorkes thereof:
for or euer it bee longe, iniquitie shall be taken awaye out of the earthe, and F ryghtousnes shall reigne among you.
Let not the synner saye, that he hathe not sinned: for coles of fyre shall burn vpon his head, whiche saythe before the Lorde God and his glory: I haue not synned. Behold, the LORDE knoweth all the woorkes of menne, Gen. 1.8 their imaginations, their thoughtes, and theyr heartes. * For he spake but the worde: let the earth be made, and it was made: Let the heauen be made and it was made. In hys word were the starres made, and he knoweth the numbre of theym. Hee searcheth the grounde of the deepe, and the treasures therof: he hathe measured the sea, and what it conteyneth. He hath shut the sea in the myddeste of the waters, and wyth hys wordes hathe he hanged the Earth vpon the waters. He spre-deth out the Heauen like a vawt, vppon the waters hathe he founded it.
In the deserte and drye wylderneſſe, hathe he made springes of water, and pooles vppon the toppe of the moun-taynes, that the floudes myght poure downe frome the stony rockes to water the earthe. He made manne, and putte hys heart in the myddest of the body, and gaue hym breathe, lyfe, and vnderstandynge: yea, and the spyryte of the Almyghtye GOD, whyche made all thynges, and hathe searched the grounde of all the secretes of the earthe. He knoweth all your ymaginations and inuentions. and what ye thynk when ye syn, and woulde hyde youre synnes. Therfore hath the lord G serched and sought out al your workes and he shall bewray you al. And whē youre synnes are brought foorthe, yee shall be ashamed before men, and your owne synnes shall bee youre accusers in that daye. what wyll yee do? Or how wyll ye hyde your synnes before

God

God and his angels & Beholde, God himself is the Judge, feare him, leaue of from your synnes, and forget youre vnrighteousnesses, and medle nomore with theym: so shall God leade you forth, and deliuer you from all trouble. For beholde, the heate of a greate multitude is kyndled ouer you, & they shall take awaye certayne of you, and lede the ydle with Idols: & they that consent vnto them, shalbe had in derision, laughed to scorne, and troden vnder foote. For vnto the places, there shalbe a place, and in the next cities a greate insurrection vppon those that feare the Lorde. They shalbe like mad men, they shall spare no manne: they shall spoyle and waste suche as feare the Lorde, theyr gooddes shall they take from them, and shut them out of theyr houses. Then shall it be knowē who are my chosen, and they shall bee tried as the gold in the fyre. Heare Ye my beloued, sayth the Lord: behold the days of trouble are at hand: but I will deliuer you from the same. Be not ye afrayde, despaire not, for God is your captayne. Who so kepeth my commandementes and preceptes (sayeth the Lord God) let not youre synnes sway you downe, and let not your vnrighteousnesse be lyfte vp. Woo bee vnto them that ar subdued vnto their synnes, and tangled in theyr wickednesse: lyke as a fielde is hedged in with bushes, and the pathe thereof couered with thornes, that noo man may trauayle thorowe: and so is hee taken, and caste in the fyre, and brent.

The ende of the fourth Boke of Esdras.

The Boke of Tobias.

The fyrst Chapter.

TObias was of the trybe and Cittie of Nephthali, whiche lyeth in the hye countreis of Galilee aboue Naason, the way toward the west, hauyng the cittie of Sephet vppon the left syde. Though he was take prisoner in the days of Salmanasar kyng of the Assyrians, neuertheles beyng in captiuitie, he forsoke not the way of truth: In so much, that whatsoeuer he might get, he parted it dayely with his fellow prisoners & brethren, that were of his kinred. And though he were yonger then al they in the tribe of Nephthali, yet dyd he not behaue himself childyshly in hys workes. And when all the other went to the golden calues, whiche Jeroboam the kyng of Israell had made, he hym selfe alone fledde all their companies, and gatte hym to Jerusalem, vnto the Temple of the Lord, and there worshypped the lorde God of Israell, faithfully offeryng of all his fyrst fruites and tythes, so that in the thirde yeare he mynistred al the tythes vnto the strangers and conuertes. These and such lyke thynges dyd he obserue, accordynge to the lawe of God, whenne he was yet but yonge. But when he was a mane, he toke of his owne tribe, a wife called Anna, & of her he gat a son, whō he called Tobias, after his owne name, & taught hym from hys youth vp, to feare god, and to refrayne from all synne. Now when he with his wyfe, his soonne, and with all his kinred, was come in to captiuitie vnto the citie of Ninine, what tyme as they all dyd eate of the meates of the Heathen, he kepte hys soule, and was neuer defyled in theyr meates. And for so muche as he was myndfull of the Lord in all his heart. God gaue hym fauour in the syght of Salmanasar the kyng, whiche gaue hym power to go where he would, and so had he libertie to do what so euer hym lyst. So went Tobias vnto all them that were in prison, and comforted them, and gaue them wholsom exhortations. And when he came to Rages, a Citie of the Medes, hauing ten talentes of syluer (of the thinges wherwith the kyng had honored him) and sawe among a great companye of people of his kynrede, one Gabelus,

(which

(which was of hys owne trybe) beyng in necessitie, he gaue him the sayd weyghte of syluer vnder an hande wrytynge. After a longe season when Salmanasar the kynge was deade, and Sennacherib hys sonne reygned in his stead, which hated the chyldren of Israell. Tobias wente dayly thorowout all hys kynred, and confortted them, and gaue of hys goodes to euerye one of them, as much as he might: he fed the hungrye, clothed the naked, and buryed the deade and slayne, and that diligently. And when Sennacherib the king came agayne and fled out of Jewry (what tyme as God punished hym for hys blasphemye) and in his wrath slewe many of the chyldren of Israell, Tobias buryed their bodyes. But whē it was told the king, he commaunded to slay him, and toke away all his goodes. Neuertheless, Tobias with his sonne and with his wyfe fled hys way, and was hyd naked, for there were manye that loued him. But after .xlv. dayes the kynge was slayne of hys owne sōnes. Then came Tobias agayn to his house, and al his goodes wer restored vnto him.

¶ The .ii. Chapter.

After these thinges vpon a solempne daye of the Lord Tobias made a good feast in hys house, and sayde vntō hys sonne: Goo thy waye and brynge hyther some of our tribe, such as feare God, that they maye make mery with vs. And when he was gone, he came againe, and told hys father, that one of the chyldren of Israell laye slayne vppon the streete. And immediatelye he lepte from hys table, lefte the feaste, came fastynge to the deade coarse, toke hym, and bare him preuely into hys house, that whē the sunne was downe, he might safelye burye hym. And when he had hyd the coarse, he dyd eate his meate with mournynge and feare, remembrynge the wordes, that the Lorde sayeth by the prophet Amos: youre hye feastes shall be turned to sorowe and heauynes. But whē the sunne was downe, he wente hys waye and buryed hym. Then all hys neyghboures reproued hym, sayeng: It is not longe, sens it was commaunded to slay thee because of this matter, and hast scarce escaped the daunger of death, and buriest thou the deade agayne? Neuertheles, Tobias fearynge God moare then the kynge, tooke the bodyes of the slayne, and hyd them in his house, and buried them at mydnyght. It happened vpon a day, that he had buryed the dead and was wery, came home, and layed him downe by the wal, and slept. And whyle he was a slepe, ther fell downe vpon hys eyes warme donge oute of the swalowes nest, so ỳ he was blind. Thys temptacion dyd God suffer to happen vnto hym, that they whyche came after, myght haue an example of his pacience, lyke as of holy Job. For in so much as he euer feared god from his youth vp, and kept hys commandementes, he grudged not agaynste God, that the plage of blindnes chansed vnto him, but remayned stedfaste in the feare of God, and thanked God all the dayes of hys lyfe. For lyke as blessed Job was hadde in derision of kynges, euen so was he laughed to scorne of hys elders and kynsfolkes, whyche sayde vnto him: where is thy hope, for the which thou hast done almes and buried the dead? But Tobias rebuked them, and spake: Say not so, for we are the chyldren of holy men, and loke for the life, which God shall geue vnto them, that neuer turn their beleefe from him. Anna his wife went dayly to the weauing worke: and loke what liuinge she coude get with the labour of her handes, she brought it. And it happened that shee toke a kyd, and brought it home. And when her husband herd it crye, he sayd: loke that it be not stollen, restore it agayne to the owners: for it is not lawefull for vs to eat or to touch any thing of theft Then was his wife angrye and said: Nowe is thy hope become vain openly, and thy almes dedes are manifeste. With these and such lyke wordes dyd she cast him in the teeth.

¶ The.iii. Chapter.

A THen Tobias toke it heauily, & with teares hee began to make hys prayer, sayinge: O Lorde thou art righteous, and all thy iudgementes are true, yea, all thy ways are mercye, faythfulnes and iudgemente. And nowe O Lorde, be myndefull of me, & take no vengeaunce of my sins, neyther remember my misdedes, neyther the misdedes of my elders. For we haue not bene obediente vnto thy commaundementes, therefore are we spoyled, broughte into captiuitie, into death, into derision and shame vnto al nacions, among whom thou hast scatred vs. And nowe O Lorde, thy iudgements are great, for we haue not done accordyng to thy commaundementes, neyther haue we walked innocently before thee. And nowe O Lorde, deale with me accordynge to thy wyll, and command my spirite to be receaued in peace, for more expediente were it for B me to dye, then to lyue. At the same tyme it happened, that Sara ỹ daughter of Raguell at Rages, a citie of the Medes was sclaundred of one of her fathers handmaydēs, namely, that she shoulde haue hadde seuen husbandes, which as soone as they were gone in vnto her, were slayn of the deuyll called Asmodeus. Therefore, when shee reproued the mayden for her faute, she answered her, saying: God let vs neuer see son nor daughter of thee more vpon earthe, thou kyller of thy husbandes. Wilte thou slaye me also, as thou hast slayne seuen men? At thys voyce went Sara into an hye chamber of her house, and three dayes and three nightes she nether eat nor dranke, but continued in prayer, and besought God with teares, that he wolde dely- C uer her from thys rebuke. Upon the third daye it chaunsed, that when she had made an ende of prayer, she praised the Lorde, sayinge: Blessed be thy name O God of our fathers, whyche when thou art wrothe, shewest mercye, and in time of trouble thou forgeuest the sinnes of them, that call vpon thee. Unto thee O Lorde turne I my face, vnto thee lyfte I vp myne eyes. I beseche the O Lorde, lose me out of the bondes of this rebuke, or els take me vtterlye awaye frome the earthe. Thou knowest Lorde, that I neuer had desire vnto man, and that I haue kept my soule cleane from all vncienlye luste. I haue not kept companye with those ỹ passe their time in sport, neyther haue I made my selfe partaker with theym that walke in vyghte behauour. Neuertheles, an husband haue I consented to take, not for my pleasure, but in thy feare. Now per- D aduenture either I haue ben vnworthy of them, or els were they vnmete for me, or thou happly hast kept me to another husband. For why? thy counsell is not in the power of man. But whosoeuer loueth thee & serueth thee a right, is sure of thys, that if his lyfe be tempted and proued, it standeth in the tryinge, and if he endure in pacience, he shal haue a reward, and be hylye crowned: and if he be in trouble, that God (no doubt) shal deliuer him: and if his lyfe be in chastenmg, that he shal haue leaue to come vnto thy mercye. For thou hast no pleasure in our dampnacion: and why? after a storme thou makest the weather fayre & stil, after weping & heuynes, thou geuest great ioye. Thy name O God of Israell, be praysed for euer. At the same tyme were both their prayers herd in the sighte of the maiestye of the hyest God. And Raphael the holy Angell of the Lorde was sent to helpe theym both, whose prayers came at one time together before God.

¶ The.iiii. Chapter,

SO when Tobias thoughte hys A prayer to be herde, that he might dye, he called vnto him his sonne Tobias, and said vnto him: My sone heare the wordes of my mouthe, and lay them in thyne hert, as a foundation. When God taketh away my soul, bury thou my body, and hold thy mother in honoure all the dayes of her lyfe. For thou oughtest to remember, what and howe great perils she suffred for the in her wombe. And when she

she also hath fulfylled the tyme of her lyfe, bury her beside me. Haue God in thy thought all the dayes of thy lyfe, and beware, lest at any time thou consent vnto sinne, and lest thou let slippe the commaundementes of the Lorde our God. Geue almes of thy goodes, and turn neuer thy face from the poore, and so shall it come to passe, that the face of the Lorde shall not be turned awaye from thee. ℣ Be mercifull after thy power. If thou haste muche, geue plenteously, if thou haste litle, do thy diligence, gladly to geue of that litle. For so gatherest thou thy selfe a good reward in the daye of necessitie. For mercye delyuereth from all sinne, and from death, and suffereth not the soule to come in darkenes. A great confort is mercy before the hye God, vnto all them that shewe it. ℣ Myne sonne, keepe thy self from all whoredome, and (beside thy wife) se that no faute be knowen of the. Let neuer pryde haue rule in thy mynde nor in thy worde, for in pryde began al destruction. Whosoeuer worketh any thyng for thee, immediately geue him his hyre, and loke that thy hyred seruauntes wages remayn not by the ouer night. Loke that thou neuer do vnto another man, the thyng that thou wouldest not another man ℭ should do vnto thee. Eate thy breade with the hungry and poore, and couer the naked with thy clothes. Set thy bread and wine vpon the burial of the righteous, and do not thou eate and drinke therof with the sinners. Aske euer counsell at the wise. Be alwaye thankefull vnto God, and beseech him, that he will order thy waies, and that whatsoeuer thou deuisest or takest in hand, it may remayne in him. I certifie the also myne sonne, that (when thou wast yet but a babe) I delyuered ten talentes of syluer vnto Gabelus, at Rages a citie of the Medes, and hys hande wrytyngr haue I by me. And therfore seke some meanes, how thou mayest come by hym, and receaue of him the sayd weight of siluer, & geue him hys hand wrytynge agayne. ℣ Myne sonne, be not afrayed: trueth it is, we leade here a poore lyfe: but great good shall we haue, yf we feare God, and depart from all sinne, and do well.

ℭ The. v. Chapter.

THen answered Tobias hys father and said: father, al that thou haste commaunded me, will I do and that diligently. But how I shall requyre this money, I cannot tell. Neyther doeth he knowe me, nor I him. what token shall I geue hym? And as for the waye thither, I neuer knewe it. Then his father answered him, & said: I haue his hand wrytyng by me, whiche whē thou shewest him vnfained, immediatelye he shall paye thee. But go thy waye nowe, and get thee some faythfull manne to go with thee for an hyre, that thou mayest receaue the money, while I am yet lyuyng. Then went Tobias oute, and vpon the strete he found a fayre ponge man standynge, girded vppe, and as it were one readye to take hys iourney. And he knewe not that it was an Angel of God, but saluted him, and sayd: Frome whence art thou, thou good pong man? He answered: Of the chil ℣ dren of Israell. And Tobias said vnto him: knowest thou the waye, that ledeth vnto the contrey of ℔ Medes? He answered: I know it well, and al those stretes haue I gone ofte tymes, & haue lodged with oure brother Gabelus, that dwelleth in Rages, a citie of the Medes, whiche lyeth vpon the mounte Egbathanis: Tobias sayde vnto him: I praye thee tarye for me, tyll I haue told my father these thinges. Then went Tobias in, and tolde his father all. At the which his father marueled, and prayed, that he wouldе come in vnto hym. Nowe when the Aungell came in, he saluted hym, and sayde: Ioye be with the for euermore. And olde Tobias sayde: what ioye can I haue that sit here in darkenes, and see not the light of heauen. The ℭ ponge man sayd vnto him: be of good cheare, God shall helpe thee shortely. And Tobias sayde vnto him: Canste thou bringe my sonne to Gabelus, vnto the citye of Rages in Media: And when thou commeſt agayne, I ſhall pay thee thy hyre. And the Angell ſayde vnto him: I ſhall leade thy ſonne, and bringe him to thee agayne. Then Tobias anſwered him: tell me I pray thee, of what houſe or of what tribe art thou? The Angell Raphaell ſayde vnto hym: Aſkeſt thou after the kynred of an hyrelyng, or ſekeſt thou a gyde for thy ſonne to go with hym? But that I make thee not carefull, I am Azarias the ſonne of great Hananias. And Tobias anſwered: thou art come of a great kinred: but I pray the be not diſpleaſed, that I deſyred to knowe thy kinred. The Angell ſayde vnto him: thy ſonne ſhall I lead forth ſafely, and bring him whole to thee agayne. Then anſwered Tobias, and ſayd: well, go on your way, and God be in your iourney, and hys Angell beare you companye. So when they hadde prepared all thynges, that they ſhold take with them in their iorney. Tobias bad his father and his mother fare wel, and they went on their way both together. Now when they wer gone: hys mother began to wepe, and ſayde: The ſtaffe of our age haſte thou taken awaye, and ſente hym from vs. Wold god that ỹ money had neuer bē, for the which thou haſte ſente hym awaye. If we had bene contente with our pouertie, this had bene greate ryches vnto vs, that we ſawe our ſonne here. Then ſayde Tobias vnto her: wepe not, our ſonne ſhall come to vs agayne ſafe and ſound, and thyne eyes ſhal ſe him. For I truſt, that the good Angell of God ſhall beare hym companye, and order well all the thinges that he doeth: ſo that he ſhall come to vs agayne with ioy. At theſe wordes his mother left of from wepyng, and held her tonge.

¶ The.vi. Chapter.

AND Tobias went on hys waye, & a dog folowed him, and the firſte night they abode by the water of Tygris. Then went he out to waſhe hys fete, and beholde, there came forth an horrible fiſhe to deuoure hym. Of whom Tobias was afrayd, and cried with a loude voyce, ſaying: Lorde, he commeth vpon me: And the Aungell ſayd vnto him: Take him by the gyll, and draw hym to thee. And he did ſo, and dreawe him vpon the lande. And the fyſhe beganne to leape at his fete. Then ſayd the Angell vnto him: take out the bowels of this fiſh, and as for the herte, the gall and the lyuer, keepe them by thee. For theſe thynges are neceſſary and good for medecine. Tobias dyd ſo, and roſted the fyſhe, and they toke him with them in their iorney: the reſidue they ſalted, as muche as was ſufficiente for theym, tyll they came to Rages a citye of the Medes. Then Tobias aſked the Angell, and ſayd vnto him: I pray the brother Azarias, tel me, wherto are theſe thynges good of the fiſhe thou haſt bidden me keepe? The Aungell aunſwered him, and ſaide: If thou layeſt a piece of the hert vpon the coales, the ſmoke therof dryueth awaye all maner of euyll ſpretes, whether it be from man or from woman, ſo that frome thence forth the ſame ſhall come nomore vnto them. The gall is good to anoynte or to ſtrike the eyes withal, where as there is any blemyſhe in them, ſo that they ſhalbe whole. And Tobias ſayde vnto hym: where wilte thou that we remayne? The Angell anſwered and ſayd: Here is a nye kynſman of thine, one Raguell by name, whiche hath a daughter called Sara, and hath neyther ſonne nor daughter but her. All hys good belongeth vnto thee, and thou muſt mary her, and therfore deſire her of her father, and he ſhal geue her thee to wyfe. Then aunſwered Tobias and ſayd: As I vnderſtande, ſhe hath bene maried vnto ſeuen huſbandes, and they all are deade: and I haue herd ſaye, that the deuyll ſlewe them. I am afrayde therfore, leſt ſuch thinges happen vnto me alſo, whiche if it came to paſſe (ſeynge I am the onely ſonne of my father and my mother) I ſhoulde bringe them in their

age.

age wyth sorowe to their graues.

D Then sayde the angel Raphael vnto him: Heare mee, and I wyl tell thee what they be, of whom the deuil hath power. Namely, they that receaue mariage of such a fashion, that they shut God oute from theim, and from theyr heart, and geue theym selues to theyr owne lust, euen as it were an horse and mule, whiche haue no vnderstanding: vpō such hath the deuyl power. But when thou takest her, and arte come into the chamber, withhold thy self from her thre dayes, and geue thy diligence vnto nothing but vnto prayer wyth her. And in the fyrst nyght, roste the lyuer of the fysh, and the deuil shalbe dryuen away. The seconde nyght shalt thou be receaued into the company of the holy patriarkes. The thirde nyght shalte thou obteyne the blessinge of God, so that whole chyldren shalbe borne of you. After the thirde nyght, take the mayden in the feare of God, and more for the desyre of children, then for any fleshly luste: that in the seede of Abraham, thou mayest obtayne the blessynge in chyldren.

¶ The. vii. Chapter.

I Then went they in to Raguel, which receaued them ioyfully. And when Raguel loked vpon Tobias, he sayde vnto Anna hys wyfe: Howe lyke is this yong manne vnto my systers sonne? And when hē had spoken thys, he sayde: whence be ye good brethren? They sayd: Of the tribe of Nephthaly, out of the captyuitye of Ninive. Then sayd Raguel vnto them: kno we ye my brother Tobias? They sayde, yea, we know him wel. And when they had spokē much good of hym, the aungel sayde vnto Raguel: Tobias of whō thou askest is this yong mās father. Then Raguel bowed hym self down, & wept, toke him about the neck, and kissed him, & sayde: Gods blessinge haue thou my sonne, for thou art the sonne of a good vertuous man. And Anna hys wyfe, and Sara hys daughter wept also.

Now when they had talked together Raguel badde kill a wether, and to make a feast. And when he prayed thē to syt downe to dynner, Tobias said: I wil neither eate nor dryncke here thys day, except thou first graunt me my petition, and promise to geue mee thy daughter Sara. When Raguell hearde thys, he was astonnied: for he knewe, what had happened vnto the other seuen menne, that went in vnto her, and hee beganne to feare, that it shoulde chaunce vnto him also in like maner. And whyle he stode so in dout and gaue the yonge man no answer, the aungel sayde vnto him: Feare not to geue him thy daughter, for vnto thys manne that feareth God, belongeth thy daughter to wyfe, therefore myghte none other haue her. Then sayd Raguel: I dought not, but God hathe accepted my prayers and teares in hys syghte: and I truste hee caused you to come vnto me for the same intente, that thys daughter of myne might be maried in her owne kinred, accordynge to the lawe of Moyses. And nowe doubt thou not, but I wil geue her vnto thee: So hee tooke the ryghte hande of hys daughter, and gaue hey into the ryghte hand of Tobias, and sayde: The God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob be wyth you, ioyne you together, and fulfyl his blessing in you. And they tooke a letter, and made a wrytinge of the mariage. And then made they mery, and praysed God. And Raguel called Anna hys wyfe vnto hym, and badde her prepare another chamber, and thyther he brought Sara hys daughter, and shee wepte. Then sayde he vnto her: Bee of good chere my daughter, the Lord of heuen geue thee ioye, for the heauines that thou haste suffred.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

NOw after that they had supped, they brought the yonge man into her. Then thought Tobias vpon the woordes of the Angel: and toke out of hys bagge a piece of the lyuer of the fyshe, and layed it vpon the hoate coales. So the Angel Raphaell toke holde of the deuyll, and sent him away, and bound him in the wildernes of the hier Egypte. Then spake Tobias vnto the virgin, & sayd: Up Sara, let vs make our prayer vnto God to daye, to morowe, and ouer morowe: for these three nightes will we reconcile our selues with god: and when the third holy night is past, we shal ioyne together in the duty of maryage. For we are the children of holy men, and we maye not come together B as the Heathen that knowe not God. Then stode they vp both together, and besought God earnestly, that he wold preserue them. And Tobias sayd: O Lorde God of our fathers, prayse bee thou of heauen and earthe, of the sea, welles and floudes, and of all thy creatures that be therin. Thou madest Adam of the mould of the earthe, and Gene. 2. gauest him Eua for an helper. And now lord thou knowest that it is not because of bolupteousnes, that I take this sister of mine to wyfe, but onelye for the loue of children, in whom thy name be blessed for euermore. And Sara sayde: haue mercy vpon vs (O Lord) haue mercy vpon vs, and let vs both come whole and sound together to a good age. And about the cock crowyng, it happened, that Raguell called hys seruauntes, and they wente with hym, to make a graue. For he said: it is chanced now vnto hym peraduenture, as it dydde vnto the other seuen menne, that wente in vnto her. Now when they had made the graue Raguell came againe to his wife, and sayd vnto her: send one of thy maides, to loke if he be dead, that I may bury hym afore it be light day. So she sent a maiden to see, which when she came into the chamber, founde them whole and sounde, slepyng together. And so she came againe, and brought good ti-D dynges. Then Raguel and Anna his wife praysed the Lord, and sayd: praysed be thou, O Lorde God of Israell, for it is not happened vnto vs, as we thought. For thou hast dealt merciful lye with vs, and put away frō vs the enemye that persecuted vs, and hast shewed mercy vnto yonder two beloued, O Lord, cause them to magnifye thee more perfectly, and to offer the sacrifice of thy prayse, and of their helth, that all people maye knowe, that thou onelye arte God in all the earth. And immediatelye Raguell commaunded his seruauntes, to fyll the graue, that thei had made with erth, afore it was light, and bad his wife prepare a feast and to make ready al things that wer necessary for meate, to suche as wente by the waye. He caused two fat kyne also, and foure wethers to be slayne, & the meats to be prepared for all hys neighbours and frendes. And Raguell charged Tobias to remayne with him two wekes. As for all the good that he had, he gaue Tobias the halfe of it, and made this writyng, that the halfe which remained, should fall vnto Tobias after their death.

¶ The. ix. Chapter.

Then Tobias called vnto hym the Aungell, whom he thought to haue bene a man, and sayde vnto him: Brother Azarias, I praye thee herken vnto my wordes: If I shold geue my selfe to be thy seruant, I shall not deserue thy prouydence. Neuertheles, I beseech thee, that thou wilt take the beastes and the seruantes, and go vnto Gabelus in Rages the citye of Medes, and deliuer hym his bande writynge, and receaue the money of him, and pray him to com to my maryage. For thou knowest thy B selfe, that my father dothe number the dayes: and if I tary one day to longe, he will be sory in hys mynde. Howe seest thou howe earnestlye Raguell hath required mee, soo that I can not saye hym naye. Then toke Raphaell foure of Raguelles seruauntes, and two Camelles, and wente vnto Rages, the Cytye of the Medes: and when he had found Gabelus, he gaue hym his hand writyng, and receaued all the money. He tolde hym also of C Tobias the sonne of Tobi, howe all thynges hadde happened, and caused him to com with hym to the mariage.

Nowe

Now when he came into the house of Raguell, he found Tobias sytting at the table, & he leaped vp, and they kissed one an another, & Gabelus wept, and prayed God, and sayd: The blessyng of the God of Israell haue thou, for thou art the son of a right vertuous and iust man, and of one that feareth God, and geueth greate almes. And blessyng haue thy wife, and your elders, that ye may see your children, and youre childers children, vnto the third and fourth generation, and your seede be blessed of the God of Israell, whiche reigneth world without end. And when they all hadde saide Amen, they wente to the feast, but with the feare of the Lord, held they the feast of the mariage.

¶ The.x. Chapter.

A NOwe whyle ponge Tobias made long tarieng, by reason of the maryage, hys father was full of care & heuines, & thought what should be the cause, that my son tarieth so long? Or why should he be kept so longe there? Peraduenture Gabelus is dead, & no mā wil giue him y money. Thus began he to be very sorowfull, he and Anna hys wyfe with him, and began to wepe both together because their sonne was not come again vnto them at the day appoynted. As for his mother, she wept with dis comfortable teares, and sayde: woo is me, my soonne: Oh what ayled vs to B send thee away into a straunge countrey, thou light of our eies, thou staffe of our age, thou comforte of our lyfe, thou hope of our generation. Seyng all the things that we haue, are onely in thee, we should not haue sent thee away from vs. Then Tobias comforted her, and sayd: Hold thy tonge, and be not discomforted: our son is whole and sound, the man that we sent hym withall, is faithfull inough. Neuerthelesse, she myght in no wise be comforted, but daily wente out, looked about, and went about all the streetes, wherby she thought he shoulde come agayne: that (if it were possible) shee myghte see hym commynge afarre of.

But Raguell sayde vnto his sonne in lawe: O tary here, and I shall send a messanger vnto thy father Tobias, to tell hym that thou arte in good helth. Tobias sayde vnto hym: I am sure, C that my father and my mother counte euery day, and that their herts are sorye. So when Raguell prayed Tobias with many wordes, and would in noo wyse heare hym: he deliuered Sara vnto hym, and the halfe part of all his good: in seruentes, and handemaidens, in shepe, in Camels, and in kyne, and much money, & so sent hym D away from hym with peace and ioye, and sayd: The holy angell of the Lord be with you in your iorney, and bring you foorth safe and sound, that ye may fynd al things in good case with your elders, and that myne eies maye see youre chyldren afore I dye. So the elders embraced their daughter, kyssed her, and lette her go, exhortyng her to honour her father and mother in lawe to loue her husbande, to rule well her household, to kepe her hous in good order, & to shewe her selfe fauteleſſe.

¶ The.xi. Chapter.

AS they nowe were goynge A homeward agayne, vpon the xi. daye, they came to Charra, whyche lyeth in the halfe way towarde Ninive. And the angel saide: Brother Tobias, thou knowest howe thou haste left thy father: therfore yf it please thee, we two wyll goe beefore, and lette the household with thy wyfe and the cattell come soft and fair after vs. And whē Tobias was content that they shoulde go beefore, Raphael sayd vnto him: Take of the gall of the fyshe with the, for it shalbe necessary. So Tobias toke of the gal B and they went their way. But Anna, the mother of Tobias sat daply by the way syde, vppon the toppe of an hyll, frome whense she myghte see farre about her. And whyle shee was waytynge there for hys commyng, she looked afarre of, and anone shee perceiued her sonne commynge, and ranne and told her husband, saying: Behold thy sonne commeth. And Raphaell sayde vnto Tobias: As soone as thou commest into the house, immediatelye worship the Lord thy God, and gene thankes vnto hym: then go to thy father, and kisse him: and strike his eyes ouer with the gall of the fyshe that thou hast broughte with thee. For be sure, that hys eyes shall streyght way be opened, and thy father shall see the light of heauen, and shal reioyce at the sight of the. Then the dogge that had bene with them in their iourney, ran before, and came as a messenger, and wagged with his tayle for gladnesse. ℭ So the blynd father arose, and began to runne, and stombled with his fete, and gaue a seruant his hand, ranne to mete his sonne, receaued him, and kissed him, he and his wyfe, and they began to wepe for ioye. Now whē they had worshypped and thanked God, they sat downe. Then toke Tobias of the fyshes gal, and anoynted his fathers eyes: and taryed halfe an houre, and then began the blemishe to go out of hys eyes, lyke as it hadde bene the whyte skynne of an egge: which Tobias toke and drewe frome hys eyes, & immediately he receaued his sighte. Then they praysed God, he and hys wyfe, and all they that knewe hym. ℭ And Tobias sayde: O Lorde God of Israell, I geue thee prayse and thankes, for thou haste chastened me, and made me whole. And lo, nowe do I see my sonne Tobias. After seuē days came Sara his sons wife also, whole and sound with all the houshold and cattell, with camels and much money of hys wyues, and with the money that he had receaued of Gabelus: and he tolde his father and his mother all the benefites, which God had done for him, by the man that led him. Achior also and Nabath Tobias syster sons came, and wer glad and reioysed with him, by reasō of all the good that God had shewed vnto hym. And so for the space of seuen dayes they made mery, and were right ioyfull euerychone.

Then Tobias called hys sonne vnto him, and sayd: What maye we gene thys holye man, that went wt thee? Tobias answered his father, and said: Father what reward shall we geue him? Or what thynge can deserue hys benefytes? He hath bene my gyde, and brought me safe agayne: he receaued the money frome Gabelus, he caused me to get my wife he droue the euyll spyrete from her, he hath bene an occasion of gladnesse to her father and mother: he delyuered me, that I was not deuoured of the fyshe, he hath made the to see the lyght of heauen, yea, we all haue receaued great good of him. Howe shoulde we worthely deserue these thynges vnto him? But I pray thee my father, that thou wilte desire hym, yf happelye he will vouchsafe, to take with hym the halfe of all that we haue brought. ℭ So the father and the sonne called hym, toke him aside, and beganne to praye him, that he wolde be contente to take in good worth, the half part of al that they had brought. Then said he secretlye vnto them: Prayse ye the God of heauen, and geue thankes vnto hym before all men lyuyng, for he hath shewed his mercy vnto vs. It is good to hyde the kynges secrete, but to shewe and to praise the workes of God, it is an honorable thyng. Prayer is good with fasting, and mercy is better, then to hoorde vp treasures of golde. For mercy delyuereth from deth, clenseth sinne, and causeth to finde euerlasting lyfe. But they that do synne and vnrighteousnes, are the enemies of their owne sowle. ℭ wherefore I telle you trueth, and will hyde nothynge from you. When thou prayedst with teares, and buryedst the deade, and lefteste thy dyner, and hyddest the deade in thy house vppon the daye tyme, that thou mightest burye them in the nighte, I offered thy prayer before the Lorde. And because thou was accept and beloued of God, it was necessarye, that tentacion should trye thee. And nowe hath the lord sent me to heale the, and to deliuer Sara thy sons wyfe from the the euil spirite. For I am Raphael an aungel one of the seuen that stande D before God. When they heard thys, they were sore afrayde, and trembled, and fel downe vpon their faces vnto the ground. Then sayde the Aungel: Peace be with you, feare not. Where as I haue beene with you, it is the will of God: geue prayse and thankes vnto hym. You thoughte that I Ec.18.a dyd eate and drynke with you, but I vse meate that is inuisible, and drinke that cannot be seene of menne. Nowe therefore is the tyme that I muste turne agayne, vnto him that sent me, but be ye thankful vnto God, and tell out al hys wonderous woorkes. And when he had spoken these woordes, he was taken away out of their syghte, so that they sawe him nomore. Then fel they downe flat vppon their faces by the space of three houres, and praised God: when they rose vp, they told all hys wonderous woorkes.

¶ The .xii. Chapter.

THen olde Tobias opened hys mouthe and praysed the Lorde, and sayde: Greate arte thou O Lord for euermore, and thy kingdome
I woorld without ende: for thou scourgest and healest: thou leadest vnto hel, and bryngest out agayne, and there is none that may escape thyne hande. O geue thankes vnto the Lorde, ye children of Israel, and prayse him in the syght of the heathen. For amonge the Heathen which knowe him not hath he scattered you, to the intente that ye should shewe foorth hys marueylous woorkes: and cause them for to knowe that there is none other God almighty but he. Hee hath chastened vs for our misdedes, and for his owne mercy sake shal he saue vs. Consider then B howe hee hath dealte with you, and prayse him with feare and dreade, and magnify the euerlasting king in your woorkes. I will praise him euen in the land of my captiuitie, for he hath shewed his maiesty vnto a sinful people. Tourne you therefore, O ye sinners, and do ryghteousnes before God, and be ye sure, that he will shew his mercye vpon you. As for me and my soul, we wyl reioyce in God. O praise the Lorde al ye his chosen, holde the dates of gladnes, and be thankful vnto him O Ierusalem thou citie of God, the Lord hath punished thee for the woorkes of thyne owne handes. O praise the Lord in thy good things, and geue thankes to the euerlasting God, that he may build vp his tabernacle again in thee, that hee maye cal againe vnto thee, al suche as be in captiuitye, and that thou maiest haue ioye for euermore. With a faire lighte shalte thou shine, & al the endes of the woorld shall honoure thee. The people shal come vnto thee from farre, they shal bringe giftes, and woorship the Lord in thee, and thy land shal they haue for a sanctuarye, for they shall call vppon the greate name of thee. Cursed shall C they bee that despyse thee, and all that blaspheme the, shalbe condemned: but blessed shall they bee that buylde thee vp. As for thee, thou shalte reioyce in thy children, for they all shall be blessed, and gathered together vnto the Lorde. Blessed are all they that loue thee, and that bee gladde of thy peace. Praise thou the Lorde, O my soule, for the Lorde our God hath deliuered his citie Ierusalem from al her troubles, I wyll count my selfe happy, if my sede remayn to see the clerenesse of Ierusalem. ✣ The gates of Ierusalem shall be buylded with Saphire & Smaragde, and all the compasse of her walles with precious stones. Al her stretes shall be paued with white marble stone, and in al the stretes shal Alleluya bee songe. Praised bee the Lorde, whiche hathe exalted her, that his kyngdome may bee vppon her for euermore. Amen. And so Tobias made an ende of his talkyng.

¶ The .xiiii. Chapter.

AND after that Tobias hadde A gotten his syght agayn, he liued .xlii. yeares, and sawe hys childers children. Now whē he was C. and .ii. yeare old, he dyed, and was buried honourablye in Niniue. For when he was sixe and fiftye yeares old

age:

age he loſt the ſyghte of hys eyes, and when hee was three ſcore yeare olde, he gat his ſight again. The reſidue of B his life led he in ioy, and increſed wel in the feare of God, and departed in peace. But in the houre of hys death he called vnto him his ſonne Tobias and ſeuen yonge ſpringaldes hys ſon-nes childzen, and ſayde vnto thē: The deſtruction of Niniue is at hande, for the word of the Lord cannot faile, and our brethzen that are ſcattered oute of the lande of Iſrael, ſhal come thither agayne. And the whole land of it that hath bene waſte, ſhalbe filled: and the houſe of God that was brēt in it, ſhall be builded again: and al ſuche as feare God, ſhal returne thyther: the hethen alſo ſhal forſake their ydols, and come C to Ieruſalem and dwel there, and all the kinges of the earth ſhalbe glad of her, and worſhip the Lord God of Iſ rael. And therefore my childzen, heare youre father: Serue the Lorde in the trueth, ſeeke after his will, and do the thing that pleaſeth him. Commaund your childzen that they do ryght, gene almes, be mindful of God, and euer to be thankefull vnto him in trueth, and wyth al their power. Heare me nowe therefore my childzen, and abyde not here, but in what daye ſoeuer ye haue buried your mother beſide me, get you from hence. For I ſee, that the wyckednes of it ſhal bring it to deſtruction and end. After the death of his mo-D ther, Tobias departed away frō Niniue, with his wife & childrē, & with his childers childzen, & came agayn to his father and mother in law, & found thē whole, & in a good age, & tooke the care of thē. And he cloſed their eyes, & was heire vnto Raguels goodes, and ſaw the fifth generation, and his childers childzen. And whē he was. xcix.
yeare of age, he died in the feare of the Lord, and his kinſfolkes buried him, and all his poſterity cōtinued in good life, & holye converſation: ſo that they were loued & accepted bothe of God & man, and of al the people of the land.

¶ The end of the boke of Tobias.

The booke of Judith.

¶ The. firſte Chapter.

ARphaxat the king of Medes ſubdued ma nye people vnto hys dominion, & builded a noble ſtrong citye, which he called Eg bathanis. The wal-les of it made he of fre ſtone, four ſqua red ſeuentie cubites hie, & thirty cubi tes brode. He made towres therevpon an hundred cubites hie. But vpon the four corners euerye ſyde was twenty fote brode. He made the portes in the height like as the towres. This king truſted in his mighty hoſt, and in hys B glorious charets. So in the twelfth yeare of his reygne, it happened, that Nabuchodonoſor the king of the Aſſi rias, which reygned in the great Cy-tie of Niniue) foughte againſte Ar-phaxat, and ouercame him in the great field called Ragan, beſyde Euphrates and Tigris and Iadaſon in the fyeld of Erioth the kinges of the Elykes.
Then was the kyngdome of Nabu-chodonoſor exalted, and his hert was lyfte vp, and he ſent vnto al them that dwelte in Celicia, in Damaſcus, in Libanus, and vnto the Heathen that dwelte in Carmel and Cedar, and to ſuche as dweit in Galile, in the great fyelde of Eſdrelon, to all theym that wer in Samaria, and beyond the wa- C ter of Iordan vnto Ieruſalem, and the whole lande of Ieſſe vntō the mountaynes of Ethiopia. Vnto all theſe did Nabuchodonoſor the kynge of the Aſſirians ſende meſſaungers.
But they al with one conſent would not agre vnto him, & ſent ỹ meſſēgers agayne emptye, and put theim awaye without honour. Then Nabuchodonoſor the kynge tooke indygnation at all thoſe lands, & ſware by his throne and by his kingdome, that he would be auenged of all thoſe countrees.

¶ The. ii. Chapter.

IN the thirtenth yeare of kynge Nabuchodonosor, vppon the .xii. day of the fyrst monthy, it was deuised in the court of Nabuchodonosor the kynge of the Assirians, that hee woulde defende hym selfe. So he called vnto him al the elders, al his captaynes, and men of warre and shewed them his secret councel, and told them that hys purpose was to bringe the whole earth vnder hys dominion.

Nowe when they were all contente wyth thys sayinge, Nabuchodonosor the king called Holofernes the chyefe captayne of hys warres, and said vnto him: Go thy way forth against all the kyngdomes of the west, and specially against those that haue despised my commaundemente. Thou shalte spare no realme, al strong cities shalte thou bringe in subiection vnto mee.

B Then Holofernes called together all the captaynes and rulers of al the power in Assiria, and mustred the souldiers vnto the host (lyke as the kyng commaunded him) namely, an hundred and twentye thousande fighting men vpon foote, and twelue thousande archers vpon horsebacke. All his ordeynaunce sente he before wyth an innumerable multitude of camelles, so that the hoste was wel prouided for wyth oxen, and smal cattel, and that wythout number. He caused corne to be prepared out of al Siria for hys hoolke.

C Muche golde and syluer also tooke he out of the kynges house. So he tooke hys iourney, he and all hys host, with charettes, horsemenne, and archers, of whom there were so manye, that they couered the grounde of the lande, lyke the grashoppers. And when hee was gone paste the borders of the Assirians he came toward the greate mountaynes of Ange, whyche lye vpon the left side of Celicia: and so went he vp into their castels, and wanne euery strong holde. As for the welthy citie of Molothus, he brake it downe, and spoiled al the children of Tharsis and the Ismaelytes, which laye toward the wildernes, and vppon the South syde of the lande of Chelon. Hee wente ouer Euphrates also, and came into Mesopotamia, and brake downe all the hye cityes that were there, from the broke of Mambre til a man come to the sea: and he toke the borders in from Celicia vnto the coastes of Japhet toward the Southe. Hee caried awaye al the Madianyts, and spoyled al their goodes, and whosoeuer withstode him, he slewe theym wyth the swearde. After this he went downe into the fielde of Damascus in the tyme of haruest, and brent vp al the corne and all the trees, and caused the vynes to be cutte downe. And the feare of him fel vpon al them that dwelt vpon the earth.

¶ The. iii. Chapter.

SO the kinges and prynces of all cities and landes sent their Embassadours: namely, they of Syria, and Mesopotamia, Siria, Sobal and Libia, and Celicia, which came to Holofernes, and sayd: Let thy wrathe ceasse towarde vs: It is better for vs to serue the great kyng Nabuchodonosor wyth our lyues, and to be subiecte vnto thee, then that wee shoulde dye, and be slayne, and receaue greater hurt. All our Cities and possessions, all mountaynes and hylles, all fyeldes, greate and smalle cattell, sheepe, goates, horses and cammelles, all our goodes and housholdes, bee in thy power, vnder thy subiection, bee it all together. Wee oure selues also and oure chylderne wyll bee thyne owne, B come vnto vs a peaceable LORD, & vse our seruice at thy pleasure. Then cam Holofernes downe frō the mountains wyth horsemen & great power, and conquered all stronge fensed Cities, and all that dwelte in the lande. And out of all cities he tooke stronge menne, and suche as were meete for the warre to helpe hym. There came suche a feare also vppon those countreys, that the indwellers of all the Cities, the Prynces, and rulers, and the people together, wēt forth to mete hym as he camme, and receaued hym honorably wyth garlandes & torches, with dauncés, tabrettes, and pypes. Neuertheleſſe, though they dyd thys, yet myght they not aſſwage hys rygorous ſtomacke: but he deſtroyed theyr cities, and hewed downe their woddes. For Nabuchodonoſor the kyng had commaunded hym, that he ſhould roote out all the goddes of the lande, to the intent that he onely myght bee called & taken for the God of the nations, which Holofernes with his power brought vnder hym. So wente he thorow Syria Sobal, and thorow all Appamia, and all Meſopotamia, & came to the Idumeans, in the lande of Gabae, and Septopolie, and tooke theyr cities, and remayned there thirtye dayes, wherein he cauſed all the whole multitude of hys hoſte to bee gathered together.

with

¶ The. iiii. Chapter.

When the chyldren of Iſraell that dwelt in Iewry, heard this, they were ſore afrayde of hym. There came ſuche trembling alſo and feare vpon them, that they ſorowed he ſhould doo vnto the citie of Jeruſalem, and the temple of the Lorde, as he he had doone to other cities and their temples. So thei ſent into all Samaria rounde aboute vnto Jericho, toke in, and occupied al toppes of the mountaynes, and made faſt the townes with walles, and prepared corne for theim agaynſt the battaile. Eliachim alſo the Prieſt wrote vnto all them that dwelt toward Eſdrolon (whiche lieth ouer againſt the great field by Dothaim) and vnto all thoſe by whom men myght haue paſſage vnto them, that they ſhould take in the wais of the mountains, wherby there myght bee any way and paſſage to Jeruſalem, & that they ſhould hold diligent watch wher any ſtraite was betwixte the mountaynes. And the chyldren of Iſraell dyd, as Eliachim the Prieſt of the Lord had commanded them. And al the people cried earneſtely, and humbled theyr ſoules with faſtynges and prayers, they and theyr wyues. The Prieſtes putte on heary clothes, and layde the yonge babes before the temple of the Lord, and couered the aultar of the Lorde with an heary clothe. And with one accord they cried vnto the Lorde God of Iſraell, that theyr chyldren ſhoulde not be geuen into a praye, and their wyues into a ſpoyle, that theyr Cyties ſhold not be layd waſt, and that theyr Sanctuarie ſhold not be vnhalowed, and ſo they to bee a ſhame and rebuke vnto the heathen. Thenne Eliachim the hye prieſt of the Lord went roūd about all Iſrael, and ſpake vnto thē: ſaying: Be ye ſure, that the Lord will heare youre petitions, if ye continue ſtedfaſte in faſtynges and prayers, in the ſyghte of the Lorde. Remembre Moyſes, the ſeruaunte of the Lorde, whiche ouerthrewe the Amalechites (that truſted in their myghte and power, in theyr hooſte, in theyr ſhieldes, in theyr charettes and horſemen) not wyth weapons, but wyth holye prayers. Euen ſo ſhal all the enemies of Iſraell bee, if ye continue in thys worke, that ye haue begonne. So vpon this exhortation, they continued in prayer before the Lord. In ſo much that thei which offred brent ſacrifices vnto the Lord, offred the offrynge vnto the Lorde, beyng arayed in hearye clothes, and aſhes vpon theyr heades. And they al beſought God from their whole heart, that he would viſite his people of Iſraell.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

And worde came to Holofernes the Prince of the warres of the Aſſirians, that the chyldrē of Iſraell prepared themſelues to make reſiſtance, & how they had ſtopped the ways betwyxt the mountaynes. Then was he excedyng wrothe, and called all the Princes of Moab, and the Captaynes of Ammon, and ſayde vnto them: Tell me what people is thys, that kepeth in the mountaynes? Or what maner of cities are they? what is theyr power? Or what maner of hoſt haue thei? who is their captain? And why do they deſpiſe vs

(more

more then al those that dwell in the East, and come not forth to meete vs, that they myghte receaue vs wyth peace? Then Achior the captayne of the Ammonites aunswered, and saide: Sir if it please thee to heare, I wyll tel the truth before thee, concernynge the people that dwelle in the mountaynes, and there shal no lye go out of my mouth. This people is of the generation of the Chaldees, they dwelt fyrste in Mesopotamia, for they wold not folow the goddes of their fathers that were in the land of the Caldees, and so forsooke they the customes of their forefathers (whiche had manye gods) and worshypped one God, that made heauen and earth: which also cõmaunded thẽ, that they should go frõ thence, and dwell at Haran. Nowe when there camme a dearthe into the whole lande, they wente downe into Egypt, and ther they dwelt four. C. peares, in the which they multiplyed so greatly, that their hoost myght not be numbred. And when the Kinge of Egypt oppressed theym, and subdued them in building of his Cities wyth makyng of clay and bricke, they cryed vnto God their Lord which punished the whole lande of Egypte with dyuers plages. Now when the kyng of Egipt let them go their way, and the plage ceassed, and then folowed after them, to take them, and to bring them agayne into hys seruice, whyle they were flying away, the God of heauẽ opened the sea, so that ẏ waters stode fast vpon both the sydes as a wal, and these went through the botome of the sea dry shod. In the whych place whẽ an innumerable people of the Egyptians folowed vpon them, they were so ouerwhelmed wyth the waters, that there remayned not one, to tel thẽ that cam after, howe it happened. So whẽ thys people was passed through the red sea, they came into the wilderines of mount e Sinai, where neuer man might dwel afore, and where the sonne of man had neuer rested. There were the bytter waters made sweete for them, that they myght drynke, and forty yeares had they meat from heauen. Whereseuer they went (wythout bow and arowe, without buckler or sword) theyr god fought for them, and caused them to haue the victory. Yea, no man was able to hurte thys people, except it were so, that they departed vnfaythfully from the worshypping of the Lord their God. But as ofte as they worshypped any other beside their God, he gaue theym ouer to bee spoyled, to be slayne, and to bee putte to confusion. Neuertheless, as oft as they were sorye for departynge from the worshippe of their God, the same God of heauen gaue thẽ power and strength to wythstand their enemyes. Moreouer, they slew the kynges of the Cananytes, Iebusites, Pherezytes, Hethytes, Heuytes, and Amorites, and of al the mighty in Heseboñ and tooke their landes and Cities in possession: and so longe as they sinned not in the sight of their God, it went wel with them, for their God hateth vnrighteousnes. For in tymes paste, when they wente oute of the waye, which God had geuen them, that they shoulde walke in it, they wer destroyed in diuers battels of many nations, and many of them were caryed away prysoners vnto a strange coũtry. But nowe lately they haue tourned thẽ selues agayn vnto ẏ Lord their God, & are come together again out of ẏ coũtreis where they wer scatted abrode: and thus haue they conquered these mountaynes, and dwel therin: and as for Ierusalem where their Sanctuary is, they haue it agayne in possessyon. And therfore my Lord, make diligent inquisition, yf thys people haue done wickednes in the syght of theyr God, then let vs go vp agaynste thẽ, for doubteles their God shal deliuer them into thy handes, and subdue thẽ vnto thy power. But if this people haue not displeased their God, we shal not be able to wythstande thẽ, for their God shal defende thẽ, and so shal we be a shame to al the worlde. Now when Achior hadde spoken oute these wordes, al the greate men of Holofer-

nes

Ge. 15. c.
Exo. 12. f Sala. 3. c

nes were wroth, and thought to slay him, and sayd one to another, What is hee which dare saye, that the children of Israell are able to withstand Nabuchodonosor the kyng and hys host? where as they are an vnwepened people, without strength or vnderstanding of the feates of warre? That Achior therfore may know that he hath disceaued vs, we wyl goe vp into the mountaynes: and when the mightye men of them are taken, hee also shalbe stickte wyth the sweard, that all people may knowe, that Nabuchodonosor is the God of the earthe, and that there is none other wythout him.

¶ The. vi. Chapter.

A SO when they had lefte of speaking, Holofernes toke sore indignation, and sayde vnto Achior: For so much as thou haste prophecied vnto vs, saying: that the people of Israell shalbe defended of their God, I wyl shewe thee, that there is no God but Nabuchodonosor. Yea, when we slaye them al as one manne, thou also shalt perysh ewyth them through the sweard of the Assirians, and all Israel shalbe destroyed wyth thee, and then shalt thou fele that Nabuchodonosor is the Lord of the whole earth. Then shal the sweard of my knyghthode go through thy sides, and thou shalte fal downe stickte amonge the wounded of Israel, and shalt not com to thy selfe agayne, but be vtterlye destroyed wyth them. But if thou thinkest thy prophecy to be true, why doest thou then change thy colour? why B art thou afrayed? Thinkest thou that my woordes are not able to be performed? But that thou mayest knowe that thou shalt fele these things with them, beholde, from this houre foorth wyl I send thee vnto yonder people, that when the punishemente of my sweard (which they haue worthelye deserued) falleth vppon theym, thou mayest be punyshed with theym. So Holofernes commaunded his seruantes to take Achior, and to carye hym vnto Bethulia, and to deliuer him into the handes of the children of Israel. Then Holofernes seruantes tooke him, and wente through the plaine felde. But when they dre we nye vnto the mountaynes, the slynge casters came out agaynst them: Neuertheles they gat them away by the side of the mountayne, and bounde Achiors hand and foote to a tree, and so lefte hym bounde wyth wythes, and tourned agayne vnto their Lord. Notwithstandinge, the children of Israell wente downe from Bethulia, camme vnto him, loosed him, brought him into Bethulia, sette him in the myddest of the people, and asked hym, what the matter was, that the Assirians hadde lefte him bound? Osias the sonne of Micha of the tribe of Simeon, and Charmin (which is also called Gothoniel) were the principal rulers at the same tyme. Nowe when Achior stoode in the middest of the Senatoures, and before them al he told them what answer he gaue Holofernes, to ỹ thinge that he asked him, and howe Holofernes people wouldе haue slayne hym for so sayinge, and howe Holofernes hymselfe was wroth, and commaunded him for the same cause to be delyuered vnto the Israelytes: that whē he ouercame the children of Israel, he myght commande Achior also to bee put to death wyth dyuers tormentes, because he said: ỹ God of heuē is their defender. And when Achior had plainly told out al these thinges, al the people fel downe vpon their faces, prayssing the Lorde, and poured oute theyr prayers together vnto the Lorde, with a general complaynt and weping, and saide: O Lorde God of heauen and of earth, behold their pryde, and loke vpon oure lowlines, and consider howe it standeth wyth thy Sainctes, and make it to be knowen that thou forsakest not those, which hold them fast by thee, and howe that thou bringest them lowe, that presume of them selues, and make their boaste in theyr D owne strength. So whē the weping and prayer of the people (whiche they had made the whole day long) was ended, they conforted Achior, sayinge:

The

The God of oure fathers, whose power and strength thou haste prayed, shall so reward thee, that thou shalte rather see theyr destruction. When the Lord our God then shall geue his seruants this libertie, God be also with thee among vs: so that if it pleasethee thou with all thyne mayst dwel with vs. Now when Ozias had ended the councell, he tooke him into his house, and made a great supper, called the elders to it, and so they refreshed theim selues after the fastynge. And afterward was all the people called together, which made their praiers all the nyght long in the congregation, and besought the God of Israell for help.

¶ The. vii. Chapter.

THe next daye, Holofernes commaunded his hoste, to go vp to Bethulia: * There were an hundred & twenty thousand fyghting men on foote, and twoo and twentye thousand horsemen, beside the preparyng of them that wer won, and came to them on euery syde out of the countreys and cities whiche he had taken. All these prepared theym selues vnto the battail against the Israelites, and came by the hill side, vnto the top that looketh ouer against Dothaim, from ¶ that place which is called Belma, vnto Chelmō, that lieth toward Esdrelon. Nowe when the childerne of Israell saw so great a multitude of the Assirians, they fell downe flatte vppon the ground, strawed ashes vpon their heades, & prayed with one accord, that the God of Israell wold shewe his mercy vpō his people. And so they toke their weapons, and sat betwixt the mountains in the narowe place, & kepte the way day and nyght. But while Holofernes was goyng about, he foūd the water spryng which from the South syde was conueyde into the citie by a Condite: this commanded he to be direct an other way, and cut their Condite asunder. There were welles also not farre from the walles, which they vsed secretly, more for pleasure, thē for necessitie. ¶ Then went the Ammontes, and the Moabites vnto Holofernes, and said: The childzen of Israell trust neither in speare nor arowe, but haue taken in, and kept the mountaines & hils. That thou mayst ouercom them therfore, without the strikynge of any battel, set mē to kepe ỹ welles, that they draw no water out of them: So shalt thou destroy theim without sweard, or at the least, they shall be so feble, that they must be fain to geue ouer the citie: whiche they thynke not able to be won, for so muche as it lieth in the mountains. These words pleased Holofernes well, & all his men of warre, and * he set an hundreth at euery well round about. And whenne this watch had endured twenty dais, the Cesternes and all that had water, failed them ỹ dwelt in the city of Bethulia, so that in the whole Citie they had not drinke inough for one day, for ỹ people had water geuen thē daily in a measure. Then came the mē & womē yong persons, & childzen all vnto Ozias, and saide all with one voyce: God be iudge betwixt vs and thee, for thou hast dealte euill with vs, thou woldest not speake peaceably wyth the kynge of the Assirians, therefore hathe God sold vs in their hands, and there is no man to help vs whereas we ar brought down before their eies in thirst & great destructiō. Therfore gather nowe together all the people that be in the citie, that we may all yelde oure selues willingely vnto the people of Holofernes: for better it is, that we be captiue, and prayse the Lord with our liues, then to be slaine & perysshe, & to be laughed to scorne, and shamed of euery man, whē we se our wiues & chyldzen dye before our eies. We take heauen and earth this daye to recorde, and the God of our fathers, which punisheth vs according to the deserupnge of our syns) and geue you warnyng that ye geue vppe the citee nowe into ỹ power of Holofernes host, that our ende maye be shorte with the sweard, whiche eiles shall endure longe, for wante of water, and for thyrste.

Jud. 2, b

Ju. 16, a D

Ex. 17. a

When

When they had spoken out these wordes, there was a great weepynge and howlyng in the whole congregation, and that of euery man, and they cried an whole hower longe vnto GOD with one voyce, saying: We haue sinned with our fathers, we haue doone amysse, we haue delt wickedly. Thou that art gracious, haue mercye vppon vs, punishe our vnrighteoulnes with thyne owne scourge, & geue not those ouer, that knowledge thee, vnto a people that knowe thee not, least they say amonge the Heathen: Where is their God? And when they were so werye with this crying and weepyng, that they helde their tongues, Ozias stode vp with watry eyes, and said: O take good hertes vnto you (dere brethren) and be of good chere, and let vs wait yet these fyue dayes for mercye of the LORD: peraduenture he shall put away his indignation, and geue glory vnto his name. But if he help vs not when these fiue days are past, we shal doo as ye haue sayde.

The. viii. Chapter.

AND it happened when these woordes came to the eares of Judith a widow, which was the daughter of Merari, the sonne of Idor, the sonne of Joseph, the sonne of Ozia, the sonne of Elai, the sonne of Jamnor, the sonne of Jedeon, the sonne of Raphoim, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Melchia, the sonne of Enam, the sonne of Nathania, the son of Salathiell, the sonne of Simeon, the sonne of Ruben. And her husband was called Manasses, whiche dyed in ỳ dayes of ỳ barley haruest. For while he was bindyng the sheaues together in the fielde, the heate came vpon his head, and he died at Bethulia his citie and there was he buried beside his fathers. Nowe was Judith his desolate widowe thre yeares, and six monethes. And in the hyer partes of her house, she made her self a priuy chamber, where she dwelt, beyng closed in with her maides. She ware a smocke of heare, and fasted all the dayes of her lyfe, excepte the Sabboths, and newe Moones, and the solemne dayes that the people of Israell kept. She was a very faire and beautiful person. Her husband also had left her great riches, pleteous houshold, great vnmoueable possessions, and many cattell. Thys Judith was of a verye good reporte with euery one, for she feared the lord greatly, and there was no bodye that spake an euyll woorde of her. When this Judith heard, howe Ozias had promised the people, that after the fift day, he woulde geue vp the citie vnto the Assirians, she sent for the Elders, Chambri, and Charmi, and whenne they came to her, she sayd: What thyng is this, wherin Ozias hath consented that if God help not within fiue dais he will geue ouer the citie to the Assirians? What are ye, that ye tempt the Lord? This deuise obteineth no mercy of god, but prouoketh him to wrath and displeasure. Wyll ye set the mercy of the Lord a tyme, and appoynt hym a daye after your wyll? Neuertheles, for so muche as the Lorde is paciente, let vs rather repent, pouryng out teares, and beseechyng hym of grace. For God threatneth not as a man, neither wyll he bee prouoked vnto wrathe as the chyldren of men. And therfore let vs heartily fal downe before him, and serue hym wyth a meeke spirite, and wyth weppyng eies say vnto the Lord, that hee deale with vs, accordynge to hys owne wyll and mercye: that lyke as our heart is nowe vexed & brought lowe thorow the pride of them, it may be so comforted thorow his grace: in so muche as we folow not the synnes of oure fathers, whiche forsoke theyr God, and worshypped other goddes: for the whyche synne they perysshed with the swearde, were spoyled, and broughte to shame of all theyr ennemyes. As for vs, we knowe none other God, but onely hym, for whose comforte lette vs tary with meekenes. He shal require and make inquisition for our blood, frome the vexations of our enemies: he shall bryng downe all the Heathen that ryse vp agaynst vs,

and

and put them to dishonoure, euen the D Lorde oure God Therfore deare brethren, seynge ye are the honorable and elders in the people of god, vnto whō al the people haue respect, & vpō whō the lyfe of the people standeth, lyft vp their hertes with youre exhortations that they maye call to remembraunce, howe our fathers also in tymes paste were tempted, that they myght be pro ued, if they worshipped theyr God aryght. They ought to remēber, howe Gen.22 • our father Abraham beyng tempted, and tryed thorow many tribulations, was found a louer and frend of God.
So was Isaac, so was Jacob, so was Moses, and al they that pleased God, beyng tryed thorowe many troubles, were found stedfast in fayth. Agayne, they that receaued not their temptations with the feare of God, but put them selues forthe with vnpaciencye and murmurynge agaynst God, perī-shed of the destroyer, and were slayne of the serpentes. And therfore should not we vndertake to bee auenged, for the thynge that is doone vnto vs, but consider, that all these punyshmentes are farre lesse then our sinnes and mis dedes. Beleuyng also that this correc tion commeth vnto vs (as to the ser-E uauntes of God) for amendment, and not for oure destruction. Then sayde Olias and the elders vnto Judith:
Al that thou speakest, is true, & no mā can reproue thy wordes. Praye thou for vs nowe therefore vnto God, for thou art an holye woman and feareſt God. And Judith sayde vnto theym: Seyng that ye knowe that my wor-des are of God, then proue my counsel and deuice, if it be of God: and beseche God that he will bringe my counsell to good ende. Thus haue I deuysed: Ye shall stande thys nighte before the port, and I will go forth with Abra my mayden. Praye ye therefore vnto God, that he will graciously remember his people of Israell within fyue dayes, as ye haue sayde. As for the thing that I go in hand withall, aske ye no question of it, till I open it vnto you my selfe: do ye nothyng els but praye vnto the Lord your God for me.
Then Olias the prince of the people of Juda sayde vnto her: Go thy way in peace, the Lorde be with thee, that we maye be auenged of our enemyes.
And so they went from her agayne.

¶ The.ix. Chapter.

NOwe when they were gone their way, Judith went into her closet, putte on an hearye smock, strowed asshes vpon her head, fell downe before the Lord, and cryed vnto him, sayng: O Lord God of my father • Simeon, which gaueſt hym a Gen.24b sword for a defence agaynst the ene-myes that vsed violence and wylfulnes, and that rauished the virgin, and put her to dishonesty. Thou that gaueſt their wiues into a pray, and their daughters into captiuitie, and al their praye for a spoyle vnto thy seruantes, which bare a zele vnto thee: helpe me a widow O Lord my God, I beseche thee. For thou haste done all thinges from the beginninge: and looke what thou hast taken in hand and deuyſed, it came euer to passe. For al thy ways are prepared, and thy iudgementes, are done in thy euerlastyng forknow-ledge. O loke nowe vpon the armyes of the Assirians, lyke as it was thy pleasure sometyme to loke vppon the host of the Egiptians, when they beyng weapened, persecuted thy seruan-tes, and put their trust in their charet tes, horsemen, and in the multitude of their men of warre. But thou lokedst vppon their hooste, castynge a thicke darkenes before them: and when they came into the deepe the waters ouerwhelmed them. Euen so Lord, let it go with these: that trust in the power and multitude of their men of warre, in their charets arowes and speares, and knowe not that thou onelye arte our God, whiche destroyeſt warres from the beginning, and that thou art the Lord. O lift vp thyne arme nowe, lyke as euer from the begynnyng, and in thy power bryng their power to naught: cause their might to fal in thy wrath. They make their booste, that they wyll vnhalowe and defyle thy ſanctuarie, and to waſt the Taberna cle of thy name, and to caſt doẅn the hoꝛne of thyne Aultare wyth theyꝛ ſwearde. Bꝛyng to paſſe (O Loꝛde) that the pꝛyde of the enemye may bee cut doẅn with his oẅn ſweard, that he may be taken with the ſnare of his eyes in me, and that thou mayſt ſmite hym with the lyppes of my loue. O geue me a ſtedfaſt mynde, that I may deſpiſe hym and his ſtrength, and that I may deſtroy hym. This ſhall bꝛing thy name an euerlaſting remembꝛãce, if the hande of a woman ouerthꝛoẅe hym. Foꝛ thy poẅer (O Loꝛd) ſtan deth not in the poẅer of men, neither haſt thou any pleaſure in the ſtrength of hoꝛſes. There was neuer pꝛoude perſon that pleſed the, but in the pꝛai-er of the humble and meeke hathe thy pleaſure bene euermoꝛe. O thou God of the heuens, thou maker of the waters, and Loꝛde of all creatures, heare me pooꝛe woman, callyng vpon thee, and puttyng my truſt in thy mercy.

Remembꝛe thy couenaunt, O Loꝛde, and miniſter woꝛdes in my mouthe, and ſtabliſhe this deuice in my herte, that thy honſe maye continue ſtille in holineſſe, and that all the Hethen may knoẅ that thou art God, & that there is none other but thou.

The.x. Chapter.

AND when ſhe had left of crying vnto the Loꝛd, ſhe roſe vp from the place where ſhe had lyen flatte beforе the Loꝛde, and called her mayden, went doẅne into her houſe, layd the heary clothe from her, put of the garmentes of her wydoẅ-hode, waſhed her body, anoynted her ſelfe with pꝛecious thynges, of ſweete ſauour, bꝛoided and platted her heare: ſet an houe vpon her head, and put on ſuch apparell as belongeth vnto glad-nes, ſlippers vpon her feete, armelettes, ſpanges, eareringes, fyngerrynges and decked her ſelfe with all her beſte aray. The Loꝛd gaue her alſo a ſpeciall beautie and fayꝛenes (foꝛ all thys deckynge of her ſelfe was not doone foꝛ any voluptuouſneſſe and pleaſure of the fleſhe, but of a right diſcretion and vertue, therfoꝛe dyd the Loꝛd increaſe her beautie) ſo that ſhe was excedyng amiable and well fauoured in al mens eyes. She gaue her mayden alſo a bottel of wine, a pot with oyle, pottage, cakebꝛead and cheſe, & went her way. Now when ſhe came to the poꝛt of the citie, ſhe found Ozias, and the elders of the citie waytyng there.
Whiche whenne they ſawe her, they were aſtonied, and meruayled greatly at her beautie. Neuertheleſſe, they aſked no queſtion at her, but lette her go, ſaying: The God of our fathers, geue thee his grace, and with his power perfoꝛme al the deuice of thy hert that Ieruſalem may reioyce ouer thee and that thy name may be in the number of the holy and righteous. And all they that were there, ſayde with one voyce: So beit, ſo be it. Judith made her pꝛayer vnto the Loꝛde, and went out at the poꝛt, ſhe and her mayd. And as ſhe was goyng doẅne the mount-ayne, it hapned that about the ſpꝛing of the daye, the ſpies of the Aſſirians mette with her, and toke her, ſaying: Whence commeſt thou? Oꝛ whether goeſt thou? She anſwered: I am a daughter of the Hebꝛues, and am fled frome theym, foꝛ I knoẅe that they ſhalbe geuen vnto you to be ſpoyled:
becauſe they thoughte ſcoꝛne to yelde themſelues vnto you, that they might fynde mercy in your ſyght. Therfoꝛe haue I deuiſed by my ſelfe after this maner: I wil go beforе the pꝛince Ho lofernes, and tell hym all theyꝛ ſecretes, and wyll ſhew hym, how he may come by them, and wynne theym, ſo that not one man of his hooſte ſhall periſh. And when theſe men had herd her woꝛdes, and conſydered her fayꝛe face, they wer aſtonied (foꝛ they won dꝛed at her excellent beautie) and ſaid vnto her: Thou haſt ſaued thy lyfe by fyndyng out this deuice, ẏ thou woldeſt come doẅn to our Loꝛd: & be thou ſure, that when thou cõmeſt vnto him he ſhall intreate thee wel, & thou ſhalt pleſe him at the hert: So they bꝛoght her into Holofernes pauilion, and talde

tolde hym of her. Nowe when shee came in beefore hym, immediately hee was ouercomme and taken with her beautie. Then sayde his seruantes: who would despyse the people of the Iewes, that haue soo fayre women? Shoulde we not by reason fyghte against them for these? So when Iudith sawe Holofernes sytting in a canaple, that was wrought of purple, sylke, gold, Smaragde and precyous stones, she loked fast vpon hym, and fell downe vpon the earthe. And Holofernes seruantes toke her vp again, at their lordes commaundement.

¶ The.xi. Chapter.

THen said Holofernes vnto her: Be of good chere, and feare not in thyn heart, for I neuer hurt man that wold serue Nabuchodonosor the king. As for the people, if they had not despised me, I shold not haue lift vp my speare agaynst them. But tell me nowe, what is the cause that thou art departed from them, & wherefore art thou come vnto vs? And Iudith sayd vnto hym: Syr, vnderstand the wordes of thy handemayden: for if thou wylt doo after the woordes of thy handmaiden, the Lord shall bryng thy matter to a prosperous effecte. As truely as Nabuchodonosor a Lorde of the lande lyueth, and as truely as his power lyueth, whyche is in thee, to the punyshement of all men that goe wrong, all men shal not onely be subdued vnto hym thorowe thee, but all the beastes also of the fielde. For all people speake of thy prudent actiuitie: and it hathe euer bene reported, how thou only art good & myghty in all his kyngdome, and thy discretion is cõmended in all landes. The thing is manyfeste also, that Achior spake, and it is welle knowen, what thou commmandest to doo vnto hym. For thys is playne, and of a suretie, that our God is so wroth with vs (by the reason of our synnes) that he hath shewed by hys Prophetes vnto the people, howe that for theyr synnes hee wyll delyuer them ouer vnto the enemye. And for so much as the children of Israel know, that they haue so displeased theyr God, they ar sore afrayd of thee. They suffre great hunger also, and for wante of water, they are deade nowe in a manner. Moreouer, they are appoynted to slea al theyr cattel, that they may drynke the bloud of them, and are purposed to spend al the ornamentes of theyr GOD (whyche he hathe forbydden theym to touche) for corne, wyne, and oyle. Seynge nowe, that they doo these thynges, it is a playne case, that they must nedes bee destroyed. Whiche whenne thy handmayden perceaued, I fledde from them, and the Lord hath sent me vnto thee, to shew thee these thyngs. For I thy handemayden worshyppe GOD euen here nowe beside thee, and thy handmayden shall go foorthe and I wylle make my prayer vnto GOD, and he shall telle me, when he wyll reward theym theyr synne: then shall I come and shew thee, and bryngе thee thorowe the myddest of Ieruſalem, so that thou shalte haue all the people of Israell, as the shepe without a shepheard: there shall not so muche as one dogge barke against thee: for these thynges are shewed me by the prouydence of GOD: for so muche as GOD is displeased wyth them, hee hath sent me to tell thee the same. These woordes pleased Holofernes and all hys seruantes, whyche meruayled at the wysedome of her, and sayde one to another: There is not suche a woman vppon earthe, in beautie and discretion of woordes. And Holofernes sayde vnto her: God hathe doone well, that he hathe sente thee hyther beefore thy people, that thou mayste geue them into our handes. And for soo muche as thy promyse is good, yf thy God perfourme it vnto me, he shall bee my God also, and thou shalte bee excellente, and greate in the courte of Nabuchodonosor, and thy name shall be spoken of in all the lande.

¶ The.xii. Chapter.

A THen commaunded he her to go in where his treasure laye, and charged that shee shoulde haue her dwellynge there, and appoynted what shoulde be geuen her from hys table. Judith answerd him, and said: As for the meate that thou hast commaunded to geue me, I maye not eate of it as nowe (lest I displease my God) but will eate of such as I haue brought with me. Then sayde Holofernes vnto her: If those things that thou haste broughte wyth thee fayle, what shall we do vnto the? And Judith sayd: As truely as thou liuest my Lord, thy handmayden shal not spend al this, till God haue brought to passe in my hande, the thinges that I haue deuised. So his seruauntes broughte her into the tent, where as he had ap-B poynted. And as she was goynge in, shee desired that she might haue leaue to go forth by night and before daye to her prayer, and to make intercession vnto the Lorde. Then commaunded Holofernes hys chamberlaynes, that she shoulde go out and in, at her pleasure, to praye vnto God those three dayes. And so in the nighte season she went forth into ỹ valey of Bethulia, & washed her selfe in the well water. Then went she vp, and besoughte the Lord God of Israell, that he wouldе prosper her way, for the deliueraunce of his people. And so she went in, and remayned cleane in her tente, tyll she C toke her meate in the euenyng. Upon the fourth day it happened, that Holofernes made a supper vnto his seruantes, and sayde vnto Vagao his chamberlayne: Go thy waye, and counceil this Hebrue se, that she maye be wylling to consent to kepe company with me. For it were a shame vnto all the Assirians, that a woman shoulde so laughe a man to scorne, that she were come frome hym vnmedled withall. Then went Vagao vnto Judith, and sayd: Let not the good daughter be afrayde, to come into my Lord, that she may be honoured with hym, that she may eate and drinke wine, and be merye with hym. Unto whom Judith answered: Who am I, that I shoulde saye my Lorde naye? what so euer is good before his eyes, I shall do it: and loke what is his pleasure, that shal I thinke well done, as longe as I lyue. So she stode vp, and decked her selfe with her apparell, and wente in, and D stode before hym. And Holofernes hert was whole moued, so ỹ he brent in desire toward her. And Holofernes sayde vnto her: drinke nowe, and syt downe, and be mery, for thou haste found fauoure before me. Then sayde Judith: Syr, I wyll drynke, for my mynde is merper to daye, then euer it was in all my lyfe. And she tooke, and dyd eate, and dranke before hym, the thinges that her mayden had prepared for her. And Holofernes was mery with her, and dranke more wine, then euer he dyd afore in all his life.

¶ The.xiii. Chapter.

NOw when it was late in the I nighte, hys seruauntes made haste euery manne to his lodging. And Vagao shutte the chamber dores, and went his way, for they were all ouerladen with wyne. So was Judith alone in the chamber. As for Holofernes, he laye vppon the bed all dronken, and of very dronkennes fell a slepe. Then commaunded Judith her mayden, to stand without before the doore, and to wayte. And Judith stode before the bed, makyng her prayer with teares, and moued her lyps secretly, and said: Strengthen me, O Lorde God of Israell, and haue respecte vnto the worckes of my handes in this houre, that thou mayest set vp thy citye of Jerusalem, lyke as thou hast promised: O graunt that by thee I maye perfourme the thinge, which I haue deuysed thorowe the beleue that I haue in thee. And when she B had spoken this, she went to the bedsteade, and losed the swearde that hanged vppon it, and drewe it oute. Then toke shee holde of the hearye lockes of hys heade, and sayd: strengthen me, O Lorde God in this houre,

and

and with that, she gaue him two strokes vpon the necke, and smote of hys heade. Then tooke she the canappe away, and rolled the deade body afyde.
Immediately she gat her forth, and de liuered the heade of Holofernes vnto her mayden, and bad her put it in her wallet. And so these two went forthe together after their custom, as though they wold praye, and so passed by the hoofte, and came thorowe the valley vnto the port of the citie. And Judith cryed a farre of vnto the watchemen vpon the wals: Open the gates (sayd she) for God is with vs, which hath shewed his power in Israell. And when they herd her voyce, they called the elders of the citye together. And they came all to mete her, lytle and great, yong and olde, for they thought not that she should haue come so sone.
So they lighted candels, and gathered about her euerychone, but she wēt vppe into an hye place, and caused sy-lence to be proclaymed. When euerye man nowe helde hys tongue, Judith sayd: O prayse the Lord our God, for he hath not despised nor forsaken thē, that put their truste in him: and in me his handmayden he hath performed his mercye, whiche he promysed vnto the house of Israell: yea, in my hande this same night hath he slayne the ene mye of his people. And with that she toke forth the head of Holofernes out of the waller, and shewed it them, say ing: Behold the heade of Holofernes the captaine of the Assirians, and this is the canapy, wherin he laye in hys dronkennes: wher the Lord our God hath slayne him by the hand of a woman. But as truely as the Lorde lyueth, his Angell hath kept me, goyng thyther, remaynynge there, and commyng hither againe from thence. And the Lord hath not suffred me his hand maiden to be defiled, but without any filthynes of sinne hath he brought me agayne vnto you: and that with great victorye, so that I am escaped, and ye delinered. O geue thankes vnto hym euerychone, for he is gracious and his mercye endureth for euer. So they prayfed the Lorde altogether, & gaue thankes vnto hym. And to her they sayde: The Lorde hath blessed thee in hys power, for thorowe thee he hath brought our enemyes to naught. And Ozias the chiefe ruler of the people of Israell, sayde vnto her: Blessed arte D thou of the Lorde the hye God, aboue all wemen vpon earth. Blessed be the Lord, the maker of heauen and earth, which hath gyded the aright to woūd and to smyte of the heade of the Captayne of oure enemyes. For this daye he hath made thy name so honorable, that thy praise shall neuer come out of the mouth of men, which shall alway remember the power of ꝯ Lord, seyng thou hast not spared thyne owne selfe, but put the in ieopardy, considering ꝯ anguishe & trouble of thy people, and so haste helped their fall before God our Lorde. And all the people sayde: Amen, Amen. Achior also was called, E and he came. Then sayd Judith vnto him: The God of Israel vnto whom thou gauest witnes, that he wouldе be auenged of hys enemyes, euen hee hath thys nyghte thorowe my hande smytten of the head of al the vnfaythfull. And that thou mayest see that it so is, beholde thys is the heade of Holofernes, which in his presumptu-ous pryde, despysed the God of the people of Israell, and threatened thee with destruction, sayinge: when the people of Israell is taken, I shall cause thee also to be stickte withe the swearde.
When Achior sawe Holofernes head he fell downe before vpon hys face to the grounde for verye anguyshe and feare, so that he sowned with al. But after that he was comme agayne to him selfe, he fell downe before her, and prayfed her, sayinge: Blessed arte thou of thy God in all the tabernacles of Jacob: for all the people that heare of thy name, shall prayse the God of Israell because of thee.

¶ The. xiiii. Chapter.

IUdith sayde vnto all the people: A Brethren, heare me. Stycke vp this head vpon our walles, and when the Sunne ariseth, take euerye man hys weapon, and falle violentlye: not as thoughe ye wolde go beſyde them, but to renne vpon theym, with violence. When the ſpies in the tentes ſee this, they ſhal of neceſſitie be compelled to flee backeward, and to rayſe vp their captayne to the battell. So when their captaynes come into Holofernes pauilion, and fynde the dead

C body wrapped in the blood, fearefulnes ſhall fall vpon them: and when ye perceaue that they flye, folowe theym without all care, for God ſhal deliuer them vnto you, to be deſtroyed. Then Achior ſeynge the power of GOD, which he had ſhewed vnto the people of Iſraell, fell of from his Heathenſhe beleefe, and put his truſt in God, and let hym ſelfe be circumcyſed: and ſo was he numbred among the people of Iſraell, he and all hys poſteritie vnto this day. Nowe as ſone as it was day, they ſtickte vp Holofernes heade vpon the walles, and euery man toke his weapon, and ſoo they wente oute with an horrible crie. When the ſpies ſawe that, they ranne vnto Holofernes tente. And they that were within the tent, came before his chamber, and made a great ruſhynge to wake hym vp, becauſe they thoughte with the B noyſe to haue rayſed hym. For there durſte not one of the Aſſirians knock, go in, or open: But when the captaynes and Princes and all the chiefe in the kyng of the Aſſirians hoſte came together, they ſayde vnto the Chamberlaines. Go your way in, and wake him vp, for the myſe are crepte oute of their holes, and dare prouoke vs vnto battel. Then went Vagao into his chamber, ſtode before the bed, and clapped with his handes, for he thoughte he had bene ſleppynge with Judyth. But when he had herkened perfectly with his eares, and could perceaue no ſterynge, he went nyer to the bed, and lifte it vp, and then ſawe he the deade body of Holofernes lying there without a heade, weltred in hys blood vpon the earthe. Then cryed he with a loude voyce, and with weppyng rente his clothes, and went into Judithes tent, and founde her not: And ſo he lept out vnto the people and ſayd: one woman of the Iewes, hath brought al Naduchodonoſors people to ſhame. For lo, Holofernes lyeth vppon the grounde, and hath no head. When the cheſe of the Aſſirians hoſt herde that, they rent their clothes, and there fell an intollerable feare and trembleynge vpon them, ſo that their myndes were ſore afrayd. And there was an exceadyng great crye in the whole hoſt.

The.xv. Chapter.

NOwe when all the hoſt herd A that Holofernes was headed their mynds and councel fell from them: and ſuch a feare came vppon them, that they vndertoke to defend theym ſelues by flyinge awaye: one ſpake not to another, but hanged downe their heades, lefte all behynde them, made haſte to eſcape from the Hebrues: for they herd, that they were haſtyng to come after with their weapons, and ſo they fled by the wayes of the fieldes, and thorowe all the foote pathes of the dales. And when the childzen of Iſrael ſaw that they fled, they folowed vppon them, and wente downe with trompettes, blowynge and makyng a greate crye afeer them. As for the Aſſirians, they had no order, & kepte not them ſelues together, but fled their waye. Neuertheles, the chyldzen of Iſrael fell vppon theym with one company and order, and diſcomfyted as many as they might get. And Oſias ſente meſſaungers vnto B all the cytyes and countreys of Iſraell. So all the regyons and euerye cytye ſente oute their beſte men after theym in harneſſe, and ſmote theym with the ſwearde, tyll they came to the vttermoſte parte of their borders: And the other that were in Bethulia came into the tentes of the Aſſirians, and tooke all, that they whiche were fled had lefte behynde theym, and ſoo they founde greate good. And they

that

that came agayne to Bethulia from the battayle, tooke with them suche thynges as hadde bene theirs: there was no number of the cattell, and of all costlye Jewelles, so that from the lowest vnto the hyest, they were all made ryche of the spoyles of theym. And Joachim the Hye pryeste at Jerusalem, came to Bethulia with all the elders, that they myghte see Iudith. Nowe when she came oute vnto theym, they beganne all to prayse her with one voice, saying: thou worthyppe of the citie of Jerusalem, thou ioye of Israell, thou honoure of our people, thou haste doone manlye, and thy hearte is conforted, because thou haste loued clenlynesse and chastytye, and haste knowen no man but thyne owne husband: therfore hath the hand of the Lorde conforted thee, and blessed shalt thou be for euer. And all people sayde: so be it, so be it. In thirtye dayes coulde the people of Israell scarse gather vp the spoyles of the Assirians. But all that belonged vnto Holofernes, and had ben hys, specialye (whether it were of golde, of syluer, precious stone, clothynge, and all ornamēts) they gaue it vnto Iudith. And all the people reioysed, both wemen, maydens, and yong people, with ypes and harpes.

¶ The .xvi. Chapter.

2 Then songe Judith thys songe vnto the Lorde: Begynne vnto the Lorde vppon the tabrets, synge vnto the Lorde vppon the cymballes. O syng vnto hym a newe songe of thankes geuynge, be ioyfull and call vppon hys name. It is the Lorde that destroyeth warres: euen the Lorde is hys name. Whyche hathe pytched hys tentes in the myddest of hys people, that he myghte delyuer vs from the hand of all our enemyes. Assur came out of the mountaynes of the Northe in the multitude of hys strength. His people stopped the water brokes, and their horses couered the valleyes, hee pourposed to haue brente vp my lande, and to slaye my yonge menne wyth the swearde. He woulde haue caryed awaye my chyldren and birgynnes into captiuitye, but the almyghtye Lorde hyndered hym, and deliuered him into the handes of a woman, whiche brought hym to confusion. For theyr myghty was not destroyed of the yonge men. It was not the sonnes of Titan that slewe hym, neyther haue the greate Gyauntes set theim selues agaynste hym: but Judith the daughter of Merary with her fayre bewtye hath dysconfyted hym, and brought hym to naughte. For shee layde awaye her wyddowes garmente, and putte on the apparell of gladnesse to the reioysynge of the chyldren of Israell. She annoynted her face, and bound vp her heare in an houe to begyle hym. Her styppers rauyshed his eyes, her bewtye captiuated hys mynde: with the swearde smote shee of hys necke. The Persians were astonyed at her stedfastnes, & the Medes at her boldnes. Then houled the armies of the Assirians, when my symple dyze of thirste appeared. The sonnes of the daughters haue pearsed them thorowe, and slayne them as fugitiue children: they perysshed in the battayle for the verye feare of the Lorde my God. Lette vs synge a songe of thankesgeuynge vnto the Lorde, a newe songe of prayse wyll we synge vnto our God: Lorde, Lorde, thou arte a greate God, mighty in power, whom no manne maye ouercome. All thy creatures shoulde serue thee: for thou spakest but the worde, and they were made: thou sentest thy spyrete, and they were created, and no man can withstand thy voyce. The mountaynes shal moue from the foundations with the waters, the stony rockes shall melte before thee lyke waxe. But they that feare thee shalbe great with the in all thinges. Woo vnto the people that ryse vp agaynst my generacion, for the almyghtye Lorde will auenge him selfe of them, and in the daye of iudgement wyll he vysyte them. For he shal geue fyre & wormes into their flesh, that they maye burne and fele it for euermore. After this it happened, that after the victory, al the people camme to Jerusalem, to geue prayse and thankes vnto the Lorde. And when they were purelyed, they offered al their brente sacrifyces, and theyr promised offerynges. And Judith offered all Holofernes weapons, and al the iewels that the people had geuen, her, and the canappe that shee toke from hys bed, and hanged theym vp vnto the Lorde. The people was ioyeful, as the vse is: and thys ioye by reason of the victory, with Judyth, endured thre monthes. So after these daies, euery man went home agayne, and Judith was in greate reputation at Bethulia, and ryght honorably taken in al the land of Israel. Unto her vertue also was chastitie ioyned, so that after her husbād Manasses dyed, she neuer knew man al the dais of her lyfe. Upon the hie solempne dayes she went out wyth greate worshyppe. She dwelte in her husbandes house, an hundred and fyue yeare, and lefte her handemayden free, and dyed: and was buryed beside her husbande in Bethulia. And al the people mourned for her seuen dayes. So longe as shee lyued, there was none that troubled Israell, and manye yeares also after her death. The daye wherin this victorye was gotten, was solempnelye holden, and rekened of the Jewes in the number of the holy dayes, and it is yet greatlye holden of the Jewes euer sence, vnto this daye.

The ende of the booke of Judyth.

The reste of the chapters of the boke of Esther, which are neither founde in the Hebrue, nor in the Chalde.

The .xi. Chapter after the Latin.

Mardocheus the son of Jair, the sonne of Semei, the sonne of Cisei of the tribe of Ben Jamin, a Jew which had his dwelling in the Cytye of Susis, a man of great reputation and excellent among all them that wer in the kynges courte. (Neuertheles, he was one of the prisoners, whome Nabuchodonosor the kinge of Babylon hadde caryed awaye frome Jerusalem vnto Babilon wyth Jechonias the king of Juda.) In the seconde yeare of the reygne of greate Artaxerses in the fyrst day of the moneth Nisan, had this Mardocheus such a dreame: He thought he hearde a great tempest, horrible thonder clappes, earthquakes, and great bysour in the land, and that he sawe two greate dragons ready to fyght one agaynst another. Their crye was great. At the which roaring and crye al the Hethen were vp to fyght agaynst the righteous people. And the same daye was ful of darkenes and very vncleare, ful of trouble and anguishe, yea a greate fearefulnes was there in al the lande. The righteous were amased, for they feared the plage and euil that was deuysed ouer them, and were at a point wyth them selues to die. So they cryed vnto God: & while they were crying, the litle wel grew into a greate ryuer, and into manye waters. And wyth that it was daye, and the Sunne rose vppe agayne, and the lowly were exalted, and deuoured the glorious and proude. Nowe whenne Mardocheus had sene this dreame, he awooke, and mused stedfastlye in his hert, what God wold do: and so he desired to knowe al the matter, and hys mynde mind was therupon vntil the nyght.

¶ The.xii. Chapter.

AT the same time dwelt Mardocheus wyth Bagatha and Tares in the kinges courte, the kinges chamberlaynes and porters of the palace. But when he herd their deuyce, and had diligently considered their ymaginations, hee perceaued, that they wente aboute to lay their cruel handes vpon the king Artaxerses: and so he certifyed the kinge therof. Then caused the kinge to examine the two gelded wyth torments. And when they had granted it, they were put to death. Thys the Kynge caused to be put in the Chronicles for an everlastynge remembraunce, and Mardocheus wrote by the same matter. So the kinge commaunded that Mardocheus shoulde remayne in the court, and for thys faythfulnes of hys he gaue him a rewarde. But Aman the sonne of Amadathu the Agagyte, which was holden in greate honoure and reputation in the kinges courte, vndertoke to hurte Mardocheus and hys people, because of the two Chamberlaynes that were put to death.

¶ The.xiii. Chapter.

THe greate Kinge Artaxerses, whiche reygneth from India and Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and seuen and twenty landes, sendeth his frendly salutatiō vnto al the princes and debities of the countreys, which be subiect vnto hys dominion. When I was made Lorde ouer many people, and hadde subdued the whole earth vnto my dominion, my mynde was not wyth cruelty and wronge to exalt my selfe by the reason of my power: but purposed with equity alwai and gentlenes, to gouerne those that be vnder my iurisdiction, and wholye to set them in a peceable lyfe, and therby to bring my kingedome vnto tranquilitie that men might safely go thoroughe on euerye syde, and to renue peace agayne, which al mennes eyze. Nowe when I asked my councelers how these thinges myght be brought to a good ende, there was one by hys excellent in wisdom whose good wyl truth and faythfulnes hath ofte bene shewed and proued (which was also the principal and next vnto the king) Aman by name: whiche certifyed vs, howe that in all landes there was scattred abroade a rebellious folcke, that made statutes and lawes against al other people: and haue alway despysed the proclaymed commaundementes of kynges: and howe that for thys cause it wer not to be suffred, that such rule shold continue by you, and not be put downe. Seynge nowe, wee perceaue the same, that this people alone, are contrary vnto euery man, vsing strange and other maner of lawes, and wythstande oure statutes and doinges, and go about to stablish shrewed matters that our kingdome should neuer come to good estate and stedfastnesse: Therfore haue wee commaunded, that all they that are appointed in wrytynge and shewed vnto you by Aman (whiche is ordeyned and set ouer al our landes) and the moste principal next vnto the king, and in maner as a father, shal wyth their wyues and children be destroyed and rooted out wyth the swearde of their enemies and aduersaries, and that there shal be no mercy shewed, and no man spared. And thys shalbe done the.xiii. day of the month (called Adar) of this yeare, that they which of olde (and now also) haue euer bene rebellious maye in one daye wyth violence be thruste downe into the hel, to thintent that after thys maner oure empyre maye haue peace and trāquility. But Mardocheus thoght vpon al the woorkes and noble actes of the Lorde, and made his prayer vnto him, saying: O Lorde Lorde, thou valiant and almyghtye kinge (for all thynges are in thy power) and yf thou wylte helpe and deliuer Israel, there is no man that can withstand or lette thee: for thou hast made heauen and earth, and what wonderous thing soeuer is vnder the heauen: thou arte LORDE of al thynges, and there is no manne that canne resist thy ma-ieſtye(O Lord.) Thou knoweſt all thynges, thou woteſt Lorde that it was neither of malice, nor of preſumption, nor for any deſyre of glorye, that I would not bowe downe my ſelfe, nor worſhip yonder proude preſumpteous man(for I would haue beene contente, and that wyth good will, yf it might haue done Iſrael anye good, to haue kyſt euen his fote ſteppes) but that I did it, becauſe I woulde not ſet the honour of a man in the ſtede of the glory of God: and becauſe I wold worſhip none but onely thee my Lord And this haue I done in no pride nor preſumption. And therfore O Lorde thou God and king, haue mercy vpon my people, for they ymagin how they maye bringe vs to naughte, yea, their mynde and deſyre is to deſtroye, and to ouerthrowe thy people, that hathe euer bene thine enheritance of old. O deſpiſe not thy portion, whiche thou haſte delyuered and brought out of Egypte for thine owne ſelfe. Heare my prayer, and be merciful vnto thy people whom thou haſt choſen for an heritage vnto thy ſelfe. Tourne oure complaynte and ſorowe into ioye, that we maye liue, O Lord, and prayſe thy name. O Lorde, ſuffer not the mouthes of them that prayſe thee to be deſtroyed. All the people of Iſrael in like maner, cryed as earneſtlye as they coulde vnto the Lorde: for theyr death and deſtructiō ſtode before their eies.

¶ The .xiii. Chapter.

IVene Eſther alſo beynge in the battaile of death, reſorted vnto the Lorde, laied awaye her glorious apparel, and put on the garmentes that ſerued for lyghtinge and mourninge. In the ſteede of precious ointment, ſhe ſcattered aſhes and donge vpon her heade: and as for her body, ſhe humbled it wyth faſting and brought it verie lowe. All the places where ſhe was wont to haue ioye afore, thoſe fylled ſhee wyth the heare that ſhe pluckt of her ſelfe. She prayed allsoynt o the Lorde God of Iſraell wyth theſe wordes. O my LORD thou only arte our king, helpe me deſolate woman whiche haue no helper but thee, for my miſerye and deſtructiō is hard at my hand. From my youth vp I haue heard out of the kynred of my father, that thou toke ſt Iſrael frō amonge al people(and ſo haue our fathers af their fore elders) that they ſhoulde be thy perpetual enheritance, and looke what thou dyddeſt promyſe them, thou haſt made it good vnto thē Nowe Lorde, we haue ſynned before thee, therfore haſte thou geuen vs into the handes of our enemyes, becauſe we worſhypped their goddes. Lorde, thou art ryghteous. Neuertheleſſe, it ſatisfied them not, that we ar in bitter & heauy captiuitie, & oppreſſed among them, but thou haſt layed their hands vpon ẏ handes of their gods: ſo that they begynne to take awaye the thinge that thou wyth thy mouth haſt ordeined and appointed, & to deſtroy thyne enherytaunce, to ſhutte and ſtoppe the mouthes of theym that prayſe thee, to quenche the glorye and worſhyppe of thy houſe, and thine aulter, and to opē the mouthes of the heathen, that they may prayſe the power and vertue of ẏ gods, & to magnify the fleſhly king for euer, O Lord, geue not thy ſceptre vn to them ẏ be nothing, leaſt they laugh vs to ſcorne in oure miſerye and fall, but turne their deuyſe vpon them ſelues, and punyſhe him that hath begon the ſame ouer vs, & ſet him to an example. Thinke vpon vs O Lord, and ſhewe thy ſelfe vnto vs in the time of our diſtreſſe, & of our trouble. Strēgthen me, O thou king of gods, thou Lord of al power, geue me an eloquēt and a pleaſant ſpeche in my mouth before the lion. Turne hys heart in the hate of oure ennemyes, to deſtroye hym, and all ſuche as conſente vnto hym. But delyuer vs wyth thine hande, and helpe me thy handmaide, which haue no defence nor helper, but only the Lord, thou knoweſt al thynges, thou woteſt that I loue not the glory & worſhip of the vnrighteous, and that I hate & abhorre the bed of

the

the vncircumcised, & of al the Hethen Thou knowest my necessitie, that I hate the token of my preeminēce and worshyp which I beare vpon myne head, what tyme as I must shew my selfe, and be sene, and that I abhorre it as an vncleane cloathe, and that I weare it not when I am quiete and alone by my self. Thou knowest also, D that I thy handmaidē, haue not eatē at Amans table, and that I haue had no pleasure nor delite in the kyngs feast, ỳ I haue not dronk ỳ wine of ỳ drinke offerynges, and that I thy handmaydē haue no ioy sens the day that I was brought hyther, vntyll thys day, but onely in thee Lord. O thou God of Abraham, O thou myghtye God aboue all, heare the voyce of them, that haue none other hope, and delyuer vs out of the hand of the wycked, and de-liuer me out of my feare.

¶ The. xv. Chapter.

A MArdocheus also bad Esther goe in vnto the kynge, and praye for her people, and for her contrey. Remember (saith he) the dayes of thy lowe estate, howe thou wast nourished vnder my hande. For Aman, which is next vnto the kynge, hath geuen sentence of death against vs. Call thou therfore vpon the Lord, and speake for vs vnto the kynge, and delyuer vs from death. And vpon the thirde day it hapned, that Esther laid away the mournyng garmentes, and put on her glorious apparel, and deckt her selfe goodlye (after that she hadde called vpon God, which is the beholder and Sauiour of all thynges) toke two hand maydens with her: vpon the one she leaned her self, as one that was tender: the other folowed her, and bare the trayne of her vesture.
The shine of her beauty made her face rose coloured. The similitude of her face was cheerefull and amiable, but her hearte was sorowfull for greate feare. Shee went in thorowghe all the doores, and stode before the kyng.
The kyng sat vpon the throne of his kyngdome, and was cloothed in hys goodly aray, all of gold, and set with precious stones, & he was very terrible. He lift vp his face that shone in ỳ clerenesse, and looked grymly vppon her. Then fell the Quene downe, was pale and faynte, leaned her selfe vpon the head of the mayd, that went with her. Neuertheiesse, God tour-ned the kynges mynde that he was gentyll, that he leaped out of his seate for feare, and gate her in hys armes, and helde her vp, tyll she came to her self againe. He gaue her louing wor-des also, and sayde vnto her: Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, bee of good chere, thou shalt not dye: for our commandement toucheth the cōmons and not thee. Come nye.
And with that he helde vp his golden rodde, and layd it vpon her necke, and embraced her frendly, and said: Talke with me. Then sayde shee: I sawe thee (O Lorde) as an Aungell of God, and my hearte was troubled for feare of thy maiestie and clearenesse.
For excellente and wonderfulle arte thou (O Lorde) and thy face is full of amitie. But as she was thus speakyng vnto hym, she fell downe again for faynteneesse: for the whyche cause the kyng was afrayd, and all his serseruantes comforted her.

¶ The. xvi. Chapter.

THe great kyng Artharerses, A whiche reygneth frome India, vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred & .xxvii. landes, sendeth vnto the Princes and rulers of the same landes, suche as loue hym, hys frendely salutation. There bee many, that for the sondry frendshyps and benefytes, whyche are dyuersely doone vnto theym, for theyr worshyp bee euer the more prouide and hyghe mynded, and vndertake not onely to hurte theyr Subiectes (for plenteous benefyttes maye they not suffre, and begynne to ymagine some thynge agaynst those that do them good, and take not onelye all vnthankfulnesse away

awaye from men) but in pryde and presumption) as they that be vnmyndfull and vnthankefull for the good dedes) they go about to escape the iudgement of God, that seeth all thinges, whiche iudgement hateth and punysheth all wickednesse. It happeneth ofte also, that they whych be set in office by the hyer power, and vnto whom the busynes and causes of the subiectes are committed to be handled, waxe proud, and defile them selues with sheading of innocent blood, which bringeth the to intollerable hurt. Which also with false and disceitfull wordes, and with lying tales, disceiue and betray the innocent goodnesse of Princes. Nowe B is it profitable and good, that we take hede, make search therafter, and consider, not only what hath happened vnto vs of olde: but the shamefull vnhonest, and noysome thinges, that the debities haue nowe taken in hande before our eies, and therby to beware in tyme to come, that we maye make the kyngdome quiet and peaceable for all men: and that we myghte sometyme drawe it to a chaunge: and as for the thing that nowe is present before our eyes, to withstande it, and to putte it downe, after the most frendly maner. What time nowe as Aman the sonne of Amadathu the Macedonian (a stranger verely of the Persians blood and farre from oure goodnesse) was come in amonge vs as an aleaunt, and had obtayned the frendshyp that we bear to ward al people, so that he was called our father, and had in hygh honoure of euerye man, as the nexte and principall vnto the kynge, he coulde not forbeare him selfe from his pryde, hath vndertaken, not onelye to robbe vs of the kyngdome, but of oure lyfe. C With manyfolde disceyte also hath he desired to destroye Mardocheus oure helper and preseruer, which hath don vs good in all thinges: and innocente Hester the like partaker of our kyngdome, with all [illegible] people. For hys mynd was (when he had taken them out of the way, and robbed vs of the) by this meanes to translate the kingdome of the Persians vnto them of Macedonia. But we fynde, that the Iewes) whiche were accused of the wicked, that they might be destroied) are no euyll doers, but vse reasonable and ryght lawes: and that they be the chyldren of the moste hygh lyuynge God, by whome the kyngdome of vs and our progenitours hath bene well ordred hytherto. Wherfore, as for the letters and commaundementes, that were put forth by Aman the sonne of Amadathu, ye shall do well, yf ye hold theym of none effecte: for he that sette them vp and inuented them, hangeth at Susis before the porte, with al his kinred, and God (which hath al thinges in hys power) hath rewarded him after hys deseruyng. And vppon D thys ye shall publyshe and set vp the copye of thys letter in all places, that the Iewes maye freelye and without hinderaunce hold them selues after their owne statutes, and that they may be helped, and that vpon the .xiii. day of the .xii. moneth Adar, they may be auenged of theym, whiche in the time of their anguyshe and trouble, wolde haue oppressed them. For the God that gouerneth all thinges, hath turned to ioye the daye, wherein the chosen people shoulde haue perysshed. Moreouer, amonge the hye solempne dayes that ye haue, ye shall holde this day also with all gladnesse: that nowe and in tyme to come, thys daye maye bee a remembraunce to good, for all suche as loue the prosperytye of the Persians: but a remembraunce of destruction to those that be seditious vnto vs. All citys and landes that do not thys shall horryblye perysshe and bee destroyed wyth the swearde and fire, and shall not onely be nomore inhabyted of men, but be abbhorred also of the wyld beastes and foules.

The ende of the reste of the booke of Esther.

C The

¶ The Booke of Wysedome.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

A Set youre affection vpon ryghteousnes ye that be iudges of the earthe. Haue a good opynion of the Lord, and seke hym in the synglenesse of heart. For he will be founde of them that tempt hym not, and appereth vnto suche as put their trust in hym. As for ỹ froward thoughts, they separate frome God, but vertue (if it be allowed) reformethe the vnwyse. And why? wisedome shall not enter into a froward soule, nor dwell in the body that is subdued vnto synne. For the holy ghost abhorreth fayned nurtur, & withdrawe th himself frō the thoughtes that are without vnderstandyng: and where wyckednes hathe the vpper hand, he fleeth from thens. For ỹ spirite of wisedom is louyng, gentill, and gracious, and will haue no pleasure in hym that speaketh euill wyth his lips. For God is a witnes of his reines, a true sercher of his heart, and an hearer of his tongue. For the spirite of the Lord filleth the round compasse of the worlde: and the same that vpholdeth all thyngs, hath knowlege
B also of the voyce. Therefore hee that speaketh vnrighteous things, can not be hyd, neither may he escape ỹ iudgement of reprofe. And why? inquisitiō shalbe made for the thoughtes of the vngodly, and the report of his words shal come vnto God, so that his wickednes shalbe punyshed. For the eare of icalousy heareth all things, and the noise of the grudgynges shall not bee hydde. Therfore, beware of murmuryng, whiche is nothyng worthe, and refrayne your tongue frome sclander. For there is no worde so dark and secrete, that it shall go for naughte: and the mouthe that speaketh lyes, sleeth the soule. ¶ Seeke not youre owne
C owne death in the errour of your life, destroye not your selues thorowe the workes of youre owne handes. For God hath not made deth, neither hath hee pleasure in the destruction of the liuing. For he created all thyngs, that they might haue their beyng: yea, all the people of the earthe hath he made, that they should haue health, that ther should be no destruction in them, and that the kyngdome of hell should not be vpon earth (for ryghteousnes is euerlastyng and immortall, but vnrighteousnes bringeth death. (Neuertheles, the vngodly call her vnto theim bothe with wordes and workes: and while they thynke to haue a frende of her, they come to naughte: for the vngodlye that are confederate with her, and take her part, are worthy of deth.

¶ The. ii. Chapter.

FOr the vngodly talke, and imagine thus among theym selues (but not ryghte:) The tyme of A our life is but short and tedious: and whē a man is gone, he hathe no more ioye nor pleasure, neyther knowe we any mā that turneth again from deth: for we are borne of naught, and wee shalbe hereafter as though we hadde neuer bene. For oure breathe is as a smoke in our nosethyrls, and ỹ word as a sparke to moue our heart. As for our body, it shalbe very ashes that are quenched, and our soule shall vanishe as the soft ayre. Oure lyfe shall passe away as the trace of a cloude, and come to naught, as the myst that is dryuen away with the beames of the Sonne and put downe with the heat therof. Our name also shall bee forgotten by lytle and lytle, and no man shall haue our workes in remembrance. For our B tyme is a very shadow that passeth away, and after our end, there is no returnyng: for it is fast sealed, so that no man commeth agayn. Come on therfore, lette vs enioy the pleasures that there are, and let vs sone vse the creature lyke as in youthe. Lette vs fyll our selues with good wine and ointments mente, and let there no floure of the tyme goo by vs. Let vs crowne oure selues with roses afore they be wythered. Let there be no fayre medowe, but our iust go thorowe it. Let euerye one of you be partaker of our voluptuousnes. Let vs leaue some token of our pleasure in euery place, for that is our portion, eis get we nothynge. Let vs oppresse the poore & rightous, let vs not spare the widow nor old man: let vs not regarde the heades that are gray for age. Let the law of ourighte ousnes be our auctoritie, for the thing C that is feble is nothyng worth. Ther fore let vs defraud the ryghteous, and why? he is not for our profite, yea, he is cleane contray to oure doynges. He checketh vs for offendyng agaynst the lawe, and sclaundreth vs as transgressours of all nurtour. He maketh his boaste to haue the knowledge of God, yea, he calleth him selfe Goddes son. He is the bewraier of our thoughtes: It greueth vs also to looke vpon him, for his life is not like other mēs, his wayes are of another fashion. He counteth vs but vayne personnes, he withdraweth him selfe frō our ways as frome fylthynes: he commendeth greatly the latter ende of the iuste, and maketh his boast that God is his father. Let vs see then if his wordes be true, let vs proue what shal come vpon him: so shall we know what ende he shall haue. For if he be the true sōne of God, he will receaue him, and delyuer hym from the handes of hys enemyes. Let vs examine hym wyth dyspitefull rebuke and tormentynge, that we may knowe his dignitie, and proue his pacience. Let vs condemne him with the moste shamefull death: for lyke as he hath spoken, so shall he be rewarded. Suche thynges doo the vngodly ymagyne, and go astraye, for their owne wickednes hath blynded them. As for the misteryes of God, they vnderstād them not: they neither hope for the reward of ryghteousnes, nor regarde the worshyppe that holy soules shall haue. For God created man to be vndestroyed, yea, after the * ymage of his owne likenes made he him. Neuertheles, thorowe enuy of the deuyl came death into the worlde: and they that holde of hys syde, do as he doeth. Gen. 3.

The. iii. Chapter.

BVt the soules of the ryghteous
A are in the hande of God, and the payne of death shall not touche theym. In the syghte of the vnwyse they appeared to dye, and theyr end is taken for very destruction. The waye of the ryghteous is iudged to be vtter destruction, but they are in reste. And though they suffer payne before men, yet is their hope full of immortalitie. They are punyshed but in fewe thinges, neuertheles in manye thynges shall they be well rewarded. For God proueth them, and fyndeth them mete for him selfe: yea, as the golde in the fornace doeth he trye them, and receaueth them as a burnt offeryng, and B when the tyme commeth, they shall be loked vppon. * The ryghteous shall shine as the sparkes that ren thorowe the red bushe. * They shall iudge the nations, and haue dominion ouer the people, and their Lord shall reigne for euer. They that put their trust in him shall vnderstand the trueth, and suche as be faythfull, wyll agree vnto hym in loue, for his chosen shal haue giftes and peace. * But the vngodly shall be punyshed accordyng to their owne ymaginations, for they haue despysed the ryghteous, and forsaken the Lord. Who so despyseth wysdome and nurtoure, he is vnhappye, and as for the hope of suche, it is but vayne, their laboures vnfruitfull, and their workes vnprofitable. Their wyues are vndyscrete, and their children moste vngodly. Their creature is cursed. Blessed is rather the baren and vndefyled, which hath not knowen ỹ sinful bed: she shall haue fruit in ỹ reward of the holy soules. And blessed is the gelded, which with his hands hath wrought no vnryghteousnes, nor ymagyned wycked thynges agaynste God. For

Wat. 13.

Wat. 19.

mat. 23.

vnto

vnto him shalbe geuen the special gift of faith, and the moste acceptable porcion in the temple of God. For glorious is the fruite of good labour, and the roote of wysedome shal neuer fade awaye. As for the children of aduoutrers, they shal come to an end, and the sede of an vnryghteous bed shalbe roted out. And though they lyue longe, yet shall they bee nothinge regarded, and theyr laste age shalbe wythoute honoure. If they dye hastely, they haue no hope, neither shal they be spoken to in the day of knowledge. For horrible is the deathe and the ende of the vnryghteous.

¶ The.iiii. Chapter.

¶ O howe fayre is a chaste generacion wyth vertue? The memorial therof is immortal, for it is knowen with God & with men. When it is presente, men take exaumple therat, and yf it go away, yet they desyre it. It is alwaye crowned and holden in honoure, and winneth the reward of the vndefyled battel. But the multitude of vngodlye children is vnprofitable: and the thinges that are planted with whordome shal take no depe rote, nor lay any fast foundation. Though they be greene in the braunches for a time, yet they shalbe shaken wyth the winde: for they stande not faste, and throughe the behemencie of the wynd they shalbe rooted out. For the vnperfect branches shalbe broke, their fruite shalbe vnprofitable and sowre to eate: yea, mete for nothynge. And whye? all the children that are ¶ borne of the wycked, muste beare recorde of the wyckednes agaynst theyr fathers and mothers when they be asked. But though the ryghteous be ouertaken wyth deathe, yet shal he bee in rest: Age is an honorable thing: Neuertheless, it standeth not onelye in the lengthe of time, nor in the multytude of yeares: but a mans wisedome is the grape heare, and an vndefyled lyfe is the olde age. Hee pleased God, and was beloued of him: so that wher as he lyued amonge sinners, he translated him. Yea sodeinly was he take away, to the intent that wyckednesse shoulde not alter his vnderstandinge, and that hipocrisye should not begyle hys soule. For the crafty bewitching of lyes make good thinges darke, the vnstedfastnes also and wyckednes of volupteous desyre, turne alyde the vnderstanding of the simple. Though he was soone dead, yet fulfylled he much tyme. For hys soule pleased GOD: therefore hasted he to take him awaye from amonge the wicked. Thys the people see, and vnderstand it not: they laye not vp such thinges in their hertes, howe that the louing fauour and mercye of God is vppon hys sayntes, and that he hath respect vnto his chosen. Thus the ryghtous that is dead, ¶ condemneth the vngodlye wyych are lyuynge: and the youthe that is soone brought to an ende, the longe lyfe of the vnryghteous. For they se the ende of the wyse, but they vnderstande not what God hath deuysed for hym, and wherefore the Lorde hath taken hym awaye. And whye? they see him and despyse hym, therefore shall God also laugh theym to scorne: So that they theym selues shall dye hereafter (but without honour) yea in shame among the dead for euermore. For wythoute anye boyce shal he burst those that bee pukte vp, and remoue theym from the foundations, so that they shalbe layed waste vnto the hyghest. They shall mourne, and theyr memorial shall perysshe. So they beyng afrayd, shal remember their synnes: and their owne wyckednes shal bewraye them.

¶ The fyfth Chapter.

¶ Then shal the righteous stand in great stedfastnes againste suche as haue dealt extreamelye wyth them, and taken away theyr labours. When they see it, they shalbe vexed wyth horrible feare, and shal wonder at ỹ hastines of the sodain health: groning for very distres of mind, and shal say within thẽ selues, hauing inward sorowes

Gen.4.c.

sorowe, and mourninge for very anguish of mynde. These are they whō we sometyme had in derision, and iested vppon. We fooles thoughte theyr lyfe verye madnes: and their ende to be wythout honoure. But loe, howe they are counted among the children of God, and their portion amonge the saintes? Therfore we haue erred frō the way of truth, the lyght of ryghteousnes hath not shined vnto vs, and ℣ Sun of vnderstanding rose not vp vpon vs, we haue wered oure selues in the way of wickednes and destruction. Tedious wayes haue we gone: but as for the waye of the Lorde wee haue not knowen it. What good hath B oure pryde done vnto vs? Or what profite hath the pompe of ryches brought vs? All those thynges are passed away like a shadow, and as a messenger running before: as a shyp that passeth ouer the waues of the water, whiche when it is gone by, the trace thereof cannot be founde, neyther the path of it in the fluddes. Or as a bird that flyeth thrugh in the ayre, and no man can see anye token where shee is flowen, but onelye heareth the noyse of her wynges, beatinge the lyghte wynde, parting the ayre thrugh the vehemencye of her goynge, and flyeth on shaking her wynges, whereas afterward no token of her ways can be founde. Or lyke as when an arowe is shot at a marke it parteth the ayre, which immediatly commeth together agayne, so that a man cannot knowe where it went thrugh. Euen so wee in lyke maner as soone as wee were borne, beganne immediatly to drawe to oure ende, and haue shewed no token of vertue, but are consumed in C our owne wyckednes. Suche wordes shall they that haue sinned speake in the hel: for the hope of the vngodlye is lyke a drye thistle flooze (or duste) that is blowen away with the wind: lyke as a thyn scūme that is scattered abrode wyth the stormе: lyke as the smoke whyche is dysperſed here and there wyth the winde, and as the remembraunce of a stranger, that taryeth for a daye, and then departeth.
But the ryghteous shal liue for euermore: their reward also is wyth the Lorde: and theyr remembraunce with the hyest. Therefore shal they receaue a glorious kingdome, and a beautifull crowne of the Lordes hande: for with hys ryght hand shal hee couer theym: and wyth his owne holye arme, shall he defende theym. His gelousye also shall take away the harneys, & he shal weapon the creature to be auenged of the ennemyes. He shal put on righteousnes for a brestplate, and take sure iudgement in stede of an helmet. The inuincible shild of equity shal he take, his cruell wrath shal he sharpen for a speare, and the whole compasse of the D worlde, shal fyght with him agaynste the vnwyse. Then shall the thonder boltes go out of the lyghtninges, and come out of the raynebow of the cloudes to the place appointed: oute of the harde stony indignation, there shal fal thycke hayles, and the water of the sea, shalbe wroth agaynste theym, and the floudes shal runne roughly together. Yea, a myghtye wynd shall stand vp agaynst them, and a storme shal scater them abrode. Thus the vnryghteous dealing of them shal bryng al the land to a wildernes, and wyckednes shall ouerthrow the dwellings of the mightye.

¶ The. vi. Chapter.

WIsdom is better thē strēgth, and a man of vnderstandinge is more worth then one that A * * * is strong. Heare therfore (O ye kynges) and vnderstand: O lerne ye that bee iudges of the endes of the earth. Geue eare ye that rule the multitudes, and delyte in muche people. For the power is geuen you of the Lorde, and the strength from the hiest which shal trye out your ymaginatyons. Howe that ye beinge officers of his kingdome, haue not executed true iudgement, haue not kept the lawe of B the ryghteous, nor walked after the wyl of G O D. Horriblye, and that ryghte soone shal he appere vnto you:

for

for an hard iudgement shal they haue that beare rule. Mercye is graunted vnto the simple, but they that bee in auctoritie shalbe sore punyshed. For God which is Lorde ouer al, shall except no mans person, neither shall hee stande in awe of any mans greatnes. For he hath made the smal and great, and careth for al alyke. But the mighty shall haue the sorer punyshemente. Vnto you therefore (O ye Kynges) do I speake, that ye may learne wisedome, and not goe amysse. For they that keepe his ryghteousenesse, shall bee ryghteously Judged, and they that are learned in ryghteous thynges, shal find to make answer. Wherefore set your luste vpon my woordes, and loue them, so shal ye come by nurtour. Wisdome is a noble thinge, and neuer fadeth away: yea, she is easelye sene of them that loue her, and founde of such as seeke her. Shee preuenteth theym that desyre her, that shee maye fyrste shewe her self vnto them. Who so awaketh vnto her betimes, shall haue no great trauaile, for he shal find her sittinge readye at his doores. To thinke vpon her, is perfect vnderstandinge: and who so watcheth for her, shalbe safe, and that sone. For she goeth about, seking such as are mete for her, sheweth her selfe chearefully vnto them in their goinges, and meeteth theym with al diligence. For the vnfained desire of reformation is her begynnynge: to care for nourture, is loue, and loue is the keping of her lawes. Nowe the kepinge of the lawe is perfection, and an vncorrupte lyfe: and an vncorrupte lyfe maketh a man familier with God. And so the desire of wysedome leadeth to the kingdome euerlasting. If your delyte be then in royal seates and scepters (O ye kynges of the people) set your luste vpon wisdome, that ye may reygne for euer more. O loue the lyght of wisdome, al ye that be rulers of the people. As for wysedome what she is, and howe she came by, I wyll tell you: and wil not hyde the mysteryes of God from you: but wyl seke her out from the begynninge of the natiuitie, and bryng the knowledge of her into lyght, and wil not keepe backe the trueth. Neyther wyl I haue to doe with consuminge enuie, for suche a man shal not be partaker of wysedome. But the multytude of the wise is the welfare of the world, and a wyse king is the vpholdinge of the people. O receyue nurtour then through my woordes, and it shal do you good.

¶ The. vij. Chapter.

I My selfe am also a mortal manne, lyke as al other: and am comme of the earthye generation of him that was fyrste made, and in my mothers wombe was I fashioned to be flesshe: In the tyme of ten monethes was I brought together in bloode, throughe the sede of man, and the commodyous appetyte of slepe. When I was borne I receyued lyke ayre as other menne, and fel vpon the earth (whiche is my nature) cryinge and wepinge at the fyrst, as all other do. I was wrapped in swadling clothes, and broughte vp with greate cares. For there is no king that had any other beginnyng of byrth. All men haue one entrance vnto lyfe, and one going out in lyke maner. Wherfore I desired, and vnderstanding was geuen me: I called, and the spirite of wisdome came vnto me. I set more by her, then by kingdomes and royal seates, and counted ryches nothinge in comparison of her. As for precious stone, I compared it not vnto her, for al golde is but grauel vnto her, and siluer shalbe counted but clay before her syght. I loued her aboue welfare and bewtye, and purposed to take her for my lyghte, for her lyghte cannot bee quenched. Al good thinges come to me with her, and innumerable riches through her hands. I was gladde in them al, for thys wysedome went before me, and I knew not that she is the mother of al good thinges. Nowe as I my selfe learned vnfaynedly, so do I make other men partakers of her, and hide her riches from noman: for shee is an infinite treasure vnto men, which who so vse, become partakers of the loue and frendshyp of God, and are accepted vnto hym for the gyftes of wisedome. GOD hath graunted me to talke wyselye, and conuenientlye to handle the thinges that he hath gratiouslye lent me. For it is hee that leadeth vnto wysedome, and teacheth to vse wysedome aryght. In his hand are both we and our wordes: yea, al our wysedome, our vnderstanding and knowledge of al our woorkes. For hee hath geuen mee the true science of these thynges: so that I knowe, howe the worlde was made, and the powers of the elementes: the beginning, ending, and middest of the tymes: howe the tymes alter, howe one goeth after another, and how thei are fulfylled, the course of the yere: the ordynaunces of the starres: the nature and kindes of beastes, the furiousnes of beastes: the power of the wyndes: the ymaginations of men: the diuersities of yonge plantes: the vertues of rootes, and al such thynges as are secrete and not loked for, haue I lerned: For the woorkemaster of all thynges hath taught me wysedome. In her is the spirite of vnderstanding, which is holy, manyfold, one onely, subtil, curteous, discrete, quicke, vndefyled, playne, swete, louing the thing that is good, sharpe, whyche forbyddeth not to doo well, gentle, kind, stedfast, sure, free, hauing al vertues, circumspect in al things: receyuing al spirites of vnderstanding, being cleane and sharpe. For wisdome is nimbler then al nimble thinges: she goeth through and attayneth to al thinges, because of her cleanes. For she is the breath of the power of God, and a pure cleane expressing of the clearnes of almyghtye God. Therefore canne no vndefyled thinge come vnto her: for shee is the brightenes of ye euerlasting lyght, the vndefyled mirrour of the maiestie of God, and the image of hys goodnes. And for so much as she is one, she mai doe al thinges, and beinge stedfast her selfe, shee renueth all: and amonge the people conueyeth she her self into the holy soules. She maketh Gods frendes and prophetes: for God loueth no man, but him in whom wisdom dwelleth. For she is more bewtiful then the Sunne, and geueth more lyght than ye starres, and the day is not to be compared vnto her: for vpon the day commeth nyght. But wyckednes cannot ouercome wysedome: and folyshnesse may not be wyth her.

The. viii. Chapter.

WYsedome reacheth from one ende to another myghtelye, and louyngly doeth she order al thynges, I haue loued her and laboured for her, euen from my youth vp: I dyd my diligence to mary my selfe wyth her, such loue hadde I vnto her bewtye. who so hath the copanye of God, commendeth her nobylitie: yea, the Lord of all thynges hym selfe loueth her. For she is the schole maistresse of the nurtoure of God, and the choser oute of hys woorkes. If a man would desyre riches in this lyfe, what is richer then wysedome that woorketh all thynges? Thou wyte kaye: vnderstanding woorketh. what is it among al thinges, that woorketh more then wysedome? If a man loue vertue and ryghteousnes, let hym labour for wysedome, for she hath great vertues. And why, she teacheth sobernes and prudence, ryghteousnesse and strength, which are suche thynges as men can haue nothinge more profitable in their lyfe. If a man desire much knowledge, she can tel the things that are paste, and dyscerne thinges for to come, shee knoweth the subtelties of woordes, and can expounde darke sentences. She can tel of tokens & wonderous thynges, or euer they come to passe, and the endes of al times and ages. So I purposed after this maner I wyl take her vnto my companye, and come louingly wyth her: no dout she shal geue me good counsayle, and speak confortably vnto me in my carefulnes and grefe. For her sake shal I be wel, and honestly taken among the commens and Lordes of the councell. Though I be yonge, yet shall I haue

sharp

ſharpe vnderſtãding, ſo that I ſhalbe meruailous in the ſyght of great mẽ, and the faces of pꝛinces ſhall wonder at me. When I hold my tongue, they ſhal abide my leiſure: When I ſpeake they ſhall loke vpon me, and if I talk muche, they ſhall laye their hands vpon theyr mouth. Moreouer, by the meanes of her, I ſhal obtaine immoꝛtalitie, and leaue behynde me, an euerlaſtyng memoꝛiall among theym that come after me. I ſhall ſette the people in oꝛder, and the nations ſhall be ſubdued vnto me. Hoꝛrible tyꝛants ſhall be afrayd, when they doo heare of me: among the multitude I ſhalbe counted good, & myghtie in battaile. When I come home, I ſhall fynd reſt with her: foꝛ her cõpany hath no bitternes, and her felowſhyp hathe no tediouſnes, but mirth and ioye. Now when I conſydꝛed theſe thinges by my ſelf, and pondered them in my heart, howe that to be toyned vnto wiſedom is immoꝛtalitie, and great pleaſure to haue her frendſhyp, howe that in the woꝛkes of her handes are infinite riches: howe that who ſoo kepeth companye with her, ſhalbe wiſe: & that he which talketh with her, ſhall come to honoꝛ: I went aboute ſekyng to gather her vnto me: Foꝛ I was a ladde of a ripe wyt, and had a good vnderſtandyng. But when I grewe to moꝛe vnderſtandyng, I came to an vndefyled body. Neuertheleſſe when I percepued that I could not kepe my ſelfe chaſte, except God gaue it me (and that was a poynte of wiſedome alſo, to knowe whoſe gyfte it was) I ſtepped vnto the Lord, & beſought hym, & with my whole heart I ſayd after this maner.

The.ix. Chapter.

O God of my fathers, & Lord of mercies (thou that haſt made all thynges with thy woꝛde, & oꝛdeined man thoꝛow thy wyſedome, that he ſhould haue dominion ouer the creature whiche thou haſt made: that he ſhould oꝛder the woꝛlde accoꝛdyng to equitie and ryghtoulnes, and execute iudgement with a true heart) gyue me wyſedome, whiche is euer about thy ſeat, and put me not out from among thy childꝛen: foꝛ I thy ſeruant and ſonne of thy handmaiden am a feble perſon, of a ſhoꝛt tyme, & to ponge to the vnderſtandynge of iudgement, and the lawes. And though a man be neuer ſo perfect among the childꝛen of men, yet if thy wiſedome be not wyth hym, he ſhalbe nothing regarded. But thou haſt choſen me to be a kynge vnto the people, and the Iudge of thy ſoonnes and daughters. Thou haſte commaunded me to buylde a Temple vpon thy holye mount, and an aultar in the Citie wherin thou dwelleſt: a lykeneſſe of thy holy tabernacle, whiche thou haſte pꝛepared frome the begynnynge, and thy wyſedome wyth thee, whyche knoweth thy woꝛkes, which alſo was with thee, whẽ thou madeſt the woꝛlde, and knewe what was acceptable in thy ſight, and right in thy commaundementes. O ſende her out of thy holy heauens, and from the thꝛone of thy mateſtye, that ſhee may bee wyth me: and labouꝛ wyth me, that I maye knowe what is acceptable in thy ſyghte. Foꝛ ſhee knoweth and vnderſtandeth all thynges: and ſhee ſhall leade me ſoberly in my woꝛkes, and pꝛeſerue me in her power. So ſhall my woꝛkes be acceptable, and thenne ſhall I gouerne thy people ryghtouſly, & bee woꝛthy to ſyt in my fathers ſeate. Foꝛ what mã is he, that may knowe the counſel of god? Oꝛ who can thinke what the will of God is? Foꝛ the thoughts of moꝛtall men are meaſurable, and our foꝛcaſtes are but vncertayn. And why? a moꝛtall and coꝛruptible body is heauy vnto the ſoule, & the earthly manſion kepeth downe that vnderſtandyng that muſeth vpõ many things. Very hardly can we diſcerne the things that are vpon erth, and great labour haue we, oꝛ wee can fynde the thynges whiche are befoꝛe oure eyes: who wyll then ſeke out the ground of the thyngs that are doon in heauen? O Lord, who can haue knowlege of the vnderſtandyng and meanynge, excepte thou geue hym wyſdom, and ſend thy holy ghoſt from aboue, that the wayes of theim which are vpon earth, may be reformed: that men may learne the thynges that are pleasaunte vnto thee, and be preserued thorowe wisdome.

Gen. 1.d

¶ The.x. Chapter.

A VVisdome preserued the firste man, whome God made a father of the worlde, when he was created alone, brought hym oute of hys offence, tooke hym oute of the Gen.2.a * mould of the earth, and gaue him po-
* Ge.4.b wer to rule al thinge. * When the vnryghteous went away in hys wrath from this wisdome, the brotherhead perysshed thorowe the wrath of mur-Gene.9.c thure. Agayne, when the * water destroyed the hole world, wisdome preserued the righteous, thorow a poore tree, wherof she was gouernoure hir selfe. Moreouer, when wickednesse had gotten the vpper hand, so that the nacions were puffte vp with pride, she knewe the ryghteous, preserued hym B fautelesse vnto God, and layed vppe sure mercy of his childzen. She pre-Gen.19.f serued the ryghteous, * when he fled from the vngodly that perished, what tyme as the fire fell downe vpon the v. cityes. Lyke as yet this day the vnfruitefull waste, and smokynge lande geueth testimony of their wickednes: yea, the vnrype and vntimelye fruites that grow vpon the tentes. And for a token of a remembraunce of the vnfaythfull soule, there standeth a pyller of salte. For all such as regarded not wisdome, gat not onely this hurt, that they knewe not the thynges whyche were good, but also lefte behynd them vnto men, a memorial of their foolishnes: so that in the thynges wherein they synned, they could not be hydde.
C But as for such as take hede vnto wis-Gen.28.d dome, she shall delyuer them from sorowe. * When the ryghteous fled because of his brothers wrath, wisdom led hym the righte waye, shewed him the kingdome of god, gaue him knowledge of holy thynges, made him rych in hys labours, and brought to passe the thinges that he went aboute. In the disceitefulnes of suche as defraud-ded hym, she stode by hym, and made hym ryche. She saued hym from the enemyes, and defended hym from the disceauers. She made him stronge in battayle, and gaue hym the victorye, that he might knowe, how that wisdome is stronger then all thynges.

Gen.37.f * When the ryghteous was solde, she Actes.7.b forsoke hym not, but delyuered hym from sinners. She went downe with him into the dongeon, and fayled him not in the bandes: tyll she had brought him the scepter of the realme, & power agaynst those that oppressed hym. As for them that had accused him, she declared them to be lyers, and brought hym to perpetuall worshyp. * She dely-D uered the ryghteous people and faut-Exod.1.b lesse seede, frome the nacions that oppressed thē. She entred into the soule of the seruaunte of God, and stode by him in wonders and tokens agaynste the horrible kyng. She gaue the righteous the rewarde of their labours, and led them forth a maruelous way: on the daye tyme she was a shadowe vnto them, and a lyghte of starres in Exo.13.f the night season. * She brought them thorowe the red sea, and caryed them thorow the great water. She drowned their enemyes in the sea, & brought them oute of the depe. So the righteous toke the spoyles of the vngodlye, Exo.15.a * and praysed thy holy name, O Lord, Psal.8.a and magnifyed thy victorious hande Mat.21.c with one accorde. * For wisdom openeth the mouth of the domme, and maketh the tongs of the babes to speake.

¶ The.xi. Chapter.

A SHe ordred their woorkes in the Exo.16.a handes of the holy prophete: * so that they went thorow the wildernes that was not inhabyted, and pytched their tentes in the waste deserte. & they stode agaynste their enemyes, and were auenged of their ad-Exo.17.a uersaryes. * When they were thirsty, Nu.20.a they called vpon thee, and water was geuen them out of the most hye rocke, and their thirste was quenched out of the harde stone. For by the thynges,

where-

where thorowe their enemyes were punyshed, wer the childzen of Israell helped in their nede, to their comforte. For vnto the enemyes thou gauest mans blood in steade of lyuynge water. And where as they had scarcenes in the rebuke, when the childzen wer slayne, thou gauest vnto thyne owne a plenteous water vnlooked for: declarynge by the thirste that was at that time, howe thou woldest bryng thine owne vnto honoure, and slaye theyr aduersaryes. ¶ For when they were tryed and nourtured with fatherlye mercy, they knowledged how the vngodly were iudged, and punished thorowe the wrath of God. These haste thou exhorted as a father, and proued the: but vnto the other thou hast bene a boysterous kyng, layed hard to their charge, and condemned theym. Whether they were absent or present, their punyshmente was a lyke. For their greke was double: namely, mournyng and the remembrance of thinges past. But when they perceaued that their punyshmentes dyd theym good, they thought vpon the Lorde, and wondered at the ende. For at the laste they held much of him, of whom in the out castyng they thought scorne, as of an abiecte. Neuertheless, the ryghteous dyd not so when they were thrustye: but euen lyke as the thoughtes of the foolyshe were, so was also their wickednes. ¶ Wher as certayne men now (thorow erro) dyd worshyp dombe serpentes and vaine beastes, thou sendest a multitude of domme beastes vpon them for a vengeaunce: that they might knowe, that loke where with all a manne synneth, by the same also shall he be punyshed. ¶ For vnto thy almightye hand, that made the world of naughte, it was not vnpossible, to send among them an heap of Beares, or wood Lyons, or cruell beastes of a straunge kynd, such as are vnknowē, or spoute fire, or caste oute a smoking breath, or shote horrybie sparkes oute of their eyes, whiche might not onely destroye theym with hurtynge, but also kyll theym with their horrybie sight. Yea, without these beastes might they haue bene slayne with one wynd, beynge persecuted of their own workes, and scatered abrod thorowe the breath of thy power. Neuertheless, thou hast ordred all thynges in measure, number and weight. For thou hast euer had great strength and might, and who maye withstande the power of thyne arme? And why? like as the small thynge that the balaunce weyeth, so is the world before the: yea as a droppe of the morning dewe, that falleth downe vpon the earthe. Thou haste mercye vpon all, for thou haste power of al thinges: ¶ and makest the as though thou sawest not the sinnes of men, because they shoulde amende. For thou louest all the thynges that are, and hatest none of theym, whome thou haste made: neither dyddest thou ordeyne or make any thynge, of cuyll will. Howe might any thyng endure, if it wer not thy will? Or how could any thyng be preserued, except it wer called of thee? But thou sparest all, for all are thyne (O Lorde) thou louer of soules.

Deut.8a

Rom.2.a

¶ The.xii. Chapter.

O Lorde howe gracious & swete is thy spirite in al thynges.) Therfore chastenest thou the measurably that go wrong, and warnest theym concernynge the thynges wherin they offend: thou speakest vnto them (O Lord) and exhortest them to leaue their wickednesse, and to put their truste in thee. ¶ As for those olde inhabytoures of thy holy lande, thou myghtest not awaye with theym, for they committed abhominable workes agaynst thee: as witchecrafte, sorcery, and Idolatry, they slewe their owne childzen without mercy: they dyd eate vp mennes bowels, and deuoured the blood: yea, because of such abhominacions, mysbeleues and offerings, thou slewest the fathers of the desolate soules by the handes of oure fathers: that the lande whiche thou louest aboue all other, myght be a dwellynge for the childzen of God. Neuertheles thou sparedst them also as men) & sendedst the fore runners of thyne host euen hornettes to destroye theym oute by litle and lytle. Not that thou wast vnable to subdue the vngodlye vnto the righteous in battaile, or wyth cruel beastes, or wyth one rough worde Exo.23d to destroye them together: • But thy mind was to dryue them out by lytle and litle, geuinge theym tyme and place to amende: knowing wel, that it was an vnryghteous nation and wicked of nature, and that their thought myght neuer be altered. For it was a cursed sede from the begynninge, and feared no man: Yet hast thou pardoned their synnes. For who wyll saye vnto thee: why hast thou done that:

Deu.9.a

C Or who wil stand agaynst thy iudgement: Or whoe wil come before thy face an auenger of vnrighteous men: Or who wil blame the, yf the people perysshe, whom thou hast made: For there is none other GOD but thou, Wet.9a • that carest for all thynges: that thou mayest declare howe that thy iudgement is not vnryght. There dare nether kinge, nor tyraunte in thy syghte requyre accomptes of thē whom thou hast destroyed. For so muche then as Job.9.a. thou art ryghteous thy selfe, thou ordrest all thynges ryghteouslye, • and punishest euen him that hath not deserued to be punyshed, and takest him for a straunger and an aleaunt in the land of thy power. For thy power is the begynninge of ryghteousnes: and because thou art Lord of all thynges, therfore art thou gracious vnto all.
When men thinke thee not to bee of a full strēgth, thou declarest thy power: and boldly delyuerest thou them ouer that knowe thee not. But thou Lord of power iudgest quietlye, and ordrest vs wyth greate worshippe, for thou D mayest doe as thou wylte. By suche workes nowe hast thou taughte thy people, that a man also shoulde be iust and louinge: and hast made thy chyldrē to be of a good hope: for euen whē thou iudgest, thou geuest rowme to amend from synnes. For in so muche as thou hast punyshed, and wyth such diligence delyuered the enemyes of thy seruauntes, which were worthye to dye (where thrughe thou gauest them tyme and place of amendement, that they myght turne from their wickednes) wyth howe greate diligence then punishest thou thyne owne children vnto whose fathers thou hast sworne and made couenantes of good promyses? So where as thou doest but chasten vs, thou punishest our enemyes dyuers wayes, to the intente that when we punish, we shoulde remember thy goodnes: and when wee our selues are punished, to putte oure trust in thy mercye. Wherefore, where E as men haue lyued ygnorauntly, and vnryghteouslye, thou hast punyshed them fore, euen through the same thinges that they worshypped. • For they Sap.11 went astraye verye longe in the waye of errour, and held the beastes (which euen their enemyes despysed) for goddes, lyuinge as children of no vnderstanding. Therefore hast thou sente a scornefull punyshment amonge them: as among the children of ignorauunce. As for such as would not be reformed by those scornes and rebukes, them felt the worthy punishment of God. For the thinges that they suffered, they Esa.44 bare thē vnpacietly, being not content in them, but vnwyllinge. And when they perysshed by the same thinges that they tooke for goddes, they knowledged them, that there was, but one true God, whome afore they wouldе not knowe: therfore came the end of their damnation vpon them.

¶ The.xiii. Chapter.

VAyne are al men, which haue not knowelege of God: • as were they that out of the good thinges which are seene: knewe not him, that of him selfe is euerlastinge. Neyther toke they so much regard of the workes that are made, as to know who was the craftesman of them, but some toke the fyre, some the winde or ayre, some the course of the starres, some the water, some tooke Sun and

Moone

Moone, for the lyghts of heuē which rule the earth for gods. But though they had such pleasure in their beawty that they thought them to haue beene goddes: yet should they haue knowen howe muche more fayrer hee is that made them. For the maker of beawtye hath ordeyned al these thynges. Or if they mervveled at the power and woorkes of them, they should haue perceaued therby, that he whiche made these B thynges, is myghtyer then they. For by the greatnes and beawty of the creature, the maker thereof may plainelye be knowen. Notwithstandinge they are the lesse to bee blamed, that seeke God, and woulde fynde hym, and yet mysse. And why? for so much as they go about in hys woorkes and seeke after them, it is a tokē, that they regard and holde muche of hys woorkes that are seene, howbeit they are not wholly to be excused. For yf their vnderstanding and knowlege be so greate, that they can discearne the woorlde and the creatures, whye dooe they not rather find out the Lorde therof? But vnhappye are they, and amonge the deade is their hope, that calle theym Goddes, which are but the woorkes of mennes handes: gold, siluer, and the thing that Esa.44.b is found out by cunninge, the similytude of beastes, or anye vayne stoane that hath bene made by ꝑ hand of old.
* Or as whenne a carpenter cutteth downe a tree out of the wood, and pareth of the bark of it cunningly: and so wyth the one parte maketh a vessel to be vsed, and dresseth meate wyth the residue. As for the other parte that is left, which is profytable for nothyng (for it is a croked pece of wod and ful of knobbes) he carueth it diligentelye thorough his vanitie, and accordynge C to the knowledge of his cunninge) he geueth it some proporcion, fashioneth it after the similitude of a man, or maketh it lyke some beast, straketh it ouer wyth redde, and painteth it, and looke what foule spot is in it, hee casteth some colour vpon it. Then maketh he a cōuenēt tabernacle for it, setteth it in ꝑ wal, ꝑ maketh it fast with yron, prouidyng so for it, leste it happen to fall: for it is wel knowen, that it can not helpe it selfe. And why? it is but an ymage, and must of necessitie be helped. Then goeth he and offereth of his goodes vnto it, for his children and for his wyfe: he seketh helpe at it, he asketh councell at it: he is not ashamed to speake vnto it, that hathe no soule: For healthe he maketh his petition vnto hym that is sycke: for lyfe, he prayeth vnto him that is dead: he calleth vpon hym for healpe that is not able to helpe hym selfe, and to send hym a good iourney, he prayeth hym that may not go. And in all the thynges that he taketh in hād (whether it be to obtayn any thyng, or to woorke) he prayeth vnto hym, that can do no maner of good.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

AGayn, an other man purpo-
A posynge to take his iourneye thorowe the ragynge sea, calleth for healpe vnto a stocke, that is farre weaker then the tree that bereth hym. For as for it, couetousnes of money hath found it out, and the craftesman made it with his cunnyng. But thy prouidence, O father, gouerneth all thynges frome the begynnynge.
* For thou haste made a waye in the Ex.14.b sea, and a sure pathe in the myddest of the waues: declarynge thereby, that B thou haste power to helpe in all thinges: yea though a manne went to the sea withoute shyppe. Neuertheless, that the woorkes of thy wysedome shoulde not be vayne, * thou haste caused an Arke to be made: and therefore Gen.6.b doo menne committe theyr lyues to a smalle piece of wodde, passynge ouer the sea in a shyppe, and ar saued. * For Gen.7.b in the olde tyme also when the proude Gyauntes perished, hee (in whome the hoope was lefte to increase the woorlde) went into the shyppe, which was gouerned thorough thy hande, and so lefte sede behynde hym vnto the woorlde. For happy is the tree, where thorowe ryghteousnesse commethe:

but curſed is the ydoll that is made Pſa. 115 wyth handes, * yea both it, and he that made it. Ye, becauſe he made it: and it, becauſe it was called God, where as Pſal. 7. d it is but a fraile thyng. * For the vngodlye and hys vngodlynes are bothe lyke abhominable vnto God. Euen ſo the worke and he that made it alſo, ſhalbe punyſhed together. Therefore ſhal there a plage come vpon the ydols of the hethen: for out of the creatures of God they are become an abhomina tion, and temptation vnto the ſoules of men, and a ſnare for the feete of the vnwyſe. And why, the ſeking oute of ydols is the begynning of whordome and the bryngynge vp of theym is the deſtruction of lyfe. For they wer not from the begynning, nether ſhall they continue for euer. The wealthy ydlenes of men hath founde them out vp-on erth, therfore ſhal they com ſhortly to a nende. When a father mourned for hys ſonne that was taken awaye from him, hee made hym an ymage in C al the haſt of hys dead ſonne: and ſo he began to worſhip him as God, which was but a dead man, and ordeined his ſeruants to offre vnto him. Thus by proceſſe of time, and throughe an vngracious cuſtome, thys errour was kept as a law: and tyrauntes compel-len men by vyolence to honour ymag-es. As for thoſe that were ſo farre of, that men myghte not worſhip theym preſently, their pycture was brought from farre (lyke the ymage of a kyng whom they wolde honour) to thin-tente that wyth greate diligence they myght worſhip him which was farre of, as though he had bene preſente. A-gayne, the ſingular conninge of the craftesman gaue the ignorant alſo a great occaſion to worſhyp ymages.
For the workman willing to do him a pleaſure that ſet him a worke, labou red with al his cunninge to make the ymage of the beſt faſhion. And ſo (tho rough the bewtye of the worke) the commen people was dyſceaued, in ſo much that they tooke him nowe for a God, which a lytle afore was not honoured as a manne. And thys was the errour of mans life, when men (either for to ſerue their owne affection, or to do ſome pleaſure vnto kinges) aſcrybed vnto ſtones and ſtockes the name of God, which ought to be geuen vnto no man. Moreouer, this was not ynoughe for theym that they erred in the knowledge of God: but where as they lyued in the great warres of ignorannce, thoſe many and greate plages called they peace. For ether * they Deu. 18 ſlue their owne childre, and offered them, or dyd ſacrifice in the night ſea-ſon, or els held vnreſonable watches:
ſo that they kept nether life nor ma-riage cleane: but eyther one ſlue another to death malicyouſlye, or els gre-ued hys neyghbour wyth aduoutrye.
And thus were al thinges mixt together, bloud, manſlaughter, theft, dyſſimulation, corruption, vnfaithfulnes ſedition, periurie, diſquieting of good men, vnthankfulnes, defyling of ſou-les, chaunging of byrth, vnſtedfaſtnes of maryage, myſorder, of aduoutrye and vnclennes. And why? the honou-ringe of abhominable ymages is the cauſe, the beginning and end of al euil For they that worſhip Idols, eyther they are mad when they be merye, or prophecye lyes, or lyue vngodlye, or els lyghtlye forſweare theym ſelues.
D For inſo much as their truſt is in the ydols (whiche haue neither ſoule nor vnderſtanding) thoughe they ſweare falſely, yet they thinke it ſhal not hurt them. Therfor commeth a great plage vppon theym, and that worthelye: for they haue an euil opinion of God, ge-uynge heede vnto Idolles, ſwea-ring vniuſtly to dyſceaue, and defpyſinge ryghteouſnes. For they ſwea-ring is no vertue, but a plage of them that ſynne, and goeth euer wyth the offence of the vngodlye.

The .xv. Chapter.

BVt thou (O our GOD) arte A ſweete, long ſuffring and true, and in mercye ordreſt thou all thynges. Though wee ſynne, yet are we thyne, for we knowe thy ſtrenge the. If wee ſynne not, then are wee ſure, that thou regardeſt vs. For toknowe

knowe thee, is perfect ryghteousnes. Yea, to knowe thy ryghteousnes and power, is the roote of immortalitie. As for the thing that men haue found out thorow their cupl science, it hathe not deceiued vs: as the painting of the picture (an vnprofitable labour) of carued image, with diuers colors whose sight enticeth the ignorant: so that he honoreth and loueth the picture of a dead image that hath no soule. Neuer B the lesse, they that loue such euil thinges, ar worthy of deth: they that trust in them, they that make thē, they that loue theym, and they that honoure theym. The potter also taketh and tempreth soft earth, laboreth it, and geueth it the fashion of a vessel, what so euer serueth for our vse: and so of one piece of clay, he maketh some cleane vessell for seruice, and some contrarye. But wherto euery vessel serueth, that knoweth the potter hymselfe. So B his vain labor, he maketh a god of the same clay, this dothe euen he, whiche a little afore was made of earthe hym selfe, and within a little while after, (when he dieth) rourneth to earth agayne. Notwithstandyng, he careth not the more, because he shall labour, nor because his lyfe is short: but stryueth to excell goldsmithes, the syluer smithes, and copper smythes, and taketh it for an honour, to make bayne thyngs. For his hearte is ashes, hys hope is but vayn earth, and his life is more vile then clay, for so much as he knoweth not his owne maker, that gaue him his soule to worke, and breathed in hym the breath of lyfe. They count our life but a pastyme, and oure conuersation to bee but a market, and that men should euer be gettyng, and that by cupl meanes. Now he that of D earth maketh frayle vessels, and ymages, knoweth hym selfe to offende aboue all other. All the enemies of the people, and that hold them in subiection, are vnwyse, vnhappy, and exceadyng proude vnto theyr owne soules, for they iudge al the Idols of the heathen to be gods, whiche neither haue eye sight to see, nor noses to smell, nor eares to heare, nor fyngers or handes for to grope: and as for their feete they are to slowe to go. For man made thē and he that hath but a borowed spirit fashioned them. But no mā can make a God lyke vnto hym: for seyng he is but mortall hymself, it is but mortall that he maketh with vnrighteous handes. He hym selfe is better then they,
D whom he worshyppeth: for he liueth, though he was mortall, so dyd neuer they. Yea, they worshyp beastes also, which ar most miserable, for compare thyngs that can not feele vnto theym, and they are worse then those. Yet is there is not one of these beastes, that with his syght can beholde any good thyng, neither haue they geuen praise nor thankes vnto God.

¶ The. xvi. Chapter.

B

For these and suche other thinges haue they suffered worthy punishment, and thorow the multitude of beastes are they rooted oute. In stede of the whiche punishments, thou hast graciously norished thyn owne people, and geuen them theyr desyre, ỹ they longed for: a newe and straunge Num.11 taste, ▪ preparing them quailes to bee their meat: to the intent ỹ (by the thinges which were shewed and sent vnto them) they that were so greedy of meat, might be withdrawen euen frō the desire ỹ was necessarye. But these within short time were brought vnto pouertie, and tasted a newe meat. For it was requisite that (without any excuse (destruction shold com vpō those which vsed tyrānye, and to shew onely vnto the other, howe their ennemies, Nu.12 b were destroyed. ▪ For when the cruel wodnes of the beastes came vpon thē, they perished thorow the stinges of ỹ cruell serpentes. Notwithstandynge thy wrathe endured not perpetually, but they were put in feare for a litteil season, that they might bee reformed, hauing a token of saluation, to remēber the commaundement of thy lawe. For hee that conuerted, was not healed by the thyng that he sawe, but by thee, O sauioure of all. So in thys, thy ou shewedst thyne enemies, that it is thou, which deliuereſt frō all euill.

Exo.10d As for them • when they were bitten with greſhoppers and flyes, they dyed, for they wer worthy to perysshe by ſuche: But neyther the teeth of dragons nor of venimous wormes ouercame thy chyldren, for thy mercy was euer by them and helped them. Therfore were they puniſhed to remember thy woordes, but haſtely were they healed agayne, leſt they ſhold fall into ſo depe forgetfulnes, that they myght not vſe thy help. It was neither herbe C nor plaſter that reſtored thē to health, but thy word (O Lord) which hea-leth al thinges. It is thou (O Lord) that haſt the power of lyfe and death:
Deu.32f • thou leadeſt vnto deathes doore, and 1.Re.2b bringeſt vp agayn. But man thorow wickednes ſleeth his owne ſoule, and when hys ſpyrete goth forth, it turneth not agayne, neither may he call agayne the ſoul that is taken away. It is not poſſible to eſcape thy hande. For the vngodly that wolde not knowe thee, were puniſhed by the ſtrength of thin arme: with ſtraunge waters, hayles and raynes, were they perſecuted, and thorough fyre were they conſumed. For it was a wonderous thinge that fire myghte do more then water which quencheth all thynges:
but the worlde is the auenger of the ryghteous. Sometyme was the fire ſo tame, that the beaſtes whiche were ſente to puniſhe the vngodlye, brente not: and that becauſe they ſhoulde ſee and know, that they were perſecuted with the puniſhmente of God. And D ſometyme, brent the fire in the water Exo.16a on euery ſide, that it might deſtroy the vnryghteous nacion of the earth. • A-gayne, thou haſt fed thyne owne people with Angels fode, and ſent them breade readye from heauen (withoute their laboure) beyng very pleaſaunte and of good taſte. And to ſhewe thy ryches, and ſwetenes vnto thy chyldren, thou gaueſt euerye one their de-ſire, ſo that euerye man myghte take what lyked hym beſte. But the ſnow and yſe abode the violence of the fire and melted not: that thei might knowe that the fire burnyng in the hayle and rayne, deſtroyed the fruite of the ene-myes: the fire alſo forgat his ſtrength agayne: that the righteous myghte be noryſhed. For ye creature that ſerueth thee (which arte the maker) is fearce in punyſhynge the vnryghteous, but is eaſye & gentle to do good vnto ſuch E as put their truſte in thee. Therfore dyd all thinges alter at the ſame time, and were all obedient vnto thy grace, which is the norſe of all thinges, ac-cordyng to the deſire of them that had nede therof: that thy childrē, O Lord, Deu.8.a whō thou loueſt, might knowe, • that Mat.4.a it is not ye nature and the growing of frutes that fedeth men, but that it is thy word, which preſerueth them, that put their truſt in thee. For loke what might not be deſtroyed with the fire, as ſone as it was warmed with a lytle ſunne beame, it melted: that al men might know, that thanks ought to be geuē vnto thee, before the ſunne riſe, & that thou oughteſt to be worſhypped before the day ſpryng. For the hope of the vnthankefull ſhall melte away as the winter yſe, and perysshe as water, that is not neceſſary.

The .xvii. Chapter.

GReat are • thy iugementes (O Lord) and thy councels cannot A be expreſſed: therefore men doo Ro.11.c erre, that will not be reformed with thy wiſdome. • For when the vnrigh teous thought to haue thy holye peo- Exo.10d ple in ſubiection, they were bounde with bandes of ye darkenes and long night, ſhut vnder the roofe, thinkyng to eſcape the euerlaſtynge wyſdome.
And while they thought to be hyd in the darkenes of their ſinnes, they wer ſcatered abrode in the very middeſt of the darke couerynge of forgetfulnes, put to horrible feare, and wonderouſlye vexed: for they hadde no corner where they mighte keepe them frome feare (becauſe the ſound came downe and vexed thē) yea, many terrible and ſtraunge viſions made them afrayde.
No power of the fire myght geue thē lyght, neither might the cleare flames of the ſtarres lyghten that horryble B night,

night. For there appeared vnto them a sodayne fire, verye dredefull: At the whiche (when they sawe nothynge) they were so afrayd, that they thoght the thinge which they sawe, to be the more fearfull. * As for the sorcery and Exo. 7. b enchauntment that they vsed, it came to derision, and the prowde wysdome was brought to shame. For they that promised to dryue away the fearefulnes and drede from the weake soules, were sick for feare of them selues, and that with scorne. And though none of the wonders feared theym, yet were they afrayd at the beastes which came vpon them, and at the hyssynge of the serpentes. In so much that with trembynge they sowed, and sayde they sawe not the ayre, whiche no man yet maye eschape. For it is an heuy thing, ¶ when a mans owne conscience beareth recorde of hys wickednesse, and condempneth him. And why? a vexed and wounded conscience, taketh euer cruell thinges in hande. * Fearfulnes Psa. 47 a is nothynge els, but a declarynge that a man seketh helpe and defence, to answere for hym selfe. And looke howe muche lesse the hoape is wythin, the more is the vncertentie of the matter, for the whiche he is punyshed. But they that came in the mightye nyght: slepre the slepe that fell vppon them from vnder and from aboue: somtime were they afrayde thorowe the feare of the wonders, and sometyme they were so weake that they sowned with all: for an hasty and sodayne fearefulnes came vpon them. Afterwarde, yf any of them had fallen, he was kepte and shutte in prison, but wythoute chaynes. But if any dweller in a village, yf he had ben an hearde or husbandman, he suffred intollerable necessitie: for they were al bound with one D chayne of darkenes. Whether it were a blasyng wynde, or a swete songe of the byrdes amonge the thycke braunches of the trees, or the vehemencye of hastye runnynge water, or greate noyse of the fallinge downe of stones, or the playing and running of beastes whom they sawe not, or the myghtye noyse of rorynge beastes, or the sounde that aunswereth agayne in the hyghe mountains: it made them sowne for very feare. For all the earth shyned wyth clere lyght, and no man was hindered in his labour. Only vpon them there fell a heuy nyght, an ymage of darkenesse that was to com vpon them. Yea they were vnto them selues, the most heauy and horrible darkenes.

¶ The. xviii. Chapter.

A NEuertheles, thy sainctes had a very great lyght (and the enemies herde their voyce, but thei saw not the figure of them.) And because they suffred not the same thinges, they magnified thee: & they that were vexed afore (because they were not hurt now) thanked thee, and besought the, O God, that there might Exo. 14. be a difference. Therfore hadde they a burnyng piller of fyre to leade theym in the vnknowen waye, and thou gauest theym the Sunne for a free gifte without any hurt. Reson it was that they should want lyght, and be put in the prison of darknes, which kept thy Exo. 1. b childre in captiuitie, by whō ỹ vncorB rupt life of the law of the world was for to be geuen. * When they thought to slea the babes of the righteous (one beyng layde out, and preserued to bee leader vnto the other) thou broughtest oute the whole multitude of the childerne, and destroyedste these in the myghtye water. Of that nyghte were our fathers certifyed afore, that Ex. 14. C they knowyng vnto what othes they had geuen credence, myght be of good cheere. Thus thy people receaued the healthe of the righteous, but the vngodlye were destroyed. For lyke as thou haste hurte our enemies, so hast thou promoted vs, whome thou calledst afore. For the ryghteous chyldren of the good men offred secretely, and ordred the law of righteousnes vnto vnite: ỹ the iust shuld receaue good and euyll in lyke manner, syngynge praises vnto the father of all men. Again, there was herd an vnconuenient voice of the ennemies, and a piteous

cryc

erye for childzen that were bewailed.
C The master & the seruaunt were punished in like maner. For they altogether had innumerable that died one death. * Nether wer the liuyng sufficient to bury the dead, for in ỹ twynkling of an eie, the noblest nacion of thē was destroyed. As oft as God helped them afore, yet wold it nat make them beleue: but in the destruction of ỹ first borne they knowledged, that it was the people of God. For while al thinges were styll and when the nyghte was in the middest of her course, thy Almightye worde (O Lorde) leapte downe from heauen out of thy royall throne, as a rough man of war, in the middest of the land that was destroyed: and the sharpe swerde perfourmed thy strayte commaundemente, standynge and killynge all thynges wyth death: yea it stode vpon the earth & reached vnto the heauen. Then the sight of the euil dreames vexed them sodenly, and fearefulnesse came vpon theim vnawares. Then laye there one here, another there halfe dead, halfe quicke, & shewed the cause of his death. For ỹ visions that vexed them shewed them these thinges afore: so that they were not ignorant, wherfore they perished.
D The tentacions of death touched the righteous also, and among the multitude in the wildernesse there was insurrection, but thy wrath endured not long. For the blamelesse man went in all the haste, and toke the battell vpon him, brought forth the weapon of hys ministration: euen prayer, and the censours of reconcilynge: set him selfe agaynst the wrath, and so broughte the misery to an ende: declarynge thereby that he was thy seruant. For he ouercame not the multitude with bodelye power, nor with weapons of mighte: but with the worde he subdued hym that vexed him, putting them in remēbraunce of the othe & couenaunt made vnto the fathers. For when the dead wer fallen down by heapes one vpon another, he stode in the middest, pacified the wrath, & parted the way vnto Exo.28b liuing. * And why? in his long garmēt was all the bewtye, and in the foure rowes of the stones was the glory of the fathers grauen, and thy maiestye was writtē in the crown of his head. Vnto these the destroyer gaue place, and was afrayd of thē: for it was only a temptacion worthy of wrath.

C The .xix. Chapter.

AS for the vngodly, the wrath A came vpō them without mercy vnto the end. For he knew before what shold happen vnto them: howe that (when they had consented to let them go, and had sent oute with great diligence) they wolde repente, and folowe vpon theym. * For when Exo.14a they were yet mournyng & makynge lamentaciō by the graues of the dead, they deuised another folishnes: so that they persecuted them in their flying, whom they had caste oute afore with prayer. Worthy necessitie also brought thē vnto this ende, for they had cleane forgotten the thynges that happened vnto them afore. But the thinge that was wantynge of their punyshment, was requisite, so to be fulfylled vpon them with tormentes, that thy people might haue a marueious passage thorowe, and that these myghte fynde a straunge death. Then was euery crea- B ture fashioned agayne of newe, accordyng to the will of their maker, obeyinge thy commaundementes, that thy childzen might be kept without hurt. For the cloude ouershadowed their tentes, and the drye earthe appeared, wher afore was water, so that in the redde sea, there was a way withoute impediment, and the greate depe became a greene fyelde: wherethorowe all the people wente that were defended with thy hande, seeynge thy wonderous and marueious workes. For as the horses, so were they fedde, and leapt like lambes, prayling the (O Lord (which haddest deliuered them: and why? they were yet myndfull of the thynges, that hapned whyle they dwelt in the land: howe the grounde brought forth flies in stede of cattell: and howe the riuer scrauled with the multitude of frogs in stede of fyshes.

But

Exo.16c ✱ But at the laste, they sawe a newe Nu.11g creation of birdes, what tyme as they were disceiued with lust, and desyred delicate meates. For when they wer speakyng of their appetite, the quayles came by vnto them from the sea, & punishements came vpon the sinners, not without the tokens whiche came to passe afore by the vehemency of the streames: for they suffered woorthyly accordyng to theyr wickednesses, they dealt so abhominably and churlishely with straungers. Some receyued no vnknowen gestes, some brought the strangers into bondage, that did them good. Besyde all these thinges, there were some, that not only receyued no
1. John. strangers with theyr willes, but persecuted those also, ✱ and did them muche euill, that receaued theym gladly. Therefore were they punished wyth Gen.19. ✱ blyndnesse, like as they that wer couered with sodayn darknes at the dores of the rightous, so that euery one sought the entrance of his doze. ¶ Thus the elements turned into them selues lyke as when one tyme is changed vpon an instrument of musike, and yet al the residue kepe their melody: whyche may easily be perceiued, by ỳ sight of the thynges that are come to passe. ¶ The dry land was turned into a watery, and the thynge that afore swam in the water, wente nowe vppon the dry grounde. ¶ The fyre had power in the water (contrary to his own vertue) and the water forgate hys owne kynde to quenche. Againe, the flames of the noysome beastes hurte not the fleshe of them that went with theim, neyther melted they the yse, whyche elles melteth lyghtely. In all thynges haste thou promoted thy people (O Lorde) and brought them to honour: thou hast not despised them, but alway, and in al places, thou hast stãd by theym.

¶ The ende of the boke of wysedome.

¶ The boke of Iesus the sonne of Syrach, whiche is cal'ed in latin, Ecclesiasticus.

¶ The prologue of Iesus, the sonne of Syrach vnto his boke.

MAny & great mẽ haue declared wisedom vnto vs out of ỳ law, out of ỳ Prophets, & out of other ỳ folowed them. In ỳ which thinges Israel ought to be cõmended, by ỳ reason of doctrine & wisdom: ¶ Therfore, they ỳ haue it & rede it, should not only thẽselues be wise there thorowe, but serue other also, with teaching & writing. After ỳ my grandfather Iesus had geuẽ diligẽt labor to reade ỳ law, ỳ prophets, & other bokes, ỳ wer left vs of our fathers, & had wel exercised hĩself therin: he purposed also to write som thing of wisdom & good maners, to ỳ intẽt ỳ they which wer willing to lern & to be wise, might haue ỳ more vnderstanding, & be ỳ more apt to leade a good cõuersation. Wherfore I exhort you to receiue it louingly, to rede it with diligẽce, & to take it in good worth, though our wordes be not so eloquẽt as the famous orators. For ỳ thing ỳ is writtẽ in ỳ Hebrue tong, soũdeth not so well whẽ it is translated to an other spech. Not only this boke of myn, but also the law, ỳ Prophets, & other bokes sound farre otherwise, than they do, whẽ they are spokẽ in their own language. Now in ỳ. xxxviii. yeare, whẽ I came into Egypt in ỳ time of Ptolomy Euerges, & cõtinued there all my life, I gat libertie to rede & write many good thinges. Wherfore I thought it good & necessarie, to bestow my diligẽce & trauaile to interprete this boke. And cõsidering that I had tyme, I labored & did my best, to perfourme this boke, & to bring it vnto light: ỳ ỳ strãgers also which ar disposed to lern, might apply thẽ selues vnto good maners, and lyue according to the law of the Lord.

Ecclesia-

Ecclesiasticus.

The firste Chapter.

A 5.Ec.3.b

Al wisedome * commeth of god the Lord and hathe bene euer with him, and is before all tyme. Who hath numbred ỹ sād of the sea, the drops of the rayne, and the dayes of tyme? Who hath measured the heigth of heauen, the breadth of the earthe, and the depenes of the sea? Who hath sought out the ground of Goddes wisdome, whiche hath bene before all thynges? Wisdome hath bene before all things, and the vnderstandynge of prudence from euerlasting. (Gods word in the heigth is the wel of wisdome, and the euerlastynge commaundementes are the entraunce of her.) Vnto whome hath the rote of wisedome bene declared? Or who hath knowen her wittes? Vnto whō hath the doctryne of wisdome bene discouered and shewed? and who hath vnderstande the many B fold entraunce of her? There is one; euen the Hyest, the maker of all thinges, the Almighty, the kyng of power (of whom men ought to stand greatly in awe) whiche sytteth vpon hys trone, beynge a God of dominion: He hath created her thorowe the holye ghost: he hath sene her, numbred her, and measured her: He hath poured her out vpon all his worckes, and vpon al flesshe accordyng to his gyft: he geueth her richely vnto them that loue hym. The feare of the Lorde is worshyppe and triumphe, gladnesse and a ioyfull crowne: The feare of the Lorde maketh a mery hert, geueth gladnes, ioye and longe lyfe. Who so feareth the Lorde, it shall goo well with hym at the laste, and in the day of his deaeth he shall be blessed. The loue of God is honorable wisdome: loke vnto whom it appeareth, they loue it, for they se what wonderous thynges it doeth.

* The feare of the Lord is the begyn- C nyng of wisdom, and was made with pla.111 the faythfull in the mothers wombe, it shall go with the chosen wemē, and shalbe knowen of the ryghteous and faythfull. The feare of the Lord is the righte Gods seruyce, that preserueth and iustifyeth the hearte, and geueth mirth and gladnesse. Who so feareth the Lorde shall be happye, and when he hath nede of comforte, he shall be blessed. To feare God is the wisdome that maketh ryche, and bryngeth all good with her. She fylleth the holle house with her gyftes, and the garners with her treasure. The feare of the Lord is the crowne of wysdome, and geueth plenteous peace & health. Hee hath seene her and numbred her, (bothe these are the gyftes of God) knowledge and vnderstanding of wisdom hath he poured out as rayne, and them that held her fast, hath he brought vnto honoure. The feare of the Lorde is the rote of wisdome, and her braunches are longe lyfe. In the treasures of wisdome is vnderstanding, and deuotion of knowledge, but wysdome is abhorred of synners. The feare of D the Lord driueth out sinne: for he that is without feare cannot be made righteous, and his wilfull boldnes is hys owen destruction. A pacient man will suffer vntō the tyme, and then shall he haue the reward of ioy. A good vnderstandyng will hyde hys wordes for a tyme, and many mennes lyppes shall speake of hys wisdome. In the treasures of wisdom is the declaracion of doctryne, but the sinner abhorreth the worshippe of God. My sonne, if thou desire wisdome, kepe the commandemente, and God shall geue her vnto thee: for the feare of the Lorde is wisdome and nurture, he hath pleasure in faythe and louyng meknesse, and he shal fyll the treasures thereof. Be not obstinate and vnfaythfull to the feare of the Lorde, and come not vnto hym with a double hearte. Be not an hypocrite in the sight of mē, and take good hede what thou speakest. Marke wel these things, leste thou happen to fall and bring thy soule to dyshonour, and so God dyscouer thy secretes, and cast the downe in the middest of the congregation: because thou woldest not receaue the feare of God: and because thy heart is ful of fraynednes and disceate.

and

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

My sonne, * if thou wilt come into the seruice of God, stād fast in ryghteousnes, and feare, and arme thy soule to tentation: settle thyne heart and be pacient: bow downe thyne eare, receaue the wordes of vnderstanding, and shrinke not away, when thou art entysed. Holde thee fast vpon God, ioyne thy self vnto hym, and suffer that thy lyfe maye encrease at the last. Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto thee, receaue it: suffer in heauynes, and be pacient in thy trouble. * For lyke as gold and syluer are tryed in the fyre, euen so are acceptable men in the fornace of aduersitie. Beleue in GOD, and he shall helpe thee: order thy way a ryght, and putte thy trust in him. Holde fast hys feare, and growe therein. O ye that feare the Lorde, take sure holde of his mercye: shrynke not away from him, that ye fal not. O ye that feare the Lorde, beleeue hym, and youre reward shall not bee emptye. O ye that feare the Lorde, put your trust in him, and mercy shal come vnto you for pleasure. O ye that feare the Lord, set your loue vpon him, and your hertes shalbe lightned. Consyder the old generations of men (O ye children) and marke them wel: * was there euer any one confoūded, that putte his trust in the Lorde? Who euer continued in hys feare, and was forsaken? Or whom did he euer despyse, that called faythfullye vpon him? For God is gracious and mercyful, he forgeueth synnes in the time of trouble, & is a defender of all them that seke him in the truth. Wo be vnto him that hath a double heart, wicked lips and euil occupied handes, and to the sinner that goth two maner of waies. Woe bee vnto theym that are loose of hert, which put not their trust in god and therfore shal they not be defended of hym. Wo be vnto theym that haue lost pacience, forsaken the right ways, and are turned backe into frowarde wayes. What wyll they do, when the Lorde shall begynne to vysyte them? They that feare the Lorde, wyll not mistrust his word, and they that * loue hym, will kepe his commaundement. They that feare the Lorde, will seke oute the thynges, that are pleasaunte vnto him, * and they that loue hym, shall fulfill hys lawe. They that feare the Lorde, will prepare their hertes, and humble their soules in his sight. They that feare the Lorde, kepe hys commaundementes, and will be pacyente tyll they see hym selfe, sayinge: * better it is for vs to fall into the handes of the Lord, then into the handes of men: for hys mercy is as greate as hym selfe.

¶ The.iii. Chapter.

The children of wisdome are a congregacion of the righteous, and their exercise is obedience and loue. Heare me youre father (O my deare children) and do thereafter, that ye maye be safe. * For the Lorde will haue the father honoured of the children: and loke what a mother cōmaundeth her children to do, he wyll haue it kepte. Who so honoureth hys father, hys synnes shall be forgeuen him: * and he that honoureth his mother is lyke one that gathereth treasure together. Who so honoureth hys father, shall haue ioye of hys owne children: and when he maketh his prayer he shalbe herd. He that honoureth his father, shal haue a long life, and he that is obediente for the Lordes sake, hys mother shall haue ioye of hym. He that feareth the Lorde, honoureth his father and mother, and doth them seruice, as it were vnto the Lord hym selfe. Honoure thy father in dede, in woorde, and in all pacience that thou mayest haue Gods blessynge, and hys blessyng shall abyde with thee at the laste. * The blessynge of the father buyldeth vp the houses of the children,

but

but the mothers curse roteth oute the foundations. Reioyce not when thy father is reproued, for it is not honor vnto thee, but a shame. For the worshyp of a mans father is his owne worshippe, and where the father is without honoure, it is the dishonesty of the sonne: My sonne, make muche of thy father in his age, and greeue him not as longe as he lyueth. And yf hys vnderstanding fayle, haue pacience with him, and despyse him not in thy strēgthe. For ỹ good dede that thou shewest vnto thy father, shal not be forgotten, and when thou thy selfe wantest, it shalbe rewarded thee (and for thy mothers offence, thou shalt be recompensed with good: yea, it shalbe founded for thee in ryghteousnes) & in the day of trouble thou shalte bee remembred: thy sinnes also shal melte away, lyke as the yce in the fayre warme wether. He that forsaketh his father, shal come to shame: and he that defieth his mother, is cursed of God. My sonne, perfourme thy workes with louyng mekenes, so shalt thou be loued aboue other men. The greater thou arte, the more humble thy selfe (in al thynges) and thou shalt find fauor in the sighte of God. For greate power belongeth oneiye vnto God, and he is honoured of the lowlye. Pſ.131.8 Seke not the thinges that are aboue thy capacitie, and serch not the grounde of suche thinges as are to myghty for thee: but loke what god hath cōmanded thee, thinke vpon that alway, and be not curious in many of hys workes. For it is not nedeful for thee to se with thyne eies, the thynges that are secrete. Make not thou to muche searche in superfluous thynges, and bee not curious in many of hys woorkes: For manye thynges are shewed vnto thee alreadye, which be aboue the capacitye of men. The medling with such hath begyled many a man, and tangleth theyr witte in vanitie. Now he that loueth peryll, shall perysshe therin. An harde hearte shal fare euil at the last: (and he that loueth daunger, shall perish therin) an heart that goth two ways, shal not prosper: and he that is froward of heart, wyl euer be worse and worse.) A wycked hert shalbe laden with sorowe, and the vngodlye synner wyll heape one synne vppon another. The councell of the proude hath no health, for the plante of synne shalbe rooted oute in theym, and not knowen. The heart of him that hath vnderstanding shall perceaue hie thinges, and a good eare wyll gladlye herken vnto wysedome. An heart that is wise and hath vnderstanding, wyl abstaine frō synnes, and increase in the woorkes of ryghteousnes. Water quencheth burnynge fyre, and mercye reconcyleth synnes. God hath respecte vnto hym that is thankeful: he thinketh vppon him agaynst the time to come: so that when he falleth, he shal find a stronge holde. Pſal.41.0

The.iiii. Chapter.

My sonne, defraude not the poore of his almes, and turn not awaye thyne eyes from him that hath nede. Despyse not an hūgrye soule, and defye not the poore in his necessitie: greue not the hearte of him that is helpelesse, and withdrawe not the gyfte frome the nedefull. Refuse not the prayer of one that is in trouble, turne not away thy face from the nedye. Caste not thyne eyes aside from the poore, for any euill will, that thou geue him none occasion to speke euyll of thee. For if he complayne of thee in the bitternes of his soule, hys prayer shalbe herd, euen he that made him, shal heare him. Be curteous vnto the companye of the poore, humble thy soule vnto the elder, and bowe downe thy head to a man of worshyp. Let it not greue thee to bowe downe thyne care vnto the poore, but pay thy debt, and geue him a frendlye answere, and that with mekenesse. Deliuer him that suffereth wronge frome the hand of the oppressour, & be not fayntherted whē thou sittest in iudgement. Be merciful vnto the fatherlesse as a father, and be in steade of an husbande vnto their mother: so shalt thou be as Deu.15.0 B Ec.14.

an obedient sonne of the Lyest, and he shall loue thee more then thy mother doeth: Wisdome bringeth life into her children, receaueth them that seke her, and will go before them in the way of ryghteousnes. He ꝑ loueth her, loueth lyfe: and they that seke her diligently, shall haue great ioye. They that kepe her, shall haue the heritage of lyfe: for where she entreth in, there is the blessyng of God. They that honoure her, shalbe the seruauntes of the holy one: and they that loue her, are beloued of God. Who soo geueth eare vnto her, shall iudge the Heathen: and he that hath respect vnto her, shall dwel safely. Yee that beleueth her, shal haue her C in possession, and hys generacion shal endure: for when he falleth, she doeth go with him and choseth hym among the beste. Feare, drede and temptacion shal she bryng vpon him, and trye him in her doctrine: tyll she haue so proued him in his thoughtes, that he commit his soule vnto her. Then shall she stablyshe him, bryng the right way vnto him, make him a glad man, shew him her secretes, and heape vpon hym the treasures of knowledge, vnderstandyng and ryghteousnes. But if he go wrong, she shall forsake him, and geue him ouer into the handes of his ene-D mye. My sonne, make muche of thy tyme, eschue the thinge that is euyll, and for thy lyfe, shame not to saye the truth. For there is a shame that bringeth synne, and there is a shame that Leu. 19 c bringeth worshipp and fauoure. * Accept no person after thine owne will, that thou be not confounded to thyne owne decaye. Be nat ashamed of thy neyghbour in his aduersitie, and kepe not backe thy councell when it maye do good, nether hyde thy wisdome in her beawtye. For in the tonge is wisdome knowen, so is vnderstandynge knowledge and learnynge in the talkyng of the wyse, and stedfastnesse in the workes of ryghteousnes. In no wise speke agaynst the word of truth but be ashamed of the lyes of thyne owne ignorance. Shame not to confesse thyne errour, and submit not thy selfe vnto euery man because of sinne. Withstand not the face of the mighty, & striue thou not against the streame. But for ryghteousnes, take paynes with all thy soule, and for the trueth striue thou vnto death, and God shall fight for thee agaynst thyne enemyes. Be not hastye in thy tongue, nether slacke and negligente in thy workes. Be not as a lyon in thyne own house destroyinge thy housholde folkes, and oppressyng them that are vnder thee.
* Let nat thyne hande be stretched out to receaue, and shut when thou shouldest geue. Acts. 20 g

The. v. Chapter.

TRust not vnto thy ryches * and saye not: tushe, I haue ynough for my lyfe. (For it shall not helpe in the tyme of vengeaunce and temptacion.) Folowe not the luste of thyne owne hert in thy strength, and saye not: Tushe, howe haue I hadde strength, or who will bryngе me vnder because of my workes? for doubtles God shall auenge it. And say not: I haue cōmitted no sinnes, but what euill hath happened me? For the almighty is a pacient rewarder. * Because thy synne is forgeuen thee, be not therefore without feare, nether heape one synne vpon another. * And say not: Tushe, the mercy of the Lord is great, he shall forgeue me my sins, be they neuer so many. * For lyke as he is mercifull, so goeth wrathe from him also, and hys indignacion commeth downe vpon synners. Make no taryinge to turne vnto the Lorde, and put not of from day to day: for sodenly shall his wrath come, and in the tyme of vengeaunce he shall destroye thee. * Trust not in wicked riches, for they shall not helpe thee in the daye of punyshement and wrath. Be not caryed about with euery wind, & go not into euery way: for so doth the sinner that hath a double tonge. Stande fast in the waye of the Lorde, be stedfast in thy vnderstanding, abide by the word and folowe the worde of peace and ryghteousnes. Be gentle to heare the
A Luk. 12 c
Eccl. 11 c
Rom. 4 a
Eccl. 28 a Eccl. 36 b
Psa. 10 a Ezec. 7. b
B

wozde of God, that thou mayest vnderstande it, and make a true answere Jams.1c with wisdome. ✠ Be swifte to heare, but slowe and pacient in geuynge answere. If thou hast vnderstandynge, shape thy neyghboure an answere: If no, laye thyne hande vpon thy mouth, least thou be trapped in an vndiscrete woorde, and so confounded. Honoure and worshyp is in a mans wyse talkyng, but the tong of the vndiscret is Ecc.19d his owne destruction. ✠ Be not a pryuy accuser as long as thou lyuest, and bleno sclaunder with thy tonge. For shame and sorow goth ouer the chefe, and an euyll name ouer hym that is double tonged: but he ẏ is a pryuy accuser of other mẽ, shalbe hated, enuyed and confounded. See that thou iustifye the small and great alyke.

¶ The.vi. Chapter.

BE not thy neyghboures enemye for thy frendes sake: for who so is euyll, shall be the heyre of rebuke and dishonoure, and whosoeuer beareth enuy and a double tong offendeth. ✠ Be not proude in the deuyse Ro.12d of thyne owne vnderstandynge (leste thy strength be hurte by foolysthnes, and) leste thy leaues wyther, and thy fruite be destroyed, and so thou be left as a dyye tree in the wildernes. For a wicked soul destroyeth him that hath it, maketh him to be laughed to scorne of hys enemyes, and bringeth hym to Ecc.20b the porcion of the vngodly. ✠ A swete worde multiplieth frendes, and pacifieth them that be at varyaunce, and a thankefull tonge wyll be plenteous in a good man. Holde frendshyp with many, neuertheles haue but one counceler of a thousande. If thou getteste a De.13.b frend, ✠ proue him first, and be not hastye to geue him credence. For some man is a frend but for a tyme, & wyll not abyde in the daye of trouble. And there is some frende that turneth to enemity, and taketh part agaynst the: and if he knowe any hurte by thee, he Ecc.37a telleth it out. ✠ Agayne, some frend is but a companion at the table, and in the daye of nede he continueth not. But a sure frend wil be vnto the, euẽ as thyne owne selfe, and deale faythfullye with thyne household folke. If thou suffer trouble & aduersitye, he is with thee, and hydeth not hym selfe from the. Depart from thine enemies yea, and beware of thy frẽdes. A fayth C full frende is a strong defence, who so findeth suche one, fyndeth a treasure. A faythfull frende hath no peere, the weyght of golde and syluer is not to be compared to the goodnesse of hys fayth. A faythfull frend is a medicine of lyfe, and they that feare the Lorde, shall fynde hym. Who so feareth the Lorde, shall prosper with frendes: and as he is him selfe, so shal his frend be also. My sõne, receaue doctrine from thy youth vp, so shalt thou fynd wysdome tyll thou be olde. Go to her as one that ploweth and soweth, and wayte patiently for her good fruites. For thou shalt haue but lytle labour in her worke, but thou shalte eate of her fruites right sone. O how exceadyng sharpe is wysdome to vnlearned men: an vnstedfast bodye will not remayne in her. Vnto such, she is as it were a touch stone, and he casteth her from him in all the haste, for wisdome is with hym, but in name, ther be but fewe that haue knowledge of her. (But with them that knowe her, she abydeth euen vnto the appearynge of God.) Geue eare (my sonne) receaue my doctryne, and refuse not my coun-mat.11.d cel. Put thy fote into her linkes, ✠ and take her yocke vpon thy necke: bowe downe thy shoulder vnder her, beare her pacientlye, and be not wery of her bandes. Come vnto her with thy whole hert, and kepe her wayes with all thy power. Seke after her, and she shall be shewed thee: and when thou haste her, forsake her not. For at the D last thou shalte fynde reste in her, and that shalbe turned to thy greate ioye. Then shall her fetters be a strong defence for thee, and her yoke a glorious raiment. For ẏ bewty of life is in her and her bandes are the coupling together of saluacion. Yea a glorious rayment:

ment is it, thou shalte put it on, & the same crown of ioye shalt thou weare. My sõne, if thou wylt take hede, thou shalt haue vnderstandyng, and if thou wylt applye thy mynde, thou shalt be wyse. If thou wilt bowe downe thyne eare, thou shalte receaue doctryne, and if thou delyte in hearynge, thou shalt be wyse. Stande with the multitude of such elders as haue vnderstanding & consente vnto their wisdome with thyne hert: that thou mayest heare all godly sermons, and that the woorthy sentences escape thee not. And if thou seest a man of discrete vnderstanding, get thee soone vnto hym, and let thy fote treade vppon the steppes of hys Psal.1.a doores. • Let thy mynd be vpõ the commandementes of God, and be earnestlye occupyed in hys lawes, soo shall he stablyshe thy hearte, and geue thee wisdome at thyne owne desire.

¶ The.vii. Chapter.

1 DO no euyll, so shall there no harme happen vnto the. Departe awaye from the thynge that is wicked, and no misfortune shal medle with thee. My sonne, sowe no euyll thynges in the forowes of vnrighteousnes, so shalte thou not reape them seuen folde. Labour not vnto man for any lordshyp, neither vnto the Psa.143.a kyng for the seat of honoure. • Justi-Eccle.7.a fye not thy selfe before God (for he-John.9.a knoweth the herte) and desire not to Luk.18.b be reputed wise in the presence of the kyng. Make no labour to be made a iudge, except it so were, that thou coudest mightely put downe wickednes: for yf thou shouldest stande in awe of the presence of the myghtye, thou shouldest fayle in geuynge sentence. Offende not in the multytude of the citie, and put not thy selfe amonge the Ecc.12.c people. • Bynde not two synnes together, for in one synne shalt thou not be vnpunyshed. Say not: tushe, God will loke vpõ the multitude of my oblacions, and when I offer to the hiest God, he will accepte it. Be not faynt herted, when thou makest thy prayer, neyther slacke in geuynge of almes.
2 Laugh no man to scorne in the heauines of his soul, for God (which seeth al thinges:) is he that • canne bring 1.Re.2.b downe, and set vp agayne. Accept no leasing agaynste thy brother, neyther do the same against thy frẽd. Vse not to make any maner of lye, for the customes therof is not good. Make not many wordes, when thou art among the elders: • and when thou prayest, make not much babblinge. • Let no la-Mat.6.a • Ro.12. borious worke be tedious vnto thee, neyther the husbandrie which the almyghtye hath created. Make not thy boste in the multitude of thy wyckednes, but humble thy selfe, euen from thyne hearte: and remember that the wrath shal not be longe in tarynge, and that the vengeaunce of the fleshe of the vngodlye is a sherpe syre and wrome. Geue not ouer thy frend for any good, nor thy faythful brother for the best golde. Departe not frõ a dys- ¶ crete, and good woman, that is fallen vnto thee for thy portion in the feare of the Lord, for the gift of her honestie is aboue golde. Whereas thy seruant Luk.19c worketh truelye, intreate him not euill, nor the hyrelyng that is faythfull vnto thee. Loue a discret seruaunt as thine owne soule, defraud him not of hys liberty, nether leaue him a poore man. • If thou haue cattel, loke well Deu.24.b to them: and yf they be for thy profite, keepe them. • If thou haue sonnes, Ecc.30.a bryng them vp in nurture and learnynge, and holde them in awe from their youth vp. If thou haue daughters, kepe their bodye, and shewe not thy face cherful toward them. Mary thy daughter, & so shalt thou perform a weightye matter: but geue her to a man of vnderstanding. If thou haue a wyfe after thyne owne mynde: forsake her not: (but commytte not thy selfe to the hatefulle.) • Honoure thy father from thy whole heart: and forgette not the sorowfull trauayle, that thy mother had with thee: remembre that thou wast borne thorow them, and how canst thou recompence them the thynges that they haue doone for the? • Feare the LORDE with all thy soule, and honour his mynysters.

Deu. 12 c Loue thy maker with al thy strength • and forsake not his seruants. Feare the lord with al thy soule, & honor his • Nu. 18
priestes. • Geue them their portion of the fyrste fruites, and increase of the earth, lyke as it is commaunded thee: (and reconcyle thy selfe of thy negligence wyth the litle flocke) geue thē the shoulders, and their appointed offrynges and fyrstlinges. Reach thine Gala. 6 a hande vnto the poore, that God maye • To. 1. d blesse the with plenteousnes. • Be li Ro. 12. b
beral vnto al men lyuing, • yet let not
mat. 25 d
but do good, euē to them that ar dead. • Let not them that wepe, be without comforte, but mourne wyth suche as mourne. • Let it not greue thee to vysit the sycke, for that shal make thee to be beloued. Whatsoeuer thou takest in hande, remember the end, and thou shalt neuer do amisse.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

A
Mat. 5. a
STryue not with a myghty man leaste thou chaunce to fall into hys handes. • Make no bargāce wyth a rych man, leaste hee happen to bringe vp an hard quarel against the.
Ecc. 31. a
• For golde and syluer hath vndone manye a man, yea euen the heartes of Kynges hath it made to fall. Stryue not wyth a man that is ful of wordes, and laye no stickes vpon hys fyre.
Gala. 6 a Kepe no companye wyth the vnlearned, leaste he geue thy kynred an euyll reporte. • Despyse not a man that turneth him selfe a waye from sinne, and Leu. 19 g cast him not in the teeth wythall, but remember that wee are fraile euerye chone. • Thincke scorne of no man in Eccl. 6 d
hys olde age, for we waxe olde also. Be not glad of the death of thyne enemye, but remember that wee muste dye al the sorte of vs (and sayne would we come into ioye.) Despise not the sermons of such elders as haue vnderstanding, but acquaint thy selfe wyth the wyse sentences of them: for of thē thou shal learne wysedome, and the doctryne of vnderstanding, and howe to serue great men without cōplaint. Go not from the doctryne of the elders, for they haue learned it of their fathers. For of them thou shalt learne vnderstandinge, so that thou mayest make answere in the tyme of neede. Kindle not the coles of sinners (whā thou rebukest them) leaste thou be brēt in the syerye flames of their sins. Resyst not ye face of the blasphemer, that he laye not wayte for thy mouthe.
B
Ecc. 29. a
• Lend not vnto him that is mightier then thy selfe: If thou lendest hym, count it but lost. Be not suerty aboue thy power: if thou be, then think surely to paye it. Go not to law wyth the iudge: for he wyl iudge accordynge to
Gen. 4. b
hys owne honour. • Trauayle not by the way wyth him that is brainlesse, lest he do the euil: for he folowyth his owne wilfulnes, and so shalt thou perysh thrugh hys folly. • Strive not
C
Pro. 12 d
wyth him that is angrye and cruel, and go not with him into the wildernes: for blud is nothing in hys syght, and where there is no helpe, hee shall Eccl. 9. c
murther thee. • Take no councell at fooles, for they loue nothinge but the thynges that please them selues. Make no councel before a straunger, for thou canst not tel what wyl come of it. Open not thyne heart vnto euerye man, leaste he be vnthankeful to the, and put thee to reproofe.

¶ The. ix. Chapter.

BE not gelous ouer the wife of thy bosome, that she shewe not
B
some shrewde pointe of wicked doctryne vpon thee. Geue not the power of thy lyfe vnto a woman, leaste she come in thy strengthe, and so thou be confounded. Looke not vpon a woman that is desyrous of many menne, leaste thou fal into her snares. Vse not the companye of a woman that is a player and a daunser, and heare her not, leaste thou perysh thrugh her entysinge. Behold not a mayden, that Prou. 5
thou be not hurt in her bewty. • Cast not thy mynde vppon harlottes in anye manner of thynge, leaste thou destrote both thy selfe and thyn heritage. Go not aboute gasynge in euery lane of the Cytye, neyther wander thou
Mat. 5. b
abrode in the streetes thereof. Turne

Gē.34.a

Wāy thy face from a bewtiful womā and loke not vppon the fayrenes of other. ✱ Many a man hath perished thorough the bewtye of wemen, for therin it, the desire is kyndled as it were a fyre. An aduoutereus woman shalbe troaden vnder foote as myre, of euery one that goeth by the way. Many a man wondring at the bewtie of a strange woman, hath bene cast out, for her wordes kyndle as a fyre. Syt not with another mans wife by any meanes, lye not wyth her vpon the bedde, make no woordes wyth her at the wyne: least thyne heart consent vnto her, and so thou wyth thy blud fal into destruction. Forsake not an olde frende, for the newe shall not bee lyke him. A newe frend is newe wine: let him be old, and thou shalt drinke him wyth pleasure. Desire not the honour and riches of a sinner, for thou knowest not what destruction is for to com vppon him. Delyte not thou in the thing that the vngodly haue pleasure in, being sure, that the vngodlye shall not be accepted vntil their graue.

¶ Kepe thee from the man that hath power to slaye, so nedest thou not to bee afrayde of death. And yf thou commest vnto him make no saut, least he happē to take away thy life. Remembre that thou goest in the middest of snares, and vppon the bulwarkes of the city. Beware of thy neighbour as nigh as thou canst, and meddle wyth suche as be wyse and haue vnderstanding. Let iust men be thy gestes, lette thy mirth be in the feare of God, let the remembraunce of God be in thy minde, ✱ and let al thy talking be in the commaundementes of the hiest. In the handes of craftesmen shal the workes be commēded, ✱ so shal the princes of the people in the wisdome of their talkynge. A man ful of wordes is perilous in hys citie: and he that is rash in his talking, shalbe abhorred.

Eccl. 8.c
& 37.a

Deu.6.b
and.11.c 2Re.3.a

¶ The.x. Chapter.

A Wise iudge wyl order his people with discrecion: and wher a man of vnderstanding beareth rule, there goeth it well. ✱ As the iudge of the people is himself, euen so are his officers: and loke what maner of man the ruler of the citie is, such are they that dwel therein also. ✱ An vnwyse king destroyeth his people, but where they that be in authoritie are men of vnderstanding, there the Cyty prospereth. The power of the earth is the hand of God (and all iniquitye of the people is to to bee abhorred) and when hys tyme is, he shal set a profitable ruler vppon it. In the hande of God is the power of man, and vpō the Scribes shal he laie his honor. ✱ Remember no wrong of thy neighbour, and meddle thou wyth no vnryghteous workes. Pryde is hateful before God and man, and al wyckednesse of the heathen is to bee abhorred. ✱ Because of vnryghteous dealing, wrōg, blasphemyes, and dyuers dysceates, a realme shalbe translated from one people to another. There is nothinge worse then a couetous man. Why arte thou proud, O thou earth and ashes? There is not a more wicked thing, thē to loue money. And whye? suche one hath hys soule to sel: yet is he but filthy dong while he liueth. And though the philistion shewe his helpe neuer so long, yet in conclusion it goeth after thys maner, to daye a king, to morowe dead. For when a man dieth, he is the heyre of serpentes, beastes, and wormes. The beginninge of mannes pryde, is to fal awaye from God: and why? his heart is gone from his maker, for pryde is the original of al syn. Who so taketh holde therof, shalbe filled wyth curlinges, and at the laste it shal ouerthrowe him. Therefore hath the Lord broughte the congregations of the wicked to dishonoure, and destroied them vnto the end: ✱ God hath destroied the seates of proude princes, and sette vp the meke in theyr steade. God hath withered the rootes of the proude heathen, and planted the lowlye amonge theym. ✱ God hath ouerthrowen the landes of the heathē, and destroyed them vnto the grounde. He hath caused them to wither awaye, he

Pro.29.b

3Re.12.a

Leu.19.a

Jer.27.a

Sap.6.b

Ge.29.a

hath brought theim to naught, and made the memorial of theym to ceasse from out of the earth. (God hath destroyed the name of the proude, and left the name of the humble of mind.) Pryde was not made for man, neyther wrothfulnes for mens children. The sede of men that feareth GOD shalbe brought to honour, but the sede which transgresseth the commaundementes of the Lord shalbe shamed. He that is the ruler amonge brethren, is holden in honour among them, and he regardeth suche as feare the Lorde. The glorye of the rych, of the honorable, and of the poore, is the feare of God. Despyse not thou the iust poore man, and magnyfye not the ryche vngodly. Great is the iudge and myghtye in honour, yet is there none greater, then he that feareth God. * Unto Pro.17.a the seruaunt that is discrete, shal the free do seruice. * He that is wyse and wel nurtured, will not grudge when he is reformed, and an ignorant body shal not come to honoure. Bee not proud to do thy woorke, and despayre Pro.12.b not in the time of aduersitie. * Better is he that laboreth, & hath plenteousnes of al thinges, then he ỳ is gorgeous & wanteth bread. Myconne, kepe thy soule in mekenes, & geue her her due honor. Who shal iustify him, ỳ sinneth against him self. Who will honor him that dishonoreth his own soule? The poore is honoured for hys faithfulnes and trueth, but the ryche is had in reputation because of hys goodes. Hee that ordereth himself honestly in powertye, howe much more shal he behaue himselfe in riches. And who so ordereth hym selfe vnhonestlye in ryches? how much more shal he behaue hymselfe vnhonestly in powertie?

¶ The .xi. Chapter.

THe wisedome of him that is broughte lowe, shal lyft vp his heade, and shal make him to sit amonge greate men. Commende not thou a manne in hys beawtye, neither despyse a man in his vtter apperance. The Bee is but a smal beast amonge the foules, yet is her fruit exceadynge swete. Be not proude of thy rayment, * and exalt not thy selfe in the daye of Ecc.11. thy honor: for the woorkes of the hiest onely are wonderful: yea glorious secrete and vnknowen are his woorkes. Many tyrauntes haue beene fayne to sit downe vppon the earthe, * and the vnlykely hath wonne the crowne. Ecc.15.f. Many myghty men haue ben broght lowe, and the honorable haue bene deliuered into other mennes handes. * Condemne no mā, before thou haue Deu.13.b tryed oute the matter: and when thou hast made inquisition, then reforme ryghteousnye. * Geue no sentence, be- Pro.18.B fore thou haste hearde the cause, but first let mē tel out theyr tales. Striue not for a matter that toucheth not thy selfe, and stande not in the iudgement of synners. My son, meddle not with Mat.19. many matters: * and yf thou wilte be rych, thou shalt not get it: and though thou runnest thy waye afore, yet shalt Pro.10.f thou not escape. * There is some man that laboureth and the more he wereth him selfe, the lesse he hath. Again, some man is slouthful, hath neede of helpe, wanteth strength, & hath great powertie, & Gods eie loketh vpō hym to good, setteth him vp from his low Job.42.f state, * and lyfteth vp his head: so that many menne maruel at him, and geue honour vnto God. * Prosperyty and Job.1.c. aduersitie, lyfe and death, powerty and ryches come al of the Lord. Wisdome, nurture & knowledge of the law, are with God: loue and the wais of good are with him. Errour & darkenes are made for sinners (& they that exalt thē selues in euyl, waxe old in euil.) The gift of god remaineth for ỳ righteous, & his good will shal geue prosperitie for euer. Some man is rych by liuing nygardly, & that is the portion of hys Luk.12.f rewarde, in that he sayth: * now haue I gotten reste: and nowe will I eate and drynke of my goodes my selfe alone. And yet he considereth not, that the time draweth nye (and death approcheth) that he must leaue al these thinges vnto other menne, and dye hym selfe. Stande thou faste in thy couenuante, and exercyse thy selfe therin therin, and remayne in the worke vnto thy age. Continue not in the workes of sinners, but putte thy truste in God, and byde in thyne estate: for it is but an easye thing in the syghte of God, to make a poore man ryche, and that sodeynly. The blessinge of God hasteth to the reward of the righteous, and maketh his fruites soone to florysh and prosper. Saye not, what D helpeth it me? and what shall I haue Eccle. 18 the while? Agayne, saye not: I haue ynough, howe can I wante? When thou art in welfare, forget not aduersitie: and when it goeth not wel with thee, haue a good hope, that it shalbe better. For it is but a smal thing vnto God, in the day of death to reward euery man accordinge to hys wayes. The aduersitye of an houre maketh one to forget all pleasure: and when a man dieth, hys workes are dyscouered. Prayse no bodye before his death for a man shalbe knowen in his chil-E dren. Bring not euery man into thine house, for the disceatful layeth wayte dyuersitye. Lyke as a partriche in a maund, so is the hearte of the proude: and lyke as a spye that lyeth vppon the fal of his neighbour. For he turneth good vnto cuyll, and slaundreth the chosen. Of one sparcke is made a great fyre (and of one dysceatful man is bludde increased) and an vngodlye man layeth wayt for bloud. Beware of the dysceitful mā, for he imagineth wycked thynges, to bringe thee into a perpetuall shame. If thou takest an aleaunt vnto thee, he shal destroye the in vnquyetnes, and dryue thee from thyne owne wayes.

The. xii. Chapter.

WHen thou wilte dooe good, knowe to whom thou doest it, and so shalt thou be great . . . ly thanked for thy benifites.
Gala. 6. a Doo good vnto the ryghteous, and thou shalt fynd great reward, thogh not of him, yet (no doubte) the Lorde hym selfe shall reward thee. Hee standeth not in a good case that is alwaye occupyed in cuil, and geueth no almes: for the hiest hateth the sinners and hath mercy vpon them that shew the woorkes of repentaunce. Geue thou vnto such as feare God, and receaue not a sinner. As for the vngodly and sinners, he shall recompence vengeaunce vnto them, and kepe them to the day of wrath. Geue thou vnto the good, & receaue not the sinner: do well vnto him that is lowly, but geue not to the vngodlye. Let not the breade be geuen him, that he be not mightier thē thy selfe therin. For so shalte thou receaue twyse as muche cuyll, in all the good that thou doest vnto hym. And why? ỹ hiest hateth sinners, & shal reward vengeaunce to the vngodly. In prosperitie a frend shal not be knowē and in aduersitie an enemy shal not be hid. For when a man is in wealth it greueth his enemyes: but in heuines and trouble a man shall knowe hys frend. Truste neuer thine enemye, for like as an iron rusteth, so doth his wickednes. And thoughe he make muche B crouching & kneling, yet kepe wel thy mynd, & beware of him. Set him not by the, neither let him sit at thy ryght hand: leste he turne hym, get into thy place, take thy rowme & seke thy seat: and so thou at the laste remember my wordes, and be prycked at my sayinges. Bynd not two sinnes together, for there shall not one be vnpunished. Who will haue pitye of the charmer, that is stynged of the serpent, or of all suche as come nye the beastes? Euen C so is it with him that kepeth company with a wycked man, and lappeth him selfe in hys synnes. For a season will he bide with the: but if thou stō-Ier. 41 b ble, he tarieth not. An enmy is swete in hys lippes, he can make many wordes, and speake much good thynges: Yea, he can wepe with his eies, but in his hert he imagineth, how to thro we thee into the pyt: and yf he maye fynd opportunitye: he wyll not be satisfyed with blood. If aduersitye come vpon thee, thou shalt fynde him there first, and thoughe he pretende to doo thee helpe, yet shall he vndermyne the. He shall shake hys heade, and clappe hys handes ouer thee for verye gladnes:

and while he maketh manye wordes, he shall disguyse his countenance.

¶ The .xiii. Chapter.

A VWho so toucheth pytch, shalbe fyled withall: and he that is familiar with the proud, shall clothe him self with pryde. He taketh a burthen vpon him, that accompanieth a more honorable man then hym self. Therefore, kepe no familiaritye with one that is richer then thy self. How agree the kettle and the pot together? for if the one be smitte against the other, it shalbe broken. The ryche dealeth vnryghteously, and threateneth withall: but the poore beyng oppressed and wrongefully dealt withall, suffreth scarcenes, and geueth faire wordes. If thou be for hys profit, he vseth thee: but if thou haue nothyng, he shall forsake thee. As long as thou hast any thing of thine owne, he shall be a good felow with thee: yea he shal make the a bare man, and not be sorye for the. If he haue nede of the, he shall defraud the: and with a preuy mocke, shall he put thee in an hope, and geue thee all good wordes, and saye: what wantest thou? Thus shall he shame thee in hys meate, vntyl he haue supt the cleane vp twyse or thryse, and at the laste shall he laugh thee to scorne. After warde, when he seeth that thou hast nothyng, he shall forsake the, and shake his heade at thee. Submyt thy self vnto God, and wayte vpon hys hande. Beware, that thou be not dysceaued and brought down in thy simplenesse. B Be not to humble in thy wisdome: leste when thou arte broughte lowe, thou be disceaued thorowe foolyshnes. If thou be called of a mighty man, absente thy self, so shall he call ther to hym the more oft. Preasse not thou vnto hym, that thou be not shut out: but goo not thou farre of, leste he forget thee. Withdrawe not thy self frō hys speche, but beleue not his many wordes. For with much communication shall he tempt thee, and with a preuy mocke shall he question thee of thy secretes. The vnmercifull mynde of hys shal marke thy wordes, he shal not spare to do thee hurte, and to put the in prison. Beware, and take good hede to thy self, for thou walkest in parell of thy ouerthrowynge. Nowe C when thou hearest his wordes, make the as though thou werest in a dreame and wake vp. Loue God all thy lyfe longe, and call vpon hym in thy nede. Euery beast loueth hys lyke, euen so let euery man loue hys neyghboure. All flesshe will resorte to their lyke, and euerye man will keepe companye with such as he is hym self. But as the wolfe agreeth with the lambe, so doth the vngodly with the ryghtous. • what felowshyppe shoulde an holy 2 Cor. 6 mā haue with a dogge? How can the ryche and the poore agree together? The wylde Asse is the lyons pray in the wildernesse, euen so are poore men the meate of the ryche. Lyke as the proude maye not awaye with lowlynes, euen so doeth the ryche abhorre the poore: If a rych man fall, his frendes set hym vp agayne: but when the poore falleth, hys aquayntaunce forsake him. If a ryche man fall into an errour, he hath many helpers: he speaketh proude wordes, and yet men iustifye hym. But if a poore manne goo D wronge, he is punyshed: yea thoughe he speake wyselye, yet can it haue no place. When the ryche man speaketh, euerye man holdeth hys tongue, and loke what he sayth, they prayse it vnto the cloudes. But yf the poore man speake, they saye: What felowe is this? and if he do amisse, they shal destroy hym. Riches are good vnto him that hath no synne in hys conscience, and pouertie is a wicked thyng in the mouth of the vngodly. The hart of a manne chaungeth hys countenaunce, whether it be in good or euill. A cherfull countenaunce is a token of a good herte, for els it is an harde thynge to knowe the thought.

¶ The .xiiii. Chapter.

B Lessed is the man, • that hath not fallen with the worde of his mouth, and is not pricked with the conscience of sinne. Happye is he that hath no heuines in his mind, and

Eccl. 19c Iam. 3. a is not fallen from his hope. It becom meth not a couetous man and a nygarde, to be tyche: and what should a nygard do with golde? He that with all hys carefulneſſe heapeth together vnryghteouſlye, gathereth for other folkes, and another manne ſhall make good chere with his goodes. He that is wicked vnto him ſelfe, ho wſhould he be good vnto other men? How can ſuche one haue anye pleaſure of hys goodes? There is nothynge worſe, then when one diſkauoureth him ſelf, and this is a rewarde of his wickednes. If he do any good, he doeth it not knowynge thereof, and agaynſte hys will, and at the laſt he declareth his vn graciouſlnes. A nygarde hath a wyc-Pro.17 c ked eye, he turneth away his face, and deſpiſeth his owne ſoule. A couetous mans eye hathe neuer ynoughe in the portion of wickednes, vntil the tyme that he wither awaye, and haue loſte B his owne ſoule. A wicked eye ſpareth bread, and there is ſcarcenes vpon his table. My ſonne, do good to thy ſelfe of that thou haſte, and geue the Lorde his due offerynges. Remember that death tarieth not, and howe that the couenant of the graue is ſhewed vnto the: for the couenaũt of this world Eccle.41a Luk.16b ſhall dye the deathe. Do good vnto thy frende before thou dye, and accor-dyng to thy abilitie reache oute thyne hand, and geue vnto the poore. Be not dyſapoynted of the good daye, and let not the portion of the good day ouer-paſſe thee. Shalte thou not leaue thy labours and labaures vnto other men? In the deuiding of the heritage geue and take, and ſanctify thy ſoule.

Worke thou ryghteouſnes before thy Eſa.40a 1Pet.1d Jam.1.b death, for in the hell there is no meate to fynde. All fleſhe ſhall fade away like graſſe, and like a flouryſhyng leafe in a grene tree. Some growe, ſome are caſt downe: euen ſo is the genera-C tion of al fleſhe & blood: one cõmeth to an end, another is borne. All tranſito rye thynges ſhall fayle at the laſt, and the worker thereof ſhall goo withall.
Euery choſen worke ſhalbe iuſtified, and he that medled withall, ſhall haue honour therin. Bleſſed is the manne that kepeth him in wiſedome, and exercyſeth himſelfe in vnderſtandynge, and wyth diſcretion ſhal he thinke vp-on the foreknowledge of God. Whiche conſidereth the wayes of wiſdom in his hearte, hath vnderſtandinge in her ſecretes, goeth after her (as one that ſeketh her out) and continueth in her wayes. He loketh in at her wyndowes, and hearkneth at her doores.
Hee taketh his reſte beſide her houſe, and faſteneth hys ſtake in her walles.
He ſhall pitche his tente nye vnto her hand, and in his tente ſhal good thin-ges reſt for euermore. He ſhal ſet hys children vnder her couerynge, and ſhal dwell vnder her braunches. Vnder her couering ſhal he be defended from the heat, and in her glory ſhal he reſt. M

The.xv. Chapter.

He that feareth God, will do good: and whoe ſo kepeth the lawe, ſhal obtayne wiſedome.
As an honorable mother ſhal ſhe mete him, and as a virgin ſhall ſhee receaue him. With the bread of lyfe, and vn-derſtanding ſhal ſhee feede him, and geue him the water of wholſome wiſ dome to drynke. If he be conſtante in Mat.4. her, hee ſhal not bee moued: and yf hee holde hym faſte by her, hee ſhall not Joh.4.a come to confuſion. Shee ſhall bringe him to honour among his neyghbour-es, and in the myddeſt of the congregation ſhal ſhe open his mouth. With the ſpirite of wiſedome and vnder-ſtandinge ſhal ſhe fil him, and clothe him wyth the garment of glory. She ſhall heape the treſure of myrthe and ioy vpon him, and geue him an euerlaſtynge name to heritage. Foolyſhe men wil not take hold vppon her: but ſuch as haue vnderſtanding, wil meete her. Foolyſhe menne ſhal not ſee her, for ſhe is farre from pride and diſceit.
Men that go aboute with lyes, wyll not remember her: but men of truthe ſhal be found in her, and ſhall proſper euen vnto the beholdyng of GOD.
Prayſe is not ſemely in the mouth of the vngodly, for he is not ſente of the Lord. For of God cõmeth wiſedom,

and

and the prayse shall stand by the wysedome of God, and shall be plenteous in a faythfull mouth, and the Lord shal B geue her vnto him. Say not thou: It is the Lords faute that I am gone by, for thou shalte not do the thynge that God hateth. Saye not thou: he hath caused me to do wrong, for he hath no nede of the vngodlye. God hateth all abhominacio of errour, and they that Gen. 1.d feare God will lotte none such. ✱ God made man from the begynnynge, and lefte him in the hande of his councell.
He gaue him his commaundementes and preceptes: if thou wylte obserue the commaundementes, and kepe acceptable faithfulnes for euer, they shal Jer. 21 b preserue thee. ✱ He hath set water and fire before thee, reach out thyne hand vnto which thou wilt. Before man, is lyfe and death, good and euyll: loke what him lyketh, shall be geuen hym.
For the wisdome of God is gret and mightye in power, and beholdeth all men continually e. The eyes of the Lorde are vpon them that feare hym, and he knoweth all the workes of man. He hath commaunded no man to do vngodly: nether hath he geuen any man space to synne.

¶ The .xvi. Chapter.

A Delyte not thou in the multitude of vngodly children, and haue no pleasure in theym, yf they feare not God. Truste not thou to their lyfe, and regarde not their labours: for one sonne that feareth God is better, then a thousande vngodlye.
And better it is for a man to dye with out children, then to leaue behynd him such children as are vngodly. For by one that hath vnderstandyng, maye a whole citye be vpholden, but though the vngodly be manye, yet shall it be wasted thorowe them. Manye suche thinges hath myne eye sene, & greater thynges then these haue I herd with Ecc. 21 b myne eares. ✱ In the congregacion of the vngodlye shall a fire burne, and B amonge vnfaythfull people shall the Gene. 6 a wrath be kyndled. ✱ The old giantes obtayned no grace for their sinnes, whiche were destroyed, trustynge to their owne strength. Neyther spared he them amonge whom Loth whiche was a ✱ straunger, but smote them and Gen. 19c abhorred them, because of the pryde of their wordes. He had no pitye vpon them, but destroyed al the people, that were so stoute in synne. ✱ And for so Nu. 14 c much as he ouersaw not the sixe hundred thousande, that gathered theym selues together in ỹ hardenes of their hearte: it were maruell if one beynge hardnecked, should be free. ✱ For mer Eccl. 5 a cy and wrath is with him: he is bothe mighty to forgeue and to poure oute dyspleasure. Lyke as hys mercye is great, euen so is his punyshment also, he iudgeth a man accordynge to hys workes. The vngodly shal not escape in his spoyle, and the long pacience of hym that sheweth mercye, shall not byde behynde. All mercye shall make place vnto euery man accordyng to the worthynes of hys workes, and after the vnderstanding of his pilgrimage.
Saye not thou: I will hyde my selfe ¶ from God, for who will thinke vpon me from aboue? I shall not be knowē in so great a heape of people, for what is my soule amōg so many creatures?
Behold, the heauen, yea, the heauen of heauens, the deepe, the earthe, and all that therein is, shall be moued at hys presence: the mountaynes, the hylles, and the foundacions of the earth shal shake for feare, when God bysyeth them. These thynges doeth no hearte vnderstand, but he vnderstādeth euery herte, and who vnderstandeth his wayes? No man seeth hys stormes, and the moste parte of hys workes are secrete. Whoo wyll declare the workes of his righteousnes? Or who shall be able to abyde them? For the couenaunte is farre frome some, and tryinge oute of men is in the ende. He that is humble of hearte, thynketh vpon suche thynges: but an vnwyse and erronious man casteth his minde vnto folysh thinges. My sonne herke thou vnto me, and learne vnderstan-dynge, and marke my wordes with thyne hert. I will geue the a sure doc trine, & playnely shall I instruct thee, (marke marke my wordes then in thyn hert: for in righteousnes of the spirite doo I speake of the wonders, that God hath shewed among his workes from the begynnyng. And in the truthe do I shew the knowledge of him.) God hath set his workes in good order frō the beginnyng, and part of them hath he sundred frome the other. He hathe garnyshed his woorkes from euerlastynge, and theyr begynnynges, accordynge to theyr generations. None D of thē hyndred an other, neyther was any of them disobedient vnto his wordes. After this, God loked vpon the earthe, and fylled it with his goodes. With all maner of lyuyng beasts hath hee couered the grounde, and they all shall be turned vnto earthe agayne.

¶ The .xvii. Chapter.

A GOd • shope man of the earthe, and made hym after hys owne ymage, and tourned hym vnto
Gen. 1. a earthe agayn, and cloathed hym with his owne strengthe. He gaue him the numbre of days and certayn tyme, yea and gaue hym power of the thynges that are vpon earth. He made al fleshe to stand in awe of hym, so that he had the dominion of all beastes and fowles. • He made out of hym an healper
Gen. 2. d lyke vnto hym selfe, and gaue theym discretion and tongue, eyes and eares, and a hearte to vnderstande, and filled them with instruction and vnderstandynge. Hee created for theym also the knowledge of the spirite, fylled their heartes wyth vnderstandynge, & shewed them good and euyll. He set hys eye vpon theyr heartes, declaryng vnto them hys great and noble workes: that they should prayse his holy name together, reioyse of his wonders, and be tellyng of hys noble acts. • Beside
Ex. 20. a Deu. 4. b and. 9. this, he gaue them instruction, and the lawe of lyfe for an heritage. He made an euerlastyng couenant with theym, and shewed them his righteousnesse and iudgementes. They saw his glorie with their eies, & theyr eares herde the maiestie of hys voyce. And he said vnto theym, Beware of all vnrighteous thynges. He gaue euerye man also a commaundemente concernynge hys neyghbour. Theyr ways ar euer before hym, and are not hyd from his eyes. B
• He hath set a ruler vpon euery Ro. 13. a people, • but Israel is the Lordes portion. Al theyr workes are as the Sun *deu. 4. c in the syght of God, and hys eyes are and. 10. c alway lokyng vpon theyr wayes. All theyr vnrighteousnesse are manyfeste vnto hym, and al theyr wyckednesses are open in his syghte. • The mercye that a manne sheweth is as it were a Ecc. 29 b purse with hym, and the grace that is geuen to man, preserueth hym as the apple of an eye. • At the last shall he Mat. 25 c awake, and reward euery man vpon his head, and shall turne theim together into the nethermost partes of the earth. • But vnto them that will repente, he hath geuen the way of right- Acts. 3. c eousnes. As for suche as be weake, he comforteth them, suffreth them, & sendeth theim the portion of the veritie. O turne then vnto the Lorde, forsake thy synnes, make thy prayer before the Lorde, doo the lesse offence, turne agayne vnto the Lorde, forsake thyne vnrighteousnes, be an vtter enemy to abhomination, learne to knowe the ryghteousenesse and iudgementes of god, stand in the portion ỳ is set forth for thee, and in the prayer of the moste hye god: go in the portion of the holy C worid, with suche as be lyuynge and Psal. 7. a geue thankes vnto God. • Who wyll Esa. 38 b prayse the Lorde in the helle? Abyde not thou in the erroure of the vngodly, but geue him thanks before death. As for the deade, thankefulnesse perysheth frome hym as noothynge. Geue thou thankes in thy lyfe, yea, whyle thou arte lyuyng and whole, shalte thou geue thanckes, and prayse GOD, and reioyce in hys mercye. O howe great is the louynge kyndnesse of the Lorde, and hys mercyfull goodnesse vnto suche as tourne vnto hym? For all thynges may not be in man: and why the soonne of man is not immortall, and hee hathe pleasure in the vanitie of wyckednesse. What is more clere then the Sunne?

Yet

Yet shall it fayle. Or what is more wicked then the thyng that flesshe and bloode hath imagined? and that same shall be reproued. The Lord seeth the power of the hye heauen, and all are earthe and ashes.

¶ The.xviii. Chapter.

A He that lyueth for euermore, made all thynges together, God only is ryghteous, and remaineth a victorious king for euer. • Who shalbe able to expresse the workes of hym? Who will seke out the grounde of hys noble actes? Who shall declare the power of hys greatnes? Or who wyll take vpon hym, to tell out his mercy? As for the wondrous workes of the Lord, there may nothyng be taken from them, nothyng may be put vnto them, neyther may the ground of them be found out. But when a man hath done his best, he must begynne agayn: and when he thinketh to be come to an end, he must go agayn to his labour. What is man? wherto is he worth? what good or euyll can he doo? • If the numbre of a mans dais be almost an hundred yere, it is muche. Lyke as the droppes of rayne are vnto the sea, and as a gravel stone is in comparison of the sand: • so are these fewe yeares to the days of euerlastyng. Therfore is the Lord pacient wyth them, and poureth oute his mercy vpon theym. He sawe and perceaued the thoughtes and imaginations of their heart, that they were euyll: therfore heaped he vp his mercifull goodnes vpon theym, and shewed them the way of righteousnes. The mercy that a man hath, reacheth to his neyghboure: but the mercye of GOD is vpon all flesshe. He chastneth, he teacheth and nurtureth: yea, euen as a shepherde tourneth agayne his flocke, so dothe he all theym that receaue chastenyng, nurture, and doctrine. • Mercyfull is he vnto theym, that stand in awe of his iudgements. My soonne, when thou doodest good, make no grudging at it: and what so euer thou geuest, speake noo discomfortable wordes. Shall not the dewe coole the heate? euen soo is a woorde better then a gyft. • Is not a frendly woorde a good honest gyfte, but a gracious mā geueth them both. • A foole shall cast a man in the teethe, and that roughly, and a gyft of the nygard putteth out the eye. Gett the ryghteousnesse before thou come to iudgement. Learne before thou speake, and go to phisike, or euer thou be sycke: • Examyne and iudge thy selfe, before the iudgement comme, and so shalte thou fynde grace in the syght of GOD: Humble thy selfe afore thou be sycke, and in tyme of thy disease shewe thy conuersation. • Lette not to praye alway, and stande not in feare to be reformed vnto death, for the reward of God endureth for euer. Before thou prayest, prepare thy soule, and be not as one that tempteth God. Thynke vpon the wrathfull indignation that shalbe at the end, and the houre of vengeaunce, when he shall tourne awaye his face. • When thou haste ynoughe, remembre the tyme of hunger: & whē thou art rich, think vpon ỹ time of pouertie & scarsenes. Frō the morning vntill the euenyng, the tyme is changed & all suche thyngs are soone done in the syght of God. A wyse man feareth GOD in all thyngs, and in the days of transgression, he kepeth hym selfe from synne. A discrete man hath pleasure in wysedom, and he that fyndeth her, maketh muche of her. They that haue hadde vnderstandyng, haue dealt wysely in wordes, haue vnderstande the truthe and righteousnesse, and haue soughte out wyse sentences and iudgementes. • Folowe not thy lustes, but turne thee from thyn owne wyll. For yf thou geuest thy sowle her desyres, it shall make thyne enemies, to laughe thee to scorne. • Take not thy pleasure in great voluptuousnesse, and medle not to muche wythall. Make not to greate cheere of the thynge that thou haste wonne by auantage, leste thou falle into pouertie, and haue nothing in thy purse.

Gen. 3. a
Psl. 105.
Ecc. 43. d
Psl. 110.
B
2. Pe. 3. b
Esa. 66. a
C
Pro. 15. and. 25. c
Ecc. 41. b
1. cor. 15
Luk. 18. 1. thes. 5.
Ecc. 11. d
D
Ro. 6. b and. 13. b

¶ The. xix. Chapter.

A labou-

A Labouring man that is geuen vnto dronkennes, shall not be ryche: and he that maketh not much of small thinges, shal fall by lytle & lytle. • Wyne and wemen • make Ge.19. E wyse men renuagates, and put men of •ecc.118 vnderstandyng to reproue, and he that accompanyeth aduouterers, shall become a wycked manne. Mothes and wormes shall haue him to herytage, yea, he shalbe set vp to a greater example, and hys soule shalbe roted oute of Iob.22.c the number. • He that is hastye to geue credence, is lyghte mynded, and doeth agaynst him self. Who so reioyseth in wickednes, shall be punyshed: he that hateth to be reproued, hys lyfe shalbe shortened, and he that abhorreth bablynge of woordes, quencheth wickednes. He that offendeth agaynst his owne soule, shall repente it: and he that reioyseth in wickednes shalbe punished. B Rehearse not a wicked and churlyshe woorde twyse, and thou shalt not be hindred. Shew thy secretes neyther to frende nor foe: and if thou haste offended, tell it not oute. For he shall hearken vnto thee and marke thee: and when he fyndeth opportunitye, he shall hate thee (and so shall he be alwaye aboute thee.) • If Eccl.22b thou haste herde a woorde agaynst thy neighboure, let it be dead within the: and be sure, thou shalt haue no harme thereby. A foole trauayleth wyth a woorde, lyke as a woman that is payned with bearyng of a child. Lyke as an arowe shot in a dogges thighe, so Leu.19.d is a woorde in a fooles herte. • Tell mat.18.b thy frende hys faute, leste he be ignoraunt, and saye: I haue not done it, or if he haue spoke, that he do it no more. Reproue thy neighbour, that he kepe hys tongue, and yf he haue spoken, that he say it nomore. Tell thy neighbour his faut, for oft times an offence is made, & geue not credence to euery C woord. A man falleth somtime with his Eccl.14a tongue, but not with his will. For what is he, ỳ hath not offended in his tonge: geue thy neyghbour warning, before thou threaten hym, and geue place vnto the lawe of the Lord. The feare of God is al wisedome and hee that is a ryghtwise man, keepeth the lawe. As for the doctrine of wyckednes, it is no wysdome, and the prudẽce of synners is no good vnderstanding: it is but wyckednes, and abhominacion and a blasphemyng of wysdome. A simple manne of smalle vnderstandinge that feareth God, is better then one that hath muche wysedome, and transgresseth the lawe of the hiest. A crafty suttle man can be wyse, but hee D is vnryghteous: and wyth giftes hee wrasteth the open and manyfest lawe. A wicked man can behaue hym selfe humblye, and canne bouke wyth hys heade, and yet is hee but a dyscreauer wythin. He hideth hys face, • and dis- Mat.6.b guyseth it: and because he shoulde not be knowen, hee preuenteth thee. And though he be so weake that hee can do thee no harme, yet when he maye find opportunitie, he shall doo somme euill. A manne may be knowen by his face, and one that hath vnderstandinge, may be perceaued by the looke of hys countenaunce. • A mans garmente, Eccl.32 laughter, and goinge, declareth what he is.

¶ The.xx. Chapter.

SOme man • reproueth hys neighbour oft times, but not in due sea- A Eccl.31b son: Againe, some manne holdeth hys tounge, and hee is wyse and dyscrete. It is muche better to geeue warninge and to reproue, then to beare euyll wyll, for he that knowledgeth hymselfe openly, shall be preserued from hurt & destruction. Like as when a gelded man thorow desire and lust defyleth a mayden, euen so is it with hym that vseth violence, and vnryghteousnes in the lawe. O how good a thyng is it, a mã that is reproued, to shew opẽly his repẽtãce for so shalt thou escape wilfull syn. Some man kepeth silence, and is fond wise: but hee that is not ashamed what hee sayth, is hatefull. Some man holdeth hys tongue, because he hathe not the vnderstandynge of the language: and some man kepeth silence, wayting & sowre-

Eccl.3.8. conuenient time. ¶ A wyse man wyll holde hys tonge tyl he see opoꝛtunity, but a wanton and vndiſcrete bodye ſhal regarde no tyme. Hee that vſeth many woꝛdes, ſhal hurte hys owne ſoule: and hee that taketh auctholitie vpon him vnryghteouſlye, ſhalbe hated. Some man hath oft times pꝛoſperitie in wycked thynges. Agayne ſome manne getteth muche, and hathe harme and loſſe. There is ſome gyfte that is nothing woꝛth: Agayne there is ſome gyfte, whoſe reward is double. Some man getteth a fal foꝛ being to pꝛoude, and ſome commeth to woꝛſhip from lowe eſtate. Some man bieth muche foꝛ a lyttle pꝛice, and muſt
B pape foꝛ it ſeuen folde. ¶ A wyſe man Eccl.6.d wyth his woꝛdes maketh hym ſelfe to be loued, but the ſauoure of fooles ſhalbe poured out: the gifte of the vnwyſe ſhal do thee no good, foꝛ his eies Ecc.18.c are ſeuen folde. ¶ He ſhall geue lyttle, and ſay he gaue much: he openeth hys mouth and cryeth out, as it were one that cryeth out wyne. To day he lendeth, to moꝛowe aſketh the agayn, and ſuche a man is to be hated. The foole ſayeth: I haue no frende, I haue no thanke foꝛ al my good dedes: yea, euen they ẏ eate my bꝛead, ſpeake no good of me. O howe oft, & of howe many ſhal he bee laughed to ſcoꝛne? He taketh a moꝛe perilous fal by ſuch woꝛds, thē yf he fel vppon the grounde: euen ſo ſhal the fal of wicked men com haſtelye. In the mouth of him that is vntaught, are many vnconuenient and vnmete woꝛdes. A wiſe ſentence ſhal not be alowed at the mouth of ẏ foole foꝛ he ſpeaketh it not in due ſeaſon.

¶ Some man ſynneth not, becauſe hee hath not wherwythal, and in his reſt he ſhalbe ſtinged. Some man there is that deſtroyeth hys owne ſoule wyth ſhame, and foꝛ an vnwyſe bodyes ſake deſtroyeth hee it, and wyth accepting perſones ſhall he vndo hym ſelfe. Some man pꝛomiſeth his frend a gyft foꝛ very ſhame, and getteth an enemy of him foꝛ naughte. A lye is a wicked ſhame in a man, yet ſhall it be euer in the mouthe of the vnwyſe. A theſe is better, then a man that is accuſtomed to lye, but they bothe ſhall haue deſtruction to heritage. The conditions of lyers are vnhoneſt, and their ſhame is euer wyth thē. A wiſe man ſhal bꝛyng him ſelfe to honoure with his woꝛdes, and hee that hath D vnderſtandyng, ſhalbe ſet by amonge Pꝛo.12b great men. ¶ He that tilleth hys land, ſhall increaſe hys heape of coꝛne: hee that woꝛketh ryghteouſnes, ſhalbe exalted, and he that pleaſeth gret men ſhal eſcape muche euil. ¶ Rewardes Ecc.23.d and gyftes blind the eyes of the wiſe and make him domme, that he cannot Ecc.41.c tell men their faultes. ¶ Wiſdoome that is hid, and treaſure that is hoꝛded vp, what pꝛofit is in theym both? Better is he that kepeth his ignoꝛaunce ſecret, then a man that hideth his wiſdome.

¶ The.xxi. Chapter.

A
My ſonne, yf thou haſt ſinned Eccl.5.d do it nomoꝛe: ¶ but pꝛaye foꝛ thy foꝛeſynnes: that they may be foꝛgeuen thee. Flee from ſyn, euen as from a ſerpente: foꝛ yf thou commeſt to nyghe her, ſhe wyll byte the. The teeth therof are as the teeth of a lion to ſley the ſoules of menne. The wickednes of man is as a ſharp two edged ſwerd, which maketh ſuch woundes that they cannot be healed. Strife and wꝛongeous dealing ſhal waſte awaye a mannes goodes, and thꝛough pꝛyde a rych houſe ſhall bee bꝛoughte to naughte: ſo the ryches of Ecc.3.b the pꝛoude ſhalbe rooted oute. ¶ The pꝛayer of ẏ poꝛe goth out of ẏ mouth, and commeth vnto the eares of God, and hys vengeaunce (oꝛ defence) ſhal come, and that haſtely. Who ſo hateth to be reſoꝛmed, it is a token of an vngodly perſon: but he that feareth God will remember him ſelfe. A myghtye man is knowen a faꝛ of by his tong, but he that hath vnderſtanding, perceaueth that he ſhal haue a fal. Whoe
B ſo buildeth hys houſe with other Ecc.16c mens coſt, is lyke one that gathereth ſtones in winter. ¶ The congregatiō of ẏ vngodly is like ſtubble gathered together, their end is a flame of fyre.

The

The way of the vngodly is set with stones, but in their ende is hell, darknes, and paynes. He that kepeth the lawe, wil hold fast the vnderstanding therof, and the end of the feare of god is wysedome and vnderstandyng. He that is not wyse, will not be taughte in good: but the vnwise man aboundeth in wickednes: and where bitternes is, there is no vnderstandynge.

The knowlege of the wise, shal flow lyke water that runneth ouer, and his councel is like a fountayn of life. The heart of a foole is lyke a broken vessell, he can kepe no wisedom. When a man of vnderstandyng heareth a wise word, he shall commende it, and make much of it. But if a voluptuous mā heare it, he shall haue no pleasure therin, but cast it behynde his backe. The talkynge of a foole is lyke an heaupe burthen by the waye: but to heare a wise man speke, it is a pleasure. Where a dout is in the congregation, it is asked at the mouth of the wise, and they shall pōder his words in their herts. Lyke as is a house that is destroyed, euen so is wysdome vnto a foole. As for the knowledge of the vnwise, it is but darke wordes. Doctrine is vnto hym that hath no vnderstandyng, euē as fetters aboute hys feete, and lyke manicles vpon his ryghte hande. Ecc. 19 b

D A foole lifteth vp his voice w laughter, but a wyse mā shal scarse laugh secretly. Learnyng is vnto a wyse man, a Jewel of gold, and lyke an armelette vpon his right arme. A folishe mans foote is soone in his neighbors house, but one that hath experience, shall bee ashamed at the person of the myghty. A foole wyl peepe in at the window, into the house, but he that is well nurtured, will stande without. A foolish man standeth herkenyng at the doore, but he that is wise, will be ashamed. The lippes of the vnwise wil be teilyng foolyshe thynges, but the wordes of suche as haue vnderstandyng, shall be weyed in the balance. The heart of fooles is in their mouth, but the mouthe of the wyse is in their heart, where the vngodly curseth the blasphemer, he curseth his owne soule. A tytuye accuser of other men, shall defyle hys owne soule, & be hated of euery man: (but he that kepeth his tongue, and is discrete, shall come to honour.)

The .xxii. Chapter.

A A Slouthfull body is moulded of a stone of claye, and euerye man wylle speake to hys dyspraise. A slouthfull body is made of the donge of oxen, and euery one that toucheth hym, must washe his hands agayne. A mysnurtured soonne is the dishonor of ỹ father. A foolysh daughter shall bee lytteli regarded. A wise daughter is an heritage vnto her husbande: but she that commeth to dishonestie, bryngeth her father in heuines A daughter that is past shame, dishonoreth both her father & her husbande: the vngodly shal regard her, but they bothe shall despise her. The playinge of Musike is not mete where heaynesse is, euen so is the correction and doctrine of wysedome, euer vnpleasaunt vnto fooles. B who so teacheth a foole, is euen as one that glewethe a potshearde together: as one that telleth a tale to hym that heareth hym not, and as one ỹ ratseth a man out of an heuy slepe. who so telleth a foole of wysedome, is euen as a man, whiche speaketh to one that is a slepe. whē he hath told his tale, he saith: what is the matter? When one dieth, lamentation is made for him, because the light fayleth him: euen so let mē mourn ouer a fool: for he wanteth vnderstandynge. Make but lyttle weepyng, because of the dead: for he is come to rest, but the lyfe of the foole is worse thenne the death. Seuen days do men mourn for hym that is dead, but the lamentation ouer the vnwise and vngodly shoulde endure all the dayes of theyr lyfe. Talke nat much wyth a foole, and go C not with him that hath no vnderstanding. Beware of him, lest it turn thee to trauayle, and thou shalt not be defyled wyth his synne. Depart from hym, and thou shalte fynde reste, and shalt not be drawen back into his foolishenes. What is heauier then leade?

And

And what shoulde a foole be called els but leade? ✠ Sande, salt, and a lumpe of yron is eesyer to beare then an vnwise, foolishe, and vngodly man. Like as the band of wodde bound together in the foundation of the house can not be loosed: euen so is it with the heart that is stablysshed in the thoughte of D counceile. The thoughte of the wyse shall neither feare, nor bee offended at any tyme. Lyke as a fayre playstered wall in a wynter house, and an hygh buyldyng, may not abyde the wynde and stourme: euen so is a fooles hearte afrayde in his imagination, he feareth at euery thing, and can not endure. (A wauerynge hearte in the imagination of a foole will not euer stand in awe, he that abydeth in the commandemẽtes of God, will alway feare.) He that nyppeth a mans eye, bringeth foorthe teares: and he that prycketh the heart, bringeth forth the mening & thought. Who so casteth a stoane at the byrdes, frayeth them away: and he that blasphemeth his frend, breaketh the frendshyp: though thou drawest a swearde at thy frend, yet despayre not, for thou mayst come agayn to thy frend. If he speake sowrely, feare not, for ye maye be agreed together againe: except it be E that thou blaspheme hym, disdayne hym, open hys secretes, and wounde hym trayterously, for all suche things shall drsyue awaye a frende. Be faithfull vnto thy neighbour in hys pouertie, that thou mayst reioyce with him also in his prosperitie. Abyde stedfast vnto hym in the tyme of hys trouble, that thou mayst be heyre with hym in his heritage. Lyke as the vapour and smoke goth out at the ouen before the fyre, euen so euyll woordes, rebukes & threatnynges go before bloudshedyng. Be not ashamed to defende thy frend: as for me, I wylle not hyde my face from hym, though he shoulde doo mee harme. Who so euer heareth it, shall Pſ.141a beware of hym. ✠ Whoe shall sette a watche before my mouthe, and a sure seale vpon my lyppes, that I fall not wyth theym, and that my tongue deStroye me not?

The.xxiii. Chapter.

O Lorde, father and gouernour of my lyfe, leue me not in their imagination and councel. Oh let me not fall in suche reproffe. Whoe will kepe my thoght with the scurge and the doctrine of wisedom in myne hearte? that he spare not myne ignoraunce, that I fall not with them, lest myne ignorances increase, that myne offences bee not many in numbre, and that my synnes excede not: lest I fall before myne enemies, and so my aduersarie reioyce. O Lorde, thou father & God of my lyfe, leaue me not in their imagination. O lette me not haue a proude looke, but turne away all voluptuousnes fro me. Take fro me the lustes of the body, let not the desyres of vnclennes take hold vppon me, and B geue me not ouer into an vnshamfast and obstinate mynd. Heare me (O ye childrẽ) I wyll geue you a doctrine howe ye shall order your mouth: who so kepeth it, shall not perishe thorowe his lyppes, nor be hurt thorowe wicked woorkes. As for the synner, hee shall be taken in his owne vanitie: he Ex.20.b that is prowde and cursed, shall falle Eccl.27.c therin. ✠ Let not thy mouthe be accus- Mat.5.b tomed with swearyng, for in it there are many falles. Let not the nampnge of God be continually in thy mouth: (and meddle not wyth the names of sainctes, for thou shalte not be excused of them) for lyke as a seruant which is oft punished, can not bee without some sore, euen so what so euer he bee, that sweareth, and nameth God, shall not be cleane purged frome synne. A man that vseth much swearyng, shall bee fylled with wyckednesse, and the plague shall neuer go from his house. If he begyle his brother, hys faulte shalbe vpon him: if he knowledge not his synne, he maketh a double offence, and yf he sweare in vayne, he shal not C be founde rightous, for his house shal Leui.2 bee full of plagues. ✠ The woordes of the swearer bryngeth deathe. (God graunte it bee not found in the house of Jacob.) But they that feare God, eschue all such, and lye not wel-

tringe

Eph. 5.a tryng in sinne. ✱ Use not thy mouthe to vnhoneste and filthy talkinge, for in it is the worde of sinne. Remembre thy father and thy mother when thou art set among great men: lest God forget the in their sight, and lest thou doting in thy custome, suffre rebuke, and wishe not to haue bene borne, and so curse the daye of thy nativitie. ✱ The 2.Ki.16.b man that is accustomed with ỹ wordes of blasphempe, wyll neuer be reformed all the dayes of his lyfe. To sinne twyse is to much, but the thirde bringeth wrathe and destruction. An hote stomacke cannot be quenched (euen lyke a burnynge fyre (tyll it haue swalowed vp some thyng: euen so an vnchast man hath no rest in his flesshe, all he haue kyndled a fire. All bread is swete to an whoremonger, he will not leaue of, tyll he haue his purpose. A man that breaketh wedlocke, and regardeth not his soule, but sayeth: ✱ Esa.29.a Tushe, who seeth me? I am compassed aboute with darknes, the walles couer me, no body seeth me: whō nede I to feare? The Hyest wyll not remember my synnes. He vnderstādeth not that hys eyes see all thynges, for all suche feare of men dryueth awaye the feare of God from him: for he feareth onely the eyes of men, and considereth not that the eyes of the Lorde are clearer then the sunne: beholdinge all the wayes of men and the grounde of the depe, and lokyng euen to mens hertes in secrete places. The Lorde God knewe all thynges or euer they were made, and after they be brought to passe also he loketh vpon them all.
Leu.20.b ✱ The same man shalbe openly punis-deu.22.b shed in the stretes of the citye, and shal be chased abrode lyke a ponge horse foale: and when he thinketh least vpon it, he shalbe taken. Thus shall he be put to shame of euery man, because he would not vnderstand the feare of the Lorde. And thus shall it goo also with euery wife, that leaueth her husbande, and getteth enheritaunce by a Exo.20.c straunge marryage. ✱ Fyrste, she hath bene vnfaythfull vnto the lawe of the Hyest. Secondlye shee hath forsaken her owne husband. Thirdly, she hath played the whore in aduoutry, & gotten her children by another man. She shalbe brought out of the congregation, and her children shalbe loked vpon. Her children shall not take rote: as for frute, her braunches shall bring forth none. A shamefull reporte shall she leaue behynd her, and her dyshonoure shall not be put out. And they that remayne, shall knowe, that there is nothynge better, then the feare of God: and that there is nothyng swete ter then to take hede vnto the cōmandementes of the Lorde. A greate worshyp is it to folow the Lord, for longe lyfe shalbe receyued of hym.

¶ The.xxiiii. Chapter.

VIsdome shall prayse her self, and be honoured in God, and reioyse in the myddest of hys people: In the congregations of the hiest shal she open her mouth, and triumphe in the beholding of his power In the myddest of her people shall she be exalted, and wondred at in the holy fulnesse. In the multitude of the chosen she shalbe commēded, and among such as be blessed she shall be praysed, and shall saye: I am come oute of the mouth of the hiest, fyrst borne before al creatures. I caused the light that fayleth not to aryse in ỹ heauē, & couered all the erth as a cloude. My dwelling is aboue in the heyght, and my seat in the pyller of the cloude. I my selfe alone haue gone round about the compasse of heauen, and pearsed the grouṅd of the deepe: I haue walked in the floudes of the sea, and haue stande in all landes: my dominion is in euerye people and in euery nacion, and with my power haue I troden downe the herres of all, both hye and low. In all these thinges also I sought reste, and a dwelling in some enheritaunce. So the Creatour of all thynges gaue me commaundemente: and he that made mee, appoynted mee a tabernacle, and sayde vnto me: Let thy dwellynge be in Jacob, and thyne inheryteunce in Israel, & rote thy selfe among my chosen. ✠ I was created from the beginning, and before the worlde, and shall not leaue of vnto the worlde to come. ✠ In the holy habitation haue I serued before him, and so was I stablyshed in Sion. ✠ In the holye citie rested I in lyke maner: and in Jerusalem was my power. I tooke roote in an honorable people, euen in the portion of the Lord, and in his heritage, and kept me in the fulnes of the saintes. I am set vp an hie lyke a Cedar vpon Libanus, and as a Cypres tree vpon the mount Hermon. I am exalted lyke a palme tree in Cades, and as a rose plant in Jericho. As a fayre Olyue tree in the fielde, and am exalted lyke a planteyne tree by the water side. I haue geuen a smel in the stretes, as the Cynamon and Balme, that hath so good a sauoure: yea, a swete odoure haue I geuen as it were Myrre of the best. I haue made my dwellinges to smel as it were of Rosin, Galbanum, of Cloues, and incense, and as Libanus when it is not hewen downe, and myne odour is as the pure Balme. As the Cerebinte haue I stretched oute my braunches and my braunches are the braunches of honour and louing sauour. ✠ As the vyne haue I brought forth fruit of a swete sauour, and my floures are the fruit of honour and ryches. I am the mother of beawtye, of loue, of fear, of knowledge, and of holy hope. ✠ In me is al grace of life and truth. In me is al hope of lyfe and vertue. O come vnto me al ye that be desyrous of mee, and fyl your selues wyth my fruites, for my spirite is sweeter then honye, and so is my inheritaunce more then the hony combe: the remembraunce of me endureth for euermore. They that eate mee, shall haue the more hunger, and they that drynke me, shall thirste the more. Who so herkeneth vnto me, shal not come to confusion: and they that worcke in me, shal not offende. They that make mee to bee knowen, shal haue euerlastynge lyfe, the couenaunt of the hiest, and the knowledge of the truth. ✠ Moyses commaunded the lawe in the preceptes of righteousnes for an heritage vnto the house of Jacob, and committed the promises vnto Israel. ✠ (Oute of Dauid hys seruaunt he ordeined and rayled vp a most myghty king, sytting in the seat of honoure for euermore.) Thys fylleth wyth wysedome lyke as the flud of Physon, and as the flud of Tigris, when the newe fruites are a growing. ✠ This bringeth a plenteous vnderstanding lyke Euphrates: and filleth it vp, as Jordane in the tyme of harueste. This maketh nurtoure to breake forth as the lyghte, and as the water Gihon in the haruest. The first hath not knowen her perfectlye, nomore shall the laste seeke oute the ground of her. For her thought is fuller then the sea, and her councel is more founder then the great depe. I wysedome haue caste out fluddes. I am as a great waterbrooke out of the riuer. I am as the ryuer Dorix, and as a water condite am I come oute of the garden of pleasure. I sayde: I wyll water the garden of my yong plants, and fyl the fruite of my byrth: So my water broke became exceading great, and my ryuer approched vnto the sea. For I make doctrine to bee vnto all men as lyght as the fayre morninge, and I shal make it to be euer the clerer. I wil pearse through al the lower partes of the earth. I wil loke vpon al such as be a slepe, and lighten al them that putte their truste in the Lord. I shal yet poure oute doctryne, lyke as prophecye, and leaue it vnto such as seke after wysdome, and their generations shal I neuer fayle, vnto the holy euerlasting worlde. ✠ Behold howe that I haue not laboured for my selfe onelye, but for all theym that seke after the truth.

Ecclus. 24 a Psa. 8. c
Exo. 31 a
Psa. 132.
C Joh. 14 a
Joh. 14 a
Exo. 28 b
Psa. 132
D Josu. 3. c
Eze. 33 b

¶ The xxv. Chapter.

THree thynges there are, that my spirit fauoureth, which bee also allowed before God and men. ✠ The vnitie of brethren, and the loue

Ge. 13. b

Ecc.40.d

Gen.18.b

Ecc.19.c

done of neyghbours: a man and wife that agree wel together. Three thinges there be whiche my soule hateth, & I vtterly abhorre the lyfe of the. A poore man that is proude. A rych man that is a liar, & an old body that doteth, and is vnchaste. If thou hast gathered nothinge in thy youthe, what wilt thou finde then in thine age? O howe pleasaunt a thinge is it, when graye headed menne are discrete, and when the elders can geue good counceil? O howe comely a thing is wysedome vnto aged men: yea, vnderstanding and councel is a glorious thyng. The crowne of olde menne is to haue much experience: and the fear of God is their worshyp. There be nine thinges, which I haue iudged in my hert B to be happye, and the tenth wil I tell forth vnto men with my tong. A man that whyle hee liueth, hath ioye of his children, and seeth the fal of his enemyes. Wel is him that dwelleth wyth an houswyfe of vnderstanding, and that hath not fallen wyth hys tonge, and that hath not bene fayne to serue such as are vnmete for him. Wel is him, that findeth a faythful frende: and well is him whiche talketh of wisdom to an eare that heareth him. O howe greate is hee, that fyndeth wysedome and knowledge? Yet is he not aboue him, that feareth the Lord. The feare of God hath set it selfe aboue al thinges. Blessed is the man, vnto whome it is graunted to haue the feare of God. Vnto whome shall he be likened, that kepeth it fast? The feare of God is the begynning of hys loue, and the beginning of fayth is to cleaue fast vnto it. The heauynes of the hearte is al the punyshmente: and the wickednes of a woman goeth aboue al. All punyshmente, and plage is nothing in comparison of the plage of the hert, euen so al wickednes is nothing to the wyckednes of a woman. Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto a man is nothinge in comparison of it, that hys euil willers do vnto him: and all vengeaunce is nothing to the vengeaunce of the enemye. There is not a moze wycked heade then the heade of the serpente, and there is no wzath aboue the wzath of a woman. I wyl rather dwel wyth a lion and dragon, then to keepe house wyth a wycked wyfe. The wyckednes of a woman chaungeth her face, she shall mouffle her countenaunce as it wer a Beare, and as a sacke shal she shew it among the neyghbours. Her husbande is brought to shame among hys neyghbours, and when he heareth it, it maketh him to syghe. All wyckednes is but lyttle to the wickednes of a woman, the portion of the vngodlye shall fal vppon her. Lyke as to clymbe vp a sandy way is to the feete of the aged, euen so is a wyfe full of woordes to a stil quiet man. Loke not to narowly vppon the beawty of a woman, lest thou be prouoked in desire towarde her.

C Ecc.25.a

D Ecc.42.b

The wzath of a woman is dishonor and greate confusion. If a woman get the maistry, then is she contrarye to her husband. A wycked wyfe maketh a sorye hearte, an heauy countenance and a dead wound. Weake handes and feeble knees is a woman that her husband is not the better for.) Of the woman came the begynnynge of synne, and thorow her we all ar dead. Geue thy watter no passage, no not a lyttell, neither geue a wicked woman her wyll. If she walke not after thy hande, she shall confounde thee in the syght of thy enemies. Cut her of then frome thy flesshe, that she doo not alwaye abuse thee.

Gen.3.c. 1 Tim.2.

¶ The xxvi. Chapter.

HAppy is the manne that hath a vertuous wyfe, for the nũber of his yeres shalbe double. An honest woman maketh her husband a ioyfull man, and she shall fyl the yeres of his lyfe in peace. A vertuous woman is a noble gyft, which shalbe geuen for a good portion vnto suche as feare God: whether a man be ryche or poore, he may haue euer a mery heart, and a cheerefulle countenaunce.

A

Psa.21.a

There be three thinges that my hert feareth, and my face is afrayde of the fourth. Treason in a citie, a sedicious people, and noysome tonges, all these are heauyer then deathe. But when one is gelous ouer hys wife, it bringeth paine and sorowe vnto the hert: and a woman that telleth out al thinges, is a scourge of the tungue. When one hath an euill wife, it is euen as when an vnlyke payre of oxen muste Iud. 16 a drawe together, ✱ hee that getteth her getteth a scorpion. A dronken womā B is a great plage, for she cannot couer her owne shame. The whoredome of a woman maye be knowē in the pride of her eyes and eye lyddes. ✱ If thy Ecc. 42 b daughter bee not shamefast, holde her straytely, least she abuse her selfe thorough ouer muche libertye. Beware of all the dishonestye of her eyes, and maruel not yf she do agaynst the. Like as one that goeth by the waye and is thyrstye, so shal shee open her mouthe and drinke of euerye next water that she may get. By euery hedge shall she sit her downe, and open her quiuer agaynst euery arowe. A louyng wyfe reioyseth her husband, and fedeth hys bones wyth her wysedome. A womā of fewe wordes is a gyft of God, and to all well nurtured myndes may no
C thinge bee compared. An honest and manerly woman is a gift aboue other gyftes, and there is no wayght to bee compared: vnto a mynde that can rule it selfe. Lyke as the Sunne when it arysseth, is an ornament in the hie heuen of the Lord, so is a vertcous wife the bewtye of all her house. Lyke as the clere lyght is vpon the holye candlestycke, so is the bewtye of the face
Can. 5 d vppon an honest bodye. ✱ Lyke as the golden pillers are vpon the sockettes of syluer, so are the fayre legges vpon a woman that hath a constant mynd. Perpetual are the foundations that be layed vpon a whole stonye rocke;
C so are the commaundementes of God vpon the herte of an holy woman. Three be two thinges that greue my hert, and in the third is a displeasure come vpon me. When an experts man of warre suffereth scarsenes and pouertye. When men of vnderstandyng and wisdome are not set by: And whē one departeth from righteousnes vnto synne. Who so doth such, the Lorde hath prepared him vnto the swearde. There be two maner of thinges, whi che me thincke to be harde and perylous. A marchaunte cannot lyghtlye kepe him from wrong, nether a tauerner him selfe from synne.

¶ The xxbii. Chapter.

B Ecause of pouerty haue many A one offended: and he that seketh to be rych, turneth hys eyes aside. Lyke as a nayle in the wall sticketh faste betwixte two stones, euen so doth synne stick betwixt the byer & the seller. If he hold him not diligently in the feare of the Lorde, hys house shal soone bee ouerthrowen. Lyke as when one sifteth, the filthines remaineth in the sieue: So remaineth there some vncleane thing in the thoughte of manne. The ouen proueth the potters vessel. ✱ so doeth temptation of B trouble trye ryghteous menne. ✱ The Sap. 3 a tree of the fyelde is knowen by hys ✱ mat. 7 a fruit, so is the thought of a mās hert knowen by hys wordes. Prayse no man except thou haue heard him: for a man is knowen by hys wordes. If thou folowest ryghteousnesse, thou shalt get her, and put her vpon the as a fayre garment. And thou shalt dwell wyth her, and she shal defend thee for euer, and in the day of of knowledge thou shalte synde stedfastnesse. The byrdes resorte vnto theyr like, so doth the trueth tourne vnto theym that be occupyed wythal. The lyon waiteth the praye: so do the synners lurke vpon the workers of wyckednes. The talkinge of him that feareth God, is nothing but wysedome: as for a foole he chaungeth as the Moone. If thou be amonge the vndyscrete, keepe thy wordes vntil a conuenient tyme, but a monge suche as bee wyse, speake on hardly. The talking of fooles is abho C mination, and their sport is volupte-Ecc. 22 b ousnes and misnurture. ✱ Much sweryng

ring maketh the hearte to stande by: e to strive with such as stoppeth the eares. The stryfe of the proud is bloudsheddinge, and their blaspheminge is Eccl. 19b heauy to heare. * Who so discouereth secrettes, leseth hys credence, and findeth no frend after hys wil. Loue thy frend, and binde thy selfe in faithfulnes with him: but yf thou bewrayest hys secrettes, thou shalt not get hym agayne. For lyke as the man is, that destroyeth hys enemye, so is he also that deseieth falsly in the frendshyp of hys neyghbour. Lyke as one that letteth a byrde go oute of hys hande, can D not take her agayne: Euen so thou, yf thou geue ouer thy frende, thou canst not gette him agayne: Yea, thou canst not come by him, for he is to farre of. He is vnto thee as a Roe escaped out of the snare, for hys soule is wounded. As for woundes, they may be bounde by agayne, and an euyl worde may be reconcyled: but whoso bewrayeth the Prou. 9b secrettes of a frende, there is no more hope to be hadde vnto him. * Hee that wynketh with his eyes, ymagyneth some euil, and no man shall take hym from it. When thou art present, he shal highly commend and prayse thy wordes: but at the last he shal tourne hys tayle, and sclaunder thy saying. Many things haue I hated, but nothing so euil, for the Lorde himselfe also at-E horreth such a one. * Who so casteth a Exo. 21b stone on hie, it shal fal vpon his owne heade: and he that smyteth with gyle woundeth hym selfe. Who so diggeth a pit shal fal therin (and he that layeth a stone in hys neighbours waye, shall stomble theron) and hee that layeth a snare for another, shalbe taken in it hym selfe. * Who so geueth a wycked
Deu. 7.b. noysome counceil, it shal come vppon
Ecc. 10a hym selfe, and he shal not know from whence. The proude blaspheme, and are scorneful, but vengeaunce lurketh for them as a lion. They that reioyce at the fall of the righteous shalbe taken in the snare, anguyly of heart shal consume them before they dye. Anger and rigorousnesse are two abhominable thynges, and the vngodlye hath them both vpon him.

The .xxviii. Chapter.

HE * that seeketh vengeaunce, A shall fynde vengeaunce of the Lorde, which shal surely kepe De. 32.a * mat. 5 b him hys synnes. * Forgeue thy neybour the hurte that he hath done thee and so shal thy sinnes be forgeuen the also, when thou praiest. A manne that beareth hatred agaynst another, howe dare he desire forgeuenes of God? He that sheweth no mercy to a man whi che is lyke hym selfe, howe darre hee aske forgeuenes of hys synnes? If he that is but flesh, beareth hatred and kepeth it, whoe will intreate for hys synnes? Remember the ende, and let enmity passe, which seeketh death and destruction, and abyde thou in the cõmaundementes. Remember the commaundementes, so shalte thou not be rigorous ouer thy neyghbor. Thinke vpon the couenaunte of the hyest, and B forgeue thy neyghbours ignorauncе.
* Beware of stryfe, and thou shalte Ecc. 28.a make thy sinns fewer. For an angrie man kyndleth variaunce, and the vngodly disquieteth frends, and putteth dyscord among them that be at peace.
Pro. 26c * The more wodde there is, the more behemente is the fyre: and the myghtier that menne be, the greater is the wrath: and the longer the strife endureth, the more it burneth. An haslye brawling kyndleth a fyre, and an hasty strife sheddeth bloud: A tong also that beareth false witnes, bryngeth death. If thou blow the sparke it shal burne. If thou spit vpon it, it shal go forth, and both these out of the mouth.
* The slaunderer and double tonged Ecc. 21.b is cursed, for manye one that be frendes setteth he at variance. The third tonge hath disquieted many one, and dryuen theym from one lande to another. Strong cities of the ryche hath it broken downe, and ouerthrowē the houses of great mē. (The strength of the people hath it brought down and ben the decay of mighty nations.) The third tong hath cast out many an honest womā, and robbed them of their labours. Who so herkeneth vnto such shall neuer fynd rest, and neuer dwell safely. The stroke of the rod maketh edders, but the stroke of the tong smiteth the bones in sunder. Ther be many that haue perished with the sword D but many mo thorow the tong. Well is hym that is kept from an euill tong and commeth not in the anger therof, which draweth not the yoke of such,

and is not bounde in the bandes of it.
For the yoke therof is of yron, and the bande of it of stele. The death therof is a very euyll death: hell were better for one, then such a tong. But the fire of it may not oppresse them that feare God, and the flame therof maye not burne thē. Such as forsake the Lorde, shall fall therin: and it shal burne thē,
and no man shalbe able to quenche it.
It shall fall vpon them as a Lion: and deuour them as a leopard. Thou hedgest thy goodes with thornes: whye doest thou not rather make dores and barres for thy mouthe? Thou weyest thy golde and syluer: whye doest thou not weye thy wordes also vppon thy balance? Beware, that thou slyde not in thy tonge, and so fall before thyne enemyes, that lay waite for thee, (and thy fall be incurable, euē vnto death.)

The. xxix. Chapter.

A Deu. 15a Luke. 6, d WHo so will shewe mercy: * let him lende vnto his neighbour:
and he that is able, let him kepe the commaundement. Lende vnto thy neibour in time of his nede, & pay thou thy neyghbour agayne in due season.
Kepe thy worde, and deale faythfully with him, and thou shalt alway fynde the thynge that is necessarye for thee.
There haue bene many, that when a thyng was lent them, reckened it to be found: and made them trauayle and labour, that had helped them. Whyle they receaue any thyng, they kysse the handes of such as geue them, and for their neighbours good they humble their boyce. But when they shoulde paye agayne, they kepe it backe, and geue euyll wordes, and make manye excuses by reason of the tyme: and though he be able, yet geueth he scarse the halfe agayne: and reckeneth the other to be found. And if he withholde not his money yet hath he an enemye of him, and that vndeserued. He payth him with cursing and rebuke, and ge-B ueth him euyll wordes for hys good dede. There be manye one whiche are not glad for to lende, not because of euyll, but they feare to lese the thynge that they lende. Yet haue thou pacīēce with the symple, & withholde not thy mercy from him. Helpe the poore for the commaundementes sake, and let him not go emptye from thee, because of his necessitye. Lese thy money for thy brother and neyghbours sake, and burye it not vnder a stone, where it rusteth and corrupteth. * Gather thy Math. 6c treasure after the commaundement of Luk. 12d the Hyest, and so shall it bringe thee more profyte then gold. * Laye vp the Tob. 4, b almes in the hande of the poore, and it shall kepe the from all euill. * A mans Dan. 4 d almes is as a purse with him, and shal Luk. 12 d kepe a mans fauoure as the apple of an eye: and afterward shal it arise and paye euery man his reward vpon his heade. It shall fight for thee agaynste thyne enemyes, better then the shylde of a gyaunt or speare of the myghtye.
A good honest man is suretye for hys C neyghboure, but a wicked person letteth him come to shame. Forget not the frendshyp of thy suerty, for he hath geuen his soule for thee. The vngod-ly despyseth the good dede of his suertye, and the vnthankefull and ignō-raunt leaueth his suertie in daunger.
Some man promiseth for his neygh-boure: and when he hath lost his honestye, he shall forsake hym. Suertī-shyppe hath destroyed manye a ryche man, and remoued them as the waues in the sea. Myghtye people hath it dryuen awaye, and caused theym to wander in straunge countreys. An vngodly man transgressyng the com-maundemente of the Lorde, shall fall into an euyll suertshyp: and thoughe he force him selfe to gette out, yet shal he fall into iudgemente. Helpe thy neyghboure oute after thy power, and beware,

beware that thou thy selfe fall not in Eccl.39c fuche debte. ¶ The chefe thynge that kepeth in thy life, is water and bread, clothynge and lodgynge, to couer thy D shame. Better is it to haue a poore ly-Psa.36b uyng in a mans owne house, then de-Deb.13a lycate fare amonge the straunge. ¶ Be it lytle or muche that thou haste, holde thee content withall, and thou shalte not be blamed as a vagabounde: for a mysserable lyfe is it, to go from house to house: and wher a man is fremd, he dare not open hys mouthe. Thoughe one be lodged, and haue meate and drinke, yet shall he be taken as vnworthye, and heare manye bytter roughe wordes, namelye thus: Go thy waye thou straunger, and prepare a table for thy selfe, and fede me also of that thou haste. I waye thou straunger (so that he regardeth his honour nomore) my brother commeth into my house, and so he telleth hym the necessitye of hys house. These thynges are heauye to a manne that hathe vnderstandynge:
namely, the forbyddynge of the house and that the lender casteth hym in the teeth.

¶ The.xxx. Chapter.

A VWho so loueth his child ¶ hol-Pro.13.f deth him styll vnder correction, that he maye haue ioye of him afterward, and that he grope not Deut.6a after his neyghbours dores. ¶ He that teacheth hys sonne shall haue ioye in hym, and nede not to be ashamed of him among his acquayntaunce. Who so enfourmeth and teacheth his sonne greueth the enemye: and before hys frendes, he maye haue ioye of hym.
Thoughe the father dye, yet is he as though he were not deade: for he hath lefte one behynd hym that is like him.
In hys lyfe he sawe him, and had ioy in him, and was not sory in his death, neyther was he ashamed before the e-nemyes. For he lefte behynde hym an auenger agaynste hys enemyes, and a good doer vnto the frendes. For the lyfe of the chyldren he shall vnbynde the woundes together, and hys herte is greued at euerye crye. An vntamed horse wyll bee harde, and a wanton chylde will be wylfull. If thou bring vp thy sonne delicately, he shall make the afrayde, and yf thou playe wyth hym, he shall bringe thee to heauynes.
Laughe not with him, lest thou wepe with him also, and lest thy teeth be set on edge at the laste. Geue him no ly- B berte in his youth, and excuse not his folye. Bowe downe hys necke whyle he is yonge, hyt hym vppon the sydes whyle he is yet but a chylde, leaste he waxe stubburne, and geue no more force of the, and so shalt thou haue he-uynes of soule. Teache thy chyld, and be dylygente therein, leaste it be to thy shame. Better is the poore beynge whole and stronge, then a man to be ryche, and not to haue hys healthe:
Health and welfare is aboue all gold, and a whole bodye aboue all treasure.
There is no riches aboue a sound bo-dye, and no ioye aboue the ioye of the hert. Death is better then a wretched lyfe, and eternall rest better then continuall syckenes. The good thynges that are put in a close mouth, are lyke as when meat is laied vpō the graue.
What good doeth the offering vnto an Idoll? ¶ For he can neyther eate, taste, Bel.d. nor smell. Euen so is he that is chased of the Lorde, and beareth the rewar-des of iniquitye. He seeth wyth hys eyes, and groneth lyke a gelded man, that lyeth with a virgine and sigheth.
¶ Geue not ouer thy mynde vnto hea- Pro.22d uynes, and vexe not thy selfe in thyne owne councell. ¶ The ioy and chereful- Pro.24b nes of the herte is the lyfe of man, and a mans gladnes is the prolongyng of hys dayes. Loue thyne owne soule, and comforte thyne hert: as for sorow and heuynes, dryue it farre from thee, ¶ for heuines hath slaine many a man, 2 Cor.7b and bringeth no profyt. Zele and anger shorten the days of the lyfe: care-fulnes & sorowe bryng age before the tyme. Vnto a mery hert euery thynge hath a good taste that he eateth.

¶ The.xxxi. Chapter.

A TRaueil and carefulnes ¶ for ri- A ches taketh away the slepe, and 1 Ti.6b. maketh the flesshe to consume.

When one lyeth and taketh care he waketh euer vp, lyke as a great sicke-nes breaketh the slepe. The rych hath great labour in gatheryng his riches together, and then with the pleasure of his riches he taketh his rest and is refreshed. But who so laboureth and prospereth not, he is poore: and thogh he leaue of, yet is he a begger: He that loueth ryches, shall not be iustifyed:
and who so folowyth corruption, shal Eccl. 8. a haue ynough therof. * Many one are come in greate misfortune by the reason of golde, and haue found their destruction before theym. It is a tree of fallyng vnto them that offer it vp, and all such as be folishe fall therin. Blest-ed is the riche, which is found without blemyshe, and hath not gone after golde, nor hoped in money and treasures. Where is ther such a one? and we shall commend him, and call him blest-ed, for great thynges doeth he among his people. Who so is tried, and found perfect in such thinges, shalbe cõmended and praysed. Who might offende, and hath not offended? who coulde do euell, and hath not done it? Therfore shall hys good be stablyshed, and the whole congregacion shall declare his almesses. If thou syt at a great mans table, open not thy mouth wyde vpon it, and make not manye wordes. Remember that an euyll eye is a shrew.
B What thynge created is worse then a wicked eye? therfore weyeth it before euery mans face? Lay not thyne hand vpon euery thing that thine eye seeth, and stryue not with him in the dyshe.
Mat. 7. a * Ponder by thy selfe what thy neigh boure wolde fayne haue, and be dyscrete in euery poynt. Eate thy thynge that is set before thee manerlye, as it becõmeth a man, and eat not to much, least thou be abhorred. Leaue thou of firste of all, because of nurtoure, leste thou be he, whom no man may satisfie which may turne to thy decaye. When thou sittest among many men, reache not thine hand out first of all. O how well content is a wyse man with a lytle wyne? so that in slepe thou shalte not be sicke therof, nor fele any payne.
A swete wholsome sleepe shall suche a one haue, and fele no inward greefe.
He ryseth vppe betymes in the morning, and is well at ease in hym selfe.
But an vnsaciable eater slepeth vnquietly, and hath ache and payn of the body. If thou felest that thou hast eaten to much, aryse, go thy way, caste it out of thy stomak, & take thy rest: and it shall ease thee, so that thou shalte bring no sickenes vnto thy body. My C sonne, heare me, and despyse me not:
and at the laste thou shalt fynde as I haue tolde thee. * In all thy workes Eccl. 32. c be diligente and quicke, so shall there no sickenes happen vpon thee. * Who Prou. 22. a so is liberall in dealyng out his meat, many men shall blesse him, and prayse him with their lyppes: and the same is a sure token of hys loue and fayth-fulnes. But he that is vnfaythfull in meat, the whole citye shall complaine of him: and that is a sure experience of hys infidelytye and wickednes. * Be Ephe. 5. b not thou a wine bibber, for wine hath destroyed many a man. The fire proueth the hard yron, euen so doth wine proue the hertes of the proude, when D they be dronken. * Wine soberly dron Prou. 31. a ken, quyckeneth the lyfe of man. If 1. tim. 5. c thou drinkest it measurably, thou shalt be temperate. What life is it, that may continue without wine? (what taketh away the lyfe? euẽ death.) Wine was made frome the begynnynge to make men glad, and not for dronkennes. Wyne measurablye dronken is a reioysyng of the soule and bodye. (A measurable drinkyng is helth to soule and body.) But if it be dronken with excesse, it maketh bytternes and so-rowe vnto the mynde. Dronkennes fylleth the mynd of the foolyshe with shame and ruyne, mynysheth the strengthe, and maketh woundes.
* Rebuke not thy neyghboure at the Eccl. 20. a wyne, and despyse hym not in hys mirth. Geue him no despytefull wor-des, and preasse not vppon hym with contrary sayinges.

C The .xxxii. Chapter.

A IF thou be made a ruler, * pryde not thy selfe therin, but be thou as
Deu. 17. d
*Eccl. 32. one of the people. * Take diligent care for theym, and loke well therto: and when thou hast done all thy dewtye, syt thee downe, that thou mayest be merye wyth them, and receaue the crowne of honour. Talke wisely and honestly, for wisdome becommeth the ryghte well. Hynder not musyke.
Speake not, where there is no audience: and poure not foorthe wysdome out of tyme, at an importunitie. Lyke as the Carbuncle stone shyneth that is set in golde, so doeth a songe garnysh the wine feast: and as the Smaragde that is set in gold, so is ỹ swetenes of Musike by the myxth of wyne. (Geue eare, and be styll, and for thy good behauiour thou shalt be loued.)
B Thou yonge man speake that becommeth thee, and that is profytable, and yet scarse when thou art twyse asked. Comprehende much with fewe wordes. In many thynges be as one that is ignorannt, geue eare, and holde thy tonge withal. If thou be among men of hyer auctoritye, desire not to compare thy selfe vnto them: and when an elder speaketh, make not thou many woordes therin. Before the thonder goeth lightnyng, and before nurtoure and shamefastnesse, goeth loue and fauoure. Stand vp betymes, and be not the last: but get thee home soone, and there take thy pastyme, and do what thou wilte: so that thou doo no cuyll, and defye no man, but for all thynges geue thankes, vnto hym that hathe made thee, and replenyshed thee wyth hys goodes. Who so feareth the Lord, C wyll receaue hys doctryne: and they that get theym to hym betymes, shall fynde grace. He that seketh the lawe, shalbe fylled withall. As for him that is but fayned, he wil be offended therat. They that feare the Lord shal find the iudgement, and their ryghteousnes shalbe kyndled as a light. An vngodly man will not be reformed, but can helpe hym selfe with the example of other in his purpose. A man of vnderstandyng delyteth no good counsell: but a wyld and proude body hath no feare. (Yea, euen when hee hathe dealte ralhely with another man, but his owne doinges shalbe his rebuke.) My sonne, do nothynge without aduisement, so shall it not repent the after the dede. Go not in the way wher D thou mayest fall, nor wher thou mayest stomble agaynst the stone. Geue not thy selfe into a laborious slippery way, and beware of thine owne children, (and take hede of them that be of thyne owne housholde.) In all thy workes put thy truste in God, frome thy whole hearte, for that is the keepyng of the commaundementes. Who so beleueth Gods worde, taketh hede to the commaundementes: and he that putteth hys truste in the Lorde, shall want nothyng.

¶ The .xxxiij. Chapter.

THere shall no cuyll happen vnto hym that feareth God: but E when he is in temptacion, the Lorde shall delyuer him, and kepe him from cuill. A wise man hateth not the lawe, but an ypocrite is as a shyppe in ragyng water. A man of vnderstandyng geueth credence vnto the law of God, and the lawe is faythfull vnto him. Be sure of the matter, then talke therof. Be firste well instructe, then mayest thou geue answere. The herte of the folyshe is lyke a cartwhele, and hys thoughtes runne aboute lyke the axell tree. Lyke as a wylde horse that neyeth vnder euerye one that syt teth vpon hym, so is it wyth a scornefull frende. Why doeth one day excell another, seynge all the dayes of the yeare come of the Sunne? The wisdome of the Lorde hath separated theym a sunder, and so hath he ordeined the times and solempne feastes. Some of them hath he chosen, and halowed before other days. And al men are made of the
* grounde, and oute of the earth of Adam. In the multitude of science hath Gen. 2. e F the Lorde sundered theym, and made theyr wayes of dyuerse fashyons.
Some of them hath he blessed, made muche of them, halowed them and clai med theym to hym selfe: But some of them hath he cursed, brought theym Rom.9.c lowe, and put them out of their estate.

*Lyke as the claye is in the potters hand, and al the ordring therof at hys pleasure: so are men also in the hande 1.cor.6.c of him that made them, so that he may geue theym as lyketh him beste. *Ag-aynst euil is good, and against death is lyfe: so is the vngodly against such as feare God. Beholde these are the woorkes of the hiest, and there are e-uer two agaynst two, and one sette a-gaynst another. I am awaked vp last of all, as one that gathereth after in haruest. In the giftes of God and in hys blessing I am increased, and haue fylled my wine presse, lyke a grape ga C therer. *Beholde, howe I haue not Eccl.4.d laboured onely for my selfe, but for all such as loue nurture & wysdom. Here me O ye great men of the people, and herke with your eares, ye rulers of ỹ congregation. Geue not thy sonne & wife, thy brother and frend, power ouer thee, while thou lyuest: and geue not away thy substaunce and good to another, least it repente thee, and thou be fayne to begge therefore thy selfe.
As long as thou lyuest and hast breth let no man chaunge thee: For better it is thy childrenne to praye thee: then that thou shouldest be fayne to loke in their handes. In al thy woorkes be excellent, that thy honour be neuer stay-ned. At the time when thou shalt end thy dayes, and finish thy lyfe, dystry-bute thyne inherytaunce. The fodder, the whyp, and the burthen belongeth vnto the Asse: Meat, correction, D and woorke vnto the seruaunt. If thou set thy seruaunt to labour, thou shalte fynde rest. But yf thou lette hym go vnle, he shal seke lyberte. The yoke and the whyp bowe downe the harde necke, but tame thou thy euyl seruant with bandes and correction. Sende him to laboure, that hee goe not vnle.
For vnlenes bryngeth muche euyl.
Set him to woorke, for that belongeth vnto him, and becommeth hym well.
If he be not obedient, bynde hys fete;
but do not to muche vnto him in anyt wyse, and without discretion do no-thinge. *If thou haue a faithfull ser- Eccl.7.c uaunt lette him be vnto thee as thyne owne soule: (intreate him as a brother:) for in bludde haste thou gotten him. If thou haue a seruaunte, holde him as thy self: for thou haste nede of hym as of thy self. If thou intreatest him euyll, and keepest him harde, and makest him to be proude and to renne awaye from the, thou canneste not tell what way thou shalt seke him.

¶ The .xxxiiii. Chapter.

V Nwyse people begyle theym selues with vayne and dys-ceatful hope, and foles trust in dreames. Who so regardeth dreames, is lyke him that wyll take holde of a shadowe, and folowe after the wind: Euen so is it with the appearynges of dremes. Before the face is the like-nes of a face. Who can be clensed of the vncleane? Or what truth can be spoken of a lyar? Soth sayinge, wytche-crafte, sorcerye and dreaminge is but vanitie: lyke as when a woman tra-uaileth with child, and hath many fan tasies in her heart. Where as such vysions come not of God sette not thyne hearte vpon them: For dreames haue dysceaued many a man, and they fay-led, that put their truste therein. The lawe shalbe fulfylled withoute lyes, and wysedome is sufficient to a faith-full mouth. What knowledge hath he that is not tryed? A wyse man that is wel instructe, vnderstandeth muche:
and he that hath no experience know eth lytle: and he that erreth, causeth much wickednes. He that is not try- B ed what thinges knoweth hee? Who so foloweth no rule, is ful of wicked nes. When I was yet in erroure, I learned much also: yea, I was so learned, that I coulde not expresse it all, and came ofte in peryll of death therefore, tyl I was deliuered frō it, (thorough ỹ grace of God: Nowe I see ỹ they ỹ feare God haue the right spirit
for

For their hope standethe in hym, that can helpe theym. And the eyes of the Lord are on them that loue hym. Who so feareth the Lord standeth in awe of no man, and is not afrayd, for the Lord is his hope and comforte. Blessed is C the soule of hym that feareth the lord: In whom putteth he his trust? who 2.pa.16. is his strengthe? For the eyes of the lord haue respect vnto them, that loue hym. He is theyr myghty protection and stronge grounde: a defence for the heate, a refuge for the hote noone day, a succour for stombyng, and an helpe for fallyng. He setteth vp the soule, & lighteneth the eies. He geueth lyfe & blessyng. He that geueth an offeryng of vnrightuous good, his offeryng is refused: and the scorneful dealyngs of the vnrightous please not god. (The Lord is theirs onely that patientely abide hym in the way of the truth, and of righteousnes. The Highest doothe not allowe the giftes of the wicked.)
Pro.15a And • God hath no delite in the offerings of the vngodly, neither may sin be reconciled in the multitude of oblations. Who so bryngeth an offeryng out of the gooddes of the poore, dothe euen as one that kylleth the sonne before the fathers eyes. The bread of the D nedeful is the life of the poore: he that defraudeth him thereof, is a manne of blood. Who so robbeth his neyghbor of his lyuing, dothe as great a synne, as though he slew hym to death. • He Exo.24c that defraudeth the laborer of his hire Eccl.7.c is a bloodshedder. When one buildeth and another breaketh downe, what profite haue they thenne but labour? When one prayethe, and an other curseth, whose voyce will the lord heare?
Nu.19b • He that washeth himselfe because of a dead bodye, and thenne toucheth the Pro.26b dead agayn, what doth his washyng?
2.pet.2b • So is it with a man that fasteth for his synnes, and doothe theim agayne: Who will heare his prayer? Or what doth his fastyng helpe hym?

The .xxxv. Chapter.

Who so kepeth the law • bringeth offerynges ynough. He A Jere.17.c that holdeth faste the comande-• • • demēt, offreth the right helth offryng. He that is thankful, & recompenseth, offereth fyne flower. • Who Heb.13c so is merciful and geueth almes, that Phil.4.c is the ryght thankoffryng. God hath pleasure when one departethe frome synne, and to forsake vnrighteousnes, reconcylethe vs with hym. • Thou Exo.33.
shalt not appere empty before ỹ Lord, for all suche is doone beecause of the commaundement of God. • The offeryng of the ryghteous maketh the aultar fatte, and a swete smell is it before the Hyest. The offerynge of the righteous is acceptable vnto GOD and shall neuer bee forgotten. Geue God his honor with a cherefull hart, and kepe not backe the fyrstlynges of 2.cor.9.b thy handes. • In all thy gyftes shew a mercyful countenaunce, and halowe thy tythes vnto God with gladnes. B Geue vnto God accordyng as he hath Tob.4.b enriched and prospered the: • and loke what thyne hand is able, geue with a cherefull eye: for the Lord recompenceth, and geueth thee seuen tymes as muche agayne. Geue no vnrighteous giftes, for suche will he not receyue. Beware of wrongfull offrynges, for the Lorde is a ryghteous Judge: and regardeth no mans person: He accepteth not the persone of the poore, but hee heareth the prayer of the oppressed. • Hee despysethe not the desyre Jud.4.b of the fatherlesse, nor the wydowe, when shee pourethe oute her prayer before hym. Doothe not GOD see the teares that renne downe the chekes of the wyddowe? Or hearethe hee not the complaynte, ouer suche as maketh her to weepe. For frome her chekes doo the teares go vp vnto heuen, and the Lorde whyche hearethe them, dooth accepte them? Who so serueth God after his pleasure, shall bee- Tre.3.d accepted: and his prayer reacheth vnto the cloudes. • The prayer of hym Act.10.f that humbleth hym selfe, goeth thorough the cloudes til she com nye: she C wyl not be comforted, nor go her way, tyll

tyll the hyest God haue respect vnto her, geue true sentence, and performe the iudgement. And the Lord wil not be slacke in commyng, nor tary longe: till he haue smitten in sunder the backes of the vnmercyfull, and auenged hymselfe of the Heathen: tyll he haue taken away the multitude of the cruell, and broken the scepter of the vnrighteous, till he geue euery mā after his workes, & reward them after their doopynges, tyll he haue delyuered hys people, mainteyned their cause, and reioyced them in his mercy. O howe fayre a thyng is mercy in the tyme of angupshe and trouble? It is lyke a cloude of rayne that commeth in the tyme of a drought.

¶ The.xxxvi. Chapter.

HAue mercy vpon vs, O Lorde, thou God of all thyngs, haue respecte vnto vs, shewe vs the lyght of thy mercies, and sende thy feare among the heathen and strangers, whiche seeke not after the, that they may knowe, howe that there is no God but thou, and that they maye shewe thy wonderous workes. Lifte vp thyne hand ouer the outlandyshe Hethen, that they may learn to knowe thy myght and power. Lyke as thou art halowed in vs before thē, so bring to passe, that thou mayst be magnified also in them before vs: that they maye knowe thee, lyke as we knowe thee. For there is none other God, but onlye thou O LORDE. Renue the tokens, and chaunge the wondrous workes. Shewe thyne hande, and thy eyght arme gloriously. Rayse vp thy indignation, and poure out thy wrath. Take away the aduersarye, and smite the enemie. Make the tyme shorte, remembre thy couenant, that thy wondrous workes maye be prayfed. Lette the wrathe of the fyre consume them that lyue so careleſſe: and let them perysshe that do thy people hurt. Smite in sunder the head of the princes, that be our enemies, and say there is none other but we. Gather all the Tribes of Jacob agayne, that they may knowe how that ther is none other God but onely thou, that they maye shewe the wonderous workes, and be thou thy peoples heritage, lyke as from the begynnynge. O Lorde haue mercy vpon thy people that hathe thy name, and vppon Israel, * whom thou hast lykened to a fyrst borne sonne. O bee mercyfull vnto Jerusalem, the citie of thy Sanctuarie, * the citie of thy reste. Fyll Syon with thy vnspeakable vertues, and thy people wyth thy glorye. Geue witnes vnto thy creature, whom thou madest from the begynnyng, and rayse vp the prophecies that haue bene shewed in thy name. Reward theim that wayte for thee, that thy Prophetes maye bee founde faythefull. O LORDE heare the prayer of thy seruauntes, accordynge to the blessing of Aaron ouer thy people, (and guyde thou vs in the way of ryghtuousnesse) * that all they whych dwell vpon the earthe maye knowe, that thou arte the Lorde the eternall GOD, whych is from euerlastyng. ¶ The bealy deuoureth all meates, yet is one meate better then an nother. Lyke as the tongue tasteth venyson, * so dothe an hert of vnderstondyng marke false wordes. A froward hert gyueth heuynes, but a manne of experience lyfteth hym vppe agayne. The woman receyueth euery man, yet is one daughter better thenne an other. A fayre wyfe reioyceth her husband, and a man loueth nothyng better. If she be louynge and vertuous wythall, thenke is not her husbande lyke other menne. He that hathe gotten a vertuous woman, hath a goodly possession: she is vnto hym an helpe, and pyller, wherevpon he resteth. Where noo hedge is, there the goodes are spoyled: and where no huswyfe is, there the frendlesse mourneth. Lyke as there is no credence geuen to a robber, that goeth frome one Cytie to an other: So is not the man beleued, that hathe no neste, and muste tourne in, where he may abyde in the nyght.

Ecclus. 4.c

1.pa.6.g

Num. 6.d

1.cor. 2.b

¶ The.xxxvii. Chapter.

Euery

